

Chapter 2859

Sigh!

Lord Kenny's condition did not look good. Ambrose took a deep breath and was worried.

Earlier, Ambrose ordered the eunuch to bring pills found in the palace, but Lord Kenny was not showing any improvement. Apart from that, the ministers proposed many solutions but none of them were useful.

"Imperial Physician Lane is here!" someone announced.

There was a commotion and an old minister with silver hair walked into the room. He looked old but still alert. He was the famous Imperial Physician of the New World royal palace, Patton Laine.

All the ministers walked forward as Ambrose rushed to stand up. Patton was a Senior Minister for the royal family; even Lord Kenny would show his respect.

"Imperial Physician Laine, please take a look."

"Yes, His Majesty's condition is really terrible."

"Don't worry, Imperial Physician Laine must have a way."

Everyone spoke while Ambrose felt frustrated.

The next second, Ambrose looked around and said coldly, "Imperial Physician Laine is here. Everyone, please calm down. Please leave and don't disturb imperial Physician Laine while he treats His Majesty."

Whoosh!

As he spoke, the ministers quickly shut their mouths and walked out of the room one after another. Although Ambrose was not His Majesty's biological son, he was the favorite son. Besides, Ambrose was really powerful and he was regarded highly by the royal family. No one dared to speak against him after he spoke.

After everyone left, Ambrose said politely to Patton, "Imperial Physician Laine, come take a look at my father."

Patton nodded and examined Lord Kenny as he started to check his pulse.

Sigh!

A few seconds later, Patton sighed and his face darkened as he asked Ambrose, "Your Highness Eldest Prince, His Majesty's injury is really serious. The assassin damaged his heart. We will need the Phoenix Pill or Dragon Essence to save him."

Ambrose's body trembled when he heard that as his heart sank.

He heard about the Phoenix Pill and Dragon Essence when he was with the Carter family. His father used the Phoenix Pill to save Yvonne and he got the Dragon Essence from the Box family from Mistloren to rescue Fuyao Palace's little fairy.

Both of these items absorbed the essence from the sky and earth, carrying incredible power. It was a treasure among all the treasures in the world and there was only one of each in the world. Once used, it would not be available anymore.

Ambrose was worried as he said, "Imperial Physician Laine, is there any other way?"

'Although Lord Kenny is not my biological father, he treated me better than my biological father, so how can I just watch him die?' he thought.

Patton squeezed his brows and moaned, "There is a way, but it is risky—"

Before he could finish, Lord Kenny suddenly sat up and shouted as his body trembled, "Assassin, how dare you impersonate my wife and kill me! I will chop you into pieces."

At that moment, Lord Kenny looked crazy and intimidating.

Ambrose and Patton were both in shock that Lord Kenny had woken up.

Then, Patton regained his thoughts and said delightedly, "This is great! His Majesty is awake. It looks like His Majesty became much stronger than a regular person from all the treasures he's consumed."

Ambrose was delighted too, but his heart was filled with doubts. 'What did Father just say? The assassin impersonated

Mother?"

Just at that moment, Lord Kenny stared firmly at Ambrose and shouted loudly, "Ambrose, send my orders immediately. Execute every one of the Carter family that are locked in prison immediately."

When he said that, his eyes were shining with rage.

Patton was right. After Lord Kenny became the emperor, he had consumed many treasures in the world, making his body much stronger than an ordinary person's. That is why after he woke up, the first thing he wanted to do was kill the Carter family.

Chapter 2860

Ambrose was shocked in his heart; his mind was buzzing.

"Father, why do you want to kill the Carter family?" Ambrose asked.

Lord Kenny clutched his chest and coughed, then said firmly, "Why? The second miss of the Carter family pretended to be your mother and assassinated me. Her crime is beyond redemption. Everyone related to her cannot escape."

Lord Kenny urged, "Quickly give my orders."

When he heard that, Ambrose was completely stunned. He almost could not stand still as his body retreated two steps backward.

The next second, Ambrose kneeled quickly and begged Lord Kenny, "Father, please calm down. There must be more behind this ...my aunt...the second miss of the Carter family is just an ordinary person; how could she assassinate you?"

