Chapter 1121: see through Andrew's true purpose!

Bang!

This answer made Seer's head explode as he stood rooted to the ground... ..

Seer instantly understood one thing when the words 'Spirit System Channel' and 'Magic Net Password' appeared. Everyone seemed to have misjudged Andrew!

The so-called Gene Dragon Experiment, life source detection, a series of things were simply a pretense!

Even when he was hunted down by Queen Sylvanas for his forbidden research, he had probably designed it himself. From the beginning to the end... .. His goal had never been some bullshit origin of life or some application of the genes of the dragon race.

In fact, it was the same. This kind of technology was obviously not accepted by the world. Even if he managed to research it, what use would it be? What's the point of offending an entire dragon clan over a biological weapon?

From the very beginning, everyone had only been guessing at the motives of a mad scientist, but Seer had sensed very early on that an undead lord who could set up such a deep and careful plan... could it really be just a simple mad scientist?

Obviously, his idea is right, everything is a pretense, and the other party's real purpose is hidden in this planet's secret!

"Oh, my Lord, can you help me to decipher the meaning of this rune?"

In the Hall of the dead, Kersu was still earnestly asking the Mayans for their knowledge of runes. However, the Mayans, who were several dimensions higher than Kersu, showed great patience in the face of the other party's extremely low-level inquiry, he went to a lot of trouble to explain the basic knowledge of runes to the little native undead.

His patience and detailed explanation was more professional than many high school instructors.

This made Kersu's impression of this new mysterious woman increase greatly. A knowledgeable senior willing to teach so patiently was an extremely rare existence... ..

He was really lucky...

"How's Your Learning? Kersu?"

Andrew appeared at the back of the hall, quietly looking at the two people who looked more like master and disciple, smiling like a kind old man.

"Master?" Kersu saw the other party and quickly bowed respectfully, "I am very grateful for this master's teaching, I have learned a lot!"

“Really?” Andrew smiled and then looked at Maya, “I didn’t realize that you were such a patient guy.”

Maya smiled and looked at Andrew. “People change. What do you think, teacher?”

“That’s true...”. Andrew smiled. “I have indeed forgotten. It has been three eras since we last met. The little girl who used to be strange and mischievous is now an amazing master of illusion. I didn’t even notice when she left. You are right. People really can’t always stay in the memories of the past.” “... “...”

As soon as she said that, Maya, who was smiling, froze and her smile gradually disappeared.

Kersu, who was at the side, was stunned. He was quick-witted and immediately sensed that something was wrong. He silently retreated backward.

“Teacher is really amazing... he noticed it so quickly...” Maya narrowed her eyes and said.

“You’re the one who’s amazing, my dear Little Maya...” Andrew smiled and said, “When did you find out?”

“Probably on the second day I came here...” Maya said lightly.

Andrew nodded, found a place to sit down, and gestured, “Tell Me...”

Maya said, “On the first day I came here, I was indeed amazed by your complex and huge alchemy array. Such a perfect design, circular grafting, and interlocking, without a single flaw. As one of the former chief instructors of tirisfal, even the swindle-style alchemy array was so perfect.”

“You said it was perfect... But you saw the flaw in one day. Are you complimenting me or yourself?” Andrew laughed.

Maya said, “Of course I’m complimenting teacher. To be honest, even those old fogeys from the White Dragon Sacred Academy wouldn’t be able to see that teacher’s array was a scam in a short time, let alone me!”

“Oh? Then how did you see through it?”

Maya said, “As long as there are doubts, you can always find flaws. Teacher, don’t forget that illusionists are the strongest array breakers.”

“So I’m not asking again, why would you be suspicious?”

Upon hearing that, Maya smiled again. “Because I don’t believe that there is any technology in this world that can allow a level two or three life form to grow to that level simply by using the alchemy array! “With such subversive technology, Queen Sylvanas will only put you on the wanted list after eating too much!”

“Hahahaha! !” Andrew burst into laughter, he looked at her with great satisfaction, “As expected, among the students I teach, you are the smartest. If that Little Guy Vogu was half as smart as you, he wouldn’t have been so slow to react! !”

“So, what’s teacher trying to do?” Maya looked at him. “The basic principle of alchemy is equal exchange. This iron law will not change at any time. To be able to turn a group of level two or three aborigines into such a powerful existence, the energy used is already enough for you to create a stronger army. Yet, you created such a complicated matrix and transferred that energy to these aborigines. It's difficult and unrewarding, and it might even lose a lot of energy. Moreover, just activating this matrix would probably consume a lot of energy. What is teacher trying to do?"

"Since you've already guessed this far, why don't you continue guessing?" Andrew smiled as if he was testing his own student.

"Alright..." "..." "..." Maya narrowed her eyes and continued, "My guess is that teacher doesn't have enough power to deal with a mature army like Vogu. It's normal to think about it. Queen Sylvanas was so strict with you back then. You shouldn't be able to leave enough power in the world to deal with a high-level lord's force. Otherwise, you would have been found out long ago. The power storage is limited, but you've made such a complicated set of operations to waste energy. There's only one reason that makes sense. You're Bluffing!" "!"

Clap Clap Clap! !

Andrew clapped without holding back, "Continue..."

Maya said, "Using the last remaining power in the world to create such a gimmick, it shouldn't be without a purpose. The purpose of the bluff is to make the other party fear and delay time, and the purpose of delaying time should be to find something. I guess it should be the mysterious power on this planet that hasn't been successfully infected by you, right?"

Maya paused for a moment before continuing, "If that's the case, teacher, this trap of yours must have been set up before you were wanted, right? In other words, the so-called forbidden research and the so-called dragon race genes that were rumored by the outside world were all fake, right? It was just a method for you to break away from Sylvanas' influence... .. So I'm quite curious, what kind of thing could make you, who has such a status, give up everything and come up with a scheme?"

Chapter 1122: Ancient History -PartpOne one)

"What is it that made you give up your high status in the past to scheme against me?"

Maya stared at Andrew and asked seriously.

People would not be so stupid for no reason, especially a smart person like Andrew. Giving up so many things only meant that what he wanted was more valuable than what he had at that time!

However, she was very curious. Andrew's status in the entire federation was at the top level. He was already at the level of a great lord, and he was also one of the ten great liches under Queen Sylvanas. This identity.., other than the ten great lords and the top-notch teachings of the gods academy, there was basically no higher level.

Could it be that in his opinion, those things could actually allow him to advance to the level of the ten great lords?

Was this possible?

Maya found it more and more unbelievable, but only this kind of motive could explain his actions... ..

Looking at the curious Maya, Andrew smiled and raised his head, still like a kind old man. "What do you think it is?"

"Teacher's words are difficult..." Maya shrugged and said helplessly, "No matter how good your reasoning ability is, you still need basic information. You Don't have any hints, how can this be?"

"Then let me give you a hint..." Andrew looked at her and said faintly, "Have you heard of... The Moon Elves?"

Maya: "!!!"

In the Emerald Dream, looking at the confused brother dog, Ysera began to slowly explain the entire cycle of cause and effect...

"In the distant ancient times, there was once a brilliant elven civilization. The scale was so large that it almost spread throughout the universe. In this great civilization, the three royal families at the head were the wood elves, the fairy elves, and the Moon Elves. Among them, the Wood Elves had the purest life energy. By relying on their control of the elements in the material world, they built an ecosystem that all races relied on, and they were the most powerful! "The Moon Elves created the first arcane civilization with their powerful spiritual talent. In order to avoid conflict with the wood elves, the Moon Elves chose to expand the universe. With their powerful arcane civilization, they opened the boundary of the universe and connected to many spiritual worlds outside of the Universe!"

"So, the wood elves kept consolidating the foundation of the material world, while the Moon Elves put the center of their power outside of the universe. They kept exploring new spiritual worlds and established an independent civilization that hovered outside of the universe!"

