Chapter 711: code...

Lei Xue: "Captain, why are you so passionate about the nickname 'dog egg'?"

Li Goudan: "My mother gave me the name..."

Lei Xue: "But I heard that your family is from a wealthy family, not the countryside..."

Li Goudan: "But the heart is the same. The villagers think that the worse the name, the easier it is to live. This is because when the magistrate of the underworld checked the life and death book, he felt that this name was not a "Human" name, so it was easy to avoid it. When I was born, I was skinny, only a little more than three catties. In ancient times, I could not be raised by one person, but my mother was determined to raise me, so she gave me the name Goudan. Sure enough, after I was one year old, I was raised to be stronger than a boy. When I was three years old, no one in the Li family's courtyard could beat me!"

Lei Xue: "..."

BoxNovel.com

Dog egg li: "I like this name because it means that my mother wants to support me. This isn't an easy thing to do. My mother is a cultured girl, and most cultured girls are the kind who moan and groan. No matter how well-off they are, they tend to self-harm. But for my mother to come up with such a country-like name for me, it shows how much she likes me...". "..."

Lei Xue said, "It sounds... like there's nothing wrong with it..."

"Is that so?" Li Goudan grinned and cracked his neat white teeth. "That's why I named this ship Goudan. Just like how my mother expects me, I also hope that this ship can be as strong as me!"

The magical logic left Lei Xue in a daze. After thinking for a long time, she asked another question, "Then what does our mean?" She pointed at the two lumps of things that looked like kidneys on the ship and asked.

"Dog eggs!" A certain person said seriously, "Since we have chosen this name, we must respect it, so the must match the image of the name!"

Lei Xue: "But... but dogs... can they lay eggs? And this drawing of yours... doesn't seem like an egg..."

"To think that you're a doctor. You Don't even have this bit of common sense. Of course dogs can't lay eggs!"

Lei Xue: "..."

"In the countryside, dog eggs usually refer to dog kidneys or the two steel balls of a dog. This captain felt that the steel balls weren't very elegant, so he drew two kidneys..."

Lei Xue: "..."

“Lei Xue...”. Just as Lei Xue was about to retort, dog eggs suddenly put his arm around her shoulder with a serious expression and said seriously, “Remember this . This is the culture of our team, and it’s also the code for the future. If one day we get separated, this is the symbol that you can find me. This captain’s trademark is absolutely unique!”

“Master Lei Xue... Master Lei Xue?”

Suddenly, a familiar voice pulled lei xue back to reality. Lei Xue, who had suddenly woken up from her memories, looked at Johnny, who had spoken. Johnny’s expression was clearly a little strange, and so was Kurland, he couldn’t help but think to himself, what’s wrong with this woman? Why was she in a daze as she spoke?

“Do you think your captain is still alive?”Kurland saw that Xue Lei had returned to normal and returned to the topic from before.

“I think so...”Xue Lei came back to her senses and looked at the monster that was wreaking havoc in the distance, although the monster’s behavior and appearance were very terrifying, there were some inexplicable behaviors. For example, it would self-harm and tear off lumps of flesh from its body. At first glance, it didn’t seem strange, but if you look closely, you’ll see that the flesh, no matter how big or small, is almost the same shape!

A pile of dog kidneys...

Inside the Crystal Palace, the design is even more bizarre than outside. The ornate and artistic decorations, steps, and sculptures all present the craftsmanship of the palace, but the walls and corners are covered with rotten flesh and blood, it made this luxurious beauty full of a morbid visual view.

Marina was sitting elegantly in a crystal pavilion. The exquisitely carved tables and chairs were filled with exquisite snacks and two bottles of fruit wine with bright colors.

This was Marina’s collection. It was produced in the most famous winery a thousand years ago. It emitted a rich and sweet wine fragrance and was equipped with exquisite wine tools. It had the image of an aristocrat’s afternoon tea.

However, the guy who occupied the body of Bengal Goode on the other side clearly felt a little confused, his voice carried a strange tone as he asked, “In your current condition, you shouldn’t be able to taste the taste of food anymore. Why are you making such a fuss? Don’t you think it’s a waste of energy?”

