

A Bunch 231

Chapter 231: the proudest gesture!

Actually, Seer had received an invitation before he came, but he did not take it seriously in his heart... ..

The Alumni Association of Heavenly God Academy was held once every 10,000 years. This was a celebration for Heavenly God Academy to show its appeal to the outside world and to the academy. It was also a grand occasion for the academy to give the students of Heavenly God Academy a chance to befriend a great lord, it could be said that this was a rare benefit for the academy.

In theory, this alumni association could be attended by all the Heavenly God lords who had graduated. However, in reality, lords like seer who had just started out rather lowly were mostly embarrassed to come.

It was just like a student gathering. If someone else drove a mercedes-benz or a BMW, would you be embarrassed to go to a student gathering if you drove a Wuling Hong Guang?

Of course, this kind of gathering wasn't meaningless. The universe was vast and boundless. Most of the Lords were far away from the north and the south, and they usually didn't have the chance to interact with each other, if they could use this gathering to get to know some of the Lords that were more suited to their status and start some cooperation, then naturally, it would be very meaningful.

After all, different planets had different resources and developed different civilizations and technologies. The things that you lacked might be as much as scrap metal here, and exchanging resources would be beneficial to each other.

Using the alumni atmosphere created by the Academy was a great opportunity to open up connections.

But it also depended on the person. You had to make a name for yourself in order to go there, right? It was like a real-life class reunion. You could not be a multimillionaire, you could not drive a mercedes-benz or BMW, but you had to have some foundation to go to a reunion. For example, you were a doctor, a lawyer, or a civil servant, right. Only when you were confident that you could help others in a certain period of time would you have the confidence to go to such a reunion...

If you were a brick carrier or that... .. programming ape.. ... What are you going to do? Am I right?

Seer was the same now. His base was still in its primitive state, and he did not even have a city of his own. The technology he used was the public technology of the federation, and he had not even established his own civilization system yet, why would he go to such an occasion? What could he provide to others? An energy mine. He was too embarrassed to say it out loud...

But he did not expect that wine god would actually want to bring him along... ? Was he trying to help him?

Not only was seer a little puzzled, he looked at the seemingly honest and cute giant panda, and a hint of wariness rose in his heart.

He could not be blamed for not being vigilant. After all, he had been tricked twice by the goblins under the other party, right?

Moreover, it was also suspicious that the other party's attitude had changed too much.

Originally, his relationship with the other party was just a small cooperative relationship. With the other party's status, just the grade D energy ore on his own planet was nothing to the other party, even though there were some benefits, it was not to the extent that they would try to rope him in like this.

It could be seen from the way he talked to him in the past.

But this time... .. Seer clearly felt that the other party's attitude was much more intimate...

What was the reason for this?

Could it be that he was preparing to make a big mess out of her? was there a need for that?

With many doubts and puzzlement, Seer was pulled over to the teleportation array just like that.

At this moment, the once-in-a-thousand-years alumni association of Heavenly God Academy was being held in a lively manner. Many instructors were waiting outside the teleportation array, waiting for the outstanding students who had once walked out from their subordinates to return.

Every time the alumni association was held, it was not long after the new students had started their classes. This was also the time when the various instructors were secretly competing with each other. Only by proving their teaching abilities to the new students could they attract more students to choose their own classes.

And the most direct way to prove their strength was to have outstanding students under their command!

As the rays of light shone one after another, many heavenly gods walked out from the teleportation array one after another. When they saw their own instructors, they all respectfully saluted and greeted them.

The teachers smiled in response and then called for them to stand behind them.

At this moment, as one of the teachers, Gerald's expression was not very good.

Under other people's hands, at least one or two first-rate lord-level students had come one after another. But now, behind her were some small fries, which made her feel very embarrassed.

As an old teacher who had lived for tens of thousands of eras, the number of first-rate lords under her was naturally not small. Of course, in the last war of annihilation, there were many casualties, and the number of old lords who survived was relatively small, but there were still some. These old lords who had lived for more than ten thousand eras were usually busy and could not come, but she also had a few new first-rate lords under her. In the end, after standing there for almost three hours, not a single one came...

Everyone had sent her a private email before... ? What's going on with these guys?

Gerald gritted his teeth and thought to himself, could it be that I cheated them out of their tuition fees too much in the past? So I deliberately didn't give myself face?

This was actually not impossible. After all, among all the instructors, she was one of the best at cheating students.

Just as she was thinking of contacting an old lord to weigh her down, a blue light array suddenly appeared.

That teleportation array clearly belonged to the Garrold faction, and judging from the energy intensity displayed by the teleportation array, it was obviously first-class.

Garrold's heart skipped a beat, and he thought to himself, 'it's finally here.'

As the light dispersed, Garrold walked up with a face full of surprise. "Look Who's Here?"

The teachers also looked over. When they saw who it was, their faces instantly turned ugly... ..

They didn't expect that this guy would actually come!

The visitors were, of course, immortal wine and seer.

"Teacher Gerald!" Immortal wine and seer hurriedly saluted.

"How come the two of you are together?" Gerald said with a smile.

"Look at what you said, teacher. It's all taught by you. Why Can't You Be Together? Isn't it natural for fellow disciples to be together?" Immortal wine said with a simple and honest smile, looking like a kind senior brother... , seer's face twitched.

The eyes of the surrounding freshmen immediately lit up, and they immediately began to discuss enthusiastically, "This is the Panda Lord?"

"It's the one who was trained by teacher Garrold, right? Damn, I've finally seen it. It really exists. I used to think that it was a legend."

"And it seems like it takes care of its juniors..."

"That's right. What kind of teaching method is it to train a panda man to become a god..."

Hearing the students' discussion, the smile on Garrold's face became even wider, while the other teachers' expressions became even more unsightly.

The Panda Man God teaching project could be said to be Garrold's proudest project since the beginning of this era. Even if one were to go up a hundred eras, perhaps no one would be able to produce such an extraordinary result.

Moreover, the most important thing was that the panda-man was doing well after graduation. He was already a first-class overlord in less than an era. Such speed was definitely an outstanding existence among his peers. It clearly broke the rumors of barely graduating, it made the results of Garrold's teaching even more dazzling.

Look, even the panda-man could be trained to become a deity overlord, and he was even a deity overlord at the level of a big shot. It wouldn't be a problem for Garrold to brag about this for a few more eras.

What was even more unexpected was that this guy actually came personally to support this event today. It seemed that he, who hated pointing fingers, rarely came to the alumni association.

"Not bad, not bad!" A flower blossomed on Garrold's face as he hurriedly called out, "You guys wait in the back line for a while. We'll catch up later."

She was very surprised that wine god could come. This one had at least ten effects!

Seer rolled her eyes and walked to the back of the team with wine god. She asked curiously, "Senior, I remember that you didn't come to participate in this event before. Why did you drag me here today when you were so interested?"

He always remembered that Galold liked to talk about him, the panda student, but neither he nor the previous senior had seen him come to the school.

"It's different this time..." wine god whispered, "I've received news that this year's alumni association is a little different. I'm afraid that there are some important people here. I'm also here to see the big scene."

"Big Scene?" Seer was stunned. What kind of person was that? Even wine god called it a big scene?

He suddenly felt a little expectant...

Chapter 232:: Burton (for the Alliance leader, Bai Xiaosheng!)

Wine God's reputation was not limited to his status as a panda man. As a deity who advanced at an extremely fast speed, his growth was definitely one of the fastest deity lords in recent years.

After graduating 14 million years ago, he now had two super large and complete life star systems and over 4,600 life stars, of which three were rated as Grade 3 life stars, there were over 2,000 grade-7 life-star systems like Planet D, and their technology had grown rapidly. In just 10,000,000 years, not only had they formed their own system, but they had also developed their own technology, in certain fields, especially in the field of machinery, they had already reached the stage where they could cooperate with great lords.

For example, Seer had spent a lot of time researching wine God's domain's technology online ever since he had been tricked by that damned goblin.

The result was very unexpected. Although that Goblin was just as treacherous as the other goblins, it did not lie about the quality of its products. The engines of the PANDALI faction could be said to be very popular in the secondary market now, its practicality of saving energy and durability was well received by the public. Recently, it was even highly valued by the NORSASS Lord, who designated its latest generation of engines as the designated engines for its own mecha. Moreover, it was not even a soy sauce brand under its banner, instead, it was a classic poisonous fang series. Those who had played with mecha before were mostly familiar with this series of mecha. This was a popular brand that had been popular for over a hundred eras.

To be able to develop a faction and civilization to such an extent in just a short span of ten million years, there were probably not many in the past hundred eras. Wine God was definitely considered an outstanding existence, there were even some who believed that he had the potential to break through the ranking of the top 100 great lords of the Eastern Star Field of the federation in this era!

