

48 Hours 1448

Chapter 1448: A Secret 3 (Thanks To Alliance Leader Wang Xiaonan)

When Bai Qing heard this familiar voice, a surprised and happy expression appeared on her face.

But soon, she heard the voice continue, "Just listen to me. There's no need to reply, and don't look at where I am. If you understand, blink your eyes."

Bai Qing quickly blinked her eyes.

"Very good. The office worker who was playing with his phone three meters away from you at four o'clock, and the university girl who was listening to music with her earphones next to him, they are all plainclothes police officers."

Bai Qing first blinked, then quickly blinked twice.

"You don't have to worry. They are coming for me. After all, I'm still carrying a murder case on me. If they can't find any trace of me, they will definitely monitor the people closest to me. My grandfather and you are their main targets. That's why I let you go to Jiayi Gaming City. There are many people there, so you can get rid of them without leaving any trace. At the same time, I have a way to not arouse their vigilance."

Bai Qing didn't blink this time. After thinking for a while, he whispered, "A bug."

"Oh, I've already checked. You Don't have that kind of thing on you. Maybe they secretly installed it before. After all, I'm carrying a big case, but it's been more than half a year, and they can't maintain that level of surveillance. In fact, usually when you go to school and go home, there aren't many people following you. It's only when you go out like this that the police send people to try your luck."

Bai Qing blinked her eyes again but did not ask any more questions.

On the other side, the courier wearing a mask also stopped talking. It was as if the two of them did not know each other at all and met strangers on the bus by chance.

Bai Qing tried her best not to show too many expressions on her face. She was worried that the plainclothes at the side would notice something, but her hand that was holding the handrail tightly betrayed her current mood swings.

Bai Qing's mind was also a little dizzy now. She did not expect the promise given to her by the person in her dream to be fulfilled so quickly. The thought of someone standing next to her now.., she wished that the bus would never stop, but on the other side, she had a lot of things to say to that person, so she hoped that the next three stops would be over quickly so that she could rush to Jiayi Gaming City as soon as possible.

Just like that, Bai Qing heard the bus stop announcement in her conflicted mood.

"Dear passengers, we have arrived at Jiefang Road. Please alight from the back door. Please swipe your card when alighting."

Bai Qing collected her thoughts and no longer let her imagination run wild. Then, under the surprised gazes of the two plainclothes, she moved to the back door. Because there was a large shopping mall nearby, there were quite a number of passengers at this stop.

Seeing Bai Qing's figure disappear at the back door, the two plainclothes exchanged a look and quickly stood up to chase after her. They maintained a distance that was neither too far nor too close to Bai Qing, just hanging behind her, they followed her into the shopping mall.

Then, the two saw that Bai Qing did not stop, turning a blind eye to the surrounding clothing stores and milk tea shops. She walked straight to Jiayi Gaming City on the fourth floor, walked through the door, and exchanged about ten Yuan of game coins at the front desk, then, he grabbed the ten game coins and squeezed into the crowd.

The two plainclothes hurriedly followed him and exchanged some game coins at the front desk.

However, when they squeezed into the crowd, they found that Bai Qing had disappeared. There were quite a number of young people in the gaming city, but the lights were dim, so it was difficult to recognize them. In addition, there were hundreds of gaming consoles making a loud noise, it made it difficult to talk.

The woman in plain clothes pointed in a direction and motioned for the two of them to separate to look for him. The man in plain clothes did not object to this. At this moment, the two of them were not in a hurry. After all, although the game city was very big, there were only two entrances and exits, as long as they kept an eye on the two entrances and exits, they could still find him after a little bit of searching.

Furthermore, they hadn't forgotten that they were still pretending to be passers-by. They had already confirmed from the surveillance that Bai Qing didn't have any anti-detection awareness, but they couldn't overdo it. They still had to cover their tracks, therefore, they pretended to watch the others play the game while slowly moving forward.

On the other side, not long after Bai Qing entered the arcade, he was pulled over to the racing game. At this time, Zhang Heng had already taken off the courier's clothes, removed his mask, and disguised himself as a young socialite, with a head full of yellow hair and a tattoo on his arm, he passed a silver wig to Bai Qing and had her wear it. Then, he took off his jacket and draped it over Bai Qing's body, he wrapped his arm around Bai Qing's shoulder and brushed past her in plain clothes.

However, Zhang Heng was not in a hurry to take Bai Qing out of the arcade. Instead, he led her to a camera and kissed her passionately for a minute before leaving with the blushing Bai Qing.

After leaving the room, Zhang Heng immediately apologized to the girl, "I'm sorry, I did that just now so that they wouldn't suspect you. I disguised myself as a hooligan who often hangs around here. His personal life is usually very messy, and he likes to find female high school students as his girlfriend. This way, you'll have a reason to come to the game city. Also, after they find out that you have a new boyfriend, the police will probably stop spying on you."

Bai Qing lowered her head and hummed softly. However, she did not seem to mind Zhang Heng's explanation.

Zhang Heng looked at his watch. "I can probably stay here for another two hours. Do you have anything you want to play with?"

"Two hours." Bai Qing thought for a moment. "Then let's go watch a movie. Didn't you say that you wanted to pretend to be a couple with me? Then let's do something that couples do."

"Sure." Zhang Heng nodded. The two of them didn't leave the mall, so they took the elevator to the fifth floor.

Then, the two of them picked a movie that was about to start in five minutes. They quickly checked in and sat in the corner of the last row.

Zhang Heng apologized to Bai Qing again. "I'm sorry. I still have some work to do over there, so I don't have much time to stay here this time. Next time, next time I come again, try to stay for two more days."

"Next time? Does that mean you'll come again?"

"Yes, if you don't mind. After all, even I need to rest." Although Zhang Heng spent most of his 24 hours and 10 minutes every day thinking about how to keep Cthulhu in his cage, he still had a lot of time left, occasionally, he would contact the players and issue missions.

However, other than that, there was still some time left. Most of it was his own 24 hours. As a reward for continuing to seal Cthulhu, Zhang Heng had obtained the privilege of entering and leaving the dungeon freely from the game God, Gaime, now, he only needed to think and he could go to the designated Dungeon World through the train station..

Bai Qing did not say anything else. As the lights in the theater dimmed, the Dragon logo appeared. His lips and lips met again, but this time, it was Bai Qing who took the initiative.