Marina, who was elegantly holding a cup, couldn’t help but roll her eyes when she heard this. She could only say faintly, “You don’t understand...”

So what if she couldn’t taste the wine? Was she drinking wine?

Just like many girls who were passionate about a certain Barker, did they drink coffee. No... .. It was style. A certain Barker’s Cup, paired with a MacBook, and the midday sun, coupled with a Leica camera, combined with the 99 beautiful faces of the Meitu show, sent it to her wechat moments. Ah... .. This scene was so exquisite...

This old antique who had lived for God knows how many years in front of her definitely couldn't understand this kind of thing. It would be pointless to talk about it... ..

Thus, to avoid embarrassment, Marina took the initiative to change the topic. "You care so much about that girl? Hmm... I'm talking about that Wind Demon?"

As she spoke, a huge naked eye pillar next to her blinked, and then an image appeared in her eyeball. In the image, Li Goudan was fixed in a mass of flesh and blood, and his entire body was wrapped by slender meridians. Coupled with that pair of beautiful wings, he was like an angel that had been corroded by Hell... ..

To be honest, this fellow's strength was beyond her imagination. After the undead ship devoured the Crystal Palace, its creature level was already close to level-8, and the gold-tier knights and legendary knights that it brought with it were devoured in a single exchange, however, it was her who almost single-handedly killed her way to the core position!

When she thought of this, not only Marina, even the fellow that occupied Bengal Goode was shocked. If Marina had not brought a level-7 undead creature.., if she had not used the advanced alchemy array to completely control this undead creature, she might have really fallen on the body of this young wind demon!

After all, she did not expect that a mere level-4 wind demon's combat strength would be so exaggerated. Moreover, its talent was astonishing. This fellow could almost use all kinds of talent skills that required a high-purity bloodline, from its judgment, this was at least an outstanding descendant nurtured by an ancient elven family that had been passed down for tens of thousands of eras. The genes used were definitely high-purity genes refined from the inheritance of a star-ranked powerhouse!

However, why would such an outstanding elven descendant appear here? Appearing on such a remote low-magic planet?

One had to know that it was impossible for a descendant nurtured by such a large family to be released to travel around at such a young age. At the very least, they would have to graduate from an advanced academy and have the strength of a level ten creature at the very least. Then, he would be bound with numerous life caskets and various life-saving items before he would dare to release them to the public... ..

Could he have sneaked out?

Chapter 712 Discovery!

Boom...

The hall shook once again without any warning. Marina, who was enjoying the ritual of life, frowned slightly as she looked at the spilled wine on the floor, then, she looked at the person opposite her.

"Didn't you say that you could completely control an undead?"

Bengal Goode, who was opposite her, was slightly silent when he heard that. Apparently, he was also somewhat puzzled.

This high-level creature... .. well., for this plane creature, it was a high-level undead creature. It was impossible for it to be controlled by a level two or three creature. After all, summoning creatures also paid attention to balance, however, civilization was such a magical thing. A high-level civilization could reverse the limit of an individual. That guy used the alchemy method of his own civilization to help his subordinate master such a biological weapon!

Such a thing was not difficult for a deity lord who had mastered a high-level arcane civilization. If that guy could do it, then naturally, he could do it too. After all, he was once a famous existence, it was not difficult to crack the other party's spell formation and inscribe his own things.

BoxNovel.com

But why would there be an unstable situation?

Could it be that the spell formation was not completely cracked?

It shouldn't be. The spell formation was not complicated. As long as the lord of a level-twelve or higher arcane civilization was able to crack it easily, not to mention that he was the one who did it himself, could it be that the guy left some hidden spell on the undead?

Impossible... .. Although the guy had some strength, it was impossible for him to do such a thing under his nose. In terms of the accuracy of the arcane civilization, he did not think that he was inferior to the other party at all. The other party did not have the ability to plant a secret spell under his nose... ..

If it was not that guy, what could have caused the instability of this undead creature?

Thinking of this, Bengal Goode suddenly looked at Li Goudan in the huge eyeball... ..

