Chapter 1221: Live Up to her name!

“She really let you go just like that?”

On the other side, Maya and the undead were walking at the very back, keeping Sab’s group close but not getting close.

The situation was different now. Lanaya’s appearance had changed Maya’s originally strong position. While they did not know Lanaya’s position, the two of them did not dare to get close to her. If she suddenly attacked.., with her ability to sneak into the Wind King’s Barrier and assassinate people, the undead would probably be killed in an instant.

Moreover, at this time, they mainly relied on the blood demon to track them. Before they found the target, they only needed to follow from afar. There was no need to take the risk to advance.

Therefore, the two of them chose the last position. At this time, they actually had some spare time to talk about the situation just now.

Almost without Maya’s explanation, the undead knew that the guy who was fighting Andrew was not a so-called teammate with Maya. They should be enemies...

A life-level Titan, and one of the former commanders of the Titan army. Such a strong person should not have appeared now. With her strength, if she had been there from the beginning, he and Andrew would not even dare to show their faces.

If she was hiding and waiting for an opportunity, the timing was not quite right either, because the best time was obviously at the position of the Emerald Dream boundary. At that time, Maya was also hiding among the crowd. If she and Maya were in cahoots.., at that time, with the help of a top-notch illusionist like Maya, they would be able to take them down in one wave!

The powerhouses who stepped into the Sea of life and the star core were almost two different dimensions. Even Andrew, who had successfully obtained the god’s body and controlled the Little Demon’s few activated stars, was beaten so badly? If he had appeared before Andrew had obtained Bolton’s body, Andrew might not even have had the chance to run!

Why did he only appear now. It could be seen from the young Titan’s body...

That fellow had obviously encountered something. Otherwise, a Golden Titan that had lived for four or five eras would never have the appearance of that young man.

Previously, a space-time matrix appeared in the sky of this planet. It was a forbidden spell. At first, he thought that it was Andrew’s handiwork. However, from the moment Maya threw the divine flame directly to the Titan, the undead had guessed that.., that forbidden spell matrix was probably the handiwork of this woman in front of him!

Divine Flame was the natural talent of the Radiant Titan. That majestic power was obviously the Titan's energy that was extracted from the space-time matrix. It was very obvious that this woman had used some kind of method to trick the other party, causing the Titan's body to directly backtrack... ..

This kind of calculation should be a life-and-death feud, but the other party had just let Maya go so easily... ..

Seeing the undead's confusion, Maya smiled and said, "My relationship with her is actually quite good. She's probably soft-hearted..."

The Undead:" ..."

What the hell are you trying to say?

To be able to inherit the commander position, they were all brave and decisive on the battlefield. The lives of the people under them were probably more than 100 billion. How could such a person be soft-hearted?

"Or perhaps he's too proud..." Maya said calmly, "It's obvious who is the biggest threat between Andrew and me. To her, an ant that can be easily killed like me, it doesn't matter when she attacks..."

"Is that so?"

The undead narrowed his eyes. At this moment, he did not have a body. He only relied on a layer of undead black fog to maintain his form. The pair of green eyes in the black fog looked very terrifying.

He looked at Maya and felt that this person might not be as simple as he thought... ..

If it was really as she said, he was an existence that could be easily killed, the female Titan would have made her move a long time ago. After all, if she could easily kill him, why would she let the person who framed her live longer? What if she ran away?

The Titan's personality was usually rough and violent. It was rare for them to play with their enemies... ..

Then there was only one possibility. A Titan of that level was still afraid of this woman. At least, they were not confident that they could take her down easily... ..

So this woman must have hidden some cards... ..

Thinking of this, the undead remained calm and smiled. "Then do you think she can win against Andrew?"

"It's hard to say..." "... Maya frowned. "Teacher is a top-tier deity. Under the condition of possessing a body, he can almost unleash the power of a star-ranked deity to the extreme, even to the extent of overloading himself. Moreover, the attributes of that Imp's faction are very suitable for deity to unleash. Under normal circumstances, it is not impossible to deal with a powerhouse who has stepped into the sea of life, but... .. that guy ... He's not very ordinary... ..

"Not very ordinary?" The undead was puzzled. "I admit that he's very talented. I've only seen two life sea realm warriors in five epochs in my entire life. But after all, his growth rings are too shallow, and he doesn't have enough accumulation, right?"

"I used to think so too..." Maya twitched her mouth as if she was recalling something. "I served under Evelyn. Three of her life sea realm warriors had provoked her because of that Guy's youth..."

Evelyn...

The undead paused. She had heard of this name before. Evelyn, the Enchantress, was a veteran great lord of the Sky God clan and a representative of the Succubus clan. She could be ranked in the top fifteen in the southern star field at least. Her strength alone was probably in the top five!

Even when she was at her peak, she couldn't compare to her opponent... ..

The Sea of life experts under her were definitely not weak.

"What happened in the end?" The undead asked curiously.

"She was beaten until she was too embarrassed to go out in this era..."

The Undead: "..."

"That's a monster..." Maya narrowed her eyes as a complicated look flashed across her eyes. "If nothing happened to the former third overlord and the Dawn Legion still exists, her achievements would probably not be inferior to the strongest fifth-generation Legion Commander!"

Upon hearing that, the undead laughed and said, "You actually dare to scheme against such a figure? You sure have guts..."

"There's nothing I can do about it..." "...". "...". "...". Maya shrugged. "She's too rigid. If I say that there are great benefits on this planet, she definitely won't join forces with me to split it equally. She'll definitely report it to Evelyn. If Evelyn comes, do you think... "... is there anything else we can do here?"

The undead was silent for a moment before saying faintly, "That makes sense..."

A genuine god-level great lord was on a completely different level from them, who were already dead. If they really came, they probably wouldn't even be able to run away... "...".

"This... is... too..."

At the control console, Diana stared blankly at the image projected by The Shard. The scene in the image made her feel thirsty.

She had also heard the elder mention the so-called Titan Legion. It was said to be the Titan Legion that was closest to the strength of the Titan civilization, but she did not expect it to be so strong...

Ysera looked at the image and smiled. "The younger generation is awesome. It really has the demeanor of a fifth generation..."

Back then, during the Battle of the Void Gate, no one would have thought that a female Titan could almost kill the Queen of Void Blades. The demeanor of this child really did not lose out to the demeanor of her mother back then...

At this moment, in the Void, Ionelle sat on the ground with wounds all over her body. Her golden armor seemed to have been shattered, and her entire body was covered in wounds that were so deep that one could see her bones. Beside her... ! A ferocious-looking head was forcefully twisted and broken. It was Burton's Head!

Chapter 1222: Betrayal (Part One) ?

Was It really solved?

Compared to Diana's surprised look, Ysera was more concerned about the severed head next to the female knight... ..

She had watched the whole battle from the beginning to the end, and the power of both sides was almost fully drawn. Andrew did everything that a god of that level could do, forcibly using the energy of five activated stars, the details of controlling the elements were almost the most hidden. If the opponent was an arcanist from the Sea of life, Andrew's chances of winning were at least 70% , but unfortunately, the opponent was a pure violent warrior, and it was a Titan warrior who was very powerful!

He did not lose unjustly...

But he died too easily...

Ysera looked at the head with a ferocious expression, and was sure that Bolton's body was almost completely crippled, and Andrew's soul energy had also disappeared. It was almost impossible to return to the emerald dream from the world of death... Moreover, even if he returned, he would be nothing to be afraid of without the body of a god...

That was the theory, but Ysera still felt that something was not right. He felt that... "...". It was a little too easy.

An ancient undead who plotted against them for several eras, and that was it?

However, it was indeed impossible for him to survive the current situation. His spiritual body had been torn apart just now, so it was impossible for him not to return to the death realm. Unless he brought his phylactery in... ..

Phylactery...

Ysera narrowed her eyes and waved her fingers, looking back at the space-time memory in the fragment world.

Andrew brought a total of four sea-level zombies and a top puppeteer in, and those underlings had all been killed by demon lord Bolton in the previous fragment world!

The puppeteer forced out the dragon transformation trump card of the demon lord and left a mark for Andrew, allowing Andrew to successfully use some kind of secret technique to suppress Bolton's dragon transformation and take him down when he met Bolton.