Brother Dog understood what he meant. There were two very powerful races in the universe, and because they were too powerful, they didn't want to clash with each other, so the other race chose to withdraw from the local market. Going overseas, that was probably what it meant... ..

"From what you said, the Moon Elves should also be very powerful. How did they end up as the last survivors?" Brother Dog asked curiously.

"Because they didn't realize the risk of opening up a new world..." "..." Ysera sighed and said, "Opening up a new spiritual world and expanding your influence is based on the premise that you are stronger than others. Just like how you opened up a new route overseas, if the other party is a backward place, they will naturally be a strong colony. However, if the other party is stronger than you, if your appearance lets the other party know of your existence, it will be another matter..." "..."

"Oh..." brother dog came to a realization. He immediately understood what the other party meant. This was like kicking a metal board!

"What kind of stupid metaphor is this?" The Moon Elf couldn't help but retort.

Ysera tilted his head, "Is this metaphor inappropriate?"

"Of course it's inappropriate!" The moon elf said coldly, "We were opening up the universe, and it was an extremely great project. How come it sounds like those pirates to you?"

Ysera: " ... "

Brother Dog was stunned, he felt... .. although the scale of the project was indeed larger, but in essence.. .. There didn't seem to be any difference... ..

"This matter is actually true, the moon elves really do exist..."

Just as the two of them were arguing, a female voice suddenly sounded, giving brother dog a fright. He turned his head and saw a little girl dressed in tattered clothes, she looked about five or six years old.

"This child is also from Your Moon Elf clan?" Brother Dog asked curiously.

"What are you talking about?" The Moon Elf named Diana looked at Brother Dog coldly. "Didn't you bring this child in?"

"Huh?" Brother Dog was stunned. He turned around and was about to say, "When did I bring a child in?"? But his expression suddenly froze.

Because he suddenly realized that the clothes on the little girl looked familiar... ..

If he took a closer look, wasn't it the sweater that Sunny knitted for that Strange Baby? In the end, it was so torn that he almost didn't recognize it.

He immediately said angrily, "Who are you? Where did you take my Sunny's Baby?"

The little girl rolled her eyes and directly ignored this idiot. She looked straight at Diana, "Are you really a moon Elf? The Royal Family?"

"Whether it's true or not, can't you feel it? Young Titan..." Diana said with a faint smile.

The little girl instantly fell silent. From the genes in her bones, she could clearly feel the gene suppression force that made her almost submit.

She was a top-notch Golden Titan, and her bloodline was almost the pinnacle of the current Titan. Even if she claimed to be a star Elf of the royal family, it was impossible for her to suppress her bloodline. The only ones who could suppress her bloodline were the sky gods, only those legendary ancient factions were left.

"I always thought that... that was just a legend..." the little girl muttered.

"Many people in Your Federation's academic world also think that the Titan emperor is ridiculous. In fact? Didn't you see it too? The child beside you..."

The little girl was stunned when she heard that, then she nodded and said, "That's true..."

Brother Dog finally reacted and said with a shudder, "You... You're the baby girl who ran out of the scroll?"

"Shut up!" The girl glared at Brother Dog. She did not want him to mention the embarrassing incident that happened a few days ago. She would settle the score with Maya sooner or later.

Now, it was better to change the topic...

At that thought, she turned to look at Ysera. "You said that the Moon Elves encountered an existence that they could not afford to offend. Are You referring to the Void?"

Ysera looked at the little girl and nodded. "Yes..."

Hence, she asked curiously, "So the ancient elven civilization was destroyed by the Void?"

"Yes... not exactly..." Ysera shook her head. As an old dragon who had personally witnessed that period of history, she felt both regretful and a little natural about that complicated history and the fall of the glorious elven civilization... ..

In terms of system alone, the way the three elven races were founded was clearly inferior to the current system of the Federation's God civilization... ..

Class... .. too dead, so dead that there was a chance to take advantage of the void and use the hearts of the people to destroy the powerful elven race internally. ...

"What's going on?" The little girl asked curiously.

Brother Dog also looked at her with anticipation, clearly wanting to hear the rest of the story.

Ysera sighed and said, "It all starts with the last of the three elven clans..."

Chapter 1123: Ancient Secret History (middle)

The third royal family...

When Brother Dog heard that, he suddenly remembered that there were three royal families mentioned just now... ..

Ysera: "Among the three royal families, the wood elves basically rule the material universe. The Moon Elves have taken a different path, taking the path of the spiritual domain to expand beyond the universe. and the most special one is the elves. They are a special species of elves, and they control the most mysterious power in the world: space-time... "..."

"Space-time?" Brother Dog was stunned. "Does it mean it literally?"

"Literally..." Ysera nodded. "I know it's incredible, but it is such an existence. They can travel through space-time, and they can even change the past and the future!"

"This... is a bit of a BUG, right?" Brother Dog swallowed his saliva.

There was no lack of fantasy works with such themes on the D sphere. The Red Sun had Doraemon, and northern rice had the terminator. However, the logic of these works was very flawed. In fact, even the creators knew that it was unrealistic to travel through space-time... ..

If they could change the past and future, wouldn't that be equivalent to being invincible?

I Can't beat you now, but I can beat you when you were young, right? If I transmigrate and end you in advance, who would be invincible if I'm not invincible?

As if sensing Brother Dog's thoughts, Ysera smiled and asked, "Do you think it's abnormal?"

Brother Dog nodded repeatedly...

"I think so too..." Ysera smiled.

Brother Dog: "..."

"To be honest, I've always felt that those things shouldn't exist... but there's nothing I can do about it..." Ysera shrugged. "They do exist!"

Brother Dog: "..."

The female knight at the side was also speechless. She felt that the other party's ridicule seemed to be sincere... ..

Ysera: "Those guys are extremely rare, but every adult has this special ability. They can travel through time and space, witness history, and even change history. It's an extremely unreasonable existence. But the good news is that these guys are very restrained and very well-disciplined. They usually only act as witnesses of history and rarely touch the timeline. In order to rope them in, the two great elven races gave them the status of royalty, making the billions of races in the universe respect the elven race as much as they respect them..." . "..."

Brother Dog's mouth twitched as he thought, this dog is really direct... ..

Ysera said, "The fairies believe in balance and do not easily change history. However, no one knows if they have done something to change history. After all, the future of the universe has changed after the change. We, who are in the new future, do not know if we are created after the change. This is the scariest thing about them, because you do not know if they have already attacked you..." . "..."

Brother dog: "It sounds... so scary..."

"Is that so?" Ysera smiled. "I've always felt the same way..."

"What happened after that?" The female knight asked. "What does the decline of the elf civilization have to do with the fairy race?"

"This mainly happened after the void..." . "..." Ysera sighed. "The first void invasion did indeed happen before the ancient times, just like what was recorded in the history of the Elves. The three great elves reasonably suppressed the void by using the fairy race to prevent the Moon Elves from opening the Void World in advance, changing history "..." . "..."

"It's really useful. This skill..." brother dog could not help but sigh.

However, he was very curious. Since the fairy race was willing to use this skill to protect the elf civilization, how did the elf civilization disappear? Was there a way to defeat such a BUG-like skill?

Ysera's next words quickly answered the question in Brother Dog's heart.

"After that, we all thought that the matter was settled just like that, but in reality, it was not so. There was a very terrifying individual in the void. It was so powerful that it seemed to be completely unaffected by the effects of time and karma, and it could forcefully retain the memories before it was changed. Although the Void Rift did not open because the fate of the Moon Elves was changed, the void over there did not forget about the matter of the Material Plane...". "..."

"Not affected by the timeline?" Brother dog asked curiously, "So they attacked directly?"

"No..." Ysera shook his head. "They didn't find a way to open the two universes, but they used powerful spiritual energy to infiltrate here, affecting many people..."

"More and more rumors began to spread. Many people began to talk about the threat of the fairy race. Many people even thought that the current world structure was deliberately created by the fairy race. They saw that the wood elves were too powerful, so they returned to the ancient times to support the Moon Elves and reached a balance between the two races."

