Chapter 1021: The Call of the ancient times!

What... was this?

Goudan, who had closed his eyes, was instantly stunned by the scene before him...

The first thing he saw was an incomparably vast starry sky. The Endless Milky Way was magnificent, and Li Goudan, who was in a magical perspective, was instantly subdued. He felt that he was even smaller than a speck of dust, he was also glad that he could see all of these thousands of stars.

In the starry sky, there were countless magical lights hidden. There was vigorous vitality, gorgeous withering, peaceful tranquility, and at the same time... .. there was even more endless darkness.

At this moment, a terrifying power slowly came from the darkness. It was something like a meteorite. However, Goudan could clearly see that it was not a meteorite, but an incomparably huge thing, it was wrapped in the shape of a meteorite.

A huge snake, carrying something as terrifying as itself, was rapidly flying in a certain direction with extremely primitive malice!

Soon, Li Goudan's vision could not help but follow the meteorite through the endless starry sky, arriving outside an emerald-green planet.

A planet that could give birth to life was always so beautiful that one could not take their eyes off it. As an elf, Goudan's genes loved this kind of life force. Moreover, she could clearly feel that the interior of this planet was very different.

It seemed to be giving birth to something that the elves were extremely familiar with...

With this doubt in mind, the angle of view instantly began to zoom in again. From the outside of the emerald planet to the surface of the earth, compared to the Green that only the elf outside could see, the interior of the planet seemed very ordinary, the vast ocean pieced together a few continents. The evolved creatures began their short life cycle under the gaze of nature.

Only then did eggface see it clearly. Wasn't this the New World?

As the only player who had gone out to sea, Eggface had a good understanding of most of the terrain in the New World. She could clearly see the steel weapon continent and the west coast islands, which were exactly the same as the nautical chart she had meticulously drawn.

Although only she could understand the nautical chart...

However, the thing that called out to her did not seem to want her to see these things. A few seconds later, through the world, she saw something deeper.

Under this continent, in the deep sea, there was actually a touch of astonishing green!

A magical forest, like a reflection, under the deep sea, was emitting an extremely vigorous vitality!

So the beautiful green color outside the planet was here?

There was a forest under the Sea of the New World?

This discovery excited Goudan. It was as if he had opened the door to a new world. Such a discovery was too exciting.

However, the beautiful scene only lasted for a few seconds. What followed was the horror from the starry sky.

The giant snake coiled around the entire planet as if it had seen a delicacy. After it coiled around the planet, black liquid visible to the naked eye slowly seeped into every corner of the world, and the power of decay rapidly infected the place, the Sky, the Earth, and the ocean were not spared!

After the black liquid fell to the ground, it gave birth to a huge rotten meat field. Below the surface, the rotten meat tentacles kept spreading like fleshy roots that kept splitting like tree roots spreading to the earth, however, this spread carried absolute corrosion, causing Goudan's heart to turn cold!

Countless rotten meat roots grew more and more, as if they were endless. It was as if they were determined to pollute this world full of vitality, at this moment, Goudan realized that the ground beneath them was already like this!

No wonder she felt extremely uncomfortable walking on the road. It was as if the air was filled with a suffocating rotten feeling. It turned out that the depths of the ground had already rotted!

Then... What about the forest?

Doggie suddenly realized something, and an incomparable worry appeared in his heart.

What about the magical forest that was hidden under the ocean and had a vigorous vitality that the elves yearned for?

As this thought appeared in his mind, the image began to pull up again. Doggie saw that the endless rotten flesh roots were rapidly spreading towards the bottom of the sea after corroding the earth, however, there seemed to be a mysterious force resisting all of this in the depths of the sea.

The endless flesh and blood were blocked outside, and a pure life force was purifying the thing that was trying to pollute everything.

She could feel that once this place was polluted, something extremely terrifying would happen.

But what exactly was inside? She was very curious...

As if sensing dog egg's anticipation, a gentle summoning power brought dog egg's consciousness slowly towards the inner part of the forest. Dog Egg hesitated for a moment, but in the end, she didn't resist. That gentle power made her feel very familiar, it gave her a very familiar feeling.

Her consciousness slowly approached along with the gentle pulling force, and dog egg finally saw the entire situation inside the forest.

In an instant, Goudan held her breath and stared at everything with her eyes wide open. She had never thought that there would be such a beautiful place in the world, such a beautiful forest...

The Elf city built on Mars was already beautiful enough in Goudan's eyes, but compared to the one before her, it was on a completely different level, no... It should be said that it was on a completely different level.

The Elf city was artificial, a kind of sculpted visual feeling. However, it was different here. Every flower and leaf was attracted to her eyes by the beauty of life itself. It was the purest form of beauty, there was no art in the world that could compare to it.

"The prophecy is actually true..."

A thick and gentle voice slowly sounded. The voice had a soothing aura. The Aura was thick and powerful, and it also had a kind of intimacy that dog egg could not refuse... ..

"Which one?" Doggie looked around, looking for the source of the voice. Soon, he saw a pair of huge emerald pearls in the depths of the forest.

"Ancient bloodline, reborn with a new body, inherited with a new body. There really is such a body in this universe..."

The huge Pearl faced doggie, shining with a strange light. The gentle voice continued, "A pure bloodline without a single magazine, unbelievable..."

Goudan stared blankly at the pearl. Only then did she see clearly that it was not a pearl, but a pair of huge eyes!

The emerald eyes were like two huge emerald crystals. They were even more beautiful than the emperor's green in the movie. They carried an inexplicable divine light and attracted Goudan's gaze.

Goudan could not help but reach out to touch them.

"You... What are you?" Doggie could not help but ask.

Her huge eyes were filled with a gentle smile. She looked like a kind elder, looking at Doggie with incomparable love.

Doggie looked at her in a daze. It was only now that she could clearly see what she was looking at. It was a dragon, a giant dragon that looked like it was made of emerald crystals...

"I am the ancient ruler, the master of the Feldia Palace, the guardian of the Emerald Dream Realm: Ysera, Young Elf, tell me your name!"

The dignified and gentle voice made Goudan Li unconsciously tell him his name... ..

Chapter 1022: A Hidden Secret!

"Hu... Oh My God..."

Guo Xiaoyun, who was carefully guarding her, was startled by the sudden awakening of Goudan. She almost threw a fireball at Goudan's face... ..

Guo Xiaoyun couldn't be blamed for being overly sensitive. Goudan's state just now was too weird.

After closing her eyes, her entire body turned green. It was late at night, and she was already pitch-black. Her entire body turned green, giving people the feeling that she was acting in an old ghost movie. It was so scary to watch... ..

"Boss? What are you doing?" Goudan snapped back to his senses and saw the vitality bomb-like red fireball in Guo Xiaoyun's hand. He asked in a daze.

"Oh... you look like you're scared of something. It's not good for you to calm down in the dark, so I summoned a fireball to let you feel the warmth and light..."

Li Goudan: "..."

"What did you see?" Guo Xiaoyun took back the fireball and asked.

Li Goudan: "Boss, what do you think... If I change my name, what name would be more impressive?"

Guo Xiaoyun: "Is there a name that's more awe-inspiring than Goudan? As a d-ball person, I can't think of it, so please don't make things difficult for me. Let's discuss what you saw..."

Li Goudan: "Boss, I feel like you're being perfunctory..."

Guo Xiaoyun: "Goudan, if you want more time, I'll send you to Heaven with the spiral pill. Do you believe it? What exactly did you see?"

Li Goudan said, "I saw a dragon..."

"A Dragon?"

———

"Li Goudan?" Deep in the ocean, in the center of the magical forest, a deep voice sounded a little strange. "It doesn't look like a pure wood elf. No one would name a wood elf that way..."

"There are no more wood elves in this world..." in the forest, an extremely tired voice came from the ground. The voice was as soft as water, but it resonated with the surrounding forest.

"Didn't you do that yourself?" The voice that spoke to eggface earlier had a hint of mockery in it.

