

A Bunch 601

Chapter 601 "You're not the only one."

"This is the golden soil?" Ye Xuanguan and his team walked out of the teleportation array and looked around curiously. After all, they were quite curious as to why the Orcs looked forward to it so much.

Although it was called the golden soil, at a glance, the fields were almost colorful. Forget about the common red soil and black soil, what was the situation with the white soil that was as white as crystal sand and jade-like soil?

Looking at the surprised expression of his lord., the developer behind him whispered, "The original white soil should be heltrin crystal sand, and the green one is the sea of jade. They are all very special soil that can cultivate magic plants with ice attributes..."

"Oh, the base has them? Then why didn't we buy them to cultivate?" The wind demon player who came from behind asked curiously.

"Of course, it's because we can't afford it!" The developer player rolled his eyes and said, "This kind of soil is sold in grams. Even if we buy it to study, we have to buy at least two tons of it. How can we have so many points? Moreover... "We're not a civilization that engages in agriculture."

"Oh..." the wind demon nodded. "So it's because we're poor..."

Ye Xu Lun: "..."

"They're doing a great job raising them..." the flower spirit player beside him looked at the precious soil and the advanced magic plants growing on it, his eyes wide.

"What's the use of these magic plants?" Ye Xu Lun asked curiously.

"They're very useful..." The flower spirit sighed. "Advanced magic plants are extremely valuable. First of all, plants are excellent magic materials. Plants that possess elemental power are even more useful than magic metals. They can be used to produce alchemy potions with different functions. The refined vegetable oil can be used as magic conducting materials, natural magic plant fruits, or nectar. They are also very effective for the body's evolution. They can also be used to nurture magic beasts." "...". "..."

"That powerful?" Ye Xu was stunned. This magical plant product had yet to become popular in the market. He didn't take it seriously at first, but now he immediately sensed the huge business opportunity.

He thought for a while and said, "I can still buy some soil if I grit my teeth. Why don't I go back and plan it? After all, we need high-grade energy conducting materials in the later stage of our civilization. It's too much of a constraint to rely on imports..."

The flower spirit glanced at her boss and then sighed slightly. "Even if we can afford it, we can't afford it."

"Is the cultivation cost very high?"

"It's very high..."the flower spirit said dryly.

"They're all players. If they can be raised, we can give it a try..."ye Xu said with a frown.

"It's not that simple, boss..." The flower spirit player sighed and said, "Let's not talk about other things. Just the basic conditions alone, the elemental intensity here is at least ten times higher than our base. There are level 1 and above elves everywhere. Boss, look over there ... He pointed at the emerald-colored soil and said, "Every acre of this high-grade soil is guarded by at least three to five level 2 elves. This degree of extravagance is equivalent to watering the ground with milk. Of course, we can afford to raise such good soil, but we don't have the conditions..." "..."

Ye Xu Lun was stunned. He then remembered that his flower spirit was only a level 2 flower spirit, and the elemental elves that were nurtured in the base were only a few level 2 ones. The conditions were too different.

After all, the chief of this little cabbage tribe was a level 5 flower spirit! !

The developers beside him also sighed slightly. Most of the flower spirits in the base were casual players. This was related to the flower spirit's leisurely personality. Although his Level 2 flower spirit was on the low side., however, most of the flower spirits in the base were level 2. Their ranking was already quite high. They were one of the few rare flower spirits that were about to evolve to level 3. Back then, ye Xu Lun had spent a lot of effort to rope them in.

It couldn't be said that they weren't capable, but that they had cheats. Everyone was still in the beginner village, but you had already graduated from a certain dungeon. How could you still play with a hammer?

Just as he was thinking, a sexy elf in black leather armor slowly walked over. He bowed slightly to ye Xu Lun from afar and said, "Are you the Lords who rule the world? Welcome..."

The woman's aura was very strong. At a glance, it was obvious that she wasn't a minor character. From the looks of it, she should be the leader of the cabbages in the intelligence report: Alice...

Ye Xuanguan frowned slightly. In this kind of big business, it was fine if the major shareholders did not take action, and it was reasonable to send a CEO. However, wasn't she taking them too lightly by herself?

Alice seemed to have noticed ye Xuanguan's dissatisfaction, she smiled and explained, "I'm very sorry. There are too many things going on in the base recently, and the shareholders are too busy outside. Emperor liver and Lord Wang Goudan are exploring the map outside, and the developers and players are also collecting data outside. Now, I'm the only one left in the base. Lord, you guys came too suddenly this time, and I can't summon them back from afar. Please forgive me for my slight..." "..."

Everyone was stunned, but then they nodded in understanding. It was a high-speed development stage now, and the various major forces really did not have enough manpower. Ten cooperative spots, not to mention a major force like the cabbages tribe... Even they themselves were usually flustered...

Seeing that everyone understood, Alice smiled and invited them, "Guests, please follow me. I have already instructed my subordinates to prepare a banquet..."

“It’s just the few of us. There’s no need to go through so much trouble. We just need to make some food...”ye xuguan waved his hand casually and said, “It’s more important to talk about business...”

Alice turned around and looked at him, then smiled and said, “There are a lot of guests today. It’s better to be more grand...”

“Not many, just the four of us...”ye xuguan paused at this point and suddenly came to his senses. Then, he looked at the other party in a daze and said, “There... There are other people?”

“Yes...”. Alice said as she walked, “I suddenly received some news that I want to cooperate with you these few days. I thought that for the sake of convenience, we might as well discuss it together. After all, everyone is busy now. It’s better to be more efficient and open to discuss. It’s also easier to bid ...”

“Bid...”the faces of the few players immediately twitched. ...

Was it already so hot?

Ye Xu Lun felt a little powerless. He originally thought that he had reacted quickly and was full of confidence before he came, but now, it seemed that it was not certain... ..

At the thought of this, he looked at the developer player beside him. That player also frowned. He looked at his own lord, sighed, and then nodded.

The developer players clearly did not expect the situation to develop so quickly. This little cabbage was really good. They had not heard of it before, and now they were completely unprepared!

If they had known that there were so many factions that wanted to cooperate with little cabbage, they would have definitely reached an agreement with those factions in private, trying their best not to let the little cabbage tribe benefit so much. But now...

Chapter 602 “What a huge appetite!”!

The scale of the banquet was not small. There was a huge white cloth spread on the lawn in the open air, and it was filled with exquisite food. Ye Xu Lun looked over and saw that he had not seen any of the varieties on it, however, the fragrance that assaulted his nostrils made him hungry.

As a Green Titan who was growing, high-energy food had a natural attraction to him. Although he did not know the varieties, he could instinctively feel that these were all good things, at least they were much better than the things grown in his own base!

As expected, in terms of agricultural level, this cabbages force was probably the best!

There were already four or five groups of people sitting around the white cloth. There were two groups of people that ye Xu could still recognize. One was called [on the dome], which was a pure arcane civilization force, and the other was called [Motley Crew], which was a source plan civilization, the main reason ye Xu recognized these two groups was because they were their main competitors in the weapons market.

Ye Xuanyun’s heart suddenly sank...

He did not know whether this little cabbages had the intention or not. If that was the case, it might really be a bidding war later...

Not long after, Ye Xuanyun's butt had not warmed up when he saw Alice leading another group of people in. The person who came in was a little strange. The leader was a player with pink scales, and there were two small horns on his head, he looked quite strange and cute.

Ye Xiusuan had heard of this style before. This was one of the rare special elf class players in the base: Sirens!

There was only one such class in the base today. It was a player called [ice cap] . It was said that she was the only player who chose to develop on the sea.

However, there was very little information about this player because no one had ever dealt with her before. She only heard that the soldiers under her were all human...

"Wow... this nectar... it's magic plant nectar, right?" Behind the ice cap player, a girl with seaweed-colored hair asked curiously as she looked at the pile of ice-blue nectar in front of her.

Ye Xu looked at the other party. Judging from the feeling of being surrounded by elemental elves, she should be a flower spirit. However, she did not have the fragrance of flowers and plants that most flower spirit players had. Instead, she had a fishy smell of the sea.

"Level-3 Flower Spirit!" The flower spirit player beside her whispered to her.

Ye Xu was shocked when he heard that. There were very few level-3 flower spirit players. He did not expect there to be one in this silent faction.

After settling the ice cap and the others down, Alice smiled and said, "Alright, everyone is here. Then, we..." she suddenly stopped speaking and looked in another direction in shock.

