

A Bunch 1211

Chapter 1211: Battle of Brother Dog (1)

“They really merged?”

In the fragmented world where everyone was gathered, there was a shadow land. The area of the shadow was not big, but it was airtight and blocked almost all the light. Even on a hot day, it could not shine into the twilight.

If a high-level mage came here, they would see that there was an extremely high-energy shadow power, which belonged to the power of the death realm... ..

And in the center of the shadow was Andrew, who was leisurely doing some experiments. At this time, Andrew was also attracted by the teleportation beam in the air. He looked at the sky, but a trace of excitement flashed in his eyes... ..

Compared to the others who were surprised to see it, although his emotions were also excited, it was completely different, as if he had already expected it... ..

“Sir... do you know what that is?”

In the shadows, a familiar voice came out. It was actually Kersu, who had been taken in by Andrew. If Maya was here, she would definitely be surprised that Andrew would bring such a weak native with him.

Whether it was in terms of talent or rank, Kersu was far from worth Andrew’s time. In her eyes, it was almost worthless... ..

“Do you remember the orc who killed our soldiers?” Andrew said gently.

“Huh?” Kersu was stunned, and then she stuttered, “Is... is it that Orc with a special roar?”

“It’s him...” Andrew smiled, “That Orc has a very special bloodline, and there is a certain chance that he can connect with the Gaia’s consciousness here or even fuse with it...”

“Gaia consciousness...” Kersu asked humbly. “Is it the consciousness of the world that your Lordship spoke of?”

Andrew nodded slightly.

Kersu sighed and said, “The universe is vast. There are so many things that I can’t imagine. I am extremely grateful to be able to learn these things from you. However, with my talent, I might not be able to learn from you in my entire life. What if...”. <per_0> . .”

“Live as long as you can...” Andrew looked at him with a smile. “Anything is possible if you live long enough. It may take you ten times as long to learn what others have learned in a hundred years, but if you live long enough, you will catch up one day, won’t you?”

When Kersu heard this, his body trembled and he said excitedly, “What your excellency said is...”

Andrew retracted his gaze and looked at the sky again. In fact, those who were familiar with Andrew knew that he was not a friendly existence. It was hard to imagine that he would be so kind to a native.

“Sir... you deliberately let that Orc go back then. Did you expect this to happen?”Kersu asked with worship in his eyes.

“Not really...”Andrew looked at the sky calmly. “The future is the most unpredictable thing. Moreover, the probability was not high at that time. I just wanted to try...”

He was not lying. Andrew was the one who first found out that the kid had the bloodline of the Titan Emperor. He did not make a move after the loss of his soldiers, so he had this idea...

The emerald dream was forged by the spine of the ancient Titan Tower. If a descendant of the bloodline of the Titan Emperor appeared, there was a high possibility of resonance, but he did not expect it to be so smooth.

“Master, are you leaving?”Kersu saw that Andrew stood up and quickly stood up, putting down the scroll in his hand reluctantly.

“You stay here...”Andrew said lightly.

“Master?”

Andrew said, “I’ve left a lot of things for you. From the most basic arcanist origin to the rune structure to the knowledge of the current federal system, it should be relatively complete...”

“Master... What do you mean?”Kersu’s voice became shaky. master... ? Was he going to abandon him?

“I mean, you need more time to help me...”Andrew smiled and disappeared from the shadow without saying anything. Kersu was left in a daze.

The shadow space had been completely glued to the fragment. It would not disappear unless the fragment was destroyed. The energy of the fragment was very high, so Ysera would not be willing to destroy it, and a low-level undead., it would not mind.

If he could not come back here, the knowledge left in it should be enough for the little guy to learn for a long time, right?

Andrew recalled that as a servant of a wizard, he carefully followed behind a famous wizard and looked at the vast arcane world, full of yearning... ..

At that time, he was as small as a speck of dust...

But now that he thought about it, even if he had come to this point, how could he not be a bigger speck of dust to the universe?

After about 30 seconds, the teleportation beam finally landed on the ground.

In the beam, Grandpa’s noisy voice sounded again. “I say, Doggie, can you choose a better landing spot? What’s this pool of stuff? It’s so disgusting...”

Obviously, everyone had landed on a muddy area. Grandpa, who was caught off guard, was directly wrapped up into a mud egg...

"That's enough. Why are you still choosing a place at this time?" Brother Dog wiped the mud off his body and slowly tried to stand up. He recalled the training that the instructor had taught him about the terrain in the wild, he had taught him how to use his strength to escape from the mud.

He took a deep breath and maintained his balance. Using the breathing technique, he puffed up his chest, and his body slowly floated up like he was in water.

"You've trained your body well..."

The one who spoke was Nefal. At this moment, he was standing lightly on the mud. He looked completely different from the sorry state of Brother Dog's grandfather and the others. Brother Dog could not help but curl the corners of his mouth.

Nefal looked at Brother Dog, but his words were not perfunctory. The energy density in this place was very high. It was at the level of a grade-2 planet, and the suction force of the mud was not something that an average grade-7 or grade-8 planet could compare to, brother Dog's current body density was far from the energy density of this planet. If he used such a crude breathing technique to lighten his body, he might be fractured by the mud if he was not careful, he had initially wanted to stop brother dog from doing that.

However, he did not expect brother dog's body muscles to coordinate almost perfectly. The degree of adaptation to the surrounding forces was also very exaggerated. It was clear that he was well-trained.

This was something that very few children of the abyss demons could do. Most Demons would take a long time to familiarize themselves with the environment and grasp the balance of their bodies when they were outside in low-energy locations.

Nevar extended his arm to Brother Dog.

Looking at the guy who looked like a black shadow, Brother Dog curled his lips and said, "I can get up by myself."

"I don't have that much time for you to waste..." Nevar said calmly, "They should be arriving soon!"

Brother Dog knew that the situation was urgent, so he didn't insist. He stretched out his thick arm, but the moment he stretched it out, the goosebumps on his arm suddenly stood up and instantly retracted!

What was going on?

When his grandfather saw this scene, he was about to ask a question, but suddenly, an indescribable terror surged into his heart. Goosebumps rose all over his body, and he almost fell into the mud!

Nevar slowly stood up and looked in a direction. At the end of the mud, there was a pale figure who had come over at some unknown time. He was looking at them coldly... ..

Chapter 1212: Battle of Brother Dog (2)

"Who is it?"

Nevar stood up and stared coldly into the distance.

The other party did not conceal himself and came very arrogantly. It was obvious that he was extremely confident in his own combat strength. The pressure that he gave out earlier was indeed in line with the other party's confidence.

This was the first time that Nevar had such a strange and terrifying feeling in his heart. As an assassin who was not good at direct confrontation, he subconsciously did not want to face such a fellow head-on.

However, he had no choice. SAB and Vera were both injured. Although that Little Titan had some big secrets, his level was clearly too low. He was the only one who could fight head-on...

"Oh? Another young and outstanding demon... Tsk Tsk, I really can't bear to make a move..."

A gloomy voice came from the mud, carrying an unusually cold and suffocating feeling. It was so gloomy and terrifying that brother dog almost suffocated, while his grandfather directly sank into the mud... ..

"It's him! !"

Not far away, villafa, who was protecting SAB, was shocked. He hurriedly sent a voice transmission to remind him, "Be careful, it's the guy who injured me!"

Nevar was stunned, but he immediately reacted. The guy who injured villafa, wasn't it the guy who made Ragnaros capsize?

When he thought of this, a hint of gloominess flashed in Nevar's eyes!

He did not really like that fellow, Ragnaros. However, it had to be said that among the younger generation of elemental magic, ragnaros was publicly acknowledged as a genius. Other than Safilos, other than the demons who had joined the Burton faction, in terms of direct combat strength., he was the strongest!

To be able to kill Ragnaros, this fellow was probably even more difficult to deal with than the woman just now!

"HMM... they are all acquaintances..."Gerald glanced at VILAFa and smiled slightly. His face, which had already become young and handsome, appeared especially evil under the sunlight.

Villafa could not help but shudder. He did not understand why that extremely old fellow had become like this?

Nevar calmly looked at the pale youth. Under the scorching sun, his blood was cold. He had heard his elders mention this inexplicable fear before. "Skyfiend?"

But the next second, he shook his head. "You are not a skyfiend... A Skyfiend is not as long-winded as you..."

"Oh?"Goron squinted at Nevar, but did not act immediately, but asked with interest: "What do you think I am?"

