

A Bunch 1891

Chapter 1891: Gathering (Part One)

That night, Lieutenant mccarr led the two honorable priests and all the soldiers that could be mobilized in the town to Kadar village.

Walking on the road at night, Kosorma could clearly see that the situation around him was not quite the same as in the town.

All kinds of plants became ferocious, and many inexplicable vines expanded rapidly. It was clearly an official road, but many places were covered with thick green vines. At first glance, they looked like countless twisting giant pythons, it looked a little scary under the night sky.

Kosorma knew that this was the symbol of some power awakening. That power was changing the environment, releasing ancient silent elements. The first thing that changed after the spiritual energy was the plants, a large number of super-large-scale species that only existed in the ancient era would increase in number, and the quality would also become better and better.

The soldiers carefully looked around. They also knew that such creatures that suddenly mutated were often bloodthirsty, violent, and extremely aggressive!

Just like that, with a perturbed mood, the team slowly stepped into the road with lush vegetation. As soon as they entered, they saw many birds and beasts escape in a panic, causing a commotion.

Fortunately, the soldiers were riding on magical beasts. At least they were not shocked by the commotion. Their formation was still maintained.

This was the benefit of raising magical beasts. In many planets and planes, they were not compatible with machinery. Unless the god Lord of the mechanical civilization forcefully changed the laws, machinery would be a pile of scrap metal in this plane, without the aid of machines, the best tools for traveling were naturally these magical beasts.

They had strong endurance, good explosive power, and were very practical in traveling and exploring. They could also act as combat strength in emergencies.

Just like that, the group rode on a level-five magical beast and arrived outside the village in less than half a day.

But the strange thing was, the closer they got to the village, the less obvious the situation became. When they got within ten miles of the village, they would discover that the abnormal energy phenomenon seemed to have disappeared.., it gave people the feeling that the village seemed to be independent of this shocking change, as if it had been separated from the rest of the world.

However, the more it was like this, the more strange it became. When they got closer to the village entrance, the magical beast mounts began to show signs of unease. The exaggerated mutated forest did not make them uneasy. On the contrary, when they came to such a normal looking village, each and every one of them seemed to be restless... ..

Everyone's expression changed, and their eyes became solemn. Even the leader, Koussouma, looked cautiously at the village in front of them... ..

Sir... why don't we... Go in during the day?"mccarr suggested carefully.

The power of the scorching sun came from other planets. Although it would provide vitality to the surrounding living planets, it would also suppress some of the planet's energy. Therefore, many sacrificial rituals that relied on the local energy... They would often use the time of night. In the face of indigenous gods, daytime operations were obviously safer... ..

"There's no need! "Koussouma said coldly, "We're here to do an investigation. During the day, the power lurks, how can we investigate? Moreover, this thing is more and more difficult to deal with the longer it takes. If we want to solve it, we naturally have to do it early!"

Sir is right... "hearing that, mccarr immediately showed an expression of being taught a lesson.

Of course, since they were here to do an investigation, they had to choose the time when the other party was most active. Why would they investigate when the other party was hiding during the day?

Moreover, the other party was a god that was in the process of recovering. The longer it took, the more power he would recover, and the harder it would be to deal with him. Under such circumstances, the more you ran away, the harder it would be to face him.

Of course, mcarr also knew this logic, but he still did not quite approve of barging in just like that...

He was able to become a military officer because he had gone to a military academy outside of the academy, so he naturally had experience. Yesterday, the Scout went to investigate and take samples based on the direction that the white-robed priest had pointed out, and very soon, he received information from the person in charge next door, the other two places were also Angela's divine system!

Just as he had guessed, the different kinds of evil gods of Angela's divine system had chosen to work together to suppress the local ancient gods for the first time. It was very obvious that they could make the evil gods give up their instinct to devour each other and choose to cooperate, the ancient gods that were being suppressed were definitely not simple.

It was definitely not a good idea to approach them too rashly.

"Hiss... "

Led by Kosma, the team slowly approached, but when they approached the door, the magical beasts that they were riding became more and more uneasy.

Many of the Magical Beasts'eyes were red, as if they were about to lose control!

Sir... "mccarr frowned. He was about to say something when he heard an extremely gentle tune, which made mccarr's originally extremely nervous mood inexplicably relax. ..

He looked in the direction of the voice in surprise and looked at the white-robed priestess who was standing side by side with Lord Kousoma. Under the silver mask of the priestess, a pair of emerald-colored eyes were filled with a sense of tranquility, a light tune came out from his slightly pale lips, and the tense atmosphere visibly eased up.

Not only the soldiers, but even the restless magical beasts also slowly calmed down under the tune. Their restless expressions slowly eased up, and it was obvious that they had relaxed!

looked at his companion, and his eyes flashed with a sharp light.

As a priestess, even though she was an evil priestess, she still recognized this elven race's popular song of Tranquility. This song of Tranquility came from the wood elf civilization, almost every elven race knew it.., it was one of the 24 basic music scores in the current Universe Federation Priestess course.

She naturally knew it too, it should be said that all priestesses knew it, but she knew in her heart, if she was the one singing it, it definitely wouldn't be the effect before her eyes!

As a priestess, she could clearly feel that not only were the soldiers and magical beasts behind her, even the violent elements around her had become extremely peaceful under the influence of the melody, the elements that should have rejected them were actually resonating with this fellow to such a high degree!

Should she say that he was indeed worthy of being a descendant of a great aristocratic family?

Kosorma faintly glanced at the other party and did not say anything. Just based on this move alone, it could be deduced that this fellow's singing level was definitely not inferior to the number one high priestess in the faction, Jon Ferro!

If she wanted to control this place, this guy was a formidable enemy...

Shaking her head, she was just about to lead the team to continue advancing towards the village when suddenly, her mind quivered. She clearly felt a very deep pressure coming from behind. This pressure, even under the serenity song.., it also made everyone nervous again. One by one, they pulled out their weapons and looked towards the back.

"Who is it?" mccarr took the lead and questioned the people in the distance.

Everyone looked over and finally saw a group of black-armored soldiers slowly walking toward them from a hundred meters away.

The aura of this group of soldiers was extremely deep, especially the one in the lead. He wasn't tall, but when he walked over step by step, he gave everyone an extremely obvious sense of oppression, even the dragon-level High Priest: Kosorma couldn't help but tense up!

Kosorma secretly activated her totem nervously.. She could feel that this group of inexplicable soldiers was extremely dangerous! !

Chapter 1892: "I've Forgotten!"

“Who... Are you guys?”

As a vanguard officer, although his rank was much lower than the two lords behind him. it was impossible for him to hide behind them.

However, the key point was that this group of people walking over, not to mention the leader, just the black armored soldiers behind him made his eyelids twitch. It was obvious that his intuition told him that every single one of them was not someone he could afford to offend!

Where did this group of people come from?

Mykel gripped his weapon nervously, cold sweat dripping down his back!

This plane had been operating for many years, and in recent years, it had only begun to build altars one after another to descend with high-level combat strength. There were less than a hundred second lieutenants like him who were level 11 in the entire Bolton Force., they were currently the combat strength in the middle of this battlefield, apart from a few high-level military officers.

However, the team in front of him was obviously not on the same level as him. Conservative estimates put the average level of pressure at around fourteen, and the guy in the lead was probably a dragon-level warrior, this kind of elite force was also an ace among Lord Bolton’s ten legions!

Theoretically, this continent should not be able to send such a team... ..

“First Lieutenant mccarr?” A slender female knight walked out from the black armor team. Her exquisite figure was wearing a special black soft armor, which gave her a unique sense of temptation.

“Yes! “mccarr’s eyes lit up, and he hurriedly replied.

Since the other party could recognize him, then there was a high probability that she wasn’t the enemy... ..

As expected, the next second, the female knight said, “We are the guards sent by Lord Vera to assist in this mission. Are you in charge of this place now?” Lord Vera?

Michal was stunned and quickly looked over. Only then did he see clearly that under the female Knight’s helmet, a pair of ruby-like beautiful pupils were particularly dazzling. It seemed that she was a high-level vampire!

