

100 Days 501

Chapter 501 Supporting Her Sister

Day Fifty-Eight...

~*~*~*~*~

[ At Nathan's Cabin: 3:00 am ]

Jane and Nathan lost track of time. They continued playing until dawn. That's when Jane decided to test Nathan and confronted him.

"Are you SizzlingAugust?" Jane asked him directly, closing her laptop.

Nathan was taken aback for a moment. 'Damn! Did I give away my identity?' He suddenly lost his composure and he became anxious.

Jane turned to look at him and held his shoulders. Nathan remained tight-lipped, unable to respond to her question.

Before he knew it, Jane pushed him to the sofa, pinning him once more. She put pressure on him as she brought her face closer to his. There was a naughty smile on her lips as she softly mumbled, "You are SizzlingAugust..." Her eyes fell on his lips.

Nathan could only gulp hard, his heart pounding so hard against his chest. Jane's words kept replaying in his mind.

[ "Maybe I should sleep with him once." ]

[ "He is my first love! So I will make love with him once before you kill me!" ]

[ "I am going to use force and ravish him." ]

Feeling distracted, Nathan just found himself being pinned on the couch as Jane lowered her head, capturing his lips. She kissed him! Her lips felt so soft, brushing his lips as she nibbled on his lower and upper lips alternately. Her tongue also moved, urging Nathan to respond.

'Was this another dream?'

Nathan felt something getting hard on his lower body as his body became so hot. He was in this predicament when Nathan heard his name.

"Nate? Hey? Are you listening to me?" Jane tapped his shoulder.

With her action, Nathan woke up from his daydream. Jane didn't push him nor pin him on the couch. She didn't kiss him also. It was all in his mind. Nathan fantasized and just imagined that moment wherein Jane kissed him forcibly.

Nathan's cheeks burned from embarrassment. How could he fantasize about it? For goodness' sake, he was in love with Abigail. And Jane was Abigail's sister! It felt so wrong to have those wild thoughts.

Nathan immediately stood up and pulled Jane up. "You should leave now." He dismissed her without answering Jane's question.

Jane could only watch him in confusion. Nathan's mood changed quickly. He was back to being cold and rude.

'What did I say wrong?' Jane asked herself. 'Perhaps, he is determined to keep his identity a secret from me. He doesn't want to admit that he is Sizzling August.'

Jane had no choice but to step out of Nathan's room. She became unwelcomed in the devil's den. She was suddenly kicked out of his room.

Bam!

Nathan closed the door without saying a proper goodbye to Jane. She was greatly offended by his action. She stormed out with a dark look on her face. It wasn't easy to get along with Nathan. His mood was unpredictable!

But little did she know, Nathan had to kick her out of his room immediately because he was preventing her from seeing something she was not supposed to see. Nathan was so flustered. He felt like he was not in his usual self.

He had to take a cold bath to cool himself down. Jane's presence began to affect him. Was this because of the fact she was the real Shining Star? Nathan was still confused about this. But as much as possible, he knew that he should remain faithful to Abigail. He had to get rid of these wild thoughts about Jane. His attention should focus only on Abigail.

Meanwhile, Jane returned to their cabin where Ethan and Abigail were sleeping. She was about to knock when Abigail approached her from behind. Her mind was preoccupied a while ago that she failed to notice her presence.

"Sis... What are you doing out here?" Jane asked Abigail. "You couldn't sleep too?"

Abigail shook her head. "I woke up and didn't see you. So I went out to search for you. Sis... I saw you... leaving Nathan's cabin. What were you doing inside his cabin?" She asked her curiously.

Jane was rendered speechless. She didn't expect that her sister would see her coming out of Nathan's cabin.

"Sis?" Abigail stared at her expectantly, anticipating her reply.

"Sis. Don't misunderstand. I didn't do anything inappropriate. We just played games to kill some time." Jane explained to her.

"Do you like Nathan, sis?" Abigail confronted her. She wanted to know if her sister had feelings for Nathan.

Jane contemplated for a moment. Should she tell her the truth or not?

"It's okay, Big Sis. You can tell me anything," Abigail said, smiling at her.

Jane could only sigh in defeat. Then she bobbed her head. "Yes. I like Nathan."

Abigail gasped for a moment. She was surprised by her revelation.

"I'm sorry. I didn't mean to. I know... everyone here knows that you and Nathan are in a relationship. He doesn't like me... because she likes you. But don't think that I hate you or I am mad at you because of him. You are my little sister. And I love you." Jane just wanted to clear things up before it would result in a misunderstanding.

After a while, Abigail let out a soft giggle and hugged her sister. "No need to explain yourself, Big Sis. I understand. In fact, I suddenly felt relieved when I heard that. I don't want to hurt Nathan... but my heart and mind couldn't recognize him. Dave... Dave is the man I truly love."

"To think about it... You and Nathan are a perfect match. Go for it, Sis! I will support you. Follow your heart. Make him happy!" Abigail encouraged Jane. "Don't worry about others. I'm not against this. Besides, I am confident that no matter what... I will still choose Dave."

Jane nodded her head with a grateful smile on her face. She already anticipated this. Abigail didn't have any memories of Nathan. And her heart belonged to Dave.

'Sigh. I wonder if there will be a time I can reveal my soul swap with my sister. I have to apologize to her and Dave. I unintentionally hurt Dave's feelings when I was doing my mission using my sister's body. Furthermore, I became intimate with another guy using her own body. I committed a great sin for this couple.' Jane felt so guilty.

"Big Sis. Don't worry. If you need my help, you can always count on me. I will become a bridge between you and Nathan!" Abigail spoke again, reassuring her.

"Thanks, Abi. I appreciate it. However, you should focus on Dave. Don't worry about me. I will handle this, myself."

"And by the way, thank you for giving me your blessing," Jane added.

Abigail held her hand, giving it a gentle squeeze. "Of course. You are my sister. I will support you no matter what. We are family!"

"Yes. We are family. I owe you a lot. I will make it up to you, sis," Jane swore.

'I have to catch the people who harmed my sister. I will never allow them to touch her again. As long as I live, I will protect her.' Jane became more motivated to catch the people who wanted Abigail dead.

Chapter 502 Stay Away From Her

Day Fifty-Eight...

~*~*~*~*~

The weather got better today as compared to yesterday. Today was the second day of their vacation trip. Everyone was hoping to enjoy this trip without any more trouble. The group gathered together to eat breakfast.

Nathan was the last person who joined them in the dining area. He looked like he didn't get enough sleep. Dark circles could be seen under his eyes.

"Bro? Did something happen last night?" Aiden asked him.

"Nothing!" Nathan promptly responded, denying anything.

"Easy. I'm just asking because you don't look good. You look like Panda!" Aiden raised both hands in surrender.

Nathan just glared at him. His interaction with Jane and his erotic dream last night made him suffer until morning. He couldn't get her out of his mind. As much as possible he would like to avoid Jane today.

Though he had confirmed that Jane was Shining Star through her gameplay, he shouldn't be distracted. He went there for one purpose— to spend quality time with Abigail while hoping she could slowly remember him.

Jane, on the other hand, felt so great after waking up today. She made up with Ethan and she bonded with Nathan last night. She also confided her feelings with her sister, Abigail. Getting her support means so much to her.

"Lady Jane!" Tatsumi made sure to sit beside her.