“How do I Know What You Are?” Nevar light way: “But are you sure you want to chat so? I don’t think you’re gonna be able to stay like this much longer? No... <per_0> . “...” nefal shook his head. “You wanted to make a move, but you were just trying to confuse me. Your state is very relaxed, but your killing intent is very obvious. Are you looking for an opportunity? “You already made such a move from such a long distance. Is there any method that can prevent me from escaping in an instant?”

As he spoke, NEFAL actually retreated without hesitation, swiftly pulling a distance of more than a hundred feet.

After pulling the distance apart, Nefal clenched his fists and narrowed his eyes. “As expected, the feeling of danger has weakened quite a bit... it’s a domain, right?”

Gelong:” ...”

In just a few short seconds, before he could even make a move, this little fellow actually managed to guess most of the situation...

“How rare...”Gelong could not help but praise, “It’s rare to see a junior as rational as you in the Abyss...”

Indeed...

The other party’s guess was right. Gerald’s power came from the domain, a domain of fear exclusive to skyfiends... ..

In this domain, one’s five senses would be infinitely lowered due to fear, and one’s consciousness would unknowingly weaken. The more one forcefully overcame it, the easier it would be to be eroded by fear. And when one’s fear was deep in the heart, all of one’s power would change shape., you would become completely defenseless, just like how your mental defense line would be.

Many people would think of how to overcome their fear the moment they encounter a skyfiend. In fact, it was the exact opposite. At this moment, retreating rationally was the correct way to do it!

And the other party retreated very methodically, and the distance was also very accurate. He had almost grasped the scope of his domain of fear... ..

Not Bad, Kid!

Although his strength was inferior to the Balrog he had encountered previously, his battle mentality and personality were far superior to that boorish fellow!

Geron took a slight step forward, while NEFAL followed the other party’s pace and took a step back. Maintaining the distance between them, it was obvious that he had already grasped the range of the other party’s domain.

“You’re useless like this...”geron smiled and said, “Fear is different from ordinary attributes. You can’t escape just because you’ve touched it. Haven’t you noticed?”

As he said that, a cold feeling surged into his heart. Nevar’s pupils contracted slightly, and the hand holding the dagger started to tremble unconsciously.

However, he did not panic. He kept staring at the other party.

He was calm enough...

Geron turned his gaze to Saab and said faintly, "Moreover, you brought an injured person with you. It's not easy to use it, is it?"

"You want to talk?" NEFAL asked directly.

"Tell me the secret, and I'll let you and the blood demon leave!" Geron said directly.

"What secret?" Nefal asked despite knowing the answer.

Geron was not angry. He smiled darkly and said, "Naturally, it's the secret of your teleportation. You Won't say that you made it, right?"

"Oh... you mean that..." nefal said faintly, "It's not a secret, right?"

Hearing that, Goron was stunned. Obviously, he didn't expect nefal to say that.

While he was frowning, the sky suddenly lit up again. A dazzling beam of light shone down, exactly the same as the teleportation beam just now...

This made Goron stunned again...

What was going on?

"Look..." nefal shrugged and said, "I said, this isn't a secret, right? There are quite a number of people who know it..."

Gerald:"..."

Nefal retreated again, but at some point, the two shadows had already pulled Brother Dog and grandpa out of the mud and quietly moved to the position behind him, the moment the teleportation light landed, Nefal immediately led the two people to retreat quickly!

"If you want to know, just ask them. They are more professional!"

After saying that, Nefal used his ghost shadow spell to lead the group to retreat in another direction. Soon, they disappeared.

Geron did not want them to leave, but the position of the light beam was very coincidental. It happened to be between the two of them. If he directly jumped over, it would be troublesome if it was a trap... ..

Maya saw a moment is also a Garen, face suddenly is not very good-looking, how can it be this guy?

On the other side, Nevar was running with the others, knowing that he could not delay them much longer and that he had to pull away quickly.

At this moment, SAB, who was carried by Nevar on his shoulder, was silent for a moment. He looked at Nevar with a complicated expression. "You're usually so solid, but I didn't expect you to be so smart at the crucial moment..."

Nevar, who was running, was silent for a moment. Finally, he replied, "I'm usually very smart too!"

Everyone:"..."

"They're here!"

Just as everyone was slightly relieved, Vera suddenly spoke up.

Everyone tensed up. They had caught up so quickly?

"No... this aura..."Saab narrowed his eyes. "It's the Liege!"

Chapter 1213: Battle of Brother Dog (3)

"Is it really the Liege?"Nevar's tone carried a trace of surprise and surprise.

At this moment, in front of them stood a thin figure. The alchemy armor on his body was somewhat tattered, but that familiar face and Aura was without a doubt Bolton!

If they could reunite with the Liege, their safety would be guaranteed... ..

Nevar's tensed heart relaxed a little. From just now until now, they had been in a crisis. Now, they were finally a little lucky.

"Don't get too close..."Sab, who had sensed Bolton's aura first, suddenly said.

When he said this, both Vila and Nevar were stunned.

"Sab?"

"Senior?"

Danger was approaching from the rear. If they encountered strong reinforcements at this time, shouldn't they immediately regroup and arrange how to deal with the pursuit?

Why would sab say that?

Nefal's heart was in turmoil, and an inexplicable sense of unease surged into his heart. However, subconsciously, he still listened to SAB's words and stopped a hundred feet away from Burton. He put down the injured SAB.

"Why are you here?"Bolton's familiar voice rang out. The power of a God gave Nefal and the others, who had already signed a contract, a sense of security. They subconsciously wanted to get close to him and seek protection.

At this moment, Sab suddenly took a step forward, causing nefal and the others to be stunned.

This was because SAB's step seemed to be in a position to please the suzerain. However, they did not know whether it was intentional or not. He just happened to block in front of them, stopping them from taking a step forward.

"Liege..." Sab's eyes emitted a gem-like blood-red light as he asked calmly, "Are You Alone?"

"Yes..." Burton nodded slightly. "Something happened and I got separated from the others..."

As soon as he said that, Vera's body stiffened...

She was with Burton and the others before. She clearly remembered that after she was rescued, Burton should only have Safilos by his side. Why did he say other people and not safilos?

It was even more impossible to say that the Liege had joined up with the other demons because the total number of demons that came was only these people in front of him... ..

Was it a slip of the tongue? or...

Vera took a deep breath as a chill gradually rose.

"Who's behind us?" Bolton did not seem to sense Sab's probing as he frowned and looked behind Bolton and the others.

Burton didn't even turn his head and directly said, "Enemies!"

"Enemies?" Burton raised his eyebrows and directly waved his hand. "Get behind me!"

With a wave of his hand, he activated his domain power and quickly sent a wave of power to protect SAB and the others behind them. It was as if he wanted to protect his subordinates as a lord.

However, this reassuring posture didn't allow SAB and the others to move even half a step...

"Huh?" Burton frowned. "What's Wrong?"

SAB said, "Most lords might have the same attitude as you, but they won't be our lords..."

Burton:" ..."

Burton's expression slowly disappeared, turning cold and numb as he stared at everyone. The domain power he released earlier instantly formed a terrifying cold current, causing everyone's hearts to instantly sink!

"What's going on?"

Brother Dog carefully looked ahead. The terrifying pressure made him unable to speak properly.

Under this pressure, his grandfather curled up into a ball as he continuously trembled. "Wooden clogs..."

Vera picked up his grandfather who had curled up into a ball and carefully placed him into the spatial bag. A pale blue flame rose from his body and formed a blue fire barrier beside Brother Dog. Brother Dog's pressure instantly decreased, she looked at him gratefully.

Vera did not pay attention to brother dog. Instead, she narrowed her eyes and looked at the fellow who looked exactly like Burton. Her vigilant colleague was still a little puzzled.

The connection between the god's contract should not be wrong. The person in front of her should be the Lord... "...". But why?

What exactly happened?

What happened after he was saved? Where was Big Brother? Why wasn't he with Lord Bolton? Why did Lord Bolton become like this? Was the person in front of him Lord Bolton?

A series of doubts welled up in his heart, and the chill in his heart grew stronger...

"Senior..." Nefal looked at SAB, his eyes filled with doubt... ..

Although he also felt that there was something wrong with this suzerain, the feeling in the contract between the gods could not be wrong. The person in front of him should not be fake... ..

