Chapter 661: The Dog Egg sets sail (part two)

To be honest, this orc looked quite special...

Its skin was a kind of earthy yellow, and it was very tall. Its muscles seemed to be somewhat atrophied, probably due to its old age. However, its skeleton was very strong, and it looked much stronger than those basketball players in the NBA.

The two people's looks were very different. One of them had a square face and a full beard. The other had very sharp facial features, and it looked a bit like a troll in a Warcraft game. Two huge fangs were exposed, and it looked like an orc... ..

When they saw Lei Xue looking at them in surprise, the two ship doctors were not used to it.

Most of the civilians in the east coast base were humans, but fortunately, the ones who boarded the ship were engineers from the main base. They often came into contact with orcs in the main base, so they were not surprised, however, the two orcs usually stayed in the cabbages base, so they did not have much contact with humans. Now that they were all humans, they were not used to it.

Seeing Lei Xue looking at them like that, they were even more unaccustomed.

Lei Xue seemed to have realized her rudeness and immediately bowed apologetically to admit her mistake. She said softly, "I'm sorry, this is the first time I've seen an orc..."

Seeing the other party being so polite, the two old orcs' expressions eased a little. Finally, the fanged troll replied, "It's nothing, little girl. We rarely see humans..."

"You... Know Huazhong Language?" Lei Xue was stunned.

She had subconsciously apologized in Huazhong language, but after she finished speaking, she felt that it was inappropriate. Just as she was about to switch to the common language here, she did not expect the other party to speak fluent Sichuan language.

Could it be that these two orcs were players?

"Eh, Xiaoxue, you're here so early?" Li Goudan's voice suddenly sounded from behind.

Lei Xue was already used to this elusive boss. However, the two orcs opposite her quickly bowed respectfully when they saw each other, "Lord Goudan Li! !"

After the two of them bowed, Lei Xue realized that the other party should not be a player. A normal player would definitely not shout "Lord Goudan Li" in such a serious manner.

She reckoned that the two of them did not know what Goudan meant... ..

"Hey, you're finally here!" Goudan Li rubbed his hands happily, then, he put his hand on Lei Xue's shoulder and introduced, "These two haven't been recorded yet. Let me introduce them to you. The square-faced man on the left is called Neeru. He used to be a shaman of the Earth clan. After that, he followed little cabbage to learn medical skills for two years. Now, he can basically use an intelligent operating table to perform a full diagnosis and most of the surgeries. Moreover, he also has a level three water elemental totem. It can help restore vitality, produce high-quality water sources, and perform elemental augmentation on weapons. He's a very powerful person. I spent a lot of effort to kidnap him from little cabbage!"

Lei Xue quickly bowed, "Nice to meet you, nice to meet you!"

Seeing this, Neil Lu smiled and returned the bow, his eyes showing a trace of pride. It was something to be proud of to be valued so highly by Lord Goudan.

"This is Perkins, he used to be the Witch Doctor of the Earth tribe. He is proficient in the herbalism of this world. He has also learned the prairie alchemy and medicinal pharmacology from the developer of the little cabbage base for two years. He is an outstanding pharmacist and physician. Many of the popular alchemy potions sold by little cabbage were provided by him. He is also a very talented person. It is not easy to poach him..." . "..."

"Of course it's not easy!"

Just as Li Goudan was feeling pleased with himself, a faint voice was heard. It was the chief developer of this place, Candy.

Candy looked at this heartless fellow with a speechless expression. He said that it wasn't easy and that it was all thanks to her. Although the other party had given her face and let her go, the money wasn't short either. Not only did they have to pay an expensive rent, but they also had to pay a hefty salary, they also had to pay a considerable salary to these two people. That fellow called Alice was simply a skin-ripping profiteer.

They had to quickly nurture their own doctors and pharmacists. When they went back to discuss, it would be best if the next developer had a medical background. It was said that this collaboration with Lady Rain, Lady Wugua, had recruited more than a dozen military doctors. They would see if they had a chance to get one...

As for Lei Xue, she looked at all of this and her mood became better... ..

Witch Doctor, Shaman, alchemist... .. This place was really getting more and more magical.

She had a rough understanding of the distribution of forces and races in the grasslands recently. She knew the basic occupations of these Orc tribes. At first glance, it felt like the background of the western magical world, which was very novel.

But the more she looked forward to the voyage ahead, the more interesting it would be to explore the unknown and Wonderful World... . .

Looking at the endless sea, for the first time, she suddenly had an idea that she should not have had.

What if... .. I'm not a soldier. I don't have the political muscle... . Wouldn't that be nice. . .

In the city, Icecrown is busy calculating the income of this seafood market with the finance. Since working with Wang Goudan's father, with the unique supply of seafood ingredients, their east China Sea forces finally have a good source of income.

And with demand and supply growing, he is considering doubling the number of farms.

"Right, how many molluscs are there? How much caviar can we produce this time? A lot of people have reserved it..." Ice crown turned around and asked the manager in charge of the farm.

The manager was stunned for a moment, then began to stammer.

"What's Wrong?" Ice Crown's heart skipped a beat, and he felt that something was wrong.

He had named the mollusc himself. Actually, there was a huge difference in appearance between the fish and the sturgeon on the D Ball. However, because the Roe was very good, he had named it, so the production was very low, he had spent a lot of effort to produce only about 100 of them. They were the high-end ingredients that were used to supply the few great lords.

"Lord Goudan said that he wanted to requisition some, so he forcefully brought some..."

Ice Cap's face immediately darkened. He asked in a low voice, "How many are some?"

"90..." that person lowered his head and said.

"Your words are really modest!" Ice Cap said faintly.

The man lowered his head even more when he heard that, but there was nothing he could do. Lord Li Goudan was famous for being unreasonable. What could he do as a subordinate?

"Where is she? has she left?" Ice Cap asked quickly.

"She has set sail..." a person beside him reminded.

"It seems that she can't get it back..." ice cap covered his head and finally said helplessly, "Inform those lords that the goods will be delayed for a period of time..."

"Boss, should we stop the ship and get someone to fetch it?" The developer who was responsible for the biology department frowned and asked.

Ice cap shook his head, "Forget it, she will be gone for one or two years this time. It's not a big deal to get some good things on the ship."

"Boss, don't you feel that you are too indulgent with her?"

"Is that so?" Ice Cap was stunned for a moment, and then he smiled bitterly, "So what if she is not indulgent? She is not a reasonable person to begin with."

"Why should we give in to her if she's unreasonable? We can be unreasonable too!" A Green Titan next to him frowned.

"Can you beat her?" Ice Cap asked faintly.

"Uh..." the Green Titan player immediately lowered his head humbly and revealed.

The elves in the base who could be ranked on the leaderboards were not easy to deal with. Li Goudan's title as the number one wind demon was not for nothing...

"Alright..."the developer could not help but laugh. "Next time when we come back, we'll talk to her properly..."

"You guys always say that..."the Green Titan muttered, but in the end, she did not say anything.

"You..."ice crown was about to say something with a smile when the developer beside him suddenly interrupted, "My lord, there's a guest visiting. is the teleportation portal allowed to pass?"

"Guest? Who Is It?"Icecrown was stunned. He thought to himself, "Is it caviar? It's not necessary for him to come here..."

"It's Isabelle from Gondolin!"

"Oh?"icecrown's expression changed, "Permission granted... I'll leave the meeting to you. I'll go pick up the person..."

Chapter 662: "I Hope Senior Eggface is awesome!"!

"Wow, this city is well-built..."Pu Yunchuan looked at the layout of the cloud city and said with envy.

"This little girl is quite generous..."Isabelle looked at the pure white color around her, the floor was made of white jade, which was more beautiful than the high-grade stone slabs in the gardens of the nobles in the imperial city. The house was decorated with crystal drops and limestone. She had also seen the price of this material. The official price was more than 100 points per ton, although it was only used for the outer layer of the building and the inside was made of ordinary stone, the city still needed at least a million points to be built.

However, she could also see the purpose of the other party spending so much money to build the city. Although the roads here were not good, the weather and the surrounding scenery were better than the west coast. There were a lot of green forests, the terrain was also suitable for making large-scale natural beaches. There were also a few small islands nearby that could be developed.

As long as it was well developed, it would definitely be an excellent tourist destination in the future. If it was built according to a tourist city, it was reasonable for the city to be more expensive and more beautiful.

As for the source of tourists, it was even easier. As long as the East Coast route was opened up, this place would be the first to connect to the western islands. It would definitely attract a large number of players to come here, and the native population of the western islands would also become one of the traffic flows here... ..

What a good plan. Why didn't I think of this place in the first place?

However, the risk was very high...

Isabelle looked at the surrounding facilities and narrowed her eyes slightly. Although the plan was good, all the benefits had to be built on the basis of opening up the route. Otherwise, everything would be empty talk. She had spent so much money betting on this wave... This little girl's boldness was still rare...

