

A Bunch 70

Chapter 70: God Damn Skewers!

When Brother Dog and Emperor Liver returned, it was almost two o'clock in the morning, but the farm was still brightly lit. From a distance, the two of them could hear the sound of drums. They immediately felt a little strange, so they pulled the new girl, they bent over and whispered to each other, wanting to see what was going on inside.

The female ninja followed behind the two with a strange expression. These two hulks were extremely tough, and they looked guilty and sneaky. They looked a little funny, even though she should be more serious after her teammate died, but for some reason, she wanted to laugh.

But she was also curious. What could make these two guys who fought so valiantly feel so guilty?

The female ninja was right. The two of them were a little guilty. That skinny old man who looked like a rat sperm was obviously coming for them. The two young men and women who died were obviously innocent victims. If this was a normal virtual reality game., of course, they wouldn't feel any pressure. However, this game was too realistic. Every minor NPC in the factory who came into contact with them gave them a feeling of flesh and blood. They were no different from real people.

Under such circumstances, carrying such a debt was extremely stressful.

But the two of them also felt very innocent. The plot of the game was strange, without any signs. Who the hell would have known that it would develop like this?

The three of them sneaked in, but the scene inside made brother dog and emperor liver somewhat baffled. Because the atmosphere inside did not look like a dead person at all. A group of people surrounded the bonfire and danced happily, the two big men even took out two big drums. They didn't look like dead people, but they looked like they were celebrating a festival.

Seeing this scene, the two men had strange expressions on their faces. Then, they sneaked over to Grandpa Lu and Old Zhang on the grill.

"Hey... Grandpa... What's Going On?" Brother Dog walked over and poked Grandpa Lu, who was trying hard to lick the gravy on the plate.

Grandpa Lu, who was interrupted by the delicious food, rolled his eyes and said impatiently, "A funeral? Didn't you see it?"

"This is a F * cking funeral?" Brother Dog's eyelids twitched. "Why do I feel that it's even more joyous than the party we just had?"

Grandpa Lu: "Isn't that very normal? When people die in those counties, don't relatives also find a bunch of people to eat and drink? It's just that they're dancing, and we're just playing cards."

Brother Dog:" ..."

Emperor liver: "That makes sense..."

Brother dog: "Hammer makes sense..."

"Eh? Where did you kidnap a girl doll from?" Grandpa Lu's eyes lit up when he saw the female ninja, this little appearance was quite unique, and it was Asian in style. Although it wasn't as monstrous as the group of transformed elves in the base, it was still better than the group of charcoal around!

But after a moment of shock, he thought, why am I so excited? Anyway, there was no bird.

Was this the unnamed creature in the information? The female ninja frowned and thought to herself, no matter how she looked at it, it doesn't seem like it can be changed by humans, right? This group of people spoke Chinese and were not on the same side as the extraordinary army. It was very likely that they were the people from the Huazhong Dragon Group that the Captain had guessed. But did the extraordinary forces in Huazhong have the same genetic mutation route as North America? Did they have such technology?

"Oh, this girl? We met her on the way. We saw her being chased by a monster, so we saved her along the way!" The liver emperor said, completely ignoring the fact that her companion had been smashed into a paste.

"Monster?" Grandpa Lu's eyes lit up. "There's a monster. What does it look like?"

The liver emperor said, "It looks like Jill is mighty. She's more than half our height. The armor she's wearing is bright. She looks like an elite monster that can only be defeated by a five-man Team!"

"Looks like it?" Grandpa Lu was stunned. "But what about the truth?"

"He's a piece of trash from the gay bar. He was beaten to death by a lump of dog!"

Grandpa Lu: "..."

"Let's hurry up and leave this place..." brother dog frowned.

He kept feeling that it was not a good thing to stay here. If two people died because of this, he would feel a little guilty... .. The main thing is... Why does this factory look like Uncle Fang's... . .

"What the hell..." the liver emperor curled his lips and said, "It's so dark outside, where are you going? Besides, you're not tired after running all day. Sleep first and then we'll leave in the morning."

"Sleep?" The dog brother Leng for a while, then said: "Also, on the plane has been so long, it is time to go offline..." then suddenly looked around, a moment and stunned: "Hey, how to go offline AH?"

"Go to the hammer line..." emperor liver stretched his body and said, "Other than our base, there's no offline point in the map outside. The last time we went out, we were locked up for three days."

"There's such a Bug?" Brother Dog was stunned. "Then what should I do if I have something to do?"

Grandpa Lu: "Commit suicide and go back to the city!"

"There's no other way?"