Ambrose wanted to call auntie, as Sarah was Darryl's little sister, but when he saw Lord Kenny was so furious, he changed his mind. Ambrose could not carry out Lord Kenny's order to execute the Carter family. They were still his father's family.

At that moment, he still did not know that Sarah had rescued everyone in the Carter family,.

Lord Kenny was furious when he saw Ambrose kneeling on the ground as he shouted angrily, "Ambrose, how dare you go against my orders? Fine! You're close with your biological parents. The Carter family is your biological father's family, so you can't do it, right? If you disobey my orders, I'll lock you up too."

Ambrose kneeled, clenching his teeth and remaining silent. He would not give the orders even if he gets punished.

At that time, the entire huge Blessed Palace was in complete silence and the atmosphere was depressing.

"Your Majesty, please don't be angry! We don't have to execute the Carter family now; it's not urgent. The most important thing right now is Your Majesty's condition," Patton advised.

As he spoke, Patton looked at Darryl and continued, "Your Majesty is able to wake up by yourself, that shows you're really powerful. I have a solution that might help your pulse return to normal, but this requires His Highness Elder Prince's assistance."

Sigh!

Lord Kenny took a deep breath when he heard that. He suppressed his anger and said, "What is it? Tell me!"

He was enraged when Ambrose disobeyed his orders. However, Patton had a request and since Patton was a Senior Minister, he had to respect him.

Patton was silent for a moment before he spoke slowly, "We need to retrieve the enchanted beasts' inner cores from the treasure vault with these five elements: gold, wood, water, fire and soil. All these inner cores have absorbed the essence from the sky and earth. They will be able to heal the injury in your heart temporarily.

"I will gather the energy from these five types of inner core and transfer it into your heart. However, my internal energy is limited, so I require the Eldest Prince's assistance."

A smile appeared on Lord Kenny's weak face. He nodded and said, "Fine! If that's the case, please go ahead and prepare immediately."

Then, he turned to glance at Ambrose. "Ambrose, after you help around here, go stay with your mum in her room. Do not interfere with the matters of the palace, understand?"

Ambrose was shocked in his heart at that moment and he wanted to object. 'It's obvious Father is determined to execute the Carter family and that's why he wants to keep me in Mum's room.'

He wanted to retort, but when he saw how determined Lord Kenny was, he dared not go against his order.

Instead, he nodded and said, "Okay, I accept your order!"

Ambrose was extremely worried when he agreed. 'What shall I do? Is there really no way to rescue the Carter family?'

Soon, under Patton's order, a little eunuch came with the inner cores. All those inner cores were treasures of the palace and were at a Martial Emperor level.

Then, Patton started to merge the energy of the inner core into Lord Kenny's heart with Ambrose assisting him at the side.

Patton was the top Imperial Physician in the palace and his medical skills were excellent. In a blink of an eye, he had merged the energy of the four inner cores into Lord Kenny's heart.

Chapter 2861

Although Ambrose was assisting and looked calm; he was actually occupied with thoughts about the Carter family.

When Patton was about to merge the fifth inner core, he looked serious as he spoke to Ambrose, "Your Highest Eldest Prince, the fifth inner core is the most critical one. All effort will go to waste if this fails.

Although it will not cost His Majesty's life, there is a big possibility that it may cause him to go into a stupor."

Stupor was an ancient term, and in other words, it meant he would be in a vegetative state.

When Ambrose heard that, he was stunned and could not help but mumbled in his heart. 'Stupor? That means if we fail, Father won't die but he'll lose all his power.'

Ambrose nodded. "I understand, Imperial Physician Laine. Let's continue!"

Patton nodded his head and picked up the fifth inner core and was ready to merge the energy. However, at that moment, Ambrose's eyes blinked as he raised his fist and punched Patton's chest.

The truth was Ambrose had no intention of harming Patton. However, Lord Kenny wanted to kill the Carter family and there was no other way for Ambrose to stop him, so he had to take the risk.

