Chapter 691: Assault

"Is it really alright for us to just enter the city like this, Lord Lei Xue?" Wilson frowned as he looked at Lei Xue.

At this moment, he was walking at the front with two crew members protecting Lei Xue from all sides. Before coming here, sugar pea had said that Lord Lei Xue was a very important talent and that he would be given priority protection in the event of a sudden incident.

"This is the only way to find the captain, and it's also the only way to survive..." Lei Xue said faintly.

"Why do you say that?" Ye Wang frowned and asked.

"There are some things that Shawn didn't tell us... "For example, how did he survive?" Lei Xue Glanced at Shawn, who was being supervised by Johnny, and said in a low voice, "According to the diary, this guy was trapped here for at least three months. Even if he avoided the attack of the monsters, where did he get food and water?"

Everyone was stunned. Yes, the food on the ship had rotted so fast, and Henry's triumph should be the same. How did he survive these three months?

"There should be a lot of secrets in this city..." Lei Xue looked at the huge crystals around him and frowned slightly. He had a feeling that these things were not ordinary crystals.

Soon, they saw a large group of people standing like statues in a square with a huge crystal floating in the air. When Xue Lei and the others saw someone, they quickly walked over, however, when they saw that there was no reaction from those people, they immediately frowned again.

What was going on? Xue Lei turned around and looked at Shawn. Shawn looked calm.

"Are these people alive?" Snow asked.

"I think so..." Shawn smiled.

"Why is this happening?"

"I don't know..." Shawn shook his head. He wasn't lying. He looked at Johnny, who was about to touch those people, and said with a smile, "I advise you not to touch..."

"Is that so?" Johnny gave him a cold look, ready to touch the big-bellied guy next to him.

"Don't touch..." Lei Xue suddenly said.

Johnny's hand froze, and he immediately withdrew his hand obediently.

"Let him touch..." Lei Xue stared at Shawn.

Johnny was stunned when he heard that, and then a sinister smile flashed across his face. He grabbed Shawn and moved closer to those people. He had long disliked this pretentious guy!

Shawn's face couldn't hold it in anymore. He struggled and said, "No, no, no, I can't touch it. I really can't touch it anymore. Please don't do this!"

"Oh?" Lei Xue looked at him with a half-smile. "It seems that you've touched it before..."

"I. . ." Shawn looked at him angrily. "I warned you not to touch it..."

"But you didn't say why..." Lei Xue looked at him with a smile. "You don't look like a collaborator..."

"I. . . I just think that things here are too out of the ordinary. I'm afraid you won't believe me..." Xiao en looked evasive.

"Really?" Lei Xue looked at him. "Then tell me..."

Fifteen minutes later, everyone was confused after listening to Xiao En's introduction of the rules. They looked at each other as if they were listening to a story, and it was a story that they couldn't understand.

Ye Wang was also shocked. There was such a magical place in this world?

Lei Xue narrowed her eyes. She had the same feeling as ye Wang. There was also a hint of excitement in her heart. This world was too magical. It was much more interesting than the dull d ball.

She looked at Xiao En and smiled. "You said that you could use yourself and others after exchanging materials, but you didn't lose an arm or a leg. Could it be that you used other people in the past?"

"I don't have that ability..." Shawn forced a smile and took off his clothes. Then, everyone saw that his body was covered in black crystals. Through his belly, they could see that his internal organs were also covered in black crystals. Everyone's scalp immediately went numb...

"I owe too much interest, so I can't touch it again. If you owe me more, you'll collapse. You'll die!" Shawn said seriously.

"Oh..." Lei Xue frowned and looked at him. Just as she was about to ask again, a black shadow suddenly rushed out from the corner toward Lei Xue. Johnny, who was next to her, suddenly grabbed her behind him and shouted, "Sir, be careful!"

Then, he pulled out the knight's sword at his waist and slashed forward. With a clang, it was as if two huge metal objects were colliding. The loud noise shook Lei Xue's eardrums. She looked up. She finally saw the huge black figure clearly...

It was a bald man with ferocious muscles all over his body. The veins on his body were like squirming maggots, especially on the top of his head. Countless veins popped up on the top of his head and squirmed, looking very disgusting...

"Oh?" The big man seemed to be very surprised that Johnny could withstand his surprise attack, and it was with one hand...

Wang Ye, who was standing at the side, was also a little shocked. From his physique, the opponent's broadsword was even bigger than Johnny's entire body. In comparison, the Knight's sword in Johnny's hand was like a burning stick, however, he was able to steadily receive the opponent's thunderbolt-like broadsword!

"You have quite a lot of strength!" Johnny sneered. The muscles in his arms contracted, and then the two weapons made a sizzling sound as they intersected. Then, his small Knight's sword actually pressed against the broadsword towards the opponent!

The face of the big man who attacked him became incredulous. The muscles in his entire body contracted, and the veins in his hands suddenly popped up. His face also turned red from holding it in, looking even more disgusting, however, this hard work still couldn't stop the fact that he was suppressed. The large saber slowly pressed down in his direction!

"Derry's strength was suppressed?" In the distant shadow, a skinny young man looked at the square in disbelief and muttered, "What's the background of this group of people?"

With this thought in mind, he looked around. A person with a deformed skeleton was crawling on a beam a hundred meters away from him. He had a surprised look on his face.

"Shall We Fight?" The skinny young man gestured to the deformed skeleton.

The deformed person looked to the other side. Clearly, there were other people hiding in the shadows. These people were more than a hundred meters away from each other.

It was obvious that although these people seemed to be accomplices, they were actually on guard against each other...

Attack! !

The person on the other side sent a signal. The thin and weak young man did not hesitate at all when he saw this. He immediately took down the large bow on his back!

The bow was very large. When it was drawn, it was about the same size as a person. It was hard to imagine that such a thin and weak young man had such a long arm span...

Upon closer inspection, the bow was completely white. It did not look like it was made of wood or metal at all, but rather, it looked like a bone...

Following that, a strange thing happened. The young man's finger that was pulling the bowstring suddenly began to bleed. Blood continuously gathered on the bowstring, and in the end, it actually formed a red crystal blood arrow, at the same time, the skinny young man's body seemed to have become even thinner like a deflated balloon after this!

With a bang, the arrow turned into a shocking red light and shot towards Johnny!

At the same time, the deformed man who was hiding in the shadows also made his move. His speed was extremely agile as he darted out from the shadows. Upon closer inspection, one would discover that he was lying on the ground. His body was like a stretched noodle, and his spine was at least four meters long, his four limbs were as short as a gecko, but his body was as agile as a cheetah. He quickly darted towards the direction of Lei Xue's team!

Chapter 692: the powerful Johnny

Xiu!

The Red Arrow flew towards Johnny at the speed of light. However, Johnny still reacted the moment he got close to Johnny. He grabbed the red arrow with his left hand without any hesitation!

The red light stopped instantly. Everyone could clearly see the arrow formed by the Bright Red Crystal!

Looking at Johnny grabbing the red arrow with his bare hands, the big man holding the big knife almost opened his eyes wide!

The skinny youth in the distance was also stunned. Clearly, he did not believe that someone could catch his arrow with his bare hands!

However, in the next second, his surprise turned into a sneer as he muttered, "My arrow is not something that can be easily touched..."

As soon as he finished his sentence, the arrow that was originally caught by Johnny suddenly began to melt, turning into a pool of bright red liquid. Moreover, it seemed to have come alive as it burrowed into Johnny's arm, in an instant, Johnny's thick and strong left arm began to turn bright red due to the invasion of the mysterious liquid. Moreover, the bright red was still spreading upwards!

When the burly man with the knife saw this, he immediately let out an excited roar. His footsteps became heavy as he increased his strength. He knew what the hell this Red Arrow was. It was blood that was traded with ghosts. Once it entered the body, it would be like a lethal poison, once it spread to the brain, no matter how strong the person was, he would be corroded and melted!

The Ghost-blood George was very famous here!

"What is that?"

Just as Lei Xue was still worried about Johnny's condition, someone in the team let out a terrified voice. Lei Xue heard the voice and looked over. She saw a naked body in the distance, the back of the man was about four meters long. He looked like a deformed person that had been stretched and quickly crawled over.

Her appearance was much scarier than a human centipede!

Even though Lei Xue felt a chill all over her body, she was still calm and did not panic. Instead, she looked at Wilson who was beside her.

Johnny's left arm was injured, and there was obviously a hidden hand in the distance. At this time, another monster had run out, but Wilson, who was the second officer, had no intention of helping her.