Alice was not the first person to be attracted. Almost all the players who came were attracted to her because they could feel that there was a strange phenomenon of elemental resonance not far away!

In a daze, they saw a fat girl in pajamas with fluffy hair walking over unsteadily under the protection of countless elemental elves.

Alice saw the person who came and quickly stood up to help her up. She frowned and said, "Why are you here?"

The person was the real Bai Cai.

Bai cai chuckled and said, "I heard from Gou Dan that there was a banquet here today. I happened to be hungry, so I came over to have a meal!"

Alice rolled her eyes when she heard that. "Just get someone to do whatever you want to eat over there. Why did you run so far? Don't you know that teleportation fees at your level are very expensive!"

"Small money..." Bai Cai waved his hand like a nouveau riche...

Alice's face instantly turned black. She had earned all the money, but this guy was spendthrift with a clear conscience!

She did not deliberately hide her voice, causing the others to almost hear it. They were instantly stunned. From the looks of it, she should be the leader of this faction...

“Eh? This is...” little cabbage’s eyes suddenly lit up, he picked up a plate of ice-blue honey and sniffed it in front of the swaying white cloth on the walkway, then, he said happily, “The honey from Little Ice Flower is out?” “I asked you yesterday and you said no. I was wondering why it took so long for it to come out. As expected, you hid it. HMPH, when Goudan and the others come back, I’ll sue them for mistreating me!”

Everyone:” ...”

Alice covered her forehead and thought to herself, with so many people here, can you be a little more promising?

After everyone sat down again, Alice ignored the ugly-looking Lord and went straight to the point. “I know why everyone is here. Let me introduce each other first...”

As she spoke, she opened the virtual screen and said, “The raw materials that our faction produces today, be it metal materials, food materials, wood, or the magic plants that we cultivate today, are of the highest quality in the current market. This is also the reason why everyone wants to cooperate with us. However, since it’s a cooperation, we can’t let our partners down. Our purpose is to let our partners confirm that they can take the lead in the market after ordering our materials. Only then can we benefit each other. In order to achieve this goal, we won’t sell the same products to different players.”

Ye Xu frowned and asked, “What are your products?”

Alice said, “There are many products. We have been trying our best to diversify our raw materials over the past few days. For example, for metals, the high-quality metals that we make have different kinds of products according to their strength, plasticity, hardness, toughness, fatigue strength, conductivity, and even the elements that are beneficial to conductivity. They can definitely meet the industrial needs of all the forces today!”

Saying that, Alice took out a piece of pitch-black metal and said, “For example, this piece of metal, we named it little cabbage No. 6 black gold!”

Everyone:” ...”

Was this tribe so casual in naming their industrial products?

Alice continued, “The toughness and fatigue strength of this metal is very high, and it has the function of mitigating the fusion of any elemental power. It is very suitable for the current hex gloves as the main material for the finger protection. However, this metal has already been sold to our first partner, [Xu Xian dare grass snake]. In other words, we will not sell this product to any other forces. During the period of cooperation, we will provide exclusive supplies to them!”

Everyone was stunned for a moment before they fell into deep thought.

This rule sounded pretty good, because if the raw materials were exclusive, it would prevent their finished products from being imitated by other forces to the greatest extent. Even if they were imitated... It would be difficult to achieve the same effect with different materials. This type of cooperation was very promising... .. But... ..

Since it was exclusive, the competition was even more necessary. For example, if a good material was very suitable for a certain product as the main material, it would definitely be bought at any cost for the uniqueness of the market in the future, however, if there was a conflict of product forces that wanted to buy this material, the competition between the two parties would probably become even more intense because of this exclusive supply!

After thinking it through, everyone's expressions suddenly became complicated.

This cabbage force has such a big appetite! !

Chapter 603 firm confidence

The ambition of a small cabbage is not ordinary. Some developers instantly calculated the other party's thoughts.

Once this mode was activated, it would indeed be a win-win mode for a period of time. With the top exclusive material supply, it would naturally make their products more competitive, and it would also be easier for their products to lead the market.., because the materials were supplied exclusively, the probability of being imitated would be greatly reduced.

However, the drawback was that their dependence would become stronger and stronger. Once they tasted the sweetness of leading the market, they would probably never be able to escape from the other party's supply of raw materials.

For example, Ye Xu's faction wanted to produce a hex mechanical bow. If they relied on the materials of the little cabbages and their own technology to dominate the market, they would indeed gain a lot of benefits in the early stages. However, once the other party's materials were upgraded.., you would have to spend money to buy the exclusive supply rights. Otherwise, the market would very likely be replaced by other people. Even if it was not replaced, for example, their faction's bow had already been deeply rooted in the hearts of the people. Just like a BMW Mercedes-benz, it had become a brand, however, once they were unable to buy the best materials and used the materials to make up the numbers, it would also cause the buyers who were already used to the quality of their bows to be greatly dissatisfied. Thus, it would give other competitors a chance to rise to the top!

In other words, as long as this cabbage faction's materials technology was in the lead, the merchants who cooperated with them would always be tied to the same boat!

"This model is a little unfair to us, isn't it?" One of the developers frowned and said, "You don't have to worry about not having any sellers for your materials, but once we cut off the supply of materials, it will be greatly affected!"

Alice smiled and said, "The foundation of cooperation is trust. If it's a win-win situation, why do we have to cut off your materials? Once the reputation of doing business is ruined, the market will become smaller and smaller, right?"

“That’s true...” The siren class player, ice cap, frowned and said, “But once your materials level up, we have to re-bid. It’s too passive. Moreover, what if a competitor maliciously competes to block our supply of materials?”

This kind of situation would also occur. For example, if someone was jealous of Xu Xian’s glove market, and then took advantage of the appearance of new materials to bid maliciously, raising the price so high that it would disgust the other party, what would they do?

“Everyone, rest assured...” “...” Alice smiled and said, “Since this system is out, we will naturally try our best to fill in the gaps. For example, the problem that you mentioned just now, first of all, when we come up with new products, we will prioritize the exclusive agreement with our current partners according to classification. We will not easily bid on them. Of course, the prerequisite is that you can maintain your competitiveness in the market. If the sales volume drops significantly due to poor management, we will consider re-bidding...” “...”

Everyone nodded at first, but when they came to their senses, they realized that the other party seemed to have complete control of the initiative in this mode of cooperation. No matter what, the other party would not be at a disadvantage, and their expressions instantly fell.

Alice continued to smile and said, “Everyone, this is the mode of cooperation that we have set. I believe that everyone also feels that this is more in line with your interests than selling it publicly, right? If you still have any concerns, you can go back and think about it again. We welcome everyone to come here at any time!”

Everyone rolled their eyes when they heard that and thought to themselves, having level five players means that you have a lot of confidence...

Seeing that everyone was silent, Alice clapped her hands and said, “It seems that everyone has no objections. Then, everyone can go to our miniature base to conduct a material auction after you finish your meal. The auction will be held in the hall. The virtual screen will list out the various raw materials and products that we have now. On it, there will be a detailed description of the attributes, effects, and suggestions of each material. Of course, there will also be the price of the first auction. After you finish your meal, you can slowly choose according to your own needs...” . .”

Pausing for a moment, he smiled and said, “Friendly Reminder, please select your materials according to your own circumstances, and do not maliciously encroach on all kinds of materials that are not of much use to your own forces. We have a supply agreement, and once you find someone maliciously bidding, you will be permanently blacklisted. Please be careful...” . .”

The crowd:”...”

After the meal, many players with a round belly slowly walked into the base, and soon saw the hall of the huge virtual screen!

The list of nearly a thousand different materials dazzled a crowd.

Ye Xu was not long-winded. He quickly went to the metal area and began to scan the attributes of various materials. Their current priority was to enter the magic-powered weapons market. Their priority was magic-powered firearms and crossbows!

After locking on to these materials, he would see if he could buy some high-end food ingredients so that he could make more advanced snack products.

Flipping through the materials in the metal zone, ye Xu Lun quickly scanned the materials. The firearms and crossbows of the magic-powered civilization required very precise metals. They had very high requirements for their weight, strength, and conductivity, not only did they need to have a high enough load energy strength, but they also needed to be as light as possible so that the finished products could be carried easily. The materials needed to be carefully considered.

The developer beside him was also helping him quickly analyze the materials. A few minutes later, the other party pointed at a few materials and said, "These are not bad..."

