

A Bunch 1131

Chapter 1131 the eve of the Storm!

At this time, the Sea World was having a long-lost feast. In this paradise full of light, peace, and sweet food, the suffering Aborigines had a carnival, the yellow elves here provided them with delicious food and brewed wine.

There was no need to worry about safety and hunger, no need to worry about poverty and tomorrow. At this time, everyone gave up the heaviness of the previous days and completely immersed themselves in the beauty of a new life, eating delicious food, drinking wine that they had never drunk before, they felt as if all the suffering had left them.

Even the countess, who had always been calm, was drunk for a rare occasion. She revealed a smile that had not been seen for a long time.

Just yesterday, her daughter had already been treated. A beautiful woman in a white dress had personally operated on her daughter. Her deformed bones had been completely treated, although she still could not fully recover and move, but she had clearly gotten rid of that pathetic crippled life.

Without the Big Stone in her heart, the Countess appeared particularly pleased today... ..

“Mother...” at this moment, Jenny was sitting next to her mother. She stared at the Countess’ wine glass and said pitifully, “Can I have a sip?”

The countess looked at her coquettish daughter, her eyes filled with tenderness. Her daughter had not acted coquettishly with her since she was ten years old. In the castle, she addressed her as ‘mother’ rather than her current soft mother.

It was obvious that this experience had brought them closer. Jenny, who had previously been blinded by her noble status, understood what was most important...

“No...” although her daughter’s coquettish voice made her happy, she had no choice but to harden her heart and say, “The Doctor said that you have not recovered from your injuries, so you can not drink...”

“Oh... just one sip...” Jenny’s small hand tugged at the hem of the countess’s skirt, looking aggrieved.

The countess turned her head away. She knew that if she looked at her again, her heart might soften.

“Humph...” seeing that her mother was not fooled, Jenny finally picked up the juice beside her and took a fierce sip.

However, her face immediately revealed a look of enjoyment...

Even though she had been a noble lady for so many years, this was the first time she had tasted such delicious juice. This place was really good. That Big Guy was not lying...

Thinking of that big orc, Jenny’s expression of enjoyment became complicated...

She could really be saved. There was really a place of protection in this world... ..

You met a hero, sister...

Jenny looked at the sky with a sentimental expression and thought to herself, it's a pity that you, who should enjoy the fruits the most, did not persist until the end. Fate is really strange... ..

"What's Wrong?" The Countess's voice sounded beside her, "I just don't want you to drink. Do you have to show such a sad expression?"

"No..." Jenny smiled embarrassedly. Then, she suddenly leaned close to the Countess's ear and said, "Mother, that big uncle is secretly watching you again..."

"Eh?" The Countess was stunned. She glanced at him and soon found the big man that her daughter mentioned.

It was a tall man in a high-ranking knight costume. He was a simple-looking soldier with a tall figure. He was not handsome, but rather dull. When he saw her eyes looking over.., the man quickly withdrew his gaze, feeling guilty. The men around him laughed and looked at him disdainfully.

The countess smiled and tapped Jenny's forehead. "Are you looking for death?"

"I think this uncle is not bad. Although he was a little silly to confess yesterday, I think he is not bad..." Jenny laughed.

The countess rolled her eyes at her daughter.

Yesterday, that big and Silly Knight had secretly confessed to her...

She still remembered how helpless he looked yesterday. Obviously, he didn't have much experience in wooing women.

He was very dull, but he gave off a stable aura. In the past, she didn't like this kind of honest temperament, but now, after experiencing such a tragic change... This kind of stable temperament had a very high attraction to her, which made her quite moved...

She glanced at Jenny and said in a low voice, "Didn't you not like this kind of martial artist in the past?"

Indeed, although Jenny loved collecting contract knights in the past, she did not like this kind of rough martial artist in her heart. Her daughter in the past, Prince Charming in her heart was an elegant noble child or simply a mysterious mage with a noble status.

"I don't think there's anything good about those gentle and weak guys now..." Jenny curled her lips.

In the past, she liked the elegance of the nobles, especially the obvious difference between her father and the nobility of a warrior. At that time, she was indeed focused on finding a noble son like her father.

However, after this great change, she completely changed her mind. On the journey, the nobles she once admired, such as her elder brother, and the direct descendants of other families in Kate City, on this journey.., every time she encountered a crisis, they would perform worse than a peasant woman. They would often cry and shout, like a resentful woman.

They could not endure all kinds of hardships. Along the way, they would constantly complain, or they would emphasize the glory that they had in the past.

It was also because she had been paralyzed on the stretcher these past few days that she could see clearly that under the skin of these gorgeous nobles, there was actually such a weak existence...

It was not necessarily true that they were elegant in character. Her father had the temperament of a noble, yet he could beat her own daughter into such a state when he was embarrassed and angry.

A rude warrior might not be able to do that, right?

On the contrary, when she looked at the big guy that her sister knew, although he was ugly, he was as stable as a mountain. Along the way, he gave people the feeling that he was like everyone's god...

Perhaps she was really wrong in the past...

The countess did not notice what her daughter was thinking, because her daughter had indeed diverted her attention to that Knight.

She started to calculate in her heart...

A New World, a new beginning. She was no longer the countess. Even if that damned count was still around, she could not be the countess. Whether it was the army or the civilians, they would not recognize this identity.

A new start everything must start from scratch, but she is only a traditional aristocratic woman, in survival is not more than a peasant family of women, their mother and daughter need a rely on. And the man who did, as my daughter said, is perfect for... . .

— — — —

"Doesn't it look good?"

On the other side, Diana and brother dog standing in the dark, looking at those scenes of survival warm, indeed give a very good picture.

"It's pretty good..." brother dog laughed.

"Unfortunately..." Diana looked into the distance. "This scene will soon disappear..."

Brother Dog: "..."

At this moment, Sab's blood demon army, the mecha unit that Billy was in, had already followed the traces and found the South Sea port. In the night sky, the two Lords had already sent out their main forces. Very soon, the army would break through the blockade and descend into this world, andrew, who had set up everything in the dark, was about to make a crucial move. It was as if he knew that the undead ox head that Andrew had set up was also secretly setting up his own plan.

Even Seer, who knew the truth, brought the fairy tribe to participate in the vortex.

A huge storm was about to take shape. Just as Diana had said, the beautiful peace before them was about to disappear!

Chapter 1132: Emerald Dream

The first group to arrive at South Sea city was naturally seer's group. However, they did not have much time to study the spatial portal, so they could only hide for the time being. The second group of people also arrived there very quickly.

The second group of people arrived was Billy's mechanical unit. After they were stationed at South Sea city, they set up their defenses and occupied the best terrain at the port. After half a day, the Saab forces finally arrived.

They were all high-level blood demons, and their auras were extremely sinister and powerful. Since the two leaders were injured, it was obvious that they were very hostile towards Billy's group. Billy's group was also very vigilant towards Saab's unit.

However, although the atmosphere was very tense, the two teams tacitly did not make a move. They spread out their positions in the east and west of the port, as if they did not want to interfere with each other.

This made seer, who was hiding in the dark, frown.

The two teams did not fight to the death. Instead, they were stationed together and occupied the terrain, which made it difficult for him to operate. However, he did not dare to show his face. After all, the previous exchange of fire between the two teams was equivalent to him provoking them, he did not think that the two forces had yet to react!

In the end, they could only hide in the dark and look for an opportunity...

On the other side, Billy's forces, who had the best terrain, made no secret of their efforts to detect... . .

---

At this time VOGU forces, several high-level gathered together to discuss the next action.

Billy at this time look serious way, the tent sitting are all star-level powerhouses, in addition to Billy, Viane, Goron three people, at this time there are two more powerful individuals.

One of them was also a blue spirit like Billy, but from the looks of it, he was much older. His spiritual power seemed to be even more stable. He was obviously an old man who had entered the star rank, the other person was wearing a moon white cloak and looked extremely eye-catching. However, if one looked closely, they would discover that they could not see his exact appearance.