Wilson noticed Lei Xue's gaze and was stunned for a moment. Then, he shook his head at her, telling her not to worry.

Actually, it was not that he did not want to help. It was just that these people who attacked him all had the strength of gold-tier. What if another monster appeared and attacked Lei Xue and the rest?

He had to be careful of this. Moreover... "...". The situation before him was not going to be a problem for Johnny!

In the next second, everyone suddenly heard a thunderous sound. Lei Xue looked over in shock because she realized that the sound seemed to come from Johnny's body.

At this moment, the burly man who was confronting Johnny was even more horrified. He could clearly feel that the thunderous sound was actually the sound of this guy's breathing!

Johnny's breathing suddenly became longer, and it was as ear-splitting as thunder. Following that, his eyes became as Orange as a wild beast, and the muscles all over his body visibly expanded. Not long after, thick white fur grew out., his bones also emitted crackling sounds, and not long after, it actually transformed into a five meter tall giant white-furred ape!

"You... What kind of monster are you?"The burly man looked at the giant white-furred ape whose body had become even bigger than his, and said with a terrified expression.

He could clearly feel that this guy's strength had increased several times as his body expanded!

In almost an instant, he was suppressed by the opponent's overwhelming strength and was pressed to the ground by the bamboo stick-like short sword.

"Monster?"Johnny looked at the burly man, whose body was full of bulging muscles, and sneered, "You have the nerve to say that about me?"

As he spoke, he looked at the bright red on his left arm. He clenched his left fist with force, and then a blood arrow shot out, forming countless broken red crystals on the ground!

The burly man was stunned. He looked as if he had seen a ghost. This guy actually squeezed out the ghost blood?

The deformed man who was about to rush over from afar immediately stopped in his tracks. It was the first time he had seen someone who could squeeze out the ghost blood with his muscles. He could not afford to provoke this monster. When he thought of this, he turned around and ran without hesitation!

"Run?"Johnny Laughed Sinisterly. He forcefully pressed the burly man's head onto the ground. His muscles contracted and he rushed towards the deformed man like a cannonball. In an instant, he had caught the other party!

The deformed man let out a shrill cry as his body coiled around Johnny's body like a snake!

Johnny frowned. This disgusting fellow's twisting force was not weak at all. It was comparable to a level 3 mutated giant python from the Gondolin Forest!

The deformed man looked at the other party in shock. He knew his own twisting force. The hard steel rock could be crushed into pieces in an instant. As he twisted the other party, he felt that the other party was like a solid steel bar. It did not move at all!

What the hell was this?

Before he could finish his shock, he felt a huge force coming at him. Then, he felt a tearing pain on his body!

This feeling was not wrong, because his body was indeed torn apart. He was broken into pieces by Johnny!

When he reacted, he could only see his body twitching, but he could not do anything. He could only watch as his body became colder and colder... ..

Looking at the ground covered in blood and minced meat, Johnny could not help but complain: he had used too much strength.

The skinny man who was shooting from afar saw this scene and was so scared that his eyes almost popped out. Without saying a word, he directly fled into the distance.

Johnny had obviously noticed the other party. Just as he was about to chase after him, Wilson's voice came from afar, "Don't chase Johnny!"

Hearing that, Johnny touched the blood all over his body and slowly walked towards them.

Wang Ye and Lei Xue's eyelids twitched. They thought to themselves, "What violence. are all the natives raised by Luofu so powerful?"?

Shawn, who was hiding behind them, was also shocked when he saw this scene. This guy had actually killed the infamous muscle-man, Dray, and the serpent-man, Berenko, all by himself...

With the addition of the Ghost-blood George, who was shooting arrows in the dark, it was equivalent to crushing three powerful gold-rank characters with a single strike!

And this was only the third officer...

Shawn looked at Wilson, who had been keeping a cold face and did not make a move. He thought to himself, 'if the third officer is so powerful, how powerful is the second officer? 'who exactly are these people on this ship?'

"Lord Snow, are you alright?"The white-haired gorilla, who had just walked back, greeted him in a hoarse voice.

The powerful developer bloodline calmed snow down almost instantly. She looked at Johnny Curiously. "You... can you change back?"

"Of course!" Johnny said proudly. "We Druids can freely switch genes!"

"Then... why don't you change back?"

"Well..." Johnny said a little embarrassedly. "I don't have any clothes to change back now. It's quite awkward..."

Everyone:"..."

"Oh, this bloodline is very interesting..." Lei Xue smiled, but she was not a student. She was just a little curious and looked at the muscular man who was pressed on the floor.

“Shawn, you just said that living people can be used to trade, right?”

Everyone looked over. Seeing this, Shawn did not dare to pretend anymore. He quickly nodded and said, “Yes!”

He had lived for so long, so of course he had some tricks up his sleeve. From the beginning, even if he knew that Johnny was a gold-tier powerhouse, he was not afraid. There were many things in this place that could kill a gold-tier powerhouse. He also had some of these things. So, at the beginning, he was very confident...

But now, he did not have the confidence... “...”. If there was a special weapon, few could be more special than the ghost-blood George. But just now, this gorilla actually used his muscles to force out the ghost-blood!

“Let’s use him as a material...” lei xue pointed at the muscular man who was buried in the floor and said, “Show us!”

Chapter 693: three ways of trading!

“Is there really such a thing as offering sacrifices in this world?” Wang ye frowned as he looked at Xiao En. He felt that it was a little metaphysical. He had never believed in such metaphysical things, even the cultivators from the sects in central China felt that this was an evolutionary model that was in line with the laws of nature. It could even be explained by science. As for offering sacrifices, it should be a scam created by those cults, right?

Then, under Shawn’s guidance, Johnny dislocated the limbs of the muscular man who had been beaten into a bloody mess. Then, he dragged him to the crystal and looked at Shawn. “How do I do it?”

“See if you want to use that Method...” as he said that, Shawn pointed at a few large stone slabs under the huge floating crystal.

Lei Xue frowned and looked over. She could clearly see that there were strange words and energy symbols on the stone slabs. She had seen this kind of spell before. On the dog egg’s energy shaping device, there were also some runic alchemy spells used to guide energy.

Although she was developing into a mechanical alchemist, at this stage, she mainly focused on machinery. She only read some of the contents out of curiosity. After all, her original mission was to familiarize herself with the machinery profession as soon as possible, and the person responsible for the connection between the runic warlocks on the ship was the Great Tube Lun Morsenkin!

But the key was that she didn’t know where he was right now...

So she temporarily gave up on cracking the spell on the stone tablet. She looked at him and asked, “What choice do you have?”

Shawn said, “The first stone tablet is a sacrifice in exchange for the things you lost. The things you lost here include the things you mortgaged yourself and anything that has been mortgaged here. Of course, it also includes the people in the square. The second stone tablet is a direct transaction. The crystal will show the same value according to the things you sacrificed. You can choose what you think you need inside. The third one is a transaction with the people inside the door!”

“Oh?”Xue Lei frowned, squinting at him.

This was a lot of information, but at the same time, more questions arose in her mind.

So she slowly asked one by one, “Let’s talk about the first function of the stone tablet. Redemption means that you can exchange the things you once mortgaged. That means these people once mortgaged themselves to become like this, right?”Xue Lei looked at the statue-like people in the square and asked.

Shawn said, “I think so... but I’m not sure about that!”

Lei Xue said, “Really? Then let me ask you, since I can redeem someone, does that mean that someone can redeem me?”

Shawn said, “Yes...”

Lei Xue said, “Then let me ask you again, what if I only mortgaged a few things? For example, an arm. Can someone redeem it for his use without my consent?”

Everyone was stunned. Xiao en narrowed his eyes and thought, this woman is so quick-witted... ..

“Answer me!” Lei Xue said with a dark face, “I don’t mind using you to try!”

Xiao En’s face turned pale, he had to answer, “During the interest period, I will ask you if you are willing to be bought by others, because once you buy it, the interest will stop calculating. But if it is directly bought by the crystal, anyone can take it at a certain price!”

As expected...

Lei Xue nodded, and then she narrowed her eyes at him, thinking to herself, the situation here is too unusual. I have to try my best to find clues from him. I can’t let him deliberately confuse me!

Thinking of this, she continued to ask, “The second stone tablet is a direct transaction, right? What will be in the crystal?”

Shawn said, “Many things, weapons, food, magic items, even powerful magic puppets and some strange summoned creatures!”

Snow said, “Since they are listed separately, these things are naturally not mortgaged here. It means that these things exist in the crystal itself. But how did these things come? It Can’t be that they came out of thin air, right?”

“I don’t know!” Shawn shook his head.