"This sounds... a bit possible..." brother dog laughed.

"Many people thought so at that time..." Ysera smiled and said, "Because this theory has a self-reinforcing logic. The fairy race has always advocated the path of balance. This theory is very consistent with their teachings. They also seem to have that ability, so a large number of people believed this theory at that time..." "..."

"Is it true?" The female knight asked curiously.

Ysera: "How do I know?"

The Female Knight: "..."

Ysera: "But with this beginning, there were more and more other theories about the fairy race. Later on, many races began to spread that the reason why the elves were so powerful today was because the fairy race chose them. Because they were gentler, easier to control, and easier to control. As for the other powerful races, because they didn't obey the control of the fairy race, they destroyed their powerful seeds early on, and they became a second-rate race!"

"How can anyone believe this?" The female Knight was stunned.

"How come no one believes it?" Ysera sneered, "Who would think that they are born to be lowly? Many races, especially the lower races, believed this saying. They thought that their race should have been an extremely powerful existence. Now that they are in such a miserable state, it must be the fairy race that caused this. More and more races began to have this idea. There were even many scholars from various races who began to enumerate a lot of evidence, saying that their race could have grown into a higher existence, but due to various coincidences, they became a vassal..." "..."

"Hiss... this..." brother dog was stunned. Was this the legendary 'I'm the strongest in the Void'? Was it all based on fantasy?

"It can only be said that the hierarchy at that time was too rigid..." Ysera sighed. "At that time, race genes represented everything. Your birth determined your upper limit and there was basically no possibility of advancement. A lower race could never surpass an elf no matter how hard they worked. There were too many people and too many grudges. The seemingly prosperous elf civilization was in fact full of contradictions"

“That’s why I said that the current system of the Federation of gods is more complete. Although it is also a hero of the gene theory, it can change its fate through genetic modification. Even if it is a lowest-level slime, as long as it is willing to work hard and accumulate wealth step by step, it can buy genes to change itself and change the starting point of the next generation. As long as generations persist in working hard and persist in purifying the genes and improving the starting point step by step, it will eventually be able to rise to the middle or even higher levels of the universe! The mobility of social classes was far greater than the elven civilization at that time... “...”

“Gene purification?” Brother Dog was immediately interested and asked curiously, “How do you purify it?”

Before Ysera could answer, the female knight beside him glanced at him and sighed. “You don’t need it...”

Brother Dog: “Eh?”

The female knight ignored Brother Dog, she looked at Ysera. “Then what happened after that? After the rise of these messages, did all the races start to be dissatisfied with the fairy race? Or did they directly set off a wave of resistance against the Fairy Race? But even so, couldn’t the fairy race change the past? Would their resistance be useful?”

“Well...” Ysera smiled bitterly. “It’s really useful...”

Chapter 1124: Ancient History (part two)

As it turned out, no matter how powerful an ability was, there would always be a flaw, and the void seemed to have accurately grasped this flaw... ..

Ysera recalled everything that had happened back then, and his gaze was very complicated.

“At that time, all the races were affected by this rumor, especially those races that were originally powerful but were suppressed by the elves for tens of thousands of eras. They were restless, and wave after wave of dazzling spears pointed at the elves, and even some of the Moon Elves’ higher-ups were affected.”

“They thought that their race’s aptitude was not inferior to the wood elves, but they were forced to explore the spiritual universe to earn a living. Because of that, they attracted such a terrifying existence as the void. Therefore, they expressed great dissatisfaction towards the wood elves who enjoyed the resources of almost the entire material universe. They also thought that it was the elves who caused all of this.”

Hearing this, brother dog immediately understood why the other party said that powerful forces were often destroyed internally. The void race clearly understood the weakness of the human heart. This statement gave many of the oppressed middle and lower-class people a reason to resist, everyone believed that they were in the lower class not because they were not talented, nor was it because they did not work hard enough, but because the fairy race had taken away everything that originally belonged to them.

When this statement appeared, presumably, most people would be convinced, because all beings that could form intelligent life forms in the world would not be willing to entrust themselves to others... And this statement gave everyone a common point of attack...

Ysera: "Actually, before the elven civilization, there were the Titan civilization and the dragon civilization, and even some unknown civilizations that had disappeared from history. Many powerful races had ruled the universe, but the reason why the elven civilization could exist for so long was because its methods were gentle enough. Moreover, when the wood elves rose, they relied on the flower spirit's talent to nurture many races, making them the top existences in the universe."

"Although all of this solidified the upper and lower classes of the elf civilization, it was much better than those violent rulers in the past. Many of the lower and middle classes had no excuse to rebel, but after this saying rose, all the races had a reason to rebel, because all the good things of the wood elves could have been premeditated, and the price could have been to kill their chance to rise...". "..."

"But... can't all of this be changed?" Brother Dog was stunned. "Can't the goblins travel through time and space? They can go back to the past and constantly change the results that are detrimental to them..."

"Yeah...". Ysera sighed. "They did the same thing. During the riots, the fairies traveled through time and space again, changing the outcome of the riots. But no matter how they changed it, they could not change the spiritual infiltration of the void, and they could not change the spread of rumors. The riots were endless. No matter how you changed it, there would always be new riots. The frequent changes in time and space caused problems within the fairies. It was also at that time that we learned that changing the timeline required negative karmic pressure. It was not without a price "...". "..."

"What price?" Brother Dog and the female knight asked in unison out of curiosity.

"I don't know the exact price...". Ysera shook his head. "But the price doesn't seem to be cheap. The frequent changes even caused the fairies to have the urge to destroy the world. However, there are some who disagree internally and think that it's too extreme. Hence, the concept of destroying the world and saving the world has been divided into two factions and they have started their own actions. Time and space are constantly being reset and changed. The entire universe is in Extreme Chaos!"

Brother Dog: "..."

It sounded like the Terminator...

But people in the future had the ability to change the past. This was an endless war... ..

"Then... What Happened?"

Brother Dog was very curious about how this farce ended...

"What happened?" Ysera said faintly, "I don't know if the universe's will couldn't stand it or something, but for some reason, a species that didn't exist in time and space appeared, which was the deity race..."

The Female Knight: "..."

How did the birth of the gods come about like this?

Brother Dog was a little stunned. What did the gods mean?

Ysera: “This race wasn’t affected by space and time, and they grasped the laws of space and time. In order to stop the chaos, they directly suppressed the fairy race, and the other two fairy races were completely exterminated in the fury of the other races who suffered this calamity... ..”

“After that, the deity race established a new order and created a gene transfer technology, so that the lower-middle-class intelligent beings would not forever be unable to turn things around because of their own genes. At that time, when the powerful races had fallen and the new races had risen, whether it was the lower-class races who wanted to turn things around and change their fates, or the middle-class races who were spying on the genes of the powerful races, they all accepted this policy. However, at that time, there were still some conservatives who opposed this method of gene transfer. However, the deity race set an example by opening up the divine path, stipulating that after the accumulation of outsiders to a certain extent, they could become a member of the deity race with the help of the deity race. This kind of development policy completely made many conservative races lose their excuses. Even the most stubborn star elves at that time had nothing to say in the end.”

Brother Dog didn’t quite understand, while the female knight nodded in realization. She clearly understood the reason. In fact, those conservative races simply didn’t want to lose their excellent genetic status, after all, outsiders could become members of their race through hard work at any time, so their own advantages weren’t so obvious.

However, it would be different if the sky gods set an example. After all, even the space elves couldn’t resist the temptation of the sky gods’ genes. If they opposed this policy... Then the sky gods would have a reason to reject the sky gods from becoming sky gods. In this way, other races would have a chance to become sky gods, but you wouldn’t be able to. In the end, it would be obvious who would be at a disadvantage... ..

In the end, this carrot-and-stick method established a new cosmic mechanism that lasted until today... ..

