

A Bunch 1171

Chapter 1171: Negotiation!

Among the demons, the Dylan Demon was the one that looked the most like a traditional demon. It looked hideous and ugly, and at a glance, it was very much in line with the definition of a demon.

The reason was also due to the environment. The ninth level was the closest to the seal of the abyss, and it had always been emitting negative spiritual radiation. The demons that lived on the ninth level for a long time would all be affected by it, and their personalities were mostly negative.

The Abyss itself was also a spiritual world, and the appearance of races was the most consistent with the saying that one's heart was born from one's heart. Therefore, the higher the level of the demons, the closer they were to the humanoid creatures of the material universe, and the lower they went, the more they looked like monsters.

Therefore, when the Dylan Devils saw their divine compatriots, their expressions were a little strange, and their subconscious thoughts were: so... ? ... We can also be this good-looking?

The elder stood at the head of the group. His slender figure wore a mask made of dark crystal, covering Dylan's hideous and terrifying face.

Many people would find demons strange because logically speaking, the aesthetic standards of a race and a foreign race should be different. For example, the gnomes recognized that the universe was the ugliest, but they themselves thought that they were very good-looking, but the demons in the Abyss were very interesting, their aesthetic standards were very similar to that of most human-shaped creatures in the universe.

In other words, even the Dylan Devils themselves felt that they were ugly...

"Greetings, elder Staya!"

A gentle and humble voice came out of the handsome Dylan Devil's mouth, and all the Dylan Devils including the elder finally reacted.

The tall and humble figure greeted the few high-level Dylan demons behind the elder one after another. It was obvious that he was a humble junior.

The few star-ranked elders who had followed them all nodded and revealed satisfied expressions. It was obvious that they were very satisfied with Burton's attitude.

Only Elder Staya looked at him with a hint of bafflement in her eyes.

Everyone else was satisfied with Burton's attitude, but she only felt distant from his respectful attitude.

As it turned out, he still did not treat Dylan as one of his own...

"You're not bad..." Staya sighed in her heart, but her tone was filled with relief. "You didn't disappoint the clan's expectations of you..."

"It's my honor..." Bolton smiled stiffly.

Staya frowned slightly. In the past, even if Bolton was dissatisfied with his own clan, he would not smile so fakely...

"Host, please take note... be more natural!"

A voice that only Bolton could hear sounded in his mind.

"Am I not F * cking natural?" A certain someone retorted in his mind, "Such perfect acting, look at the other side, there's no doubt..."

Al was silent for two seconds before finally saying, "As long as you're happy..."

"You guys can leave first, don't come in and disturb us unless there's something important..." Bolton said to the people in the reception department.

"Yes, Sir..." the people in the reception department immediately took their leave.

The negative aura on Dylan was too strong, especially the leader, Elder Staya. It made many people in the reception department feel depressed, so much so that it was difficult for them to breathe.

"Ai... didn't you say that the secret treasure can isolate the aura of the strong? Why do I still feel such a strong pressure?"

Soap asked in his heart.

Ai: "That's your misconception, host. With the strength of those people, if you could really feel their aura, you would already be a dead person. The reason why you feel uncomfortable should be because of their appearance."

Soap heard this and looked up at those Dylan Devils. After entering the meeting room, they all took off their masks.

As expected... so ugly...

"Speak, child, what's the situation?" Seeing that the other party did not speak for a long time, staya could only open the topic himself.

"Ahem..." soap coughed lightly, mimicking Bolton's tone, he said, "It's like this, Elder. Previously, I received news that the descendant of the Eldia family had a great opportunity. At that time, to be on the safe side, I brought almost all the military forces that I could use, but it did not seem to be prudent enough. Now that I think about it, if I had asked the elders for help back then, I might not have lost so many of my children and compatriots...". "..."

"We understand that..." an elder beside him waved his hand impatiently. "There's no need to keep discussing something that can't be salvaged. Let's talk about the spirit channel in detail..."

Staraya frowned slightly. He felt that the other party was being too straightforward. However, he did not stop him even after thinking about it. Everyone present, including Burton, were his family members. There was no need to be too hypocritical. After all, Dylan Demon did not suffer much loss from this incident... ...

“We’ve obtained a total of two spirit-type passageways...” soap lowered his voice and said, “They’re extremely large. They’re more than ten times larger than the Purple Star Battlefield!”

“Hiss! ! !”

The many Dylan Devil elders immediately sucked in a breath of cold air when they heard soap’s words. Following which, their green faces flushed red due to their excitement. Even the usually calm elder Starlink could not help but tremble!

The Purple Star Battlefield was the battlefield Bolton had participated in in the great lord of the Brutus Galaxy. Regardless of its scale and resources, it was one of the top-tier battlefields in the Eastern Star Field. Over ten thousand high-level lords had participated in it, back then, they had paid a huge price just to obtain one of the spots for Bolton.

Moreover, the development of that battlefield was estimated to be less than one-tenth of the total. However, now, Bolton had said that his spirit-based world was ten times the size of the Purple Star Battlefield?

And it was two?

This news completely exceeded their expectations. It should be said that they did not dare to think of such a thing. It was too exaggerated!

“Are you sure?”The elder could not help but ask, his voice trembling...

“Look at what the Elder is asking. How can I joke about such a Thing?”Burton laughed.

“Good, good, good! ! !”The elder grinned and looked even more ferocious. “You did well, Burton. You are indeed the seed of our Dylan Devils, the Chosen One!”

“Elder, you are too polite...”Bolton smiled humbly.

“Cough...”staya coughed lightly and then asked, “Bolton, you did well indeed. Our Mother Race is proud of you. How much have you probed into the situation of the spirit world? How are the resources? Where are the positions?”

Staya was obviously more calm. These words made the surrounding Dylan Devils elders who were on stimulants immediately calm down. That’s right, it was useless to just focus on territory. The most important thing was the resources and position.

There were some things in the spirit world that were worth tens of thousands of gold coins, but there were some things that weren’t worth mentioning.

“The resources have yet to be carefully explored. However, it has been confirmed that there are fog crystals and water droplet bodies, and the amount isn’t small. Furthermore, the energy density of this space is extremely high. It’s estimated that it’s a life-level indigenous lifeform!”

“Hiss...”the many Dylan Devils took in a deep breath once again, fog crystals were drifting energy crystals that required extremely high density air to be produced. They were a medium for energy conversion after the spirit world and the material world were connected. They were extremely valuable in the federation because this energy body was extremely compatible.., they were high-quality energy sources.

Water droplets were polymorphic liquid energy. Although they were difficult to decompose, they had extremely high variability. They were extremely good conductors and were extremely rare alchemy materials in the current federation market.

Just these two resources alone were enough to confirm that these two worlds were extremely valuable spirit-based worlds!

As for life-level aboriginals, this represented that this spirit-based world was extremely strong. The stronger the spirit-based world was, the more valuable it was!

“Then... What about the location?”The elder beside him asked, trembling.

The location was also very important. If it was within the territory of a great lord, it would be very easy for the other party to discover it when it was being developed. Once it was exposed, it would also be troublesome.

According to the federation’s deity technique, everything in the territory of a deity belonged to a deity. This was something that the abyss could not even fight over.

“The resources have not been carefully explored. They are moving coordinates!”Burton laughed. “As long as we build a sufficient scale space station in my faction, we can enter the passageway. We don’t need to go to a specific region!”

“Good, good, good! ! !”This time, even Staya could not help but cheer!

“Good boy...”Staya looked at Burton with a smile. “Then... how do you plan to distribute them?”

As soon as he said that, all the Dylan Demons’ eyes immediately stared at Bolton, waiting for his answer.

This question was also the most crucial question they came here with. According to the agreement, the abyssal public supported the deity faction of the demon children, while Bolton fought for benefits for the Abyss in the universe, and the benefits were distributed.., it was calculated according to the share of support from each race.

That was to say, the various races in the Chaos Abyss were equivalent to shareholders, while Bolton was the CEO of the group.

Theoretically speaking, the fallen angels’ support was currently the strongest. Dylan Demons also looked down on Bolton for many of the elders in the clan, and their support was not even ranked in the top five, this was also the reason why the Dylan Demons felt nervous when they heard that Bolton had received such a huge benefit.

If they had been allocated according to the original plan, the Dylan Demons would have suffered a huge loss this time. However, they did not expect this kid to be so tactful. He knew that he could not forget his roots at a critical moment and chose to let the mother race deliver the news... ..

“What I mean is...”soap imitated Bolton’s tone and said indifferently, “Calculate it according to the share of pure-blooded disciples in the faction!”

“Share to calculate?” A few elders are stupefied, immediately facial expression immediately collapsed, cold stare at Bolton: “What Do You Mean Kid? Is this to want to forget one’s roots?”

Share to calculate, Dylan Devil in Bolton Force’s direct line of descendants share perhaps even top 10 do not rank!