The other existence in the ground immediately fell silent for a few seconds. After a while, he sighed deeply. "Some things are already like this. Repeatedly mentioning it won't change anything, right?"

"Ha..."

"Why don't you directly contact the flower spirit who has awakened the royal bloodline?"

"There's a very dangerous existence around that child. If you contact her, she'll be discovered..."

"The secret here won't be hidden for long. That undead is getting closer and closer to the truth..."

"Then what can we do?"

If they had no other choice, with their existence, how could they fall into the hands of a junior for help?
Hopefully... The prophecy would not be wrong...

Kate city...

Brother Dog was gobbling down the food sent to him by the servants of the Earl's mansion. His current appetite was astonishing. The soft bread made from dozens of kilograms of flour was often not enough for him to eat, and in order to ensure that his body could recover quickly, bundy even had a plow cow slaughtered.

Of course, in order to ensure that the nutrients were not lost completely, the cooking method was to use soup. However, the cooking skills here were really not good. The smell of beef could not be removed, which made brother dog feel that there was a smell of cow poop... ..

But there was nothing he could do. The hunger in his stomach that could not be filled forced him to eat continuously. To be honest, with his current state, he might even be able to swallow a pile of poop in front of him.

"Eat slowly, uncle..." sunny looked at Brother Dog who was wolfing down his food and said with a smile, "No one is fighting with you!"

Brother Dog was stunned for a moment, then he frowned and looked at Sunny. "Don't call me uncle..."

Sunny smiled sweetly and said, "Then what do you want me to call you?"

Brother Dog said, "Call me oppa."

"Oppa?"

Brother Dog said, "Yes, we beastmen call people friendly..."

"Oh? Is That So?" Sunny nodded and carefully learned.

Uncle David frowned when he heard that. He had been in the northern plains for more than twenty years and had some understanding of the Beastman language. He had never heard of this kind of address.

"Since it's a friendly address, do you need me to call you that too?" David asked.

"Uh... forget it..." the corner of Brother Dog's mouth twitched. If he was called Oppa by this old man, he would probably not be able to sleep at night. ...

"The beef today seems to be a little less..." brother dog suddenly realized this problem at the end of his meal.

David did not hide it, he nodded and said, "There's only half a head today. The main city of Kate City relies on agricultural support. Many farmers treat the cattle as important as children. The few cattle that were requisitioned a few days ago were bought with a lot of effort. Now that the people in the city are in a panic, if we forcefully requisition more cattle, I'm afraid... "...". "..."

Brother Dog nodded. "It's alright. My body has almost recovered. I can also rely on meat soup and bread!"

David looked at the scars on Brother Dog's body that had become lighter. His expression was a little strange. To be honest, the recovery ability of this orc was simply abnormal and terrifying. With such a serious wound, an ordinary person would have long been hopeless. How many days had it been? He had almost recovered to the point where even the scars could not be seen!

Were all legendary orcs so fierce?

"That... gromoha, let me ask you something..." David suddenly said.

"What?" Brother Dog put down the cow bone that had been licked until it was shining and looked at the other party.

"You came all the way here. Do you have any plans?"

"Plan?" Brother Dog was stunned. "What Plan?"

"A plan to save people!" David frowned. "Since you knew that there would be a natural disaster, you must have prepared for it before you came, right?"

"Well..."

Brother Dog Licked the gravy on his thumb and looked embarrassed.

He had no plan at all. When he heard the news of the retreat, all he wanted to do was to return to Kate City and escape to Mars with Sunny. Now that the teleportation point was gone, he was also in a state of confusion.

Looking at Brother Dog's troubled look, David carefully said, "I won't say anything else. I just want to ask you something. If... I mean, if you leave this city, do you have a better place to go?"

Brother Dog was silent for a while, and then he asked, "Why do you think I have a better place to go in the human territory?"

Hearing that, David was stunned for a moment, and then he said anxiously, "Since you orcs can predict the disaster, don't tell me that you didn't have any preparation to deal with it?"

Brother Dog looked at him and frowned, "Did that human officer ask you to ask me?"

David: "..."

Brother Dog didn't wait for him to continue asking, and quickly said, "Go back and tell him, I need to think about it again..."

Hearing this, David's eyes lit up, and he quickly nodded, "Okay, think about it!" As he said that, he quickly walked out of the room. He wanted to report this situation. Lord Luke's guess was right, this orc should know something!

Looking at the other party's excited back view, Brother Dog was instantly in a dilemma.

After bragging, then... What should he do?

Chapter 1023: Kate City in despair...

“He really said that?”

On the other side, Luke and the others who were waiting anxiously in the Hall asked excitedly.

David quickly nodded and said, “That’s what he said!”

“That’s good, that’s Good!” Luke and the other generals looked at each other, then quickly said to Bundy, “Old Buddy, you have to keep an eye on that Orc of yours!”

David looked at Duke Luke’s expression and sighed slightly in his heart. To be honest, he did not agree that a group of people would place their hopes on an orc of unknown origin, but he could understand it. Now, they really had no other choice... ..

Originally, Luke’s Army did not plan to stay in Kate City for long. After all, Kate City was too small, and it was obviously not realistic to raise an army of 100,000 soldiers.

The plan should be for the larger cities in the south, such as Scott City or Bitt City. There would be rich granaries and countless farms there, so it was suitable to replace Blue Dragon City as the next stronghold.

Of course, this kind of migration couldn’t be carried out carelessly. Hence, before they set off, the army sent the few remaining Gryphon troops to investigate.

The few Griffin Knights who went out to investigate the situation the day before returned safely. However, the news they brought back was chilling. Be It Sik City or Bitt City, they had become a dead city, there were rotting corpses everywhere, not a single living thing. The key was that all the land seemed to have been infected.

The soldiers also brought back soil and some biological specimens from the two cities.

The soil had turned a bright purple-black color, emitting a disgusting stench. One could also see that the soil was mixed with strange tentacles of flesh and blood.

According to the soldiers’ reports, not only the soil, but also the plants and animals there had this rotten flesh. This flesh was obviously not their own, including the Griffins they brought with them, the Griffin mounts of No. 11 and No. 13 had accidentally eaten the water source there, so they soon began to die of weakness. Halfway through the journey, the stench of decay began to appear on their bodies.

The soldiers had cut open the Griffin’s body at that time, and they found that its internal organs were all gone. Only some disgusting flesh tentacles were slowly wriggling in its stomach... ..

According to the Soldiers’ accounts, the mages in the army came to the conclusion that the land had been corroded by the evil God’s power. This was not the first time such a situation had occurred. According to the mages, there were records in some long-standing documents.., such a thing had happened in several countries in the western archipelago.

The cult that suddenly appeared offered sacrifices to an unknown evil god. Then, the creatures or people that were offered sacrifices would have such rotten flesh in their bodies. These fanatical believers had even launched a terrifying war that wiped out humanity.

How the war ended and how the power of the curse disappeared were not recorded in many documents. However, there were many rumors. Some said that the sea guardian God had made a move., some said that the god of light had answered the prayers of the believers and purified that power.

From then on, the cult of the sea and the cult of light flourished and flourished in the western islands for tens of thousands of years.

However, the history was no longer important. What was important was that they did not have the strength to deal with such things. The mages experimented with the rotten soil for a few days and found that the rotten flesh was unusually strong, professional alchemy poison could not even kill it, not even burn it, so they had no choice but to ask the Griffin soldiers to quickly throw it away.

But the bad news was that the infection had begun to appear around them...

Just yesterday, there were reports from below that people were starting to die in the city one after another. The bodies of the dead were swollen as if they had been bloated. When they opened their bodies, didn't they see the rotten meat that the soldiers had brought back a few days ago?

Suddenly, Luke knew that the situation was serious.

He quickly brought the soldiers to investigate. The results showed that the soil in the surrounding fruit forests had started to become diseased. According to the investigation, the dead people had all eaten fresh fruits that had just ripened in this season.

Therefore, Luke brought the soldiers to all the farms in the surrounding to investigate. The results were pessimistic. The rotten meat had already begun to appear in the soil.