Snow looked at him deeply for a while. From his expression, it didn’t seem like he was lying... .. So she continued to ask, “What are those things in the third stone tablet that you mentioned?”

Shawn said, “What are those things in the door that can’t be said.”

Lei Xue raised her eyebrows. “Can’t say?”

Johnny Laughed Sinisterly and slowly approached Shawn, seeing this, Shawn stepped back. "I really can't say. This is the rule. If you choose the third trade, you'll know. You Can't reveal the other party's identity when you trade with those things. If you violate it, the consequences will be terrible!"

There was such a thing?

Lei Xue narrowed her eyes. She felt that the existence that the other party mentioned might be the key to leaving this place!

But she was not anxious. She continued to ask, "Then what's the benefit of trading with them? Since there's everything in the crystal, why should I trade with them?"

Shawn was silent for a while and then said in a low voice, "There's a higher return. Moreover, they have more things than the crystal. Not only can they exchange materials, but they can also make an event trade. For example, they can ask the other party for a favor and pay the price."

Lei Xue asked, "Is there a risk?"

Shawn said, "Yes, and the probability is very high. Those guys' transactions are full of traps. If you are not careful, you will be swallowed by the rules. Many old people here died in those trading traps..."

"I see..." Lei Xue nodded and then said, "I have a rough idea of the situation. Now, we are short of food and water. What do you think is the best trade?"

Shawn looked at Lei Xue's eyes that seemed to see through him. His heart was slightly beating. He wanted to dig a hole, but he always felt that he would be noticed by the other party, after hesitating for a while, he finally said honestly, "I suggest using the first stone tablet and the second stone tablet. The second stone tablet is the most stable. You can exchange it for Energy Crystals to replenish your physical strength. However, there will be some side effects if you eat too much. If you choose the first stone tablet well, you can exchange it for food to the greatest extent, but you have to rely on your judgment and luck."

"What do you mean?" Lei Xue blinked her eyelashes and asked softly.

"The first stone tablet can redeem the people here, and after these people are redeemed, their assets will also be redeemed. For example, if you redeem the owner of a restaurant, not only will he come back, his restaurant will also come back, and there will be a large amount of fresh food without side effects. However, you must first guess the occupation of the other party, otherwise, if you change it wrongly, it will be in vain..." "..."

"I see..." Xue Lei nodded. "Then let's use the second stone tablet to ensure supplies..."

Shawn nodded and placed the muscular man on the second stone tablet. He thought to himself, 'he's a very calm guy. He didn't choose an unstable method just because he's smart...' Although he's smart, he should be a serious person!

Lei Xue observed Shawn's actions and pinched the communicator in her pocket...

That thing was given to her by Jellybean. She said that if she encountered a situation that couldn't be resolved, she would use it to contact the base.

But this thing... obviously couldn't be used here. The signal was cut off...

But if the signal was cut off, the base should have noticed it, right. In that case... ? ... would the higher-ups of Luofu come to rescue us?

At this moment, at the location of the main base, the AI reported for the 272nd time, "The new detector has searched 20,000 nautical miles to the south, but there are still no fluctuations. The high-end testing equipment that wine god Lord lent you doesn't seem to be of much use..."

'could it be that I've been tricked by wine god Lord again, and he gave me a western-style goods?'

Seer frowned deeply under his helmet. No, if it was in the past, he would have been at a disadvantage. However, now that it was related to that unknown undead, he couldn't fool around like this.

Thinking of this, he turned to the AI and said, "Help me contact senior wine god in the Federation's Virtual Network. Remember, use the official channel. Don't let the other party have the chance to discover our location!"

Chapter 694: astonishing conjecture...

"Senior Wine God..."

In the Federation's Public Virtual Network, Seer had been waiting there for about half a day when he finally saw that familiar chubby figure.

"Aiyo, I'm sorry, brother..." that black and white meatball walked over while trembling. It was even fatter than the last time seer saw it. ...

"I was delayed by something. Sorry to have kept you waiting!"

"You're welcome..." seer hurriedly stepped forward to welcome him. "I'm already extremely grateful that senior took the time out of your busy schedule to come here..."

"Alright then... Let's cut the formalities and talk about your situation..."

"You've already used the exploration device you borrowed from me, but it still hasn't shown any fluctuations..." seer's tone was solemn.

Previously, Seer had been unable to find any traces after searching for so many times. In the end, he had chosen to seek help from the only great lord he was familiar with. He had borrowed an advanced exploration device, but unfortunately, it was still ineffective.

"Is that so..." wine god's fat face instantly scrunched up into a ball, wine god said seriously, "That's very troublesome, little brother. This exploration device of mine is a high-quality product. This time, I definitely didn't waste it on you. This thing is the latest generation product of our faction. It's extremely sensitive to energy and magnetic fields. It can detect space above four dimensions. It can even detect traces of illusory time cracks and elemental cracks... "...". "If your subordinate went missing because of space, there's no way he couldn't find traces and fluctuations!"

“The only thing that can isolate the teleportation device is the alternate dimension...” Xi ye said in a low voice, “What if it’s traces of the undead?”

Wine God’s expression froze when he heard that, and he looked at Xi Ye.

In the universe, some high-dimensional spaces were above time and elements, and this was the case for the undead space and the void world!

“No Wonder You’re not willing to give your planet to Empress Xi. It turns out that there really is a rift in the undead space...”

Seer lowered her head in silence, tacitly agreeing to this topic, wine god continued, “Even so, it’s still not right. Although the undead world is a spiritual plane above time, once you open the tunnel to the real world, the energy will reduce the dimension and materialize. Just like the undead and the materials of the undead world that ran out from the real world, the opening of the tunnel will also produce energy fluctuations. It’s impossible to say that it’s completely isolated from the detection of high-level instruments...”. “...”

“Under what circumstances could he do this?” Seer asked.

The reason why he exposed his bonus in front of wine god was because he had no other choice, whether it was the high-level and complicated undead summoning alchemy method by the coast., or the spatial method that Eggface and the others had used to directly isolate the teleportation point, both made him feel a sense of crisis!

This undead Lord’s background was not simple. It was probably more terrifying than he had imagined. He had to find out more about him... ..

“What’s going on... ?”. Wine God touched his thick chin and said, “In most energy civilizations and arcane civilizations, if you can master the space fusion technology in the level-18 technology tree, you might be able to create a special independent space that can not be detected by high-level instruments!”

“Space Fusion?” Seer’s eyelids twitched, and then he shook his head. “I don’t think so...”

Space fusion required a large-scale space shattering device and a space remodeling device. The technology required for such a high-end instrument was so high that it was hard to imagine. Usually, it required the energy of a galaxy or so to operate the horsepower, this was not something that could be produced just by mastering such a high-end technology tree. It required a strong industrial base as a backup.

If the other party had such a level of industrial foundation, he would have run away long ago!

“Is there no other way other than this?” Xi ye frowned and asked, “For example, how can one achieve spatial independence without a sufficient industrial foundation?”

“This...” wine god first reflexively said, “How is that possible?” But after saying that, he suddenly hesitated for a moment, and in the end, a hint of hesitation appeared on his face.

“Senior, if you have something to say, just say it...” seer quickly said.

“There is a possibility, but it’s not very likely...”

“Senior, Tell Me...” seer quickly asked.

“First, you have to meet two conditions!” Wine god stretched out his chubby fingers and said, “First, that person is a deity lord of a level-20 arcane civilization, and he can write an extremely difficult alchemy formula. Second, he has at least ten million tons of universal coins as a medium. If that’s the case, he can create an independent arcane space between the world, the real world, and the underworld without the interference of the outside world!”

Seer took a deep breath, and subconsciously wanted to say that it was impossible, because this condition was a hundred times more demanding than the previous one!

Not to mention the Arcana civilization above level 20, it was a rare existence in the entire federation, at least in the top 100 of the Star Field!

And then there was the ten million tons of universal coins, which was a joke. Universal coins were strategic materials, and they were sold in the federation in Milligrams. Ten million tons? That Elven lord of the East Star region, Ayesha, was ranked in the top ten of the East Star region. The entire star region was also in the top thirty. She had tens of thousands of star region forces that were thousands of times larger than the Milky Way galaxy. But even a big shot like her would not necessarily be able to produce ten million tons of universal coins... ..

Having so many universal coins and eating too much to play hide-and-seek with him?

Wait a minute...

Seer’s body suddenly stopped, and an amazing thought flashed through his mind: What if... ? ... that was it?

That guy came from the world of souls, and the thing that came out of the world of souls had a very ancient history. What if he was a big shot who had once mastered a level-20 arcane civilization?