The entire process was without any problems. She was also sure that all of the subordinates that Andrew brought in were killed.

After Andrew entered the Emerald Dream, he and his subordinates had witnessed all of their actions. They did not discover where they hid the phylactery... ..

And if they had it with them, along with the puppeteer being killed, the phylactery should have been destroyed too... ..

So... is it true that Andrew is out?

Ysera looked again at Bolton's head, which had died with its eyes open, and fell into a long silence. . .

On the other side, the running bodies of Villafa and Nevar, among the Saab group that had been chasing brother dog, suddenly stiffened and changed their expressions.

Saab obviously noticed this and quickly asked, "What's Wrong?"

"He's dead..." villafa stood rooted to the ground with a blank look on his face. "The contract disappeared... Lord Bolton, he..."

SAB:"! !"

He was the only blood demon in the faction who did not sign a contract with Bolton. He gave Villafa the opportunity to become the representative of the blood demon so that neither the fallen angels nor the blood demon clan would dare to look down on villafa anymore.

Therefore, although he was the commander of the Blood Demon Army, he was a free man who did not have a god's contract... ..

Naturally, he could not feel the disappearance of Bolton's dead contract.

Nevar was also standing there in a daze. Under the veil, his expression was very complicated.

Although Andrew had taken over Bolton's body previously, they still had a trace of hope in their hearts. After all, the contract had not disappeared yet, which meant that the lord's consciousness still existed. But now, it seemed that... The last layer of hope seemed to have been broken... ..

Sab was dead, what should they do now?

Five of the nine corps leaders had come this time, but SAB was now seriously injured. The Balrog Ragnaros, the rock demon bogus, and the first corps leader Safilos had all died in battle one after another, even the remaining nefal was not in a complete state because of the shadow's injury. Now, even the leader, Lord Bolton, was gone. Their abyssal gods'forces had suffered a crushing defeat this time!

The few of them stood where they were, their expressions instantly turning extremely unsightly.

They did not even have any thoughts of continuing to track down that Titan Youth. With their current lineup, so what if they managed to track him down? Wouldn't they still be making a wedding dress for others?

"The contract is gone?" A cold voice rang out. Everyone turned their heads warily. It was Lanaya, who had followed them all the way. This female assassin who had almost assassinated Andrew was deeply etched in the memories of all the demons!

"Is that so?" Lanaya looked behind her and narrowed her eyes. "Did that female Titan win?"

The demons still did not reply. They still looked at this fellow vigilantly.

"You don't have to look at me with that expression..." "..." Lanaya looked at the three of them indifferently. "I don't have any thoughts about you guys. I feel that you should rejoice over this result. Because if that God had won, I'm afraid that we would have no way of surviving..." "..."

The Demons: "..."

Although these words didn't sound quite right, they seemed to make sense. That God's stance had obviously taken their lives, but it seemed that Titan wouldn't necessarily do so.

"What do you want to say?" Sab said coldly.

Lanaya: "I want to say that we can cooperate..."

"Work together?" SAB sneered. "Do we still have the capital to work together?"

"Yes..." Lanaya looked up at him. "You still have a huge demon army outside!"

"Are you trying to say that you don't dare to touch us because there's an army outside?" The sneer on SAB's face deepened. "Are you trying to fool us like we're Children?"

An army without an Empyrean God and an army with an Empyrean God were two completely different types of existences. Previously, both sides were evenly matched, but now that Bolton had fallen, the other side's liege was still around. If they fought, there was no chance of victory at all!

"What if both sides' Liege died?" Lanaya suddenly asked.

"Eh?"

The demons were stunned, and they immediately looked at each other suspiciously.

"Don't You Find It Strange?" Lanaya looked around. "So many things have happened, such a big scene, but our liege didn't appear..."

"This..." Sab was stunned, and he looked at the other side in puzzlement.

Yes, in such a situation, if there was an Empyrean God, he wouldn't have been so powerless. Why didn't Vogu appear?

"Because if he had appeared, I definitely wouldn't have made a move. In fact... I might have even made a move against him depending on the situation!"

The Demons:“!!!”

“Why?”Vera asked, somewhat puzzled.

Nevar was also puzzled. Only SAB, after a few seconds of bewilderment, fell into deep thought.

“I understand!”Sab suddenly said. “Then let’s cooperate!”

“Sab?”Villafa’s expression changed, but SAB waved his hand to comfort him. Villafa was stunned for a moment, but her trust in SAB made her temporarily suppress her doubts.

Lanaya nodded. “Let’s go. Pay attention to the two guys behind us. The undead next to the illusionist is about the same level as Andrew. Be careful!”

Saab nodded, and the group shrank into a formation and chased after Brother Dog.

“Senior, what is the situation?”During the run, Nefer use before Saab left on his own Blood Devil imprint curiously asked.

“She’s a mercenary...”Saab replied telepathically.

“You mean she wants to betray their lord?”

“Not want... Must!”Sab narrowed his eyes.

Chapter 1223: The bloodline that I’ve been looking forward to for countless years!

Must?

Nevar fell silent upon hearing this. He seemed to have thought of something. Meanwhile, Vera looked at SAB with a puzzled expression. Sab’s heart sank slightly as he looked at Vera, who still had a puzzled expression on her face.

All these years, hadn’t he been a little too protective of Vera?

The internal support of Vera had given her a large amount of resources. Of course, she had also been very disappointing. She hadn’t wasted her talent and had grown to the star-level within the era. However, she had placed too much emphasis on improving her strength, so she had rarely come into contact with the external world, as a result, her scheming was indeed a little shallow.

In the past, with his protection, he had not felt that it was possible. He had always felt that he could still slowly train her and raise her hard power first, but now, he... Did not have the time to train her in another aspect. ...

As if sensing SAB’s thoughts, nefal directly used the imprint to reply, “Mercenaries sign temporary contracts. If they betray, they will receive a great punishment, but it is not as fatal as a god contract...”

Vera was still smart, and she instantly reacted, “So the temptation is too great?”

The Temptation of the secret here was indeed great. If her family could grasp it, it wouldn't be the pace of a large family taking off.

But wasn't her appetite a little too big? The situation was still so vague. Even if she wanted to betray them, she would have to wait for the right time, right? The situation now was obviously safer with her backing a Lord. If there was no Lord, would she, an assassin, want to swallow this secret?

This was a little too much...

As though he could see the doubt in Vera's eyes, Nefer changed his previously cold attitude and said patiently, "Don't look at things from one perspective. Why Don't you look at the other party's Lord's position?"

Vera was stunned. After thinking for a few seconds, he immediately reacted.

That's right...

The temporary contract was very punitive, but it wasn't as fatal as the god contract. If Lanaya, who was hired, could break the contract, then the same lord could do the same!

After being reminded, villafa immediately reacted.

The Secret of the Emerald Dream was so big that even the ten great lords would be jealous, not to mention Vogu. From his point of view, would he believe these temporary mercenaries? Would he let them go back safely?

The answer was probably no...

Especially for a top assassin like Lanaya, the chances of escaping from the secret realm were very high. Once the secret was leaked, with Vogu's size, he would not be able to keep such a big cake!

The most likely scenario was that the other party would kill these few mercenaries in the secret realm!

And Lanaya must have sensed this information at the first moment. As a mercenary who could reach the star level, Lanaya had been under the banner of countless deity overlords. If she did not have this bit of vigilance, she would have died long ago!

The moment she entered the Emerald Dream Realm, from the moment she knew the secret here, Lanaya knew that Vogu would not let her return alive. Betraying the contract was a must!

"Is there no possibility of co-operation?" Asked villafa cautiously.

After all, the situation is not clear, Vogu must also urgently need lanaya such combat strength, if not shed all decorum, re-draw a contract, is not impossible to avoid this kind of mutual slaughter situation.

"Other professions may be... <per_0> . "NEFAL said in a low voice, "Only assassins can't do that. Assassins who show up are too fragile for the gods, and assassins who don't show up are too dangerous for the gods. The moment the two of them meet is the moment of life and death. There is no possibility of a calm negotiation... "..."..."

