CH 71

Raygan POV

The day was more than fun for her. She got to try and storm off from Karsyn himself, gave that man a real run for his money, shot out of the packhouse away from him and their lunch the moment she'd finished eating. Actually heard him and his wolf, Crush, roar all angry like a full Alpha wolf roar of annoyance and anger.

Then he was just hunting her all over the pack as she ran from him and his beast, shot herself right out of the pack altogether and heard him laugh a few minutes later, they were out of sight of the pack. She stopped running and turned to look at him.

Saw the smile on his face, "Oh, I like chasing you." he'd snagged her around the waist and pulled her right into him, "A lot." he'd growled all deeply at her and was kissing her a moment later.

She kissed him back and started pulling at his clothes. It didn't take long for the pair of them to be completely naked and have him pressing her up against the nearest tree. That little chase she'd led him on was not only fun for him, she'd enjoyed it herself. Knew wolves liked to hunt their mates.

She'd wanted to see just what it was all about, had never had a fun Mate hunt before and not got to understand why they did it, it was kind of exciting and exhilarating, and the moment they'd left pack territory she'd known she was going to mate the hell out of him, was all riled up herself by him chasing her.

Had run from him to incite him even, and she knew it. Sitting there at the table with him, she could smell his scent, and it was actually driving her to want him, had needed to get away from him or the whole pack was going to see them and their bond in full swing. Had to get him out of pack territory to sort out her own needs. And although the pair of them had been yelling and roaring angrily at each other through the pack, and he'd let her keep that lead all the way out here into rogue territory, before he really closed the gap on her. He could actually outrun her, she realised.

She shoved him down onto the ground to try and get what she wanted from him, only to have it turn into a battle for dominance and the two of them were laughing and trying to get the advantage. Found herself pinned down by him, his mouth on her neck, right on her mark spot and knew she was done fighting to be in control.

Felt him take her and moaned as he did, only to have him still and hold himself within her, lift his mouth from her neck and look right down at her, smiled right at her, "I win Gorgeous." and then his mouth found hers as he started to take her all slow and steady.

"Kar," she gasped, wanted more of him and she knew it.

Heard him chuckle softly and rolled them over so she was on top of him, pushed himself up to a sitting position. "Take what you want Ray, I'm all yours."

She smiled down into his grey eyes and kissed him herself, slid her arms around his neck and did just that, took him in long firm strokes till her own head was thrown back, and she was crying out for him.

Felt his arms curl all the way around her and hold her body to his, dropped her head to his shoulder and turned her face right into his neck and just sighed softly, loved having a Mate and she knew it. Especially one like Karsyn, he was fun, and he brought out that side in her as well.

Felt his hand slide up her back and into her hair, then he just lay down and took her with him, so she was stretched out on top of him. She could feel his fingers tracing gently on her skin and relished in the soft sparks they were leaving on her skin.

"That was fun." He murmured.

"Hmm, it was. Guess the whole pack is going to know you mated me out here."

He chuckled softly, "Yep, let them. It will work in our favour any way. I'd toss you over my shoulder and haul you back, but...not in your condition. But that would have been ideal."

She chuckled herself. "I guess it would have been." she looked up at him, "I think this is going to be harder than I thought."

"Why?" he asked.

Raygan sat up on him and looked down at him, slid her eyes over his naked chest and heard him chuckle, " Oh, you like me, huh?"

She laughed now and shook her head. "It's the pregnancy making me all hot and bothered."

"Yes, you keep telling yourself that," he folded his hands behind his head and lay there just looking up at her with a full smile on his handsome face. "Try and convince yourself it's not that I'm smoking hot, and you just can't get enough of me. I know you liked the s*x. Even before we were Mates. Hell, you were doing the enemy, and it was the best damned s*x you'd ever had."

Raygan smiled down at him. "I think you got a big enough ego."

"Hmm, you grew that all on your own, not even I knew I was that damn good in bed. See what the enemy brought out in me." His hands were on her knees, he started sliding them up her thighs, "You want to go again?" he growled a little.

She looked around them and sighed, "We probably shouldn't."

"I'd never let a filthy rogue touch you, Raygan." he sat up and looked right at her. "But you are right, we are out in rogue territory, it's a risk to you being out here."

She snorted, "Didn't concern you ten minutes ago."

"Hmm, distracted by you pulling my clothes off to have your way with me."

