I'm Sorry My Love Novel Alternative

Chapter 2622

"Cousin?" Galia sneered with tears in her eyes.

Then, when she took out the bag and was discharged from the hospital, she brought out a series of test sheets and handed it to her mother.

At the same time, it was also told to these relatives.

"Mom! I was hospitalized in the county's public hospital for a week. During this period, the doctor gave me a full body examination. I want to ask my mother, is the examination at the hospital in Kilometer count as an injury test result?

I was beaten in the head. I have multiple bleeds!

I have multiple soft tissue bruises on my body. Although I have been discharged from the hospital, there are still bruises in many places.

Mom! Are you not afraid that my cousin kicked my feet and damaged my internal organs?

Did he kick me to death?"

Mother hesitated: "You...why beat you so hard?"

"Aren't you right in front of you?" Galia asked her mother with a cold face.

Mother: "..."

At this moment, Galia's heart is actually very sad, she has always been unable to let go of her mother, but she can also see that no matter what she does, her mother can't let go of her mother's family of.

In fact, this is no wonder.

The family members are also close relatives of the mother.

Both are mother's siblings. The mother and her brothers and sisters have such a strong family relationship, which is equivalent to the same family relationship between her and her brother, which cannot be separated.

Galia envies her mother for having such a strong and united family affection.

In the future, she and her brother will also depend on each other like this.

Thinking that her mother could depend on her family for life, Galia felt relieved.

Anyway, the twisted melons are not sweet. Forcibly let the mother kiss their Yan family, and the mother can't do it.

If you can't do it, just let it go.

In this case, it is not in vain for Brother Christopher to help.

"Mom, I've figured it out." Galia's tone suddenly softened: "Although houses in rural areas cannot be sold or transferred, they can be permanently resided. In the past two days, I will go to the household registration department in our county to take me and My brother and my father's household registrations are moved out.

This household registration is only for you. You can move anyone you want to move in. As for the money, give the 50,000 yuan to my cousin and the others. Anyway , they are all your relatives, and the fat and water did not flow to outsiders.

Just treat it as me... I should repay your kindness for giving birth to me and raising me.

Mom, since you have so many family members who love you, and I'm so bad again, now I have signed a debt, plus the 50,000 yuan from Brother Christopher, I owe a total of 160,000 yuan.

I still... so bad.

Why don't we cut off the mother-daughter relationship.

From now on, I won't come back to this house."

Galia's mother: "You..."

Her voice suddenly choked: "You... Where are you going if you don't go back to this house?"

"Go to my father, and my brother, we will have nowhere to live in the future, and it is estimated that we may have no fixed place for a while, and then I will give my money for three years first. Come on, I will be wandering with my father and my brother in the future.

You have your relatives who can rely on each other.

I also have to find relatives of my Yan family and rely on each other, right? "

Galia's mother: "..."

Galia didn't look at her mother: "Uncle police officer, three strong evidences are with me now, my cousin charged me with illegal loan sharks, my cousin beat me and paid me back. There was my cousin who forcibly took our house. These three things add up, enough for my cousin to go to jail, right? "

"No... No Galia, I'm your cousin, you can't be so heartless, can you?" "My cousin started pleading with Galia with a bitter face.

Galia sneered: "Do we still have a family relationship? "

Chapter 2623

Cousin was stunned by Galia's question, and couldn't answer for a long time: "I...this... "..."

Galia also had nothing to say when she saw that she had only a pitiful mother now, and she really couldn't bear to see her mother like this.

After a pause, she sighed: "Forget it, I won't pursue it at all. The money and the house are yours. Mom, just today, let's get the household registration, and I will move my household registration out of the house first.

As for For other things, whether it's my cousin hitting me or charging me more money, I don't care anymore. While the police are here, let's go to change the hukou now?" Before waiting for her mother to say anything, Galia turned around He looked at the big cousin and the big cousin: "Cousin, since the house is yours, the money is also yours, I won't hold you accountable if you beat me to jail, and I will move away from my household registration in the future. I can't come back to this village. After that, you can give my mother the care of her. You know my mother, she is frail and sick, so I hope you will take more care.

Please.”

Galia’s words were extremely sincere.

However, as soon as she finished speaking, the eldest cousin and the eldest cousin said in unison: “How can this be possible, we have our own parents and mothers, why should we give our aunts old age!

The aunt’s old age does not belong to us. No matter !

In this world, there is no such thing as a nephew and niece, and it’s not legal to say that aunts and aunts are old-aged!”

Galia sneered: “...”

In order not to let the aunt’s pension problem fall on his head, the eldest cousin is still eagerly defending: “At least I, I can’t, I’m a male, your aunt and aunt’s pension problem is the first to fall on me. On top of that, plus my daughter-in-law, your sister-in-law, she is an only child, and her parents’ pension issues are also on my head.

These are all legal and must be given to them.

Where can I still have? Energy to support my aunt?

Not only for pension, even for medical treatment, it is not my turn to spend money, right?

Aunt has a son and a daughter, so why should she ask us to pay for medical treatment?

Even if it goes to court, the judge decides , it is impossible for us to be the pensioners of our parents’ nephews and nieces! Just kidding, do you really think we don't know the law!

Galia, let me tell you, don't try to escape, even if you and your mother are divorced from the mother-daughter relationship, then It's also illegal, you still have to give your mother old age!

What a joke to assign your elderly people to our family!

You can not get old! As long as you are not afraid of shame, not afraid of this infamy!

But you can't take shit Put it on our heads!

No way!" A few minutes ago, my aunt was still the closest aunt.

Or he can give her whatever she wants, and would rather his own daughter be beaten and protect his aunt.

After a few minutes, my aunt was a shit pot.

"Congratulations! You..." At this moment, Galia's mother looked at her nephew with tears streaming down her face.

Is this the nephew that he loves so much, even prefers?

Since I was a child, all the delicious food and drink, I didn't leave it to my daughter and son to eat and drink, but to leave it to my nephew to eat and drink. In exchange, the nephew thought she was a shit pot?

At this moment, when my aunt's heart was torn to shreds.

However, the nephew of her parents' family still sneered and looked at her aunt: "Aunt! I finally understand what kind of wishful thinking your family is playing! Over the years, in the name of being good for me and feeling sorry for me, I want to push your daughter away.

Let's give you the old age. Aunt

You are daydreaming!

Your wishful thinking is really not ordinary shrewd!

You are indeed married to the Yan family for 30 years, you are noble The Yan family has worn away all the selfless character of the Yan family. Now you have become as thick-skinned as the Yan family. The same shameless and no nose. I don't like you! You, whoever loves you will give you the old age.