The god Lord could absorb the knowledge and power of the civilization, and the wisdom of billions of people would all be transferred into his territory. As the people developed the civilization, the god Lord’s own knowledge would become enormous, becoming a mobile civilization vault, this was also one of the deity Overlord’s powerful abilities!

In other words, it wasn’t impossible...

But where did he get so many universal coins?

Could it be that this planet was rich in universal coins, and the output was the sum of tens of thousands of galaxies?

Haha, What Kind of joke was this, how could there be such a pie in this world... ..

What if there was?

Xi Ye’s heart was pounding!

After all, it wasn't like he hadn't been hit by a pie before, wasn't the D ball just a universe level pie?

"HM? Are You Alright?" Wine God looked at Xi Ye and asked.

Xi Ye smiled when he heard this, it was all thanks to his good habit of wearing a helmet, otherwise with his expression just now, he would definitely have been exposed.

If wine God knew about this, Seer would bet that this guy would turn around and check his coordinates at all costs!

"It's okay. I just think that senior's words are a bit too exaggerated..." seer calmed himself down and said helplessly, "Senior, can you tell me something more reliable?"

"Uh... this..." wine god immediately scratched his gills. "You know, I'm not a Lord of a comprehensive system, so my knowledge is relatively simple. In this case, you might be more helpful if you find a great lord of an arcane civilization..."

"Senior, are you familiar with any of them?" Seer asked in a deliberately anxious tone.

"This... "...". Wine god rubbed his hands in embarrassment. "I really haven't dealt with anyone in this field. You know, those who walk in the pure mechanical path and the arcane system are usually not good at dealing with... "...". "Oh, by the way, What About You, Lord Asana? Don't you have a little relationship with her? Why Don't you go and ask her?"

"I really don't have any relationship with that big shot..." seer said honestly, "To be honest, the only thing she and I have in common is that I bought some mutts from her, even though... her mutts are a little strange..."

"Then I can't Help You..." wine god wine shrugged helplessly. ...

"Alright then... I'll have to trouble senior to make this trip. I'll deliver the energy ores for this season on time. When the time comes, I'll send an extra layer as a token of my gratitude to senior for your help this time..." Xi ye said in a somewhat disappointed tone.

"Sigh, you're welcome. I didn't help much..." wine god smiled, then stretched and stood up. "If there's nothing else, I'll take my leave first. I still have an order to discuss in the afternoon."

"OK, senior take care!" Xi Ye hurriedly stood up to see him off.

Somewhere in the eastern Starfield, where countless planets are connected by a special kind of machine, constantly sending energy to a main star, which from a distance looks like a huge mechanical castle, the area of the light wheel is probably bigger than ten suns!

At the core of the planet, wine god slowly walked out of the virtual cabin and activated his AI. "Little Ai..."

"Respected wine God's main star, the ninth generation AI of the Federation Wei Galaxy is at your service!"

“Help me look up the star seers who are ranked near the top in the federation’s neutral organizations!”

“Yes, Master!”

At this time, a three-inch-long fairy with eight wings flew to wine God’s shoulder in the Lord’s room.

“Why are you looking for a seer?”The fairy yawned.

“I want to check the coordinates of a person...”wine god looked at the starry sky outside the Lord’s room and said faintly.

Chapter 695: Trading Market (Part One)

“My Lords...”in the bakery, the honest and honest owner of the bakery, Dahm, walked out with a wry smile. “We’ve used up all the flour. We need to stock up...”

“Uh...”Goudan, who was eating a mouthful of butter, was stunned. “Then go buy it...”

Hans’s mouth twitched. “Where do we buy it?”

Dog Egg finally reacted. According to the rules, the Baker was redeemed, and the corresponding bakery was also redeemed. However, the shop that sold the flour raw materials was not included...

Therefore, he said unhappily, “You’re such a big shop, why do you have so little stock?”

Dahm scratched his head in embarrassment and said, “In order to ensure that the texture of my shop is fresh wheat hot-copied and freshly ground flour, I usually don’t enter as much as other bakeries, but in fact, there’s quite a lot of it. Just now, you guys ate almost the same amount that our shop sells in a month...” “...”

“You only sell so little in a month?”Doggie touched the cream at the corner of his mouth. “Your business isn’t doing well...”

Dahm looked at the plate on the table that was almost as tall as a hill, and the corner of his mouth twitched slightly, but he didn’t say anything.

Seeing this, Doggie looked at Hans, who was opposite him. “You’re a good-for-nothing. You ate so much, but the manager hasn’t even eaten!”

Hans:”...”

How Shameless. I didn’t even get a tenth of you, okay?

“Oh, I see...”Goudan nodded, then grabbed a plate of strawberry sundaes next to Hans, causing the corners of Hans’s eyes to Twitch. ...

The craftsmanship was indeed not bad. The ingredients used were a few grades lower than the worst rye in the base, but the taste was able to cover up the lack of ingredients. He was a genius!

Goudan looked at Dahm and nodded in satisfaction. Of course, using her little finger to exchange for the Sundaes was still a bit of a loss, so after finishing the plate, she looked at Hans and asked, "What are we going to do next?"

Hans looked at the empty plate on the table and was stunned. He subconsciously said, "To produce here, you must have supplies. If you don't use your own body to exchange for it, you can only steal other people's..."

"Oh?" Hearing this, Doggie looked straight at Hans.

Hans felt goosebumps all over his body. He quickly took off his clothes and revealed a large area of black crystal. He said in a hoarse voice, "I don't have much time left. You Won't be able to exchange me for many things..."

"Hey, you're thinking too much. You were kind enough to remind me, Captain. How could I repay kindness with enmity?" Eggface said with a smile.

"Hehe..." Hans glanced at her and sneered in his heart. It was obvious that he didn't believe a single word.

"Do you have any clues if you steal someone else's Words?" Eggface quickly asked.

I knew it... .. The corner of Hans's mouth twitched. He knew that this guy wasn't a kind person, but...

Hans looked at the mountain-like plate on the table and fell into deep thought. This guy had such a big appetite. In addition to his terrifying skills against Roger, he should be a legend without a doubt.

According to ancient records, legendary masters had a big appetite. Even the bloody Queen Marina, who was born as a mage, could eat the flesh of a Carr Beast (an African elephant that was similar in size to D Ball...) in a day

It's rare for a legend to appear, and if used well, he may be able to redeem the organs he mortgaged...

He nodded at the thought. "I know places where people hang out, and they're not good people, and they hunt new people..."

"Is there such a bad person?" The dog egg righteously nodded his head: "You say so this captain this kind of good person is very worried, ah, forget it, in order to come here in the future newcomers can have a better environment, can only be ruthless wave..." . . Where are they?"

Hans: "..."

"What's This?"

On the other side, they looked around, stunned. Then they turned to Sean, who was controlled by Johnny, and asked, "What's going on?"

After listening to Sean's story and sacrificing the muscular man, the crowd saw the scene suddenly change into something else, as if it had been transported to another place out of thin air.

It was a dark and gloomy space, as if there was no light at all, but strangely, everyone could see their surroundings clearly.

It seemed to be a large hall, very large. The ground was pitch-black, and it was unknown what material it was made of. Stepping on it felt colder than stepping on ice.

Not only the ground, but there were also many of these black tables in the hall. They were pitch-black like the ground, and it was hard to tell what material they were made of. The tables were filled with all kinds of things.

There were colorful stones, strangely-shaped weapons, glass bottles filled with unknown liquids, and even some strange living things.

There was a sign under each of these things, and it seemed to have an item description written on it. The strange thing was that the words on it were in Chinese characters?

Lei Xue's expression was a little strange. She looked at Ye Wang, who was beside her. Ye Wang was clearly surprised as well.

Sean explained, "You can exchange all the items here. Pay attention to the color on the sign next to you. Pink means the value of your sacrifice is lower than yours. You can take a few more. Red means the value is equal. You can only take one. Black means the value is not enough. You need to add more sacrifices!"

Ye Wang was surprised. "Then... There is no specific number? How Do I know how many pink items I can take?"

"When you take away one pink item, the value of your sacrifice will decrease. Correspondingly, some items that were originally pink will turn red. If the others are still pink, you can take more..."

Xue Lei frowned. This method was unfair to the buyer. Without knowing the specific price, the buyer could not effectively use the value of her sacrifice. For example, she had 1,000 points, if she knew the value of all the items, she could use her points to exchange for the right items, but if the price was unknown, she could guess, it was very likely that she would have surplus points or not be able to buy some things that she should have bought.