“Not really, not really... . “I understand what Burton meant. The forces have suffered heavy losses, especially the fallen angels. I heard that almost all of them were wiped out. Although we are deeply sorry for their loss, the truth is that the proportion of other races in the forces is no longer the same as before, right?”

Only then did all the elders react. They looked at Bolton and smiled. So that was how it was... ..

If that was the case, it would be understandable. The other forces had suffered heavy losses this time, but the Dylan Demon Army had barely suffered any losses. If that was the case, the Dylan Demon Army seemed to have the largest share of the forces!

“Of course it’s impossible... “...” soap sighed slightly. “Elder Starya, what do you think the other races will think if I say this? “They spent so many resources to support me and lost so many people, but I used this as an excuse to split the profits. Do you think they will accept it?”

“It’s up to them whether they accept it or not!” The elders beside them sneered. “If they don’t accept it, then they will withdraw their shares. Our Dylan demon will accompany them twice as much as they paid before. Don’t worry, we can afford it!”

“Is this a question of whether we can afford to pay or not?” Soap’s expression darkened. “This is a question of credibility!”

The elder waved his hand carelessly when he heard that. “When have we, the demons of Dylan, ever talked about credibility?”

Soap:”...”

Staya frowned slightly when he heard that, but he still said, “Then what do you think? Tell me.”

Soap: “My idea is to try my best to compensate the other races in this allocation, especially the fallen angels. I will directly expand their quota by one-third so that they can let more disciples in. Of course, in the new passageway, I will also give them more shares of participation!”

“You still want to expand?” The elder’s face darkened: “The fallen angels’ share in your faction is already big enough, almost one-third, and you still want to expand? You might as well give them your faction! !” Saying that, he said to Staraya: “See? It’s your wishful thinking, he is an ingrate!”

Staraya rolled his eyes and ignored him. Instead, he looked at Bolton and said: “Since you called us here to discuss, you definitely don’t want to deliberately ridicule us right? Tell me, what exactly are you thinking?”

Soap smiled. “Elder Starya is still wise. It’s easy to talk to smart people.”

The faces of the elders beside him darkened when they heard this. What did he mean? We don’t understand? We’re stupid, right?

Soap: "The various clans suffered heavy losses this time, especially the fallen angel clan. Even the successor of the direct line of descent died in this matter. If I don't give them an explanation, I'm afraid that they will become enemies in the future. The gains don't make up for the losses. In the future, if the forces want to grow stronger, the fallen angels and the other clans will have to support them.

Otherwise, if there is internal strife, there will be no point in joining forces with the deity project this time. Instead, the upper four levels will see this as a joke."

Starya nodded slightly.

Soap continued, "On the surface, I have given them more spots, but that doesn't mean that they will have the upper hand in the new world. I will secretly manipulate and give better opportunities to my clan's disciples so that they will have more opportunities to make contributions in the new world. This way, they will be able to obtain the corresponding resources through their contributions. It will be more convincing and there will be no internal conflicts. What do you think?"

"This..."the surrounding elders were stunned at first, but then they sneered. "You say it nicely, but who knows that you're not painting a cake for us?"

"Cooperation depends on mutual trust. If you don't believe me, then I have no choice..."soap spread his hands without any compromise.

As soon as he said that, the atmosphere in the meeting room instantly became solemn. All the Dylan Devils looked at him with gloomy eyes.

In their eyes, this kind of cake was far from being as reliable as giving a share. However, the decision was in the hands of this kid, so there was nothing they could do at the moment...

Moreover, from the looks of this kid, it seemed that he did not intend to compromise... ..

The meeting room instantly fell into a strange silence...

Soap looked at all of Dylan's demons who were deep in thought. He looked very calm on the surface, but in his heart, he was panicking. In his mind, he said to Ai, "I did everything according to what you said. I didn't miss a single word. When the boat capsizes later, you have to take full responsibility..."

Hearing that, ai replied very seriously, "En, don't worry, host. I will take full responsibility!"

Chapter 1172: Why Did You Stay?

You take full responsibility! !

Soap could not help but roll his eyes in his heart. If he had not personally witnessed the fate of that Bolton, he might have really believed in this evil...

The conference room was silent for almost half an hour, causing soap's entire body to jump to the extreme. However, he had to pretend to be very calm. He could not help but think in his heart: this secret treasure can isolate the auras of the big shots..., she wondered if they could isolate her from the punches and kicks when they were about to fight out of anger?

However, she could not ask now. After leaving the secret treasure, the thigh that was possessed by dog egg left with Vienne. There was no place to ask now.

“You have a point...”

After an unknown amount of time, perhaps only a few minutes, but in soap’s heart, it was almost as long as a century. The leader, Elder Starya, finally spoke.

The moment she opened her mouth, she used her eyes to stop the elders who wanted to speak, then, she lowered her voice and said, “You’re right. According to what you said before, although we can obtain timely benefits, we will definitely offend all the demons of the Abyss. This is not a good thing. Although we will lose some temporarily with your method, in the long run, it will indeed be better...”. “...”. “...”

“It’s good that you can think it through, elder Staya...” soap heaved a sigh of relief in his heart, but his face had a calm smile on it, as if he had long known that the other party would answer like this.

“Tell me...” staya smiled and said, “What are the specific regulations? How much is the compensation for the fallen angels, other flame demons, Ice Demons, Shadow Demons, and other races? Tell me in detail so that I can go back and tell them.”

Soap said word by word according to the statement that the AI had prepared for him in advance, “I have already prepared the details of the specific distribution in advance and will send it back to you later. The distribution of the share is just a point. The most important candidates are the descendants of Safilos. After the fall of the descendants of Safilos, the various races will naturally have to choose new candidates to represent their own races. In terms of the distribution of personnel, you have to emphasize my meaning. They can only provide personnel recommendations. As for the specific descendants, it must be decided by me!”

“Oh?” Staya narrowed his eyes and looked at him. “Why is that?”

“To balance the power, of course...”. Burton smiled. “Even if we have to give resources to the mother race, we can’t be too obvious. Many times, we have to fight for food with our own abilities. At this time, the leader’s excellence is very important. We can’t let a second SAFILOS come, or it will be very inconvenient.”

“That makes sense!” When Staya heard this, he nodded in satisfaction, “Then what about us?”

“Naturally, we have to let the most outstanding disciples come!” Burton smiled, “What do you think of Satch and Sati?”

“Good!” Staya was even more satisfied when he heard this. Satch was a newly advanced star level Dylan Demon, his bloodline was extremely pure. He was one of the candidates for the clan leader position, and he had just entered the star level. He needed to be nurtured with resources very much..., sending him here at this time not only reduced the burden on the clan, it also gave Sarchi more room to grow, killing many birds with one stone.

And Sati was his last disciple, he had also just entered the star-level!

It seemed like the other party wasn’t trying to make a big deal out of it, he indeed had the intention of being close to the mother clan.

“Elder Staya, please rest assured, no matter what, the blood in this kid’s Bones is still the blood of the Dylan Demon!” Soap said very sincerely.

At this thought, Starya’s smile became even more obvious. “It’s naturally best if you can think it through. Don’t worry, as long as you are devoted to the mother race, the mother race will definitely not mistreat you...”

Outside the conference room, in a sealed room on a distant planet, looking at the situation in the conference room, Villafa could not help but sigh. “That Lord’s secret treasure is indeed powerful. Even elder Starya was unable to discover us!”

“Is that guy very powerful?” A red-furred ball beside him asked curiously. From the sound of his voice, it was soap’s good friend, Grandpa Lu.

“Very powerful...” Vera said coldly, “If we were in the Emerald Dream Realm, with this guy around, everyone would have no chance!”

“F * ck! !” Grandpa’s red hair stood on end when he heard that. “Are you serious? Isn’t it just a random elder? That abyss of yours, is he that powerful?”

Having experienced the Battle of the Emerald Dream, his grandfather knew very well what kind of monsters those people were. In his eyes, those guys who could destroy a planet with a single move were probably only comparable to the Saiyans in the second dimension.

“Sigh, it’s Good That Doggie is here! !” His grandfather suddenly missed doggie... .. Oh, alright, it was because he missed the thigh that Doggie possessed.

Vera glanced at him. “If you want to hang out with her so much, why don’t you go with her?”

His grandfather immediately curled his lips. “Am I the kind of person who would abandon a brother?”

Vera looked at him. She did not know if what this slippery fellow said was true or false. However, logically speaking, he did have the opportunity to follow someone to a better place.

Li Goudan followed Vien to the Zephyr Academy, and little cabbage followed that person to the Starry Sky Academy. No matter which direction the wind was blowing, a top-grade Phoenix species like Grandpa would be welcomed with open arms.

But in the end, he chose to come here with soap, to face the entire abyss!

Soap came because she had no choice. The Bolton Force was very special, and unlike vogu, it did not mean that no one would ask about it after it disappeared. Once the demons in the Abyss noticed the Emerald Dream, the consequences would be extremely serious.

Someone had to delay this group of terrifying fellows, and soap, who had a special talent, was the only candidate for this mission!