He could already be considered one of the top figures in the federation. Logically speaking, what kind of storm had he not seen before? Xi Ye was immediately curious as to what kind of grand occasion would attract him to join this alumni association that he had always disliked?

Just as he was thinking about it, wine god suddenly bumped into him. Xi Ye hurriedly looked over. Wine god smiled and said, "Look over there..."

Xi Ye looked over when he heard that. In the upper left corner of the tunnel, a black ray of light lit up. Judging from the intensity of the energy, it should be a first-rate lord. However, they had been standing here for almost half an hour, they had seen many first-rate lords landing one after another. Why did wine God only want to show him that?

The black light dissipated. The newcomer was an extremely tall and burly deity. His entire body had a black skin that was almost as shiny as metal. The moment he appeared, it gave people a strong visual impact.

The deity race could accommodate the genes of tens of thousands of races, but most of the Lords would still retain some of their previous characteristics. For example, Seer's face had the charm of his mother's Night Demon Bloodline.

Therefore, many people could deduce what bloodline this deity had from the details of his appearance. and the one before them was undoubtedly Sha!

Sha was a high-level demon species in the abyss, just like the demons seer had seen on Planet Proxena. Although the Abyss was a faction joined by the Federation, many races were wary of the things that appeared in this place, they were a group of creatures that bore malice deep into their bones. In the academy's Summoning Magic Discipline, Abyss Summoning had always been a forbidden item for beginners because the rate of backlash from ferocious abyssal creatures was as high as 90% !

The creatures inside were so vicious and vicious that it was naturally impossible for the civilization races born inside to not be feared.

Back then, the federation had no choice but to cooperate with the Abyss in order to resist the void. However, after working together for nearly a million eras, the federation's supervision of the Abyss was still very strict!

However, since they had already been recognized as the first members of the federation, Demons naturally had the qualifications to become gods. In countless eras, the Federation had also produced many great lords of demon species.

The most famous one was naturally one of the ten great lords: Lord Norsass!

Therefore, Seer was still somewhat puzzled as to why wine God had asked him to pay special attention to this person. Demon lords were not a rare occurrence...

However, when the good-looking teacher who smiled and hugged him called out to Burton while laughing, Seer was stunned.

Burton!

Seer felt like he had heard this name before. His brain quickly thought for a few seconds before he realized that the lord that his cousin had pledged allegiance to was Burton?

Thinking of this, his heart jumped and he muttered, "It can't be... could it be a duplicate name?"

"The same name?" Wine God chuckled. "In our Eastern Star Field, I've only heard of one of the first-rate suzerains named Bolton!" He paused for a moment before continuing, "No matter what, he's the suzerain that your family has chosen to submit to. Haven't you seen him before?"

"No..." Xi ye shook his head honestly, ever since he entered deity academy, he had never returned to his family clan. After graduation, he had secretly chosen to go on a poor journey. If not for his father mentioning this matter the last time, he would not have known that his family clan had actually been monopolized by a suzerain.

More importantly, it was a demon lord!

"Grandpa, what are you thinking about?" Xi Ye didn't understand... ..

"According to what we know, in order to monopolize your family, Burton had visited your old man several times and promised him a lot of good things. At first, your Grandpa seemed to decline, but later on, he changed his attitude for some unknown reason. It's also because he cooperated with Burton that your family has such a high position in the Glorious Amethyst Star."

Seer lowered his head and remained silent for a long time before he finally asked in a low voice, "Senior Wine God has also worked with Lord norsass, who is also a demon. Do you think these demons are reliable?"

Wine God looked at him strangely and said, "Lord Norsass is a demon, and Bolton is a pure demon. It's not the same concept."

"This... What's the difference?" Seer was stunned. He remembered that both demons and demons came from the Abyss.

"There's a big difference..." wine god said in a low voice, "You'll know the difference when you go to the Abyss in the future."

Xi Ye's mood immediately sank when he heard that. He indeed did not know the difference between demon dwellers and demons, but from wine God's tone, the former seemed to be much more reliable than the latter.

It seemed that his father still deliberately hid some things. What was the current situation of the family? Why would the entire family turn to a demon lord? Why would a stable person like his grandfather do that?

What exactly happened?

Xi Ye suddenly had the urge to go back.

Just as she was thinking, the world suddenly trembled and all the energy in the teleportation channels began to close. A huge teleportation array suddenly appeared in the sky and almost covered the entire sky!

This sudden scene interrupted Xi Ye's train of thought, and she looked up at the sky in shock.

What was going on? Who was being so high-profile. And... .. This teleportation energy... ? Wasn't it a little too much?

Compared to this, immortal wine and Barton's teleportation energy was less than one-millionth of the other party's...

"It's coming!" Immortal Wine said excitedly.

Could it be...

Looking at this scene, Xi Ye was extremely shocked and thought to herself, "No way...". ...

Chapter 233: Empress Xi (for the Alliance leader, Bai Xiaosheng, and the second company)

This wasn't just Xi Ye. Everyone was shocked by this scene. Even the teachers were shocked. At this moment, an old man in a red robe slowly walked over from afar. Although his momentum wasn't as great as the one above..., however, he attracted the attention of many teachers. When the teachers saw him, they immediately greeted him respectfully, "Principal?"

The many sky gods were stunned when they heard this. They looked over in astonishment... ..

This was... the principal of the Sky God Academy?

To be honest, most of the people present had never seen this legendary big shot before, including wine god suzerain who was by Seer's side. After all, he was an ancient legendary figure who had nurtured the first batch of Sky God suzerains, ordinary students like them naturally did not have the chance to see him.

It was rumored that this old man was the first deity in the universe and held the purest genes of the deity race in his hands. However, the old man's appearance made Xi Ye's soul tremble... ..

This appearance... .. why did it feel like.. ... It was a little like... The D Ball Man?

What was going on?

Xi Ye suddenly felt like she was dreaming. The first thing that came to her mind was that it was a coincidence...

But was it a coincidence?

When she thought about the astonishing talent of the people from Planet D, Xi Ye fell into deep thought. She did not even continue to pay attention to the magnificent phenomenon in the sky.

It was not until almost a minute later that wine god Lord nudged him and said, "Look, another big shot is coming!"

Xi Ye only came back to her senses and then looked at the sky.

After the light from the huge teleportation array dissipated, two figures appeared one after the other.

One of them was tall and mighty, almost five meters tall, while the other was slim, about the same size as an ordinary elf. However, no matter which one it was, standing there, they all had a presence that even the stars in the universe could not compare to!

The burly God of Heaven Man in front of them gave off an extremely heavy and oppressive feeling. Every step he took gave off the feeling that he could crush the entire God of Heaven star system.

The aura of the woman behind him was completely different. There was a sense of silence as if everything was silent under her domain. Even the countless God of Heaven Starlight could not penetrate her domain. They were only a few feet away, however, the many God of Heaven Lords could not see her appearance clearly.

"Hello, teacher!" The two Lords walked closer and bowed respectfully to the principal.

"Oh, HO, HO, Ho..." the principal let out a familiar Buddhist laugh. "You guys really... As long as nothing major happens, you'll never remember an old man like me!"

Everyone stared at this scene in a daze. Those who could have such a reputation and call the principal teacher were undoubtedly top-notch figures in the deity system. Only the ten people who stood at the top of the universe were able to survive until now...

Seer swallowed a mouthful of saliva, and then asked in a mumbling voice, "Are... The ten great suzerains?"

"Yes..." wine god nodded and said, "That man is norsass, ranked fifth in the federation. That woman... is Empress Xi!"

"Empress Xi..." Seer's entire body trembled. The Empress of the death country! ! !

The ten great suzerains each had their own legends, but Empress Xi's legend was the most dramatic one among the ten great suzerains, because she was a dead person!

People from the countries of death would normally not be able to return, but she did it. It was rumored that she had escaped the control of the king of the country of death, becoming the first dead person to escape from the country of death, and bringing along a large number of loyalists., that was also the first time that a dead undead had stepped into the physical universe!

The federation naturally resisted against this group of otherworldlings at the start, treating them as a natural disaster. At that time, they even organized an alliance army to crusade against them. At that time, there was still the current First Lord in the Crusade Army.

However, all of them returned empty-handed. This was also the first woman who was not at a disadvantage when facing the first liege army. During that period of time, it had even become the federation's most troublesome problem.

In the end, under the lead of the principal, this group of undead was accepted into the federation. Empress XI had also become one of the ten great lords and was currently ranked fourth!

Her joining had greatly promoted the development of the Federation. Currently, the Undead Magic faction in the Federation had branched out from the technology that she had shared with them. They had made great contributions to the fields of biology, medicine, and alchemy, the soul regeneration device seer was currently using was a technology that had been passed down from her.

