Chapter 1061: Sword of Damocles

“What high quality energy!”

Being able to do energy appraisal work on the frontlines was already one of the top shapeshifters within the Bolton faction. They were also the backbone of this field. However, when faced with the energy supply sent by an external faction, they could not help but praise it from the bottom of their hearts.

Regardless of whether it was the biological faction or the mechanical faction, the energy field was an important subject. Very few large factions would turn this into a weakness. The Bolton faction was able to produce so many activation stars., in terms of energy domain research, it was also at the top level of the federation.

However, when they compared the energy quality, they instantly felt that the other party’s energy quality was at least one level higher than theirs!

BoxNovel.com

After doing a detailed appraisal, the mages from the energy department said to the military supplies officer beside them.

As the report was uploaded, the energy that was sent over was quickly converted into pure energy and sent to the fallen angel star ahead.

What the officers from the Bolton faction did not expect was that the energy that the other party sent over was not only of excellent quality, but also of sufficient quantity. It was more than twice the amount of energy that they had ordered for the fallen angel star.

With such a large gift, should they say that the other party was too straightforward?

Both factions should be on an expedition, and the most important thing was the logistics. Sending so much energy over at this time, was it because they had absolute confidence in their logistics or something?

The chief intelligence officer analyzed, “Testing US and displaying their strength should be...”

“Crafty guys...” Bolton smiled and asked, “How are the preparations of Saab and the others?”

The intelligence officer said, “Lord Sab is ready. We can set off at any time!”

“Okay...” Burton nodded. “Use that...”

Everyone was stunned. They knew what the other party was talking about, but wasn’t it a little too early to use that during the probing stage?

Although there were some doubts, no one questioned it. Lord Burton’s intelligence department had always only provided analysis. No one could influence Burton’s decision-making, not even once.

As Bolton gave the order, a figure glowing with a dim light slowly took out a crystal flute. Then, a beautiful flute sound came from within Bolton's faction.

The flute sound was like a gentle breeze. It passed through gently, ignoring the laws of physics and reached the front. When the countless burning angels heard the flute sound, they quickly gathered in one direction.

The numerous angels densely formed a wheel in the air, and then, a huge shadow of a fallen angel appeared in the sky.

At the same time, countless energy gathered in the void, and a sword that was even bigger than a planet floated in the sky, carrying pale blue flames and overlooking the world!

"This is really..." when Vogu and the others saw this scene, they couldn't help but suck in a breath of cold air.

"What... What is that?" Some of the young intelligence officers could not help but mutter when they felt that terrifying pressure.

"Hey, Hey, is this for real..." in the necropolis of the undead in the New World, Maya held her chin, her face full of surprise. "The sword of Damocles, this is exclusive to the royal family, right?"

"Oh?" Sandro laughed. "Aren't you very familiar with this little demon? Didn't you know that he had this card?"

"I don't know... . Maya smiled and said, "According to the information, he does have a fallen angel star, but I have never seen him use it. After all, according to the information, even if he can use the fallen angel gene, it should be a low-level bloodline. The most impressive thing is that he has the bloodline of a noble Duke and the royal gene of the Sword of Damocles. I really didn't expect that he would dare to use it... "... ". "..."

"It doesn't have to be a royal bloodline..." Sandro smiled and said, "As long as there is enough fallen angel blood and continuous purification, it isn't difficult to create an artificial royal bloodline."

"Is that so?" Maya frowned and said.

"What do you think a royal is?" Sandro smiled disdainfully and said, "In the past, there was no such thing as a royal. Whether it was the ancient elves, the Titan, or the ancient demons in the past, those below the royal family are nobles. Where did this Bullsh * t royal family come from?" "The so-called royal family is just a title given to those who have yet to reach the standard of the royal family. In the past, it was just a first-class Duke's bloodline, which is also a noble's bloodline, but the purity is higher. Compared to the royal family, the difference is like heaven and earth. Why Can't it be purified?"

"Teacher is really knowledgeable..." Maya smiled, but then asked, "But isn't it unrealistic to purify the bloodline? Would the fallen angels let him do that?"

The so-called purification was the artificial purification of the blood essence of living beings. It was a forbidden method prohibited by the federation. The efficiency of this method was extremely low. The amount of blood essence required to upgrade a bloodline by one level was huge, and the higher the level, the more exaggerated it was, for a royal family, the other party had to collect the blood essence of at least tens of thousands of fallen angels. The fertility rate of high-level races was very low, especially the fallen angels. They were considered a rare race in the entire demon species of the abyss, there were only tens of thousands of people in the entire noble circle? How could it be possible for others to lose the blood essence of 10,000 fallen angels for purification?

If someone did this, wouldn't the entire fallen angel race have to risk their lives?

Hearing that, Andrew smiled mysteriously and said, "If that rumor in the Abyss is true, it's not impossible..."

Abyss rumor?

Hearing that, Maya's eyes immediately narrowed. Three centuries ago, an energy storm suddenly appeared in the inner part of the Abyss, and the space on the upper four levels were all closed. Now, the Abyss was only open to the outside world on the lower three levels, there were many different opinions about what happened in the upper four levels.

Could it be that teacher knew something?

But thinking about it, it made sense. It was not unusual for an existence like teacher to know any kind of secret.

"Then what does teacher plan to do?" Maya looked at the sword of Damocles floating in the air on the screen and smiled. "Your disciple can't solve this thing."

"It doesn't matter... why would I bother you with such a small matter?"

Andrew raised his finger expressionlessly, and countless alchemy arrays rotated. At this time, a huge alchemy array appeared in the sky below the huge black python. A few seconds later, a black shadow slowly emerged from the alchemy array.

Maya's pupils slightly shrank when she saw that thing. She could clearly see that it was a coffin... ..

On the other side, after the sword of Damocles was formed, the huge phantom of a God opened its hands, in a state of chanting. Twelve wings of pale blue flames spread out, and the powerful flames of hell instantly spread out in the shape of a ring, it was also at that moment that the monstrous waves that the black python rolled up were completely vaporized in that second.

Along with the flames, the countless surrounding stars that were affected were also vaporized.

Even the incomparably huge Python let out a miserable howl in the flames!

Following that, after the angel finished chanting, he pointed at the void of the Python, and the Sword of Damocles that had been hanging above immediately fell towards the python!

Chapter 1062: The Selection of the VOGU faction

"F * ck, what the hell is that?"

Inside the New Territories, soap and Grandpa Lu, who had captured this scene through the image of the mecha, were scared out of their wits. It was really a star war, and the scenes were more and more shocking.

A Python that was bigger than a planet, the energy waves that ran through several planets, and the huge angel at the back had a sword that was bigger than a planet falling down. This didn't make any sense at all. It didn't look like a star war at all..? ... wasn't this too F * cking magical?

Suddenly, he understood why the dog Lord was in such a hurry to withdraw people. It was too f * cking scary in the outside world...

Would the planet be directly cut off by this sword?

BoxNovel.com

Just as he was thinking, a third voice that shouldn't have come from inside the cabin suddenly sounded.

"Is Colonel Bernier here? Please respond if you receive this!"

This sudden voice scared soap and Grandpa Lu so much that they almost jumped up!

What was that voice?

Grandpa Lu forcefully resisted the urge to scream and winked at soap.

How would I know? Soap quickly responded to Grandpa Lu with his eyes. One meat egg and one piece of soap, both of their eyes were like green beans that kept rolling around. Coupled with their facial expressions that had nothing to do with normal creatures, it was fortunate that they could understand each other's meaning.

"Colonel Bernier, please reply if you receive!"

The two of them looked at each other and finally reached a consensus. They quickly searched for the source of the sound in the cabin. Very soon, their gazes locked onto Bernier, who had already lost consciousness.

Because the sound seemed to be coming from him.

Could it be that he had woken up?

The two of them looked at each other and inhaled slightly in their hearts. At this time, if this ancestor had woken up, something big would happen. Not to mention the grand scene of a sword coming from outside the planet, the woman outside the mech was enough to make them suffer.

However, they soon realized that the sound did not seem to come from Bernie himself. It was as if something like a walkie-talkie was ringing.

The two quickly ran to Bernie's body and searched for a while. Finally, they found the source of the sound. They fished it out and took a look. It was actually a glowing scroll.

