Chapter 671 The Strange Floating Ice Region!

"The signal disappeared? Why didn't you say so earlier?" Seer's expression changed under his helmet as he said unhappily.

Ai said, "It hasn't been long since it disappeared. It might have encountered a local energy magnetic field... that's why it wasn't listed as a warning event. After all, there aren't many situations in this world that could cause that ship to encounter danger..."

Xi Ye was stunned when he heard that. He calmed himself down slightly. He could tell that Ai felt that he was being a little paranoid.

That was indeed the case according to normal logic. After all, this was only a low-level magical world. Currently, the most powerful indigenous creatures discovered were only at level-3. With Li Goudan's skills, the possibility of him encountering danger was extremely small, in addition, that warship was equipped with the most advanced equipment of a level-3 mechanical civilization. Even if they encountered a country's fleet in the waters of Planet D, they would definitely be crushed, not to mention this indigenous world that was still using wooden ships!

However, when she heard the news again, she still felt a faint sense of uneasiness spreading in her heart. She felt that something was missing...

That's right! That undead!

Xi Ye immediately thought of the undead traces found on the east coast. However, she immediately denied this thought. After all, the sea was so large, so the possibility of encountering them should not be very high.

Moreover, even if they were to charge together, with the firepower equipment on the Goudan, they would not be at a disadvantage against a level-7 undead creature. At the very least, they would not lose contact without a single bubble!

Perhaps it was really a magnetic field problem...

Xi Ye comforted herself in her heart. However, for some reason, the uneasiness in her heart could not be dispelled... ..

She had a feeling that something would happen.

Li Goudan had outstanding talent, and was one of the members that he valued greatly... ..

Outstanding here meant that among all the d ball players, even though the D Ball People's tolerance was so high, whether they were suitable to grow into a high-level creature was another matter. After all, in the universe.., a good gene was not necessarily able to grow into a high-level creature.

The bloodline of one's own family was not considered weak. How many of them could possibly become a dragon-level creature? Some people could soar to the sky with a good gene, while others would still be a loser. This was the difference between individuals.

Li Goudan obviously belonged to the former. According to Xi Ye's observation, this was a seedling that had a chance to grow into a dragon-level or even a star-level creature. It would be a pity to lose it.

"Do they have a teleportation point on their ship?" Xi Ye could not help but ask in the end.

Ai was silent for a while before finally saying, "Yes..." however, it then said, "Lord, aren't you being a little too careful? People like Li Goudan will one day face the stars and break away from your wings..."

"I know!" Xi Ye waved his hand. "I just feel a little uneasy..."

He seemed to have felt this unease when he was very young. It was as if he had lost a very important person because of that uneasiness. That memory seemed to have mysteriously disappeared, but he had always been very familiar with this uneasiness in his heart.

This was also why he had personally made a move after learning about the map of the Black Goat the last time.

Ai did not dissuade him after hearing that. Instead, it said mechanically, "There is a teleportation array on the ship's secret spot that connects to the main base. Do you need to activate it now?"

"Activate it!" Xi Ye said without hesitation.

Following Xi Ye's order, a white light flashed and Xi Ye instantly disappeared from the Lord's room!

However, when he came out of the teleportation space, he was completely stunned!

That was because he realized that he had not been teleported to the ship, but to the vast sea!

"Ai, What's the situation?" Xi Ye looked around, but he did not find Li Goudan's ship. There was only a vast sea with no end in sight.

Ai: "Lord, the teleportation point was definitely placed on the Goudan. The players have yet to come into contact with the spatial domain, so it's impossible to erase it. In other words..."

Seer's heart sank when he heard that. He understood what Ai was trying to say. If the players did not erase it themselves, then some external force had forcefully moved the teleportation formation down!

How was that possible?

How could anyone in this world do such a thing when the undead Lord had not returned?

"Can you locate Li Goudan and the others?" Seer quickly asked.

Ai replied, "I can't. The signal has been strengthened, but there are no fluctuations at all. If they can't even receive a signal of this level... .. "Either Li Goudan and the others are isolated by something, or... "Or they're no longer on this planet!"

Xi Ye: "..."

He looked around. The strange thing was that Xi Ye's current position was exactly where Li Goudan and the others had stayed before, but there was no trace of the floating ice sea that had attracted Li Goudan and the others... .. It was as if it had completely disappeared!

As far as the eye could see, there was only a line of blue sky in the vast sea. It was so calm that it was as if nothing had happened...

Naturally, Li Goudan and the others did not know about this. She did not know that the teleportation array that had been secretly installed by the main base on the ship had been removed. She also did not know that they were now in a helpless situation.

Otherwise, Goudan Li would not be acting so arrogantly on the bow of the ship, shaking his feet.

"All of you, get your spirits up. I, the captain, will demonstrate to you in a moment, what it means to kill those who trespass my Goudan even if they are far away!"

"Oh Oh! !"

A group of crew members gave face and started to cheer along with Goudan, as if they were supporting the captain in causing trouble. Lei Xue and Wang Ye's faces twitched when they saw this, and they covered their foreheads deeply.

Why could this guy call the Eggface so confidently? The crew members were the same. Why were they cheering along?

Lei Xue Sighed and decided to check the condition of the ship first. From the moment they entered this area, the crew members of the engine department had already been assigned to their posts and were waiting for orders, even the main engine, Mosenkin, was assigned by her to pay attention to the operation of the main engine.

According to the feedback of information, the main engine and auxiliary engine were operating normally. The propeller at the bottom of the ship was equipped with specialized equipment for crushing sundries, so she was not worried that it would be stirred up by the crushed ice and affect her movement.

If she encountered a larger ice floe in front of her, she could directly shoot a plastic energy cannon at it and instantly vaporize it. It seemed that she would not be in a difficult situation for the time being. However, there were still some things that Lei Xue was very concerned about.

One was the temperature...

From the moment they entered this line, the temperature here was as if they had entered an ice cellar in an instant. But originally, the ship was equipped with thermal equipment and high-quality cotton clothes, which were prepared for the crew to spend the winter.

But... it didn't work...

Whether it was the cotton clothes or the thermal equipment in the cabin, they couldn't resist the cold here. The feeling was very strange, as if a strange coldness ignored the clothing and cabin temperature and attacked people directly, it gave people a chill that invaded their hearts!

The second was the communication equipment. From the moment Li Goudan decided to enter this strange floating ice sea area, she had felt that it was inappropriate to inform the people above, but... ... The signal seemed to have been interfered by something and could not contact sugar pea and the others.

Thinking of this, Lei Xue blew on her frozen hand uneasily.

Signal lost... ... In her mind, it was often the beginning of a horror movie!

Chapter 672: Surrender!

It was already the third day...

Lei Xue stayed in her room. She used a pen and ink to record the events of the past two days after entering the ice domain. Her room was still as beautiful as before, however, upon closer inspection, she discovered that the originally vibrant wood grain actually had a hint of decay.

According to the technical requirements, the wood on this ship was a high-grade biological wood. Furthermore, it had undergone a special process. Even if it was soaked in water for thirty years, there wouldn't be any signs of decay. However, just a few days after entering the ice domain., many things on the ship were undergoing an inexplicable change.

Lei Xue exhaled and continued writing with her frozen hands: on the third day after entering the ice zone, because there were floating ice blocks on the surface of the sea at all times, the need to break through the ice at all times caused the speed of the ship to greatly reduce, in three days, the entire ship had traveled less than a hundred nautical miles, but there were still no signs of leaving the ice zone.

The weather was getting colder and colder, and it was an irresistible cold. The heating equipment on the ship was like a decoration, and the thick cotton-padded clothes on the body could not resist it. Even the food was so hot that when it entered the mouth, it was like ice shards, there was no longer the delicious enjoyment from before!

Moreover, the food on the ship was rotting at a rapid speed, especially the canned meat that had been sealed. The corrosion was extremely fast. According to candy, the canned meat used a high-quality vacuum technology, it had a shelf life of at least three years, and the freshness of the meat would be guaranteed to a certain extent.

However, this did not seem to be the case. It was unknown whether it was a problem with the sealing technology of the canned meat or the environment here, because according to the chef's report, when the canned meat was opened, there was only half of it left, it was pitch black and reeked of rot, and it felt as if it had been eaten!