After listening to the story, Brother Dog did not know how to ask the question for a while. But that female knight., she asked curiously, “I’m very curious. It has been so long since the elven civilization. Since the Moon Elves have a descendant that survived, why are you still hiding? “From your tone, it doesn’t seem like you’ve been hiding from the world. It’s obvious that you know about the federal system. With the current climate, it’s impossible to say that there’s any racial hatred against the three great elven races. After all, many descendants don’t know the truth of that period of history, so what’s the point of hiding? “Why didn’t you come out earlier?”

“There are two reasons...” this time, the one who spoke was the descendant of the Moon Elves, she looked at the female knight and said calmly, “The first reason is that other than me, no other Moon Elves have been discovered for the time being, so we are unable to directly reproduce purebred descendants and can only rely on gene transplants. The genes of our ancient elves are extremely complicated, and it is very difficult for us to rebuild our race in a short period of time in the current situation. The second reason is that if the things I possess are exposed, I do not have the ability to protect it!! !”

Chapter 1125: the battle will begin (Part One)

“Spirit Channel?”

On the other side, Maya and Andrew were also talking about this step... ..

Compared to Brother Dog who didn't know anything about the history of the federation and the female knight who wasn't familiar with the ancient history, Maya was a top scholar in the arcane world, so her knowledge was naturally not on the same level.

At the mention of the Moon Elves, she instantly thought of Andrew's purpose!

That's right, other than that, what else could make a person like Andrew give up everything to bet on this wave?

The Spirit Channel! In the former elf civilization, the wood elves controlled the material universe, while the Moon Elves developed and ruled over the spiritual world of millions of levels in the outer realm. Now, they remained in the mysterious realms of the fairy realm, the abyss, the land of Banta, and so on in the federation, they were all one of the spiritual worlds once ruled by the Moon Elves!

One had to know that just the abyss alone supported billions of level bounty hunters. Even a star-level demon hunter ranger like Vivian was working there to earn money. One could see its value. And this kind of world was only one of the places that the Moon Elves ruled back then... ..

If they could get their hands on those passages in the former Moon elf civilization, this value would probably be unimaginable even for the current ten great lords. It was no wonder that Andrew would do such a thing. It was not a taboo experiment at all, instead, he would use this as an excuse to escape back to the undead world and divert the attention of the world, so that he could hide in the dark and slowly plan this matter!

At the thought of this, Maya took a deep breath. She did not expect that she would be involved in such a big matter during a casual mission. Her heart instantly turned cold, she said faintly, "Teacher, you're being so honest with me. Are you sure that I can't escape from your grasp?"

Indeed, if she knew about such matters, the other party would never let her slip away. Every participant on this planet, Andrew, would probably not leave anyone alive!

After all, with the spirit channel, it would still take a long time to establish enough power to protect this area of interests!

Andrew looked at his student and finally smiled, "I originally thought so, but little Maya's degree of Excellence is really beyond teacher's imagination. I suddenly feel that we can work together for a wave..."

"Work together?" Maya narrowed her eyes. "How?"

Although she knew that working with an ancient Fox like Andrew was very risky, she still couldn't help but be tempted.

The benefits were too great!

Even if there was only one channel in the spirit system world, it was a benefit that would last for thousands of years. It could allow a race to have the resources of a huge world. Not to mention the spiritual world of the abyss, even an existence like the immortal palace... As long as she had one, she was confident that she could let her family grow to the level of a space elf... ..

Andrew looked at the burning Mayan in his eyes and revealed a satisfied smile. He knew that no one could refuse this benefit, even the ten great lords. This benefit was enough to drive them crazy.

“Help me test the background of that Green Dragon. I promise that if you choose a spiritual world passage, it will be yours forever!”

“Hiss...” Maya took a deep breath. “Green Dragon? Teacher, you really think highly of me. Is that thing something I can handle?”

“Of course, you don’t have to face it head-on...” Andrew smiled. “You just need to successfully invade the emerald dream and attract its attention. As for the other things, leave it to me...”

Maya understood at once. She had to attract the attention of the green dragon so that Andrew would have enough time to enter the Emerald Dream, and she wanted to get the final fruits of victory, she also had to ensure that she would not be smacked to death by the Green Dragon who was angry out of embarrassment!

The difficulty of this mission was not low...

But it was precisely because of this that Maya felt a little relieved. If it was a mission that was neither painful nor itchy, then there would be a problem... ..

Andrew’s words were very obvious. He wanted to get a piece of the pie and speak with strength! ! ! !

After hesitating for about 15 minutes, Maya raised her head and revealed a gentle smile. “Then, will you be writing the content of the contract for the cooperation, teacher, or shall I?”

Andrew looked at his student with a meaningful smile.

He dared to accept the mission of provoking an ancient dragon. This little disciple of his was not as simple as he looked. interesting... .. Interesting...

“You can write the contract. I’m afraid that you won’t trust me...”

Maya said with a smile, “Thank you, teacher...”

“But you have to hurry...” Andrew looked up at the sky. “It’s about time your stupid brother came back to his senses...”

“Silly brother?” Maya was stunned, but then reacted, also looked at the sky, the other party said, is that Guy Vogu... ..

Speaking of which, it was out of her expectation that this silly senior could become a god in the end. . .

In the starry sky, Vogu, as usual, was in charge of the main console. In addition to monitoring every detail of his power with his powerful mind power, he also took some time to make predictions... ..

Yes, Vogu as a biology tutor out of the students, created an arcane mechanical force, but also proficient in the Department of Prophecy Knowledge.

As a god Lord who mastered the laws, it was rare for him to personally operate the technology in the world. Otherwise, why would he hire his subordinates?

But only Vogu's subordinates knew that the god Lord seemed to like to rely on himself for everything.

"Hourglass..."

Vogu threw a metal card on the table and muttered to himself, "This is the third time I've predicted a similar card..."

Although they were all different, they all had the same premonition: there wasn't much time left... ..

This made him unable to sit still.

What did he mean by there wasn't much time left? Did he mean that he didn't have much time left?

"What does this mean?" A flower spirit beside him couldn't help but ask curiously, "Does it mean that we don't have much time left? Does it mean that if we don't act soon, that big black snake will grow into an existence that we can't defeat?"

This statement made the surrounding commanders nervous. If that was the case, then they would have to consider launching a general attack... ..

However, facing such a top-tier biological weapon with unknown intelligence, attacking rashly would put a lot of pressure on them.

Vogu did not say anything, while Pippen frowned slightly. As a top-tier blue spirit, she had naturally trained in the field of prophecy.

She knew in her heart that this prophecy was not as simple as the flower spirit said...

The surface language was indeed saying that there was not enough time, but it did not mean that the flower spirit was saying it proudly. Because if it was her way of saying it, the prophecy card would be more likely to appear: the sign of the dry well waiting to be killed...

However, it was the hourglass that appeared. It only meant that there was not much time left, but it did not show enough sense of danger and oppression. This made her feel that something was not right...

An hourglass was more like a reminder that something was slipping away as time passed, like the sand in the hourglass. The metaphor was more like a fleeting opportunity...

Chapter 1126: the battle is about to begin (middle)

"Is there any news from Billy?" Vogu asked with a frown.

Pippen shook his head. "Seven hours ago, there was a serious casualty. There were at least 14,000 advanced mecha operators who lost their vital signs in our detection unit. However, neither Viane nor Billy requested for help, nor did they request for backtracking!"

Vogu fell silent.

Backtracking was a kind of high-end space technology. It referred to reverse space teleportation. It used the energy that was once summoned to open a reverse channel. However, this kind of reverse opening consumed a lot of energy. It was a technical method that they used to recover the detection unit.

The other party didn't request for backtracking. This proved two problems. One, Billy didn't give up the mission because of the loss. The second problem was that they obviously didn't find any crucial information, so they didn't choose to request for backtracking... ..

That was to say, until now, he could not expect to get the answer he wanted from the exploration team.

But the result of this prediction was not good...

"How are the battlefield data?" After a moment of silence, Vogu asked.