"This is..."

The moment they saw the scroll, soap and Grandpa Lu instantly reacted. They remembered that there was a time when the Lord seemed to have a mission. It was to collect the ancient scrolls within the Beast clan. One scroll could be exchanged for many points.

This thing was a communicator?

“Colonel Bernier, please reply if you receive it!”

A mechanical voice came from within the scroll again.

Grandpa Lu and soap looked at each other. Finally, soap took a deep breath and imitated Bernier’s voice. “Yes, sir. Bernier has received it. Please instruct!”

“Oh?” On Vogu’s side, the intelligence officer was slightly stunned after receiving the news.

When the Sword of Damocles appeared, the higher-ups announced that they were preparing to open the passage and send more teams in to collect relevant data.

Before entering, they naturally had to contact the troops that had entered previously.

To be honest, the intelligence officers were all pessimistic about the survival rate of the first batch of troops that entered, but they did not expect to receive a response.

After being stunned for a moment, the intelligence officer’s heart was instantly filled with joy. He hurriedly said, “Report your situation, Colonel Bonier!”

“The troops have suffered heavy losses. Most of the soldiers have been sacrificed, and a few survivors have been separated. Now, only I and Lieutenant Colonel Jessica have been confirmed as survivors!”

Two colonel-level officers exist. That could basically guarantee the integrity of an internal passage. This was truly a pleasant surprise...

“How’s Your Situation Now? Can you directly establish a teleportation passage?”

“Jessica and I are both heavily injured. I’m afraid we can’t do it...”

Oh, I see...

Disappointment flashed across the intelligence officer’s eyes. However, it was within his expectations. It was already a pleasant surprise that he was able to survive and provide some information.

“Understood, Lieutenant Colonel Bonier. After this communication ends, please immediately change the coordinates to prevent being tracked. The Rescue Force will arrive soon. Please protect the scroll and keep in contact at all times. Attention, we are not the only army that has descended this time. Please pay attention to identify and avoid the troops where Burton is!”

“Understood!”

“I wish you a smooth return, Colonel!”

After hanging up, the intelligence officer immediately ordered his men to seal the passage. Since Bonier was unable to open the passage in his current condition, their passage could not be used by others, otherwise, Bonier's information would very likely be stolen by other forces.

According to the previous passage, other than Bolton's forces, there was also a mysterious force involved in this incident.

Not only that, Andrew was not the only one on the planet. With so many forces entrenched on such a small level-7 planet, it would not be an exaggeration to say that they would set up a trap. Such communication radio waves could not leave any traces, otherwise, it was highly likely that Bernie would be tracked down.

"Report the news of Bernie's survival. Add A side mission to search for Bernie's team of survivors. Oh right, who will lead the infiltration mission this time?"

"Reporting, sir. The mission this time is set for the Ranger Division: Lord Wayne will lead the team!"

"Lord Wayne?" The intelligence officer's eyes flashed with a strange light when he heard this. He muttered, "To actually let that madman go..."

Demon Hunter Wayne was a famous existence in the entire Southern Star Field's Ranger Circle. The Lord had spent a lot of effort to rope him in at that time. He could be considered one of the trump cards of the high-level combat strength within the southern star field, however, she didn't expect to fight so quickly.

"Let Wayne Go?" In the direction of the central control station, chief intelligence officer Pippen frowned. She had personally persuaded this person, but because she had brought him here, she understood the situation of the other party.

Wayne was a top ranger in the Southern Star Field, and she had a great reputation. The success rate of the missions she handled was not below that of the top ten Rangers. However, her methods were extremely extreme, and she didn't consider the consequences for completing the missions. She was like a bomb, her reputation in the federation was mixed.

If it was a mission like hunting, tracking, or offering a reward, Pippen felt that Vaughn was the best choice. However, she felt that Vaughn was not particularly suitable for such a delicate task like gathering intelligence.

Faced with Pippen's doubts, Vogu smiled and said, "I will let Billy go with you..."

"Billy?" Pippen's frown deepened. Billy was the top psionic master in the faction. With his calm, patience, and other advantages, he had a very high prestige in the faction. He was a good commander. However, he might not be able to cooperate with Vaughn. Vaughn was a new aristocrat with a proud personality. Not to mention Billy, even Vogu himself might not be able to suppress her... ..

"No worries..." Vogu smiled. "The effect of using a double-edged sword is doubled if used well. I believe Billy can use this double-edged sword well..."

"I hope so..."Pippen saw that the other party did not seem to change her mind, so he did not say anything, she held an extremely high position in Vogu's faction, but the decision-making power was still in the hands of the Liege. Vogu seemed to respect them very much, but deep down, he was an extremely opinionated Liege.

"Don't worry too much..."Vogu looked at Pippen, who had a heavy expression on his face, and laughed. "It's not as bad as you think. Just relax. Come, let's see how teacher will deal with that Imp's Damocles'Sword!"

Pippen rolled his eyes helplessly, and then looked at the battlefield screen.

Although they had predicted that Sandro would not be killed so easily, they were still very curious about how Sandro would face such a high-purity purgatory flame!

Chapter 1063: Demon Hunter Vaughn

"Where is Lord Vaughn?"

A liaison officer in charge of communication asked AI.

"In his personal arsenal..."ai replied.

Hearing this, the liaison officer was stunned. Although he was a little anxious, he obediently waited outside and didn't dare to approach.

In the base, some of the high-end talents hired outside had their own personal space. They didn't allow the Lord's internal intelligence to enter. They were all isolated from the intelligence, every such talent would be equipped with a special life liaison officer to maintain contact with the higher-ups.

BoxNovel.com

The reason was very simple. These high-level talents each had their own secrets, especially the academic alchemists. They carried precious knowledge repositories with them. They were all private property. Before they were authorized to do so., even the hired lords were not allowed to spy on them. In order to prevent theft, they usually lived in a place that was isolated from the intelligence!

As for Rangers, assassins, and other agility-type warriors, the armory was their absolute privacy.

This was especially true for top-notch Rangers like Vaughn. The personal armory that they were equipped with was definitely top-notch. Highly Agility-type warriors were usually the most generous with their equipment. A high-level ranger or assassin., it was very normal for them to have over a hundred sets of exclusive equipment. However, as for what the specific equipment was, even the hired Lord could not casually ask about it.

For a liaison officer like him, if he dared to rush in rashly, he would not be punished even if he was shot to death on the spot!

Of course, this was the treatment that only high-end warriors received. Those martial school students who had just graduated were eager to show all their specialties and weapon characteristics, hoping to get the recognition of a better Lord Force.

Time passed by minute by minute. Although the liaison officer was anxious, she could only wait patiently on the spot. In the face of the repeated urging from the higher-ups, she still had to appease the impatient temper of the higher-ups.

After hanging up the call for the eleventh time, the liaison officer sighed tiredly. As a liaison officer, she was responsible for hiring high-end talents and connecting with the military supplies department. Both sides were big shots, they were the typical type of people who were caught in the middle and bullied.

However, even so, this job was basically a job that many people were fighting to do. This was because the liaison officer was usually in the same type of job as the person in charge of the talents. Just like herself, she was also a wind ranger. The same job was to facilitate communication, although she was doing chores, being by the side of a big shot often gave her a lot of opportunities to learn. It was a great promotion for her!

Of course, there were also cases where the cold and aloof employer was not willing to teach you experience. However, even so, this kind of job was still a hot one. Because even if you did not learn anything, following the experience of a big shot..., could add a lot of points to your resume. It would be very meaningful for your future career.

Just as the young liaison officer heaved a sigh of relief, a cold voice suddenly sounded, “Don’t completely relax at all times. As a ranger, this habit of yours is very fatal!”

This cold voice made the liaison officer’s body tense. He turned around and said in surprise, “Sir, you’re done?”

“Yes, I’m ready...”the man replied subconsciously, but his cold expression suddenly froze.

Of course, the liaison officer didn’t see his expression. He quickly said, “Then let’s go quickly. The people in the execution department are all anxious!”

“What are you panicking about?”Vaughn slowly walked in front. “Isn’t the trial battle just beginning? You told me to go at the last minute, and you didn’t give me time to prepare my equipment?”

