

A Bunch 571

Chapter 571: the daily life of Gondolin (3)

Originally, they had been happy to go out to the market. However, due to the blow, both of them had mixed feelings. They swayed as they walked, completely losing their previous vigor.

Jack looked at the sky. In fact, he had already had some ideas after the points system was announced. He, black bear, and the others had risked their lives to undergo biological surgery. Other than standing guard, they also had to regularly go to Pu Yunchuan's place to train their bodies, to learn combat skills!

In the past few months, he had felt that his ability was no worse than the silver knight Lord from before. If he transformed, he would probably be able to meet the general lord.

With such ability, would he have to stand guard for his entire life in the future?

It was the same for Bain and black bear. Bain had also undergone surgery and felt that his strength had increased greatly. In the past, he was already a young chief, so how could he be willing to stand guard for his entire life?

This time, after being stimulated by the good things in the market, this feeling of unwillingness became even stronger... ..

The black bear's wife saw that the few of them were in a daze, so she hurriedly smiled and said, "Aren't we going to buy fabric? Let's go over there and take a look."

The few of them came back to their senses and immediately remembered that they hadn't bought the crucial things yet. Now that the weather was cold, the most important thing was to buy some fabric for the children to make clothes, or buy some cotton to make a bed and quilt...

Thinking of this, they perked up slightly. The group slowly walked to the living area by asking for directions and found the only tailor shop in the market.

"Li Goudan's tailor shop?" Jack was stunned when he saw the name, and his face was a little dazed. When he saw that the best weapons shop was called the little cabbage alliance weapons shop, he felt a little strange. Now, this Goudan reminded him of the nickname that farmers in the countryside often gave their children...

Were all these foreign merchants so simple?

With a strange expression, the group of people walked in.

"Welcome..." seeing that there was a new customer, Li Goudan hurriedly came out to welcome him. At this time, although she had put on makeup to hide the elf's beauty, her originally elegant temperament still made Jack and the others' Eyes Light Up!

In order to help his mother open the shop, Li Goudan had no choice but to postpone his trip to the sea again... ..

“We... We’re just here to buy some coarse cloth and cotton...” Jack swallowed his saliva and hurriedly said.

He was so guilty not only because of her elegant temperament that was even more elegant than a noble’s, but also because of the decor of this shop... ..

The exquisite decor made this tailor shop look like a noble’s villa, and it was much more noble than the city lord’s residence. It gave him the feeling that the things here were obviously not something he could afford... ..

Cheh, poor bastard! !

Li Goudan’s mouth twitched in his heart, but his face was still as bright as a flower. “Yes, sir, please follow me...”

Seeing that the other party was still so polite, Jack’s heart wavered. He thought to himself, how gentle. She must be a girl from a well-established family. She was so cultured and did not despise these poor bastards at all...

After they entered the shop, they looked around curiously. There were many finished clothes on display in the shop. They were all samples made by Li Goudan’s mother using high-quality fabrics and the Elvish tailoring skills she had learned.

The exquisite workmanship was so special that the hearts of the group of women thumped and their eyes almost popped out. Black Bear’s wife was also stunned on the spot, looking at those exquisite samples. Her feet suddenly rooted to the ground, unable to move...

And then, Li Goudan’s mother was inside, dressing and trying on some lucky customers for free.

As a result, those women who were originally average-looking became as beautiful as stage stars after being adjusted by Goudan’s mother’s magical makeup skills. In addition to the clothes she was trying on, they really looked like noble ladies., seeing this, his man was stunned and thought to himself, is this my wife?

Why didn’t I see that she has this foundation before?

Black Bear and the others followed Li Goudan all the way inside. They picked out two coarse cloths and bought more than ten ready-made quilts. They spent less than 200 points.

They immediately felt that this shop was quite honest. Although the clothes outside were expensive, the prices of common people’s supplies were moderate. They could come back and buy some quilts when they were paid in a few days...

Thinking of this, Bane and the others felt a little better. They turned to Jack and said, “Buddy, I’ll definitely return the points to you later!”

“It’s no big deal...” Jack smiled. He was single, and he didn’t even need a quilt since he was in good health. As long as black bear’s wife could make two sets of casual clothes for him when she was knitting clothes, it would be enough.

The few of them took the quilts and coarse cloth back to the hall. Black bear saw his wife with an envious look at first glance, so he carefully walked over and patted her back and smiled, "Are you dumbfounded?"

The woman immediately came back to her senses and forced a smile, "No... have you bought everything?"

"Yes, I've bought it!" Black Bear waved the things in his hand, but at this moment, he saw the high-grade silk of excellent quality and was looking at the things in his hand, suddenly, the mood of buying good quality and cheap goods just now was swept away...

He looked around and recalled an old cloth merchant named Plin who once told him that only the poor pursued good and cheap goods. They wanted good and cheap things. How could there be so many such things in the world?

"Since we've bought them, let's Go!" After hearing the answer, the Black Bear's wife hurriedly picked up her daughter and hurried out as if she was running away.

She felt that if she stayed for a while longer, she would be even more reluctant to leave... ..

Looking at his wife's flustered figure, the black bear was stunned. He looked at his surroundings and looked at the coarse cloth in his hands. A hint of struggle flashed across his eyes.

The few of them walked out unsteadily. Just as they were about to hurry back, Jack suddenly said, "Look, it's yunchuan. Isn't that the Duke in his arms?"

"Oh?" The few of them immediately raised their heads and looked over. Bane was also attracted by these words. The main thing was that he had seen Pu Yunchuan's strength. Coupled with the training in the base these few days., he had a lot of respect for Pu Yunchuan, this powerful fellow.

Thus, he did not think too much about it. He pulled trismus forward and prepared to greet him.

At this moment, Isabelle was chatting with Pu Yunchuan about the things in the market... ..

Isabelle: "The business of that mount just now is pretty good. We are the main genetic technology. When the time comes, we can ask ran Xiaojuan and the others to assign a project team to develop this kind of thing. It will be able to grab some market share. HMM... "... As for the raw materials, we can consider those creatures that don't have a high degree of mutation. When we go back, we can add such a mission to the announcement. As for the reward.. ... Try to make it as high as possible... .. After all, capturing them alive was much more difficult than killing them... .."

Jack and the others who were about to come over to greet him were stunned when they heard this. Black bear swallowed his saliva and hesitated for about two to three seconds. Finally, a hint of determination flashed across his eyes, he took large strides forward and asked, "Sir... sir, please... may I know how high the reward for capturing a creature alive is?"

Chapter 572: Sister-in-law must have someone to take care of her, right?

“Black bear! !” Jack and the others saw black bear’s rashness and immediately cursed, they quickly went forward and pulled black bear back. Then, they quickly bowed and said, “I’m sorry, my Lord. Black Bear was too excited when he saw my lord. Please Don’t blame me for being rude...”

The black bear’s wife quickly pulled her man and glared at him before bowing and apologizing to Isabelle.

“No worries...” Isabelle smiled, “Don’t be so restrained. I’ve heard Yunchuan mention you guys. You’re all rare warriors. You’ll be the backbone of Gondolin from now on!”

Jack and the others looked at Pu Yunchuan gratefully. Pu Yunchuan had been busy with training recently and didn’t spend much time with them. They all thought that Pu Yunchuan had forgotten about them because he had gained power, it seemed that they had been too petty!

Isabelle smiled and looked at the black bear, who did not dare to raise its head, she said gently, “You heard what I said just now. We are not completely giving up this market to outsiders. We will also organize some of our own businesses. The mount business just now is indeed very suitable for us. After that, I will release some information about creatures that are suitable for taming. If we can capture them alive, we will be rewarded handsomely.”

“Then... how much is the reward?” Black bear raised his head and asked.

His wife pinched his back hard.

But now that black bear had been strengthened by a creature, his skin was unusually thick. He did not feel anything at all. He was still looking at Isabelle with anticipation!

“Well... Let’s see what kind of creature it is. But I remember there are some places where the reward will be very high if you can catch it. For example, I’m going to offer 5,000 points for a mutated draconic horse. If you can catch a mutated Griffin, it will be at least 20,000 points!”

“20,000? ?”

The few of them immediately became excited when they heard the offer. They only had 30 points a day on duty, 900 points a month, and they couldn’t even earn 20,000 points a year!

This generous reward immediately made them a little tempted.

“And there will be a military merit reward!” Seeing this, Isabelle added more fire.

Jack and the others immediately trembled. “Military Merit?”

“My... My Lord!” When they were in a dilemma, black bear suddenly raised his head, a trace of determination flashed in his eyes, and asked hurriedly, “May I ask what conditions are required to participate in the exploration of the mutation zone?”

Isabel heard a smile, looked at Pu Yunchuan, that expression as if to say: see, this is not a good start?