"But..." when Vera turned around, she found that Lanaya, who had just signed a blood contract with them, had disappeared without a trace. "...".

When did she disappear?

Vera suddenly felt a chill behind her back. The other party had disappeared, and she couldn't find her position. The other party was 100% following them... ..

With such a terrifying hiding ability, even if it was her, she would not dare to rashly come over to discuss a contract or anything... ..

It was too risky!

Seeing Vera's reaction, SAB's expression softened slightly, and he nodded slightly. This child had experienced few things, but she was still very smart. The most important thing was Nefer's attitude just now. It was very clear that she was willing to take over from him.., take care of Willa from now on.

At this thought Saab looked at his glowing body, and a look of relief appeared in his eyes.

"Oh? Signed?" Far Away Maya narrowed her eyes.

Because of the fear of Lanaya's combat ability, two people are far apart, even saw the signing scene also dare not take the opportunity to do something.

"Isn't that obvious?" The undead God sneered from afar. "She has already exposed her tracks when she tried to assassinate Andrew just now. At this time, in order to increase the survival rate, she naturally has to rope in some allies. The remaining high-level demons of Saab's faction are now at their weakest, and it's also the best time to rope them in."

"That's why the life of a mercenary isn't easy..." Maya shrugged.

"You're not a mercenary, right?" The undead looked at the god's mark on Maya's body. "Don't you care about the god's contract?"

"Just wait until it expires..." Maya smiled. "Don't you think this is the perfect hiding place?"

Undead: "The premise of the expiration of the Trust is that you do not commit acts of betrayal, the same contract, you calculate their comrades count as betrayal right?"

"Who told you we have the same contract?" Maya looked at each other with amusement.

"You said she did not sign a contract with the Gods?" The undead was stunned, just that the female Titan landed too domineering, he did not carefully observe, but carefully recall... .. It seemed that... .. There was indeed no God's mark...

Maya looked at the sky and said, "Evelyn thinks highly of her. Not only did she take the risk of offending Cang Yue by taking in this former third Overlord's subordinate, but she also gave him an extremely rich amount of resources. This fellow is also a person who knows how to repay kindness. All these years, she has helped Evelyn win many battles on various battlefields, but she has never signed a contract..." "..."

"Why?" The undead immediately frowned. The strong relying on the God mode was already the main theme now. With the other party's talent, relying on a great lord was the best choice now. Otherwise, no matter how talented she was., she would not be able to step into the sea of life without sufficient resources.

“It has something to do with the obsession in her heart...”. “...” Maya said calmly, “The greatest wish of the survivors of the Titan army is to rebuild the glory of Titan. Back then, the third lord relied on this chicken soup to build countless outstanding Titan families. Evelyn treated her very well, but she was a succubus “...”. “...”

The Undead:”...”

“I don’t know what she’s thinking...” Maya laughed, “How can the glory of Titan be so easy to restore? When the third Lord was around, he wasn’t able to support a titan royal family to appear...”

When she said this, the two of them were stunned at the same time and immediately reacted.

So that’s how it was...

No wonder the other party was willing to deal with Andrew. He must have made an agreement with the person behind the scenes. And the reason why the female Knight was willing to work so hard was because of that Little Titan.

The imperial bloodline that the Titan clan had been looking forward to for countless years! !

Chapter 1224: employment relationship...

The Titan’s faith...

At the thought of this, the undead God’s heart sank into an extremely complicated emotion.

It had been watching Andrew for a long time. It knew that Andrew was definitely planning a great benefit, but it did not expect that there would be so many benefits.

The emerald dream, this legendary alchemy universe, coupled with the Moon Elf civilization’s massive spirit channel password, was completely comparable to Empress XI’s infinite death channel in terms of value.

Such a large cake was already beyond his imagination, but he discovered that the benefits were far more than that.

Demon Lord Bolton, the massive abyssal force behind him, the mysterious little lord behind him, those natives with terrifying natural endowments, all of them were things that even top-tier gods coveted, especially the latter.

Especially the example just now, it made him realize the astonishing value of those little fellows.

The Titan clan had always wanted to restore the ancient glory, and this matter was known to almost everyone!

After all, a race with extremely powerful talents, until now, had not been recognized by the royal family in the federation's ten thousand clans. This was the obsession in the hearts of most Titan clans, especially those of the older generation who followed the third Lord.

What they yearned for was an imperial bloodline!

Back then, the third Lord had used the fact that he was a pure-blooded descendant as a selling point to win over more than 80% of the Titan families to serve him. His fame was so great that even the elven royal family did not dare to look down on him.

However, even during that golden period, the Titan family still did not become a royal family. The reason was that other than the third Lord becoming a deity, he also did not fulfill his promise to successfully condense a pure-blooded imperial bloodline and pass it down!

Therefore, after the third Lord was killed, the Titan clan collapsed very quickly because they no longer had a spiritual pillar... ..

However, from the situation that the female Titan did not hesitate to face Andrew Today, many Titan should still have faith in their hearts...

The successor of the Dawn Corps had found the imperial bloodline and carried the will of the Titan ancestors, creating glory again!

What a powerful banner?

Moreover, there were more than one indigenous people with good aptitude... ..

Other than the Titan Royal Family, there were many races in the universe with powerful talents that were not recognized because they did not have the imperial bloodline, there were the bronze race, the nine-tailed illusionary Fox race of vasteria, and even the other elven branches in the Elven system other than the royal family of the starry sky.

The windwalker bloodline, the Blue Spirit Bloodline, and the Shadowsong bloodline all had bloodlines that were not inferior to those of the starry sky elves. The Starry Sky Elves who were the main priests of the ancient elven era were not even ranked in the top five in the great elven system, but now, they were the representatives of the elven race. On what basis? Wasn't it because the starry Sky Elves had the imperial bloodline?

Now that he thought about the allure of the imperial bloodline, it was probably more important than he had imagined to those big clans!

It seemed like...

The undead looked ahead. The item in the little lord's hand was probably much more important than the emerald dream that Andrew was interested in... ..

At the thought of this, an eye of the blood demon quietly appeared in his palm in the Black Fog, and the eye of the Blood Demon was seer's movement... ..

Such a big fight, naturally alerted the night, and at this time Lanaya Most Afraid of God Lord, has also been in the night side.

Vogu looked at the almost unscathed night and smiled.

As a deity, it is a basic skill to use the power of laws to avoid this kind of unconscious energy explosion. It has been taught many times in the deity academy. After all, the fate of most deity is to be a wandering deity, if one was unlucky enough to encounter an interstellar storm in the universe, one had to at least have a certain degree of self-protection.

“Senior, you flatter me...” seer replied respectfully.

Vogu nodded. Just like a senior, he had blocked the remaining shockwaves for seer. Moreover, it was because he had brought seer along that seer was able to barely keep up with SAB and the others.

Of course, the other party had relied on him to barely track down the Saab Gang. Brother Dog was his own citizen, so there was no special space isolation. He could rely on the contract to track down Brother Dog’s location.

Otherwise, such a cowardly guy who only dared to OB at the edge would have been left behind long ago!

“Senior, why are you so far away?” Seer could not help but ask in the end.

Vogu: “Afraid...”

Seer: “...”

Billy, who had been found by the side, immediately frowned. “Sir, do you want me to come out and talk to Lanaya?”

She was very clear about the Lord’s concerns. If a top-notch assassin was determined to break the contract, it would be a great threat to him.

Vogu shook his head. “You can’t convince her. Right now, the only way to trust each other is to sign the sky god contract, but to sign the contract, you have to personally seal it and lock the soul. I can do this process, and so can she!”

Billy: “...”

It was a dead end...

Now that their trust had collapsed, the moment they met, it would be a life-and-death situation... ..

It was really not good news. After all, Lanaya’s strength was too practical in the current situation.

“What about Vienne?” Billy quickly asked, “Can she fight for it?”

“Her?” Vogu’s mouth twitched. “I think she’s more dangerous than Lanaya...”

According to the information Goron sent before he died, the Vivian who entered the Emerald Dream was a fake. Where was the real Vivian?

Although he didn't sign the god contract and couldn't directly obtain Vivian's position, he knew about her life and death. Moreover, he could sense that Vivian was in this fragment world!

