Chapter 1381: ranking of interstellar institutions (second)

The ranking of institutions was based on two main parameters!

The first was the contribution of science and technology, which included valid papers, experimental parameters, and the presentation of new scientific and technological products. All of these could be counted as science and technology points, and were included in the contribution of the university to the Federation!

This category occupied 50% of the points in the ranking of institutions, so a single institution would be at a disadvantage in terms of ranking, especially a pure martial arts school. They could only get ranking points in terms of biotechnology and the quality of their students... ..

Generally, the schools that were ranked at the top were the comprehensive departments...

The second category was the reference for the quality of their students. After all, a school was a place to educate people. It was very reasonable for the quality of education to directly affect the ranking of the school...

Ever since Sylvanas took over the Northern Star Field, in order to attract outstanding talents, she had established a large number of schools. Moreover, in order to improve the quality of the school, she had even sent the top ten liches under her to the school as instructors. It could be said that she had put in a lot of effort!

The results were also very obvious. In just a few short eras, the Northern Star Field's universities had risen rapidly. Regardless of whether it was in terms of technological contributions or in terms of educational results, they had achieved astonishing results, the number one university, Tiriverson Academy, had even charged into the top three this year!

Actually, in terms of technological scores this year, Tiriverson Academy was slightly higher than the Star Field Academy, which was ranked second. However, the reason why Tiriverson Academy still lagged behind the other party was because they had lost in the second category... ..

This made Sylvanas feel rather indignant...

The student quality reference was also divided into two categories. The first was the assessment of the top students, and the second was the average assessment of the entire student. The latter was very easy to understand. It was the assessment of the quality of the graduating batch of students, the average was used to enter the score.

In terms of this score, Tyrifson Academy was very outstanding. It was not inferior to the Star Academy at all. However, the problem lay in the assessment of the top students.

The evaluation of the top students came from the same interstellar fellowship that happened once every ten years. Every University would send their top 100 students to participate in this grand gathering, and these 100 top students of the Academy would fight for the ranking of the academy in the name of this fellowship and competition!

Tyrifson Academy had lost because of this. With this score, not to mention Star Academy, Tyrifson Academy was almost no match for the Divine Arcana Academy, which was ranked sixth... ..

However, this problem was somewhat unsolvable, because the quality of each other's students was not on the same level!

The Northern Star Field was a gathering place for the undead, and the living were still somewhat resistant to this place. Therefore, under certain circumstances, most of the outstanding students would not consider the northern star field, most of the students would only be attracted by the generous scholarships offered by the Northern Star Field.

However, not every student from a poor family had the talent to compete with the students from a real aristocratic family. This was not a novel. Under normal circumstances, how could an ordinary student be better than a student from a wealthy family?

The Starry Sky Academy was an old aristocratic academy in the federation. Not to mention other things, the members of the starry sky elven royal family alone could hardly be compared to outsiders, not to mention the numerous aristocratic families that were affiliated with the Starry Sky Clan...

This was a problem of foundation. As a newly-emerged force, it was really difficult to surpass them in a short period of time... ..

Sylvanas also knew that she could not rush, but this was a complicated chain problem. The resources obtained from the academy's ranking were very attractive. Not only were there rewards for materials, but there were also the qualifications to enter the ancient lands.

The ancient lands had a rich star core. Star cores were something that every living being needed to become a star-grade entity. In countless eras, 80% of the star-grade powerhouses had experienced the ancient lands. Sending students to the ancient lands would mean that the number of star-grade powerhouses produced in one's own high school would increase by a few points...

This was a problem of accumulation. Star-grade powerhouses had a long lifespan. The more the academy accumulated, the deeper its foundation was. The more connections it established, the more the students who graduated from the Academy would be taken care of. Thus, the virtuous circle would grow stronger and stronger.

Starry Sky Academy had always occupied the second place in terms of resources. They had more resources than him, and the students were better than him. The longer they stayed there, the greater the gap between them... ..

At the thought of this, Sylvanas' originally Su Zhan's brows furrowed slightly...

As a new faction, it was originally difficult for him to make a name for himself. The reason why he was able to quickly rise up and suppress many ancient factions in the past few years was not only because of the high quality of his own faction, but also because of the heavy losses suffered by the old powerhouses during the Battle of the Void Gate!

If she did not take advantage of this gap to seize more resources to make up for the gap, it would become more and more difficult for her when these old powerhouses came back to their senses... ..

With this thought in mind, Sylvanas began to ponder about this year's enrollment policy. Should she increase the number of discounts to attract more high-quality students?

Although the current financial situation was tight, this sum of money could not be saved...

After that, she began her negotiations with the various noble families. Before she came this time, she had secretly contacted quite a few noble families. They were all trying to persuade them to join the Northern Star Field's academy... ..

Of course, the noble families that had a good momentum of development and deep foundations still did not have many people willing to accept her as an undead lord. Sylvanas'target was those noble families that were beginning to fall!

Compared to the powerful families, the poor and powerful families were in dire straits and their influence was declining rapidly. They definitely didn't have enough resources to educate their children. However, they had passed down their bloodline for so long, so they still had outstanding bloodlines... ..

As long as they could bring these outstanding bloodlines into the Northern Star Field, they would have a chance to compete with the old and famous schools in the future in the nurturing of top students... ..

Before coming to the meeting, she had already negotiated with many families. Unfortunately, although all the families had agreed to join because they were down and out, they only promised to let the collateral descendants apply to the Tirefarson Academy, and not the direct descendants!

Although the collateral descendants of such wealthy families were certainly far more outstanding than the poor ones, they were still far from being comparable to the direct descendants. If she wanted to compete with the old famous schools, she had to make a hole in this... ..

After many days of intelligence, she had set her eyes on one of the families: the Templar family!

This was an absolutely ancient noble family. It was one of the three great assassin families in the Southern Star Field. However, it was also the family that had fallen the fastest. A huge change had almost wiped out the older generation of experts in this family!

This had caused the once towering tree to become like a rootless duckweed. It was in an extremely difficult situation. However, it was the family that Sylvanas had the best chance of winning over now!

As long as the other side promises to let the direct descendants in and successfully let the direct descendants of the Templar family Shine in the interstellar fellowship, this example will have the effect of an example. In the future, when lobbying other families, it's gonna be a lot easier than this!

After all, a lot of things are after the mouth will come to fruition!

By the way, what's the name of the young patriarch of the Templar family? Lanaya, I think?

On the other side, while Sylvanas was thinking about the idea of competing for the top three places, some of the students were still worrying about whether their own colleges would be eliminated from the top 100!

After all, there was a big difference between the top 100 and the top 100. Only the top 100 schools had the right to participate in the interstellar meeting of the college entrance examination. The schools outside the top 100 could only wait outside for news. There was a huge difference in the allocation of resources!

“Number 98: Southern Star Field’s Xandar Academy!”

When the speaker read out this name, a tall and Mighty Golden Titan among the principals instantly heaved a sigh of relief. He patted his chest with some lingering fear.

Fortunately, there was no strong dark horse this year. Otherwise, he would have been the last one to be raped, and the position on his butt would have been given away... ..

It wasn’t his fault that he was so nervous every time. This ranking was too low, and there was a risk of falling at any time... ..

Especially last year’s Galactic Fellowship results, which were the worst in history. Before the meeting, he was so scared that he couldn’t sleep every night... ..

No... ! ... He couldn’t continue like this, he had to increase his ranking. He couldn’t stand such a scary day!

Xandar Academy was a warrior academy that specialized in martial arts. Their scientific and technological scores had basically reached the ceiling. If they wanted to raise their ranking, they could only rely on the collision of the inter-galactic academies!

This year’s enrollment had to pull the good seedlings into their hands!

Oh right, where was the Titan that the Little Lord had promised to send over? Had it been sent over?

Chapter 1382: Wang Goudan’s strange constitution (Part One)

The Templar family was located on the famous Jade Star of the Southern Star Field, Sebestad. This was the planet with the highest quality of the Southern Star Field’s elven system. The planet had the heaven origin world tree that had been preserved since ancient times. The entire universe federation.., there were less than ten planets that had such ancient heritage!

The ancient heritage was not just historical. Things like the world tree could greatly improve the quality of the planet’s elements. Every year, the maintenance fee that this planet spent on this tree was sky-high.., just the number of Tianyuan star-level Druids hired was three!

This also caused the price of this planet to be extremely high. Therefore, anyone who could get a foothold here was a first-rate noble of the southern star field. The Templar family was once one of the three great assassin families of the Southern Star Field, there was a small private island on this planet that was worth every inch of land.

Recently, the Templar family had suffered heavy losses, causing their power to fall. The Templar family had sold many properties, but they had no intention of moving their base here.

In the words of outsiders, this was the last decent thing the Templar family could do...

At this moment, Lanaya, who had returned to this place once again, was breathing in the high-quality fresh air of this planet. She suddenly felt extremely emotional... ..

This trip was actually not that long. It had only been a few years, and the family had been short of money for the past few years. As the next designated candidate for the position of the family head, it was normal for her to go out to earn money, and it was normal for her to not return home for hundreds of thousands of years... ..