"Just call me, Jane. You sound too formal."

Tatsumi let out a soft chuckle. "I like that. I'll call you Jane since my Big Boss is not around." Tatsumi was referring to Mr. Hiroshi.

"Do you feel better now?" Tatsumi turned her around to face him. He even put his hand over her forehead to check her temperature.

Three men automatically looked at them— Stephen, Ethan, and Nathan. Stephen wanted to sit next to Jane but Tatsumi was already there. He also planned to check if she still had a fever.

Meanwhile, Ethan didn't like to see another guy touching Jane. He could see Tatsumi as a competitor. He looked in his father's direction only to be surprised since he caught him staring at Jane.

'Eh? Is my Dad looking at Miss Jane? Or Miss Abi?' Abigail was sitting on Jane's left side so Ethan got confused whether his father was looking at Jane or Abigail.

When Nathan sensed that Ethan was observing him, he immediately shifted his gaze back to the table.

"Let's eat!" Cherry blurted out since no one paid attention to the food.

"Yes! Let's fill our tummy with healthy and delicious food to start our day!" Aiden spoke up cheerfully. He was in the mood now since the weather was nice. He could continue his surprise for Cherry.

When they began to eat, Tatsumi became more attentive to Jane with extra care. He was putting food on her plate. His sweet gesture was an eyesore to both Stephen and Ethan.

While everyone focused on their food, Abigail could only watch Nathan secretly. She was thinking of a way how she would help her sister get close to Nathan. When an idea popped up in her head, she leaned closer to Dave and whispered, "Let's go to the camping site later."

Dave smiled faintly. "Sure. I'll make it up to you. Our yesterday's plan was interrupted by the bad weather."

After breakfast, Tatsumi decided to talk to Nathan regarding Jane. Nathan just came out of his Cabin when Tatsumi approached him.

"Mr. Sparks, Can we talk?" Tatsumi asked him in a serious tone. His demeanor was different when he was with Jane. He was showing his dominance.

Nathan just arched his brow. He was displeased by Tatsumi's unfriendly vibe. This guy was finally showing his true color to Nathan. He was such a gentleman in front of Jane. But behind her back, he was like a wild beast who was ready to attack his enemy.

"What do you want to talk about?" Nathan nonchalantly asked him. He didn't have the energy to entertain this guy.

"What happened between you and Jane... in the cave, yesterday?" Tatsumi asked him firmly. There was a hint of accusation in his eyes as he looked at him. "Are you two-timing the two sisters?"

Nathan narrowed his eyes as soon as he heard that. "Watch your words." He clenched his fists. He felt offended by Tatsumi's accusation.

"I don't have any obligation to explain myself to you," Nathan added firmly.

Nathan was about to turn around but Tatsumi held his shoulder tightly.

"Let go," Nathan ordered in his warning tone.

However, Tatsumi was not intimidated by his authoritative voice. "Stay away from Jane!"

Nathan removed Tatsumi's hand from his shoulder and said, "You don't have to ask me too. I'm already doing that."

Tatsumi didn't believe him. "I saw her leaving your cabin by dawn." He mumbled through his gritted teeth. Tatsumi accidentally saw Jane. But he didn't have the courage to confront Jane. He didn't know what she was doing inside Nathan's cabin. They were alone in that room.

Meanwhile, Nathan was taken aback for a moment. He didn't expect someone to witness Jane coming out of his cabin.

"Why don't you ask her, yourself?" Nathan replied after he recovered from his stupor.

Tatsumi crumpled his face. He talked to Nathan because he couldn't question Jane. Furthermore, he didn't have the right to ask her this very personal question. But seeing her coming out of Nathan's cabin made him jealous.

"I have to warn you. Don't play with Jane's feelings. She doesn't deserve it. I will be the one to make her happy. I like her. And I will marry her someday!" Tatsumi declared to Nathan.

He didn't know why but Nathan's ears tingled in annoyance when he heard Tatsumi's last remarks. "How sure are you?"

'She can never be yours... She will not leave long unless I permit her to do so. She owes me her life. I can kill her anytime.' Nathan thought to himself, clenching his jaw.

"I'm not the kind of person who easily gives up. I'll work hard. I'll show her my sincerity. I'll make her the happiest woman. And I know... I will get her father's support. So stay away from her." Tatsumi could sense the threat of Nathan's presence. He witnessed how Jane looked at Nathan with longing.

"Just do what you want. I have nothing to say. Besides, I don't care. Just don't waste my time." Nathan left without looking back.

"I hope you will be true to your words," Tatsumi added as he watched Nathan walk away.

Chapter 503 It Could Be You

Day Fifty-Eight...

After his confrontation with Tatsumi, Nathan became more moody and grumpy. He was not in the mood to interact with others.

He chose to be alone as he roamed around the mini-forest in the vicinity of the mountain resort. He didn't know how long he could bear this complication.

The woman he hated was the sister of the woman he loved. And lately, he was slowly wavering. The Shining Star he used to know was Phantomflake, the same woman who killed the mother of his child.

'I was fooled by Monica... I fell for her thinking she was Shining Star. How did it happen?'

Nathan picked up his phone and dialed Axel's number.

"Hello, Sir?" Axel was surprised when Nathan called him suddenly. His Boss was in the middle of a vacation trip.

"Axel, how is your investigation regarding the accident in Ceceres Hills? Did you find a clue?" Nathan couldn't be at ease since the real culprit was still at large.

"We are still looking for another person of interest. Sir... I'm afraid to say but... Miss Veronica appeared to be one of the suspects. She has a motive to harm Miss Abi. But we can't be sure... because she is someone who can't hurt you." Axel was aware that Veronica was loyal to Nathan and she cared so much about him. She wouldn't do anything to harm their Supreme Leader.

"Okay. Just continue your investigation. We have to consider all the possibilities. If Veronica has something to do with this, I will deal with her myself," Nathan firmly said.

"Got it, Sir."

"One more thing, how is your investigation about Monica? Have you gathered information about her background and anything I don't know about her?" Nathan sounded serious when he said those words. He had never thought this day would come and he would doubt Monica and her identity.

If she was the fake Shining Star, what was her purpose for approaching him? Why did she have to pretend as someone she was not?

'Is Ethan truly my son?' Nathan mumbled to himself. A seed of doubt started to grow in Nathan's mind.

Nathan shook his head, disregarding that idea. 'Of course, Ethan is my son. We've already proven it through the paternity test.'

"Spider is working on it, Sir, digging some more information related to her past and background. Should we ask Lady Veronica about some other details related to her sister?" Axel asked Nathan's thoughts.

"No. Don't ask her. Keep this investigation from her. She must not know about this," Nathan ordered him.

"This is noted, sir. We will do what we can to gather more information about Miss Monica," Axel reassured Nathan.

Nathan wrapped up their conversation and hung up. He took a deep breath, sat down, and leaned on the tree while closing his eyes. He felt so exhausted and stressed lately.

Unknown to him, Jane overheard the conversation. She had been following him ever since she saw Nathan go to the mini-forest.

'This is great. Nathan began to doubt Monica,' Jane thought to herself, a faint smile appearing at the corners of her lips.

She would like to grab this opportunity to talk to Nathan alone. She just waited for ten minutes before she came out of her hiding spot.

She sat down next to Nathan. Sensing the newcomer's presence, Nathan opened his eyes only to be surprised by Jane.