Shawn said, "There is a basic introduction on the sign next to it, but this introduction is a bit vague. You need to analyze the pros and cons yourself..."

"Can you read the words on it?" Ye Wang asked curiously. He remembered that Goudan Li had said that the western archipelago was an undeveloped area, right? How could anyone know Chinese characters?

Sean was stunned. He frowned and said, "Isn't it written in the common language of the Alliance? I'm a captain, after all. How could I not know the words?"

Lei Xue and Wang Ye were stunned. They thought to themselves, the common language of the Alliance?

That's not right. They had seen the common language font of the alliance. It was similar to Spanish grammar, but completely different from Chinese characters.

So Lei Xue asked Wilson behind her, "Is it the common language?"

"Yes..." Wilson said in surprise, "Master Lei Xue Doesn't know it?"

Lei Xue was silent for a moment...

It seemed that it was not the font, but the brand. The brand could display different fonts according to People's consciousness, and everyone saw it differently. How did this work?

This place was a bit strange, so she quickly bought something and went out first... ..

Lei Xue thought about it and asked Shawn, "Where is the food supply you mentioned just now?"

Chapter 696: Trading Market (Part Two)

"Here..." Sean pointed to a place in the southeast corner.

Xue Lei and the others walked over carefully and saw some strange potions on it. The words "Energy" were written on them.

Xue Lei looked at the introduction of the words on the board. Each energy sample had a board on which there was an introduction. For example, the yellow liquid bottle at the front introduced: "Carbohydrate energy liquid, easy to absorb, easy to digest,". Insufficient energy density, not long to maintain the vitality of the body...

Blue liquid: cruise extract, high energy density, easy to absorb, not easy to digest, easy to produce energy block accumulation.

Purple liquid: Ruintes extract, medium energy density, easy to absorb, not easy to digest, easy to produce energy fat.

Red Liquid: Victoria's secret blood, very high energy, easy to absorb, easy to digest, able to greatly strengthen the physique, incomplete purification, risk of infection...

Looking at the pile of things, Lei Xue had a strange look on her face, because she found that only this pile of things was clearly marked with a price. As soon as she went over, the sign on it showed how many she could exchange for...

And the other items around were hidden with a price...

This made Lei Xue a little curious, why was only this food marked with a price?

After asking Shawn, Shawn also expressed that he did not know, so Lei Xue and the others slowly walked over.

There were more than twenty kinds of liquids on the table. They were all different colors and had different effects. However, Lei Xue was very clear about the last sentence of each brand. She found that the last sentence seemed to represent a side effect.

After looking around, she finally fixed her gaze on cruise extract and ruintes extract. The others were either too expensive or had virus notifications similar to the so-called Victoria's secret blood. What a joke.., i told you that you might be infected with the virus before you bought it, didn't I?

She thought about the skeletal monster and the muscular man. Did they become like that because they bought the liquid with the virus?

She looked at the two bottles and then at Sean. "What's the difference between the accumulation of energy blocks and fat?"

Technically speaking, there should be no difference, because human body fat was the energy stored after digesting food. Why was it listed here?

Sean said, "Energy accumulation is more difficult to recover through exercise. It will form local lumps, which is more harmful to the body...". After a pause, he continued, "The energy fat mentioned here is actually not easy to digest. If you eat too much of it, your body will bloat, and there will be inexplicable pus in the fat. It will also cause problems over time."

Hearing this, everyone took a step back. They instantly lost interest in the two bottles... ..

Shawn continued, "The only thing that doesn't have any side effects is the carbohydrate energy liquid. However, the amount of time you can manage it is too little. A bottle can only manage for a day. If you are at gold-rank, you need two bottles to be able to consume it for a day. This is not the case when you don't fight and try to maintain your physical strength. Unlike the other two, a bottle can only manage for half a month... "..."

"Which ones do you usually eat?"Xue Lei looked at Shawn. It was obvious that there was nothing wrong with Shawn's appearance.

"This is what I eat..."Shawn was silent for a while and then said, "I don't want to become a monster like them..."

"I see..."Xue Lei nodded. She knew that Shawn was probably referring to the monsters that attacked them just now...

Thus, she put down the two liquids and stretched out her hand towards the carbo-water energy liquid. She knew that this thing seemed to be used in the base, but the base had added various trace elements to ensure nutrition, if she ate too much carbo-water energy liquid, her body would also have problems due to insufficient intake of other substances.

However, that would at least take a few months. It was still possible to do energy replenishment in a short period of time, just like instant noodles. Eating for a few months wouldn't kill anyone, right?

Therefore, she no longer hesitated and directly exchanged for a hundred bottles of carbo-water energy supplies.

Looking at the exchange amount, it indicated that she could exchange for another hundred bottles. Lei Xue did not continue to exchange. There were a total of ten people on her side. Each of them could drink ten bottles sparingly for seven to eight days, at this time, she believed that with Johnny's strength just now, he should be able to help her and the others find new supplies.

So she wanted to see the effects of other things.

With this thought in mind, she slightly looked to the side and came to a place full of weapons. These weapons were very strange. Not only were the shapes strange, she felt that these weapons... .. Seemed to be alive!

For example, the glove. The glove faintly revealed some bloody meridians, looking very scary.

The introduction card also wrote something strange: it can give you unimaginable power, but it needs your flesh... ..

Snow pointed at the glove and asked, "Do you know what will happen when you put this thing on?"

"Yes..." Sean nodded, he said with some disgust, "There was a captain of the Taniges Kingdom who used it before. This thing can boost your power. The more you use it, the stronger the power will be. When that guy was at his strongest, he could even blow a gold knight of the same level into minced meat with one punch!"

"Oh?" Johnny smiled. "That sounds interesting..."

Sean looked at the muscular man and the corner of his eyes twitched, he then lowered his head and said, "But every time I use that glove, the flesh and blood inside it will spread a little. At first, it will spread to my arms, then it will slowly spread to my chest and even my whole body. In the end, I saw that guy being eaten by the glove!"

Hearing that, everyone felt a chill in their hearts. Looking at the blood, flesh, and meridians that were leaking out of the glove, they could not help but shiver...

Sean said, "These weapons have side effects. They either eat your flesh or suck your blood, or they suck your bone marrow, or something strange that can take away your time and make your body age... "...". "The more you use them, the harder it is to get rid of them..." "...". Often, many people who use these weapons have to come back and buy more strange things to prolong their lives... "..."

"Why would anyone buy such a terrible weapon?" Johnny could not help but ask.

Sean glanced at him, he whispered, "Not all newcomers are as powerful as you. The environment here is destined to kill each other in order to survive. If the newcomers are not strong enough and want to quickly improve their strength, these weapons are the best shortcut. If you use them well, even bronze can kill Gold..." "..."

"Since you can live for so long, you should have something hidden on you, right?" Lei Xue looked at him and asked.

Shawn lowered his head and didn't say anything...

Of course he had something hidden. Otherwise, he wouldn't have taken the initiative to contact Lei Xue and the others. He didn't expect to encounter titanium alloy steel plates this time. Fortunately, he didn't have time to kick them...

"Is there anything else that can increase your combat strength besides these strange weapons?" Lei Xue asked.

“Yes...”. Shawn nodded and said, “For example, those energy agents. One of them is a yellow liquid that can directly increase one’s combat strength. However, if you drink too much at once, your meridians will not be able to withstand it and will become deformed and bloated, just like the guy you used to sacrifice just now.”

“Does that mean that if you drink it slowly, you can absorb it steadily?” Lei Xue’s eyes flashed as she asked.

“It can be done... but the efficiency is very slow...” Sean said, “Someone has tried it. Half a bottle of energy dosage can only be absorbed after a month of high-intensity training. Moreover, who would dare to consume high-intensity physical strength every day in such a damn place?”

He paused for a moment and then said, “So some people took the risk to use the energy dosage with the virus in order to become stronger...”

“What’s the result?” Asked Lei Xue hurriedly.

Chapter 697: Undead Trade (Part One)

Actually, snow was also very curious. Logically speaking, these goods should be of value. Otherwise, they wouldn’t have mentioned the side effects so openly, since they mentioned that there was a virus, there would definitely be other benefits that would allow people to take risks!

“The improvement rate is very fast...” Sean Thought for a moment and said honestly, “And as long as you don’t get infected with the virus at the moment, the side effects will be much smaller than those energy potions...”

Lei Xue asked, “What are the specific side effects?”

Sean said, “If you take too many energy potions, your blood vessels will become more and more unbearable. You’ll often have to buy drugs for suppression, and it’s extremely painful. Those who choose this path are either abnormal or suicidal because they can’t stand the pain. If you use the virus potion, as long as you don’t die from the virus at the beginning, there won’t be any other life-threatening side effects...” “...”