What was a person who had hidden his face from the start, hiding in the dark, trying to do?

Moreover, although Vaughn was a ranger, her unique footwork ability was indeed more dangerous than an assassin!

Billy was silent when he heard this. Vogu also took a deep breath. This was also the reason why he wanted to come in alone. Most of the people in the faction were mercenaries like Vaughn. He did not nurture many star-ranked experts himself, not everyone has Bolton's pedigree, and there's a steady stream of star players.

If he only brought in a few of his own groomed people, I'm afraid that the quick-witted Phippen would notice something, and then it would be very troublesome, and the strength of those star-ranked experts that he groomed, to be honest, is still not presentable... .. Well, it's not gonna do you much good at the level of Vaughn and... ..

Thinking of this, Vogu's expression was complicated.

He had spent a large sum of money to hire Vaughn, Lanaya, and Phippen, these top star-ranked figures, precisely because he did not have enough time to groom his own forces. However, he had not expected that the things that his teacher had planned were even more terrifying than he had imagined.., under such benefits, those mercenaries had instead become a burden. had his teacher planned all of this?

Just as he was thinking, he saw Xi ye staring at him.

Vogu frowned and immediately said, "What do you want to say?"

Xi Ye buckled her helmet and said honestly, "Nothing, I just want to say that it's not easy for senior. Spending so much money is already considered a hundred flowers..."

Vogu rolled his eyes, let out a long breath and said faintly, "You should be concerned about yourself. The one who kidnapped Little Titan is that spatial master under you, right? He hasn't contacted you?"

Xi Ye:"..."

"Oh, I forgot..."Vogu looked at Xi ye sarcastically. "He and you are also in an employment relationship..."

Chapter 1225: Cooperation

"It's also an employment relationship..."

As soon as Vogu's sarcastic words rang out, Billy immediately turned to look at Seer.

Unlike Burton, she knew very little about this little lord. As for why the former dean of the Space Department of the White Dragon Sacred Academy would work for such a little lord, she really could not understand.

However, with the other party's level, he would definitely not be able to sign a god-level contract. He could only sign an employment contract or a cooperation contract. These two kinds of contracts were not as reliable as god-level contracts. The federation paid great attention to personal credibility. Under normal circumstances... Most people would not break a contract out of concern for their reputation and credibility. However, if they were to encounter such a huge benefit like this, it was hard to say... ..

Seer paused on the spot after hearing Vogu's words. However, he was only wearing a heavy armor and helmet, so no one could see his expression. They could not even tell how stiff his body was, Billy could not tell what this junior was thinking at all.

After pausing for a long time, Seer said in an uncertain tone, "The principal has a very good reputation. He should... have some integrity, right?"

When he said this, both Vogu and Billy rolled their eyes.

In terms of reputation, wasn't Vien and Lanaya's reputation in the industry good enough? They had almost never had a bad record since they registered as mercenaries, but even so, Lord Vogu still chose not to trust them at the first moment, because everyone knew that the benefits this time were completely greater than the value of a normal mercenary's life!

Such naive words were really easy to say...

Billy carefully looked at Seer. Looking at his age, it was not incomprehensible that such a junior who had just debuted was a little naive, but was it really so?

A guy who could fish under Andrew's domain for so long, and could even make his lord not dare to rashly test him until now, was it really that simple?

"It's done..." on the other side, the principal who had secretly stolen Brother Dog and the others ran all the way to the center of the original fragment. The principal waved his hand lightly, and an extremely complicated space spread out from the core. Lulu carefully followed behind, she realized that every step she took had hundreds of layers, so complicated that she followed closely behind the principal. With such complicated spatial layers, if she wasn't careful, she would probably be thrown out by hundreds of millions of stars!

"Wow... . . This matrix of yours is a bit exaggerated, how long have you been doing it?" Lulu looked around, the space rune that layers upon layers is so precise that it makes her scalp numb.

"Almost half a century... <per_0> . "the principal smiled. "The school has been researching on the layered composite space technology. This matrix took me quite a bit of effort, but it can be widely used in the military, the use of planets, and the construction of space in the universe. I was planning to display it at the interstellar science fair later to increase the school's popularity, but I didn't expect it to be used now. I hope it won't be too badly damaged later. Many of the space runes are created by the cooperation of other teachers, so it's not a small project to repair them... "... "..."

“Is that so?” Lulu looked at the complicated spatial matrix in confusion and asked another question out of curiosity, “When did you get in touch with the mastermind behind this dream?”

This spatial matrix was obviously a grafting type of spatial matrix. It needed to connect to the space of this world in order to spread out smoothly. In normal worlds, it was naturally easy to build an environment, but this was different.., the emerald dream itself was a top-tier space matrix. It was impossible to build another space matrix in such a complicated space matrix without internal support.

Even if he was a top-tier space master, it was impossible to do it in such a short time. If it was possible, Andrew and those high-level God lords would not be trapped in a fragment space.

The reason why it could be spread out was because the principal had contacted the person behind the scenes and reached an agreement with the person behind the scenes. With the condition of rescuing Brother Dog, he obtained a part of the space structure that the person behind the scenes had opened up.

Facing Lulu’s question, the principal said very honestly, “I’ve been trying to contact the person behind the scenes from the very beginning...”

“Eh?” Lulu was stunned. “Why didn’t I feel it?”

After all, from the moment they entered the emerald dream, they had experienced several fission teleportation, and the two of them had never been separated.

“Of course, it’s using the unique method of a spatial warlock...” the principal smiled.

From the moment he entered the emerald dream, he had been shocked by the grand spatial structure inside. Thus, through the spatial runes, he used the method of changing the runes to transmit the password that only spatial warlocks could understand.

At first, there was no response from the other side, but the principal did not care. Instead, he continued to contact the other side, hoping to receive a response. Moreover, he had been asking for advice as a scholar, and he had taken the initiative to show his own matrix.

Finally, after entering this fragment world, the other side took the initiative to respond. They were willing to provide part of the structure, but they had to help rescue that Little Titan, Brother Dog.

This was also the reason why the principal dared to act under the hands of so many powerhouses... ..

“So you’re saying that you want to join the people behind this Emerald Dream Realm?” Lulu asked curiously.

“This is called cooperation, what is it called joining?” The principal rolled his eyes at the other side and said, “I’m just expressing goodwill on behalf of my Lord.”

“On behalf?” Lulu said with a smile that was not a smile, “Does your Lord Know About this matter? You didn’t seem to have informed him, right?”

The principal heard this and said lightly, “He has a very troublesome fellow by his side now, it’s not easy to contact him. This old man can only take matters into my own hands. This old man’s skills are all in spatial magic. If you want to be useful, this is the only way. The Lord will understand.”

“Oh? Is That So?”The smile on Lulu’s face grew bigger and bigger, “Speaking of which, you and that little fellow should be in a cooperative relationship, right? Now that there are so many benefits in front of you, you still plan to continue to cooperate with that little fellow?”

“This old man has integrity, okay?”The principal said seriously.

Lulu:” ...”

“Speaking of which, what’s Your Situation?”The principal asked faintly, “Your fairy race once pledged loyalty to the Moon Elves, and now you’ve always wanted to find their descendants. After you find them, do you want to continue pledging loyalty? Or do you want to turn over a new leaf?”

As soon as she said this, Lulu’s original smile disappeared, and her face turned dark.

“That slime is quite skilled...”at the main control console, diana looked at Brother Dog who had been successfully rescued, and she instantly heaved a sigh of relief in her heart, she said in a relaxed manner, “We only provided a part of the structure. He was actually able to build the space environment so quickly, and he was even able to rescue that little fellow under the eyes of so many experts. He’s quite capable...”

Ysera nodded. “It’s indeed rare for someone with a slime’s bloodline to be able to reach this stage...”

Diana nodded in agreement, but then she looked at Lulu, who was beside the principal. “Speaking of bloodline... Ysera, what’s the situation with this fairy race?”

Chapter 1226: The Secrets of the fairy race

Where did the fairy race come from?

Ysera fell silent. In the historical records of the Moon Elves, there were three largest world passages in the opening of the Spirit Passage. They were the Abyss where the demon race was located, the divine palace where the Bandel Fairy race was located., and the unspeakable land of the unspeakable race.