"What? Is there something wrong with her?" Marina smiled and said, "I told you just now, it's better for you not to remember this kind of unknown guy..."

In fact, she was a little unwilling. Such a beautiful and powerful body should belong to her, not this old pervert who had existed for God knows how long!

Bengal Goode didn't reply, but carefully looked at Li Goudan. Indeed, it seemed that the undead had become unstable after he controlled it with the undead creature.

But How was this possible?

Although this little girl was extremely talented and had a higher aptitude than many of the descendants of the large families that he had seen before, it was impossible for her to disrupt his alchemy array...

This thing could not be shaken by relying on talent... .. Wait...

Perhaps... it seemed to be possible...

Bengal Goode's eyes twitched as an unrealistic thought rose in his mind. This thought was extremely unrealistic. It was so unrealistic that he felt that it was a little laughable just thinking about it.

But if it was true... .. It seemed that everything in front of him could be explained. ...

After hesitating for a few seconds, he decided to test it...

Thinking of this, Bengal Guld's finger moved slightly, and in the next second, dense alchemy runes appeared in the space of the entire palace. The formulas formed by these runes almost filled the space of the entire palace. This scene.., marina, who had studied Arcana, felt her scalp go numb.

Any one of these high-level spell formulas could make her struggle for a long time. The combination of any two spell formulas was so complicated that she could not figure out the principle even if she racked her brain. This spell formula filled the entire space.., it was really hard to imagine how this old man was operating it?

Could he really memorize all the formulas and perform the calculations alone?

Just as she thought of this, she saw Bengali Gudrun's finger move lightly on one of the spell formulas. Immediately, countless spell formulas around her were being reorganized because of this variable. Marina, who was at the side, quickly averted her gaze. She was afraid that if she continued to watch, she would suffer from a phobia of density... ..

However, this knowledge was really magical. Once, her master could rely on such a complicated warlock to control such a powerful undead creature, but this guy in front of her could also rely on such a complicated warlock to erase her master's spell formulas. He had even transformed the undead ship into an undead palace...

Was there anything in this world that a mage could not do?

As the spell changed, a portion of Li Goudan's rotting flesh began to change visibly. The rotting flesh began to turn pitch-black, and black, foul-smelling liquid continued to emerge, however, as the liquid emerged, the rotting flesh began to harden and continue to condense. A few seconds later, the rotting flesh began to turn from a soft substance into a biological shell similar to that of a scaled creature.

Seer would have been so shocked that her eyeballs would pop out of their sockets. A biological transformation, using an alchemy array to directly change a biological type was a high-end biological technology. Only a level-19 biological alchemy civilization could do it... ..

But at this moment... ! Bengali Goude, who was using this cutting-edge technology array, had an extremely shocked expression on his face. It was as if he had seen something incredible!

In the screen, less than ten seconds after the flesh around Li Goudan began to change, the flesh around Li Goudan began to change as well, immediately, the disgusting flesh that was originally covering Li Goudan's body became black scales!

Seeing this scene, Bengal Goode was so excited that his entire body was trembling. He could not even hold the cup in his hand properly, and it fell to the ground. He stood up trembling and staggered as he walked, causing Marina to be stunned.

What's all the excitement about?

I thought you said you were one of the top guys who's lived for countless years? Shouldn't movers and shakers keep their emotions to themselves? Isn't that a little uncool for a big shot like you?

"100% capacity?"Muttered Bengal Goode, trembling. . .

100% capacity? What is that?

Marina curiously looked at the controlled Li Goudan, eyes flashed with a trace of thoughtfulness... ..

Business was as quiet as usual in the trading market. Many traders wearing bird-beak masks were standing in front of their shops in a daze.

They often did this kind of thing because they had lived like this for countless years. Some people might be bored for tens of thousands of years. After all, time was meaningless to them...

Suddenly, a burst of hurried footsteps interrupted the silence of the market. Some traders looked up and saw a short fellow walking hurriedly in a direction.

That position... seemed to be...

The guy walked all the way to the sludge-like material that Marina had knocked on the door, raised his hand and gently knocked on the door.