"I don't listen, don't Listen! !"Night, the black bear woman angrily pushed the black bear outside the door: "You want to make big money, don't want us two you get lost, get as far away as possible! !"

"Oh, don't get excited... . How could I not want you, how could I bear to part with you!"

"How can you be reluctant to part with?"That woman angry way: "Anyway Xiao Ni is not your own, you certainly don't want us!"

"That's not true! !"Black bear turned around and hugged his wife, "Xiao Ni is my biological daughter, don't I also want you two to live a good life?"

"I don't want any good life, I'm living a good life now, we have food and clothes, what's wrong with living a good life?"Black Bear's wife beat black bear's chest and said.

Black bear saw that his wife had stopped playing around and giggled as he hugged her and sat down. "Don't you want those beautiful clothes just now? "Our wife is so beautiful. She will definitely be a hundred times more beautiful when she wears those clothes than the women in the shop just now! "!"

"Bah!"The woman spat at him. "You only know how to pick nice words!"Then, she leaned on black bear's broad chest and whispered, "I don't want those things. As long as you are safe and sound, we can't lose another man at home...". "..."

Black Bear looked at his sensible wife and sighed slightly.

He also knew that his wife was uneasy. This wife was not his first wife. He had only found her a few months ago. At that time, he had just finished the surgery. The other party was a temporary medical staff who had just finished training for a few days. After taking care of him for a few days, she... ! The other party's gentleness and kindness made him take a fancy to this woman. Therefore, after his injury healed, he began to shamelessly chase after her!

As for the other party, because a man had died during the snake disaster, and she had a maid at home, she thought that black bear's successful surgery did not look scary, so she considered the fact that she also lacked a man at home, so she agreed to have a look.

After a short period of time together, the woman also felt that black bear was indeed honest and reliable, so in the end, she became the other party's wife, and a new family of three was formed just like that.

However, she did not expect this honest-looking fool to also be restless. She was immediately angered, and that was why there was the noise just now.

Black bear comforted the other party. Looking at the other party's somewhat haggard face due to work, his heart slightly ached...

He heard that his wife used to be the daughter of a wealthy merchant. She had been living a good life since she was young. However, her family met with difficulties, so she had no choice but to marry a local soldier captain.

Black Bear felt that the dead man in the past was really lucky. His wife was beautiful and had a good figure. The key was that she was gentle, virtuous, and sensible!

Fortunately, she died early. His wife was now his...

However, he did not want such a good wife to be wronged. From the tailor shop just now, he could feel that many men would probably choose that path in the end. When the time came, the other party would earn a lot of money, obtain military merits, and become an officer's grandfather.., he wanted his wife to wear good-looking clothes and live a good life, but he had nothing to do. He could only continue to stand guard and make his wife and daughter wear coarse linen clothes. How could he be satisfied?

Seeing that black bear did not speak for a long time, the woman finally sighed and said, "You still want to go, right?"

Black Bear was silent for a while and finally nodded. He did not want to be so useless for the rest of his life...

"I tell you, if you die out there, I'll find a new man right away! !"

Black Bear:"..."

The next morning, black bear slowly out of the house, just out of the yard to see Jack standing there waiting for him.

"How did it go? Did sister-in-law agree?" Jack laughed.

Black bear pointed at his face that was scratched. "I reluctantly agreed..."

Jack:"..."

"Jack, when I go this time, help me take good care of your sister-in-law. If... I mean if I can't come back, you can marry your sister-in-law."

Jack's eyes lit up when he heard that. "Really?"

"Fake! !" Black bear suddenly changed his face and slapped him. "I know that you are thinking about this matter. You often sneak glances at my wife. Do you want me to die outside so that you can take over my wife's Nest?"

"D * mn, you can see that!" !" Jack rubbed his head and laughed. "Then I won't take advantage of you. When we go out together, the risks are the same, right? "When the time comes, if you still lead the dog before me, you can't say that I'm unkind. Sister-in-law must have someone to take care of her, right?"

Black bear: "Bah, I have a tough life. If I'm going to die, you must go first! !"

Chapter 573: the Registration Storm

"Eh, Bane? You're here too?"

There weren't many soldiers who had signed up to go to the mutated zone. There were only about twenty to thirty of them, so when he looked at the black bear, he saw Bane in the crowd.

Bane turned around and saw the black bear and black bear grinning. He had guessed that they would come. After all, the one who had first asked about the city Lord's registration in the mutated zone yesterday was black bear.

"I discussed it with Trisham. It's true that we can't just stand guard like this forever. In the end, I decided to go adventuring while he stays behind to take care of the children..."

Jack glanced at them and nodded. Old Cui lived in the same tent as them, so they usually had a better relationship. If possible, he actually wanted old Cui to stay with them, but they also knew that.., cui was relatively conservative. Otherwise, he wouldn't have stayed at the Blackrock Trail as a guard.

Cui decided to do the surgery first, but he chose a routine surgery with a higher success rate. After the success rate, Bane went to apply for the surgery, and he chose a sequence 4 with a lower success rate.

In fact, those who were smarter could see what was going on. Cui and Bane were the last two adult orcs of the Buffalo clan. They were responsible for watching the children grow up, so at least one of them had to be left.

During the surgery, old Cui would first choose the one with a higher success rate to ensure that at least one orc with higher combat power would survive. After old Cui succeeded, Bane could choose to take a little risk.

It was the same this time. Bane decided to explore the mutation zone while old Cui stayed to take care of the children. Obviously, old Cui was more stable, while Bane was more aggressive.

Bane's personality was obviously not as easy to control as old Cui in the team, but Jack still smiled and patted his shoulder. "That's good. With a reliable guy like you, I feel much more at ease..."

Bane smiled and responded by hammering his own chest. Obviously, he was very pleased with Jack's words.

He turned around and looked at the team. Almost half of the twenty to thirty applicants were orcs. He could not help but sigh. Obviously, compared to human concerns, orcs were more carefree. Before he came, he had heard that... There were already more than fifty orcs who had signed up...

After all, there were only a few hundred orcs in total, including women and children... ..

Bain looked at the excited faces of so many orcs and sighed slightly... ..

When they first came here, all of the orcs had maintained a certain level of vigilance. However, after a few months, they had clearly adapted to this place. It seemed that they no longer resisted the idea of staying here forever.

After all, there was plenty of food, shelter, and warm quilts here. This place was more stable than the orc tribe, and it was more like a home.

However, the ORC men were not people who were willing to sink into the abyss. Although the humans here accepted them, they were only on guard duty.

Most of the Orcs who came here were elite beasts. How could they be willing? Especially after the surgery, most of the beastmen felt that their strength was comparable to the royal members of the Gold tribe. Naturally, they were not willing to be reduced to a sentry.

Many of the beastmen had long been holding their breath in order to prove themselves. This time, the mission of the mutated zone had given them an opportunity!

This mission could not only earn a large number of points, it could help them and the children of the beastmen live a better life. It could also earn military credits to raise their status!

Since he had slowly accepted this place, he couldn't be a soldier for the rest of his life, right?

Thus, many warriors of the tribes finally chose this adventure after discussing it!

"Name?"

"Lukeen!" An abnormally tall orc sat at the registration entrance and answered in a muffled voice.

"Have you undergone surgery?"

"Yes, sequence 4!"

"Alright, Alright, let me see...". The Internal Affairs Officer at the registration entrance quickly flipped through the information. "Oh, I found it. Lukeen, Colossus clan. Number 4 sequence surgery. Transformation into a mammoth. Transformation duration: 90 seconds. Strength Rating A, agility rating D, Explosive Rating A, and endurance rating C. currently ranked 59th in the overall rating. Good Warrior Lukeen, you are very welcome to join us this time!"

Previously, the castellan had instructed them to try their best to encourage the fourth-sequence soldiers to go to the mutation zone because the energy there could effectively help them evolve!

"I'm only ranked 59th? Is there a mistake?" The Beastman said unhappily.

"Next..." the person in charge of registration shook his head with a bitter smile. These beastmen seemed to care a lot about the rankings. Otherwise, they wouldn't have mentioned the rankings at the end?

Just as he was thinking about it, the next robust orc had already squeezed past Lucne and sat down on the chair opposite him.

"Bane!"

"Oh, Bane, right? Let Me See...". "...". HMM, bison clan. Number four sequence surgery. Transformation into an iron-armored rhinoceros. Transformation duration: 3 minutes A...7 seconds. Strength Rating A, agility rating B, explosive rating A, endurance rating a... That person raised his head and looked at him. "Very good data, warrior Bane. Welcome to the team!"

Bane stared straight at him, but had no intention of leaving.

Looking at his gaze, the registrar instantly understood. Finally, he smiled bitterly and said, "The overall ranking is 16th. Very impressive, very impressive. Next, please..."

“What? I’m only 16th? How is that possible? Did I Get You Wrong?” Bane, who had been calm a moment ago, instantly exploded. He grabbed the registrar’s sleeve and said.