These three spirit-based worlds were extremely large, and the races within all had terrifying talents. and during the period of the collapse of the elf civilization, the Abyss was a traitor, and the mysterious unspeakable land was hidden, only the Asgard Palace held the power of the Elven Royal Family!

The reason was very simple. The fairies and the Moon Elves had a very high dependence on the spirit sacrifices. The fairies relied on the purple moon spring water produced by the Moon Elves, and the fairies could achieve reincarnation in a certain sense.

And because of this reason, the fairies relied more and more on the Moon Elves. In the end, in order to ensure the resources of the immortal palace, they even degraded their reproductive function!

But no one expected that the prosperous elf civilization would collapse, and the fairies did not expect the Moon Elves to collapse so quickly.

This was the crisis of the fairies.

The disappearance of the Moon Elves and the slowly drying up of the purple spring water caused the fairies to become fewer and fewer. Unable to reproduce, they accumulated a large number of aging fairies, and they urgently needed a reproduction... Slowly evolving their young bodies to regain their reproductive functions, but the spring water was not enough...

Over the years, the fairy tribe members were moving less and less outside. The reason was that many of the fairy tribe members could no longer move outside. Most of them were frozen inside the immortal palace, lowering their life index to survive. Only a small number of their tribe members were allowed to move outside.., to find a way for their tribe members to survive.

Very few people knew about this secret. As the ancient Dragon King and the last protector of the Moon Elves, Ysera naturally knew about this secret.

However, he still did not try to communicate with this large tribe that once supported the Moon Elves and had an incomparable need for them!

The reason was very simple. The current Moon Elves were too weak... ..

They could no longer suppress a great power like the immortal palace. If Diana was discovered, what would be the result?

Could it be that they still hoped that the immortal palace would continue to be loyal to the descendants of the Moon Elves?

Heh...

Ysera, who had lived for countless years, did not believe it anyway. For a race that could survive in the universe for so long, no one would be a sheep. The Abyss race would betray, and so would the fairy race. The reason why they did not betray in the first place.., it was only because the purple moon spring of the Moon Elves was too important to them.

Back then, the Moon Elves had given them a chance to live forever, but this method had also led to the current racial crisis. It would be a lie to say that they did not regret it at all.

Who could say whether they were missing the Moon Elves or hating the Moon Elves now?

After listening to Ysera's brief description of the situation, Diana immediately took a deep breath and asked carefully, "Then... how do we deal with that Little Fellow?"

"That guy is not small..."Ysera looked at Lulu who looked like a little girl faintly, she said in a low voice, "As early as the Great Elf era, the fairy tribe used the reincarnation method of the Moon Spring to obtain eternal life and reduced their own reproductive ability. You may look at her as small, but in fact, she may be an old witch who has lived for countless eras..."

"Uh..."Diana's face twitched when she heard that. She looked at the actions of Xiaolu, who was acting cute from time to time, and felt that it was extremely strange because the other party was acting cute quite naturally.

She seemed to have sensed Diana's doubts, ysera said calmly, "It's not an act. After reincarnation, the memories will enter a sealed period. They need to grow for a certain period of time before they will be slowly unlocked. If this is to minimize the consumption and reduce the number of reincarnations, each reincarnation is actually equivalent to opening up a new life. Before the memories are unsealed, they will think that they are the juniors of the fairy race...". "..."

"There's such a Thing?" Diana was amazed and could not help but say, "Then this model is pretty good. If you operate it well, wouldn't you be experiencing a different life?"

Ysera frowned. "The theory is like this... .. "However, in the long run, the ecology of the universe will be disturbed because once this kind of thing is implemented on a large scale, normal reproduction must be prohibited. Otherwise, it will attract the backlash of the laws of the universe. However, if reproduction is prohibited and one can rely on reincarnation to maintain eternal life, it will also violate the true reincarnation of the material universe. This kind of situation is prohibited by the universe. Currently, only the fairy race, who are part of the spirit system universe, can use it normally. Even your ancestors can not use it on themselves. To put it bluntly, the fairy race was a successful experiment in the past, but this kind of experiment can not be replicated in the material universe."

"I see..." Diana nodded. She felt that the world outside was very complicated. Her ancestors had left a lot of trouble behind.

"Then... What should we do with this guy?"

"Let's observe her first..." ". "...". Ysera said faintly, "As far as I know, the spring water in the immortal palace is almost exhausted. It's very difficult to provide reincarnation. Those who can keep reincarnating are the top figures in the immortal palace. So don't look at this silly little guy. He might be a very powerful figure in the fairy tribe. Once the memories are unsealed, it will be a big trouble!"

"Uh... is that so?" Diana nodded, she usually listened to Ysera on such important matters. She felt that she had seen more things in the past few days than she had seen in tens of millions of years. It was fortunate that there was someone like Ysera around. Otherwise, if she were the one controlling the emerald dream and encountered such trouble, she would not know what to do... ..

But to be honest, the more Ysera talked about what was happening outside, the more she couldn't help but want to go out and take a look...

She couldn't possibly be trapped in such a fake world forever, right?

"Hey... I say... is this head placed right here?"

Suddenly, a faint voice sounded. Diana was startled, but then she instantly realized that it was the voice of the female knight, Ionelle.

In the mark left behind, Ionelle slowly stood up and looked at the sky. Apparently, she was talking to them.

"Are your injuries serious?" Ysera asked with concern.

"A little serious..." the female knight moved her body and frowned. "This guy is harder to fight than I thought..."

Ysera asked, "Do you need to come back and rest?"

"It's too late..." Ionelle shook her head. "I can barely hold on. Let's save him first..."

Ysera said, "Don't hold on. Contact me immediately if you need me. I'll teleport you back immediately."

"Okay..."lonelle nodded and then raised Bolton's head. "Do you really want this thing?"

"Yes..."Ysera said in a low voice. "This demon lord used the genes of dragons to make an activation star. It shouldn't be possible in theory. I have to study how he did it."

"Alright... Then I'll leave it here..."

"Leave it there..."Ysera replied. "We'll recycle that thing. You do what you should do."

After receiving the reply, lonelle placed her head by her feet and walked towards the direction where Sab and the others had chased after without hesitation.

After watching the other party walk far away, Ysera instructed Diana, "Retrieve it!"

"Alright!"Diana nodded. With a flick of her finger, she was about to activate the authority that she had just obtained from Gaia's consciousness to teleport Bolton's head back.

Speaking of which, she had to thank that Little Titan. If he had not met with danger, Gaia's consciousness might not have compromised and given this authority to them.

However, just as she was about to activate it, the world fragment that Brother Dog and the rest were in suddenly turned black. In an instant, the image of the entire world fragment turned black as if there was a power cut.

Ysera and Diana were immediately shocked. What was going on?

At the same time, after lonelle had walked far away, a figure quietly appeared beside Bolton's head. Upon closer inspection, this figure was an ordinary mecha. If Grandpa and soap were here, they would definitely be able to recognize it, this mecha was the one they had been riding on previously!

Chapter 1227: The Face hidden behind...

The dark space became dull after the female knight left. The surroundings were empty. The shattered space began to slowly fuse together after the group of strong people left. The scattered elemental particles in the surroundings also began to slowly gather together.

During this process, Bolton's head floated in the space, like a discarded piece of trash.

Who would have thought that the owner of this head would be a Lord that the Abyss had high hopes for, one that held dozens of large galaxies in his hands, and had more than a hundred billion people?

The Federation universe was incomparably vast, and every day, different exciting stories would happen in different corners. In this vast platform, there were no lack of legends that had risen from the bottom, but similarly,. There were also no lack of legends that were like ants, dying in unattended corners...

The Divine Light in Bolton's eyes was slowly dissipating. He could feel that he was about to disappear, about to leave this world of the living. At this moment, everything that happened during his life was rapidly moving in his mind like a lantern...

He was born on the ninth floor of the Abyss, which had the most terrible environment. That floor was backed by the Void Gate. The power of corrosion made the demonic creatures on that floor become even more bloodthirsty and cruel. There were even many who would be bewitched by the voice inside the seal., they would become distorted existences.