Morsenkin and I carefully examined these cans and found that there were no traces of them being opened, but there were indeed signs of them being eaten. This result was very unsettling, because even microbes shouldn't be able to enter this sealed can. Could it be that there was something wrong with the seal?

Just as we wrote this, there was a light knock on the door...

"Sir Engineer, the captain wants you to gather for a meeting!"

Lei Xue stopped writing when she heard that. She carefully put the diary into her pocket and slowly walked out.

As soon as the door opened, she smelled a faint musty smell. Until now, she had not found the source of this smell. It had been spreading on the ship since they entered the ice domain less than three hours ago, and she did not know why.., the entire ship gave people a gloomy feeling!

After walking out of the room, she followed the crew member and soon arrived at the conference room. The table in the middle of the conference room had been demolished, and more than a dozen senior crew members were sitting around a bonfire, at this time, everyone was using the most primitive method to keep warm.

However, this was the most useful method in the current experiment. Pure fire was the only thing that could bring warmth to people in this strange ice zone.

Therefore, a lot of unused wood on the ship was burned. The good news was that the wood was of high quality and could withstand burning. A small piece of wood could often burn for half a day... ..

"Lei Xue, come, come, sit here!" Li Goudan saw Lei Xue coming and quickly waved his hand.

Lei Xue did not waste time and quickly walked over. When she sat beside the fire, a long-lost warmth was felt. It was so comfortable that people almost moaned.

"Let's get down to business..." Li Goudan rubbed his hands and said, "Today is already the third day. There is no hope for us to walk forward. This captain is considering whether or not we should turn back and leave this icy domain!"

Everyone's spirits were lifted when they heard that!

After three days, this captain finally said something useful. She finally F * cking admitted defeat!

"Sir Captain, I feel that it is necessary!" The second mate was the first to speak in agreement. The surrounding people hurriedly nodded. It was obvious that they would go crazy if they stayed in this damned day.

Lei Xue also nodded slightly. The current situation was getting more and more strange. It was indeed not a wise choice to continue forward...

It was the first mate, Wang Ye, who said, "The food on the ship has already rotted by more than half. If we take a detour now, will we be able to reach our destination?"

Lei Xue: "The food on the ship has rotted for unknown reasons, but the fresh biological circulation system has not suffered any losses..."

Wang Ye: "But that shouldn't be enough for the hundreds of people on the ship, right?"

"It can be fished...". Lei Xue continued, "The ship has an advanced fishing system, and there are even conditions for hunting large-scale sea whales. As long as we leave this ice region, we can still rely on the fishing system to hunt sea creatures to meet our food needs. As for the lack of fruit, we can use the indoor greenhouse to grow high-grade sour fruits "...". "..."

"Are there no sea creatures in this ice region?" Wang ye asked curiously.

"Currently, there seems to be none...". "...". "...". Lei Xue's expression was solemn as she shook her head. "After discovering that a large amount of food had rotted, I activated the underwater detector to search for a new source of food. However, the strange thing is that there are no signs of life in this area of the sea. After traveling for two days, there are still no signs of life. It's just like the Dead Sea!"

Hearing this, everyone felt a chill in their hearts. Li Goudan slightly shrank his head. It was obvious that he regretted leading the team in on a spur of the moment.

Wang ye frowned and finally sighed. "In that case, I also support the retreat..."

He originally wanted to protect the captain's dignity. Although entering the ice domain seemed to be a wrong decision, he had already come this far. If there was a chance to persevere, he still hoped to persevere for a wave. After all, easily going back on his previous decision was very disadvantageous to the captain's position... ..

"In that case, turn around and return!" Li Goudan finally decided!

Seeing this decision, everyone secretly heaved a sigh of relief...

They were afraid that this captain would be bent on doing things his own way now...

After the decision was made, everyone hurriedly stood up and prepared to inform the crew. Although they were somewhat reluctant to part with the warmth of the bonfire, this news was clearly even more heartening...

Seeing that everyone was finally relieved, Li Goudan felt a little disappointed, seeing this, Wang Ye walked in and comforted him, "It's your first time. It's normal to make some mistakes. Outstanding people grow up from failure."

"Your chicken soup isn't tasty at all..." Li Goudan curled his lips and said.

Wang ye chuckled and said embarrassedly, "I'm from the Special Forces. This... my cultural level is limited... Hahaha..."

Li Goudan looked at his embarrassed look and couldn't help but laugh. Just as he was about to say something, he suddenly heard hurried footsteps from outside. Li Goudan immediately frowned and a bad feeling flashed through his heart.

"Captain! !" The person who came was second officer Wilson. He ran over in a hurry and shouted before he reached the meeting room, "There's a problem at the rear!"

"What's the situation?" Wang ye floated over. Although he looked like a ball, his years of experience as a special forces captain made his tone full of boldness.

“Rear... rear...” Wilson took a breath and stuttered, “It’s Frozen!”

“Huh?” Li Goudan suddenly stood up and rushed toward the deck.

Chapter 673: The Ice Field that can not be destroyed

Being frozen was literally what it meant. When Li Goudan came to the deck and saw the vast expanse of whiteness in front of him after turning around, he was completely stunned...

The back had unexpectedly turned from the sea of floating ice into a vast expanse of white ice field at some point in time.

“This is... When did this happen?” Li Goudan pointed to the front and asked in horror.

Some of the crew members lowered their heads. Observing the weather and the situation outside was what deck sailors were supposed to do, but the weather outside was too cold. The weather in front of the deck had been the same for the past few days, everyone casually looked at the front of the deck and went back to the cabin to warm up.

Basically, no one noticed the situation behind... ..

“Now is not the time to blame them...” Wang Ye floated out of the cabin and saw this scene with a solemn face. He quickly asked, “Is there a way to solve it?”

Although Lei Xue was also surprised, she was not flustered. She quickly said to Wang Ye’s question, “You can use firepower to forcefully break the ice surface. After breaking the ice layer, you should be able to continue moving forward!”

The firepower on the ship was what Lei Xue relied on in her heart. According to the instructions on the ship, the largest plastic cannon on the ship could instantly vaporize the deep sea waters at a depth of 4000 meters at a depth of 50 nautical miles!

With such firepower, it shouldn’t be a problem for them to break a path through the ice field ahead!

When Wang Ye heard that, he turned to look at Li Goudan, when Li Goudan heard that he could fire, he immediately said excitedly, “Then what are we waiting for? Hurry up, let’s use this Goudan’s Italian cannon... Ah Pui, let’s use this Goudan’s cannon. Let’s let this godforsaken place be filled with the might of the Goudan!”

Lei Xue:” ...”

These past few days, he had found a place to vent his frustrations. Egg Li was exceptionally excited, and the surrounding crew members were also excited when they heard this. It was clear that these past few days of being stifled had been quite unbearable.

Lei Xue gave a bitter smile. Seeing that everyone had no objections, she did not delay any further and directly used the virtual screen to activate the firepower equipment!

Activating the level 2 firepower equipment, permission requirement a!

Looking at the display on the screen, Lei Xue immediately pressed her hand seal. On this ship, other than the captain, there was only herself and Wang Ye who had grade a clearance. It was very rare for a chief engineer to have the right to fire. Lei Xue looked at Li Goudan, a strange feeling arose in her heart towards the other party's trust.

As she pressed her hand seal, countless cannons emerged from the ship's hull and aimed at the icy plains ahead...

The cannons were ready...

The target was confirmed...

The Energy Shield was activated...

One thousand meters ahead, Mark XXX, fire confirmed!

Rumble!

Following the confirmation of some electronic sounds, countless metal cannonballs were fired at the same time. In an instant, the shockwave formed by the powerful explosion was like the eye of a storm. It felt as if the entire sea surface was being ravaged by a strong wind above level 15, a leaf in the storm that was covered by the ability barrier seemed as if it would be torn into pieces in an instant.

However, it was that layer of light energy barrier that allowed the entire ship to not suffer the slightest damage.

When everyone saw the power that was so close to them, they were all dumbstruck. This included Lei Xue. It was not that she had never seen naval exercises before, but this was the first time she had witnessed such an explosion of firepower from such a distance!

Even though the manual stated the effect of the energy shield, she was still frightened by the shocking visual impact and retreated back.

She was like this as a developer, not to mention the other sailors, who were almost paralyzed on the ground from fear.

Li Goudan was also shaken quite badly, but it was unknown whether it was because he was an expert or something else, but the excitement on his face was clearly greater than the fear of being frightened...