It was also because of her existence that undead magic had become a regular subject. Countless souls had gained respect, and existences like lichs had finally walked under the sun, becoming accepted existences by everyone.

Seer had great respect for this person. Among the stories of the many lords when he was young, he even felt that this person was the most inspirational.

"Senior, since you've received the news that they're coming, do you know the reason?" Seer asked curiously.

Immortal wine looked around and then carefully transmitted his voice, "As far as I know, there are two major matters."

Seer: "What is it?"

Immortal wine: "The first matter is about the void. There seems to be a problem with the eastern region's seal. The ninth Lord has sent out a request for help. They're here to ask the headmaster to follow them to take a look. I heard that this time, five of the ten great lords are preparing to go, including Lord Cang Yue!"

When she heard the name Cang Yue, Xi Ye's heart skipped a beat. She quickly turned the page and asked, "What's the second thing?"

"The second thing seems to be about the kingdom of death..." wine god stroked his fat chin.

"The Kingdom of Death?" Xi Ye's heart skipped a beat. She asked carefully, "What's wrong with the Kingdom of Death?"

Wine god replied, "Recently, there have been a lot of dead people coming out of the Kingdom of the dead. As you know, although the federation has accepted the forces of the dead, that is only on the surface. If a crack appears on the private planet of many domain lords, any dead people that come out will be captured by the local deity domain lords for experiments. The resources of the Kingdom of the dead are simply too huge. Many domain lords will use the dead people that come out as a medium to invade the space of the Kingdom of the dead using laws..." "..."

Seer was stunned... The New World he was developing now seemed to have cracks in the undead world, and... He was one of the unscrupulous suzerains who wanted to do this.

"Then... What does Empress XI intend to do?" Seer asked nervously.

"I heard that she intends to recover these cracked planets at a high price... .. this time, it was only senior NORSASS who came, but Empress Xi seems to want to take advantage of this gathering of the gods to forcefully recover the cracked planets in these guys' hands . . ."

Seer:" ..."

"These from the dead in the country out of the guy, this time to spit it out, Hey Hey!" Wine God face gloating expression.

Seer face is very ugly, after a while, wine god found seer did not compound him, some curiosity:
"Brother, this kind of schadenfreude thing you do not laugh?"

What was there to laugh at... ∴ Seer rolled his eyes and thought to himself, "I'm one of those people who wants to take things out of the country of the dead, Alright?"?

Seeing that Seer's gaze was not quite right, wine god finally reacted. He lowered his voice and said, "It can't be, brother, you..."

"Senior, why didn't you say something like this earlier?" Seer immediately had the urge to curse. As expected, this fellow was here to trick him, right?

It was the undead kingdom. As long as the location of the crack wasn't too bad, anything that came out of it would be priceless. Not to mention the development of his civilization's technology, just the raw materials that came out of it would be enough for him to make a fortune. He was even prepared to go back and start investigating this matter...

Did this count as a duck that was about to fly away?

"UH... .. brother, I really don't know ... "..." wine god was a little stunned, "Who knew that your luck was so good? Not only did you just develop the first planet and have energy mines, there's even a undead rift. D * mn, you really have the Luck Boost." "..."

"Luck Boost?" Xi Ye was stunned. Just as he was about to speak, he suddenly heard the principal who looked like an old man from d world suddenly say, "Everyone has come from afar. The Academy is honored. Please follow me to the auditorium to take a seat!"

Chapter 234: Dead End!

The Heavenly God Academy's auditorium was made use of the federation's latest space technology. It did not seem like a large auditorium, but it could accommodate tens of thousands of heavenly deities. Inside the auditorium, the space extension was even more mystical, it clearly did not seem like a large layout, but the tens of thousands of heavenly deities inside did not seem to be crowded at all.

The advantage of this hall compared to a large space was that it brought people closer. It wasn't as spacious as a large space and gave people a very warm feeling. However, the people present were all people who were sensitive to the laws, in order to prevent the many deities from feeling out of place, it was obvious that the accuracy of the calculation of the laws of space had reached an unimaginable level.

Xi Ye returned to this small hall once again. She still felt that it was incomparably magical. She felt that all the deities were very close to her. However, the space was actually not crowded at all. The entire atmosphere was pulled very close at once, making people even more eager to communicate.

“Even Lord Wine Immortal has come. This is really unexpected...” a voice that was as thick as metal rang out. Xiye and wine immortal turned their heads to look. It was the black and shiny Lord Bolton.

Xiye looked at this lord whom the Eldia family had now pledged allegiance to. His expression was complicated. Of course, this complicated expression was very well covered by his heavy helmet.

“We’re all here to join in the fun. Why are you acting like a Wolf?” Wine God twitched his mouth. “Why did you come here when you didn’t receive the News?”

“Hehe...” Barton chuckled and didn’t deny it. Then, he looked at Xi Ye who was beside Wine God. “Aren’t you going to introduce yourself?”

“It’s just a junior. There’s nothing to introduce...” wine god said lightly.

Seer heaved a sigh of relief in her heart. She glanced at wine god with slight gratitude.

“Is that so?” Burton looked at Seer. “He’s wearing such a thick helmet. He’s very similar to the brother Raine mentioned.”

Seer frowned when he heard this. He hadn’t expected Raine to be so highly regarded by Lord Bolton. Raine should have only seen his helmet yesterday, and Lord Bolton knew about it the next day?

This only meant that Rennes seemed to be able to come into contact with this great demon lord at any time.

Since they had already said this, seer could not continue to pretend to be deaf and dumb. After all, his own family was indeed making a living there...

Thinking of this, he bowed slightly as a junior and said, “Greetings, senior. This junior thanks senior for taking care of the Eldia family on behalf of the Eldia family.”

“Oh, hahaha, it’s really you!” Burton laughed and said, “Interesting, interesting. The Thunder family actually has a suzerain. How Strange, how is it? With such fate, are you interested in cooperating?”

Xi Ye took a deep breath and replied with a smile, “This junior has just started. I’m afraid there’s nothing that can help you, senior.”

“You’re too modest...” Burton chuckled and suddenly sent a voice transmission, “I’m very interested in the death rift on your planet. Would you like to cooperate with me?”

Hearing the voice transmission, Seer’s body immediately stiffened as he looked at the other party in shock.

“Don’t make that expression...” Burton smiled after seeing the other party’s gaze. “We demons are sensitive to smells. It’s normal for us to be able to discover that you’ve come into contact with fresh undead not long ago...”

Seer's eyes twitched when he heard that. There were still fresh ones?

"I can sense it. That lord must also sense it..." Bolton reminded him telepathically. "I have a way to fool you, but you have to sign a contract with me. The two families will develop that crack together!"

Seer: "..."

Wine God knew that the two of them were communicating telepathically when he saw their expressions. Furthermore, Seer's silent expression clearly indicated that he had been forced to do something, he immediately stood up and sneered, "What's so strange about a lord of the Thunder Clan? Why Don't you consider cooperating with this panda lord that is rarely seen?"

Bolton saw wine god stand up and smiled. He did not want to get into a conflict with him, he sent a voice transmission to seer, "That Lord should announce this matter soon. You have to reply me before then. Otherwise, I won't be able to help you... think about it..."

With that, he held his wine glass and walked in another direction.

"What did that idiot say to you?" Wine God patted Xi Ye's shoulder and said, "Don't be afraid of him. I'll stand up for you. I'll see what he'll do to you in front of me..."

Looking at the fat panda's Righteous Look, Xi Ye was slightly stunned. He did not hide anything and repeated what Bolton had said to him just now.

"That guy has a way to hide it from Empress Xi? Is that true?" Wine God touched his chin with a look of disbelief.

"Senior, do you also think that his words are not trustworthy?" Xi Ye asked.

"That's hard to say..." "... Wine God shook his head and said, "Since he said that, maybe he has some tricks up his sleeve. The benefits of the undead rift are huge, and even for first-rate lords like us, it is very tempting. He probably really wants to cooperate with you. As for whether or not he will swallow you up after the cooperation, I can't guarantee that "..."

Xi Ye: "..."

"I mean... You'd better hand it over..." Wine god sighed and said, "If you had told me earlier that you had that thing, I definitely wouldn't have brought you here. But since things have already come to this, I really don't recommend you to cooperate with that guy. Empress XI has a noble status, and with her status, the price of reclaiming it is definitely not low. Although it's not as violent as developing it, it's definitely not a small amount of compensation. If you take this compensation, it will be a great help to you in the early stages. Sometimes... "... Don't be so greedy "..."

Xi Ye sighed. Of course, he understood this, but the key was that his situation was extremely special.

The New World had not been discovered by him. Instead, it had been torn through space and randomly entered a planet. He had no idea where the coordinates were, and even if he had to hand it in, he would not be able to provide them with the coordinates, the only way to get Empress XI to retrieve this planet was to let her retrieve it through the space crack on Mars!