"Hey, do you think we should consider renovating the city?" Pu Yunchuan rubbed his hands and said excitedly.

Hearing this, Isabelle rolled her eyes at the other party. Gondolin was a big city. According to the scale of the other party's renovation, it would cost at least ten million points. Even if Gondolin was a cash-sucking vault, it could not afford to waste this kind of money..., they had the black goat matrix and a large number of points exploration missions outside the city. They could naturally attract players, so why would they waste money?

Moreover, they needed a large amount of money to invest in the fourth stage of biotechnology in their faction. They also had to reserve investment funds for some projects that could be earned. There were many places where they lacked money... ..

"Eh? Boss PU is here too? Welcome!" In the distance, Icicle ran over to welcome them with a smile.

Pu Yunchuan smiled and looked at her. He had helped her a lot when she was still a little elf ball. He did not expect her to be doing so well by herself now. If he had not found a good wife... Well, if she was a good wife in the future, she might have to work for others like the emperor of the liver or Li Goudan... ..

"Let's go to Goudan restaurant to talk. Try our authentic seafood!" Iceman said eagerly.

Pu Yunchuan's eyes lit up when he heard that. The business of the Gondolin seafood restaurant had been booming these days. He had only been in line once, so it was good to have a rare opportunity to eat free food...

The few of them came to the interior of the restaurant and looked at the decorations inside. They were amazed and thought to themselves, "This guy is really generous."

"I asked the people below to prepare caviar, but the quantity is limited. Most of them were brought to the ship by senior dog egg..." icecrown smiled embarrassedly after sitting down.

"Has it set sail already?" Isabelle asked with a calm expression.

"Yes..." icecrown nodded and said, "It set sail in the morning. It has been about three to four hours..."

"It must have cost a lot of money to set sail this time, right?" Isabelle asked with a smile as she took a sip of the dark blue mixed wine on the table.

"Yes, we spent a lot of money!" Iceman quickly said, "This time, we put all the technology we can use into that ship. Whether it's firepower, adaptability, or safety, they are all top-notch in the current technology. Even if the ship encounters a high-level tsunami, it still has a protective energy device. There shouldn't be many existences in this world that can threaten the dog egg..." "..."

"The Dogegg..." Pu Yunchuan's eyelids twitched as he said in a strange tone.

Ice Cap also smiled helplessly. She originally wanted to give it a nice name, such as the ice emperor or the sea emperor. However, Li Dogegg insisted, and she couldn't convince him.

However, once this name was given, it didn't seem to be convincing at all... ..

Isabelle nodded. She wasn't affected by the name like Pu Yunchuan was. She believed that the other party must have paid a huge price. After all, opening up a route was the key to activating their eastern seaboard city!

"We can agree to the fourth stage genetic technology cooperation that you want..." Isabelle went straight to the point.

Icecrown's expression brightened. After taking a breath, he said somewhat excitedly, "That's great. Senior, do you have any other conditions?"

Since the other party was so direct, she naturally wouldn't beat around the bush. She also said it honestly.

"Two conditions!" Isabelle also said directly, "First, we have to book a ship. We'll discuss the specific functions and model later, but we have to be quick. If the route is opened, I'll take the first one!"

Once the route was opened, the population business there would be a huge profit. This opportunity naturally couldn't be missed. Moreover, this icecrown was usually relatively low-key, and many people didn't know about this force, naturally, not many people reacted to this matter.

He had to seize the opportunity before that big ass in the main base woke up and wrote the strategy.

"This... I'm afraid it's a bit difficult..." the icecrown was a bit troubled. "Previously, Lord Alice from the little cabbage tribe had decided on the production of the first ship before you..."

Isabelle's heart sank when she heard this...

Why was she everywhere?

However, after thinking for a while, she could understand. The cabbage tribe sold source materials. Back then, they had interacted with icecrown earlier. With Alice's eyesight, it was naturally not a problem for her to see through the potential of the other party's forces, if it wasn't for the other party wanting to cooperate in the genetic surgery, she would probably have to wait until the other party's shipping route was opened before she could react.

Seeing the other party's unpleasant expression, ice cap said cautiously, "How about this, when the time comes, you guys pay a deposit, and we'll build two ships at the same time. At that time, your ships will at most be one month later than the cabbages. What do you think?"

One month...

Isabelle nodded, and then said, "Also, if your route can be opened this time, I want to reserve thirty mage apprentice slots. I want an a-grade one!"

The so-called A-class was the ranking of wizard apprentices in the base. The great wizards who had accumulated more than sixty years of knowledge were all a-class, which was the most scarce resource in the base!

“This...”ice cap hesitated for a moment. They were also short of great wizards. Moreover, according to her understanding, even in the western islands, which were rich in wizards, there would not be too many people in this area. After all, the great wizards had always been a scarce resource.

Last time, they had asked for some spots for cabbages, but that was because they had given a lot of discounts on metal prices. The fact that the ship could be built so quickly had a lot to do with the quality of the raw materials and the discounts.

Seeing that the other party was hesitating, Isabelle smiled and said, “On the surface, our Gondolin technology tree is still exploring the fourth level, but in the field of genetic surgery, we have already reached the level of the fifth level of magical beast gene combination. With just surgery alone, we can now produce level three druids. Naturally, that includes you sea druids!”

Ice Cap was stunned when she heard that. She had heard of the Great Name of the Druid bloodline of Gondolin. He could freely change his body shape, and the outstanding ones could absorb several types of genes and use them through the transformation method, it would greatly improve the soldiers’ combat strength. Not only in time, but also in the later stages of their potential. Moreover, she was cultivating sea monsters on her side, and the other party’s words had just scratched her heart!

After hesitating for about half an hour, the ice crown finally nodded and said, “Alright, but I hope that we can have a long-term cooperation in biological surgery...”

This surgery cooperation was actually a win-win situation. The Naga civilization was blessed with the technology to nurture sea monsters. If she provided the surgery technology, the other party would also have to provide high-level sea monster genes... ..

“In addition, about the advance payment...”Icicle looked at the other party carefully... ..

Actually, it wasn’t appropriate for her to mention this matter. After all, it was a bit too much to talk about the advance payment before the matter had even been settled. However, she couldn’t do anything about it. Money was tight. If it wasn’t for the successful seafood business, she might have already gone to beg for food!

“Sure!”

Isabelle wasn’t long-winded and agreed very boldly. Before she came, she had already inquired about it. The Lord of the main base was even willing to loan another five million points to the other party. However, Icicle felt that the interest was too high and didn’t take out a loan. Since the Lord was so optimistic about her, it was not a big deal for her to take some risks... ..

When the ice crown heard the other party agree, they were relieved. In addition, there were already three families that were willing to help her in advance, however, she also knew that all of this was because the other party was optimistic about the opening of the flight route.

Once the flight route was not opened in time, everything on her side would turn into a bubble.

The heart can only secretly pray: I Hope Li Goudan senior can give it! !

Chapter 663: survivors...

On the 11th day of the 6th month, the dog egg that Li Goudan had been looking forward to finally began its first voyage. On this day, everyone gathered on the deck and watched all of this with curiosity.

The humans on the ship were made up of the southern citizens of the Steel Martial Empire and the northern engineers. As for adventures in the sea, they could only hear about it in stories, including the local sailors here, in the past, they could only sail around ten kilometers in a fishing boat and did not dare to sail too far.

But now, they were driving such a great warship to the rumored prosperous western islands. Everyone was filled with anticipation. The two bards could not help but sing at the bow of the ship, even the food and drinks for the first day were used on the deck. Obviously, they did not want to miss out on the beautiful scenery of the sea on the first day!

Lei Xue looked over and could not help but sigh in her heart. It was really beautiful!

At the line between the sea and the sky, everything in the world was surrounded by a beautiful azure color. No wonder that pirate Lu Fei who stood at the bow of the ship gave people the feeling that he owned the world!

Lei Xue was also very pleased to enjoy all of this. In the army, she had boarded many ships. However, military ships were not tourist ships. They usually had missions when they sailed. They would not let them lie on the deck so comfortably.

And now that the D ball was so polluted, sometimes people did not have the desire to enjoy the seawater... ..

However, Lei Xue also knew that the novelty of all this was only temporary. This ship might have to drift on the sea for one or two years. Soon, everyone would slowly become numb to such a beautiful scenery and look forward to returning to the shore.

But at least now it was beautiful, wasn't it?

Lei Xue drank a mouthful of fruit wine in an extremely good mood. On a hot summer day, looking at the beautiful sea view from the deck of the ship, drinking a mouthful of sweet fruit wine, it was really a kind of enjoyment... ..

“Wow! !”

A wolf-like howl sounded, but the sound clearly came from the sky. Everyone looked up and saw Li Goudan playing with a group of seabirds in the air. Under the dazzling sunlight, everyone's eyes were fixed on him.

