Chapter 151: Seer's new discovery

On the second day after capturing the grand swordmaster...

"What an incredible technique..." seer looked at the battle video between the Grand Swordmaster and the players in the base, his eyes shining with surprise.

Ai: has the Lord discovered anything?

Ai was a little confused, because in the video, it was a one-sided beating. When he was beating up the other beasts, he didn't see his own lord being so interested, after all, the universe federation's mature high-level genes and system trained warriors. Defeating a native of the same life level was a very common thing, right?

Xi Ye didn't pay any attention to Ai. Instead, she was very interested in replaying the details of the battle in the video, her eyes flashing with excitement.

In the sky god Academy's basic classes, there was one that taught them to understand the potential of the local training techniques.

The federation's training techniques were indeed very mature. After all, they had been refined over countless eras. However, as heavenly gods, they all knew that the publicly announced training techniques within the federation were actually obsolete products!

The newest training techniques were all in the hands of the great lords. In order to gain an advantage over the numerous interstellar lords, it was necessary to have a unique military branch and a unique combat training method that belonged to one's own faction.

The unique breathing of the sword saints and the others in the video showed great value to xiye. The effects of extracting their memories and actual combat.., it made Xiye feel the great potential of this fire tribe clan's training method for sword saints.

A training method for warriors could actually raise one's spiritual power to such a high level. Perhaps these sword saints themselves did not know that their spiritual power was already at the strength of a level-three life form?

Due to the high level of spiritual power and the tenacious willpower of these sword saints, the extracted memories are still somewhat fuzzy, and many details can not be read at once, seer thought about it and decided to ask the so-called elder Kensei to clarify.

So ordered: "You tell the players to stop the study of the sword Saint Elder, wake him up and bring him to me!"

Intelligent: "Good Lord!"

What the hell... is this place?

Inside the base... . Grimm, who had been suspended from delivering anesthetics, woke up again and looked at the sophisticated instruments around him. His eyes were filled with curiosity. As a warrior who had been cultivating in the mountains all year round, he had been relatively indifferent to external things, even into the molendo face that stand for hundreds of years of Xiong Guan, at that time only slightly sigh.

However, what he saw at this moment was a little shocking to his worldview!

The house made of metal, his broken but restored arm, and the one in front of him...

Grim stared blankly at the body that looked exactly like him in a large glass jar filled with potions in front of him.

He could not understand why there was an identical version of himself in there?

He was stunned for a long time before he came back to his senses. Anger flashed across his face. Just as he was about to break the glass jar to save himself from the jar, a cold voice suddenly came from behind him, "I advise you not to do this..."

Grim was stunned. He turned his head abruptly and saw a human wearing a white coat and glasses!

Human? Why was it a human?

Weren't they captured by Orcs?

Grimm's eyes were full of doubt. He strode forward and was about to subdue the other party and ask him about it. However, just as his palm was about to touch the seemingly weak human, Grimm's body froze, his movements suddenly stopped!

He could feel that the moment he wanted to touch the human in front of him, a pure killing intent came from the surrounding space!

That killing intent did not come from a certain person, but it seemed to come from... .. This world...

Grimm's face was filled with disbelief after having this feeling...

As a sword saint, the difference between them and other beast warriors was that they could grasp the breathing method that could comprehend the world!

The Sun, the Moon, the flames, the earth, the Lightning, the flowing water, using one's body and mind to comprehend the world, grasping a force that belonged to oneself, and finally honing a unique sword skill, only then could one become a qualified sword saint.

Therefore, sword saints were actually very sensitive to the elements of the heaven and earth, but he had never encountered such a malicious target from the heaven and earth!

Just like the thunderstorms and frost and snow, although it caused countless deaths and injuries to the Grassland Beast Race, the heaven and earth were not deliberately targeted. They were just operating according to their own laws of nature. In the eyes of the heaven and earth, all creatures were ants, they would never bestow rain, Dew, and sunshine on anyone, nor would they target anyone with Frost and lightning!

Why... .. here ... Would the heaven and earth target a certain person?

Could it be that this person in front of him was a god blessed by the Heaven and earth?

“Oh?”The developer player also looked at him curiously and smiled. “It seems that you can really feel it... what an interesting technique!”

These words made Grimm even more shocked... .. The other party spoke pure tribal beast language, and from the meaning of his words, he knew that he knew what he felt just now...

In other words... .. what he felt just now ... Was actually man-made?

Grimm was silent for a while before he couldn't help but ask, “What... Is This?”

“A law!”The player smiled and said, “The Lord has laid down a Law!”

“Law...”Grimm was stunned. “What Law?”

The player patiently explained, “As you can see, we developers are different from the strong Green Titans you see outside. We are very weak. Now, there are more and more outsiders. In order to prevent us from receiving unnecessary damage, the Lord has laid down this law. Anyone who wants to hurt us will be killed.”

Grimm:” ...”

“How do I put this...”seeing that Grimm was still confused, the player scratched his head and muttered, “Just like in your world, water can flow, fire can shine, and trees can grow. This is the rule!”

“This... This thing... can it be controlled by humans?”Grimm said in disbelief.

“Why not?”The player laughed. “Don't you shamans also believe in gods? “They think that the rules of the world operate according to the will of God. If God says that there is light, there will be light. If you believe in God, why do you think that it is impossible now that God has changed his way of speaking?”

Grimm sneered. “Are you saying that there is a god behind you?”

“Yes or no... you can decide for yourself!”The player adjusted his glasses and turned around. “Let's go. Our Lord wants to see you!”

Grimm trembled when he heard that. After hesitating for a while, he finally chose to obediently follow behind the other party.

As a sword saint of the Fire clan, he should have bitten his tongue and killed himself the moment he was captured. After all, the orcs of the Fire clan would never be slaves!

However, there were too many unknown things around him that fascinated him. He did not have the heart to bite off the root of his tongue. Instead, he chose to follow the other party obediently.

He wanted to see the leader of such a powerful force, the guy who could control the laws of heaven and earth, the Lord..! What kind of guy was he!

Chapter 152: The gradually crafty Lord

This is... the leader of so many powerful orcs?

Grim looked at the guy in front of him with slight curiosity. He was quite tall, but his attire was very strange. He was clearly wearing casual clothes, yet he was wearing a heavy helmet... .. If he was wearing armor and a helmet, perhaps he would be a strict and serious character, but this appearance.. .. It seemed a little out of place...

"AH... Are you here?" Xi Ye looked up at the developer player at the door and said gently, "You go ahead and do your work. I have something to ask him, and I will summarize the results into your experimental data through intelligence."

"Yes, Lord..." the eye developer bowed respectfully and left the room.

Seer nodded slightly. Among the current developers, this player was one of the few who were willing to learn biological engineering and walk the path of necromancers. He was not as outgoing as rainy girl and melon-less. He was usually very serious, he was very passionate about experimental research and was a typical Frankenstein.

He also respected himself very much. At least, he respected himself more than rainy girl and melon-less. From the moment he signed the confidentiality agreement until now, he had not mentioned the salary. Seer was very satisfied with this.

When seer came back to his senses and looked at the confused and nervous orc, a smile appeared on his handsome face under the helmet. Right... This was the attitude that a low-level creature should have when facing a god from a top-tier civilization like him... ..

Although it was very cost-effective to trick those players into becoming free labor, the drawback was that these players seemed to have less respect for him as an NPC. It made seer feel a little regretful that he did not have the dignity of a superior...

"Sit down..." seer nodded slightly.

Grimm was an orc after all. Although he was a little nervous, he was still full of pride. Since the other party had said so, he did not hesitate and sat down on the chair across from him.

"How are you going to deal with us, Sir?" Grimm asked straightforwardly as soon as he sat down.

"Under normal circumstances..." Seer knocked on the table habitually and said, "I will reward the captives directly after reading their memories and collecting their genetic samples..." "Ahem, subjects, let him assign you what to do next."

As expected..? Was it still the fate of a slave. Grimm smiled bitterly.

"But you're slightly different. I've observed you for a while, and you seem to have a higher value."

“You flatter me...”Grimm looked at the other party faintly. “Compared to your extraordinary people, we’re worthless...”

“If you insist on competing like this... that’s true...”Seer said very frankly.

Grimm:” ...”

He looked at seer gloomily, thinking whether he should make a move or not. Even if he failed, it would be more glorious to die at the hands of a powerhouse than to be a slave...

Seer: “I advise you to give up on your current thoughts. I believe that you have also felt it. As long as you dare to make a move, you will die instantly. You won’t even be able to touch me.”

What a joke. Not to mention a inferior species that was a few levels lower than him, even a top-tier battle bloodline of the same level of life would not be able to touch a god in the realm of a god. Unless they were both gods and used laws to break laws., otherwise, no other creature would be able to do it. Otherwise, why else would a god be able to rule the universe for so many years?

Grim was silent. He sensed the inexplicable killing intent around him, but in the end, he resisted the impulse.

“Next, I will ask you a few questions. I will judge your value based on your answers, so please answer carefully, because your answers will determine the fate of your fire tribe Clan!”

Hearing this, Grimm’s eyelids twitched. The other party’s tone was very arrogant, as if his entire tribe was under his control. If it were any other person, he would have vomited all over the other party’s face. However, after witnessing the power around him, he fell silent. Although he did not admit it verbally, he already knew in his heart that the other party was not exaggerating...

“First question...”seer snapped his fingers, and immediately, a three-dimensional image appeared on the table between the two of them. Grimm was stunned, because in the image was the process of their battle last night.

This is... ? Magic? It can restore everything from yesterday? What kind of magic is this?

“Here...”suddenly., just as Grimm was shocked, the image stopped, seer pointed at the broken arm of the elder in the image and said, “At that time, your arm was cut off, and almost a second later, you successfully stopped the bleeding. How did you do it?”

Grim:”...”

Seeing that the other party was silent and seer was not in a hurry., instead, he continued, “According to our later dissecting research, your cell’s recovery ability is average. This is a normal situation for most non-mollusc organisms. However, upon closer inspection, we discovered that your blood vessels had been forced to tighten. I’m very curious. The organs in an organism, especially the blood vessels, can not be controlled by a normal person’s consciousness, right? “But it seems like you have a way to do it. Is it the so-called breathing technique in your memories?”

Grimm’s pupils constricted as he said in a deep voice, “Since you can read our memories, why are you still asking me?”

