Chapter 261: Suspicion

“Oh Yeah, it’s Done!”The little fairy who had gone offline stretched lazily, and her whole body suddenly emitted crackling sounds.

Speaking of which... Herself... ? ? ... had she grown a little taller recently?

The little fairy was a little puzzled. She always felt that her whole body had been itchy these two months. Sometimes, she would casually move her joints and they would crackle. The internet had said that it was a characteristic of growing a body, but she was already f * cking thirty years old? Wasn’t it a little too late to grow a body?

Just as she was thinking about it, she suddenly heard a light knock on the door. The little fairy was stunned. She looked at the time. It was already seven o’clock in the evening. Usually, people who checked the water meter would not come to her house at this time, right?

She had been used to being alone at this time for the past few years since she came back. She was planning to order a pot rice and two bottles of warhorse special drink!

“Who is it?”The little fairy called to the door.

“Oh, it’s me. is the landlord here?”A familiar male voice came from the door, making the little fairy stunned. Wasn’t this the handsome old man who rented a house from her two days ago?

Why is he looking for me at this time? Could it be that the toilet is leaking? F * ck, didn’t I tell him that there was something wrong with the toilet when I rented the house to him? Didn’t I tell him to find someone if something happened to him?

With doubt, the little fairy rubbed her eyes and ran to open the electronic door. Then, she saw the handsome face of the extremely charming old man again.

“What’s the matter?”The little fairy asked with a frown.

“Landlord? Have you eaten?”The old man said with a polite smile.

“Eh?”The little fairy was stunned. She was a little surprised when she saw the smiling face of the dog father because it had indeed been a long time since someone had asked her this question...

“I cooked beer and wild boar meat. I invited some neighbors from our rental group to eat, but there are still too few people. Landlord, would you be willing to do me a favor?”The dog father smiled and said.

“Rental group...”the little fairy paused for a moment. She remembered that in order to make it easier for these tenants to pay the rent, she had dragged these people into a wechat group. When it was time, she would urge them to rent in the wechat group.

But this guy had only been here for two days, right? And he was already so familiar with people that he could eat together?

“Yeah...”. This time, she dragged her friend to bring two very big wild boar legs. She called two families, but they probably couldn’t finish it. She heard from them that landlord, you seem to be alone most of the time, so she wanted to ask you to eat with her. It would be more lively with more people ...”the dog father laughed.

“Um... i. . . I think I’ll pass...”the little fairy wanted to refuse subconsciously. She had been alone for a long time, so she was not used to such a lively scene.

Although she was careless in the game and liked to fool around with a group of people, she was really not used to interacting with other people in real life.

“Hey!”The dog father pulled her back. “Don’t be polite, little landlord. Come, come, come. The wild boar meat i cooked is very fragrant...”as he spoke, he grabbed the little fairy and walked out.

“Hey Hey, I haven’t changed yet! !”

“Is that the girl?”In the distance, holding binoculars situ Ming looked at wearing a rabbit baby pajamas was pulled all the way the little fairy was suddenly stunned.

“Yes...”said the disciple next to her with a lingering fear on his face when he saw the little fairy.

“You are sure that is a Master?”Situ Ming frowned: “That how to see is a child?”

“She’s not a child...”the disciple hurriedly said, “I’ve asked around. That woman’s name is Chen Siyu. According to the information, she’s actually over thirty years old.”

“Thirty years old?”Situ Ming’s expression was strange.

The disciple hurriedly said, “I’ve asked around and said that she has dwarfism, but how can dwarfism be so good-looking? I think that it’s because she practiced some special cultivation technique that caused this. For example, the eight desolates and six harmonies supreme technique...”

Situ Ming’s face twitched when he heard that. What the F * ck is this supreme technique... ? You Believe Old Master Jin’s Bullsh * t too? If such a technique really existed, would our sect still have so many old ladies?

Just as Situ Ming was about to turn around to carefully observe the other party again, his gaze turned back and he was so scared that the binoculars in his hand almost fell to the ground!

Because when he looked over, the little girl who was ten thousand meters away was actually staring straight at him, as if they were only looking at each other across a road.

But it’s tens of thousands of meters...

“What is it, brother Ming?”asked the disciple at the side.

“Er...” situ Ming was stunned. When he looked again, the other party had already retracted his gaze. As the dog father went upstairs, he suddenly fell silent for a while and thought to himself: it should be a coincidence... .

Here we go again... him again! !

The little fairy withdrew her eyes and frowned. She felt that someone was watching her that day, so she didn't want to go out these days!

Could it be a human trafficker?

The little fairy thought with some fear. She didn't notice that she could see so far... ..

“What's Wrong?”The dog father asked curiously.

“Oh... nothing...”the little fairy shook her head and collected her thoughts. Then, she followed the dog father into the elevator.

As soon as she entered the house, the little fairy smelled a meat fragrance that made her fingers move. She was instantly energized...

To be honest, ever since she ate the meat there in the game, many things in real life had lost their flavor. She rarely had such a sense of anticipation like now...

When she walked in, she saw another neighbor who came to freeload. There was a young couple, a middle-aged couple, and a chubby little girl who was about two or three years old.

This lineup made her feel a little less uneasy. To be honest, if it were a group of young people or a group of middle-aged people smoking and playing cards, she might have to find an excuse to walk.

But now, the scene looked pretty good. A couple was playing on the same cell phone in the corner, and the middle-aged couple was helping in the kitchen.

After the chubby little girl saw her, she staggered over and hugged her with a big smile on her chubby face. “Rabbit...”

The little fairy's body trembled, and then she bent down to carry the little guy.

“Yu, be careful... this little girl is very heavy!”Father Dog hurriedly said. After all, the little fairy looked too thin, and he was still a little worried.

However, when he saw the little fairy carry the girl with one hand, he was immediately stunned and thought to himself, as expected!

From the scene, such a thin little girl wouldn't be able to carry such a fat guy so easily, right. In the end, not only did she pick him up with one hand, her body was so stable that she didn't even tremble...

Of course... .. This didn't mean anything. What if he had a special system and looked thin and weak, but his strength wasn't small. It wasn't as if there weren't such people...

As for why Dog Daddy would pay special attention to the other party, there was naturally a reason. Previously, when he chatted with his neighbors on wechat, he found out that the landlord was a full-fledged otaku, the kind who usually didn't go out. It seemed that he was also obsessed with online games.

Logically speaking, such a person should have very poor energy. However, when he had rented the house that day, he had been very sensitive to the fact that she did not look like a shut-in. She was full of energy, especially her eyes, which were as bright as a black pearl.

He was also a veteran criminal police officer who had dealt with people in the sect all year round. He had some discerning skills, and he could almost instantly tell that this girl was a martial artist.

However, judging from her body size and the muscles all over her body, she seemed to be a little too thin and weak. It gave people the feeling that this body had not been trained before.

This feeling was very familiar. It was exactly the same as his daughter, Wang Xiaoja!

An otaku, who did not go out, but had the kind of spirit and energy that even martial artists could not compare to... ..

Perhaps...

Chapter 262: This Is Definitely Not a game!

"Rabbit rabbit..." on the sofa, the little fatty who was standing next to the Little Fairy would pull her rabbit ears from time to time. Smelling the milk fragrance on the Little Fellow's body, the little fairy, who had a short temper, felt a rare sense of peace in her heart.

"I didn't expect brother Wang to really invite our little landlord here?" A middle-aged woman with an apple-shaped face walked over with a smile. She began to tidy up the table as she spoke.

The little fairy who was playing with the doll immediately frowned when she heard this. She thought to herself, 'which part of Me is young? 'you're only a few years older than me, Alright? 'So what if I have a baby?'

She recognized this couple. They were her old tenants. Both of them worked as teachers and their income was stable. However, the house price was too high, so they could only buy a house in their hometown. They usually rented a house from her.

Forget it, they had rented a house from her place for almost four years, right?

HMM... .. they had to raise the rent. ... The little fairy thought so.

"Didn't you say that you didn't have children when you rented a house?" The little fairy began to plan an excuse to raise the rent...

"Isn't it... not born yet at that time?" The couple smiled a little embarrassedly, the man also came over with a bowl and chopsticks and said, "Speaking of which, time really flies. We have been renting an

Seeing this, father dog hurriedly asked, "Why? Is it not to your appetite?"

The little fairy shook her head. "The flavor is not bad, but the quality of the meat is average..."

"Ah, no way. This is pure wild pork. The quality of the meat is still average?" Old Wang said with a look of disbelief.

The people beside him nodded their heads repeatedly. The quality of the meat was much better than the common feed pigs.