'Here she is... again.'

Nathan put on a grim expression as he looked at her.

"Can you see? I want to be alone." Nathan scowled at her. He emphasized that he didn't want her to be there.

But Jane was brave enough to ignore his complaints. She could handle his tantrum because she was in a good mood today.

"I didn't see any warning signs." Jane nonchalantly responded, shrugging her shoulders.

Nathan glowered his eyes at her. "Stay away from me. Your father's subordinate will be upset when he sees us together. I don't want him to misunderstand our relationship. I'm not two-timing anyone." Nathan sounded like a kid complaining about some bullies.

Jane blinked her eyes in puzzlement. She wondered if Nathan was referring to Tatsumi.

"Did Tatsumi talk to you? What did he say?" Jane didn't expect Tatsumi to confront Nathan. 'He shouldn't get involved.'

"Just ask him." Nathan stood up. He didn't have any plans to stay in one place where Jane was around.

He was about to leave but Jane grabbed his hand tightly. "Nate. I have something to discuss with you. Listen to me first."

Nathan turned his body to face her. "What?"

"I can't obey your command. I won't avoid Ethan. Please don't forbid me from interacting with him," Jane pleaded.

Nathan's expression darkened further when he heard that.

"I won't stay away from him... including you! Starting today, no one will dictate what I should or should not do. I'll do what I want in the remaining days. I only have forty-two days left." Jane said with conviction.

Nathan frowned at the mention of Forty-Two Days. Was she counting the remaining days in their contract? Why was she in particular with the number of days left?

"Not obeying me means breaching our contract. How can you say that you will do what you want without following my orders and command?" Nathan questioned her with disbelief. Her stubbornness was getting on his nerves.

"I'll find Raven for you. And I'm willing to die in your hands. Are those two reasons not enough to reassure you of our contract?"

"I won't tell my father... and I will do no harm for you and Ethan. I'll atone for my sin. I won't betray you, Nate. You have my word. You know me. Phantomflake never breaks her promise," Jane tried to convince him.

Nathan was silent. He was just observing Jane, not breaking their eye-to-eye contact.

'I know. Shining Star never breaks her promise.'

"Fine. Do whatever you want. Just don't bother me," Nathan removed her hand.

Jane's lips curled up into a satisfied smile. Nathan saw her bright expression, leaving him in a trance.

"Thanks, Nate!" Jane felt grateful. "But I can't promise not to bother you," Jane added meaningfully.

'I will stick with you until you notice me... I'll do my best to win your heart and gain your affection. My life depends on it,' she swore to herself.

"What will you do if you can't find Sizzling August within forty-two days?" Nathan suddenly asked her out of the blue. He was still curious about that.

Jane fixed her eyes on Nathan's face, staring at him intently. "Who said I won't find him?" Jane moved closer to Nathan, placing her hand on his chest teasingly. Nathan felt uncomfortable with her touch. Their closeness was making his body tense. 'Damn it! She's doing this to me... again.'

"Even if he hides from me, I will be able to trace him. He taught me everything. Don't underestimate my skills," she winked at him.

Nathan just arched his brow, eyeing her in disbelief. 'Where did you get that confidence? I'm already in front of you. But you still have no idea.'

As if Jane had read his mind, she tiptoed and whispered to his ear, "Who knows... he is just nearby. It could be someone close to me. It could be... You."

Nathan: "..."

Chapter 504 The Casanova Falls In Love

Day Fifty-Eight...

~*****~

"It could be... You," Jane put emphasis on the word 'You'.

Nathan was at a loss for words. He felt his body freeze as if he was splashed with a bucket of cold water.

'Did she figure out my identity?' Nathan looked away, feeling a little bit anxious. He didn't know why, but he was afraid of Jane knowing that he was SizzlingAugust.

What if she would seriously do the things she was planning to do if ever she would meet SizzlingAugust? Making love with him?! Force him and ravish him? Nathan's cheeks reddened with those wild thoughts. He immediately shook his head, erasing those unwanted thoughts from his mind.

Jane already made up her mind. She realized that she didn't have much time left. Using their past, she would try to gain Nathan's trust and get close to him. She had a high chance of winning his heart if Nathan would completely accept her as Shining Star.

"Nate, you avoided my question in your cabin. Now, I would ask you again. Are you SizzlingAugust?" Jane anchored her arms around Nathan's neck, her eyes never left his face.

Nathan was not able to say a word. He was torn between denying it or confessing the truth.

Jane heaved a deep sigh when she noticed the hesitation in Nathan's eyes. "Nate, if you are SizzlingAugust, don't you dare lie to me. You already ditched me once. You disappeared without saying goodbye to me."

"If you deny it, then I'll hate SizzlingAugust for the rest of my life. I already confirmed it! You are him! I am so familiar with the way he plays. I couldn't be wrong! You are SizzlingAugust!" Jane said with certainty.

Nathan couldn't believe it. With his gameplay, Jane was able to recognize him right away. How embarrassing it was for him. Unlike him, he failed to recognize the real Shining Star and thought someone else as her.

"Y-Yes... I'm SizzlingAugust..." Nathan admitted in his low voice. He lowered his head as he couldn't look straight into Jane's eyes. He couldn't bring himself to lie to her. At first, he thought he could deny it but his mouth already betrayed him.

Jane's face brightened up since Nathan finally admitted the truth. With a joyful heart, Jane pounced on him, hugging him tightly. Nathan was caught off guard once more. All he could do was stood there like a frozen statue.

It did not take long before Jane released him. And the next thing she did was step on his right foot and punch him hard on his chest.

Pound!

Nathan was awakened from his stupor when he felt pain in his right foot and his chest. When he glanced at Jane, she was already glaring at him.

"I've been dying to do this to you! I guess... our friendship just means nothing to you. You failed to recognize me," Jane expressed her frustrations toward Nathan. After saying that, Jane walked away, leaving Nathan in his current spot.

Nathan could only watch her retreating back. He blinked several times, his mind still processing Jane's words. He had the urge to follow her and explain his side. But something was stopping him from doing so. He had to find out first how Monica was able to steal Shining Star's identity. What was her real motive?

Meanwhile, Jane held her chest as she continued walking away from Nathan's spot. Her heart was beating so fast. She had to control her emotions first, otherwise, she might do something inappropriate.

'Don't make it so obvious that you like him so much! You have to restrain yourself a little or else, Nathan will remain hating you. I don't want to look like Veronica... a woman who is so obsessed with him,' Jane reminded herself.

Jane exhaled deeply. 'Take it easy, Jane. One step at a time! We are getting there,' she mumbled, tapping her chest. Then a bright smile appeared on her charming face. She couldn't contain her happiness. Since Nathan revealed his identity as SizzlingAugust, she found more reasons to approach and bother him.

'I will make you fall for me again... not as Shining Star... but as Jane...' Jane felt so motivated.

βανδας ηθνε | *****

On the other side of the mountain resort, Aiden invited Cherry once more. He asked her to accompany him to the View Deck. Fulfilling her yesterday's promise, Cherry tagged along with him. But she already made up her mind that starting tomorrow, she would hang out together with Jane.

The two hiked for an hour before they reached the view deck. Though it was exhausting, it was all worth it. The beautiful and majestic view of the mountain, the forest, and the sea welcomed their sight. Cherry could only gasp in amusement and admiration.