“You coming here will not be of much help to him...” Vera told her grandfather.

“That won’t do either...”her grandfather looked at soap, who was facing the demons alone outside, she sighed and said, “A person has traveled so far, and he still has to complete such an important mission. If he doesn’t even have a familiar person to talk to in the end, he will definitely be crushed, right?”

Hearing this, Vera was startled. She looked at her grandfather very seriously. After a few seconds, her gaze gradually became gentle, but her mouth was still cold and hard as she said, “You only know how to say beautiful things...”

Her grandfather:”...”

“What About You?”Vera didn’t look at her grandfather anymore. Instead, she looked at another person. If many people in the base saw this, they would definitely be shocked, because this person was the number one on the heaven roll in the base: Feng Doudou!

Feng Doudou pouted and said, “Didn’t you guys say that I won’t be welcomed at any Elven Academy?”

Vera didn’t leave. Feng Doudou was a mutant. Although her talent wasn’t inferior to Goudan and the others, she was indeed not welcomed at the traditional elven academy.

Her grandfather sneered, “The principal said that the elven academy is not welcome, but the martial arts school is very welcome. You sure know how to find an excuse. It was those people behind you who called you here, right?”

Feng Doudou frowned slightly. The people behind her were naturally referring to the central China government!

Chapter 1173: that was a thrilling experience!

On that day... ∴ The seal on the New World was suddenly lifted, and when all the players returned to the New World, the entire New World underwent great changes.

First, the new world had grown larger, and the size of the entire planet had become more than ten times larger than before. Then, the environment had also changed. Nine Suns appeared in the sky. It could not be said that they were suns, but they could be considered luminous stars, moreover, each of them was emitting a strange energy, which also made the ecology of the New World Extremely Strange.

The places that the different stars shone on seemed to be isolated. The colors and the internal environment were greatly different. The overall biomass had also changed a lot, and even the terrain had undergone a huge change.

This had caused quite a lot of squabbles when many of the lords were redividing their territories.

Most importantly, the Seer Lord was missing!

Now, all the plans were relayed by rain girl and Big Boss WUGUA!

According to Rain Girl’s new plans.

First of all, the threshold to enter the new world had been raised. Players had to reach level 3 and have two weapons specialties. Arcane players had lowered the requirements. Level 2 players could enter the new world, but they had to obtain a pass certificate in the arcane field, however, it was not limited to the space department and the Illusion Department of the Transformation Department. These two major classes had to reach level 3. Those who wanted to become mecha operators or master of the mind had to reach level 3 before they could go to the new world.

According to the latest rules, any elf department or Warrior Department player who had reached Level 5 could apply to go to a federal university in the outside world for further studies. The specific places to go would have to be checked in advance, the principal would then take the lead to accumulate a batch of students who would participate in the Star Federation's College Entrance Examination around June every year. As for the details of the academy and the area of influence, the principal would inform them in advance before they took the examination and would not announce it to the public!

Other than the academy route, there were two other special routes after level 5!

Player Brother Dog would be carrying out a special mission. Those who were willing could follow him, but it might be life-threatening. It was suggested that they consider it carefully.

The player, soap, was carrying out a special mission. Those who were willing could follow, and those who were willing would also have their lives in danger. It was suggested that they consider it carefully.

This mission would collect quotas and recruit volunteers over a long period of time, but it was limited to volunteers. Once they joined, they would be directly rewarded with a million points for those who passed, and they would have the priority to choose a new planet.

The Five City Lords had added the right to scholarships. Outside, higher education institutions were expensive. Players could choose to earn their own money to go to higher education institutions, or the city lords could provide scholarships. There were ten places a year, and they could not be accumulated!

Finally, the city Lord Assessment would be held five years later as scheduled!

A series of announcements, coupled with the Seer Lord not returning, made everyone realize that something big must have happened!

However, they did not know what exactly happened because the few high-level players who participated in this matter, including little cabbage, Brother Dog, Eggface, and Grandpa, had all left the new world when the New World opened... No news was leaked out...

According to rainy girl, they were already qualified to participate in this year's exam.

Those who wanted to chase after them and see the vast starry sky outside would have to work hard to improve themselves. Once they were admitted into the academy, they would naturally be able to leave.

This statement made many players excited, but the city lords felt that this matter was not simple.

They also felt that the academy's statement could not explain the strange situation that was happening in the new world.

The most suspicious news that had been announced was about the two special missions.

The special mission emphasized that one's life was in danger!

This was the same as when the New World was sealed. At that time, the higher-ups also emphasized that the new world would be in danger.

After Mr. Long, elder Li, and the others had a meeting, they all agreed that if they wanted to know what was happening in the New World, this special mission might be the only way to break through.

Mr. Long and the others had thought of this point, and the other City Lords also wanted it. However, Huaxia City had an advantage that other cities didn't have, and that was that they had a high-level servant player: Feng Doudou!

The minimum level requirement for a special mission was Level 5. However, there were very few level 5 players in the base right now. Out of the five big official cities, the only one that had a level 5 servant was Huaxia City.

Hence, after some discussion, Feng Doudou accepted the mission...

He had also considered the route.

Based on their affinity, Brother Dog was a member of the Liu family and was much closer to the Huaxia officials. However, after Brother Dog accepted the mission, there was no reply. Even elder Liu didn't know if he was safe.

The entire Liu family was actually very worried.

According to the special mission description, as long as one went and participated, they would not be able to return for a long time.

If Liu Shiyu could come back alive, he would definitely be biased towards Huaxia City. If he could reveal the information, he would definitely give them priority. Elder long believed that the Liu family would not be biased.

However, it was different for soap.

Other people did not know the specific information about soap, but Huazhong's officials did.

Soap's original name was Yu Wenbo. He was a mentally ill person!

Yes, he was a mentally ill person. Right now, his main body was still recuperating in a well-known mental hospital in Huazhong. Although it was said to be recuperating, it was actually a form of imprisonment because this person was a genius international criminal!

This person had planned many huge fraud cases in western Europe and North America. The amount of money involved in the fraud was as high as ten billion US dollars!

Even when he was caught, he had surrendered.

When he surrendered, he was blind and half paralyzed. No one knew what had happened to him. Even the central China authorities did not dare to disclose the news of him surrendering.

After that guy was placed in the mental hospital, he revealed the same depressed attitude as a normal paralyzed person. It was as if he was waiting for death in a mental hospital.

However, no one had expected that he would become a galaxy player and even the most unusual existence in the base.

If Liu Shiyu didn't come back alive, but this guy did, would the other party reveal the information to the central China government? It was hard to say... ..

After thinking for a while, Mr. Long felt that the eggs couldn't be placed in one basket, so he wanted Feng Doudou to take the path of soap.

Of course, this side was obviously much more dangerous. He also asked for Feng Doudou's opinion, and in the end, Feng Doudou agreed to this mission and was personally sent to the Bolton force by the principal.

At this time, facing his grandfather's interference, Feng Doudou furrowed his brows. This kind of thing was fine as long as he kept it to himself. What was the point of exposing it?

Vera looked at Feng Doudou and said indifferently, "No matter what your goal is, just don't get in the way. If I find out that you're acting recklessly, believe me, your current ability isn't much better than an insect here..."

Feng Doudou looked at him and grinned, but there was a trace of fervor in his eyes.

Indeed, the people here were really strong...

Vera narrowed his eyes and looked at this little guy who seemed to have no fear at all. He thought to himself, the little guys on that planet are really monsters!

"Hey..." Feng Doudou looked at his grandfather. "Since you've already said it, don't hide it anymore. Tell me, what exactly happened in the New World?"

His grandfather looked at him. "Why should I tell you?"

Feng Doudou narrowed his eyes and smiled. "It should be a wonderful experience, right? You really don't want to talk about it? If you fail this mission, you might not have the chance to talk about it in the future..."

"Eh..."

She was quite familiar with her grandfather. This guy was a typical pretentious maniac. This could be seen from the guides he used to write. If he really experienced something big, he would definitely show off.

Sure enough, after a few seconds, her grandfather coughed lightly. "Since you're asking sincerely, I'll reluctantly tell you about it..."

"As you said, it was a thrilling experience..."

Chapter 1174: reassembling fragments

To be honest, that thrilling experience was less than a month away from now. It felt like yesterday. He didn't know if it was luck or something else. He was clearly a player who hadn't transformed yet, however, he had experienced more than many players. This was also the main reason why he was willing to follow soap.

It was also because of this experience that he saw clearly that he was a person filled with adventure genes. He hoped to live such an extraordinary life, and following soap was a special mission, it was the life that was most in line with his expectations.

Of course, a legendary experience needed an audience. Otherwise, it would lose half of its meaning.

Looking at Feng Doudou's expectant face, Grandpa was extremely satisfied.

Where should I start?

From leaving the New World?

Uh... .. I'll just skip this part. After all, those who show off are all soaps, and I seem to be a bystander.

I should really show off after I save Vera and the others, right?

Thinking of this, Grandpa recalled the scene at that time...