Wang Ye also sucked in a breath of cold air. This firepower... ... This scene was much better than watching a movie... ..

Then, he looked at Li Goudan and was about to say something when he was stunned. This was because he saw Li Goudan's expression slowly turn from excitement to a strange one, followed by disbelief on his face...

What was going on?

Wang ye frowned and looked forward. However, due to the strong wind, he could not see what was happening in front of him at all. However, Li Goudan's expression made him feel a little uneasy.

Sure enough, after a few minutes, the turbulence caused by the fire gradually weakened, and the smoke slowly dispersed. After it dispersed, Wang Ye finally saw what Goudan couldn't believe.

The ice field didn't explode under such a fierce fire!

The snow on the ice field melted, revealing large patches of black ice, which stood in front of him unharmed like ink-stained ice cubes!

"This..." everyone was stunned. Clearly, they had not expected such a situation. ...

What the hell was this?

Li Goudan thought for a long time before finally pointing at the black block of ice and saying, "That's not an ice block. It's a diamond, right?"

Everyone:"..."

Lei Xue's face twitched. She only wanted to reply, "Your Diamond is so Big?"

But she still didn't say it out loud. If this kind of firepower couldn't be destroyed, then what else could it be?

"I remember... There is a higher level of firepower, isn't there?" Wang ye asked in a deep voice.

Lei Xue came back to her senses and quickly nodded. "Yes, the first level of firepower is the plastic energy main cannon on the second battery of the ship's hull. It has a high-intensity energy that can instantly evaporate 50 nautical miles, but the consumption is huge. The ship is equipped with a compressed energy container that can only fire three rounds. We need the captain's authorization!"

Ye Wang looked at Eggface Li when he heard that.

"Then what's there to hesitate about!" Eggface li said directly, "Hurry up and bring it up!"

Hearing that, Lei Xue opened the virtual screen and activated the first-level firepower.

Activating the first-level firepower and activating the second turret's plastic main cannon required authorization level: S rank!

Seeing that, Eggface Li hurriedly stepped forward and pressed his hand seal. As soon as he pressed it, he saw a huge turret appearing right in front of the deck. It gave people the feeling that it was as tall as a three-story building. Lei Xue was stunned when she saw it.

This was also the first time she saw this turret. She couldn't help but think to herself, how did such a huge turret hide on the deck? Wasn't this folding technique a little too exaggerated?

Just as she was thinking, the huge turret aimed at the black ice layer in front of her. The electronic voice began to send out a notification, "Level 1 firepower is in place. Please choose the energy form!"

The choice of the energy structure appeared on it. Lei Xue took a look. The instruction manual said that the main cannon itself had a huge energy conversion system, which could give pure energy attributes, for example, the ice attribute conversion, which was a huge amount of energy, could be used to freeze an area of more than 100 nautical miles at the speed of light!

What a terrifying weapon...

Lei Xue thought to herself. She estimated that if the warship on sphere D encountered it, how would they face a weapon of this level?

After hesitating for two seconds, she chose the fire attribute energy. Judging from the current situation, bestowing attributes should be a little more useful than pure energy...

After choosing, the system began to lock on the location. Notification: fire attribute energy may cause the sea to evaporate. Please activate Level 3 energy shield and enter the diving system!

As he spoke, a large number of metal plates appeared on the hull, quickly wrapping the entire hull. A few seconds later, a huge warship was forcibly transformed into a submarine-like appearance through machinery!

“DAMN!” Li Goudan was instantly excited. “It can still be like this?”

Wang ye narrowed his eyes slightly. Luo Fu’s machinery level was really too exaggerated. This wasn’t a ship, it was simply a transformer...

Seeing this, Lei Xue heaved a sigh of relief. The technology team had considered it very thoroughly back then. Once this kind of weapon was released, if it caused the sea surface to evaporate, it would be equivalent to the sea surface instantly becoming empty, the seawater at the side would instantly begin to fill up the empty patch. The current created would definitely be more exaggerated than a magnitude-14 earthquake!

An ordinary ship would probably be sucked into it and smashed into pieces in an instant!

The Energy Shield and the submarine mode were very necessary...

But even so, how could the shock caused be resolved?

Lei Xue thought to herself. Because many of the equipment in the cabin were very exquisite, the damage from the violent collision would definitely be huge. There were also the crew members. If they were not fixed, they would not be able to withstand this kind of shock.

But in the next second, she saw the solution. She saw a large number of bubbles suddenly appear on the hull. They were like a layer of film that enveloped the inside and outside of the hull as well as the various crew members.

Lei Xue was stunned. She suddenly remembered that the manual seemed to say that this kind of bubble was a safety device created by the Naga using water elements. It had extremely high anti-collision performance!

It was really magical...

Lei Xue and Wang Ye sighed in their hearts.

After all the preparations were completed, the electronic voice sounded again: loading energy. The main cannon will be fired in five seconds. All crew members, please get ready!

5,4,3...

Chapter 674: New Clues

Why... was it like this?

At this moment, everyone, including Lei Xue, had an extremely ugly expression on their faces...

All the protective equipment on the ship did not work. The situation that they had expected, such as the evaporation of the sea surface and the reverse flow of seawater, causing the falling and current of the sea, did not happen at all!

The virtual screen in front showed that after the huge energy beam hit the black ice, it was like a heavy hammer being thrown into cotton. There was no sound at all...

And what was even stranger was that as the energy cannon hit the black ice, the black ice began to expand visibly. Soon... .. It spread over and surrounded the entire ship!

This strange scene caused the entire deck to fall into silence. For almost a quarter of an hour, no one spoke. There wasn't even a sound of breathing. It was a strange silence.

After an unknown amount of time, Li Goudan finally reacted. He couldn't help but carefully ask, "This cannon... ?" ... lost its fire?

Everyone:"..."

Why did it feel like the moment the captain opened his mouth, the atmosphere was gone?

Lei Xue's brows were tightly knitted together. She felt that it shouldn't be possible, because the system had indeed shown that one-third of the ship's energy reserves had disappeared!

Moreover, that strange black layer of ice was spreading. It was obviously caused by the stimulation of energy.

But what exactly was the theory behind this?

Just as she was thinking, she saw the ship suddenly shake. The virtual screen quickly displayed that the bottom of the ship was completely frozen. Moreover, the ice surface was visibly continuing to spread further behind. Then, the broken ice area behind the ship also turned into an ice field with the naked eye... ..

Looking at this scene, Eggface said in a daze, "Then... under the current situation, does it mean that we have no chance to continue forward?"

Everyone:"..."

The second mate couldn't help but cover his head and said, "You don't have to repeat this kind of thing that everyone can understand, okay, Captain?"

"Shut up!" Wang ye frowned and glared at the second mate, then he looked at lei xue, "Is there any other function on the ship that can solve the current predicament?"

Lei Xue shook her head. At this time, unless the ship could fly... ..

“There’s still a way...” . “...”Lei Xue Thought for a moment and suddenly said, “There’s a small lifeboat on the ship that can be taken out to let everyone drag on the ice surface. We’ve been driving very slowly these two days, probably less than a hundred nautical miles. With enough supplies, pulling the ship a month later should be possible to return to the ice fragment area before we came. When that time comes, we’ll activate the lifeboat and leave!”

“The lifeboat uses a high-grade compression engine and has sufficient energy. It shouldn’t be a problem to sail back to the East Coast!”

Li Goudan bit his lip when he heard that. This method was practically asking them to give up on the Goudan and use the lifeboat to return.

Once they used this method, it was equivalent to giving up on this sailing mission... ..

Although Li Goudan didn’t care much about the political affairs of the Sea Emperor’s forces, he knew that the forces had paid a huge price to build this ship. It was basically impossible for the forces to have the money to build a second one, in other words, this mission could not afford to fail!

She had only sailed for about ten days, and she had already failed. Where would Goudan’s status be in the martial arts world in the future?

However, the current situation clearly did not allow her to continue being stubborn because of her face.

Li Goudan looked at the crew behind her. She had been in contact with these crew members for a long time and could not treat them as npcs. Although she was decisive in killing overseas, she still valued her own people very much.

Thinking of this, she did not hesitate much and asked, “How many lifeboats are there? Is it enough for all of us to retreat?”

“Yes!”Lei Xue nodded. “There are a total of ten lifeboats. Each boat can accommodate thirteen people and a month’s worth of food and supplies. Moreover, there are freshwater machines and fishing systems on board. Even if there is no food, we can still go back safely!”