Interesting...

This scene made the bored traders look over with interest... ..

If Goudan Li was here, he would definitely recognize that the guy who had knocked on the door was the guy who wanted to trade her body... ..

Chapter 713 Negotiation!

Knock, Knock, knock...

The dull knocking on the door was particularly ear-piercing in this silent space, and more and more people were looking at this place.

It was actually hard for a normal person to imagine why a room made of mud would have the sound of knocking on metal when the door was knocked on.

But in reality, all high-end necromancers knew that the metal of the death realm looked like this... ..

Knock, knock...

BoxNovel.com

The knocking on the door sounded again. The sound was neither hurried nor slow, as if they were just friends. They did not show any signs of anxiety because the other party had not opened the door for a long time, but in reality, here... No matter how anxious one was in front of someone else's house, there was no use... ..

The reason was that the first rule of this space was that one could only enter the house after being invited!

This was the most basic rule of this dimension. Breaking the rules would destroy the structure of this dimension. This was something that life here could not allow.

It was not easy to have such a dimension that could communicate with the outside world and a stable transit station that had a chance of escaping the realm of death. No one would allow this place to be destroyed., whoever dared to destroy this place would have to bear the wrath of the thousands of terrifying undead here!

No one who came here was simple, but because of this, no one dared to offend the public, because they all knew that no one could face the wrath of thousands of traders in this space... ..

After an unknown period of time, the door creaked open, and a black shadow filled with fluid slowly poked its head out. When it saw clearly that the elf was not wearing a mask, its pupils constricted slightly, and it said in a hoarse voice, "What a rare guest..."

The elf slowly raised his head to look at the tall man. His gaze was still as stiff as before, as if he was looking at an object.

The man hesitated for a moment before he finally nodded slowly. "Come in..."

With a bang, the door to the house closed, and everyone's vision was blocked outside.

"Who is that short guy? He can actually make him open the door?"

"I don't know, but he must be an incredible guy. She only used a shapeshifting spell to kill a trader..."

"Transfiguration? You can use magic in this space and kill a trader with it... interesting..."

As the conversation began, there was more discussion around, and the quiet market became a bit lively, but none of this was true for the two people in the house, the door was out of sight. It also blocks out sound from the outside...

"Reem. MAGNA. Egemen, once the youngest member of the Elven Council, the top genius of the Egemen family, the chosen one who inherited the genes of the previous guardian, Irene, suddenly disappeared 4.3 million years ago. . ."

"If you hadn't helped me some time ago, I wouldn't have known I had such a big figure here..."

The Elf on the other side was expressionless. His long eyelashes didn't even flutter as he looked at the other party quietly. After a long while, he slowly replied, "He's already dead. It's a bit ridiculous to talk about a big figure..."

The Shadow on the other side was stunned. After a moment of silence, his voice became low. "That's right... no matter how powerful a person is, he's still an undead..."

"Why did you call me here?" It asked in a low voice.

"You went out once. How much do you know about that Elf Junior?" Reme asked directly.

The Shadow on the other side narrowed its eyes and finally shook its head. "I don't know much..."

"Roughly..." Reme said faintly.

"I only know that that Junior is working for a low-level god Lord..."

“Low-level?” Reme frowned. “How Low?”

“About level five or six...”

Reme was stunned. He raised his head and looked at the other party carefully, as if to see if the other party was playing with her... ..

“Don’t think that I can’t do anything to you just because you created this space...” Reme said coldly after a long while.

The black shadow paused for a moment. It was not angry at the naked threat because it knew that the other party was telling the truth. The Elves in the universe were an extremely powerful force. Becoming a member of the ELF assembly.., the minimum requirement was a great lord with a level 20 civilization!

If such an existence wanted to find trouble with it, it could rewrite the laws of space. Even if it had the home field advantage, it did not really want to face the youngest genius of the parliament...

“I’m not lying to you...” the Black Shadow said in a low voice. “At least that’s what I saw...”

Reme fell silent again...

The black shadow said, “I heard that you want to coexist with that Junior?”