Sab did not say anything. He only looked at him warily. The blood demon was the strongest demon in the abyss. Even in the myriad races of the federation, it was one of the top existences in terms of perception. It was this talent that saved him. He felt that... If they had gotten close to him just now, they would have already died... ..

Although he could not explain why Bolton had become so dangerous... ..

But his intuition was not wrong. He had relied on this intuition to avoid countless dangers on the battlefield. No one close to him would be more reliable than his intuition, not to mention that Bolton was actually not a trustworthy liege!

"SAB..." Vera sent a voice transmission in a low voice.

Sab narrowed his eyes slightly. "You said earlier that you were separated from Lord Bolton. Is Safilos with the Lord?"

Vera was stunned for a moment and quickly nodded. "Yes..."

Sab nodded and looked at Bolton. "My lord, may I ask where Safilos is?"

Bolton looked at SAB indifferently. "Dead..."

Everyone:"..."

SAB: "How did he die..."

Bolton did not reply this time. A strange smile appeared on his face. With a gentle wave of his hand, a light spatial ripple appeared. In the next second, a ferocious-looking head appeared in Bolton's hand, the fluttering silver hair and the pair of blue eyes unique to fallen angels directly answered SAB's question.

"Big... Big Brother..." Vera's face instantly turned pale... ..

SAB and Nevar took a step back, and the energy in their bodies instantly exploded.

At this moment, it was almost certain that the person in front of them was not Bolton!

Boom!

At the critical moment, a few figures instantly landed, each stopping about a hundred meters behind SAB and Nevar... ..

“God?”

Among the figures, the leader was the Sky Demon Goron. A hint of doubt appeared on his strange pale face as he looked at the two opposing groups of people.

That demon with the aura of a God should be Bolton from the intelligence report, right. These guys were quite lucky to meet their liege, but..? What was the situation with their stance?

Although they had just arrived, Geron was very sensitive to the fact that the atmosphere between the two groups of people did not seem to be right... ..

After that, Maya and the undead followed closely behind. The moment they landed on the ground, they also saw Burton, and their brows furrowed.

Burton looked up at the undead God who was the last to rush over, separated from Saab and the others, and the corners of his mouth curled up into a strange smile...

In an instant, the undead God’s pupils constricted, and with a bang, he abandoned his temporary body and fled.

Bolton’s smile became even stranger. “Run?”

Chapter 1214: Battle for Brother Dog (4)

“Run?”

Burton sneered. His body did not move, but his shadow flew towards the fleeing undead as if it had come alive. His speed was so fast that he was no different from a top-tier assassin. Furthermore, as a black shadow, he ignored the terrain., his speed was even more exaggerated. In the blink of an eye, he was about to catch up to the fleeing undead!

Furthermore, it was not just Bolton’s shadow. The black shadows around him that were upside down suddenly seemed to come alive. Without any warning, they exploded and attacked the fleeing undead. They covered the sky and covered the earth. It was like a tidal wave that caused everyone’s scalps to go numb, almost subconsciously, they looked below them, afraid that their own shadows would suddenly explode and strike them!

“Living shadow technique...”Nevar said in a low voice, “It’s usually used by shadow mages, and it requires a lot of mental strength and shadow power. This strength...”

He looked at the black shadows that filled the sky, and the terrifying scene that was like a tidal wave said solemnly, “It’s the Shadow Demon Star!”

Shadow Devil Planet...

Vera looked at Bolton with a cold expression. Currently, Bolton was the only person in the entire universe who used demon genes to create an activation star. There would definitely not be a second family. The only one who could use the Shadow Devil Planet Should Be Bolton himself... ..

However, if it was Bolton, he should not have a reason to kill his big brother... ..

In the Abyss, the fallen angels were the ones who supported Bolton the most. In fact, they supported him even more than the Dylan demons of the Bolton family. Safilos was the next leader of the fallen angels. If he was killed, Bolton would become enemies with the fallen angels from then on. This shouldn't be... ..

But he still did it. If this person was really Bolton, why would he do this. But if it wasn't... .. Why could he use the activation star?

"It's not Bolton..."

Sab's voice came from Villafa's puzzled expression. At this moment, Sab looked at the black shadows in the sky with a grave expression and said calmly, "The energy is gathering too quickly. It's not at the level that it should be!"

As soon as he said that, nefal also reacted.

Indeed, as a shadow demon, he knew the uniqueness of the shadow power. It was a special power that was extremely difficult to extract. Ordinary Shadow mages needed to prepare energy in advance, so most shadow demons would not leave the abyss, because once they left the abyss, it would be difficult for them to form a high-level shadow magic just by relying on the stored energy.

If they were outside the abyss, it would take more than ten times more time to extract the shadow power to activate a shadow spell than the same basic Elemental Arcana. The assassins of the shadow demon clan were traveling in the outside world, they were cautious when using the shadow demon secret spell, afraid that they would not have enough energy.

The Living Shadow spell in front of them was at least level-20. Although the energy brought by the Shadow Demon Star was enough, Bolton's speed of gathering shadow energy was too fast!

It was not that Nefer had not seen Burton using the law energy to gather the energy of the activation star. Although it was true that he could gather a large amount of energy in a short period of time, it would still require a short period of time. Among the numerous activation stars, the Flame Devil Planet and the Rock Devil Planet were the easiest to gather, this was because the four great elements were the most compatible in the universe. However, even the best use of the Flame Devil Planet would not be this fast, right?

From the moment there was nothing, in less than a second, the shadow energy that filled the sky seemed to have been directly teleported over. This efficiency was really a little too exaggerated...

Nevar was shocked and bewildered. Far away in the starry sky, the demon intelligence officer in charge of controlling the army was even more terrified because they had just seen an entire shadow demon star..! Disappear in an instant!

"What's going on?"

The intelligence officer quickly asked.

The mage team in charge of maintaining the planet's energy quickly reported, "Sir, the energy of the shading star has been extracted by the Liege's Law!"

"Are you sure it's the Liege?" The intelligence officer's face was full of surprise.

It was not the first time she had seen the liege extract the energy of the activation star. How could it be gone in an instant?

In the past, the amount of energy used was huge, but it was all visible to the naked eye. Just like a few hours ago, when the lord extracted the energy from the flame demon star and Rock Demon Star, the total energy used was less than 1% , however, the extraction time took several minutes.

How could it be gone in an instant like this?

No...

The general intelligence officer calmly thought about it. The speed of extracting energy was related to the strength of the Lord's law. That speed just now was obviously... .. not something that his lordship should have. ...

Who Was It?

"Soul severing! !"

Just as the undead God was about to be drowned by the Sea of Shadows, Maya finally made her move. The moon in her hand rapidly transformed into countless flywheels that shattered the shadows around the undead, meanwhile, she grabbed the undead God at an exaggerated speed and fled in another direction.

However, the shadows that filled the sky had almost blocked all the roads, forcing Maya to retreat!

Seeing the Sea of shadows attacking from all directions again, the green eyes of the undead flashed with a hint of viciousness. With a flash of light in her hand, an ancient-looking spear was stabbed into the ground!

In an instant, the black shadows that blotted out the sky and covered the earth retreated rapidly like a tidal wave, finally disappearing without a trace... ..

"Oh?" Burton looked up. "The space-time spear... you have quite a lot of good things..."

As Burton looked up, a pair of green pupils that looked exactly like those of the undead appeared. In an instant, everyone understood who this person was!

"Andrew?"

Gerald leaned forward slightly, and a rare trace of solemnity appeared on his pale and strange face. He looked at Saber and the others and said, "That Lord of yours is really useless. It just so happens that it fell into the hands of him!"

Maya also raised her head to look at Bolton. "It's really the worst outcome..."

The undead needed a body, and the best body for the undead was nothing more than the same creature as when they were alive. Originally, the body of a god was the most difficult to find, but someone had given her a ready-made one, and it was a star-ranked God!

"Teacher..." Maya looked at Andrew who was possessing Bolton with a smile. "Does our cooperation still count?"

Andrew looked at Maya with a smile. "It will count if you can survive this time!"

Maya: "..."

As soon as he finished his words, Andrew's finger lightly swiped, and an extremely complicated and huge spell formation was instantly formed. The entire sky suddenly turned dark red, and the surrounding temperature instantly soared, in an instant, the entire world fragment was like a burning sun, turning into a world of lava!

This terrifying concentration of elemental energy caused everyone's eyelids to Twitch. Villafa and the others instantly understood the difference between a top-tier sky god and an ordinary sky god. They were using the same laws, but their liege was simply worlds apart when compared to the other party!