The risk was too great. Once the other party discovered the D sphere or the D Sphere People's resources, the consequences could be imagined! !

Furthermore, the probability of being discovered was extremely high. Even if he hid all the players on Mars, with the other party's power, their own laws could instantly cover the entire Milky Way, it was basically impossible to hide it from the other party.

Moreover, cooperating with Bolton was also extremely risky. If a level 5 lord like him were to cooperate with such a demon, coupled with Rennes' connections, only an idiot would believe that the other party would obediently share the undead crevice with him. Moreover, if he were to cooperate, he would definitely reveal his coordinates. Once he was exposed... .. the outcome would probably be even worse than handing him over to Emperor XI.

At the very least, Xi Huang was a top-notch great senior who had taken over his things. There might even be a one in ten thousand chance that he wouldn't silence him out of guilt. Perhaps, he might even give him some benefits.

But Bolton...

He didn't even need to think about it...

What should he do?

Xi Ye was instantly dumbfounded. This time, he had really been tricked to death by Wine God. This was clearly a dead end! !

Chapter 235: Your Helmet is very similar to someone else's

"This is Lord Lena from the Northern Star region. She was born into the Forest Elf family. Her power is very advanced in the field of agriculture. There are many popular agricultural products and technologies in the Northern Star region. You have just started. It will be very helpful for you to consult Lord Lena More," wine god introduced.

"Senior!" Seer bowed respectfully.

Lena smiled slightly. She was different from the ordinary elves. The forest elves' style was a little more straightforward, and they looked a little heroic when paired with the god Bloodline, she replied generously, "It's rare to see a junior that wine god thinks so highly of."

"You flatter me, senior..."

After a while of communication, they left their contact details. Seer looked at the third great lord that he had befriended in his contact list and was slightly dazed.

Wine God smiled and leaned his fat head over. "How was it? My compensation was pretty good, right?"

Seer sighed slightly. If he could accumulate so many cooperation channels in the past, he might have been so happy that he would have jumped up. But now... .. It was a problem whether or not he would need these channels in the future... ..

“Hey, Hey... Don’t go too far!” Seeing Xi Ye’s silence, Immortal Wine thought that he was still not satisfied, so he immediately said unhappily, “I’m already very generous...”

“I plan to directly refuse Empress Xi’s recycling!” Xi Ye suddenly said.

Immortal Wine’s fat panda face was immediately dumbfounded when he heard that. It took him a long time to react, and he knocked Xi Ye’s helmet. “Are you crazy? Are you out of your mind?”

“I’m serious!” Seer said in a deep voice.

Wine God was stunned for a moment. Then, he took two steps back and said, “Okay, you’re a man. I admire you. That’s all. Later, let’s not talk about being very close to me. We just met each other on the road. We met each other in the mountains and rivers. We’ll meet again if we’re fated!”

Seer:” ...”

“Do you have to be so realistic, senior?”

“Nonsense, I have a bright future ahead of me. Who Wants to accompany you to court death...”

While they were making noise through voice transmission, a light cough suddenly came from the entire auditorium.

The sound was very soft, but it instantly silenced everyone’s noise. It was clear that the person who was coughing had used the power of law.

This caused the expressions of the many sky gods to instantly turn solemn. There was no lack of top-tier lords present, and they all had the faith of hundreds of millions of people under them. If they used the power of law with their full power, they could instantly affect the basic laws of a planet, there were tens of thousands of lords here, and each of them had their own power of laws. However, they could be completely suppressed by one person. It could be seen that this person’s strength was not from the same dimension as everyone else.

This also made everyone realize that the big boss was about to speak, so they all quickly quieted down.

“Good night, everyone. I Am Sylvanas!”

This name caused many of the small sky gods who had never seen the ten great territories to be shocked. They thought to themselves: it was actually the ten great lords in front of them, and it was even the fourth-ranked Sylvanas!

“Taking advantage of this gathering, everyone gathered together to discuss something with everyone...”

The moment these words came out, everyone who did not know the truth was stunned. What kind of matter did such a big shot want to discuss with these minor characters?

“If the Empress has anything to tell us, I will not delay it if I can be of service!”

Some of the Lords who reacted quickly took the opportunity to flatter Bo.

Sylvanas' beautiful face was slightly smiling. It was like a crescent moon in the dark night, giving people a sense of beauty that invaded their hearts. Even though they were both gods and were used to seeing beauty in the world, they could not help but feel their hearts waver, even seer could not help but be slightly dazed at this moment.

"Recently, there has been a storm in the Kingdom of death. I can't say what exactly happened, but it is clear that many people should have felt it. There are more and more cracks..."

As soon as he said this, a small group of gods suddenly became nervous.

"With the help of this storm, many dead people found more cracks, but this time, there are existences that you can't imagine mixed in with the ordinary undead. You Can't control them. In order to prevent the previous natural disaster from happening again, I hope you can cooperate with me and hand over all the planets with cracks...". "..."

As soon as these words were said, the expressions of most of the sky gods became strange, while the expressions of the very small group of Sky Gods became extremely ugly.

"Of course..."faced with those sky gods whose expressions were ugly., sylvanas smiled and said, "I also know that the benefits of the undead rift are great, so I naturally won't take it for free. I will give you generous compensation based on the evaluation of your planet and the specific situation inside the undead passage."

"May I ask, sir, what kind of compensation?"One of the gods in the crowd couldn't help but ask.

It was best to ask this in public so that they wouldn't get nothing later. Although the other party's status wouldn't go as far as to cheat the juniors like them, it was always good to be safe.

Sylvanas said, "The officials will evaluate your planet and cultural industries. I will compensate you twice the amount of the losses. You can choose two benefits from the rift. The first is that I will directly buy it with 500 tons of ink crystals. The other is that the officials and I will conduct a data survey and give you a compensation of equal value after the survey."

The moment these words left his mouth, everyone sucked in a breath of cold air. Ink Crystals, 500 tons?

Ink crystals were one of the rare minerals in the country of the dead. They possessed extremely high purity anti-mithril energy and were extremely precious materials on the market. Ordinary transactions would usually be calculated in milligrams, this kind of thing was also an extremely rare material in the country of the dead. Even if you had a passageway, it was most likely impossible for you to obtain so many ink crystals. Clearly, this compensation could not be any more magnanimous!

When the small group of deities heard this, they looked at each other and saw the shock in each other's eyes. This sincerity clearly carried a lot of weight. With the other party's status, offering such a price could be considered as giving the academy a great deal of face, if they were still ignorant like this, they would be courting death. Hence, the group of people nodded one after another.

When Xi ye heard this, he could not help but sigh. If he had normal coordinates, he would definitely not hesitate to exchange them for those 500 tons of ink crystals. That value was enough for him to use the most extravagant method to develop a large galaxy., the kind that would throw money without thinking.

It was simply a leap to the heavens. However, he could not agree to such generous conditions at this moment.

Finally, when everyone nodded, he suddenly said, "May I ask... If I may refuse?"

As soon as he said this, the entire auditorium instantly fell into silence. Even the sound of breathing stopped. This time, it was definitely not because of the laws, but because everyone was so shocked by this sentence that they forgot to breathe, everyone turned their heads to look, wanting to see who was so courageous!

Sylvanas also looked over at the first moment. When she saw that it was a small level five Lord who had spoken, her expression instantly turned cold. However, when she saw the helmet on the other party's face clearly, she was stunned for a moment.

"This helmet of yours..."Sylvanas narrowed her eyes and took a step in front of seer.

Her space-jumping steps did not have the slightest ripple. All the gods present did not react in time, including the fifth Lord, norsass, who had been observing the situation from behind

He looked at Sylvanas and thought to himself, 'everyone says that this guy is best at the field of life and death, but I didn't expect the spatial laws to be so sharp. I can't even see any flaws...'. ...

"This helmet of yours... is very similar to a certain person..."Sylvanas walked up to seer and held seer's helmet.

Seer was stunned. When he felt that the other party was about to pick up his helmet, he immediately shouted, "Senior, don't! !"

Chapter 236: the plight of the family

There was no such thing as crossing ranks between Sky Gods and sky gods, because their strength accumulation was more solid than that of all the races in the world. Any advancement at any stage required a huge amount of faith power to support.

The gap between each rank was like the gap between heaven and earth. Under the domain, regardless of whether it was a race that was ten ranks weaker or a race that was one rank weaker, they were all ants. This was also the reason why sky gods could command such a large number of subordinates, even if there were 100,000 strong races, it was impossible for them to defeat a god that was one level higher or the same level as them.

It was the same for the other gods. As long as Sylvanas wanted to, she could kill all the gods present except norsass in a second.

Seer did not have any resistance against such an existence other than saying that his senior did not want it.