But this time, it felt exceptionally long...

The main reason was that this time, she had almost brought a dog into the mission... ..

“Wow... It’s so beautiful, this place! ! Is this island all yours, master? Wow, as expected of this dog egg’s master, one look and you can tell that it’s very high-class! !”

The few family members who came to welcome Lanaya looked at the little girl who was speaking with a strange expression. Before coming to welcome her, they had heard that the young patriarch had taken in a direct disciple, and it was said that he intended to be the heir of the mantle!

Lanaya’s identity was not simple in the family. She was the designated successor. Her mantle’s successor was of great importance. It involved the future distribution of many resources in the Holy Cathedral family. Generally speaking, even if this kind of successor was not her own biological child.., she could only choose from within the family.

It was very rare to choose an outsider!

Moreover, with this country bumpkin appearance, it was obvious that she was not born in a large family. Where did the young patriarch pick up this fellow?

“Master, I’m hungry. When do I eat?”Wang Goudan touched his round belly and asked.

“Didn’t you eat when you came?”Lanaya frowned immediately.

“It’s normal for a parent to be hungry...”Wang Goudan smiled and said, “Besides, didn’t you have no money just now? You Didn’t let me order many things in the restaurant...”

Lanaya:” ...”

The people around were also stunned. They looked at Lanaya. Although the Templar clan was short of money recently, as the young patriarch, they didn’t even have any money for food?

It seemed that it hadn’t been easy for them to go out in the past few years. They probably didn’t earn any money back... ..

Lanaya resisted the urge to sew the other party’s mouth. She lowered her voice and said, “There’s food for you when we go back. Stop shouting and hurry up quietly...”

“Ah, okay!”Hearing that there was food, Goudan immediately became obedient and followed behind Lanaya like a tail... ..

Lanaya was speechless. She didn't know whether it was right or wrong to choose this guy...

After the last battle, the survivors signed a confidentiality agreement under the leadership of Ysera and seer. She, Vaughn, and the Mechanical Mind Master Billy from the original force didn't mention anything about the Emerald Starfield, they also provided a stable outlet for the natives of the Seer Force.

Of course, as a price, the three of them could enjoy a portion of the resources in the Emerald Starfield. More importantly., the Seer Force allowed her, Vayne, and Billy to choose 100 natives from the Seer Force to join their families every 10 years.

This was a great temptation to the three of them. In the end, after a round of bargaining, they signed the watchful treaty together.

However, the situation had happened. The development of the people in the hesitant seer territory was still in the initial stage, so each of the three of them could only choose one aboriginal to take away. The 100 people on the treaty would be taken away by her Templar family's 30 people. They would only be able to get it in the next ten years...

This made the few of them unwilling to accept it, and they even argued for a long time.

The reason was simple. Although the test showed that the natives of the Seer faction all had extremely high acceptance rates, and they should all be considered geniuses, there was still a difference between geniuses, and this group of kids who were running around aimlessly in the emerald starfield were definitely geniuses among geniuses, and every one of them would be top-class people if nurtured properly.

They all wanted these people, especially Vaughn. She directly opened her mouth and wanted to pack up that group of kids and take them away.

Her shameless attitude changed her impression of her old friend!

Of course, she and Billy argued with reason. Ysera didn't agree either, saying that they should keep people in the Emerald Starfield... ..

In the end, after a few arguments, they decided to keep one of them... ..

Vaughn chose Li Goudan. Although Lanaya was a little unwilling, she didn't argue with him. After all, he had already made a reservation and even taught her the signature breathing technique. It wasn't right to snatch him away... ..

Without Li Goudan, Wang Goudan, who was also a human-shaped elf, became Lanaya's first choice... ..

The second gene transfer technology was very mature in the federation. However, to achieve the best effect, there was not much of a conflict between the first gene and the first gene. Only then would it be able to cover the entire area. The Templar family's genetic body was a shadow elf., it was much easier to cover the wood elf's genes in Goudan's body than it was to cover those of the Titans.

Of course, Wang Eggface was not the only elf player. However, the other elves were either flower spirits or mutants. They were not suitable for the path of assassins. The transformation of elves was a combination of body and consciousness. Even if they changed their genes... It would most likely not change the outcome. Therefore, the best choice was Wang Eggface... ..

However, he did not expect that there would be an accident later on!

The reason was that bastard Ysera. As a senior, he had clearly agreed to let them choose first. In the end, after he had chosen Wang Goudan, the other party regretted it. He had actually secretly performed a second surgery on Goudan without the public knowing, he had transplanted the Black Dragon's Gene!

After Lanaya found out about it, she was so angry that her nose almost tilted. She caused a huge ruckus. Although Ysera was in the wrong and had given in to the other party in the argument, what was done was done. There was basically no way to change it... ..

The gene sequence of the dragon race was extremely high, and the coverage rate was also extremely high. Even if new genes were injected, it was difficult to guarantee that they would be able to cover the pure genes of the dragon race!

Moreover, the success rate of the third surgery was completely different from the second surgery. It was almost 30% .

Under such circumstances, no matter how angry Lanaya was, she could only pinch her nose and admit it. However, in the next few days, something very strange happened to Wang Goudan... ..

Chapter 1383: Wang Goudan's Strange Constitution (Part Two)

On the third day after the second surgery, Wang Goudan's body sprouted... ..

HMM... ! Yes, it literally sprouted. Green sprouts grew out of the pitch-black dragon scales all over his body. After a few days, it directly grew into a fat tree outside the Emerald Dream Realm!

Every day, they watched the strange scene of a big tree covered in dragon scales running all over the slope. Pu Yunchuan and the others were dumbstruck. They did not dare to perform a second surgery... ..

Not to mention the younger generation like Pu Yunchuan, even Ysera, who had lived for a long time and had seen a lot of things, almost had his eyes pop out. He hurriedly knocked out dog egg, who was running all over the slope, and pulled him to do a test...

In the end, he strangely discovered that the gene mix in dog egg's body was extremely strange. Originally, the Wood Elf's gene had no intention of being covered by the Black Dragon's gene. Instead, the two genes were constantly changing. This scene... Made Ysera even more confused. completely unsure of what to do... ..

Seer rushed over and explained this scene. It was said that a long time ago, on Ball D, Dog Egg's body seemed to have come into contact with some strange gene, causing his body to sprout before... ..

But it wasn't that bad. At least it didn't grow into a tree. . .

Ysera asked how it had been resolved last time...

Seer went straight back. Just Wait...

This irresponsible answer just made a bunch of people roll their eyes... . .

But the truth is, as Seer said, after a few days... ... Dog balls would be nice... ...

The bark fell off, and a brand new dog egg was born once again. However, this time it was even stranger than before because the dog egg could seamlessly switch between the wood elf and black dragon genes!

This situation once again made Ysera, Vaughan, and the others dumbfounded!

After flipping through the entire history of the universe, they had never seen such a situation... ...

The Dog Egg's situation looked a little like that of a druid. However, as an elf, Lanaya was very clear that the dog egg's situation was completely different from that of a Druid!

Druids imitated genes and used cell activity to imitate other biological characteristics to the greatest extent. This point was brought to the extreme by soap and the other mutants.

However, imitating was still imitating. It was completely different from Eggface's situation. Druids could imitate the powerful physique of dragons. Druids who had completely mastered the dragon form could even engage in melee combat with real dragons when they transformed!

However, that was only close combat. The other talents of the dragon race were not there, such as breath, or the various ancient powers unique to the dragon race!

Eggface directly switched. He had completely inherited all the talents of the black dragon race. High-quality dragon scales, incomparably perfect dragon bones, and the flame of the Earth, which was even purer than the royal black dragon juniors that Ysera had seen before!

However, as long as the opponent switched, the dragon bones would instantly disappear, and the black flame aura on his body would also disappear without a trace. All that was left was the flexible elf bones of the wood elves, as well as the various elemental talents unique to the wood elves... ...

This ability, which was similar to switching characters, completely stupefied Ysera! !

He asked Seer on the spot if the other players had this ability?

Seer expressed that she did not know...

After that, she immediately observed the other players who had undergone the second surgery. These players were secretly brought back from the main base after the big incident. However, the results showed that.., this situation did not happen to the new players.

In other words, Dogball was a special case?

No matter what, the problem was solved. Lanaya instantly had a reason to take dogball away!

On the surface, Goudan's physique would not be covered by any particular gene. As long as she was willing, it seemed that she could completely contain a few genes in her body and strengthen it!

Therefore, it seemed that it would not be a problem to bring back the genes of the Templar clan. If the wood elves' genes would not be covered by the Dragons, the shadow elves' genes should not be either!

Most importantly, the other party could switch seamlessly!

What did this mean?

If nurtured well, an elf with the ability of a top-tier assassin could suddenly turn into a giant dragon with an incomparably strong body under certain circumstances. What kind of concept was this?

Thinking of this, Lanaya took Wang Goudan away without hesitation. She did not even look back, not giving Ysera the slightest chance... ..