“Your mental fortitude has been trained very well...”. “...”seer said bluntly, “This caused the memories we read to be very scattered and unable to piece together the information I want to know. This is also the reason why you can sit here and talk to me. Previously, whether it was your fellow beasts or the humans of the steel war empire, they were unable to do so. Your strength has won you more opportunities.”

“Our... strength...”Grimm muttered with a bitter smile. “You’re really good at sarcasm. You Can’t even defeat one of your underlings. Is it really alright to use the word ‘strength’on us?”

Perhaps it was because of Seer’s words of ‘strength’, but the way Grimm addressed him had unknowingly changed to ‘You’...

“That’s because your conditions are too poor...”. Seer waved his hand. “The threshold is not equal. Naturally, this is the result of a battle. In terms of combat techniques, experience, and the spirit of a warrior, my people are still lacking compared to you. The only reason you lost is because the difference in genes is too big!”

“Genes?”Grimm was stunned.

“In your words, it’s Bloodline!”

“Bloodline...”Grimm was stunned. He did not know whether to be happy or sad. He was happy that the other party had affirmed the combat techniques of his fire tribe clan that had been passed down for thousands of years. However, he was sad that the other party had said it clearly: your bloodline is trash...

“Our Fire Tribe clan’s training method is a precious treasure that has been accumulated by our ancestors for thousands of years. It’s impossible for it to be leaked to other tribes. Even when we were almost exterminated by the Blackwater tribe back then, not a single sword Saint had leaked the inheritance of our ancestors!”

Grim’s tone was resolute and decisive. Although he was happy that his tribe’s training method had been affirmed by such a powerful figure, he would never compromise on the issue of principles!

“That’s because the people who once coerced you were only coerced, using your survival as a threat. This lord is willing to pay more sincerity.”

“Give Up!”Grimm continued, “It’s not like there weren’t people who tempted us before. Using land, cattle, and resources. Even in the most difficult days, we never compromised. Even if we can’t defend the foundation left behind by our ancestors, we won’t use it to make a deal.”

“Don’t be so arbitrary, elder Grimm...”. Seer smiled and said, “In the past, you didn’t exchange because those things weren’t worth it. What cattle, sheep, land, and resources can only solve a temporary emergency. Your inherited skills are the foundation, so of course you can’t use it to exchange. But the things I used to exchange are different. It can also be the foundation for You!”

“Haha?”Grimm sneered and turned his head, looking as if he did not want to listen.

Seer did not care, he continued, “Your skills were developed and improved by the ancestors from generation to generation. The reason why they worked so hard to refine and pass down their skills was for two reasons. One was to hope for the tribe to be more prosperous and powerful, and the second was to hope for greater sublimation and improvement of the individual, wasn't it?"

Grim said coldly, "From your tone, it seems that you can help us with these two points."

"Of course!" Seer smiled and said, "The so-called transaction naturally requires both parties to feel that it is equivalent. The basis of the transaction is to be able to get what each party needs. As for who gets the upper hand and who loses, that is a matter of their own means..."

"Then tell me, what can you exchange for it?" Grim was finally aroused by the success.

Seer's lips curled up slightly under his helmet. "Many things, such as extending the lifespan of your race..."

Grimm: "!!!"

Seer smiled when he saw the other party's shocked expression. "But you have to answer this Lord's question first, so this lord can judge how much your race's skills are worth for this lord to exchange!"

Chapter 153: mission announcement! !

All players, please take note. According to the latest information on the speed of the expedition, the human army will officially meet the Orc army at 7:00 a.m. tomorrow at the d-ball time. Players who wish to participate in this large-scale mission, please.., register before 3:00 a.m. Tomorrow and choose your own mission type.

The distribution of this mission is free to choose. If you choose not to change the mission at the last minute, those who quit midway will receive 1,000 points. Players, please take note that the rewards and population type of each mission are likely to be different, as for the population value, players, please make your choice based on your own judgment. Once again, you are not allowed to change or quit the mission!

Mission 1, "Transplanting": sneak into Cordovia to assist rainless melon in assassinating her designated noble and replacing her role. The successful player will be rewarded with all the population and territory benefits of the noble's underlings. Note: The rewards of this mission are huge, [in the New World, the noble's territory that you have obtained by playing the role of the Lord of the New World will still belong to the player personally even after the Lord of the New World has arrived!]!

[however, this mission requires the player to be online for a very long time. It is a long-term mission. After the mission is completed, you will have to spend a large amount of time playing the role of a noble every day. Players who are busy offline strongly advise against accepting this mission.] [due to the huge benefits of this mission, players who choose this mission can no longer choose the temporary battlefield mission.].

Mission 2, "Going north to join the Army": infiltrate the Knight Academy with the identity of a noble son of the Northern Empire, display superior qualifications to become a knight, and strive for the position of a senior military officer in the northern battlefield, spying for the Lord of the northern battlefield and the empire's movements.

Note: this mission also requires a large amount of online time. It is suggested that it is best for freelance and professional players to receive this mission. Players can use this mission to collect the northern orc population and human population, they can also use their battle achievements to obtain higher-level positions in the steel martial empire. The territories that players obtained from the northern battlefield will also be privately owned by the players!

The rewards from this quest are huge. Players who choose this quest can not choose the temporary battlefield quest anymore.

Quest 3 "Exploring the Western Ocean": the player will explore the western ocean from the Empire's port as a merchant and obtain information about the western archipelago's human countries. The base will reward the corresponding points based on the information that the player contributed, this mission did not require the player to be online for a long time. As long as the time was reasonable and the logging-off point was well hidden, it would be fine. The future of this mission was unknown and the benefits were unknown. It was suitable for players who liked to explore and take risks to try.

Mission 4 "Raiding the human race": the player will take advantage of the battle between the two parties and act as an ORC member to raid the back row of the human race. The main purpose is to plunder the human population, the following is the list of reward points for the human troops: Engineer: Reward 20 points, Medic: reward 30 points, Heavy Armor Soldier: Reward 30 points, human mechanical ostrich light knight: Reward 30 points, Human Dragon Horse Knight: Capture together with the Dragon Horse and reward 50 points, Griffin Knight: Capture together with the Griffin and reward 100 points, the captured humans were all privately owned by the players. Note: Do not harm or capture the commander-in-chief of the human race: Marshal Rox. This mission is a temporary battle mission. Any player who has accepted the first three missions can not continue to accept the temporary battle mission.

Mission 5, "Raiding the orcs": the players take advantage of the battle between the two parties and pretend to be humans to raze the back row of the orcs. Similarly, the main purpose is to plunder the humans. Below is the list of rewards for the orcs' military points: Orc Goblins. The main purpose is to kill them, they can not be brought back to the base. ORC gnolls will be rewarded with 20 points, orc ogres will be rewarded with 25 points, orc centaurs will be rewarded with 30 points, orc Tauren will be rewarded with 30 points, orc lions, leopards, apes and other second-class orcs will be rewarded with 30 points, orc five high-class orc races will be rewarded with 50 points, orc high-class royal race members will be rewarded with 1,000 points, Orc Thunder Clan: Lion Knight will be rewarded with 50 points when he sits up, Wind Clan's wolf cavalry will be rewarded with 50 points when they sit down together, Earth clan's Gardo Beast Knight will be rewarded with 100 points when they sit down together, the reward for capturing the grand swordmaster was 5,000 points, and the reward for capturing the leaders of the various tribes of the orcs was 10,000 points.

Mission 6, "Ambush Morondor": the players will take advantage of the battle between the two sides to attack the rear of Morondor and capture all the population of Morondor captured by the orcs. They must not snatch it, this mission's population distribution would be based on the player's performance. Players who wanted to obtain more basic labor population could consider this mission.

MISSION 7 "Save player cabbage!": according to the latest intelligence, player cabbage has been secretly sent back to the tribe by the Earth tribe's priest. A new mission has been issued to infiltrate the Southern Beast Tribe's plains to save cabbage, this mission could take the opportunity to capture the southern Beast Tribe's population and spy on the Southern tribe's situation. The base will reward those who successfully save cabbage and return: reward 30,000 points!

The moment the mission was issued, the base was instantly in an uproar!

[F * ck, this is a big event. Is this the intention of invading the New World? Acting as a noble sounds so interesting... sigh, it's a pity that school has started.]

[students, Scram. We, the miserable office workers, haven't said anything yet.]

[wow, if I were to obtain the title of a Duke in the north, would I be able to become the Lord of the city? F * ck, I will definitely accept this mission. Tomorrow, I will go and fire the boss and even go to Hammer Class!]

Wow... . Big Brother is awesome, the civil servant expresses envy upstairs

Wow... Big Brother civil servant, the Doctor expressed envy upstairs

Wow... Doctor Big Brother, the program ape expresses envy upstairs

Wow... The brick man is envious of all of you!

[excuse me! Who's cabbage?]

I don't know... There are players who have been robbed of this kind of mission, Mengxin expressed envy..

[Envy Plus 1]

[envy plus 2]

"I go..." Wang Goudan in the placement of their own captured Scouts, Eyes Full of stars looking at these missions issued, muttering: OH, acting missions... That's funny. A knighthood in the north sounds like a good idea, and human poaching. I want to catch a griffin ... The Gardo Beasts of the Beast Race also want a few. The population of Molendu will be taken over by land farmers, right? ! I want all of them. SOB, SOB, sob!

What mission should I choose...

Wang Goudan, who had a choice syndrome, suddenly looked troubled. His handsome little face curled up like a ball of glutinous rice...

"Hey, Goudan, what mission did you choose?" Emperor liver greeted him warmly when he saw Goudan.

"Oh... I haven't chosen yet. What About You?"

"You haven't chosen yet? Let's Go North together! Don't you want to become a city Lord?"

“Oh... School is about to start...” Gou Dan said with a bitter face, “There are many classes next semester. I don’t think I can accept this mission.”

“Aren’t you in your third year? Why are there so many classes? What’s your major? Could it be the legendary law dog and medical dog?” Emperor Liver asked curiously.

“Sericulture...”

“Zen?”

“Sericulture... flat tongue,” corrected Goudan.

“Sericulture?” The emperor of the liver was stunned.

“Yes...”

“What’s the purpose of this major? Is it a major in sericulture?”

“I don’t know...” Goudan squatted down and drew circles. “I was transferred back then, but I heard that our school is the number one in central China, so I accepted it...”

“Uh...” Emperor Liver was embarrassed, after a moment of silence, he mumbled, “I think your school can set up another major in crayfish farming. Maybe you can get the number one major in Huazhong. And this major is definitely more practical than sericulture...”