His seemingly ordinary actions carried the suppression of the laws of Heaven and earth. Every cell in Seer's body was telling him not to move...

He could only watch as the other party slowly took off his helmet. However, at that moment, the other party suddenly stopped moving and pulled his hand out from Seer's helmet.

At that moment, no one knew what had happened, including wine god, who was the closest to seer.

Sylvanas' domain was the night. It was silent and could not penetrate any light. The moment she touched seer, the two of them became a black-and-white painting, all the gods outside could not sense any aura in the space where the two of them were.

However, NORSASS sensed it. He sensed that Sylvanas' domain had changed. An extremely overbearing power flashed and disappeared. In just one-thousandth of a second, Sylvanas' hands were almost crippled!

His pupils, which had been bored, suddenly shrank. That power... ..

As Sylvanas withdrew her hands, the images of the two of them returned to their original colors. In an instant, their auras were once again felt by everyone.

Seer touched her helmet in a panic. When she realized that it was still on her head, she immediately heaved a sigh of relief.

"So that rumor is true..." Sylvanas' purple eyes, which had regained their color, shone with a starry light as she looked at seer, as if she wanted to see through him.

Seer was stunned when she heard this. Had the fact that she was kept as a mistress become a rumor in the circle of bigwigs. If that was the case, it would be an extremely shameful thing to do... "...". At the thought of this, he lowered his head in embarrassment.

"It's You?" Upon hearing this, NORSASS strode over. Unlike Sylvanas who had crossed space with a single step, he walked over step by step like an ordinary person. He did not deliberately release any pressure.., however, Seer felt a pressure that felt as if the sky was about to collapse.

"Greetings, Senior!" Seer hurriedly saluted as a junior.

The surrounding gods were stunned when they heard this address. They thought to themselves, "Senior..." This guy really dared to call me that...

Theoretically speaking, as long as one graduated from this academy, they could address each other as alumni. However, one had to look at their status. How dare a level five small lord like you, a big shot of this level, climb up to this level of relatives?

"What right do you have?" NORSASS frowned as he looked at seer.

That's right, what right do you have! !

Everyone immediately echoed in their hearts. NORSASS's words clearly fell into their hands.

However, it was clear that the two groups of people did not mean the same thing.

Of course, they did not know what NORSASS was referring to...

Seer lowered his head. He naturally knew what the other party was asking...

What right do you have? To eat this bowl of soft rice?

Faced with the Big Boss's questioning, he did not know what to say for a moment...

Norsass was not in a hurry. He looked at him quietly and waited for his reply.

When the other party announced that he had a fiancé, it almost blew up the upper circle. As one of the ten great lords, he naturally knew about this news. At that time, he was still thinking about what kind of person this world was.., someone who was worthy of her.

But he didn't expect that it would be such a tiny existence.

"Probably..." seer saw that the man didn't want to let him go. After hesitating for a long time, she finally replied weakly, "It's because I'm good-looking..." 1

Everybody:"..."

Norssus:"..."

This man... is so shameless...

Somewhere on the glorious amethyst star, Long Jue was sitting on a rocking chair in the shade. His eyes were closed as he listened to the information from his subordinates. It had only been a few months since he last showed up, but he already felt that his body had aged a lot. He was becoming more and more like a real old man...

"Seer and wine god territory's together?" Long Jue's originally relaxed face was startled. His closed eyes opened slightly as he looked at the man. "Are you sure?"

"Yes..." the person who reported was very strange, it looked like a shadow standing up, his voice was hoarse as he said, "However, I don't dare to approach. Wine God suzerain is a suzerain of the same level as Bolton, and that shop is the property of Lord Isana. There are star level experts guarding it...". After a pause, he continued, "However, when young master Xi Ye and Wine God suzerain came out, the two of them seemed to have a good relationship...". "..."

"On good terms?" Long Jue narrowed his eyes and tapped the coffee table beside him lightly with his fingers. His habits were exactly the same as Xi Ye's.

He muttered softly, "This kid has only been out for a short period of time. How did he get to know a great Lord Like Wine God Lord?"

How could such a person get to know a level five little lord?

As an old man who had lived for millions of years, he naturally did not believe that their personalities were compatible. What a joke. A person who was in charge of two large galaxies did not even have time to deal with his subordinates for a day.., and he still had the mood to have the same character as a scumbag like you?

You have no value. How could these Lords waste their precious time to have the same character as you?

But the key was... ? ... what value did that little grandson of mine have to make immortal wine befriend him?

While he was puzzled, the shadow-like subordinate next to him suddenly said, "Master, I was thinking that Young Master Xi ye might be able to help us get out of our current predicament... Immortal wine is obviously much more reliable than Bolton..." before he could finish his sentence, before he could finish his words, he was interrupted by Long Jue's sharp eyes.

That imposing manner... Made the space around them tremble instantly, it was hard to imagine that an old man who hadn't reached the dragon level and had given out his genes could create such a strange phenomenon under the elemental laws of a high-level planet like the glorious amethyst star.

The shadow immediately lowered his head, not daring to say anything more.

"Don't talk about this outside. Don't mention it at all..." warned long jue.

"Yes..." his subordinate agreed immediately, but he was happy inside. From his master's words, he could tell that he was moved by his suggestion.

His subordinate was right. Long Jue was indeed moved. He was secretly comparing this new candidate.

In the circle of the Eastern Star Field, wine God's status was definitely not inferior to Bolton's. They were all first-rate deity lords, and wine god's territory might not be as big as Bolton's, however, the technology under his banner and his ability to act as a manager in the federation were even better than Bolton's.

Moreover, as a force with a bias towards machinery technology, his military capabilities were generally relatively strong... ..

Moreover, if there was a choice, who would be willing to cooperate with a demon?

But now that they had cooperated, would they fall out with a demon... ? ... The price was not small. Would a grandson have such weight in front of wine god?

After a long while, long jue finally sighed slowly. "Let's wait and see... Let's wait and see..."

Chapter 237: recommended schools

"I really can't believe it..." in a space corridor of the deity academy, wine God held his fat head in a dreamy manner, a panda face was full of disbelief. "I can actually see Empress Xi up close one day. Her skin really doesn't have any pores, it's perfect. And norsass, that muscle outline once again stimulated my desire to lose weight!"

Seer:"..."

“Didn’t senior have a cooperative relationship with Lord Norsass? Haven’t you seen him before?”

“Nonsense!” Wine God rolled his eyes at him and said, “Who is he?” How could you imagine the family business under him? Why would an old man need to come personally to discuss the cooperation of a series of mecha engines? Do You Think It’s me? I have nothing to do... “...”

Seer’s eyelids twitched. He actually wanted to know how idle the Lords of two large galaxies and thousands of life planets would be... ..

“By the way, how do those two big shots know you?” Wine God asked what he wanted to ask.

“They... Don’t really know me...” seer lowered his head and said.

“Then why did norsass say ‘So it’s you?’” Wine god asked curiously, “And you actually made Empress Xi give in on the matter of the undead rift. What a big face you have. I didn’t expect you to be such a big shot!”

“Not for my sake...” seer quickly said.

“Then who is it?” Wine God asked.

Seer was silent for a moment and then said, “I can’t say...”

“Kid, you have a lot of secrets...” wine god looked at him thoughtfully and then smiled, “How about it? You got such a big piece of meat this time. Can you give me some soup?”

Xi Ye was stunned. He immediately understood that the other party was referring to the matter of the undead passage, and he was immediately put in a difficult position. Unlike Bolton, who did not feel any psychological pressure even if he refused, this guy in front of him was obviously not easy to refuse.

However, he could not agree. He would not let anyone know of the secrets of his planet, including his family members.

Wine God seemed to be so kind. Once he knew about the astonishing potential of Planet D’s people, Xi Ye believed that he would definitely make a move against him.

This benefit was too great. It was no longer a problem that could be solved with friendship.

Seeing Xi Ye’s silence., wine god smiled and said, “Don’t worry. I don’t want to develop it with you. I just want to get a bite of the soup. My newly developed magical mecha needs some materials from the world of souls, especially the solid water that has a high psionic energy content in the world of souls. The more you can get for me, the better. I’ll buy it at 1.2 times the market price.”

“Solid water?” Xi Ye rubbed his chin. The solid water from the world of souls had always been the most sought after material in the metal industry. Wine God’s technology focused on the mechanical aspect, so it was quite normal for him to have such a demand, this thing was currently on the market, but there was no market for it. It was very difficult to buy it in large quantities. The black market was already twice the price of the main market.

Thinking of this, Xi ye stretched out a finger and said, “Fifty percent!”

“What?” Wine God was stunned.

“If the development goes smoothly, I will provide senior with the solid water at the market price of 50%!” Seer said solemnly.