"What's the situation with that Guy Vogu? Even you have been sent down? Aren't you afraid that the higher-ups will take the blame?"Gerald said with a smile.

Up until now, the vanguard unit they were in had already gathered five star level experts. This was already considered a fortune in an ordinary Lord's faction. Vogu wasn't a great lord, and there were only a few star level experts under him, this place was already more than half of it.

Especially this guy in front of them, Plato, Vogu's chief space master. Just like that master who was worshipped by the energy department, he was a core member of Vogu's faction!

Plato looked at Goron with a smile. "It's been a long time, senior Goron..."

"Oh, hehehe..." Goron laughed and then looked at another guy in a white cloak. "This kid looks a little strange. Aren't you going to introduce him to me?"

Under the white cloak was a cold-looking woman. She glanced at Goron but didn't reply. She looked extremely arrogant.

Billy quickly said, "Lord Gerald, this is a group of hired experts with Lord Vien: Lanaya!"

Lanaya?

Maya, who was playing Vien, had a flash in her eyes. She was a little surprised. As a member of a top assassin family, she was naturally very familiar with the situation in the assassin world.

Lanaya was a direct descendant of the Templar assassin family. She was a trump card of this generation. Even if she did not inherit the family head, she would still be a great elder in the future. She was very popular in the assassin world, the two direct descendants that his clan had carefully groomed were now much worse than the others.

With the addition of the Demon Hunter Ranger Vaughn, his senior brother's combat strength was really not bad. Where did he get the money to support so many experts?

Faced with the junior's rudeness, a trace of coldness flashed in Gerald's eyes. However, he did not do anything. Just like he was afraid of Vaughn, this kind of top-notch master who had a deep family heritage was actually quite a threat to his existence, there was no need to fall out just because of a disagreement.

Of course... if there was a chance, it would be another story...

"Let me summarize the current situation first...". Seeing the current atmosphere, Billy coughed lightly and went straight to the point, "The Lord judged that Andrew's arrangement in the outer area was a trick to delay him from obtaining another secret in this world. What exactly is the secret? It's very likely that it's something hidden in this planet. It should be of great value!"

"Now, in order to test his judgment, the Liege has already sent out five main forces other than the Ace Legion. He should have started to act now..." saying this, Billy frowned slightly, apparently, she was the same as the chief intelligence officer, Peter. She felt that the Liege's approach was too risky.

"What we need to do now is to find out what the secret of this planet is as soon as possible. Is it really as the Liege has guessed? We are pressed for time, because no matter what the result is, we must find the answer as soon as possible!"

Everyone nodded slightly. If it was as the Liege had guessed, the things Andrew had arranged in space were all means of deception. The main purpose was to delay time and obtain the secrets of the planet, so they had to seize the opportunity, they could not let Andrew succeed. At least, they could not let Andrew take the things and run away.

If it was not as the Liege had guessed, they had to find out the situation as soon as possible. Even if it was a trap, if they could find out the situation earlier, they could also let the Liege lose less!

“What do you think of the current situation, Sir Plato?” Billy took the lead to look at the top spatial master in this force. After all, if there was some secret hidden here that Andrew had not been able to get his hands on until now., it was most likely a complicated spatial seal or some other seal.

“There is indeed a clever spatial arrangement here...” Plato said with a serious expression, “According to your intelligence, a group of local natives walked all the way to the port, right?”

“Yes...” Billy quickly nodded and replied, “We tracked them all the way here and lost their traces at the port of South Sea city. According to the traces on the sea, they shouldn’t have left by boat.”

“I checked just now...” . “...” Plato said in a low voice, “There are no traces of elements at the fault of a large number of footprints. You said that those people seemed to have disappeared into thin air. There is only one situation, which is that they directly entered a dimensional space at that location, and that dimensional space and the elements around this planet were directly separated from each other!”

“Then... are there any traces of space?” Billy asked quickly.

“That’s the trouble...” Plato frowned, he said faintly, “I spent a lot of time to check that place, but I didn’t find any traces of space. If that group of people really entered the alternate dimension here, it can only mean two things. Either the person who set up the space is far more advanced than me in Space Arcana, or he is at the fate level, or...” . “...” . There was a very advanced spatial barrier here! “!”

After a pause, he said, “I prefer the latter. and among all the barriers, there is only one that I can not detect at all...”

“What?” Billy asked curiously.

Beside him, Gerald suddenly interjected, “Are you trying to say that it’s the Emerald Dream?”

Chapter 1133: Cooperation (Part One)

Emerald Dream?

Everyone was stunned when they heard the word. They looked at Goron with a strange expression... ..

Especially Billy. She was the one who specialized in the spiritual field, but the name of Emerald Dream must have been heard by everyone in the Arcanist Circle. The main reason was that it was too famous.

It was rumored that the Dragon Race had once created an independent spatial barrier in order to resist the fairy race. Back when the fairy civilization was at its peak, the dragon race had withdrawn from the stage, however, the powerful dragons were unwilling to let their past and future be in the hands of others. Thus, the Green Dragon Race took the lead and created this strange space that was independent of space-time.

This was known as a legend in the field of space science. It was a barrier that completely separated the universe and was not affected by any elements in the universe. It was completely separated from the laws of matter in the universe and was even independent of space-time, it became the final resting place for the Dragons in the Elven civilization!

In the field of science, many bigwigs had doubts about this thing. They believed that there should not be a space barrier that was independent of laws in this world.

There were also scholars who suggested that the dragon race did not have this level of spatial attainments. However, another group of supporters provided a point of view. Perhaps in the dark., the Moon Elves, who were skilled in the spiritual domain and had opened the outer reaches of the universe to connect to the spiritual world many times, might have secretly supported the dragon race so that one day, they would fall out with the elf race and have a means of counterattacking.

However, the academic world had yet to prove whether the existence of this thing was real or not... ..

“That...”Billy was stunned for a moment before he said, “Sir Plato, isn’t your deduction a little too... bold?”

“Then what?”Plato rolled his eyes. “Space Masters are rare resources in the universe. Only a handful of them can reach the fate level. They are all famous. Do you think one of them is here?”

Billy and the others couldn’t refute his words.

Space Masters were precious, and fate level space masters were even more precious. According to the records of the Federation, there were only seven people in the universe. Even the dean of the Space Department of the Top Academy, White Dragon Sacred Academy, hadn’t reached the fate level... It could be seen how important those people were..? ... They were all ancient level big shots, and the resources in their hands were almost equal to the ten great lords. With that kind of status and strength, there was no need to beat around the bush with them. ? They could directly crush them.

However, if they were talking about the emerald dream, it would be even more ridiculous.

“I know you guys think it’s unbelievable...” . Plato lowered his voice and said, “But think about it. Although the Emerald Dream is very magical, if you put aside its own magical level, the whole thing is logical. And if it’s a fate-level spatial master in the dark, logic can’t be understood, right?”

Everyone was stunned. It made sense.

The emerald dream was indeed magical. It was like a legend. But if you put aside its own inconceivability, if you count it in, it could indeed connect everything!

Thinking about it carefully, Andrew spent so much effort to plot something. If it wasn’t a legend, then it would be weird. If the emerald dream was really here, then it would prove that Andrew’s plot was extraordinary, on the contrary, it could be connected to cause and effect logic.

On the contrary, if a life-level space master was here, it wouldn’t be able to withstand any scrutiny... ..

If that was the case, the other party’s words seemed to be quite reasonable... ..

Maya, who was at the side, nodded along with the others. Her heart shivered. These guys that her senior brother had recruited were really talented. Without any information, they could actually deduce things to such an extent... ..

“Then... if it’s really like what you said, it’s the Emerald Dream...”Gerald said faintly, “Are you confident in opening it?”

Plato glanced at him and said very bluntly, "Of course not..."

Everyone:" ..."

"What are you guys thinking about?" Plato spread his hands and said, "The emerald dream. It's an independent and space-time boundary. No one in the Federation of billions of eras could figure out the principle. How can I be 100% confident in opening it?"

