

Chapter 1083

All the old grudges of right and wrong seem to have become less important in the face of life.

Now his greatest wish was to keep Bella Qiao alive.

Make him pay whatever it takes to get there.

After Nangong Jin's death previously, they found some money strains from Nangong Jin's residence.

But these money strains were only enough for one year for Bella Qiao Shi, and the rest had already been divided up by those who ran up to the Nan Clan who heard the rumors.

Such things are a matter of life and death, and no one will ever take them out again.

And it's not a solution in the end to just live on money strains.

So we still have to find a way to research the antidote.

But months have passed and the antidote has made no progress at all.

Gu Si Qian was not anxious either.

On the other hand, Jenny's belly moon is getting bigger and bigger, and she will be in labor in half a month.

Now Biden Lu also doesn't go to the office much anymore and is with her 24 hours a day.

Even though whether it was the old man, the old lady or Quexiu and Mo Caiwei all told him that he didn't have to be so nervous, everyone so many people, wouldn't really let Jenny have anything like.

What's more, there was still Mo Nan who was always with Jenny, so if something really happened, he would be informed then and it would be too late for him to rush back from inside the company.

But Biden Lu just wouldn't listen, after all, no matter how important the company was, it wasn't as important as Jenny Jing.

It wasn't too much of an inconvenience for him to work remotely via computer while accompanying Jenny.

Jenny saw the situation and went with him.

But it's actually pretty sweet inside.

After all, what pregnant woman doesn't want her husband by her side all the time?

What woman doesn't want her husband to care so much about her?

Jenny is no exception.

The two of them were glued together for a while.

This evening after dinner, Biden Lu was walking Jenny Jing with him.

Although the Maple Bridge Villa was huge, but the nearby scenery Jenny was tired of walking around, so the past few days had been letting Biden Lu take her to the attached nearby park with a better view.

Jenny has produced children and has experience.

Knowing that you have to keep exercising every day for a while before you're about to go into labor will make the birth go smoothly enough.

So she's been walking for hours every day during this time.

Jenny's stamina was great, and despite being pregnant with twins, her belly was twice the size of a normal pregnant woman.

But for her, there was not much of a burden.

Biden Lu was also always with her.

Just this day the two were walking, Jenny suddenly smelled a fragrance.

Smelling it carefully, I found that it was emanating from a food street not far away.

Her eating tastes have been odd since she became pregnant, and she often eats whatever comes to mind.

Biden Lu saw that she didn't look right and kept looking over at the snack street, so he knew what she was thinking, and asked, "Is she hungry?"

Jenny was embarrassed and nodded as she touched her stomach.

Biden Lu asked, "What do you want to eat? I'll get it for you."

Jenny thought, "It's this scent that just floated over, I don't know what it is, just follow it and go buy it for me, okay?"

Biden Lu nodded and handed Jenny Jing's hand over to Mo Nan beside him.

Say, "You guys sit here for a minute, I'll be right back."

Mo Nan nodded and helped Jenny sit down in the chair next to him.

Actually, by all rights, things like running errands shouldn't be done by Biden Lu.

Mo Nan can go for it too.

But during the time that Jenny was pregnant, there were many things that Biden Lu was trying to do as personally as possible, even if it was something as small as buying something, he wished that he had done it himself.

Jenny looked on, rejoicing in his heart.

Even Mo Nan couldn't help but often exclaim that Biden Lu really was a wonderful man, she had never seen such a sweet man.

Jenny laughed at her when she saw this and asked if she was in the mood for spring. Wanna get married?

If she is thinking of marrying someone she can help her find them.

Unexpectedly, every time the subject came up, Mo Nan blushed, all sorts of interruptions to muddle through, and refused to tell the truth.

Jenny Jing sensed keenly that she had something on her mind, but she was reluctant to talk about it, so she was too embarrassed to ask more.

As they watched Biden Lu go over to the snack street, they sat there and chatted.

Chatting, Jenny suddenly gave an ouch.

Mo Nan turned pale and asked nervously, "What's wrong? Is it somewhere uncomfortable?"

Jenny shook his head, his brows furrowed.

One hand covered his stomach and looked a little distressed, "No, why do I feel..."

Before she could finish her sentence, Mo Nan suddenly shouted in surprise as if she had seen something.

"Jenny, on your leg..."

Jenny also looked down, but saw a clear liquid that slid down through his legs.

Because it's summer, she's wearing a rather fluffy maternity dress.

She was horrified as she watched the water slide down like that, and she was screaming at the top of her lungs.