The liaison officer didn’t dare to answer. It was normal for Rangers to adjust their equipment before a mission, but if he answered this legitimate reason and the higher-ups didn’t dare to cause trouble for Vaughn, he would most likely become a punching bag.

“What’s the situation on the battlefield?”Vaughn asked as she walked.

“It’s very explosive! !”The liaison officer quickly uploaded the video of the battlefield to the AI and showed it to Vaughn.

“Oh?”After seeing the video, vaughn’s calm face showed a slight surprise. “The Sword of Damocles? I didn’t realize that the purity of this fallen angel activation star is so high. It can even use the royal secret skill...”

The liaison officer glanced at the other party. “Sir, did you know about this before?”

“Yes...”. Vaughn nodded. “I met it when I was doing a mission on the Nimir battlefield. At that time, that guy seemed to be using it to fight for a spot on the Nimir battlefield. He used this activation star to eliminate an old lord. At that time, we were also shocked. There was actually someone who dared to use the fallen angel bloodline as an activation star. However, we didn’t see this secret skill at that time.”

“It’s a battlefield...”the liaison officer’s eyes flashed with a hint of yearning. That was a place where all Rangers came one after another to dig for gold. Many times, going to a battlefield was equivalent to working for a thousand years!

She was already a level 13 ranger. After she found a set of equipment, she planned to resign and go to the battlefield. After all, Advanced Rangers were famous on the battlefield!

“Hellfire is not easy to deal with...”Vaughn looked at the virtual screen as she walked. “How did the opponent deal with it?”

Hearing that, the liaison officer quickly adjusted the video time to the confrontation time. On the screen, the huge sword of Damocles fell, looking like it was going to destroy the giant Python and the planet.

However, when the huge sword fell, a black coffin slowly rose from the black water around the planet...

It was...

“The Garo seal!”Vivian took a deep breath and said.

“The Garo Seal?”The liaison officer looked at Vivian in confusion. Magic-sealing seals were commonly used by demon hunters to deal with certain evil gods in other dimensions., therefore, Rangers who chose to hunt for a living would be very familiar with all kinds of marks.

He was a scout ranger, so although he was familiar with marks, he was not that familiar with them. However, looking at Lord Vaughn, this mark had quite a strong background!

“It’s used to seal the star-ranked evil God’s mark during the Garo era. It’s an ancient mark method. Very few alchemists on the market can get this thing. I don’t even have this thing...”Vaughn explained.

“Jialuo Era?”The liaison officer was stunned when he heard that. His mind quickly recalled the Federation era. This was more than four hundred eras ago, right?

Was it so ancient?

Just as he was thinking, he saw an extremely deformed black hand reaching out from the coffin and grabbing the huge Damocles sword. Immediately, a black flame soared into the sky, it actually forced the flames of Hell on the Sword of Damocles back!

“Hiss...”Vaughn stopped in her tracks when she saw this. She took a deep breath and said, “Flames of Destruction?”

Chapter 1064: Enter

“Flame of destruction... teacher is really a pleasant surprise...”in the direction of the main control station, Vogu’s eyes were burning.

The senior intelligence officers were all shocked.

Flame of destruction, the legendary flame, was not listed in the list of high-quality fire elements for alchemists because it was forbidden to study.

The reason was that the flame came from the dragon race, and it was a flame exclusive to the Black Dragon Race!

At this moment, the Damocles’sword was caught by the withered black hand and stopped in the distance. In the distance, the huge Angel Shadow waved the huge sword in its hand, countless fallen angels swarmed over with pale blue flames.

BoxNovel.com

On the other side, a dense human-shaped army slowly appeared in the black water. Everyone was wearing black armor and holding the Sword of heaven. Unlike the army that seer and the others had seen before., the armor on these soldiers was even more spectacular. They looked like a set of dragon scales draped over their bodies, and each of them was wearing a pair of huge fleshy wings!

In the face of the surging fallen angels, these soldiers were as motionless as statues. It was not until the sound of a heavy horn sounded that these soldiers unsheathed the treasured swords on their waists in a neither hurried nor slow manner, following that, streams of black flames of destruction soared into the sky and swiftly shattered the sea of gray flames that pounced towards them!

The two torrents collided against each other under the impact of the flames, and the battle unfolded. The high-level fallen angel army was actually annihilated like cutting melons and vegetables. With the number of people in the area being trillions of times greater, they were actually forcefully blocked outside!

Pippen: “I’ve received news. She’s already standing by at the teleportation formation. We can set off at any time!”

Vogu: “Set off immediately. Tell her to find the two groups of people that used our passageway as soon as possible. Especially Bolton’s group. We must control them immediately!”

Pippen: “The orders have been sent out. What should we do here?”

Vogu: “Activate the 4th and 7th Armies’battle fleets to provide long-range firepower support...”

Pippen nodded. Due to some special requests, their forces didn’t lack firepower resources and energy supplies. Only their population was scarce. This was partly due to the fact that the liege lord wasn’t recognized by the bluespirit imperial family, very few high-ranking disciples would join his side, and the number of disciples from the main division was relatively small.

Now, it seemed that this IMP's participation wasn't a bad thing. If used well, it might be able to reduce the population consumption during the confrontation with Sandro!

On the other side, the people from Bolton faction all sucked in a breath of cold air when they saw this scene. Some of the military officers who were originally full of confidence in the fallen angel star were also stunned.

"What the hell is that?"

On the side of the control console, a group of high-ranking devil military officers were looking at the battlefield. They, who had always been arrogant, could no longer hold themselves back.

Although these fallen angel gene bodies weren't physical and belonged to an artificial army, they possessed the noble bloodline of fallen angels. Coupled with their unique hellfire-enhanced equipment, their individual combat strength was extremely strong. They belonged to one of the trump card armies of their faction!

However, when facing the scale of the enemy that looked like an interstellar company (100,000), they seemed to be unable to withstand it!

On their side, they had a scale of several billion. The scale of their army was a million to one. However, no matter how hard they tried, they could not break through their army formation. Usually, when they fought lord-tier battles with Bolton, it was their demon race that had the advantage in numbers, when had they ever been beaten up like this by others?

The intelligence officer who knew the inside story was even more shocked. Although he had predicted that the legendary Sandro would not be broken so easily, whether it was the sealing mark or the flame of destruction, they had not expected it at all!

On the control platform, Bolton's eyes were burning!

The flame of Destruction, a flame unique to the black dragon race, the Garo sealing mark. He remembered that in that era, Evil Gods appeared many times, and there seemed to be a few who had a very mysterious relationship with the Dragon Group.

Now, it seemed that Sandro really seemed to have grasped the secret of the Dragon Race's life!

If he could obtain the results of the other party's experiment and combine it with what he already had, he would be able to advance to a great lord within the new age, and his family would become recognized as the royal demon race!

In history, the first great demon lord, the first royal demon force, would establish a demon dynasty that only belonged to the star-ranked federation, instead of constantly fighting against his own race in that vile abyss, this was Bolton's greatest ambition!

"Where's Sab? Are You Ready?"

"Lord Sab is already waiting at the teleportation point!" The intelligence officer hurriedly said.

“Alright!” Bolton nodded, “Immediately set off and tell Sab to find Rennes as soon as possible!”

“Understood!”

New Territories...

“Boss, what’s Going On Up Here?”

Close to the south side of Kate City, Li Goudan shivered and looked up at the sky. There were no sight-catching devices like Grandpa Lu and soap. What they saw was a few magic shots.

The curtain of darkness breaks, the stars fall, and then the black water rushes up from the ground, and at last the blue flame of death shines all over the sky.

This scene, not to mention Li Goudan this kind of silly two girls, even rain woman no melon also see a blank.

What the hell was this?

Guo Xiaoyun rolled her eyes when she heard that. Who the hell wouldn’t be in a Daze? It would be a miracle if she could explain this scene clearly. A few years ago, she was just a student who was about to graduate as a water rafting teacher, okay?

Just as she was about to say when to fight, a sky-blue light pillar suddenly shone down from not far away, lighting up the pitch-black environment!

The fur on Li Goudan and Wu Guagua’s fur instantly stood on end, especially Li Goudan. He instantly looked like he was about to cry. Although the scene in the sky was spectacular, it still seemed like it was far away from them. Why did it suddenly appear in front of them? Could it be that I, Li Goudan, am going to die under this unknown AOE today?