He remembered that after he saved Vera and the others, Grandpa himself had been in a state of Nirvana. That state was very magical. He had turned into an unknown thing, unable to move, but his consciousness could stretch far, far away, he could even communicate with many unknown things around him.

Especially in this world fragment, he could clearly see the connection between these world fragments and the pair of eyes that controlled the world fragment... ..

"How Long Will Grandpa Stay Like This?"

It was soap who spoke. He walked at the front and looked at his grandfather who was being carried by Vera and asked curiously.

"I'm not sure..." Sab shook his head weakly. "A creature like the Phoenix has always been a very difficult species to understand in the elf race. Even some professional scholars can't explain it clearly, let alone boorish people like us..."

"Then... If you can't recover in a short period of time, why don't you put your grandfather in the Mech?" Soap suggested as he looked at Vera.

She felt that it was strange for the other party to be hugging Grandpa all the time. If something happened and Grandpa was used as a shield by the other party, it would be bad. She was also thinking of Grandpa's safety.

It was definitely not because Grandpa was jealous of being hugged by a beautiful girl. HMM... ... !
Definitely Not!

Vera was stunned. She looked at the mech that was following beside her and actually hesitated for a moment.

This little phoenix was very comfortable to hug...

The blood demon originally had a cool and damp constitution. It usually preferred to avoid things with fire elements. However, her grandfather's was very strange. He clearly had a fire element constitution, but hugging him made her feel unusually calm, a faint warmth seemed to nourish her entire body, causing her to be reluctant to let go for a moment.

Meanwhile, Sab looked at the mecha that had been quietly following them, and his face revealed a deep expression. "This mecha of yours..."

"What's Wrong?" Soap tilted her head and asked.

"Something's not right..." Sab said faintly.

"What's Not Right?" Soap asked, feigning curiosity.

Sab glanced at him and asked curiously, "This is the tooth tiger series of the VOGU faction, right? Why is it here with you?"

Soap was stunned when he heard that. Then, he told him about how he had been attacked by this mecha earlier, how he had killed its owner, and how he had snuck into the mecha unit in the end.

As for why he had said it, there was also a reason. It was because he himself also felt that this mecha was not quite right. He hoped that he could get some answers from this big shot...

SAB looked at the mecha, and a strange look flashed across his eyes. Of course, there was something wrong with that mecha. With such a large-scale energy explosion, how could a medium-sized seventh-generation mecha be completely fine? How could it be normal?

He remembered clearly that the range of protection that the Little Phoenix had extended did not include this mecha...

After listening to soap's description, Sab frowned deeply.

Their faction was a biological faction, but he had been in the federation for so many years, so it was naturally impossible for him not to understand the characteristics of mecha. Mecha were high-end products in the mechanical faction. The value of this tooth tiger series should be around 100 million federation dollars per set. Logically speaking, such an expensive mecha... Should be worthy of having high-level intelligence.

Would an advanced AI not be able to identify the original owner's and XENOGENEIC's genes? This was simply a joke!

Even if it couldn't be identified, the AI had personally seen the original host being invaded and duplicated. How could it allow the other party to successfully control the mech?

There was only one possibility. This AI was doing it on purpose... ..

Interesting...

SAB looked at the mech and smiled.

“What do you know?” Soap asked with a frown.

“Not really...” Sab shook his head. “But you’d better be more vigilant against it. It’s definitely not a proper mech.”

“Is that so?” Soap turned his head to look at the mech. The mech seemed to have not heard what they were saying and just followed them without making any other movements.

Just as they were speaking, the entire space suddenly paused. Everything in the surroundings seemed to have come to a halt!

Soap looked around vigilantly. The Sky, which was originally drizzling, seemed to have pressed the pause button when the raindrops were in mid-air. If one were to carefully feel it, one would discover that the wind in the surroundings had stopped!

“What’s the situation?” Soap looked around in shock.

“It’s going to move!” SAB looked at the sky. His scarlet eyes flashed with a hint of solemnity. “The Master of the Emerald Space is going to change the pattern again!”

“Huh?” Soap was stunned, but the next second, he saw a crack suddenly appear between him and villafa, who was holding his grandfather!

The location of the crack was very strange. It did not appear on the ground, but in the space between them. It was like a mirror, suddenly tearing apart!

“SH * t! !” Sab’s face instantly turned green, his body turned into a ray of blood-red light as he pounced towards villafa. However, that tiny crack was like an insurmountable spatial line. No matter how hard SAB tried, he was unable to cross it. He could only watch as the crack expanded.., finally, with a bang, it completely broke off from his side!

“Saab! ! !” Villafa reached out to grab Saab, but after the broken line, the two people seemed to be completely separated, can only look at each other farther and farther away!

“What the fuck?”

Soap looked at the scene, confused, he could even see, in addition to the broken villafa they, there are countless fragments, fragments seem to have some familiar characters, there are dog eggs, . Little cabbage, and boss rainy. Most importantly... ..! And himself!

He saw countless versions of himself appearing in different fragments, all revealing the same silly faces...

“They’ve regrouped! !” SAB said with a livid expression, “This is troublesome! ! !”

This was because SAB could clearly see that in the spatial fragment where Vera was, there was a character that he didn't want Vera to come into contact with the most!

"Sab..." villafa could also roughly see what was inside the SAB fragment. She really wanted to remind SAB to be careful, because the fragment he was in had a very terrifying existence.

But no matter how much she shouted, it didn't seem to be able to transmit her voice.

"It's better for you to care about yourself..."

A cold voice suddenly appeared behind villafa.

Vera froze when she heard this voice. This voice... .. She was very familiar with it. It had been a nightmare for her for a long time when she was young... ..

"Big... Big Brother?"

Chapter 1175: the person that Vera was afraid of

They had almost the same face and the same white hair. The only difference was the pair of silver eyes that represented the fallen angel bloodline!

Vera was very excited when she saw this person...

Vera, who had always been cold, rarely had such an emotional expression on her face. In this world, the only person who could make her have such an expression was Saab, and the other person was the man in front of her...

Of course, the difference was that she was happy and worried when facing Saab, but when facing the person in front of her, she was terrified!

"Big... Big Brother..."

"Oh?"

The person let out a soft "OH", and a thin white hand slowly reached Vera's slender neck, and a cruel smile appeared on her face.

It was cruel. She was like a child who saw a group of ants and wanted to stomp them to death with a smile. It was a natural cruelty!

Vera's entire body stiffened, and the powerful star level strength in his body seemed to have no use at this time, like a trembling puppy, not daring to resist at all.

"Didn't I tell you that if you call me that again, I'll Rip Your Head Off?" The man said with a gentle smile.

Using the gentlest tone, he said the most vicious words.

Villafa nodded his head repeatedly while trembling. Clearly, he was extremely afraid!

However, just as that hand was pinching villafa until he could not breathe, an extremely soft feeling suddenly spread through his entire body from his chest.

Meanwhile, the man who was pinching Villafa's neck moved his hand away as if he had been electrocuted. He looked at Villafa in astonishment.

At this moment, from his perspective, Villafa's body was actually covered in a layer of bright red flames!

Fallen Angels had a physique that was not afraid of fire. However, that was not because their bodies were close to the fire element. Instead, it was because their race had one of the highest-level fire seeds in the world.

With the physique of the flames of hell, they were naturally not afraid of low-level flames. However, just now, he could clearly feel the vigilance in his body. The burning sensation on his fingertips reminded him that this was a flame that could harm him!

"The flame of the Red Lotus?" That person looked at the flame that was rising from Villafa's body, and a hint of surprise flashed in his eyes.

How could such a flame appear on this bastard's body?

Villafa was also startled. Then, he subconsciously looked at Grandpa Lu who was in his arms.

The person opposite also followed Villafa's gaze and looked at Grandpa Lu.

"This is..." that person narrowed his silver eyes, and a hint of surprise flashed in his eyes. "Phoenix?"

"Interesting..." as he spoke, the man gestured at Villafa. "Let me see!"

Hearing that, Villafa subconsciously took two steps back.

"Disobedient?" The smile on the man's face grew wider and wider, and the cruelty on his face grew stronger and stronger!

Villafa subconsciously trembled, but this time, he did not retreat. The Blue Flames on his body instantly erupted. Strangely, the blue flames and the red flames fused together in harmony, there was no sense of conflict.

"You want to fight?" That person laughed even more happily. He raised his fair and tender hand gently, and a chill instantly enveloped the surroundings.

"Enough! !"

Just as the situation was about to erupt, a stern voice was heard.

That person paused slightly, but did not put down his hand in the end. Villafa looked towards the voice, "Lord Bolton?"

It was Bolton, and the one who teased villafa just now was the commander of Bolton's first fallen Angel Legion, Safilos!

"Are You Alright?" Bolton's voice was gentle, like an elder who cared about his juniors.

Villafa was excited, and he quickly went forward. "Lord, save SAB, he... he's in danger!"

"In Danger?" Bolton frowned. "What's going on?"