“Master, the island is so big. Let’s fly there directly. How long do we have to walk slowly like this? I’m so hungry that I can’t walk anymore...”

Goudan’s voice once again broke Lanaya’s train of thought... ..

Lanaya, who was proud of her quick reaction, suddenly felt her face Twitch. She wondered if she had made the right choice... ..

In terms of aptitude, she was one of the best even among those small monsters. However, in terms of personality... ..

Was this foolish fellow really suitable to become an assassin?

“Master...”Goudan hung himself on Lanaya’s body. It was obvious that he was going to cheat... ..

“Get Up!”Lanaya’s face darkened. She looked at this foolish fellow speechlessly. However, the other party did not seem to be getting up. The two juniors who had come to welcome him also had strange expressions on their faces.

Where did the young clan leader pick up such an exquisite item?

“You can’t just fly around...”Lanaya’s somewhat helpless doggie dragged him up. “Remember, in other clans, especially in the territory of assassin clans, you must take the designated route. Otherwise, the consequences will be very serious...”

“Oh?”Doggie changed into a comfortable position and lay on the other party’s back. “Could it be that there’s a trap?”

“Something like that...”Lanaya sighed. She didn’t have much reaction to Eggface’s direct action of leaning on her back because she had gotten used to it over the past few days. ...

She wasn’t too used to the little guy. She also knew that Eggface was really tired. Since it was his first time in the Galactic Federation, the Little Guy had eaten too many high-grade ingredients without restraint. In addition, the quality of the elements on high-grade planets was very high. This caused his body to absorb too much energy in a short period of time. He wouldn’t be able to adapt for a while and fall into a dormant state... ..

“Wow, as expected of a big family, upper-class! !”

Lanaya:” ...”

“Shut up, if you’re tired, sleep well. I’ll call you when it’s time to eat later...”

“Oh, OH...”

A few seconds later, a thunderous snore sounded, and the two juniors behind him were instantly dumbfounded... ..

What did they see today?

The young clan leader brought an outsider to the clan to apply for the position of heir, and it seemed like he was a country bumpkin and a lazy bum... ..

Most importantly, the young clan leader even gave in to this lazy bum, and he actually carried the other party on his back?

Was this the arrogant young clan leader that they knew?

One of the juniors immediately approached and wanted to suggest, “Why don’t I do it?”?

However, the moment they approached her, something unbelievable happened... ..

Goudan, who had been asleep, suddenly opened his eyes and stared at her! !

This scene stunned her and her companions, who were standing next to her, and their hearts were full of surprise!

“You don’t have to care about her...” Lanaya, who was walking in front, said without turning her head, “This little girl is a little sensitive to outsiders. You should stay further away from her and don’t disturb her rest...”

“UH...” the two of them stood rooted to the ground and forgot to reply. ...

The Templar clan was very strict with their juniors. As a result, all the juniors would subconsciously use the special shadow steps of the clan even when they were walking normally. Under normal circumstances, among the juniors of the same level, even the highly sensitive windwalker would have a hard time noticing the Templar clan’s juniors approaching...

Yet, this little guy noticed that his aura was at least two levels lower than theirs?

Was it a coincidence?

The two looked at each other, their eyes filled with sudden realization...

Chapter 1384: Templar clan

“Oh, our young clan leader has returned in Triumph?”

After walking for almost an hour, Lanaya and the others finally arrived at the center of the island according to the designated route, the location of the clan’s inner hall...

However, as soon as they returned home, a familiar mocking voice rang out... ..

Lanaya raised her head and looked over. Other than the two elders who were left sitting in the center of the hall, most of them were from the same generation to the third generation as her. On the left stood a group of black-clothed disciples who were filled with a dense murderous aura, on the right was a group of shadow-clothed disciples who were wearing the same shadow gauze as her and had a faint aura!

Eggface hid behind Lanaya and carefully poked his head out to look at the people in the hall... ..

Her biological instinct told her that these people were very dangerous. Any one of them would be able to push her to the ground and rub her...

Eggface looked at these people curiously. He remembered that his master Lanaya had talked to her about two sects in the family.

One was shadow stream, which was the main faction that had the deepest impression of the Templar clan in the outside world. This type of secret technique could skillfully use shadow power, and not only could it use shadows to move around like other assassins., it could also use shadow power to distort and fold physical space, which was also the legendary signature skill of the Templar clan: refraction!

An assassin who could distort elements, matter, and even space, just thinking about it made one's scalp go numb. Therefore, many times, the mages in the universe were very wary of the assassins of the Templar clan.

The other one was the night shade faction. As a Shadow Elf who also had a unique talent for shadow power, the techniques of the other faction were a little simple and crude. They liked to compress shadow power into their own bodies, after all, shadow power was one of the best compressed energies of all energies. It carried a huge amount of energy and formed explosive power at critical moments. This was the characteristic of this faction, it also led to the Templar family having the reputation of being the most skillful and the most powerful explosive assassin!

However, these were actually two schools of thought...

After careful observation, Goudan discovered that the members of the Night Shade sect were all women. On the other hand, most of the shadow stream members were men... ..

He was suddenly a little curious because his master had said that she was the representative of this generation of the shadow stream branch of the Templar family... ..

But it didn't seem like it at all. That group of people wearing shadow veils seemed to be led by a man, and the one who had mocked Lanaya earlier was a woman who stood at the head of ye Youliu.

Wang Goudan wasn't surprised by the latter. According to the plot of a melodramatic novel, a family had two schools of thought, so it was inevitable that they would be at loggerheads with each other. So it wasn't strange for the other school of thought to mock master, but... Their master's School of thought also seemed to be... .. not like they were on her side. ...

Little Goudan looked carefully and was very sure of his feelings. The people of the Shadow School of thought, seeing their master being ridiculed and looking on coldly from the side, felt that the atmosphere was not quite right...

"I'm back, Elder..."Lanaya bowed slightly to the two elders sitting in the hall and patted Goudan who was still in a daze.

Doggie came back to his senses and hurriedly bowed as well. Among all the ELF players in the Mars Base, Doggie was the least talented in etiquette. She, who was already a little chubby, clumsily bowed. She looked silly... ..

“So this is the direct descendant that you want to apply to join our clan?”

Sitting on the left, the elder wearing a shadow veil frowned. Looking at the Silly Doggie, his face became darker and darker...

Lanaya: “Yes...”

“You have good taste...”the elder wearing the black robe on the left said with a smile, and his tone was more teasing. ...

Dog Egg immediately grinned and said, “Thank you for your praise, Sister. Dog Egg won’t let you down...”

As soon as dog egg said this, the atmosphere in the hall froze...

Sister? Who Is this girl calling?

Even Lanaya’s face couldn’t help but twitch...

Goudan seemed to have no vitality at all. He raised his head and gave an ingratiating smile to the elder...

...

The black-robed elder was stunned on the spot. His stiff expression slightly twitched, and for a moment, he actually didn’t know what to say... ..

Sister?

He really dared to call her...

And what the Hell Is Goudan? A name?

While the elders of the nether night school were in a daze, Elder Shadow Stream reacted a little faster and looked at Lanaya, he said coldly, “At this critical moment, you actually gave us a surprise. First, you failed the mission, and then you brought such a fool over and even wanted to be a direct disciple. You didn’t even inform US beforehand. What are you trying to do?”

Gou Dan was stunned. The Fool was saying... was it him?

“It’s normal to fail the mission. Who can guarantee that the mission will succeed? “Does everyone present, including you, have a 100% success rate in completing the mission?”Lanaya said indifferently, “As for the matter of the direct disciple, that’s my personal matter, right? “And didn’t I bring it back to greet you guys?”

“It’s normal for the mission to fail, but it’s not right to fail at this time!”Elder shadow stream said gloomily, “Didn’t you know that Lord Sylvanas is negotiating with our family? “Moreover, it’s not a personal matter for you to choose the direct descendant, that’s a big matter for the family!”

“Negotiation? I just heard about it when I came back...”Lanaya said indifferently, “What’s the specific situation?”

Her words cut off Goudan from the topic...

Elder shadow stream said, "Lord Sylvanas wants to negotiate for our Templar family to move into the Northern Star area. It's a chance for our family to turn the tables. At this moment, every bargaining chip is very important. You failed your mission at this critical moment, and the Lord of the contract died outside. Now, the Federation still wants to investigate you. As the young patriarch, do you know how much less confidence we have when we negotiate with your current situation?"

Gou Dan carefully looked at his master when he heard that...

Why did it feel like... ? ... those two elders didn't seem to like his master very much either?

Speaking of which... ... Their peers didn't like him, and their elders didn't like him either... Master, the young clan leader... ... ? ... how did he become the young clan leader? Could it be that his parents were too awesome?

"Elder, you're worrying too much..." Lanaya still replied with an indifferent tone, "With the current situation of our clan, we don't have much confidence when facing that Lord. It's not a bad thing to recognize ourselves before the negotiation..."

"Ha..." the elder laughed out of anger, "Does that mean I have to thank you?"

Lanaya didn't say anything this time and chose to remain silent. However, it was clear that she didn't intend to give in at all... ..