Lei Xue also looked at him in a daze, feeling a little envious. The ability to fly was indeed something that made people envious... ..

She couldn't help but think that developers could fly?

It was said that the developers who specialized in alchemy potions could use a potion that could make their bodies as light as feathers, but they could only experience the feeling of flying for a short period of time, and it was an irreversible fall... This was naturally incomparable to the other party who could soar through the nine heavens like a goshawk... ..

The Mechanical Alchemist seemed to be able to create a mechanical wing for himself. Oh right, it seemed like a mecha operator could fly freely. In fact, he seemed to be able to soar through the universe apart from the sky!

This was a profession that made people even more envious! !

However, that thing seemed to have the same requirements as a pilot. The requirements were very high. It was said that only three people in the entire base had met the requirements. He reckoned that the chances of him meeting the requirements were not very high... ..

As she was thinking about all sorts of things, time passed quickly. Before she knew it, night was slowly falling.

Most of the people below were tired from the joy. They finally began to slowly retreat to their own rooms, including Li Goudan. Apparently, he was tired from the commotion and also slipped back into the cabin. When she came back to her senses, she was almost the only one outside... ..

She had been in a daze for a whole day?

When Lei Xue thought about this, she not only found it funny in her heart. Ever since she was sensible, she rarely wasted her time like this. It was quite a wonderful feeling, but it was also good. She heard that developers could live up to two hundred years even if they did not upgrade, it was not a problem to work hard to live up to a thousand years. Her new life seemed to have some capital to Squander.

As she thought about it, she looked up at the sky. There were no stars on the sea tonight. The brilliant night scene that she had been looking forward to did not come. At first glance, it was pitch black. There was no light on the sea surface. It was the same color as the sky at this time, it was a complete fusion. This fusion was not like during the day. During the day, she could still see the boundary of the sky, the high sea, and the deep sea. But at this time, there was nothing. This might be the true color of the sea and the sky.

Seeing the night with no scenery to look at, Lei Xue finished the last drop of fruit wine in the bottle and got up to go back to the cabin. Hearing that there was a song and Dance Performance Tonight, she was quite looking forward to it.

But when she got up, she suddenly felt as if she heard a sound, like the sound of metal hitting... ..

When she heard it, Lei Xue thought that it was because the people in the cabin were playing too much, but in the next second, she felt that something was wrong.

The ship's body was made of excellent materials, and the sound insulation was also top-notch. Under the condition that the cabin was tightly shut, it was impossible for the sounds from the entertainment floors on the second and third floors to come out... ..

But if it wasn't coming from the cabin, then where did it come from?

Lei Xue was stunned for a moment. Then, she followed the sound and found that the sound seemed to come from below the ship!

Her heart tightened slightly. She carefully walked to the bow of the ship and confirmed that the sound was indeed coming from below the ship!

Something was knocking on the hull!

This was the deep sea, what the hell would do such a thing?

Thinking of this, she pulled out the remote connection device and turned on the searchlight in front of the ship. In an instant, a bright light lit up the black area in front of her!

Then, she saw clearly what was below.

It was a small wooden ship. On the ship stood a man with red eyes who was pounding the hull of the ship with wood pulp.

That person's entire body was deathly white. He was as thin as firewood, and his eyes were bloodshot. His expression was incomparably ferocious, as if he was a living corpse that could eat humans!

Lei Xue was so frightened that she almost activated the cannons on the boat and blasted the other party into pieces!

However, the developer's bloodline still caused her to instantly calm down. And because of the sudden appearance of this strong light, the other party was also stimulated and fell down from the wooden boat!

Being stimulated by the strong light, it shouldn't be a zombie, right? With this thought, Lei Xue looked at the person who was constantly flailing in the water. When she took a closer look, although the other party was struggling violently, it was obvious that his movements were weak. He was clearly in a very weak state. Almost instantly, she determined that this should be a shipwrecked person on the sea... ..

But didn't the information say that this area of the sea should be empty? Where did this guy come from?

Thinking of this, she didn't waste any more time. She drove the robotic arm to pick up the person!

In the distance, thousands of miles away, in a gray fog, the terrifying ship was sailing at a fast speed. The structure of the bottom of the ship was very horrifying, at the bottom of the ship, there was an extremely huge thing like a sea python that was constantly swinging forward. On both sides of the bottom of the ship, countless pale and huge arms were crazily rowing, and it was this way.., however, the speed of the entire ship was faster than the concept ships on the D BALL!

On the dock, two pale-faced undead stood in front. They were Bengal Goode and the bloody Queen Marina, who had caused the swarm attack on the east coast... ..

"That human said that the captain had escaped. Is it really alright to let him go like this?"

Marina looked at the dark night and said faintly, "It's impossible for him to delay his journey just to chase after a human. Moreover, that location is very far from the east coast. It's unlikely that he would be able to paddle to that place alive by relying on a wooden ship."

“What if he bumps into that boat to set sail?” Bengal Goode said gloomily, “The other party didn’t build that boat to look good, right? Could it be that their purpose is the same as ours, to look for master at sea?”

“Then we can’t turn back. What if we bump into him?” Marina said in a low voice, “You’ve seen the firepower of that boat. Although the thing that master left behind is powerful, it lacks energy and hasn’t fully recovered. We can’t take this risk by turning back...” . “...”

Bengal goode: “But if it’s the same purpose, we’ll bump into them sooner or later...”

“Maybe...” marina said faintly, “Hopefully, it will be smoother...”

Chapter 664: Intelligence from a faraway person... ..

“We’ve met a living person so quickly?”

In the cabin, Goudan Li and the others looked curiously at Henry, who was wrapped in a towel. Then, they looked suspiciously at the tester beside them. “Didn’t they say that this route is expected to be empty for thousands of nautical miles?”

The tester was also puzzled. Although this number was more hypothetical, it was based on the thousand-year history of the Steel Arms Empire.

After all, from the time they were discovered on the east coast, they had never met anyone from overseas, be it pirates or passers-by. In the past thousand years, the fishermen who lived here had never met anyone from overseas.

Although Henry’s clothes were a little tattered, it could be vaguely seen that the quality of his clothes was excellent. It was a work of noble silk. If an island country with such a civilization was nearby.., it was impossible that he had not noticed the eastern continent, which was currently the largest continent, for thousands of years?

“He doesn’t look very well. Has he been fed?” Asked Goudan Li.

Fed...

Next to him, Lei Xue’s face twitched. She felt that these words were a little like picking up a dog... ..

The first mate, Wang Ye, who was in the shape of an elf ball, replied, “His condition isn’t very good. At least he hasn’t ingested any food or water for more than ten days. Under such circumstances, we can’t give him food immediately. We gave him a small bottle of mild nutrient solution...”

“Wow, he can live for ten days without drinking water? That’s fine!” Eggface looked at him and said.

Henry, who was looking at the group of people as if they were looking at a rare object, felt quite uncomfortable at this moment. But fortunately, the girl in the lead looked so beautiful, so she shouldn’t be a bad person... ..

After he came back to his senses, he began to vaguely remember the experiences of these days...

Ever since he abandoned the crew and escaped alone, he had been drifting on the sea alone on that wooden boat for God knows how many days. Because he was so thirsty that he almost had hallucinations, he naturally did not have the mood to remember the days... ..

However, he was indeed quite lucky. He had drifted on the vast sea for so many days without encountering any bigger waves. Otherwise, with that wooden boat, he would have died a long time ago.

After an unknown number of days, he saw the dog egg anchored on the surface of the sea. He swore that he had never seen such a strange ship in his life!

The entire body of the ship was like a steel castle. What kind of technology was used to build such a large ship? Moreover, just the matter of building a steel ship shocked him greatly!

Since the appearance of the steam engine powered ship, there were also some alchemists who fantasized about building a ship with steel. However, this idea failed after many experiments.

There were many problems. Firstly, the steel material was easy to rust. Secondly, after sailing for a long time, the bottom of the ship would easily be attached to parasites such as oysters, which would affect the speed of the ship. Thirdly, if the ship used a lot of steel material, it would easily produce a magnetic field effect, which would affect the accuracy of the magnetic compass. Lastly, if the ship used a lot of steel material, it would cause the air inside the ship to be wet and cold, which was not conducive to keeping warm and the health of the crew.

Why would such an exaggerated steel ship appear in the East China Sea, something that even the best shipbuilder in the Western Islands, the kingdom of Homston, could not solve?

What was even stranger was the movement of the ship. He clearly remembered that the first time he saw the ship that day, it was completely docked...

This was the deep sea. How could a ship be docked without a fixed anchor?

It was night, and anyone would have thought that it was strange to see such a large ship stopping on the surface of the sea. However, Henry was in an abnormal state.

He was cold and hungry, and when he saw the ship, it was like he was grasping at the last straw. At that time, he thought that even if it was a ghost ship, he would accept it as long as he was given a mouthful of fresh water to drink!