“Greetings, my Lord! “Michal heaved a sigh of relief in his heart and quickly said, “The current situation here is temporarily presided over by the two honorable priestesses! “As he spoke, he retreated to the back very sensibly.

When there was danger, he should be at the front. When there was a discussion, he naturally could not continue to stand in front of the important figures. It had to be said that mccullough, this mixed demon, had gone through a period of experience, so he still had a basic grasp of the ways of the world. Otherwise, he would not have been promoted so quickly... ..

As for why the higher-ups sent two high priestesses, and why Lord Vera sent a team of such elites over, it was not something that a low-ranking officer like him should care about...

“Villafa’s people? “KOSORMA heaved a sigh of relief when he heard that they were on the same side, but then he put on a cold expression. “Where did that guy get the right to send people here on his own accord?”

It was one thing for the higher-ups to send a priestess to accompany them, but at the end of the day, Villafa had actually sent someone to take over. Was he trying to force his way in? Was she even worthy?

She had never paid any attention to the hybrid, Korsama, villafa. If not for the blood demon Saab supporting her, with her status as an outcast, neither the fallen angel nor the blood demon would acknowledge her.

Now that Saab had fallen, she did not know how to keep a low profile without any backing. She actually dared to extend her hand everywhere? Where did her confidence come from?

Bang!

As soon as she finished speaking, the short knight in the lead suddenly took a step forward. In an instant... ” “. An incomparably violent murderous aura came at her, causing the unprepared KOSORMA to stagger a few steps back. She almost fell to the ground!

“You! ! “Kosorma suddenly raised her head. After a short moment of embarrassment and anger, there was an incomparably cold killing intent. However, when her eyes met with the other party’s, the killing intent in her heart instantly disappeared without a trace!

What kind of eyes were those? They were bright red and had the characteristics of most blood breeds, but they were completely different. She swore that she had never seen such a type of blood breed before. In those eyes, it was as if there was a flame that could burn the world!

In just an instant, Kosorma had a feeling that she was about to be devoured. It was as if she was not facing that demonic blood breed, but an evil dragon that had been thirsty for a long time!

(‘I will only give you one warning! “The hoarse voice slowly came out from the armor. “If you dare to be disrespectful to Lord Vera, I will make sure that you, Lord Priest, don’t even leave a Trace!”

The warning voice was very low and calm. However, the shocking pressure made Kosorma not doubt what the other party said at all!

Where did Vera get such a crazy person?

After a short period of shock, Kosorma’s heart was filled with endless shame and anger. In terms of rank, as an evil priestess who had just advanced to the dragon rank, she was naturally inferior to Vera, who was already a star rank powerhouse.

However, in terms of status, she believed that she was definitely not inferior to that little bastard. As one of the five great priestesses of the faction, even a commander like SAB would be polite to her when he saw her! She had never thought that one day, she would be forced to such a state by one of Vera’s subordinates!

“You will regret what you did today, Soldier! “Kosorma took a deep breath and tried to calm down the raging anger in her chest as much as possible. Then, she replied coldly.

After saying that, she walked straight towards the village. mccal, who was following behind her, bowed respectfully to the black-armored soldiers. Then, he hurriedly followed her!

Looking at Kosoma’s back, mccal could not help but sigh in his heart. A Grand High Priest was actually forced into such a state by a guard with the rank of Major General!

Anyone with a discerning eye could see that although the priest’s last words were harsh, it was almost as if he was admitting defeat!

This major general was amazing. Since when did Lord Vera have such a guy under her?

Among the few of them, only Bai Cai was stunned...

Gou Dan was... so fierce...

Others might not know the details, but she certainly knew. They were infinitely close to dragon-level, but they were not dragon-level after all. The gap between them was actually very big. This guy was so intimidating.., wasn’t he afraid that the other party would be so embarrassed that he would really punch her?

Gou Dan nodded slightly and glanced at Bai Cai. His eyes were full of expressions: What are you looking at...

You’re awesome...

Bai Cai rolled his eyes, secretly gave him the middle finger, and also followed him...

After Kosorma walked far away, a hesitant voice sounded from behind,

“Captain... just now... If we fight... Are You Confident?”

“Of course not! “Wang Goudan replied confidently, “This dog... cough cough, this captain has tried many times to beat a dragon-level senior, but every time, he was beaten into a dog...”

Everyone: ” ..

Then why are you still jumping? ?

“Don’t be afraid! “Wang Goudan lectured seriously, “In this situation, if you are afraid, the other party will make things difficult for you. We are not from the right background, how can we withstand the other party’s careful interrogation? “Rather than being interrogated, why not scare her! ”

“Isn’t this too risky? “The female knight next to him frowned and said, “Besides, didn’t we already prepare a conversation technique for you?”

(‘I forgot! ”

Everyone: ” ..

Chapter 1893: The Guys who came out

“More and more people are coming...”

In the village of Kadar, the emaciated old village chief with a withered face looked at the crystal in front of him. The crystal vaguely showed the location of Goudan and the others...

“Ali, more and more knights are missing. If this continues, I’m afraid that the king will be alerted sooner or later...” “a beautiful middle-aged woman with a weathered face said worriedly.

“Knights?” “The old woman laughed strangely. “How do those guys outside look like the Knights of our country?”

The middle-aged woman: “ ... ”

“As for the King... “when the old woman said the word king, the sneer on her face became even more pronounced. “When he started to cooperate with these evil demons, he was no longer worthy of the title of King! ”

Hearing this, the middle-aged woman lowered her head in silence. Seventy-three years ago, this church of the Red Moon, which was originally notorious in the country’s history, had officially come to the front of the stage and become the first religion the kingdom supported.

As the King, His Highness Johnson had even taken the lead to become a believer. Not only did he wantonly support this foreign cult of demons, but he also used the power of the country to suppress other traditional religions. In the end, it had even developed into a bloody massacre!

This was especially so for the Church of light, which had once been slandered as a member of the cult of demons. It was wanted and strangled throughout the country. Up until now, over a hundred traditional temples had been destroyed and built with temples unique to the Red Moon...

In the entire kingdom, other than the church of the goddess of life, Euler, which had been preserved, almost all the other religions had been labeled as evil demons.

Seventy-three years later, the tyrant who caused all this was still alive, and time had not taken away even the slightest bit of his life. Yes, their king had made a deal with the Devil and had a longer life than ordinary people!

The middle-aged woman vaguely remembered that four years ago, when she sneaked into Stormwind City and was ready to ambush and assassinate this muddleheaded monarch outside the Crimson Moon Cathedral, she was shocked to see this old man who had lived for at least 130 years, he was as sturdy as a calf. Even if he said that he was a greatsword knight who was about to participate in the martial arts competition, she would believe it herself!

However, that vague face made the former imperial priestess very certain that that fellow was King Johnson!

That unbelievable scene made her believe that the church of the Red Moon that destroyed the light indeed possessed the power of the devil!

At this moment, she also agreed with the words of the village chief. Whether that sturdy king was really the king or not, it really remained to be seen!

However, no one would believe these things. Seventy years was enough time for that tyrant to completely cover up the truth and history. Now, the entire kingdom was filled with loyal believers of the Crimson Moon sect... The space for the light energy to survive was becoming smaller and smaller...

"I just want to say that it's not suitable for the higher-ups to pay attention to this place right now, isn't it?"

The village chief nodded slightly. "It's not the right time yet. Indeed, we still need to talk to the DeviPs believers and pretend to be snakes..." as she spoke, she faintly glanced at the people outside and walked down the stairs.

The old woman did not walk fast. Even with the help of the guards beside her, she was still slow to the point of annoyance. However, for some unknown reason, in just a few steps, the old woman and the guard had already reached the main street a hundred meters away from the room, in just a few more steps, they had arrived at the entrance of the village.

This feeling was as if they were fast entering time. When they came back to their senses, they were already there, but they could not remember how she got there...

The middle-aged woman looked at the old man's back and her tightly knitted brows did not relax.

The king had made a deal with the Devil and obtained the power to be reborn. However, this senior was clearly not an ordinary person anymore...

In fact, the other party's age could not be found. In fact, she was even a few months younger than him. She was also one of the grand priests of the Church of light. However, ever since she came to this village, she had come into contact with that existence, her appearance was aging day by day. In just a few months, she looked like an old and withered tree.