"Oh my gosh! This place is so beautiful!"

Aiden was glad because he could see the joy in Cherry's eyes. It felt so good to see her smile.

"You are the first woman I brought here," Aiden mumbled. But Cherry seemed that she was not listening to him. Her attention was focused on the beautiful scenery in front of her.

Aiden just shrugged his shoulders, letting Cherry enjoy the view and appreciate the beauty of nature. He already felt contented watching her on the sideline. He had been dating a lot of women. However, he had never felt this kind of feeling before.

His heart was jumping with joy just to see her smile. It kept pounding so hard whenever she was near. And when she was not around, he couldn't wait to see her.

'Damn! I fell so hard for this woman...' Aiden thought to himself, still admiring Cherry's smiling face. It was seldom for him to see this. Cherry didn't usually smile when he was around. She was always serious and looked scary. But still, he liked her. He liked her fierce side.

'She gave me a chance to make friends with her. Now... I have to confess my feelings. This is my only chance. Otherwise, I won't find the courage to tell her what I feel.'

Aiden Wu was known as Casanova. He never stayed in a relationship for too long. He hated commitment. He just wanted to play and flirt with them. No strings attached. But now, he felt different towards Cherry. He wanted more than a fling... more than a friend. He wanted her as his woman.

'I guess... I'm ready to take a serious relationship... I'll behave now. I'll change for the better. For Cherry...' Aiden could feel his own nervousness.

Thump! Thump! Thump!

'Damn! My heart is running so wild. I'm so nervous.' Aiden wiped his sweaty forehead, including his palms.

He inhaled and exhaled. Then he looked at the maple tree just a few meters away from them. He hid the bouquet of flowers in that tree. He also prepared a gift for Cherry. He just hoped Cherry wouldn't reject him.

Their relationship had been improving lately. He thought he finally had the chance to confess his feelings. He could no longer hide it.

"Aiden! Let's try the zipline!" Cherry called him, bringing him back to the present.

"Oh, Sure! Let's try it!" Aiden would like to savor this first. He was mustering up his courage until he could find the right moment to confess.

Chapter 505 Alliance Between The King And The Dragon

Day Fifty-Eight...

[ At Country M... ]

Alexander, the Dragon Lord, met the person who suggested to form an alliance with him. They met in an abandoned building on the outskirts of Towerville City.

Both parties came alone without bodyguards. Alexander didn't expect that he would meet the mysterious leader of the King Stallion Mafia. He was known as the King.

"It's my honor to meet you, King!" There was a gleam in Alexander's eyes as he said those words.

"Same here, Dragon Lord," Vincent replied. The two leaders exchanged courtesy with each other.

"You are already powerful. Why do you want to form an alliance?" Alexander asked Vincent, assessing him.

"I'm going all out now... against the Syphiruz Mafia. But I heard that the Supreme Leader of the Syphiruz received the support of the Sawada Clan." Vincent answered him.

Alexander frowned when he heard that. "If that is the case, then Syphiruz might have found his missing daughter. This is the only reason the Godfather will give his full support to a mafia group."

"I also tried to search for his missing daughter... in exchange for our alliance!" Alexander added, informing Vincent.

Vincent rubbed his chin, thinking so hard. "I've been waiting for my spy to update me. I haven't received a call yet. I am closely monitoring the Sawada Clan and the Syphiruz Mafia."

Alexander could only watch Vincent in amusement. He heard that the King was the Master of Schemes. Who would have thought that he could manage to plant spies on both powerful organizations— the Sawada Clan and the Syphiruz Mafia? It only meant his connections were not a joke. He was a resourceful and cunning man.

'I don't want to be his enemy. He is a dangerous guy.' Alexander thought to himself.

"I am amazed by your skills. You managed to infiltrate those two organizations and planted hidden spies. How did you do that?" Alexander asked him expectantly.

Vincent let out a soft chuckle. "It's so simple. Just turn your enemy's subordinate into your loyal ally. You can find some who are unloyal to their masters."

Alexander could only commend this guy. He tried it once but he failed. He thought it wasn't easy to plant a spy on the Syphiruz Mafia and the Sawada Clan. It only meant Vincent convinced the spies to be on his side, instead of working loyally under their masters.

'What kind of trick did he use?' Alexander mused to himself.

"What is your decision now, Dragon Lord? Will you become my ally?" Vincent couldn't wait to hear his response.

"Okay. I'll join hands with you. Let's destroy the Syphiruz together... along with the Sawada Clan!" Alexander finally made his decision.

Vincent was satisfied to hear that. "I swear, you won't regret your decision." He extended his right hand in front of Alexander, asking for a handshake.

Alexander accepted it as a form of sealing the deal. Today, the alliance between the King Stallion Mafia and the Red Dragon Mafia has been formed!

βαῖδας ἦθνε | "So, what is our first move?" Alexander questioned him, curious about what they should do next.

"Eliminate the Godfather. Without him, the Sawada Clan will fall," Vincent suggested.

"Don't underestimate him. He might be old. But he can still fight. What if your plan fails?" Alexander was worried about the outcome of this assassination.

"There is always an alternative plan once the first plan fails. If Syphiruz successfully found his missing daughter... then we can use her. His daughter is the godfather's Achilles' heel."

Alexander bobbed his head in agreement. "We should find out the identity of his daughter."

"Leave this to my spy," Vincent reassured him.

They were still talking when Vincent received a call from his spy. "Speaking of the devil!" He showed his phone to Alexander before answering the call button. He put it on the loudspeaker mode.

"I've been waiting for your call. What did you find out? Who is the Godfather's daughter?" Vincent didn't waste time as he asked his spy as soon as the call got connected.

"Boss... It's Abigail Scarlett... the missing heiress of the Yan Family. She is the Godfather's missing daughter."

Both Vincent and Alexander were stunned for a moment when they heard that. Abigail Scarlett was Mr. Hiroshi's daughter?!

It seemed that the spy hadn't received information about the first daughter, Phantomflake. He never reported her existence.

Vincent didn't know whether he should cry or laugh. Dave's woman was once again involved with a powerful man like Mr. Hiroshi.

'How can we let her live? Her background is getting more dangerous.' Vincent thought to himself.

Meanwhile, Alexander was having conflicting thoughts. He had met Abigail already. And he planned on stealing her away from Nathan. Since she was Mr. Hiroshi's daughter, then he found more reasons to get closer to her. In his mind, Abigail would become the heiress of the Sawada Clan... their future leader!

"King, if your assassination plan fails, let me take it over. I have a plan," Alexander spoke up, a smirk plastered on his face.

"What plan?" Vincent asked him curiously.

"I'll make Abigail Scarlett my wife. And I will take over the Sawada Clan." Alexander declared to him confidently.

But Vincent just watched him in disbelief. "Abigail Scarlett?"

Abigail was already involved with Nathan and Dave. And now, another guy wanted to join her harem? Vincent didn't like this plan. Besides, he wasn't confident about Alexander marrying Abigail.

"Don't try your luck, Dragon Lord. That woman is either in love with my friend Dave or our enemy, Nathan Sparks." Vincent said a piece of advice.

Alexander narrowed his eyes on him. "What? Who is Dave?"

"Before she lost her memory, she was in a relationship with my friend, Dave. Nathan got into the picture just recently."