Dylan demons were royalty on the ninth floor, occupying the largest and most barren land in the abyss. Moreover, they lived under the corrosion of the void all year round, causing Dylan demons to look even more similar to the Monsters of the Void. Many people... There were even many demons who instinctively felt a physical repulsion when they saw Dylan Demons... ..

Because their looks were terrifying...

This kind of terror came from the void. The void of the spiritual plane cut off the most fearful psychology of the living beings in the physical plane, giving birth to countless creepy images in order to conquer the opponent from a psychological level... The Dylan demon that looked like the void was often regarded as a model demon by the outside world...

In the traditional demon images, most of them were Dylan demons as examples. Therefore, if they were not favored by the people in their race, it would be especially difficult for the Dylan demons to travel outside.

Burton happened to be one of them.

His father was the leader of the next generation of Dylan Demons, but his mother was the noble daughter of the Fei Star Demon race on the seventh floor. During a war, his mother was forcibly abducted. Although she was rescued later, he was still there.

In the Abyss, no one was willing to mate with Dylan Demons. Naturally, his mother was the same. Being forcibly abducted and giving birth to an ugly Dylan Demon was the shame of his mother's life. On the first day he was born, he was almost strangled to death by his mother.

However, he had an extremely high purity Dylan demon bloodline, which was eventually redeemed by the Dylan Demon tribe.

However, the beautiful life did not come as planned. His father had many spouses, but they were all Dylan demons with extremely high purity bloodlines. Most of them had given birth to siblings with excellent bloodlines for his father. As for his own identity and background., naturally, he would be despised among his peers.

His mother did not like him, and Dylan did not like him either. His life was quite miserable, but he could barely muddle through. After all, he had royal bloodlines. The purity of his bloodline was not low when he was born as a hybrid. Although he was not liked because of his awkward background., he also enjoyed the treatment within the family. He had excellent resources, which allowed him to build a good foundation in the early stages.

However, such days did not last long. Very soon, his father died in a resource battle. The balance of the family was broken.

The children with powerful mothers naturally got more resources, and he was pushed to the edge without anyone to protect him. In the end, he was forced to leave the core circle to make a living.

In the following years, he lived on the edge of the abyss. He came in contact with the most vicious demons and the outlaws who came to the Abyss to make a living.

He hunted and killed demon hunters, traded intelligence with scouts, and even captured his own kind for those black-hearted forbidden alchemists. He was almost reduced to a sewer character.

In the past, he never dreamed that he would one day become a god. He could have hundreds of billions of people, and he could control the balance of power among the various families in the abyss.

Everything happened because of a black-sheep business. He obtained a magical intelligence from the employer who hired him, and his fate was completely changed because of that intelligence!

The intelligence led him out of the Abyss completely and came into contact with the vast world outside. The mysterious intelligence helped him to obtain fortuitous encounters again and again, just like the Destiny's child in the Bards' mouths, step by step, he grew from a Dylan demon with an awkward identity to a sky god Lord that even the fallen angel clan had to send their children to him.

And he had even greater ambitions.

He became the first sky god in the history of the Abyss, and would also be the greatest one. He wanted to bring the power of the Abyss to the Federation completely, creating a glory that belonged to the demon clan itself, side by side with the great clans of the universe, and open up history!

The legend of everything had just begun, and he had just started. How could he die so easily here?

This shouldn't be like this...

Bolton's remnant divine light was filled with unwillingness, clearly unable to accept the current outcome.

However, the weakness of his soul allowed him to clearly sense the loss of his life force. His life... . . . Seemed to be about to end in such a hasty manner. ...

Sizzle sizzle...

Suddenly, a familiar voice sounded. Bolton, who had already lost his focus, was stunned. His dull eyes suddenly gathered divine light, as if he had just returned to the past.

He was too familiar with this voice. It was the voice that had changed his fate and guided him towards glory.

"Lord Host!"

The mech stood firmly in front of Bolton's head and greeted him coldly with the electronic voice that an intelligent person should have.

Bolton's remaining nerves instantly became excited. Under the burst of the last ray of light, his already dead body actually regained a trace of vitality. Under the support of this trace of vitality, his stiff lips slowly opened.

Bolton wanted to ask a lot of things. He really wanted to ask where the other party had gone to previously? Why did he suddenly disappear? Why did he only appear now?

However, all of his doubts could still be forcefully suppressed. He could only call out the thing that he was looking forward to the most in his heart right now: Save Me... ..

The Mech walked forward. A blue light enveloped Bolton and scanned him up and down.

“Your body has been completely destroyed, and there is no possibility of recovery. The remaining life force is unable to complete the life reconstruction system. The law of the death realm is about to be activated. Lord Host... you... are about to die...”

Save me...

At this moment, Bolton’s eyes were filled with all sorts of complicated emotions. There was anger, and there was unwillingness, but most of them were still yearning. Clearly, he had placed his last hope on this existence that had once changed his fate!

“Apologies, host...” the mecha slowly walked forward and picked up Bolton’s head. The cold electronic voice was emotionless. “Your request can not be completed...”

“But your mission has been completed. Please rest assured and close your eyes...”

Bolton’s pupils constricted. At the last moment of his life, he seemed to have seen something. Behind that mecha, there was an extremely strange face and that hair-raising smile... ..

Chapter 1228: Virus -Partpart 1) !

“HMM?”

Ionelle, who was walking on the road, suddenly raised her head and looked at the sky. A hint of doubt flashed in her eyes... ..

What was going on?

Just now, she suddenly felt a strange feeling. She kept feeling... .. This space... .. As if something had happened that she didn’t know about... ..

But when she looked up, everything seemed normal again. The shattered sky slowly began to condense, and the space was recovering at a very normal speed, the entire world also began to reject her because her battle with Andrew was too violent.

But she was used to this feeling. As a warrior-type expert, every time she attacked, she would be very violent, and it would also cause great damage to the local plane. She would often encounter the rejection of Gaia’s consciousness.

However, rejection was rejection, but it was difficult to sense malice. The awakened Gaia was the original form of the Titan, even though the physical universe would no longer have a natural titan, however, the intimacy between the Titan and Gaia’s consciousness, which was originally from the same source, would not disappear. Therefore, the Titan would never really destroy a life planet, and the Gaia's consciousness would not really hate a titan.

But just now...

She inexplicably felt a chill, do not know if it is an illusion, there seems to be a trace of malice flash... . .

"Master... Why aren't you leaving?"

Dog egg weak lie on Wei en's back, obviously feel Wei en body stiff, dog egg weak ask.

Winn frowned, looked around, and then looked at his waist with the other two little guys.

Rainy girl had used up too much of her spiritual power, so she fell into a coma and did not wake up. Bai Cai, on the other hand, was awake, but he seemed to be even weaker than Goudan. At this time, he seemed to be frightened and shrunk into a meat ball, shivering.

Goudan also noticed the condition of Bai Cai and asked with concern, "What's wrong, Bai Cai? Are you cold?"

Bai Cai looked at Goudan pitifully, shivering for a long time and could not say a word.

However, Vaughn saw fear in his eyes.

"Master, what's wrong with cabbages?"

Vaughn looked at the sky and said calmly, "I sensed something bad..."

"What is it? Why didn't I sense it?" Goudan was stunned.

"You're stupid..." Vaughn rolled her eyes at Goudan.

Goudan's face immediately puffed up when he heard that.

Vivian smiled when she saw Goudan's expression. Then, she looked at cabbage and thought to herself, 'a top-tier flower spirit seedling. If I send it to the Starry Sky Academy, I'm afraid that a bunch of old fogies will fight over it.'

"Master..." Goudan's face did not last for more than a few seconds. He could not help but ask, "What does that bad thing mean?"

Vivian narrowed her eyes when she heard that. She looked at the sky again. "The sky is emitting killing intent..."

I never thought I'd see this happen again in my life... . .

Vaughn recalled one of her most memorable moments, and to be honest, she wouldn't have believed it had existed if she hadn't seen it. . .

I would never have thought that I could meet it again!

“Oh?”

On the other side, Vogu looked at the foot of the night, blue eyes slightly narrowed, lightly asked: “You also feel it?”