Obviously, she had made a deal too... Although the target of the deal was not the devil... . . But... .

Was the difference really that big?

The middle-aged woman looked at the church in the distance with a hint of wariness in her eyes...

To be honest, she did not really trust that thing in the church...

Although the teachings of the light also said that the god of life, Euler, was both the mother of life and the mother of all gods. Theoretically, she should be trustworthy, but for some reason, she felt that the thing in the church was... More dangerous than the Mad King, and... The village, including Ali, these people, always give her the feeling that something is not right... ? ... EEE... ?

wait. ... ? . What's that?

Suddenly, the middle-aged woman pounced on the window, a look of disbelief at the distance... . .

"My Lords, this is our village chief..."

Outside the door, the two familiar guards were still smiling.

At this moment, the two guards' expressions were becoming more and more relaxed in the face of such a large formation outside!

If it was the first time these extraterrestrial demon knights had arrived, they would still be a little terrified. But today, after a few waves of people entered the church without coming out, the two guards were becoming more and more confident!

The village chief was right. With the protection of Lord Euler, no evil demon would be able to stir up a storm!

"Village chief?" Kosorma looked at the other party, and then the corner of her mouth curled into a playful sneer...

This old man... ". He had died a long time ago. His soul was forcibly bound to his body. Although his body was coated with a large amount of spices, it still couldn't hide the rotten smell on his body!

In fact, the soldiers at the door were the same. She could tell just now that these soldiers' movements were extremely stiff, and the blood in their bodies had stopped flowing long ago. A body without high-end nerve connection technology, even if it was the main body., it was impossible for it to be able to bear the weight of an undead's body. It was only a matter of time before their bodies became stiff and rotten.

But it seemed that these people had yet to realize this...

However, this wasn't important. What was important was that she was now certain that the so-called god of life should be within this village. At the very least, there were traces within this village, because in the universe, only the laws of this plane., could forcefully leave a dead person in the living world!

"Lead the way..." ke suoma nodded slightly and smiled.

The village chief's turbid eyes fixed on the other party, then he bent his back and bowed with great difficulty. He turned around and with the help of the guards, he shakily walked into the village.

This woman... .. Was a little different from the previous one...

For some reason, the way she looked at him made him very uncomfortable. There was... A feeling as if he had been seen through, and there was even a hint of mockery in it. .

That mockery was high and mighty. Ever since she had received the power of the god of life, this was the first time she had been ridiculed like this. This made the old village chief's eyes flash with a rare hint of anger.

These demonic xenogeneics would be like all the others from before, receiving the goddess' cruel punishment without exception... ? ... Huh?

Suddenly, the village chief's originally vicious eyes became dull as he looked ahead in a daze...

All the guards, including the village chief, seemed to be frozen at this moment as they looked at the same spot in disbelief.

At that spot, a tall figure carrying a beautiful angel girl slowly walked over... ..

“How is this possible... “the village chief looked at this scene in a daze as he muttered in disbelief. .

Chapter 1894: the simple and honest senjin

“Wahahaha!”

The hearty laughter shook the tiles on the street, causing eardrums to hurt. The burly man carrying the two angels walked over with his bare chest exposed, his muscular body was especially eye-catching under the moonlight!

“Senjin? ? ? ?” mccarr was pleasantly surprised when he saw the man. For a moment, he didn’t care about etiquette and hurriedly walked up!

There weren’t many of his brothers who could survive and still be by his side. Senjin was definitely the one he was most at ease with, and he even planned to be his right-hand man in the future, his relationship with Senjin wasn’t something that his Zuma elven adjutant could compare to.

Before he came, he even thought that something had happened to Senjin. After all, Senjin definitely couldn’t handle the incident that had attracted so many high-ranking figures from the higher-ups. In addition to his heroic personality,. It was the easiest for him to fall over in such an unexpected incident...

He did not expect that this guy would actually survive. As expected, a fool’s Luck!

“You Bastard! “mccarr strode over and patted the other party’s thick shoulders with both hands. He nodded and said, “Are you hurt?”

“Hahaha! “Senjin grinned and put down the two little fellows who were clearly dizzy. He also patted the other party. “Why are you here?”

This familiar tone did not have the courtesy of a superior or subordinate, but it was also Senjin’s personality. mccarr felt relieved. After confirming that his good brother was still alive, his solemn mood immediately became much better.

“It’s good that you’re here! “Senjin grinned and said, “How many people did you bring? Come with me to save them. My little brats are still trapped inside... ”

“Inside?” Before mccarr could say anything, a faint voice came from behind him, “That church... have you been inside?”

Senjin frowned and looked over. It was Kosorma who spoke.

“This is the high priest, Lord Kosorma, who was sent by the higher-ups to lead this incident. Hurry up and Salute! “mccarr hurriedly patted the other party’s back to remind him.

“Oh Oh, greetings, my Lord! “Senjin instantly revealed a silly smile and hurriedly saluted. That silly smile made Kousema’s eyes block, he coldly glanced at mccarr and said, “You even let go of such a person to take charge of a side, yet you control people who can really do things by your side. You, a small officer, really know how to conduct yourself... ”

The people who could really do things naturally referred to the Zuma elven adjutant beside mccarr.

“Sir is right...” mccarr hurriedly lowered his head and smiled apologetically. He glanced at the adjutant and felt a slight chill in his heart.

He believed that the adjutant who had followed him all this time was not a bad person. Although he was not decentralized and independent, every time he asked for credit, he did it properly. Over the years, the rank of the adjutant was not lower than Senjin’s, and the resources that were given to him by the higher-ups., he believed that he did not mistreat this fellow, but he did not expect that this fellow would report him as soon as he came to the backstage!

It was said that the Zuma Elves were cool, and it was as expected!

“Ah Guo’s ability is outstanding, and she is meticulous in doing things. I can only be at ease with many things being discussed by her, so I can’t bear to be at ease... ”mccarr grinned.

“You sure know how to scheme! “KOSORMA sneered, “But it’s not a good way for a superior to keep locking people up for their own future!”

(‘My lord is right... “mccarr lowered his head even more, and the Adjutant, Argo, who was standing behind KOSORMA, did not say a word. It was obvious that he tacitly agreed with Kosorma’s words, which made mccarr’s heart feel even colder.

Perhaps this was the type of ingrate that he was not familiar with?

Senjin, who was next to him, immediately frowned when he heard that. He looked like he was about to open his mouth to refute, but before he could open his mouth, mccarr held his neck and forced his head down.

Senjin’s face immediately turned red, but he didn’t say anything rude in the end. This made mccarl secretly sigh in relief.

“Ah Guo will temporarily lend me as an assistant... “Kosorma didn’t have any intention of discussing it.

“Yes, sir... “mccarl quickly replied, but he knew in his heart that he wouldn’t return this loan. After this mission, there was a high chance that Ah Guo would get a recommendation to the military academy.

He did not expect that Aguo’s relationship with him would be so smooth!

This was originally a good thing, but unfortunately, the way the other party did it made people’s hearts feel cold...

“Tell me, soldier... “Kosorma’s heart felt a little better, and he directly asked Senjin who had just run out, “You’ve entered that church, what exactly is inside? y,

“Tell me in detail! “mccullough quickly patted Senjin, who had a dissatisfied look on his face, for fear that he would make a scene.

To be honest, he did not have much dislike for this overbearing high priest. After all, the high priest was just trying to protect a junior. It did not affect him much, he did not really like this guy, so it was good that he left. However, he felt a little sad. It was not because of his methods, but because he envied him for having such a protective elder, these bumpkin mixed demons could not even find a backer to protect their own. Although the conditions in the Bolton faction were much better than the abyss, discrimination and exclusion from high-species demons still existed!

At least, he knew that there was no mixed demon in the Bolton faction that could reach the rank of a general... .

Under mccarr's reminder, Senjin finally swallowed his anger and reported the situation in the church!

Space folding? An unknown creature that can imitate you? "Kosorma frowned after hearing it, it seemed that this was indeed the place where the native God sealed. Since it could create space folding, it meant that there was a very complicated arcane space under the church!