“Aiyo...” wine god immediately smiled and hugged seer with a chuckle. “You’re good, brother. You’re good. Okay, I’ll owe you a favor for this matter...”

“Senior, you’re too kind...” seer said humbly, “It’s my duty to take care of me like that...”

Wine God instantly nodded in satisfaction. At least, from this matter, it was clear that this fellow was not an ungrateful wretch. If that was the case, judging from his luck... .. It seemed like they could still cooperate in depth... ..

Then, he smiled and said, “Your level is too low now. You must develop the undead passage step by step. Don’t mess up the matter. If you have any difficulties, contact me at any time!”

Seer nodded. He understood what he was saying — opening the necromancy passage — if he was not careful, a large number of evil spirits would pour in, and the entire planet could be wiped out.

As they spoke, they walked all the way to the teleportation portal. Seeing that they were about to leave, seer finally asked, “Senior, are you really going to stay and participate in that Void Seal Thing?”

“Of course. Why do you think I’m here?” Wine God rolled his eyes. “Really? Do I look like I have so much free time? There’s a bunch of crap on the planet waiting for me to go back and deal with...”

Seer: “I don’t think there are any signs of coercion this time, right? Lord norssus only mentioned it briefly. Senior, you don’t have to go, right?”

“That’s why I said that you’re inexperienced...” Wine God shook his head and sighed. “How can it be so easy to muddle through? For such matters, you should take the initiative. The other party will be more polite to you because you’re on the right track. They will also take into account the casualties of your forces and arrange appropriate missions for you. Although there will be losses, it’s better to be safe than sorry. Once the situation becomes serious and the lord of Norssus activates the signs of coercion, those people who come later will not be so polite when they’re used. They’ll just shove whatever danger they’re in... “...”. “You will understand these things when you have a certain scale in the future...” “...”

Seer: “...”

“And you have to be careful as well...” “When you’re free, check which Great Liege is closest to your coordinates. You have to be prepared for such things. Some lieges have no moral integrity, such as that Bolton. As far as I know, he has used the void incident to swallow many small factions.”

Seer was stunned. He had never thought of such a thing. The void incident had fortunately happened on his own planet. If it had happened in a place close to him, it would have triggered the federation to issue an encirclement order. He would definitely be forced to participate. Normally, such an encirclement order would be led by the Liege with the largest faction in the area. If it was someone like Bolton, it would be quite dangerous for small lieges like them...

Thinking of this, Seer felt that he needed to check it out later.

“Then that’s it. See you next time...” wine god smiled and patted his shoulder again, but he suddenly thought of something and asked, “Apart from buying building materials, you want to recruit some people this time?”

“Yes...” seer nodded.

“What do you want to recruit mainly?”

“Weapons, warrior, and various basic subjects...” seer answered honestly.

The number of players in the base was increasing. In order to ensure the teaching of the players, he had to recruit a certain number of coaches. This was quite a headache for him. Recruiting new forces had always been a difficult problem, if he wanted to recruit a large number, he might have to lower the quality standards this time...

“I can’t help you with weapons and warriors, but I have a school that can recommend you for subjects.” As wine god spoke, he took out a white business card. “If you’re interested, you can try recruiting. Although this school isn’t famous, its teaching quality is excellent. The students recommended are all very good, and they don’t lose out to many students from famous schools.”

“Is that so?” Xi Ye’s eyes lit up as she took the business card and took a look. The words “Underfoot Academy” were written on the plastic card. Looking at this business card material that even a low-level civilization would not use... Xi Ye felt a sense of poverty wash over her...

Even if she was as shameless as she was, the business card that was printed now was made of liquid gold. This school... ? ... could it be a civilian school?

As expected, the next second, wine god said, “But the students inside are basically not from an aristocratic family. Most of them are civilians...”

“This...” seer frowned. It was inevitable that people would be worried if they were not from an aristocratic family.

“I can vouch for this...” . “...” Wine God saw seer’s expression and smiled. “This school is very strict with the students’ backgrounds and character checks. I recruited the first batch of scientific research students from there. It’s really good quality and cheap. It’s definitely the first choice for newbies...” . “...”

Is this for real?

Seer’s interest was piqued when he heard that. Wine God’s technological development speed was obvious to everyone. This meant that his foundation must be very good. Since he said so, it seemed that the students from that school might have something up their sleeves.

When he thought of this, he gratefully replied, “Thank you, Senior!”

“You’re welcome. Who’s with whom?”

———

In the distance, looking at the night and wine god, Botton face somewhat gloomy, from the information and now see Rennes, Rennes cousin and wine god relationship is really not ordinary.

And the most important thing is that this guy must have some secret, actually can make Queen Xi compromise, let him suddenly some do not see the depth.

He should not provoke him for the time being. After all, not counting his secret that could make Empress Xi give in, immortal wine alone made him rather fearful. However, he had to be tactful with this fellow. Don't destroy the cooperation between him and his old master, or else... .. He would let him know that no matter how big the thigh he clung to was, he had to be strong enough... .

Chapter 238: What Kind of monsters are they?

At this moment... :. Apart from Burton, Empress Xi, one of the ten great suzerains, was also secretly observing Xi Ye. Unlike the other two, Empress Xi's position was extremely far away, but she looked at Xi ye as if she was very close to him.

She could clearly see the hair on Xi Ye's body, but she could not see through that mask.

"Are You Alright?" A gentle voice sounded. Empress Xi turned around when she heard the voice. It was the principal of the academy. She quickly bowed and said, "Teacher..."

"How are your injuries?" The principal looked at Sylvanas' hands and asked.

Empress Xi raised her hands when she heard that. Black Qi surrounded her hands, and the laws of her body were constantly trying to repair that area. However, the overbearing sword scar made the repair progress extremely slow.

"Teacher..." Empress Xi frowned and said, "That guy is very dangerous..."

The principal smiled and said, "Back when you joined the alliance, those Lords said the same thing about you."

Empress Xi was stunned and smiled, then she shook her head and said, "Teacher knows. I pity the dead, but I have no ill intentions towards the living. However, the Void is different. That thing is an enemy to our entire universe!"

"But she hates the void..." the principal laughed.

"But she's also the Void!" Empress Xi said stubbornly.

"Let's wait and see..." the principal saw that the other party was stubborn and didn't continue arguing, but changed the topic, "This time, you can buy so many cracks in one go, no problem, right?"

"There's no other way..." Empress Xi smiled bitterly, "We can't increase the federation's hatred towards the undead, the situation is already very unstable now..."

The principal nodded upon hearing this. He also somewhat understood the difficulties of this student of his.

Currently, the first thing many lords thought of when they saw the undead rift was the huge benefits that would follow. However, they did not consider the risks. If something went wrong and the evil spirits invaded, it would cause the planet to become undead., the entire planet would even be reclaimed by the undead kingdom. If something serious were to happen to an evil spirit like Arthas back then, it would even cause a huge natural disaster that would affect the federation.

At that time, it would definitely not be the god lords who made the mistake. All the creatures that were persecuted would only resent the undead that ran out of the undead world, on the other hand, the Sylvanas faction that represented the interests of the undead would be criticized by society.

Although the undead had been accepted by the Federation for a long time now, the Sylvanas faction was still relatively ostracized in the federation. Very few aristocratic families were willing to let their children work there, there were also very few lords who would cooperate with the power of the Greek emperor.

In fact, the treatment of Sylvanas could be said to be the best among the ten great lords. Her civilization had biological technology that was not inferior to that of the elven royal family, especially in the fields of medicine and soul repair. It was definitely second to none in the federation, many lords would definitely benefit greatly if they were willing to cooperate with her, but very few lords would do so.

This was the prejudice against the dead...

A large part of the reason was because of that terrifying natural disaster attack in the past. Thus, for countless eras, Sylvanas had been trying to prevent such a thing from happening again.

"It's been hard on you..."the principal sighed slightly.

Sylvanas smiled but did not reply this time.

The principal sighed again in his heart. There was always a limit to a person's persistence. Currently, the forces outside that opposed the dead were becoming more and more rampant. In the long run, no matter how good-tempered a person was, he might not be able to endure it one day. He knew very well., if this student of mine breaks the bottom line one day, that is absolutely a much more terrible natural disaster than Alsace!

"No Way?"Return to Proxena's seer first time is through the official website to check his coordinates around the prominent great lord.

Unlike seer, a small lord who needs to hide his coordinates, a deity lord will usually open up his foreign trade routes when he reaches a certain stage of development, this was because whether it was the number of people he needed to recruit, the number of imported goods, or the number of products he needed to export, he would need to reveal his location.

Not only would he need to reveal his location, he would also need to spend money to publicize his power in the federation, attracting enough outsiders to spend, travel, trade, and so on... ..

Thus, it was very easy for a lord of a higher rank to find the location of his power on the Internet.