"Well, you can't blame her. She's an interesting woman. I already met her. I interacted with her twice or thrice. I could say... she has a unique charm." Alexander shared his experience while interacting with Abigail before.

But unknown to him, the person he met was Phantomflake who was inside Abigail's body.

Vincent could only shake his head helplessly. He couldn't understand why these guys were so interested in Abigail Scarlett.

But he had to admit that Abigail changed a bit after her accident. When he met her again, he could feel her overbearing aura. She seemed like a different person from the one they used to know.

Chapter 506 Rejection

Day Fifty-Eight...

~*~*~*~*~

Aiden and Cherry enjoyed ziplining at the view deck. The feeling of sliding from a certain height downward gave them a wonderful feeling. It felt like they were flying through the air. The scenery from up above was priceless.

"I love it!" Cherry blurted out, her eyes gleaming with joy.

"I'm glad you like it." Aiden's lips curled up in a broad smile.

After ziplining, the two climbed back to the view deck. The two sat under the maple tree as they took a rest.

Aiden brought a basket of food for their snacks. He offered her some water and sandwiches. Cherry happily accepted it. It had been so long since the last time she enjoyed this kind of outdoor activity.

When she was still working for Phantom's Assassin Guild, she often stayed in her computer room, doing her important tasks. She seldom visited places like this.

"I should ask my sis to try this!" Cherry mumbled. She was thinking about Jane.

Aiden could only sigh helplessly. Every time they were together, Cherry always mentioned Jane. She only talked about her.

'It's hard to compete against Phantomflake.' Aiden lamented to himself.

While Cherry was munching her sandwich, Aiden could only watch her in admiration. Even the way she eats could catch his attention.

Reflexively, his gaze fell on her lips. Aiden could only gulp hard as he restrained himself. He was tempted by her kissable lips. Aiden immediately shook his head, erasing the inappropriate thought out of his mind. He should behave, otherwise, Cherry would beat him up.

He didn't want to ruin his confession. He had to be patient.

With that thought in mind, Aiden slowly stood up. He went to grab the bouquet of flowers he hid behind the maple tree. He also picked up the jewelry box containing a silver bracelet.

Aiden exhaled deeply, trying to calm his anxious self. He was so nervous. Who would have thought that confessing feelings would be this nerve-wracking experience for him?

He gripped the bouquet tightly. He took another deep breath. "This is it! No backing down now."

Aiden finally mustered his courage up. He was now ready to confess his feelings. Cherry just finished her snacks when Aiden stood in front of her.

Cherry looked up with a questioning gaze. He was holding something behind his back and he looked so tense.

"What's wrong with you?" Cherry asked him, lifting her eyebrow. She also stood up, dusting her clothes off.

Aiden bit his lower lip and presented the bouquet of red roses to Cherry. His hands were trembling. But he took the courage to say, "F-Flowers for you..."

"You are as dangerous as the thorns of these roses!" Aiden spoke without thinking. He was supposed to say 'as beautiful as these roses', however because of nervousness, he said a different thing.

Cherry just frowned as she darted her gaze back and forth between Aiden's face and the roses.

Realizing his mistake, Aiden just smiled sheepishly while scratching the back of his neck.

"I'm just kidding. I mean you are so pretty like these flowers." Aiden corrected himself.

Cherry just blinked her eyes, contemplating whether to accept the flowers or not. She was not used to receiving flowers from a man.

But since Aiden became her friend, she finally accepted the bouquet. "Thank you for this. What has gotten into you? You don't have to do this."

"I just want to celebrate our friendship and appreciate you," Aiden replied, his face blushing.

"O-Okay..." Cherry replied. She gazed at the flowers and smiled. "Why are you blushing?" she asked him straightforwardly.

"Oh. It's nothing!" Aiden immediately turned around to hide his reddened cheeks.

'Alright. Now, I just have to give her my gift and confess my feelings.' Aiden was motivating his own self.

After a while, Aiden picked up the jewelry box from his pocket. He kneeled in front of her and suddenly asked her, "Cherry, can you be my girlfriend?"

Cherry: "..."

There was a moment of silence. Aiden remained on his knees while holding the jewelry box. He looked like someone proposing to his girlfriend.

Cherry didn't know what to say. Aiden's action was unexpected.

"What did you say?" Cherry finally broke the silence. Did she hear it right?

Aiden started to sweat profusely. "I'm asking you if you can be my girlfriend. I like you."

Cherry's eyes widened in surprise. Aiden was anticipating her reply. He felt like his heart was going to burst from too much nervousness as he waited for her.

When she recovered from her trance, Cherry stepped back and shook her head. "No. I can't. Not me. Getting into a relationship is not part of my plan... nor my priority."

Aiden's face became pale as soon as he heard that. He felt like every ounce of his energy was drained from him.

Cherry couldn't handle this situation as she felt awkward and uncomfortable. Without saying a word, Cherry ran away, leaving Aiden in his spot.

"Ouch!" Aiden slumped on the ground, unable to move. He just watched her back until she vanished from his sight. Cherry's rejection hit him so hard. He was shocked beyond belief.

'Damn!' Aiden placed his hand on his chest. His heart clenched. 'So this is the feeling of being dumped by a woman?'

Aiden blinked his eyes, feeling lost and absentminded. At that certain moment, Aiden felt the need to contact his friends— Stephen and Nathan. This was the first time he felt so broken and helpless. He was used to being the one breaking off with women.

He clumsily picked up his phone and dialed Stephen's number first. He badly needed a friend right now.

"Hello?" Stephen's voice was heard from the other line.

"Steph..." Aiden's voice cracked. He couldn't utter a word.

"What happened? Where are you?" Stephen asked him worriedly. He could sense that something was wrong with his friend.

"View deck..." Aiden replied shortly. He didn't expand nor elaborate on his answer.

"Okay. I'm coming!" Stephen went to the rescue. He already knew that Aiden needed him. He sounded like he was about to cry.

"Please bring a few drinks!" Aiden requested.

"We will drink, but not in the view deck," Stephen was thinking about safety first.

Chapter 507 Anger And Jealousy

Day Fifty-Eight...

~*~*~*~*~

[ At the Camping Site... ]

Abigail and Dave started putting up a tent. They often do this every time they hang out together. The two had their own world, not caring about others. They truly missed each other.

But aside from catching up together, Abigail had another purpose for spending time alone with Dave. She promised her sister that she would help her when it came to Nathan. Though Jane didn't ask her to do this, she just wanted to do something for her.

'I need to show Nathan that the man I love is Dave. I hope he will eventually give up on me and he will take notice of my sister.' Abigail thought to herself.

She wasn't so expressive in front of other people since she and Dave were used to hiding their relationship from the public. But now, she was acting differently.

"Abi, do you think it's best to mingle with others than to spend our time alone? We came here as a group. We should join others," Dave shared his thoughts when he was done setting the tent up. Abigail was sitting in front of him.

"It's fine. We came here to enjoy ourselves. Besides, others have different interests from us. Aiden and Cherry went for a hike. I can't do that since I am still recuperating. My sister is with Ethan." Abigail reasoned out.

But Dave was thinking about Nathan. He knew that Nathan also wanted to spend time with Abigail. However, as long as the two of them were together, Nathan couldn't get the chance to be with Abigail.

Of course, Dave was happy because Abigail chose to be with him. But part of him was feeling sorry for Nathan. He could understand his feelings because he experienced them before.