Rainy Girl, Wu Guagua, was much calmer. Although she was shocked at first, her developer instinct still made her calm down instantly. She carefully looked at the speed of light, after observing it for a while, she calmly said, “Stop howling. That’s not some long-range attack.”

“What is that?” Goudan Li was immediately frightened and sniffed.

She had seen the teleportation town in the base many times. Although the alchemy structure this time was not quite the same as her base, the general runic pattern was very similar. She judged that it should be another force that was using a teleportation array!

“Teleportation array?”

Eggface immediately widened his eyes and asked curiously, “What is it?”

“How would I know?” Rainy girl Wugua immediately rolled her eyes and lowered her voice randomly.

“But no matter what it is, we can’t be met. In any case, it’s definitely not a good thing!”

Eggface nodded in agreement. Then, he looked at the position and his expression immediately became a bit ugly. From the position, he was less than three kilometers away from the two of them...

Chapter 1065: Good Luck...

Three kilometers away, a group of unknown existences suddenly appeared. Whether it was Goudan or Guo Xiaoyun, their first thought was to avoid them.

Guo Xiaoyun immediately looked at Li Goudan. Although this guy was unreliable, he was extremely talented. She remembered that in the base's curriculum records, Li Goudan was ranked first in the Ranger class, especially in the tracking class, this guy had skipped classes for half a year, but no one had reached the intermediate ranger class like her.

Seeing Xiaoyun's gaze, Goudan instantly understood what she meant, he analyzed, "The safest way is to go back the way we came. This road is not only opposite to the other side, but we can also clean up the traces on the way back. This will minimize the possibility of being tracked. However, if we choose another road, it will be diagonally opposite to the other side, so there is a high chance of directly bumping into them. Even if we don't bump into them, it will be easier to be tracked by leaving traces on both roads."

Xiao Yun looked at Goudan in surprise. Goudan was baffled by his stare. He asked carefully, "Uh... boss, do you think I said something wrong?"

"No..." Xiao Yun shook her head. "I just didn't expect you to be so reliable..."

BoxNovel.com

Goudan:"..."

Guo Xiaoyun: "You can't go back. The situation here is getting more and more exaggerated. We can only survive if we find the Lord. Even if we can hide from him for a short period of time, it's just waiting for death. It's meaningless..." "..."

Goudan said, "Then... What does boss mean?"

Guo Xiaoyun said, "Continue to Kate City!"

"Kate City..." Goudan looked in the direction of Kate City and then looked in the direction of the light beam just now. He immediately put on a bitter face. The two were at a 30-degree angle, and they were both backed by the official road. The collision was probably the largest in all directions... ..

"Boss..." "The other party is most likely an outsider," Eggface said faintly. "If they have a fixed purpose, it would be fine. They would usually choose a direction to walk towards, and the probability of bumping into us isn't high. However, if they aren't, they would definitely first familiarize themselves with the terrain, collect specimens, and spread out at a circular angle. If we want to head towards Kate City, we have to seize the time to leap over the position where the two sides might bump into each other "... "...he pointed to the northwest. "It's about 11 kilometers away from the official road. If I remember correctly, there's a courier station there."

When they first arrived in the New Territories, Goudan had visited almost every city in the south. As a man with a strong desire to explore, his familiarity with the terrain played a key role.

“Then let’s Go!” Guo Xiaoyun said decisively.

Goudan nodded and grabbed Guo Xiaoyun on his back. With a light leap, he stepped on a small tree branch and directly climbed up the hill.

Guo Xiaoyun, who was on his back, said, “Why don’t we just fly? Flying close to the ground should be easier to leave traces than walking, right?”

Goudan shook his head. “It’s the same for tracking experts. It’s also easy to distinguish the distribution of dust caused by flying close to the ground. Advanced Rangers rely on the life response of their surroundings to track, not footprints...”

“Since it’s easy to be discovered, wouldn’t it be faster to fly?”

Eggface said, “It would be faster, but it would expose my ability to fly. In certain special tracking, it would take my ability into account. If my memory isn’t wrong, there’s a three-way junction ten kilometers behind the relay station. If we are tracked, that position is a good place to escape from the other party. It would be good to use my flying ability to set up a maze to mislead the other party.”

“Oh?” Xiao Yun’s face lit up. “Is it useful?”

Goudan said, “It depends on the opponent. If the opponent has a lot of people, it’s useless to track them in three different directions. Or maybe the opponent has a very powerful ranger in the team. It depends on luck...”

“Depends on luck?” Guo Xiaoyun pondered for a moment and then looked up at the opponent. “How do you feel about your usual luck?”

“This...” is running quickly and lightly the dog egg face slightly sluggish, recollected once past, from small to big, own luck... ? Even in the new territories, such a strange thing can happen at sea, but this is a matter of life and death, God should give you face?

Three kilometers away...

Under the light, the falling team instantly occupied the advantageous position of the entire terrain and looked around vigilantly. After about ten breaths, the figure in a standard ranger outfit quickly fell from the highest point, came to the middle of the line saluted: “My lord, looked around, there should be no enemy.”

“HMM...” the leader nodded slightly. He was wearing a windbreaker, but his delicate face looked extremely cold, like an ice-cold puppet. However, his dark purple eyes carried a terrifying light.

It was the number one high-level ranger under Vogu: Wayne... Shauna... ..

Wayne picked up a handful of soil on the ground and put it on the tip of his nose to steady himself. He narrowed his eyes slightly. "It's really the power of the void. I thought I saw wrongly in the video. Those people from the northern star field are truly lunatics..."

The person who was responsible for receiving Vaughn was Vaughn's liaison officer, Shakira. When she heard Vaughn's words, she nodded her head in agreement.

Creatures like the void were filled with destructive power. She did not know what was there to study them for. If one was careless and caused a void disaster, an entire star field could be infected. The federation was strongly against it, even the federation had expressed their support for the former third overlord being killed because of this black dot. However, they did not expect that there would still be people who dared to cross this bottom line.

"Let team one gather information on the terrain first..." Vaughn said softly.

Shakira nodded upon hearing that and hurriedly used her communicator to give Vaughn's order, just as the order was given, Vaughn walked directly in a direction that was supposed to be surveying the terrain. Shakira was stunned when she saw that and quickly said, "Sir? Aren't you going to stay behind and take command?"

"I'm a Ranger. The higher-ups have sent someone else to be the commander..." Vaughn said as she slowly walked towards one of the directions.

Shakira was stunned for a moment. Then, she looked back awkwardly. That position was much livelier than her side. There were more than thirty high-level rangers guarding a figure closely, that figure was the commander in chief in Lord Vaughn's words. He was also the assistant officer of this team: Billy. Lord Swire.

This lord was also a big figure in Vogu's faction. He was one of the three great spiritual masters in the faction.

Billy was a pure blue spirit. His appearance and temperament were very different from Vaughn's. He was the type of person who was extremely gentle and beautiful. One look at him would make people feel good about him.

As if noticing Shakira's gaze, Billy smiled gently at Shakira, indicating for her to follow him.

Shakira immediately let out a long sigh of relief. Fortunately, this was a good person to interact with. Otherwise, it would be even more difficult for her to be sandwiched between two big shots.

"Sir, wait for me..." Shakira turned her head and realized that Vaughn had already walked far away. She hurriedly followed.

"Sir..." a ranger next to Billy frowned and said, "Isn't it not good to let Sir Vaughn go alone?"

Billy smiled and said, "She's a lone ranger. It's not good to be tied to others by force. Just let her go."

"I'm afraid that she'll be in danger..."

“She’ll be in Danger?” Billy looked at the Proud Ranger and shook his head. “If she’s in danger, we can give up on this mission...”

The Ranger pursed his lips and looked unconvinced, but he didn’t say anything.

Billy shook his head secretly. Vivian was a loner and was not well-liked in the force. Many people were unconvinced of her, and she didn’t really like this person.

But as a partner, she was very reassuring... ..

Because she was strong enough!

“My Lord... You’re here...”

Shakira, who had found Vivian in the forest, was relieved. Fortunately, she did not lose him. If she really lost him, she did not have the ability to track down Vivian.

But she was a little curious. Was Vivian in a good mood today? Why did she stop and wait for her?

At this moment, Vaughn was staring at a few corroded tree trunks. After examining them for a while, she smiled and said, “We’re lucky...”