"How did you get out?" Kosorma looked at the other party with some confusion. How could a sergeant-level warrior run out of such a complicated place?

("I don't know..." Senjin rubbed his head and laughed foolishly. "Anyway, I just ran all the way. I ran all the Way Out!")

Everyone: "..."

"You bastard..." mccarr held his head helplessly. He didn't know what to say for a moment.

Even KOSORMA, who was a little mean, was silent for a few seconds. Finally, he shook his head and said, "A fool's luck..." after saying that, he ignored the man and walked straight to the church.

Judging from the intelligence displayed by this soldier, the information he could provide was limited. He would only know what was going on inside once he went in... .

The white-robed priest and the group of black-armored knights who followed behind looked at the silly mccarr with some bafflement and followed him. "You don't have to follow me..." mccarr patted senjin and said, "Wait outside and take a rest..."

"Hey, that won't do!" Sen Jin shook his head. "My men are still inside!"

Mccull looked at him and finally shook his head with a smile. However, he did not try to dissuade him. This guy was generous and loyal, and he was often at a disadvantage. However, as a friend, this kind of person was the most comfortable to get along with... ..

"You two don't have to follow us..." sen Jin bared his white teeth and smiled at the two Yang Rui and Chen Shanshan who were still too weak to stand up.

"Find a hotel to rest, but be careful..."

The two of them looked at each other, and a strange look appeared in their eyes... .

Their feelings were very complicated right now. As soldiers, theoretically speaking, they should have reported sen Jin's abnormality to their superior, but facing this big guy who had single-handedly saved them... They were unable to open their mouths for a moment....

Chapter 1895: Unexpected Players!

Not only was there two senjins, but the other party was also deliberately acting silly!

The two of them had seen with their own eyes how the other party had brought them out!

Under the situation of being chased by so many monsters, the other party did not forget the route he had taken before. After all, it was a maze-like spatial zone. The slightest mistake could cause one to be trapped between the endless spatial inflection points., you could not return to the previous inflection point.

However, the other party did not. He clearly remembered every inflection point he passed by. Under such a high-intensity chase, his sense of direction was extremely strong. He could even deduce through various traces and details to find a few nodes when he arrived, from there, he brought the two of them out safely!

The things that were shown in it, regardless of whether it was his skills, tracking ability, or control of the details, were so strong that it was shocking. He was definitely not as stupid as he appeared now. If the other party was only a level five NCO., the two of them really did not believe it!

If even a NCO was so amazing, what were they going to fight for? They should just go back to farming...

Senior, be careful... "Chen Shanshan looked at the other party with a complicated expression. In the end, she still offered her sincere blessing. No matter what the other party's background was, the gratitude for saving their lives was real.

Yang Rui pursed his lips, but he did not expose the other party. No matter what, the other party had saved them. Under such circumstances, even if the other party's background was a little abnormal, there should not be any malicious intent...

Furthermore, no one knew how many people this fellow came from. If he were to expose the other party's ingratitude, there was no guarantee that he would end up well. Why did he have to be such a despicable person?

Just like that, after watching Senjin leave with the adults, the two of them looked at each other.

"What should we do, Uncle Rui?"

"What should we do? We'll see what we can do!" Yang Rui smiled bitterly and drank a mouthful of the energy potion. He looked around and could clearly see that on the deserted street, behind the doors and windows, pairs of yellow-brown eyes were secretly spying on them.

He was now very sure that there was something wrong with these villagers. He had to quickly recover his strength so that he would not overturn the car.

(“My Lords... ”

Just as the two of them had yet to speak, a sinister voice suddenly sounded behind them. The two of them were so shocked that their hair stood on end. They looked at the owner of the voice in horror!

It was that emaciated old woman, the village chief...

When did this old fart... get close to us?

The two of them looked at each other warily, their muscles tensing up.

“Do you need help?”The old village chief smiled sinisterly. Regardless of whether it was his tone or his appearance, it did not seem like he wanted to help. Especially at night, it seemed even more sinister.

“Mm... we need a hotel to rest for a while!” Yang Rui stood up calmly and casually took out a spare giant sword from his space bag and placed it behind him.

The old woman looked at Yang Rui’s muscular body and the greatsword that was almost as tall as a person. She pursed her lips and smiled, “Alright, Alright, I’ll make the arrangements for the two Lords!”

As she spoke, she turned around shakily and slowly walked towards the direction of the tavern with the help of two guards.

Her appearance did not look like an existence that could approach the two of them silently...

“Uncle Rui... “Chen Shanshan also stood up and secretly transmitted her voice, “You still live here? I think it’s better to go out, right?”

“Do you think they will let us out?”Yang Rui asked back.

“Uh... “Chen Shanshan was stunned for a moment and said carefully, “But I felt that she was quite afraid of you just now...”

“But if I want to run away from here like she won’t be afraid!” Yang Rui low way: “You don’t find these guys like wild dogs?”? You Think You’re food, but you’re afraid to do it? The more that’s the case, the more we need to be confident that the dogs won’t attack us, especially now that we’re all out of energy... ..

Chen Sisi glanced at the surrounding houses, peeking into their eyes through the gaps of the windows, and nodded slightly.

“Not bad...”

Just as the two of them were planning to go to the hotel to recover their strength, another voice sounded.

This time, it was even more terrifying because this voice had appeared directly in their voice transmission channel! ! !

To be able to do this, it meant that... .. The person who had spoken had heard their voice transmission and knew their current state!

Gulp...

Yang Rui swallowed his saliva and turned his head stiffly. This time, he was truly scared out of his wits!

However, before he could turn around and see who it was, he heard Chen

Shanshan scream and immediately pounced over, "Xiao Yun! ! !"

Yang Rui was stunned and quickly turned his head. What caught his eye was an extremely short guy. This short guy was extremely familiar... ..

D-ball man? ?

He was a little stunned. This guy in front of him, from his appearance to his body shape, looked exactly like a d-ball man. Moreover, he was a standard Asian Asian Asian man... ..

"Hey... Let Go of me quickly... "the female voice was very displeased. "Your balloon-like two lumps of meat are trying to suffocate me to death, aren't they?"

"Annoying! ! "Chen Shanshan's face immediately turned red as she patted the other party. That expression of hers was definitely a bestie relationship... .

Developer?

Yang Rui narrowed his eyes. That was true. It seemed like only developers could maintain the appearance of a d-ball...

However, he had not heard of any developer players participating in the Abyss battlefield mission this time. In the base, the developer players would either enter the research institute to follow the instructors of the Academy for research, or they would hang out with the lord-tier players. They did not lack points at all., logically speaking, they should not be participating in such a risky mission.

"Xiao Yun, aren't you in the Academy? Why are you here?" These words immediately stunned Yang Rui!
Academy? which batch of players was this guy one of?

Currently, the only ones who could enter the academy were the most outstanding old players from back then. And according to what he knew, among that batch of awesome old players, there seemed to be only one developer... ..

"You are... senior rainy without melon?" Yang Rui couldn't help but ask.

"Uncle, you're exaggerating... "the girl grinned and said, "I'm much younger than you. It's better not to call me senior! "

Yang Rui: " . . . "

This guy was really rainy without melon!

There were many rumors about this person in the base. The former chief executive officer of the base was said to be the most trusted subordinate of the Seer Lord. He was the only private player whose administrative level was above the six City Lords!

Compared to Wang Goudan, who had killed Mister, rainy girl and melon-less seemed to be more frightening in the base... ..

This fellow... why was he here?

"Alright... "Guo Xiaoyun looked at the sky. "Let's go to the tavern first. Some troublesome people are coming, so we need to make some preparations..." Troublesome people?

Yang Rui was taken aback. He also looked at the sky.. who was the other party talking about?

Chapter 1896: Rain GirPs experience without a melon (Part 1)

The starry sky of the universe was incomparably vast. Most of the time, the journey of the spaceship was lonely. Many tourists would travel on the spaceship for tens of thousands of years, and there was not a single ghost in the starry sky... .