“What about during this period of time when we were tugging the boats?”Wang ye frowned. “Isn’t the food spoiled? How are we going to make it through this period of time?”

Lei Xue said, “There is nutrient fluid. We have checked and found that the nutrient fluid has not spoiled. It can support us for nearly two months. Moreover, there are some food that has not spoiled, such as dried meat, sausages, and the like...” . “...”

“Phew...”Li Goudan finally sighed and nodded, “Then that’s it. Arrange it as soon as possible. There’s something wrong here. Hurry up and evacuate before something else happens...”

Lei Xue nodded. Just as she was about to make a move, a flustered voice suddenly came from the cabin, “Captain...”

Li Goudan frowned. What happened this time?

A blonde woman dressed as a waiter rolled out with bubbles. She looked very silly and cute. Li Goudan was stunned. He looked at her and said, "What are you doing? Aren't you staying in the cabin at this time?"

"There's a new discovery!" The waiter quickly took out a gray book from his pocket. There was a layer of gray leather jacket on the outside. It looked like a notebook...

"What's This?" Asked Li Goudan with a frown.

"A diary!" The waiter said with a terrified expression, "It's the diary of the victim!"

"Henry?" Lei Xue's expression changed, and she quickly took the diary!

Judging from Henry's performance, the other party must have been to this place. In that case, his diary would have a high intelligence value.

After all... .. ! He had successfully escaped from this place alive!

Thinking of this, she quickly opened the diary. Beside her, Li Goudan and Wang Ye came over. "I want to read what's written!"

Lei Xue Thought for a moment and decided to put the diary on the virtual screen. She let the virtual screen magnify the contents of the diary. Thus, just like watching a powerpoint presentation in the meeting room, everyone saw the contents of Henry's diary on the huge virtual screen.

Under the curious gaze of the crowd, Lei Xue slowly turned the pages, but as the diary read one by one, the crowd's face became more and more strange...

"Still no news?" Seer in the general base position some anxious back and forth pace.

AI: "A flying robot has been sent out to probe that location. The area of that teleportation point is more than 2,000 nautical miles. There is still no sign of the dog egg..."

"It's Gone?" Xi Ye's brows were tightly knitted as she thought of all sorts of possibilities.

AI: "From the looks of it... It's like this!"

Xi Ye: "If that's the case, tell ice cap to temporarily stop the test of her other ship passing through the eye of the wind. Before we figure out what happened to Goudan, we can't let the players take any more risks!"

AI: "I'll inform that side immediately!"

Rain Girl, Wu Gua, saw that Ai did not say anything and asked with a frown, "Is Li Goudan still alive?"

"He should still be alive...". Xi Ye looked at Li Goudan's brain backup and said, "Even if there's a situation where he can't be revived, there will still be a display here. That means that Li Goudan should still be alive." ... But... .. this doesn't mean that it's good news!"

Rainy girl nodded solemnly. Not dying did not mean that he was fine. For players, being controlled was much worse than dying. No one knew what would happen if they were controlled... ..

Chapter 675: Henry's Diary (I)

I finally applied for the right to explore this route. Of course, I had expected this result, so I wasn't surprised...

Tanzania terraz was a place rich in mechanical alchemists. The scientific atmosphere was thick, but it lacked the adventurous spirit of an island nation. This caused the bounty to be issued for more than three months, however, there was still no corresponding call from the nobles in the country.

As a member of the Alliance of Islands, it seemed a little uncooperative not to send a noble with weight to participate in this matter. At that time, I smelled an opportunity, the nobles with weight didn't want to participate in such an adventure, but the empire had to give face to the alliance. In this country, they seemed to have some weight, but in reality, they were unimportant people, who else could it be other than myself, who had the royal bloodline but was ostracized?

May 7th:

Although I had started preparing three months ago, there was still not enough time. After various lobbying and exhausting all of my family's wealth, I finally arrived at the victory and triumph, two large ships with advanced equipment, i gathered enough supplies.

Of course, the sacrifices were great. Everything that could be sold at home was sold. The collectibles, the shares in the tobacco company, the land in Cyril, including my most profitable shops, i left my wife and children with almost nothing. I was like a gambler who had given up everything, but I believed that I would succeed. Today's sacrifice was the necessary setback to make her a duchess, i will not forget my wife's sacrifice to me, including her spending time with that disgusting seafood merchant for me!

Oh, my God, that squid-smelling guy. Yatia's sacrifice is so great... ..

May 10:

After hiring enough people, my two ships were finally ready to set sail. I hesitated for a long time that day. I even talked to Yatia about letting her sail with me, but she said she couldn't risk the children. She decided to stay and raise those two children for me... ..

I guess I must have saved the world in my previous life. Otherwise, how could I have married such a good wife. I swear, when I return rich and powerful, I will definitely make up for her grievances a hundred times over...

When they saw this, the group of people had strange expressions, especially doggie. He directly pointed at the virtual screen and said, "This doggie knew that he was a loser. I didn't expect that he would even sell his wife. He still dares to keep such a shameful thing in his diary?"

The group of people nodded repeatedly...

Lei Xue Sighed and looked at the group of people. The gossipy heart of the world could really cancel out all the terrible things. Now that they were in such a situation, they were actually interested in whether someone sold his wife or not...

Then, she ignored the group of people and continued to flip through the rest of the content... ..

The rest of the content was mostly about the boring daily life at sea and how this guy missed his family. Lei Xue frowned and quickly flipped through the content. Finally, in January of the second year, she saw what she wanted to see.

January 1, year 1146 of the new demon era:

This day was originally the revival festival in Tanzantritz. Tanzantritz, which started from agriculture, valued the spring revival festival very much. In order to maintain the mentality of the crew, I decided to hold a celebration to raise the morale. May the new year have a new beginning...

The celebration was set at noon. We were prepared to celebrate the whole day to vent out the boring days at sea. Of course, first, we had to get someone to clean up the poop and urine on the deck. That would slightly affect the atmosphere. There was nothing we could do about it, the only people on the ship who could have independent toilets were the captain and the captain. Everyone else could only do it on the deck.

In order to make it more lively, the celebration was set for the triumph, which had a wider deck. I took out the sausage and my wine from the ship. Since it was a celebration, I tried to make it better.

As a result, as soon as we arrived on the triumph, someone reported that there was a large amount of floating ice ahead... ..

The news extinguished my enthusiasm for the party... ..

January 2:

We circled the ice for almost a whole day, but the size of the ice was beyond my imagination. It felt endless, and we couldn't get around it until it was dark...

At that time, I even had the illusion that we were going in the wrong direction. This was the east, not the north and South Poles, right?

How could there be such a large ice floe?

Finally, I knew that we couldn't go on like this. Because of the Detour, we were getting farther and farther away from the predicted route. If we were to Detour, it would probably take a long time to get back to that route.

Moreover, I had already been drifting at sea for more than half a year. Considering that there was still at least half a year to go before the forecast, the supplies would be a little tight if we were to make a detour. This included not encountering any other special circumstances.

Therefore, I proposed to directly cross this ice floe!

After this proposal was proposed, it met with a large number of people's objections. The one with the loudest objection was the captain of the victorious return. He felt that this was too risky, and crossing this large ice floe was very difficult, once the propeller was jammed by the ice breaker, it was highly likely that the main engine power system of the ship would be damaged. This wasn't the worst of it. If the temperature inside continued to drop, the ice floe would become a solid ice field, and they would be trapped inside, at that time, it would truly be a disaster!

I scoffed at his words. Sailing was a risky thing to begin with. How could you achieve anything if you always wanted to be safe. If the prince whom I had supported in the past had listened to my decisiveness, he might have had a chance to fight for it instead of waiting for his death...

After several arguments, both sides were unconvinced. However, as the ship's highest officer, in theory, he could directly make the decision. In the end, Sean (the captain of the victorious return) suggested that they split up into two groups, the victorious return, which had a stronger ability to break through ice, would be in charge of crossing the ice domain, while the victory, which had a stronger power, would continue to make a detour!

This would at least guarantee the safety of a ship!

I initially opposed this proposal, but this was clearly Sean's last resort. Although I was his commanding officer, I was from a poor royal family, and my prestige among the sailors was obviously not comparable to Sean, who had many years of sailing experience!