"I saw it just now. That Monster is clearly inside the Shard!"

"Eye of the Blood Demon?" Bolton's frown deepened. An undead God with the eye of the blood demon?

There was another undead God besides Andrew? Just how many monsters and gods were involved in this incident?

"Sir... Save Sab. His current condition isn't very good..." Vera said with a pleading tone.

"Calm down..." Bolton frowned as he looked at her, this hybrid was extremely talented. In terms of strength, she was already above SAB. Not many of the commanders could defeat her. However, the reason why she wasn't allowed to lead an army on her own was because she was too immature.

But also normal, from the age, it is a bit young...

"Saab is not as fragile as you think..." Bolton said in a soft, soothing voice. "Don't worry, he's in that Shard with Nevar. He'll be fine..."

"That man is strong!" Insisted villafa.

"I know... <per_0> . Bolton nodded. "But no matter how strong he is, he is still just an undead. From what you've described, he doesn't have a high-level body. An undead without a body is still a rootless duckweed no matter how strong he is. The reason why you and SAB are completely suppressed is because you are restrained by the eye of the blood demon. Vera is different. He is the best assassin we have here, the nemesis of those undead. He won't let anything happen to Sab..." . "..."

Hearing that, Villafa was slightly startled, but he slowly calmed down.

But his eyes still couldn't stop the worry in them.

SAB's current situation was very bad. He didn't know if he could hold on until nefal found him...

"Yo... Phoenix?"

Suddenly, a muffled voice sounded. Villafa looked over and saw an abnormally tall black figure. His body seemed to be petrified. It was the commander of the Rock Demon Army, bogus!

"Little girl, where did this Phoenix come from? It even carries the flame of the Red Lotus!" Bogus chuckled.

Villafa looked at the other party, and his expression relaxed slightly. Among the many armies, the rock demon bogus was the easiest to get in touch with. He had a good relationship with Saab, and although he didn't like his loud voice., he was indeed closer to him than the others.

"I picked it up on the way..." villafa answered honestly.

"Oh, then you're lucky..." bogus looked interested. "Let me see it!"

Villafa took two steps back and hid his grandfather behind him.

“You’re still so stingy!” Bogus pouted and said, “Where’s Sab?”

Villafa’s eyes instantly dimmed.

To be honest, she would rather stay in that fragment and let Sab meet up with Lord Bolton... ..

Safilos ignored bogus’s silly big man, and directly said to Bolton, “Lord, the situation is very clear. The Master of this Jade Dream is trying to split us up to fight each other.”

Bolton nodded. Just now, he had looked around from the perspective of the fragment. Within each fragment, there were different groups of powers. It was very obvious that the other party had such intentions.., however, he could not see what was happening within the Shard.

“What are you afraid of?” Bogus waved his hand carelessly, “With the liege here, plus you, and that little girl, Vera, we have four star level warriors gathered together. Who Can’t we fight against?”

“That’s the problem!” Safilos said coldly, “I just looked around. Sab and Nefer were split together, Iagnaros and Sofia were split together, but only we were split into four. What does this mean?”

“What does it mean?” Bogus asked foolishly.

Safilos rolled his eyes when he heard that. He was too lazy to answer. It was Bolton who continued, “It means that there is an existence on this fragment that only the four of us can barely contend against! !”

Chapter 1176: Brother Dog’s uniqueness

“The child is missing...”

In the center of the console, Diana turned into a purple light and appeared in front of Ysera. “I sensed it just now and it has disappeared from the main core...”

Of course, it was Brother Dog.

Ysera smiled. “Did he do it alone?”

“There are only the two of us here. Is there anyone else who can help him?” Diana could not help but roll her eyes, but she immediately reacted in the next second. “What do you mean?”

“Ahem... I don’t mean anything...” Ysera coughed lightly and said, “Aren’t you also at the puberty stage? Suddenly seeing such a Manly Titan, I’m a little normal and worried...”

“Hehe...” Ysera smiled, but then she looked at the control panel, “If he was the one who broke away from this fragment alone... :. This means that I was right, this emerald dream has indeed generated consciousness, the thing that the dragon race has been longing for for countless eras has really arrived...

Diana was stunned when she heard that, then she asked in astonishment, “Is that true?”

“There’s only one possibility...”. “...”. Ysera let out a sigh and said, “If it wasn’t for your help in secret, if he wanted to walk out of the fragment, he could only rely on the consciousness of Gaia in the emerald dream to help him. But why would he help him? Of course, it was because... .. He was the king of Titan “! ! !”

Diana:” ...”

“Then, can we find him?” Diana became a little impatient when she heard that. They originally had the emerald dream, so they had a great advantage over the intruders who broke into this place. Not only could they completely monitor their movements., and we can keep them fighting by reorganizing them, but it’s not gonna be the same if Doggie gets involved.

As a Titan of imperial blood, he... .. It’s the one that can sense Gaia...

If master the right method, he is also able to control emerald dream! ! !

“Trouble...” Ysera shook his head. “The mind is protecting him, so it’s blocking our surveillance of him. We can’t see the boy on this control crystal...”

“What... Should we do?”

“Let’s take it one step at a time...” Ysera looked at the control console faintly. “After all, in the prophecy, he is the chosen one to solve all of this...”

Diana was silent for a while, and then she looked at the control console. In the control console crystal, there were the people in the various fragments. When she looked at them, they seemed to be different from yesterday. Diana tilted her head. “Did you reorganize them?”

Ysera: “A new batch of people came in. There’s no way...”

“God...” Diana looked at the crystal and sneered. “Those two idiots finally reacted?”

Ysera: “It might not be a good thing for them to come in... I feel...”

“How did you distribute it?” Diana suddenly frowned and asked.

“I don’t know their specific strength, so I used the matrix to distribute it evenly according to each other’s energy intensity...” Ysera sighed. “Let’s fight one wave first and then redistribute it again.”

“Distribute them according to energy intensity?” Diana’s face twitched when she heard that. “Are you sure? ?”

She looked at the crystal table and felt that the distribution situation inside... Didn’t seem to match what Ysera said... ..

———

“F * ck, why are there so many?” Brother Dog wandered in the space of countless fragments, looking at the dense number of fragments. There were forests, oceans, and deserts inside, upon closer inspection, he realized that the fragments were like a whole new world, but he could not see who exactly were inside the fragments.

His head suddenly grew bigger. "How am I going to find Goudan and the others?"

The strange guiding voice did not respond this time, which made brother dog very depressed.

He did not blame the voice for not responding to him. Through this period of contact, he could feel that the strange voice was very simple, like a newborn child. Although it was very close to him... But its ability to understand his words was limited, so it definitely couldn't understand something like doggie...

Could it be that one of them got in by luck?

After thinking for a while, he finally said, "Can you help me choose one?"

As soon as he said this, he could clearly sense that the thing was in high spirits... ..

In the next second, Brother Dog felt that the flow of the surrounding suddenly became faster. Under some kind of magical power, it turned into a golden light and instantly disappeared into one of the fragments!

"What happened? What Happened?" Dog Egg looked around in horror.

She saw many cracks appearing in many places just now, and then the whole place disappeared. It was so strange, but after the big commotion, it seemed that the surroundings had not changed at all! !

Lanaya frowned and looked around. She could feel that the world had become smaller, many times smaller!

This meant that the owner of this space did not want them to avoid the fight. He was trying to force them to fight by narrowing the area.

But was it useful?

Just as she was thinking, she suddenly sensed something. She looked in a direction and was shocked!

Seeing Lanaya so nervous, Eggface also looked over curiously, but he saw nothing except a forest.

"What's Wrong?" Eggface asked again.

"This is troublesome..." Lanaya's face turned serious.

Her eyesight far surpassed Eggface's. In a world with energy density higher than level 3, she could see thousands of kilometers away. She could clearly see that space was shattering hundreds of miles away!

Whether it was the forest, water, rocks, earth, or even the elemental molecules in the air, they were all rapidly turning into particles!

This was the law of Destruction! !

Gaia's self-determined law of destruction was used as a means of self-protection to return to the universe. This kind of situation rarely happened. Usually, it would only happen when a planet with Gaia's consciousness awakened was subjected to extreme invasion and persecution, this would then directly activate the self-destruction program and return to the universe.

The repulsion force of this law was very strong. Even a star-level powerhouse would be dragged into the law of destruction if they did not leave the planet!

Is he trying to use this method to get rid of us?

Lanaya frowned. This wasn't right. This type of destruction pattern was slowly decomposing from the surroundings to the core. It wasn't fast. As long as they could find the core before the planet was completely destroyed., they could use the core to see the changes in the array of the law of destruction and find a weak point to escape.

This wasn't difficult for experienced cosmic adventurers. Many level 10 and above adventurers could do it, not to mention star-level powerhouses like them.

Then what was the other party after?

After a few seconds of hesitation, Lanaya suddenly reacted.

That's right... the core...