"Very stable...". Phippen sighed. "We provided a large amount of energy like this. Two hours ago, the Bolton faction had already sent out a second biological star to replace the fallen angel star. The second activation star was the Balrog star, which was also an activation star with high-end demon genes. However, it was naturally not as good as the fallen angels of the royal family, so its output power had obviously decreased

"What about the other side?" Vogu asked with a frown.

"It seems that their combat power has decreased as well..." Phippen narrowed his eyes and said, "The efficiency of killing Balrogs is not even as good as when they were dealing with fallen angels in the beginning. I think they are hiding their strength to buy time."

Vogu frowned even more when he heard that.

This deduction was not a big problem. Such a large-scale biological array usually dragged on for more and more time. The other party was trying to avoid over-consumption of energy, so it was logical to say that they were trying to buy time.

But something doesn't feel right...

"No... <per_0> . Voku suddenly shook his head. "When we launched the feint, it was mainly to cover Viane and the others who were going to probe the information. It was mainly to test whether Andrew still had the strength to deal with the probing troops under the pressure of our attack... .."

Phippen nodded. According to the agreement at the time, if Vaughn and the others were under too much pressure, they would continue to exclude the top fighters, and this side of the battlefield will increase the firepower and continue to test Andrew's endurance.

However, the result was quieter than expected. The exploration team had not been attacked in the past few days. Although they had suffered losses, they did not threaten the top-tier combat forces like Vaughn and the others, this could be seen from the fact that they did not send a rescue signal.

This meant that the pressure that Vaughn and the others faced on the planet was actually not that great. At least, it was not so great that they had to ask for help...

But this should not be...

Under normal circumstances, this should not be the case. When two sides were fighting, it was common sense to prioritize the scouts. Vogu and the others' plan was an open conspiracy. Even if Andrew knew about it, he should have accepted the battle.

The normal method should have been to quickly deal with Vaughn and the others in a thunderous manner. Out of his guesses about the teacher's strength, even if Vaughn and the others were wiped out as soon as they landed, even if they could not send help, Vogu was prepared.

However, Vaughn did not expect that he would allow Vaughn and the others to run amok in his own faction.

Could it be that his teacher could no longer split himself to deal with the scouts in order to deal with the attacks of the fallen angel star?

It shouldn't be...

Could it be that his teacher only had this bit of strength?

The more he thought about it, the more he felt that something was wrong. Vaughn suddenly could not help but stand up and walk back and forth.

"Sir?" Pippen frowned when he saw Vogu's uneasy look. There were so many people around, and it didn't seem right for a leader to look like this... ..

However, Vogu didn't care about this. After walking back and forth for a while, he suddenly raised his head and said, "Contact Bolton. Tell him that I have something to discuss with him personally!"

Pippen: "What does Sir Want to discuss?"

"Further cooperation!" Vogu said faintly, "Let the two forces increase their firepower! !"

Within the New Territories:

Seer looked at Lulu in shock at this moment and said somewhat blankly, "You mean to say that there is a pure-blooded moon elf hidden in this world?"

Lulu nodded. "Yes..."

"Then is the Moon Elf very important to you?" Seer asked curiously.

Lulu: "As a god, you should have studied ancient history, right? Don't you know what the Moon Elves are holding in their hands?"

Seer paused for a moment, then took a deep breath and said, "The passage to the spirit-based world?"

Lulu: "Yes..."

"But... is this very useful to you?" Seer was a little puzzled, this was because the fairy race did not seem to be a race with the desire to expand their territory. Compared to those evil gods from the outer realms, they were much gentler. Why did they want the spirit channel? They were not interested in the material world, but they wanted to conquer other spirit worlds?

"This is related to the secrets of our fairy race. I Can't tell you!" Lulu said.

"Tsk..." Xi ye clicked his tongue and laughed. "This information of yours, when it comes to the key points, it's always secretive. isn't that too insincere?"

"I can't do anything about it. There are some things that can't be revealed..." Lulu said shamelessly.

"Alright..." Xi ye curled his lips, but then he asked curiously, "That's not right. It's such a big matter, and you're the only one here? Where are the elders of your fairy tribe?"

"I can't come..." "... "Lulu shook her head. "The situation in the immortal palace is worse than you think. The elders are basically bound there now. Moreover, they predicted the hope of saving the Immortal Palace. Before I came, I didn't know that there was actually a moon elf here..." "... "

"Then how do you know now?" Xi Ye asked in surprise.

"I felt it!" Lulu said faintly, "Our race has a contract with the Moon elf. As soon as I got close to this planet, I felt her existence..."

Xi Ye: "... "

"Alright, I've said what I need to say. There's no time to waste. We have to act quickly..." Lulu clapped her hands.

"Act?" Seer was stunned. "What do you want to Do?"

"Of course, we need to find the Moon Elf..." Lulu smiled. "With this death lock energy source and your top spatial master, I think we still have a chance to break through the hidden enchantment in this world"

"Is that so..." Seer was a little hesitant because he had clearly discovered that he could not sense brother dog's existence!

Brother Dog had a top-tier spatial imprint that the principal had secretly installed on him, but a few hours ago, that imprint had obviously been cut off. It was obvious that there was a more advanced spatial warlock next to the Moon Elf... ..

Chapter 1127: The Great War is about to begin (part two)

"Vogu wants to see me?"

Bolton was a little surprised by Vogu's sudden request. He did not expect the other party to propose to meet at this juncture.

Unlike Vogu, he knew some information about what happened on the ground in the New World. Through the secret technique of the Saab Blood Demon, he received bits and pieces of information.

The basis of what he knew was that Sofia, who was in the embrace of death, was the key point in obtaining the information this time. However, in the end, Sofia was taken away by the seer who was hidden inside. The losses of the factions were very heavy, the most important loss was that the two top-tier combat forces had suffered considerable injuries. This was especially so for Saab. He had used the secret technique of the blood demon to forcefully swallow the blood crystals. Currently, he had expended a lot of energy and was on the verge of reaching his limit.

Vogu's forces had also suffered losses, but they had only lost middle-tier mecha forces. In comparison, their forces were at a disadvantage, and the situation was not looking good.

This round of news made Bolton frown.

He had not expected that the top-tier combat forces of Vogu's forces would be so extraordinary. SAB was already a top-tier pureblood demon among his forces, and his combat strength was definitely in the top three. To be on the safe side, he had even asked him to bring over Vera..., the two combined, and he was actually forced to use the blood crystal?

Although he did not know the details, this result gave Bolton a headache. The current situation was very passive. On the battlefield, he was shouldering the most pressure of the attack, and on the intelligence detection below, the top-tier troops that he had sent out were also at a disadvantage, the key was that in this situation, he still could not send out reinforcements.

In his own force, the only ones stronger than the combination of SAB and Vera were himself, the Lord, and the commander-in-chief of the first legion, Gasol!

But now, both he and Gasol could not send reinforcements to the front line to support SAB. After all, the operation of a huge force needed two people to control it... ..

In this passive situation, he was originally prepared to compromise and personally negotiate with Vogu. For example, they would temporarily stop plotting against each other, find Rennes and Sofia together, and first share the first-hand information.

He did not expect that before he could speak, the other party would lose his cool and come looking for him. What kind of method was this?

Bolton hesitated for a few seconds. Although he could not guess the motive, it was not convenient for him to continue delaying. He nodded and ordered, "Tell Vogu that we can meet at any time..."

The meeting was quickly arranged on the previous planet. The two lords had different feelings when they met at the same place.

Vogu looked at this young junior and felt complicated. He didn't expect that he would be forced to compromise with the other party.

"May I know why senior is looking for me?" Burton decided to first probe the other party's situation. If the other party was really using SAAB's disadvantage to negotiate terms, then he would negotiate based on the situation.

"I feel that something is wrong..."Vogu said immediately.

“Something is wrong?” Burton was stunned. He didn’t expect the other party to say something like that.

Without wasting time, Vogu directly voiced out his doubts.