“Hey hey hey, Bane, Bane, don’t do this!” Jack and black bear quickly went forward to stop him. “Sixteen is already very powerful...”

“I don’t believe it. How can it be that I didn’t even make it into the top ten? Let me see the booklet. I have to see who the people in front are!”

Jack immediately smiled bitterly when he heard that. However, the other party was very strong. He and black bear could not hold him for a moment. Just as they were troubled, a huge green hand suddenly reached out from behind, it grabbed Bane and lifted him up. It directly threw him behind and instantly threw Bane out,

Bane, who was thrown out, rolled over a dozen times in a sorry state before he barely managed to stop himself. Laughter immediately came from the surroundings. As a former young chief, how could Bane endure such anger? After crawling up with his face covered in dust, he charged towards the person who had thrown him just now with a furious expression. He looked like he was going all out!

However, when he was halfway there, he immediately chose to brake when he saw the person coming. Instantly, a drag mark of four to five meters appeared on the ground!

That person looked at him with a faint smile. “What? Are you going to make a move?”

Bane quickly shook his head. The prestige of the young chief instantly disappeared without a trace.

The person who came was Pu Yunchuan, who had recovered his Green Titan body!

Although he was obedient on the surface to the human officers whose military ranks were higher than his, he was not convinced in his heart. After all, the beast race only recognized fists. However, it was clear that the fist in front of him was definitely the biggest one he had ever seen...

If the strength displayed by the other party on the prairie had shocked him, then in the training base, he had personally experienced the strength of the other party countless times. Every day, he would be crushed by the other party’s strength and rubbed on the ground countless times, this made Bane behave like a puppy the moment he saw the other party.

“If any of you dare to disturb the order again, be careful that this fat lord will crush him into a ball and throw him out of the city gate!” Pu Yunchuan grinned hideously as he pinched his palms. Crackling sounds erupted from his joints, and everyone immediately shivered. They shook their heads repeatedly to show that they did not dare...

It was very obvious that during the training in the base, Pu Yunchuan’s image as the ruthless chief instructor had already been deeply rooted in the hearts of the people!

“Yunchuan... uh, no, chief instructor, are you the one leading the team this time?” Jack asked excitedly.

If Pu Yunchuan was the one leading the team, then this trip would be too reassuring!

“En...” Pu Yunchuan nodded. There were many people around, so it was not good for him to be too intimate with Jack and the others. He walked closer and whispered, “Hurry up and sign up and gather at the east side. I have something to tell you...”

Jack’s heart jolted. It was obvious that Pu Yunchuan still remembered their friendship. He immediately nodded and said, “Alright!”

Chapter 574: Private Care

After signing up, Jack and the other two quickly sneaked towards the east side where Pu Yunchuan was talking to them. Soon, they saw Pu Yunchuan waving at them in the East Garden Hall.

That careful look coupled with his domineering Green Titan body gave people a very uncomfortable feeling.

“Sir, why did you call us here?”

Before he fully understood the other party’s attitude, Jack still decided to use the honorific title. After all, he was a veteran who had been in the army for more than thirty years. He still had a bit of worldly wisdom.

However, Pu Yunchuan obviously did not care about these things. After looking around, he quietly pulled them into a small room. After closing the door, he said, “I have something for you...”

As he said that, he opened a bag on the table in the room. Inside, there were some colorful and strange things.

The three of them were stunned, Pu Yunchuan displayed them one by one and said, “This thing is called an ion shield trigger. Place it on your chest. Once it is tested that you have encountered a powerful attack, it will release a level three energy shield. Simply put, it can save your lives at critical moments. Remember to place it on your chest...” . “...”

“This is a private teleportation scroll. The location is at the Gondolin Laboratory. If, I mean if, you are in a desperate situation, you can activate this teleportation to return. This is very expensive. Do not use it unless it is a critical moment...”

“And this insect repellent crystal. Three of you, one each. After you go out, I will arrange a tent for you. Use this to guard against some mutated poisonous insects. If you encounter a swarm of insects, the powder inside will have an insect repellent effect, but do not use it in public. This can be used when you encounter a swarm of insects or mutated insect monsters that you can not deal with if you get separated...” . “...”

The three of them were stunned. After a while, they realized that Pu Yunchuan had called them over to deliver the goods to them?

Out of curiosity, Jack asked, “Don’t the other soldiers have these things?”

“Nonsense!” Pu Yunchuan glared at them. “Now that we’ve just cooperated with those people outside, we don’t have much money at all. How can everyone have such expensive equipment? They’re all the cheapest ones equipped...”

Pu Yunchuan looked outside as he spoke, he lowered his voice and said, “There’s a big difference between the things sold in the market. For example, this military food pellet. Ordinary compressed pellets can only fill you up, but they can’t provide nutrition. When you kill mutated creatures outside, your body will absorb a large amount of mutated energy. Without enough nutrition, the absorption rate will be greatly reduced, hindering your evolution...”. “...”

“What do you mean?” Jack and the others obviously did not understand what he meant.

“To put it simply, your bodies will become stronger when you kill mutated creatures outside. If you don’t have enough nutrition, the efficiency of becoming stronger will become slower. Moreover, you will have to come back for surgery to clean up the toxins in your body after a long time!”

“You can become stronger when you kill monsters? There’s such a Thing?” Jack and the others were immediately pleasantly surprised.

Pu Yunchuan pursed his lips. This kind of thing only existed in the game...

“As long as you understand it, that means that if you eat these expensive balls, you can stay in the mutation zone longer and become stronger faster. But if you eat these cheap balls, it’s different...”

“I see! !” Jack and the others nodded in realization and thought to themselves, no wonder the balls at the entrance are so expensive. So it has such a function?

“These things can not be given to new recruits like you. You have to do well in the mutation zone and use your points to buy them. When we are outside, I will try my best to give you more opportunities to earn points. When you earn points, come back early and change your weapons and equipment. Then, change to a more practical mount... “These things are too conspicuous. I can not give them to you openly.”

The three of them nodded, but then Jack asked, “Forget about the weapons and equipment, is it necessary to have a mount?”

The other two people heard this and looked over curiously.

Good weapons and equipment could directly increase combat power, which was indeed a necessity, but was it necessary to have a mount. So expensive... ... I heard that most of the exploration areas were in the forest... ...

“It will be necessary in the future!” Pu Yunchuan nodded and said, “Now, everyone is still exploring the surrounding areas, so it is not very useful. However, as time goes by, the exploration areas will become larger and larger. If you can explore other cities or even further, the effect of having an excellent mount will naturally be different!”

“I see, Yunchuan, you are really thoughtful!” Jack immediately laughed.

Pu Yunchuan laughed. “I heard from Isabelle that the developers of the base will...”. “Ahem, the mages have set up a project team to study the mounts. The first goal of our trip this time is the southeast direction of Otoria. I heard that it used to be a military supply city where dragon horses and gryphons were kept in captivity. The villagers in the towns and villages would also raise excellent stallion Cubs. The purpose of our trip this time is to explore the region and try to capture as many specimens of these mounts as possible... "When the time comes, the base will give preferential treatment to the local soldiers and civilians!"

"Oh, oh!" Jack and the others nodded repeatedly. Their eyes became bright as if they could see a large number of points waving at them.

"Alright, let's not talk about it anymore. It's time to gather...". Pu Yunchuan looked outside again and said, "Quickly put away these things and take them with you. Don't expose yourself during normal times. When you eat the military rations pills, eat them when no one is paying attention, understand?"

"Understood, understood!" Jack and the others rubbed their hands together. Even the Proud Bane was smiling.

Although the orcs were straightforward, there were often situations where familiar people took care of each other. For example, when you enlisted in the Army of a large tribe, the seniors of the Buffalo tribe in the army would take care of you, a member of the same tribe, this is also the normal, he would not be in such a good thing in front of the affectation.

I like Pu Yunchuan even more...

After distributing the goods, Pu Yunchuan sneaked back to the mayor's office like a thief. He saw Isabel looking at him coldly on the table when he came back.

"How dare you hide your money?" Said Isabelle, squinting.

Pu Yunchuan immediately knew that he was exposed, so he quickly explained, "No... No, that... that was dog egg who lent it to me..."

"Humph!" Isabelle rolled her eyes at him, turned her head and looked at the document again. "Next time, just tell me directly about this, you don't have to borrow money from outsiders..."

"Ah?" Pu Yunchuan was stunned, and then he said, "You... you don't object to me doing that?"

"You roped in Jack and the others, and nurtured your trusted aides. Why would I object to such a thing?"

"AH... haha... I See..." Pu Yunchuan shook his head. He didn't think too much about it. He was simply afraid that something would happen to his friends, so he prepared some personal protection for them...

After all... They couldn't be resurrected after they died...

"But... you've been close to Goudan recently, to the point of borrowing money..."