Hearing that, Lei Xue raised her eyebrows and continued to ask, “A side effect that doesn’t threaten life, does that mean that there will be other side effects?”

“Yes...” Shawn nodded and said, “There will be a local mutation, and the form will slowly become like a monster...” as he said that, he looked at Johnny, to be honest, if he hadn’t seen their ship coming from afar, he would have suspected that Johnny had used these potions, and why could he freely change his form?

Local mutation? Lei Xue lowered her head and fell into deep thought. Could it be genetic evolution?

She wasn’t very interested in the knowledge of the biology department, but because she had explored Luo Fu’s genetic information, she had more or less seen this kind of knowledge, the other party described the situation of the virus energy dose as a bit like the concept of genetic enhancement.

Because in the genetic surgery, it was said that the most frequent failure rate in the external gene invasion surgery was the virus invasion... ..

Could it be that this energy dose was another type of genetic enhancement?

If that was the case, then the person who created these things might not be a single person, it should be some organization... ..

Lei Xue looked at the colorful virus drugs and thought to herself, after all, a bottle of drugs could change a person's genes, even though I don't know if the technology is mature.., but the technology contained within was not something that a single person could create.

Is this shithole a lab for a secret organization?

Lei Xue looked around and his heart sank. Is there any other high-tech force besides Luofu. That's not a good thing... ..

On the other side, Marina drove the Ghost ship all the way to the center of the city, feeling the eyes of the dark around her beautiful face revealed a trace of sneer.

Bengali goode frowned slightly. "Fortunately, this ship came in. Otherwise, it would be really troublesome. What are the weapons in the hands of those guys who attacked us? Why are they so strange?"

He found it hard to imagine that he almost flipped his car when he fought with a gold-tier human just now. That big knife full of flesh and blood could actually increase a person's strength so dramatically!

Marina chuckled. "It's just an alchemy weapon that some old guys created just to collect fresh life energy. These guys are just so-so..."

"Old Guys?" Bengal Goode looked at marina curiously.

Marina glanced at him when she heard that, she suddenly thought of something and said, "Oh, right, you were left behind by master right after you died. It seems that you haven't been there yet..." as she said that, she lowered her eyes slightly. "What a lucky guy..."

Bengali gude asked, "What are you talking about?"

Bengali gude heard this and looked up. It was actually a palace. What was surprising was that the entire palace was made of crystal, even though he had seen a lot in the past few hundred years, he could not help but gasp. "This is the legendary Crystal Palace?"

Marina: "Yes..."

Bengali gudd: "You really lived a luxurious life back then..."

Marina: "You Flatter me..."

Then, she took the lead to jump off the ship and slowly walked inside...

Bengali Gudd, who was behind her, led the group of human sailors and looked around curiously, clicking his tongue in wonder... ..

Even the sailors forgot their fear and looked around in shock.

The entire palace was built with this kind of dream crystal and all kinds of gemstones. As the main hall of the Emerald Hall, the floor was completely paved with high-quality jade. It was really luxurious to the extreme!

Everyone was shocked and could not help but mutter, "So the history is real. The stories of the bards are not illusory. There really is a palace built with crystals!"!

Marina walked at the front, looking at the familiar surroundings. Her Eyes revealed a trace of reminiscence. This place was once the glory that she built, and everything here once represented the history of the Western Archipelago! !

But now...

Everything that used to be seemed to be gone...

The group walked all the way to the inner part of the palace. At this time, in the main hall, a huge crystal was suspended in mid-air. Marina looked at the crystal, and then suddenly reached out to grab one of the people behind her, she directly broke the other person's limbs and threw them towards the crystal!

The sailor immediately let out a shrill scream, and the other sailors, including first mate Polly, immediately turned pale! !

Bengal Goode frowned as he looked at the alchemy rune array that lit up in front of the crystal and asked curiously, "What's This?"

Marina replied, "It's a barrier that can be used to trade with the undead!"

Bengal Goode was stunned, and then he looked at the complicated alchemy array with great curiosity, suddenly, he thought of something and asked, "I saw many of these floating crystals outside just now, and there seems to be such an alchemy array beside it. Is there any difference between the crystals in the palace and those outside?"

Marina was silent for a while, then she replied, "There's no difference..."

Bengal Goode was stunned for a moment. "Then... why did we have to run so far?"

Marina: "Don't you think this place is very beautiful?"

Bengal Goode:"..."

"You just want to show me the palace you once owned, right?"

Marina: "You Can See That?"

Bengal goad: "I Say You... isn't it not good to waste time on this?"

"I'm kidding..." Marina said faintly, "Of course it's different here, it's safer here..."

Bengal goad: "Why don't I want to believe you?"

"I'm serious..." Marina smiled and said, "This palace is not only beautiful, it's almost immune to all magic, including the illusion of the monster. It's the safest place to trade in the market." "...". Then, she looked at the ghost ship outside and said, "If we trade in the crystals outside, the ship might be taken away by others when we come out..." "..."

"It can't be..." Bengal Goode frowned. "Doesn't this ship only recognize the person who summoned it?"

Marina looked at him faintly. "Just because it recognizes the person, it will be deceived..."

Bengal Goode: "..."

As soon as he finished speaking, the surrounding scene suddenly began to distort. In the next moment, Bengal Goode found that the surroundings had completely changed, turning gray. Then, he saw countless existences wearing black bamboo hats and bird-beaked masks... ..

As he and Marina appeared, those guys looked over faintly. For some reason, Bengal Goode only felt an unprecedented chill surge in his heart, even when he was stared at by that powerful master, he did not feel this terrifying. It was as if his entire body had lost consciousness.

After a long time, he slowly came back to his senses. He swallowed his saliva and asked carefully, "This... who are these guys?"

Marina: "The people of the other shore..."

Chapter 698: Trade of the Dead (Part Two)

"What do you mean by 'people of the other shore'?" Bengal Goode asked in surprise.

Marina was silent for a moment.

She had forgotten that this guy was a boorish man who didn't know anything. After two seconds of silence, she changed her words and said, "Dead people mean..."

"Oh? Accomplices?" Bengal Goode looked at those people curiously. He didn't know that his group was so powerful.

Marina looked at him, not knowing how he came to this conclusion.

She gave up explaining and said directly, "Don't talk, don't look around, follow me closely, don't Lose Me..."

"Oh..." Bengal Goode nodded honestly.

Marina was slightly relieved. Although this guy was stupid, he was more obedient... ..

Actually, Bengal Goode wasn't a well-behaved person. Otherwise, he wouldn't have become the only legendary pirate in the world. However, although he wasn't well-behaved, he wasn't a stupid person. He could feel that... These people around him were obviously not people that he could afford to offend...

Actually, Marina, who was walking in front, was also a little nervous. She knew more information than Bengal Goode, and she was more aware of the terror of these people around her.

Those who could come to this space to do business were all big shots. Her master was only one of these people back then... ..

Along the way, the two of them were trembling with fear. Under all kinds of scrutiny, they slowly walked forward. The scene around them was exactly the same, but their hearts felt as if time was passing by. Under such a torturous situation, the two of them did not even know how long they had walked for.

Finally, Marina's eyes lit up. She seemed to have seen something and slightly quickened her pace. Bengal Goode, who was at the back, was stunned and quickly followed...

The two of them came to a strangely-shaped trading shop. This shop was built very strangely, like a ball of flowing liquid. It felt like a lump of mud.

What was this thing?

Bengal Goode looked at the shop made of mud and frowned. In his eyes, this shop was like a pitch-black and stinky swamp. The door was like a whirlpool in the swamp, and the other end led to a deep hell... ..

He also noticed that since the two of them approached the shop, many people wearing bird-beaked masks looked over and were slowly approaching...

Marina walked to the door of the shop and took a deep breath. She gently picked up the black door ring and knocked on the door.

Knock knock...

The door ring knocked on the liquid-like door but made a metallic sound. Bengal Goode, who was behind him, was stunned. Was this mud-like thing actually made of iron?

Thud Thud...

The sound was heard once again. In this extremely quiet place, this sudden sound was particularly ear-piercing. Bengal Goode looked around and saw that there were already quite a number of people surrounding them...

Marina also looked around, and a trace of anxiety flashed in her eyes. She picked up the door knocker once again and pressed it... ..

However, there was still no movement inside. On the contrary, there was a dense mass of people surrounding the outside. Under the bird-beak mask, pairs of dark green eyes stared coldly in this direction, causing Bengal Goode's scalp to go numb.