Wang Goudan: “...”

Chapter 154: There is no future for Licking Dogs!

It was already afternoon when Wang Goudan went offline. She rubbed her belly and felt that she was not very hungry, but she still decided to eat braised chicken to reward herself and replenish her vitality. She would be angry for three more days before the start of school, she would try to get all the money in one go!

In the end, she decided to choose a temporary battle mission. She could not accept long-term missions such as going north to earn military merits for orcs or acting as a noble. After all, school was about to start. Although it was a useless major... But she had to obtain a diploma. At least it was a 211... ..

Oh right... ! ... she seemed to have forgotten to bring the pocket money that her father had given her in the end!

When she thought of braised chicken and dog eggs, she suddenly remembered her pocket money. She panicked and quickly ran out of the room. She was as agile as a cat. She did not even notice it. She was used to being highly agile in the game, she even thought that she was too clumsy in real life, but she didn’t realize that her actions were already exaggerated for ordinary people.

When she ran outside and saw that the dining table was empty, Dog Egg’s heart skipped a beat. She thought to herself, this is not good. Could it be that her heartless brother had done it?

No... No, with her father's wisdom, how could he be careless enough to leave the money on the dining table? He must have left it in her room.

Thinking of this, Gou Dan quickly ran upstairs and indeed found 200 federal dollars under his pillow in his bedroom... ..

WTF? ? ?

How could there only be 200 federal dollars? Gou Dan widened his eyes and immediately saw a note next to it. He picked it up and saw that it said: ahem, that Little Jia, this brother of mine is going to have a company gathering tonight. I need to borrow some money, "I'll leave you 200 yuan. It should be enough for you to eat in the canteen for the next few days. I'll pay you back with interest at the beginning of the month. That's it. Your Loving Brother Kisses You!"!

"I. . ."Seeing the note, Gou Dan choked half to death. It took him a long time to catch his breath... ..

"Wang Chengbo, you must step on Dog Sh * T when you go out! ! !"

"What's wrong, Chengbo?"Outside the suburb of C City, at the entrance of the huge manor, a young man dressed in a shirt was about to enter the manor, when he saw the embarrassed Wang Chengbo at the door, he walked over and asked curiously.

"Ah... Young Master Huang?"Chengbo turned around and saw that his boss was even more embarrassed. The young man looked up and down and immediately saw the reason. This guy's leather shoes had their roots broken... ..

"Well... I'm sorry, Young Master Huang..."Chengbo scratched his head in embarrassment. "I stepped on some dirty things when I came here just now... I looked for a gap to scrape those things off. I didn't expect that... the quality of these broken shoes is so bad..."

"It's not considered bad..." Young Master Huang looked at him speechlessly. "I bought it for 150 yuan. I've been wearing it for almost a year. I was soaked in the heavy rain last time. The quality is very good for it to last for so long. Tell me where you bought it. I'll go weigh a few pounds later..." "..."

"Young Master Huang, you must be joking..."

"I can't even be bothered to talk about you..." "My family doesn't support the company, so although it's a little difficult for the company, my salary isn't low for you. Although it's not high, there's no need to be so cold, right?"After a pause, he noticed a small box in Cheng Bo's hand, he immediately snatched it over. "What's This?"

Cheng Bo hurriedly tried to snatch it back, but he wasn't tall enough. Huang Shao raised it high. "If you snatch it again, I'll scream..."

"Don't mess around, Huang Shao..."

"Let me see what this is..."Huang Shao smiled as he picked it up to take a closer look. He was stunned for a moment. "Honey Pills?"

He recognized this. It was a new product from the federation. A few pills could replenish the energy needed by the human body for an entire day. It also had rich nutrients that could prevent the intake of high calories while maintaining the human body from losing nutrients. It was a high-end product that many women wanted to maintain their figure. A bottle of it cost tens of thousands of dollars... ..

“You bought it for Li Xiaoqian?” Young master Huang frowned.

“Uh...” Cheng Bo hesitated for a moment but did not refute in the end.

“I mean you...” young master Huang Sighed in disappointment, he returned the item to the other party. “If you have the money, why don’t you buy yourself some better clothes to wrap yourself up? If you bloom, the butterflies will come. You Won’t learn how to increase your charm to attract others, and you’ll only rely on licking... At this point, he felt that using the word “Lick” was too heavy, he paused for a moment and said, “Relying on this method of sacrificing yourself, it’s useless even if you chase after it for another 10,000 years...”

Wang Chengbo: “...”

“Hey... What’s your size?” After sighing, young master Huang asked.

“Ah?” Chengbo was stunned, and then he subconsciously said, “Three... 39...”

Huang Shao: “My size is forty-two, which is a bit bigger, but my leather shoes are quite tight. Wait for me here, I’ll Go get you a pair of shoes. Later, be careful when you walk, don’t let the shoes fly out.”

“This... how about this...” Cheng Bo was half grateful and half ashamed.

“It’s okay, we’re brothers, let’s not talk about this...” Young Master Huang patted his shoulder and said, “Little Bo, your talent in game design is very good. This time, you should take more than half of the credit for getting the award. Don’t look down on yourself. You’re very talented, understand?”

“Yes...” Cheng Bo’s eyes were sore, and he nodded hard.

“Okay, wait for me here. I’ll be back soon...”

“Alright, Young Master Huang... Oh, right...” Cheng Bo suddenly thought of something and quickly asked, “Young Master Huang, the last time I mentioned it to you, how was the result of inviting your distinguished guest to Our Barbecue Party?”

Speaking of this, young master Huang suddenly smiled. “Well, it went very smoothly. I didn’t think that she would be willing to come. I couldn’t even invite her to the party in the past, but I didn’t think that she would be willing to come and have a kebab with us. Not bad. After entertaining her well this time, she passed the old master’s test. When the old master gives me the investment that he promised, our project can be applied to the shelves. You Kid, you have quite a lot of ideas in these areas.”

“No More...” Cheng Bo nodded guiltily and said, “I was thinking that perhaps your distinguished guest didn’t want to attend those upper-class banquets because she felt that it was too troublesome. She was originally here to relax, and the picnic environment might be more suitable for her. After all, those who attended the picnic were all losers like us, and they were not on the same level as that person. No one would deliberately befriend her with a purpose, and the dining environment would be more innocent.”

“Haha, good, Good, good!” Young Master Huang patted him on the shoulder again. “Kid, your thoughts are turning fast again, but your own matters...” he paused at this point, in the end, he did not continue to mention it and said, “That’s right, if this matter succeeds, I’ll remember you as a credit. Alright, you stay well, I’ll Go Get My Shoes!”

“Sorry to trouble you, Young Master Huang...”

Young Master Huang waved his hand and did not reply. He quickly walked into the manor.

Not long after young master Huang left, a slender and beautiful girl wearing a sky-blue dress quietly approached him.

“Hey... Chengbo, what did Young Master Huang Say to you?”

When Chengbo heard this familiar voice, his body jolted. He turned around and saw that it was the goddess that he had been longing for: Li Xiaoqian.

Cheng Bo was stunned when he saw her fresh and refined outfit.

A hint of impatience flashed across Li Xiaoqian’s eyes when she saw her silly look. However, she still tried her best to smile gently and said, “I’m asking you, why are you in a Daze?”

“Oh, oh...” Cheng Bo scratched his head in embarrassment. “My shoes are broken. Young Master Huang went to get my shoes.”

“Young Master Huang Got Your Shoes?” Li Xiaoqian immediately frowned. “Why do you have to trouble me with this kind of thing?” Then, she knocked on the other party’s head. “You, you are really lucky to meet such a good boss...”

“Haha...” Cheng Bo lowered his head and laughed, obviously, he also agreed with the other party’s words. Then, he thought of something, he hurriedly handed the gift in his hand over. “This is for you. This is a honey pill. Don’t you usually lose weight? It’s not good for your body to eat salad all the time. It will cause nutrient loss. It’s better to eat this...”

“Ah... Oh Oh, thank you!” Li Xiaoqian took the gift and smiled politely. She put it into her bag casually and quickly asked, “Didn’t I ask you to ask young master Huang to call that woman out last time? How was it? Did It Work?”

“AH... it worked...” Cheng Bo quickly said, “Young Master Huang said it went very smoothly. He should show up today.”

“Humph... It’s good that he will show up!” Li Xiaoqian’s expression changed and she said coldly, “I want to see what kind of amazing woman she is.”

As she said that, she walked straight into the manor and directly threw Wang Cheng Bo there... ..

Cheng Bo looked at the other party’s back and stood there in a daze. Looking at the footsteps that didn’t stop at all, he still felt a sense of sourness in his heart...

He had saved money for three months, and in the end, he had even shamelessly embezzled his sister’s pocket money in order to gather enough money to buy the gift. In the end, the result was like this...

How many times had this been?

Under the sunlight, he lowered his head and looked at his feet that were exposed from his broken shoes. He suddenly felt that they were particularly dazzling...

Chapter 155: Why Is She Here?

Speaking of which, young master Huang jogged all the way to the manor and rummaged through his cloakroom. After searching for a while, he carefully selected a pair of light-colored leather shoes based on the color of Wang Chengbo's clothes, when he came out, he saw a girl quietly drinking tea and reading a book on the sofa.

Under the afterglow of the setting sun, it was truly an excellent picture scroll. The girl's clothes were simple and plain, but she was full of immortal aura. The so-called immortal aura was a literal meaning. This was not something that existed solely because of beauty, but it was a kind of temperament. It was a feeling of the distance between not being touched by smoke and fire and the mortal world...

However, the book of shattering the firmament in her hand was indeed somewhat destructive...

The girl seemed to have noticed young master Huang. Her long eyelashes trembled slightly. She put down the book in her hand and raised her head. "Young Master Huang, is something the matter?"

"AH... .. No, no ..." young master Huang smiled embarrassedly. "I was getting a shoe for my colleague, but his heel broke." "... young master Huang waved the leather shoes in his hand and said, "I was just passing by and saw you reading a novel, so I was a little curious " ... "Do you cultivators like to read online novels?" He thought to himself, "Where did she find such an old online novel?"

"Well... This book is quite interesting..." the girl smiled and asked, "What happened to the girl who broke off the engagement and humiliated the protagonist in the book?"

"I regret it so much..." young master Huang said honestly.

"I'm really looking forward to it..." the girl immediately said happily.

"Right..."