Pu Yunchuan felt a chill down his spine. He felt an inexplicable killing intent approaching, so he quickly explained, "No... There's no such thing. You're thinking too much. Goudan is a very loyal person to begin with."

“Oh? So the first time you thought of her, you thought she was more loyal than me?”

Pu Yunchuan’s face twitched. He felt that today’s matter was a little too much... ..

“No, no, no, it’s not like that... Listen to my explanation...”

Chapter 575: Market Selection (Part One)

In order to give a good example to those who were hesitant, when there were less than a hundred people, Isabelle asked Pu Yunchuan to set off with this group of people.

It happened to be the day after Jack and the others signed up. Jack and Bain arrived very early that day. They gathered outside the city at dawn, but there were more people than expected.

The total number of people in their own party was less than 100. Many of them were like black bear, who had to say goodbye to his family before leaving. Most of them were still in the city, at this time, there were actually more than a dozen people who had arrived. The so-called many people he saw were the soldiers gathered by the player lords outside.

About a dozen players were organizing their own party. There were soldiers, humans, or orcs. All of them were well-equipped and stood straight. From a few feet away, they gave off the strong aura of an elite army!

Especially one of the Lords. Almost all of them had mounts under them. Although they were not as domineering as the Black Gold Lions in the market with 30,000 points each, they were all high-quality goods. There were mutated dragon horses and mutated wind wolves. Standing there, they were almost twice the size of ordinary wind wolves. Looking at the strong physique of the mounts and the handsome leather covers, Jack and the others immediately swallowed their saliva in envy.

Not long after, Pu Yunchuan slowly walked out of the city, yawning. He was obviously a little dispirited. Last night, Isabelle had made things difficult for him for a long time with the topic of dog balls, causing him to not sleep well the whole night...

Pu Yunchuan yawned and walked over. “Why are there only these few people?”

Jack: “You Set It for nine o’clock, it’s still early...”

Pu Yunchuan: “Then why are you all here so early?”

Jack: “We’re hardworking!”

Pu Yunchuan: “Hehe, single dog...”

Jack: “...”

“Sir, then... who are those people?” Bane asked curiously, pointing at the group of well-equipped teams.

“Adventurers...” Pu Yunchuan sighed, “They are the leaders of the big families, leading their elite troops to search for treasure...”

Bane fell silent, then looked enviously at the awe-inspiring mutated wind wolf in the distance!

Pu Yunchuan looked at his eyes, then looked at the people around him, and sighed in his heart. It was obvious that Jack and the others were a little shabby.

In fact, the last time Isabelle went to talk business with little cabbage, she had extorted a lot of weapons and equipment. The quality of the equipment produced by little cabbage was definitely much better than that of the average player faction.

However, Isabelle did not take them out immediately. They were only regular equipment that was given out. The real enchanted equipment was secretly stored.

The reason was that she had told herself that she could not let the soldiers think that these things came too easily. She wanted to form the habit of them cherishing everything in front of them. Therefore, she planned to let these soldiers exchange for them with her hard work.

After that, she would set up a trading zone that was only for the military region within the city. The weapons and equipment inside, including the mounts that she had researched later, would be given priority to be exchanged for the local soldiers, and the prices that the soldiers would buy here would definitely be cheaper than on the market.

This way, the soldiers would not only cherish it, but also be grateful!

When Pu Yunchuan first heard this, he felt that it was very familiar, as if he had seen it somewhere before. After thinking about it, wasn't this the trick that the dog Lord often used on players like them?

After fighting for so long, was it finally his turn to squeeze others?

Although he did not equip his soldiers with good equipment, Pu Yunchuan knew that the soldiers in his faction were not weak. Although these people around him were well-equipped, they were not strong enough in a real fight.

After all, his soldiers were all elites who had undergone surgery. Although they looked shabby, they were actually very powerful...

Considering the data and mutations that the players had recently discovered, if they could adapt to it, then his soldiers would definitely be able to adapt to it.

Thinking of this, Pu Yunchuan tried his best to comfort them, “Don't be greedy. We will naturally have what we should have. We are not like them. There are tens of thousands of soldiers in the city. If you want those things, then cheer up. We will definitely earn a lot from this trip!” !”

Jack and others heard the words of the calm, nodded, and then looked into the distance, eyes full of fighting spirit and desire for the future.

That feeling... Just like he felt when he first joined the army, Jack felt himself for a long time . . It's been a long time since I felt this kind of blood boiling!

Pu Yunchuan in the outside of the team, Isabelle also not idle, get up early in the office to flip through the records of the mall data.

Under her supervision, every transaction in the store was strictly recorded. After all, this was a tax issue, so she could not be careless.

Unlike the mutated zone exploration mission that they had just opened to the public, other players had already started preparing for it after they learned about the station a few months ago, on the first day of the headquarters' mission release, there were already many foreign adventurers here.

As a result, most of the shops were doing very well after the opening of the market. Meanwhile, Isabelle was recording the proportion of the market so that she could decide which aspect of her market she wanted to focus on in the future.

First of all, she looked at the grain shops that had opened the most in the market...

Currently, there were 12 grain shops in the market. All of them sold high-quality food. These things were not as convenient as the military food pills, but they were cheaper, many players who did not have much money would still choose conventional food. After all, high-level military grain pills cost one point each, and one military grain pill was only enough for a day's energy consumption for the soldiers. Most of the players here had around 200 to 300 men under them, and that was 200 to 300 points a day! That was not even counting the other equipment!

Other than a few wealthy players, how could some players who had just barely risen to power afford to squander their wealth?

In addition, the exploration mission had just begun. There were many places that could be explored when Gondolin went out to a region. He would first train his troops at the periphery. Earning points was also a good choice. It was also convenient to resupply. If it was not for the progress of a specific destination, the military grain pills would not be necessary for the time being.

This also caused the current ready-made grain business to be quite popular, accounting for one-third of the total account!

However, in the long run, the Military Grain Pill's later stage market would be very large. After all, as the map exploration became more and more distant, and when it was not convenient to resupply, the military grain pill's use would be greater, and the demand would also increase greatly...

Thinking of this, Isabelle suddenly thought of another problem. No wonder the small cabbage faction gave up on the grain market so easily. It turned out that they had already predicted that the market's prospects were not very big...

Thinking of this, Isabelle's face turned a little ugly. The other party had shrewdly used the advantage of their race's civilization to start with weapons. It was clear that they had a long-term plan from the beginning, so she could not fall behind.

Thinking of this, she flipped through the information and pressed the call bell on the table.

The soldier who was responsible for waiting for orders quickly ran in and bowed. "Sir, what can I do for You?"

"Go to the laboratory and inform Lady Xiao Juan to gather all the alchemists for a meeting. Tell her that I have something important to discuss..."

"Yes, Sir!"

576 Chapter 605: Market Selection (Part Two)

"Why did you call us here?" Ran Xiaojuan asked as she walked into the hall. Isabelle looked over and saw that the man's face was covered in butter and his hair was in a mess as if he had been electrocuted. If not for his exquisite clothes, he would have looked like he had crawled out of a refugee zone...

She really had the demeanor of an alchemist... "...". Isabelle thought to herself.

The quality of her sleep these few days was pretty good. Because she needed to ensure sufficient rest during the elf transformation stage, she had to take some time to meditate. Most of the miscellaneous government affairs were allocated to the old judge, she was rather free.

When she saw how the other party looked like he was about to die, she felt a little sorry for him.

Thus, she politely asked someone to brew a cup of rich and sweet coffee for the developers...

"It's like this..." while everyone was drinking coffee to refresh themselves, Isabelle quickly said, "The main reason I asked you to come here is to understand the progress of the various projects..."

Ran Xiaojuan put down her coffee cup and tilted her head to look at the other party. "Do you have nothing to do after eating? Do you need to call all of us here for this kind of thing? Do you know how tight the scientific research process is right now? And... .. Where are the apprentices that we agreed on?"

"Ahem..." Isabelle coughed lightly and said, "We will discuss the issue of apprentices later. Right now, the main issue is the distribution of the projects. I think we might be able to cancel some of our projects..."

"What? ?" Everyone immediately jumped up and said noisily, "Each project has reached a critical moment. Now, you are telling us that some of the projects can be canceled? which ones should be canceled?"

Because they had been working day and night on the experiment, their eyes were blood-red. When they heard the news, their faces looked ferocious, as if they were beasts that wanted to eat people, even someone like Isabel, who had seen the world, could not help but move back a little.

After all, her current form did not seem to have any resistance. She had even heard that her current form was very good at arousing the appetite of other creatures...

Thus, she hurriedly told them about the information and opinions she had gathered in the morning.

The content of her speech was mainly about the market data that led to the conclusion of choosing the specialization route.

Ran Xiaojuan and the others slowly calmed down after listening to the other party's narration and fell into deep thought.