Mike was just like that. As a Ranger player, he and his personal battleship had been floating in the starry sky for more than 400 years. As a level 14 ranger, traveling for tens of thousands of years was a common occurrence, at the dragon-level gate, as long as one was not from a noble family, there were many situations where resources needed to be spent a lot of time to obtain.

For example, this time, he was sent by an employer to a place called the Kebo Star Field to collect a rare wind crystal resource. This was a risky job., it was said that the place where the wind crystals were produced had very ancient and violent elemental lifeforms. There were even things like wind binding spirits.

Of course, as a professional adventurer, this kind of adventure was routine, and before an adventure, it was a long journey waiting.

This was because wherever rangers like them were needed to collect materials, the officials did not have a teleportation channel. If they relied on the spaceship to travel, even if they had a map, they would move for hundreds of thousands of years. Therefore, the most basic quality of an adventurer was to be able to endure loneliness... ..

As usual, Mike carried out daily basic training on the spaceship. Currently, her physical condition could no longer be improved by relying on secret training alone. The only reason she persisted in training was to maintain the vitality of her body, even so, it was still a huge consumption. After training, she went to the cockpit again. She first looked at the intelligence analysis of the surrounding information. After confirming that the danger was not great, she prepared to unpack the film and television compressed package that she had downloaded, he prepared snacks and drinks and was ready to relax and enjoy the time.

Ice-cold wine, delicious snacks, and a large number of movies that could be selected were Mike's favorite pastimes when he was alone. During his hundreds of thousands of years of travel, he had relied on this hobby to pass the long years.

However, this time, there was a temporary passer-by during the long journey...

"Do You Want One?" Mike raised the bottle in his hand to another petite girl in the cockpit and said, "The ale that is the specialty of the Biles galaxy is very authentic..."

"I can't get used to the ale..." in the cockpit, a little girl sitting on a comfortable massage chair looked at the bottle and shook her head. "Do you have any fruit

"Fruit wine?" Mike shook his head. "Who would drink that? Let Me Make You a cup of juice..."

"Thank you!" The little girl bowed politely and thanked him. Her small black pupils were shaped like crescent moons, which made Mike's heart skip a beat.

To be honest, this little girl's appearance was not considered stunning. In the universe, she could even be considered inferior. Not to mention the beautiful elves, she was even slightly inferior to the women of some warrior races, although the women of those warrior races weren't gentle and beautiful, their heroic spirit and handsome edges couldn't be compared to the woman in front of them. To be honest, when they were serious, they were only slightly better than the gnomes.

But this inexplicable temperament that was born from the bones was very attractive.

"Little Melon, which Academy are you a student from?"

This girl called herself little melon. She was one of the survivors of a passenger ship that had suffered an accident. It was said that she had encountered a space storm when she was crossing the black hole. A whole ship of people had been swept into it, and when she had sailed the ship and met her..., she was relying on a student's trial mecha to barely drift in the starry sky.

To be honest, it was very rare for a passenger ship to encounter a space storm when crossing a black hole. After all, before the federation's official passenger ship crossed the black hole, there were professional seers and space masters who tested the stability of the black hole, the probability of an accident was less than one in ten million.

It could be said that it was really unlucky to encounter it, but the key point was that it was really lucky to be able to survive it, especially after surviving and meeting him.

If he did not pass through this star field, perhaps no one would pass through it for hundreds of thousands of years. It was impossible for a mecha to fly back to the nearest supply station. It had to be said that the little girl's Luck was extremely good!

Mike's sigh was also the sigh in the girl's heart at this moment... .

She had not expected that she would encounter such a thing. It was fortunate that she had activated her amazing calculation ability at the last minute and calculated the weakest spot in the storm and forcefully relied on the heavenly demon armor to pass through it. Otherwise, there was a high chance that she would still be enjoying the cold in the storm like the other passengers in distress... ..

Moreover, he was quite lucky to have met a personal ranger. It was obvious that no regular fleet would pass by this godforsaken place, and he almost became a dog...

He had to be more careful in the future...

(‘I’m a new student of the Blue Spirit Academy!’ Guo Xiaoyun replied obediently.

‘Blue Spirit Academy? Yo, a top student!’ Mike’s eyes instantly lit up, he naturally knew about the top ten famous schools in the universe. Actually, he had a dream of becoming a mecha master.

Unfortunately, his family didn’t have the money, so he could only study the most practical ranger major. He remembered that when he was young, Blue Spirit Academy was the Holy Land of his dreams...

‘Mecha Master?’ Mike asked with anticipation. ‘Master of the mind...’

‘Oh, sure!’ Mike’s eyes became even brighter.

Mecha Master was a piloting profession. Regardless of whether it was the spirit or agility department students, they could choose. However, it was different for Master of the mind. As the ace profession of the Mecha Academy., master of the mind could only be applied for by high-quality spirit department students. Moreover, the market demand was huge.

This was especially so for a master of the mind who graduated from a top-tier institution like the Blue Spirit Academy. Once he came out, there would basically be a bunch of factions fighting over him. After all, a master of the mind with good aptitude would be an extremely outstanding commander on the battlefield, his position in the factions was often even higher than that of a priest!

Such a child had to be roped in properly. After all, if a ranger like him wanted to receive a mission that was cost-effective, it was necessary for him to have good connections. If he could befriend a future high-ranking commander of a large faction, then... There would be no shortage of missions in the future... ..

Of course, it did not mean that the other party would definitely grow to such a level, but the probability was very high. It would not be a loss to rope in and befriend him... ..

Thinking of this, the smile on Mike’s face became even more gentle. He smiled and said, ‘It’s fine. You can rest assured in my spaceship. Once I get the materials for this mission, I will send you back...’

‘Thank you, senior Mike!’ Guo Xiaoyun smiled and thanked him again.

This humble attitude made Mike’s eyes become gentler. Most of the geniuses from top-tier institutions were arrogant. Very few people had such a humble attitude. However, it was also such people who were easier to mingle in the forces. As long as nothing unexpected happened... ..

Just as he was about to say something, the AI in the cockpit suddenly rang. ‘Please pay attention, host. There’s a large spaceship approaching 30 stars ahead!’

‘A large spaceship?’ Mike was stunned. ‘What type is it? A merchant ship or a military ship? Upload the image!’

‘Can’t upload it. The spaceship has a high-level magnetic field enchantment, so it’s impossible to see through it...’

“Magnetic field enchantment?” Mike’s face suddenly turned serious. Even Guo Xiaoyun frowned and narrowed her eyes...

It was not a good thing to encounter a spaceship of this level in the wild..

Chapter 1897: Rain GirPs encounter without a melon (Part 2)

The vast starry skies were indeed lonely on a long journey, but this did not mean that travelers wanted to meet other spaceships on this lonely journey, especially spaceships that were obviously much higher in rank than themselves!

This was because there was nothing to do in these unofficial galaxies. Other than adventurers like them, there were also interstellar pirates!

Even if they weren’t pirates, meeting their peers wasn’t always a good thing...

“Change the route and avoid that ship!” Mike immediately ordered.

“It’s master... “the AI received the order and was about to execute it, but in the next second, it immediately said, “Unknown ship requesting contact. Do you want to open the link?”

Or was he being targeted... . . this prompt immediately made Mike’s heart sink. .

“Link! ”

Facing the link request, he did not hesitate, because he knew very well that in such a vast space, a low-to-mid-sized private airship like his would not be able to avoid a warship of the other party’s level!

Soon, a huge HD screen appeared in the cockpit. On the screen, it was a thin man in a gray suit. His face was pale, his white hair was beautiful, and his pair of dark green eyes carried a cold aura of death...

Undead! !

Mike’s heart sank even more!

This was the type he didn’t want to meet the most among all the types!

It wasn’t unusual to meet undead in the Northern Star Field, but it didn’t mean that they were friendly. On the contrary, many chaotic areas were the hunting grounds of undead creatures. If they were noticed by ordinary pirates, it was likely that they would be robbed.., if they were noticed by the undead, it was very likely that they would become the experimental subject of a lich!

“Greetings, senior. May I ask what advice you have for me?” Mike stood up directly, bowed respectfully and asked straightforwardly.