In the end, I accepted his proposal, but made a slight modification.

His suggestion was that he would lead the triumph to attempt crossing the ice zone, while I would lead the victory to take a safer detour.

The seemingly loyal decision gave me a whiff of conspiracy. I thought to myself: what if this ice domain wasn't as serious as the other party said it was?

He crossed it easily and arrived at the eastern continent before me. After obtaining the information and the opportunity, perhaps all the credit would go to him. Wouldn't I be doing this for others?

Of course, it wouldn't be allowed for me to take the risk and have him turn back to operate the victory to go around the ice domain. Once the ice domain was really that dangerous, the victorious return wouldn't be able to come out, and all my efforts would belong to him.

After much consideration, I decided to go on the victorious return to the ice domain with Sean. I made my trusted adjutant, Polly, the captain of the victorious return to go around the ice domain. I told him that if he wasn't able to come out of the ice domain... He had to take care of his wife and daughter when he got back...

So, that day, I loaded more than half of my supplies onto the triumph. From tomorrow onwards, I would enter the ice. I hoped that the god of the sea would bless me and return safely. My family was still waiting for me to return in triumph... ..

Chapter 676: Henry's Diary (in)

The worst had happened, and just as Sean had said, we were really stuck!

On the third day of the voyage, there was more and more ice in front of them, more and more dense, and many times they had to step aside carefully when encountering large ice floes, moving at the speed of a turtle, if it had been like this all along, it might not have been as efficient as taking a detour.

But today, that kind of turtle has become a luxury. Because after one night, we don't know when, but the surface of the sea where our ship is located has been frozen. From front to back, we can see a vast expanse of ice, and the ship is trapped in place.

I have asked the crew to try many ways to get out of the predicament, including cutting ice or blasting, but none of them have worked. It is obvious that man-made methods are no longer able to get the ship off the frozen ice.

Having never been on a long voyage before, I panicked. I asked Sean What to do next? He said that the only way to get out now was to wait for the weather to warm up and the ice to melt.

I asked: Will the ice definitely melt?

Sean's answer was no, and he told me what might happen if it didn't. If we were lucky, the ice would get thicker and thicker. If we could get the ship up, then the ship could start, but if I was unlucky and the boat got crushed under the ice, the boat would break and they would lose their chance of survival.

I had thought about sending a lifeboat back for help, but the victory wouldn't wait for us. It had been ordered to keep going. Perhaps it had already bypassed the ice pack?

For the first time, I regretted my decision. If I had listened to Sean and kept going, I would still be bathing in the spring sunshine?

I was praying that the victory would not arrive so soon. Polly's loyalty was undeniable, but if he thought I was dead.., he would not only get my glory and wealth, but also my beautiful Yatiana!

God, I can't imagine what I would do to my remarried wife and Polly, who promised to take care of my wife and daughter...

January 30:

We've been stuck in this hellhole for 23 days. According to Sean, the ice will melt in May or June, which means we'll have to stay in this hellhole for another three months!

Supplies aren't a problem. After all, I've brought two years' worth of canned food. I wouldn't starve to death even if I was stuck here for a year, and there's a fresh water supply on board.

I was wondering if chief mate Polly would come to my rescue if he found resources in the eastern continent?

February 6:

The ship began to have problems. Most of the food had started to rot. There was a strange musty smell on the ship at any time. The chef said that the best way to deal with the Rot was to put more salt. Those crew members would not be able to eat it!

I did not know how to say this, but I really could not publicize this matter at this time. Otherwise, I might not be able to control these crew members, after all, a small amount of food with no signs of decay is enjoyed by the higher-ups like us. If this situation is discovered, there might be a riot!

February 8:

The condition of the sailors on the ship was getting worse. Their faces were pale, swollen, and their teeth were slowly turning black. They were emitting an inexplicable stench whenever they spoke.

The most important thing was their eyes. For some reason, the eyes of the sailors were gradually turning green. They were wandering on the deck at night like zombies. The situation was very unsettling.

February 11th: the situation of the sailors was becoming more and more obvious. In just a few days, the originally fat and strong sailors had become bony. The skeletons on their faces could be seen with the naked eye, it gave the feeling that there was no flesh under the skin. They were like skeletons in human skin!

The changes in the sailors made me very uneasy. Logically speaking, although we had secretly asked the chefs to feed the sailors rotten food, the quantity had never been less. How could they all be so thin?

Even the slums, who ate only a piece of black bread a day, should not have become like this, right?

The strange thing was that the crew did not seem to be aware of the change in themselves. From the beginning to the end, not a single crew member raised any objections. They were so honest that it was a little scary... ..

February 13th:

We called a meeting of the ship's upper management to discuss the condition of the crew. The second and third officers thought that it was not a big problem. Although the crew looked scary, they were calm and worked hard, there was nothing unusual.

But the chief engineer, Sean, and I felt that something was not right. Although the crew did not do anything, they sometimes looked at people not as people but as food, and this appearance was definitely not just food spoilage. Sean thought that there might be magic images here!

February 15th:

The third mate was missing!

It was as if he had disappeared without a trace. We searched the whole cabin but couldn't find him. Some crew members said they saw the third mate walk off the ship alone last night, but I couldn't believe the crew's testimony.

I thought something terrible must have happened to the third mate, and it was most likely the crew!

I found Sean and told him about the terrible speculation in my mind, hoping that he could give me some ideas.

Like me, Sean also suspected that something was wrong with these sailors. According to him, these sailors were all excellent retired Sears Navy, and their reputation and professional ethics were top-notch, he had worked with them more than once, and in theory, there shouldn't be any problems.

However, the recent changes in their bodies were strange. It was likely that there was some unknown magic in this place that had caused them to undergo some terrible changes.

However, there was no evidence. If he were to rashly dispose of them, he would have to get rid of all the crew members. However, with such a large ship, if there were no other crew members, it would be difficult to guarantee that they could continue sailing after the ice plains melted. At the very least, the people from the engine department would have to stay behind. They would have to rely on them to maintain the engine for the next few months... ..

After a few discussions, Sean suggested that they first settle the matter. After that, the two of them could sleep in the same room. He would personally protect their own safety!

Sean was a high-level Silver Knight. In terms of strength, he could take care of all the crew members by himself. With his protection, I felt much more at ease.

At the same time, I felt a little guilty towards Sean. If I had listened to his words back then, I might not have been in such a passive situation!

February 18th:

I heard a terrible thing today. I had wanted to get up early in the morning to check on the engine, but I suddenly heard the people in the engine room whispering about something.

I didn't trust the crew these days, so I decided to take this opportunity to listen to a group of people and see what they were up to.

But what happened next was too scary. They said that I had been acting crazy lately, talking to myself all the time, and talking about Shawn all the time, but the crew was talking about who Shawn was?

Some of the crew members suspected that I had seen a ghost, and some of the crew members said that I was hallucinating because I was too nervous?

These words made me feel completely confused. I quickly went back to my room to record everything, but the crew didn't know who Shawn was?

Are you kidding me? As a crew member of the triumph, they didn't know who their captain was. This was someone I had paid a lot of money to hire... ..

Huh?

That's not right... .. When did I hire Sean? Where did Sean come from? Why Can't I remember?

Damn it! !

What the hell is going on?

No, no, no!

I suddenly had a suspicion. Why would I hire an outsider to be the captain? Isn't Polly just an experienced sailor? Why would I let him be the second officer?

Is it true that... there is no such person as Sean?

Then who is the guy I've been talking to for the past few days?

Someone's at the door. Damn it, it's Sean. What should I do? Who Am I supposed to trust?

Chapter 677 Henry's Diary -PartpTwo two)

It was a terrible situation. I had never been in such a strange situation since I was born, but I had to calm down.

There were two kinds of situations I was facing. One was that the crew was lying. They had anticipated their eavesdropping and had concocted this lie in order to make me doubt Henry's greatest strength.

The second scenario was that the crew members were telling the truth. If that was the case, then everything he had seen in the past few days might be wrong. For example, the terrible appearance of the sailors... ..

To be honest, the second scenario was very likely. Normally, a person wouldn't become like this after eating bad food for a few days, right? If everything was his hallucination, then it seemed to make sense!

But now... .. It didn't seem like an illusion... ..

Henry looked at the shaking wood shavings on the wooden door and the soft knocking on the door... ..

"Come in!" Henry chose to take the initiative. He had to take the risk to figure this out.