This investigation result was like a bolt from the blue.

Because this not only meant that they could not go to Scott City and Bitt City, they could not stay in Kate City for long... ..

There was a problem with the land and they could not grow food. If they could not grow food, what would the soldiers and people in the city eat?

The food was not ripe yet. Everyone was relying on the old food in the city to survive. They were just waiting for the new food to mature and harvest a wave of it. Originally, Luke had also planned to take care of the new food that was about to mature in Kate City, he had planned to set off after resupplying a wave.

But now, he was told that there was something wrong with the soil and that he couldn't eat it!

How was he going to fix this? Not to mention that the road ahead was cut off, now even the road of retreat in Kate City was problematic. In an instant, the generals felt as if they were shrouded in despair.

In the midst of desperation, Luke suddenly thought of the Beastman that old Bundy had recently been very rare.

He suddenly thought of the absurd story. The ORC had expected this disaster and had come all the way here to protect the descendants of the people who had saved his life. There had to be some rules, right? Since he had predicted this disaster, did it mean that he knew something?

With this thought in mind, they had asked David to go and investigate. Originally, they had only had a glimmer of hope, but the result seemed to be... .. Still Okay?

The ORC replied that he had to think about it again. Didn't this mean that he knew something? At least there was a way out!

Thinking of this, Luke quickly ordered, "Get the soldiers to prepare. Go door to door and collect old grain. Register the population of the city. Be sure to be careful. Get Old Bundy to come for a meeting!"

..

On the other side, Brother Dog was in distress after David left. After all, he had bragged. He had to be distressed... ..

He knew a way out...

What should he do? Now...

Brother Dog realized that he could no longer pretend to be an ostrich. Even if it was for sunny, he could not continue to pretend to be dead. He had to think of a way to leave this place.

Looking at Brother Dog's extremely conflicted expression and not even drinking the meat soup, sunny looked at him curiously. "Oppa, what you said to Uncle David just now... Is It True?"

Brother Dog was stunned when he heard that. He looked at Sunny in shock. After David heard his ambiguous words, he excitedly went out to report. In the end, this little girl in front of him actually suspected him at the first moment?

Looking at Brother Dog's eyes, sunny also stuck out her tongue in embarrassment. She smiled and said, "That... that, actually I know... you're not an orc, right?"

Chapter 1024: The Real Sunny

"You're not an ORC, are you?"

Sunny's sudden question stunned brother dog...

"I knew it..." looking at Brother Dog's expression, sunny revealed a smug smile.

That cheeky smile made Brother Dog's heart skip a beat. Almost subconsciously, he asked, "How did you know?"

"Don't tell you! !"Suni proudly ran to the door, to the dog brother stuck out his tongue.

Brother Dog was stunned for a moment, staring at each other to leave, but no sense of urgency to be exposed, because he knew, this is the world's kindest girl, will never hurt themselves...

But for some reason, an uneasiness arose in his heart... . .

-----

"It's exactly the same as before..." walking on the road, Sunny's mouth slightly raised, the corners of her eyes were full of smiles, and her mind kept recalling the silly boy's every move.

She was sure now that the big man was not an orc, nor was he indebted to his mother. He had come all the way here to repay her kindness. He had done it for himself, just for himself... ..

This discovery made her very happy and satisfied...

She remembered that many days ago, after she found out that something had happened to sim in the Imperial City, she cried countless times. There were too few people in this world who cared about her, so few that she was willing to use anything to exchange for the safety of those who cared about her.

Just like that, the little girl walked to the corner and suddenly leaned against the wall and slowly sat down on the ground. Her face was obviously weak and pale, she muttered, "That silly boy must have suffered a lot when he became like that... but if he can endure that kind of suffering, he will definitely be able to live well by himself in the future..."

"What are you talking about?"

Suddenly, an extremely sharp female voice sounded. Sunny slowly raised her head and saw a figure that she hated to see the most.

It was her half-sister who had targeted her since she was young: Jenny!

"What are you doing here?" Sunny lowered her head when she saw who it was. She couldn't be bothered to look at the person and looked very impatient.

Jenny saw the person's face turn pale and tried to suppress her anger. However, she still bit her lips and said, "I . . . I smelled the smell of beef here just now..."

"Beef?" Sunny was stunned when she heard that. She looked at the person with a funny expression. "Is that why you're here?"

This funny expression made Jenny even more frustrated. She clenched her fists tightly, wishing that she could tear that smiling face of hers into shreds.

"I remember... You Don't seem to eat that stuff..." sunny smiled and said, "Don't you only eat salmon and foie gras in your diet? Since when did lowly beef become something you're interested in?"

Hearing that, Jenny Glared at her fiercely.

But in the end, she suppressed her anger and said softly, "Mother is sick and very weak. The Doctor said that it's best to have some meat soup to nourish her body, but the distribution of food is very tight now..."

She had no choice but to come here. Since the beginning of the food restriction, she and her mother could only receive a piece of bread and a bowl of porridge that was so thin that there was almost no rice.

These days, Jenny was often so hungry that she could not sleep at night. Since she was young, when had she ever suffered this kind of injustice? A few days ago, her voice had been hoarse from crying!

Her mother's body was already weak. Coupled with the shock from before, she quickly fell ill. She cried and went to look for her father, but her father's cold eyes and his attitude of avoiding her made her heart chill.

She had no choice but to find this place, to find this sister that she had once hated and looked down on the most!

Sunny looked at her without saying anything, which made Jenny Panic.

To be honest, although she was unhappy before she came here, she didn't expect sunny to reject her. She had known her sister for so many years, so she knew what kind of person she was.

This person was so stupid that he would never know what rejection was. She didn't even refuse when she asked Shisenming to return her contract back when he betrayed her... ..

But this time... .. the other party's gaze seemed to be different. Jenny saw an unfamiliar coldness. This was the first time she saw this delicate face.

"Are you wondering why this stupid girl hasn't given you an answer?" Sunny's cold voice slowly came out.

"Eh?" Jenny was stunned. Then, she looked at the other party in shock. She had never thought that the other party would say such a thing. Ever since she was young, she did not know how to reply for a moment.

"You should go. I Can't Help You..." sunny stood up unsteadily.

"You..." Jenny was surprised, however, she did not become angry out of embarrassment. She had expected this result. After all, the situation was different now. The Ugly Duckling had become a Phoenix. It was normal for her to be a little tough. Before she came, she was ready to admit defeat.

"Sister!" Jenny pulled her back with a pitiful look. "I was wrong. I was really wrong. Please Help Me, okay? That's my mother, our mother..."

She had done a lot of acting pitiful since she was young. However, she had always been with her father. She had never thought that she would one day act pitiful to this person in such a manner.

It was extremely embarrassing...

However, her mother was right. The world was unpredictable. When it was time to admit defeat, one had to learn to admit defeat. As long as one was well or alive, there would always be a chance to get everything back.

Sunny stopped in her tracks and slowly looked at her. This made Jenny instantly feel proud.

As expected, this silly girl's personality had not changed after gaining power...

"It's not the first time you've acted like this in front of me!" Sunny suddenly said faintly.

"Eh?" Jenny was stunned. She felt that the other party's lines were somewhat different from what she had imagined.

"When you were three and a half years old, you wanted the cherries on the trees in my courtyard. You also begged me like this..." sunny said with a smile.

"Is... is there such a thing?" Jenny asked subconsciously.

Who could remember something that happened when she was three and a half years old? Is this guy crazy. Take the incident when she was young as an example... .. Huh?

Suddenly, Jenny realized that something was wrong.

That didn't seem to be the main point. The main point was... .. how did she know... ..

"How did you know what you were thinking?" Sunny's weak voice sounded again.

Jenny froze on the spot and looked at her in disbelief!

Sunny saw the expression on her face and smiled. "I've always known... Your Thoughts, your mother's thoughts, the thoughts of the servants around you, father's thoughts... I know what you're thinking..."

Jenny: "Sister... What are you... saying?"