"Then what's the difference between saying it and not saying it?" Gerald frowned.

Billy's face was also black. "Sir, the current situation is tense, can you say something useful?"

"Don't be anxious..." Plato smiled and said, "I might not be able to do it alone, but if I have a helper, I might be able to do it. At the very least, the chances are higher."

"Helper?" Billy looked at the other party in puzzlement. In the VOGU faction, he was the only star-ranked spatial master, so how could he have a helper. After all, this thing wasn't like cabbages. Many great lords only had one spatial master under them... ..

"There's a high-ranked spatial master hiding in this world. His strength is definitely not below mine!" Plato suddenly said.

"Oh?" The surrounding people were stunned. After all, hadn't the other party just arrived? How did he know that there was a spatial master on the same level as him?

"Saab Faction?" Billy asked with a frown.

According to the Intel, Saab faction didn't have any high-level spatial masters... ..

They had taken the advantage of the terrain in order to seize the opportunity and find the so-called secret Intel before Saab faction did. They couldn't possibly cooperate with Saab and the others at this time, right?

"Of course not that blood demon..." Plato smiled and said, "Didn't you say that before the blood demon attacked you, a deity Overlord suddenly appeared?"

"You're saying... that the little deity has a spatial master of the same level as you?" Billy frowned.

"How else... do you think he lured a blood demon of that level to your side?" Plato rolled his eyes.

Billy suddenly understood. Indeed, after the incident, the first thing she deduced was that Vera's sudden attack was not intentional. After all, attacking them from a thousand miles away was not very reasonable in terms of motive or other aspects, if it was simply decapitating her, it would be too high-profile, unless it was really stupid.

It was more likely that someone was luring them away!

However, although he thought that the blood demon's sudden attack had something to do with the little deity overlord, he could not figure out what method the other party used.

But at this moment, Plato reminded her that if the other party had a top-notch spatial master under them, everything would be very reasonable.

After all, whether it was the god Lord or the blood demon, they couldn't have suddenly appeared in their team out of thin air. The most likely possibility was that they had used a top-tier spatial spell... ..

Plato: "I've personally inspected your scene. There are traces of a top-tier spatial array. It's a very high-level folding technique. Although I don't know how the level five or six little lord you mentioned can have a master of that level, I'm very sure that this person really exists."

"Even so, how are we going to find him?" Billy frowned.

"I've left a message on his space matrix. If they are interested, they will come to negotiate..." Plato said with a smile. Suddenly, he raised his eyebrows and said with a smile, "Look... There's a reply!"

Everyone: "..."

Chapter 1134 the honest assassin of the Templar... ..

"You actually dared to agree to this..."

In a complicated space matrix, Lulu looked at Xi Ye and curled her lips.

"There's no other way. They're guarding the key places. We can't just keep wasting time, right?" Xi Ye said faintly, "And as you can see, there's already a fight in the sky. Whether it's Andrew being forced to come here or those two big shots breaking through Andrew's defense line and barging in, it's not good for us. Our Time Can't afford to be wasted."

"You're right..." Lulu looked at seer in confusion. The other party was wearing a helmet and a silly metal lump. She could not see what the other party was thinking at all. It was as if the other party did not care about anything at all... ..

She did not know if the other party was really that confident or if he could not tell because he was covered by the helmet...

Just as she was thinking, the entire matrix suddenly changed. A very powerful energy fluctuation was clearly transmitted through the matrix. Lulu raised her head and looked over. It was obvious that the designated group of people had arrived.

The leader, Billy, was the intelligence officer standing at the head. Behind him were the Space-type Master Plato, the Demon Hunter Ranger Vaughn, and the Templar assassin Lanaya. Meanwhile, Gerald was slowly following at the back... ..

Lulu frowned vigilantly. She could clearly feel that the people from the opposing faction were extremely dangerous. They were even more dangerous than the group of people under Bolton's evil demon.

Were all the Lords nowadays so perverse? Their subordinates were always four or five stars?

The principal stood silently behind seer, he said through voice transmission, "This faction is not simple... "...". Several of the people in front of him were well-known figures in the mercenary world, especially the one on the right who was wearing a white cloak. Be careful. If she suddenly attacked someone of your level, I might not even be able to protect you in time... "...". "..."

“That badass?” Seer’s face twitched under his helmet, but unfortunately, no one could see it.

“Not just any badass...” “...” “...” the principal said, “You’ve heard of the Templar family, right? “The top assassin family is rich in high-end assassins. This woman is the trump card of the Templar family. It seems that 90,000 years ago, when the Federation was attacking the great Lord Spoelss, four star archmages under Spoelss died at her hands!”

SPOELSS?

Seer was stunned. He vaguely remembered her. She seemed to be a very famous great lord of the Arcane Department in the East Star Field.

It was not that he was famous, but he was not low either. It seemed that he was more than twenty-five years old. In terms of overall strength, he was naturally weaker than the top ten great lords in the East Star Field, such as Ye Lu and Isabella, however, in terms of fame, he did not lose at all.

It was mainly reflected in the amount of support he provided to the poor.

This great Lord would often sponsor some talented children of the poor to further their studies, and most of the poor children who received further education would return to Bohr’s sect after they graduated, there were even a few very good rookies in the academic world that were nurtured by Bohr. In the market, this Lord’s reputation was not just good.

Many ambitious youths dreamed of being chosen by this uncle one day. Seer remembered that when she was still young, many of the descendants of the branch family had this dream...

“That Guy was attacked?” Seer was a little stunned. He had been traveling for 100,000 years and seemed to have missed out on some gossip?

“Mm... it’s said that he was secretly contacting the void...” the principal said in a low voice.

“This is really...” Xi Ye said in a daze, “You can’t judge a book by its cover...”

Who would have thought that a great lord with such a good reputation would actually collude with the void?

The topic had gone too far. However, this Ranaya was indeed not simple. The top-tier mages under the great Lord were definitely outstanding among the star ranks. To be able to kill four of them by himself, this battle prowess was a little exaggerated... ..

He also knew about the Templar family. They were truly a large family with deep foundations. Compared to them, his ELDIA family could not even be considered as a humble family... ..

To be honest, according to normal logic, for someone like Bolton and this lord-ranked force in front of him, having two star ranks under them was already considered very impressive. Were the star ranks so worthless now? Four or five of them would pop up at any time.

Seer and the principal were surprised at the other party’s overall strength, while Billy was also very surprised at the background of this little lord Seer.

"I didn't expect it to be you, senior..."the moment Plato saw the principal, he hurriedly gave a mage's bow with a very humble attitude. Billy, who was in the lead, also hurriedly followed suit and bowed. It was obvious that they knew the principal.

The corners of Seer's mouth curled under his helmet. This black-bellied old man is quite famous...

But in fact, with the original body of a slime, it was probably the only one in the entire federation who could become a top-tier powerhouse... ..

Gerald looked at the principal with a hint of surprise in his eyes. Clearly, he did not expect that such a guy would actually work under a small lord.

What made them even more curious was the little fellow next to seer.

The fairy race...

The fairy race was the top fortune-telling master in the universe. Their status in the universe was extremely high. Even many great lords were polite to them. After all, they often had requests to ask of each other.

Moreover, this race was extremely solitary. They had never heard of them being loyal to a certain sky god Lord... ..

And now, from their standing position, it seemed that whether it was the former dean of the Space Department of the White Dragon Sacred Academy or this little fairy clan, they all seemed to be led by this little overlord... ..

"How should I address you, sir?"Billy asked cautiously.

"Seer Eldia..."seer returned the greeting with a smile.

Eldia?

The surrounding people were stunned. They were all from the southern star field, so naturally, they had never heard of a small warrior clan in the Eastern Star Field. However, they could immediately react that this guy definitely didn't come from a top clan.

What was his background?

Billy smiled gently and said, "So it's seer..."

In his heart, he used telepathy to ask the top assassin master on his side, "Are you confident?"