However, the situation changed from time to time. When he drank the nutrient solution and solved the instinctive problem of his body's thirst, he began to worry.

Fortunately, the people on the ship seemed to be more normal, and the temperature around them was normal. It should not be a ghost ship or anything like that.

Just as he was thinking, he suddenly saw a yellow creature with two huge fangs carrying a glass bottle filled with green medicine walking over. "The medicine is ready..."

"Whoa... whoa, whoa, whoa... What the hell is this thing?" Henry was so scared that he retreated to the wall!

It was the Troll Perkins. Seeing his reaction, the originally gentle-looking troll instantly became gloomy. He glared at the troll and gave him the middle finger. "You're the F * cking thing!"

This common language with a strong local flavor made Henry stunned. A strange feeling welled up in his fear.

This monster can speak lingua franca?

After all, they were still communicating in Sichuan just now... ..

"Don't be afraid, this is the doctor on our ship..." Lei Xue comforted him gently.

"Doctor? A doctor with wild boar teeth?" Henry, who was still losing control of his emotions, retorted subconsciously.

"Do you believe that this pair of wild boar teeth can pierce through your asshole immediately?" Perkins' tone became more and more unfriendly.

"Alright..." snow sighed helplessly and consoled, "The outsider has never seen you guys before, don't bother with him. Isn't John Looking for you to play billiards? Go over there and play first, we'll explain over here..."

"HMPH!" Perkins snorted discontentedly, handed the potion to snow and left in a huff.

"Where are you from?" This time, it was dog egg li who asked the question.

Seeing the ugly monster leave and the beautiful girl asking the question again, Henry's frightened mood immediately eased up. Then, under the guidance of the crowd, he began to enter the normal communication.

An hour later, Henry gave a rough description of his situation. From his identity to the purpose of coming here, there was a clear explanation. However, in order to improve his image, some places were omitted and some places were directly deleted.

For example, he slightly modified the fact that he was a down-and-out royal family member who could no longer survive and became a young and promising member of the Royal Family. He left his beautiful wife and children behind and resolutely joined the expedition.

Of course, the incident of the undead ship abandoning its crew was directly brushed aside by him as a shipwreck... ..

"So You're a royal family member from the Western Archipelago?" Goudan Li asked in surprise.

Of course, what surprised her was not the identity of the other party as a royal noble, but the fact that the other party came from the Western archipelago. This meant that the other party had a hot and fresh route. The mission this time might be completed much earlier!

"So, the western archipelago countries think that the steel arms empire had a coup d'état and sealed off the port of the West Sea, so they organized a new route to explore the information?" Asked Lei Xue after she roughly sorted out the other party's words, compared to Li Goudan's surprise, Lei Xue was much calmer. She was slightly suspicious of the other party's information.

Henry nodded carefully, wanting to see the other party's attitude. At this moment, he had named himself as a very important person in the western islands not only to brag, but more importantly, he wanted to make the other party fear and treat him with courtesy because of his identity, this way, even if he was not welcome to outsiders like them, at the very least, they would see him, a person with an important identity, as a more advantageous bargaining chip. They would consider trading him back instead of throwing him into the sea to feed the fish.

Of course, saying this directly was also to gather information as soon as possible, because from the attitude of these people, they seemed to be quite friendly... .. although the monster just now was quite scary... ..

"With such a great ship and such a beautiful face, you must be an important noble, right?" Henry carefully looked at Li Goudan and asked, "May I ask what exactly happened in the Steel Arms Empire? Why did they detain our ship? Did a coup really happen? Or was there some other reason?"

Hearing that the other party thought that he was a noble with a high status, Li Goudan immediately straightened his back and said seriously, "HMM... you guessed it right! !"

If Wang Goudan was here, he would definitely be able to see that a certain someone was about to start his trick again!

Chapter 665: serious nonsense...

"Am I right?" Henry was stunned. "Is there really a rebellion in the Steel Arms Empire?"

Goudan Li was stunned. She really wanted to say, "You were right when you guessed that this Goudan was a noble with a high status..." "..." But even with her thick skin, she couldn't be so direct, so she could only follow the other party's lead and say, "Yes, that's right..."

"Why did they betray us? What's the situation now? is the previous royal family still around? Why did they seize our ship?"

As soon as Doggie said that, Henry's questions popped up like a barrage of cannons. Wang Ye and the others frowned. They did not know much about the situation in the steel arms empire. They only knew that there seemed to be some sort of biological mutation, they didn't know much about the specific situation, so they all looked at eggface.

When eggface Li saw that everyone was looking at him.., he replied in a serious manner, "Of course, the mutiny was because of oppression. Your... "The Western scholars' analysis was very good. The conflict was indeed caused by the long-term conflict between the mages and the local warrior nobles and the unfair distribution of resources. In the end, there was a rebellion

"The situation was very anxious at the beginning. It was a fierce fight. The royal family members were assassinated. Now, not a single one is left, leading to the division of the nobles. In the end, a female hero appeared in the Empire and turned the tide. Only then did the situation slowly begin to close!"

"Female hero?" The other party was stunned, so he quickly asked, "Is it Lady Isabelle?"

Hearing this, Li Jiayi, who had wanted to say it was Lady Goudan, almost choked to death. She asked in a daze, "Why do you think it's Isabelle?"

"UH... in the intelligence report... isn't she the only female noble who has a large number of soldiers?" Henry asked carefully, "Could it be... that I'm wrong?"

"UH...". "Yes, it's her. She quelled the rebellion in the king's city in one fell swoop, integrated many nobles, redistributed the interests of mages and warriors, and even defeated the northern beasts who wanted to fish in troubled waters. Now, she has become the first queen of our Empire!" Li Goudan curled his lips and said somewhat unwillingly.

"Then... since the rebellion has been quelled, why do you want to seize our ship? May I ask when the West Coast will be opened?" Henry asked again.

"It won't be opened..." Li Goudan waved his hand and said.

What a joke, if the west coast could be opened, what was the meaning of this trip to the east?

"Why?" Henry asked quickly.

"Because... .. Because there are still stubborn resistance elements in the Southern Rebellion!" Li Goudan continued to spout nonsense. "Before the rebellion, the south was secretly controlled by an evil woman called Rainy, no melon. During this rebellion, she instigated the warriors to rebel against the Mage family and completely overthrew the southern regime. Although Isabelle unified the north, the south had many arcane defense equipment left behind in the past. For a time, there was nothing they could do to the other side, resulting in the north-south split and a standoff. Coincidentally, the west coast port was in the hands of the other side... "...". "..."

"You mean to say that the southern rebel has seized our ship?" Henry was stunned for a moment before asking, "Why?"

"Of course...". "... of course, it's because her identity isn't right!" Li Goudan said seriously, "She started a cult and isn't of noble blood. It's very difficult to get recognition for such an identity, isn't it?" "... so I was afraid that your Western archipelago countries and the northern side would join forces and make her face enemies from both sides. So I simply seized the ship at the first opportunity and forbade the news to spread out. Then, I struck the warship that you sent out with a thunderous strike, making you think that it was done by the steel warrior empire. Without any information, you wouldn't dare to act rashly." "... "..."

"I see! " Henry suddenly realized that everything made sense!

Lei Xue and Wang Ye were dumbfounded. Although they did not have much information, but... "...". They felt that these things were made up by Li Goudan!

Li Goudan: "After our spies received this information, they decided to open a new route when they could no longer take over the west coast. The new regime is very eager to get the support of the western islands to quickly quell this rebellion, and they also hope to continue to maintain the currency trade with the other countries...". ". "It is really a stroke of fate to be able to meet a royal bloodline like yours this time. I represent the Isabel regime to request for your help. I hope that when we get there this time, you will be able to help introduce the higher-ups of the various countries!"

Speaking up to this point, Li Goudan made a request from the ELF race... ..

Chief Henry was shocked by the other party's beautiful etiquette, and then he was completely shocked by the contents of the other party's words!

The new regime of the Steel Arms Empire wanted to open up a new route and organize a new trade route, and the Middleman was himself?

What level of benefits was this? Several mage families that had been prosperous for a thousand years in the archipelago countries were the first small families that had supported trade with the Gavin Dynasty back then, with just this line alone, these unknown small families, or even wild mages who did not even have a family, had jumped to become the top giants of the countries!

And this time, he was the only middleman of the new route!

This was really a pie as big as the sky falling on his head!

After he reacted, he quickly returned the greeting with excitement, "It's my great honor, sir! !!"

This sudden opportunity almost made him faint from happiness, but fortunately, his character, which had been cultivated through years of forbearance, allowed him to barely maintain his rationality and did not make such an embarrassing move.

After taking a deep breath, he carefully asked, "May I ask, what is your identity?"

To be able to represent such an important mission, and from what he saw just now, the other party could even call the new king Isabelle by her name, he must be an incredible existence!