Ye Xu looked over and his eyelids twitched. The attributes of these materials were indeed not bad, but the price really made his little heart unable to bear it, especially the fiber composite materials used to make bowstrings. They were actually as high as 0.6 points per gram, f * ck, this place was actually selling them in grams like the main base? Why didn't they rob them?

Alice seemed to have noticed ye Xu's expression, she smiled and explained, "Sir, fiber materials are currently very rare materials, mainly because the machine tools used to make them were purchased from the main base, so the cost is higher. This price may seem high, but in fact, we don't make much money ourselves, so we can only be considered as keeping the capital..." "..."

"Haha..."

Ye Xu rolled his eyes. He wouldn't believe such words even if they were punctuation marks. The aunty selling hardware downstairs always said that she was keeping the capital, but when the new auction opened, she bought several houses...

While he was speechless, he suddenly saw a player beside him bidding for forty to fifty kinds of metal materials as if he was having a stroke. He was stunned and said to Alice, "Is she bidding with malice?"

Alice glanced at that person. It was the siren player from before. Then, she shook her head and said, "She wants to build a ship. She needs a lot of metal types, so it's not considered a maliciously bidding..."

"Build a ship?" Ye Xu was stunned and said, "What the heck? Are there players making such big items now? By the way, does anyone want to buy this thing if it's made?"

"Well..." Alice looked at the player thoughtfully and said with a smile, "They may not be used to sell it..."

"Eh?" Ye xuan was stunned and said with a smile, "Why not use it to sell it? Do you want to go drifting on the sea?"

Alice shook her head and smiled without replying. Although she could see what the other party wanted to do, she could not point it out. After all, if this guy succeeded, he would be a rare big customer in the future. His potential was much higher than this ye guy.

However, it had to be said that this player named ice cap was a little bold.

604 Chapter 633: If I were to choose...

“Wu... Don’t hide my nectar...” little cabbage muttered to himself as he turned his body. Suddenly, his body quivered and his eyes suddenly opened.

The Fox Orc who was responsible for taking care of little cabbage quickly said, “Lady Alice, the chief is awake...”

Alice, who was recording data on the virtual screen, nodded. “Mm, go and rest...”

“Woo... I want to eat nectar!” The cabbages quickly said.

Alice frowned. “You’ve eaten four bowls today. If you eat too much, you’ll have diarrhea...”

“It’s fine if you don’t eat it. You have to bring the brewed nectar to me for safekeeping. You’re not allowed to dig a hole to hide it...”

“Since when did I dig a pit to hide nectar?” Alice was speechless.

“I clearly saw you digging a pit to hide nectar with a hoe just now... Oh, that’s right, I was dreaming...”

Alice’s expression turned even darker when she heard that...

The Fox Girl could not help but cover her mouth and snicker. She did not know what kind of scene the chief had in his dream when Lady Alice dug a pit with a hoe...

“Heat up a cup of warm milk for her stomach... add some nectar into it...” Alice waved her hand and said.

“Yes, Sir...” the fox girl bowed and retreated out of the tent.

“Hehe...” little cabbage smiled in satisfaction. She climbed out of the blanket and sneakily came over.

“Little Alice, what are you doing?”

“Recording the product data...” Alice looked at the screen and said, “We sold quite a lot today. We need to relist some good materials to attract the next batch of buyers.”

“Why do we need to use such a troublesome method? Can’t we just sell the raw materials in the market?” Little Cabbage’s chubby face came over and asked.

Alice turned around and glanced at her. She saw the drool at the corner of her mouth and frowned slightly, she took out a silk scarf and gently wiped the corner of her mouth before continuing, “The quality of the raw materials in our base is too high. If we directly sell them in the market, the impact on the market will be too great. It will completely squeeze the living space of the other forces selling the materials. This will not only make most of the players wary and hostile toward us, but it may also cause them to be pressured by the policies!”

“Policy pressure? Where did the policy come from?” Little cabbage asked curiously.

“Of course, it’s the policy of the main base...” Alice said patiently, “The Lord opened up the system of private lords to increase the motivation for scientific research. He would never let a certain force monopolize an industry. If we go too far, we will definitely be restricted by the authorities. It’s better to take the initiative in our own hands and choose the players with potential to take the exclusive supply route. We can make the most profit and increase the market share.” “...”

“Oh...” little cabbage nodded as if he understood something. Then, he asked, “How many items have we sold today?”

Alice said, “A total of 374 materials have been bought out today. Among them, there are 194 types of metal products, 62 types of wood products, 58 types of high-end grain raw materials, 31 types of magic plants, composite fiber materials...” . “...”

Upon hearing that, little cabbage looked at the screen and was stunned for a moment before saying, “Wow, our materials are priced so expensive?”

Alice said, “We naturally don’t need to take the high-end route with low profits and high sales. We raise the prices of materials first to ensure profits, and secondly, it’s also for the market. When the prices of raw materials are high, the finished products produced by the cooperating players will naturally have to be sold at a high price, leaving room for the low-end market.”

“Then how much will we sell them for today?” Little cabbage asked excitedly.

“Today?” Alice shook her head and smiled. “Today, we’re only buying the varieties. The amount of goods exported isn’t high. After all, the few forces are still in the midst of experimenting, so we won’t need many goods. The sale of raw materials is the main profitable item in the post-production plan, but we won’t be able to make much money for the time being...” . “...”

“Oh... I see that the transaction records show that you ordered so many production machine tools from the main base, all of which cost hundreds of thousands of points per machine. In addition to the cultivation of high-grade soil, will our money be enough?”

“Ha... Now you know the problem of whether we have enough money or not?” Alice sneered. “One day, you went to Papa Dog-egg’s place for a barbecue and spent 500 points to teleport here just for a meal...”

Little cabbage: “Eh? The milk hasn’t been warmed up yet?”

Alice: “...”

After rolling her eyes helplessly at him, Alice knew that she couldn’t persuade him to be so thick-skinned, so she didn’t waste any time and continued to record her information.

The current consumption of the tribe was indeed very high. The cultivation of the high-grade soil and the research of magic plants were producing a huge amount of points every day, but Alice dared to set up such a big project because she had enough money!

Although the materials market had not yet started to make a huge profit, the main project in the current faction’s ability to attract money was already able to handle such a huge amount of expenses.

Firstly, there was the traditional cold weapons market in Gondolin. Due to the high quality of the materials and the powerful forging techniques, the market was selling very well. Although the price was very expensive, giving up a portion of the low-priced market..., it was still in line with the advanced positioning of their forces.

Next, there was the project of helping to train soldiers, which was also a large part of the current income of the Horde. As the development of the map became more and more difficult, many players had already noticed the importance of increasing the strength of individual soldiers, they were also beginning to be willing to spend money to train soldiers with potential.

The cabbages had the patent fee for the elemental breathing technique, they had the high-level elemental elves to quickly improve the repair breathing technique, and they also had the best quality crops to replenish the nutrition of the soldiers, after giving cabbage a 30% discount on the combined set meal, it immediately attracted many players to send their soldiers over for training.

The daily training fee was a shocking figure.

Of course, Alice would definitely not tell cabbage about this, in case this guy was so proud that he spent money without scruples!

“Hey, Little Alice, didn’t you say that the buyers are all in the experimental phase? Why did this guy order so many?” Cabbage looked at the side for a long time, and suddenly his eyes lit up as he pointed at one of the transactions.

It said that someone had bought a million tons of materials in one go.

Alice looked at the screen and said faintly, “That buyer is different. The thing she is experimenting on is a big one, so naturally, she needs more materials.”

“What is she experimenting on?”

“A ship!”

“A ship?”

“Well...” Alice looked at the materials bought by the other party and continued, “It looks like it might be a battleship. This guy is betting big...”

Little Cabbage’s eyes immediately lit up. “Wow, someone is already so advanced? They are even starting to build battleships. Little Alice, you are slacking off. We have been ahead for so long. Let alone a ship, we don’t even have a tank!”

The corners of Alice’s eyes twitched. “Who told you that our civilization has tanks?”

“Eh?” Little cabbage was stunned and said in a daze, “Our civilization doesn’t have tanks?”

“No!” Alice said with a cold face.

Little cabbage: “Then what do the soldiers behind us rely on to fight?”

Alice: “Use a knife to cut them!”

“So Low?” Little cabbage was immediately anxious!