Like Patton explained earlier, if merging the inner core failed, Lord Kenny would not die.

"Ambrose, you..."

"Your Highness Eldest Prince!"

Both Lord Kenny and Patton were shocked. They never imagined Ambrose would attack them suddenly.

Still in shock, Patton tried to avoid the attack, but due to his old age and Ambrose's speed, there was no way for him to dodge the punch.

Bang!

Ambrose used all his energy in that punch when he landed it on Patton's chest. He heard Patton moan in pain when he was sent flying before crashing into the pillar near the door and landing heavily.

The moment Patton landed, he vomited blood before he stopped breathing.

Ambrose could feel both of his hands trembling when he saw Patton die horribly. His eyes were shining with regret and doubts. "I'm sorry, Imperial Physician Laine. I do not wish to kill you, but I really have no choice."

Ambrose wanted to make Lord Kenny remain in a vegetative state. Due to the seriousness of the matter, he could not let a second person know about it.

As such, Patton had to die.

After he spoke, Ambrose turned his body and looked quietly at Lord Kenny.

Being interrupted at the most critical moment, Lord Kenny's face looked incredibly pale. He was furious as he looked at Ambrose. "Ambrose, you... Why did you do that?"

Ambrose took a deep breath; his eyes were shining with tears as he spoke, choking up, "I always respected you. Sometimes I even consider you like my biological father, but... but I cannot let anything happen to the Carter family. Don't worry, after you go into a stupor, Mother and I will take good care of you! As for the New World, don't worry and leave it to me!"

Lord Kenny was furious. He wanted to dash at Ambrose, but he was weak and had no energy left. Then, Lord Kenny realized he could no longer speak.

That was a symptom of going into a stupor.

"Someone, come..." Ambrose shouted to the outside of the hall as he wiped his tears in the corner of his eyes.

Soon, the guards outside the hall heard the loud shouting and rushed in together with the ministers.

'This...what is going on?!' Everyone's eyes and mouth were wide open once they entered the main hall and saw what was in front of their eyes.

All of them froze, completely stunned.

They saw Patton's body covered in blood, not breathing, and Lord Kenny lying on the dragon bed. Although his eyes were open, he had no reaction at all.

Chapter 2862

Ambrose's face was filled with sorrow and anger as he looked around and said, "Everyone, Imperial Physician Laine made a mistake while he was treating my father, causing him to go into a stupor. As a Senior Minister who made such a huge mistake, he deserved to die!"

When he said that, Ambrose looked at Patton's body with deep regret. 'I'm sorry Imperial Physician Laine. I can only put the blame on you in this situation.'

At that moment, everyone regained their thoughts as they heard Ambrose's words, feeling incredibly shocked.

"This...Imperial Physician Laine is so skillful; how can he make such mistakes...."

"Perhaps it was due to his old age that he caused His Majesty's condition. All because of a small mistake."

"What shall we do?"

Everyone was discussing and none of them were suspicious of Ambrose's words. They felt sorry for Imperial Physician Laine.

Traitor, he's lying!' Lord Kenny yelled in his mind, enraged.

Although he could not speak, his mind was still clear and he could hear everyone talking.

"You Highness Eldest Prince!"

As everyone was talking, suddenly, one of them kneeled to Ambrose. "Your Highness Eldest Prince, it's really unfortunate for the New World that His Majesty is suffering from such a condition. However, our continent can't go without an emperor. I hope you can assume the throne as soon as possible!"

"That's right, we have yet to locate the assassin. Your Highness please assume the throne as soon as possible to manage the continent!"

"We must locate the assassin to seek revenge for His Majesty!"

"Your Highness, please assume the throne as soon as possible."

At that moment, all the ministers at the Blessed Hall kneeled and shouted.

When he saw that, Ambrose hesitated for a while and then nodded his head. "Please find a day to prepare for the coronation then. The most important thing now is to find a way to help Father regain consciousness. Send my orders and send someone to each continent to look for famous physicians."

"Yes, Your Majesty!" the ministers replied in unison.

Sigh!