He even grabbed Mo Lan's hand and said, "Hurry up and call Biden Lu, and tell him that my amniotic fluid has broken and I might be about to give birth, tell him to send me to the hospital!"

When Mo Nan listened, he knew the gravity of the situation, though he didn't quite understand the specifics yet.

He even called Biden Lu.

Within two minutes, Biden Lu came back panting.

It's hard to imagine that he made it back in two minutes when it would have taken at least seven or eight minutes to get there.

As soon as she saw Jenny, she immediately went forward and hit the cross to pick her up and run to the car.

In fact, by all accounts, there were still a few days left before Kynin's due date.

And that's why they weren't in such a hurry to stay in the hospital.

After all, even if the hospital is nice and the accommodations are upscale, it's still a hospital.

According to Jenny's personality, he would not be willing to pout there.

So originally they were going to wait until a day or two before they were about to give birth, and then go over, so it would be too late.

Plus, Jenny already had experience in childbirth and wasn't that new to this area, so she wasn't as nervous as someone who was pregnant for the first time.

But who would have thought that all of a sudden the baby would be born right away?

And the amniotic fluid broke prematurely, which is not a small thing to do, and it's going to kill two people.

No, on Jenny, that's one corpse and three lives!

One could imagine how anxious Biden Lu was after such a situation.

Instead, Jenny was calmer, in the car he held Biden Lu's hand and said, "Don't worry about me, it's fine, I feel like I'm still in a good state, there shouldn't be any serious problems, everything will wait until we get to the hospital."

Chapter 1084

Biden Lu looked at her, and only after a long while did he realize that his body was even shaking unconsciously.

He nodded.

Mo Nan was driving at the time, and when she heard their words, she also pursed her lips and drove the car fast.

At the same time, Jenny Jing directed Biden Lu to call his family.

Well anyway, her water has suddenly broken now, and even if the baby is born, it's still considered premature, after all, it's still more than half a month before the due date.

So this matter must now be told to the old master and old lady of the house, and by the way, also call Mo Caiwei and Quexiu over.

Quexu came over as an alternative in case something went wrong.

Mo Caiwei came over because she could calm Jenny's heart.

It was better to be here than to be alone in her house with her thoughts.

Biden Lu listened to her words and did each and every one of them as she wanted.

By the time the call was made, the car was at the hospital as well.

There was already a stretcher at the hospital entrance ready because the call had already been made.

Biden Lu carried Jenny Jing onto the stretcher and pushed the cart inside together.

At the same time, Que Su and Mo Caiwei and the others arrived.

Since there were professional obstetricians and gynecologists, all of whom were also internationally famous, it was inconvenient for Quexu to go in by himself, so he didn't.

Just a temporary fix for any problems out there.

The door to the operating room closed, the red light above it came on, and everyone was isolated from the operating room.

We were all very worried and anxious.

Especially Biden Lu, almost the entire hand was still shaking by now.

When Mo Caiwei saw this, she stepped forward to reassure him and told him not to worry, that Jenny would be fine and the surgery would be successful soon.

Until then, we need to stabilize ourselves!

Biden Lu nodded, but saying that, as a husband and father, how could he not be worried or anxious?

He had wanted to follow along into the delivery room, but because Jenny was in a hurry, and it would have been too much of a hassle and too much of a delay if he had to sterilize, then change sterile clothes, and so on.

So he was not allowed in.

The matter was urgent, it had come to this time, Biden Lu could not say anything more, everything was according to their most convenient.

A line of people were anxiously guarding the door.

By this time, Jenny in the operating room had reached the most painful stage.

It wasn't the first time she'd had a baby, but it had never hurt this much.

Like a heart, liver, spleen and lungs torn open.

Since the amniotic fluid had broken but the uterus was still open, the only option was to have a C-section.

Soon, an anesthesiologist came to administer anesthetic to Jenny.

All the doctors and nurses were looking for the best in the country, and when Biden Lu learned that Jenny Jing needed a C-section, his face went white.

Although the doctor had repeatedly assured him that it would never be dangerous, just the thought of having to make such a large opening in Jenny's stomach, he still....

At this time, it was Mo Caiwei who made a quick decision and signed on behalf of Biden Lu.

"Biden, don't hesitate, you men don't understand such things as childbirth, we women are the most knowledgeable, the more you hesitate at this time, the more you can't make up your mind, doctor, dissect it, I'll sign this word."

Mo Caiwei was Jenny's mother, so she naturally had the ability to sign.

And Biden Lu finally responded half a day later and nodded his head.

"Okay, I'll sign."

After signing the paperwork, he changed into a sterile gown and went into the operating room, even though he was asked to do so by Biden Lu.