Hearing the other party’s words, Burton was a little stunned... ..

“You feel that there is something wrong with My Words?” Vogu frowned. He felt that Burton’s attitude was not right.

“Oh... Oh, no problem, no problem...” Bolton shook his head repeatedly. Only then did he realize that the other party should not have received the first-line information from below. Otherwise, even if they had guessed that Andrew’s arrangement was unusual, they should not have told him so directly... ..

It was really a blessing in disguise...

Thinking of this, Bolton quickly said, “Then since senior thinks that Andrew has a problem, how are you going to deal with it?”

“Increase the firepower from above!” Vogu said seriously, “I have some doubts that need to be verified. I hope that Lord Burton can help.”

“Senior is too polite...” . “Since we are allies, we should naturally advance and retreat together. But now that we have decided to increase the firepower, it is a further attempt to expand the risk. After all, we have not received any information about the creature at the front. It is very likely that we will face a wave of traps or counterattacks. Then, should we redistribute the firepower at the front line?”

The words were very clear. If they wanted to increase their firepower, they definitely couldn’t let their Bolton faction take the brunt of it.

“That’s only natural...” . “...” . Vogu hurriedly replied, “This time, increase our firepower. Both sides will send out first-line battle teams. I will send the commander-in-chief to discuss with you about the coordination of your troops. In terms of manpower and energy supply, we will try our best to maintain the same strength this time...” . “...”

“Senior is right. If that’s the case, then let’s not waste time. How about we go back and prepare ourselves first?” Burton smiled.

“Yes...” Vogu nodded. He did not know why, but he felt that Burton’s agreement was a little too straightforward... “...” .

After Burton returned to the forces, he immediately called the chief intelligence officer and said, “Inform SAB that Vogu’s forces are temporarily unable to communicate with their subordinates. It should be that they do not have the opportunity to send more reinforcements. After that, we will increase the firepower output and let them quickly find Sophia and find out what Andrew’s secret is!”

The general intelligence officer was stunned for a moment, then his face lit up. He didn’t expect that the other party didn’t know that Lord Saab had been injured. It was a blessing in disguise. In this way, his side didn’t lose the initiative... . .

On the other side, Vogu returned to the forces also called the first time the intelligence officer Phippen and commander-in-chief Perseiro!

"Sir... how's the situation?" Phippen asked immediately.

"Very smooth..." Vogu frowned. "So smooth that I even feel that something is not right..."

"Uh..." Phippen was stunned for a moment, then he immediately understood what the other party meant. It should be that Bolton agreed too readily.

"What do you think the reason is?" Vogu asked.

Phippen said, "There are only two situations. The first is that the other party is someone from Andrew's side. Sir, if you take the initiative to go up against him, he would naturally be happy to agree..."

"It's unlikely..." Vogu shook his head. "If teacher has such a big force as his foundation, with his own ability, he wouldn't need to make things so complicated to deal with me..."

"Then there's only the second scenario..." Phippen said with a smile. "The exploration teams below have fought each other, and our side should have gained a good advantage..."

Vogu nodded when he heard that. Just as he thought, the possibility was a little higher...

Then, he decisively ordered, "Get the purple star to open a reverse space passage and exchange information with the people below..."

The reverse space channel consumed a lot of energy, and they only had two channels that could withstand this kind of technology. If they used one, there would only be one way for Vaughn and the others to come back. If it wasn't necessary., he didn't want to use it initially.

But Bolton's attitude made Vogu feel that it was necessary to take a risk.

Phippen nodded. He also agreed with the lord's idea. The current situation was worth taking this risk.

"Then, sir, how much do you plan to increase your firepower this time?" Phippen asked the most crucial question.

"I plan to use five legions to directly participate in the battle..." Vogu said in a low voice.

"What?" Phippen and the commander-in-chief next to him, Bozaro, were stunned. They immediately frowned.

"Sir... isn't this... a little too risky?" Bozaro asked first.

Vogu only had a total of eight legions, and one of them was a pure support legion. Even if they didn't plan to use their Trump Card Legion, using five combat divisions was equivalent to an all-out war.

With the enemy's intelligence still unclear, this was obviously extremely risky... ..

Chapter 1128: Sensitive Dog Egg!

“How about... We let purple star open the passage first, and then we can decide on the military arrangement based on the information below?”Pippen suggested.

As an intelligence officer, she believed in planning before taking action... ..

“There won’t be any crucial information...”. Vogu shook his head and said, “I know Billy’s personality. If there was important information, even if it would cut off a path of retreat, she would have already applied to open the reverse space passage. Now that they haven’t applied, it means that they haven’t found any important information. Billy is also an excellent intelligence officer, so he won’t say that there’s any information that he missed or that he can’t analyze it

Pippen was silent. Although Billy was young, he was an outstanding existence in the intelligence team. He had already tacitly accepted Billy as his successor. Pippen knew her ability very well. If there was really valuable information... The other party would not miss it...

But to let the entire force attack in the dark like this, she always felt that it was not safe.

“Teacher’s response made me feel that something was not right...”vogu lowered his voice and said, “If he is simply stalling for time, I might miss out on the plan that I have been planning for him all this time.”

“But... What if it is just a trap?”Pippen frowned and said, “What if he is using this kind of mentality of yours to make you act Rashly? Do you know the consequences?”

“The worst case scenario is that the entire army will be annihilated...”. Vogu said in a low voice, “If the five legions are annihilated, I will indeed need to spend hundreds of millions of years to recover. I might even lose some colonial territories and cause my power to shrink. However, as long as the ACE Army is still around, I can afford to accompany them. Given enough time, I can make a comeback. However, if Andrew is really planning something, and I hesitate and miss it, I feel that if this opportunity is lost, I might not have a second chance in my life!”

Pippen:” ...”

The commanders at the side were silent. As direct military officers, they were closely connected to Vogu’s forces, so they naturally would not betray him because of his words. However, they also felt a chill in their hearts for the descendants of the five legions.

A big shot, with just a word, billions of lives were like ants... ..

After a long time.., pippen sighed, “You’re the Lord, so you can decide what to do, but... “I still hope that we can give some time. Even if it’s like you said, Billy and the others don’t have enough valuable information, I still hope that we can confirm it. Even if it’s just a small chance, we can get some useful information. Maybe we can avoid this step, right?”

Vogu looked at Pippen, eyes indifferent, the first time Pippen and his opinion, the first time the other side will insist against himself... ..

“Good...”Vogu finally did not continue to insist, after all, the opening of the reverse space channel only an hour or two time, not to the extent that he could not accept.

From a normal person's point of view, this idea is right, who can think of a couple of hours later, what will be missed?

But sometimes, fate was so unpredictable...

"Doggie, this world is so dangerous..."

In the small, well-maintained tent, little cabbage looked at the troops on the other side who were still collecting the remaining resources, as well as the large and small spatial black holes that had formed after the fight. She immediately wrapped her quilt again, wrapping herself up like a caterpillar, she shivered and said, "It's too dangerous..."

Doggie looked at the space on the other side that was being retraced with a complicated expression. To be honest, she didn't even dare to look back during the fight that day. However, as an elf, she was very sensitive to the elements, so she could clearly sense.., even the space was smashed into pieces.

This was even more exaggerated than the Saiyans...

What kind of monsters were they...

However, those monsters were willing to teach her, so would she be able to become such an existence one day?

Compared to little cabbage, who was shivering and wanted to find a safe place to continue eating and waiting for death, she was looking forward to another future.

Just as she was thinking, little cabbage suddenly lowered her voice and said telepathically, "I have something to tell you..."

"What?" Eggdog looked at the mysterious little cabbage and said in a daze.

"In fact, there are some of our people in that mecha unit..." little cabbage looked around and whispered after making sure that there was no one else.

"Eh?" Goudan was even more confused. "Our people? Who are they?"

Little cabbage: "Grandpa has soap!"

"F * ck... Are You Serious?"