He finally asked this question?

Doggie felt slightly pleased in his heart and straightened his back, with a serious expression, he said, "This dog... cough cough, I am one of the seven great legends under the new regime's throne, Duke of Cloud City, supreme ruler of the eastern region, guardian of the Eastern Region: Lilith Targaryen! !"

As soon as he said this, Lei Xue and Wang Ye rolled their eyes. Without a doubt, they were now completely sure that Eggface Li was bragging... ..

Putting aside what the seven legends were, what was the Duke of Cloud City? The supreme ruler of the Eastern Region? They had never heard of these things, and even if there was a supreme ruler, it shouldn't Be You, right? You seem to be working, right?

And what the hell is Targaryen? Do you think we haven't seen Quan You?

Henry also had a dumbfounded expression on his face. Of course, the reason he was dumbfounded wasn't because of the other party's awesome title of the supreme ruler of the eastern region, nor was it because of the other party's dragon mother surname, which only the people of Ball D knew, what was shocking was the other party's first self-address.

Under the throne, one of the seven great legends!

The new king had seven great legends?

The title of legend was not something that anyone dared to carelessly call themselves. Just like the Steel Warrior Empire, in the western islands, only those who were at the peak of strength had the right to call themselves legends, in the history of the Western countries, the number of legends could be counted on one hand. The previous legend was the bloody queen who almost unified the west!

In the entire history of mankind, there was only one time when there were seven legends appearing at the same time. It was the golden era of Jiawen the second of the Steel Warrior Empire!

At that time, not only the northern beastmen were trembling in fear, even the western countries were extremely fearful. They were afraid that Jiawen would be disadvantageous to the west after killing the northern beastmen.

There were even rumors that the nobles of the various countries joined forces with the mages within the Steel Warrior Empire to secretly do some secret and dirty things. As a result, during that golden era, the humans lost the best opportunity to unify the entire East Road!

But no matter what, that era was indeed an era that made the entire human race excited, and it also set off a wave of samurai climax. Even now, many bards would sing praises of the seven great legends of the Steel War Empire of that era.

Thinking of this, he stared blankly at Li Goudan, his heart somewhat incredulous: after a thousand years, has the Golden Era returned?

Looking at the other party's blank expression, Goudan suddenly felt a little guilty and thought to himself, 'why is this child's expression like this??' 'could it be that this Goudan has exaggerated too much this time??'

'but this is just so-so.'? After all, she was prepared to brag at the start that she was the queen who suppressed the rebellion and unified the whole country!

'indeed... Should I still be a little modest??'

Chapter 666: Strange Floating Ice...

After the bragging, the following days fell into a period of calm. After all, most of the days at sea were dull and routine, but Henry had a very enjoyable few days.

The environment on the ship was unusually cool. Using steel as the driving bone, and then using wood to decorate the interior, how could he not have thought of this?

Moreover, the decorations here were really artistic!

He was born into a noble family, so he was naturally very sensitive to these things. The wood on the ship was obviously not randomly assembled. It should have been made of some special wood. Not only did the wood patterns have a rhythmic beauty, but it was also very beautiful, the entire layout and assembly was obviously deliberately linked to these wood patterns, so that the entire room was wrapped in this beautiful natural rhythm.

Not only did this require a delicate combination, but it also required a lot of time to select the qualified wood. Moreover, these wood itself was very high-grade. It was definitely not any ordinary oak or camphor wood. At least, he had never seen such a beautiful wood pattern... ..

Then, there were the decorations and decorations of various building materials. They were like the finishing touches of a painting, perfectly fusing the entire nature and art together. Even though he had been here for several days, he had often been immersed in it and could not extricate himself!

The decorations in the hall downstairs and the various entertainment rooms were the same. They had an amazing design sense, especially the carvings. They were definitely the work of a Master!

After washing up, he quickly walked to the cabin restaurant to carry out the eating segment that he looked forward to the most in the day.

Originally, he was not a greedy person who focused on his career, but the food here was really too delicious!

As soon as he entered the restaurant, he saw dozens of crew members sitting inside. Other than the ordinary crew members who were not on night duty, there were also Li Goudan and a few others.

From Afar, he could see Li Goudan waving at him. Li Goudan would always sit by the window with Lei Xue and the others. The design of the seat was very good, and one could almost see the sea view from the most comfortable angle, this made Henry very fond of this seat.

At this time, seeing the beautiful Goudan beckoning to him, he felt that the beautiful day had begun again.

He walked over and bowed slightly to the few of them, then sat down next to Lei Xue.

He actually wanted to sit with the beautiful Goudan Li, but when he did this previously, the green fur ball next to him seemed to glare at him fiercely!

The Talking Furball seemed to be an alchemy product. Although it looked cute, it might be hiding great danger, so Henry was very careful not to anger it...

Lei Xue, who was beside him, rarely spoke, but he heard that she was a noble alchemy mage.

He rarely saw such a young alchemy mage, but he still believed in her ability. After all, to be able to operate such a large steel ship, this female mage must have extraordinary abilities.

"Fruit porridge or meat porridge?" Li Goudan asked with a smile.

"Fruit porridge!" Henry replied with a smile.

The food here was very delicious, but the drawback was that it was too full, especially the meat. He felt that he could barely eat it. Although he still wanted to eat it in his mouth, his body seemed to be very weak every time.

Therefore, in order to eat more things later, he still chose the fruit porridge, which was a less caloric breakfast.

There were three restaurants. The breakfast in this restaurant was porridge, followed by some exquisite snacks. Actually, as a westerner, he preferred the croissants and the wonderful butter in the other restaurant... ..

However, there was the beautiful Lord Li Goudan and this natural window seat. In the other restaurant, he could only eat with the rude sailors, and it was very likely that he would meet the big guy with wild boar fangs!

That should be the orcs, right. He didn't understand why the orcs would be the doctors here... ... Were the orcs good at medical treatment?

Not long after he sat down, porridge and snacks were served. Looking at the exquisite snacks, Henry's eyes lit up, because he saw his favorite shrimp dumplings.

It was really a perfect breakfast. The outer skin was crystal clear and the texture was full. The shrimp meat inside was extremely delicious. The chewiness was incomparable...

Thinking of this, he could not wait to fork one and put it into his mouth. Then, he squinted his eyes and enjoyed the wonderful taste.

While eating, he thought about how to pass the day? The weather today was very good. After eating, he could go to the deck to take a walk to see the Seascape, then go to the cabin to find someone to play pool, or play that thing called golf. It felt very interesting, he did not know that the nobles of the steel arms empire were so interesting that they could invent such an interesting play method.

He could take a break at noon. In the afternoon, he could go to the library to order a cup of coffee and read some miscellaneous stories. He could also go to the swimming pool to swim and bask in the Sun. Oh My God..., it was a crazy idea to set up a swimming pool inside the ship. weren't they worried about the consumption of fresh water?

However, when he thought of the top-notch alchemy mages, he could understand a little. After all, mages could do many magical things, such as turning seawater into fresh water.

There were even more activities at night. He could go to bars, performing arts halls, opera houses, and parties outside. How could this be a ship? It was simply a paradise!

He secretly made up his mind. When he was rich in the future, he would definitely get a big ship like this. He would make sailing on the sea a kind of enjoyment!

Thinking of all this, he looked out of the window and leisurely enjoyed the beautiful sea scenery under the sunlight. At this time, the bright sunlight was as good as his mood, but at this time, a huge ice floe floated past him, it made his originally good mood instantly sink to the bottom of the valley!

Lei Xue, who was also enjoying breakfast beside him, was very sensitive to Henry's stiff expression. Not only did she curiously look in the direction of Henry's eyes, but she also saw the huge ice floe.

Then, she saw the huge ice floe and was curious.

This sea area was obviously in the middle of summer. Although the temperature difference at night was a little big, there was no need for such a huge ice floe to appear.

It was indeed a little strange, but was it necessary to make his expression so ugly?

Lei Xue looked at the other party and thought curiously.

While she was puzzled, a sailor quickly walked in from outside. When he walked into Goudan's table, he hurriedly said, "Captain, there's something up ahead!"

"What's the situation?" Goudan, who was enjoying his meal, stared at the other party with wide eyes and said excitedly, "Pirates or giant sea beasts?"

The Sailor: "..."

Why would the captain be looking forward to such a thing?

"It's floating ice. There's a lot of floating ice up ahead..." the sailor reported.

"Oh?" Goudan was stunned. Then, he turned on the virtual screen, and the scene in front of the deck was displayed.

In the screen, there were countless huge ice floes floating on the sea in front of them. It gave people the illusion that they had entered the Arctic Ocean... ..

"What's the situation?" Li Goudan was stunned. Beside him, Lei Xue also stood up curiously.

Henry looked at the screen and was stunned at first. He wondered what this thing was. Was it a magic crystal? He didn't see the other party take out the crystal.