"It's really average. Compared to when I was in the game..." the little fairy paused for a moment and realized that it was somewhat inappropriate for her to compare the things in the game.

When the people around heard this, they were immediately amused. They thought to themselves, "This girl is really funny. She even comes to the game."

The middle-aged couple laughed and said, "Little Landlord, you play less games every day and go out more when you have nothing to do. It's not good for your health to stay at home every day!"

"That's right!" Her husband also added, "Young people nowadays are too addicted to virtual games. No matter how well that thing simulates, it's still not real..." "... little landlord, you're well-off. You have so many houses and no financial pressure, so you shouldn't waste your time on online games. There are still many beautiful things in the world." "..."

I can't tell at all... ? "... What's wrong with games?" The little fairy complained in her heart? How happy are games? If you don't play games, are you going to fall in love... . Cheh, there's something wrong with your brain... "...".

On the other hand, when the dog father saw the other party take the initiative to mention games, his eyes lit up, and he hurriedly followed the other party's words and asked, "What games? You can even eat in them? are all the virtual online games nowadays so real?"

"Eat?" The young man next to him was stunned, and then he quickly said, "Oh, OH, OH, I know. Is it that game called Galaxy?"

"You play it too?" The little fairy asked curiously.

"I can't play it..." The young man scratched his head embarrassedly. "I can't get in. There are more than a million people in front of me. I don't know what's going on with this company. They actually rely on queuing to get in, and they don't even sell the activation code. It makes us, who only know about this game later on, unable to get in even if we wanted to."

"Ha..." the little fairy was instantly amused. "You two can't even afford to pay the rent, and you still have the activation code? With the popularity of this game, I'm afraid that one activation code would sell for millions. Are you two sure that you can get in with the activation code?"

"Is it that exaggerated?" The two couples stuck out their tongues. Back then, Titan's activation code was only tens of thousands of dollars each, right?

"Exaggerated? The population of an NPC inside can be sold for millions. If there is an activation code, I reckon that the rich second generation outside would be willing to pay 100 million!" The fairy pouted.

“F * ck... 100 million, really?” The few of them stuck out their tongues in shock, especially the two teachers and couple who had worked for more than ten years and still had a salary of several thousand. They instantly sighed.

In this world, rich people would spend 100 million on games. An ordinary couple would have to spend half their lives to buy a house. These teachers who did not have high salaries would have a hard time buying a house in the county. Sigh... It was really impossible to compare people...

“Is this game really that good?” The dog father quickly pulled the topic into the game and pretended to be confused. “You can even eat in it? How does it taste like to eat in the game?”

The little fairy touched her chin. “It’s... wonderful. The fruits, vegetables, and meat in the game are very realistic. The taste is completely incomparable to those ingredients in the real world. It’s just so damn expensive that players usually can’t bear to eat it...”

“Wow, Grandpa Lu’s post is actually true. Can this game really simulate taste?” The young man said excitedly!

“Grandpa Lu? Which One?” The dog father quickly asked.

“Grandpa Lu, you don’t know?” The young man said, “The current leader of the Lu family has also entered galaxy. He has changed his job to write online game content posts. He is very popular. I look at his posts every day and feel that the games he is playing now are boring. Now, he is waiting to be ranked in galaxy!”

“Is it really that exaggerated?” His father asked in disbelief.

“Really, I’ll send his post to you later...”

His father looked at the little fairy again. “Is this game really that fun?”

The little fairy was stunned. She rubbed her chin and said, “How do I put this... tsk... it feels like I’ve created a second world...”

His father narrowed his eyes and carefully observed the other party. He found that the other party did not seem to have any hesitation or doubts, as if they were really discussing a game.

But he was very clear that this was absolutely not a fucking game!!!

Chapter 263: shocking speculation

After dinner, the few of them chatted until late into the night. In fact, the pace of life nowadays was so fast that few people would talk for such a long time.

This was especially true for little fairy. She felt that she had probably talked to more people tonight than in the past few years combined. She could not remember the last time she had talked to someone for so long...

Although she was a chatterbox in the game, in reality, they were two completely different people. She rarely interacted with others, especially in the past few years. Other than these tenants, she basically never interacted with outsiders.

Even for tenants, if they paid their rent on time, she would usually not bother with them. Only when others owed rent would she turn into a fierce landlady and come to them to urge them to rent.

Only at this time, when she stood in an absolutely strong position, would she be filled with the confidence to talk to others. This was also why when she came to Doggy Daddy's House, the first thing she did was to ask for rent, to her, this was a form of self-protection that used offense as a defense. Only when she turned into a strong landlady would others not care about her physical defects.

At least, that was what she thought...

However, she did not expect that she would be able to chat so happily today. Originally, if not for the dog father deliberately bringing the topic into the game, the little fairy would have nothing to say after the rent was paid, however, when she entered the topic of the game, those originally unfamiliar defenses were gradually put down by her. Her state of mind became more and more peaceful, and the conversation became more and more open.

Due to the novelty of the game's content, both the young couple and the teacher couple were attracted by the topic. When the little fairy saw that her words could attract the interest of others, her heart was slightly excited, she spoke more and more, and even had the shadow of the Titans in the game.

The few of them were filled with yearning for the game world that she described. This gave the little fairy an inexplicable sense of accomplishment. She suddenly understood why Grandpa Lu liked to post online... ..

It turned out that it was such a pleasant thing to play a game and make others envy the content that others couldn't play...

Happiness multiplied by two, F * ck! !

The little fairy was delighted in her heart.

Among the few of them, the one who was the most excited was the young couple. The one who was the most curious was the teacher couple, but the one who listened the most seriously was the dog father...

After he introduced this topic, in order to avoid being alarmed, he listened more and spoke less, allowing the young couple to ask about the content of the game, he, on the other hand, imprinted the game world described by the little fairy in his mind from the perspective of a bystander.

The conversation did not end until late at night because the teacher couple remembered that they had to go to class the next day. The little fairy also seemed to think that it was very late. Although the young couple and the dog father wanted to know more, it was not good to keep forcing them to stay.

In the end, the dog father personally sent them downstairs one by one.

After returning home, the dog father did not even have the mood to clean up the dishes on the table. The first thing he did was to turn on the computer and use his notebook to record the information for today, then, he opened the post that the player said was Grandpa Lu's analysis and read it from beginning to end.

In the end, he came to the following conclusions:

First, after players entered the game, they would be required to sign an unknown agreement.

Second, after players entered the game, they could not leave the base. They had to undergo genetic surgery before they could move freely on Mars: the reason was that the human body could not adapt to the Martian environment.

Third, they had to return at a fixed offline point. When they were doing missions outside, they often did not have the option to go offline. They even had the experience of being locked up in the game for four to five days. (the key point was that the player's body would not be affected much after being locked up for four to five days.)

Fourthly, the game was very realistic. Until now, no player could find any flaws in the physical effects of the game. The background of the game was very grand. The mysterious Lord had once brought a few players to visit the so-called universe federation, there were high-level alien cities in the game!

After tidying up everything, the old man watched the game from beginning to end several times. The more he watched, the more shocked he became. Combined with the scene of his daughter disappearing every time she played the game, he came to a shocking conclusion in his heart!

These players... ... ! Maybe they really were on Mars! ! !

When this idea popped up, he himself felt incredulous. There were also many things that didn't make sense, because if there really was a force that could establish a base on Mars, it definitely wouldn't be on Earth.

Which country on earth had such technology and had already unified the entire world!

But if it was an extraterrestrial civilization... ? Why would he use this method to lure the people of Earth to help him build it?

Shouldn't the science fiction plot directly invade and colonize?

Why did he have to sign a contract? Why did he have to strengthen the players' genes?

His daughter could become so powerful in such a short time, it was most likely caused by this so-called genetic surgery, right?

But what was his reason for doing so?

There were so many questions that the dog father could not think of an explanation!

Moreover, from what the little fairy said, it seemed that she herself still thought that it was a game. She did not even notice that she had been transformed into a superman. According to her example, she pushed the blame on her daughter, Xiao Jia, the dog father judged that his daughter might have been kept in the dark from the start.

That meant that most players were in this state. After all, every time they went offline, their bodies had to be switched back.

But why did it have to be like this?

Doggy Daddy crossed his hands and stared at the data on the computer screen. The more he thought about it, the more he felt that it didn't make sense.

Moreover, he also realized one thing. If his judgment was true and every player had been modified, then based on the number of players that little fairy said, it meant that there were already tens of thousands of supermen in this D Ball?

If this were to happen later on, how chaotic would it be?

Thinking of this, he couldn't sit still anymore and quickly called Old Zhang.