“Don’t be nervous, Wastaya people... “the man opposite him had a cold expression... His tone carried a hint of comfort. As he spoke, he gently took off the hood on his head, revealing the furry pointy ears on his head, as well as the nine white tails that suddenly appeared behind him...

Heavenly Fox Clan?

Mike took a deep breath and subconsciously stood at attention. He was one of the more common azure foxes among the wastya Fox clan. Although wastya had a large population, the majority of the Fox clan was ruled by the Heavenly Fox Clan., the moment Mike saw the Heavenly Fox's nine tails, he subconsciously stood at attention and saluted. It was almost an instinct that was engraved in his genes.

However, he subconsciously felt that it was strange. Logically speaking, most undead would not dare to use a body of the Heavenly Fox's level. Once it was discovered, it would probably be a big dispute. After all, the undead were already hated by all races, if something like stealing the body of a top-tier royal race happened again, it would probably cause quite a stir in diplomacy.

However, if the other party was the undead of the Heavenly Fox clan, it would be wrong. Most of the fallen heavenly foxes would be taken back into their bodies. Even if the undead were to return, they should use other bodies... ..

On the other hand, Guo Xiaoyun looked at the other party with a hint of bafflement in her eyes.

She had come into contact with the undead Alice for a long time. She basically understood that when the undead returned and used their bodies, they would mostly give off an awkward feeling, just like a person wearing clothes that did not suit him, her senses would give people an abnormal feeling.

But this guy in front of her was different. It was very obvious that his movements were smooth and natural, and each of his actions revealed the noble temperament unique to skyfoxes. It did not seem like a simple body, but more like a real skyfox.

But she also knew that even a skyfox undead could not have a Skyfox body, unless... ..

Guo Xiaoyun narrowed her eyes slightly. She instantly recalled the incident that Bai Cai and the others had encountered in the hemlock forest a few days ago!

According to the intelligence, there was a group of undead that did not require a body to enter the material universe. They had a special method that allowed them to directly materialize in the material universe!

Could it be...

"May I know what your orders are?" Mike took a deep breath and hurriedly lowered his head to ask humbly.

No matter what the other party was, he was not someone he could afford to offend. Lowering himself was the only option...

"It looks like you're here for a mission, right? Are you familiar with the situation in the star field here?"

Mike was slightly taken aback by these words. How many people here were unfamiliar with the surroundings? Could it be that this was the other party's first time here?

"I've done a few missions, so I'm not very familiar with it..."

"Do you know the Acura Battlefield?"

“Acura Battlefield?” Mike was stunned again, but he quickly said, “I know it...”

It was a large-scale level-three star battlefield nearby. The last time he had done a mission for a certain Lord, he was in charge of surveying the ley lines and finding ancient god ruins for them.

He remembered that the Lord who had hired him seemed to be a rare demon lord of the Abyss. His name was Bolton, and he seemed to be a very generous guy. He had given him a very generous reward, and he had even invited him to join his faction, he had formed a new army with a guy named Rennes.

He had been conflicted over this matter for a long time. After all, this was the first time he had seen a level-13 guy actually become a commander of a deity faction of that level. This was a situation that only small deity factions would have.

However, the scale of the other party’s faction was not small. Conservatively speaking, there were at least five large-scale star systems as colonies. It was said that he was a potential deity lord with very good momentum in the Eastern Star Field.

For such a Lord to be the commander, according to Mike’s understanding of the power, it should be at least a star-level powerhouse, right?

This pie that was too unmatched in strength surprised Mike, but at the same time, it raised a hint of vigilance. The viridescent Fox clan had always been cautious. Although such a serious case of unmatched virtue was full of temptation, it was also full of danger that could not be seen, after considering it over and over again, he still refused at that time. He even deliberately avoided this demon overlord when accepting missions later on.

However, he did not expect that after so many years, he would be fated to meet that Lord again.

Because looking at the other party, it was likely that he wanted to lead the way himself...

As expected, the next second, he said, “We have just entered this place and are very unfamiliar with the route. Although we have a map, it is inevitable that there will be deviations. Fellow countryman, can you lead the way? I will definitely reward you greatly!”

“You are too kind, my Lord...” Mike quickly replied, “It is my honor to be able to serve you, my Lord...”

He did not expect to receive a great reward. If the other party could have some moral integrity and not make things difficult for him, he would have to thank the WASTYA main spirit for his blessings!

On the other side, Guo Xiaoyun lowered her head to hide her expression...

Eulogizing the battlefield, she could now basically confirm that that fellow was the so-called elite undead of the ten Kings Palace according to the intelligence!

But the problem was, according to the information given by the Liege, six of the ten kings’ teams had already cooperated with them, and that bunch of Bok Choy had directly become the team leader. But that guy on the screen just now., was not in the Liege’s information.

Then it was very likely that it was that so-called ancient king’s team...

Tsk...

What a coincidence!

Chapter 1898: the approaching ancient kings!

This was definitely a spaceship from a powerful faction...

As soon as he boarded the spaceship, Mike had judged from his experience... ..

As an adventurer, Mike's love for small and medium-sized airships and battleships was no less than his love for fine equipment. Just like the people of D-world loved famous horses in ancient times and famous cars in modern times, in the federation, spaceships were the luxury vehicles that many people pursued.

Mike had never seen the model of this black spaceship before. One look and it was obvious that it was privately made. However, its level of sophistication was no less than the top-grade models that she had dreamed of.

The black dragon gold outer shell material, the ultra-level-10 arcane defense array, and the energy supply speed when it was parked in space, it was at least a dream dragon-level spaceship engine!

Not to mention the luxurious interior, the soft texture of the feet was obviously the high-quality magical beast skin above level 10. The surrounding wood was also high-grade, using advanced living wood technology, it made the room full of vitality.

What a good ship...

Mike could not help but praise in his heart.

Guo Xiaoyun, who was at the side, was speechless when she saw the other party's envious expression that almost made her drool. Under such circumstances, she still had the energy to sigh about the other party's luxurious spaceship. It had to be said that her heart was quite big.

Soon, the two of them were guided by the AI to a viewing platform set up at the center of the spaceship.

As a medium-sized spaceship, this viewing platform was set up in an exceptionally luxurious manner. It had high-quality high-grade X-ray crystals as well as all sorts of stargazing equipment. The value of one set of equipment was estimated to be at least 500 million federation coins online. Just this viewing platform alone... A ranger like Mike would have to work hard for over a hundred years... ..

The kind that did not eat or drink...

And at this moment, the heavenly fox undead standing in the middle of the observation platform looked to be about the same age as him. It had to be said that the gap between people was really huge... ..

"Greetings, senior..." Mike stopped drooling at the corner of his mouth and bowed respectfully.

The other party's growth ring was about the same age as his. It should be under 300,000 years old. For a life form above level-10, it was the prime of its youth.

However, the other party was an undead. Who knew what kind of old monster was behind his body. Call him senior first to ensure the bottom line... ..

The heavenly fox undead nodded slightly and glanced at rainy melon-less behind him.

According to the federation's official information on the spaceship's level, there should only be one person. He naturally had to take note of the sudden appearance of another person... ..

Rainy girl saw this and carefully hid behind Mike. Then, she stuck her head out to take a look, like a kitten that had just entered an unfamiliar environment...

"This is a child that I saved on the way, and he is a student. He is studying at the Blue Spirit Academy..."
"Mike quickly explained.

"The Blue Spirit Academy?" The undead smiled. "I know that there was an accident in the Brooks Galaxy. It was a school ship belonging to the Blue Spirit Academy. Was he the new survivor of that accident?"

"Yes..." the one who answered was still Mike. Rainy Girl, Wu Gua, was even more afraid as she shrank behind Mike. She looked extremely pitiful.

The undead retracted his gaze and did not continue to observe.

The opponent's energy was very weak. He was estimated to be below level-12.

The threat level was extremely low, and there was not much of a problem with his background. After all, the Blue Spirit Academy's school bus accident was indeed real, and based on the possible spatial distortion caused by the black hole storm..., it was possible for it to appear in this star field.

Moreover, the students of the Blue Spirit Academy all had numbers, so it was very easy to investigate. Later, the AI would be able to check it out. As long as the student's identity was confirmed, the suspicion of being a spy could basically be eliminated.