Nathan did so much for Abigail. Dave acknowledged that. So as much as possible, he didn't want to be ungrateful.

"I think we should invite Nathan and others to join us here..." Dave suggested.

Abigail pouted her lips when she heard that. "Why? Don't you want to be alone with me?" She put on a pitiful face, feeling a little bit upset.

Dave didn't mean to ruin her mood. "No. It's not that. I'm sorry. Don't be mad." He apologized right away. He could understand why Abigail relied so much on him. Abigail couldn't remember others so she was so distant from them including Nathan.

'Fine. I shouldn't force her. She is still recuperating.'

"If you are truly sorry, then hug me!" Abigail demanded.

Dave could only let out a soft chuckle before complying with her request. He walked at the back and hugged her from behind. He even planted a soft kiss on her head.

"There... Happy now?" Dave asked her softly.

Abigail bobbed her head, holding his arms that were wrapped around her body. They were in that position when Abigail saw someone from a distance.

'It's Nathan!' Her eyes gleamed as soon as he recognized the guy slowly approaching them. An idea popped up in her head.

Without further ado, Abigail broke free from Dave's embrace and she turned around to face him.

"What's wrong?" Dave asked her in confusion. He was about to glance in Nathan's direction when Abigail grabbed his head, blocking his view.

"Dave, I love you," she mumbled before capturing his lips.

Dave could only welcome her soft lips, brushing his. He closed his eyes and grabbed her waist, pulling her body closer to him. Abigail didn't restrain herself as she deepened the kiss further, clinging to him tightly.

Abigail was kissing him aggressively. She bit his lower lip, urging Dave to part his mouth. When he did, Abigail thrust her tongue inside his mouth, exploring and seeking his tongue. The two were so engrossed with each other's lips, ignoring Nathan's presence.

Without breaking the kiss, Abigail pushed Dave toward their tent. She rashly unbuttoned Dave's shirt. Abigail was aware that Nathan was watching them.

Nathan, on the other hand, didn't know whether to run away or break the two from each other. He just stood there, watching the two as they shared a very passionate kiss. Dave and Abigail were clearly making out in front of him.

Different emotions surged up in his heart— anger, jealousy, and shock. He clenched his fists tightly. He could no longer bear to see his woman getting intimate with another man. It broke his heart. Anger consumed him completely. With bloodshot eyes, Nathan lost his control.

Instead of running away, he decided to interrupt and break those two. He wanted to beat Dave from too much jealousy. However, before he could run in their direction, someone stopped him.

"Nate!" Jane grabbed his elbow tightly. She could feel Nathan's anger. She could see it on his face. He looked like someone who was going to kill someone.

"Let go!" Nathan ordered her with his firm and authoritative voice.

But Jane shook her head stubbornly. "No. Otherwise, you will do something you will regret later."

Nathan gritted his teeth. He tried removing her hand but she didn't let go. Feeling impatient, Nathan grabbed Jane by her neck using his right hand and pushed her onto the tree. He was furious!

Jane couldn't breathe. Nathan was strangling her so hard. "N-Nate..." She didn't want to hurt Nathan but he was not in his usual self at this moment.

She was about to kick him and twisted his arm but Nathan suddenly let go, realizing that he was choking Jane.

"Cough! Cough!" Jane rubbed her neck and tried to catch her breath. When she looked at Nathan, she felt relieved since he finally calmed down.

Nathan didn't know if he should say sorry to her. But he couldn't bring himself to say the word. In the end, Nathan turned around and walked away. He was heartbroken and in pain. If Jane hadn't stopped him, he should have made a scene in front of Abigail, fighting Dave.

Jane could only watch him as his figure drifted away from her sight. Her heart ached for him as well. She saw the pain and sadness in his eyes a while ago. Nathan was clearly hurt by the scene he witnessed.

'Abi... I don't know if I should feel grateful... but seeing how Nathan is hurt like this... I can't be happy with this.' Jane felt sorry for Nathan. She sat on the ground and closed her eyes. She wished to ease the pain in his heart but she didn't know how.

Chapter 508 Ethan's Father

Day Fifty-Eight...

~*~*~*~*~

[ At Stephen's Cabin... ]

Stephen darted his gaze back and forth between his two best friends, Nathan and Aiden. The two were both silent and just kept drinking their beers. Aiden already finished five bottles while Nathan just started drinking.

Aiden was the first one who invited them for a drink. It did not take long before Nathan joined them. Without saying a word, Nathan grabbed the beer in Aiden's hand and drank it as if he was thirsty.

"Can you slow down a bit? The two of you will get drunk easily if you keep drinking like that." Stephen stole the bottles of beer from their hands.

Nathan glared at Stephen while Aiden grabbed a different bottle. "Just let me do this, Steph. I want to forget something!"

"How about you?" Stephen turned to Nathan. He didn't know what happened to these two. No one was telling him.

Nathan just ignored him. Just like Aiden, Nathan grabbed a different bottle of beer and opened it.

'Sigh. I guess. I should let them drink and get drunk so that they will speak to me.' Stephen sighed deeply.

Fifteen minutes had passed and Aiden began to speak. He was already tipsy.

"Stephen! I already drink ten bottles but why? Why can't I forget how Cherry rejected me?"

Stephen: "..."

Nathan also paused for a moment when he heard Aiden's last statement. Both Nathan and Stephen watched Aiden in disbelief. So the reason why he was drowning himself with alcohol was that he got rejected by Cherry.

"Ah, your first rejection," Stephen mumbled, smiling faintly.

Aiden narrowed his eyes at Stephen. "Stop smiling. And don't laugh at me. It is not funny at all."

Aiden pounded his chest using his fist. "I... I didn't expect that it hurts so much. My heart feels like it is being torn right now." He began to complain to his best friends.

Nathan and Stephen just allowed him to speak. It was best for him to let it all out. They were just there to listen.

"I have never experienced this. My self-confidence disappeared after this rejection. Am I ugly? What's wrong with me? Am I not attractive?" Aiden continued to speak.

"Maybe you are not her type. Furthermore, you have a bad reputation," Nathan frankly said, not filtering his words.

"Ouch! I'm your friend. You should support me and boost my confidence," Aiden lamented, putting on a pitiful face.

Stephen could only shake his head helplessly. Nathan was not the kind of person who would comfort someone with his words. Stephen could only tap Aiden's shoulder.

"Just charge this to experience. Everyone could experience some ups and downs and learn from his failures." Stephen thought that Aiden would realize his misdeeds after this rejection. Besides, he made some women cry before. Now, it was the right time he should reflect on his action.

"Argh! How can I face Cherry tomorrow? I feel so embarrassed. I shouldn't have confessed my feelings!" Aiden felt like crying. "Steph. Can you help me? Erase my memory just like how you erase Phantomflake's memory!" Aiden pleaded desperately.

Pak!

"Ouch!"

Nathan smacked Aiden's forehead when he mentioned Phantomflake's name. "Don't mention her."

Aiden could only pout his lips and rubbed his forehead.

"Your experience is not very traumatic. Why would I erase your memory?" Stephen said nonchalantly. Aiden's request was ridiculous.

"I think I need you to erase my memory too," Nathan blurted out of the blue.

Stephen and Aiden were stunned for a moment. They both turned in Nathan's direction, eyeing him with disbelief.

"Why?" Both men asked Nathan in unison.