"By the way..." the girl put down the book and looked at the leather shoes in young master Huang's hand and asked curiously, "Is your employee very poor? He can break his roots just by playing with shoes outside? It Can't be that you're in arrears with your salary, right?"

"How is that possible?" Young Master Huang immediately rolled his eyes and retorted, "Am I that kind of person? He's poor because..." at this point, young master Huang paused for a moment and finally decided to give Cheng Bo some face, thus, he changed his words, "Because he's a relatively frugal person. He usually saves his salary to buy things for his younger brothers and sisters."

"AH... that's really a kind person..." the girl smiled gently.

"Hahaha... right..." young master Huang faked a smile for the second time.

“Then young master Huang, hurry up and go. Don’t let your colleagues wait for too long. This matter is very awkward after all.”

“Alright, Alright... I’ll call you when we eat later!” Young Master Huang hurriedly said.

Looking at the other party’s figure rushing out, the girl smiled slightly and softly muttered, “He’s actually a kind person...”

As she spoke, she slowly walked towards the window. The angle of the manor was very good. Looking from the living room, one could see the exquisite gardening design. It was very pleasing to the eye. The girl took a deep breath and enjoyed this rare time to relax.

She also did not expect that her master would actually ask her to come out and relax on the day of the martial arts practice of Kunlun. It was a little out of her expectations...

That’s right. If Brother Dog was here, he would definitely recognize that this beautiful woman who looked like she was at most twenty years old, was actually Yunji Mu, who was about to enter her forties!

Ever since she was beaten up by that mysterious backer of the Liu family in a duel, she had been unable to calm down and cultivate after returning to the mountain gate...

Losing to a celestial immortal was not a shameful thing for a junior like her, but for some reason, she could not calm down and was still brooding over it. When her master saw that she actually did not punish her for the first time in her life... Instead, he gave her a long vacation, letting her relax properly...

She had cultivated in the mountain for more than twenty years, and she had always used every bit of her time cleanly. She rarely thought about what she should do when she relaxed one day. In her confusion, she finally chose to come to C city to find Brother Dog for the first time in her life.., she wanted to learn more about the person who had defeated her, but she had come up empty-handed. Brother Dog, who was busy with the mission, had long used the excuse of going to the mountain gate to cultivate. After greeting his parents, he had been immersed in the game.

After knowing that the game world was real, Brother Dog did not plan to come back for a short period of time. He even decided to apply for a mission to go north and join the army.

After failing to find anything, Mu Yunji temporarily stayed at the gate of the mountain protecting the secular noble family: the Huang family.

As a direct descendant of the mountain gate and a direct disciple of the sect master, she naturally received the treatment of an emperor when she came to a noble family supported by a sect like the Huang family. Elder Huang even personally received her, but she really did not fit in with them, in the end, the current family head of the Huang family came up with the idea of letting the young members of the Huang family receive her. He felt that this would reduce the distance between them.

The Huang family’s disciples were indeed very outstanding. Their ability to talk humor and create an atmosphere was very good. After all, they were a family of businessmen, but their ability to express themselves was too strong. It gave her the feeling that they had some ulterior motives that she shouldn’t have thought about.

To put it bluntly, they wanted to attract her...

She didn't know whether to cry or laugh at this result. Didn't the parents of these children tell them the difference between her identity and theirs? Or did they still think that they were extraordinary and thought that they would be attracted to her just because of some charm in their conversation?

The cultivation world was ruled by strength, so how could she fall in love with a mortal. Their lifespans weren't even equal...

Thus, among the many Huang family's disciples, she finally chose the most inconspicuous junior to receive her. It was this young master Huang. He seemed to only be interested in that game studio of hers., he did not have any thoughts of fawning over or even attracting her. Moreover, when he came into contact with her, his posture was very upright. This was the attitude that a lower-level aristocratic family member should have towards cultivators like them.

Therefore, she chose this youngest child to receive her. This was to let her relax and not bother with those hedonistic young masters who did not know their own limits.

Today's invitation had surprised him. She was interested in the idea of having a BBQ with his employee. She, who was cultivating in the mountains, was actually quite interested in the lives of these ordinary people, this was much more interesting to her than those pretentious banquets.

Therefore, she walked to the window and looked at the largest lawn in the garden. The employees who had come one after another seemed to have started to put together a barbecue grill. Each and every one of them washed vegetables and marinated meat, looking extremely smoky, it made her feel relieved for once.

Barbecue...

She recalled that when she was young, when her father was still around, he would take her to the self-service barbecue restaurant downstairs every time he rewarded her with good results. That was her most beautiful memory in the mortal world...

After her father passed away due to a serious illness, she was valued by a passing master in the mortal world and brought back to the Cloud Mountain. There was no time for cultivation in the mountain, so in a flash... .. It had been many years...

It wasn't that she had never left the mountain before, but every time she interacted with those lower-level aristocratic families, she no longer felt the same as she did in the mortal world.

She suddenly felt that even though she didn't manage to find Brother Dog in City C, she didn't seem to have wasted any time. At least these few days had been quite pleasant.

Just as she was thinking about whether she should go down and help, an extremely familiar face suddenly made mu yunji freeze on the spot...

How could it be...

She looked over in a daze. On the grass, young master Huang was walking over with a youth about his age. That person was wearing a very cheap set of pure clothes, and that person's face was the face that had caused her inner demons a few days ago., it was the face that had caused her inner demons!

Wang Xiaojia? ?

Chapter 156: What the Hell?

“My Name Is Wang Xiaojia...”

Mu Yunji was stunned on the spot. The face that she hadn't been able to get over the past few days..! ... the mental demon that had troubled her! ! !

No... He wasn't Wang Xiaojia!

A few seconds later, Mu Yunji came back to her senses and remembered that Wang Xiaojia was a girl. Although their looks were very similar, there were still some differences...

What was going on?

Who was this person to Wang Xiaojia? Why was he here? Could it be that the Huang family had something to do with the backer of the Liu Family?

She should have investigated in secret when she encountered such a situation, but after suffering for many days, she had completely lost her patience. In addition, she was not a very scheming person. As a cultivator.., during the early stages of cultivation, the elders would try their best to keep their hearts pure.

Unable to endure it any longer, she opened the window of the villa and jumped down from the sky. Her exquisite lightness skill allowed her to glide like a butterfly for dozens of meters and directly arrived in front of the employees who were preparing for BBQ... ..

Everyone was stunned for a second, especially the two who were cooking and chopping vegetables. They almost lost their hands...

What the F * ck... .. Was she filming? Where was Wei Ya?

Even Young Master Huang was stunned. To be honest, this was the first time he saw someone from the sect show off their skills. It was really like a period drama...

In the past, he was not very interested in these internal martial arts. This time, when he saw it with his own eyes, he regretted not listening to his father when he was young and practicing martial arts. Otherwise, he might have joined the sect if his aptitude was not bad? Wouldn't his cousin go in?

“This... What the hell is this woman?” Li Xiaoqian, who was far away, saw this scene with a dumbfounded expression and extremely complicated feelings.

She originally wanted to compare the looks of the woman who could make young master Huang so eager to please her. She had thought of many possibilities, but she had never thought that the other party would appear in this way, was she hosting the Dragon Lady?

Not to mention, Yun Ji's temperament was quite similar to that of the Dragon Lady. In terms of looks, first of all, she had excellent bone structure, three courtyards, five eyes, four high and three low. The proportions were so exquisite that not a single flaw could be found, in terms of appearance, Yun Ji was very beautiful. She was not so bright, and her temperament was pure. Although she wore modern clothes, she gave people the temperament of an ancient fairy who had descended to the mortal world.

It made all the men feel beautiful, but at the same time, there was no trace of that primitive desire.

This made Li Xiaoqian, who had deliberately dressed up in pure and light makeup to strive for different characteristics, suddenly feel ashamed of her inferiority. In the next second, a strong jealousy rose in her heart, and she did not realize how twisted her face was now.

As a cultivator, Yunji mu keenly sensed Li Xiaoqian's jealousy, but she ignored it. At this time, how could she have the mood to care about an ant?

She put all her attention on this man who looked 60-70% like Wang Xiaojia...

"This guy..." Yunji mu frowned when she saw that he was also as surprised as the people around him. He didn't seem to be faking it at all.

This action of her falling from the sky might be very stunning to ordinary people, but it should be very common to cultivators, right?

What did he mean by having an expression like he had never seen it before?

And...

Mu Yunji carefully examined him. She found that this man's footsteps were weak and his aura was loose. He did not have the qi and blood of a cultivator at all. He was completely different from Wang Xiaojia's unfathomable aura!

How could this be?

"Sister Mu... what are you doing?" Young Master Huang was the first to react and carefully asked.

His father had repeatedly warned him that these people from the sect had strange personalities and that they would sometimes act wantonly by relying on force. They must not be angered, otherwise it was not impossible to kill them directly...

A few days ago, when he came into contact with them, he had felt that they were quite normal. Now that they had suddenly jumped down from above, young master Huang immediately recalled his father's warning and was instantly flustered...

"This is your employee?" Yun Mu Ji asked with a frown.

She remembered that young master Huang had promised that this barbecue would only be attended by the employees of her startup studio.

"Ah... right right... is there a problem, sister Mu?"

Yun Mu ji sized her up again and confirmed that she was a mortal who had never cultivated before, and finally withdrew her gaze, she revealed an apologetic smile. "I'm sorry... This employee of yours is quite similar to a friend of mine..."

“Yu! !” Many people who didn’t know Yun Mu Ji’s identity immediately cheered, there was actually someone who used such an old-fashioned method. However, the strange thing was that this time, it was a goddess-level person who was using it on our company’s number one loser. Could this be the start of the legendary comeback?

F * ck you guys! ? Looking at the people who didn’t mind the fuss, young master Huang immediately covered his head and thought to himself, do you want to turn into today’s Barbecue?

“That... you...” Yun Mu Ji finally decided to ask, but just as she opened her mouth, Li Xiaoqian’s stern voice came from afar, “Chengbo, what are you staring at? Hurry up and help wash the vegetables! !”

“Oh, OH...” Wang Chengbo woke up from a sudden realization. Hearing the familiar voice, he subconsciously turned around and said, “Coming!”

Seeing Wang Chengbo turn around and run toward her without hesitation, Li Xiaoqian immediately smiled smugly. Just as she raised her head to see what kind of wonderful expression the other party had, her smug expression froze in the next second!

A cold glint burst out from the elegant woman’s eyes, making her feel as if her entire body had fallen into an ice cellar. The vegetable basket in her hand fell to the ground with a bang.