What a joke. The game explained that it was a death refresh system. He had to move bricks for a few months before he had the current attributes. If he died, wouldn't it be a waste to move the bricks again?

Grandpa Lu: "I haven't found it yet..."

Brother dog: "Then what's The Quest? Let's go and settle it and go back earlier. I still have a blind date this weekend."

Emperor liver: "What blind date? How can a girl be as easy to play as a game?"

"But... you have to go offline to rest. Aren't you afraid of sudden death if you stay in the game all the time?" Brother Dog immediately became anxious.

"I've been in the industry for ten years, and I've never worried about this problem." The emperor of the liver sneered.

Brother Dog: "..."

"Really, Boss!" In the forest, a young black man with a dirty whip looked at the tyrant whose neck had been beaten until it was twisted and deformed. Not only was he astonished, but he also said, "Was this beaten by a human?"

"I don't know what it is..." blade jumped onto the tyrant's body and looked at the obvious fist mark on its chin. "It may also be a mutated species, but it's of a higher level than us!"

"Boss, you must be joking, right?" The corner of the young black man's eyes twitched. "In this aspect, we are at least two hundred years ahead of the world!"

"Logically speaking..." blade was also puzzled, then he shook his head. "But the murderer who killed him didn't hide the traces of the scene, so it's easy to track..." at this point, she frowned and looked at the sky. "Hasn't crab and the poisonous shadow arrived yet?"

"It should be soon..." the black guy said, "The electric eel just said on the walkie-talkie that they will be here soon. Crab has always been slow. As for the poisonous shadow... I heard that he has recently hooked up with a Hollywood star."

"These guys..." blade's face was gloomy. Then, he paused and said, "Then wait for them."

The Black Guy was stunned. He felt that his captain was a bit too cautious this time. This was the first time he had seen such a situation.

Blade seemed to understand what his teammates meant. He sighed and said, "I saw Kagura's Takashima on the way here just now!"

"No Way..." the black guy looked at the tyrant's deformed chin on the ground again. "Is this something that Kagura's sneaky group of People Can Do?"

"It shouldn't be the same group of people..." blade frowned and said, "The situation might be very chaotic later. Gather more people. I have a feeling that there might be a tough battle ahead!"

Mars:

At this time of night becomes a bit difficult... .

On the third day after Brother Dog and the others went missing, the second batch of elves in the base began to transform. This time, most of them were green spirits. As there were no mentors in this area for the time being, the early teachings were all taught by the Shapeshifter, vireen.

Seer is not anxious about this, green spirit this breed of early need to master things is not as complex as other classes, to appear simple.

What Vivian needed to do now was to teach the green spirits how to get used to their current bodies and talents. They would slowly master the Level-2 listening skill and communicate with the infant star beasts that the Lord had bought for them.

This job was not difficult at first, and seer felt that Vivian should be able to do it. However, this was the third time that Seer had received a complaint from Vivian today.

“Lord, I feel that the ones you bought... hmm... there’s definitely something wrong with the star-swallowing hound! !”

“What’s wrong with them?” Xi Ye looked a little guilty under the helmet, but her body was straight and her tone was cold as if she had everything under control.

“They... HMM, they have a bad temper. They’re just born, but they’re already very aggressive!”

Xi Ye said, “Eh, they’re high-level species after all. There are some ancient fierce beast genes in their bodies. It’s normal for them to be fierce.”

Wei Lin said, “But they... well... they are very strange. They were born with fists as small as their fists, but their mouths can open bigger than a human’s head!”

Xi Ye said, “I already said they are high-level species. Is it strange for them to have some unusual talent?”

Wei Lin said, “The students also reported that those dogs put everything into their mouths. Most of the beds in the dormitory have been gnawed on. If this continues, I’m afraid that their own dormitory will be gone.”

“It’s very normal... otherwise, how can they be called star-swallowing dogs!” Seer said in all seriousness.

However, she was panicking in her heart and thought to herself, ‘what the hell, what the hell is this thing that the Elven lord sold me?’?

“Are you really going to let it go like this, my Lord? I don’t think that kind of creature can be tamed well by a novice green spirit...”

“You have to believe in my people. They all have excellent qualities. This little problem can be solved by themselves very quickly!” Seer said confidently.

“Is that so...” Vivian frowned, there was nothing wrong with that at the moment. The Liege trusted his people, and as a worker, it was not easy to refute him. Moreover, the qualities of his people were indeed ridiculously high, it seemed that this trust was not without reason.

It seemed to be justified... .. There was nothing wrong with it, but for some reason... She always felt that the lord was somewhat unreliable. ...