Alice rolled her eyes. “You just found out?”

The wood elf civilization was a pure arcane civilization, and they leaned towards the balance of nature. The early stage was relatively primitive, only after [living wood technology utilization] was unlocked could they slowly start to use arcane crystals to create large-scale weapons, and living wood technology was a high-level project that could only be carried out by unlocking the civilization tree of the sixth stage. It was far away now...

“AH... how could this be?” Little cabbage said with a dazed look.

Alice looked at him with a funny look. “You chose the civilization route yourself, didn’t you think about it at first? Could it be that you chose it randomly when you threw the dice?”

“I. . .” Little cabbage choked and then said stubbornly, “Of course I thought about it carefully...”

Alice:”...”

Looking at this stubborn guy, Alice didn’t know what to say. To be honest, if she had participated in the civilization route choice back then., she would never let this silly guy choose the slow-developing civilization route of the wood elves!

If she were to choose...

Alice looked at the screen and narrowed her eyes. She must have chosen the same Naga civilization as this fellow!

Chapter 605 the only Naga faction (Part One)

The east coast of the Steel Arms Empire had always been a neglected point. As a coastal port, it had always been neglected and had been reduced to a fishing port until now...

As for why this was the case, it was mainly due to the geographical location. The terrain of the Steel Arms Empire was already terrible, and the first emperor had conquered a large amount of territory along the way, however, he discovered that there were only two cities that were suitable for connecting to the ports of the western islands. Meanwhile, the eastern coast was already far away from the empire’s borders. It was truly too far away from the Empire’s center. It was fine if it was far away, but the crux of the problem was the rugged terrain and mountainous roads, there was also a huge desert in the middle. The cost of connecting to the Empire’s main road was at least ten times higher than the cost of connecting to the western coast!

This was not the most important thing. The most important thing was that the east coast had a huge eye of the wind that was originally at the West Coast’s shipping route, causing it to be unable to connect to the West Coast’s port route. The area of the eye of the wind was huge, and the weather it affected was extremely bad, this made it almost impossible for the western islands to reach through the shipping route that the original Emperor had opened up.

This also led to the fact that if one wanted to log in from the East Coast’s port, they would have to find another shipping route. This was both unnecessary and risky, so naturally, no one would do it.

Before the change in the steel martial empire, this was a truly godforsaken place. It was said that the second generation Emperor could not stand the arrogant and despotic face of a general at that time, but he could not find any excuse to kill him, then, when the other party wanted a fiefdom, they sealed this place as a city and gave it to him!

It was equivalent to a change of direction of exile. After that, it became a method used by the past emperors of the steel martial empire to disgust certain generals!

And now, if someone were to come here, they would discover that the current east coast port was extremely different from before!

First was the basic appearance. In the past, although this place was classified as a city by the empire, the population here was actually not even comparable to a small town. The basic infrastructure was the connection of ten fishing villages. A small trading town was built in the center, barely known as a city to the outside world...

However, at some point in time, a decent looking city wall had appeared out of nowhere. The interior of the city wall looked extremely well-organized, with beautiful stone floors and exquisite city buildings, there were well-planned greenery and parks everywhere, as well as a magnificent church in the center of the city. It looked like a first-rate city in ancient times.

Although the scale was a little small, and the area was only the size of two towns, in terms of sophistication, even the most beautiful southern pearl of the Steel Arms Empire, Cisco City, could not compare to it!

It was very obvious that this was definitely not a modification of the original lord of this place. In the east coast, where resources were scarce, it was impossible to find so many beautiful stones in the desert hundreds of kilometers to the south, moreover, the carving techniques here were clearly at the level of a master. Without external interference, it was impossible for a craftsman of this level to come here.

Other than the city, there were also the surrounding villages. If one looked carefully, they would find that the infrastructure of the surrounding villages had also been greatly improved. Firstly, the sandy land had become fertile soil, and a large number of green plants were planted around it, the villages were no longer fishing villages like before, and each of them had their own businesses.

There were farms that grew agricultural products, fish ponds, and even livestock farms. This was especially true for the fish pond industry, which was filled with high-quality aquatic creatures. The size and quality of the fish and prawns were especially large, one would often see giant shells that were five to six meters large, and the shellfish meat inside was about the size of a cow!

Obviously, the ones who could do this were not the locals, only the players!

And the player Lord here was the only player in the base who chose the Naga Civilization: Ice Cap!

While many people were looking at the cabbages and Pu Yunchuan's forces, they did not know that a big shot was slowly rising up in this godforsaken place.

If one were to carefully observe the development history of this place, they would discover that this player named ice cap had not started early. As she was a special class, her transformation was relatively slow, so her footsteps were actually lagging behind a large number of players.

However, looking at the current situation, her force had a population of nearly 10,000. Almost all of the 2,000 combatants had practiced the elemental breathing technique, and nearly 1,000 of them had undergone biological surgery to evolve into a level 2 lifeform.

With the second level three flower spirit after cabbages, the quality of the aquatic products raised in the village was extremely high. Once they were produced, they would definitely be able to occupy the currently empty seafood market in an instant.

There was also the port. Originally, although this place was called the East Sea port, in reality, the dock was only a place to dock fishing boats. But now, there was a large shipbuilding base at the dock, from the huge and precise mechanical arm, it was obvious that it was a piece of equipment bought at a high price from the main base!

In addition to that exquisite city, with its scale, if its strength was revealed, it would definitely be ranked in the top five of the current main base. Moreover, the top five might not necessarily be the fifth!

At this moment, the teleportation rune at the center of the church suddenly lit up. Then, a light flashed, and Icecrown and her developer appeared in the church, however, as soon as they landed, a huge figure ran over and pulled Icecrown into his embrace!

“Little Bing Bing, how was your trip?”

The figure that pulled Icecrown was at least four meters tall. His muscles were firm and filled with a sense of power. However, such a strong body emitted a delicate female voice. The developer player that came along with him shivered with a strange look on his face, they thought to themselves, “This woman chose the Green Titan. Her taste is really not ordinary!!”

Obviously, there was only one female Titan player in the entire base, and that was the little fairy who had athlete’s foot!

“Sister, let go of me. I’m not a ball anymore! !”The siren female player immediately said angrily.

When this sister of his was still an elf ball in the past, she had used the excuse of being cute to rub it in her hands every day. Now that she had transformed, she was still like this. So what if she was tall and Big?

“Sigh...”the little fairy reluctantly put down the other party. “Every time I see you looking so cute, I think of your childhood. Back then, your personality was also so cute. No matter how I pinched you, I was always obedient...”

“Shut up! !”Ice Cap immediately covered her face, this heartless elder sister of hers had pinched her like a doll every day when she was young. That miserable childhood was still full of shadows. It was not easy for her to grow up and have the ability to resist! However, she did not expect that she would choose such a perverted race in the game just to continue bullying her!

“Sigh, she’s becoming more and more fierce as she grows up. That’s why girls are still cute when they’re young...”

Ice Cap glared at her. Just as he was about to say something, a developer player who could not bear to watch any longer sighed and said, “Little Fairy, how’s the discussion about the collaboration going?”

When the topic of business was brought up, the little fairy’s expression became a little more serious. She coughed lightly and said, “It’s easy for this fairy to take action. Goudan’s father has already agreed to cooperate with us to start the seafood barbecue!”

Chapter 606 The One and only Naga faction (Part Two)

Upon hearing this news, Iceman, who was initially unhappy, suddenly became silent. He secretly heaved a sigh of relief. Although his elder sister always liked to bully him, she was still quite reliable in handling matters.

Without her, he would not have been able to develop so quickly...

It was very obvious that to be able to build so many infrastructure facilities in the sand land of the east coast, without the massive number of engineers under his elder sister's command, he definitely would not have been able to complete it.

Moreover, the great mage under her, Megan, and the group of apprentices also improved their scientific research progress by quite a bit. Otherwise, they would not have been able to reach the stage of shipbuilding so quickly...

Now that her sister had helped solve the problem of exporting seafood, it could be said to be a great help.

When she first chose civilization, she did not want to follow the masses to explore the grasslands. However, the North had mutated, and the west was also sealed off. The only place she could go was the east. At that time, she had also come to the east with the intention of trying, in the end, she had discovered that it was actually a yellow sand region!

Although she had obtained some points from exploring the map, the direction was clearly off. Fortunately, she did not end up in a boundless desert, but a coast.., this gave her a choice to sink or swim instead of running back dejectedly.