"Captain!" Sean closed the door with a serious face and walked quickly to Henry's desk.

Henry looked at the closed door and his heart tightened, but he tried his best to remain calm.

"What's the matter? Why Are You So Nervous?"

As he spoke, Henry carefully observed Sean's image... ..

Tall and sunny, with a firm and rigid face, a tall skeleton, a strong body, and a pair of eyes as sharp as an eagle. It was exactly the image of a tough soldier!

He could even clearly see the hair on his body and the faint body odor on his body. All of this constantly reminded him that the guy in front of him was a living person, not some bullshit illusion!

"The second mate is missing!" Sean said with a serious face.

"What?" Henry was so shocked that he jumped out of his seat.

"I asked him to check the background of the crew, but I couldn't find him. I looked everywhere on the ship before I came here...". Sean said in a serious tone, "I'm now sure that he is no longer on this ship!"

Henry:"..."

The second mate is missing too?

The senior crew members are missing one after another. What does that mean?

Henry's heart grew colder and colder, but he still managed to suppress his emotions. He tried his best to remain calm. He looked up and asked, "What do you think we should do now?"

Shawn said, "The two deputies are missing. This is definitely not an accident. There is something wrong with these crew members!"

Henry was silent for a while. Finally, he asked in a low voice, "If there is something wrong with them, can you guarantee that one person will kill them?"

Sean frowned, in the end, he said, "In the past, when they were not problematic, I could guarantee that. But now, they have become like that. It is difficult to guarantee that they are still as strong as before. Haven't you noticed that the crew members have become very strong recently?"

Henry was stunned. He just remembered that the crew members seemed to be working very efficiently these days. Sometimes, one person could move the heavy objects of several people. Logically speaking, they should not have the strength to move the heavy objects when they were so hungry...

Sean continued, "I heard that the combat strength of cursed creatures usually increases exponentially. It's not rational to confront them directly."

"Then what do you think we should do?" Henry asked humbly.

"I propose to divide...". Sean narrowed his eyes and said, "Divide the team into three to four teams to explore different places, using the excuse of going out to find food or a new way out. We will be responsible for one of the teams. When we are far away, I can try to kill fewer sailors or control them for interrogation!"

"Well..." Henry hesitated for a moment and then asked, "What if... there is no problem with these crew members, and we killed the wrong one?"

"If we killed the wrong one, we will say that we were killed outside!" Sean said in a low voice, "In this situation, we don't need evidence, we just need to have suspicions!"

Henry was stunned, and after looking at Sean blankly for a while, he nodded. "Let me think about it... well... how about this, you go and gather the other high-level officials who did not mutate into the meeting room and prepare for the meeting!"

"Okay!" Sean didn't seem to notice the change in Henry's attitude towards him. He stood up and walked out obediently.

After the other party closed the door, Henry quickly took out his diary and wrote down everything.

He wrote everything down in the diary and finally did some analysis...

If it was the first case, the soldiers had problems. Sean's suggestion was a very feasible plan, but if it was the second case... ..

If it was the second case, and all of this was my hallucination, then what was Sean? Why did he split up the team? Was it to weaken the team?

But he was a silver knight himself, if he wanted to, he and all of the crew combined could not defeat him...

No...

If my memory was fake, then the other party's Silver Knight's information might also be fake, and the other party might not have the strength, so it needed to split us up, and attack when we were few in number...

Which one is it? Who Should I trust?

I know I don't have a lot of time to think about it. I have to make a choice at the meeting. I have to choose a side to believe in!

-----

"and then? No?" See here Li Goudan Leng, looked at Lei Xue... . .

"It seems to be..." Lei Xue turned two pages to the back, obviously there was no new diary content, suddenly frowned... ..

Lei Xue:"..."

Wang Ye looked at the two ship doctors who were in charge of Henry for the past two days and said in a low voice, "Can we try to use drugs to wake him up?"

Apothecary Perkins heard this and said in a low voice, "The patient's condition is quite bad. If we use stimulant drugs to wake him up at this time, the possibility of failure is very high, and the possibility of brain death is also very high!"

"How high is the probability?" Lei Xue asked.

At this time, there was actually a small chance that they could give it a try. After all, the information that that guy had was very crucial.

"More than 90% ..." Perkins said solemnly.

When Lei Xue heard this, she immediately fell silent. This probability was basically no different from nothing. It meant that convincing the other party to wake up with the stimulant drug depended on a miracle... ..

However, this guy's life was still a little important. He was the middleman who could lead the western islands. He was not the kind of passerby who could be abandoned at any time. It was not worth it to bet on the probability of a miracle.

Wang ye comforted eggface li, "Captain, at least that diary still has some information. First of all, rotten food must not be used."

“That may not be true...” Lei Xue shook her head, “Or maybe it is as the other party said, these are all illusions... because logically speaking, our food sealing technology is so good, it is unlikely that there will be a short-term situation of decay.”

“Then... you mean we... eat as usual?” Goudan Li asked in a daze.

“The key is how this Henry chose...” Lei Xue looked at the diary and narrowed her eyes, “He was able to successfully walk out of here, so he obviously made the right choice...”

“I think... He didn’t choose to believe the crew...” Ye Wang suddenly said.

“Why?” Everyone looked at him.

Wang Ye pointed to the southwest with a strange expression. Everyone looked in the direction that the other party pointed to, but they found that, at some point in the distance, about a kilometer away, there seemed to be a huge wooden ship standing on the ice!

Those with better vision could clearly see the huge symbol carved on the ship. On it was clearly written: victorious return! !

Chapter 678: The Specters!

“When did this thing come here?” A group of people stood under the triumphant return and looked at the old ship with a very retro structure. The wooden structure, the huge sail, and the huge chimney...

It was filled with the style of an old ship from the 17th century. For the Li Goudan people, they would usually only encounter it in movies or ancient Western fantasy games.

However, the color was a little dark. The entire ship did not look like a ship that was sailing a few months ago. Instead, it looked like it had been here for a century. The hull of the ship was obviously moldy... ..

“I’ll go up and take a look. Second Mate, you bring two people with me. Third Mate, you stay here and protect Wang Ye and the others...” Goudan Li looked up and said.

Wang ye frowned. To be honest, he did not want Goudan Li to take such a risk. However, with his current appearance, he could not say such tough words.

The third mate, Johnny, and the second mate, Wilson, looked at each other. Then, big beard Wilson suggested, “Why don’t Johnny and I bring some people up to take a look? The captain can wait down there!”

“No...” Li Goudan shook her head. “I think it’s better for me to go up and take a look myself!”

She looked up faintly. Just now, she vaguely saw some movement up there...

The two of them looked at each other again and finally nodded, because the master had said before they came that they had to listen to the captain completely.

The second mate picked a few strong crew members. These crew members each brought their own professional weapons, a one-handed sword that was suitable for fighting in a small space, a sharp dagger, and a crossbow!

Wang ye glanced at the cold weapons. These daggers and crossbows all had a faint green light attached to them. The quality was excellent, and the shining sharpness felt like it could cut through the air at any time.

He had heard that the weapons that the armed sailors were equipped with were all of the finest quality custom-made from the cabbage tribe. It was said that they could easily cut large chunks of steel essence like tofu, and they even had an elemental effect attached to them.

And these armed sailors were not simple either. They were the elite guards that were once responsible for protecting the great mage of the Steel Martial Empire. Each of them had the strength of a bronze-rank!

Wang Ye did not really understand the concept of a bronze-rank. Usually, when he was bragging, he did not think that these armed sailors were any different from ordinary sailors. However, now that they encountered an emergency, he could see it clearly.

The breathing of these individuals suddenly became like thunder when they were preparing for battle. When more than a dozen of them breathed at the same time, they felt a little like the scene when a furnace compressed gas. The surrounding air was being pulled...

Moreover, after taking off their cotton-padded clothes, their muscles bulged. When they were tense, their blood vessels were like coiled steel bars, and their bodies were emitting hot air that was as vigorous as a furnace!

He had encountered this kind of feeling from the disciples of the sects who cultivated the physical sanctification technique, but they were all at the level of elders and disciples. At this moment, the sailors who were usually in charge of opening the sewer also had this level of skill. It made him feel rather strange... ..