The phone was naturally using a new card. After the call was connected, father dog hurriedly asked, "Old Zhang, is it convenient?"

A relieved voice immediately came from the other side, "Convenient, convenient. Aiyo, your call came just in time. If it hadn't come, I might not have received your call..."

The dog father was stunned, and then asked, "Did something happen on your side?"

"No... I was working with my wife... I thought that I could show off a little bit of my masculinity after a month of recuperation... But..."

"What happened in the end?" The dog father followed the other party's words with a face full of black lines.

"Of course, the result is that the masses are outnumbered by the few eggs!" Old Zhang sighed and said, "A 50-year-old woman can't afford to be hurt..."

Dog Dad: "..."

"By the way, why are you looking for me? Didn't I tell you that the limelight is tight?"

Dog Dad: "Do you have any acquaintances from the astronomical bureau?"

Old Zhang: "What Bureau?"

"The astronomical bureau..."

Old Zhang: "Why don't you ask me if I have any acquaintances from the CIA?"

Dog Dad: "I'm Serious!"

Old Zhang: "There are so many people who admit to being fake. I'm a F * cking criminal police officer, and you're asking me if I have any acquaintances from the astronomical bureau? Aren't you bullshitting me? Besides, aren't you going to look for Your Daughter? Why are you looking for the people from the astronomy bureau? Could it be that your daughter is on an alien planet?"

"Old Zhang, I'm serious. My daughter might really be on an alien planet..."

Old Zhang was silent for a while on the other end of the phone. Finally, he said, "I say... how many dishes? Are you always drunk like this?"

Chapter 264:: What a bunch of treacherous people...

Inside the base, Seer looked at the city planning map submitted by a developer named Dapiao and nodded slowly. As a god, he knew a little about any subject. He did not want to understand everything, but at least he knew how to read it.

Actually, the city planning map could also be designed according to the federation's traditional template. It might even be more standardized, but seer still chose to give the rights to these developers, it was to allow them to fully integrate into the creation of civilization.

When a city designed by themselves was established, these developers would definitely feel a great sense of accomplishment in their hearts.

"Not bad, not bad at all. Let's do as you say!" Seer nodded and said.

The developer was stunned when he heard this. Immediately, the developers behind him, who had designed the city planning map together, revealed expressions of excitement that they could not hide.

In reality, they were also majoring in civil engineering, but they did not have the chance to participate in a big project like real city planning.

When they first came to the game, they actually wanted to become a mech pilot or an arcanist like boss Rainie. However, after taking a few mechanical and alchemy courses, they gave up and returned to their original profession.

According to the information provided by AI, after learning this knowledge, they could become professional design masters. Whether it was designing military defense or large cities, there was a high market for it, however, it was a full-fledged lifestyle profession.

It could not fly like other players or have their own gorgeous superpowers.

This was somewhat regretful.

However, after they integrated into this profession, the imbalance slowly dissipated. Especially after they knew that there were so many different styles of architectural templates in the universe, they had a great passion for this profession!

Thinking about the style of designing a city or even a planet in the future, whether it was science fiction, punk, fantasy, or even retro style, they were all created by their own hands, that kind of excitement completely covered the envy of other combat job classes.

And what they didn't expect was that everything had happened so quickly. The Lord had actually handed over the design of the first city to them.

Thinking about how they would be able to take over such a large project so quickly, the few of them were so excited that they didn't sleep for several days!

After discussing non-stop for several days, they finally came up with this preliminary design. This was the result that they came up with after flipping through a large amount of elven city's information, they then handed it over to the Lord nervously.

The developers all knew the truth of the game, and they also knew that the person in front of them was a real boss. Their thoughts were completely unfavorable, but they did not expect the lord to agree with them so easily...

"Ahem...". Seer looked at the excited developers and said, "Of course, this is a rare opportunity to experiment, and it's also a rare experience. Don't slack off. Keep an eye on the progress of the project and try to complete it in the shortest time possible!"

"Yes, my Lord!" A few players promised excitedly.

"Go back to work..." seer waved his hand, and a few players left excitedly.

After the players left, the intelligent voice slowly sounded, "My lord, the first city is designed by a few inexperienced players, isn't it..."

"It's nothing..." seer shook his head, he looked at the design and said, "Their design is not bad. At least the traffic is reasonable. However, there are still some mistakes in the planning of the business district and the entertainment district. There are also many characteristics of the elf race that have not been shown. I still have some templates of their D sphere in my mind."

Ai was stunned. He felt that the Lord was more professional than he had imagined... ? Weren't the heavenly gods supposed to stop at the beginning of these courses?

After being stunned for a moment, ai hesitated and said, "Then... why..."

Seer said, "It doesn't matter. We can't expect them to be the best of the best the moment they make a move, right? After the city is completed, I'll bring them around a few famous elven cities and let them broaden their horizons. I'll let them know their shortcomings and stimulate their desire to improve. After that, I'll send them to a school to further their studies."

"Lord... does my lord want to send all the developers to further their studies?" Ai asked doubtfully.

"Of course. Such a good seedling. Are they really going to be used as mechanics?" Xi Ye rolled her eyes. "Mid-level mechanics can be replenished through the population of other star fields. Excellent bloodlines must not be wasted. We can't really treat them like worthless cabbages just because we have a lot of them, right?"

Then, she placed the blueprint on the table and said, "Upload the blueprint to the database and announce to the public the attributes of the planning area contained in the blueprint. Open up the channel for players to sign up."

Ai: "Yes..."

"By the way, how are the engineers distributed in the base?" Xi Ye suddenly asked.

Ai: "The number of engineers is more than 20,000 in total, but the resources are relatively concentrated. Currently, there are only over a hundred players who have engineers, and most of them don't have many subordinates. There are only a dozen or so players who can really contract large projects, and those players who have a large number of engineers don't sell them. The market has already reached 1.5 million per engineer, but there's still a price but no market. This is obviously not good..." "..."

"It's not good..." Xi Ye nodded and knocked on the table, "Set the upper limit for all players to accept projects. They can't accept unlimited projects. Based on their aptitude, determine the size of the projects they can accept and force them to sell their excess engineers!"

System: "Lord is wise!"

"Have you done the usual behavior and character evaluation of those engineers?" Xi Ye asked.

"Yes..." "According to the Lord's request a few days ago, I recorded the behavior of the 20,000 engineers in the base in the database. Most of them seemed to be very stable without being mistreated. When the construction of the city was announced two days ago, half of the engineers had great expectations for the future. A quarter of them were in a state of doubt, but they were still learning normally. However, a quarter of them were still very restless But he seemed to be very restless ..."

"Where does he show his restlessness?" Xi Ye asked with a frown.

"There are people who are scheming, spreading conspiracy theories, and inciting small factions to stir up trouble!"

"Have you sent these data to the players?"

"Yes..."

"Then what are the players going to do with it?" Xi Ye asked curiously.

Ai: "They're going to sell it to other players..."

Xi Ye: "..."

What a bunch of treacherous people...

Xi Ye covered her head and sighed, "These D ball people are good at everything, but they're too dishonest..."

"Lord, are you going to expose this matter?"

"No need..." Xi Ye waved her hand. "It's good to let some players suffer a loss. After all, if they encounter anyone during the colonial period in the future, it's not a bad thing to warm up a little ... "Coincidentally, there's a problem with the project, so I'll ruthlessly deduct a wave of their points..." "..."

AI: "..."

What a cunning lord...

“How’s the situation with the quests on both sides?” After talking about the city planning, Seer asked a more crucial question. Right now, apart from the base’s infrastructure, the most crucial thing was the dispute with the sects in the real world and the new territories regarding the undead world.

The city planning was not a big problem, but if the undead and the sects were not handled properly, it would be a big problem...

Chapter 265: Oh No!

The current situation was not optimistic. The opening of the undead passage in the New World was both an opportunity and a crisis. If it was not handled properly, it could cause the entire world to become undead, in that case, the passage on his side would have to be forcefully closed. Most importantly, there was also an unknown sky god Lord who was very likely paying attention to the new world.

What level of civilization was the overlord that saved the leader of the Gale Division? The deity Overlord had no idea what level he was at. Faced with an unknown opponent that could arrive at any time, Seer felt a great pressure.

It was the same on the D sphere. This planet had originally thought that it was just an ordinary level seven planet and a low-tech civilization, but reality proved that it was not that simple.

These sects, especially Kunlun, seemed to have a huge secret hidden behind them. A cultivation technique that could cultivate the fragile body of the people of Planet D to level 3 or even level 4 without any genetic modification.