This woman... What is she doing...

Li Xiaoqian had never seen such a situation before. She was so frightened that she did not dare to move.

“Sister Mu?” Huang Shao was shocked when he saw this. He hurriedly retreated four to five meters and spoke cautiously like a mosquito. The surroundings were instantly silent... ..

After a long while, Yun Ji slowly retracted her gaze. After a moment of silence, she muttered, “Maybe they just look alike...” in the end, she did not hesitate anymore, she immediately smiled apologetically at young master Huang and said, “I’m sorry, I just remembered something and got a little emotional. Do you have anything to drink?”

“Yes, yes, yes!” Young Master Huang quickly nodded and said, “Over here, there’s fresh-squeezed fruit juice and soda. If you want red wine, I’ll ask the butler to get it from the cellar. They’re all good vintage red wine.”

“I can’t get used to that... fresh-squeezed fruit juice sounds good. I saw mangoes just now...”

“Oh, okay, okay, okay... Xiao Lin, quickly squeeze some mangoes juice...” young master Huang shouted at an employee in the fresh fruit section over there. Then, he quickly turned around and said, “Come, come, come. Sister Mu, this way please.”

Yun Ji Mu nodded and the two of them walked to the other side of the table and chair.

Huang Shao smiled apologetically as he walked over. Without looking back, he said, “Don’t just stand there, do what you need to do...” then, he glared coldly at Li Xiaoqian, the main culprit!

Of course, he could see what Li Xiaoqian was doing today. She was competing with him, but didn’t she see that he was worthy? What was her identity? What was your identity?

Huang Shao was a little speechless in his heart. He thought to himself, ignorance is really scary sometimes... ..

When Li Xiaoqian received Huang Shao's cold gaze, her heart instantly turned cold. Her heart was instantly filled with regret. Not only did she think to herself, "What am I doing?"?

Since that woman was interested in that loser, Wang Chengbo, let her slowly ask him. Wouldn't that be better? Why did she have to do that. It would instead be easy for Huang Shao to misunderstand...

She still thought that Huang Shao was glaring at her because he misunderstood her and Wang Chengbo's relationship. She couldn't help but glare at Wang Chengbo, who had run over to pick up the vegetables on the ground for her. She wished she could kick him a few times!

On the other side, Yunji Mu, who had finally calmed down, sat on a flower chair with some disappointment. She was holding a freshly squeezed fresh mango juice. She had just swallowed a mouthful of it when she frowned slightly, this seemingly pure natural fruit juice was not as delicious as she had imagined. After all, she had been drinking top-grade flower dew every day in Yunshan. She would naturally not get used to eating such things that had been added with a large amount of sugar and fruit essence after eating the good stuff.

However, she still took a mouthful of it politely and asked casually, "What was the name of the employee just now?"

This time, her question was really very casual. She just wanted to divert young master Huang's attention so that he would not be able to see that she did not like this fruit juice.

"Oh... You Mean Chengbo?" Young master Huang hurriedly said, "His surname is Wang, his name is Wang Chengbo..."

Bang! !

As soon as he finished speaking, young master Huang saw the cup in the woman's hand being crushed with her bare hands, and then it disappeared in front of his eyes in an instant...

Young Master Huang looked at the glass shards and juice all over the floor, and the corners of his mouth immediately curled up slightly. He thought to himself, 'father is right, these people from the sects are indeed eccentric...'.

"Xiaoqian, is there anything else I can help you with?" Wang Chengbo was as attentive as usual.

"You're helping me by getting lost!" Li Xiaoqian glared at him impatiently.

"Uh..." Wang Chengbo, who didn't know what he had done wrong, suddenly felt wronged. His colleagues around him were gloating.

But suddenly, a cold voice sounded again, "Mr. Wang Chengbo?"

Everyone was stunned. Looking at Yunji Mu who had appeared out of nowhere, they immediately became nervous again.

“AH... yes...” Wang Chengbo immediately stammered, looking very nervous. In his heart, he was puzzled: Why is this woman staring at me?

But being stared at by such a goddess, he was still inexplicably excited...

“Can we talk?” Mu Yunji looked at him and asked.

He didn't have time... “...”. Li Xiaoqian almost subconsciously wanted to make a decision for Wang Chengbo, but in the end, she still calmly thought of the consequences. When she thought of the terrifying aura of this woman and young master Huang's attitude, she immediately became timid..., she suppressed the essence in her heart.

“Yes... What's the matter?” Wang Chengbo looked around at the envy, jealousy, and dissatisfaction of Li Xiaoqian. He immediately calmed down and asked carefully.

“Then I'll ask directly...” Yun Mu Ji didn't want to beat around the bush and directly asked what she wanted to ask.

“Excuse me, Wang Xiaojia, is it your ancestor?”

“Eh... Huh?” Wang Chengbo was stunned. “What?”

Chapter 157: which family is this young man from?

Wang Xiaojia?

That's... My Sister...

Your Sister?

Yes, it's my sister!

Throughout the whole night, Yunji MU's mind kept replaying that conversation... ..

It's his sister...

What kind of joke is this?

Yunji MU was confused. Elder Mu Yunkong had made several mistakes in his previous speculation, but he believed in Yunji Mu's heart for the last time... .. Well, she actually believed it the first few times... .. but it was too fast.

But this last time should be the limit, right? How could a heaven immortal be less than 20 years old?

The youngest heaven immortal on the surface was the elder ancestor of their Yunshan Mountain, who was more than 200 years old!

A 20-year-old heaven immortal...

Was there really such a person in the world?

Wang Xiaojia... .. What on earth... .. How did he do it?

..

Achoo!

In a restaurant in the Western District of the city center, Wang Xiaojia suddenly sneezed. She touched her red nose and looked around. She thought to herself, "Who is thinking about this dog egg again?"

"Xiaojia, what do you want to eat? Braised chicken?"The owner of the restaurant said enthusiastically.

"Noodles and eggs..."Wang Xiaojia replied unwillingly. She hesitated for a moment before saying, "Forget it, noodles it is. I don't want to add the eggs..."

Wang Chengbo! She only left 200 yuan for herself. There were still five days until the 1st of next month. Plus, she had to live for six days on this 200 federal dollars tonight. This didn't include the fact that the 1st of next month was a Saturday, maybe that Guy's salary would be delayed for two days.

She didn't dare to eat the braised chicken for 20 yuan extravagantly?

"Here are the noodles..."the boss smiled and served a bowl of red soup noodles with enough portions. There was obviously a fried egg on it.

"Hey... boss, didn't you say no eggs?"Wang Xiaojia frowned.

"Hey, it's for you. You're such a young child. When you're growing, how can eating noodles be nutritious?"The Boss said with a silly smile.

"Thank you, Boss!"Wang Xiaojia narrowed her eyes and smiled.

She thought to herself, see? Even a business boss has more conscience than that dog-licking dog. So, there's a reason why dog-licking people all over the world want to beat him up!

After Huhu finished eating the small noodles, he took a nice sip of the noodle soup. A happy expression appeared on his dog-face. He thought, although the things in the game taste more exquisite, the small noodles in city c really can't beat it, "This game is so realistic. Should I open a noodle shop in the base in the future?"?

HMM... ! "This idea is not bad. The noodles made from the simulated natural ingredients in the base will definitely taste extraordinary!"!

Ah...

Suddenly, she found a new goal, which was to open her first noodle shop in the game base!

For this grand goal, she had to quickly go online and catch more farmers. To achieve this goal, she had to quickly earn points. Then, she had to expand the scale of the farm. In the end, she decided., she chose the sixth mission, to raid Molundo and receive the human population captured by the orcs!

With a goal in mind, Goudan didn't waste any more time. After finishing her noodles, she hurriedly paid the bill and hurried home.

As he was in a hurry to go home, Goudan unintentionally used the balance skills he had learned in the base when he was running. During the run, his body and breathing were maintained extremely well, he even reached a perfect balance with the wind speed, gravity, and the slope of the ground, resulting in his body movements being terrifyingly smooth.

It was just a simple run, but because it was too smooth, it inexplicably attracted the eyes of many passers-by. It made people feel that it was amazing, but they couldn't tell what was amazing about it at the same time... "...". Because it was just an ordinary running movement.

"Hiss... What a handsome move!" Suddenly, an old man by the roadside looked at Wang Xiaojia's running figure in surprise. He took a breath and exclaimed, "Which family is this young man from?"

"Elder... That Girl..." the oldest disciple behind the old man frowned and said, "Is she very powerful?"

"The younger generation is awesome!" The old man clicked his tongue and sighed. "That sense of balance is like heaven and man being one. Clearly, her foundation is very solid, so solid that she has already entered the realm of Dao. However, this child's Qi and blood is not that strong, but with this foundation alone, her realm will definitely advance by leaps and bounds in the future. I Don't know which Almighty raised this child, but if you meet this child during the Kunlun martial arts competition this time, you have to be extremely careful!"

"Is it that exaggerated?" One of the youngest girls pouted.

"You'll know if it's exaggerated or not when you meet her during the martial arts practice in the future..." the old man shook his head and sighed.

He thought to himself, "If this child participates in the martial arts practice, she will definitely amaze the world. I wonder which big sect she is from. She is really lucky. On the other hand, my side...". At the thought of this, he looked at the most outstanding young disciple of Emei in this issue and could not help but sigh inwardly. Emei has really been getting worse and worse over the years. Hopefully, this year, they will still be able to keep a few spots to enter the mystic realm...

The next day...

Wang Chengbo, who was at work, said that he was very haggard. After being chatted up by the Goddess Yesterday, the way the company looked at him today was strange. They would gossip about him whenever they were free, asking him how he knew the goddess, even Li Xiaoqian was being weird to him today, saying that he hid it very well.

He was really wronged...

How the hell do I know how Xiaojia and the goddess met?

Speaking of xiaojia, he was quite worried now. Yesterday, he shamelessly stole Xiaojia's pocket money, and when he went back, he found that Xiaojia was gone...

And she didn't come back at all...

Did she go to her best friend's place in a fit of pique, or did she go to her father's place to complain?

If it was the latter, he was afraid that he would be beaten up for the first time in his adult life... ..

While he was shivering, he heard the front desk suddenly run over and say, "She's coming, she's coming. That flying goddess is coming to our company!"

"Wow, really?" A group of people immediately jeered, "Damn, could it be that she's looking for Cheng Bo..."