Lucky?

Shakira immediately looked at the tree trunks as well. As a high-level ranger, she could see at a glance that there were some slight marks on the tree trunks.

The marks were very fresh. They were the marks of a stranger! !

Chapter 1066: an interesting little fellow

Traces of living beings...

Shakira was slightly excited. Although she had only arrived here for a few minutes, she had a rough idea of the situation around her. The depths of the ground had been seriously corroded by the energy of the Void mutation, it was basically a state where all living beings were dead. Along the way, there were corpses everywhere, and even microorganisms had no room to survive.

What did it mean when signs of life suddenly appeared in such a situation?

Even if they were not from Andrew’s faction, they were at least creatures that could adapt to the corrosive state. There was a high chance that they could get some information. After all, environmental information was not as fast as living creatures’ information.

BoxNovel.com

Vaughn narrowed her eyes slightly. She sensed the subtle energy on the marks. With her incomparably rich experience, she instantly determined that the owner of the marks was not high-level, about level six or seven.

This was interesting. A level seven planet's indigenous life-form should not be able to reach this level, unless it was a titan-level creature. But how could a titan-level creature have such a small body?

If it was Sandro's strengthened life-form, it would also be abnormal. Sandro's body's energy and the corrosive power of the surrounding void were very repelling. If she carefully felt it, she felt that this elemental affinity was a little like an elf's.

Elf...

Vaughn quickly recalled the information about this planet. She suddenly recalled that the local aborigine called Hotell that she had captured from afar seemed to have mentioned it to them, a group of mysterious forces had attacked their so-called orc gale division.

At that time, when Lord Vogu had used a scroll to take Hotell away, he had also said that the person who was chasing Hotell was a level-3 Elf Ranger.

At that time, they speculated that a young heavenly god Lord had mistakenly entered this planet.

However, they didn't take the heavenly god Lord seriously after that. After all, they didn't believe that the heavenly god Lord could survive until now under Sandro's command.

But now... It didn't seem to be the case. ...

At the thought of this, Vaughn's interest was piqued. She really wanted to know the background of a force that could lurk under Sandro's nose.

"Sir... Should we inform the rear..." Shakira asked carefully.

Before she finished her sentence, Vaughn ignored her and directly followed the trail. Seeing this, Shakira didn't dare to delay and hurriedly followed behind her. If she lost her trail, the meaning of coming here to train would be very small... ...

The two of them were very fast. They covered a distance of more than ten kilometers in just a few breaths. It was only when they reached a fork in the road that Vaughn stopped following them.

Shakira also stopped. She noticed that at a place similar to a small courier station five kilometers ago, the other party seemed to have begun to consciously erase the trail. The technique was very fine, but it was too low-level. They seemed to be using the low-level methods of the federation's basic teaching. It could be seen that the other party had learned it very well, but it was too low-level. Not to mention a top ranger like Lord Vaughn, even Shakira herself could almost see the clues at a glance...

According to her reasoning, the other party should have been nearby and seen her and the others arriving. They immediately wanted to avoid her group, but the other party did not choose to return the way they came, instead, they used their fastest speed to leap past the point of contact where the two parties might directly collide!

This could be seen from the fact that the other party did not cover up their tracks in the first half of the journey until the relay station started to try to cover it up. The other party was obviously trying to seize the time in the previous section.

And if they were to fan out and search from their landing position, they would most likely collide with the other party at the relay station... ..

Shakira thought this was a good thing. The other party had obviously known that they were coming, but they still chose such a risky route. This meant that the other party had some reason to take such a risk, this might be a valuable piece of information.

However, Lord Vaughn suddenly stopped here, which made Shakira curious. She asked, "What's wrong, Lord? Do you think this is a trap?"

To be honest, it was not impossible.

Vivian smiled and pointed at the fork in the road ahead. "Which way do you think we should go?"

Shakira was stunned. Was this a test?

Shakira was a little excited at the thought. Then, she looked at the fork in front of her seriously. All three roads were official roads. One went north, which should belong to the main road. One of them led to the northwest of the forest, which should belong to a branch road leading to a nearby city. The other one led to a large river about a kilometer away. There was a ferry crossing... ..

"The traces indicate that the other party should have taken the waterway..." Shakira took a few steps to the shore a kilometer away. After taking a closer look, she smiled and said, "It's quite an interesting design..."

"Tell me..." Vaughn had unknowingly followed behind her and asked faintly.

"It looks like they took the waterway, and there are traces of water entering, but in fact, they should have taken other routes..."

"What method did they use?" Vaughn asked.

"Flying...". Shakira stared at the surface of the water and said, "The opponent is very smart. From the beginning, when they were rushing for time and didn't show any traces, they used walking to hurry. They even used walking when they jumped over the most likely point of collision to cover up the traces. The purpose is to hide their talent in flying. They deliberately took the position of the waterway to make people think that they were increasing the difficulty of tracking, but in fact, they used flying as a cover to go to other routes."

Pausing for a moment, he continued, "He's very meticulous. If it wasn't for his crude technique and the obvious traces of backwind in the air, it would be hard to think that he could fly..."

Vivian: "So? Which Way do you think we should go?"

"The main road!" Shakira said confidently. "From the terrain, the position of the waterway is completely separated from the main road. However, if he can fly, as long as he jumps over the dam, he will be on the main road. Moreover, if we take the open road, the flight trail will be minimized. The right-most forest passage is too far away from this road. If we want to change the route from here, even if he can fly, it will be easy to leave obvious traces. The other party is obviously familiar with the terrain. It should be a small trick that was designed from the beginning. He is a smart guy."

Vaughn nodded. "Shakira, I remember you graduated from Wind Academy's Advanced Class, right?"

"Yes!" Shakira was elated. She quickly said, "Wind Academy's 17th year advanced class graduated. After that, they went under Professor Sivas'tutelage to further their advanced ranger course for 30 years."

"You can be considered to have graduated as a top student. I've seen your academic records. You've participated in the Federation's interstellar trials. I think you even got a ranking..."

Shakira scratched her head in embarrassment. "I'm just at the bottom of the rankings, sorry to have made a fool out of you, my Lord..."

Even though she said that, she was still somewhat proud of herself. The interstellar trials were the grand gathering of all the universities in the federation. Those who participated were the cream of the crop from the various universities. They were all geniuses and Monsters of all colors. To be able to get a rank in such trials., even if they were at the bottom of the rankings, they were still very outstanding existences.

This was also the reason why she was able to become a liaison officer for someone like Lord Wayne not long after she graduated.

"You can be considered an outstanding junior..." Wayne nodded and said, "Interesting little fellow..."

"Lord... Lord..." Shakira became even more embarrassed. "It's a very normal deduction. The other peers in the base should be able to do it."

Vaughn: "I didn't say you..."

"Eh?" Shakira was stunned.

"When I said interesting little guy, I meant the little guy in the water..." Vaughn looked at the river and said faintly.

At this moment, Gou Dan, who was holding Guo Xiaoyun's breath at the bottom of the river, couldn't help but choke when he heard this.

F * ck! !

Chapter 1067: Big Brother, spare my dog life!

He was seen through just like that?

Guo Xiaoyun, who was also underwater, had a grim expression. To be honest, she approved of Goudan's method. From the female voice on the shore, it seemed that it had almost succeeded. Unfortunately, there was someone even more difficult to deal with.

What should she do?

Just as Guo Xiaoyun was thinking about how to deal with it, Goudan suddenly gave her a "Don't move" gesture. Then, with a sudden push, she rushed out of the water like a cannonball and flew in another direction.

Guo Xiaoyun was stunned by this scene. Was this a bear chase? Is it okay to run faster than me?

BoxNovel.com

No...

It was extremely risky to rush out so rashly. If he wanted to run, he should have continued to run into the water. After all, he could not outrun Goudan even if he swam.

Then, when the other party flew out... .. It should be to cover for him. Although the other party knew that there were people underwater, there was still a small chance that he did not know how many people were underwater.

After all, Goudan had carried him all the way, and he had been meditating. His life energy was in a dormant state, so Goudan should be heavier on the marks, and he would most likely be ignored!

Thinking of this, Guo Xiaoyun's heart was filled with complicated emotions. At the crucial moment, this unreliable guy was so loyal!