He had to figure it out.

That was why he took the risk to contact the authorities.

According to the intelligence report, Rainy Melon had safely arrived at the imperial capital in the New Territories. She had come into contact with ex-steel warrior Empire’s Marshal Rox. She was temporarily staying at the marshal’s residence and was familiarizing herself with the noble circles in the imperial capital.

She still had no clue about that mysterious shadow stream faction, and after that mysterious faction was defeated by the drunk Pu Yunchuan the last time, they did not take any further action for the time being.

They were stuck in a stalemate, so they could only slowly search for clues from the source.

On Ball D’s side, the Huazhong officials were very satisfied with Li Goudan’s performance. According to the news, Li Goudan had killed two experts from the extraordinary army as soon as he arrived in Basen, and he had also killed two captain-level figures from the Kagura Legion, this battle prowess greatly shocked the Huazhong officials.

Elder Li had also received the approval of the higher-ups because of Goudan Li's battle achievements. In the end, the higher-ups decided to fully support elder Li's cooperation with the fake Luofu sect.

Elder Li immediately made a request for them to increase the number of members of the Dragon team, and he even made a request to visit their Luofu sect.

After all, it was a huge cooperation. It was a little illogical that they did not even know where the other party's lair was.

Seer did not think that the first request was a big problem. Many elf players now knew the truth. More than thirty people had signed up for the Dragon Group Project in a short period of time. They could send it to the dragon group at any time after inspecting it.

As for the second request...

Where could he get a Luofu Mountain Gate for the other party to visit?

Build a new one?

Seer suddenly had a headache. This was so troublesome...

After thinking for a while, he said to the AI, "Go and remind daimao and the others to put aside the city planning for now. Tell them that there is a small project for them to practice on first..."

"What? Build a sect?" Not long after they left, they came to their own room. A few players were excitedly discussing how to start the project when they suddenly received the task from Xi Ye. Everyone was stunned.

"The thing is like this..." the AI babbled on about Xi Ye's current predicament, which stunned the developers.

"Damn, isn't it bad for you guys to fool the relevant departments like this?" The man with the slickback, who was a civil servant, felt a little embarrassed.

"How can this be called Fooling?" The AI said patiently, "Isn't there no other way? Li Goudan has already proven his strength, yet he still wants to investigate the sect. I have to say that your officials are too cautious..."

Everyone suddenly speechless, again cautious is not still fall into your trap?

"What do you want it to look like?" Asked the man with the slicked-back hair.

"Immortal sects, of course, have a fairy-like aura... you can look for material on WENXIANXIA channel, which is not available in the federation..."

The crowd: "..."

Li Lao these days can be said to be in a great mood, have to say that the performance of the Green Sparrow ruthlessly slapped the group of opposition a loud slap in the face.

In fact, even he hadn't expected that this sect's combat strength would be so astonishing. It was just a personal disciple, yet it was able to single-handedly kill two captains of the Kagura Legion. If an elder were to enter the sect, what would happen?

The current situation depended on how far the other party was willing to support the government. If they could fully cooperate with the government, it would create a deterrent effect on the outside world, it would also allow the government to completely change the strange situation between the country's extraordinaires and the government.

However, there was a piece of news that puzzled elder Li. According to the news from Wang Ye, Green Sparrow was the daughter of Li Yichen, the leader of the Li Corporation.

This news was something that he had never expected. According to the information, Li Yichen's daughter, Li Jiayi, was only twenty years old. Elder Li and the others found it unbelievable that she had such strength at twenty years old.

In his opinion, the person who could defeat the captain of the Kagura Legion was at least an Earth Immortal, right? A 20-year-old Earth immortal. Even if he had not entered the cultivation world, he knew how ridiculous this matter was...

After all, the internal grandmasters who were in charge of protecting him in the capital were all transcendents who had only entered after they were in their 70s or 80s. Such a comparison was really the difference between a divine dragon and a maggot...

Moreover, this sect was very strange. The outer sect disciples of other sects would try their best not to choose those who had connections with the secular nobles. This sect, on the other hand, had two disciples who discovered that their identities were actually those of the secular nobles.

Moreover, from the situation reported by Wang Ye, it seemed that the Li family had only just found out that their daughter had this ability... ..

This was getting more and more interesting. If other sects had nurtured merchant families like the Li family, most of them would have wanted to lure them into becoming affiliated aristocratic families. However, this kind of situation was mostly caused by the aristocratic families sticking close to them, there had never been a sect that had secretly nurtured the children of other families before discussing the follow-up.

This sect's strange way of doing things and its astonishing nurturing ability made elder Li excited, but at the same time, he also had some doubts and vigilance.

That was why he had requested to visit their sect. He also wanted to see just what this so-called hermit sect looked like...

The other party did not reply to him immediately. The sect master of the Xuanji sect also said that he wanted to report this to the sect master, which made elder Li even more confused, according to what he knew, the three sect masters of the Luofu sect should be at the same level as the top elders of Kunlun, right? DID he need to report such a trivial matter like visiting the mountain gate to the sect master?

This made him even more suspicious that this sect might have some secrets.

While he was thinking about these messy things these few days, the leader suddenly called him.

And the moment he opened his mouth, it was a piece of shocking news.

“What?” Elder Li stood up abruptly after hearing the news and stuttered, “Are... are you sure?”

The leader said in a serious tone, “The news should be right. Besides the great Luo Patriarch, all the elders of the Twelve Heaven Immortals of Kunlun are rushing to City C!”

“Such a big group?” Elder Li was stunned. He frowned and said, “What are they going to do?”

“I remember... didn’t you say that the child of the old Liu family said that their sect is also in City C?”

Old Li’s face suddenly changed. “Oh no! ! !”

Chapter 266: Kunlun’s big move

One Day Ago...

In the hollow jade temple of Kunlun, all the elders gathered once again. However, this time, the atmosphere in the hall was even heavier than the last time. All the Elders’ expressions were not very good.

The development of the matter had far exceeded their expectations. It had already begun to move in an uncontrollable direction!

Originally, they had a huge advantage in the situation. With international pressure on Central China, a large number of extraordinary individuals were stirring up trouble at the border. The authorities were at the moment of requesting for help from them. At this time, logically speaking, they were pressuring the local authorities, the possibility of them demanding that they hand over the police officer was extremely high.

However, they did not expect that the mysterious sect would actually beat them to it and cooperate with the authorities. If it was not for elder long and the others secretly providing them with information, they might not even know that they were being played by the other party until now!

How similar was this scene...

A thousand years ago, there was a sect that completely sided with the authorities at that time. It helped the Li dynasty to flourish while also using the power of the mortal world as an umbrella, allowing them to pass through the most vulnerable period, it also allowed the world to have a second mystic realm sect!

They didn’t expect that a thousand years later, Kunlun would be played the same trick again!

“This is the information from the Long family!” Among the elders, a plump old man from the heavenly court with an extremely kind look sprinkled a stack of documents in the middle. The stack of four papers seemed to come to life and stood up in a circle, the people sitting around could clearly see the contents of the papers.

“Sending a personal disciple into the Dragon Group?” One of the elders sneered. “Even the routine is exactly the same...”

Wasn't Xuanzang a personal disciple of the Huangjue Temple back then?

“Xuanzang is a peerless genius. If he wants to imitate someone else's path, does this green sparrow have the ability?” One of the elders asked with a frown.

At a young age, Xuanzang had already reached the Heaven Immortal realm. He had suppressed the demons of the west by himself and finally made the Li family believe in his potential. Despite the warnings from Kunlun, he had given the Huangjue temple his full support... ..

However, how many people in history could have such a peerless talent like Xuan Zang?

The elder who had spread the information at the beginning shook his head and said, “According to the information, this young lady called Qing que is quite powerful. She revealed her divine might as soon as she arrived in a foreign country and killed two captains of Japan's Kagura. Although she didn't directly suppress the demons like Xuan Zang did, she was still...” ..

“Captain of Japan? Are they the people that Li knocked on the mountain gate 30 years ago and asked me to go and punish them?” In the crowd, an elder who was bare-chested, red all over, stubble all over his face, and a heroic aura said with a frown.

At this point, all the elders looked at him, the leading elder also said, “Elder Gong, among our group, only you have fought with that foreign cultivator. You should know their strength better than us. What is the strength of this captain of the God Orchestra?”

“Those sneaky bastards?” The elder surnamed Gong looked disdainful. “They are barely at the initial stage of the Earth immortal realm. However, they are good at some ghostly techniques. It will be a bit troublesome to deal with those who are not familiar with their tricks, but they are still not worth mentioning...”. “...”