That feeling was like a weak rabbit being noticed by Godzilla, who could destroy D spheres. Moreover, it was a group of... ..

“Marina...” Bengal Goode’s voice trembled as he said, “Someone... someone is coming...”

Marina looked behind her when she heard that. As Bengal Goode had said, a few of those people slowly approached this place.

Even though she had seen many big scenes, her heart trembled at this moment because she knew very well what would happen when those guys approached...

Should they leave?

Marina looked at the shop next to her unwillingly. There was no response from inside. She could not help but mutter, “How is it possible? They are not here?”?

“Marina! !” Bengal Goode slightly raised his voice, his tone filled with panic... ..

Looking at the guy who was getting closer and closer, Marina finally sighed. “It seems that we can only leave...”

As soon as she finished her words, an extremely familiar voice suddenly sounded.

“Eh? What are they all doing here?”

Marina and Bengal Goode raised their heads and looked over. When they saw the person who spoke, a strange expression appeared on their faces... ..

That person was wearing a blue captain’s uniform and had a short ponytail. His clean and neat temperament coupled with his beautiful face. Who else could it be but Li Goudan?

“Hey, what are you doing?” Li Goudan asked curiously as he put his hand on the shoulder of one of the black figures.

Marina and Bengal Goode’s eyelids twitched. Did this girl know what she was doing?

The figure who was held by Li Goudan’s shoulder paused for a moment. He turned his head stiffly to look at Li Goudan. His pair of dull green eyes showed some fluctuations...

Many masked men around also looked over.

“Let’s Go!” Marina no longer hesitated. She pulled Bengal Goode and crushed a black metal plate in her hand. Then, the place where the two of them were was distorted. In the next second, the two of them disappeared in this space.

“Eh?” This scene stunned Li Goudan. Then, he raised the plate in his hand and shouted, “Uncle, uncle, if I crush this dog plate, will I disappear like them?”

In the distance, Hans, who was far away, saw Li Goudan enter the crowd. The corners of his mouth kept twitching, and he didn’t know what to say.

Why is this girl so ambitious? She really dares to lean over like this. Can’t you feel the aura coming from these guys. And she even dares to put her arms around his shoulders... .. Also, which eye of yours saw that the teleportation token looked like a dog tag?

But who are those two guys?

He looked curiously at the place where Marina and Li Goudan disappeared. Although he was far away, he could clearly see that the two of them didn't even have time to exchange their sacrifice points before they hurriedly teleported away.

Wasn't this a F * cking waste?

He knew that there was no such concept of sacrifice points here. The sacrifice points that had not been consumed at that time would be directly zero as they left!

And that shop... ? Why didn't I notice it before? Why did the two of them come here, and why did these guys surround them? Why did the two of them run away?

What was the secret of the shop?

Hans looked at the muddy shop with a strange light in his eyes.

No, this was not the time to think about this. The key was that guy!

Hans quickly shouted at Li Goudan, "Let Go! Come back here, you idiot!"

Li Goudan blinked and looked at the anxious look on the other party's face. He then looked at the guy he had hooked up with and said, "Hey, brother, say something!"

That person looked at Li Goudan for a long time before finally opening his mouth slowly and saying, "Is it a trade?"

Li Goudan was stunned. Then, he looked at the other party for a long time. Finally, he patted the other party's shoulder fiercely and said, "Damn, you actually Know Mountain City language? Fellow townsman, I'm Li Goudan from Shapingba. May I ask which District I'm From?"

That person seemed to be stunned by Li Goudan's Pat. He looked at the other party blankly for a long time before opening his mouth again and asking, "Is it a trade?"

Chapter 699 trading?

Half an hour ago:

"Listen, the trading rules here are like this. All the guys wearing bird-beak masks here are people who can be traded, but everyone has different things on them. Some people may have things that are useless to you, while some people have things that are rare treasures. However, they will only show their goods when you are sure that you want to trade with them, so buying things here depends on luck!"

Li Goudan was stunned. "Why do you call it luck? I don't have to buy useless things..."

"This is what's so bad about this place!" Hans said hatefully. "This group of people is forced to do business. Once you say that you want to make a deal, you have to buy at least one thing from them. If you don't buy them, they will kill you..." "..."

"You can kill people here?" Li Goudan was suddenly interested. "Then can I Rob Them?"

"Are you sure?" Hans looked around strangely.

"I... I'm just kidding..." Li Goudan looked around with a dry smile, as a wind demon, she was very observant. The people around her had strange auras. Although they were not strong, they were like pools of water that one could not see clearly. It gave the feeling that if one stepped into them, they might be instantly submerged.

She had only seen this feeling from the seer lord of the main base...

"That means that once I make a deal with one of them, I have to be forced to buy an item from him, regardless of whether that item is useful to me or not, right?"

Hans: "That's what it means..."

Li Goudan: "Someone would come even if it was such a scam?"

The corner of Hans's mouth twitched slightly, and he thought to himself, "You still have the cheek to talk about others? Didn't you just come?"

He simply couldn't understand the other party. He had clearly told her the trading rules of the three alchemy arrays from the very beginning, and the third one was the most fraudulent, but she still came.

Could it be that some people were born to do this?

However, he naturally didn't dare to directly look down on her, because this girl had the capital to do so. Not long ago, he had brought her to blood-eye Mickey's lair to try it out. He did not expect that this girl would be able to take care of five gold-tier hideouts in less than a few minutes. Moreover, most of these few minutes were spent looking for people. If they really fought for less than ten seconds... ..

Mickey and the others had not even had the chance to use their own special items!

This strength was even more exaggerated than a legend. It was not that Hans had never seen a legend. Although it had been a long time since a legendary hero had appeared in the western islands, there were still some in this godforsaken place. Many of the first batch of survivors had already reached the legendary strength, but he felt that even those people might not be able to suppress Mickey and the others in less than ten seconds... ..

Under his tyrannical power, Hans was naturally very honest. He smiled and replied, "Most of the things sold here are things that are not in the crystal. Many of the things have a great value for money!"

"Oh?" Li Goudan heard this and asked curiously, "What kind of things do they usually sell?"

"There are all kinds of things..." Hans lowered his voice and said, "There are all kinds of strange things. There are daggers that can cut space, cameras that can seal people into photos, potions that can instantly turn you from bronze to gold, undead puppets that are comparable to legends. There are even rumors that someone has bought a pass and can directly get out of this damn place."

"Get Out?" Li Goudan narrowed his eyes. "Do you mean to leave this ice field?"

Hans replied, "Yes!"

"Have you seen it?" Li Goudan asked.

"No..." Hans shook his head. "I've only heard of it..."

Li Goudan frowned slightly when he heard that. He thought of that Henry...

If it was true, then such harsh rules made sense... ..

“Then what do you usually rely on to determine whether the other party is worth trading?” Li Goudan asked curiously.

She looked around. The people here were all dressed in the same outfit — a black bamboo hat and a bird’s beak mask. How to judge them was a little puzzling.

Of course, they were not completely different. Most of these people had different figures, and each of them had some different decorations. Some of them had gemstones on them, and some of them had some strange living creatures behind them.

“Guess...”

“Guess?”

Hans replied helplessly, “There’s nothing we can do. The rules here meant that at the beginning, everyone could only guess. After the transaction, try your best to remember the person you traded with, and then choose whether to continue trading with it later. If you encounter a pit, just avoid it.”

The corner of Li Goudan’s eyes twitched. Was this considered paying tuition?

Hans said, “But fortunately, every trader has a certain set of characteristics, and they basically only wander around in one place. It’s easy to recognize them, and it’s not to the point where people fall in the same place twice at the same time...”

It seemed like this was paying tuition...

The corner of Goudan’s eye twitched slightly. It seemed like they were using money to fill in the holes... After being scammed so much, they naturally knew how to avoid the holes... ..

“Then how many times have you been scammed? Have you met anyone more reliable?”

Hans was silent for a while, then sighed. “My Luck wasn’t very good. I came here a total of nineteen times, and I bought useless things eighteen times. There was one time when I almost died here because I didn’t have enough money...”

“Then what about the other time?” Doggie’s eyes lit up.

Hans pointed to a thatched cottage in the southeast and said, “There’s a very short guy at that location. He mainly sells dolls. I bought a guard doll from him. That doll can provide you with a view to explore dangerous places through that doll. Also, use it to keep vigil. If anyone comes, it will remind you that it’s a good value shop. I remember that Guy has a scapegoat doll there, but I heard that it’s very expensive. Someone once sacrificed a legend to go but didn’t have enough money to buy that thing.”