Sunny smiled at her, she continued, "Why do you think I have such a personality? "Because I've known for a long time why father doesn't like me. Why do you think I moved to the south courtyard alone? "Because I know that those servants are plotting against me to curry favor with you. Why do you think I returned Shi Senming's deed to him?"

Jenny:" ..."

Sunny looked at the dazed Jenny and continued, "Because I know what he's thinking. When he swore his loyalty to you, he was cursing you in his heart. When he cut off his relationship with me in front of you, he was swearing in his heart how he would repay me after his meteoric rise in the future...". "..."

"Although I know that he's lying to himself, I'm still willing to give the contract to him. Why? Because even if he's lying to himself, he still likes me in his heart, not you!"

Jenny stared at him blankly. Her smiling face was still the same as before, but she felt that it was even scarier than when her father was heartless... ..

Chapter 1025: the worst case scenario

"Monster..." Jenny looked at her in a daze and staggered backward. For the first time, her face showed her fear of her sister.

Even though she knew that she was the Duke's granddaughter and that she had gained power, she had never been afraid of her. She had never even looked down on her because deep down, she had always despised her silly and sweet sister.

In her opinion, no matter how good the advantage was, it would be a waste in the hands of this silly girl.

In the end, the other party told her that everything was fake...

It turned out that she had never been a silly and sweet girl. It turned out that she had always been a fake since she was young. A guy who could see what everyone was thinking, a girl who deliberately pretended to be a silly and sweet girl. Such a huge contrast... It made Jenny's heart extremely cold... ..

The biggest fear in the world was not the sudden unknown, but the thing that you thought you were familiar with. One day, it suddenly turned into an unknown and terrifying existence.

"You... Don't come over! !" Jenny looked at Sunny, who was walking towards her step by step. With a sobbing tone, she desperately shrank back and said, "Don't come over, you monster!"

Sunny, who was called a monster, still had the same smile on her face. She slowly walked forward and slowly extended her hand towards Jenny's face... ..

In the meeting hall, Luke gathered Bundy and a group of officers and began the agenda.

"We can't stay in this place anymore...". "...". Luke was the first to come to a conclusion. "I've already asked the soldiers to dig up the land to confirm that most of the land has been corroded and the plants are almost useless. I've already sent people to investigate which residents have eaten the newly planted fruits and vegetables these days. If there are any, we'll quarantine them immediately."

The group of people fell silent for a moment. Bundy could not help but ask, "Is it really impossible to deal with it?"

Luke sighed and looked at Bundy. "I know you really want to keep this place. I want to, too, but the truth is that it's not allowed..."

Kate city was not a big place, but it was rich in agricultural products and had a relatively safe area. Even if Luke and the others did not consider this place as their main strategic point in the beginning, it was at least a way out, the original plan was to leave a high-ranking military officer to take over this place.

The candidates had already been decided. It was Bundy's own adjutant Joseph. The castellan of Kate City was Bundy's son-in-law. It made sense for Bundy to send his men to protect this place with the army, it could also be considered a benefit for the Bundy family.

It was understandable for Bundy to be depressed. Luke was also depressed. Letting Bundy take advantage of this was also to leave a way out for their entire army. Now, not only was there no way out, even the initial supply plan was going to be disrupted.

"Let's talk about the distribution of population..." luke sighed and continued, "For this long trip, only young men, young children, and fertile women will be brought along. Anyone over the age of 40, regardless of gender, can only stay here!"

The officers looked at each other and did not say anything for a moment. This was a little cruel. Forcing the old and weak to stay here and wait for death was against the spirit of chivalry. However, in the face of survival, any spirit seemed a little pale.

In the midst of silence, there was a sudden commotion outside, and a few seconds later an officer stumbled in.

Luke and the others see a big frown, according to the usual experience, every time this situation is not a good thing.

“My Lord... outside the city... outside the city, there’s movement! ! !”

“Hiss... .” Luke and others listen to the face instantly ugly to the extreme, this is really the worst case!

— — — —

South courtyard position, Old Bundy with a group of soldiers quickly toward the direction where brother dog is.

The situation was very serious. According to the soldiers, a team of black-armored soldiers appeared outside the city with a general!

Luke was the first to arrive with his men, and he was called to persuade the orc to fight!

However, when he arrived at the south courtyard, Bundy suddenly heard a commotion. His heart sank, and he quickened his pace!

After entering the courtyard, he saw a dark mass of kneeling servants, including a little girl who was crying her eyes out, and a noblewoman who had been begging.

The leader of the scolding group was the castellan of Kate City, who was also his son-in-law. Beside him, David stood there with a very ugly expression.

This scene made Bundy’s heart thump, because he recognized that the two women kneeling at the front seemed to be the stepwife of his son-in-law and the daughter of his stepwife.

He had a good impression of this stepwife of his son-in-law. This was a woman who was very sensible. Ever since he came here, she had become extremely low-key, so he couldn’t find any excuses to make things difficult for her. But at this time, she appeared in Sunny’s courtyard. Together with her daughter...

...

This made the uneasiness in Bundy’s heart grow stronger and stronger!

“David!” Bundy directly shouted at David.

David’s body stiffened. He turned to look at Bundy, “Sir... Sir Bundy...”

The count next to him also looked over. His eyes were full of guilt and evasion, which made Bundy even more uneasy.

“What happened?”

“Miss...” David hesitated for a moment, but he still said honestly, “Miss has gone missing.”

“What? ?” Bundy’s face instantly turned extremely ugly!

It was really... the worst case scenario!

“What on Earth happened? ?”

Bundy looked at his son-in-law coldly. This time, his eyes were filled with naked killing intent. If this cheap son-in-law of his couldn’t say anything, he might directly explode this disgusting face of his!

Feeling the killing intent of Bundy.., the count quickly pointed at Jenny and her daughter. “It’s all them, it’s all them!” As he said that, he stepped forward and kicked the crying Jenny to the ground. “Tell me, if you cry again, do you believe that I will dig out your eyes?”

“I. . . I. . . I. . .” Jenny had never seen such a situation before. Her father, who had a twisted face, was so frightened that he choked and stuttered. He could not utter a word for a long time.

Bundy pulled David over. “What about the orc? Do you know the situation?”

“He has gone to look for the young lady...” David said with a serious face.

Bundy took a deep breath and stepped forward to kick the Earl who was about to beat his daughter away. The kick was obviously merciless. The earl’s fat body was kicked out of the garden like a rubber ball, a scream that sounded like a pig being slaughtered came from outside the garden.

Ignoring the guy who disgusted him, Bundy quickly walked to Jenny and gently helped her up. “Child, don’t be agitated. Tell me slowly, what happened...”

It was useless no matter how angry and panicked he was. The most important thing now was to figure out what happened to sunny and what happened...

— — — —

On the other side, outside the city, Schwarzenegger led the group of black-armored soldiers to the foot of the city with a humble look on his face

The leader of the black armor slowly raised his head and looked at the soldiers on the city wall. His green pupils were extremely cold. He said lightly, “Is the person you mentioned who killed Polk Up There?”

Chapter 1026: How Cats Die...

“This... .. Sir Grom, please calm down ... Bundy anxiously tried to persuade the restless brother dog, “The situation is urgent. Let’s put Sunny’s matter aside. There are enemies at the city gate. The most important thing is to ensure the safety of the city gate!”

Brother Dog looked at him and insisted, “I want to find Sunny!”

“I know you’re worried about her!” Luke continued, “I’m worried about her too. She’s the only bloodline in our family now. But if the city is lost, everyone in the city will die. What’s the point of finding her?”

“You’re wrong!” Brother Dog looked at him unmoved. “If something happens to sunny, what’s the point of defending the city? What does it have to do with me whether you die or not?”

Luke: "..."

Not far away, David looked at brother dog cautiously with a complicated look in his eyes. He did not expect this orc to be so persistent in protecting the young lady.

He was a little happy but also a little depressed. He was happy that he might not have to worry about the young lady being lonely in the future. What was depressed was that he seemed to be replaced by this guy in the future.