“They are still at the initial stage of the Earth immortal realm...” the leading elder frowned slightly. “A personal disciple of a sect can kill two earth immortals in a row. Although their power is not as great as Xuan Zang's back then, no one in this world can match up to them...”

“Personal disciple?” “You all believe that?” The disdain on elder Gong's face was even stronger. “I can even say that I am the personal disciple of the sect master. A sect that has never shown its face. Do you know what the internal structure of the sect is?” “I suspect that Xuanzang back then was not a twenty-year-old novice monk at all. He was just a shameless old man pretending to be young...”. “...”

“Uh...” all the elders were stunned when they heard that. To be honest, although the words were a little rude, this logic made many elders' hearts jolt... “...”.

Cultivation was difficult. It was not easy to reach the realm of Heaven Immortal. With the fragile body of a mortal, how could it be so easy to fly?

There were so many cultivators in central China, but how many Heaven Immortals were there? Kunlun relied on the mystic realm and the great resources of the Immortal Palace to barely gather twelve immortals. Other sects gathered all their forces, and one or two of them could already be considered a major sect in the world, such as the newly rising Yunshan sect., no one had been interested in them for a few years, but now, they only had one heaven immortal cultivator, and they were already one of the top ten sects.

Therefore, every time they heard the examples of the young Xuan Zang or the pure Yang Sword Immortal who attained the Dao and became a heaven immortal, they would sigh in amazement and have doubts in their hearts.

Now that they heard elder Gong's words, for some reason, although it sounded ridiculous at first, when they thought about it carefully... .. It didn't seem impossible...

"Hahahahaha! !" Just as the elders were in a daze., a burst of strange laughter came in. All the elders were shocked when they heard this voice and hurriedly stood up. Even the bandit-like elder Gong became obedient and stood up in unison with the surrounding elders, he gave a formal greeting to the person who came.

"Welcome, venerated immortal! !"

"No need to be so formal..." the person who came was dressed in white and barefooted. Under his white hair, he looked like a young man. However, it was really surprising that he could make all the elders of Kunlun bow to him as a junior.

"Little Gong, you really know what I'm thinking!" The young man laughed and said, "Back then, I also thought that that son of a B * Tch Xuan Zang was pretending to be a pig to eat a tiger. Otherwise, why would I be fine while that bald donkey Xuan Zang looked like he was about to run out of oil?"

Everyone was stunned and immediately felt that this was the case. Xuan Zang had the support of the Li dynasty and only attained the Dao a hundred years later. At that time, the venerable immortal had already received the inheritance of the previous venerable immortal and had attained the DAO for more than three hundred years. In the end, it was the other party who had entered the declining stage first. No matter how they looked at it, they felt suspicious... ..

Elder gong: "Venerated immortal... can you always call me Little Gong Zi? Calling me little gong zi like this, it feels like calling me a eunuch..."

The leading elder rolled his eyes at Elder Gong, and then quickly went forward and asked, "Why did the venerated immortal come out of seclusion early?"

The Venerable Immortal, who looked like a young man, said with a smile, "Didn't I hear that there was another big event in the world? This is indeed a rare event. I thought I would never meet a third fellow immortal in my life!"

"The venerable immortal wants to..." the elder asked cautiously.

"Kid, we're family. If you have anything to ask, just say it. You look so stingy. Why did Jing Tian Pass the position to a guy like you in the first place? How boring..."

The leader of the elders broke into a cold sweat when he heard that. It was obvious that he was talking about Cui Jingtian, the chief elder of the previous generation.

The young immortal venerable ignored him and said with a sigh, "I haven't left Kunlun for many years. I have to take a good look around this time. All of you go to the southwest first. I'll be there soon!"

"All... all of you?" The elders were stunned.

"Of course!" The venerated immortal said faintly, "Back then, the Emperor Perception Temple taught me to use my full strength when hunting rabbits. Now, I can't let what happened a thousand years ago happen again!"

The elders were shocked when they heard that. They immediately cupped their hands and said, "Venerated immortal, you are wise!"

Chapter 267: Structure

On the other side, elder Li applied to go to City C without hesitation after hearing the shocking news that all the experts of Kunlun had come out...

Before he left, elder Tian also rushed over after receiving the news.

"Elder Li, this matter isn't small. What's the plan of the higher-ups?" Elder Tian asked directly when he saw elder Li.

"I don't know..." elder Li shook his head and said, "Kunlun is so large this time, it must be determined. The higher-ups are not prepared to completely oppose Kunlun..."

Elder Tian was stunned. "Then... then what does the higher-ups mean? Didn't they say that they would cooperate fully?"

"Aren't they not confident?" Elder Li sighed and said, "This sect is too sudden. We don't know anything about their background. If we rashly fall out with Kunlun because of this situation, the pressure on the authorities will be great!"

Elder Tian immediately fell silent when he heard that.

Back then, the authorities and Kunlun had agreed on the rules of the martial arts world, which led to the situation in central China today. Although the ten great sects did not help the authorities.., but they really protected central China from the interference of the supernatural forces from the outside world. It was also because of this reason that the authorities often tried their best to tolerate these great sects.

The two forces had maintained a delicate balance for hundreds of years...

It was true that the authorities did want to break the deadlock and raise their voice internationally. They did not want to keep watching the cake outside being eaten by others, but they could not rashly fall out with Kunlun.

One had to know that the current situation was almost single-handedly maintained by Kunlun. It used Kunlun's martial arts practice to open the arcane realm as a condition to make all the sects listen to orders. This was also the reason why it was difficult for the supernatural forces outside to even enter the realm, this was because these sects were very united in the country.

Once they fell out with Kunlun, and that sect was not as able to withstand the situation as imagined, the problem would be very serious...

In the original plan, elder Li had planned to take it slow. First, they would cooperate, and then slowly understand Luo Fu's background. Then, they would decide whether to deepen the cooperation, so that the government would not be restricted by Kunlun.

However, he did not expect Kunlun to act so decisively! !

This made elder Li furious at Kunlun's arrogance, but at the same time, he secretly felt a headache. In fact, he did not know what he should do when he reached the southwest side, because the higher-ups did not give him an answer as to whether he would completely fall out with Kunlun...

"The higher-ups are so hesitant. Once the fighting starts, are we going to watch Kunlun destroy that sect?" Elder Tian frowned and said.

Elder Li was speechless.

Such an opportunity didn't come every once in a while. It was a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. If such an opportunity was missed, perhaps there wouldn't be a next time.

Moreover, this was also a signal. If the government allowed Kunlun to act like this, then even if a sect like Luofu appeared again, they wouldn't be willing to take the risk to cooperate with the government...

"Actually..." elder Li sighed, "The concerns of the higher-ups are not unreasonable. After all, this sect is too sudden. Even if we have some basic information, we would not be so hesitant."

"Bullsh * T...". Elder Tian rolled his eyes and said, "Didn't the Huangjue Temple suddenly appear back then? If he, Li Shiming, hesitated at that time and let Kunlun take down the Huangjue Temple, would he have the prestige of the myriad states that came after him? "If you ask me, it's because the higher-ups don't have that kind of boldness!"

"How can you say that?" Elder Li rolled his eyes at him and said, "We've gone through the storms and storms of the government for hundreds of years. Under the oppression of the world's powers, we were able to become the second largest economy in the world. wasn't it because our actions were steady? "Could the situation of the Li family have been the same as ours back then? "Back then, he didn't have an upright position and was ostracized by the various aristocratic families. There was also the invasion of the western transcendents. It was all a gamble. How can we be a gambler like him in our current situation?"

Elder Tian: "Then why are you in such a hurry to go to City C? What can we do if we go?"

Elder Li: "Try to mediate as much as possible. Let's see if we can deal with them. This time, we can go and take a look at Luofu's mountain gate and assess their strength. If they can really become a second Huangjue temple..." .: Perhaps the authorities can change their mind!"

Elder Tian nodded when he heard this. Although he did not agree with it on the surface, he knew in his heart that it was definitely not enough for the authorities to take such a huge risk to fall out with Kunlun. The things that the Luofu sect was taking out right now were definitely not enough... “...”.

“My Liege... the situation is probably like this...”virien reported to Xi Ye as soon as she received the call.

“Kunlun... Big Luo...”seer knocked on the table and asked AI, “Have you figured out the situation of those cultivation sects?”

The reason why AI had placed surveillance on the disciples of the Cloud Mountain sect was to gather information about these cultivators. Now that a few months had passed, the situation was on the verge of breaking out. Naturally, she had to ask about it.