Reme said, “Yes...”

The black shadow said, “Do you know the consequences?”

REME said, “You don’t have to Remind Me...”

The Black Shadow fell silent again after hearing that...

Coexisting was a way for the undead to enjoy life again, but the price was very high. Once they chose to coexist, the fate of the undead was completely bound to the contracted creature. If the other party died, the undead would also die, but this time it was true death... They didn’t even have the right to return to the death realm and become an undead...

Thus, most undead would rather choose a more brutal way to invade the other party and enjoy a short life than choose a symbiosis method... ..

Because even if the life in the death realm was so boring that it made people collapse, it was still ten thousand times better than not existing at all... ..

That elf actually had such a value?

At the beginning, he only thought that the Lord was just lucky, that the people under him had a higher capacity, and that the bloodline he could absorb was purer... .. But it seemed that things were not like that... ..

“You have a backup plan, right?” Reme said.

“What?” The black shadow looked at it innocently.

Reme looked at it coldly. "I saw it in that Junior's eyes. Your subordinate defected to another old fellow. It seemed that he originally planned to set you up, but you seemed to have seen through it and dodged it..." "..."

The dark green pupils of the black shadow flickered slightly, but it did not deny it. This was indeed the reason why Marina came to find him and he did not follow her.

Fortunately, it had done something to Marina back then and sensed that something was wrong with Marina. Otherwise, it might have really fallen this time.

Among all his subordinates, there were two that he was most worried about. One was Alice, and the other was Marina. These two guys were very outstanding, but they were also too smart. There had always been quite a number of suzerains who had been plotted against by their subordinates to death. Therefore, he had kept some tricks up his sleeve for these two exceptionally smart guys...

Now, it seemed that this decision was extremely wise, because these two women had really betrayed him just as he had thought, but the latter was even more ruthless...

"Since you were able to predict the betrayal of your subordinates in advance, you obviously have a backup plan in this area, right? You should also be prepared to face her betrayal, right?" Reme said coldly.

"What do you want?" The Black Shadow looked at the other party coldly.

"I want that Junior!" Reme straightforwardly stated his purpose.

The Black Shadow was silent...

After he went out, not only did he have to face the mysterious lord who had an unknown trump card, but he also had to face the enemy who might already know his coordinates and was rushing over. It was already extremely troublesome., would it be too much of a variable to let another guy of this level out now?

Chapter 714: gathering...

"Kurland, you summoned us in the name of Lord Dolan, and now you're announcing Lord Dolan's death. What do you mean by this?"

The curtain of darkness fell. When the morning sun once again filled the city square, most of the remaining powerful forces in the city had gathered together. Compared to the previous gathering, there were much fewer people this time, moreover, their mental states did not seem to be very good.

It was very obvious that too many things had happened yesterday, and it was too depressing.

The venue of the gathering was a floating crystal square. Kurland stood at the center of the square at the podium. This was once the place where bards from many countries performed, and now he was standing here talking about matters of life and death, Kurland was somewhat emotional.

"Lord Dolan has indeed met with misfortune..." Kurland's tone was filled with regret. "This news was learned from his first mate, Brent. According to him and his surviving subordinates, Dolan died yesterday in the Crystal Palace's mutation raid ... .."

BoxNovel.com

Hearing this, everyone looked at Brent's group standing beside the square. The Knight Group that was once second only to Fordring now only had four or five people, and they looked haggard and their mental state was extremely unstable., it was as if they had experienced a huge and terrifying incident.

"That's not what I'm asking..."the burly man who was full of lumps sneered and said, "Since Lord Dolan is dead, why did you summon us here in the name of a dead person? Do you want to replace Dolan as the leader?"

As soon as these words were said, the surrounding people sneered and disdain flashed in their eyes. Although there were quite a number of big shots who followed Fordring into the Crystal Palace last time, the remaining half were not all useless., at least, it was not Kurland's turn to be the king.

As soon as he said that, Johnny and Wilson, who were standing behind Kurland, slowly took a step forward. They released their aura without holding back, and the powerful pressure instantly made the face of the big man who had provoked them change!