Lanaya said expressionlessly, "That old man's space matrix is very complicated, and it's a bit troublesome. However, I'm confident that I can make a move at this distance before he can react. The point is that there's something wrong with that little deity himself, and he gives people the feeling that he's very dangerous...". "...". "..."

Everyone:"..."

Because Lanaya's words were said directly...

Seer's face also turned dark. were all assassins from the Templar family so straightforward?

Billy couldn't help but cover his face. This was why when she applied to be a vanguard with top-tier combat power, she chose Vienne instead of this person in front of him. In terms of direct combat power, this person was more eye-catching than Vienne in terms of combat results, but this character... It was really too difficult to grasp. ...

Lanaya did not pay attention to the awkward expressions of the crowd. Instead, she slowly walked towards seer. This action caused the principal and Lulu to frown deeply. It was really impolite for such a top-tier assassin to brazenly close the distance between them... ..

"What's under your mask?" Lanaya walked towards seer and asked curiously, almost touching her face...

Chapter 1135: the person who helped Vaughn...

"What's under your mask?"

Lanaya approached step by step. Her extremely rude actions caused the two forces to enter a tense atmosphere... ..

The principal was nervous that such a top-tier assassin would brazenly approach them. Billy and the others were also nervous about Lanaya's sudden action.

She had secretly asked Lanaya if she was confident, but she did not intend to make a move now. After all, both sides were here to discuss cooperation. Moreover, their main objective was that top-tier spatial master under the other party.

"Lady Lanaya, please don't act recklessly!" Billy could not help but say.

These words made the few people on the other side even more nervous, because they could see that the leader of the other party did not seem to be able to restrain this top-tier assassin.

However, while everyone was nervous about Lanaya's actions, Lanaya herself was actually even more nervous.

As a top-notch assassin, she was very sensitive to the thing that could threaten people the most on Xi Ye's body. Under that mask, there seemed to be a danger that she had never experienced before!

Xi Ye looked at the little girl who was leaning close to him with a curious expression, and his heart tightened. He did not think that she was just a curious and naive little child. After all, for her to be able to reach such a level, just her age alone was probably older than his grandfather... ..

However, Xi Ye's sensitivity surprised him. After all, even lords like Burton and Wine God did not notice the uniqueness of his mask at the first moment...

"You don't want to tell me?" Lanaya tilted her head and asked.

"It's not that I don't want to tell you, but I just find it strange... Why would you ask me this?" Xi Ye said gently, "What else can be hidden under the mask besides my handsome face?"

Everyone:"..."

Lanaya narrowed her eyes and looked at him seriously. With her control over her eyes and emotions, she was surprised to find that he was not lying... ..

Could it really be just a handsome face?

“Time is precious. Are you going to let her waste our time like this?” Seer tilted his head and asked.

“Lady Lanaya!” Billy’s voice became stern.

Lanaya frowned slightly and then moved away. She seemed a little unwilling, but this time, she obediently retreated to the back.

“It’s hard to believe that you actually chose to respond to us...” after Billy successfully called Lanaya back, he was slightly relieved. Then, he resumed his normal tone and began to negotiate.

“There’s no other way...” Seer smiled. “After all, you guys have occupied the most crucial terrain, and we don’t have enough time to waste. Isn’t that why you guys took the initiative to contact me?”

Billy looked deeply at the little lord, and his eyes became deep.

The other party understood the current situation very well...

The two lords above had already begun to break through Andrew’s defense line at any cost. If it was as his lord had expected, then Andrew should be taking action soon...

Time... was indeed running out...

“So... Seer knows what the secret here is?” Billy suddenly asked.

“I don’t know...” Seer shook his head, “I came here by accident, and I didn’t take the initiative to get involved in this matter. I really don’t know why that old senior is so determined to get me, but since he cares so much, it must be something amazing “... “...”

Of course, he wouldn’t really reveal the secret. What a joke. With such a big cake, regardless of whether the other party knew or not, he couldn’t let the other party think that he knew...

“Your faction has been tracking me all the way here. You should know more about the cause and effect than I do, right?” Seer asked with a smile.

“I’m sorry...” Billy shook his head and said sincerely, “We really don’t know...”

Seer was silent. She looked at Billy’s sincere expression, but she could not tell whether it was true or not.

“No matter what, whether we know or not, everyone’s goal is to find it. Before we open this enchantment, we are all in the same boat...” Seer laughed.

“What about after we open it?” The one who asked was Maya, who was pretending to be Vaughn.

Billy frowned when he heard that. Why were all these mercenaries making trouble at this cooperative pass? Was it the time to bring this up? Forget about Lanaya. That guy was not normal. Although Vaughn was a loner, she was usually a steady person. Why did she suddenly start?

Seer looked at Vaughn and said calmly, "After we open it... we'll naturally have to rely on our own abilities!"

"Tsk..."

As soon as she said that, everyone from the VOGU faction could not help but click their tongues, thinking to themselves, "This little fellow has such a big mouth! !!"

----

At this moment, in the forest thousands of miles away, Vaughn, who was sealed by the Maya Illusion Magic Array, was getting more and more anxious. As a top-tier ranger, her magic-breaking techniques were also top-notch, especially when she had been roaming the abyss all year round, facing those demons who had strange spells, she had come into contact with countless matrices over the years.

However, there were very few circumstances that could trap her for so long. The longer she stayed in the matrix, the more she could feel how brilliant the illusion matrix that trapped her was!

This was a top-notch illusionist, stronger than any she had ever met before, even comparable to the illusory angels in the third level of the abyss... ..

The key was that he was a top-notch assassin who was not weak at all compared to Lanaya!

Such a terrifying person had infiltrated the VOGU faction. Vaughn felt that even if Goron was there, he might not be able to guarantee the little guy's safety... ..

She had to get out of this place as soon as possible!

However, the more anxious she was, the harder it was for her to calm down and find a way out of this illusion.

She had been calm for most of her life, but at this moment, she was completely affected by her emotions, which made her feel a little ironic. Just as she was sighing with emotion, a chaotic voice suddenly sounded in the dark... ..

It was a very strange feeling, as if something was guiding her, guiding her path... ..

Vivian hesitated at first, because it was very likely that there would be a seductive trap design in this illusion matrix, and even a high-end mage would place a seductive creature as the core of the matrix, to entice those who could no longer concentrate.

But this could also be an opportunity...

Because these seductive creatures were often the core of the matrix.

Thinking of this, Vivian decided to take a risk...

She followed the voice and slowly walked towards the path that the voice was pointing at. Along the way, her spirit jumped to the extreme, trying to calm herself down so that she could react in time when she was attacked.

However, something strange happened...

Because the more she walked, the more she realized that this path seemed to be the right one!

As a Ranger with a brilliant magic-breaking method, although she had not been able to find the flaw in the array, she could still recognize it. She could clearly feel that this path was taking her far away from the hallucinations. The surrounding scenery also began to slowly turn into nothingness. It was obvious that she had reached the edge of the exit... ..

What was going on?

Was It really assistance? Or was it from Lord Vogu's side?

But as far as she knew, there were no top-notch illusionists in Vogu's faction, at least not at this level!

Filled with doubt, Vaughn maintained her high vigilance and slowly walked to the exit. At the border between hallucination and reality, she finally saw the person who had helped her.

It was an old humanoid creature. The level of the creature did not seem high, but that low-level physical body hid an incomparably large spiritual body!

Unlike a creature like the blue spirit, which had a weak physical body and strong spiritual power, although the Blue Spirit's physical body was weak, its basic strength had to keep up, and this level-six or seven body in front of her contained so much spiritual power that only one creature would do so.

It was the undead!

"Who are you?" Vaughn asked coldly.

The old man turned around and looked at Vaughn gently. He had a smile on his face, but he did not say anything.

Vaughn thought for a few seconds and instantly reacted. "You're Andrew? ?"

Chapter 1136: Andrew's final counterattack? (I)

In the starry skies, the Vogu faction had sent out a large portion of their main force after many negotiations with the Burton faction. The VOGU faction had directly sent out five large regular legions, each of them numbering in the hundreds of millions, all of them were advanced mecha warriors.