AI: “I have a rough idea. The cultivation forces in central China are complicated. They mainly focus on the inheritance of sects and aristocratic families. The aristocratic families are small in scale, and very few people can cultivate to become a high-level extraordinary. The sects can be said to be the top extraordinary forces in central China, and among them, the top ten sects are the main ones.”

“Which are the top ten sects? is Yunshan among them?”Xi Ye asked curiously.

“Yes, Yunshan is one of the big sects that barely made it into the top ten sects. The remaining ones are emei, Quan Zhen sect, Wudang sect, Celestial Master, Flower Diversion Sect, Kongtong sect, Tang sect, and Maoshan sect. In the past, there was Qingcheng sect, but two hundred years ago, Qingcheng sect was pushed out by Yunshan sect...” “...”

Xi Ye was stunned. “Aren’t the top ten sects fixed?”

AI said, “No. The top ten sects are famous cultivation sects established with Kunlun sect as the leader. Any sect that makes it into the top ten sects is qualified to let their disciples participate in the Kunlun martial arts practice every three years. Those who get a certain rank can enter the Kunlun mystic realm to search for treasures.”

“Kunlun Mystic Realm...”Xi Ye’s eyes lit up, he was very interested in this thing and was also very interested in the so-called secret cultivation techniques in it. This planet could allow the weak bodies of the people from D world to cultivate to a level three or above strength. Naturally, it had its merits.

“Do you know how to become one of the top ten sects?”

AI replied, “There are two points. First, the sect must have an expert at the heavenly immortal realm. After that, they must obtain the recognition of Kunlun before they are qualified to challenge the ranking.”

“The recognition of Kunlun...”Xi Ye was stunned.

“Yes...” therefore, it was not possible to participate in the martial arts practice of Kunlun just by having the strength. According to the information from the AI, there were some existences in the cultivation world who were obviously powerful but were not among the top ten sects. For example, the Huangjue Temple. This sect had its own great Luo powerhouse who was able to compete with Kunlun when they were strong. However, now that the Great Luo powerhouse was running out of oil, they were in a state of hiding from the world "...". "..."

"Oh? Great Luo..." Xi ye suddenly remembered what Virien had said on the phone, great Luo had left for City C to find trouble with them. She asked curiously, "What is the strength of that so-called great Luo?"

Ai: "This thing is very lifelike. Because there are too few of them, this AI can only know a little from some records. Some records say that great Luo: the supreme of Heaven and earth, the end of the law, can command heaven and earth for his own use. He is a true immortal!"

"Oh?" Xi Ye knocked on the table out of habit and said softly: "Interesting..."

Chapter 268: The Villain's World?

"New Project? Should I do it?" The little fairy asked curiously.

"Currently, we need a large number of engineers. Among the players, you have the most engineers, so you are the most suitable." The developer said as he looked at the big and burly Little Fairy Titan.

"If that's the case... then... What's the reward?" The little fairy rubbed her hands and smiled.

"The reward points... because it's a face-saving project and doesn't consider much practicality, it doesn't need to be too detailed. It'll be used as a practice for the engineers under you. It's expected to be completed in a few days."

"A few days?" The little fairy was stunned. "What Kind of Project?"

"A mountain gate... .. roughly like this ... "..." the man with the slickback took out his new blueprint. "This is the general blueprint of this mountain gate. It's divided into three gates and seven peaks. The three gates are Xuanji Gate, moving mountain gate, and Wanxiang Gate. The seven peaks are: Tongtian Peak, Longshou Peak, Fenghui Peak, Chaoyang Peak, Sunset Peak, big bamboo peak, and small bamboo peak..." "..."

The little fairy was stunned and said, "Is this a sci-fi game? Why is the name of the building the same as those xianxia routines in Qidian's web novels? And that so-called seven peaks... do you think I haven't seen Jade Dynasty?"

"That's not important!" The guy with the slickback took back the blueprint and said, "You just need to know that one peak is worth 100,000 points!"

"F * ck... That's a good relationship... I'll get it all!" The Little Fairy's eyes turned red. The worst thing she could do now was to get points. The engineers in the base consumed a lot of nutrient fluids every day!

"Ahem... then you should prepare well. This is a face-saving project. Although the construction time is short, it has to be fine. The quality can be average, and the appearance must be good. You have to pick some good-looking ones."

The little fairy: "Oh..."

At this time in the base, Zach carefully blew on his new relief sculpture. Then, he carefully swept away the jade dust with a brush. After sweeping it clean, he looked at his masterpiece with a gratified expression.

He liked to make these things when he was young, but in the empire, the status of artisans was not very high. Blacksmiths who could forge weapons might be better, but those who liked relief sculptures and wood carvings were looked down upon by people, especially in places like the north, where the atmosphere of the military was thick, they would be regarded as toys that lost their will and bred corruption among the nobles, and were disdained by many northerners.

After his mother passed away, he chose to join the military, hoping that in the future, with a generous pension, he could go to the south, where the climate was warm and the atmosphere of art was good, buy a small house, and do what he liked.

However, after joining the army, he realized that this expectation was not as simple as he thought. He lived in fear that he might be beheaded by the orcs all day long, doing heavy work that he did not like. Day after day, day after day... he felt that his entire body was going numb.

After he was captured, he thought that his miserable life was about to end. To be honest, he initially had the will to die. He thought in his heart... if these green orcs were really like the ones in the Bards' stories, he would rush up and bite them to death with his teeth... Of course, there was a high chance that he would be punched in the head by the other party, because he had actually seen these green-skinned orcs capture a griffin from the air with their bare hands.

They were really more monsters than monsters!

But at that moment, he was not afraid of death. It was not because of the glory of the Empire or anything. He just did not want to live a life without hope. In the past, when he was in the army, he was terrified. Although he was also doing hard work, he worked hard every day, but at least he had some hope. But after becoming a slave of the orcs, it seemed that he could only work hard for his entire life...

However, what he never expected was that after they were captured, their lives were much better than he had imagined. Especially in the recent days, it was simply heaven for him.

To be able to quietly do his favorite carving, eat, drink, and have enough time to rest, he didn't have to worry about going hungry or freezing, nor did he have to worry about when his head would be chopped off... wasn't this the kind of life that he had always dreamed of?

Most importantly, his craftsmanship seemed to have been recognized...

Zach recalled the praise of his several-meter-tall master a few days ago. He could see that the other party was sincerely optimistic about his craftsmanship and was able to gain the recognition of others in his favorite field, moreover, he could even use this to exchange for a better life. This was something that he had always dreamed of. He had always thought of using his craftsmanship to impress some noble lord and get a decent job.

This dream... .. might really come true here... ..

With this thought in mind, he looked around at his companions who were also carving exquisite jades in their hands. Looking at everyone's serious expressions, a source of hope welled up in his heart.

Bang!

Suddenly, Zach, who was looking around in realization, suddenly felt his hand become light. A crisp sound rang out, and the exquisite sample that he had carved for the entire afternoon instantly shattered into pieces.

Zach stared blankly at the ground. That was an emerald jade. It was different from hard white jade. This kind of emerald jade was used for decoration. Because it was rare, every engineer could only apply for one piece a day for practice, it was a very precious material.

Everyone knew that the material was expensive. The texture was probably even more exquisite than the jewelry on the royal archdukes that he had seen before, he had never thought that he would have the chance to manipulate such a beautiful material one day!

However, the material was too delicate. He had only managed to produce a finished product that he was satisfied with on the fourth day. He had never thought that his first finished product would be destroyed just like that.

Immediately, a wave of anger surged up in his heart. He shouted angrily at gray egg, who had knocked off the jade stone in his hand, "What are you doing?"

Grayegg was stunned for a moment, and then he said in a confused tone, "What's wrong? It's not a big deal. It will be scrapped every day anyway. It's not a precious thing. Why are you reacting so strongly?"

"Not a precious thing?" Zach paused and pointed at the broken but still shiny jade on the ground. "Are You Blind?"

"So you people..." Grayegg said indifferently, "If it was really something precious, would those green-skinned orcs give it to us to waste like this? Can you grow some brains?"

"You..." Zach was suddenly angry. He always felt that the other party was talking nonsense, but he was a more honest person and was not good at debating. For a moment, he did not know how to refute.

"If you don't work hard, at least don't disturb others!" A stronger man next to him leaned over with a cold face and looked at gray egg with an unfriendly look.

Gray egg looked at the other party's body size and took two steps back. Then he said angrily, "Work hard? Work hard for what? Work hard to help these orcs? Have you forgotten who you are?"

Everyone was stunned. Even the big man with the unfriendly face was stunned by this righteous words.