However, when Seer checked, he immediately sucked in a breath of cold air.

He was located in the southwest direction of the North Star Field. The ten great Lord's powers planned by the coordinates were actually the fourth Lord, Sylvanas... ..

This result made Seer feel extremely uneasy. Back then, in order to avoid a certain someone, he had walked in the opposite direction of the East Star Field. However, he had never thought that he would walk into the territory of the undead alliance... ..

If he had known in advance, he would have definitely changed directions. After all, everyone was somewhat uncomfortable with the territory of the Queen of the dead...

Next was the list of the great lords closest to the Milky Way.

There were quite a number of them. There were three that were about the same distance. Seer looked at them. They were Shawn, who was a pure undead force. Eighty percent of the people in the force were undead. It was a civilization that leaned towards alchemy and arcane magic.

The second was called Barr, which was a demonic faction. Its original form was a balrog, which belonged to the species of the abyss. It had a large galaxy under its command, and it practiced the violent rule of slavery. The direction of the civilization was comprehensive, and it was a paradise for many demons of the abyss.

The third great lord was called Elketo, who was born in a noble family in Piltvov. However, he was a proper evolutionary radical who believed that modifying the human body to remove the useless organs of the human body., using hex technology to completely replace the human race was the highest level of evolution. That was why he had specifically chosen the Sylvanas faction as his home.

Because this place was a gathering of otherworldlings, no other faction would specifically exclude his thoughts. In addition to the unique soul technology within Empress XI's faction, it allowed his glorious evolution thoughts to be brought into full play, therefore, he had moved his entire family here back then. It could be considered as a force that Empress XI had recruited.

80% of the people under his command were modified hex mechs. There was a large group of fanatical scientists under his command. Even the federation had judged him to be a dangerous person, so they did not recommend outsiders to go sightseeing.

After XI ye looked around, her eyelids could not help but twitch... .. What kind of monsters and gods were around here?

But thinking about it, weren't all these random things gathered in the territory of Empress Xi's sphere of influence? Otherwise, why was it known as a gathering place for otherworldlings? Because who would come to Empress Xi's sphere of influence for development if they were normal people?

Therefore, this D ball was really lucky. It was hidden at Kaka's location, and the three abnormal gods around it did not discover this treasure trove. In the end, they were met by themselves... ..

Feel Lucky, D Ball people. You did not meet me. Once you leave the Milky Way, you might either become undead or be transformed into robots...

Now, the question was, how could I survive in the crack between these three abnormal big shots?

“Respected Seer Lord... the recruitment meeting you have scheduled will be held on Rhode Star in ten hours. Do you want to go to the venue now?”

Seer was stunned by the notification. He shook his head and thought, “Forget it, let’s take it one step at a time. The key now is to recruit all the missing teachers.”

He clicked on the invitation button sent by the Talent Network!

Chapter 239: enemies have a narrow road!

Unlike the previous small-scale event, Rhode Planet was a public planet used exclusively by the federation for various large gatherings. It had the largest convention and Exhibition Center in the East Star Region, and it had gathered many of the newest media outlets, there were over a hundred million news practitioners here!

Many powers wanted to release their latest products. Usually, in order to show off their attention and strength, they would choose to rent the convention and exhibition center here at an expensive price for external publicity. At the same time., this was also the largest talent market in the Eastern Star Field. Those with slightly higher standards would rent the convention center here to conduct large-scale recruitment.

As a newcomer, Seer felt both excited and pressured to be invited to such a large-scale recruitment fair. After all, with such a large-scale recruitment fair, there would definitely be many large-scale organizations present. In comparison., he, as a shrimp, was even more insignificant.

However, there was no doubt that the quality of the job seekers who were qualified to enter this job fair was very impressive.

After arriving at the venue, Xi Ye was distributed to the small Lord’s exclusive venue. Although it was a large-scale venue, the rules were the same as ordinary venues. The large Lord’s and small lord’s areas were separated, this was also to make it easier for job seekers to apply for jobs based on their own needs.

Unlike the previous small-scale venues, the organizers of this large-scale job fair had clearly given more respect to the small lords. The venues assigned to the small lords were not as casual as before, or, they had deliberately made it simple and crude to reflect the grandeur of the large lords’ influence.

Every small lord, including new lords like seer, was given a very exquisite small room. They basically had all the necessary equipment. Even the tea leaves used for the reception were reserved by the officials, and they were not inferior, the specifications were even the same as top-notch business trains.

Xi Ye could not even find anything to decorate when she arrived at the venue, because the venue had already been meticulously arranged for her. All she had to do was type in the position and requirements that she wanted to recruit on the high-end electronic screen.

This considerate service greatly satisfied Xi Ye. She thought to herself, ‘as expected of a big place. It’s so different from some of the asteroids in the countryside!’

Then, he sat down on the hex multi-functional chair. The chair was made of high-grade induction metal. It could adjust itself to the most comfortable temperature and angle according to the person's body size and attributes, it was so delicate that one could judge from your skin that you were in the environment all year round, thus deriving your body's favorite state.

Seer had long wanted to buy a set of this chair, but the price was really expensive. Even the old products of the previous generation cost millions of federation coins, and the latest series was worth several times more.

Naturally, Seer could not bear to part with it. The base was short of money right now, so a few million federal coins was enough for him to buy a lot of high-quality seeds to go back and develop agriculture.

With the experience from last time, Seer chose to look at the prices around him first. If his bid did not match the market, it might cause dissatisfaction among his peers.

After looking around, Seer found that the recruitment prices of the surrounding heavenly god bids this time were much more reasonable than the last time. Most of them were similar to the salary figures published by the Federation on his web page, they were not as cheap as the dishwashers from before.

This made Xi Ye rather curious. Could it be that after not coming for a few months, the rules of the market had changed again?

While she was puzzled, a butterfly girl from Vasteria saw Xi ye strolling around. She put down the work in her hands and walked up gracefully to greet him. "Respected Lord, is there anything I can help you with?"

Xi Ye was stunned for a moment before he quickly said, "Ah, no, no, I was just looking around..."

Butterfly Lady looked at the Lord who was wearing a helmet. Her expression was a little strange. If it wasn't for the invitation rune on his body, she might have suspected that he was a suspicious person.

However, for the sake of safety, she still scanned the Lord's information. After scanning it, butterfly lady was stunned. Her strange expression immediately turned into a polite smile. "My lord, if you have anything you want to ask, just ask me."

"Oh... I see..." Xi ye hesitated for a moment, but in the end, she still asked her question about the price.

"I see...". Butterfly girl covered her mouth and laughed. "My Liege, this should be your first time coming to this venue, right?" "This is a formal job hunting meeting organized by the talent network. Unlike those small-scale job hunting meetings in the past, there are strict rules here. While raising the threshold for job seekers, there are also corresponding guarantees for them. The unscrupulous liege will not allow the unscrupulous liege to use a pie-in-the-sky method to squeeze the employees' wages."

"Oh... Hahaha, if that's the case, then it's really... a professional third party. This is good... I think it's very good..." Xi ye chuckled, in her heart, she was not only ridiculing, 'it seems like those small-scale job-hunting meetings are also organized by your Talent Network, right?'

But suddenly, Xi Ye thought of something and immediately asked, "What do you mean by raising the threshold for Job-seekers?"

Butterfly replied, "Yes, due to the higher requirements, we naturally have some screening for the quality of job seekers. The requirements are all from better schools and families, and they also require an entrance fee..."

"There's also an entrance fee?" Xi Ye's eyelids twitched as he stuttered, "How much... Is It?"

"50,000 federal coins!" The young lady smiled like a flower.

F * ck... that was the main point...

Xi Ye felt powerless to complain. 50,000 federal coins. Other than a few majors, most new job seekers would only receive a monthly salary of 2,000 to 3,000 after they entered the job market. The lords who were less well-off would only be able to attract talents, the higher the price, the higher the price would be 4,000 to 5,000 like Xi Ye. Yet, this club was so good that they demanded 50,000 admission fees.

Even if you found a suitable job, it would take one to two years to recoup the cost. The key was that you might not be able to find a job in this club... ..

When did the world become so dark?

"Sigh, Rhode's standards are getting worse with each generation. Any Tom, Dick, or Harry can be let in!"

Just as seer was lamenting the darkness of the world, a familiar yet unfamiliar mocking voice sounded. Seer and butterfly girl were stunned.

The venue had yet to be opened to job seekers. Other than the staff, there were also deity overlords. The staff had undergone strict training and would definitely not be rude in front of others. Otherwise, one would be fired for mocking a deity, it was possible that one might not even be able to find a job in the entire federation, so the only ones left would be deities.