"Are you kidding me... How is that possible? It must be young master Huang who brought her here to visit our studio."

"You're bullshitting me. What's there to visit in our shitty studio? I bet 50 cents that she's here to look for Chengbo..."

"Stop fooling around..." Wang Chengbo was speechless. Then, he inadvertently saw that Li Xiaoqian's expression was very ugly. He was immediately puzzled. Was Xiaoqian unhappy because her goddess came to look for him?

Why...

Did she care about me that much?

For the first time... Wang Chengbo suddenly realized that this was the first time he could calmly think about the other party's thoughts... ..

"Chengbo, come here for a moment. Sister Mu is looking for you!"

"Eh? Oh Oh... I'll come right away..." Chengbo said immediately.

"Yu..." the surrounding people immediately booed.

Mu Yunji smiled politely at everyone and walked towards his office under the invitation of Young Master Huang.

"Wow... The goddess smiled at me!"

"Nonsense, don't you see your greasy face? Be careful not to scare her until she can't eat. The reason she smiled at this side is clearly because I'm standing here, Okay?"

"Hehe... You Bald Guy, shut up..."

As the group of people in the company quarreled, Li Xiaoqian's face became uglier and uglier. In the end, she suddenly stood up, walked quickly to Cheng Bo, and slammed the bottle of honey pills on the table. "I'll return it to you! !"

"UH... Xiaoqian, what... What's Wrong?" Cheng Bo said carefully.

"What's Wrong?" Li Xiaoqian sneered. "I just found out today that some people hide very well..." as she said that, she walked toward her desk without turning her head back!

Looking at the person whom he had been dreaming about being so angry, Wang Chengbo didn't clarify anything in a fluster like before. Instead, he was surprisingly calm.

He kept thinking, why is she angry? Is she jealous? Does she care about me?

No... .. It's not like that. ... ? ... Don't you know whether she cares about you or not? Wang Chengbo?

Li Xiaoqian sat on the chair in a huff, but from time to time, she glanced behind her and found that the other party was sitting on the chair indifferently, not coming over to lick her... "... But when she came over to explain, her expression instantly became even uglier.

Men... ? "... are indeed like this. No matter how much you're praised, as long as you see something better, you'll be instantly forgotten. This guy looks like he's very affectionate towards me, but in the end? Wasn't it the same?

While he was angry, young master Huang poked his head out of the office. "What are you doing? You're Dawdling..."

"Oh, OH, I'm Coming, I'm Coming!" Wang Chengbo nodded repeatedly. He put the honey pills into his bag and ran into young master Huang's office, making Li Xiaoqian's face even uglier.

On the other hand, Wang Chengbo, who had walked into the office, was very honest with Yunji Mu. Although he enjoyed the gossip of the employees in the office, he was surprisingly self-aware this time.

"Sister Mu, are you looking for me to Ask About My Xiaojia?"

Yunji mu nodded with a smile. Before she came, she had already investigated Wang Xiaojia thoroughly. She was the daughter of an ordinary policeman. Her mother had passed away early, and her father had raised the two siblings. Her background was very ordinary and real.

There were only two possibilities to explain Wang Xiaojia's ability as a heaven immortal. One was that her background was fake. Wang Xiaojia deliberately lived as a mortal. There was also an explanation for the reason. Traditionally, when one reached a certain level of cultivation, they would encounter obstacles, some cultivators thought of a way to experience the mortal world to comprehend the realm.

It was very likely that Wang Xiaojia was in this situation.

The second possibility was less likely. That was that Wang Xiaojia's background was not fake, but... "... !"! She had obtained a great opportunity!

Regardless of which one it was, Yunji Mu wanted to figure it out, therefore, she smiled and said, "It's like this. Your sister and I are very close online friends. I didn't expect to meet her biological brother on this rare trip to C city. I'm very happy. Can you please bring me to meet her?"

"Oh, Oh... Okay, okay, okay..." Wang Chengbo agreed repeatedly. "Okay, I'll call her over..."

"Oh, no need..." Yunji mu hurriedly said, "Hey, since we're friends, how can I let her come over? I just want to give her a surprise... can you take me to her directly?"

"Oh... I see. Hahaha, that's fine too. Then I'll take you there after work."

"After work my ass?" Young master Huang said impatiently, "Hurry up and bring sister Mu over now. Do you still want her to wait for you to get off work?"

“Oh...”The Boss had already spoken, Cheng Bo was naturally happy to get off work early. He couldn't help but think to himself, 'Little Jia, that wretched girl is really lucky. To be able to meet such a powerful Netizen, your brother and I will be able to gain a lot of face today. HMM...'. 'I'll never say that she lost her will to play with things again...'

However, this girl had been very mysterious recently. She kept disappearing all of a sudden. He didn't know what she was up to. Could it be that she was seeing someone else?

Chapter 158: New Light

“Young Master Huang, aren't you going with us?”Cheng Bo looked at young master Huang, who had no intention of following them.

Young Master Huang rolled his eyes. “Sister Mu is going to meet the netizens. Why should I follow her? Hurry up, don't make it hard for sister Mu to wait.”

“Oh, okay, okay...”Cheng Bo chuckled foolishly and ran outside.

When Wang Chengbo was far away, young master Huang Sighed. “Silly boy...”then, his expression became slightly serious. He walked outside and said, “Li Xiaoqian, come here...”

“Eh?”Looking at the silly smile on Wang Chengbo's face, Li Xiaoqian, who was originally angry, was suddenly stunned? Young Master Huang took the initiative to call her to the office?

Li Xiaoqian's heart moved. She thought to herself, perhaps young master Huang must be disappointed to see that Swan flirting with the toad, so he thought of her?

Thinking of this, Li Xiaoqian sneered in her heart, “Humph, stupid woman, so what if she has good conditions?”? Her eyes were lowered. She didn't want a treasure like young master Huang, but insisted on touching a toad. What a joke. What was there to be envious of for a woman who was willing to mingle in the gutter?

Thinking of this, her mood instantly improved. She raised her head and puffed out her chest. The Glory of the past reappeared as she walked into young master Huang's office cheerfully.

“Close the door...”young master Huang sat on his office chair and said to Li Xiaoqian, who had just entered the door...

Ah. Li Xiaoqian's heart jumped when she heard this, and then her face turned red. She thought to herself, in broad daylight... .. In the office ... There are still so many employees outside, isn't it... ? ... too exciting?

These rich kids really know how to play...

“Li Xiaoqian, I remember that you graduated from Shanghai University with a master's degree in finance, right?”

“Eh? Ah, right...” Li Xiaoqian was stunned when she heard that. She didn’t understand why the word ‘diploma’ was mentioned.

“You’re very outstanding. You used to work at Wudaokou... to become a bank manager with an annual salary of a million at such a young age, you’re indeed capable...”

Li Xiaoqian’s face turned pale when she heard that. Could it be that the other party had investigated her?

Back then, she had been able to get that position in an investment bank in such a short period of time, so she had indeed taken some shortcuts...

“My company is relatively small, and it doesn’t suit your profession. It’s indeed a waste for you to come here. How about this, I’ll ask the Finance Department to make up your annual salary. You Don’t have to come tomorrow...”

“Uh...” Li Xiaoqian was stunned, and her face turned white. She quickly said, “Why, Young Master Huang, did I do something wrong?”

“No, no, you’re very diligent. As an internal supervisor, you’re considered quite outstanding. With your ability, you can even manage a large company without any problems.”

“Then... then why?” Li Xiaoqian was anxious and quickly said, “Could it be that young master Huang is concerned about me in the past... but that’s because I was young and insensible. Later on, I resigned because I wanted to get rid of that kind of life...”

“AH? Did you have something to do in the past?” Young master Huang suddenly looked gossipy.

“I. . .” Li Xiaoqian wanted to slap herself. That was true. How could that person spread that kind of thing around...

“Then... Why Can’t Young Master Huang Accept Me?” Li Xiaoqian did not explain and directly asked, “Is it because of Wang Chengbo? There’s really nothing between us...”

“I know!” Young Master Huang smiled and said, “If you keep him hanging like this, no matter how much energy he spends, he can’t have anything with you...”

“I. . . I didn’t...” Li Xiaoqian’s eyes were a little flustered...

“There are some things that everyone can see. You Don’t have to quibble. The people around you aren’t stupid or blind.” Young Master Huang’s face turned cold as he said, “When you came in, it was because of Cheng Bo. I wanted to hire a receptionist, but I didn’t think of investigating, so I agreed. In the end, when you came and put your resume up, I knew what you were planning...” . “...”

When she said this, Li Xiaoqian’s face turned pale. She immediately knew that since the other party’s words were so plain, she had no chance at all...

However, young master Huang continued, “You’ve always looked down on Cheng Bo and thought that he wasn’t worthy of you. In terms of conditions, it’s not a big problem for you as a client. It’s rational for a girl to choose a spouse with a similar threshold, but it’s a character problem for you to keep hanging on to him like this...” . “...” . “...”

"It's not like I'm the one who told him to keep pestering me!" Knowing that she had no chance, Li Xiaoqian's face darkened, immediately, she changed her expression and sneered, "Young master Huang said that I spoke righteously. Aren't you such a person? "You clearly know what I'm planning, but you haven't chased me away. Aren't you keeping me hanging? "To let me receive such a meager salary in this lousy company, aren't you wasting my time like this?"

"You're right..." young master Huang Shrugged.

Li Xiaoqian: "You..."

The other party was so single all of a sudden, which instantly made Li Xiaoqian even angrier. For a moment, she did not know what to say...

Young Master Huang continued with a smile, "I'm indeed hanging on to you. Chengbo is an employee that I value. He has a talent that a stupid woman like you can't see, but he's too obsessed with you. He's like an addict chasing after a star. If I chase you away directly and you instigate him, I might lose such a good employee..." "..."

"You... What did you say?" Li Xiaoqian's face was filled with shock and anger. "You mean you're hanging me up because of him?"

"Feeling very ashamed?" Young Master Huang sneered. "In my eyes, his value is much higher than yours. All these years, I've actually long wanted to promote him to project director, but it's because of you. Because of your existence, I've always been suppressing him. I'm afraid that his status will increase, and my fantasies of you will increase..." "..." "Speaking of which, if you feel ashamed, I still think it's a waste of time. Now, you can leave!"

Li Xiaoqian was so angry that her entire body was trembling. After a long time, she sneered and said, "Young Master Huang, do you think that I can't call him away now?"