Boom!

Just as the terrifying fire elemental energy blotted out the sky and covered the earth, there was a sudden flash of white light, and the energy was instantly emptied. The dark red color in the surroundings disappeared, as if nothing had happened.

Sab and the others were stunned. Maya, on the other hand, instantly looked at the space-time spear in the undead God's hand.

At this time, the spear was covered with dark red cracks, and it looked like it was about to collapse.

"What are you looking at?" The undead immediately said angrily, "Why aren't you doing anything?"

In an instant, Maya, Goron, and Sab rushed toward Andrew without hesitation. In this kind of situation, if the other party used the law again, they would all die here... ..

Chapter 1215: Battle for Brother Dog (5)

"Tsk..." facing the attacks of so many top star level warriors, Andrew wasn't flustered at all. Raising his hand, he instantly formed a spell, and instantly, a terrifying wind force spread out with him as the center!

Perhaps the wind elements were compressed too terrifyingly, forming a storm that instantly tore apart the ground like scraping bones, the entire Earth's crust being torn apart.

The powerful wind force caused the entire world to tremble. The elemental power that was gathered in that instant was clearly on the same level as the fire elements from before!

This was the power of a deity overlord. The array and energy present at the scene could almost be directly applied, just like a precise machine.

The first batch of people that rushed in, such as Vera, Saab, and Goron, were almost instantly forced to retreat by the irreversible wind elemental power!

Meanwhile, Nefer and Maya, who were the second to enter, used extremely exquisite movement techniques to avoid the frontal force. Maya relied on her extremely strange phase steps to sail against the current in this wind resistance environment that was almost like a white hole, her steps were so exquisite that it was obvious that she was a top assassin born in a large clan!

Saab, who was blown away in the distance, was slightly stunned. This level of skill was probably not inferior to Vaughn's strange footwork back then. It seemed that this woman had held back when she fought with Little Farr. If the other party had used this level of skill at the first moment., little Farr, who was not prepared, might have suffered a great loss.

They were both races that had existed for a long time. Many demons in the Abyss were as ancient as the ten thousand races of the Federation. However, in terms of skill inheritance, they were really too far apart...

At first, nefarr was taken aback. While he was amazed at the exquisite footwork of the other party, he immediately reacted and turned into a black shadow that directly entered under Maya's body, like Maya's shadow, he followed Maya's footsteps into the center of the Whirlwind!

Maya's eyes lit up slightly, and she thought to herself, 'this little guy is really something!'

The shadow technique was the basic skill of shadow demons, and it was also the basic method most shadow demons used to hunt their prey. At the initial stage, Shadow Demons had little strength, and they relied on surprise to kill creatures. They would sneak into the shadows of their enemies and imitate their movements, they would wait for their enemies to relax before suddenly attacking!

This method would be useful for some careless creatures, but for the abyssal creatures that were on the brink of death in the market, it would test their basic skills and patience, usually, the Shadow Devils would have to patiently imitate their enemies for dozens of days or even years, and only after they had thoroughly understood their habits and actions would they attack.

That was why Shadow Devils were born with the talent to imitate others, and some high-level shadow devils could even learn some of their enemies' cutting-edge techniques through the shadow art.

But Maya did not expect that this little shadeling could also imitate the high-level steps of her family... ..

Looking at the reverse shadow, which was almost exactly the same as her, Maya not only exclaimed about its talent...

But at this time, there was no time to continue sighing and bickering. The two of them, one up and one down, one in the light and one in the dark, moved in unison and attacked Andrew from two completely opposite angles!

In the face of such exquisite coordination, Andrew's expression was still indifferent, as if he did not care at all.

Just as the two daggers attacked from two completely opposite directions, Andrew suddenly moved his body, as nimble as a dandelion, and very naturally avoided the two of them!

Maya and Nevar were stunned at the same time. Although they also understood that a guy like Andrew would not let them succeed so easily, they had never thought that the other party would use such a method.

They had thought that it might be some kind of strange law, or some kind of arcane mathematical trap that had been prepared beforehand.

But they had never thought that the other party would directly use his body to dodge it... ..

Close combat methods...

This legendary undead was also proficient in close combat?

Maya frowned. She knew more about Andrew's secret. Andrew's predecessor was an ape-like close combat race in the Wastyra race, and he had mastered some close combat secret skills. However, that action just now did not seem like the way of the ape tribe. It was too light, so light that she felt that Andrew was a top assassin...

The two of them did not have any breathing space for Andrew. They were afraid that the other party would use some high-level laws again, so they did not stop their attacks and enveloped Andrew like a storm.

The two of them, who had never worked together before, seemed to have a great tacit understanding this time. Their actions did not interfere with each other, but they worked together seamlessly. The black and white blade lights intersected seamlessly, so smooth that it was suffocating.

However, in this suffocating blade light storm, Andrew was like a light dandelion. He looked like a rootless duckweed, but he was safe and sound. He floated in the almost seamless blade light, but no one could touch him!

"Wind King's Barrier!"

It was one thing if this guy possessed Bolton and could use the activation star, but why did he even know how to use Safilos' Wind King's Barrier?

This could not go on. If the two assassins could not succeed in the first place, the advantage of being a god would become more and more obvious as time went on, sab and the others, who were forced by the powerful wind force to not even be able to get close, immediately fell into a state of anxiety.

Even Goron, who had always been cold, frowned at this moment and looked directly at the undead on the outer perimeter.

The undead sensed his gaze and knew what the other party wanted to say. He looked at the space-time spear in his hand, which had many cracks on it, and a gloomy look flashed in his eyes.

This spear of time could reverse the power of non-life elements, allowing a part of space-time to undergo a physical reversal. However, this thing did not come without a price. The power of karma it could withstand was almost irreversible, and it would cause great damage to the user.

Not only that, this thing also had a bearing capacity...

Looking at the cracks on the spear, the undead grimaced in heartache. If this could be considered the most valuable treasure among his secret treasures, it was something that he had obtained by chance. Just its academic value alone was worth a first-class planet!

But at this moment, he couldn't care less...

Looking at the other party's appearance, if this wind wall was allowed to continue, everyone would probably suffer.

After hesitating for less than a thousandth of a second, the undead God raised the spear, which was already covered in cracks, with a fierce expression. Under a stream of light, the entire space instantly became calm and peaceful... ..

The terrifying gust of wind that seemed to blow the Earth's crust into nothingness disappeared in an instant. A ray of sunlight shone down, and there was a trace of peace in the messy harem... ..

However, no one was willing to appreciate this rare peace. The undead looked at Andrew, who was still expressionless, and then looked at his spear, which was covered in cracks and was about to shatter, and felt extremely pained... ..

In front of them, the undead did not let them down. They almost found the first opportunity to approach Andrew, and Geron was the first to bear the brunt of it. A pale claw directly grabbed at Andrew.

Facing the unusually terrifying white claw, Andrew's expression did not change, as if he was a dummy...

He let Geron's claw press on his body...

Chapter 1216: Battle of Brother Dog (6) !

"Huh?"

Gerald didn't think that he would be able to come into contact with Andrew so easily. Some juniors might not know what his form represented, but an old lich like Andrew should know... ..

What was going on?

However, he didn't hesitate. In an instant, the domain of fear spread out. This domain, which came from the oldest existence in the world, was something that even an Empyrean God couldn't take away!

No one could avoid being corroded by fear under the contact of the Sky Demon, not even an Empyrean God!

Seeing that Geron's pair of pale sharp claws were directly close to Andrew's chest, the undead spiritual power controlling the space-time spear in the distance was concentrated to the extreme!

The space-time spear could not reverse the opponent's casting. It could only reverse a certain period of time and space. The operation was just to repeat the previous period of time and space.

In other words, the reason why he was able to make the powers of Andrew's Balrog star and windfiend star disappear was because he was able to reverse the opponent's terrifying powers back to before it happened. The laws had already been used, but the space-time had been distorted and reconstructed, this caused Andrew to be unable to use the laws from before again. This was because the laws of the present couldn't use the powers of the future or the past.

This was the so-called blank period!

But this wasn't permanent. Time reversal didn't mean that it would disappear. I reconstructed it for 60 seconds, and after 60 seconds, everything that should have happened would still happen. And with Andrew's level of power, the longer he reconstructed it, the more karma he would have to bear...

The undead looked at the spear that was almost completely cracked, and knew that this spear wouldn't be able to hold on for much longer... ..