Elder shadow stream looked at the stone-like face of the other party and felt his eyes swell up. He suppressed his anger and said, "There won't be any mistakes in the federal investigation, right? The death of your contracted deity Overlord has nothing to do with you, right?"

"Elder, do you suspect that I will make a move against the employer?" Lanaya said coldly.

"The important thing is not whether or not I will, but whether or not you can clear your name!" The elder said coldly, "Especially at this critical moment, many families are watching us. Joining the Northern Star Field has already been regarded as a traitor by the southern star field, which has caused many traditional forces to be dissatisfied. Now that you have such a matter, if you don't have enough hard evidence to clear your name, you might be made into an iron case!"

"Young clan leader Slayer God's employer, this is a huge blow to the clan's reputation!"

Lanaya raised her eyes to look at the other party and pursed her lips. In the entire hall, her brothers and sisters of the same generation all looked at her coldly. Some of them even gloated over her misfortune, as if they could not wait for her to reach that step... ..

This cold clan really did not know why that Lord was so determined to devote his entire life here... ..

"If Elder is worried about this, there's no need for that. Those who survived together with me are all willing to testify for me. Some of their identities are extremely important within the power. They are loyal subjects who have signed the god of Heaven contract with their previous employer for many years. As a form of authentication, their weight is sufficient... .."

"That doesn't mean that you will definitely be able to wash away your sins... .."

“If elder really wants to see me be convicted so badly, why don’t I just follow your wishes and confess my sins?”

Peng! !

Elder shadow stream slammed the table fiercely. “What kind of bastard words are you saying?”

Elder Ye You Liu’s expression was also gloomy. Just as he was about to reprimand him, a black shadow quickly approached!

Everyone present was an expert. Not to mention the two fate level elders, just talking about the third generation disciples who were of the same generation as Lanaya, there were no weaklings below the dragon level. When they sensed someone approaching, they quickly silenced their voices.

“Elder!”The newcomer was travel-worn. His clothes had obvious signs of damage from friction with the elements. It was obvious that he was in a hurry. He did not even bother to extinguish the flames that had formed from the friction on his body, he immediately cupped his hands and said, “That Lord has arrived...”

Everyone was immediately stunned and immediately revealed serious expressions.

That Lord... “...”. They were naturally referring to the fourth Lord who was going to come for the meeting today: Lord Sylvanas!

“Phew...”the two elders took a deep breath at the same time and looked at each other before they immediately nodded and stood up. “Get Ready. Follow me outside to welcome the distinguished guests...”

At this point, she frowned and glanced at Lanaya. After hesitating for two seconds, she finally said, “Go and freshen up. Come over quickly...”

“Yes...”Lanaya replied expressionlessly... ..

Chapter 1385: Lanaya!

“Master... What are you soaking in the water? It’s so warm and comfortable...”

In a simple and elegant room, in a huge bath, dogball smelled the fragrance of the water. Soaking in it, she felt indescribably comfortable... ..

The water in the Bath had a very comfortable energy that slowly nourished her whole body, instantly making every pore of her body feel extremely comfortable... ..

After using the Iron Brush to directly knock Goudan’s head to make her quiet down., he said indifferently, “The family’s exclusive medicinal pool will calculate the most suitable medicinal bath for you according to your age, physical parameters, body parameters, and other data...”

“Eh?” Wang Goudan was stunned. “I just came here, and you already have the exclusive bath formula?”

“I don’t have it...” Lanaya glanced at Goudan and said expressionlessly, “You used the formula when I was young. I will find a specialist to make your exclusive formula later. Just make do with it for now...”

“Don’t make do with it...” Goudan immediately smiled and said, “Actually, this is pretty good. It is indeed a big place, and there is such a thing as a medicinal bath. I thought this thing was only available in novels. Is it expensive?”

Lanaya: “It’s not cheap...”

“Then it seems that the family still has some benefits...” Wang Goudan said with a smile, “Although it seems that so many people are quite fierce to master, there are still many benefits...”

Lanaya was slightly silent...

The family’s main resources to their children were tonic and medicinal baths. Nowadays, most of the businesses outside the Templar family had been cut off, the children of the family could continue to enjoy these resources because the children of the central region went out to work as mercenaries to earn money.

In this generation of the Templar family’s children, she was the most famous and accepted the most missions. Every year, she contributed hundreds of millions of federation coins to the family. When the money exploded, she even received tens of billions of dollars.

However, this did not earn the approval of those people in the family. All these years, she, the young patriarch, still existed in name but in reality... ..

Seeing that Lanaya did not speak, Gou Dan carefully turned his head back. After hesitating for a few seconds, he could not help but ask, “Master... actually... are you not doing well in this family?”

Lanaya: “...”

“That... ahem... I was just saying...” Gou dan clearly saw that Lanaya’s face had become a little gloomy. He subconsciously moved his body away and retreated to the side... ..

Lanaya looked up at her and waved, “Come here...”

“WUUUU...” Goudan shook his head desperately.

“I won’t hit you...”

“Really?” Goudan carefully looked at the other party... ..

Unlike Li Goudan’s master, Vienne, this master of his didn’t seem to have a good temper. Sometimes, he would really hit someone if they didn’t agree with each other. Along the way, he had suffered quite a few beatings because of his demanding behavior... ..

“Fake...”

Goudan was shocked and didn’t hesitate at all. He quickly tried to escape with his bare buttocks, but in the end, he was instantly grabbed back into the pool... ..

Instantly, Goudan's shrill scream came from the room...

At this time, in another hall, a group of obviously older shadow elves gathered together, seemingly discussing something... ..

"That fellow is getting more and more outrageous. I don't even know where she found a bastard and she wants to stuff it into the direct bloodline inheritance. Does she even know the rules?"

The one who spoke was a shadow female elf who looked old. Her aura was powerful, and she was obviously a dragon-level powerhouse. However, her powerful aura carried an obviously exhausted aura, as if she was a huge withered tree... ..

The dozens of elders gathered around her were the same as her, and their aura was obviously decaying... ..

A dragon-level lifeblood was already the peak of a living creature. It had a long lifespan, and could be measured in units of eras. However, if one could not cultivate a star core, they would not be able to circulate it and would eventually age.

This group of people was the older generation of the Templar family. The oldest could even be traced back to the previous two generations of family heads, and they were considered true elders. However, although they had the experience, they did not have the strength. If one did not enter the star core, they would not be able to enter the ranks of elders within the family... ..

"That child is a bastard. How do you expect an uneducated person to follow the rules?" Another old voice laughed coldly.

"The previous generation of the family head really set an extremely bad precedent!"

When the previous generation of the family head was mentioned, the entire hall instantly fell into silence. No one responded... ..

The previous family head of the Templar family was listed as the strongest family head in history. It could be said that he was the strongest assassin of the Templar family in history. If it wasn't for that accident., the family's reputation had probably surpassed the other two assassin families to become the strongest assassin family in the Southern Star Field, right?

However, there were many things that didn't have 'ifs'. When an accident happened, it happened. Along with the death of the family head, there was also the powerful council of Elders!

The loss was so great because the family head made a choice and participated in the Void Seal... ..

But no one could say that this decision was wrong. They couldn't say it to the outside world. Sealing the Void was the responsibility of all the people in the universe, especially the wealthy families. They couldn't say it to the inside world either. Even if the family head's decision caused the Holy Cathedral family to almost lose their lives., but that person's reputation was still irreplaceable. Even now, using the name of the previous family head, they could still get the help of many powerful people. The connections that the family head had built up were still useful to this day!

This also resulted in the current generation of young people still idolizing that family head to the extreme. Words that slandered the family head could not be said carelessly... ..

"I have something to say!" That old man seemed to also know that he had said the wrong thing, he hurriedly tried to salvage the situation, "The previous family head's way of doing things was indeed against the rules. Although the way he broke the internal selection of disciples seemed to be beneficial for the time being, in the long run, it was indeed a huge disaster!"

Everyone looked at each other in silence, but no one refuted him. The main reason was that this question was of vital interest to everyone present... ..

When the previous family head chose the successor, he broke the rules. He did not choose a successor from within. Instead, he brought back a native from outside... ..

A native who was very compatible with the Shadow ELF gene!

That's right, it was the designated Young Patriarch Lanaya!

— — — —

"Lanaya?" At this time, in a huge spaceship heading to the planet of cyberstar, Sylvanas took the information from her subordinate and raised her eyebrows slightly. She smiled and said, "The young patriarch of the Templar family is actually a native?"

"Yes..." the one who provided the information was the Fourth Lich under Queen XI: Malzaha!

This was a traditional lich dressed like an ancient shaman of the witch clan, with a voice as heavy as a millstone, he replied respectfully, "At that time, this matter caused a great controversy in the Templar clan. More than half of the elders had joined hands to oppose it..."

"But he still pushed this native to the position of the young clan leader. This result was not even overturned after his death..." Sylvanas smiled and said, "It seems that the previous clan leader of the Templar clan was not as strong as usual..."