“Oh, that sounds very useful...” doggie became interested. “Where is he? Let’s go buy two dolls...”

Hans frowned, but didn’t say anything. To be honest, with the money, he actually wanted the other party to explore some new pits. What if he found another place to sell good goods? If he was lucky, what if he found a person who sold passes?

But this purpose was not easy to say. He had to gain the other party's trust first and then take it slowly, so he nodded and said, "I'll take you there. These people usually have a fixed area, and they won't easily leave that area..."

But as soon as he said that, the group of people who were originally in a daze suddenly became distracted by something. They all looked at the same place, and after a few seconds., they all staggered towards that place.

This made Hans Freeze on the spot. Li Goudan poked him. "Uncle, your information isn't very reliable. Didn't you say that they don't move easily?"

"This..."Hans was stunned, and then he said, "This is the first time I've seen such a situation."

"Really?"Li Goudan's eyes lit up when he heard this, and he actually followed the crowd over.

Hans quickly went forward and pulled him back. "What are you doing?"

"I'm just watching the Show!"Li Goudan laughed.

Was she crazy? She dared to watch the show here?

Thus, Li Goudan followed a group of black shadows to the shop where Marina and the others were.

After Marina and the others left, Li Goudan, who was rather bored, hooked up with one of them to ask about the specific situation.

"Is it a trade?"That person looked straight at Li Goudan, as if that was all he could say.

Li Goudan frowned, then smiled and said, "If I make a trade, can you tell me why you are here?"

As soon as he said this, Hans's eyelids twitched. This girl was really ignorant and fearless. Did she really think that she could do whatever she wanted here just because she had some strength?

In this place, legends were nothing!

The black figure with Li Goudan's arm around his shoulder did not expect Li Goudan to say this, and immediately fell silent again.

But suddenly, just as Hans wanted to quickly pull Goudan back, the shop that Marina had been knocking on the door without any reaction actually creaked open the door...

In this originally quiet environment, the sound was particularly eye-catching... ..

The many black shadows instantly looked over...

As the black door opened, a figure covered in liquid slowly crawled out of the swamp-like liquid shop...

What the hell was that?

Hans was stunned. He felt an uncontrollable chill rise up from that thing the moment it came out, stronger than the monsters around it...

"Is it a trade?"The sticky figure suddenly asked Li Goudan after he got up.

Chapter 700: Standing Shadow

“Is it a trade?” The pitch-black voice asked Li Goudan again.

As soon as he said this, almost all the people with bird-like beaks looked at Li Goudan. Li Goudan was stunned for a moment, then shook his head. “No trade...”

The pitch-black figure paused for a moment, then said hoarsely, “Why?”

Hans was stunned after hearing this. Damn it, he had never seen anyone here ask why!

In his impression, these people would only ask if you wanted to make a trade. If you refused, most of them would just ignore you.

“Because... because first come, first served!” Li Goudan hooked the figure next to him who had asked if he wanted to make a trade. “It asked Me First!”

The only black figure that did not have a bird’s beak fell silent when he heard that. Then, his dark green eyes looked deeply at Li Goudan, but he did not continue to say anything. A few seconds later, that lump of sludge-like thing., slowly retreated back into the shop.

The door was tightly shut, and there was no more sound.

The group of figures with bird-like areas looked at the moving black shop and then looked at Li Goudan. For a moment, they did not have any intention of leaving. This strange scene made Hans quietly step back, he thought to himself, if this girl was dismembered, he would immediately activate the teleportation and run back!

Li Goudan, however, seemed to be unaware of it. He continued to smile at the figure next to him and asked, “Brother, let’s continue our conversation. I’ll make a deal with you. Tell Me, why are you all gathered here?”

The figure raised his head slightly when he heard that. His eyes, which were numb under the area of the bird’s beak, flashed with a hint of fluctuation. Then, with a hoarse voice, he said, “Okay...”

“My God... What the hell are those things?” After being teleported back to the Crystal Palace, bengal Goode patted his chest and his face turned pale. It was not that he had not seen the world before. When the 17 countries of the Western Archipelago sent out their royal fleets to encircle and annihilate him, he did not even frown, because he knew that the seemingly powerful group’s strength was actually vulnerable to a single blow from within.

However, this time, it was completely different when facing those fellows with bird-like areas. The feeling of being surrounded by wild beasts and only being an ant was really quite uncomfortable.

Marina did not speak. Her face was somewhat pale and her hands could not help but tremble. When she was teleported just now, she remembered that one of the fellows had suddenly grabbed her. At that moment, she almost had the illusion that she was about to be left behind... ..

“You still know fear? I thought you wouldn’t be afraid!” Bengal Goode said with a smile.

Marina glanced at him coldly and said in a low voice, “Shut up...”

“Shut up? That won’t do!” Bengal Goode’s face turned ugly. “I almost lost my life. Can’t you let me know why? “Marina, you’d better tell me now. I don’t want to die without knowing why!”

Hearing that, Marina raised her head and stared at him coldly. Bengal Goode also stared at her without showing any weakness. He had no intention to compromise!

“You became famous earlier than me. Logically speaking, I should call you senior... but if we really fight, Marina, I can tell you the result right now. The one who will die will definitely be you!” Bengal Goode said coldly.

Marina narrowed her eyes slightly. Among the legendary heroes that her master had collected, each of them had their own specialties. Kelsu was the strongest arcanist, Matru was the strongest assassin, and Alice’s advantage was her brain. Meanwhile, the other side’s advantage was their direct combat strength. In the entire hall of the dead souls, only the hammer of destruction could barely beat him... ..

The two of them faced each other for about half an hour before she nodded lightly and said, “Follow me...” as she said that, she turned around and walked straight into the hall.

Bengali Goode was stunned for a moment. After thinking for a moment, he cautiously followed behind her, but they maintained a distance of nearly five meters from each other.

He and marina had been together for hundreds of years, but he still did not know the exact strength of the other party. The main reason was that it was too difficult to determine the class of this fellow. She first started out as a knight., in a mage family, she used the strength of a Gold Knight to obtain a group of followers and thus seized power.

However, the strange thing was that he heard later that she had involved in the forbidden blood magic and became a famous blood mage. She had once sucked an entire royal fleet dry!

As for what blood magic was, to be honest, he did not know. The methods of mages were mysterious, and blood magic was an unusual kind of arcane magic. In addition, Marina was a ruthless person, very few people could survive the attack, which made it difficult to collect information. She was one of the few people whose strength was difficult to predict.

A head-on fight... .. Bengal Goode believed that he would definitely win, but a wizard with strange means needed to be able to surprise the opponent. It was not impossible for him to fail if he was not careful...

Therefore, Bengal Goode decided to keep a certain distance from the opponent.

“What do you want to know?” Marina slowly walked in front and spoke first.

“Who are those guys wearing masks?” Bengal Goode quickly asked.

“Didn’t I just say it? Dead people...” Marina said faintly.

“How do dead people come to the real world?” Bengal Goode said coldly, “Didn’t you say that only the master in this world has the ability to leave the dead in the world?”

“This is what Kersu said, but I didn’t say...” marina laughed in a low voice, “And that place just now couldn’t be considered as the real world...”

“Could it be the dead world?” Bengal Goode asked.

Marina glanced at him. This guy looked very reckless, but he was very meticulous when asking questions... ..

“You can think of that place as the intersection point between the dead world and the real world, a point where both sides can temporarily stay...”

“Then what’s your main purpose for going there today?” Bengal Goode continued.

Bengal goode: “But you didn’t trade, you came back directly.”

Marina: “That’s because the person I wanted to trade isn’t here.”

“Who is that person?” Bengal Goode’s expression tensed, and he quickly asked.

Just as he asked this question, he did not know if it was a coincidence or not, but Marina just happened to walk to a corner and turned around. Bengal Goode’s pupils constricted. It was not a good thing to let a mage disappear from his sight.

Therefore, he quickened his pace and wanted to pass through that corner.

When he passed through, he maintained a high level of vigilance to prevent the other party from attacking him at any time. As he was not too far away from the other party... After speeding up, he passed through the corner in less than a second and saw the back of the other party once again...

Marina did not seem to be out of the ordinary. She walked forward unhurriedly and continued to talk about the previous topic. “That’s a person who can give me something important...”

“Who is it? What’s important?” Bengal Goode was slightly relieved when he saw that the other party did not have any strange movements when he passed through the corner, he quickly returned his attention to the other party’s topic. However, at the moment he relaxed, the shadow under his feet suddenly stood up straight and stuck closely behind him.