"Don't forget your identity. You are soldiers, soldiers of the empire. Do you really think you are dog slaves after being captured?"

Gray egg asked aggressively, and everyone was silent for a moment. Even the big man who had started to look at him with displeasure avoided looking at him with a guilty conscience.

Seeing this scene, grey egg became even more smug. "Just because they say that this is our home and your home, do you really think that they treat us as family? Bullshit! "They are just using us, treating us like livestock. If you have any brains, you wouldn't believe this, right? "They even treat these messy stones as treasures day by day. Do they really think that they can rely on these to make a name for themselves here? Wake Up, Idiots! !"

Everyone looked at each other in dismay. For a moment, no one knew how to refute this guy. Grey egg looked at the crowd who could not refute him and walked out arrogantly.

The scene fell silent. After a long time, Zach broke the silence and said, "That guy grey egg... is he so loyal to the Empire?"

Everyone was speechless. The burly man looked at Zach blankly and said, "You really believe him?"

Before he finished his sentence, grey Egg's voice came from afar, "Aiya, master, why are you here?"? Hey, I have used up all my materials. I want to apply for more... "Hey, master, you flatter me. I'm not really hard-working. Everyone is hard-working. It's mainly because master is so good to us. If we don't work hard, wouldn't we be heartless?"

Everyone:"..."

Zach listened to gray egg's fawning voice in the distance, then looked at the broken jade on the ground, and fell silent for a moment.

He remembered... Gray egg was a squad leader when he was in the army... ..

His military age was several years higher than his, but he was still an ordinary engineer...

In this world, was it possible for such a person to have a better life? Zach thought silently.

Chapter 269: so hard work really pays off

"Um... What are you doing?"

Zach suddenly heard a deep female voice, which startled him. He quickly came back to his senses and looked at the little fairy who had walked up to him, he stuttered, "No... No... I'm sorry, sir, I'm... I'm in a Daze..."

Everyone:"..."

"You're really an honest man..."the little fairy touched her chin.

"I'm... I'm sorry, sir..."Zach stuttered.

"Come with me, I have something for you..."the little fairy waved her hand.

"Uh... oh..."Zach nodded repeatedly. Just as he was about to follow the little fairy who was walking out, the big man behind him suddenly pulled him.

Zach looked at him curiously, not understanding why he was pulling him back at this time?

The Big Man quickly turned his head and whispered, "Be careful. I vaguely heard that guy gray egg talking bad about you just now, saying that you lost your temper and broke the jade material. This time, maybe that Lord heard the slander and wanted to send you back to the mine again...". "..."

"The mine?" Zach's face suddenly became anxious. In fact, he did not hate working in the mine at first, because the workload was indeed not heavy. Occasionally, he could eat the good things sent by the farm, but it was torture to let him return to the mine after he had the chance to do the things he liked.

"You, don't be silly..." the big man said in a low voice. "You should retort more or less later. Don't be led by the nose like this..."

"I. . . I understand..." Zach nodded and looked at the big man gratefully. "Thank You, Hulk..."

After thanking him, he quickly ran in the direction of the little fairy. When he passed by, Zach saw the malicious smile on Grayegg's face. His heart sank and he trusted Hulk's judgment even more.

At the thought of this, Zach took a deep breath and quickly caught up with the little fairy. He quickly said, "Sir, that Jade was not broken by me when I lost my temper. It was knocked off by someone..."

This time, he tried his best to calm himself down, and he didn't stutter. Although he was an honest man, there were still some things that he would fight for.

After saying that, he found that the little fairy ignored him and only cared about walking forward. Seeing this, Zach's heart suddenly turned cold. He thought to himself, "Sir, do you still believe in Graydan?"?

In fact, he had expected this result, because most of the officers seemed to believe in people like Graydan who could talk...

Gray egg, who was following far behind, could not help but sigh in relief when he saw this scene. He then looked at the extremely disappointed Zach with satisfaction and hummed a little tune as he walked back, he then looked at Hulk, who had reminded Zach, with satisfaction.

Hulk's face immediately darkened when he saw this, and then he sighed deeply...

On the other side, Zach followed the little fairy with a defeated look. However, he suddenly realized that the other party was not taking him outside, but instead, they had turned around and walked toward a position in the base.

Zach was stunned for a moment, thinking, "Don't tell me she won't even Let Me Mine?"?

Just as he was thinking, he saw the fairy take him into a separate cubicle. The light inside was bright, and there was a large workbench. The Workbench looked very similar to their collective workbench, but it looked more exquisite, there seemed to be many more tools... And the scale was also much larger.

"This is..." Zach was puzzled.

"Yes... .. you will work here from now on ..." the little fairy said and turned on the virtual screen. "This workshop has the function of designing the actuarial calculation and estimation. Later, someone will teach you how to use it. You will mainly study this design for the next two days. The design is a mountain gate. Yes ... the architectural style and scale have been designed. There are also a few simulation drawings, especially the murals on the simulation drawings. Take a look and see which murals are more suitable for your work. Make a small model first “...”

“AH... this... This Is Me...”Zach was stunned. “In charge of this building?”

“Don’t you understand what I Said?”The little fairy frowned.

“Yes, yes!”Zach was overjoyed. He stuttered, “I... I thought... it was because I broke the jade material. Sir, you are going to punish me...”

“You mean that Grey Egg?”The little fairy curled her lips and said, “Do you really think we are stupid? At that level, it is far worse than the fierce characters in this fairy’s palace fighting game and the Otaku Game!”

“Huh?”As a native, Zach naturally did not understand what level the so-called palace fighting character in Huazhong was at...

“You don’t have to care...” . The little fairy waved her hand. “Just do your job well. After the model is ready, you are in charge of hiring people to participate in this construction project. Try to pick the ones with better skills “...” . “How about you familiarize yourself with the tools here first? The system has a tutorial for beginners. Take your time, don’t worry...” . “...”

Zach stood rooted to the ground. He only woke up from his dream after the little fairy left. Looking at the tall figure of the other party, Zach felt his nose ache, and his vision was instantly blurred by tears...

The last time the Lord said that he was favored was not a joke... . Myself . . I can’t believe I’ve been chosen!

It turns out... . This world Hard work really pays off... . .

“Yayi Yayi...”out of the underground base, looking at the monitoring of Zach Crying Snot and tears, the little fairy could not help but sweat, thought: this game simulation too real? “Does every NPC have such rich emotions?”?

However, it felt so damn good to be able to decide someone’s life with just one sentence... .. Unfortunately, it was a game...

After thinking for a while, the little fairy returned to her dorm and clicked “Go offline”. The moment she woke up from the game cabin, she heard her stomach growling.

The corners of her mouth curled up. In fact, her eating habits had been disrupted for so many years after she had lived as a female otaku. However, ever since that uncle came, she had asked her to have dinner on her phone at mealtimes for the past two days, as a result, she had developed the bad habit of always being hungry at mealtime in just two days.

Then, she looked at her phone and was surprised to find that there was no sound of the uncle asking her to have dinner in the wechat group today.

The little fairy immediately frowned and looked at the time...

6:30, that's right...

Why didn't he ask me to have dinner?

The little fairy stared at the screen for a full ten minutes, but there was still no news...

What's going on? No Food?

But still... ? "... She's a newcomer, she can't treat people to dinner every day, right?"?

"... I'll wait for you for another ten minutes..."

Still no news...

Could it be that she really didn't have any food to eat today...

Just as she was ordering take-out in disappointment, her phone suddenly vibrated. The little fairy was suddenly excited and quickly opened the wechat group, but she found that it wasn't dog Daddy who was talking inside, but the couple.

"Don't you have food today?"The woman in the couple sent an embarrassed expression.

PFFT, who would take the initiative to ask like that... Freeloading so righteously, even this fairy was not so shameless... ..

The little fairy was angry, but she did not say anything and waited for the situation to develop.

Then, she saw the teacher couple send a message: you guys, are you used to eating? Old Wang Can't treat us to dinner every day, right?

"We don't mean that..."the couple sent a tongue-sticking emoji on wechat. "We just feel that it's quite lively to eat together. In fact, we can also pay for the groceries..."

"That's a good suggestion..."the little fairy added tactfully.

"Yo, little landlord, are you hungry too?"The middle-aged teacher said with a smile.

"Humph... I'm too lazy to cook..."the little fairy curled her lips.

"Old Wang might not be able to treat us to dinner today..."the middle-aged teacher suddenly said.

"Why?"Several people asked at the same time.

"I saw Old Wang go out at noon today, but a beautiful young girl entered his house not long after he left."As she said that, she even sent an evil smile emoji.

"Oh Oh!"The couple immediately showed an understanding expression.