Seeing that the situation had not gone out of control, Isabelle secretly heaved a sigh of relief, she continued, "In view of what I just said, it's obviously disadvantageous to spread the scope of research too far. Take this military grain pill as an example. Recently, many players have been trying to crack this technology. I've also gone to find out that the core technology is energy compression and energy guidance. Obviously, the arcane energy shaping civilization will have an advantage in this aspect. Moreover, the development of this military grain pill is mainly dependent on the quality of the food. We obviously don't have the upper hand in terms of crops. I think we can temporarily give up on cracking this aspect..." "..."

Ran Xiaojuan and the other developers looked at each other and finally nodded. This was also the reason. Although the Zu'an technological civilization was not bad in terms of crop genes..., however, it was clear that crops that were genetically modified would not be able to compete with natural agricultural products that evolved naturally in the later stages.

In fact, she had considered this before. Moreover, the Zu'an civilization's knowledge in energy shaping was their weakness. Clearly, they did not have the ability to occupy this market.

Seeing that everyone was listening to her, Isabelle slowly leaned forward, after getting someone to take down the documents that she had arranged, she said, "I've investigated the market. Currently, our shopping mall has signed a total of 69 Lord ranked players. We have rented out a total of 106 shops and 42 shops that are currently in business. Among them, there are 12 grain shops, 5 medicine shops, 1 leather shop, 1 tailor shop, 10 weapon shops, 4 mount shops, 4 grocery shops, 6 inns..." "..."

These few days, I carefully looked at the business statistics. For the time being, the grain stores were doing the best business. Of course, this was currently the most in demand, followed by the medicine stores. The demand was also very high, and compared to the grain..., the market for medicine would be even stronger in the future.

I looked at the current market for medicine. There were currently three types of medicine. The first type was the traditional biotechnology type antibiotics and vaccines. Currently, all sorts of poisonous insects and mutated bacteria were very serious in the mutation zone. The high-end vaccines and antibiotics were very tight, many lords that weren't biology majors were helpless in this aspect. They could only rely on buying imported medicines.

The second type was alchemy medicine. It was a more traditional herbal concoction. It was a product that was a combination of traditional pharmacy and alchemy. The disadvantage was that it was slow to take effect, but the advantage was that it didn't have any side effects, it was very suitable for soldiers who were injured to slowly recuperate.

The third type was divine potion. This type of potion was similar to the priest's holy light spell in the game. It had a powerful immediate effect, especially when dealing with major fatal injuries. It had the effect of reviving the dead, but the side effects were extremely great, it was an emergency medicine at the cost of sacrificing one's life potential.

We had given up on the food market, but the medicine market couldn't. I had a rough understanding of it. The second type of product required a relatively high level of magic plant cultivation technology as well as the training of traditional alchemists in pharmacy. My Zu'an alchemy mainly focused on chemical engineering. I'm not good at this aspect, and the old judge has a slow start as a flower spirit. Moreover, he has to deal with government affairs on a daily basis, so it's obviously not realistic for him to cultivate a high level of magic plants in the market...

Everyone nodded when they heard that. Their collaborators were in a tight spot. Not every force could become a full-time flower spirit like cabbages... ..

Ran Xiaojuan continued, "You just said that the third type of potion is something that can only be produced by a theological civilization. We simply can't enter it, which means that if we want to compete in the market, we can only go to the first type..."

Isabelle nodded. "We're already good at chemical alchemy, and we're also the main line of life forms. We definitely can't put traditional biological medicine in the market. How about this, you guys discuss who will be in charge of medical research in the future. This is a long-term business. Even if the great cosmic era opens in the future, there will be a huge demand for alien viruses..." "..."

"That's true..." everyone looked at each other and agreed with this point of view.

Isabelle continued, "After that, the best seller in the market is the grocery store. Currently, it's not easy to classify the things sold in this area. There are technological products as well as magic alchemical items. Right now, our main focus is still on biological surgery. We don't need to compete in this area for the time being. After all, we have to develop our own advantages."

Everyone nodded, at this moment, the old judge asked curiously, "Why don't you mention the leather shop and tailor shop?" "I think business is pretty good too, especially the leather shop. Right now, the exploration map is filled with forests and valleys. A leather wallet that is convenient to move around and has a certain degree of defense is obviously more practical than chain mail or armor. In addition, the market for interstellar adventurers to wear leather armor in the future will definitely not be small!"

"In this aspect... .. normal players can't participate ... .." ran xiaojuan sighed and said, "Tailoring and leather-making are very professional lifestyle jobs that require players to spend a lot of time to practice. I've seen the information in this area. An excellent leather craftsman needs to have the skills to kill a high-level creature and peel off its entire skin. This requires a lot of experience. After all, the characteristics of each creature are different. The stronger the creature, the harder it is to peel off its skin. As for leather-making, it is even more difficult. That requires cutting-edge skills. This is obviously more suitable for solo players who specialize in this area, at least for high-quality leather armor..." "..."

With that, she looked at the people around her and said, "We have already confirmed our partners. I don't think anyone has the time, right?"

"Isn't Pu Yunchuan quite suitable?" The old judge quickly said, "Since he will be leading a team out later, why not let him learn the skinning skills and lead a group of people out to hunt. While he learns it himself, he can also teach others to learn the skinning skills. What's wrong with that?"

"This..." Isabelle frowned. She did not want Pu Yunchuan to become a hunter, but for now, she could indeed let him try to train a group of hunters.

“What about skinning?” Ran Xiaojuan asked, “Low-level leather armor is fine, but high-level leather armor production is very difficult to train. You have to learn high-level skills such as enchantment and creature utilization. If you want to seize the market, you can’t rely on the natives...”

“Try to find a few lifestyle players in this field as partners...” The old judge frowned and said, “If they are not lord-level players, they should not be so resistant. Moreover, even if we can’t find them, we can still make a profit by selling the source materials, right?”

“That makes sense...” ran Xiaojuan looked at Isabelle. “What do you think?”

Isabelle hesitated for a while and finally said, “I’ll go to the main base and see if I can recruit some people in this field...”

Chapter 577 always one step ahead of you...

The main base was very crowded during this period of time because the quest development had stimulated most of the players to play the 24-hour liver game. The entire base could see players queuing up to work or desperately queuing up for skill training classes.

Of course, there were also some players who were already qualified to discuss the exploration experience with each other.

Isabelle slowly floated as she listened to the players who were complaining to each other.

“Hey Buddy, how was your side?”

“Smooth my ass!” Another player said angrily, “I haven’t even reached my destination yet. I didn’t even think of all kinds of problems, such as mutated virus infection and poisonous insect attacks, and I already got a large number of them! Moreover, I didn’t think that the food consumption would be so big...” “...”

“Yeah...” Another player sighed and said, “Our soldiers’ levels are too low. My Minotaur was bitten by a poisonous insect, and it grew such a big abscess. I didn’t take care of it, and the next day, his whole foot died. It made me sad, and I quickly sent him to be treated “...” “... I delayed a lot of things “...”

“It’s the same for viruses. It’s a strange virus. I don’t know how it got infected, but a bunch of soldiers became paralyzed and were extorted by the pharmacy. F * ck, if I had known earlier, I would have done more research in this area. Now, I have to buy other people’s vaccines. Now, rations, vaccines, and insect repellent crystals are all essential items. I’ve consumed a lot of them. Besides, there might be something I haven’t thought of. If I haven’t gained anything after consuming so much this time, then I really can’t afford to waste anymore!”

“How about... We consider performing an operation on the soldiers?”

A cute female voice suddenly came from behind as the two of them spoke. The two of them were stunned for a moment, and when they looked back, they saw Isabelle floating in the air...

“Little sister, there are too many people here. Don’t wander around here with an elf ball. If you’re not careful, you’ll be easily trampled to death...”

Isabelle:”...”

She had heard of this before. Those Green Titans in the base walked in a hurry. She didn’t know if it was intentional or not, but there were often accidents where they accidentally trampled to death a passing elf ball. Afterward, they would symbolize compensation points and purchase your corpse...

It was also because of this that Isabelle chose to float, even though it consumed a lot of mental strength...

“Hey, you are... the castellan of Gondolin?”One of the players instantly recognized him.

“Oh, so you are the Big Boss...”the other player immediately noticed the name above Isabelle’s Head!

“Big Boss, can the shop be cheaper? You have to consider low-end players like us...”

Isabelle smiled, “We have a lot of pressure on our loans for a small business, so it won’t be cheap for the time being. In fact, even if it is cheap, it would still be difficult for you to grab the market in your current situation. It’s better to take the route of exploring the map.”

“The cost is too high... and there are too many pitfalls, I can’t bear it...”the two players immediately complained.

“I said just now, you can consider performing surgery on soldiers.”

“What surgery?”