On the bed in the operating room, Jenny was lying there.

He walked over to her with heavy steps, took her hand, and called out, "Jenny."

By this time, Jenny was done with the anesthesia.

But she was still conscious, and her pale face became even whiter when she saw Biden Lu.

"How did you get in here?"

"Jenny, don't be afraid, I'm here with you."

Jenny, however, was reluctant.

"Don't you look..."

She was a woman and knew how bloody and messy the childbirth scene was, and she didn't want Biden Lu to see this side of her.

However, Biden Lu just held her hand tightly and didn't let go.

Jenny didn't have the strength to resist in the end, and soon, it was off.

The entire time, Biden Lu stayed with her.

Fortunately, the doctor's skills were very good, although Jenny's water broke early, but because of the timely delivery of medical care, mother and child are safe in the end, it is considered a surprise.

Jenny gave birth to a pair of dragons and phoenixes.

A boy and a girl.

After giving birth, she had passed out completely, the doctor and Biden Lu together sent her back to the ward, as for the child, Biden Lu was not distracted at all.

Having witnessed Jenny just wandering through a life-or-death situation, he was already on the verge of dying of heartache, where else could he care?

Luckily, Mo Caiwei and Quexu were there to check on the baby.

And then, Old Mrs. Sham and Master Lu also received the news and rushed over.

When I saw my little great-grandson and great-great-granddaughter lying in their infancy, I couldn't stop smiling.

Jenny was unconscious for a full half day.

When I woke up again, it was the next morning.

She opened her eyes and looked at the white ceiling in front of her, dazed for a few seconds before she realized where she was.

Next to her, Biden Lu was turning his back to her, helping her with nutrients and such.

Because he was in a coma, temporarily unable to eat, and had lost too many nutrients, the doctor recommended that he be given some nutritional fluids to maintain his health.

Jenny looked at his back and shouted softly.

"King Deep."

Biden Lu's spine stiffened.

In the next second, looking back, he was almost ecstatic when he saw the waking Jenny.

Eventually, he dropped his hands and ran over.

"Jenny, are you awake?"

Jenny barely smiled, not that she was that unhappy, it was just that she couldn't laugh, or it would strain the wound and hurt.

The anesthetic had been given before and I didn't feel much pain.

Now that the anaesthetic has long since worn off, I feel the pain coming on in hindsight.

But Jenny didn't say anything and asked him, "Where's the baby?"

Biden Lu paused and turned to push a large cradle cart over not far away.

Jenny stretched his neck slightly to look.

I saw two pink children in the bassinet, lying there, sleeping soundly.

They were so fragile, so thin, and looked as if they would shatter at the slightest touch, making Jenny's heart soft.

"Are they okay?"

"Very well, Jenny, hard work."

Biden Lu sat down and held her hand.

Jenny laughed.

"I was the one who wanted to have the baby, I love kids, what's so hard about talking about it?"

Those who have never been a mother will never know the joy of being a mother.

She knew that Biden Lu must be distressed to death, but she didn't regret it.

Even though I have suffered, I did feel the pain before, but now when I look at my two pink and healthy children, I feel it's all worth it.

Chapter 1085

When Biden Lu saw her like this, he couldn't say anything else at the moment.

Only concerned, "Are you hungry? I'll have someone go get some food."

Jenny nodded, "Good."

After Biden Lu went out, only then did she move over slowly, half propping herself up to look at the two children in their swaddling clothes.

I saw the two children, pink and white, with their little white hands clasped tightly, sleeping there like two glutinous doughnuts.

Jenny's heart was overjoyed, and some of the negative emotions from the original pain were all gone at once.

Ten minutes later, Biden Lu not only brought food, but also brought her a doctor over.

The doctor knew that Jenny had woken up, so he went forward and checked Jenny's wounds as well as his recovery.

To make sure there was nothing wrong, she had a lactation consultant come over and pump her again.

Then he instructed some precautions, which left.

After the doctor left, Biden Lu placed the food on the small table in front of her.

Jenny was trying to brace herself to sit up, but was stopped by Biden Lu.

I saw him take a cushion and put it behind her back, carefully picking her up and saying, "Don't move, I'll just feed you."

Jenny was a little embarrassed to see him, her little face flushed red, and she gaped at him.

"I'm not crippled, my hands are fine, I don't need to be fed."

However, just as she was about to go get the soup food, she was avoided by Biden Lu.

Lu Jing said with a deep face, "Obey! Just sit still."

Jenny saw him like this and immediately understood something, puffing out a laugh.

She found out that Biden Lu was feeling guilty for seeing her having a baby too hard.