"Being strong is one thing, but the younger generation called Lanaya is also one thing..." "...". Malzaha said in a low voice, "The successor of the young patriarch can not be directly appointed in the Templar family. He can only be nominated. Anyone in the family who enters the hall of elders can be nominated. When the previous patriarch was alive, the Templar family's Elder Council had thirty people!"

Queen XI slightly rubbed her fingers. Thirty people...

It was impossible for such a large family not to be at the star level to enter the elder ranks, but a southern star field family could have more than thirty star level experts!

Such a family was basically non-existent in the northern star field...

The background, the Northern Star Field was still too young...

"The elders have a designated quota, so they usually designate the disciples of their own family, right?" Queen XI tilted her head and asked.

“Yes...”. “...”. Marzaha lowered his head and said, “Generally speaking, the elders are the outstanding direct descendants of their own line. If their own line doesn’t accept, they will deal with other elders and appoint the outstanding direct descendants of other elders. In the future, as a return for favors, they can also recommend their own disciples.”

“Under such a cross-circle, the resources of the Templar family have long been monopolized by the fixed few branches. The behavior of the previous patriarch is equivalent to breaking the rules...”

“Interesting...” Queen XI smiled and said, “If that’s the case, then the family head only has the right to nominate. That Lanaya should be targeted, right?”

“Yes...”. “...”. The assassin clan decided the family head based on his skills. The way to determine the outcome was also very simple. However, the difference was that in the original competition, due to the familiar connections, even if it was shadow stream and Ye You, the two different factions, most of them would go as far as not to the point of killing anyone. However, when it came to targeting that little aborigine, it was a deadly move!”

“What happened in the end?” Queen XI asked with a smile.

“All of them died!” Marzaha narrowed his eyes. “That little guy is also a ruthless person. In the assassination bureau, none of the forty direct descendant candidates survived under her hands!”

“Tsk...” Queen XI narrowed her eyes as well. “This is interesting...”

Even though the elders recommended the candidates to be nepotism, the candidates they selected were definitely the most outstanding children of their direct descendants. They were all killed by a native in one go, and they still had to serve the other party as the young patriarch...

TSK TSK, the internal relations of this clan are really interesting... ..

Chapter 1386: You Want to fight?

“Master... can you not hit my head next time, aren’t you afraid of breaking me...” in the courtyard, Gou Dan hugged his head as he followed behind Lanaya and complained. ...

Lanaya didn’t even turn her head, replying indifferently, “The Dragon Race’s skull is one of the strongest in the universe... it’s not that easy to break...”

“Oh... so the dragon race is a tough race...” Goudan suddenly understood.

Lanaya:” ...”

“When you get inside later, don’t talk nonsense... HMM, why don’t you just stop talking!”

Wang Goudan: “Oh... is master afraid that I’ll offend that Guest?”

Lanaya’s stiff face twitched slightly, she took a breath and nodded, “Yes!”

“Oh... it seems that the person who came is very impressive. Master dared to insult his own elder, but he didn’t dare to let me offend that guest...”

Lanaya: "..."

Wang Goudan: "Master, is that guest very powerful?"

"Very powerful..." Lanaya tried her best to be patient. "One of the most powerful people in the world..."

"Oh... one of them..." Wang Goudan nodded. "It seems that he's not the most powerful..."

Lanaya's face turned even darker. She regretted bringing Goudan here. However, there was nothing she could do. Goudan's blood identification ceremony had not started yet, so he could not be considered a member of the Templar clan. If she was allowed to leave her sight... Perhaps some people would make a move... ..

She was the young clan leader, and the designated disciple was very important. Not only would she receive a lot of training resources, but she would also be qualified to participate in the clan leader's election in the future... ..

The previous clan leader, who was also her former master, had done this before. The others in the clan probably did not want the same thing to happen again... ..

Therefore, even if this wretched girl might offend that Lord, she could only brace herself to bring this girl along... ..

"I'm warning you..." Lanaya decided to threaten him properly, "If you offend that Lord later, I'll definitely skin you alive!"

"Ah?" Goudan instantly revealed a shocked expression and hurriedly nodded obediently like a puppy, "Alright Master, I'll definitely be very obedient..."

Lanaya did not relax when she saw his obedient reply. On the contrary, her eyelids were twitching wildly. This was because when she had beaten him up on the road, she had the same expression and said that she would not do it again...

But every time it happened again, she still dared to...

Hopefully, master's heroic spirit would protect his disciple and grand-disciple today... ..

With this strong sense of unease, Lanaya finally braced herself and walked into the reception hall!

The reception hall of the Templar clan was very luxurious. Even after watching for more than an era, Lanaya's eyes would still be dazzled by that luxurious aura every time she returned.

However, this time, she was not in the mood to pay attention to these things. She could not afford to be distracted at all, because the moment she stepped into the hall, an incomparably huge aura locked onto her!

In an instant, Lanaya felt that every cell in her body had stopped functioning, and her biological instincts had become stiff... ..

This feeling was very strange. That Aura did not have any emotions, it only locked onto you. However, this kind of aura did not have any emotions, but it made every cell in her body bear an extremely huge pressure... ..

For the first time... Lanaya felt that even breathing was an extremely difficult thing, because every cell in her body no longer listened to the call of the body's functions. As if they had the ability to think independently, they all sank into a standstill because of this pressure... ..

In the hall, the two elders frowned as they looked at the distinguished guest. They did not understand why the other party would do such a thing. In their eyes, it was very rude... ..

Even the juniors behind the elders looked at the distinguished guest unkindly when they saw this scene... ..

Indeed, none of them liked Lanaya at home. After all, all the younger generation present had lost their brothers and sisters at Lanaya's hands. Although it was a fair competition back then, it was also their brothers and sisters who had killed her first, however, they could not lose their emotions just because they could not control their emotions.

However... that was against the internal situation!

The Templar family had always been very united when it came to the external situation. It was impossible for them to treat their young patriarch like this! Even if the person who was causing trouble was the most honorable person in the universe, it was still impossible!

In an instant, all the auras rushed towards that honorable existence with unkind intentions!

Sylvanas smiled slightly. Just as the intelligence had said, the Templar family had indeed declined greatly. There was not a single fate-level powerhouse in the entire aura. The two elders were star-level powerhouses, but their star core had already reached the stage of aging. It was only an era away from becoming a star-level powerhouse...

The younger generation could be considered outstanding, but Lanaya was the only star-level powerhouse!

Once one of the three great assassin clans in the Southern Star Field, they had fallen to only three star-level powerhouses to support the situation. This could not be considered declining, and should be considered to be on the verge of collapse...

But even so, the pride of this clan was still there. Even when faced with her, they... .. Still dared to protect their own!

They were worthy of being roped in!

Sylvanas immediately marked this in her heart. She nodded slightly, and just as she was about to withdraw her suppression on Lanaya, a very strange voice interrupted her train of thought... ..

“Wu...”

That voice... .. was a bit like the sound of a creature baring its teeth. ...

This made Sylvanas stunned. She followed the voice and looked over, but when she saw it clearly, she was stunned again... ..

That was an extremely small guy. It should be a dragon whelp, right? There was actually a dragon clan in the Templar clan. Speaking of which... ? Was this a black dragon? There was still a black dragon with such a pure bloodline in the Dragon Clan?

The people from the Templar clan were also stunned. They looked at Wang Goudan beside Lanaya with their eyes wide open!

Dragon Clan?

Black Dragon?

This time, everyone could see clearly that this little guy was definitely a black dragon with an extremely pure bloodline. Although he had yet to touch his bones, from the pure flame of the Earth, it could be seen that he was at least a royal!

Hiss...

Everyone immediately sucked in a breath of cold air and couldn't help but think to themselves, has Lanaya gone mad? Where did this guy get it from?

Those who had some common sense knew that the dragon clan placed a lot of importance on babies. This was because under the laws of the universe, it became extremely difficult for the dragon clan to reproduce. This was especially so for such pure-blooded descendants. If anyone dared to touch them..., those fellows from the Dragon Clan would risk their lives!

She actually dared to pull them over to join the Templar clan?

Was she trying to take revenge on them?

"Wu..."

Goudan took a step forward with great difficulty. His footsteps were very heavy, as if a huge mountain was pressing down on him. He walked with great difficulty, and his dragon eyes were bloodshot... ..

But his gaze was fixed on Sylvanas!

Sylvanas was stunned, and a trace of disbelief flashed through her eyes... ..

The Templar family dared to give her an unfriendly aura, but they would never reveal their intention to attack. This was not because they did not dare, but because their biological instincts could not do it. The difference between them was huge. Their body's instinct would prevent them from making any aggressive intentions...

Therefore, being able to show an emotional unfriendliness was already a very rare display of willpower!

However, this little fellow was different. Although it was extremely strenuous, her intentions were extremely obvious!

Sylvanas could clearly feel that this little fellow... .. ! Wanted to make a move! ! !

Chapter 1387: Interrogation

This little baby... is she crazy?

Everyone stared at this scene with their mouths agape...

That scene felt like a puppy that had just reached the full moon and was baring its teeth at a monstrous dragon...

Although in terms of breed, that little thing was the dragon... .. UH, although it was a little small, compared to the one opposite her, saying that she was a puppy at the full moon was already flattering her...