“Genetic surgery!”Isabelle smiled and said, “Our base has mature cases, and there are all kinds of surgeries. As long as you soldiers are willing, you can transplant some mutated creature genes into it and produce basic antibodies. At least you won’t be knocked down by the virus as soon as you go out!”

“Really?”The two players were skeptical.

Isabelle laughed. “Our men are collecting data outside. Soon, we will be able to develop the most cost-effective biological surgery to strengthen your soldiers. Later, we will list which viruses these surgeries can immunize against. If you are interested, you can pay attention to it later!”

“This...”the two looked at each other and then nodded. “Okay, we will pay attention to it later...”

Isabelle looked at their hesitant eyes and knew that they still had some doubts, but she didn’t say much. After all, others would definitely be wary of such a rashly promoted product.

They felt that they still needed to advertise it. Pu Yunchuan and the others had already left for two days, and from the feedback of the information, no soldiers had been infected with the virus so far. It was clear that the soldiers who had undergone genetic surgery were still very resistant.

If she performed a simplified version of the biological surgery with a combination of virus vaccine or serum, she would definitely be able to occupy a certain market, but she had to let more people know about it.

If she had to say that the most convincing advertisement was, there was a good candidate in the base now...

Thinking of this, Isabelle decided not to look for a tanner lifestyle player first, but to look for that person first... .

Now the base is building a lot of infrastructure, the good hatchery was temporarily moved to the periphery of the base, which took Isabelle a long time to find the location, and because there are a lot of pedestrians on the street. She did not even dare to roll on the ground for fear of being trampled to death by a working Tauren or engineer...

After arriving at the Elven base, Isabelle saw Elven instructor Vivian at the entrance. Since the base had opened up many quotas, many new elven players had been born. This made it so that Vivian did not have time to wander around D ball for the time being, she had been doing her best to help guide the Elven players in meditation this month.

"Instructor Vivian..." Isabelle called out respectfully from afar.

"Hey, isn't this Isabelle?" Vivian walked over with a smile and picked up Isabelle. "Well, the longer the better..."

Isabelle was stunned and thought to herself, 'don't all elf balls look the same? 'how could she tell that I'm getting better the longer I Grow?'

"Well... my body is very healthy. It seems that I have to persist in meditation..." Vivian rubbed Isabelle and smiled. "I have to persist. The transformation is a very long process..."

"But... why do I feel that my progress is very slow?" Isabelle asked curiously.

She had actually been here quite a few times these days. She saw that many players who were later than her had begun to change their forms. Some had grown wings, some had become much larger, and some were surrounded by elements, anyway, there were more or less some changes, and it was obvious that she could see the path of the transformation in the future.

There was only himself, and there were no changes at all...

Hearing this, merlin smiled and said, "Don't be anxious, transformation can not be rushed. Moreover, everyone's situation is different. Your progress is already considered excellent."

"Is that so?" Isabelle looked at one of the guys in the base who had wings and was running around randomly. She knew that guy, he seemed to be called [ Dali is my wife ]. He had just arrived five days ago, and now he had wings...

Seeing this, Vivian smiled bitterly. How could she explain it? You Can't compare to these d-ball people. They're all monsters, okay?

"Teacher, can you see where I'm transforming now?" Isabelle could not help but ask.

“Yes...” Vivian lifted Isabelle up and looked at her carefully. “The growth of spiritual power is slower, and there are no signs of elemental affinity. I don’t think it’s a flower spirit or an elemental elf. I Can’t see anything else for the time being...”

“Oh...” Isabelle nodded, feeling slightly disappointed. In fact, she was quite interested in the flower spirit if she could, and having a flower spirit in the base would be very helpful.

“Yes...” Vivian smiled. “Someone was looking for him just now, and he was chatting with him in the backyard...”

“Someone was looking for him?” Isabelle was stunned. She was so busy now, who would be so bored to look for this guy. Could it be... ..

That guy wouldn’t be one step ahead of her again, right. Isabelle thought to herself...

Just as she was thinking about it, she saw Vivian say, “Oh, right, the one looking for Grandpa Lu seems to be your relative...”

Isabelle:”...”

Chapter 578: The Birth of a Great Elf (part one)

“Grandpa, do you remember what I said just now?”

Isabelle slowly floated to the backyard of the elf base, and then she heard an extremely familiar voice.

“I understand, I understand...” grandpa LU said eagerly, “The guide emphasizes the importance of equipment and the advantages of various equipment enchantments. Don’t worry, it will definitely be appropriate! !”

“Ahem...” Isabelle floated over after hearing that. “So this is how the god of strategy makes the guide?”

Grandpa Lu’s huge body trembled when he heard that. When he turned around and saw that it was a little elf ball, he immediately glared at the other party and said, “The newcomer looks like a newcomer. You Dare to meddle in my affairs? Don’t you want to play the game anymore?”

“Eh, aiyo, isn’t this my cute great-granddaughter?” Alice looked pleasantly surprised as she picked up Isabelle. The Handsome Black Elf’s face was full of the expression of a young girl who had been cuted up, causing Isabelle to feel goosebumps in her heart.

She wanted to break free, but she could not break free when the other party deliberately pinched her. After her efforts were futile, Isabelle could only obediently be pinched like a doll by the other party...

She finally understood why her ancestor would choose the black elf class.

With the other party’s personality, he would definitely not choose the Green Titan class that was uglier than the Green Titan class. Developers who did not have close combat abilities would most likely be given up. The other party’s choice of race was actually similar to her own considerations. Logically speaking, the elves were the most suitable, but... .. the other party chose a fixed form of the black elf race.

She had also seen the introduction of this race. It was said to be a derivative of the ancient elf bloodline. It belonged to the fourth generation branch system. Its potential and basic attributes were not as good as the wood elves, but it was better at forming quickly in the early stages, moreover, it would skip the transformation stage directly.

This originally made Isabelle somewhat puzzled.

This was because the transformation was a very powerful mechanism in Isabelle's eyes. It allowed people to choose the path that was most suitable for them. In Isabelle's eyes, the elven constitution was simply the most perfect system, and giving up on the transformation was simply giving up on the most beneficial process of the elven constitution.

Could it be that this guy was rubbing himself like this just so he wouldn't turn into an elven ball?

It wasn't that boring, was it?

But... it was hard to say...

In Isabelle's memory, this fellow seemed to be quite black-bellied at times...

Looking at the fuming Isabelle, Alice rubbed herself harder and harder, her eyes smiling so much that they were like crescent moons...

Of course, she wasn't as boring as Isabelle thought. Instead, she chose the template that suited her best according to her own circumstances.

She was an undead, so her body couldn't evolve on its own like these normal creatures. She could only strengthen her spiritual power and spend a lot of money to purchase a stronger ready-made body in the future.

In her current situation, she didn't need to choose an elf to go through some transformation period because she didn't want to build a foundation for herself. She just needed to work hard to earn money.

She would have to change this body sooner or later. As for why she chose it? Of course, it was because she was good-looking. Among the elves, only the black elves did not need to transform. Why would she not choose such a good-looking template with good basic attributes?

"Ah, so cute. My biggest regret is that I did not see you when you were young..." Ali lifted Isabelle up high and said with a kind expression.

Hearing that, Isabelle sneered. From the age of three, their descendants had to go through trials in secret. First, they had to drink that alchemy potion to strengthen their physique. After drinking that, the chances of surviving were less than 10% , she only remembered that two of her fifty-odd children had survived.

Then, there were all kinds of cruel training and elimination. Only the most outstanding ones among the hundreds of descendants could be qualified to meet this old ancestor. Of course, she couldn't see her own childhood...

But now, at a glance, you couldn't see the slightest bit of regret and kindness on her face, but it just so happened that she was the one who planned the series of cruel events back then...

Thinking of this, Isabelle's heart became colder and colder, and then she said coldly, "Have you pinched enough? Can you put me down?"

"Aiya, you're being despised when you're old..." Alice put Alice down carefully with a bitter smile on her face, her posture made her feel as if she was treating something extremely precious, as if she was afraid that it would be damaged. This made Isabelle Freeze for a moment.

"Let's go, let's Go..." after Alice put down Isabelle, she waved her hand and left elegantly. However, her back view gave off an obvious sense of loneliness... ..

Her grandfather could not bear to look at her, so he came closer and said, "Hey, shouldn't you treat your elders better?"

Isabel rolled her eyes. "Don't let her get to you. I'm here to talk business..."

"Er..." Lu grandfather Leng, immediately and then showed a warm smile, know business again!

-----

"Lord Alice?" In the cabbages, the mighty orcs saluted with great respect when they saw Alice return.

Although the base chief was now Lord Little Cabbage, that Lord was relatively more amiable. Usually, when he was free, he would pull everyone to a banquet. The feeling of cordiality was very strong, but in terms of prestige and credibility..., right now, this lord was the only one in the base.