Jenny sighed silently in his heart.

Since he wanted to atone for his sins, he naturally had to give him the opportunity to do so, lest the man become more sincere and do something even more horrifying.

After Jenny figured it out, she didn't say anything else and focused on enjoying Biden Lu's service.

Biden Lu gently fed her some rice, Jenny's appetite was not very good, and she only ate a small half bowl before waving her hand to stop eating.

After the meal, a lactation consultant came over.

This is naturally another incredibly difficult process.

Biden Lu was watching from the side and was about to die of heartache.

But also understand that this is a process that a mother must go through and that no one else can replace it.

Thinking of this, Biden Lu's eyes darkened.

By the time the series of operations were finished, Jenny was already sweating profusely.

Biden Lu took a towel with a heartbeat, personally wiped her body, and carried the child to her.

It was a relief to see her finish nursing.

Jenny had only recently given birth and wasn't very strong.

So after nursing, you fall asleep.

The two little ones also slept in her arms, Biden Lu saw the situation, carefully picked up the two little gnomes and put them back in the rocking blue car.

Then, only then, did they sit aside and concentrate on the mother and three children.

And when Jenny slept and woke up.

I heard Biden Lu sitting in front of the cot, looking at the two children inside the bed droning on and on.

She cocked an eyebrow and listened intently.

I only heard him say, "When you two grow up, you must be filial and nice to mommy, okay? Otherwise, don't say your mommy will be sad, I won't let you go!"

He sounded fierce, and the two kids in the pram didn't either.

Knowing whether or not they understood what he said, they all cried out in fear.

As soon as the children cried, Biden Lu, who was originally full of fierce faces, was at a loss for words.

Fearing that they would wake Jenny up, they reached for the child even as their hands were busy.

Yet two children had just been frightened of him, and how could they be so easily coaxed now?

The cries grew louder and louder, almost howling to be heard all over the world.

The good thing is that Jenny likes quiet, and the VIP ward he lives in is soundproof.

Otherwise it might even be heard by the doctors and nurses outside.

Biden Lu saw the situation and hugged the child in a hurry.

Jenny was lying on the bed, and when she saw him like this, she couldn't help but laugh in the end.

"You need to stop scaring them, it's your own son and daughter, and you have the nerve to open that up."

When Biden Lu heard this, he stiffened.

Turning to her like a child who had done something wrong, she looked at her in aggravation.

"Jenny, you're awake."

Jenny smiled, "You carry them to me!"

Biden Lu saw the situation and knew that he couldn't coax them well today.

There was also some frustration with having to carry the baby over.

Strangely enough, the two children, who had been dolling up and crying, immediately stopped crying once they were in Jenny's arms.

Biden Lu's mouth opened round in surprise.

Can you recognize people at this age? So your real mother smells better than your real father?

Jenny laughed and glared at him, "You said you, at least you are the father of the child, how can you scare the child them? They're so young, do they understand what you're saying?"

Biden Lu snorted and said with no good grace, "I don't care if they hear and understand, some truths should be taught early."

The two little guys, who had caused Jenny to suffer so much, deserved a good beating.

Jenny saw right through what he was thinking and only felt good and funny.

"What the hell did they make me suffer? Or are you making me suffer? You don't even look for the culprit to be accurate."

As soon as she said that, she herself realized that something was wrong and immediately pursed her lips and stopped speaking.

At the same time, a pretty face flushed red with shame.

Biden Lu narrowed his eyes and laughed along.

He walked over to Jenny, sat down and hugged her shoulders, softly saying, "Jenny, I promise you that we will never have another child again."

The pain of childbirth, he's really seen it firsthand.

When I had the little competitor before, it was also painful, but the whole process went pretty well.

Unlike this one....

Jenny Jing heard the words and laughed in a bad mood, "What, you're going to self-castrate .Cut?"

Hearing this, Biden Lu's movements stiffened, and somewhere instinctively cooled.

He coughed and said, "You don't have to worry about that, I'll have a way."

Jenny didn't think much of it when she saw him say that, so she turned around and went to play with the child.

On the other hand, after school, Ann and Little Jingze learned that their younger siblings had been born and also pestered Mrs. Sham and Master Lu to bring them over.

The two old men couldn't stand the pestering of the little ones, so they had to bring someone over.

Luckily, both Ann and Little Jingze were very sensible and knew that Jenny had just given birth and needed to rest and not make too much noise, so they also behaved well and even spoke in a small voice.

"Sister, are they our siblings?Why so small?"

Little Competeze was picking up beside the cradle, looking amazed at the little baby in the rocking blue.