On the other side, looking at Goudan who was trying to escape from the water, Shakira sneered and raised his hand to shoot two arrows at the other party's wings.

She was a top student from the WINDWALK Academy. It was rare for her to have a chance to show off in front of Lord Wayne. She did not expect to be tricked by a level 6 or 7 little guy. It was really embarrassing.

The two arrows turned into two beams of light and shot towards the dog egg. They were extremely fast. After the arrows flew out, Shakira confidently put the arrows back into her pocket and waited for the dog egg to be shot down!

She was very confident in her archery skills. As a high-level ranger who graduated from the Top Ranger Academy in the Federation, she had a very accurate judgment of her biological power. A Level 6 wind demon, based on the trajectory of her opponent's flight just now., basically, whether it was basic power or explosive power, it was all within her calculations!

The two bolts just now had almost completely determined her opponent's flight trajectory. Even if her opponent had some explosive power, it would still be impossible for her to escape the range of being shot down.

In mid-air, Doggie felt a chill all over her body as if she had been completely locked onto. She was extremely shocked. Facing the flying arrows, she realized that no matter how she dodged, she would be hit.

It was not because of her speed that she reacted. On the contrary, that speed was completely within her range of reaction. However, she did not know why, but she had a feeling that no matter how she dodged, she would not be able to escape!

This was the first time she had encountered such a situation. She could clearly sense the trajectory of the arrow, but she found that she was completely locked. The feeling of watching as the arrow was about to hit her made her extremely depressed.

Shakira looked at the dog egg, who had stopped for a moment with a gloomy expression, and revealed a teasing smile.

Vivian, who was at the side, frowned slightly. Shakira could have used a flash arrow to shoot down her opponent, but she had to expend a lot of effort to lock the arrow. Moreover, she had deliberately adjusted her speed to the time when her opponent could react. It was obvious that she was teasing her opponent.

Of course, she knew why Shakira was toying with her opponent, but as a ranger, it was not a good thing for her to be easily controlled by her emotions.

“Eh?”

Suddenly, a scene that neither of them had expected appeared. The moment Eggface was hit by the arrow, his body flew backward like a feather.

Upon closer inspection, they realized that although the arrow had hit Goudan, it had not penetrated through him. It was like a fist hitting a dandelion that was falling. The tiny wind element kept forcing Goudan, who was like a fallen leaf, to retreat in the opposite direction, instead, it had accelerated the opponent’s escape!

“Windwalk physique?” Shakira, who had already retracted the arrow, was stunned. He had an incredulous expression on his face. How could a level 6 wind demon use such a high-end physique technique?

Not windwalk physique! !

Vaughn narrowed her eyes slightly. She had instantly determined Doggie’s condition. The opponent had not used a high-level physical skill, but had relied on basic strength to achieve this step.

This required extremely high control of the body and extremely high affinity with the wind elements. This allowed the body and the surrounding wind elements to almost merge into one mass. From there, they could use the wind resistance to dodge the arrow and use the power of the arrow to escape in the opposite direction!

This little fellow had such amazing aptitude! ! !

Shakira’s expression immediately turned extremely gloomy after her shock. Her hand quickly pulled out the crossbow bolt from her hand. Her action of pulling back the crossbow bolt that she was confident in just now must have been extremely foolish in the eyes of Lord Vaughn!

With this thought in mind, a wave of evil fire rose up in her heart. She directly aimed at the other party’s spine. In any case, she was only going to capture him alive to ask for information and directly cripple this annoying little fellow!

However, as soon as she raised the crossbow, Vivian pressed it down. “Stay there and don’t move...”

As soon as she finished speaking, without waiting for Shakira to react, Vivian disappeared from where she was, leaving Shakira standing there in a daze, her expression uncertain.

On the other side, Doggie, who was in mid-air, was gloating. Seeing that he was getting further and further away from Shakira, he was gloating and was about to give her the middle finger. unexpectedly.., the woman in the Windbreaker who had turned into a small black dot a second ago suddenly appeared in front of him, who was still flying rapidly in mid-air!

A pair of dark purple eyes were almost completely close to him. It was as if he had skipped time, which scared Eggface so much that his eyeballs almost fell out!

F * ck, what the hell? What kind of speed is this?

Oh No!

With this distraction, the frequency of his body and the wind element began to fluctuate. The two crossbow arrows that were close to his body instantly moved forward. Goudan immediately grinned, but the piercing pain did not come, goudan, who was trembling all over, opened his eyes curiously when he realized that there was no pain. Then, he realized that the two crossbow arrows that were supposed to pierce through him had been taken by the guy who was close to him at some point in time!

In such a situation where he could not borrow strength to fly, he grabbed the two crossbow bolts that were so fast in midair?

Eggface was stunned for a moment, and then he looked at the other party in a daze. "Big Brother!"

"The little guy is not bad!" This time, she could see clearly from afar that the structure of Eggface's body, the strength of his bones, and the distribution of his muscles were perfect to the extreme. It was practically the standard of the royal family!

Especially this pair of wings. They were very well-grown. The distribution of bones and muscles was extremely uniform. It couldn't be more perfect. How many years had it been since she had seen a wind demon with such good wings?

Which family was this?

"Little guy, What's Your Name?" Vaughn asked with a rare smile.

"My name is Li Goudan!" Goudan quickly hugged the dog's head and said, "Big Brother, there's no enmity. Can You Spare My Dog Life?"

Chapter 1068: Catch a treasure?

"Boss, can you spare my dog life?"

Vaughn looked at the shivering little guy, who was begging for mercy with his dog head in his arms. He lifted the little guy up and instantly arrived on a hill tens of thousands of meters away.

Vaughn cracked the dog's pitiful dog head and observed it for a while. Then, she narrowed her eyes in puzzlement. "Wood Elf?"

There was still a family in this world that nurtured the Wood Elf bloodline?

Even some wealthy and powerful families would not choose an ancient lineage like the wood elf bloodline when trying to nurture a new bloodline, right? The difficulty of nurturing it was too high.

BoxNovel.com

Li Goudan?

Which family would choose such a stupid name?

"It's best to tell the truth, little guy. Otherwise, you'll have to suffer a little..." Vivian pinched Li Goudan's body with her slender fingers, trying to figure out which bone to break so that he would be more obedient and not be too seriously injured.

However, after a round of touching, she found that Li Goudan's skeleton was really too good, so much so that she, who had always been ruthless, could not bear to do it!

"I don't have it anymore. He's very honest. My name is Li Goudan. I know it doesn't sound good, but my parents gave it to me. What can I do?"

"You're full of SH * T..." Vaughn pinched Goudan's face. "Which parent would give their child such a mean name?"

"Who said not?" Eggface Li said righteously, "There are many people in our village with this name. Dog Two, dog baby, and big quail. They are all ugly names. The parents said, give your child a mean name and live a good life!"

Vivian's face twitched when she heard that, but a trace of reminiscence flashed in her eyes. In her memory of experiencing countless worlds, it seemed that there was a child who used to talk to her like that.

Then, for the sake of the mission, she slaughtered the entire village that the child spoke of.

"You're a Native?"

Vaughn carefully looked at the patterns on the child's pupils. There were indeed traces of signs of gene docking, but it was too natural. It looked almost as if she was born with pure blood... ..

Perhaps not only that, even in ancient times, wood elves born with pure blood might not have such good bones. At the very least, they had to be nobles... ..

However, if it was a native, although the possibility was very small, there was a small chance that it could be a high-quality elf. It wasn't as if there had never been such an example within the federation.

In that case, that Little Lord's Luck was pretty good.

"Where's Your Lord?" Vaughn directly asked.

"I don't know... We got separated!" Li Goudan shook his head.

"Separated?"

Li Goudan said, "Yes, the sky suddenly turned dark a few days ago, and then many monsters appeared. The bases built by the Lord were destroyed, and many people died. I barely escaped."

Vaughn looked at him, trying to determine whether he was telling the truth or not. In theory, the other party's story was not a big deal. It was normal for a small lord to collapse when Andrew attacked, however, the Lord's mark was still there, which meant that the small lord was still alive.

Of course, it was not impossible for such a small lord to survive under Andrew's hands. If Andrew did not care about him... ..

"Sir!"