If they could not do anything to Andrew, then the power that the opponent had released previously would have to return, and it also meant that they had no chance of winning!

TSS TSS!

After Goron grabbed Andrew, he did not hesitate at all. He activated his fear domain, and a black substance that could be seen with the naked eye spread out in all directions like black water. The surrounding Saab and the others were shocked, and quickly pulled away from him!

All the experts, including Maya, were shocked. They had never felt such a bone-chilling chill since they were born. Before they were touched by the black substance, they felt their hands shaking so much that they could not even hold their weapons properly... ..

What... was this power?

"Omen?" SAB's face was solemn as he looked at Geron in disbelief. Why would the unique power of the omen appear on this guy? wasn't he a blue spirit?

Although he was shocked by the terrifying power, as a teammate, he suddenly felt a lot more at ease.

When the black substance that gave Andrew Goosebumps covered his entire body, everyone, including Maya, looked over nervously.

Did he succeed?

One second... two seconds... three seconds.

A voice filled with emotion came from the black fog.

"The heavenly demon body... I miss it..."

Everyone:“!!!”

The voice made everyone’s heart sink. It was Andrew’s voice... ..

The black fog slowly dispersed, and the pale young man was grabbed. His evil and handsome face became dull, like a puppet. If everyone looked carefully, they would find that... Andrew was not only controlling the youth, he was also controlling something else...

If they took a closer look, they would discover... .. That was a blue spirit body... ..

It was extremely old. Normally, a blue spirit’s physical body would shrink at the later stages of its life. After overstrengthening their spiritual power, they would need all sorts of biological models to maintain their normal movements. The main body of a blue spirit would slowly degenerate and shrink., many star-grade blue spirits were only half the size of a newborn blue spirit.

However, the blue spirit in front of them had already shrunk into a lump of flesh. It was only about the size of an ordinary person’s palm. It looked like a wrinkled fruit that had lost its moisture... ..

“Give it back to me...”the old voice came out of the shrunken blue spirit’s mouth. It was extremely weak and demanding...

Everyone immediately fell silent...

Especially Vera. She clearly recognized that the blue spirit was Geron, the ruthless character who had once broken her arm with one move and forced Saab to use the blood essence stone to save her.

It was actually such a weak blue spirit...

Eh... ? That’s not right. Then what was this pale youth’s body? Why did he have the power of a Sky Demon? Could it be the body of the Sky Demon?

No, she had also heard of the legend of the Sky Demon. The Sky Demon did not have a body... It was a formless and invisible existence... ..

“Give it back to me...”

Goron’s voice sounded again, this time with a demanding tone. It completely lost the demeanor of a powerhouse from before. It was so weak that it was unbelievable... ..

“You should be glad that I got you out...”Andrew sneered. “Do you really think that anyone can use the sky demon body?”

Gerald stared at him with a demanding look on his face.

However, Andrew ignored him and said to himself, “After the developer civilization disappeared, do you think that this thing has not been discovered by anyone? Ha... do you think that you are the chosen one and have dug up some civilization’s legacy?”

Gerald:”...”

Andrew: “Let me tell you, this thing, I know of at least nineteen users. This includes the Blue Spirit Race’s Black Warrior era’s mecha genius: Black Baron!”

Black Baron?

This name made everyone stunned. Although they were not born in history, they had heard of this name before. It was like thunder striking their ears. The previous Titan mecha pilot, the Blue Spirit Clan's acknowledged number one mecha operator.., he was one of the seven great heroes who sealed the Void Gate, a figure who was on par with the current elven emperor!

"Even a figure like him died at the hands of this thing. What do you think you are? "You still want to rely on this to live forever?" Andrew sneered, "Ridiculous, you still don't know what you have lost until now. You will understand when you go to the death realm!"

Hearing this, Gerald was stunned. He didn't know why, but a great terror suddenly rose in his heart... ..

He... What did he lose?

Thinking of this, Gerald looked at the pale body of the young man in a daze. That face that he was extremely familiar with, for some reason, made him feel extremely unfamiliar.

Suddenly, that originally dull face's eyeballs moved...

Everyone present was a top-notch expert, so they naturally did not miss that slight change in expression. An inexplicable chill rose in their hearts. Meanwhile, Andrew, who was grabbing the young man, let out a 'tsk'sound and directly threw the young man out.

After that... .. A strange thing happened. After the young man was thrown out like a piece of trash, he suddenly came to life the moment he landed on the ground. He crawled on all fours and quickly disappeared in front of everyone's eyes at an extremely strange speed... ..

Everyone's hearts trembled when they saw this.

The knowledgeable Maya had already retreated to the side of the undead God who was holding a space-time spear. She stared blankly at the spot where the pale youth had disappeared and asked telepathically, "What is that thing?"

"Heavenly demon body..."the undead God's expression was solemn as he said, "It's a forbidden mecha developed by the developer Civilization!"

Maya:" ..."

That Thing was actually a mech?

"Don't worry about that thing..."the undead god said gloomily, "Think of a way to escape, I won't be able to hold on for long..."

"Oh..."Maya smiled, looking at the cracked space-time spear. "I thought you really had a divine weapon, so it's a counterfeit."

"Bullsh * T!"The undead rolled his eyes at her. "Although the grade is a little low, it's a genuine one, okay?"

"Is that so?"

The undead looked at Maya in confusion, feeling that she was a little too relaxed. The current situation shouldn't be so out of control, right?

Seeing the puzzled look on the other party's face, Maya smiled indifferently and then looked at the sky. "It's okay, I can escape!"

"Escape with what?" The undead frowned. It was obvious that that guy, Gerald, could not really use his heavenly demon body properly and was directly killed by Andrew. Right now, the situation on the field was almost one-sided... ..

"An acquaintance is coming..." Maya looked at the sky again. "It's enough to make Andrew Suffer..."

The undead looked at the sky in confusion, and then saw a golden light that almost covered the entire sky!

-----

"What is it this time?"

In the distance, Rainy Girl, who was running desperately in the opposite direction of Andrew and the others, looked at the sky with a frown.

The first thing she felt was that she had wisely decided to stay away from the fight between the big shots over there. She understood the reason why gods and mortals would suffer in fights, but the noise of the fights between the big shots was getting louder and louder each time. At first, the sky would turn dark red, then green. The temperature was also suddenly high and then cold. The range was so wide that she had a feeling that she could not escape... ..

Especially the golden light that almost covered the sky. The terrifying pressure made Rainy Girl sit on the ground and stare blankly at the sky. Although she did not know what it was, she felt that when that thing came crashing down... She would probably die from an unknown foe...

This didn't give her any control space at all...

Rainy Girl was speechless. She finally understood what it meant to be able to defeat ten people with one strength. In front of absolute strength, no matter how high your IQ was, it seemed useless... ..

Moreover, dying from the aftermath of the fight between the big shots sounded so embarrassing...

Was My Rainy Girl's life going to end like this?

Just as she was thinking about it, a strange chill suddenly surged into her heart. Rainy Girl was stunned for a moment. She followed the strange feeling and looked over, only to discover that there was a pale young man lying less than a hundred meters away. He was staring straight at her...

Chapter 1217: Battle for Brother Dog (7)

What kind of person would make such a huge commotion?

Looking at the dazzling light that lit up the world in the sky, everyone was surprised and at the same time felt a little strange. They were all top-tier star level powerhouses, but when they appeared, they would try their best to conserve their energy, this was the first time they had seen such a high profile person.

“Your Friend?”The undead looked at Maya and asked.

“In the past...”Maya said calmly.

“This appearance... is a little too magnanimous...”the undead thought for a long time before giving this comment.

Upon hearing this, Maya slightly blocked her dog eyes that were almost blinded by the light, and the corner of her mouth curled up slightly. “I think so too...”

This guy... .. Was still like this... He didn't learn his lesson. ...

Everyone could hide as much as possible when facing an enemy, and only this club would use such a brilliant way to make an appearance...

Sure enough, when Andrew saw this astonishing energy, he was surprised and vigilant at the same time. He activated the spell in his hand, and the majestic elemental energy gathered once again. The entire sky suddenly condensed visible to the naked eye, this included the blinding bright light!

This icy energy that could freeze even the source of light made everyone's heart tighten once again. How many activated stars did the deity's faction have?