If there was only one core on a planet, the various powers would be forced to search for it. This way, they would bump into it sooner or later. Furthermore, there were a few core fragments, they had to gather them in a short amount of time. This way...

Under the pressure of the law of destruction, the battle was unavoidable!!!

Chapter 1177: Unreasonable Distribution (Part 1)

"He's really willing to part with it!"

Goron, who was suddenly separated into a new fragment, said the same thing.

He was originally quite close to his ally Lanaya, but he didn't expect that he would be reorganized into a new place after a moment of hesitation. It seemed that his idea of fishing in troubled waters was ruined...

"What is that thing?" Gerald frowned as he looked at the space around him that was rapidly turning into particles.

"WA-WA-WA..." there were at least dozens of soaps around him, and he looked extremely excited.

"What the Hell Is That Thing? I was just curious to touch it, but it disappeared just like that?"

"..." Gerald

When the space around them was shattered, this guy touched it with his cheap hand, but it was instantly disintegrated as well. This guy was quite ambitious. He really dared to touch it... ..

But thinking about it, it made sense. After all, it was a disintegrated body...

"Let's go..." Gerald said calmly, "The speed of decomposition will be faster and faster later. We have to find the core fragment quickly."

“Oh, oh!”Hearing that, all the soap immediately followed behind Gerald. Gerald looked at all the soap who looked exactly the same, and he couldn’t help but feel a little strange. He didn’t know if this fellow was divided into the same fragment? Or was he randomly assigned to more than one shard.

He guessed that it was most likely the latter. Because the other party calculated his strength, he probably wouldn’t count a level-several elven xenogeneic in. This way, this guy could be considered valuable. After he broke away from this shard, he would definitely be assigned to a new shard. If he could find other surviving soaps in the New Shard World, he would be able to get some information at once... ..

“Oh?”

Suddenly, Gerald seemed to have sensed something. He grabbed the soap with his telekinesis and jumped towards a certain place. Looking at his skinny body, he instantly exploded with a shocking explosive power, he instantly arrived at a pitch-black mountain rock.

Gerald narrowed his eyes and walked into the huge mountain rock. He touched it with his hand and a smile appeared on his dry face. “My Luck is not bad. You found one so quickly...”

As soon as he finished his words, a scarlet flame fell from the sky, and in an instant, the entire sky was covered by the flame!

“Oh my God, what is that?”

Seeing this, all the soaps split into countless tiny soaps and fled in all directions, but it was completely useless. The huge flame came crashing down from the sky, and in an instant, all the material within a radius of a thousand miles melted, the huge impact also caused the earth’s crust to completely flip!

And the Black Mountain rock from before was also shattered into pieces under the Impact!

“Oh?”

Within the flames, a huge figure slowly walked out. His breathing was extremely heavy, and he felt that the surrounding air was moving along with his breathing. He took in a very long breath, directly inhaling the flames that had burned for over a thousand kilometers into his nose!

After the flames disappeared, the land was charred black. Not to mention the flowers and trees, even the slightly weaker mountain body had been burnt to pieces by the flames just now.

It gave people a feeling of doomsday.

However, in this doomsday scene, the thin and old man was safe and sound. Not even ashes were stuck to his clothes!

“You’re quite powerful, Old Man!”The person chuckled. His voice was extremely boorish, and the charred land kept shaking from his laughter. It was the number one general under Burton, the Balrog: Ragnaros!

Goron did not pay attention to the other party. Instead, he carefully opened his palm. The only remaining soap in his palm was the size of a kitten. His entire body was scorched black and he was on his last breath.

“F * ck...”the soap spat out a mouthful of black smoke and rolled his eyes. Then, he rolled his eyes and fainted.

“What the hell is that?”Ragnaros tilted his head and looked at it curiously.

“Young people nowadays don’t care about martial virtue...”Goron packed the only remaining soap split body into a small metal box, he put it into his wallet and slowly raised his head to look at the uninvited guest. “Isn’t it not good to launch a sneak attack on an old man like me without greeting him?”

“Sneak attack?”Ragnaros chuckled and said, “You call this a sneak attack when you have such a big formation?”

“It’s not good to hear when you’re old...”Gorn looked at the other party with a smile. “Moreover, was that formation very large just now? Why don’t I feel anything at all?”

“Is that so?”Ragnaros sneered when he heard that. His long breath gradually exhaled. This time, a huge amount of energy poured into the ground from his tall body. The pitch-black ground began to emit a faint red light, from time to time, lava would surge out.

In an instant, the fire elements in the entire area became extremely dense. If one looked down from the sky, they would discover that in just a short while, the entire area had turned into a feeling similar to the underground core. Under the pitch-black surface of the ground., the core of the Earth seemed to be pulled up. Lava rolled, and from time to time, earth fire would also erupt.

Sofia, who was hiding in the distance, could not help but sigh at the power of a high-level four-elemental demon. A high-level four-elemental demon could instantly change the environment by relying on the elements in its body, turning the surroundings into its own home ground, the energy was so powerful that it was simply unreasonable!

Ragnaros said, “Sofia, that girl’s analysis shows that this reassembling of the world fragment is for better internal friction. The experts in each world fragment should be close in strength. This has made me excited for a long time. I was just about to see who exactly was close in strength with me, but in the end, it was this old man who was about to die? I now feel that the girl’s analysis is very unreliable...” . “...”

“Is That So?”Geron glanced at the other party indifferently, completely unconcerned about the surrounding environment that had been changed by the powerful force. He gently placed his hands behind his back, looking as thin as if he would be blown away if the wind was a little stronger.

“I also feel that...”Geron’s eyes gradually turned pitch-black. “There’s something wrong with her analysis. According to her theory, a weak fellow like you shouldn’t be able to be divided with me...”

Hearing that, the smile on Ragnaros’face froze for a moment. Then, he looked at the other party faintly. “You really dare to say it... Old Man!”

“This distribution doesn’t make sense...”

At this moment, in another space, an undead with a complete energy body was moving quickly through the forest. Its body was only relying on a thin layer of biological membrane to maintain the energy, and its speed was extremely ghostly. It couldn’t even keep up with the light and shadow.

However, the light and shadow could not keep up, but a figure could.

That figure was like a maggot in the tarsal bone, sticking close to it, as if a slight delay would allow it to completely devour it!

The one being chased was naturally the undead God without a body. He never expected that he would be separated from Maya when he was redistributed, and even more so, he never expected that the other party would send a top-tier assassin to Saab!

After hesitating for a moment and not snatching the blood demon's body, the undead God was chased by this fellow until he was in a sorry state and could not retaliate at all!

The undead were naturally more afraid of such top-tier assassins, not to mention an undead that did not have a body!

"How could this be?" The undead God looked at the sky and frowned. Logically speaking, shouldn't this kind of fragmented distribution place people of similar strength together? In his current state, it would have been fine if Lanaya, a top-tier assassin, was in this space, but now there was another one. Was he trying to force him to his death?

Chapter 1178: Unreasonable Distribution (part two) !

"Wow, where is this place? where is the Big Boss? Why is he gone?"

Little cabbage looked around in fear.

"Isn't your big boss me?" Said Guo Xiaoyun with her head tilted.

"Don't tease me, Boss!" Little cabbage wanted to cry. "What can I do with two bean sprouts?"

Guo Xiaoyun glanced at little cabbage, who was shrinking into a ball of meat. "You're too modest. Bean sprouts don't have your breed..."

"Wu Wu, you're still making sarcastic remarks at this time..."

"I'm just telling the truth..." Guo Xiaoyun looked at the fat ball of meat and couldn't help pinching it.

"You're really raised to be white and fat. By the way, aren't you quite Buddhist? Why did you really follow me in?"

"Didn't you ask me to come in?" Bai Cai couldn't help but ask.

"You came in just because I asked you to?" Guo Xiaoyun rolled her eyes and said, "Then why didn't you exempt my shop from tax when I asked you to?"

"I. . ." Bai cai muttered, "Alice said that I can't make this opening. What if Goudan and the others come to ask me to do the same? Especially Wang Goudan. His father's shop looks like it's going to cover the whole New World!"

"So it's because of Alice?" Guo Xiaoyun stared at Xiao Baicai and asked.

“Well... it’s not entirely because of her. It’s business. I know this principle as well...”Xiao Baicai quickly said.

“I mean...”Guo Xiaoyun moved closer and stared into Xiao Baicai’s eyes. “Did you come with me to take risks because of Alice?”

Bai Cai:” ...”

“No!”

After a few seconds of silence, bai cai immediately retorted, “I won’t do it because of that traitor!”

“Then who is it because of?”Guo Xiaoyun found it funny. “You’re not familiar with Li Goudan, are you? In terms of power, Li Goudan is also in someone else’s power. In my impression, Pu Yunchuan is more familiar with you than Goudan, right?”

“I didn’t say it was because of Goudan!”

“Then what is it because of?”

“I. . .”Xiao Baicai raised his voice and said, “Can’t I come here by myself? The risk-taking gene in my bones is at work. I, Xiao Baicai, got to where I am today because of my risk-taking spirit!”