She got up, and they hunted out their clothes, "So how do we want this to go, going back to the pack and all?" he asked.

"Let me stalk in there in front of you, look all annoyed, and you can just stroll on behind me looking all happy and well satisfied."

"Oh, that will be easy, I am." he chuckled, "Lead the way, grumpy."

She raised an eyebrow at him and then just shook her head, but did lead the way. They walked casually back to her pack until the border came into sight, and then she strode on ahead of him; his strides were longer than hers naturally, so it was easy for him to keep up with her.

She saw the border patroller look from her to him and heard Karsyn actually chuckle softly, he didn't even have to act, the man was happy right this minute, and she could feel it through their bond. Strolled out of the wooded area and back into the central part of the pack and heard him growl, "You run from me again right now, and I'll have you once more." A little menace to his amusement.

He'd said it because there were several pack members here, all of them were looking at the pair of them, and their more than disheveled state. She'd not bothered to fix her hair, and he was strolling along with his shirt unbuttoned and open. She'd turned and looked right at him.

Damned man was sexy as hell, half naked and strolling behind her with his hands in his pockets, he smirked right at her, and she missed a step, stumbled just one step, and he actually laughed, fully amused by her reaction to him, "Your mate is smoking hot." he'd stated.

Didn't attempt to even try and catch her, or stop her from falling, "Asshole." she shot at him, turned away from the man out of sheer self-preservation. If she didn't stop looking at him, she was going to wind up all hot and bothered and everyone would smell her.

He trailed her all the way to the packhouse where her father was standing waiting for the two of them, had obviously been informed they were back. He shook his head at the sight of the two of them and laughed softly, "I see son, you managed to catch your Mate."

"Ah, she's not that fast," he stated, and she could hear the amusement in him, "We'll be all good in a few weeks, she'll come round to me."

"Screw you Karsyn," she turned and stared at him.

"Again, so soon Gorgeous." His shirt was gone, and he took a step right towards her. "If you insist."

Her eyes widened as he just tossed his shirt onto the ground and started stalking her, right there in front of the packhouse, and her father at that. Looked right at him, and saw a full smirk spread across his face, " Yes, run for me again."

Heard her father snort, "Enough, you two." he stated, "Son, as much as I can see you are enjoying being mated to my daughter, we do have to find time to work on that alliance."

"Ah, back to alpha business it is I see." His eyes left hers, and he looked at her father. "I like her spirit."

"Don't go breaking that now. I'd like you with your shirt on in my office, young man."

Her father finally looked at her, "You Raygan, go shower and change, come down for the meeting."

"No." she stated, "Do the stupid deal yourself." And she turned and stalked off up the stairs, made sure to stomp the whole way, she'd see Zac's unit all sitting around out the front of the packhouse.

Heard her father snap at her, "Girl, you'll get your ass into my office in 15 minutes, or I'll walk your Mate to your room and open the door for him."

Snarled out all angry into the packhouse and continued upstairs, to shower and changed, made her way back downstairs but had a full escort it seemed, Yule and the pack's Gamma Cyrus, who was actually holding her by the arm.

Cyrus mind-linked to her, 'Just to make it look like I'm in control of you, and making you go down to your father's office. Keep that frown in place.' he sounded fully amused to her.

She could do that without issue, and even managed to stomp across the foyer once out of the elevator. Saw Zac sitting with his unit, smiled right at her, "What the hell are you looking at?" she snarled at him.

"Nothing." he shot right back, "Absolutely nothing at all." then snickered down the mind-link at her, 'you're a real disappointment to father.'

She snapped her arm from Cyrus and roared at Zac, shot off towards him all angry, actually let her anger out, about what he was doing with that she-wolf upstairs, and aimed it right at him. Heard both Yule and Cyrus really yell her name.

Watched as Zac's eyes widened, and he was up and on the move a second later, he shot behind his unit, and she saw them all go wide-eyed at his actions, she would tear through them and they knew it. He was stupid enough to sacrifice his own unit, and now they were getting to see it.

It was their job to actually protect him, but from the enemy, not their own Alpha's daughter. Not a pack member, certainly not from the boys' own half-sister. Could actually smell the fear on them as she closed the gap.

Heard her father roar her name and was a moment later picked clean up off the floor and hauled away, knew it was Karsyn, that man had moved damned fast to get from in her father's office to her, out there in the foyer. Heard him and his beast snarl and knew it was not at her, it was aimed at Zac and she knew it.