Ambrose took a deep breath and turned to look at Lord Kenny, who was lying there. He mumbled in his heart, 'Father, I'm not being respectful on the matter today, but this is God's will. Please have a good rest.'

Suddenly, a prison guard rushed in panic. He was sweating profusely as he shouted to Ambrose, "Report, Your Highness! This is bad. Someone has rescued the Carter family."

When he heard that, all the ministers' faces changed as they looked shocked and furious.

'This is great! Someone rescued the Carter family,' Ambrose thought, also stunned but incredibly delighted.

However, he still showed an angry face. "The prisoners ran away? What happened?"

"A lady pretended to be the empress yesterday night and took the Carter family out of prison for an interrogation....” The prison guard was sweating profusely as he muttered about the situation.

The guard was so worried when he spoke that he could barely kneel properly. It was a huge offense to allow the prisoners to escape.

At that moment, the entire main hall was in total chaos. All the ministers were furious.

“This is insane. Someone dared to impersonate the empress. How dare she!”

“We must not let those prisoners go easily!”

“Your Majesty, why don’t we send the royal army to chase after them.”

During the discussion, many ministers suggested to Ambrose to send the royal army to chase after them.

At that moment, Ambrose showed no emotion as he looked around coldly. "The situation in The Nine Continent is chaotic now. We cannot just move the royal army around. Besides, the most important thing now is to find famous physicians to treat my father."

As he spoke, Ambrose waved his hand. "That's it. Everyone, please leave."

Chapter 2863

'The Carter family had finally escaped from prison; how can I send the royal family after them?'

"Yes, Your Majesty!"

All the ministers looked at each other when they heard what Ambrose said and none of them dared to insist as they left the main hall.

When he saw everyone had left, Ambrose ordered a eunuch to take good care of Lord Kenny before leaving.

'Mother has been unconscious for so long. I should make sure she is awake,' he thought.

At that moment, the huge Blessed Hall was in complete silence.

Lord Kenny, who was lying there, was really worried as well as furious. He wanted to get up and gather the ministers, but because the merging of the inner cores had failed, he was in a vegetative state. Apart from having a clear mind, there was nothing else he could do.

'Ambrose, I treat you as my own child, but you did this to me! I don't deserve this,' he thought.

At the same time, the fatherly love he had for Ambrose was burning in his incredible anger, slowly turning into hatred.

Without realizing it, the sky outside turned dark. As the night approached, the eunuch who guarded Lord Kenny's dragon bed went to rest as well.

Whoosh!

A black shadow entered the main hall without a sound like a ghost.

Once he stood beside the dragon bed and saw Lord Kenny lying motionless but with his eyes open, the black shadow was stunned. Then, he shook his head and sighed. "Tsk. Tsk. I travelled such a long way, and you ended up in this condition."

The person's face was pale and his tone was evil. He was the envoy of the King of the Dead, Hansel Gondor.

'Who is this person?' Although Lord Kenny could not speak, he could feel the evil aura emanating from Hansel's body.

This worried him and shocked him.

Hansel smiled briefly when he felt Lord Kenny's worries.

"Don't panic. I won't hurt you. I just feel it is such a pity. You, Lord Kenny, are a warrior. His Majesty the King of the Dead admires you and has sent me to invite you to work together. But I guess I am a little too late," he said calmly.

Lord Kenny had a shock in his heart when he heard that. 'The King of the Dead? Who is that?'

"The King of the Dead is the leader of the Ghost World." Hansel's facial expression looked respectful. "You will enter the Ghost World after you die, understand?"

At that moment, Lord Kenny was shocked as he looked at Hansel. 'You can hear my thoughts?'

"Of course, I am an envoy to the King of the Dead." Hansel looked at him, unknown if he was smiling. "Of course I can hear what you say in your mind."

Although Lord Kenny could not move or speak, due to Hansel being the envoy to the King of the Dead, he could hear Lord Kenny's thoughts in his mind.

'What kind of cooperation has the King of the Daad sent you here for?' Lord Kenny asked once he calmed down.

Hansel smiled lightly and said slowly, "Of course it's about the huge matter of conquering The Nine Continent."