“Hehe...”. Guo Xiaoyun rolled her eyes. “You’re just a dead salted fish.” Every time, she was forced to take risks A Guy who sleeps in a tent for 300 days a year has the nerve to call himself an adventurer. By the way, why do you like Alice so much?”

“I don’t have any more!”Bai Cai retorted immediately!

“Are you sure?”Guo Xiaoyun narrowed her eyes and said, “I can confirm her approximate location. Don’t you want to know?”

“Where?” Little cabbage asked almost reflexively.

Guo Xiaoyun looked at her with a smile, and little cabbage’s face immediately turned red. “I just want to see why that heartless person would betray me!”

“You just don’t believe that she would betray you, right?”Guo Xiaoyun smiled and said.

“No!” Little cabbage pouted.

“Why do you trust her so much? Even at this stage?”Guo Xiaoyun pressed her step by step.

“I didn’t...”Bai Cai wanted to refute, but when she saw Guo Xiaoyun’s serious look, she couldn’t say anything.

Why?

At this moment, Bai Cai was absent-minded. She recalled the things that they had been together for the past few years. Every time she ate barbecue and slept on the grass, that guy would always find her and carry her back, every time he called her a lazy pig, he had the patience to remove the dirt from her nails bit by bit. Every time she acted shamelessly, although she tried her best to show her disdain, she would eventually compromise.

Many people knew that she was lazy and that she was a salted fish, but in reality, she was not like that.

She was from a single-parent family and was a medical student. After her mother remarried, she was very cold to her. She had started to stand on her own since she was very young. When she was nine years old, she learned from her grandmother to pick up bottles and sell them for money. After her grandmother passed away, she practically solved her own food, clothing, and accommodation. The mother who gave birth to her was nowhere to be seen all year round. She would come back occasionally and give some living expenses before disappearing without a trace.

She chose to study medicine when she was admitted to school. According to legend, this was a major that could last a lifetime. She just wanted to suffer for a little longer so that she would no longer have to worry about food and clothing in the future.

She felt that the luckiest thing in her life was that day when she entered galaxy on a whim. Here, she experienced the kind of life that she had dreamed of when she was young, where she didn't have to worry about food, drink, and sleep whenever she wanted.

However, that feeling was a little weak. In the past, it was weak because it was a game, and it had always been fake. Later on, it was weak because it was worried about her ability. It seemed that this wasn't a place where she could be lazy for the rest of her life.

Until she appeared.

For some reason, ever since she came, the illusory feeling in his heart had disappeared. He slept soundly every night and ate with great peace of mind... ..

Yes... .. Peace of mind. This was the feeling Alice gave him. It was as if as long as she was here, he would never have to worry, and that kind of insecure days would never come again.

Now that she thought about it, what did Alice give her? A peace of mind where she could eat and do nothing, and never have to worry about everything?

It seemed to be true...

But there was nothing she could do. She had never experienced it. Ever since she was young, she had never experienced that kind of carefree life where she only had to eat and play. She had never experienced it before. Her father had never given it to her, and her mother had never given it to her either...

She couldn't be blamed for being useless, could she?

As little cabbage tried to convince herself, her tears started falling uncontrollably...

When Guo Xiaoyun saw that little cabbage was suddenly crying like this, she was stunned. Then, she started to panic. Just when she wanted to comfort the other party, she forcefully held back her tears, she forcefully moved her head away from the other party's meaty face. "You're embarrassing yourself. You're even crying. Quickly get up. We still have things to do!"

"What's the matter?" Xiao Bai Cai cried.

“Didn’t Vien say just now? These world fragments should be distributed according to each other’s strength. Since we’re assigned here, there should be enemies with similar strength as us. We have to be careful...” Guo Xiaoyun had just said this., she was instantly stunned because when she turned around, she saw a black shadow sitting on a rock, looking at the two of them teasingly.

“Senior Vienne!” Little cabbage was so happy that she wanted to hug her thigh.

But just as she was about to pounce, she was stopped by Guo Xiaoyun.

Little cabbage looked at Guo Xiaoyun in surprise. Guo Xiaoyun shook her head and said, “Isn’t she...”

Guo Xiaoyun frowned. This isn’t right. Why is the distribution so unreasonable?

The same comment was made on the other side of the fragment. Seer was also looking forward speechlessly.

On the other side, there was a blue spirit wearing luxurious equipment. It had the unique aura of a god. Its powerful domain almost covered the entire fragment world.

“You’re the Little God mentioned in the intelligence report?” Vogu looked at seer with interest.

Seer curled her lips and also wanted to complain. What happened to the distribution according to strength? ! It didn’t make sense!

Chapter 1179: Ragnaros VS Goron (I)

“Is this really a reasonable distribution?”

Diana looked at the distribution details on the main console, she frowned. “A top-tier young demon, a high-tier elemental demon species, and a blue spirit that is on the verge of collapse. Two top-tier assassins and an undead without a body. Isn’t this a little too strong?”

Hearing that, Ysera yawned slightly. “I told you that it’s randomly distributed according to energy equivalence. Although that undead is countered by the assassin, his own energy is much higher than the two assassins, including the blood demon. It’s not even as high as the energy share of that undead. As for that Dying Blue Spirit? “That guy is not as simple as you think...”. <per_0> . .”

“Oh?” Diana was stunned, and then looked over with interest. At this time, among the many fragments, they seemed to be the only pair that directly collided. She wanted to see how the system was allocated... . .

Elemental Demons, which are the most energetic species of demons, are more than twice the energy ratio of most species, many of the other races had to rely on great skill to avoid a head-on collision in order to defeat an elemental, but Ysera said that the two men’s energies were compatible?

The Old Smurf who floats away in the wind?

The battle started very quickly and belonged to the style of a man who would fight a fight head-on if there was a disagreement. Among the many supporting groups, this pair was also the most cooperative. In the other groups, they either did not meet each other, or they were avoiding the battle, or they were fighting a war of words, the only group that started the battle was Geron's group.

At this moment, Ragnaros appeared to be very excited. He was a fighter. Although he knew in his heart that frequent battles would expose his true level, and he might even get injured and use up his origin source, it would be very beneficial to the people controlling him from behind the scenes, however, he was not willing to avoid the battle!

After entering the star level, it was very rare to encounter such a true battle. Every star level was the treasure of the tribe, and it was also very difficult to meet an opponent. Even if he did meet one, because each of them represented the important members of the family, the influence, and so on., it was very rare for them to throw caution to the wind and go all out!

Within the Bolton faction, he led the 2nd Legion to fight the most head-on battles. However, the number of times he could personally fight could be counted on one's fingers. This made him, who loved to fight, feel like his bones were about to rust... ..

Every time he sparred with those guys from the faction, he would only do so much. Each of them was perfunctory and did not have much meaning. Only that guy SAB was willing to be a little more serious, but he was only a little more serious, moreover, due to the busy war situation, he had not sparred with SAB for a long time. When was the last time he sparred with him? It seemed to be nine million years ago?

Nine million years...

Ragnaros' blazing red eyes were emitting the light of a wild beast. He was so excited that his blood was boiling. Although he looked very angry just now, he was actually looking forward to such an outcome!

If the other party was a calm person who wanted to avoid the battle and make peace with him, for Lord Bolton's warning, and to not let the internal friction plan of the Emerald Dream's controller succeed, he might have forced himself to suppress his wildness.

But the other party did not! !

It was... too perfect! !

Boom! !

The terrifying flames exploded. The energy intensity of a grade-3 planet was burned by the scorching flames until the space was blurred. The explosive force that exploded caused many parts of the space to explode. In the thousands of kilometers of the battle, the fire element was getting denser and denser, the terrifying temperature almost completely surpassed the burning star, and the entire ground began to slowly dissolve!

Gerald shuttled through the surging earth fire, like a soft dandelion. It was as if even the slightest spark that touched his body could cause him to instantly explode.

However, it did not. The axe technique of Laganaros' secret treasure seemed to be unable to touch the opponent no matter what. Amidst the axe shadows that filled the sky, Gerald's figure was thin and elegant.

Was this a blue spirit?

Ragnaros maintained his fierce and torrential attacks, but a strange feeling appeared in his heart. He was a pure warrior and did not know much about races. However, he knew that the blue spirits seemed to belong to the elf species that had pure spiritual bodies, right?

Why did it feel like this person was as agile as an assassin? This was not much different from Saab, right?

This old fellow is a little strange...

Thinking of this, Ragnaros didn't dare to be careless. The energy in his body circulated rapidly, and his unique fire elemental constitution caused the surrounding environment to start to melt. The space started to be devoured by the dense fire elements, and the background slowly turned scarlet red!

As the density of the fire elements increased, Ragnaros's speed also increased. Although his moves were wide open, his speed was already infinitely close to the speed of a top assassin.

On the other hand, due to the dense fire elementals around Geron, he had already formed an open flame. The entire space was like a sea of fire. There was no space for him to dodge, and he could only swim around in this sea of fire, not mentioning the erosion of the fire elementals on his body, just the resistance caused by the fire elementals caused Geron's speed to begin to lose its previous swiftness.