"SH * T... Lower Your Voice..." Bai Cai suddenly covered Goudan's mouth and said angrily, "Don't give yourself away. The two of them are our only hope of escaping now..."

"Uh... is that so?" Gou Dan was shocked...

She did not expect that Bai Cai would actually place her hopes on Grandpa Lu. Was this child stupid?

Although she did not know how Grandpa Lu and that soap managed to sneak into the mecha team, but..? What kind of gods were these people in front of her? Didn't she see that the Overlord had abandoned them and ran away? Grandpa Lu, this guy who only knew how to show off on the Internet, you actually believed him?

“Which... which one is it?” Eggface asked curiously.

“Here...” little cabbage carefully stuck her head out of the quilt and tilted her head in one direction.
“Those two over there...”

Eggface looked over. Over there was a pile of low-level mecha operators cleaning up supplies. Clearly, they were retrieving high-value parts from damaged mecha. The direction that cabbage was pointing at was a side area. The movements of those two mecha did indeed look a little more wretched and sneaky... ..

“Holy Sh * T... How did they do it?”

“That’s the talent of soap. It’s not good to tell you in detail now. Anyway, it’s fine as long as you have a good grasp of the situation. During the chaos just now, if the chaos lasted a little longer, Grandpa said that he would be able to take us away. He told us to remember to lean towards them the next time we encounter such an opportunity. He would take us away as soon as possible...” “...”

“UH... is that so...” Goudan replied in a daze. Although it sounded like it, he felt that it wasn’t very reliable. ...

Could he really escape by relying on a soap that was constantly fighting with those dead dogs in the base and a Grandpa Lu who was always posturing on the internet?

Especially the latter. Goudan felt that it was extremely unreliable. Speaking of which, had that guy transformed yet? He actually dared to wander outside. Where did his courage come from?

As the two of them were talking, a figure slowly approached them. The two of them quickly shut their mouths. Little cabbage immediately hid her head under the quilt. Goudan revealed a fawning smile.
“Hehe, master, are you done?”

“What are you talking about? Are you being sneaky?” Vien said with a smile.

“No... I’m just talking about the mecha over there. It looks so cool. Thinking about becoming a mecha operator seems pretty cool too!” Goudan said with a smile.

“How is it cool to wear an iron body? silly...” vien sneered disdainfully. “Practice the breathing technique that I taught you well. It’s better than anything else...”

“Oh...” Eggface quickly agreed. “Master is Right!”

“Hmph...” Vien snorted coldly and nodded at the little guy’s head. Then, she walked out. However, she did not see that the moment she turned around, eggface’s expression trembled unnaturally. ...

After Vivian walked far away, Eggface poked the little cabbage who was pretending to be dead in the quilt. “Cabbage, if you see an opportunity to run later, remember to inform me immediately...”

“Huh?” The little cabbage was stunned and stuck her head out of the quilt again. She laughed and said, “I thought you really wanted to hug your master’s thigh and despise our escape plan.”

Gou Dan was slightly silent. That was indeed what she had thought before... ..

This woman clearly had no ill intentions toward her and was carefully teaching her. Although the teaching process was a little perverted, it was clearly for her own good. Such a powerful person could do for her own good, so why should she escape? This world was clearly so dangerous.

But this dependent thought completely disappeared in the few seconds when she was talking to him just now...

That guy... . ! Is not the same person as the woman who taught her the other day! ! !

Chapter 1129: Little One, you must hold on!

“Little girl, remember, what I taught you is not a breathing technique, but a meditation technique. This is the core idea. No matter how much it resembles a breathing technique, it is essentially a meditation technique. Only by understanding this can you truly learn this thing. You must remember it!”

This was what Vienne had said to her in a very serious tone at that time. Doggie had also remembered this instruction and slowly found the knack of this secret technique. Only then did he slowly get the hang of it.

So she was pretty sure that the real Winn wouldn't say anything wrong to herself...

But the idea that she was horrified, in her mind, Vaughn is already the most powerful person she has met, so powerful people, actually... ? . will be replaced for no reason?

Cabbages are right, the outside world is so terrible, I'd better go back to Mars and farm. . .

On the other side, Vaughn, walking slowly out of the tent area, seemed to be patrolling aimlessly, as if observing the surroundings, as if on guard against something.

However, Vivian has always been isolated, the same ranger troops saw her inexplicable actions did not dare to come forward to talk, but the insiders do not dare to talk, but there is an outsider very ignorant approach to each other.

Vivian was slightly stunned. She looked at the person who was walking towards her. It was a black elf, one of the people under the influence of the small lord. It was a woman with a unique aura, Alice... ...

“What's the matter?” Vivian narrowed her eyes and asked.

“My Lord...” Alice bowed modestly. “Is it convenient for us to talk in private?”

Vivian quietly looked at her and did not say anything. It was obvious that she was waiting for her reason. With her status, if she wanted to talk to her in private, she had to give an explanation... ...

“We're all outsiders... We should have a lot to talk about...” Alice smiled.

Vaughn's pupils suddenly shrank, and a hint of killing intent flashed across his eyes!

“Sir, don't be nervous...” Alice said very calmly, “If I die, it will be meaningless for you to keep your identity a secret, because what I want to talk to you about is not me...”

“Is that so?” Vaughn glanced at her, and in a flash, he suddenly appeared in front of Alice. Without any warning, his slender white fingers gently pointed at Alice’s back, and his long nails were as sharp as knives, it was obvious that blood was dripping from Alice’s neck.

Alice’s body stiffened, but she did not dare to move at all...

“Just like you said, your death will not affect my identity, but your death will not affect the negotiation between me and the person behind you. What do you think?” A strange smile appeared on Vaughn’s face... It was very inconsistent with her usual cold and hard image...

Alice froze on the spot. She did not even dare to raise her eyes to look at Vaughn, but she could still answer clearly, “You’re right, sir. My life and death are of no importance. Stepping on me won’t affect you in the slightest, it just depends on your mood...”

Her words were very realistic and cruel. The current situation was indeed like that. Even if she died, as long as she could cooperate and negotiate as the person behind her wished, her death would not be the slightest obstacle between the two of them.

If the other party wanted to vent a little because she was threatened, her death would be in vain... ..

The huge gap in strength left her with no way to deal with it. It was just like the shocking battle in the afternoon. She... .. had no way to deal with it. She was no different from those mecha operators who were crushed instantly. The only difference was that she was lucky and was not affected by the battle’s firepower. ...

Vien looked at the pale-faced Alice. She could feel the helplessness and unwillingness in her opponent’s heart. However, the strange thing was that she couldn’t feel any fear in her opponent... ..

This was a person who knew her current situation very well. However, when she knew her current situation, all she felt was unwillingness...

“Interesting little fellow...” Vien smiled slightly and retracted her palm. “Lead the way...”

Only then did Alice come back to her senses. She subconsciously touched her neck to check her injuries, but the next second, she realized that her skin was not injured at all. The obvious feeling of bleeding just now seemed to be an illusion... ..

If it was not an illusion... it was an illusion!

Alice stared at Vaughn and took a deep breath in her heart. The feeling of her skin being cut open, blood flowing out, and the warmth of her skin, along with some pain and shortness of breath due to her damaged trachea, was so real... But in the next second, it all disappeared... ..

Was this the top illusionist that the guy had mentioned?

“My lord, come with me...” Alice bowed again and led the fake Vaughn to the place that the Tauren had pointed out.

Vaughn followed her quietly. Looking at Alice’s back, he remembered who she was.

It seemed to be that Strange Tauren who had occupied her moon well... ..

That's right, the current Vaughn was Maya, the illusionist who had secretly left the hall of the undead...

She had been following Vogu's team for a long time...

She had previously found Li Goudan through Andrew's biological matrix. She was naturally interested in this guy who had top-grade secret treasures. After following him, she used an illusion to observe him from afar, she familiarized herself with the vanguard force that her senior brother had sent

Among them, there were only two people who posed a slight threat to her. One was the hired angel-hunting sorceress, Vienne, and the other was that old monster that had existed since the era of natural disasters.