But when he saw the dense ice floe in the screen, he didn't have the mood to think about what the virtual screen was. His face instantly turned pale... ..

"How could it be... how could it appear here? It shouldn't be... shouldn't this damn place be..."

Chapter 667: Shocking Change!

"F * ck... What the F * ck?" On the deck, Li Goudan relied on his excellent vision to look ahead. In the end, when he looked ahead, there was a large area of ice floes in front of him. Seeing this, she and the others were stunned.

Behind them, the sun was clear and the sky was blue. The water in front of them had turned dark and icy blue, like a dividing line. On the other end of the line was the Arctic Ocean!

"Is there... Such weather on the sea?" Li Goudan looked at Lei Xue in a daze.

Lei Xue was also stunned. In reality, someone had seen half the rain, but who had seen half the rain and half the snow?

And even if such weather had happened, it was impossible to create so much floating ice. Under normal circumstances, taking reality as an example, when the surface temperature of the sea water dropped below 1.8 °C (the freezing point of the sea water), only then would there be a chance to form dense, oily ice that could float on the surface of the sea. However, such a movement would require a few meters of solid ice to be at least ten degrees below zero for a long period of time?

Lei Xue looked at the sky and felt the temperature under the scorching sun. Then, she looked at the world opposite her, which was obviously not the same color. Her expression became more and more curious. Then, she looked at the large tube wheel, Morsenkin.

She was the developer and the chief engineer of the ship. However, in terms of her understanding of this world and her experience of mysterious things, she was naturally more reliable than this great wizard who had lived for sixty to seventy years.

Morsenkin saw Lei Xue looking at him and was about to say something when suddenly, the pale-faced Henry in the cabin seemed to have woken up. He stumbled out and screamed, "Don't drive in. Turn around, turn around!"

Li Goudan raised his hand slightly. Lei Xue saw this and controlled the ship from afar. A huge cannon hole was opened at the front and back of the ship. With a bang, four huge anchors with steel barbs shot out towards the sea, the huge chains behind them made a ghastly sound.

After about ten seconds, the entire ship was fixed in place by the four huge ships!

Seeing this scene, Henry was stunned, thinking, so this is how the ship stopped?

But this is the deep sea, how long does the chain have to be to let the anchor hang to the bottom?

After the ship stopped, Lei Xue walked in front of Henry and squinted at him, "Do you know something?"

She had felt that there was something wrong with this Henry, when this guy saw the floating ice on the sea just now, it was as if he saw a ghost... ..

Henry was stunned. Then, as if he had recalled some terrible memory, he shook his head repeatedly.

Lei Xue squinted her eyes and said, "If you don't say it, we will definitely drive in..."

As she said that, she pointed at the sea line in front of her and said, "You saw it too. This line is so long. Who knows how long it will take to go around it!"

Her words were not nonsense. The strange situation in front of them was not a small area. As far as the eye could see, it was endless. It was like a dividing line that separated the entire sea surface, even Li Goudan could not see the end of it.

"I can't go! If I Go, I won't be able to come out!" Henry stuttered, "There's... There's something very scary inside!"

"What is it? What exactly does it mean?" Lei Xue quickly asked.

Li Goudan glanced at him and suddenly said, "You don't look too good..."

Only then did everyone react. At this time, Henry's face was ashen, and... ? ... It seemed to be a little swollen, giving people the feeling that it didn't look like a living person. Suddenly, their expressions became strange. Even if they were scared by something, it shouldn't have become like this, right?

"My Face?" Henry was stunned. Then, as if he had been provoked, he hurriedly touched his own face. The moment his hand touched his bloated face, he immediately screamed, as if he had encountered something extremely terrifying, after falling to the ground, he continued to crawl backwards. His expression was like a malicious spirit was coming to claim his life, and everyone felt an inexplicable fear in their hearts.

They all turned around and looked in the direction where the other party was looking.

However, there was nothing at a glance except for the floating ice cubes and the sea surface that was obviously different from this side...

"Damn, what's wrong with this guy? Is he epileptic?" Li Goudan frowned and said.

"I'm afraid it's not that simple..." Lei Xue's face was a little solemn. She noticed that Henry's belly seemed to be much bigger than before. Although he had just eaten breakfast, the breakfast wouldn't be so big that it would make him so full... ? The food in the base was full because it had high energy, not like steamed buns and compressed biscuits... ..

And she also noticed that in his stomach... .. Something was squirming...

"Call Perkins to come over and take a look!" Goudan Lee said hurriedly.

The sailor next to him ran to the restaurant to call Perkins. Not long after, he saw the three-meter-tall troll rushing over with a medical kit.

However, Henry's condition was getting worse. His stomach was swelling up, and his voice was getting more and more shrill. It sounded like he had goosebumps in the middle of the day.

"Help him take a look!" Li Goudan quickly ordered when he saw Perkins.

The Troll Witch Doctor nodded. Just as he was about to approach, he suddenly saw Henry lying on his stomach on the floor and vomiting.

But what was strange was that there was no physical residue of what he vomited. There was only water. Large mouthfuls of water came out of his mouth and soon spread to the feet of everyone. Everyone stepped back with a disgusted expression.

Goudan also had a disgusted expression. He ridiculed, "F * ck, this bucket? Can it vomit so much?"

With this amount, it should be at least 30 kilograms, right? was this person made of water?

However, this scene caused the witch doctor's expression to change as he retreated continuously. Behind Lei Xue, the Chief Pipe Lun Morsenkin also had a solemn expression.

"Wow, you, a doctor, also think it's dirty?" Li Goudan looked at the troll who was continuously retreating and said with disdain, "It's your professionalism. With your condition, you will be reported to us!"

"This isn't an illness..." the witch doctor, Perkins, shook his head and replied solemnly.

"If it's not an illness, then what is it?" Goudan Li looked at Henry. The more Henry vomited, the more exaggerated it became. The water he vomited also began to change. At first, it was relatively clear, but later on, it became more turbid, after a while, he vomited a black, viscous liquid. It was unknown what it was, but it emitted a disgusting stench.

It seemed... .. It really wasn't an illness... .. Which family could be this sick?

"What's going on?" Goudan Li asked immediately. As soon as he said that, many people suddenly screamed. Goudan Li glanced at them. Most of the people who screamed were dancers who couldn't bear it.

Then, he looked at Henry. Henry's mouth suddenly opened wide. Then, a pair of pale hands reached out from his mouth and pressed against both sides of Henry's mouth, as if they were going to pry open his mouth!

"F * ck! !" Li Goudan was also shocked and subconsciously took a few steps back.

Then, a half-rotten head slowly poked out from the mouth of the man who had been pried open. With a strange smile, he said, "Have you come back to pick us up, Captain Henry? !"

Chapter 668 Who is scaring me?

Henry was speechless at the moment, but he did not pass out because his mouth was opened so wide. On the contrary, he was very clear-headed, but the more he was like this, the more unbearable it was for him!

The foreign object in his throat kept drilling out. The force was so strong that it seemed like it was going to tear him into pieces!

"Ah! !!" Henry kept wailing. His neck expanded to be thicker than his thighs, and the pores all over his body were oozing water. His eyeballs were also changing shape because his mouth was opened too wide, as if it would be squeezed out in the next moment!

When the people outside saw this scene, they were so scared that their bodies turned cold in the daytime. Even the engineers in the army who had fought with the army were so scared that their faces turned pale, and they kept retreating.

On the other hand, although the witch doctor and the Big Tube Wheel had serious expressions, they did not show too much fear.

Lei Xue quickly asked, "Old Man Morsenkin, do you know what's Going On?"

If it had been a few days ago, she might have been frightened by this supernatural phenomenon. However, after coming into contact with some new knowledge of this world, she became even more determined that there was nothing in this world that science could not explain!

"It's just a trick..." the chief steward, Morsenkin, said calmly, "In the past, some evil alchemists would also make these things to spread terror..." as he spoke, he took out a glass bottle containing blue powder from his pocket, he gently sprinkled it in Henry's direction!

The blue powder flew towards Henry as if it had a life of its own. Li Goudan took a closer look. These blue powder were not powder at all, but insects the size of powder. The blue was the light emitted from the buttocks of those tiny insects...

The insects quickly covered Henry's entire body, and the blue light on his body grew brighter and brighter. Then, as if he had ignited something, a blue flame instantly ignited on Henry's chest!

Everyone saw that Henry's clothes were quickly burned by the flame, and the flame formed a rune-like thing on Henry's chest. On the rune, there was a faintly discernible string connecting to an unknown location in front of him.

The string was very long, and one could not see the end of it at a glance. The blue flame was like a lit fuse, instantly igniting the string and burning it over at an astonishing speed.

Just as it was burning in mid-air, there was a sudden jump, and the line broke in mid-air, as if it had stopped the spread of the Blue Flame. Seeing this scene, a cold smile appeared on Morsenkin's face!