Third Mate Johnny directly took out a pitch-black broadsword and placed it on his shoulder. The gigantic broadsword felt about the same size as the others, exuding an eerie cold light. Moreover, his breathing was even more exaggerated.., it was as if he had sucked out the surrounding air, forming a golden energy that enveloped his entire body!

If the locals of the empire saw this, they would definitely know that this was the exclusive combat aura of a Gold Knight!

F * ck, why was he so Manly?

Lei Xue looked at the rebar-like muscles of the sailors and could not help but swallow a mouthful of saliva. Normally, they would not be able to tell that they were all dressed in cotton-padded clothes and looked like they were moving bricks on a construction site... ..

“En...” Li Goudan nodded. “The few of you will stay below to protect Lei Xue and the rest. If you are attacked, remember to call for help. I will rush back immediately...”

“UH...”the two officers were stunned. They had not expected such an outcome after showing off their strength just now... ..

Moreover, the captain seemed very calm...

“Let’s Go...”as he spoke, Goudan Li took the lead and walked towards the ladder by the side of the ship, the two first officers looked at each other in a daze. Finally, Wilson nodded to the third officer, Johnny. He took a short sword and followed with a few others.

Li Goudan stepped lightly on the side of the ship. He was like an elegant snowflake as he flew onto the ship. The sailors were stunned.

Wilson did not want to be outdone. He bent his legs slightly. Then, he jumped and flew onto the ship like a cannonball...

With a bang, Wilson landed heavily. He felt the entire ship shake!

He looked at Li Goudan beside him and said, “Captain, why don’t I scout the way first...”

Before he could finish his words, his vision suddenly blurred. Li Goudan, who had been beside him just now, instantly turned into an afterimage. By the time he reacted, Li Goudan was long gone. He immediately inhaled a breath of cold air, then, he heard the sound of metal clashing not far away!

Wilson was startled and rushed to the sound, body burst, as a golden knight in less than half a second he jumped over a dozen meters to the bow of a dark corner.

Then he saw the captain was confronting a tall man with a fine one-handed sword in his hand, who was wrestling with the captain’s weapon. ... Uh... ? . Ice Chips?

Wilson took a deep breath when he saw what Li Goudan was holding. It was just a piece of ordinary thin ice.

The opponent was even more surprised than Wilson, watching his royal enchanted dagger was slowly cut open like a thin piece of ice like tofu, if not in the corner of nowhere to retreat, he would have been scared to jump away!

Who Was this woman?

Wilson, who had rushed over, was also shocked by this scene. He thought to himself, no wonder master placed so much importance on her and gave such a big ship to her... ..

“Who are you?”Li Goudan asked in the common language of the alliance as he slowly used the thin layer of ice to cut the other party’s dagger.

Looking at his dagger that was almost completely cut off, Wilson’s heart went cold. However, when he heard the other party’s words, he was immediately stunned. “Someone from the Alliance?”Then, he revealed a pleasantly surprised expression, i’m Sean Alfa, Captain of the royal fleet triumph of the Land of Tanzania. Who Am I speaking with “Sean?”Dog-egg Lee cocked his head. It sounded familiar.

Wait, isn’t that what the guy in the diary said about hallucinations?

-----
In the distance, Marina, who was dressed in fine silk, looked at Li Goudan through a crystal on the boat very clearly.

At this moment, their ship was very far away from Goudan Li and the others. However, on the bow of the ship, a huge naked eye was like a precision telescope. It could clearly see Goudan Li and the others. The scene was so high-definition that one could even see a hair...

“This skill... is a bit exaggerated, isn't it?” Another tall undead said in a hoarse voice.

Using this huge naked eye, they slowed down by sixteen times, but they still couldn't see Goudan Li's movements clearly...

“It's good to be a little more aggressive...” marina looked at Li Goudan's image faintly. “Just let her keep that damn thing in check!”

Chapter 679 The Inside Story of the ice plains...

Naturally, Li Goudan and the others did not know that, tens of thousands of meters away, a level-7 undead creature that the seer Lord had asked them to pay attention to was crawling on the ice!

That's right, it was crawling. The undead creature that looked like a ship was currently relying on the huge pale palms at the bottom of the ship to slowly crawl on the snow that had no water. It was like a thousand water ghosts that were carrying the huge ship forward.

This strange phenomenon was something that marina and the other undead creatures that had lived for more than a thousand years were already used to. Under the Lord's hands, they had seen even more strange and terrifying existences...

Of course, this was not the case for the few survivors on the ship!

The sailors on the victory that had survived together with first mate Polly were trembling on the deck at this moment. Looking at the countless centipede-like pale giant hands below the ship, they all felt goosebumps all over their bodies!

Even though their goosebumps had never calmed down in the past few days!

Just like the interior of the cabin, compared to the bloody eyes, teeth, and inexplicable tentacles outside the cabin, the interior of the cabin looked much more normal at first glance. It was a high-quality black heavy wood..., it was wrapped in soft leather with excellent contact, especially on the walls. It was delicate and white. Whether it was the feeling or the appearance, it was like the snow-white skin of a young girl. However, if one accidentally touched the walls, they would let out a shrill scream..., that sound was like the suffering of a young girl being skinned. It was so shrill that it made one's scalp go numb!

How could there be such a ghost ship?

The few of them huddled together and held each other's hands tightly to keep warm. At this moment, only the temperature between the few survivors could barely make them feel slightly at ease. Only then could they feel that they were still alive.

Although it was possible that they were living in hell...

Very soon, Marina came out. She was dressed in exquisite silk, but in such cold weather, she was dressed like a midsummer, revealing her perfect curves and snow-white skin.

If it were a different scene, the sailors present might have been mesmerized by the woman in front of them, because she was indeed beautiful enough, and she had an incomparably elegant noble temperament!

"Why did we leave these mortals behind?" A man next to them, whose entire body was wrapped in bandages, asked in a hoarse voice, the man, whose face was as gloomy and terrifying as a zombie's, asked in a hoarse voice, "Didn't we get all the information we needed? You left them alive, and this ship is very dissatisfied with you!"

Obviously, his image and his words were very compatible with this terrifying ship, and they couldn't help but tremble.

"Because we need living people..." Marina smiled slightly, her smile was as beautiful as a blooming flower. "Do you still remember that biological arsenal?"

Upon hearing this, Bengal Goode's zombie-like face revealed a moved expression.

He was naturally moved not because of her beautiful smile, but because of what she said!

The interior of the Arsenal that Marina mentioned was also known as the Terror Arsenal. He had only been there once, but that one time was enough for him to decide that he would never go to that damned place again!

It was a terror processing factory that could warp creatures and souls to make biological weapons. The methods inside were unimaginable, and it made even him, a terror duke who used to torture for pleasure, feel a chill run down his spine, the light shadow creature that had attacked a few players back then was one of the products produced in the Armory!

After the Lord disappeared, the armory was temporarily sealed by Kersu. Because the lord was not around, no one was confident that they could control those damn things... ..

"Why are you mentioning that thing?" Bengal Goode frowned.

"Because there's one here too!" Marina laughed!

Bengal Goode's body stiffened when he heard that. He turned around and looked at her in surprise.

"Are you kidding? Why is there that thing here?"

"It's an experiment!" Marina smiled and said, "You joined late and didn't know about this. When master first established our organization, he originally wanted to quickly take down the western islands with the rule of terror, instead of hiding in the dark like now. So in the beginning, when the conditions were not ripe, he controlled Kersu remotely and built the world's first terror arsenal..." "..."

“Then... what was the result?” Bengal Goode asked carefully.

“Of course it was a failure!” Marina said faintly, “Otherwise, why would they have been hiding in the dark for so long?”

“It was a failure...” Bengal Goode looked around and became vigilant.

“It seems that you have realized it...” Marina smiled and said, “The failure of the experiment led to the complete loss of control of the thing that was created. The Crystal City, Mithilina, has a population of 500,000 people, and none of them survived! !”

“Mithilina?” Bengal Goode frowned. “Didn’t... didn’t you do that?”

In the history of the alliance, there were all kinds of records about bloody Queen Marina, and the most memorable one was the massacre of Mithilina, it was rumored that this queen, who loved blood magic, used the blood of the entire city to obtain the mystery of eternal life!

“You believe that?” Marina looked at him strangely. “I didn’t eat too much. Even if I wanted to live forever, why would I slaughter my own people?”

Bengal Goode was stunned and subconsciously thought, ‘because you’re a pervert...’.