This included the large interstellar firepower battleship legion, which instantly erupted with the powerful firepower of the advanced mechanical overlord faction.

On the other side, Bolton's forces also sent out their main legions, this included the 2nd Legion's Balrog Legion, the 3rd Legion's Mana Legion, the 4th Legion's Shadow Demon Legion, the 6th Legion's Rock Demon Legion, and the 9th Legion's Dylan Demon Legion, furthermore, each legion was equipped with a activation star belonging to their own legion. An overwhelming number of high-level demons pounced on the giant python, and a few of the activation stars also transformed into terrifying biological weapons and launched an attack!

Within Bolton's faction, Bolton was sitting at the main control desk, paying attention to the battle situation at all times. He, who had always been calm, had a rather nervous expression on his face at this moment.

All of his previous actions, including letting the entire faction go all out, although it would consume resources, it would only consume resources. As long as he did not lose any critical combat strength, everything could be made up for.., it was just spending some time to accumulate it all over again.

But now, it was different. Whether it was the purebred demons that had followed him or the activation stars that he had spent a huge price to create, they were all the foundation of his faction. When he used them as a bargaining chip to really suppress them.., it was impossible to say that his heart did not waver at all!

He had left his clan and received the assistance of many bigwigs within the abyss, as well as the followers of a bunch of purebred demons. It was not without a price, and all these resources could not be duplicated. He only had one chance. If he lost... .. He would lose completely!

"My Lord..."the intelligence officer beside him clearly saw Bolton's nervousness and comforted him, "It seems that Vogu did not lie. He should be sending out the main army..."

This comfort made Bolton roll his eyes.

It was the same as in the casino. He had finally made up his mind to put all his bets on the game. Just when he was feeling nervous, the subordinate beside him said, "Boss, don't be afraid. The guy next to you is also doing the same thing as you!"

He felt that there was no comforting effect at all...

If he lost, it couldn't be said that his mood would be better because he had someone to lose with him, right?

Of course, it wasn't that there was no comforting effect at all. At the very least, it meant that that guy called Vogu wasn't toying with him...

Hundreds of millions of mecha warriors were using the best seventh-generation mecha techniques in the federation's current mecha market. As a sky god who had yet to reach the level of a great lord, this level of strength could already be considered to have exceeded the norm.

Even if they had not used their ace cards, they had definitely used their main force. If the other party had been a little stronger, he probably would not have had the qualifications to cooperate with them.

Just as he was thinking, the commander's side sent over the latest report from the front line.

"Sir, the enemy's outer biological matrix has shown signs of weakening for the first time!"

"Weakening?"This latest report caused Bolton's expression to tremble, and his eyes instantly filled with a myriad of thoughts!

To be honest, when Vogu suggested to launch a frontal attack on the Andrew Matrix without any sample information, he was still worried. If it was really a trap set by Andrew.., then he would have to suffer the same loss as the other party.

And at the beginning, when the two forces attacked, the other party's matrix was constantly filled with strengthened troops of that level. They completely withstood the frontal attack from both sides, making him unable to figure out the situation on Andrew's side.

At this moment, when he heard his subordinate say that the array's energy had weakened Bolton's heart, he instantly felt relieved!

This at least proved that Vogu's judgement wasn't wrong. That old fellow Andrew was really stalling for time. The so-called alchemy dragon technique was actually just a cover! !

"What about that giant python?" Bolton hurriedly asked.

"It has been continuously weakened under the powerful firepower of the Alliance army, and currently, it seems that there aren't any signs of dragonification that the Liege is worried about!"

Hearing this, Burton was almost completely certain of Vogu's guess. He thought to himself, 'as expected, his student understands this teacher...'. ...

However, although he had put down his worries, new questions that he had to consider immediately surged into his mind.

Andrew was stalling for time, which meant that there was indeed a high-value secret inside the planet. If he and Vogu launched a frontal attack with such a high profile, it would definitely force Andrew to move faster inside the planet.

Facing such a situation, he only had two countermeasures. Either he used his trump card to speed up Andrew's matrix defense and quickly lead the army into the planet to seize the initiative.

However, this path was extremely risky, which was equivalent to exposing his trump card to Vogu's forces in advance. He didn't believe that Vogu had already used all of his strength, so he must have held back. Most likely, he also had trump cards like himself.

Under the situation where both sides were similar in strength, whoever exposed their trump card first would be at a disadvantage!

If they attacked, they would face the risk of being targeted by Vogu later.

Another path was to continue the stalemate and be vigilant against vogu, so that SAB and the others could resist the pressure from Andrew.

However, this would easily create the risk of letting Andrew Go. Once SAB and the others were broken through by Andrew before his main force broke through the defense line and let Andrew successfully get the secret.., it was highly possible that Andrew would directly flee back to the world of souls, leaving him with nothing!

However, choosing the latter option would be a safe bet. If Andrew successfully escaped and took away the most valuable thing, there would be no need for him and Vogu to continue the conflict. At the very least, he could ensure the safe return of his main force... ..

What should he choose?

Bolton was suddenly caught in a dilemma. He was originally a rather decisive person, but when faced with the decision to bet everything on this gamble, he was still unable to make up his mind at the first moment!

On the other side, as Bolton expected, under their pressure, Andrew launched his final attack!

-- --

Inside the new territories, beneath the ground, endless carcasses churn, rapidly eroding the sea. The carcasses absorb water as quickly as a sponge, and expand rapidly!

Almost immediately large areas of the sea began to fill up with mounds of rotting flesh.

However, when the rotten meat invaded the port area of the South China Sea, it was as if it had encountered a compressor. All the expanding rotten meat began to shrink rapidly. When the mounds of rotten meat entered the South China Sea area, they would become as small as a speck of dust.

Obviously, the energy in this area of the sea far exceeded that of the ordinary sea area, making the rotten meat that was absorbing the expanding energy appear so small here... ..

However, it was unable to withstand the accumulation of more and more flesh and blood. The endless amount of flesh and blood continued to rush into the South Sea. Even though it was compressed into countless specks of dust, the accumulation of specks of dust actually started to spread rapidly in the south sea area.

At the port, countless soldiers wearing pitch-black activation armor and holding the Heaven Enlightenment sword also walked to the port and formed a confrontation with the Vogu faction that was stationed in the South Sea city!

Chapter 1137: Andrew's final counterattack? (part two)

After Andrew's troops arrived, they quickly launched a frenzied attack on Vogu and the others. As expected, Vogu's troops also set up defenses early... ..

In less than an hour, the entire South Sea city was transformed into a motorized city using the Nazi robot. All kinds of heavy firepower devices brought from the forces were quickly loaded up with the cooperation of the automated city, an old medieval city was also transformed into an excellent steel fortress in such a short time!

Facing the frenzied attacks of the carrion and those strange soldiers, Billy, who was sitting in the center of the city, used his spiritual talent to use every part of the city's firepower to the fullest, this temporary mechanical city actually erupted with a rather impressive firepower, forcibly blocking Andrew's army outside!

This scene caused the Saab troops hiding in the southern part of the port to fall silent...

Saab coughed up a mouthful of blood and looked at the battle situation with a pale face. He smiled weakly and said, "The mechanical forces are really convenient in this aspect. Defending the military is like moving from home!"

Vera patted Saab's back gently with a worried expression. At this time, her arm had already been reattached, but her face clearly had a loss of blood and Qi. Looking at the powerful firepower of the troops under Billy's command, she was still a little scared.

At that time, she was too confident...

The level of this psionic master and the quality of her troops were obviously top-notch. If she had not barged in suddenly and the other party had been prepared, she might not have been able to break through the outer defense line alone. If she had been able to realize the other party's strength and escape at the first moment, SAB might not have been so heavily injured... ..

"Sir... we... What should we do now?" One of the blood demon officers asked in a low voice.

"What should we do?" Sab narrowed his eyes slightly. "We can only do as we see fit in the current situation..."