But Nathan just gulped his beer and looked outside the window. I think you should take a look at

"Nate, you should have requested Stephen to erase your memory about Monica's death. It is something very traumatic to you!" Aiden remembered that Nathan suffered a lot from so many nightmares and sleepless nights. He always dreamed of Monica dying in his arms.

Pak!

"Ouch."

At this moment, Stephen was the one who smacked Aiden's forehead.

"Monica is not Shining Star. She deceived me. And I will find out the reason why." Nathan declared to them.

"OMG. She deceived you. Then how about Ethan? Is he your son?" Aiden asked him exasperatedly.

Both Nathan and Stephen shot him a cold sharp glare. Meeting their deathly glare, Aiden could only hit his mouth and shut up.

"Ethan is my son!" Nathan firmly said.

"But Kathleen said Monica was dating a guy in secret. She might be cheating on you. What if that guy is Ethan's real father?" Aiden was not able to control his blabbering mouth. He was drunk so he would say anything that comes to his mind.

"Aiden, Stop!" Stephen scolded him already.

Nathan could only clench his fists. He didn't know what to feel if ever Ethan ends up not being his biological son.

"My father and I already confirmed his identity through a paternity test. Of course, he is my son!" Nathan insisted on it.

"Yeah. Let's not argue about this. Anyway. What is your plan for tomorrow?" Stephen just wanted to change the topic.

"Nothing!" Aiden promptly responded. "I will just stay here and do nothing!"

The three continued drinking without knowing that someone overheard their conversation. Little Ethan was outside the cabin when they talked about him and Monica.

'My mother deceived my Dad? I might not be Dad's son. My mother had another guy?' Ethan felt disheartened by that possibility.

Ethan left the cabin without letting them know of his presence. He ran away and looked for a place to hide. He ended up passing through the camping site. He bumped into Jane.

"Ethan?"

"Miss Jane?"

"It's already nighttime. What are you doing here? Are you hungry?" Jane asked Ethan softly.

The young boy just bobbed his head. He was glad to meet Jane there.

"Okay. Let's eat. I'll call Dave and Abi to join us." Jane was about to approach Dave and Abigail's tent when Ethan suddenly stopped her.

"Miss Jane... can you please hug me?" Ethan was asking to be comforted by Jane.

"Is there something wrong?" Jane held his shoulders, asking him.

"Nothing. I just need your hug right now," Ethan mumbled in his pleading tone.

With a faint smile, Jane pulled the boy into a warm hug. "Don't be sad. I'm just here for you. Tell me anything. I will listen."

"Miss Jane... what if... What if I'm not Dad's biological son?" Ethan asked her.

Jane was taken aback for a moment. She was reminded of the DNA test she asked Stephen to do before she returned to her original body. It was a paternity test between Vincent and Ethan.

"Where did you get that idea? Of course, you are your Dad's son. He loves you." Jane stroked his head, consoling the boy.

"I love my Dad too... I don't want to have another father." Ethan shared his feelings with Jane.

Jane could only bob her head. 'Sigh. I forgot about Ethan's feelings. I don't want this kid to be hurt. I think I should forget about finding the truth about whether he is Nathan's biological son or not. I don't want him to get involved in this mess. This kid is innocent. He shouldn't suffer because of Monica's lies.'

Chapter 509 He Needs To Work Hard

Day Fifty-Eight...

~*~*~*~*~

Since Nathan, Stephen, and Aiden were having their drinking session, they didn't join Jane's group during dinner. Jane, Abigail, Dave, Cherry, Tatsumi, and Ethan ate dinner together. Cherry felt relieved since Aiden was not around. She didn't know how she would interact with him after rejecting him and running away from him.

"Miss Jane, can I sleep in your cabin again tonight?" Ethan made another request. His father was bonding with his Uncles so he wanted to stay with Jane and Abigail tonight.

"Of course, you can," Jane responded, caressing his cheeks.

pandasnovel.com "Thank you!" Ethan's mood brightened up because of her. He decided to forget what he heard in Stephen's cabin a while ago.

Jane glanced at Cherry and she noticed that her friend didn't touch her food yet. It looked like she didn't have any appetite at all. Jane approached Cherry and whispered something to her.

"Come to our cabin later. We should talk. I feel like you are troubled by something."

"Okay, sis." Cherry agreed. Besides, she needed a piece of advice from her.

After dinner, Jane, Ethan, and Cherry proceeded to Jane's cabin while Dave and Abigail headed to the camping site first. They decided to spend more time together and watched the night sky.

Tatsumi, on the other hand, was summoned by Mr. Hiroshi through a phone call. He went to report an update regarding the trip.

Upon arriving at the cabin, Jane made sure to talk to Cherry. Ethan also stayed there to listen.

"What is bothering you?" Jane settled down on the couch together with Ethan and Cherry.

Cherry bit her lower lip. She didn't know how she would tell Jane about Aiden. She felt embarrassed.

"Come on. You can tell me everything. What is troubling you?" Jane urged her to speak up.

Jane and Ethan looked at her, waiting for Cherry to speak up.

"It's Aiden."

Ethan and Jane exchanged glances with one another when they heard his name. "What did he do to you?"

"Nothing. He confessed his feelings in the view deck. He asked me to be his girlfriend."

Jane: "..."

Ethan: "..."

"And I rejected him," Cherry added.

Jane pursed her lips, trying to hold her laughter. But Ethan's giggle bubbled up, making her laugh with him.

Cherry looked at them with confusion. 'Eh, Why are they laughing?'

"I knew it. It will be hard for Aiden to catch your attention. He needs to work hard." Jane said as if she had already expected this to happen.

Ethan bobbed his head in agreement. "My Uncle sucks when wooing a woman for real."

Cherry blinked her eyes in disbelief. "Both of you knew?"

Jane and Ethan nodded their heads. "Isn't it obvious? He likes you. Only you didn't notice it."

Cherry frowned. "How did you know, sis? You only met him not long ago?"

'Oops. I forgot. I was in Abigail's body when I started noticing Aiden's crush on Cherry.' I think you should take a look at

Fortunately, Ethan butted in to save Jane. "Miss Cherry, even I can see that my Uncle Aiden likes you. Your sister Jane is very observant. She can easily tell by just observing him."

Cherry could only sigh in defeat. "Am I that harsh? I rejected him right away. I ran away in the middle of his confession, leaving him alone. I got nervous. I don't know I would handle the situation. The only thing that came to my mind was to run away."

Ethan held Cherry's hand and said, "Don't worry, Miss Cherry. Uncle Aiden can handle it. Besides, he just tasted his own medicine. This will make him a better man. Don't pity him nor feel guilty for him."

"Ethan is right. You just became true to yourself. You don't have to force yourself to like someone." Jane patted Cherry's back.

Cherry took another deep sigh. She could understand Ethan and Jane's words. But she didn't know why she was still bothered by what happened in the view deck. She couldn't explain it.

"Just act as if nothing happened. Just treat him as usual," Ethan added. "If Uncle Aiden truly likes you then he shouldn't bear a grudge against you. He should accept and respect your decision."

"Okay. I will do my best to act naturally in front of him," Cherry said, motivating herself.

"Good. You can sleep here tonight. We can have a movie marathon with Ethan and my sister." Jane invited her.

"Yey. I would love that, sis!" Cherry's mood brightened up.

