

GETTING $10 TRILLION OUT OF NOWHERE

Chapter 50: The Urge to Reveal the Cards

After a few minutes...

Connor McDonald had tried to log in several times but to no avail. The system kept showing him that his password was wrong.

When Connor had registered his Twitch account, he didn't connect the account to his phone number.

This meant that Connor had no way to verify his account with his phone number.

After half an hour, the system kept showing Connor that his password was wrong. So, Connor gave up the account and registered a new account called 'CeeM2'.

Connor's Twitch account didn't have much money anyway, so he didn't feel bad about it being stolen.

After registering the new account, Connor specifically made it a point to connect his account to his phone number to prevent such a thing from happening again.

After filling out the basic information, Connor tuned into Mina's live stream channel. He instinctively wanted to buy a few gifts, but a message box appeared on his screen at this moment. CeeM had sent a message to Connor.

"CeeM tipped Mina 50 gifts! Click on the text to enter the live stream channel!"

When Connor saw this message, he was instantly stunned.

Meanwhile, the netizens in Mina's live stream channel started to send barrages of messages. They typed out the words "CeeM" on the public message box.

Connor quickly tapped on that CeeM's profile, and sure enough, it was the same account he couldn't log into earlier!

That was to say, someone had logged into his former account and was impersonating him!

“So I have really been hacked?”

Connor looked at his mobile phone and sighed in confusion.

He couldn't understand why someone would hack his account when he only had a few hundred dollars left in that account.

Perplexed, Connor lay on the bed, looking at his phone screen.

“Could it be that Knowles of Porthampton has hacked my account?”

Connor wondered.

However, he quickly pushed that thought aside because he noticed that the person who hacked his account didn't use his former account to promote other streamers.

Mina had previously told Connor that Knowles of Porthampton was actually the boss of a live-streaming company. He had many live-streaming guilds under his belt, and he had wanted to sign Mina onto his guild.

If Knowles of Porthampton had hacked the account, then he would definitely use Connor's reputation to promote his guild.

However, the person who hacked the account did not do so. He even sent fifty gifts into Mina's live stream channel before going offline.

This made Connor even more confused. What was this person trying to do?

Connor stared at his phone and thought for a long time. In the end, he could not think of anything that made sense. Furthermore, Mina had already logged off. So, Connor turned off his phone and was about to sleep.

“Buzz buzz buzz!”

At this moment, Connor's phone suddenly vibrated.

He picked it up and glanced at the screen. He found that it was a voice message from Mina. He quickly opened it and listened to its content.

“Connor, are you asleep? I have good news!” Mina’s sexy and charming voice was heard.

“What is it? I’m not asleep yet!”

Connor replied immediately.

“Knock, knock, knock!”

Less than a minute after Connor replied, there was a knock on the door.

Connor quickly got out of bed and opened the door. He found Mina standing elegantly at the door in a cool nightgown.

Perhaps because the live stream had just ended, Mina wore a sexy nightgown with suspenders. It casually wrapped around her seductive body and was very revealing, making it difficult to look away.

“What made you so happy?”

Connor looked at Mina and was stunned for a moment, then he asked her with a smile.

Mina walked into his room boldly and sat on Connor’s bed as she said with a smile, “Make a guess!”

“You won the lottery?” Connor asked softly.

“A few days ago, I received a million dollars from a rich man. It is basically like winning the lottery!” Mina said proudly.

“So, what is it?” Connor asked.

Connor was stunned for a moment before he asked.

“Make another guess! I’ll give you a hint. It is related to my live stream!”

Mina said impatiently and seemed a little upset after seeing Connor’s lack of reaction.

“It is related to your live stream?”

Connor rubbed his nose.

“Yes, it’s related to that tycoon in my live stream!” Mina continued to prod him.

Connor suddenly had a bad premonition when he heard that. He hurriedly asked, “What exactly is it?”

“Urgh, how can you be so stupid? Forget it. I’ll just tell you!”

Mina waved her hand in disappointment and said, “Do you remember that a tycoon named CeeM gifted me a million dollars worth of gifts in my live stream a few days ago?”

“Yes, what’s up with that?”

Connor nodded slightly. After all, he was CeeM. How could he not remember?

“I’ve been feeling bad ever since Ceem sent me a million dollars worth of gifts, so I sent him a few private messages. I wanted to treat him to a meal, but he ignored me. Today, he had actually taken the initiative to talk to me!” Mina squealed.

When Connor heard that, he was surprised to the core.

Connor finally understood why that person hacked his account.

He didn’t go for the money in his account, nor did he go for the reputation of his account. His target was Mina!

“Why do you seem a little unhappy?”

Mina saw Connor’s face turn gloomy, so she asked softly.

“Huh, it’s nothing!”

Connor replied perfunctorily. He was thinking about what the hacker planned to do at this moment.

So he sounded a little distant.

“CeeM not only chatted with me but also added me on Facebook. I said I wanted to treat him to a meal, he immediately agreed!” Mina continued to look at Connor.

“You added him on Facebook? And you want to treat him to a meal?”

Connor asked in shock.

“Yeah, he sent me so many gifts recently, so I added him on Facebook. What’s wrong with wanting to treat him to a meal?” Mina replied matter-of-factly.

“Has it not occurred to you that he might have other intentions?”

Connor hesitated before saying what was on his mind.

“Other intentions?”

Hearing what Connor said, Mina couldn’t help but hesitate.

Then she bit her lip and said softly, “I think CeeM must have some intentions because he is so willing to send me so many gifts. So, I plan to get in touch with him tomorrow. If it all goes well, I don’t mind trying to date him!”

After hearing what Mina said, Connor felt as if he was struck by lightning.

He never thought Mina would actually have such thoughts about him and would want to try to date him.

Then again, Mina did not know that Ceem was Connor!

The person she was going to meet tomorrow was simply an impersonator.

That guy had stolen his account just to connect with Mina on Facebook and then ask her out.

When they were done with dinner, would he take her to a hotel and do something to Mina?

Although Connor had never revealed his identity to Mina before, he was being impersonated right now.

It was likely that the hacker will make a move on Mina, so Connor suddenly had the urge to tell Mina the truth!

But Connor was also worried that even if he revealed his identity to Mina, she might not believe that he was CeeM.

After all, Connor was just a broke loser in Mina's eyes!