In the end, her choice to sink or swim had been very successful by accident. As a special class, sirens were extremely useful on the sea. First of all, her communication with the water elemental elves was even greater than the flower spirits, moreover, sirens could communicate with sea creatures, predict the weather, use the elemental elves to evolve water creatures, and so on. It was said that sirens could control the weather even when their levels were high!

This resulted in the base having two flower spirits after she successfully recruited a flower spirit player. Naturally, the development was very fast.

In addition, the developers who joined later on had designed a development blueprint, and the base had XI ye evaluate their potential as S class. Just like Pu Yunchuan, they allowed a loan of five million points!

This had also allowed the ice crown's forces to rise rapidly!

But now, the problem was... They were running out of money! !

Although their forces were developing extremely quickly, they had yet to open up a market. In the original blueprint, they would build two high-level battleships and head to the western islands in two directions.

One way was to try to cross the huge eye of the wind. If they succeeded, they would be able to head towards the correct route and arrive at the Western Islands. The other way was to try to set off from the East Ocean and open up a new route to arrive at the western islands!

Once they succeeded in arriving, the base would usher in a period of profiteering!

The first was population collection. Most of the forces nowadays lacked population. Compared to the monotonous herdsmen and warriors of the orcs, the complexity of the human occupation was more suitable for basic production, whether it was artisans, tailors, farmers, or merchants, they were all more professional than the orcs. Moreover, there were a large number of mages in the Western Islands!

Currently, the lack of scientific research assistants was a huge problem for the various major forces. Mages were the best population for scientific research assistants. If they could obtain a large number of them, they would be able to usher in a period of profiteering for the forces in a short period of time!

There was also the resources of the Western Islands!

Compared to the grasslands, the islands there were more worth conquering. The island country was not big, and it had complete infrastructure. Its value was not even familiar with the cities in the north. If you successfully occupied an island, you would be the king there!

Even if one's own forces could not take it all for themselves, as the owner of this port city, they controlled a huge amount of resources. Under the situation where the western ports were not opened by players, this was the only exit to the sea, if the players wanted to become pirates, they would have to pass by him. Then, he could also imitate gondolin in collecting taxes from the sea trade!

Moreover, when they entered the era of large-scale navigation, Seer could build ships and sell them to other players. Just thinking about it was a great road!

It was no wonder seer approved of the 5 million points loan as soon as she heard their blueprint!

However, the flaw of this route was the early funding support!

In order to build cities and ships, the loan amount in their base was almost all used up. If they did not have a source of income, the funding chain would really be broken!

In order to build a ship, she had almost given up most of the light industry that was currently popular in the market. Due to geological problems, it was difficult for agriculture to compete with other agricultural civilizations. Now, the only thing that she could bring out was this seafood!

However, the transportation cost of seafood was expensive. If they rashly rented shops and their business was not good, their poor economy would probably collapse instantly. In order to reduce the risk, she set her eyes on Wang Goudan's family's barbecue business.

Wang Goudan's barbecue was now very famous in the entire base. The unique barbecue technology that Dogdad had learned from God knows where had made their food stalls the best in the market. No one could compete with them, currently, the few stores in the base were crowded with customers, and Goudan's family was even more lenient when it came to receiving money.

If they were to use their food to promote their own seafood, it was obviously a safer approach!

Once the promotion was successful and everyone fell in love with the seafood, there would be other food buyers coming to buy it. Moreover, those who wanted to do the snack industry would definitely target their own seafood ingredients.

At the very least, it would allow the base to recover their capital first!

“Oh right, didn’t you say that you would help me find a powerful combat class player to be my captain? where is he?” Icicle looked at the empty space behind her sister and asked with a frown.

Her plan was to build two ships and set off in two different routes. As for why she did this, there was a reason. The first route through the eye of the wind was risky. Firstly, it might lead to the destruction of the ship and the death of people, and even if she succeeded in passing through the eye of the wind, this route would not become a regular trade route in the future because it was impossible for every freighter to become an armored battleship like the one she had now!

The reason why they took the risk to take this route was that the second exploration route might take too long, so they needed a ship to head to the western islands first and do a wave of human trade to earn back the funds!

And the second route would be the main route in the future!

But the problem was that his base lacked a high combat power player who could deal with complicated situations!

Like all the Lords, in order to speed up the progress of her research, apart from Hua Ling and her elder sister, she had recruited almost all the developers in her faction.

However, it was only now that she realized that her faction lacked a pure-combat-power player.

After all, a quest like setting up a shipping route required a long period of time. She might encounter all sorts of things along the way. If she did not have a strong player to lead the way, how would she dare to take out her expensive battleship and risk it?

However, although combat players weren’t as popular as developers, high-combat players weren’t easy to deal with...

The reason was simple. Almost all of the top-ranking players in the main base had chosen to be their own bosses. Otherwise, they would be like their elder sister, unable to leave the main base due to business. Those players who had high combat power but didn’t establish their own forces were even more precious than pandas...

Those who could not find people even if they were rich!

Of course, there were a lot of combat players below level 3 in the base, but what was the use of recruiting them?

Ice Cap looked at his sister nervously. His sister entered the game earlier than him and had a wide network. If he could not even find her, it would be difficult for him to be the Captain!

“Oh...” the little fairy picked her nose carelessly. “On the way, she said that she was helping her mother look after the shop this morning, and she will come in the afternoon...”

“Help my mother look after the shop?” Ice Cap covered his head. He felt that it was so LOW, so he carefully said, “Is it level 3?”

“What’s your problem? Do you think I will find some level 2 players to fill in the numbers?” The little fairy rolled her eyes and said, “How about the top ten players?”

“Damn, really?” Ice Cap’s eyes immediately lit up. “Which one? What’s the ranking?”

Little fairy: “I think it’s seventh...”

“Seventh?” Ice Cap quickly opened the virtual screen to see which one it was...

The developers at the side immediately said, “If it’s seventh on the overall leaderboard, it should be the number one wind demon player: Li Goudan! !”

607 Chapter 636: Opportunity!

In the main base, Seer was as usual. After taking care of a bunch of things, she began to browse through the contents of her friends’ group.

It was just that she had not looked at the group for a few hours, and there were already more than ten thousand messages in the group. Seer could not help but sigh at the fact that the people in the group were really free. After all, there were only about thirty or so sky gods in the entire group... ..

Back then, his father had spent a lot of effort to send him to the deity academy. Other than wanting the Eldia family to produce a god, another idea was to let his own child know some high-level deity connections in the group chat.

Even if he did not do well in the future, if he could get to know some people, he might be able to help the family at a critical time.

But reality proved that even if diaosi went to Tsinghua and Peking University, they would only know Diaosi in most cases. He had been in the Heavenly God Academy for tens of thousands of years, and none of the 30-odd so-called connections in the group could be relied on.

Including the one who wrote a diary every day...

Moreover, this guy’s degree of arrogance was far beyond his imagination. Would you dare to believe that half of these 10,000-odd messages came from him. As long as there was someone to reply in the group, he would be able to pull someone to chat for half a day...

However, Seer could also understand that if he succeeded and could not act pretentious, then it would be meaningless... ..

However, Seer looked down on the other party’s methods. It was just that they had found a planet, yet they were already jumping up and down while they were still in the stage of cultivating tadpoles. She wished that everyone in the world would know that it was too unstylish., like a nouveau riche, Xi ye scoffed at this.

So...

How could he be elegant and full of style, inadvertently revealing his small success?

This was a major matter that needed to be slowly planned...

Xi Ye, who had no thoughts, continued to read the diary that his old classmate had written.

Just as he had expected, his old classmate had detected a warm layer at the bottom of the deep ice. There were a large number of sea life forms inside, but they were all gathered at the core of the Earth, this was mainly because the weather on that planet was too cold.

After grasping the situation, the other party used the upper-class marine life cells to transplant the genes in his gene pool. The gene he chose was a marine life gene called NARS. This creature was familiar with high-intensity cold resistance, moreover, it had a tenacious vitality and took shape quickly. It was the first batch of people he was preparing to nurture.

However, since he did not have any intelligent life forms, even if he used his genes, he would still need to slowly nurture and evolve them...

In the diary, Seer was very satisfied with his progress. He estimated that he would only need ten thousand years to evolve his first batch of people... ..