"It's... His daughter, right?"The little fairy quickly asked.

"Does Old Wang... have a daughter?"The people around were puzzled.

"I don't know... I guessed it..."the little fairy said weakly.

“Hey, it’s hard to say. Old Wang is so handsome. One look and you can tell he’s one of those vagabonds. TSK TSK, that little girl might be a new girlfriend...”

“No Way... you all said that she’s a young girl. Isn’t Old Wang an uncle?”The little fairy retorted immediately.

“Who can say for sure...”the man in the young couple made a nose-picking expression. “Many young girls like old men who have style. Old Wang is so handsome, has a good figure, and can cook. He’s very popular.”

“No Way...”the little fairy fell silent.

Then she thought about the handsome old man’s face.

She really couldn’t say for sure...

The little fairy felt a little uncomfortable, but after thinking about it, what did it have to do with her? So she threw her phone to the side and collapsed on the sofa.

A few seconds later...

Forget it, I’ll go and have a look. I can’t have some random people living in my house...

The little fairy thought so!

Chapter 270: “Humph, feeling guilty?”?

At this moment, Li Xiaoqian was sitting in her father’s room in a daze. She recalled the cold and disgusted expression of the so-called big senior brother of Kunlun, and her expression immediately became complicated.

This big senior brother called Situ Ming was different from that elder Li. Although he was cold, he was more practical. The reason why he was called over was quickly explained.

Wang Xiaojia’s father had escaped into this residential area, and it was very likely that he had met up with an expert. Today, the other party had suddenly gone out, so he wanted to search his room to see if there were any clues.

But now that the expert was in the residential area, in order to not alert the enemy, the cultivators called her, a mortal, as Wang Lin’s junior, to go in and test the waters.

When she heard the contents of the mission, Li Xiaoqian was in a bad mood. What did it mean to be afraid of alerting the enemy? If she was asked to go, would she not alert the enemy? That sounded like a very dangerous thing, okay?

On Leng Xing’s side, there was still Wang Chengbo protecting her. On this side, Wang Xiaojia’s father was obviously not as stupid as his son. If he was ruthless, would the people of Kunlun really be able to save her in time?

Now she finally understood that these people of Kunlun really did not treat her as one of their own...

Just as she was thinking, the doorbell suddenly rang, causing Li Xiaoqian, who was sitting on the sofa, to suddenly jump up like a frightened cat. She looked at the door nervously.

Ding Ling, Ding Ling...

After waiting for a while, they continued to ring the doorbell. Seeing this, Li Xiaoqian carefully walked to the door and looked out through the peephole. When she saw this, her eyelids immediately jumped.

The girl wearing bunny pajamas outside was exactly the same as the person Situ Ming had mentioned earlier...

She didn't expect to find her so soon...

Li Xiaoqian's legs suddenly felt weak. After taking a deep breath to force herself to calm down, she slowly opened the security door.

"Hello... Hello..." Li Xiaoqian smiled guiltily after opening the door.

The person who came was naturally the little fairy. The little fairy looked at the place carefully with a cold gaze and secretly pursed her lips. "It's just so-so. How can it be as good-looking as described in the group chat? What a bunch of people who exaggerate. HMPH!"

"I'm the landlord here. The tenant here said that the toilet is leaking and asked me to come over to take a look."

"Oh Oh..." Li Xiaoqian hurriedly opened the door upon hearing this and let the other party in.

After entering the door, the little heroine looked at the bathroom with a false expression, then she said casually, "I remember the uncle in this room said he was alone when he rented my house, right? Why is there a new person here after only a few days? Who are you to him?"

"AH? Uh... I... I'm Wang Xiaojia's friend..." Li Xiaoqian saw the man asking questions and quickly took out Wang Xiaojia's name.

"Who's Wang Xiaojia?"

"Uh... you... Don't know Wang Xiaojia?" Li Xiaoqian looked at the other party and asked in surprise.

"I... Should Know Her?" The little fairy frowned and searched for Wang Xiaojia with her head ... She really didn't have any impression of such a simple name. In the past few years, she had been addicted to the virtual world. The people she knew all used online names, especially recently... The people she knew were all stupid names like Wang Goudan, Li Goudan, or "G, you're too beautiful"...

Li Xiaoqian looked at the other party. She didn't know whether the other party was deliberately hiding it or not, and for a moment, she also began to doubt Situ Ming's judgment.

She had said it before. How could such a young girl be an expert...

"Oh, it's like this. Wang Xiaojia is uncle Wang's daughter, and I'm his daughter's friend... have you really never seen Xiaojia?" Li Xiaoqian asked again.

"I told you, that Wang Guy has always been here alone!"The little fairy said impatiently, but in her heart, she was annoyed. This guy actually has a daughter...

Seeing the hostile tone of the other party, Li Xiaoqian didn't dare to ask anymore. If he really was an expert, no one here could protect her. She didn't believe the two outside at all.

Li Xiaoqian did not dare to ask, and the little fairy also remained silent. The two of them remained silent for a long time under this strange atmosphere.

Li Xiaoqian glanced at the other party from time to time. The other party continued to remain silent, which made her even more panicked. She did not understand what this guy wanted.

On the other hand, the little fairy was actually very conflicted. She really wanted to ask uncle Wang's wife about the situation. After all, she already had a daughter, which meant that the other party definitely had a family. But why would a person with a family come out to rent a house alone. It was most likely a divorce...

But after all, she did not know much about it. She was just a little curious about the other party's situation. However, it was not easy for her to ask about this topic. She kept thinking about how to phrase it, but she could not think of anything, so she just stood there stiffly.

After a long while, Li Xiaoqian, who really could not bear the pressure, took the lead and said, "That... that i... I still have something to do, so I'll take my leave first..."as she said that, she did not wait for the other party to reply and quickly walked towards the door.

"Wait a minute..."

"Uh... do you have anything else?"Li Xiaoqian, who had already walked to the door, froze when she was called.

The little fairy looked at the other party and thought to herself, why is this guy so nervous?

Could it be?

The little fairy suddenly came to a realization. Yes, you're his daughter's friend. Her daughter isn't here, so why did you come to the rented house?

What the...

Could this be the legendary scenario where I treat you as my best friend, but you want to be my mother?

She looked at the other party's stiff body and guilty expression, and the more she thought about it, the more she felt that this was the case... Then, the way she looked at the other party gradually became unfriendly.

Li Xiaoqian looked at the other party's expression, and her heart instantly jumped to her throat, then, she stuttered, "I... I... I really have something to do. The toilet... the toilet is leaking, so I'll have to trouble you... take a look for yourself..."as she said this, she did not dare to stay any longer, she ran out.

Looking at Li Xiaoqian who was almost running away, the little fairy was first stunned, then she proudly put her hands on her waist, pouted her mouth, and revealed the expression of a mistress chasing away a guilty mistress, “Humph Humph Way:”Humph, in this fairy justice under the eyes of the guilty

On the other side, dog dad according to the address provided by Zhang came to a remote place, and waited for a long time to see old Zhang panting trot over.

Looking at the face of sweat Lao Zhang, dog father curled his lips: “You are also from the criminal police, this bit of promising...”

“Hey, are you courting death? When I was young, five people like you were not even enough for me to beat you with one hand.”Old Zhang rolled his eyes and said.

“Hehe...”the dog father rolled his eyes and asked, “Why did you ask me to come here? Didn’t I ask you to help me get into the Astronomical Bureau?”

“Have you watched too many F * cking movies? You even got into the astronomical bureau. Why didn’t you ask me to help you get into the White House?”Old Zhang Glared at him and said.

“Then why did you ask me to come out?”The dog father said impatiently.

“Hey, you look like a dog with a falling out...”. The other party said in a bad mood, “I helped you find a person who used to work in the astronomy bureau. Although he was fired later, because of his good family background and his love for this stuff, he has a lot of equipment at home. It should be able to help us...”. “...”

“Good family background? and astronomical equipment? Rich second generation?”The dog father asked curiously.

“No...”Old Zhang shook his head. “His wife is a big lawyer. She runs her own law firm and earns ten million a year...”

The dog father’s eyes lit up when he heard that. “We’re in the same boat. What did I say, Old Zhang? If you want to Live Well, you have to find a rich wife. If my wife hadn’t passed away so early, I would have quit your bullshit job long ago...”

“Get lost...”Old Zhang rolled his eyes at him, then lowered his voice and said, “Old Wang, by the way... isn’t your deduction a little too crazy? Even aliens are coming...”

“We’ll know soon if it’s crazy or not...”father dog narrowed his eyes slightly and said.