“This little doll... is a little interesting...”

Behind Sylvanas, the Fourth Lich Malzaha narrowed his eyes as he looked at the fierce-looking doggie with a hint of surprise in his eyes...

At this moment, Doggie seemed to have entered an overloaded gravity chamber. Every step he took was extremely difficult. Blood kept oozing out from all the pores on his body, and his bones were also making crackling sounds, blood started seeping out from his nostrils, ears, and eyes!

This was naturally not Queen XI's intention to target her. With her status as the queen, she would definitely not oppress a junior like this. Instead, it was the reaction of the other party's body's instinctive resistance.

The little fellow wanted to make a move, but her body was desperately rejecting it. This was because her instincts were telling her that this was a heaven in front of her. An ant naturally should not have any heaven-defying thoughts, but this ant was different from the rest!

This was no longer a problem of willpower and pride. For the Templar family to dare to issue a hostile warning to the empress was already the limit of a living creature's consciousness. Some things had a dimensional gap, willpower was definitely not enough to make up for it, and there was only one possibility for the other party to do so!

The genes in her bones were not convinced!

Genes were a kind of magical bond that could be passed down. Even when it was still in its infancy, the strength between species had already been divided. Even though it had not reached a certain level yet due to its lack of age and space for growth..., however, the genes in its bones would allow its master to possess the pride of a strong person.

For example, if a newborn dragon encountered a ferocious tiger in a primitive forest, the first thing it would do would not be to run away. Instead, it would bare its fangs at the ferocious tiger that dared to attack it. Even if the other party could turn it into minced meat with a slap, it would still not be afraid. This was because the genetic power in its bones had given it the most primitive memories. This seemingly terrifying ferocious tiger in front of it was actually just a dish...

At this moment, the little fellow's actions were a little like that...

This made Malzaha very curious. Empress XI's current level of life was already at the peak of the universe. No matter how powerful the genes were, they should not have such a reaction towards her...

Kacha!

Goudan took another step. From the beginning to the end, she had already taken about thirty steps. She was almost in front of Empress XI. At this moment, she was almost a bloody person. The dragon scales all over her body were cracked. Her bones were deformed. When she walked in front of the queen, the sound of bones cracking could be heard clearly.

Immediately, half of her foot knelt on the ground. Both of her hands were tightly supporting her body, preventing her from falling down.

Good bone structure!

This time, regardless of whether it was malzaha or the two elders who were close by, they could clearly see the structure of Goudan's body.

The dragon bones on his body were almost perfect. This was definitely the symbol of high-quality genes. Such a pure little black dragon was probably a member of the royal family of the Dragon Clan?

Moreover... The black dragon was a species that the elders who had studied the dragon clan seemed to vaguely remember ... It had been a long time since there had been a baby... ..

Crack!

Another crisp sound of bones cracking rang out. The hands that Goudan had used to support his body suddenly broke. His entire body was about to fall to the ground. At this moment, a pair of hands suddenly appeared in front of her without any warning. They gently lifted her up... ..

Everyone was stunned. They did not know when Empress XI had arrived in front of Dogball and gently lifted her up... ..

"Wu..."

Dogball roared and fiercely bit onto Empress XI's hand!

The entire space instantly froze...

"She really bites people, this little fellow..." Sylvanas smiled and gently stroked Dogball's head. Dogball's fierce eyes gradually faded away, and he finally fell asleep.

Looking at this bloody little guy, a thoughtful look flashed across Empress XI's eyes... ..

"My Lord!"

At this time, Lanaya, who had escaped from the lock of Qi, hurriedly knelt down on one knee and said, "I'm very sorry, the child is not sensible. Please... Please..."

She really wanted to say please don't mind, but wasn't she asking someone else to do it. If the other party was an arrogant person, then the problem would be serious... ..

At this moment, the entire hall was in a tense mood.

"I'm the one who should be apologizing..." Empress Hill gently let go of her hand with a smile, an invisible force slowly lifted Lanaya up, she said gently, "I've long heard that the young patriarch of the Templar clan is a top-notch genius who entered the star level half a century ago, so I couldn't help but feel it out just now. I didn't expect it to be so big. I was too reckless..."

As she said that, she hugged Eggface and bowed, and everyone in the hall was stunned...

The other party used elf etiquette, and as an elf noble, they naturally understood it. The other party's etiquette was not light, and with their status, no one in the hall should be able to withstand it... ..

The other party used it, and it represented a great deal of sincerity!

In an instant, the two elders' gloomy expressions immediately eased. They stood up and smiled, "You're too kind, my lord. It's just a small matter, just don't mind us..."

Sylvanas nodded slightly and handed the dog egg to Lanaya.

Lanaya quickly took it and carefully checked it. Looking at the bloody dog egg, Lanaya's heart suddenly ached. She didn't want her to suffer like this even when she was at her fiercest... ..

This little girl was too impulsive. She really dared to act recklessly!

Empress XI looked at the shallow teeth marks on her hands and then looked at the other party. "I heard that the young patriarch is going to take in a direct descendant. Is it this little girl?"

"Yes..." Lanaya quickly replied respectfully.

"Since the Void Gate incident, the Black Dragon Clan has never given birth to any descendants. And even during the prosperous times, such an outstanding descendant of the Dragon Bone is definitely a member of the royal family. I wonder where the young patriarch got it from?"

As soon as these words were said, the atmosphere of the entire Saint Hall clan became tense once again.

The two elders had already seen that this little fellow's bone structure was not simple. Now that Empress XI had said it, it was definitely not wrong. This little fellow must be a member of the royal family of the Dragon Clan. This evil creature actually dared to kidnap the Dragon Clan's young cub., was she crazy?

Lanaya's expression did not change. She had already made a response to this point before. She raised her head and said indifferently, "It was senior Ysera who asked this junior to give it to me..."

Ysera?

Everyone was stunned and immediately became a little surprised.

After the Dragon clan was massacred by the first Lord, there were not many dragon kings left, and even fewer of them were active. However, as the Jade Dragon King, Ysera was definitely an exception.

A few years ago, many elven families had dealt with him, and he could be considered a rare existence among all the dragon kings who were relatively friendly to the federation...

"So it's Ysera?" Sylvanas smiled. This reason made sense. Although it didn't sound right for the Jadeite Dragon clan to have a black dragon cub, for a Dragon King to do this... It made sense...

“But this little guy looks very special...” empress Xi narrowed her eyes. “She seems to have... a very pure elven bloodline!”

Lanaya:” ...”

Chapter 1388: the third gene!

In the end, she couldn't hide it...

Lanaya's heart sank slightly. At such a close distance, she wasn't surprised at all that the opponent, who stood at the apex of the universe, could see the abnormality in Eggface's body. But the key was how to fool him?

Behind the Queen, Malzaha's eyes lit up. He had been wondering why there was a strange feeling just now. It turned out that there were two genes in this little guy's body, and it seemed that the genes were not weak!

If one looked carefully, they would find that there was a subtle energy healing the wound at Dogball's wound. That energy was extremely gentle. At first, Malzaha could still recognize what it was.

But now, with the Queen's Reminder, he instantly reacted. Wasn't this the unique photosynthetic energy of the wood elves?

It was a special energy that simulated trees and photosynthesis of elements. It was the talent of the ancient wood elves. Because it was too rare, a knowledgeable lich like Malzaha did not recognize it immediately...

“Interesting...” malzaha could not help but take a step forward, he looked at the sleeping dog egg with his bright eyes. Upon closer inspection, he found that under the little girl's dragon bone, there was the pure elemental affinity of the wood elves in the depths of her blood. This was definitely the innate ability of a high-quality wood elf. In the records of the ancient times., it was at least the genetic level of the Wood Elf royal family...

It was the first time that Malzaha, who had lived for countless years, had seen a little guy with two high-quality genes, the black dragon and the Wood Elf, at the same time.

Lanaya was silent for a few seconds. In the face of Sylvanas's seemingly casual question, she did not want to let her go. In the end, she took a deep breath and said, “This child is not of the dragon race, but a native that senior Ysera found...”

“Native?”

Everyone was stunned. Even the elder of the Holy Church who was on Lanaya's side could not help but say, “Don't talk nonsense about Lanaya. How can a native have such pure genes?”

In the universe, many miracles would happen. It was not impossible for a native who was very compatible with the genes of the dragon race to appear. However, the key point was that high-quality black space genes were stored as treasures by the dragon race, they were not sold wholesale like the Green Titan and wood elves that could be seen everywhere.

Even if they had that kind of physique, they should not have the genes of the dragon race. The people of the dragon race would never pass their genes to outsiders... ..

"I don't know about that..." Lanaya said faintly, "It was like this when senior Ysera gave the little girl to me. I don't know the exact reason why senior allowed the genes of the dragon race to be implanted into this child's body..."

Her words were half-true and half-false, but no one could find any flaws in them. This was because all the power of explanation had been pushed to Ysera. Unless Ysera personally exposed it, there would be no flaws in her words... ..