Especially after the other party gained a firm foothold in the golden soil of the north, his status in the tribe skyrocketed. One had to know that for the southern orcs, to be able to occupy the golden soil in the north..., that was something that the five great tribes had never done for countless years!

In addition to his brilliant tactics and unyielding style, he was now the leader that all the orcs respected the most!

"Where's the chieftain?" Isabelle asked as she walked.

She was very busy. This time, other than settling the price of the strategy promotion with Grandpa Lu, she was mainly here to talk to all the shareholders about the next arrangements.

After all, now that the mutated zone mission was open to the public, the pace of the next step would be faster and faster. All the player forces would enter a period of rapid growth. At this time, it would take meticulous planning to stay ahead.

"This is the chief's lunch time. He should be eating in the tent..." the Tauren who was called out hurriedly said.

Isabelle nodded. Without saying anything else, she walked straight into the cabbages tent.

The cabbages'tent was the same as before. It was still the temporary tent made of coarse cloth. Alice stopped outside the tent for a moment. She remembered that the cabbages had told her before..., when she got rich, she wanted to build a magnificent chieftain's manor, one that was similar to the elven style of the main base!

At that time, she looked like she wanted to enjoy herself, but now that a few months had passed and the base had made a lot of money, she was still living in this dilapidated tent.

Alice sighed and walked over. The young deer at the door hurriedly said in panic, "Lady Alice..."

"Well..." Alice asked directly, "Are you still eating lunch?"

"I just sent the food in..." the young deer hurriedly said.

Alice nodded and didn't say anything more. She walked straight in. As soon as she entered, she saw the cabbage lying on the ground. Her chubby face was smeared on a steak that she had just eaten, and she fell asleep...

"Ah!" Seeing this, deer hurriedly ran over and carefully picked up the cabbage, he wiped the oil stains on her face and said, "The chief has fallen asleep again. It's been like this recently. Sir Alice, do you want to get the witch doctors to take a look at her?"

Alice frowned. "She's been like this recently?"

"Yes..." deer quickly said, "Recently, the chief has become more and more lethargic... sometimes, he would suddenly fall asleep while taking a walk outside. Sometimes, he would fall asleep while eating like this..."

"How could this be?" Alice's frown deepened. She remembered that AI had told this guy about the problem of the spirit connection?

After thinking for a while, she suddenly walked outside. She went to the rear of the base, where the High Elves that the base supported were gathered...

"This is..."

When she saw the situation in the elven zone behind the base, Alice was stunned.

Chapter 579: The Birth of a Great Elf (part two)

Alice had not been in the main base for almost four months. Now, the strategic center of the base was in the north. It was not just the emperor of the liver. In the future, in order to obtain the new product that had been researched, she had to move the entire research center there, she had arranged for the entire research center to be moved there. In other words, in the future, only little cabbage would be left.

The main reason why she was not brought along was to have a quiet environment to nurture elemental elves. Of course, it was also for her safety. The reason why the tribe was ahead was because of the only level-five flower spirit in the base, naturally, they did not dare to place her in a conspicuous position.

However, the people in power would not accept such a situation. Alice held military power with one hand and even moved the research center over. How could any other major shareholder tolerate it?

However, her chieftain did not seem to have any concerns in this regard. He had completely given her power. Perhaps he was too ambitious or something...

The orcs who wanted to make a name for themselves in the base had all followed her to the north. Those who stayed were shamans and witch doctors who were retired. Of course, there were also some warriors who had to take turns to protect the chieftain.

“Lady Alice, when did you come back? Why didn’t you inform us in advance?” An old shaman stumbled over and asked from the elemental elf feeding ground.

Alice was stunned. She looked at the sky. There were two strange-looking beasts floating in the sky. One of them was green all over, it had a body like a long snake, the head of a qilin, the tail of a carp, a long beard, horns like a deer, five claws, and an extremely powerful appearance. There was also a huge dark turtle with strange and mysterious patterns all over its body, the tail of the turtle was a huge snake, and it looked extremely strange!

There were also two huge elemental spirits beside the two of them. One was a fire spirit and the other was a gold spirit. Although they did not have a form, they gave off a vigorous life force!

Alice was stunned for a long time before she pulled her gaze out from above. She pointed at the few high elves and asked, “What’s going on?”

“This...” the old shaman hesitated for a moment before he finally gave in to her vicious gaze and said, “It was done by the chief. Previously, we told her about the legend of the great elves, and she...”

“Nonsense! !” Alice was so angry that she flung her sleeves. She strode back to the cabbages tent with a cold expression. However, the moment she entered the tent, she saw the cabbages that had kicked the quilt to the side. They were sleeping soundly in a large font, and her expression froze again...

He stood there in a daze for a long time before curling his lips and saying, “Sleeping is so ugly! !”

He did not wake them up but quietly walked out of the tent. When young deer saw Alice walk out, he quickly stepped forward cautiously and said, “The shamans have returned. They are waiting for you and the chief in the meeting hall...”

The developers in the cabbages base were known as shamans to the outside world. This was also to make the orcs more convinced. After all, the soldiers in the base were mostly orcs.

Alice nodded. “I’ll be there right away. The chief is still unconscious, so I won’t disturb her. When she wakes up, send the hot food in immediately. This time, you watch her eat inside!”

“I... I understand, Sir Alice!” Deer quickly lowered his head.

Alice looked at the tent behind her, sighed, and walked straight to the conference hall.

The so-called conference hall was a modification of the Hall of Glory built by the Tauren themselves. It was a simple wooden building. A few developers and the emperor of the liver had obviously been waiting inside for some time, after the developers sat down, they were all discussing academic matters. It was very lively. Only the emperor of the liver and Wang Goudan did not fit in. They spread out on the table with a bored look on their faces, as if they wanted to end this quickly.

Alice coughed lightly and entered the door. The room instantly became quiet.

After Alice sat down, she told them what she had just seen. She stared at one of the developers who was in charge of the elemental elf research and asked, "Do you know what's Going On?"

When that person heard this, he was immediately pleasantly surprised. "The chieftain has actually nurtured a great elf so quickly?"

"What Great Elf?" Asked dog egg curiously.

"This is the collective name of the native orcs here...". The developer quickly explained, "In the history of the orcs here, the elemental elves that can transform into their physical form are collectively known as Great Elves. They are high-level elemental elves that can only be formed through the worship of large tribes and the faith of hundreds of thousands of orcs. They are like the wind wolf totem of the Gale Tribe and the Earth Beast Totem of the Earth tribe!"

"But why does it look like a green dragon or a black tortoise?" Asked Eggface in a daze.

The developer said, "The elemental sprites take form mainly according to the beliefs of the spiritual power cultivators. After all, they don't know what form they should take."

Alice frowned when she heard that. "But I felt it just now. That elemental sprite has almost the energy of a grade-3 creature. Can these native orcs produce grade-3 elemental sprites?"

"Of course not!" The developer quickly smiled. "I was talking about the natives. Although the shamans of the orcs on the grassland are similar to the wood elf civilization, it's just a little similar. The heritage and system of the civilization are far from the level of the wood elf civilization. It's just a shallow native tribe. They don't have a complete system to train the elemental elves!"

"But we are different. After I sorted it out, I made a simple summary of the characteristics and survival methods of the elemental elves. I sent it to the chief some time ago. It seems that she is reading it seriously..."

While speaking, the developer player ran out of nowhere with a bunch of notes on the table. Looking at the notes that were as tall as a hill on the table, Eggface was stunned and said, "This is called a simple summary?"

The developer rolled his eyes at her. "The chief is a spirit-based job. Of course, he's not someone like you, a second-rate student..."

"Hey!" Goudan was anxious. "You're looking down on me, second-rate student? She... could she be 211?"

Alice looked at goudan and said calmly, "Don't you know? Little cabbage graduated from your Shanghai Jiaotong University's eight-year medical course, and she graduated from the French class. She scored 712 points in the college entrance exam!"

"I. . . You guys continue..." Eggface suddenly leaned on the table with a weak expression... ..

The emperor of the liver looked at eggface and immediately laughed.

"What are you laughing at, college student!" Eggface glared at him.

The emperor of the liver:” ...”

Alice ignored the two of them and asked, “Then what’s the difference between a big elf like us and a big elf nurtured by a shaman? What’s the main use of this?”

“There’s a big difference. Our Great Elf was systemically nurtured by a high-level flower spirit. Although it’s still in its original form and hasn’t been processed by us, its vitality, lifespan, and later growth rate aren’t things that the natives can compare to. As for its use...” “...”

The other party paused for a moment before continuing, “There are many uses. First, it’s the use of the elements themselves. High-level elements can be used to refine raw materials of higher value. It’s said that many of the high-energy minerals left behind in the present universe were left behind by the high-level elven civilization. Then, there’s the issue of one’s own combat strength. Through shamanism, these high-level elemental elves will have stronger buffs, and their radiation range will also be wider. If we nurture them more, when this great elf reaches level five, its coverage can cover almost the entire prairie. On this planet, it’s equivalent to something like a God!”