These two guys were clearly legendary-level from their aura. Since when did Kurland have such a trump card?

The people around were also surprised...

"Let me introduce..."Kurland smiled and said, "These two are newcomers. They are the first mate and second mate of the girl from yesterday..."

Everyone was stunned when they heard that and looked at each other in bafflement. The girl from yesterday? Was that the guy who wrinkled them one by one?

Damn, that kind of pervert had teammates?

"Kurland...". The big man said with a dark face, "What do you mean by this ? Borrowing Outsiders to suppress us ? Don't look anymore. Yesterday, it was because of that woman that we lost a lot of power ? Even Grandfather Fodin and the others fell into it ..."

Hearing this, everyone's faces turned unfriendly. Obviously, they didn't want to be suppressed by this sudden foreign force. The reason why they surrendered yesterday... ... was mainly because that little girl's standards were too exaggerated... ..

"You mean, this is all our captain's fault?"Johnny grinned hideously as he took a step forward, his killing intent surging... The genes in his body slowly opened up, and black fur grew all over his body. His aura was at least twice as strong as before, forcing the burly man who had spoken earlier to retreat repeatedly!

"Kurland, what is the meaning of this? Do you really treat us like Persimmon?"The burly man bypassed the aggressive Johnny and challenged Kurland instead.

Lei Xue and the others could not help but roll their eyes behind him. This burly man looked ferocious and terrifying like a boorish man, but in reality, his personality was extremely cunning. He did not dare to directly confront Johnny and only dared to show his might at Kurland. After that, he did not forget to tie everyone together to give himself more confidence...

Johnny was a rough person, but there were details. With one glance, he could see the other party's character of bullying the weak and fearing the strong, he sneered, "Don't talk about others with your cheap mouth. If I hear one more word from you, I Will Rip your head off. If you don't believe me, you can try! !"

The Burly Man's face turned black. He looked around. The people around him were not fools. They did not let him use them. Instead, they looked at him coldly as a joke. When the burly man saw this, he snorted coldly, but he really did not continue to speak. Clearly, he was scared to the end.

He could not be blamed for being spineless. Firstly, Johnny's Aura was indeed a little shocking. Secondly, the little girl's performance yesterday was too exaggerated. Even the captain was so powerful. How Bad could his deputy be?

"Everyone..." seeing that Johnny had suppressed the situation, Kurland smiled and said, "I did use Sir Dolan's name. Although I had no choice, it was indeed a little unreasonable. Regarding this point, I apologize to everyone first..."

As he said this, Kurland bowed deeply with sincerity. This attitude made everyone relax a little. First, he used force to intimidate them, then he gave them a way out. Although the method was a little old-fashioned, it was indeed practical., it made everyone's mood much better.

The burly man who had just spoken sneered when he saw this. However, before he could speak, he saw Johnny coldly staring at him not far away. The words in the burly man's mouth instantly choked in his throat. In the end, he did not dare to provoke him. After surviving here for so many years... He had survived all the way to legend. After all, he could still tell when he should behave and when he should behave...

When Kurland saw that the atmosphere had eased up, he also heaved a sigh of relief in his heart, thus, he went straight to the point. "The reason why we used the name of the deceased was because we had no other choice. I'm sure everyone has seen that monster yesterday. In just one night, it destroyed 31 unsealed buildings, including four flour and two sausage processing plants. These things occupy almost one-third of our current city. Everyone should understand what this means, right?"

Hearing this, everyone fell silent. Those who had lived here for a long time knew that unsealing the buildings was a sign of survival. Even if they could not provide food and clothing, they could at least provide light and a relatively safe space. Otherwise, in the pitch-black square, even the legendary big shots would not dare to close their eyes so easily in the face of those elusive shadows...

Without food or light, it was only a matter of time before they were killed by those shadows... ..

"But what can we do?" One of the big-bearded dwarves said in a muffled voice, "Do you want us to send another wave like Fordring? "You've seen that monster, it's not a monster that human strength can defeat!"

"Regarding this point, let the professionals tell it..." Kurland replied indifferently.