As the line that was so thin that it was almost invisible broke, the pupils of the rotting head that had already popped out of Henry's mouth immediately enlarged, and it let out a mournful howl: No! ! I don't want to go back!

As soon as he finished speaking, the head seemed to be pulled by something and quickly slid into Henry's mouth. A pair of pale hands desperately grabbed Henry's face, as if trying to stop himself from being pulled back!

But it was obviously useless. The entire head was still being pulled back at a speed visible to the naked eye, and soon it was pulled back into Henry's mouth again.

"No... no... Don't be like this, Captain. Captain, you promised us. You promised us that you would come back to save us. No..." as soon as he finished speaking, everyone heard a gulp. Henry's throat, which was as thick as his thigh, suddenly moved. It was as if he had swallowed something. The head instantly became silent!

Looking at this scene, everyone on the deck swallowed a mouthful of saliva together... ..

"This... What's the situation now?" Li Goudan asked in a daze.

"It's just a trick, Captain, you don't have to mind it!" Mo Jinsen replied with a smile.

"Boss..." Li Goudan looked at the other party. "Explain?"

Lei Xue also looked at the other party curiously. Clearly, the old man had used some method to stop the water ghost from crawling out of Henry's mouth...

Seeing that everyone was looking at him, Morkinson smiled smugly and explained, "This is just a trick to create terror..."

"Trick?" Li Goudan looked at the stinky black water on the ground and his eyelids twitched. "It doesn't look like it, right?"

"For US alchemists, this is a trick...". Morkinson smiled and explained, "Someone left a summoning-type alchemy array on this man and set a trigger mode. When this guy approached the Caster, the other party could activate the array to summon him. The array was carved on his stomach, so the space formed by the summoning would appear in his stomach, and the scene we saw just now would appear!"

“So the water that Henry spat out and the zombie came from another dimension?”

“That’s what I mean, master snow...”. “Many evil cultists in the west have used this trick to spread panic and make people believe in the existence of the devil to fool some ignorant people.”

“Oh, I see! !”The group of ignorant people led by Li Goudan nodded in realization.

“Eh? His neck has recovered?”Wang Ye, who was floating, looked at the unconscious Henry and asked hurriedly.

Everyone was stunned. Then, they looked over and saw that Henry, whose neck was swollen to the size of his thigh, had slowly recovered to normal!

“It’s just a distortion caused by the space power...”Morkinson explained with a smile, “When the power of the matrix disappears, the physical body will naturally return to normal.”

“You really live and learn. There’s actually such a trick...”Li Goudan looked at Henry and then looked at the other side, suddenly, his face darkened as if he had just reacted. He said in a low voice, “Does that mean that there’s a stupid wizard on the other side using Henry to scare me?”

“UH...”Morkinson was stunned, then he nodded reluctantly. “It should be...” that’s what he meant... ..

After all, it was obvious that he deliberately created this structure to create panic. To put it bluntly, it was just to scare people...

“F * CK, drive the boat over, I’m going to take that Thief’s Head!”

“Calm down, Captain...”Lei Xue and Wang Ye quickly tried to dissuade him.

It would be unwise to rush over in such a situation where the enemy was in the dark and the enemy was in the light. They immediately tried to persuade him.

“Oh right, captain, what about this person?”Someone suddenly pointed at Henry who was still twitching on the ground.

“What else can we do? Throw him away!”Goudan Li waved his hand in disgust.

F * ck, there was such a disgusting thing in his stomach, and he even ate with this Goudan every day!

Thinking about how he’s been eating with this guy these past few days, Goudan Li suddenly felt uncomfortable... ..

Was He so heartless?

Lei Xue and Wang Ye’s faces twitched. In the end, it was Wang ye who advised, “Jiayi, we can’t leave this guy behind. He has a lot of information that is useful to us!”

Not to mention that the other party came from the western islands, they needed connections and resources. Just the fact that the other party could come from the west was a great value. With the other party’s guidance, it would save them a lot of time.

Moreover...

Wang Ye looked at the endless sea of floating ice in front of him and narrowed his eyes. He thought to himself, from the current situation, this guy should have been inside...

Chapter 669 No. 698: Shall we try moving forward?

“This kind of blue bug is called the soul-sucking bug. It was developed by the Department of Plastics and Energy and the Department of Biology at Headquarters. It has two functions. One is to absorb and digest complex magical energy to help guide out purer elemental-free energy. The second is to burn complex energy structures and disintegrate some complex energy bodies. This is the main function. It is actually for industrial use, but it can also be used to destroy the alchemy array!”

In a laboratory in the cabin, Morkinson carefully took out a bug from the bottle and showed it to Lei Xue.

Lei Xue looked at the bug that was the size of a powder with a face full of excitement and exclaimed, “Is this a creature created?”

She couldn’t help but sigh in her heart, “How advanced is Rover Technology?”?

“Yes!” Morkinson also sighed, “In the past, although we alchemists didn’t believe in religion, nobody dared to touch the taboo of creating life, which only gods could do. I didn’t expect that after coming into contact with the new knowledge here, I finally understood how small we were!”

Such a high evaluation? Lei Xue was stunned, and then she asked, “Oh right, old man, were you a mage before you became a member of the force? Does magic power really exist in this world? What exactly is Magic?”

Facing Lei Xue’s series of questions, Morkinson answered patiently, “Of course, there is magic power in this world. The force that we belong to, including this ship, also used arcane technology. We are different from other forces that advocate pure mechanical technology...”. “Didn’t Master Jellybean tell you about this?”

Snow was stunned and laughed, “I just came...”

“Oh...” Morgenson nodded, then he smiled and comforted, “Don’t worry, master. High-level people like you can learn knowledge much faster than us. Previously, there were a few masters like you who didn’t know anything when they first came here, but their learning ability is amazing. In less than a few months, the old man has been pulled away by them...”. “Speaking of which...”. A hint of envy appeared on his face...

When she heard this, Lei Xue’s heart skipped a beat, and she started thinking quickly.

The old man’s words revealed a lot of information!

In the eyes of these aborigines, even for mages like the old man, these d-ball people were high-level people. They had an advantage that was much higher than them, and that included their astonishing learning ability!

Clearly, these abilities did not come from the advantages of the d-ball humans, but from the advantages of genetic surgery!

Genetic surgery was the key! !

Lei Xue was suddenly enlightened. She had somewhat understood Luo Fu's method of controlling the population!

This was a completely new class model. As time passed, this difference would become greater and greater due to their bloodlines. Those who possessed high-level genes would have an absolute advantage over lower-level humans, this advantage was so great that a small number of people could dominate the majority of ordinary people!

This racial advantage was not like the psychological advantage that d-ball whites had over black people.

After all, although there was a lot of discussion about the advantages of different kinds of people, such as Jews with the highest IQ, yellow people ranked second, black people with the strongest physical ability, and so on, this gap was not very big, more often than not, it was a small advantage created by the division of social classes by the collective civilization.

It was impossible to say that there would be such a dimensional difference if all the different races were placed under the same resources for training or absorbing knowledge!

In other words, once Luo Fu was allowed to develop and this genetic surgery was popularized, in the future..! ... He might really be the hero of the bloodline theory. After all, the difference between the different races was too big!

What would society become when that happened? Would the gap between classes become bigger and bigger, so big that it was almost impossible to bridge?

Lei Xue's heart became a little complicated. To be honest, she did not really like that kind of society where the gap between classes was very big. However, she seemed to be the beneficiary now...

Just as her thoughts were running wild, Li Goudan's voice came from outside, "Hey, Hey, old man, I've been looking for you for a long time. Why are you hiding here?"

Morkinson quickly explained, "Master snow had some academic questions for me, so I came here to explain."

"Academic questions?" Li Goudan looked at their neat clothes and seemed a little disappointed, "Is that really the case?"

Snow was stunned. She didn't know what Li Goudan was disappointed about, so she could only nod and say, "I'm asking about some knowledge about Arcana."

"Oh... . By the way, what about that Henry? Why is he quarantined? How long will he take to wake up? Ben has something to ask him!" Li Goudan asked about business.

"Well... . Speaking of serious matters, Morkinson immediately said seriously, "The alchemy array gathering energy on the human body creates a very big image on the body. Moreover, it's something like the connection of an unknown space. His body is very likely to be infected by the unknown space, so I had someone isolate him previously. As for when he will wake up, it's hard to say. The medical conditions on the ship are limited. In the face of such a complicated situation, there are no preparations. We can only try to nurse his body and let him wake up by willpower."

He paused for a moment before continuing, "This process might be very quick or very long. It might take a day or two, or a week or two, or..."

"F * ck..." Li Goudan immediately rolled his eyes. "Then what should we do? We can't just stop here and wait forever, right?"

Lei Xue immediately frowned when she heard that. If Henry didn't wake up, it would be unwise for them to rashly step into that strange sea without sufficient intelligence. And if they took a detour...