After all, the black hole spatial storm was unlikely to be man-made. Moreover, if the car full of Blue Spirit Academy students were killed by man-made means, the consequences would be quite serious... He naturally wouldn't believe that someone would make such a ruckus just to plant a level-12 little guy in their place, unless they were crazy...

"Are you familiar with the battlefield situation?" The undead asked directly.

"Not very familiar..." Mike smiled embarrassedly and said, "I've only been on a mission once, so I roughly know some of the situation and some of the terrain, but I don't know many details. After all, I didn't stay here for long..."

"Um... are you familiar with Lord Bolton?"

Hearing this, Mike was stunned. Guo Xiaoyun, who was hiding behind Mike, also had a cold look in her eyes..."

Bolton? Why did this guy deliberately mention Bolton?

"Um... I'm familiar with him. I received the mission from Lord Bolton..."

“Oh?” The other party nodded slightly and smiled. “That’s quite a coincidence..”

“Hehe... ”

“Tell me... how is Bolton’s forces doing on that battlefield? How much combat power do they have? That planet should be under a defensive mechanism, right? What is the highest level of combat power that Bolton’s forces can descend on?”

Mike paused for a moment. To be honest, as a well-educated ranger mercenary, his employer’s information was kept confidential due to his professionalism. However, looking at this guy in front of him, if he didn’t tell him, he wouldn’t be able to pass the threshold... .

Taking a deep breath, Mike finally put down his professional integrity, he said honestly, “The arrangement of the battlefield is too confidential. As a mercenary, I naturally don’t know about it. I only know that Lord Bolton’s forces control a large-scale inland country on that continent, with a population of more than one billion. According to the information I learned during the last mission handover, Lord Bolton had sent the first dragon-level powerhouse to that battlefield ten years ago... ..

“Ten years ago? Dragon-level?”

The undead smiled and nodded. This information was basically consistent with the information that he had spent a large sum of money to buy. It seemed like there was no problem.

On a planet with a defensive mechanism, high-level life forms could only pass through the method of descending. This required a large amount of effort and time to set up. Ten years ago, they could only release one dragon-level life form. In just ten years... They should only be able to release ten at most.....

It should be impossible to release a star-level expert. Under normal circumstances, they would need to operate for at least a thousand years before they would have a chance.

After all, the information said that the plane was in the age of chaos, and the quality of the believers they collected was very low. If they wanted to summon a star-level expert, they would need at least a million level three believers. This would require a large amount of time to nurture.., it wasn’t a simple matter.

If that was the case, they wouldn’t have any natural enemies... ..

“Alright, I roughly know the situation... “the undead looked at Mike and said, “Go back to your spaceship and lead the way. Find the shortest route, don’t play tricks, I won’t let you do it for nothing! “As he said that, he threw a bag of things over.

Mike hurriedly caught it, opened it, and his entire body trembled.

A bag of black crystals!

It was worth at least two billion, and there was no market for this kind of material. It was not a problem to find a reliable buyer in the black market!

He might not be able to earn so much money even in 500 years!

“Thank you, Senior! “Mike said sincerely.

“Do well... “the undead waved his hand to signal for him to leave, “I won’t mistreat you! ”

“Yes, yes...”

Behind him, Guo Xiaoyun also looked at Mike’s pocket with envy, but her heart was heavy.

It seemed that she had to find a way to get to the battlefield first and inform Goudan and the others!

Chapter 1899: Escape (Part One)

“Little melon... I’m sorry... It seems that I won’t be able to send you back in a short time... “Mike, who was at the control panel, smiled apologetically at Guo Xiaoyun.

He also knew that such a temporary mission to the battlefield would take a few months to complete. If there was an accident, it would probably take a few years. For a mercenary like him who had already graduated, this was naturally not a problem, he could complete a mission for more than a hundred years.

However, it was different for a student who was studying in a high school. Every day in an advanced academy was precious. The quality of the planet and the resources of the academy, the guidance of the advanced teachers, and the countless benefits of the academy.., the loss of a day would probably take years to recover, not to mention the loss of a few years.

Moreover, the opponent’s growth rings were only over a hundred, which was the best period for the development of the spiritual core. This was the most time that could not be delayed...

“It’s okay...”Guo Xiaoyun smiled understandingly. “Uncle, you don’t want to do this. What can we do about this kind of accident?”

Mike’s heart skipped a beat again. This kind of understanding child was rarely seen. Sigh, let’s wait until we get to the battlefield and see if the military officer he knew ten years ago was still there. If he was there, he would do him a favor... Let it send the little guy back...

While Mike was thinking about this, Guo Xiaoyun was looking outside, secretly thinking about the next strategy!

Guo Xiaoyun knew about the mission Bai Cai and the others had taken this time. Her original plan was to take advantage of the exchange outside the academy to think of a way to leave the team and rush to the mission site.

However, she did not expect to encounter a storm. Fortunately, she did not die and really arrived at the location not far from the mission’s objective. She did not know if it was luck or not...

According to the mission information, nine teams from the mysterious tenth seat of the King of Death had participated in this mission. Six of them were the new king teams, which were the junior teams formed by the new evil God who had joined the so-called tenth seat of the king.

After the incident in the Hemlock Forest, Bai Cai, Goudan, and the others became the captains of the six new king teams respectively. They were partners, so there was not much of a problem. The more troublesome ones were the three so-called ancient king teams!

According to the information provided by Rose, the ancient kings were originally mighty figures in the death realm. The Devil Abyss that they built could be traced back to the first year of the natural disaster. It was said that the ancient Devil Abyss Palace had nurtured many incredible characters, one of them was Alsace, who had single-handedly brought about the natural disaster in the universe!

No one knew who the four ancient kings were. The positions of the ten kings had been reincarnated. Alsace was once one of the ten kings, there was another secret: the fourth Lord of the Advanced Universe Federation, His Highness Sylvanas was once one of the ten kings!

However, the last six new kings had changed many times over the countless eras. However, the first four ancient kings had never wavered from their throne. Rose speculated that those guys were probably the rulers of the world of death!

Their ancient king team was famous in the world of death because there were many familiar mighty figures in the ancient king team!

For example, natural disaster knight Arthas, Queen Xi, Queen Xi's ten great liches, and the Four Great Chaos Knights. It was said that they all came from the ancient king team.

This sounded very scary. In other words, the so-called ancient king team might have a top genius like the young Queen Xi!

And according to the intelligence, the threshold of the ancient king team was dragon-level!

The rain girl, Wu Gua, had already seen many dragon rank powerhouses in the academy. Even an ordinary dragon rank instructor would often rub themselves against each other, not to mention a genius dragon rank powerhouse like the opponent.

However, it was fortunate that Bai Cai and the others were more or less on the same side as the ancient king team. Even if they competed with each other, they should not be killed by the opponent's ruthless methods... .. Right...

But no matter what, they had to inform Bai Cai and the others in advance.

Because according to the intelligence, these guys should only arrive here a year later, but now it seemed that was not the case... This had to let Bai Cai and the others prepare in advance... ..

"Little melon... "Mike looked at Guo Xiaoyun who was in a daze and waved his hand in front of her. "What are you looking at?"

"Oh... "Guo Xiaoyun came back to her senses and smiled. "I'm looking at that spaceship. It's so magnificent. I wonder how much it costs to have such a spaceship..."

"This one... "Mike also sighed and looked at the spaceship outside. He said faintly, "The conservative estimate is 10 billion!"

“So expensive?” Guo Xiaoyun was stunned. This time, she was not faking it. Obviously, she was shocked by the price. After all, she had been in charge of the flowing water in the seer faction before.

As a heavenly lord who owned rare energy ores, Seer’s flowing water was only a few hundred million a year. The loan of tens of billions of dollars had been extended for tens of thousands of years, yet a spaceship like this was worth tens of billions?

How did an ordinary Lord’s battleship team be formed?

“Of course it’s expensive!” Mike laughed. “Let’s not talk about other things. The spaceship’s outer shell is made of black dragon gold. The dragon bone material is at least at the level of gold essence. It might even be mica essence or single star Jade. These materials are sold in grams on the market. Do you think it’s expensive to build a spaceship?”