However, he didn’t say it out loud in the end. Moreover, what Marina said was the truth. When Marina was in power, the storm kingdom’s military was powerful, and it almost became a nightmare for the western archipelago countries, even if they wanted to slaughter, they should do it to outsiders...

“So... This history is a lie?”

“How many things in history are not a lie?” Marina sneered, “After all, that thing is written by people, right?”

“Then... What does this have to do with US keeping these living people?” Bengal Goode quickly asked.

“That thing... will prioritize attacking the living life...” Marina looked at the sailors who were huddled together in the corner. Then, she looked at her long, white arms. Although she had used her makeup skills to make her rotten body as beautiful as when she was alive, the thick foundation and perfume could not cover up the faint smell of corpses...

“I see...” Bengali Gudrun nodded, but then she asked, “Do you know what that thing is? What’s its characteristic? You saw that woman’s skill just now. It’s impossible for ordinary things to take advantage of her.”

“If that thing could be solved with skill, then all of Mithilina wouldn’t be dead!” Marina sneered, “That thing is very strange...”

After saying that, she didn’t continue the topic and slowly walked to the front of the deck. Her dark green eyes looked forward, with a complicated expression, she said, “Finally, they are back. I wonder if the people who stayed here still remember their former Queen!”

“Eh?” Bengal Goode was stunned and thought to himself, what does this mean?

Then, he raised his head and saw that after the vast ice field, there was actually a huge city. With a good view, he saw that in the center of the city, there was a towering crystal tower standing in the middle!

“Crystal Tower?” Bengal Goode looked forward in disbelief and thought to himself, could it be... ? . This is the place where the once disappeared mithilina?

Chapter 680: Sean...

“What... What’s going on?” After Li Goudan brought the man who called himself Sean off the ship, the group of people stared at him blankly... ..

“The captain of the triumph? Henry’s hired Captain?” Lei Xue asked with a frown.

“You know Captain Henry?” Sean was overjoyed. “As expected, are you the rescue force sent by the Alliance? which country are you from?”

As he spoke, he looked at the yellow-skinned Lei Xue and was slightly stunned. There were many races in the western islands. The high-class race had fair skin, three-dimensional facial features, and the low-class race had primitive skin, the nobles had turned them into a completely unevolved race.

However, people like Lei Xue, who had delicate facial features but yellow skin, were rarely seen, and... ? The surrounding crew members were also very strange. Some of them even had fish-like scales. Could they be from the Strange Alliance?

On the islands, there were some people who had been persecuted by alchemy experiments. Most of them were originally slaves or captives. They were used by biological alchemists for biological experiments in an attempt to unravel the powerful secrets of the orcs.

However, the experiments were not very successful. A group of half-orc species were born. Originally, they were regarded as the lowest class of humans by the major island countries. However, a thousand years ago, a famous legendary hero led these subhuman races to revolt, finally, they completed independence and formed a new country. It was what the later people called the “Strange Alliance.”.

After a thousand years of evolution, although many countries still did not really like these people, because of their relatively strong overall strength, they gradually gained status in the alliance.

Could it be that the people of the Strange Alliance also wanted to open up a new route?

But they had never heard of the Strange Alliance having a yellow-skinned race...

“Is it very rare?” Third mate Johnny frowned slightly when he saw him staring at Lei Xue.

Sean immediately apologized in embarrassment. The people of the Strange Alliance hated it when others looked at them in a different way. In his current situation, he could not afford to offend these guys...

But judging from the emblem on this guy’s shoulder, it should be a third mate, right? However, he could vaguely see that the other party had gold battle-qi on him on the ship just now!

A dignified Gold Knight was serving as a third mate? In addition to the girl with incredible skills just now, when did the strange alliance have such a powerful fleet?

The western islands were not like the steel warrior empire in the eastern continent, which often fought against the orcs. High-level warriors were very rare. For example, in the Tanzania Riz Island Country, where he was from.., there was only one gold knight in the entire country, the old Duke Bernard.

Most of the other countries were the same. Those who could reach the gold rank were basically all grand dukes of a country. It was his first time meeting someone who was a second-in-command of a ship and was even the third-in-command.

While he was puzzled, Li Goudan and the others were even more puzzled by his appearance...

“Report your background, sir. We have to check your information!” Lei Xue squinted at him and said.

According to Henry’s diary, Sean’s existence might not be real, because Henry had mentioned in the diary that he had almost forgotten why he had hired Sean.

“Yes!” Sean immediately replied, “I am Sean. “Alfa, the second son of Marquis Alfa’s family, chose to join the Navy because he could not inherit the title of nobility. In thirty years, I was lucky enough to be promoted to the rank of junior governor. A year ago, I was recommended to join Prince Henry’s army as the captain of the triumph... “... “...”

Snow nodded. According to her understanding of the Western archipelago system, lieutenant general was equivalent to a major general on her side...

Thus, she continued to ask, “Who recommended you to join Henry’s expedition team?”

“It was my superior, Marquis Daniel. He had some friendship with Prince Henry. At that time, Prince Henry needed more experienced professionals to help him because it was his first voyage!”

“Is that so?” Lei Xue frowned and continued, “But as far as I know, doesn’t Henry have his own professionals? For example, that first mate named Polly!”

Hearing this, Shawn looked at the other party in surprise. The other party had such detailed information, and he actually knew about Polly!

Although he was surprised.., he still said honestly, “Polly’s military rank is only lieutenant colonel. As the captain of a royal warship, it is impossible for him to convince the public. After all, the first mate of a ship of this rank is at the rank of senior colonel. Although the triumph was allocated by Prince Henry at a high price, he did not have enough members to drive the second ship. As a result, the crew on the ship were all temporarily transferred from the Navy... Under such circumstances, it would be safer to find someone with the military rank and a certain amount of influence in the Navy “...”

So that’s how it was...

Li Goudan and the others pretended to nod their heads, but Lei Xue still frowned.

These words were logical, but the specifics could not be verified, because Henry, as the protagonist, had not been clear-headed all this time.

Now, it was better to blow him up...

Thinking of this, Lei Xue stared at him coldly and said, "Your words are different from Henry's. We can't tell who is telling the truth. In that case, come back with us and confront him!"

Hearing this, Shawn was stunned at first, but then his face showed a look of disbelief. "You... said that Henry is with you?"

"Yes... otherwise, how would we know about you?" Snow said faintly.

"Impossible..." Sean shook his head with a look of realization.

Snow was confused. The other party didn't show a guilty look, nor did he show the captain's happy face that he was still alive. Instead, he looked like he was in a daze... ..

This made her feel uneasy.

"If you have any questions, you can ask them. There's no need to hide it. Apart from rescue, we also took on the task of opening up the route. Our purpose is the same as yours. Hiding information... .. Won't do you any good!" Lei Xue said with a formulaic tone.

"I... I know... But... But..." Sean still stuttered with a look of realization. "But... Captain Henry is dead!"

"What?" Not only Lei Xue, but everyone else couldn't help but scream!

"Are you sure?" Lei Xue's pupils constricted as she asked with a serious tone.

"Of course!" The other party said firmly, "I saw him die with my own eyes. He was torn into pieces by those mutated crew members!"

Lei Xue looked at Li Goudan. Li Goudan was also dumbfounded. If Henry was already dead, then who was the one sleeping on the ship?

"Let's go back first. What do you think?" Lei Xue felt more and more uneasy. She looked at Goudan Li and asked.

Goudan li nodded immediately. Then, he called the second and third mate to escort Xiao En. Everyone walked back quickly!

They were all armed crew members. Their physical fitness was excellent, so their footsteps were naturally very fast. In less than 15 minutes, they had returned to the bottom of the Goudan ship.

However, the moment they returned, they felt that something was not right...

It was too quiet... .. so quiet that it was somewhat abnormal. ...

Logically speaking, shouldn't all the crew members be waiting for their return on the deck?

"Hey, what are you doing up there? Hurry up and put down the ladder!" Third Mate Johnny shouted!

Johnny's voice was very loud. Lei Xue and the others who were standing at the side felt as if they were being struck by thunder, causing their ears to buzz. However, such a loud berating sound did not have the slightest echo. The entire ship was so quiet that it was as if it was dead... ..

Lei Xue's expression tensed up, and she felt extremely uneasy. Li Goudan, who was standing beside her, no longer hesitated. He stepped forward and flew onto the ship lightly...