The length of that line was really quite desperate...

Li Goudan hesitated for a moment before asking, "If we just drive in like this, what are the possible risks?"

Mo Jinsen replied, "From the current intelligence, the two biggest risks are the weather and the unknown force that attacked Henry."

"First, the weather. There are many floating ice in front of us. Although we don't know how it formed, we can confirm that there is an unknown cold current ahead. It is so strong that it can affect the temperature of the entire sea. If we drive directly, in case the cold current increases and the sea surface is frozen, we might be trapped inside. However, this ship has a high-intensity energy weapon. Its ice-breaking ability is very strong. The possibility of being trapped is not high..." "..."

"There's also that unknown force. From Henry's situation, those people are obviously not good people. If we directly drive over and meet them, the possibility of being attacked is very high!"

"I'm just afraid that they won't come! !" Li Goudan immediately put his hands on his waist. "If they dare to come, this Goudan will let them know what cruelty is!"

Lei Xue looked at Li Goudan who had his nose up into the sky and couldn't help but laugh. The other party's extremely fierce appearance didn't seem to have any deterrent force at all...

"What are you laughing at?" Li Goudan looked fiercely at Lei Xue.

"I . . . I remembered something happy..."

Li Goudan: "..."

"Captain..." Mo Jinsen said, "I think it's better not to underestimate the unknown force inside..."

As he said that, he looked at the floating ice outside the window and said faintly, "To be able to create such a big difference in climate and such a large area, he's not a simple person!"

"You're saying that someone used magic to freeze this place? ? ? ?" Li Goudan and Lei Xue were stunned at the same time.

"That's not to the extent of..." Mo Jinsen looked outside. This was definitely not caused by plastic energy magic, even if the royal magic troops were to use plastic energy magic, they would at most be able to freeze the surface of the sea for about a thousand meters. Even if all the plastic energy mages in the Western archipelago were to be added together, they would not be able to freeze such a large area of the sea. However... It definitely wasn't formed naturally...". "..."

"Then what exactly is it, old man!" Li Goudan said unhappily.

"They must have summoned some kind of alchemist to do something forbidden, causing a certain space to be unable to close!" Mokinson looked outside and guessed, "Then the temperature of the other space has affected this area of the sea..."

"Oh, if that's the case, then it doesn't sound very dangerous!" Li Goudan immediately said with a tone of discussion, "How about... We advance and give it a try?"

Chapter 670 Unexpected News...

"There's news from Kunlun..."

In the main base, Vivian came over and reported, "They want to confirm the date of the exploration of the arcane realm with you, Lord!"

"The exploration of the arcane realm?" Seer, who was in the Lord's room, was stunned. To be honest, he had been a little busy recently, and he had almost forgotten about this thing...

After the last Kunlun martial arts practice, the original plan was to let other disciples enter this secret realm to explore before the end of the year. However, for some reason, Kunlun had announced an extension, and this extension lasted for more than a year.

Now that it was suddenly mentioned, could it be that these guys had secretly prepared something?

Seer felt a little curious, but he still nodded. "Did they say the ideal day?"

"They think it's best to do it within this month..." virion quickly replied.

"Within this month?" Seer looked at the time. According to the calendar of Planet D, it was the beginning of June, so there was plenty of time to prepare, so, she nodded. "Inform rainy, WUGUA, and Isabelle to prepare..."

"Okay..." virion nodded.

"Is there anything else?" Seer looked up at him because he did not seem to have any intention of leaving.

"Lord..." Vivian hesitated for a moment before saying, "Recently, the base is a little short on manpower..."

Seer was stunned for a moment before she reacted. Recently, as they had solved the problem with the government, they had started to recruit new members. Moreover, they were about to open the entrance to the world. When that time came, the number of new players would definitely increase exponentially, currently, there were still too few basic staff members in the base.

There were already many people complaining about the shortage of teaching resources online. Some of the new recruits could not even arrange for a specialized class once a month. If this continued, it would not be good for the growth of the new recruits.

It was time for a large-scale recruitment. After providing an energy mine last year, the base's finances had received a large influx of cash. While recruiting, they could also go and buy some things.

"What About You? Can you handle it?" Seer asked.

Hearing this, Vivian shook her head repeatedly...

These days, other than contacting the government and various sects, she also had to take on the elf transformation job in the base. Recently, the entrance had been opened, and the number of players had increased. Although the Green Titan was still the base's most popular player... The number of elves was also not small...

Seer saw the other party's expression and nodded. "Then how about this, I'll go out this time and contact the school I went to the last time. I'll ask them to send some teachers over. As for the shapeshifters..."

To be honest, the most suitable shapeshifter was still the flower spirit. But just like in the base, the flower spirit was also a sought-after profession in the Universe Federation, and was welcomed by all the major factions. The last time he was able to find a flower spirit like the Starlight Elf was a complete surprise. It would probably be a little difficult to recruit such a good one...

"Lord, if it's an shapeshifter, I can recommend it..." virion hurriedly said.

"Oh?" Seer looked at her curiously. "Friend or classmate?"

"My two sisters..." virion hurriedly said.

"Two younger sisters? Are they both flower spirits?" Seer was a little curious. It seemed that the transformation of elves could not be controlled, right?

"One flower spirit, one... musical note master..." Vivian replied.

"Musical note master?" Seer was stunned, and her eyes immediately lit up. This was a derivative of the flower spirit. Only children with a certain level of artistic talent could take on this job. Usually, flower spirits, sirens, and other individuals who were very sensitive to the elements..., only after undergoing harsh musical notes cultivation could one become a musical note master.

It was very useful. Cultivating various music tracks could help in spiritual recovery, increase the efficiency of cultivation, nurture living creatures, and even strengthen their own warriors on the battlefield, the battle songs of the shamans were derived from the elven civilization.

However, professional musical notes had a stronger enhancement effect, and it was a very rare profession. After all, not everyone had the possibility of becoming a musical note master if they could transform into a flower spirit, and musical notes were expensive to learn...

"I welcome music notes masters very much..." seer hurriedly expressed his stance, after all, there was a vacancy in the base right now. As more and more players arrived, it would be beneficial for the base to have a variety of professions. Furthermore, music notes masters could increase the duration of their transformation. Currently, it was also very necessary. However, the problem was...

"If your younger sister is a musician, would she be willing to come over?" Seer asked curiously.

"I can go and talk about it, but I can't guarantee..." Vivian bowed and replied.

Starlight Elves were mostly arrogant. Many of her brothers and sisters in her family had mocked her for coming to work for such a small faction, but now, regardless of whether it was the salary or the growth rate, which of her brothers and sisters in her generation were better than her?

Only by being there did she realize that her faction definitely had extraordinary potential!

Moreover, due to the high quality of the D ball players, she was almost certain that there would be no need for external recruitment soon. It was a rare opportunity for her to enter this faction and become a civil servant!

However, it was not an easy task to convince her family. After all, it was very difficult to convince people that Seer, who had only reported one planet, was a faction with prospects for development... ..

"Alright then!" Seer nodded and said, "Arrange for the martial arts demonstration first. After this matter is over, you will return to the federation with Me!"

"Yes, my Lord!" Having received the results, Vivian smiled and left.

Seer secretly calculated what items she would need to purchase when she returned. She would definitely need to prepare more large-scale basic equipment. After all, there were more and more lord-class players now, followed by instructors.

Currently, the combat profession was still the mainstream. The twenty to thirty instructors in the base would definitely not be enough to teach tens of thousands of players. Moreover, it would probably be over a hundred thousand before long.

Seer had to confirm with the academy whether they were willing to cooperate with him. If they were willing, he would have the supply of a university. Then, he would not have to take the risk of exposing himself to hire people with high salaries... ..

Moreover, the learning places for the developers on his side also had a direction...

After all... Seer knew how expensive the federal university's tuition fees were, with his current financial strength, it would be difficult for him to supply a few hundred developers to study outside. However, the developers in the base were learning too quickly, and the amount of basic knowledge was about to reach the bottom, if he wanted to improve, he could only rely on specialized academies!

Sigh... There was really a lot of work to be done!

Seer scratched his head and looked helpless. It seemed that the rapid progress of the people was not entirely an advantage either. He felt that if he was not careful, he would be dragged into trouble.

It was better to stabilize the basic board first...

When it came to the basic board, he naturally had to pay attention to the development of the player factions. Currently, most factions lacked a research population. Other than valuable developers, they also lacked highly intelligent apprentices who could assist the developers, if he wanted to speed up the progress, he had to count on the opening of the shipping route at the ice cap.

With that thought, Seer turned on his AI and asked, "How many days has it been since Li Goudan set sail? What's the situation now?"

Ai: "I was just about to report this. At noon today, the signal on Li Goudan's dog account seemed to have been cut off by something!"

"What?"

"What?"