When the blood demons heard this, they were instantly speechless, but they did not say anything more. They knew in their hearts that what their boss said was the truth. Their blood demon unit was individually strong and was a top-notch scout unit, but they did not have much of an advantage in this kind of positional warfare.., if they really wanted to participate, it was very normal for a high-level blood demon to be replaced by a low-level mecha operator.

It was said that the high-level battle strength did not have an advantage either. Lord Sab and Lord Vera were both injured. On the other hand, the VOGU faction seemed to have sent reinforcements a few days ago when they had three stars, now, the high-level battle strength of the two sides could not be compared at all. They were completely crushed.

Right now, unless there was a great opportunity, attacking rashly would be courting death...

Sab was also a little anxious. He had already used a secret technique to report the situation to the higher-ups, but unlike vogu who had a reverse space passage, the higher-ups could not directly provide support for him. They could only be bystanders in the current situation... ..

They might not even be able to be bystanders in the future...

Sab looked at Andrew's terrifying offensive. He admitted that the VOGU force was an elite force, and their temporary defensive positions had amazing combat strength. However, under the command of a legendary Lord, it was only a matter of time before they were defeated, when Andrew entered the battlefield, he did not even have the courage to resist. He could only take his troops and leave this place that seemed to have some secret!

Even... . Even the safety of the evacuation is in doubt. . .

-----

Most of the people who saw this war scene were quite nervous, including those within the VOGU faction who were doing logistical supplies. They were all extremely nervous, but there were also some exceptions among the crowd, there are some brain circuitry strange people, but at this time appears to be exceptionally excited!

“Gou Dan, Gou Dan... do you see the outside? This is a great opportunity! !”

In South Sea city, Gou Dan and the rest of the logistics department were hiding behind the city. Looking at the intense battle outside, Bai Cai's eyes lit up. “Don't Let Your Mind Wander. Focus. Once the city is destroyed, we'll run away together. Do You Hear Me?”

Gou Dan: “Blood...”

Was this cabbage's brain made of steel? How could this be called an opportunity? This was a f * cking chance to die, right?

Looking at the terrifying scene outside, it was even more exaggerated than a F * cking biochemical movie. Shouldn't they be praying that this mecha unit could hold on?

Are you sure that we can run away after those inexplicable things have invaded? Just by relying on the two mechas that Grandpa and the rest stole? What are you thinking?

The dog egg in the heart swears, from now on if goes out traveling, definitely will not take this brain has the pit goods... . . .

“What about the rear? Haven't you got a position yet?” Asked Billy distractedly, commanding from the center of the city.

The offensive was more intense than she had expected, and the energy consumption of the defensive resupply was enormous. She had tried to conserve energy by fine-tuning the command, but the consumption was still staggering. . .

Looking at the time, it had only been three hours since the start of the offensive. It was indeed unreasonable to rush the progress of the rear. After all, the rear was conquering the legendary emerald dream... . .

But she really has no way, considering the energy required to retreat behind, now conservative estimate she can not last more than two hours! ! !

In the starry skies, Vogu's faction immediately discovered that the energy of the entire alchemy array was weakening. However, compared to Bolton's faction, his faction's detection was even more meticulous, this was because their faction had a first-rate federation energy master.

“Bourne...” Vogu looked at Bourne, who had personally rushed over, and felt somewhat puzzled. “Why aren't you under the control of the Department of Energy?”

"I found some abnormalities, so I came to report..."the old man called Bourne had a serious look on his face.

All of the forces who saw this old man bowed respectfully. Anyone who managed to become a high-level mecha operator in this force understood the importance of this old man in the force.

It was not an exaggeration to say that half of the advantages of the VOGU force were supported by this old man. The VOGU force was a balanced force, they had a pretty good standard in high-precision mechanical manufacturing, spatial arrays, and the construction of the mind network. However, the one with the greatest advantage was still the high-quality energy source in their faction.

The precise energy device and high-quality energy source developed by Master Bourne's team had greatly improved the mechanical efficiency of the entire faction. The same type of machine.., the reason why they could have higher firepower and efficiency than the lords of the same mode with high-quality energy source was all thanks to this master.

"What abnormality?"Vogu looked at the other party seriously. He was very clear about this old man's character. He would never exaggerate.

Bourne paused for a moment, he lowered his voice and said, "According to my observation, the energy weakening of Andrew's biological alchemy array is not entirely due to the consumption of energy from fighting with us. From the change in the pattern of runes and the cycle of energy changes of its entire biological array, it looks more like... " ... "..."

"More like what?"Vogu's heart tightened, and he quickly asked.

"More like he took the initiative to extract the energy!"

Vogu"! !"

Chapter 1138: Secret Realm

The front was burning with flames of war, and the rear was also urgently trying to break the barrier... ..

There were more than 80 spirit officers in charge of support, which was almost all of the troops they brought this time. Originally, they were all used to assist Billy in commanding the Mecha Corps, but in order to break the barrier as soon as possible, almost all of them had been requisitioned.

Billy was left behind as a psionic commander to defend against Andrew's Attack!

It sounded a little crazy, but there was really no other way. This was because even if all the psionic officers were requisitioned, it still felt like it was not enough.

The runes were too complicated!

The structure of the entire alchemy array was completely different from the current mainstream structure. There were even no similarities with the ancient alchemy array structure that Plato usually studied. Almost every structure had to be re-analyzed, every time the model was unlocked, it had to be handed over to the next psychic officer for analysis and recording.

The structure types of these thousands of monsters were almost endless. Every time the high-level psychic officers were given less than ten seconds to analyze the model, they would be requested to provide data by the space mages at the forefront, the heads of the psychic officers almost exploded.

Under such high-frequency work, the tension of the group was no less than that of Billy, who was commanding the army alone at the front line!

Plato, who was at the forefront, was seriously studying the massive amount of runic structures as if he had found a treasure. To be honest, if it was not an emergency, he would have been excited for several days when he encountered such a wonderful refining array.

However, he had to find a simple and crude way to crack it in the shortest amount of time, which made him very conflicted. As a top-notch academic space master, treating these excellent arrays was like tasting delicious food.., naturally, he hoped to slowly absorb them and enjoy the beauty of it.

However, reality did not allow it. He had no choice but to adopt a simple and crude method. He secretly made up his mind. In the future, when he had the opportunity, he would definitely retrieve and record the data of this entire matrix. It was simply too brilliant!

To be honest, if it was not for the fact that there was a space master who was even more outstanding than him, he would not have been able to deal with so many data models at all.., originally, an academic mage like him didn't think much of dragons who relied on their talent to survive.

But after seeing this matrix, his view of the Dragons changed greatly. He didn't expect the dragons to have such advanced rune technology. Regardless of whether this was the legendary emerald dream or not.., he had the highest respect for the giant dragon who created this matrix.

As for why he was certain that the owner of the Matrix was a dragon, it was because the key language used for multiple uses of runes was clearly ancient dragon language...

He himself was not very good at translating this ancient language, and it was all thanks to the person next to him... ..

When he thought of this, a trace of doubt rose in Plato's heart.

The person next to him was able to become the former dean of the White Dragon Sacred Academy's Space Department. He felt that it was very normal for him to have profound knowledge. Whether it was being proficient in ancient dragon language or having research on the ancient matrix.., the speed of cracking it was far faster than he had imagined.

But...

Why did he lock onto the position of the matrix so quickly?

To be honest, in their original plan, it would take them a few days to find the entrance conservatively. After all, this planet's sea area was not small. It took up almost three-quarters of the planet's area. It would take a lot of effort to search carefully, if they were unlucky, it was not impossible for them to not find the entrance within half a month.

However, it was as if the other party knew where the location of the matrix was in advance, directly saving them the effort of searching.

“It should be about time...”

Just as Plato was puzzled, the principal in front let out a slight sigh of relief. “This should be the central structure!”

Plato hurriedly looked over when he heard that. Through the spiritual thread provided by the principal, he could clearly see that in the middle of the densely packed matrix structure, there was an extremely complicated runic structure, all the energy circuits gathered there after being transformed through the complicated route, and then quickly spread out like blood vessels through it, distributing the complicated energy perfectly.