Just as she was thinking, a black shadow descended from the sky and landed beside Vaughn. It was Shakira.

"Why are you here?" Vaughn frowned and looked at Shakira.

"Sir Billy just sent a message saying that he has something important to discuss with you!"

"I understand..." Vaughn nodded, but then she looked at Shakira. "You came here. Is there another guy in the water under your control?"

Shakira was stunned when she heard that. "There's another guy in the water?"

Vaughn: "..."

Doggie: Oh Yeah, thank God That Guy was an idiot...

Looking at Vaughn's cold eyes, Shakira felt his scalp go numb. Damn it, why was there another guy in the water? Then why didn't they jump out together?

Shakira suddenly realized that there seemed to be only one person from the beginning of the tracking. But after the Lord saw the location of the other person, the little elf jumped out immediately. He had never thought that... Actually, there were two people... ..

Was it planned from the start?

At the thought of this, Shakira felt a wave of regret. He had made too many mistakes today.

"My lordship, I will immediately chase after the person..." Shakira quickly promised.

"Three star hours!" Vaughn said coldly, "If you still haven't brought the person back after this time, you don't have to come back!"

Shakira's heart skipped a beat. She quickly bowed and said, "Yes!"

Vaughn waved her hand impatiently. Shakira quickly lowered her head and bowed again. Then, she instantly disappeared from where she was.

When she lowered her head, EGGFACE clearly saw a trace of exasperation in the depths of her eyes. There was also a hint of coldness toward her.

This was clearly a warning from his superior that he was going to burn himself. It was still fine if he followed this big boss. If boss Rainie was caught, wouldn't he lose a layer of skin?

But I don't think this guy's gonna be able to catch the Boss?

But the moment he disappeared, he was out of touch again. The speed... .. I don't know...

— — — —

“I hear you have something important to discuss with me?”

As soon as Vaughn returned to the camp, she found Billy, the logistics officer, and spoke as if someone owed her money.

Billy and the others looked at her in surprise. They were not surprised at how she barged into their camp without being notified. Not to mention that she was a higher-level person than them in this mission, just her usual personality.., this was not a big deal.

What everyone was surprised about was the meatball that suddenly appeared in Vien’s hand... ..

“Where did you catch it?” Billy looked at Li Goudan curiously. Normally, even if they caught some captives, they should have been thrown to the quartermaster after entering the camp. What did she mean by holding it in her hand all this time?

At this moment, Li Goudan was being carried obediently by the other party as he looked around curiously.

He looked around with his own insight and suddenly realized sadly that there were so many big shots...

“This has nothing to do with you...” Vaughn moved Li Goudan back to block his windbreaker and said coldly, “What’s the matter?”

Billy looked deeply at Vaughn. Wasn’t this protective action a little too obvious? What the hell was that?

But it was obviously not the right time to pursue this.., so he coughed lightly and replied, “Didn’t the lord ask us to find the two groups of people who used our passage before he came? “I used our equipment to track one of them just now, but I found that there was another detection energy on the other party. After careful observation, it seems... “... It’s the energy of a blood sacrifice.”

“Blood sacrifice?” A cold light flashed in Vaughn’s eyes when she heard that.

As Billy spoke, he displayed the information of that person on the virtual screen at the side.

Vaughn took a look, and the coldness in her eyes became even colder. “Blood Demon Saab?”

Chapter 1069: Test

“Master Vivian, are you familiar with this person?” Billy looked at Vivian curiously.

She knew that it was normal for a ranger like Vivian to go to the Abyss to do missions. Moreover, Vivian was a demon Hunter Ranger, so it was normal for her to meet a high-level blood demon like Saab.

“I’ve met him twice...” Vivian answered cooperatively this time, and the coldness in her eyes became even colder.

“Then what kind of guy is he?” Billy asked.

“A disgusting guy...” Vaughn said coldly.

BoxNovel.com

Billy was speechless for a while, and then he finally said, "Then, if Lord Vaughn faces him head-on, are you confident?"

"Face him head-on?" Hearing that, Vaughn sneered, "If he dares to face him head-on, I'm 100% confident to kill him!"

This arrogant statement was so domineering that it only shook Li Goudan, who was holding it in his hand. He could not help but think to himself, "Could this be the legendary aura of a Bastard?"

Faced with Vaughn's arrogant words, Billy did not have any doubts. He opened the map and began to plan the mission.

There were many types of Rangers in the federation. There were scout Rangers who were good at exploring the terrain and splitting gold to determine the acupoints. There were Beast Taming Rangers who were good at Beast Taming and could hunt many rare species of beasts. There were also mechanical rangers who were good at using machinery. Mechanical Rangers who operated agility-type special mecha had a little bit of everything. They were all bounty rangers who accepted all kinds of missions... ..

And Vivian was a demon Hunter Ranger. Among the many Rangers, Demon Hunter Rangers had the highest requirements for battle because the enemies they faced were high-level demons and those mysterious evil gods in the alternate dimension!

The threshold for determining the level of a demon Hunter Ranger was the simplest. A ranger could kill as many levels of evil gods and demons as they wanted as their spoils of war. and among Vivian's spoils of war right now.., there were 14 star-ranked ancient evil gods and more than 40 star-ranked demon heads!

How to deal with demons, Vaughn was a professional!

"According to the tracker, the first batch of survivors from the Bolton Force seems to have only two people. Their coordinates are 1,400 stars in the northwest direction. But according to the latest report, the other party jumped three coordinates in a row. I suspect that one of them is a high-tiered spatial class. As for why they suddenly moved so quickly, I suspect that it has something to do with the blood sacrifice. That person who was sacrificed shouldn't be willing to be found by the blood demons!"

Hearing this, the surrounding officers were delighted. This meant that the person who had been sacrificed was not a fanatic. He had an independent mindset and would resist when he was hurt, especially when his own life was in danger.

This was a good thing for them because if they could get to that person first, they would have a better chance of getting information from the other party.

"Everyone, check if your equipment is affected by the surrounding environment. After that, we'll set off immediately!" After Billy finished analyzing the situation, he directly gave the order to the team.

"You guys go first..." just as everyone responded to the other party's order, a discordant voice suddenly sounded. The Rangers were stunned, and they looked at the voice of Vivian.

Billy frowned slightly. She had worked with Vivian a few times. Although this guy was a little arrogant, he was usually very cooperative in serious missions. This was also the reason why she was more confident in working with Vivian, because the other party was just arrogant, but he was not a bad * ss.

Seeing Billy looking over, Vivian gave a rare explanation. "I have something to confirm. I also sent Shakira to track another survivor. I'll wait for her for a moment."

There's another survivor?

Billy was a little confused. With Vivian's ability, she shouldn't have let someone escape, right? If the other party's ability was very strong, she wouldn't have let Shakira, that newbie, track her down.

After a little deduction, the result was obvious. There was a high probability that Shakira had made some stupid mistake, causing someone to escape. That was why Vivian had chosen to let her chase them back.

Thinking of this, Billy looked at Vaughn in surprise. He remembered that Vaughn was a very strict person. She had zero tolerance for mistakes during missions. It was strange that she was willing to stay and wait for her this time... ..

However, it was a rare good thing that Vaughn was patient with his liaison officer.

So Billy nodded and said, "Alright, we'll set off first. You'd better catch up as soon as possible. You know that we need your strength when we face a high-level blood demon like Saab."

Vaughn nodded and said, "We won't miss it. If we bump into each other by chance, stay in formation and call me. I'll be there as soon as possible."

After everyone parted ways, Vaughn carried the dead dog-like Li Goudan and jumped into a forest nearby.

Facing Li Goudan who was pretending to be dead, Vaughn directly carried him and threw him to the ground. As soon as Goudan landed on the ground, he immediately knelt on the ground and curled up into a ball of meat, bowing, "Thank you for not killing me, Big Brother. I'll definitely reward you with a ring if there's a chance! !"

Vaughn interrupted him indifferently, "Stop fooling around. Stand Up..."

Goudan slowly stood up.

"What kind of weapons are you proficient in?"

Goudan was stunned. He did not understand why the other party was asking this, but he immediately said honestly, "Throwing knives, daggers, short swords... they're all pretty good."