Geron seemed to be gradually falling into a disadvantage.

Seeing this scene, Diana gasped and said, "Is this an elemental demon? It's so powerful. It seems like it can't use up all its energy. It's so generous to spread it around like this!"

Ysera narrowed his eyes and said, "The advantage of an elemental demon is its large size. Coupled with its natural one-way elemental affinity, it can use its large size to directly change the surrounding environment and create a good background for itself. It's a characteristic of their race. It's not a secret. Didn't your elder teach you that?"

"Yes, I did..." Diana stuck out her tongue and smiled. "But I'm still quite surprised to see it with my own eyes. It feels... so heroic! !"

Ysera's lips twitched, but he did not say anything.

Indeed, compared to the other humanoid races who were meticulous in their energy utilization, elemental demons' combat style was indeed too heroic.

"You said that the matching of the fragments is based on the size of each other's energy?" Diana suddenly asked.

Ysera did not even lift his eyelids as he replied lazily, "Yes..."

"I can't tell at all..." Diana looked at the skinny figure that was shuttling through the flames. At this moment, as the fire element became more and more intense, his movement speed also became slower and slower. She immediately frowned and said, "He's being suppressed and beaten!"

"What do you mean by being suppressed and beaten?" Ysera laughed and said, "That elemental demon used a huge amount of energy for half a day, but he did not even hurt the other party. How can this be called being suppressed and beaten?" "One has been consuming a large amount of energy, while the other has barely used any energy. It's almost a draw on the field. Do you call this being suppressed and beaten?"

"But I remember the elder saying that..." Diana narrowed her eyes and said, "Elemental demons can use the energy of the breathing cycle. This way, it doesn't consume physical energy, right?"

In the racial characteristics, elemental demons could absorb high-quality fire molecules through their breathing to replenish their energy. The higher the quality, the higher the level of replenishment. However, these elemental demons could produce high-quality elements on their own, therefore, when they fought, they would first use their enormous size to create an elemental space. However, they could also use the high-quality elements they created to recover their energy consumption. It was a near-perfect circulatory system!

It seemed that their combat style was rough, but in fact, their control was very precise. In terms of energy utilization, they were at the pinnacle of the Abyss!

Chapter 1180: Ragnaros VS Goron (part two)

Therefore, the Balrog's fighting style was not reckless, nor did it suffer any losses. Under the cycle, its energy was almost not depleted. On the other hand, the Balrog was in an increasingly disadvantageous environment, although it tried its best to reduce its energy consumption and use the most exquisite movements to dodge the attack, it would still cause its energy consumption.

Not to mention other things, just using energy to block the invasion of the surrounding elements would also result in the consumption of energy, right? Under such circumstances, the old man did not earn anything. Moreover, when the surrounding environment became more and more suitable for the Balrog, he would be more passive.

Diana remembered that the elder once said that if they encountered an elemental demon, if they were of the same size, the best way to fight was to directly exterminate the opponent's elemental paved field, in this way, the elemental demon's overly pure constitution would weaken him in normal space. In addition, their clan's combat techniques were not that brilliant to begin with, which would give one an advantage.

And if their sizes were not of the same level, it would be best to leave the opponent's Arena at the first opportunity and wait for an opportunity!

If this old man was of the same size as the Balrog, but allowed the opponent to set up the arena, that would be foolish, right?

Although Diana didn't say these words, Ysera seemed to see through her thoughts and said faintly, "I'm not stupid..."

Diana pursed her lips. "You really don't know how to Read Minds?"

"There's no such thing in this world..." Ysera emphasized again. "It's just that your mind is too easy to guess..."

Diana: "I'm getting more and more suspicious..."

Ysera: "..."

Ignoring Diana's unreasonable farce.., ysera sighed faintly, "I know what you're thinking about. You must be thinking about the way your elder taught you how to deal with elemental demons. His method is only used by ordinary people, and it's specifically targeted at mediocre people!"

"Mediocre?" Diana's face twitched. This guy wouldn't talk about her, right?

"Think about it with your head...". Ysera said disdainfully, "The advantage of elemental demons is the amount of energy accumulated. Using energy to spread out the energy in a face-to-face fight is equivalent to comparing strength with a titan. This is the stupidest way. Your Elder taught you so much just so that you can be a little more careful in battle. Don't mess around unless you're absolutely sure."
"...". "..."

Diana: "..."

"The normal way of fighting should be him fighting like this!" Ysera said faintly.

"Eh?" Diana was stunned when she heard this. Then, she looked at the battle scene suspiciously. She still could not figure out how this kind of dodging method could be considered the correct way of fighting?

But in the next second, she was stunned.

"This... since when..."

In the few seconds when she was chatting with Ysera, an extremely huge alchemy array appeared on the field. The complex and mysterious array was rapidly absorbing the fire elemental energy around it. In just a few seconds.., the fire elemental energy that was thousands of kilometers condensed instantly disappeared without a trace, forming a black ice crystal above the array!

Diana, who was proficient in Arcana, instantly recognized that this was an extremely sophisticated energy conversion array. This matrix was extremely sophisticated in absorbing and converting the fire element energy released by ragnaros, it formed extremely complex ice particles!

It was not impossible to use Arcana to solve the elemental magic's violent energy pouring method, but this kind of thing needed to be prepared in advance, right? When did the opponent prepare it?

It must be known that he had seen the guy from entering the emerald dream to redistributing the new fragments. When did he quietly make such a matrix here?

Looking at Diana's surprised expression, Ysera directly gave a reply, "When we were fighting just now!"

Diana: "What?"

"I said... During the battle just now!" Ysera rolled his eyes at her and said, "He secretly set up the runes while fighting!"

"This... how is this possible?" Diana was in disbelief.

"How is it impossible?" Ysera laughed and said, "The opponent is a blue spirit and is suitable to walk the path of a mage. Look at how agile he is, do you really think that he is an assassin?"

Diana still did not believe it. "Even a mage should not be able to do that, right?"

Runes were fine alchemy energy symbols. A slight mistake could cause the entire alchemy array to deteriorate. This energy array was not a simple alchemy array. It was obviously a very high-level energy shaping array that could rapidly absorb and transform the energy of others, naturally, those who could absorb star-level energy were also star-level. Even if such a complicated array happened in the star-level, it was impossible to set it up while fighting!

"That's just something that ordinary people can't do..." Ysera said faintly, "Experts are different. Look carefully, Diana, the world outside, the experts outside, the path you have to walk is very long!"

"How is this possible?" Ragnaros also looked at the ice crystals on the formation with a stunned expression, clearly unable to accept the fact that his flames had been instantly sucked away.

"Never encountered it before?" Geron said with a laugh, "Do you know why the Abyss has so many star level warriors, and even life level warriors, yet you've been trapped in the Abyss for so many years?"

"What are you trying to say?" Ragnaros' face instantly turned dark!

Geron said with a laugh, "Because at the end of the day, all of you are just a bunch of savages. How many years have you all been integrated into the federation? "You are still the same as before. You only rely on your own talent and have no creativity at all. You are even inferior to a middle or lower class family in the federation. How long have all of you been using your elemental demon combat style?"

"There are things that are introduced in the federation's primary and secondary school race textbooks, yet all of you are still using it as a combat style. You Are Really Stupid!"

"Bullsh * T! !" Ragnaros' eyes instantly turned red. Explosive elemental energy gushed out, and in an instant, it seemed as if it was going to burn the entire world to ashes.

However, in just a few seconds, the newly released energy was instantly absorbed by the surrounding array. The powerful energy caused the ice crystal above the array to become as big as a hill. The terrifying ice elemental energy was ready to be unleashed.

"Look...". Geron said slowly, "When you encounter a problem, you will only become ineffectual and furious. I've already explained that you still can't change it. You subconsciously only know how to use brute force. In the end, you demons are no different from those indigenous evil gods in the other passages. You only know how to rely on your talent to earn a living. If you are targeted, you will be like a wild beast that has fallen into a trap. You will only become ineffectual and Furious!”

As he spoke, Geron gently tapped the void with his finger, and a complicated spell quickly activated the entire matrix. In an instant, the huge ice crystal exploded, the terrifying ice elemental energy was compressed into a single energy and rapidly attacked ragnaros!

In the face of the huge ice elemental attack, a crimson light flashed in Ragnaros’eyes. An even more majestic energy gushed out, but in an instant, it was completely absorbed by the surrounding matrix, just like that, he could only watch helplessly as the energy attacked his body, completely freezing him!

“How boring...”Geron narrowed his triangular eyes again and walked out as if he was about to fall asleep. He came to the position of the Black Rock ruins that had been shattered just now, intending to directly take the fragments away.

However, in the next second, his body suddenly stiffened and he turned his head abruptly. The moment he turned his head, he saw that his arrays had collapsed, followed by an extremely terrifying flame energy surging over!