Because he absolutely could not be so pure to the other party, so determined to stand on Sunny's side alone.

Luke was also stunned when he heard that. The other party's attitude made him not know whether he should cry or laugh. Theoretically speaking, the other party only cared about sunny and did not care about other things that were beneficial to his family.

But from the collective point of view, it was not a good thing. For example, in the current situation, he could not use the so-called righteousness to restrain this straightforward big man!

"The test is out!"

While the few of them were in a stalemate, a few soldiers rushed in with a long-bearded doctor.

"What's the situation?" Bundy asked hurriedly.

"Cherry... is infected!" The doctor hurriedly said.

Everyone's face turned pale when they heard that, especially brother dog. His face turned extremely ugly. He knew that the girl's most tempting action was the way she would secretly take out a cherry from her pocket and eat it from time to time... ..

He could not delay any longer!

Brother Dog hurriedly walked towards the door. Bundy wanted to stop him, but David was the first to stop him.

"Get out of the way!"

Brother Dog looked at David coldly. If it were anyone else, he would have sent them flying with a kick.

David looked at Brother Dog, who was about to lose his cool, he quickly said, "The city is now closed. Miss Sunny can't leave the city. The worst case scenario is that she will find a remote place and leave quietly. But no matter what, she will be in Kate City!"

"What do you want to say?" Brother Dog frowned.

David said, "I want to say that without knowing Miss Sunny's location, once the city is breached, she will be in greater danger. And if Kate City is still there, at least we have a chance to find her before she gets sick!"

Brother Dog's body stiffened when he heard that, and his face fell into a dilemma.

Of course, he wanted to find sunny as soon as possible, but David's words made sense. If the city was still around, there was still a chance to find her. If the city was breached by those messy things, once it became chaotic... The danger level of sunny being alone outside was even higher... ..

"Bring me to the city gate! !" After hesitating for less than five seconds, Brother Dog made this decision.

Seeing this, Bundy quickly said to the knights at the gate, "Aren't you going to lead the way?"

The two knights quickly nodded and left with brother dog. On the other side, David looked at Brother Dog's back with a complicated look in his eyes.

"Well done, David!" Bundy patted David's shoulder and said, "You've become much smarter after leaving Red River City..."

David, who had been praised by the Duke, was not at all pleased, and suddenly asked faintly, "My lord, I want to ask you something..."

"What?" Said Old Bundy, looking at him.

"If..." David looked at each other very seriously. "If nothing had happened to Master Bourne and Master Hiller, would you still remember that you have a granddaughter like Sunny?"

Bondi: "..."

"... " " " " " " " ..

It was so uncomfortable...

Sunny clutched her stomach and walked unsteadily on the streets of the mixed southern streets of Kate City. At this moment, there was no one on the streets, and there were no lights at home.

Ever since the Army of Blue Dragon City entered the city, a lot of resources had been handed over, including the lamp oil used for lighting.

Therefore, other than the set time for activities, the residents of Kate City had been hiding in their homes for the past few days. As a result, the entire city was like a ghost city for most of the time. There were no lights and no sound at all.

However, Sunny liked this kind of environment at the moment. There was no one around. She wouldn't let others see her disgusting appearance before she died, right?

Thinking of this, sunny looked at her bulging belly. If she opened it slightly, she would see that her tender white belly was full of twisted veins. She didn't know what was flowing inside, but she felt extremely creepy just by looking at it.

Sunny pursed her lips, put down her clothes, and found a wall to slowly sit down. She muttered, "It's so far away here. You shouldn't be able to find me, right?"

She curled up in the corner, bit her black lips, and slowly closed her eyes.

It was so cold...

She didn't know if Blackie was that cold back then...

Blackie was a cat that she had raised back then. She liked the little guy who always lay lazily on her legs and basked in the sun. The little guy had accompanied her for three years, but one day, he suddenly left without saying goodbye.

She remembered that at that time, she thought that Jenny was the one who had touched her cat. That time, she almost went to cause trouble for Jenny. However, on the second day, David found Blackie's body. He said that he found it in a faraway rural area, he went to a doctor and found that Blackie had fallen ill two months ago. It was a natural death.

At that time, sunny knew that cats would always leave their owners before they died. They would run far away so that no one would see their dead appearance.

No one knew what the reason was. Some people said that they were afraid that their owners would be sad when they saw them, but sunny thought that was not the case. Blacky was as heartless as most cats. They never cared about the thoughts of the poop-shoveling officer, okay?

But Blacky still did it. At the last moment, it died alone in the woods in the mountains.

Maybe Blacky was not so heartless. Maybe... .. It cared about itself... ..

It cared about some people too. It cared about Sim, David, that... .. Maybe Sim's orc uncle... ..

She didn't want him to see her ugly appearance now... ..

Sunny took out a few cherries from her bag with difficulty. She looked at the bright red color with a bitter face. It was her favorite thing in the past.

David said that girls who liked to eat cherries would not have bad luck... .. It was really a lie...

Sunny threw the cherries fiercely. She used her last bit of strength as if she was venting her last bit of dissatisfaction... ..

She clearly had everything. The knight who cared about her family and was willing to fight for her had everything. However, it was so short... ..

At the thought of this, she couldn't help but cry. She really... .. She really couldn't accept it... ..

Was she not destined to get those things?

"Who?"

Just when she was complaining for the first time, a gust of hot air rushed at her, causing the sad sunny to be stunned. She raised her head vigilantly.

Then, she saw a fluffy thing in front of her...

Chapter 1027: flag-planting battle (Part One) !

On the city gate of Kate City, Luke and the others had just arrived at the city gate when they saw the enemy below, and their hearts turned cold... ..

It wasn't just a group of black-armored soldiers, there was actually a leader in the lead... ..

Although the armor of all the black-armored soldiers looked very strange, if one looked carefully, one could more or less see that it was similar to the armor of the Steel Warrior Empire's Imperial Army.

However, the armor of the ordinary soldiers were generally similar. Whether it was the steel warrior empire's or the countries in the Western archipelago, apart from a little difference in color, the styles were all from the ancient square armor.

However, he was very familiar with the general's armor. Luke could clearly see that the leader was wearing the armor of the seventh generation General!

The same batch that he...

So, the leader down there, before... <per_0> . A great general!

Swain, who split Blue Dragon City in half with a single sword, was just a general in terms of combat power.

Although the man in front of him may not have the terrifying power of Swain, with this special outfit, he is obviously a level higher than the soldiers behind him. ...

At the thought of this, all the high-ranking officers' faces sank to the extreme... ...

It was really a case of a house falling into the rain, and bad things were happening one after another. First, the city outside was destroyed, and then there was the problem of the land being infected in Kate City. Finally, there was this group of people.

Did the heavens really not give them any way out?

"What are they waiting for?"

The general next to Luke looked down with an ugly expression.

"Maybe that guy can't break the city wall?" Bob said a more optimistic guess... ...

Everyone was silent. To be honest, the city wall of Kate City was just a symbolic city wall, there was no arcane device, and the city was only about ten meters high. At this height, any general could jump up, was this wall really so restrictive to the soldiers?

Anyway, Luke and the others who had felt their combat power before were a little skeptical... ...

"It seems that they are waiting for something..." Luke touched his chin and said.

"Waiting for what?"

The two generals next to him were puzzled. Bob narrowed his eyes and said, "Are they still waiting for reinforcements?"

Luke said, "You really think highly of us. Why do they need to wait for reinforcements with such a large number of soldiers?"

Hearing this, Bob was speechless. Previously, more than a dozen soldiers were able to defeat the charge of their 300,000 cavalymen. Now that they had retreated and were defeated, they still needed a leader to face this group of soldiers, indeed, they were not qualified to make the other party wait for reinforcements.

Then what were the other party waiting for?

Luke looked at the statues below and was also puzzled. Then, he looked at a high-ranking officer beside him and said, "Where are the Bondi People? Haven't they brought the Beastman Over Yet?"