“Ugh...” Guo Xiaoyun was silent for a few seconds and thought to herself, damn rich people. .

What should I do if I suddenly hate the rich?

“Such a good spaceship, I’m afraid I won’t have a chance to take it in the future...” Guo Xiaoyun looked regretful. “Why didn’t they leave us on the spaceship? There’s no need to let Uncle Drive your broken spaceship if you want to lead the way “It’s So Big. There should be a parking space for it,

“What’s a broken ship?” Mike rolled his eyes immediately. “My ship is very powerful, okay? The materials used are all advanced gray crystals, and the keel is made of MO Xier titanium steel. In addition to the equipment and weapons inside, it cost me hundreds of millions of dollars!”

“Uncle, you’re lying!” Guo Xiaoyun pouted. “You’re bullying me because I don’t know how to do it, aren’t you? “When did gray crystals become advanced materials? “Besides, your shell is only made of gray crystals, and a large area of it is made of lamivine steel. Even if the keel is made of Moxi’er titanium steel, including the engine, your ship is at most 50 million, right? “How can I use a few hundred million yuan?”

“Uh... how Am I lying?” Mike’s face immediately turned red. “I haven’t finished. The most valuable part of my spaceship is my engine!”

Guo Xiaoyun: “Engine?”

“Don’t doubt it!” Mike regained his pride and said, “Let me tell you, many young masters have offered a few hundred million yuan for my engine!”

Shhh... “Guo Xiaoyun let out a long hiss, Mike was annoyed by the look on his face, which made him angry. He couldn’t help but say, “I’m telling you the truth. Don’t you believe me. If my engine is at full power, the boat outside might not be able to catch up with me!”

“Really?” Guo Xiaoyun’s eyes flashed, and the look of disdain on her face became even more serious. She pouted and said, “I don’t believe you unless you let me see...”

Chapter 1900: Escape (middle)

This engine was indeed a private modification, and it was obvious that a lot of effort had been put into it...

"This is a modified version of the NOYUN fourth-generation engine, right?" Guo Xiaoyun looked at the engine up close and asked with narrowed eyes.

"Oh, sure!" Mike immediately smiled. "There are not many dolls nowadays who know about this model!"

The Noyun series was one of the best-selling models developed by the great lord of the Southern Star Field, Lord Poksey. However, as early as three eras ago, the ninth generation of Noyun announced that the series had stopped production and had instead developed the shining star technology's shining bee model, and the Noyun IV as a five-era pre-classic model, now very few young people really know.

"I know a little about it..." Guo Xiaoyun pursed her lips and said with a smile, "This model has been discontinued for so long, but you still managed to find the prototype. You even copied the classic beehive cold water technology. This requires a specific water cooler technology and ancient star ice synthetic material. Where did you get it?"

"Well, it took me a lot of effort!" Mike immediately smiled proudly. "I bought it from a small space zone under Lord pokesis's banner. There are still many classic models of siege engines there. As long as you are willing to spend money, I can set up a fire for you. At that time, I gathered dozens of enthusiasts and ordered this model together. I ordered over a hundred of them, which made them reluctantly willing to open fire and get me a batch of them.

They might even be out of print..."

"Tsk... Uncle, you can do it..." Guo Xiaoyun narrowed her eyes and gently touched the fuselage with her hand, once the insight skill was activated, most of the deconstruction was instantly displayed in her mind. Without saying a word, she began to calculate the maximum power of this engine in her mind!

"The circuit of the ice pressure was modified, the latest cold pressure technology was used, and then the mechanical wind group was changed. The core was directly replaced with the heart of the Sea Dragon's Fury Sea, and the circuit was reassembled using the Markell shunt method. It's indeed quite exquisite..."

Once these words were said, the originally smug Mike was suddenly stunned and looked at her in surprise...

He had been modifying and researching this for nearly 100,000 years, and many great dragon-level machinists did not dare to say that they could see through his design at a glance. This girl...? ... was she really a first-year freshman?

"Was she born into a mechanical family?" Mike narrowed his eyes and asked. It was obvious that he was starting to be a little wary of this girl...

"No, my dad sells cold powder..." Guo Xiaoyun cracked a smile and said, "It's just that people are too smart and learn too quickly."

"Hehe..." Mike sneered and took a step back. I Don't believe you...

Sigh... "Guo Xiaoyun obviously noticed the other party's vigilance and shook her head. She was actually quite sincere to this guy. At least, what she said just now was the truth... ..

She knew all this because she was indeed learning too quickly...

She had not been idle during the year she came to the university. In the university, her top developer brain was like a dried sponge that had fallen into the sea, rapidly absorbing all the knowledge that she could absorb. The efficiency was so fast., it shocked her mentor to the point that he was numb.

Perhaps no one dared to believe that this guy had almost completed a fifty-year course for a normal university student in just a short year!

Master of the mind was a major that was very difficult to graduate from. Apart from the design of the mind major and the essence of spiritual energy refinement, there were also many other minor majors, these included mecha operation, arcane mastery, mechanical alchemy, and materials science, which were all quite difficult minor subjects.

And in the Master of the Mind Major's rules, the selected minor majors had to be at least grade A, and among them, mecha operation had to be at least grade A + before they could graduate.

To reach this level, many students would normally have to train for seventy years before they could guarantee that they would be able to pass their major and meet the standards of their part-time major. But Guo Xiaoyun... ! ... only took one year!

Her results had yet to be announced. If it were to be announced, it would definitely cause a storm. This was because even the descendants of the royal family would not be able to have this kind of learning ability. One had to know., this 70-year standard was set for the students of the Blue Spirit Academy. As long as one could enter the Blue Spirit Academy, who would not be a genius among their peers?

Mike was a mechanical ranger. Although he did not graduate from a key academy, he was still a rare high-quality student. After graduating for hundreds of thousands of years, he had accumulated a large amount of experience in the field of machinery, especially in the field of engine modification, he could already be considered as one of the core talents of the federation.

Among his peers, he believed that there were not many who could have their own specialty. Naturally, he would not have thought that the engine that he had spent so much effort to modify would be seen through by a white-haired junior, a first-year freshman!

"Ai... activate the indoor defense system... "facing this kind of abnormal guy, Mike did not hesitate to transmit his voice to the AI to activate the self-protection mechanism!

But what made him feel cold was that the AI did not respond to him...

"Ai?" "I turned it off... "a calm voice responded to him, naturally not the APS voice that he had expected.

These words made his heart go cold...

This guy was not only a super high-level mechanic, but also a top-notch hacker. He had only seen this kind of thing where the AI was turned off silently in someone else's territory in some movies. It was not that it did not exist in the world... But it was impossible for someone of his level to encounter it... ..

First, it was the unknown and strange undead, and then this even stranger little girl. He felt that he was in big trouble today... .

Bang!

Without any hesitation, Mike suddenly retreated backward. The intelligence had been turned off, so the entire cabin should be in a manual state. He had the highest authority, even if the other party had control of the Intelligence Center.., he should not be able to change his authority so quickly. Moreover, he had the emergency system!

However, before he could retreat two steps, it was as if he had hit an invisible iron wall. His entire skeleton was almost shattered!

Faint ripples were set off in the air, as if a stone had fallen into a huge lake. In just a moment, peace was restored... Mike's heart was filled with despair!

Mental Energy Wall!

With such strength, he was definitely a dragon-level powerhouse!

Fortunately, this guy had been acting so well these past few days...

"Who exactly are you? What does it have to do with those guys outside?" Mike took a deep breath in pain and asked directly.

"Didn't you read my information? Do you want me to dictate it to you?" Guo Xiaoyun fiddled with the engine and asked without turning her head.

At such a close distance, she didn't seem to be worried that a ranger would pose any threat to her.

"Ha... "Mike laughed. "Is it interesting for you to continue pretending to be young at this time?"

Hearing this, Guo Xiaoyun stopped what she was doing and turned around stiffly to look at Mike. "I'm not pretending to be young, I'm really young!"

Mike:" ..."

This guy is a pervert, right? Maybe he's an old lady who can't accept the passage of time. It's possible....