All of a sudden, whether it was the members of the Templar family or malzaha, they all frowned slightly.

Only sylvanas nodded, "Aborigines... no wonder..."

This voice was very soft, so soft that only Lanaya, who was close to him, could hear it. Lanaya tensed up and looked at him in surprise!

This guy... could he know something?

Lanaya knew very well that the secrets of the Emerald Starfield and the seer sub-lord could not be known by outsiders, especially the important figures in front of her. Because in front of them, their huge benefits could not be protected at all!

Sylvanas looked at the stunned Lanaya and smiled, but she did not continue the topic. Instead, she said, "This kid should be in school by now. Have you chosen a direction yet?"

Lanaya felt relieved. "Age?". It seemed that the other party did not see through Ysera's tricks... ..

Before she left, Ysera had tampered with the pupils of Goudan and the others to make their growth rings look more normal. Otherwise, they would be scared out of their wits if they were to touch a level ten lifeform that was more than twenty years old!

However, even though the Dragon King had tampered with the pupils of Goudan, Lanaya was still worried that she would be able to fool him. Therefore, she had told Goudan to keep a low profile and try not to attract his attention.

"I haven't decided yet..." Lanaya quickly replied, "This child has been studying under Ysera. She has a special talent. Ysera asked me to help her, and I have no idea where to send her."

"Then let's go to Tirefarson..." sylvanas smiled and said, "Our Academy just happens to have teaching materials for a rare clan. The Dragon Clan is a good project."

"I'm sorry, sir. She will be a member of our clan in the future. If she wants to study, she has to follow the internal path of the Templar clan..." Lanaya rejected.

"Does that mean that she has a third gene?" Sylvanas looked at Lanaya with a faint smile.

Lanaya:" ..."

"It doesn't matter..." sylvanas smiled and said, "But such a freak, I think it might be safer in our Northern Star area. What do you think?"

After a moment of silence, Lanaya's voice finally sounded in the hall, "Sir, you're right..."

The negotiations went smoothly. The Templar family had intended to rely on Sylvanas' influence. In addition to Empress Xi's generous conditions, the elders didn't hold out for long before they finally compromised... ..

The four generations of direct descendants of the Templar clan would all choose to be sent to the star field high school. The Templar clan would also move their entire clan to the Northern Star Field. Finally, Tirefarson Academy would open its assassin department, the instructor would be the young Patriarch Lanaya and the two inherited elders. The Templar clan was willing to teach part of the clan's secret techniques to the students of Tirefarson Academy!

And as a price, the North Star Field would provide the Templar clan with a high amount of material subsidies every year, as well as a place in the Heavenly God Academy.

After everything was settled, everyone enjoyed themselves. Sylvanas also returned satisfied... ..

At this time, on the returning spaceship, the intelligence officer in charge of logistics looked at the long list of supplies and suddenly became dissatisfied. "Your Majesty, isn't this too different from the conditions we calculated before coming here?"

The conditions on the list of supplies were almost double the ones in their budget. It would be a wonder if the logistics officer didn't complain.

Sylvanas smiled brightly. "Ahem... There was an accident, so we have to pay a little sincerity in order to be safe..."

"A poor assassin family? Is It Worth It?"The logistics officer frowned.

"Maybe it wasn't worth it in the past..."Sylvanas looked at the shallow bite mark on her hand and smiled. "Now... it should be worth it..."

Malzaha also looked at the teeth mark on Empress Xi's hand and said calmly, "Your Excellency told the young patriarch that the little girl might have a third gene, but in fact, the little girl has a third gene in her body, right?"

"You still saw it?"Empress XI smiled.

Malzaha rolled his eyes. "How could I not see your teeth mark when it's so obvious?"

"Teeth marks?"The logistics officer looked at Empress Xi's hand and was stunned... ..

It was impossible for a life-form below life-level like the queen to hurt her. How could that little girl bite and leave a Mark?

This was impossible. When MALZAHA said the third gene, it reminded him of another possibility...

In this universe... No ... It should be said that in another universe, there was a type of creature that could ignore the difference in levels and harm the queen!

That was the Public Enemy of the federation: The Void!

Chapter 1389: coincidence?

“This... how is this possible?”

The logistics officer was a little stunned. As the logistics officer of the fourth faction, he was also an old man who had followed Empress Xi out of the world of death back then. Those who could experience that great battle and reach this position were all top-notch undead.., they had lived for an unknown number of years.

The logistics officer felt that he was also an experienced and knowledgeable existence. After all, he was an old monster who had lived since the Titan era. However, he felt that he had never seen or even heard of such a situation before!

If it was a dual bloodline, even though it was rare and not one in a billion in the universe, it was not unheard of. According to his intelligence, among the demonic forces of the abyss.., there was a mixed-blood child of a blood breed and a fallen angel that perfectly possessed two balanced genes and had been nurtured to a high purity!

This situation had been seen by the logistics officer of the ancient era and even the elf era. He had seen quite a number of such situations. However, when three bloodlines were mixed together, it was completely different.

It seemed like there was only one more gene, but the meaning behind it was completely different. Things like genes were hard to control. Most of the strong genes would be covered with the weak genes under active cultivation, and only two genes were equal in strength, and the physique of having these two genes was very special. It could balance these two genes well, and only then would there be a chance of having two bloodlines.

For example, the little blood devil from the faction of the Abyss. She had the genes of the fallen angel and the Blood Devil. The fallen angel genes were stronger than the blood devil genes, but the blood devil genes had a stronger growth rate. Furthermore, the other party had been cultivating blood magic in the blood devil family, this indirectly increased the strength of the blood devil genes. After that, it was unknown whether it was intentional or not, but the other party had paid great attention to balance when cultivating the fallen angel secret technique and the blood devil secret technique, resulting in the two genes growing peacefully until the end.

There were very few examples of this, but it was not unheard of. However, how could three genes be balanced?

Moreover, these three genes were completely unrelated. One of them was something from the outer universe!

“Is the strength of the Void’s genes high?”The logistics officer asked curiously.

“If it’s not high, would it be able to hurt Sir?”Marzaha said as he flipped through the White Clouds.

“But... This doesn't make sense?”The logistics officer narrowed his eyes. At the same time, he had a pure-blooded black dragon, an ancient wood elf, and a high-purity void. What kind of monster was this?

Moreover, the other party had grown extremely healthy and did not have the slightest sign of deformity. This could be seen from the other party's almost perfect dragon bones. The three types of powers had cleverly gathered together as if they were one.

“Unbelievable...”the logistics officer forgot about the things on the list. With a serious expression, he said, “Could it be some kind of experimental subject?”

“Experimental subject?”Marza laughed coldly. “If our faction says that we are number two in genetic experiments, no one would dare to say that we are number one, right? You are also a biological master. Tell me, how should this kind of experiment be carried out?”

The Logistics Officer:”...”

Indeed, the parameters involved in the three kinds of balance were almost irreparable. How could an experiment be carried out when one did not even have a clue?

“Then could it be...”the logistics officer said in shock, “Is it really a case of extraordinary talent, the only one in the Universe?”

“Extraordinary talent is a fact, the universe only has one case... that might not be true...”Sylvanas suddenly said softly.

“Oh?”The two were stunned, looking at each other, “Sir, have you seen other cases?”

“I've heard of them...”Sylvanas smiled. “You're familiar with that person...”

“Which one?”They were curious.

“Of course it's that monster!”

“Hiss... !”

Marzaha narrowed his eyes curiously, and the logistics officer took a deep breath...

In the entire federation, there was only one person who could be called a monster by his lord, and that was the current third Lord, Cangyue, who was known as the god of War!

“That Lord has three bloodlines?”Marzaha asked curiously. “How come I don't know?”

“I don't know either...”Sylvanas shrugged... ..

The two immediately rolled their eyes. “Then what are you referring to, Lord?”

“It's very similar... today's situation is very similar to the one that the Dragon Emperor once mentioned to me...”Sylvanas narrowed her eyes, and there was a trace of reminiscence in her eyes.

The two of them were stunned. Lord Dragon Emperor was the second Lord of the Federation. He was very mysterious to outsiders, but to the forsaken people of the north, he was a very close existence.

Back then, when the Queen was able to enter the federation and was accepted by the god-level forces, this Lord Dragon Emperor had contributed a lot. Moreover, in the battle to ambush Arthas, this Lord had also contributed a lot.

“What did the Dragon Emperor Say?”The two of them asked in unison.

“That was a long time ago. When that monster killed Black Jue, which was also when the former third Lord was successfully usurped, the Dragon Emperor mentioned a past incident. He said that in the ancient land, he and the first Lord had met that little girl...”. “...”

“There’s such a Thing?”The two of them were stunned. They had never heard of it before...

However, it sounded like it might be true. After all, when the federation was suppressing the ancient lands, the main force was Lord Dragon Emperor and the First Lord. After the suppression was successful... Lord Dragon Emperor was in charge of staying in the ancient lands to pacify the distant and supervise the sleeping ancient creatures. Meanwhile, the first Lord was arranged to stay in the middle star field because he was afraid of stirring up trouble again due to his overly violent methods...