Seer sighed slightly when he saw this. Ten thousand years?

It would be great if he could also have such a leisurely time... ..

Thinking of this, he could not help but cover his head. There was an unknown undead Lord in the New World, and there was a void crack in sphere D that would break through the seal at some point., was this high pressure not suitable for a novice like him to begin with?

Just as he was thinking, AI suddenly reported, "Lord, the player ice crown's underlings have already built a ship model. Now that the materials have been gathered, work has begun today..." "It is estimated that with the help of the shipyard that we have provided, the construction can be completed in five days!"!

Xi Ye nodded upon hearing this. As expected, this kind of open-ended method could greatly stimulate the enthusiasm of the players for scientific research. The progress of some individual players was even faster than the progress of their own main base, the players being so capable made Xi ye feel a great sense of comfort in his heart.

But... .. Facing those two unknown hidden dangers, this speed still feels not enough ah... ..

Thinking of this night slightly sighed, and opened the general power chart.

Currently, there were a total of 1,400 players who had successfully applied for the civilization qualification, but most of them were still in the embryonic stage. Among these 1,400-plus forces, only 130-plus players had successfully unlocked the second stage technology. Only 11 had successfully unlocked the third stage of technology...

Currently, the first-ranked force was the Hellscream Force, which was also Pu Yunchuan's force.

Of course, this ranking was based on the current points of the force. The first-ranked force did not completely represent that its overall strength surpassed everyone else.

For example, the little cabbage force was currently only ranked fourth. However, in reality, regardless of the degree of technological unlock, population advantage, and military strength, the little cabbage force should be ranked first.

Another example was the ice crown's faction. They had 2,000 regular soldiers, including over 1,000 level-2 lifeforms. Their military strength was at least in the top five, and their technological unlock level had already begun to explore to the fourth stage, moreover, their research and development were comprehensive, and their comprehensive scientific research potential was at least in the top three. However, due to a large amount of debt, they had not yet started to make a profit, resulting in the ice crown's faction ranking to be at least in the top 1,000!

This ranking was very unscientific, and seer felt that the ranking should be more detailed at the back. However, this way, the small cabbages that wanted to keep a low profile and hide would definitely be exposed.

However, Seer was concerned about the overall situation, so of course, it would not specifically give a discount to one of their factions.

The exploration of the Black Goat map was still in its early stages. The furthest distance they could travel was not even greater than the seven cities in the northwest. Moreover, until now, not a single player had been able to explore the area close to the cities.

This was also something seer had deliberately prevented. Under the Black Goat map, beasts and plants evolved faster. In fact, intelligent creatures evolved even faster. The most important reason was that if the undead Lord wanted to experiment with biochemical weapons., it would definitely use intelligent creatures as templates, because in the special effect of this alchemy array, ordinary beasts and plants were actually providing energy to intelligent creatures.

In other words, when players approached those cities, they would not have to face biochemical beasts, but might encounter real biological weapons!

And if these biological weapons had undead weapons on them, there would be real casualties!

Although some players now knew the truth, their mentality was still in the game, because they could resurrect after death!

However, once the real danger came, whether they could still maintain their mentality was a crucial question!

With that thought, seer asked the AI, "Are our protective membrane ready?"

The AI replied, "It's ready. Since the Lord has distributed the civilization system to the players, the main base has enough resources to focus on the plastic energy civilization. Currently, they have used the energy stones on Mars to create a magnetic field that can pass through the membrane. Once it's activated, it can basically ignore the long-range nuclear bomb attack on Sphere D!"

"What about the deterrence device?"

AI: "It's done as well. The plastic force field device can instantly absorb the explosive energy of thousands of nuclear bombs!"

“Good!” Xi Ye nodded and let out a sigh of relief. “This thing is finally done.”

In other words, from now on, any country on Planet D would no longer pose a threat to him, and he would have the ability to deter the other party, even if it was just an illusion... ..

However, as long as he did it well, he would be able to intimidate all the countries and make them cooperate obediently. Then, he would start to absorb the entire population of Planet D!

Thinking of this, Xi ye said to Ai, “Did that Yang Rui successfully escape to a foreign country?”

Ai: “According to your instructions, I secretly used interference to interfere with Huazhong’s Super AI, allowing him to successfully escape to a foreign country!”

“Alright...” seer quickly said, “Pay close attention to his movements, he will be the opportunity for us to bring the game to the world!”

Chapter 608 Li Goudan’s tailor shop (Part 1)

Gondorin...

As the only location in the mutated map, Gondorin was developing extremely well. There were thousands of players moving around every day. With the addition of the soldiers that the players brought along, the floating population exceeded 100,000!

This made the small Gondorin look extremely crowded. It even caused many ordinary citizens to be able to earn some points by staying in their houses.

This also made the local people in Gondorin get richer, and this also led to the lifestyle market in Gondorin.

This included the tailor shop of Li Goudan’s family...

As the only tailor shop in Gondorin, business was booming. Although Li Goudan had hired a lot of helpers, the shop still seemed to be short of manpower... ..

The small tailor shop had become extremely troublesome due to the fitting of clothes, the judging of fabrics, the requirement of designing unique styles, and the same things.

Outside the door, Icicle, who couldn’t wait, dragged his sister directly to Gondolin, wanting to quickly negotiate with Li Goudan, the popular tailor shop.

However, when he saw the hot business of the tailor shop at the door, he was stunned and asked curiously, “Sister, how can this tailor shop be so popular?”

“Of course it’s the only one!” The little fairy rolled her eyes and led her into the shop.

As soon as he entered the shop, icecube saw all kinds of women in the hall looking at their own bodies in front of the huge 5-d crystal mirror.

Most of the women in the shop were local people. Their looks were originally mediocre, but under the contrast of the exquisite clothes, they looked like noble princesses, incomparably exquisite!

And those female elf players were even more amazing after wearing these clothes. They were like fairies, causing icicle to stare blankly...

Looking at those exquisite clothes, Iccicle subconsciously looked at his casual coarse clothes, and pursed his lips slightly...

"Do you want to buy a set?" The little fairy seemed to have noticed the unnoticeable envy in her younger sister's eyes, and asked with a smile.

"Um..." after hesitating for a while, Bing Guan still couldn't resist the temptation and asked curiously, "How much is a set?"

"It depends on what fabric you choose..." The little fairy smiled and said, "The price of ordinary materials and high-grade materials is different, and the price of finished products and customized products are also different. Moreover, if it's a customized product, it depends on which master you choose. If you want to let Goudan's mother personally sell it, the price will be even more different." "..."

"Uh... is Goudan's mother's craftsmanship very good?" Icecrown asked in a daze.

"Her craftsmanship is absolutely outstanding. It is said that Goudan's mother was born in the modern world learning fashion design. She even won an award in Milan. After coming to the game, she specialized in tailoring. Her current standard is probably not even comparable to the standards of the ELF tailors hired by the main base..." "..."

"That good?" Ice Cap's eyes lit up when he heard that. "Then how much does she need to make a set?"

"The design fee is around 100 points. With the materials and labor costs, if you want a good set, you need at least a thousand points..."

"A thousand points?" Ice Cap was stunned when he heard that. "Is it Gondolin's points or the main base's points?"

"Nonsense, of course it's the main base's points. Why would players use Gondolin's points to settle accounts?"

"So expensive?" Icecrown almost jumped up. "1,000 points for a piece of clothing? Isn't this money too easy to earn? Is anyone buying it?"

"Ha..." the little fairy sneered. "How long has it been since you've been back to the main base? Don't you know that this Dogsh * t's mother has been waiting for an appointment until next year?"

"Ugh..." the corner of Icecrown's eyes twitched, "Why? Why would someone buy such an expensive item?"

"Of course someone would buy it!" The little fairy rolled her eyes, "Is it expensive to buy a set of independently designed level-3 enchanted clothes with 1,000 points?"

"Level-3 enchanted..." Icecrown swallowed his saliva and said, "Is there such a player?"

She knew that most of the factions' enchantment skills were only at level-1. After all, enchantment skills required a large number of expensive materials to be experimented on. It was a very expensive lifestyle skill.

Even the strongest factions like the cabbage faction seemed to only have level 2 weapons. The only one in the base who was above Level 2 enchantment was the enchantment magister hired by the main base...

Ice Cap: "Goudan's mother?"

Little fairy: "Yes!"

"How is that possible?" Ice cap quickly said, "Didn't you say that her mother came to the game less than half a year ago?"