“Hiss...”Plato took a look, he was almost deeply attracted by the exquisite structure. It took him a lot of willpower to bite the tip of his tongue and barely pull his consciousness back from inside, however, he still sighed, “What an exquisite structure. The energy circuit can be designed like this. How can the mastery of the dragon race be so high?”

The principal laughed, “You juniors always think that you are ahead of the ancient people. You know, how long has it been since the founding of the God Federation? “The ancient dragon civilization has existed for more than ten thousand times longer than the God Federation. How can it be as primitive as you think?”

Seeing that the two still had time to be humble with each other, the spiritual adjutant who was in charge of the overall control immediately said, “Sirs, Sir Billy has urged us several times. The situation is not optimistic. Now that we have found the core runic structure, shouldn’t we seize the time to crack it?”

“Ahem...”Plato coughed lightly and glared at the adjutant. Then, he looked at the principal with a smile. “Sorry for making a fool of myself, senior.”

“It’s fine...”the principal smiled gently. “This little kid is right. We really don’t have that much time to be humble with each other now...”

“Senior is right...”Plato hurriedly replied. Then, he asked, “Then, how do you think we should crack it?”

“I took a look...”when it came to business., the principal’s expression became serious. “This matrix is very complicated. If we want to crack it meticulously, honestly speaking, we can’t do it in less than half a month. But now, obviously, we don’t have the time...”

“Yes...”Plato looked at the core rune and nodded, he felt that the principal’s prediction was conservative. With the complexity of the rune, it would take at least three months to dismantle it perfectly. If he wanted to completely understand the structure, he would need to study it for at least three years!

“My idea is to use more violent methods!”The principal said faintly, “Your force is a high-end mechanical force. You should have pure energy blocks with you, right? “Get someone to gather the energy. We have to destroy the structure by force and use the gap to enter the interior of the Barrier!”

“This...”Plato was shocked, “Isn’t it too risky?”

“Risky?”The Templar assassin said coldly, “You’ll know what risk is when Andrew’s army comes in!”

Plato, "..."

The fake Vienne asked directly, "What kind of risk will be triggered if we forcefully use energy to break through?"

"A lot...". The principal said in a low voice, "First, we will experience a space storm. According to the intensity of the storm, it is possible for it to tear us into pieces. Even if we can survive the space storm, the Emerald Dream is the most advanced space barrier. After it is quickly assembled, we will be sealed in different space fragments!"

Chapter 1139: terrible situation

"Sir Billy, there's a link. It's a link from Adjutant Mira!"

On the other side, Billy, who was commanding the battlefield, was shocked when he heard the hint from his assistant psionic officer. He quickly said, "Hurry up and come over!"

He was now commanding the entire battlefield by himself. Every part of the firepower had to be calculated meticulously by himself. His brain had almost reached the limit of calculation. Under such circumstances, if it wasn't for the fact that there was a major breakthrough.., the Adjutant would definitely not send a link to disturb him!

"What's the situation?" Billy asked quickly after the link.

Billy asked quickly while on the other side, he was distracted and continued to command the battlefield. If rainy was here, she would definitely be very interested in the job of psychic commander.

"Sir..." after the adjutant connected to Billy, he quickly explained the situation... ..

Billy said without hesitation, "We'll use the second method. It's impossible for us to hold out for three to five days for you to slowly dismantle it."

"But according to Sir Plato, the space storm inside is likely to blow us into different space fragments. Our forces are likely to be scattered!"

"There's nothing we can do..." Billy frowned. "Can we ask if we can gather as many high-end fighters as possible?"

"The possibility is not high...". The other side immediately replied, "Because we can't test the level of the energy storm, we'll only know the exact situation on the spot. There's even a possibility that we won't be able to get into the barrier and will be killed by the Energy Storm!"

"Is that so..." Billy hesitated for almost a second, then said decisively, "Let's use the second one. Ask them, how much energy do I need to reserve to crack the energy?"

The adjutant paused for a few seconds, obviously asking for advice. After a few seconds, he quickly told Billy a number.

Hearing the number, Billy's face turned slightly ugly, and he asked again, "Then how much time do they need to use this energy to open the Matrix?"

The adjutant quickly gave an answer. "At least a quarter of a star..."

Billy's expression turned even uglier after he received the answer. This time did not sound like much, but the key was that the amount of energy left for her was too little. Under normal circumstances, she would not be able to hold on for even an eighth of a star if she used that little energy.

This answer was basically telling her that she had to use the lives of others to stack them up! !

From the perspective of the situation, if it was really as Lord Plato had said, entering the barrier would cause one to be swept into a spatial storm, and everyone would be scattered by the fragments, then the role of the mecha troops in the barrier would not be that great.

After all, the strength of the army came from the coordination of the battle formation. They needed to rely on various additional conditions such as the matrix, equipment command, and so on to integrate their strength in order to burst out with a combat strength that was far above their level. Otherwise, just based on numbers alone., it was impossible for a million level 10 lifeforms to gnaw a star-grade powerhouse to death!

Using the lives of low-level soldiers to buy time for star-grade powerhouses to enter the barrier seemed to be the most beneficial method at the moment, but...

As a level 1 mecha operator who had upgraded all the way to the present-day master of the mind, Billy still had some resistance towards this kind of method of sacrificing the lives of the low-level soldiers!

"Sir! !"

After about five seconds of silence, the Adjutant's hurried voice came from the other end of the link!

Clearly, the other party also knew that every second was consuming a huge amount of energy!

"I understand..." Billy finally sighed and said faintly, "Tell Sir Plato that there is no problem, I will complete the mission!"

"Thank you for your hard work, sir!" On the other side, the adjutant let out a long sigh of relief. His expression was complicated. He naturally knew what this officer of his was hesitating about. He was also a commoner who had climbed all the way to this position., naturally, he could understand his superior's dilemma.

But... This was war! !

"F * ck, this is too F * cking awesome! ! !"

At this moment, Grandpa and soap, who had been arranged to use various firepower devices to fight the monsters at the periphery of the frontline city defense, were currently immersed in extreme excitement.

Due to their shapeshifting, the two of them had never experienced a large-scale battlefield. Whether it was the initial void invasion or the subsequent great war between the New World Orcs, they could only listen to other people describe the scene.

Although they did not say it out loud, they still yearned for it in their hearts.

They did not expect to encounter such a large-scale battle the moment they arrived in the New World!

Looking at the bio-beasts that blotted out the sky and covered the earth, looking at the firepower of this mechanical city, looking at this grand battle scene, compared to the scene before their eyes., they felt that the war that those small players experienced in the New World Steel Martial Empire was like playing house!

If he could return safely, Grandpa Lu felt that he could blow up this wave! ! !

Even though... . The ones in charge of operating were all soap, it was just a spectator ... But at least it was a close-up spectator. Did the rest of you have the chance?

“Everyone, please pay attention! Everyone, please pay attention! The energy source is in a state of emergency. From now on, the energy reserves of the Fang side are less than 1,000 star cards. The energy magnetic field is about to close, and the firepower equipment will automatically be converted into close-combat equipment. Soldiers, please receive your equipment within three minutes!

“F * ck!”The excited Grandpa Lu was instantly excited to the extreme when he heard this announcement in his mecha. This hongda scene was already so exciting for long-range firepower sniping, but it could actually still be used in close combat?

What would a mecha close combat look like?

In his mind, Grandpa Lu instantly imagined the scene of their mecha equipped with giant swords that were as tall as a person in the Sea of monsters. When he thought of the scene of flesh and blood flying everywhere, Grandpa Lu almost had an orgasm in his head!

However, just as he was excited, the other mecha operators in the tunnel started to voice their doubts...
“What? ?”

“The monsters outside are so strong that they want us to fight with them?”

“Isn’t this courting death?”

The last word of courting death instantly made Grandpa Lu pour a bucket of cold water on him. He instantly calmed down and looked at brother soap beside him in a daze... ..