"Is it useful for the orc to come here?" Bob said in a low voice, "I've seen the strength of the ORC with my own eyes. Last time, he almost killed himself when he fought a black armored soldier alone. This time, a team came directly from below. It's not very useful for him to come here, right?"

"At least he can fight one..." Luke rolled his eyes at Bob and said, "If it were us old guys, we might not even be able to fight half of them together!"

Bob choked for a moment, but he did not refute. That day in the cellar, he had clearly felt the strength of the black armored soldiers. To be honest, Luke's words were already considered modest. If they really fought... The few old guys would probably only need one or two moves... ..

They were really desperate to the depths...

While they were talking, the soldiers below stumbled up and reported, "Lord Bundy is here, bring that Orc..."

The generals were slightly relieved, but they didn't relax much. Just as Bob said, the orc that could only fight one black-armored soldier wasn't very useful.

It was just better than nothing...

"He's here..." Bob watched from afar as Bundy and the tall Orc rushed over.

"Their injuries are recovering quite quickly..." Luke looked into the distance and narrowed his eyes.

"With such serious injuries, I thought they would take at least two months to walk normally. It's only been a few days, and there aren't many scars left. When did such a monster appear in the orc tribe?"

"Isn't this a good thing?" Bob asked in surprise.

This is a good thing... "...". Luke thought to himself, "What about after?"?

But looking down, he felt that there was probably no after... ..

Just as he was thinking, Bundy and Brother Dog, who were hundreds of meters away, had already climbed up the city wall. Luke glanced at them. The five-meter-tall Behemoth jumped onto the city wall without making a sound. It seemed that this orc was not a traditional boor., perhaps it really was the sword saint of the Fire clan!

"What's the situation now?" Bundy asked anxiously as soon as he came up.

"Take a look for yourself..." Luke pointed below and said.

Seeing this, Bundy followed the other party's finger and looked over. When he saw the army not far from the city, his face immediately turned pale. "How could this be?"

He clearly remembered that he had followed that large group of people. Those people did not seem to have any intention of coming to Kate City. How could there suddenly be so many people?

More than ten soldiers and an obviously high-ranking general. When they faced the millions of lions in Blue Dragon City, they didn't have such a lineup. Why did they suddenly look up to them so much?

"I'm afraid that defending the city in this situation is delusional..." Bundy took a deep breath and said calmly, "We can only break out of the siege..."

Once the word 'break out' came out, Luke and the others' expressions obviously became much uglier.

The meaning of breaking out of the encirclement was to escape. More than 100,000 people were forced to abandon the city by more than a dozen people. It was really not an ordinary grievance!

"This terrain is not comparable to blue dragon city..." "..." The general next to Luke said solemnly, "Blue Dragon City is a plain city. There are four city gates. As long as the other party does not chase us relentlessly, there is still a good chance of breaking out of the encirclement. However, it is different now. There is only one city gate, and the road ahead is still a valley. If you want to break out of the encirclement, you have to charge at them head-on and then use a certain number of soldiers to hold them up. Only then will you have a chance to break out of the encirclement..." "..."

"This..." hearing this, Bob's face turned extremely ugly. Scatter them? Back then, 300,000 heavy cavalry couldn't scatter them. Now, how could more than 100,000 infantrymen scatter them?

Hearing this, Luke looked at Brother Dog and said in a low voice, "I heard Bob say that when you defeated that Black armored soldier, you must have used some kind of secret skill to turn the situation around in an instant. Can that kind of secret skill still be used?"

Everyone looked at Brother Dog. They had heard Bob describe the process of that battle. It seemed that they were at a disadvantage at the beginning. However, when the secret skill was used later, the orcs took care of the other side with one move.

If the explosive force that Bob described in the air was not exaggerated, this kind of explosive force might be able to help them disperse the other side!

Hearing this, Brother Dog looked at him coldly and said indifferently, "I don't know whether I can use it or not. Before I find Sunny, there's no way I can leave this place!"

"Sunny?" Luke was stunned and looked at Bundy. "What's the situation?"

Bundy did not explain immediately. Instead, he looked at brother dog with a complicated expression.

Brother Dog did not pay attention to Bundy. Instead, he slowly walked to the city wall. Suddenly, he picked up a flagpole on the city wall and threw it at the leader of the Black Armor unit below.

Everyone was stunned. They didn't expect this guy to suddenly make such an extreme move. They didn't have time to stop him. They could only watch as the flag shot out like a javelin, it accurately stood in front of the leader of the Black Armored Army!

“Oh?”

The leader of the Black Armored Army slowly took two steps. He looked at the flagpole that was standing straight and narrowed his eyes. He then looked at Brother Dog on the city wall. His eyes actually revealed a trace of reminiscence... ..

“This is...” when Luke and the others saw this scene, they suddenly felt extremely familiar... ..

Chapter 1028: flag-planting battle (Part Two)

Any warrior who had been on the northern plains for a long time might be familiar with this scene.

In the northern plains, the Garwen royal family used the terrain of the skilled dwarf master Yishan Valley to build a city, gradually eroding the territory of the orcs. As long as the city was built, under normal circumstances, it would be difficult for the orcs to break through with force.

After all, the strong orcs had the advantage of the cavalry on the grassland. If the humans hid in their cities and did not fight in the wild, they would be like a tiger meeting a ten-thousand-year-old turtle. There was nothing they could do.

Therefore, there were often situations where the two sides would fight each other.

It was probably a group of people shouting at the bottom of the city, “Cowards, come down!”! A group of people also shouted at the top of the city, “If you have a butthole, come up and fight. If you don’t have the ability, call me NIMA!”!

At this time, the orcs brought out a tradition that had been popular for ten thousand years: gladiatorial battles, also known as flag-planting battles!

Under normal circumstances, when the orcs besieged the city and were in a stalemate, there would be high-level orcs planting flags at the bottom, calling for human knights to come down and fight one-on-one!

This kind of one-on-one battles would usually gamble on some resources. For example, if the orcs lost, they would release some captives, and if the humans lost, they would give some food, tools, and so on.

Those who gambled heavily even gambled on territory. In the golden era when Jiawen the first reigned, more than half of the territories were fought by the legendary heroes and the tribal chiefs of the orcs.

The orcs worshipped the strong. In the beginning, the steel martial empire also paid attention to the spirit of knights. Both sides still followed the rules and basically did not go back on their words. Therefore, this became a way for many knights in the northern grassland to make outstanding contributions.

However, other than the golden generation, most of them lost more than they won. In recent centuries, only three people were able to win territory from the orcs, legendary Hero Rox, Sword of Dawn Sabor, red dragon duke: Isabelle!

However, Luke and the others never expected that the orc would choose to do this at such a time... ..

For a moment, everyone fell silent, but no one objected. Perhaps... .. This was a way of seeking survival in the face of death... ..

After all, if they were to break out of the encirclement normally, they would have to face not only that high-ranking officer, but also the dozen or so aggressive black-armored soldiers behind him. Just based on the ORC's explosive power, it was hard to say if they would be able to break through.

However, if it was just one orc, although the other party was definitely stronger, the chances were also greater.

Facing Brother Dog's challenge, the senior officer of the opposing team stiffly raised his head to look at Brother Dog. Under his helmet, his already pale and stiff face actually squeezed out a smile.

"Interesting..."

Hehe... he was really courting death!

Seeing this, Shi senming, who was at the side, sneered repeatedly in his heart.

This guy who didn't know the immensity of Heaven and earth, did he think that he was invincible just because he defeated a lord of the Black Dragon Army? The one in the cellar was just an ordinary soldier of the Black Dragon Army. He was not even a leader.

But this one was different. Before he accepted the demon contract, he was a master of the northern general level. He was one of the secret generals under Jiawen IV!

In the current Black Dragon Army, he was a valiant general. Shi senming had seen with his own eyes that this lord had personally broken through the arcane defense of White Dragon City!

The general seemed to be interested as well.

Ever since he had been promoted to his current level, he rarely fought alone. It was an iron rule in the Black Dragon Army that valiant generals were forbidden to fight among themselves, so many valiant generals actually did not know that he had reached that level.