Xi Ye stamped her feet and nodded slightly.

Next to him, Billy wondered what his lordship felt?

“Very strange feeling...” night looked at the sky.

“Yes...” Vogu nodded, too, his eyes became a little solemn. As gods, they were very sensitive to the surrounding qi dynamics and laws. They had clearly sensed that there were some unknown things in the laws of this world.

And these additional things were not dead things. They were more like some kind of creature that was watching them in the dark.

This feeling was very strange because it was not quite the same as ordinary creatures spying in the dark. This was because they did not have a body, but they could actually sense their existence. Moreover, their attention was filled with malice... ..

“What did Sir Sense?” Billy could not help but ask curiously.

If Lord Vogu could sense something that she could not sense, it would be somewhat acceptable, but what about the little guy next to her?

Why could he also sense something that he could not sense?

Based on what?

Billy’s eyes were filled with confusion. As a star-grade blue spirit, her spiritual power was many times stronger than that of the Little Lord Seer. It was simply the difference between a raindrop and an ocean!

Faced with the doubts of his subordinates, Vogu frowned and looked around, but he did not know how to answer.

Seer was the first to speak. “How should I put it... it’s like a parasite suddenly appeared in this world and was looking at us...”

Vogu immediately clapped his hands in agreement. “That’s an appropriate description...”

Billy:” ...”

Parasite? What the hell?

Was it a riddle?

Wait a minute... world?

A hint of surprise flashed through Billy’s heart as he realized something.

If there was one thing that this little fellow had an advantage over him, it would probably be his unique talent as an Emphyrean God, right? The thing that both of them could sense at the same time, could it be the laws of this world?

But what did it mean when a parasite appeared in the laws?

“What’s Wrong?”

Within the complex spatial matrix, the principal who was fiddling with the spatial runes suddenly froze, looking around in confusion.

Lulu, who was at the side, immediately asked curiously when she saw this.

The principal looked around in confusion. In the space, the precise runes were flickering with a pale blue light. They were still as perfect and meticulous as before, and there was almost no trace of a problem.

But for some reason, he felt that something was wrong.

“It seems that... someone... changed something...”the principal carefully phrased his words.

“Changed what?”Lulu was stunned. “Could it be that your spatial matrix has been broken? Damn, weren’t you very good at bragging just now? Saying that this matrix of yours is a large-scale project, even if a top-tier heavenly deity wanted to break it, he would need to spend quite a bit of effort. How big of a meeting is this? “Someone changed it already?”

The Principal:“...”

Faced with the questioning, the principal was momentarily speechless. He raised his head and looked at the familiar runic structure once again.

“How much has it been changed? Can it still be maintained? It Won’t collapse, right?”Lulu asked the key question.

“It seems... there aren’t any changes...”the principal looked at the runic structure of the matrix in puzzlement.

Lulu was stunned. She stared at the principal for a few seconds and finally said, “Are you F * cking kidding me?”

The principal smiled bitterly. He didn’t know how to say it, but he did feel that something had been changed, but in fact, the rune structure hadn’t changed at all.

Could it be that he was really mistaken?

“Ysera?”At the main control desk of the Emerald Dream, Diana looked at the pitch-black fragment and hurriedly said, “What’s the situation?”

Ysera’s expression also changed drastically. A panic that she had never felt before appeared on her face. “The virus... how can it still exist?”

“Virus?” Diana looked at Ysera in surprise.

Chapter 1229: Virus -PartTwo two)

What virus?

Just as Diana was about to open her mouth to ask, an extremely terrifying chill suddenly struck her. Ysera, who was originally covered in emerald green all over, suddenly underwent a huge change. Her crystal clear scales started to turn pitch black like ink dyed by clear water, her body, which was originally brimming with vitality, was now emitting a strange aura.

Not only that, the surrounding fragmented worlds were also the same. The name of the Emerald Dream was first given to things before it was given its name. From the outside, it looked like a huge emerald starry sky, the man-made void was filled with shrapnel that flickered with vitality. The shrapnel contained a new world that was dreamlike and illusory. That was why the Five Great Dragon Kings named it the Emerald Dream.

But now, these jade crystals filled with life force were like the scales on Ysera’s body. They began to appear pitch-black, as if they were infected by something... ..

What... was this?

Diana stood there in a daze, looking at the pitch-black Ysera. She wanted to open her mouth to ask, but there was a chill in her heart. Her reason told her that what she needed to do now was to escape this place immediately!

“Yi... Ysera?”

Suppressing the intense panic and unease in her heart, Diana mustered up her courage and called out carefully.

Ysera, whose body had almost turned into an inky crystal, paused for a moment. Her huge head slowly came back to her. Her originally emerald-colored eyes had now turned pitch-black as ink, carrying a strange coldness!

In an instant, Diana immediately understood that the guy in front of her was no longer Ysera!

Without any hesitation, Diana’s body immediately turned illusory. With the distorted light, she instantly disappeared from where she was. In the next second, a huge dragon claw descended from the sky and smashed the place where Diana was at into pieces!

Even the space there was completely shattered, and the entire Main Control area was smashed into nothingness. A violent aura spread in all directions. She was completely different from Ysera, who was powerful but had a peaceful aura!

“You’re fast...”

A cold voice came out of Ysera’s mouth. It was very similar to Ysera’s before, but with a hint of mockery.

But at this time, the Aborigines in the Jade Canyon felt the abnormality around them instantly. The originally Warm Canyon was suddenly covered with a layer of black frost, and the atmosphere of the whole world suddenly changed.

The warm and warm light suddenly changed its color and became bone-piercing cold. An inexplicable terror rose in everyone's hearts, and the interior of the valley forest continuously let out violent roars, it was as if something terrifying was about to come out of its cage, causing the aborigines civilians who were originally prepared to accept a peaceful life to shrink together with pale faces.

What happened?

A few generals and nobles looked at the interior of the canyon in fear. The originally sparkling and translucent forest that was filled with a dreamy aura had now become gloomy and terrifying. Accompanied by those terrifying roars, it was as if it was hell...

The few generals looked at each other. At this time, as the most powerful ones, they should have gone in to take a look at the situation. However, the terrifying pressure made them not dare to move.

They had not gone into the forest before. They had sneaked in to take a look. There were many incredible creatures inside. They were extremely powerful, but they carried an indescribable gentleness, there were even times when some bold children mistakenly entered the forest. Many adults were not very worried. Although the creatures in the forest were powerful, they had almost no ill intentions. They were as gentle as the big dogs in the neighborhood, sometimes, they would even take the initiative to send the lost children back.

But now, hearing those familiar and strange roars, no one could be sure. The things inside... ... Obviously, they had changed... ...

"How could this be?" Among the Aborigines, Jenny's biological mother, the former wife of the city lord, hid behind the crowd with her pale daughter in her arms. She looked at the chilly wind gusting through the canyon, feeling fear and a hint of unwillingness at the same time.

Didn't they say that it was a place of protection? Didn't they say that they would never encounter any more hardships in the future? Why?

A tall knight beside her shielded the city Lord's wife behind him and tried his best to stand more firmly. However, the physical pressure was not something that could be resisted by willpower. The trembling body clearly made Jenny and her daughter feel the fear in his heart...

Jenny tightly nestled in her mother's arms, but do not feel a bit of warmth, delicate hands intertwined into a ball, once a strong mother can not give her a sense of security.

In her panic, she thought of the tall, stout figure who had led them out of their misery.

Where are you?

-- --

Hooray!

Space Matrix, the dog suddenly woke up, looking around in fear!

In the matrix, the scenery was the same as before. The scene in the fragmented world was folded tens of millions of times, but it accurately reproduced the scene from before. The sunlight was warm and the aura was peaceful.

The changes in the outside world had clearly not been reflected in.

Brother Dog looked around and even had a flash of realization, as if the terrifying cold in his mind was just a nightmare.

“You’re Awake?” Lulu’s round and cute face came over and looked at Brother Dog with interest.

“Who are you?” Brother Dog looked at the other party.

“I’m your eldest cousin!” Lulu revealed a brilliant smile. Her pair of playful tiger teeth looked harmless.

