60,000 Units of Basic Materials! Yellow Gold-Tier Potential Subject!

After Zhou Zhou finished speaking, the soldiers went to eat together.

Qin Guang and his wife, the only couple in the territory, quickly brought over the roasted meat and water that they had prepared beforehand and distributed them to the soldiers.

“I didn’t expect our Lord to have so many soldiers overnight. I’m just a little tired from roasting meat.” Madam Qin Guang could not help but laugh when she saw the soldiers eating happily.

“I’d sooner die in the Territory than to die in the war outside. Moreover, our Lord is so good. He shared the rare monster meat with us without reservations.” Qin Guang looked at these soldiers with a smile on his face.

The Lord and the soldiers in front of them were undoubtedly the guardians of peace and security on the High Continent that was filled with war!

“I’ll deliver the Lord his food.” Qin Guang brought a large plate of roasted meat to Zhou Zhou.

“My Lord. You’ve been busy all night. It’s time to eat something. This is roasted meat made from the flesh of the elite Desert Fog Lizard. I’ve also added some special seasonings. I guarantee that it retains its Promotion Energy and tastes good at the same time.” Qin Guang handed over the meat with both hands and said respectfully and gratefully.

Zhou Zhou was checking the gains from the night’s battle when Qin Guang came over. He picked up a piece of roasted meat and ate it in a few bites.

This roasted meat made from the flesh of the Elite Desert Fog Lizard Elite was quickly turned into wisps of Promotion Energy after he ate it. They fused into various parts of his body and strengthened his physical fitness.

The Promotion Energy obtained from consuming the meat was a lot lesser than from killing monsters.

What a pity.

Fortunately, it could be eaten and accumulated slowly. If taken over a long period of time, it could also have the effect of water drops penetrating through stone.

He immediately decided that from this day forth, all of them would eat food made from Advanced Grade ranked meat every day.

In any case, there was so much meat that he could not finish it all.

“This is delicious. You guys must be tired after working all night. Go and rest when you’ve completed your work.” Zhou Zhou said to Qin Guang.

“My Lord, you’re too kind! It’s not hard on us. It’s harder on the Lord and the various professionals.” Qin Guang was flattered.

Zhou Zhou smiled and did not say anything else. Seeing this, Qin Guang took the initiative to leave.

Zhou Zhou continued to organize his gains from last night as he ate the roasted meat.

A moment later, the organization was complete.

Last night, they had killed a total of 537 Black Iron-Tier Elementary Grade, 159 Black Iron-Tier Intermediate Grade, and seven Elite Black Iron-Tier Advance Grade Desert Fog Lizards!

He obtained a total of 1,716 Black Iron-Tier Mist Cores, 17,800 units of flesh (Black Iron-Tier Elementary, Intermediate and Advance Grade), 1,084 kg of water bags, 710 gradeless Sword Shield Soldier Class Change Certificates, 166 Sword Shield Soldier Recruitment Books which have become 166 Sword Shield Soldiers and seven Black Iron-Tier Advance Grade Sand Stealth Technique!

“I’m about to break through to Black Iron-Tier Advance Grade.”

Zhou Zhou sensed the accumulation of energy in his body.

He realized that even though the Lord could use his forces to kill monsters to level up, the amount of Promotion Energy required for a Lord seemed to be exceptionally high!

This was why everyone had advanced after killing more than 600 Desert Fog Lizards in one night. Everyone but him.

He opened the World Channel. This place was still extremely lively even though it was morning. A large number of Lords were communicating here.

“Good morning, everyone!”

“Don’t mention it. The fog monsters outside screamed all night. I didn’t sleep well!”

“It’s really scary at night. Last night, I boldly went to the protective barrier and found hundreds of monsters surrounding it.”

“I saw it too. No wonder the Supreme Will told us not to go out at night. Who would dare to go out?”

“Go out? The Supreme Will really thinks highly of me.”

“I only have two Professionals in my hands now. How can I fight in the Novice Lord test six days later?”

‘At least you have two. I only have one spearman.’

“Hehe, I summoned three Sword Shield Soldiers from the Gate of Summoning.”

“Luck is exchanged for lifespan.”

“I’m so hungry. Is the big shot still selling food?”

“So what if he’s selling it? They belong to the people with the fastest hand speed.”

“I better get some basic materials.”

Zhou Zhou thought of the nearly 20,000 units of meat in his hands.

He opened the Marketplace and set up another deal for 3,000 units of Black Iron-Tier Elementary Grade Desert Fog Lizard meat.

He felt that it was better not to release too much meat at once so he did not sell everything he had.

Releasing them slowly would also avoid attracting the attention of too many Lords. Even so, the deal became the most viewed deal in the Marketplace again.

At the same time, the Lords in the World Channel were once again discussing the mysterious Lord of the Blazing Sun.

Taking advantage of this moment, Zhou Zhou looked at the private messages that he had not finished reading yesterday.

He was a little disappointed after reading everything.

Even though these private messages all desired to trade, they were all Lords who wanted him to lower the price of his meat.

He didn't reply to any of them and directly deleted their messages.

In the current market, meat could be said to be in short supply.

Only a fool would lower the price.

3,000 units of Black Iron-Tier Elementary Grade Desert Fog Lizard meat were sold a mere 10 minutes later.

Zhou Zhou looked at the results of the deals.

[Results: 12,500 units of wood, 20,500 units of fine sand, 13,620 units of metal, 13,380 units of stone.]

"Another 60,000 units of basic materials!"

Zhou Zhou was in a good mood.

He closed the Marketplace interface and went to the Gate of Summoning.

It was the second day. He could summon new subjects!

A text notification appeared.

[Prompt: Do you want to summon immediately?]

"Yes!" Zhou Zhou said.

A text notification appeared the next moment.

The Gate of Summoning lit up with white light, and eight people walked out.

"Greetings, my Lord!" The eight of them said respectfully.

"Welcome to Blazing Sun City!" Zhou Zhou smiled.

Then, he opened their personal information.