"Now?" Young master Huang smiled meaningfully. "You can try!"

"Then we'll see! !" Li Xiaoqian sneered and slammed the door and left!

Looking at the ruthless expression on the other party's face before she left, young master Huang shook his head in disdain. He sighed in his heart, 'it seems like this stupid woman still doesn't understand the principles behind it...' ...

'Do you think that Cheng Bo is really stupid? 'He can't see that you're hanging him?'' He just couldn't let go of it, just like those fanatics who chased after celebrities. They only treated celebrities as mental medicine for their fantasies. It seemed crazy, as if they were willing to give up everything, but once there was a better one., a more glamorous celebrity, they would instantly abandon the previous one and pounce on another.

"The feeling of licking a dog is actually much weaker than you imagine..." "..."

"..."

"That... I'm sorry..." Wang Chengbo said apologetically after bringing Yunji mu home, "I don't know where that girl went to go crazy again..." as he said that, he made a cup of Mao Jian for her.

"It's okay... I'll wait for her..." Yunji smiled. "I think young master Huang thinks highly of you. What do you do in his company?"

"Me? I... I do game planning..." Chengbo said with a silly smile while holding his head.

"What kind of job is that?" Yunji asked curiously.

"This..."

As the other party started this topic, Chengbo's tone became smoother and smoother from the beginning. After all, they were talking about his own field, so he talked more and more, and his mood began to relax.

After starting the conversation, Mu Yunji allowed the other party to continue. Occasionally, when she didn't understand, she would interject a few sentences. Although she was listening most of the time, she listened very carefully. This made Wang Cheng Bo feel that the other party was more approachable, and her conversation became smoother and smoother. Unknowingly, the two of them chatted for the entire afternoon...

However, Wang Cheng Bo didn't feel the time passing by at all... From the looks of it, he would probably chat until the next day... ..

The main thing was that this kind of experience was something he had never experienced before. Such an outstanding girl was willing to understand him and listen to what he was good at. This kind of feeling... .. He had never experienced it from Li Xiaoqian...

"Yo..." suddenly, a middle-aged man came home with a tired expression. When he saw the two of them chatting on the sofa, he was instantly energized. "You brought a guest?"

"Hello, uncle..." Yunji mu stood up and greeted generously.

"Oh, OH, good, good, good!" Old Wang, who had no clue about the case, was not in a good mood. However, when he saw this situation, he immediately swept away all his troubles. He nodded and said with a smile, "Well, Chengbo, why don't you introduce yourself?"

"Uh... Oh, good. This is Miss Yunji Mu, a friend of Xiaojia. She came to find her this time."

"Really? Where's the Little Beauty?" Old Wang looked around.

"I don't know where she went..."

"Oh?" Old Wang smiled meaningfully. "Not bad, not bad. is that girl so reliable? So what did I say? I told you to treat your sister better."

"Uh... Dad, what nonsense are you talking about..." Wang Chengbo said anxiously.

However, Old Wang ignored him, instead, he looked at Yunji mu and said, "Little Mu, right?" "Let's stay and have a meal together. Chengbo, this child, is very good at cooking. He is also good at making beer and wild boar meat. There is also a wild boar leg in the fridge. We haven't been willing to eat it..." "..."

“Dad...”Wang Chengbo saw that his father was getting more and more unreasonable and hurriedly said, “Miss MU has something to do...”but before he could finish his words, Yunji mu interrupted him, “Okay, uncle!”

“Eh?”Wang Chengbo was stunned. He didn’t expect that the other party would really agree to stay... ..

“Okay, okay, okay!”Old Wang smiled and said, “Then you guys talk, I’ll Go Buy Beer...”

“This...”Wang Chengbo immediately fell silent. He turned his head to look at Mu Yunji’s peaceful smile, and his heart suddenly trembled as if he saw a new ray of light in the darkness...

Chapter 159: Grandpa Lu’s mission guide

“Hello, everyone. I Am the Grandpa Lu that you all miss so much. This grandpa has come to write a guide for you all in my busy schedule. First of all, this guide is mainly aimed at this large-scale mission. Grandpa Lu is only analyzing it according to his own thoughts. Grandpa Lu is not certain about the details later on, nor is he responsible for it. So, if Grandpa Lu’s prediction is wrong later on, don’t follow Wang Goudan’s example and threaten to throw this grandpa into the septic tank. This grandpa will repeat again: Brother Soap and I are sworn brothers. You Can’t afford to offend us!”

“Alright, the main purpose of this lecture is to give some suggestions to those who are qualified to participate in the mission. Also, those who are not able to enter the game can take a look at the changes in our game. Now, let’s get to the main topic!”

“There are seven missions this time. Four of them are long-term missions, and three of them are temporary missions. According to the rules of the game, players who have received long-term missions are not allowed to receive temporary missions. Many players are complaining about this, but Grandpa Lu thinks that this is the right approach. This is to balance the gaming experience of many players who do not have much time in the game. Otherwise, if the gap is too big, it will be meaningless.”

“Then how do you choose between a long-term mission and a temporary mission? Let me tell you slowly.”

“Let’s talk about the first long-term mission first. This mission is called ‘transferring flowers to connect wood’. As the name suggests, it is to assassinate and act as a designated noble. Normally, not only do you have to follow the example of a noble to attend a party, manage the finances and territory, but you also have to fight with the people in your family so that they won’t be able to see through you.”

“To be honest, this mission is the most interesting one in my Grandpa’s eyes. It is different from ordinary fighting and killing. This kind of role-playing mission is really creative. I think this plan can be given full marks. If Grandpa Lu has not transformed, he will definitely participate in this mission.”

“Let’s talk about which people are suitable for this mission. Transfiguration is more suitable for players who like to challenge high difficulty, experience novelty, and have a lot of online time!”

“Because this game is highly intelligent, according to Grandpa Lu’s observation, even the most ordinary farmer in this game is extremely realistic. Obviously, the level of intelligence of this game is very high, so the simulated environment is also very realistic. To successfully play the role of a noble in this very realistic environment is actually not easy. In addition to needing you to be careful, you also need a lot of time. Otherwise, if you go offline normally, you will be exposed. After all, this is not a single-player game, and it can be saved. The plot will not revolve around you alone.”

“Now, let’s talk about the second mission. It’s called going north to join the army. The difficulty of this mission is much lower. Although it’s also asking you to pretend to be a nobleman and go to Knight Academy, the Environment You’re facing is an environment that you’re not familiar with. Your words and actions are deliberately more casual. This mission has a stronger cycle. It’s said that Knight Academy graduation usually takes three years, and a few outstanding ones can graduate in one year. It’s said that the so-called skull crusher that was captured in the base only took half a year. We players are so outstanding that we can definitely save a shorter time, but this is still very long... Moreover, this was only a graduation “... “..

“In other words, you’ll need to spend half a year at the Knight Academy to learn some low-end techniques before you have a chance to become a knight and fight the orcs in the north. You’ll also need to spend an unknown amount of time before you have a chance to obtain sufficient battle merits and be conferred a title. In theory, as long as you’re conferred a title of Duke, you’ll definitely have a large city like Molendale under your control. Moreover, from now on, this will be your personal property. Although the reward seems to be very high, it’s actually much less stable than the first quest

“First of all, you might not even be able to become a duke, right? After all, there were only a few generals in the entire empire. In war, one did not rely solely on one’s bravery. One also had to rely on military talent. Hence, I suggest that players who are interested in this quest should try their best to focus when they study the empire’s military courses... .. otherwise, they might really become an advanced fighter. Meanwhile, a fighter would never be able to become a duke in their lifetime “...”

“Comparatively speaking, the first quest is much more stable. This is because you will immediately receive a piece of land. Although the land may not be big, and most of the land will belong to a Baron, you can take advantage of this time to fish for more people and resources for yourself. The cycle is short, and the cost-effectiveness ratio is high. Moreover, it’s stable. Even if the other party becomes a duke, if he becomes a duke two years later, honestly speaking, it might not be as profitable as directly taking a baron. Of course, players who want to experience the battlefield can consider it. After all, the rate of return isn’t low. At least compared to the third quest...”. “...”

“Let’s talk about the third mission...”. “...”. This might be the least guaranteed mission of all long-term missions. Exploring the western islands as a merchant was a pure exploration mission. Once you accepted this mission, the land in the base would definitely not be under your control. Most likely, it would be transferred to someone else. In that case, you wouldn’t be able to enjoy the dividends of the base’s development for a short period of time, and the rewards wouldn’t be guaranteed. The system didn’t even say what the rewards of this mission would be...”. “...”

“Of course, this mission might also have shocking unknown rewards, but that’s unknown. However... There are risks involved in investment. Under the circumstances where there are choices, Grandpa suggests prioritizing the first two missions.”

“The advantage of this mission is that you have to log off at a random time. These long-term mission systems will give you temporary log-off points, but the requirements are not to be discovered by any npcs. The first two missions have to log off at a very precise time. The third mission is more casual, and there will be less hindrance. This is the only advantage grandpa has seen so far.”

“The seventh mission is similar to the third mission. They are both exploration-type missions. The only difference is that one is to explore the western islands and the other is to explore the southern plains. It depends on whether you are interested in the human civilization or the Beast tribe civilization. The seventh mission has an ultimate goal. If you successfully save the player cabbage, you will be rewarded with 30,000 points. But to be honest, Grandpa Lu really doesn't care about the fact that players can be kidnapped by npcs. Although Grandpa Lu has experienced it himself, to be honest, he is really unfriendly. I hope that the player cabbage didn't suffer. So, there is a reason why the base doesn't allow players with insufficient levels to go out. Look, how dangerous it is...”. “...”

“The last three missions are all temporary missions. The difference lies in what kind of population you want to capture. There is a list of these missions. In terms of population selection, Grandpa Lu does not make any comments. Many people seem to be more enthusiastic about producing population and think that the benefits are the greatest. However, Grandpa Lu still wants to say that the value of producing population will definitely depreciate later on, so everyone really does not need to deliberately pursue it. As long as you like everything, it's fine. Of course, if you want to produce a large number of agricultural land, you can consider the mission of attacking Molundo. After all, there is still a shortage of agricultural land in a short period of time.”

“Alright, let's talk about the reference for this large-scale mission. Grandpa Lu feels that if you have the conditions to choose a long-term mission, you shouldn't choose a temporary one. According to our intelligence, after this great war, there won't be so much friction in the new world for a long period of time. The players will slowly return to their daily lives. Under such circumstances, the profits from the long-term mission will really be much higher than the profits from the temporary mission.”

