

48 Hours 1442

Chapter 1442: Courage 10 (Thanks To President Star)

Chen fan had never touched a kitchen knife in his life, let alone a military knife. The only knife he had used was probably a pen-and-drill knife.

But of course, he didn't ask for a knife to make a living on the spot.

In fact, the reason Chen fan dared to say that was because of the golden finger that rocky had given him.

At the Barbeque stall, the middle-aged office worker dragged his chin as he sized up the seemingly reserved and nervous youth in front of him. "Aiya, what a headache. What kind of ability should I give you?"

Chen fan didn't like Rocky's gaze, because that gaze was very familiar to him, as if a predator was staring at his fat prey, "Isn't your agent's ability that magical plasticine? No, no, I haven't agreed to be your agent yet."

Chen fan instinctively sensed that Loki didn't have any good intentions in asking him to be his agent. Well, this kind of thing could be guessed even with his toes. After all, the person sitting in front of him wasn't anyone else, but the famous god of lies and pranks, it would be strange if Loki didn't cause trouble.

But the god of lies and pranks didn't seem to have any consciousness at all. After hearing Chen Fan's question, he only looked at the youth opposite him with a faint smile.

Under his gaze, Chen Fan soon became more and more guilty.

One had to know that he was a salted fish passerby who did not even dare to resist the bad campus, not to mention that the person sitting in front of him was the Norse mythological evil god. Moreover, Chen Fan was not stupid.., after he blurted out that sentence, he knew that he had made a fool of himself again.

He did not have any say in the matter of the agent, not only because of the disparity in strength between the two sides, but most importantly, because compared to what Loki needed of him, he was the person who needed Loki more.

For a passerby like him, if he didn't have a golden finger at the beginning, he would most likely be welcomed to open the door and kneel. The only advantage was that he could be reincarnated at the speed of light. Chen fan thought in despair that rocky might have seen through this from the beginning, so he came to him as the agent.

Because rocky knew that even if Chen fan realized that he was holding a sugar-coated poison in his hand, he had no choice but to swallow it.

"TSK, TSK, not bad. It seems that you have a clear understanding of your situation,"Loki said with a smile, "Don't worry. Even if it's to make the game more interesting, I'll think of a way to let you live longer. and the ability I can give my agent is not only the disguise plasticine. In fact, it's only the most basic ability, and it needs to be exercised before it can be used. Since you're someone I personally came to find, of course I can't fool you with that beginner-level stuff."

Rocky took another sip of beer as he spoke, "There's less than 20 minutes left before your first dungeon opens. I have to give you an ability that you can use immediately. Let me think about it. What do I have in stock? HMM... I have it. There's nothing more suitable for you than this ability. Stretch out your hand."

Chen fan hesitated for a moment, but in the end, he obediently stretched out his hand.

Loki grabbed a skewer of roasted squid next to him and roughly stuffed it into Chen Fan's hand. At the same time, he shouted, "Grab it well!"

Chen fan seriously suspected that the god of lies and pranks was just making fun of him on a daily basis. After all, he had never heard of any god who used the roasted squid on a street stall to bestow supernatural powers on their surrogates, the squid was especially sticky and greasy, and it felt very uncomfortable to the touch.

However, the long-time obedient education was once again effective. Even though Chen fan felt like a fool holding the squid, he still did not let go.

Then, to his horror, he found that the string of squid actually melted into his palm bit by bit. Seeing this scene, Chen fan almost screamed out of fear. He subconsciously wanted to throw away the roasted squid in his hand, but to his horror, he discovered that the thing seemed to have stuck firmly to his hand.

Then, he actually increased the speed of the fusion until all of it went into Chen Fan's palm.

"The ability I gave you is called — Fox pretends to be a tiger! After you activate Fox pretends to be a tiger, you can randomly copy a skill from any target character. The effective time of the skill lasts for an hour. After an hour, whether you still need it or not, it will automatically disappear. and Fox pretends to be a tiger can be activated once every three natural days. How about it? Isn't this a heaven-defying move?"

Rocky said triumphantly, completely ignoring the fact that Chen fan was immersed in the sorrow of fusing with the roasted squid.

Chen fan could no longer remember how he had just recovered from that nightmarish scene, but now he had to admit that the golden finger given to him by the god of lies and pranks was indeed very useful.

It did not require any preparation, nor did it require any practice. It could be used directly. It was as if it was tailor-made for a rookie like him who had no strength.

Chen fan originally wanted to use the power of the tiger against a gunner pirate because he had read the original book. He knew that outstanding gunners were a hot commodity no matter which pirate ship they were on. No one would complain about having too many of them, moreover, gunners didn't need to engage in close combat with others during a battle. They only needed to control the turrets to fire.

However, Chen fan hesitated before making his move. The randomness of using the power of the tiger was very strong. He could copy a skill from the target, but he couldn't specify which skill, in other words, if he didn't copy the cannoner skill from the cannoner, then it would be a melee skill. After all, the cannoners on the pirate ship could basically join hand-to-hand combat at critical moments, but their combat power was definitely not as strong as those in the assault team.

Then, it was possible that he still couldn't be accepted, so in the end, Chen fan gritted his teeth and simply targeted the red-haired pirate.

He didn't know if any God had heard his messy prayers. Anyway, after the Fox's Bluff came into effect, Chen fan saw an LV3 blade skill on his character interface!

This was also why he suddenly had the courage to ask Annie for a blade.

Chen fan knew that this was his last chance to join the pirate gang.

Annie ignored the jeers and curses from the surrounding pirates. She said to the quartermaster at the side, "Give him a knife."

However, before she could finish her sentence, another pirate said, "You won't be able to tell by just letting him swing his knife. Why don't I be his opponent?"

After saying that, he looked at Chen Fan with a provocative gaze. Chen fan was extremely afraid now. In his first high school, the most ferocious person he could come into contact with was the dean of the academic affairs office. How could he have the chance to meet a ruthless person who had really killed people.

However, when he subconsciously held the British military knife that Dufresne threw over, an indescribable feeling suddenly welled up in his heart. That feeling.., it was as if that knife had been waiting for him for a long time.