"You don't need a crossbow?" Vaughn raised her eyebrows. Generally speaking, wind demons had weak arms, so they were not suitable for archery or long hair. Crossbows were a common weapon used by wind demons, and they were also used by Vaughn himself.

"Crossbows are too low-class..." buttface said righteously with his hands on his waist.

"Ha..." Vaughn narrowed his eyes and looked at him. "Then show me your high-class weapon!"

“Show Me How?” Buttface asked in surprise.

Vaughn said, “Show Me How You Want to Show Me...”

“I see...” buttface nodded, raised his head, and grinned. “Sorry to Offend You, Big Shot!” As soon as he said that, he threw three throwing knives at Vaughn. With a flick of his wrist, he turned into three beams of cold light and shot at Vaughn.

The technique was very standard. It was the federation’s basic throwing knife throwing method. There were no secret techniques unique to any family, but it was practiced very purely. From the strength of the waist to the strength of the wrist, there wasn’t the slightest waste, it could be seen that he had put in a lot of effort in his practice!

Thinking of this, Vaughn directly stretched out her hand and grabbed the three throwing knives. In an instant, the three rays of cold light stopped abruptly and turned into small and exquisite lancet blades.

The strength was not bad. With the opponent’s level, it was unbelievable that such a common technique could throw such strength. It was just that the style of the throwing knives was a little fancy and not professional... ..

But in the next second, a strange cold energy suddenly burst out from the inside of the throwing knives. In the next second, a burst of ice elemental power burst out and froze Vaughn’s hand that caught the throwing knives!

“Oh?”

Vaughn was slightly stunned. There was actually runic power on the throwing knives? She actually didn’t notice it at the beginning. From the looks of it, the pattern and the runes perfectly fitted together. It was quite exquisite.

Li Goudan, who was ten steps away, saw that his opponent had been hit and quickly jumped up. Then, countless throwing knives came at him like a storm!

Chapter 1070: Vaughn’s Thoughts!

If they were on the D ball, Li Goudan’s throwing of darts would have been like throwing a million swords. It would have been jaw-dropping, but in Vaughn’s eyes, it was just fancy.

It was a waste of stamina to keep throwing at a high frequency in the air without any leverage. Wouldn’t it be easier to use bullets if they wanted to use the mechanical wind?

However, although she despised the other party for wasting stamina, the other party’s basic ability made the light in Vaughn’s eyes shine even brighter.

This storm-like throwing knife was taken out of the space by the other party. It was not a professional spatial equipment. She could clearly see that the angle of the throwing knife that the other party took was different every time, it proved that it was an ordinary spatial bag that was used to store ordinary items.

This kind of ordinary spatial bag would not have a precise force and angle when it was used to transport items to the outside world. It would depend on the location of the item, the frequency of the space, and the external force when it appeared.

In other words, this little guy was able to maintain such a high frequency and almost the same force when it was used to throw throwing knives from different angles and with different force!

Not only was his physical ability excellent, his nerve reaction was also excellent!

Boom!

Suddenly, just as Vaughn was admiring his opponent's basic ability, the throwing knives that were pouring down like a storm burst out with a burst of ice-cold elements after they were swept away by Vaughn, instantly, the ground dozens of square meters where Vaughn was was frozen into a piece of ice!

On the other hand, Doggie quickly retreated in the air and quickly leaped toward the back of the forest. His whole body was like an arrow that was released from the bow as he quickly fled in the opposite direction. With his full speed, it took almost a few seconds, doggie leaped over two parts of the forest and ran to a place dozens of kilometers away.

"Good explosive power..."

A cold voice instantly appeared in his ear. Doggie's body instantly stiffened. He immediately pulled out the short sword at his waist and slashed at his opponent. The speed of his sword was very simple and direct, but it was fast enough.

Vaughn placed a finger on the blade of the sword. The muscles on her fingertip tightly grasped Eggface's short sword. In an instant, Eggface felt as if the short sword in his hand was stuck by a magnet, unable to move!

Vaughn looked at Eggface with great satisfaction and thought to herself, this child not only has a good skeleton, but he also has a high utilization rate. Most importantly, she carefully discovered that he had never used high-level body tempering techniques to train his muscles, he had only used ordinary body tempering techniques and had a lot of untapped potential, yet he had already reached such a level.

Even the children nurtured by the top windwalker family of the night elves were inferior to this level of talent... ..

And most importantly, he was a native...

A thought slowly rose in Vaughn's mind...

The Anna family she belonged to was also a large windwalker family. The competition within the family was fierce, and her current achievements had already surpassed that of the first son of the family, andoine, to become a well-known ranger, many of the elders in the family who were dissatisfied with Andoine were also inclined to let him inherit the Anna family.

However, because he didn't have any descendants, some of the conservative elders were skeptical about the future inheritance of his bloodline. He had always been a loner, and he hadn't found any outstanding men to marry. This was indeed a natural disadvantage.

However, if he had this child, the situation might be different... ..

In history, there were examples of children from large families taking in indigenous people into their own lineage. This was because the indigenous people did not involve large families in the universe and did not have any bloodline disputes. If they had a clean record, according to the laws of the federation, they could directly take over under the name of their own family!

Thinking of this, Vienne grabbed Li Goudan, who was trying to escape, and searched carefully again.

After Li Goudan was caught again, he curled up into a ball as if he had given up. Fortunately, she had touched him enough. After all, he was a big shot that she could not deal with, so he could do whatever he wanted to her. SOB, sob, just be gentle... ..

After touching him again, Vivian's expression became even more satisfied. Her muscles had a lot of potential to improve because of the ordinary training method, but her skeleton definitely surpassed the level of a noble. Vivian even felt that she was at the level of a Royal..

Night Elves did not have a royal family, and the space elves rarely gave birth to royal wind demons. After all, that race valued sacrifices, and even if a royal child was born, they would not focus on nurturing them, so at least Vaughn had never seen a royal wind demon.

But she had seen a lot of royal wind demons, and compared to this child's aptitude, they were on a different level. She felt that if she looked at the standard of the royal family, this child might be qualified!

There were still five years left before her family's junior trial, so the time was a little short. However, with this child's talent, it shouldn't be a big problem for her to train him personally and get a relatively high ranking to show off her talent... ..

Thinking of this, Vivian stroked Goudan's dog head in satisfaction. "Since you've been separated from your lord, then from now on, you'll follow me. This planet is very dangerous now. Don't think about running around..."

Li Goudan was stunned when he heard that. He looked at the other party blankly. Although she did not know if it was an illusion, she felt that the other party seemed to be kind to her... ..

What was going on?

Did he meet a good person?

If that was the case, then it might not be a bad thing. This place was indeed very dangerous. With a big shot like him, it seemed like there was more protection for his dog life?

Just as she was thinking about it, Vivian suddenly saw the other party's expression stiffen slightly. Then, the gaze that he used to look at her became a little strange.

This made doggie, who had been slightly relieved, suddenly stiffen. He then asked carefully, "What... What's Wrong?"

"That friend of yours..." Vaughn narrowed her eyes and said, "He's not simple!"

Doggie said, "Eh?"

Vaughn did not say much. She patted doggie and said, "Let's Go..."

Doggie said, "Boss, where are We Going?"

Vaughn said, "Follow our troops..."

"Ah?" Dog Egg heard that and quickly said, "Aren't we... aren't we waiting for your follower?"

She had heard it just now. This boss clearly said that he would wait for his follower to catch Big Boss Rain Girl and come back.

She was also praying that big boss rain girl wouldn't suffer too much. That follower was obviously a bad * ss... ..

"There's no need to wait..." Vaughn replied calmly.

"Why?" Regarding boss rainy's situation, Goudan could not help but ask.

"She's dead!"

Goudan:"..."

Boss Rainy was awesome! !

By the way, how did she do it. Although that guy was a scumbag, it was obvious that he was not someone their level could deal with...

To tell the truth, not only the dog egg, Vivian is a little surprised at the result, because she was very sure that the guy with Li Goudan is also a level six or so spiritual professional.

A Guy like that could kill Shakira? It's as ridiculous as an ant killing an elephant.

On the other side, Yuenu Wugua was lying in a ditch, panting heavily. Her face was extremely pale, which indicated that she had exhausted her mental strength. Next to her was a pile of rotten meat. A dried corpse was wrapped in the rotten meat. From the outline of its face, it was Shakira...