“Among the long-term missions, Grandpa Lu recommended the first one because the rewards are stable. Although the difficulty of the mission is relatively high, everything is relative. Moreover, this mission is very fun to play with. I really suggest that an otaku who has nothing to do all day can try it. Perhaps, after a long time, it can help you develop a noble temperament, right?”

“The mission to go north to join the Army has a longer cycle, and the rewards are definitely very different. I suggest that players who are interested in military and battlefield analysis participate. This is really not as simple as you think...”

“Actually, apart from the first two missions, the exploration missions are also recommended by Grandpa. You can explore new maps and new information, and your daily life will be more interesting. It's very suitable for some players who are interested in exploration and adventure to try it out. I believe that no matter how bad the plan is, it won't cause the players to have no harvest, right?”

“Alright, that's it for today. Grandpa Lu will keep an eye on the progress of the missions ahead and update the latest content of the game for everyone so that the players who come in later won't be completely ignorant, so...”. “Grandpa, it's been so hard on you. Why Don't you guys like it, collect coins, and collect some?”

“Next time, next time, I’ll definitely give it to you next time!” A bunch of whoremongers instantly appeared in the comments section.

“Wow, the game is getting more and more interesting. The quests for playing as a noble have been released. It sounds so novel. Speaking of which, the game has already reached this stage, and it’s still not open beta testing. What are you waiting for?”

[that’s right, that’s right. Do you want to charge for the card or the props? Please say something to the game official. As long as you open beta, I’ll accept both charges. Please Open Beta...]

[I also agree with Grandpa Lu. If you can choose the long term, don’t choose the short term. Sigh, but who asked me to be an office worker? How about...]. [I’ll just sell two farmers as professional players. Nowadays, farmers cost hundreds of thousands each. Why would I even bother working!]

That’s right, that’s right. Do you want to sell the farmers upstairs? I’ll take them here. 400,000 each, take as much as you can

I’m not selling, Scram!

Xi Ye looked at the people who were clamoring for open beta in the game and sighed slightly. He wanted to open beta too, but there was nothing he could do. Open beta meant that the game was completely exposed. The current situation would not allow it...

After this mission was over, he should go back. He did not have enough instructors, and there were more and more people. The job system had to mature. He had to recruit more people...

Moreover, he had to find a professional to optimize the breathing technique of the Beast Race’s sword saint...

Chapter 160: The First Battle: the defeat of the Air Force

“They’re here!”

On the Morondor Plains, the chiefs of several tribes were lined up in a row, looking at the message sent by their own flying units in the sky. On the third day after receiving the news of the departure of the human army., the Steel War Empire’s army had finally arrived at the location of the final battle.

In the air, Bat Knights circled high in the sky, on which sat agile trolls. These trolls were holding incendiary bombs made by their own wizards, intending to show off their might to the newly arrived human army., they wanted to reduce the enemy’s morale.

These giant bats were the air force borrowed from the north by the Gale tribe. The environment of the Southern Plains was not enough to nurture giant bats that could ride on Orcs.

And beside these giant bats were a dense mass of wind snakes!

Wind snakes were unique creatures of the south. They were snakes with fleshy wings. They were xenomorphs, the only air force unit in the south. Although they were small in size, they had a huge advantage in numbers, moreover, these wind serpents had extremely strong neurotoxins on their teeth. Even if they were powerful creatures, they would still end up being eaten by a group of wind serpents.

However, because their bodies were not large enough to carry an ORC unit, they did not have much effect on the ground. This was also the reason why Hoult of the Gale tribe had paid a huge price to bring in the giant bats from the north.

This air force combination made Kagar of the Thunder tribe feel a little apprehensive. It was only after he arrived that he found out that the gale tribe actually had such an air force. He secretly wondered if he should also lie down in the north, if he bought some of these species over, he would be at a disadvantage against the Gale tribe in the future.

Just as he was thinking, a series of terrifying hisses suddenly came from the sky. If the Hiss of the hordes of wind snakes could be said to be creepy, then the sudden loud and clear cry of birds of prey was truly shocking.

Just by listening to this sound, they knew that the creatures that came were definitely from the upper echelon of the carnivorous creature chain.

Then, they raised their heads and saw a sparse black spot in the sky. The few tribal chiefs with good eyesight instantly saw that it was the most elite Air Force Knights of the human race, the Griffin Army!

Facing the dense cloud-like swarm of wind snakes, the scattered Griffin Knights were not afraid at all. They directly rushed into the swarm of wind snakes with a hurricane.

Such unparalleled bravery shocked the orcs below.

“Humph, Stupid!” Kagar sneered. Even the two-headed dragon from the north would be gnawed into bones by the wind snakes. After all, the poison of the wind snakes was not simple.., even the powerful Tauren would lose muscle after a few minutes after being bitten by the wind snakes. They might even die of shock immediately. The gryphon looked mighty, but could it withstand the attacks of hundreds of wind snakes?

As long as there were more than ten snakes biting you, no matter how powerful you were, you would still end up being melted into water by the poison.

But in the next second, Kagar’s sneer froze.

The huge and powerful griffons were like tigers entering a flock of sheep. The moment they charged into the flock of snakes, they set off a rain of blood. Under their dive, the wind snakes were directly cut into two halves, they fell down like snowflakes!

Instantly... ! ... The sky was filled with a dazzling scarlet mist. The strong smell of blood instantly filled the entire space!

“What... What’s going on?” The surrounding Orc royalty were stunned? After these griffins charged into the group of snakes, they were able to cut through a large group of snakes with just a charge. This was definitely not done by the warriors sitting on top of them. Wasn’t the efficiency of killing them a little too exaggerated?

“It’s that feather...” Hotell narrowed his eyes slightly and immediately figured out the situation.

When he was in the north, he didn't have the chance to meet these griffins knights who were feared by countless tribes in the north. Today, he finally understood why the air force units of so many tribes in the north were so afraid of this thing.

These griffins' feathers were as hard as blades and could even be controlled to stand up. Coupled with their terrifying flying speed, not to mention these limp wind snakes, even the muscular twin-headed dragon would be torn apart.

Moreover, due to the toughness of the feathers and the fact that the rider was armed to the teeth, even if these wind snakes were to surround and attack, they would not be able to bite that thing, the rider on top did not even need to fight. He only needed to control the direction of the Griffins' flight.

Hotell looked at the blood rain in the sky and thought of another nickname of these Griffins in the north: Dragon Slayer Knight!

With a gloomy face, he muttered, "It really... lives up to its reputation!"

Even Old Marn's face was not so good. He muttered, "How did humans tame such a terrifying creature?"

"Call the air force to retreat!" Hotell said decisively.

"What?" Kagar immediately said angrily, "Air Force retreat? Are you afraid of the loss of your bats? Once the air force retreated, we would completely lose the sight of the humans. Wouldn't the raid plan that you previously proposed be ruined?"

Previously, Hotell had suggested that when the human army entered the plains from the Empire Avenue, there was still a chance for a raid. It was to launch a raid after half of the human army had come down from the Empire Avenue!

This way, the latter half of the human army would be stuck in the middle of the avenue, while the army at the front would not be able to complete their retreat due to the large number of people behind them. They could only let them slaughter them!

However, this plan had to be carried out with a clear view of the plains. They would not be able to set up an ambush, so they could only borrow the mobility of the cavalry and find an opportunity to launch a surprise attack, this required the cavalry of the beast clan to accurately grasp the opportunity to charge into the formation. Otherwise, it would be a joke if they rushed over and the other party did not come down!

Without a clear view, who knew what the humans were walking in front of? What if a bunch of terrifying dragon crossbows were aimed at you, and you could not charge into the main road? Wouldn't you be shot for nothing?

Moreover, not only that, if they withdrew the Air Force and lost their view, the other party would completely grasp their own view. The other party would clearly know how the Beast clan would deploy their troops to form a formation, on the other hand, his side could only fight passively.

It could be said to be extremely disadvantageous. The effect of air control was extremely important even in this kind of cold weapon battle!

However, faced with Kagar's furious questioning, Hoult said faintly, "What else can we do? The Air Force's strength is inferior to the humans, so can't we just admit it? Do we have to wait for the wind snakes above to be completely wiped out before you're satisfied?"

"You..." Kagar was instantly annoyed, however, he could not say anything to refute. Obviously, if they retreated those wind snakes now, they could still have a certain fighting strength when they flew low in the air during the war. If they were still stubborn enough to let them fight those griffins in the air..., the people on his side could only watch as they were slaughtered!

Thinking of this, Kagar finally turned his head away. Old Marn also sighed slightly, "Then tell them to retreat!"

Hoult nodded to Mundo beside him. Mundo picked up a huge horn, and a loud and clear sound of the horn instantly resounded in the sky. Countless wind snakes heard this sound and turned their heads to retreat towards the direction of the Beast clan.

The black mass of retreat only left hundreds of griffins hovering proudly in the air. The entire aura of the Beast clan was instantly dealt a great blow.

Of course, these Griffins didn't forget themselves and dive down to give chase. They knew that once they flew to where the ORC's firepower could cover their position, it would truly be a vicious beating. The Griffins were incomparably precious now..., the commander didn't dare to rashly wave. After circling for a while and seeing the orc clan's formation clearly, under the command of the commander, most of the Griffins returned to the rear to recuperate, leaving only a few to continue observing the Orc clan's movements.

At this point, in the first shot of the battle between the orcs, the humans had obtained an overwhelming victory and had completely taken control of the air!

The orcs who had lost in the beginning felt a trace of unease in their hearts.

Meanwhile, Rox and the others who had received the news in the distance heaved a rare sigh of relief. Previously, the failure of the scouts had caused them to fall into a great passive position, now, they did not even know how many Orcs were lying in ambush on the mountains on both sides of the Empire Avenue.

However, the clear view in front of them let them know that the southern tribes didn't have any means to deal with the Griffin Knights.

They didn't have to fight in the dark.

"This formation..." beside Rox, Arthur frowned as he looked at the sketch drawn by Rox after the Griffin troops provided information. "It's very generous!"

"Yeah..." Rox sighed slightly. Although he had grasped the opponent's formation, the opponent seemed to be prepared for it. The formation was upright and upright, making it difficult to deal with.

"Everyone says that the current chief of the Gale Tribe is the most outstanding existence in the past generations. It's not an exaggeration at all..." Rox sneered. "Pass down the message, the army will move out!"