Among them, the most fearful one was the undead that controlled the spear of time. Andrew's strength was somewhat beyond his imagination. This demon lord was originally someone he valued, the existence of the biological activated stars allowed the deity Lord's own advantages to be brought into full play.

But to be honest, if he were to do it himself, he would not be able to use the energy waves of four activation stars as easily as Andrew did...

That Little Devil's growth rings were not high, and it seemed that he only had a lifespan of about one era. Even if he was a genius, his body size should be limited. The deity's law could be small and big, but this thing was like a lever. The greater the lever, the greater the risk, and the more he could not make a mistake.

The energy of the four activated stars was about the total amount of energy of two normal star-ranked armies. If he used the body of a star-ranked God to move it, a slight mistake in the energy character could cause the laws to completely collapse and backfire on himself!

But so far, he could not see any signs of Andrew being overpowered. He was so at ease, as if it was as simple as eating and drinking... ..

It seemed like he really had to temporarily give up on the fight for that kid...

The undead looked at the unconscious Brother Dog and felt conflicted. If that Little Titan could really communicate with Gaia's consciousness and had fallen into Andrew's hands, then perhaps... ..

Then he really wouldn't have anything to do...

But now, it was really hard to see a chance of victory...

Just as he was feeling powerless, his pair of green pupils suddenly shrank...

Because he saw a figure in his pupils. He did not know when it had already approached so close to the position behind Andrew... ..

Everyone was paying attention to the golden light that suddenly appeared in the sky, including Andrew. No one had expected that there would be an assassin who was so calm and able to seize an almost perfect moment.

In an instant, when the others noticed that figure, their hearts almost jumped out of their throats, especially the professional Maya and neyfal.

Because that position of the other party had almost reached the position where the assassin must be killed!

It was Lanaya! !

With a short figure and the unique sickle golden dagger of the Templar family, it was the Templar assassin, Lanaya, who had previously forced her to retreat!

For a moment, Maya felt both surprised and complicated.

When was she there?

Had she just arrived, or had she been lying in wait?

However, judging from the fact that she was able to get so close to the wind king's barrier, she must have been observing... ..

"As expected..." Maya said with a complicated expression, "Professional assassins are really different..."

Nefal felt a little jealous when he heard this. He was also a professional assassin, but judging from her performance, Lanaya, who had been hiding in the best time to get close to Andrew, was obviously more professional... ..

Bang!

When everyone and Andrew noticed Lanaya's existence, it was obviously the best time to assassinate her. Andrew, who had never expected this scene, narrowed his eyes slightly, he also did not expect that there would be such a professional assassin hiding in the dark, and it was even from the Templar family.

Among the four great assassin families, the Templar family was definitely second to none in terms of breaking through their defenses. If someone from this family were to lurk so close to them, they could almost be declared dead!

Andrew quickly activated his spatial power in an attempt to pull apart the distance between them. However, it was clearly too late. Lanaya, who had lurked at such a distance, would not let the fat meat escape. With a single step, he moved! Her exquisite steps instantly leaped through the layers of space that Andrew had set up. With the speed of jumping through time and space, she streaked across Andrew with a faint golden light that was unique to the Templar family. In an instant, Andrew and the space he was in were cut into two halves!

She succeeded? ?

Everyone, including Maya and the undead, felt their hearts jump to their throats. Only Lanaya, who had made her move, had a hint of gloominess on her cold face!

She had failed! !

Without any hesitation, Lanaya instantly pulled away and retreated to the side of Maya and the others. Maya turned her head slightly and glanced at the other party from the corner of her eyes.

At this moment, Lanaya's face was pale. Her entire body was covered in a cloak, and her vital energy and blood were fluctuating violently.

Upon closer inspection, one would discover that her arm, which was hidden outside the cloak, was severely injured. Her thumb and forefinger had exploded into a bloody mess, and one could even see her bones. The sickle golden dagger in her hand, which was unique to the Templar assassins, had also been destroyed. Looking at the crack, it seemed as if she had seen something hard that had caused it to collapse!

How was this possible?

Maya narrowed her eyes. Among the four great assassin families, the Templar assassins had the strongest defense-breaking ability. The Sickle Golden Dagger, which was unique to the family, was also a top-notch defense-breaking weapon. At such a perfect timing, Lanaya had actually destroyed the weapon?

Bang!

Just as everyone was still in shock, the space in front of them that was cut open by Lanaya instantly exploded. At this moment, everyone could clearly see that Andrew's vision of being cut into two was completely due to the illusion created by the space being cut open.

In reality, Andrew was completely unharmed...

But that form...

Andrew's body that walked out of the shattered space had expanded several times. His entire body was covered in black and red scales. A terrifying biological pressure instantly spread out, pressing down on the entire space as if it had fallen into a gravitational field, the surrounding elements all avoided it!

Everyone's heart suddenly sank with the pressure, especially SAB, whose face was extremely ugly.

As an elder, he knew this trump card. At this time, it was used by another person, making him feel terrible to the extreme... ..

“Dragon?” Maya and the undead were also stunned. They both had top-tier arcane knowledge, so they instantly understood what was going on. They could not help but sigh at how the little demon lord really dared to play... ..

However, it was the worst case scenario. This power had fallen into Andrew’s hands... Now, Andrew was almost invincible. ...

“It’s really dangerous...” Andrew looked at the wound on his chest. Although it looked bloody, it did not hurt his bones. It was able to block the Templar assassin’s blade with his body. It was indeed a genuine dragon’s body!

“I originally planned to have the body of my disciple, but I didn’t expect to get a better one. TSK tsk, it seems that sometimes luck is quite important...” Andrew looked at Lanaya and the others, he revealed his beast-like fangs!

Chapter 1218: “I don’t believe you...”.

Many people thought that Andrew’s words were provocative, but in fact, he was sincere.

In the original plan, his God’s body was his disciple Vogu. He had set up this trap a long time ago. When he taught Vogu, he gave him a hope, a hope that he could escape from his identity as a xenogeneic, the hope of becoming the noblest bloodline in the universe.

All kinds of hints made him understand the benefits of becoming a deity. Then, he cleverly left clues so that Vogu could find him. Everything was to lure him over and provide him with a deity’s body after his rebirth.

He believed that his disciple would have a great power after becoming a deity, and he also believed that Vogu would be an excellent wedding dress. Otherwise, he wouldn’t be able to take down the emerald dream realm alone without the power of the deity’s body... ..

The plan was going smoothly, but there were many interludes. For example, the mysterious undead that had targeted him in the death realm, and these fellows that had appeared out of nowhere. And then there was that little overlord that he did not even know about... ..

But now, it seemed that these interludes were not necessarily bad. At least, the arrival of this Devil Sky God had made him extremely satisfied. He had the backing of a huge abyssal force and so many active stars, he had even researched the dragon race gene, which was an absolute taboo in the federation!

It could be said that he had perfectly replaced the role of vogu, or even better... ..

Especially the other party’s background. It was an extremely good springboard for him to return to the federation. If he used it well, he could practically tie the abyss and himself to the same boat!

Especially now...

Andrew touched the wound on his chest and narrowed his eyes. If he had not temporarily used the body of this little devil, he would have probably died just now?

He really couldn't be careless at any time...

After stretching his muscles and bones, the wound on his chest slowly burned dry under the unique flames of the Dragon Clan. It stopped the bleeding and at the same time, it completely cleared up the invading poison... ..

In the distance, Lanaya frowned...

She definitely didn't hold back. This could be seen from the fact that her weapon had been destroyed, but even so, the poison could only be sent to the flesh. A life form that had completely broken through the defense, the only thing the assassin could do was to escape... ..

This thought arose in everyone's mind. With the power of an army, and a physical body that could barely break through its defenses, how could they fight?

Bang!

Andrew moved. After leaving behind a deep crater on the spot, he immediately rushed toward Maya.

It should be said that his goal was to head toward the only God present behind Maya!

His speed was not very fast, but his power was extremely fierce. Almost everyone knew that no one could block Andrew's attack. Lanaya, who was beside Maya, retreated to the side without any hesitation.

However, Maya did not retreat immediately...

The undead behind him controlled the space-time spear, limiting almost half of Andrew's power. If he retreated, the space-time spear would lose its effect, and Andrew, who had the energy of four activated stars, would make people even more desperate!

Moreover, she knew that the god behind her could not die. In this world, only God could win against God. If it died, no one would be able to fight against Andrew... ..

That was not right...

There were people who could contend against him...