"Well, the situation is special..." "..."the little fairy waved her hand and said, "After Aunty came to the game, she chose the ELF class and turned into a flower spirit. Li Goudan has some money, so he bought high-grade soil from the base and planted high-grade cotton for his mother. He also farmed various elemental silkworms. He also borrowed some ready-made earth elves from little cabbage. The high-grade cotton and materials made from various elemental silkworms were all used for aunty's enchantment practice. Of course, she leveled up quickly!"

This... .. Wasn't this the template for the guild to nurture lifestyle classes?

"But no matter what, isn't this a little too fast?" Ice cap frowned and said, "This game has been running for almost two years, but we haven't seen a level 3 enchanter..."

"That's because no one is developing in this direction..."the little fairy glanced at her and said, "Those guys in the base all want to play the C position. Who Can they blame if they don't have a high-level support?"

Ice Cap was stunned when he heard that. What the other party said seemed to make sense...

Enchantment was a life skill that cost a lot of money. In the early stages, everyone relied on moving bricks to earn money. Who would consider such an expensive support class?

Even now, even if those high-level forces had points to nurture flower spirits, their energy was limited. Most forces only had one flower spirit. Most of these flower spirits were developing towards magic plants or magic beast trainers...

There probably wasn't anyone who specialized in enchantments and tailoring...

"How about it? Do you want to order a set?"The little fairy patted her sister's shoulder. "With my relationship with Goudan, it's not a problem for Aunty to move your reservation forward!"

"This..."icicle hesitated for a moment. As a girl, beautiful clothes were the most attractive... ..

Moreover, it was a level-three enchantment, which was also helpful to his breathing exercise...

HMM... .. It seemed to be a little necessary, how about... ? ... just a small embezzlement of public funds? Since he had already owed so many foreign debts, how could he not owe?

Just as he was thinking, a girl wearing a blue one-piece dress walked out not far away. The girl looked small and cute, and with a blue one-piece dress, she looked like a little princess.

“Sorry, Sorry, I’m too busy here. I’m going to go to your place in a while...”the girl came closer and scratched her head embarrassedly.

“It’s okay...”the little fairy waved her hand casually and said, “We’re related, why are we talking about this?”Then she lowered her voice and said, “Goudan, is auntie inside?”

When Bing Guan heard this, his eyes narrowed. He sized up Li Goudan and thought to himself, is this the seventh-ranked Li Jiayi?

The number one wind demon? Why does she feel like the little girl next door. And... .. Why didn’t she use her elf body?

“Oh, mom is inside. Why are you looking for her?”

“Eh...”the little fairy rubbed her hands and said embarrassedly, “I... I just want to ask Auntie, how are my clothes coming along?”

Ice Cap was stunned when he heard that! !

My sister ordered clothes too?

She looked at her sister’s trembling pectorals in disbelief, then looked at the exquisite clothes around her, the combination of the two...

She didn’t dare to imagine...

Chapter 609 Li Goudan’s tailor shop (Part 2)

After entering the back hall, Icecrown saw a few extremely fair-skinned women designing something with rendering software. The division of labor was very clear, some were making graphics, some were adjusting colors, and some were learning the modeling of human bones.

From their appearance, these women did not seem like the indigenous women of the new territories. Their facial features were exquisite, and their pupils were a beautiful sea-blue color, but there was no white part of their eyes. They looked quite dreamy.

Seeing her sister’s curiosity, the little fairy explained in a low voice, “These were also the indigenous people of the New World. They were master tailors that Gou Dan recruited from the nobles of the city through rainy girl and melon-less. Then, he spent a lot of money to modify their genes. He chose sub-elf genes like [white spirit], which are very sensitive to elements, so that he could help them make clothes and enchant them later.”

“They have invested a lot of money...”Bing Guan nodded and then said, “But judging from this business, they should have made it back, right?”

He was wondering if he should try to do the same thing?

"It's still early..." Li Goudan, who was walking at the front, sighed.

"No?" Bing Guan was stunned and asked curiously, "I heard from my elder sister that the private bespoke order booked by Aunty has been queued up until next year..."

"The booking only pays the deposit!" Li Goudan curled his lips and said, "We can only receive all the money when the finished product is out, and before that, the materials and labor are all paid for by US first..."

"But... Even so, it should be worth it."

Hearing that, Li Goudan sighed and said, "That's because you don't know how big the investment is!"

"The high-grade soil in the base is sold in grams, and I don't have my own developer team. Back then, in order to help my mother grow high-grade cotton and high-grade mulberry leaves, almost all of them bought the soil and used it directly. Although it was only a few acres, it still cost more than 100,000 points, and then it was the cost of the shop..." "..."

Li Goudan complained, "Uncle Pu Yunchuan's shop here is very expensive. I spent a lot of money to get this good position. Moreover, no one had money for the first half of the year. Most of the people who came to try on clothes were poor people who only looked at things and did not buy anything. It was not until the last month that everyone earned some points from the exploration mission that they started to have some business. However, the rent for the first half of the year was not reduced at all..." "..."

Upon hearing this, the ice crown was stunned, thinking that the cost was indeed a little exaggerated. The other party had not even mentioned the money needed to train the tailors, but the life force fluctuations on the tailors just now were obviously at a level one level.

To upgrade an ordinary native tailor to a level one life form with spiritual power, the consumption of genes was probably not low.

Thinking of this, ice cap temporarily gave up on the idea of cultivating an enchanter. The flower spirit in the base was majoring in magical plants, cultivating high-level water plants and water elemental elves. As a siren, he was majoring in magical beast taming, these two lifestyle classes were quite expensive. With an enchanter, the base probably could not afford it.

Just as they were thinking about it, they walked to the innermost part of the back hall. In a small room of about ten square meters, a sky-blue-haired flower spirit was sitting there cooking something.

Upon closer inspection, the crystal pot was filled with ice-blue silkworm pupae. This was the first time ice cap had seen how silk was boiled in the game.

So it was similar to how silk was boiled in the modern world. From the looks of it, the silkworm pupae should be boiled, then peeled and dried... ..

However, when Doggie saw that his mother was cooking silk, he stretched out his hand to stop the two people behind him from advancing. He said in a low voice, "Shh, step back a Little..."

"Huh?" The little fairy was confused, and so was the ice crown. However, she was one of the elemental elves after all, so when she activated her spiritual power to take a closer look, she immediately noticed the difference.

The silkworm chrysalis in the water was of the ice element. In such a situation, if one wanted to boil the silk and not destroy the ice element in it, one would have to carefully control the heat. Immediately, she was stunned and said, "Auntie also learned how to shape energy?"

Li Goudan pulled some distance between the two of them and replied in a low voice, "The things that a tailor has to learn are mixed. He has to learn how to grow high-grade cotton and mulberry leaves, and how to train silkworms and spiders by learning how to Tame Beasts. He has to learn how to shape energy to mediate the elements in raw materials, and he also has to know how to use substances. Finally, he has to learn how to design the tailor himself..." "...as she said that, she covered her forehead and said, "I didn't realize that being a clothes maker was so troublesome..." "..."

Ice Cap:"..."

At this point, it seemed that a high-level tailor really needed a player to put in all his effort. Ice Cap started to calculate in her heart. The things that the other party had said were definitely related to a little, and they were not as well-learned as the developers. However, learning so many types of skills would definitely take a lot of time. Moreover, as a player's level increased, the content of these skills would also deepen. If he wanted to lead the market, he would have to do it himself...

In other words, if he wanted to nurture an advanced tailoring, he would have to waste a cooperative slot. Moreover, judging from the other party's description of the required skills, if he wanted to be qualified for this class, he would have to be a developer with an extremely high learning ability, or he would have to be a flower spirit with extremely high affinity to the elements. These two classes were currently the most difficult to recruit and nurture in the base, most importantly, he would have to convince the other party to give up being a pure mage and choose to be a qualified tailor.

Probably... .. Most players would not be willing to... .. and they would not be willing to part with it either. ...

The little fairy turned her attention to other directions and asked curiously, "You guys also rear spiders?"

Li Goudan said, "My mom said that spiders can spit out all kinds of silk, and they have excellent tensile strength and high elasticity. They can be made into light armor, and they can also be used as many medical materials. They are very valuable natural fibers, but the cost of breeding them is too high. The developers in the main base have already done genetic research on the spiders that you guys have started to raise, and they have cultivated and produced elemental spiders. One of them can be sold for tens of thousands of points, and they even eat high-grade beef for a living. The cost is too high. I plan to wait until I have money later..." "..."