*****

Meanwhile, at the camping site, Dave and Abigail were still watching the night sky while sitting next to each other outside their tent. There were lots of stars tonight.

"Why did you do it?" Dave asked Abigail.

"Did what?" She turned to him, giving him a questioning gaze.

Dave had to admit that he saw through her actions a while ago. The Abigail he knew acted strangely this afternoon. She never initiated once to make out with him in an outdoor place. They were not alone in that place so others might see them.

"Be honest with me, Abi. I just want to understand you." Dave sounded serious.

"Do I need a reason to kiss my boyfriend? I missed you so much."

"Did you intentionally do it so that Nathan would see us?" Dave saw a glimpse of Nathan's figure a while ago. He immediately stopped before they ended up removing all their clothes.

Abigail lowered her gaze. She was guilty. Dave had seen through her. "I'm sorry. I just want him to know that I love you. Not him."

Dave's eyebrow twitched in a frown. He was a little bit disappointed. "You don't have to hurt him like that, Abi. He is already hurting because you can't remember him. I know how it felt to be forgotten by the woman I love."

Abigail was at a loss for words. She didn't know how Dave suffered when she didn't remember him.

"I'm sorry. I have forgotten you because of my accident... I didn't mean to fall for someone. I'm sorry if I hurt your feelings... It's all my fault." Abigail apologized despite the fact she had no idea about the soul swap.

Abigail began to cry. Dave panicked. He didn't mean to blame her. It's just that he was sorry for Nathan and he empathized with him.

"No, don't cry. It's not your fault," Dave cupped her face, wiping her tears away. He caressed her cheeks as he tried to comfort her.

"My sister likes Nathan. I'm just trying to make him realize that he and I can't be together so that my Sister Jane can get a chance." Abigail revealed to Dave. She sniffed while holding her tears.

"Oh. I understand now. I'm sorry. Stop crying..." Dave softly mumbled. He leaned closer to her, his lips kissing away her tears. He softly kissed her eyes down her cheeks. And later on, he captured her lips, kissing her passionately.

His lips nibbled on her lower and upper lip, trying to coax her. Abigail just closed her eyes, savoring his kisses. She felt his tongue parting her lips and entered her mouth. He captured her tongue and began sucking it. His kiss awakened her desire.

"I want you," Abigail mumbled in between the kiss, her hands clutching on his shirt.

"I want you too..." Dave whispered back sensually.

Chapter 510 Couple's Moment

Day Fifty-Eight...

~*~*~*~*~*~

Dave wanted to make it up to Abigail for making her cry. He let her feel how much he loved her. He deepened the kiss further as he caressed her back and her right cheek. Soon, Dave reached out, unzipping the door of their tent as he guided her inside.

They broke the kiss for a moment and just stared at each other as if they were both asking themselves for permission. With just one glance, they understood what they wanted to do.

Dave began to unbutton his shirt while Abigail did the same. She pulled the hem of her shirt and slowly removed it. The two were taking their clothes off one by one without breaking their eye contact.

Abigail was left with her underwear on. That was the time Dave closed their gaps, making her lie on the inflatable bed inside their tent. He made sure to close the door first before shifting his attention back to Abigail.

Abigail's naked body was exposed to Dave. His eyes could only scan her from top to bottom, admiring every part of her. It had been so long since the last time they got very intimate with each other. Both of them were yearning for each other's touch.

pandasnovel.com Abigail's cheeks turned red. Her body felt so hot but at the same time, excited. She could even feel the wetness in the lower part of her body, in between her legs.

"Touch me, Dave. I'm all yours," Abigail said enticingly as she unhooked her bra. She even parted her legs to show Dave that she was throbbing for him.

Meanwhile, Dave could feel his growing erection under his boxers. He was getting hard just watching her nakedness. Dave bent over, positioning himself on top of her. He placed his left hand on her side for his support while his right hand cupped one of her breasts.

"Aah~" Abigail moaned softly when Dave squeezed her breast.

It did not take long before Dave's mouth captured her crown. He teased her by lapping her nipple with his tongue. Abigail could feel the wonderful sensation brought by his mouth and tongue. His teeth even bit her crown gently and tugged it. Then he was back to sucking her while his hand was squeezing her flesh around her breast.

Abigail could only moan in pleasure. Dave repeated his action on her other breast. He played on her breasts alternately. All she could do was arch her back and moan loudly. The pleasure was overwhelming. Her body was so sensitive to his touches and kisses.

Soon, his hand moved down, caressing her abdomen and tracing her navel. His lips continued planting soft kisses around her breast.

Abigail clutched his hair using her fingers as she pulled him closer to her body. He could hear her heavy panting along with her soft moans. Her moans were like music in his ears.

"Dave~ Aah~" She called him out sensually. "Touch me there..." Abigail pleaded. She was referring to her bottom lips. She was soaking wet down there and was aching for his touch. I think you should take a look at Complying with her request, Dave moved his hand further south, in between her legs. He finally touched her sex. She reflexively parted her legs further to give him more access. Before she knew it, she heard the ripping sound of her underwear.

Abigail gasped in pleasure and rolled her eyes when his fingers started sliding up and down her slit. "You're so wet, Baby," Dave softly mumbled in her ear.

Abigail held his shoulders tightly as she bit his chest, muffling the sound of her moan. Her bite made him more aroused. Wanting to pleasure her further, Dave thrust one finger inside her core, making her buckle her hips.

"Ooh~ Aah~ Harder, Dave." Abigail was asking for more.

Dave bit her neck, giving her love bites. As he sucked her flesh, Dave inserted another finger inside her core, thrusting in and out of her. She moved her hips as her body also danced with the movement of his fingers.

He continued pleasuring her, his fingers reaching her G-spot while kissing her lips passionately. She could already feel her orgasm building up inside her. One more hard thrust and she reached her climax. Her body trembled and shivered from overwhelming pleasure.

Dave just let the sensation subside first as he lay down next to her, cuddling her. Abigail buried her face in the nook of his neck, smelling his scent. His scent gave her a sense of security. She felt safe in his arms.

Dave could still feel the moving of her chest as she breathed. He thought Abigail would sleep but her hand slid down, touching his erection. "Let me pleasure you," she whispered.

She grabbed his hard erection and gently massaged it through his boxers. Dave bit his lower lip, muffling his groan. Before he knew it, Abigail's palm was already rubbing his bare erection. She slid her hand inside his boxers, massaging his shaft up and down. The sensation surged up inside him.

Abigail wanted to return the favor and do her part. She moved her body and climbed on top of him. She straddled him, her hands were placed on his chest. She positioned herself and began grinding her lower part against his erection.

Dave held her waist tightly as he guided her movement, sliding back and forth on top of him. The friction of their flesh-to-flesh contact was giving him pleasure. He groaned loudly savoring the moment. With her continuous grinding, Dave could feel that he was near his orgasm. When he reached his climax, Abigail just lay on top of him, hugging Dave.

Both of them didn't go all the way just yet. They promised to do it once they were married.

"I love you, Sweetie," Abigail mumbled.

Dave's lips curled up into a joyful smile. He wrapped his arms around her body and replied, "I love you more, Baby." He planted a soft kiss on her hair. The two took a nap with smiles on their faces. They felt so happy and contented.

'Indeed. My Abi is back. She's back to me... to my arms.' Dave couldn't ask for more.