Therefore, when Vienne went to track down blood demon Saab alone, she followed behind her, intending to deal with a threat first... ..

However, that guy was indeed troublesome. In the dangerous situation where Saab was pursuing her, she could not find a chance to kill her. She could only use an illusion seal, but the other party could not come out for the time being, therefore, she pretended to be Vaughn and sneaked into this force.

With her many days of observation of Vaughn and her ability in illusions, she was very confident that she would not be recognized. Even if it was that old monster, she was confident that she could fool him.

After all, that old fellow did not seem to be very familiar with Vivian. However, from her ability, although the other party was old, he was only a star-level who was stuck at the threshold of life-level. It was not unheard of for people below life-level to be able to see through her illusions, however, it definitely did not include that old fellow!

However, she did not expect that within the team, there was actually someone who had sneaked in earlier than her...

She was curious as to the origin of the Strange Minotaur. . .

On the other side, in a forest that seemed to have no end, Vaughn looked anxiously for the flaw in the illusion. At the moment, her wounds were not light, her sternum was broken, and she was bleeding heavily, with simple sutures and a solid form of biochemicals, he was barely able to suppress the injury.

However, her physical strength had declined severely. In the past, she would have used the illusory formation that trapped her to recuperate instead of expending her energy to find a way out.

However, she could not do it now. Unlike her previous self, who was a lone ranger, she now had a burden... ..

"Little one, you must hold on..." Vaughn was actually praying anxiously in her heart!

Chapter 1130: the Tauren Trade!

“Is this the place?” Maya was brought into a small forest nearby by Alice. Her field of vision was very normal, and she was only about a hundred meters away from the Rangers of the Vogu faction who were patrolling the area, many Rangers could see Maya from a distance.

However, no matter from any angle, the Black Tauren was just outside of everything that was happening...

A hint of wariness rose in Maya’s heart. Finding the other party’s location made her feel like a top-notch assassin...

The most important thing was not that, but the domain that formed around the other party. She could clearly sense that there was an invisible isolation force in an area of more than a hundred meters around the other party. This isolation force did not just block her vision, it included all the elements in the surroundings. It was as if this piece of space had been completely cut off from the world.

There was only one kind of power in this world that could do all this. That was the domain law power exclusive to the gods!

However, the most important thing was that this planet was not an ownerless land, but a place that was already under Andrew’s basic control. To be able to deprive a piece of space domain in someone else’s territory, this could only mean one thing: this guy in front of her... ... Was a guy who, at least in terms of law level, did not lose to Andrew!

Maya took a deep breath and bowed to the Tauren. “Junior Maya Eve greets Senior...”

Andrew was an ancient lich, one of the first batch of deity lords. His life level had long surpassed the star level, and he was one of the top existences in the universe. To be able to do this under his domain.., only those who were also strong in that domain would definitely be an old monster who had lived for God knows how long in the universe. It was not out of place for him to call her senior.

The Tauren looked at Maya with a smile. “The Eve family is really a distant memory. How is Mrs. Camille?”

Maya:” ...”

Mrs. Camille, the fourth hidden head of the Eve family, was also the strongest illusion assassin in the history of the Eve family!

In the universe, not many people knew this secret. The Eve family, which was rich in illusionists, was an academic arcanist family on the surface, but in fact, it was a dark force that controlled a huge amount of underground resources, it was one of the four dark forces in the East Star Field. On the surface, the master of the family seemed to be the best illusionist in the family, but in fact, the leader of each generation was actually an assassin, the Dark King who had gathered the top illusionist and assassination techniques of the Eve family!

And among the hidden family heads of the past generations, the most famous one was Camille. Since the trillions of eras, the strongest assassin in the family’s history had a glorious battle record. He had even killed two great lords with his bare hands. The top assassin who had once participated in the assassination of the undead Queen Sylvanas, and he was the one who was the closest to successfully attacking... ..

After that incident, this old ancestor had retreated behind the scenes and disappeared for many years. Moreover, the history of his family's hidden dungeon was not recorded in the federation, and not many of his direct descendants knew about it, the Eve family was actually one of the top assassination organizations in the Eastern Star region.

This fellow...

"Don't look at me with such a surprised expression..."the Minotaur said with a smile, "After all, I used to be the big employer of your family, and I contributed a lot of commission to the mission..."

As he spoke, the Minotaur took out a black coin and tossed it over. Maya took it in one go and her eyes were shocked when she saw the coin's design!

"Senior, how should I address you?"Maya bowed respectfully and asked.

The gulunar coin was only owned by the close partners of the clan. It was a credit currency issued by the first generation head of the clan. As long as they made a move, no matter what the mission was, the members of the clan would not be able to refuse it!

The mission to assassinate Sylvanas was also because of this coin, which almost killed the most outstanding family head of the family...

As far as she knew, there were only two coins that were still out there...

It was also the standard item for hiring their family's dark-skinned assassins... ..

"It's not convenient to reveal the name for the time being..."the minotaur laughed, "But the coin isn't fake, right? Can the nobles still keep their promise?"

Maya's pupils constricted. She stared at the coin for a long time without saying a word. She didn't know how much time had passed., in the end, she respectfully handed the coin back and said, "Since you have this coin, you should know that this is a mission that only the disciples of the Dark Group can accept. I don't have the qualifications..."

"You don't?"The minotaur laughed. "I saw your skills just now!"

Maya:"..."

"That Little Ranger named Vaughn isn't weak. Even in our era, he was still a top-notch ranger. If nothing goes wrong, he would be able to step into that level in another era, but he almost died at your hands!"

Maya's eyes turned dark when she heard that...

Yes, the injuries on Vaughn's body weren't caused by rampage Saab, but by her. Although it was a sneak attack, it was a fact that Vaughn almost died at her hands. It was also a fact that she was a top-notch illusionary assassin... ..

“As far as I know... This thing...” the Tauren looked at the coin and smiled. “Isn’t it one of the hard conditions for your family to inherit the family head? If you take back a coin, you can participate in the family head’s election. Aren’t you interested?”

Maya: “Senior knows quite a lot...”

“I’ve lived for a long time. My only strength is that I know more gossip...” the Tauren laughed.

Hearing that, Maya looked at the coin again and fell silent. Memories of the past flashed through her mind... ..

As an illusionary assassin with outstanding talent, Why didn’t she join the Dark Clan? Why did she join Andrew from the Northern Star Field? Why did she end up working under a great Lord as an illusionist.

Naturally, there was an inside story. However, no matter what she had to do, as long as she had this coin, she would have the qualifications to return to the clan and compete with those candidates for the position of the head of the clan. Moreover, she would also have many advantages... ..

It would be a lie to say that she was not tempted at all!

However, this coin was not an ordinary coin. It was a contract coin. Once she accepted it, the mission could not be failed. Camille had once been forced to assassinate the undead queen. In the end, she had failed. It was said that she had also suffered a terrifying backlash., if the owner of the coin had not taken the initiative to cancel the contract, that family’s strongest assassin would have already become history.

Maya did not think that if she accepted this coin, the other party would be so kind as to take the initiative to break the contract...

Although the temptation was great, she had to be controlled by others. Maya was not willing to accept such a business deal...

“Why don’t I tell you the contents of the mission first, and you can decide whether to accept this coin or not based on the situation?” The Minotaur suggested with a silly smile. Maya curled her lips slightly as she looked at him with a harmless expression.

“Senior, Tell Me...”

“Andrew has already told you the secrets of this world, right?” The Tauren suddenly asked.

Maya’s pupils constricted, and she looked at the other party with an even more horrified expression. How much more did this guy know?

The Tauren did not pay attention to the other party’s horrified expression, but looked at the sky. At this time, large-scale exchanges of fire had begun to appear in the sky. It was very obvious that the two deity lords above had already seen through Andrew’s delaying skills, they launched a general attack!

“I need a shell...”