As he spoke, Hansel checked on Lord Kenny and he could not hide the disappointment in his eyes. "However, given your condition now, it seems you will be of no help to the King of the Dead."

After he spoke, Hansel was about to leave.

'Wait! Wait!' Lord Kenny shouted in his mind, feeling desperate. 'Since you are the King of the Dead's envoy, you must know how to turn me back to normal. Please help me.'

Hansel stopped walking. He gave it a thought and turned his head to say, "I do have a way, but that depends if you are willing to do it."

Hansel took out a pill and continued, "This is His Majesty the King of the Dead's Nine Yin Spirit Pill. Once you consume it, you will return to normal."

'That's great!' Lord Kenny was delighted and incredibly emotional.

However, at that moment, Hansel's words take a turn. "However, you must know, once you consume the Nine Yin Spirit Pill, your soul will belong to the King of the Dead. In other words, you will be His Majesty the King of the Dead's puppet."

'What?' Lord Kenny had a shock in his heart when he heard that.,

Chapter 2864

At that moment, Lord Kenny was conflicted and he did not know how to respond.

'I'm the Emperor of the New World; I am supreme. How can I be the King of the Dead's puppet? However, if I don't agree, I will have to lie here half dead for the rest of my life,' he thought.

When he saw Lord Kenny's eyes moving but not responding, Hansel became impatient. "I won't force you if you don't want to do it. I have to leave before the day turns bright. You think it over."

'Fine! I'm willing to do it.' Lord Kenny clenched his teeth, making a decision.

The truth was, Lord Kenny did not want to do it, but there was no other choice. That was the only option he could pick if he wanted to get back his power.

Hansel was stunned when he saw Lord Kenny had agreed. He nodded, then walked over and put the pill into Lord Kenny's mouth. "You are truly a warrior. You are decisive."

Bang!

Once the pill entered his stomach, Lord Kenny was surprised to feel his body had started to regain feeling gradually. Not only that, the internal energy in his abdomen was recovering too. What he was most delighted about was that his heart that had crashed earlier had started to heal too.

'This is the effect of the Nine Yin Spirit Pill? This is amazing,' he thought.

However, he also noticed that his internal energy was recovering at the same time an evil energy force started to penetrate his abdomen. It was the Demon Evil Energy that only the Ghost World possessed.

Hansel was observing quietly at the side. He waited for Lord Kenny to sit up slowly, then smiled and said, "Lord Kenny, congratulations on regaining your power. We are part of the same team now. Please serve the King of the Dead well in the future."

As he spoke, Hansel took out a piece of a shiny blue amulet. "This is a Cumber Evil Amulet. Carry it with you to conceal the evil energy in you, so that you will not be noticed easily."

"I understand," Lord Kenny replied and kept the Cumber Evil amulet.

Then, he took a deep breath and said to Hansel, "Thank you, Mister envoy."

Hansel smiled and said with his eyes shining with evilness, "Don't thank me yet! There are things you need to do for the King of the Dead.”

“Please tell me!”

Hansel walked a few steps back and forth and said each word and sentence clearly, “The Nine Saint Oracles were separated in The Nine Continent and their whereabouts unknown. The King of the Dead wants you to investigate the whereabouts of these oracles. And, if possible, capture them.”

Hansel’s eyes were filled with evil when he said that.

The King of the Dead sent Hansel over earlier to work together with Lord Kenny to use the power of the New World royal family to investigate the whereabouts of the Nine Saint Oracles.

Hansel thought that it was a difficult mission as Lord Kenny was extremely arrogant and not easy to negotiate with. Once he arrived, he saw Lord Kenny was in a vegetative state. That was the perfect opportunity for Hansel. He took out the Nine Yin Spirit Pill to lure Lord Kenny, turning him into one of his people.

'Nine Saint Oracles?' Lord Kenny was stunned instantly when he heard that, his furrowing. 'Such extraordinary name; who are they?'

Hansel spoke calmly when he saw Lord Kenny's facial expression, "I can't give you any more details. The thing is, if you bump into the Nine Saint Oracle, please find a way to capture her, then use the Gather Spirit Pearl to notify me."