Maya looked at the sky, a hint of hesitation flashed in her eyes, but in the end, a ruthless expression replaced her hesitation. With a flip of her palm, a golden flame appeared in her palm, and then like a magnet, it flew towards the frozen golden light in the sky!

"This is?"

Andrew, who was rushing over, was stunned. He was very sensitive to the enormous energy of the golden flame... ..

Divine Flame?

Before he had time to think, there was a sudden bang. The frozen ice in the air suddenly shattered. The entire sky was once again covered by Golden Light. This time, it brought with it an even more unparalleled aura as it fell towards Andrew!

Andrew suddenly raised his head. His face was filled with surprise. In order to restrain this fellow who came out of nowhere, he had almost used the energy of an entire activation star, but he was actually unable to restrain it?

Is this a joke? Who is this person?

Boom!

Without any time to think, the enormous energy brought with it an unparalleled power and attacked his head. Andrew did not dare to neglect and directly activated the Rock Demon Star's attribute. The enormous black rock element was compressed to the extreme and wrapped him in a layer of pitch-black armor, it made him look like a giant steel beast who had already dragonized!

A dragon's roar sounded, with great power, Andrew also with the power of a direct punch towards the sky!

"Wow Wow... . What is that!"

In the distance, Li Goudan, who had been placed in a safe place by Lanaya, was running desperately toward the outside, but her speed was obviously not as fast as the speed of the energy storm. After Andrew collided with the power in the sky, it was like a nuclear explosion, the surrounding space was visibly destroyed. The enormous power spread out, and it seemed like it was going to destroy everything!

Li Goudan actually hid very far away, almost tens of thousands of kilometers away. However, the impact in this area was a little too big. Goudan had no choice but to run with all his might. He could not even care about the cabbage that he had just found... ..

However, even if he had sold his teammates, the energy of the explosion was not that of a bear. It did not mean that he could win just because he ran faster than his teammates. Seeing that he was about to be swallowed by the explosion, Goudan could not help but shout in an extremely useless manner, "Save me!"!

"What are you howling for?"

A cold voice suddenly appeared behind Goudan. "Remember the footwork I taught you. Pay attention to the surrounding elements and find that slim chance of survival!"

"Master?"

Eggface was stunned and immediately cried out. His snot and tears mixed together. "Save me, Master!"

It was really ugly...

The person who came was the demon Hunter Ranger who had not shown up all this time: Vaughn!

"No one will save you. If you want to live, then do as I say!" Vaughn's voice was extremely cold, giving people the feeling that she was really going to do it.

Eggface immediately cried out, "Don't joke, master. There is no life force. These elements die faster than me, okay?"

She had already activated the breathing technique taught by Vaughn at the first moment. She could clearly see that the force behind it was too overbearing. The elemental particles in the surroundings shattered like bubbles wherever it passed. Wouldn't it be a dead end if it directly merged into the elements?

Vaughn said, "Isn't the life force behind you?"

"What?" Doggie was stunned. He didn't even dare to turn his head. He directly shouted, "Master, don't do it anymore. People are really going to die!"

Was master crazy? Letting her merge into the explosive force? Without even looking, one would know how intense the elemental fluctuations were. Wouldn't she be torn into pieces instantly if she merged into it?

"There are many situations that are bigger than this in the space battlefield. Do you expect people to come and save you every time you encounter them? The things I taught you can survive an interstellar storm. What is this little scene? If you die here, it proves that you're not qualified!"

Eggface: "Wu Wu... I don't believe you! ! !"

Wayne:" ..."

"Then you can go to Hell..."

A faint voice sounded in Goudan's ear. Then, Goudan felt as though he was being picked up by a chick and thrown behind him... ..

Chapter 1219: talent is so good that it scares people... ..

Most of the time, people were really forced to do it. Doggie remembered that there was a popular post on the Tieba Forum, which was about the discussion of sliding shovels. There were a lot of incredible discussions in it. For example, one of them said that people could dodge bullets when they were extremely angry... ..

The situation in front of her was much more terrifying than dodging bullets. The law of evolution of the exploding elements in the sky was extremely complicated. She felt like she was a fallen leaf in a storm, if she was not careful, she would be smashed into pieces.

When she had learned footwork before, in a completely calm situation, the regular rhythm of the elements would easily make her suffer in elementalization. But now, in this situation where the elements were rampant., the difficulty was no different from pulling straight from the novice village to hell-level!

To use it as a practical analogy, it was like asking you to drive an aircraft carrier as soon as you had just learned how to ride a bicycle... ..

But after a few dozen seconds, Doggie suddenly realized that she seemed to be... ? ... still okay?

Looking at the elemental particle storms around her that she couldn't see clearly and could only rely on her instincts to dodge, Doggie suddenly began to believe in the so-called saying that people were in a state of extreme anger...

If that was the case, wouldn't that be like a sliding shovel?

No, what am I thinking about. Don't be distracted, damn it... ..

Unfortunately, Dogball was able to dodge so abnormally because of the limit state of his consciousness being emptied. No matter how hard he tried to force himself into the state, it was still a self-deception.

In almost one-thousandth of a second, countless split particles wrapped around dogball. Sensing death approaching, Dogball almost closed his eyes in despair, but in the next moment, the sense of danger instantly disappeared, a familiar figure picked him up and quickly left the danger!

"WUUUUU... I knew Master was scaring me! !"Goudan hugged the person tightly without hesitation and cried.

Vaughn:"..."

"It's really useless..."Vaughn said coldly, "I can't hold on for 30 seconds..."

Goudan: "Blood..."

He actually lasted 30 seconds! !

To be honest, Vaughn was shocked. She thought that Eggface would be considered a genius if he could last for one or two seconds with such an explosive energy. She could see where the limits of her instincts were.

There were some things that she wasn't lying about. The children of her family were indeed able to travel freely in the interstellar storm with such a pace. The reputation of the windwalker came from this, but it referred to the children who were completely familiar with the secret technique after many years of training.

Moreover, this thing also had a limit. If one wanted to cross the star-level storm, one's physical ability would be at least dragon-level. The energy storm in front of her was actually not much different from the interstellar storm. Therefore, she did not have any hopes of dog-egg being able to cross it, as long as he could display his potential under such a severe crisis, it would be fine.

It was normal for him to not be able to last even 0.1 second. After all, the little guy's basic attributes were there. There were many times when his body could not keep up with the speed of his consciousness.

However, she did not expect the little girl to be able to unleash every part of her body's strength at such a critical moment. She could do it to such an extent in such a limited space. Vaughn stroked Doggie's back, at this moment, Doggie relaxed. Her muscles also relaxed. It was obvious that she was exhausted. Even if doggie had not been distracted just now, she could at most last another two to three seconds.

However, this result was really terrifying. When she was at her level, she had also been tested by her elders. At that time, the intensity of the energy storm was still slightly lower than now, and her result was 1.3 seconds... ..

“Master... little cabbage...”Goudan moaned weakly.

Vaughn sneered, “Now you think of her? Didn’t you run away from her quite quickly before?”

Hearing that, a trace of shame flashed across Doggie’s weak face... ..

Her relationship with Bai Cai could be considered good, but it wasn’t completely sincere. At the very least, they didn’t have a life-and-death relationship, so when the crisis came, she instinctively sold out her teammates first.

Now that the crisis had passed, she was no longer in danger, and she began to worry about her teammates that she had sold out. It was a bit unpleasant to say, and she was also a bit ashamed.

However, if she were to do it ten thousand times, she would probably have the same reaction... ..

“Master... She...”

Since Vivian was able to save her like this, she should have the strength to save little cabbage. However, when she took a look, little cabbage was not by Vivian’s side.

She could not help but feel a little afraid. Could it be that the guy whose luck was off the charts was really a dog?

“Don’t worry...”Vaughn said faintly, “Someone saved her...”

As she said that, she looked down in a direction. Seeing this, Dogball also tried his best to look down.

At this moment, under the terrifying explosion, everything in the surroundings was destroyed. Even the land could not be seen. It was as if the world had sunk into nothingness.

This also allowed Dogball to instantly see little cabbage...

A few hundred meters below Vaughn, the cabbage was hugging someone like a mangy dog. She was crying and Snot. It was extremely embarrassing... ..

However, Goudan felt like he had never seen the person hugging her before.

The person was naked. His snow-white hair was scattered behind his back. His skin was pale without a trace of blood, but he was extremely beautiful. Even though he was naked, he did not make anyone feel uncomfortable, on the contrary, it made Goudan unable to shift his gaze away.