Thinking of this, his already somewhat indifferent heart became slightly active. He grinned and crooked his finger at Brother Dog on the city wall.

Seeing this, brother dog did not hesitate at all. He jumped down from the ten-meter-high city wall and crashed into the ground with a bang. The sound was astonishing, but the strength was used very well.

The huge body that fell from the sky was not sunk into the soft soil. The strength was scattered on the surface of the cement and spread out, causing spider-web-like cracks to appear within a radius of a kilometer. It gave people a very strong sense of vision.

Outsiders would be amazed by this scene, and insiders would also be amazed by the control skills of this orc. Only Shi senming secretly pursed his lips and thought to himself, fancy and sensationalist!

"Not bad..."the valiant general nodded slightly. His hoarse voice was full of affirmation. Putting everything else aside, this person who dared to rush down and face them alone without saying anything was worthy of respect.

“My Name Is Bird Christian. Orc, tell me your name!”

“Christian?” On the city gate, Bob was slightly stunned when he heard this name, as if he remembered something.

“You Know Him?” Luke, who was familiar with him, immediately asked.

“Mm...” Bob nodded. “I remember him a little. When I was working in Eagle Valley, he was the name of a deputy general. That guy was very talented. He was only 25 years old, but he was already a silver intermediate-rank. At that time, I even wrote a recommendation letter to the Knight Academy, hoping that the Empire would give him a chance to further his studies. This guy had the qualifications to be a general, but I didn’t expect that he would be transferred half a year later. Later, I heard that he died on the battlefield. I thought that he had offended an unknown noble, but I didn’t expect that “... “...”

Luke sighed. Who would have thought that the king of this generation would be so cunning? He had secretly nurtured so many generals.

In the end, his ambition was not realized, but that mysterious organization had benefited...

Brother Dog looked at the other side and calmly replied, “Grom Hellscream!”

This name made the mouths of the soldiers behind him Twitch. This orc’s name was still as stupid as before... ..

However, when faced with such a pretentious name, Kristen did not find it funny. The other party was different from his group. He had reached such a level just by relying on his own cultivation. In the past, such a mighty name deserved its name!

“How many years has it been... ..” “I’ve never met such a powerful orc warrior. You’re not bad. If it wasn’t for that Lord’s gift, I might not have been able to match up to you in my entire life!” Kristen very honestly expressed his affirmation to Brother Dog.

Brother Dog was slightly silent. If he hadn’t been drawn by seer, he would have been in a worse situation than his opponent. He might even have been a prodigal with weak kidneys. More importantly, he might even have been taken over by his unreliable father!

“Orc... If you lose, you’ll have to submit to US and join the Black Dragon Army to accept the baptism of our great god. Are You Willing?” Kristen asked.

“What if I win?” Brother Dog tilted his head and asked.

“You actually think you can defeat Lord Christian?” Shisenming sneered, “Do you really think you are something?”

“Whether you win or not is not up to you...” . “...”. Brother Dog sneered at this annoying guy, “Even if I lose, if I join you, my status will still be higher than that of a retard like you, right?”? When the time comes, I will make you realize what you are...” . “...”

When the black armored soldiers heard Brother Dog’s words, their stiff expressions all cracked into a grin. This orc was quite interesting... ..

Shi senming's expression was extremely gloomy...

Kristen looked at Brother Dog and nodded. "What do you want after winning?"

"If I win, you will take your men and leave. You will also guarantee that you will not report this place to your companions!" Brother Dog stated his conditions.

He could feel that the person in front of him was very strong. He was very strong. Even if he was lucky enough to win, he would have to pay a huge price. If he was lucky enough to win, it would only be a temporary retreat for the other party, it would be meaningless if the other party brought more people in two days.

Christine said, "Okay!"

Chapter 1029: An Unexpected Person!

"What a place filled with the characteristics of the undead, teacher Sandro..."

At the Northern Undead Temple, a figure that Andrew had never expected appeared at that location.

Without waiting for Andrew to reply, the person said to himself, "In such a short period of time, you have gathered such a powerful force on a level-seven planet. I should say that you are indeed worthy of being called teacher. I really admire you more and more..."

"Why are you here?" Andrew asked in a low voice. One could not tell whether he was happy, angry, or sad, but it was clear that the person in front of him had exceeded his expectations.

At this moment, the undead hall was covered with something like blood vessels. It looked like it was inside a creature. From time to time, one could still feel the aura of the entire hall beating.

It was like a huge heart, and the unimaginable energy made the newcomer look at everything with even more curiosity.

The newcomer was the illusionist who had plotted against the female knight, Maya!

"Master..." Kersu said grimly, "Do you need me to help?"

Hearing this, Andrew didn't answer his subordinate. He didn't blame Kersu for being stupid. This was the result of unequal intelligence. A small undead born in such a low-level plane., he simply couldn't understand what kind of existence this guy was!

To be honest, he had taken in many students in his life. This person in front of him was definitely the most talented one he had ever seen. He hadn't seen him for at least a few eras now. With his talent, even if he hadn't reached the level of life... He was definitely an undying that was hovering around the threshold. In this situation, the appearance of such a powerful illusionist was truly a huge variable... ..

"Why are you here?" Andrew honestly expressed the surprise in his heart.

Maya faintly glanced at him. Her beautiful rose eyes were filled with an alluring color. She could clearly see that Andrew did not hide his surprise and surprise at her arrival.

However, the more this was the case, the more she did not dare to act rashly. She was very clear about what kind of existence he was. Back then, she had studied under him for close to a million years. She was deeply aware of the power and profound knowledge of this ancient undead.., she did not know what kind of trump card such an existence could pull out.

The other party's straightforward expression of surprise probably meant that although he did not expect her appearance, he was confident enough to deal with her.

At the thought of this, Maya smiled and replied, "Do you believe me when I say that it was an accident, teacher?"

"Yes..." Andrew nodded stiffly.

"The teacher still trusts me..." Maya smiled and said, "No matter how many times I lie to the teacher..."

Andrew also smiled and said, "But every time you cause trouble, the teacher can clean up the mess for you, right?"

Maya paused for a moment and looked at him deeply, but then she smiled and said, "The teacher is right..."

Andrew smiled and quietly waited for the other party to continue.

The guy in front of him was indeed an unexpected variable. To be honest, it was even more troublesome than his other student raising all his forces to find trouble with him.

The single-handedly destructive power of a top illusionist was sometimes even more troublesome than a Lord's battle, not to mention his current incomplete system.

Without advanced intelligence and powerful anti-illusionist programming, the possibility of this crude system being broken by the opponent was not small.

However, it was not entirely impossible to say that he could not do anything to the opponent. As a lich who had reached the fate level countless eras ago, it was not impossible to say that he could not do anything to a junior. It was just that the price was a little high.

"Teacher, by appearing here, does it mean that the previous experiment has been completed?" Maya suddenly asked faintly.

Andrew: "More or less..."

"As expected of teacher..." Maya suddenly smiled brightly and said, "Many powerful figures in the academic world say that teacher's idea is simply impossible to achieve."

Andrew sneered and said, "They are just a bunch of rotten mediocrity. They will only lie on their own merit books for their entire lives. Such a person is a waste of resources in the world!"

"Teacher is right..." Maya smiled and said, "But I am very curious about how teacher succeeded. Can teacher teach me?"

Andrew smiled and said, "My teaching method never directly teaches the results. If you want to learn, just follow my previous method and explore step by step. Whatever you learn, it is all yours!"

Hearing that, Maya narrowed her eyes. She knew that this was the condition given by the other party.

“Thank you, teacher. Teacher is indeed the best to me!” Maya said with a smile.

Andrew also smiled and said, “Who asked you to be my most outstanding student? But before that, can you answer a question for me, teacher?”

“Teacher, what do you think...”

“What accident made you come here?”

“It’s just a mission!” Maya smiled and said, “I saw a demon lord in the territory who seemed to be going to do something, so the higher-ups asked me to come and have a look.”