"F * ck!"The little fairy slapped her thigh. "10,000 points? That Bunch of bastards from the main base bought all my spiders for 100 points each! What a shameless profiteer! !"

Ice Cap covered his head. He couldn't be bothered to look at his sister's silly face. It wasn't the first time that the lord of the main base liked to exploit them...

However, it seemed that it was indeed costly to open a high-class tailor shop. If it was not for the support of an expert like Li Goudan, his aunt might not have been able to open this tailor shop for a few years.

“Since mom is busy, let’s go somewhere else to talk. We can talk about sailing!” Li Goudan said with a smile.

Bing Guan’s eyes flashed with a hint of excitement. He quickly nodded and said, “Okay, okay, let’s go somewhere else to talk!”

Chapter 610 the situation of the new ship...

The few of them moved to another place and chose to sit down in a small inn in Gondolin to discuss some matters.

With Isabelle’s reform, the city residents had begun to slowly adapt to these outsiders. They also began to use the advantages of local resources to try to do some business.

For example, this small inn was a local resident who used his own house to convert the first floor into a place to eat, and the second and third floors were converted into guest rooms for business.

Although it was not as luxurious as the high-class ingredients and high-class hotels built by players, it was cheap and very suitable for players who wanted to save money or soldiers under players to enjoy.

The few of them sat down and randomly ordered a few snacks and tea before starting to chat.

Li Goudan took a bite and immediately frowned. After habitually eating the food made by Goudan’s father, eating the food made by ordinary natives was indeed a little difficult to swallow.

Then he sighed, “If it were Goudan’s father, even if the level of the ingredients were lower, the taste wouldn’t be like this. By the way, aren’t there any other players who consider becoming a chef?”

The little fairy immediately rolled her eyes at him, “Why don’t you try doing it yourself?”

“I’m someone who wants to become an adventurer!” Li Goudan said righteously.

The little fairy chuckled. “This is what most people think. It’s not easy to have a new choice in life. Who doesn’t want to do something high and mighty? How many cooks and cobblers are willing to do that?”

Ice Cap nodded in agreement. His sister finally said something that made sense.

Nowadays, most players chose combat classes. Even if someone chose a developer, they would want to become a high-level alchemist mage type. Not many people thought about lifestyle classes...

This could be seen from the fact that the business of the two Gou Dan families was doing so well.

Why was there only one chain restaurant and tailor shop in the entire base? It was so profitable, so why didn’t anyone else try to follow the trend?

The answer was very simple, because there was no one who was willing to specialize in lifestyle classes.

The main base released a lot of lifestyle classes. Other Than Enchantments, Beast Taming, and magic plants, which cost a lot of money, there were also a lot of lifestyle classes that had a low threshold and a high income.

For example, carpenters who could use all kinds of wood to make daily necessities, blacksmiths who could forge cold weapons, armor forgers who could make armor, goldsmiths who could process jewelry and precious metal parts, leather craftsmen who could make leather, architects who mainly designed things, and even the cooks that Wang Goudan's father chose!

These were all skills that were very close to life, and there was a huge gap in them now. As long as players were willing to take this path, they would be able to earn a lot of money, even if they were not as fast as the two Goudan families who started such a large industry, at least they would be wealthy families.

However, it was obvious that just like what her sister said, with a new choice in life, would she be willing to be an arcane mage or a chef?

"HMM..." after barely taking two bites, Li Goudan put down her knife and fork and asked excitedly, "How's the construction of your ship?"

Li Goudan had long been eager to go sailing. When she was young, she loved those movies and TV shows that were about humans looking for a new place to live. She was interested in exploring unknown places...

However, the progress of the west coast was not satisfactory. She had tried to go deeper. At first, the mutated creatures there were easy to deal with, but when they got closer to the coast., some of the aquatic creatures that had evolved to the point of being able to go ashore were a little scary.

Li Goudan was able to level up to level four in just half a year, and he was ranked seventh on the overall ranking. It was also because he had fought with those mutated sea creatures on the coast in the past half a year!

The price was not low. He had almost brought Goudan there several times...

Nowadays, most of the players who developed the West Coast map were level 2 players. According to the strength and number of those sea creatures, Goudan felt that it would take at least two years to build a shipyard on the west coast...

This made her depressed for a long time...

However, she didn't expect that the little fairy would come and tell her that someone had built a ship a few days ago. This made her so excited that she agreed to join the new force on the spot.

Looking at the female player named Ice Cap, Goudan smiled and said, "You guys really have a unique way of doing things. You actually thought of building a ship on the east coast. You have a bright future!"

"You flatter me..." ice cap smiled slightly, in his heart, he felt rather ashamed. This was not the first time that her project had been praised by others. From Alice to Isabelle, including seer from the main base, all of them had praised her unique boldness, who would have thought that she was just a beginner who did not read much of the map's information and relied on luck to get started?

"Has the ship been built yet? Let me see what it looks like!" Goudan said excitedly. As a woman who was about to become a captain, she was naturally very enthusiastic about her ship.

"The ships on the eastern route are almost finished!" Ice Cap immediately turned on the virtual screen.

On the virtual screen, a huge black ship with a beautiful metallic luster stood next to the port. Eggface was immediately captivated by it with just a glance, he said blankly, "This... There's no special effect, right? Why is the metallic paint even better than a sports car?"

"This is a high-end strong paint made from the raw materials of the cabbage faction. Not only is it beautiful in color, but it's also very practical. It has a strong resistance to elements and oxidation. It can also resist elemental attacks to a certain extent."

As he spoke, he tapped on the screen and began to explain his new battleship. The appearance of this battleship was mainly made from a battleship model. The captain was 3,357 meters long, the width was 41.85 meters, the draft depth was 12.45 meters, the displacement was 100,000 tons, the displacement was 120,000 tons, and it could accommodate more than 1,000 crew members...

Goudan was stunned. She had recently learned some knowledge about navigation and asked curiously, "Such a big ship can accommodate 1,000 people?"

Ice Cap: "Although the appearance is mainly battleship, the actual function is still a cargo ship. Most of the cabin is used to store items. I also made a big ice room for you to store supplies..."

"Oh..." Goudan nodded immediately. After all, this was a ship that was exploring the route. It definitely could not be used as a battleship to arrange the cabin. The supplies had to be prepared, because it was possible to drift on the sea for one or two years... ..

"Of course..." Icecrown quickly said, "Its combat attributes are definitely not bad. It can increase its speed in case of danger, and it can also lower down small warships. The ship is equipped with more than 130 elemental cannons, energy cannons of various attributes, and a defense system that automatically intercepts external details. Its combat strength is definitely not bad!"

"Oh, oh!" Hearing that, the excited expression on Goudan's face became more and more serious...

Ice Cap took a look and said excitedly in his heart, 'it's just as my sister said. This guy has a lot of interest in the captain class. It seems that he can be recruited.'

Therefore, he said carefully, "But I used a little more shares when I was recruiting other players. Now, I only have 20% of the shares left. I still need to reserve some for later to recruit more developers. You See..." "..."

"This..." Li Goudan frowned slightly. Although she was more open-minded, she knew that she must not be careless when it came to talking about value.

To be safe, she should ask the professionals. It just so happened that the Li family and the Dragon Group had some things to deal with themselves... "...".

Thinking of this, she said, "How about this? I have a general understanding of the situation. How about I give you an answer tomorrow?"

Upon hearing this, the smile on Bing Guan's face immediately froze. He hurriedly asked, "What conditions can you bring up, we can discuss them..."

Seeing this, Li Goudan interrupted him, "I know, but after all, such a big matter can't be so casual. Just one day, I'll give you an answer tomorrow..."

Bing Guan was stunned. The other party's tone was very gentle, and his face was also smiling. But for some reason, it made her want to continue to persuade him, but she held it back in her mouth.

It was as if there was an invisible pressure that made her instinctively stop speaking. However, in the next second, doubt rose in her heart...

Because she had only felt this feeling from the instructor in the main base...

Why did this girl have it? Even if her level was a little higher, there shouldn't be such a big difference, right? Moreover, she used the body of a real human.

Why don't I have this kind of momentum. Could it be... ... Is this the difference between a high-level player and a normal player?
