

King of kings

Chapter 1961

Omi flew up and looked at the giant crocodiles sprawled below, Omi immediately emitted a solemn aura of death.

Suddenly, the giant crocodiles in the swamp below felt this aura and scattered in panic.

A group of beasts that also felt the aura of death.

When Omi landed in the swamp, not a single crocodile was left and was running further away, there was also an arm-thick overgrown viper that was also running away without a life at the moment, no, not just one, countless overgrown ones were running away.

Omi didn't think much about it, and his entire body rushed into the deep swamp in one go.

Thousands of meters deep in the swamp, Omi felt the presence of immortal qi.

Immortal qi did not exist as a whole mass, but in the thousands of meters of deep soil, it existed vaguely like air, and ordinary people who did not notice it would only think that the aura of this place was good and would not notice that it was immortal qi.

Omi stretched out a hand, and that's when a miracle happened.

In the surrounding soil, a trace of gas continued to gather into Omi's palm, and when that gas gathered more and more, it gradually displayed a purple-red glow.

Finally, Omi's palm was a very conspicuous purple glow, and this was Immortal Qi.

Omi immediately inhaled the Immortal Qi into his own body. Remember the website .kanshu8.net

"Haha, I finally have Immortal Qi again." Omi laughed, this could be in the real Immortal Qi that only Immortals or the Immortal Realm could have.

However, the amount of this immortal Qi that Omi absorbed was not much, it was estimated that it was not one-fifth of the previous Nine Daoist Demon Immortal Qi.

Although the amount is not much, but there is no way out, it is better than nothing, Immortal Qi really is not that easy to obtain, Omi used his tracking prowess to find the entire Seven Seas and found this little bit here, the rest of the sea is definitely gone, the entire Seven Seas is currently gone. Unless the future spatial rift leaked out a little bit somewhere else.

After Omi absorbed the Immortal Qi, he immediately leapt out of the swamp and stood in mid-air.

Omi didn't hesitate much and immediately rushed towards the extreme southern continent.

Omi expected that he would be able to return to the Extreme South Continent in a day at most.

Omi said inwardly, "Pray that the Half Immortal Clan didn't seek death and go to the Extreme South Continent, otherwise, the Half Immortal Clan will definitely cease to exist."

At this moment, in the skies above the Extreme South Continent, three powerful Qi suddenly flew in from afar.

"Here we are, this is the Extreme South Continent, hmm, the aura is so thin, I wonder why a place with such a thin aura can produce a strong person like Omi, this is simply unreasonable." One of the parahumans said.

These three people were the Saint King of the Half Immortal Clan, as well as the other two parahumans.

At this moment, the Saint King said, "Let's go on a killing spree."

"Yes, my king, hey, why is there no one there?"

"Yes, my king, where is the man?"

"Look, there are still people over there, it seems like they're busy retreating."

The Half Immortal Clan's Saint King snorted, "I didn't expect that Omi had prepared for this and actually arranged a retreat, but it's a pity it's too late."

"Kill."

Three parahumans instantly rushed up, and in a moment, blood flowed everywhere.

At this moment, at the Six Seas, Little Fire and the others were at the Five Seas.

Little Fire shouted, "Everyone keep order and head to the Sea of Death immediately."

At that moment, the people who had just come down to the Six Heavy Sea shouted, "It's bad, enemy

The people are already here, and those who haven't retreated down are already dead."

All of them were shocked and immediately scattered to run for their lives.

Little Fire was busy saying, "Purple Hitomi, Little White, Yan Ling, Mei, we also immediately find a place to hide."

"Little Fire, are we going to die?" Yan Ling asked.

"I'm sure it won't, alright, hide immediately."

Little Fire brought the few of them and rushed towards the ground, originally wanting to go after death to see where Bimbo could be somewhat protected, but it was too late now, not expecting the Half Immortals to come so quickly.

Sure enough, in the next moment, three quasi-immortals appeared in the sky of the Six Heavy Sea, the same three that came down from the Seven Heavy Sea, those who hadn't retreated down from the Seven Heavy Sea were already dead, and in just a few minutes, it was estimated that hundreds of thousands of humans had died.

After arriving at the Six Heavy Sea, one of that Half Immortal Clan's parahumans said, "No wonder there are so few people in the Extreme South Continent, so they have retreated here. Kill."

After saying that, a very powerful aura descended from the sky.

"Boom." The entire ground trembled, and with a loud bang, at least a tenth of the six seas were razed to the ground.

The destruction of the parahumans was too terrifying, as if a super invincible hydrogen bomb had exploded, and the entire ground was heaved to the ground.

"Amei." At that moment, the purple pupil shouted out, and Amei's body, suddenly weak, then fell from the air.

"Amei." Zi Hitomi went up and held Amei tightly.

However, it was already a corpse, and there wasn't even a word of farewell.

"Yan Ling, Yan Ling, Yan Ling." At that moment, Zi Hitomi's ears heard Little Fire's heart-rending voice.

When Zi Hitomi looked to the side, the tragedy wasn't just about him, Little Fire's woman, Yan Ling, was also covered in blood, as if every pore of her body was bleeding.

However, Yan Ling did not die immediately.

"Little Fire, I, I'm afraid I won't be able to accompany you for the rest of your life." Yan Ling touched.

"No, no." Little Fire hissed, unable to accept the fact that this was a love that he could not easily obtain, was it going to be so short, they had agreed to spend a lifetime together.

"Little Fire, live, live, live." After intermittently finishing the last word, Yan Ling's hand that was caressing Little Fire's face, weakly dropped down.

"No, Yan Ling, ahhh." Little Fire ripped into a yell.

At this time, on the ground, Little White was in pain.

When the three prospective Immortals had just come down, they also all immediately ran to the ground and went into the underground to hide, and no matter what, the underground was the best place to hide.

However, Little Fire had to take care of Yan Ling and Purple Hitomi had to take care of Mei, and as a result, they weren't as fast, so they couldn't rush down in the first place.

"Damn it." Little White gritted his teeth, Yan Ling and Amei, just died without a sound.

"Little Fire, Purple Hitomi, you guys come down quickly." Little White shouted, this wasn't the time to be sad right now, because those three half-immortal parahumans were bound to have another powerful next wave of attacks.

However, Little Fire had already lost his mind and was holding Yan Ling's corpse in mid-air, shrieking in pain, right now Little Fire didn't care about his own life or death.

Deep in the sky, the Half Immortal Clan Saint King suddenly looked to a certain place and snorted, "I thought it was Omi who had returned personally, but it wasn't, it was those Dragon and Qilin Clan reptiles who did it for Omi, hmm, these trash, they are really self degrading, actually being a lackey of a humble human." Saying that, that Half Immortal Clan's Saint King, rushed towards the low-flying Little Fire and the others.