As he spoke, Hansel handed a green pearl to Lord Kenny. It was shiny, sparkling and filled with evil energy. It was the Gather Spirit Pearl of the envoys of the King of the Dead. It was something only found in the Ghost World. Lord Kenny could send the news to Hansel through the Gather Spirit Pearl.

"Alright, I understand!" Lord Kenny nodded his head, agreeing.

He had no choice; he could not disagree. At that moment, he had become the King of the Dead's puppet.

"Alright then, I won't disturb you further from resting." Hansel had an evil grin then turned to walk out of the main hall. He disappeared into the darkness in the blink of an eye.

Sigh!

At that moment, Lord Kenny took a deep breath and looked at the darkness outside. His eyes were filled with incredible evilness. 'Ambrose, you want me to lie on the dragon bed for the rest of my life. You definitely won't expect that I am still able to stand again!'

Chapter 2865

When he thought of that, Lord Kenny sat with his legs crossed and started cultivating.

The Nine Yin Spirit Pill not only healed one in a stupor, but it also carried strong Evil Spirit Energy. Lord Kenny had consumed the pill just now and he needed to absorb the Evil Spirit Energy into his body.

Early in the morning, the next day, Ambrose brought Monica to the Blessed Hall.

At that moment, Monica's incredibly beautiful face was filled with mixed emotions and worry. After she was hit unconscious by Sarah, she only regained consciousness when the day turned bright. The first thing she knew after she woke up was Lord Kenny had gone into a stupor.

Monica was shocked and worried.

Although she did not love Lord Kenny, he had cared and loved her all these years, so she felt grateful to him.

With Lord Kenny in such a condition, Monica felt bad. She asked Ambrose to bring her over to visit him early in the morning.

Once they entered the Blessed Hall and saw what was in front of her eyes, Monica's body trembled, and she could not help but shout, "Your Majesty!"

She saw Lord Kenny lying there, not moving a single muscle.

Ambrose took a deep breath and said in a complicated tone, "Mother, I have tried my best yesterday night. I did not expect Patton would make a mistake at the most critical moment."

Ambrose looked at Lord Kenny with guilt when he said that.

At that moment, Ambrose and Monica still did not know that Lord Kenny had recovered and he was only resting momentarily.

Monica sighed and was about to speak when a voice interrupted her, "Dear, I'm so happy that you came to visit me."

Lord Kenny sat up slowly as he gazed at the mother and son, not knowing if he was smiling.

Ambrose was shocked as he stared at Lord Kenny blankly.

'He...didn't he go into a stupor? I checked myself yesterday that he only had a pulse and was completely paralyzed. How is he sitting up and speaking?' he thought.

Monica's body trembled as she was shocked and delighted. 'This is great. His Majesty is fine!'

At that moment, the palace guards outside the hall heard the commotion and ran in to investigate immediately. They were completely stunned.

'This...His Majesty. Didn't he go into a stupor? How is he fine now?' they wondered.

The palace guards were so stunned; they felt like their minds were not functioning properly.

Finally, Ambrose regained his thoughts and said to Lord Kenny, "Father, how did you—"

Lord Kenny interrupted him before he could finish. "Why am I fine?"

His eyes burned with anger as he said coldly, "Ambrose, how faithful you are. You killed Imperial Physician Laine, caused me to go into a stupor, and blamed it all on Imperial Physician Laine. I had always treated you like my own child. How could you treat me like that? Tell me, what is your crime?"

Monica was incredibly shocked.

At that moment, Ambrose's body trembled too as he kneeled on the ground, looking sincere. "Father, please don't be angry. I had no choice. I just did not want to see the innocent people of the Carter family be executed. Now that you're fine, I don't have to feel so guilty anymore."

Lord Kenny laughed coldly; his anger had not subsided at all. "You are honest. You want me to lie there motionless for the rest of my life just because of the Carter family."

Then, his gaze turned cold and he shouted, "Come here and lock Ambrose in prison. Execute him in front of the palace tomorrow at noon!"