Who Was this handsome man?

At this moment, Vien was looking at that figure with extreme vigilance. She had clearly seen that when the explosion had struck, the raging energy had directly bypassed that guy.

Yes, bypassed him directly. It was as if he had encountered something that he did not dare to approach. He had bypassed him directly. The earth and elements under his body had not been destroyed by the explosion. Instead, they had slipped away because they were afraid... ..

Was It Geron?

Vien's expression was grave, but she immediately denied her own thoughts. She had fought with Geron before, and was one of the few people who knew Geron's secrets. She had also heard about this secret of the heavenly demon body from her elders, but the person in front of her should not be Geron.

First of all, the shape was different. The youth in front of her was more handsome, and more natural. When Geron used the heavenly demon body, he gave people a lot of pressure. He often did not differentiate between friend and foe. Anyone who got close to him, whether friend or foe, would be corroded by fear.

However, this kid was clearly different. From the way that little cabbage tightly hugged him, this guy was obviously able to control that power...

Who Was It?

Just as he was thinking, the pale youth suddenly knelt on the ground. His skin tightened and his naked eyes distorted. A few seconds later, the pale youth from before suddenly turned into a short girl. He fainted weakly on the ground.

"Boss Raindrop?" Goudan Li was shocked, and he struggled to get close to her,

Vivian slapped the Restless Goudan, and she looked at the unconscious girl vigilantly. At this time, little cabbage seemed to be exhausted from crying, and she also fainted after being thrown.

Vivian recognized him after a few seconds. It was raindrop, Wugua, whom she had brought in... ..

Why did Geron's omen armor end up in her hands?

The most important thing was... she could actually use it?

Looking at the unconscious dog egg in her arms, then at the weak and unconscious rainy girl, no melon, and little cabbage, Vaughn took a deep breath.

These little guys... .. Their talent was so good that it was frightening...

Chapter 1220: it's almost troublesome...

No matter what, let's Find a place to settle these three little guys first... ..

Vivian's eyes flashed. She had an appointment with Andrew. As long as she did what he ordered, it would be fine. There was no need to participate in this kind of battle. Right now, she only wanted to bring this little wind monster back alive.

But I'm curious...

She picked up three unconscious little guys, looked at the battlefield, eyes full of doubt, the sky just that power is really terrible, if I am not mistaken should be the Golden Titan?

And that power... is clearly beyond the stars!

“I thought you’d never give it back to me.”

On the battlefield, a little girl who was only 1.23 meters tall and looked to be about eight or nine years old stood in the void, looking at the slightly disheveled Maya in the distance and grinning.

The loli-like child was wearing an extremely powerful armor, and Golden Flames covered her entire body. The terrifying power formed a stark contrast with her tender face!

Who Was this guy?

SAB, Nevar, and the others looked at the newcomer with extreme vigilance, their hearts filled with shock. This majestic power felt like it was on par with those top elders in the abyss. In terms of energy alone., perhaps only the first elder of the royal family could compare, and it might not even be comparable.

“The radiance of Dawn?”

In the distance, Andrew, who had been directly sent flying, returned from the void. His entire body was in an extremely sorry state, and his entire arm had exploded into a bloody mess. However, the aura around his body had become even more ferocious... ..

And because of the huge impact just now, the undead God’s space-time spear had directly shattered. At this moment, the space that had been shattered was filled with the elements of the four great living stars, the Balrog, the wind demon, the Rock Demon, and the Shadow Demon, the terrifying energy was directly equivalent to the sum of the forces of many high-level lords!

However, faced with this majestic power, the young girl in Golden Armor was not afraid at all. It was as if she wanted to fight against the entire world on her own. Moreover, that aura... .. It really did not feel empty at all...

The radiance of Dawn?

When everyone heard this word, other than Maya, they were all stunned. Following Andrew’s gaze, they saw the symbol on the little girl’s armor. There was a delicate carving on the golden armor. It was extremely similar to a three-dimensional radiance of dawn. And this unique symbol, almost anyone with a little bit of historical knowledge could recognize it... ..

Radiance of dawn... .. ! ... the symbol of the commander of the Titan army under the former third Lord!

That was once the supreme force that represented the legitimacy of the Titan family in the federation. Even now, countless Titan families still remembered that Lord.

This symbol... .. Why would it appear on a little girl?

“Sir, can you state your name?” Andrew asked with a serious expression.

“Ionelle Dawn!” The little girl took off the huge sword that was at least four to five times bigger than her body from her back and said her name.

Hiss! !

When the group of people heard this name, they all took a deep breath.

The former third lord was known as the direct descendant of the ancient Titan, the king of the heavens and the raging waves, Gognath. After joining the sky god, he became one of the ten great lords with the most authentic Titan bloodline, the power gathered the most outstanding Titan family in the entire universe federation. The Titan army under their banner was also known as the strongest on land!

Since its creation, including the Battle of the Void Gate, the Titan army had experienced five great battles since the deity civilization, and they had not suffered a single defeat!

Before the rise of the new war god, Cang Yue, many people even thought that the Titan army of the third Lord could even be compared to the first Lord's Black Dragon Army.

And in this famous army in the universe, there were a total of 21 commanders, Lonelle. Dawn was one of the signatures!

The Dawn Army was ranked 14th among the 31 legions of the Titan army. It belonged to the Vanguard Group and used Dawn as its surname. The commander was named after Lonelle. In the past five generations of Titan, they were all the glorious titans of war, especially the fifth generation, they had severely injured the queen of Blades in the Void Gate and won the Battle of the eye of Anglo. They had made a great contribution to the victory of the Federation. Until now, their tombstones were enshrined in the Star Tower of the Federation!

Andrew took a deep breath and looked at the person in front of him. "It is said that Lonelle, who inherited the mantle of the fifth generation, is her own daughter. The youngest life-level Titan of light in history... is it you?"

"It's me!" Hearing the other party mention the fifth generation, the female Knight's face showed pride.

Andrew looked at the growth rings in the other party's eyes and took a deep breath. "Less than five eras old, breaking through the starry sea and stepping into the Sea of life, you really live up to your reputation!"

The ten liches under Sylvanas were all top-notch geniuses, except for himself. However, the fastest one to step into the sea of life took more than forty eras. The Genius of the fifth era was almost on par with the queen...

Why would such a person appear here?

This time, the battle for the coordinates... "...". Huh? Wait, where are the coordinates?

Andrew was stunned. He suddenly felt for a moment and suddenly realized that the most important person was gone...

The moment Andrew reacted, the others also reacted. For a moment, they realized that the Little Titan had disappeared?

Where was he?

Sab, who was closest to him, cut his wrist with his fingernail and waved it at the place where Brother Dog had disappeared. Under the blood mist that filled the sky, a pale blue light was faintly lit up.

“Space Spell?”

SAB followed the light and looked into the distance!

At this moment, Brother Dog, who had woken up and was almost hundreds of thousands of kilometers away, was stunned when he saw the guy carrying him. “Principal?”

“What a worrying child!”The principal grinned.

Just as he was about to say something, a blood-red line suddenly appeared by his side. It was extremely fine, but it was firmly following them.

The principal frowned. “Tsk... That guy isn’t Dead Yet?”

Lulu, who was at the side, saw the situation and quickly said, “Run, run! !”

“Where’s grandpa and Soap?”Brother Dog hurriedly asked.

“They’ll be fine...”the principal said in a low voice, “The key now is you, it’s very dangerous... can the teleportation from before still be used?”

Brother Dog narrowed his eyes, just as he was about to say something, in the next second, several terrifying auras instantly pressed down on him, the already weak him once again fainted.

“This group of dogs, they came really fast!”Lulu couldn’t help but curl her lips.

But 100,000 kilometers is not really a distance for these star-level powerhouses... .

“Aren’t you going after him?”

On the battlefield, Andrew looked at the female knight who was still confronting him and asked, “You are the companion that Maya mentioned, right? So you are the one she used the space-time matrix to calculate, and you just let her go?”

“You’re more important!”The female knight held the sword in her hand and said, “It doesn’t matter if they can get the coordinates or not after you die!”

“It’s an honor to be valued so highly by the commander of the Twilight Corps...”Andrew grinned and said, “But I’m afraid you’ve underestimated them...”

“Oh?”The female knight raised her eyebrows slightly. “You mean there’s someone more troublesome than you?”

Andrew laughed. “Something like that...”