It was hard to imagine that a deity would directly mock one of their own kind. After all, in the boundless starry skies, miracles happened every day. This was especially so for a deity who was a pioneer. Every day, he would try to excavate miracles, under such circumstances, befriending someone of the same kind was definitely more meaningful than offending someone of the same kind.

Butterfly looked back and saw that the one who spoke was a sky god Lord who was much smaller than seer. Other than the handsome face of a sky god, there were also some features of the viridescent Fox clan on his face. Butterfly was momentarily stunned.

Viridescent foxes were a high-level species of the Wastyia clan, but their reputation was not very good. They were shrewd and calculative, and they had outstanding talent in making people suffer losses. They were known as the Wastyia Goblins.

Butterfly tried her best to hold back the expression that she wanted to frown. As a member of the WASTYA race, she was very disgusted with the viridescent fox race. Her parents had once been tricked by a viridescent fox when they were doing business, up until now, she was still heavily in debt and had yet to go ashore. More than half of her monthly salary was used to support her parents in paying off their debts. It would be strange if she had a good impression of them.

How did this silly lord wearing a helmet offend such a fellow?

Seer turned around and looked at him. She could not help but feel that there was a narrow road between enemies. The universe was so big, yet the two of them were able to barge into the same venue twice!

Moreover, this venue was different from the last time. It was very huge. Just the small lord areas like them were divided into more than 1,300 districts. This way, they could still be gathered together. Seer finally believed in the word fate.

He must have eaten his rice in his previous life...

Chapter 240: Evil!

Why did this kid appear here?

This viridescent Fox Overlord's name was Silva. After he saw seer, he was stunned for a moment before his expression turned hostile. When he recalled what had happened a few months ago, he could no longer suppress the evil fire in his heart and could not help but take the initiative to mock seer.

While he was mocking seer, he was also somewhat puzzled. This kind of job fair should not be attended by newbies who were just starting out?

It was the first time that he had obtained the invitation qualification. Moreover, he had clung onto the thighs of his classmates who had mixed hair and shamelessly asked for a recommendation. Only then did he barely enter the venue, what did this guy, who had not even established a political star, rely on?

"AH, senior, it's really fate!" After Xi ye turned around and saw the other party clearly, she greeted him with the etiquette of a junior in school.

Fate your ass!

Silva looked at him coldly. Last time, because of him, he could not recruit anyone, which greatly delayed the operation of his base. His needs were different from Seer's, the number of people recruited in the previous plan was calculated in thousands. Originally, he had planned to use it to vigorously develop the newly explored Level-8 planet.

In the end, because he could not recruit anyone, he had no choice but to deploy people from other planets, which greatly disrupted his plan. Although the society later recruited some people to fill the job gap., now, the base was also facing a shortage of people.

After all, the temporarily transferred employees all had some experience. If you let them do the same thing as the newbies on those new, godforsaken planets, they would naturally feel resentful, they would have to pay a higher salary to appease their subordinates' emotions.

Can you imagine asking an employee with a monthly salary of 30,000 to do a job of 3,000, and you have to pay 50,000 to make up for the dissatisfaction of the other party?

In order to quickly stop such a stupid thing, he shamelessly asked his classmates for a recommendation after learning about this job fair. He did not expect to meet the culprit here!

Butterfly looked at Silva's sour face and was slightly surprised. From the tone of their conversation, one was sarcastic, and the other was gentle and generous. This was clearly a situation that could only be created when one side was at a disadvantage. As for who was at a disadvantage.., was there even a need to say that?

Butterfly looked back at Xi Ye and thought to herself, "This silly guy actually made a viridescent fox suffer a loss. How did he do it?"?

Xi Ye looked at the other party's expression as if he wanted to eat her up and expressed his innocence. Logically speaking, I was on the passive side. How could you have such an expression as if I owed you money?

"Doesn't this club require a qualified Lord to enter? Why can he enter as well?"Silva pointed at Xi Ye and asked with an unfriendly expression.

"Sir, anyone who can be here is qualified!"Butterfly explained with a smile.

Even though she did not like the other party, she still followed her own professional ethics and maintained the proper etiquette. Her reminder was also very gentle.

However, she still buried a small hole and did not try to remind the other party. The information on this guy wearing a helmet showed that he was different from the rest.

"What's going on?"At this moment, a deep voice suddenly sounded. Upon hearing this voice, Silva turned around and looked over. His face was filled with joy, while seer frowned slightly.

That voice did not deliberately release the power of laws, but it gave him a considerable pressure before it even got close. It was clearly a lord with a heavy weight.

Seer turned around and saw that the person who came was an abnormally tall deity. He was about five meters tall, with the unique handsomeness of the deity race and the strong physique of a warrior family.

It was a titan!

Xi Ye was quite surprised by this judgment. The probability of the Titan race producing a deity was extremely small. With the harsh evolutionary conditions and the deity bloodline, it was even more difficult for them to evolve, the value of a deity from such a race would be extremely high every time they advanced to the next level. This guy was obviously over level 12, and if a titan deity wanted to surpass level 12, they would need to have at least a complete galaxy as a backing.

"Oh, Will, you came at the right time!"Silva hurriedly greeted, "I now highly suspect that we've been scammed by this talent network. This organizer has a very serious double standard for the threshold!"

Seer heard the other party's words and felt that this guy was about to stir up trouble again... . Instantly, her heart tightened... .

"What Now?"That Titan frowned, and his tone was clearly a little impatient.

“This website collects expensive membership fees from US every year. The talent recruitment fairs arranged are all rubbish places. Not to mention the quality of the recommended talents, it was not easy for one or two higher-level job fairs to reject us due to lack of qualifications...” “...”

Titan rolled his eyes and mocked secretly, “What do you mean by ‘we’? It’s you... ‘It’s you who’s not qualified enough, alright?’? ‘what’s the point of bringing labor along?’? ‘labor was qualified long ago!’!

“It’s not easy to be qualified enough to come in, yet I see such a scene!” Silva pointed angrily at seer, he said to butterfly, “Please explain. You’ve blocked me for tens of thousands of years because you’re not qualified enough. Why is a newcomer who only has one planet qualified enough to come in?”

Seer was stunned when she heard that... .. So? ... this recruitment fair had a requirement on the qualifications of the Liege... ? Then.. ... How did he get in?

The titan God frowned as he looked at the two people opposite him. He was obviously not a person who liked to find fault, but he revealed a hint of dissatisfaction when he heard Silva’s words. After all, he had been blocked by the same excuse for hundreds of thousands of years.

Faced with Silva’s aggressive questioning.., butterfly scanned the other party and smiled, “Sir, according to the information, you do not have the qualifications to come here. Instead, you relied on the recommendation and guarantee of the Lord next to you to get in.”

As soon as these words were said, the surrounding Titans who were passing by to watch the show burst into laughter. They thought to themselves, ‘this guy, with such an unforgiving look on his face, he is actually a westbay disaster himself?’? It really suited the style of the viridescent Fox clan.

“So What?” Silva was obviously not shy. He was not embarrassed at all. Instead, he sneered and pointed at Seer. “Are you trying to say that he was also recommended and vouched for by someone?”

“Of course...” butterfly smiled politely.

“Ha, I don’t believe it!” The sneer on Silva’s face became even denser. “This guy is a little deity born in a third-rate warrior family. His family has spent all their savings for him to go to school. How can a level five little lord find someone to vouch for him to come in?”

Xi Ye’s body trembled when she heard this. She then gave him a deep look.

He actually knew so much about her? It was obvious that he had put in a lot of effort. Why was he asking about her? Xi Ye believed that he definitely did not have anything good to hide.

A Guy she had only met once had a small grudge against her because of her provocation. Yet, he was being targeted like this. Xi Ye realized that she seemed to have underestimated someone’s malice...

When the surrounding sky gods heard this, they all turned to look at Seer. Clearly, they also felt that it was unreasonable. After all, for a level-five little sky god to be guaranteed entry, he had to be a great lord, and judging from Silva’s tone, it was clear that the other party’s family did not have such a background.

If the family did not have it, it was even more impossible for them to do so in school. The only people they could get to know in school were usually students of the same grade. For example, no matter how thick-skinned Silva was, he could only curry favor with his own students of the same grade, if he wanted to curry favor with a higher lord, it would have to be because his own civilization had a value that others cared about.

And this value was clearly not something a level-five heavenly god Lord could have. And if there was a great lord among the students of his own class... "...". That was even more impossible.

Looking at everyone's doubts, butterfly looked at seer with some difficulty. According to the rules, information about this could not be made public without his consent.

Xi Ye saw butterfly lady's gaze and immediately nodded. Actually, he also wanted to know why he had the right to enter... ? ... could it be that wine God had vouched for him?

After butterfly lady received the consent, she excitedly posted Xi Ye's information on a light screen. Once the information was displayed, all the surrounding deity overlords immediately sucked in a breath of cold air! !