“And then?”The logistics officer couldn’t help but ask.

“At that time, Cang Yue injured the first Lord for some reason when she was still young...”

“Are... Are you kidding?”Even Marzaha didn’t believe what the other party said.

“Wasn’t I also injured today?”Sylvanas raised her hand and said.

“You call that an injury?”Malzaha said rudely.

But then he immediately reacted. Oh, yes, the Lord didn’t say whether it was a major injury or a minor injury. In other words, the first lord let Cangyue injure him for some reason back then... ..

“But it’s also very exaggerated for her to dare to attack...”malzaha muttered...

“Right?”Sylvanas smiled and said, “I was also wondering where that little fellow’s wild nature came from. She could actually ignore her own body’s instincts and do that to such an extent. It’s almost exactly the same as Cang Yue that the dragon emperor mentioned back then...”. “...”

Exactly the same?

The two of them immediately reacted. Yes, it was exactly the same. It was the same wild nature that violated the genetic rules. It also had the void power that could injure a top-tier lord... . .

Cangyue body has the power of the Void is a taboo topic, talking about here when the two closed mouth did not continue, but the heart has been thinking up.

Is it a coincidence that these two scenarios are so imagined?

“Ouch... Shifu... it hurts... be gentle...”

In the room, the dog egg crawled on a jade-colored mat and screamed repeatedly.

Lanaya, who was applying medicine for her, sneered. "So you know pain? Didn't you look quite heroic during the day? You weren't even afraid of death, so why would you be afraid of Pain?"

"How could it be the same?" Goudan said aggrievedly. "At that time, I was completely unconscious. Instinct, Instinct..."

"What instinct?" Lanaya asked with her head tilted.

"The instinct to protect Master!"

"Oh?" Lanaya smiled and said, "So sentimental?"

"That's right!" Goudan immediately said righteously, "In our place, the Lord of Heaven and Earth is the master, and master's position is above that of his parents. If someone bullies Master Goudan, I will definitely risk my life!"

"Hehe..." Lanaya sneered with a look of complete disbelief, but the way she applied the medicine became gentler.

"Master... that person is so powerful. She didn't do anything. I just walked over and almost exploded. How powerful is she? What level is she at?"

"Level?" Lanaya was stunned, then she shook her head and said, "I don't know. No one knows what level the ten lords are at, but they are definitely above life sea sky yuan..."

"Life Sea Sky Yuan?" Eggface asked curiously, "What level is that?"

"The pinnacle of the universe..."

"Then what level is Master?"

"Star Fate Intermediate Yuan..."

"Eh?" Eggface was getting more and more interested, "How are the levels divided, master can tell me about it when you're bored..."

Lanaya's lips curled, "I'm not bored..."

But in the end, she could still resist Eggface's nagging. He was injured and couldn't hit her to shut her up. Thinking about how she would have to explain it to her later, Lanaya finally sighed and slowly explained the advanced system of the universe... ..

Chapter 1390: The Origin of the level system!

This time, Gou Dan listened very seriously. When he was at the base, because he had always treated galaxy as a game, he had not paid much attention to the classification of levels one and two at the beginning. However, he had not expected to hear it from Lanaya. When this so-called digital classification was really the level system in the federation, he was completely stunned...

She had originally thought that the dog Lord had felt that it was troublesome and hadn't refined it, but who would have thought that it would really be so casual?

Seeing the expression on Dog Egg's face, how could Lanaya not know what she was thinking?

She calmly explained, "The federation is vast, and there are hundreds of millions of races. Every race that has a little bit of growth has its own unique strength grading system. However, this set of standards doesn't apply to the entire federation. After all, different races are different."

"For example, in the goblin race, there are green fields, iron souls, giants, and epic-level goblins. However, using that standard in the federation is ridiculous, because in the eyes of most races, a green field-level goblin and a giant-level goblin are actually... .. No different"

"As for powerful races, the span of a single level in their race is probably equivalent to the span of ten or so levels of some low-level creatures. This is the difference in bloodlines. Therefore, the federation has unified the division of power. The reason why the names are so simple is to simplify the naming of all the races' complicated levels. After all, the languages and cultures of the races are different. It is very easy for complicated names to cause ambiguity. Therefore, they might as well name it with a simple number, one to twenty. This way, it is basically understandable. After all, no matter which race it is, it is always easy to understand simple numbers... "...". "..."

"So that's how it is..." Goudan suddenly understood, then he said, "If master says one to twenty, does that mean the highest level is twenty? And since it's named with numbers, why is master's level called Star? What is the star level? Nineteen or eighteen?"

"The star level is beyond the basic level!"

"Basic level?" Goudan was stunned.

Lanaya said, "The basic level of the federation is based on the strength of a certain creature. Twenty levels are divided into twenty stages from the juvenile stage to the adult stage of this creature. Regardless of whether you are a goblin or a Golden Titan, once you reach this strength level, you will be granted a level. Otherwise, the federation will not recognize your own clan. There is a limit to this basic level. Because when you reach the highest level twenty, which is the adult stage of that creature, there will be no reference. Therefore, there is a new title and a new reference..." "..."

Goudan was stunned for a moment, then said, "Reference organism? What organism does level 20 refer to?"

"Dragon!" Lanaya narrowed her eyes and said, "The first archaic organism to establish a civilization in the universe!"

"Oh?" Goudan's eyes lit up, having an inexplicable feeling... ..

Lanaya rolled her eyes at her, knowing that she was making a ruckus, she explained calmly, "The reason for choosing a dragon is very simple. The growth of the Dragon Race is the smoothest among all races, and it's also the easiest to keep score. There are obvious differences in their strength during each period, and the transition between them is very smooth. The attributes of the dragon race are also the most comprehensive. With it as a reference, all creatures with different strengths are easily divided. The addition and subtraction points of each other are based on the dragon race as the basic reference factor. The strength of the level is based on the dragon race as the standard, and the entire universe is convinced. Therefore, after many scholars' research, the federation's strength level system is finally divided into the growth zone between the Dragon Whelps and the adult dragons. Facts have proved that this set is indeed very useful...”.

“Then why did it stop at level 20?” Asked Dog-egg, tilting his head.

Lanaya straightened dog egg’s head and said, “Because the strength of a level 20 creature has already reached the standard of an adult dragon, so after level 20, you will advance to the dragon level. This is a watershed. Within the Dragon Clan, there is an adult ceremony to test whether your strength has reached the standard of an adult dragon. Only by passing the test can you have your own title. It is the same in the federation. When you are strong to a certain extent, you will be infinitely close to the standard of an adult dragon. There will also be a similar test, which will be evaluated by various authorities. Those who pass the test will be awarded the Dragon Rank title. With this title, your strength will be able to stand shoulder to shoulder with an adult immemorial dragon!”

“Those who have reached this level in the federation have already stepped into the ranks of the publicly recognized nobles. The family that was established will also be recognized as a noble family of the dragon rank. Many outstanding administrative stars will take the initiative to invite you to move in and give you all kinds of political subsidies. They hope that you can stay on that planet for a long time. Because at that level, your gene development is already very pure. Even if you die, the genes that you pass down will allow your descendants to have a high chance of crossing the threshold of the dragon rank. Therefore, once you reach the Dragon Rank, you will represent the birth of a noble family. The prosperity of a family can bring a lot of tax revenue to that planet. The popularity of the planet is also based on the number of wealthy families that are attracted to it...” . “...”

“What the F * ck!” Eggface shook his head and asked, “Then why is master’s level called Star Level?”

Lanaya said, “After dragon level, the federation has no reference material, so the level will enter a short period of stagnation. During this period of time, there has been no level gap between the power levels. This leads to the gap between dragon level and before dragon level is sometimes very big, even bigger than Level 1 to level 20. The federation has also set some standards, but they are not very suitable. In the end, they simply let it be, directly using whether or not to refine the star core as the next level standard...” . “...” . “...”

“Star Core?” Goudan’s eyes lit up. It seemed like this was not the first time she had heard this term in the Emerald Starfield. She quickly asked, “What is that thing?”

Lanaya said, “In the sense of the word, it refers to the core of a planet. In Biology and Energy Science, the star core is the most perfect existence. Its continuous cycle of perfection has resulted in this thing being able to operate almost permanently, which is the so-called eternity!”

“So, a long time ago, some spirit-type powerhouses tried to plunder the core of a planet, turning their own spirit crystal core into a core of a planet. And in the end, someone really succeeded!”

“So, the first batch of eternal beings in the universe were born. Behind that batch of spirit bodies, a very short and brilliant civilization was created!”

“What civilization?” Eggface asked quickly.

“The developer Civilization!”

“Eh?” Eggface was stunned. “Developer civilization? Are You referring to that race in our base?”

Lanaya: “Yes...”

“That awesome?”

Lanaya smiled and knocked Eggface on the head. “It was because it was too awesome, and that race’s pure-blooded growth was too fast, causing the developer to almost always grow to an eternal level. The cosmic core was constantly being devoured and refined, and thus, the second civilization was born...”.

“...”

“The second civilization?”

Lanaya: “Titan Civilization!”