Andrew asked, “Are You Alone?”

“There’s another one...” Maya smiled, “You know that I’m a weak woman. For my safety, the higher-ups naturally have to send a bodyguard, right?”

“Oh?” Andrew smiled, “What about your bodyguard?”

Maya said, “It’s rude to bring a bodyguard when you come to visit the teacher, right?”

“Is that so?” Andrew looked at her with a half-smile.

Facing her direct suspicion, Maya did not mind. Instead, she smiled and said, “Speaking of my companion, teacher should have some impression of him...”

“Oh?” Andrew smiled and said, “I’ve seen too many people in my life. I don’t necessarily have an impression just because I’ve seen them.”

“I’m very sure that teacher will have an impression!” Maya said with a smile, “Teacher should not have forgotten the experience of gambling the Titan’s lifeblood at the third former third Lord’s Place, right?”

The corner of Andrew’s eyes twitched slightly when he heard that. When this topic was brought up, he roughly understood who the other party was talking about.

Under the former third Lord’s banner, the Ace Titan’s fourth corps leader: Irene. Hila!

As one of the young commanders of the Titan army, this little girl had left a deep impression on him. This was because when the flesh puppet that he was so proud of was used to gamble with the third Lord, it had been shot into pieces by that little girl, it had caused his original blood plan to fail in the gamble and even caused him to lose a large amount of alchemy materials. It had caused the third Lord to be smug for a long period of time!

A four million year old star level, even if it was to change the history of Titan, it was still a first-rate talent. Later, he heard that this guy was taken under the banner of a Lord of the elven royal family, and it seemed that he was indeed a colleague of his disciple... ..

If that guy also came here, then there would be some trouble! !

Andrew was very clear about the terrifying combat strength of this king level Titan. If he really did not care about his life, he might be able to smash his alchemy hammer that had not fully evolved into pieces!

Chapter 1030: Who the hell is that guy...

Andrew looked at this disciple whom he had once admired very much. His heart sank slightly. If what the other party said was true, then the trouble would be doubled!

If the top-tier Titan combined with the secret existence at the bottom of the sea, the effect would be difficult to estimate. This variable was a bit big!

"It seems that your Lord thinks highly of you..." Andrew laughed.

"Isn't that..." Maya stretched her body in satisfaction. "I'm the favored one everywhere. It's not like teacher doesn't know this..."

"That's true..." Andrew smiled, but suddenly said, "But with such a powerful bodyguard helping you, how did you get injured?"

As soon as these words were said, Maya's comfortable body slightly stiffened, and the gaze she looked at Andrew became somewhat solemn.

Generally speaking, Andrew's current body should be an aboriginal body with extremely low strength. Although it was obviously strengthened, this level of strengthening would not be able to withstand the opponent's enormous spiritual power, in other words, the Andrew in front of her was either a clone that tore apart the soul, or simply a projection.

However, she was surprised that such an existence could sense her physical condition.

The injuries she had suffered previously had almost been healed with the help of the Moon Spring. The most serious injuries were mental injuries. Under normal circumstances, such injuries would not be noticed unless the opponent's soul level was much higher.

Could it be that Sandro's soul level was higher than his?

If that was the case, he should consider withdrawing from this incident.

After thinking for a few seconds, Maya smiled and said, "I met a guy who hid very well on the way here. What's the situation here, teacher? There are a lot of crouching tigers and hidden dragons. The Elven Council actually exists!"

"Oh?" Andrew narrowed his eyes when he heard that. "Is it her? No wonder..."

As soon as she said that, Andrew guessed who the person she was talking about was. In the undead space in Iceland, there were as many strong people as clouds, but there were not more than three people that he was really afraid of. One of them was the Secret Treasure Master of the Elven Parliament.

With her ability, using a titan-level secret treasure was possible to overturn his precious disciple.

“What about your companion?” Andrew laughed, “Is her injury serious? Do you need my help?”

Maya laughed, “That’s not necessary. A creature like Titan has the same vitality as a monster. I’m not a big problem, what problem could she have?”

Andrew laughed again, but he did not say anything.

That was true. Titan’s vitality was almost the strongest except for some soft-bodied creatures. However, facing a top-notch secret treasure master, whether she had the chance to recover was a problem, that Secret Treasure Master was not an ordinary fellow. If one was not careful, a life-level existence would capsize. After all, that fellow had a record of defeating a life-level existence when he was alive.

Of course, if one’s guess was right, it really was that fellow.

However, it was not easy to say all of this directly because there was a high chance that Maya’s words were true. After all, no matter how powerful that fellow was when he was alive, he was now just an existence that coexisted with a low-level elf.

A top-tier secret treasure had limited functions, so it would not be easy to get rid of a star-level titan.

Thinking of this, Andrew did not continue, but changed the topic, “Speaking of Titan, I just found something incredible. Little Maya, do you want to see it?”

“Oh?” Hearing that, Maya suddenly looked interested, “To be able to make teacher say that it’s incredible, I really want to see it!”

Andrew smiled and waved his hand lightly. A light screen appeared on the bloody wall. On the screen, a very clear pixel reflected another scene.

It was a very primitive stone city. A group of Andrew-made soldiers were obviously surrounding the city gate. In front of this group of soldiers, the tall green figure made Maya slightly stunned.

What a pure Green Titan...

The image on the screen was clear, allowing Maya to clearly see the skeleton and muscles on brother dog’s body. With such a level of physique, it was probably not at the level of a King... ..

But the next scene made her even more shocked. The tall Green Titan faced the soldiers who had been strengthened by Andrew and made an extremely strange pose. Then, the Qi and blood in his body expanded in an unbelievable manner, the obviously catalyzed bloodline caused the Titan’s aura to change. Through the screen, Maya could feel a suffocating aura.

She had experienced that feeling before. On her current boss’s body...

That was the unique aura of the Royal Family!

“It can’t be?” Maya looked at the screen in disbelief.

The Titan’s aura became stronger and stronger. The originally orange-yellow pupils actually turned golden under the catalysis of the Qi and blood. The bones were also clearly stretched out. With that familiar aura, Maya no longer had any doubts in her heart.

This was the royal bloodline! !

As the chief illusionist under a great lord, she naturally had the opportunity to accompany her boss to the location of the Royal Succubus clan. She had also seen the royal descendants of the Succubus clan.

It was not just the succubus. With her current status, she had attended the ceremony when many royal descendants of the large clans inherited the bloodline. But to be honest.., even Tyrande, who had inherited the throne from the Starlight Elves a few years ago, felt that the bloodline aura was not as strong as this guy in front of him.

And this was through the screen. More importantly, where the F * ck did the Titan family still have the royal family now?

“This... where did this guy come from?” Maya asked in surprise.

“I don’t know...” Andrew shrugged and answered honestly, “I haven’t been here for long. To be honest, I don’t know how this thing came to be.”

Hearing that, Maya choked and immediately sneered.

You are one of the ten great liches. Even Sylvanas wanted to capture you personally, but you chose a level-seven planet after coming out of the realm of death. Who would believe you if you said that there was nothing fishy about it?

Not familiar with this place?

What kind of joke was this?

If it was said that ordinary undead could not choose a path after coming out of the realm of death, she would definitely not believe it as her teacher. After all, the other party was the first batch of ancient liches that came out with Sylvanas, they must have the secret to enter and exit the realm of death. would such an existence be willing to settle for a developing planet?

It was ridiculous.

Looking at Maya’s expression, Andrew felt helpless. Humans, sometimes no one would believe the truth. He really did not know how the extinct bloodline of the Emperor Titan came about, anyway, it definitely had nothing to do with this planet.

Of course, he chose this planet for a reason. There was a secret here that could make the ten great lords go crazy, but it definitely had nothing to do with this little guy in front of him.

This should be the subordinate of that Little Lord, right?

The high-purity elves and the Titans had already shocked him. Now that even the royal family had come, now that he thought about it, the secret on that little lord might be even crazier than the one on this planet!

That guy... who exactly is he...