Brother Dog twitched the corner of his mouth. “Come on, if my eldest cousin looked like you, why would she not get married after going on more than seventy blind dates?”

The Principal: “...”

“Oh?” Lulu’s big and cute eyes narrowed slightly. She came closer to Brother Dog and looked at him carefully. When she saw Brother Dog’s undisguised look, she immediately smiled. “As expected, he has the bloodline of an emperor...”

When the principal heard this, his heart moved.

There were two most powerful abilities of the fairy race. One was the accurate and exaggerated divination technique, and the other was the method they used to change their memories.

But according to the records of the elf civilization, the Fairy Race’s memory disorder technique could not change the memories of the royal bloodline, so the royal family boldly introduced the immortal palace, this was because the royal family would not be fooled by their special talent.

Otherwise, if there really was an existence that could change the memories of all living creatures at any time, this universe would have long belonged to the Immortal Palace... ..

In the secret news, the elven royal family used the talent of the fairy race to smooth over the hatred of many races. It was unknown whether it was true or not, but now it seemed that the talent of the fairy race was useless against the bloodline of the emperor. ...

However, this was not the most urgent matter. The current situation did not allow him to continue to explore this secret news.

The principal: “Child, do you remember me?”

“Sir Principal...” brother dog hurriedly nodded, he naturally remembered the principal of the base. At that time, the base had introduced high-end instructors to the magical class. These warrior-born players had also protested together. At that time, they had seen this so-called high school principal... A lump of golden jelly... .. It was really unforgettable... ..

“The situation is very dangerous now. We have to leave this place quickly. Can you still activate the teleportation now?” The president hurriedly asked when he saw that brother dog was conscious.

Chapter 1230: Shocking Change (first part)

The words 'crisis' were not meant to be taken lightly...

The principal had roamed the federation for many years. Among the star-ranked powerhouses, he was considered one of the more senior ones. At the very least, in his eyes, people like Vienne and Lanaya were absolute juniors. Based on age and seniority..., their grandfathers had to respectfully address them as the principal of their entire lives.

As the former dean of the Space Department of the White Dragon Sacred Academy, he had this qualification, but high seniority did not mean that he was strong in battle. As an arcane mage, he had always been an academic, and he had always followed the style of scientific research, he was completely different from those mercenaries who did high-risk missions every day.

Therefore, even though the growth rings of people like Vienne and Lanaya were far inferior to his, if they were to really fight, he would probably lose his old life... ..

"Hey, Hey..." Lulu, who was at the side, immediately curled her lips and said, "Didn't you just have a lot of confidence in your matrix? Now the situation is in Crisis?"

Facing this little guy who was trying to undermine her..., the principal said expressionlessly, "Those mercenaries are specialized in cracking and assassinating. Not to mention that there's an unknown undead following behind them. You should have also felt the strength of that Guy's spiritual power, right? I'm afraid his background is extraordinary... "...". "..."

Lulu paused for a moment when she heard that, but she did not refute.

That guy shrouded in the black fog was clearly a terrifying existence. It was only because he did not have a body yet that he had not shown it. However, the majestic spiritual power hidden under the Black Fog was definitely not inferior to Andrew's!

Such a guy was probably once an extraordinary great lord. With his knowledge of civilization, cracking a spatial matrix was not difficult.

Even though the principal was very confident in his own matrix, he was not so arrogant as to say that a peak deity would not be able to crack it. After all, in this world, cracking it was always easier than creating it... ..

"Moreover..." the principal looked at Lulu faintly. "Isn't your purpose of coming here to see them?"

Hearing this, Lulu pursed her lips and did not say anything for the time being.

Actually, she was also at a loss. The higher-ups told her that she could save the clan from danger, but they didn't tell her what to do. Prophecy was about letting nature take its course. The most taboo thing was to interfere with the will of the supervisor, the more you didn't touch the main storyline, the more accurate the prophecy would be.

How should the fate of the clansmen be resolved? The elder didn't say, so she couldn't guess... ..

Now, she could only take it one step at a time...

When the principal saw that Lulu did not speak, he looked at the weak-looking brother dog once again. At this moment, Brother Dog had just woken up from his nightmare, and there was still a trace of fear in his heart. When he saw the principal mention the matter of teleportation, an inexplicable expression flashed across his face.

“What’s Wrong?”The principal hurriedly asked.

Brother dog sized up the principal and did not reply immediately...

He trusted the people in the base. Among all the players, the only one who trusted the lord the most was none other than rainy girl and melon, Liu Shiyu.

This was because he was bullied by the Yunshan sect back then and the Lord was the first to stand up for him. This golden jelly was valued by the Lord, so it should be trustworthy, right?

He was born in an aristocratic family, so he was not someone who could not think. Back then, during the New World evacuation, the one in charge of teleportation was the principal in front of him. If not for the Lord’s trust.., he would not have been able to do such an important job.

After experiencing so much, he understood why the Lord had ordered the players to evacuate. He also understood what would happen if the base was found out by those strong people. The principal in charge of cleaning up the traces.., was definitely someone the Lord trusted.

But why was he not with the Lord?

And why didn’t he mention the Lord from the start?

Thinking of this, a hint of wariness flashed across Brother Dog’s eyes. He said indifferently, “Where is the Lord? Isn’t he with you?”

The principal looked at Brother Dog. He could easily sense the wariness in brother dog’s expression. He said calmly, “No, the space here has split apart twice. I separated from the lord the first time.”

“Does that mean that you can’t contact the Liege Now?”Brother Dog asked softly.

“No...”the principal shook his head. “I can contact...”

Brother Dog was stunned. He thought that the other party would not be able to contact him. The words that he was prepared to say were suddenly choked. He subconsciously asked, “Then why don’t you meet up with the Liege?”

“We can’t...”the principal shook his head. “There’s a very troublesome fellow beside the Liege. Before he gets rid of that fellow, it’s inconvenient to join up with him. Moreover, you absolutely can not fall into that fellow’s hands...”

“Is this your idea or the Liege’s idea?”Brother Dog stared at the other party and asked.

“My idea...”the principal patiently said, “The situation is complicated. Many times, we can only rely on our own judgment to move forward. My judgment may not be what the Liege thinks in his heart, but in my opinion, it’s the most suitable...”

Brother Dog immediately fell silent upon hearing this.

The other party's reply was very sincere. At least, it seemed very sincere. Then, the question came. Was this fellow worthy of trust?

After a moment of silence, Brother Dog finally opened his mouth and said, "Then what should we do next?"

The principal said, "First, leave this fragment of space and escape the threat of those fellows outside. Although I don't know how you have control over this space, your existence must not fall into the hands of two of the people outside. Otherwise, the consequences will be very serious."

"What happens after you leave?" Brother Dog asked with a frown.

The principal said, "You can try to continue communicating with the owner of this space. I believe you've met them. I want to talk to the owner of this space."

"Talk to the owner of this space?" Brother Dog was stunned.

The principal said, "It's different from the people outside. Whether it's me or the Liege, we didn't know that there was such a secret in this world at the beginning. Therefore, from the beginning, we didn't plan anything. At that time, we only evacuated to avoid the risk. The reason why we were involved in this storm was because the base happened to be connected to this world. We don't have much of a conflict with the owner of this jade dream. There's a possibility of cooperation...". "... .."

Brother Dog's expression softened slightly. There was no need for the Lord to have any conflict with the Green Dragon. After all, the dragon treated him well...

Not only did it take him in, but it also took in those natives... ..

Seeing Brother Dog's expression soften, the principal quickly said, "Now is not the time to hesitate. Those people outside are not ordinary. Who knows when they will be able to sneak in. Let's leave quickly and guarantee our safety!"

Brother Dog hesitated for a moment, and finally nodded. The principal did not pay much attention to this hesitation, but Lulu, who was at the side, was very curious. This was because she clearly felt that this little Titan's eyes flashed with a trace of worry when he agreed to activate the teleportation...

What was this kid worried about?

Brother Dog took a deep breath, and slowly closed his eyes, preparing to communicate with that strange sound again, preparing to activate the teleportation!

However, when he closed his eyes this time, he felt a little uneasy.

That just now... should be a nightmare, right?

Brother Dog Thought in his heart...