Soap’s face turned ugly. It was obvious that he had gotten a bad result from his memory...

“Brother... is this close combat very difficult?”Grandpa Lu asked carefully.

Soap looked at his grandpa. He wanted to say something nice, but the answer in his memory didn’t allow it. After hesitating for a while, soap decided to share his despair and said to grandpa lu honestly, “It’s a dead end!”

“Can you be a little more tactful, brother...”

Soap looked at him again with his dead fish eyes and nodded. “It’s not a big problem...”

Grandpa Lu:”...”

I told you to be tactful, but I didn't ask you to be so perfunctory... ..

Soap didn't continue to pay attention to his powerless grandfather. Instead, he directly opened the spiritual link.

"Cabbage, cabbage, come in!"

"Roger, Roger, what's the situation, boss..."cabbage quickly replied.

"The city is about to break through. Where are you now? Later, we'll take advantage of the chaos to come and pick you up... err, there's also Gou Dan..."

Gou Dan:"..."

Chapter 1140: "Hopefully, there will be more survivors...".

"Soldiers..."

While many mecha operators were questioning this decision, Billy's voice quickly appeared in the ears of all the mecha operators...

"The energy is indeed running out, but it's not completely lifeless. Behind us, Sir Plato has already found a way to open the barrier. As long as we can buy some time, we will be able to use that barrier to find a way to survive. I promise that after the barrier is opened, I will not give up on any soldier, but before the barrier is opened, please fulfill the obligations that a soldier should have!"

Billy's words silenced all the discussions. Everyone stopped talking, but not many people agreed. The other party had promised not to give up on any soldier after opening the barrier, but what about before opening it?

In half a week, how many of them would survive in such a strong biochemical tide?

Everyone knew that their chances of survival were not high, but just as Billy said, they had to fulfill their duty as soldiers, because they had signed a contract... ..

When it came to matters like being a soldier, they couldn't expect to be paid all the time and not do anything, right?

Just as they were feeling depressed, Billy's second promise came!

"I promise that no matter if the soldiers in this battle are sacrificed or not, they will be rewarded with level 3 battle merits. Those who die in battle will receive a compensation of 50 million federation coins in addition to their battle merits. The faction will immediately distribute it to their immediate family members, and their immediate family members and descendants can enjoy the exclusive training quota for the faction. All the expenses of the university will be borne by the faction. If it's the mecha operator route, they can enjoy the training of the faction's advanced mecha instructors throughout the entire journey, and there is no restriction on who the family members will be loyal to!"

As these words rang out, the hearts of all the mecha operators jumped!

Students who could graduate from the Federation University and successfully become outstanding mecha operators had high iqs. It was impossible for them to be fooled by some hot-blooded chicken soup. Thus, all of Billy's promises were very real., whether it was the promise of a way out or the compensation after dying in battle, they were all very real things. Furthermore, the promised compensation was very generous!

The third-class battle merits of the VOGU faction could be exchanged for a moon Fox seventh-generation mech, which was worth over 100 million. In the faction, it was basically something that only a colonel-level officer could afford, and in the normal development of the VOGU faction., it would take at least 400,000 years for a lieutenant to become a major, and they had to ensure that they would be active on the battlefield all year round.

And now, as long as they could survive, they could save hundreds of thousands of years of accumulation. They could save a huge amount of points and salaries to be used to further their studies. Whether it was upgrading better equipment or going to the academy to study higher-level courses., he could take himself to the next level!

As for the risk?

What a joke. They were all soldiers who had been on the battlefield all year round. When was there no risk? 400,000 years, active on the battlefield all year round. There were many times when there were risks. There were not many times when there was such an opportunity!

Moreover, even if he died in battle, the compensation was still quite tempting. 50 million federation coins and a free grooming spot. He could at least get the greatest compensation for his family... ..

Billy was a spirit officer. The promises she made using the spirit link would be recorded. As the commander, the forces that she made had to honor their promises. If the forces did not honor their promises., it would cause a devastating blow to the credibility of the entire force!

In an instant, all the soldiers accepted this solid promise and quickly began to gather at the equipment on the city wall.

Seeing that their subordinates had moved, many high-ranking officers and Billy immediately let out a long sigh of relief.

One of the lieutenant generals secretly transmitted a message to Billy, "Sir, isn't the price a little too high? When the time comes, Lord Vogu's side..."

Billy sighed. Each of them had 50 million, plus a training quota and third-grade battle merits. This might be the largest compensation in the history of Vogu's force, but she couldn't do anything about it., this mission was to send the soldiers to their deaths. No one was stupid. If you didn't compensate them much, who would care?

"I'll explain to Lord Vogu at the end. You just have to guard the defensive line well. Remember, general-level officers can not be easily lost. After hearing my message, retreat immediately!"

Although Plato said that everyone would be separated by the space debris, it didn't mean that they wouldn't have the chance to regroup after being separated. It was always good to have more combat strength.

“Yes, Sir!”

On the other side, the mecha soldiers all came to the mechanized equipment of the city defense in an efficient manner under the arrangement of the commander. Grandpa Lu and soap also followed behind the large group, following their example.

“Damn, soap, look over there, it’s So Cool!” Grandpa Lu said excitedly as he pointed at a tall mecha in front of them.

The mecha quickly flew to the front of the stage. A cannon that was originally standing on the city wall quickly turned into tiny metal particles that covered the mecha. A second later, the mecha’s entire body was covered in a layer of metal membrane, sharp blades grew all over its body, and a huge sickle that was even bigger than the mecha appeared in its hand. It looked extremely lethal!

“What do you think we will become?” Grandpa Lu asked excitedly.

“I don’t know...” soap looked at the mecha that had changed into different close combat forms, and his eyes were filled with anticipation!

Just as he was looking forward to it, an ai-like notification sounded from outside. “1172 mecha authentication, black tortoise fourth generation mecha, defensive mecha authentication, currently equipping the close combat suite. Please authorize the acceptance!”

When soap heard this voice, his heart jolted. Just as he was about to command his mecha to accept, the AI suddenly replied directly, “Authorized, please equip set!”

Soap was stunned when he heard this...

In his memory, something like authorization required the owner’s consent, right? Why would the AI make such a decision on its own?

Could it be that he had remembered wrongly?

“Authorized, calculating the amount of metal required for the set. The required core metal amount is 1,723 star grams, and the external metal amount is 3,102 star tons. Loading, please do not activate the energy device during loading...”

As the AI’s voice rang out, a cannon on the city wall quickly disintegrated into countless metal powder particles and rushed over, quickly wrapping up soap and the others’ mechas. Two seconds later, their mechas had turned pitch black, many parts of their bodies had been equipped with metal armor. It felt like they had grown a size, and they looked extremely powerful!

The close-combat weapon in their hands was a huge axe that was half the height of a mech, and there was also a huge metal shield that could almost cover half of their bodies!

“F * ck! !” His grandfather was so excited that he was trembling when he saw the change in their mecha on the display screen. “It’s so F * cking cool!”

“Hiss...”soap also took a deep breath, looking very excited. He could not help but sigh in his heart. If he could successfully bring this mecha back to Mars, he would definitely be so envious of that bunch of Scumbag Lord players!

In the excitement of the two of them, the entire South Sea city was rapidly demechanized. The steel fortress that was originally transformed from reactive metal quickly returned to the appearance of the Stone City in the Middle Ages.

The core reactive metal and firepower equipment that had previously transformed the entire city were all successfully decomposed and transformed. They were loaded onto the mecha soldiers, increasing their close combat capabilities.

In the center of the city, after distributing the last bit of metal, Billy quickly took out a bottle of recovery medicine from his spatial bag and poured it into his mouth.

To control such a huge amount of reactive metal, and to equip tens of thousands of mecha soldiers with suitable close combat equipment, the consumption was naturally not an ordinary amount... ..

But that was all he could do...

Billy looked at the overwhelming beast tide outside the city, as well as the mecha operators who had already flown outside the city to be on standby. His eyes were filled with complicated emotions!

Hopefully... .. Some more people could survive...