“Something like a God?” Alice was stunned for a moment.

The developer said, “Just like in those novels, those Holy Knights of the church would go outside and shout, “The power of Holy Light, and then they can borrow the power of the Holy Light of the so-called god of light. It’s the same for us. As long as the elemental elves are strong enough to build the magic net, the soldiers can also borrow the power of these great elves, just like the gods that the church knights believe in!”

Eggface: “Damn, how is this possible?”

Alice was also a little surprised. Although she was not a believer, this method of creating a god had somewhat impacted her worldview.

“But that process is very complicated...” The developer sighed. “To build the magic net, we need a large number of little elves to help build it, and we also need a lot of believers with spiritual power to guide it. We need to cultivate more shamans. The chief can already cultivate a level three elemental elf on her own, but we don’t have enough scale to help her build the magic net. Not to mention the magic net, even the totems will probably take some time. I feel that Lord cabbage is improving too quickly.” “... “...”

Hearing this, Eggface was stunned. He thought to himself, “F * ck, if I had known that I would also play the flower spirit, I would have been able to level up so quickly even after eating, sleeping, and eating...” “...”

Alice came back to her senses and nodded. “There’s no rush. We’ll start setting up after the conditions are ripe. The main reason I called you all here today is to talk about our plans for the next period of time...”

Hearing that, everyone immediately perked up...

Chapter 580: Summary of the cabbages

“Let’s first summarize the previous research!” Alice looked at the leader of the developer team and said, “Madeleine, you go first.”

Madeleine nodded and said, "I am in charge of the base's magical plant gene research and the utilization of civilization. After selecting a few products, the main varieties that I have conquered are the ancient tree of Mu, the Elantra Wisteria, and the star flower of Thor Star. The main direction of utilization is communication."

"Among them, the mgu tree and the Elantra Wisteria are mainly used for fixed-point signal transmission. Due to the large range of the roots and the large amount of energy they carry, these two types of magical plants are very suitable for the communication of early civilizations..."

As she spoke, Madeline opened the virtual screen, and two models of the plants appeared on it. Looking at the vines and roots that could almost cover an entire planet, Goudan said in a daze, "What Black Technology! !"

"Since the functions of the two magic plants are the same, why don't you choose one to focus on research?" Alice frowned.

"Because we're not sure of its later adaptability, it's best to have a backup...". Madeline explained, "The roots of ancient trees are buried underground, so they have less impact on the city's construction and are not easy to destroy. However, maintenance is more troublesome, especially when the signal is out of order. It's very likely to have to dig a few kilometers to do a recheck. Compared to that, the convenience of the vines is better. However, it's like an open line during renovation. It can easily affect the beauty of the city, and it's also easy to be destroyed. However, the advantage is that the signal is good, and it's easy to maintain...". "..."

"How's The Progress?" Alice asked.

"Not ideal..." Madeleine sighed. "These mature products have done a good job in gene sealing. If I want to use the finished products to reverse engineer similar products, I'll need more time. It's best if you give me more assistants..."

Alice sighed. These two types of magic plants were given by the main base, but they couldn't be used directly. Instead, they required the base's magic plant specimens to develop similar products on their own before they could be widely used. As for why this was the case., she was not too sure either.

Seer actually had no other choice. First of all, if they wanted to have their own products, they could not let the players develop the habit of relying on the finished products of the Federation. Moreover, if they wanted to use these magic plants on a large scale, they would have to pay a patent fee., the patent fee for the Federation's products was not that expensive. If it was a private product, then the annual patent fee would definitely scare you to death.

Therefore, the major forces usually bought a specimen to reverse-engineer it, just like how the car companies in central China used other people's engines to reverse-engineer their own engines.

However, this kind of scientific research was actually very difficult. The genetic error was not less strict than the mechanical error, but it was even more exaggerated. The mechanical error only affected the performance, but the genetic error was very likely to directly skip a species, therefore, Madeleine's research was also extremely arduous.

Alice shook her head at Madeleine's request and said, "Currently, the base shamans are scarce. Most of them are still cultivating basic knowledge. In a short period of time, they will not be able to provide you with more assistants. Moreover, although your research is very important to the base, it is not urgent at the moment."

As she said that, she looked at another developer and said, "Annono, I remember that your research project is in the field of alchemy potions. How is the progress now?"

That person was one of the researchers hired in Houston: Maya. Annono., she looked at herself and said with a smile, "Things are going very smoothly here. With the cooperation of a few high-level soldiers who have undergone surgery under Pu Yunchuan's forces, I have developed a variety of alchemy potions that correspond to the healing of external injuries, the repair of bone growth, the repair of internal organs, and the prescription that stimulates and strengthens the immune system to resist viruses. After testing the strength of the potion, it can already be used to treat a level-three life form, and the side effects are minimal. However, if we want to mass produce it, we will need manpower..." "..."

"Alright!" Alice nodded. "If you want any manpower, you can register it yourself. I'll try my best to satisfy you!"

When the others saw that the other party wanted manpower so smoothly, they also started to shout. Alice had no choice but to explain, "Annono's project is a project that is about to earn money. Your construction project can be delayed in the future..."

As soon as these words were said, the developers who were researching construction technology led by Madeleine immediately curled their lips...

"What about weapons?" Alice looked at the developer who was in charge of the research on raw materials: Bill Ayres. Bill Ayres!

Bill quickly said, "It's not a big problem. Our base has the support of Lord Cabbage. The level of the elemental elves is not something that other forces can compare to. The quality of the refined metal is now at least two grades higher than the quality of the surrounding players. The player called Xu Xian who previously cooperated with us has also secretly used the metal products of other forces. The quality is completely incomparable to ours. In the end, he could only choose to continue buying our materials in large quantities!"

Alice nodded. This was also the reason why she was willing to work with Xu Xian. The superiority of the materials and the lead in elemental energy shaping made the other party's hex products have to rely on them, even in the later stages, as long as she maintained the lead, if the other party wanted to make the most advanced hex products, they would still have to rely on them!

"Alright..." Alice nodded with rare satisfaction. "Thank you for your hard work. Now, let me summarize. Due to the market development, it is the golden period for earning points. The resources of the base can be tilted towards the product projects first, and the construction projects can be delayed slightly. Everything is mainly about making money!"

Everyone:"..."

“Then there is the issue of expanding the project...”. Alice continued, “For the time being, we can’t touch on engineering or magic items, but we can try expanding some markets, such as the tanner business “...”as she spoke, she looked at the liver emperor and Eggface. “You two have been idle for a long time. From tomorrow onwards, you two will learn the skill of skinning. The liver emperor will bring his men mainly to the northern plains. The degree of mutation here is relatively low, but most of the wild beasts are gregarious animals. You can capture a large number of them, train hunters, and make low-grade raw materials for their skins. As for eggface, you will be responsible for bringing your men to Gondorin to explore the map. As for the specific direction, I will give you the map later. In addition to exploring the cities and towns to earn points, you will also be responsible for hunting more high-grade wild beasts. The forest has a higher degree of mutation, and there are many high-grade life forms. You will try your best to select high-quality wild beasts to hunt. From now on, our forces will rely on you for high-grade raw materials for our leather “...”

“Oh...”hearing that, Eggface pouted. It seemed that his days of eating soy sauce and having his father’s barbecue at night were about to pass.

Alice looked at her and said faintly, “Doesn’t your family also have a barbecue shop in Gondorin? After work, you can still have your own barbecue there from time to time, right?”

“Hey, that makes sense!”Eggface’s eyes immediately lit up!

The surrounding people rolled their eyes. This silly doggie, when you bring the soldiers to eat your own barbeque, wouldn’t it be a loss because of your father’s money?

“But sir, there aren’t many players who buy our weapons nowadays, and so are the medicines. Although our alchemy potions have little side effects, many players seem to be more willing to buy divinity potions or antibiotics that have a quick effect. Can We really earn money in our direction?”

“That’s for sure...”. Alice smiled and said, “Divinity potions and antibiotics have a lot of side effects on the body. If we use them too much, it will be disadvantageous to the soldiers’ evolution. The cost of biochemical surgery will also be high. After a long time, many people will know that our replenishment potions are the king. As for weapons...”. “The exploration of the map has just begun. Many people still don’t understand the effects of the durability and quality of high-quality weapons. After a long time, they will slowly understand it.”

“But... how long will it take?”Eggface frowned and said, “The rent of the shops is very expensive. Can we afford to wait for the players to react?”

“Yes, that’s a problem. So today, I went to look for Grandpa Lu and asked him to advertise for us in the guide. As for the effect, it depends on the credibility of Grandpa Lu Now!”Alice laughed.

Eggface’s eyelids twitched and he thought to himself, “That guy actually started to waste money?”?