Everyone was stunned. Professional? Who Was It?

Then, they saw a petite figure slowly walking to the front of the stage.

A woman?

Everyone was slightly stunned and thought to themselves, "There are quite a number of women on that ship, but this one is much worse than the one yesterday..."

Actually, Lei Xue's appearance was not bad. Her facial features were upright and at least above average. However, she was naturally incomparable to Li Goudan, who was blessed with the ELF bloodline. In addition, the people here had a more Western European style. Her skin was fair and her facial features were three-dimensional. Looking at the appearance of an ordinary yellow-skinned person like Lei Xue, she was naturally not used to it...

"Let me introduce you. This is the chief archmage of the Goudan, Lord Lei Xue..."

Everyone: "What Number?"

Chapter 715: Rescue Strategy!

"Cough cough... Yes, it's the chief archmage, Lord Lei Xue..." Kurland coughed lightly and emphasized the identity behind Lei Xue, trying to make everyone forget some strange things... ..

Everyone was stunned, and then nodded. Yes, yes, Archmage, this was indeed more important... ..

But wasn't it a little too young?

Mages were a profession that required age to convince everyone. Just like the traditional Chinese medicine in central China, no one would dare to visit a doctor unless they were in their fifties or sixties...

However, when they recalled that there was also a young girl who could beat all of them up at such a young age, everyone felt that judging the other party simply by her age was a little too arbitrary...

BoxNovel.com

Therefore, they all looked at an old man on the left who looked like he was about to die... ..

That was the only mage they had left...

There were many mages in the western islands, and their quantity and quality were several times that of the steel arms empire. However, they were still rare here...

The reason was very simple. Mages had a high social status, and most of them were precious resources of their families. Usually, there would not be any outstanding mages participating in such an adventure, even if it was a royal fleet., there would not be any high-end mages accompanying them.

There were a few apprentices. Even if they were just low-level apprentices who could cast a complete spell, they were still treated as treasures by the leaders of many forces here. This was because these apprentices could use the alchemy conversion array to convert certain substances into fresh water...

But even if they were heavily nurtured, over countless years, only three people in this city could grow into regular mages. Yesterday, two of them were brought into the Crystal Palace by that mysterious girl. Therefore, there was only this old mage, Nicholas, left... ..

When everyone looked over, the only remaining old mage seemed to be in a daze. Coupled with his age, he seemed to be in a daze...

“Sir Nicholas?” Someone asked carefully.

This person’s status was not ordinary. Even the rebellious Frank had great respect for him. This respect stemmed from the western islands’ innate respect for the master mage, just like the respect for scholars in ancient Huazhong, the second reason was his contribution.

It was also because of his existence that everyone quickly understood the way of trading here. It was also because of him that everyone learned how to use these crystals. This included the fact that he was studying the new uses of the crystals every day, including the opening of the passage the last time.., this old mage also had foresight. It was a pity that many people did not listen to him at that time, causing them to miss out on the opportunity.

Therefore, whether it was the newcomers or the old man who had been here before, they all respected this old mage!

The old mage woke up after being called twice. Then, he coughed awkwardly and asked in a gentle voice, “What’s Your faction, Young Lady?”

Snow looked at him and replied with a smile, “Mechanical Alchemist...”

“Oh... New School...” the old mage nodded. The occult civilization in the western islands had developed for so many years, and there were many schools of thought, but they were still relatively backward. The mechanical field had just reached the age of steam engines, and the Mechanical Alchemist was a brand new school...

“You have such a young age, but you have such mental strength. What a talent. It’s a pity that you didn’t walk the right path...” the old man said with a complicated tone, obviously, he was very disdainful of the so-called mechanical alchemy faction, but his tone was filled with disdain and regret...

Although the little girl looked ordinary, her eyes were as bright as the starry sky in midsummer. This was the characteristic of an advanced mage!

He had only seen such a young advanced mage in history books. The most recent one was the notorious blood queen, who also walked the wrong path...

When everyone heard the old mage’s evaluation, their faces immediately turned serious. If even this one said so, then this little girl must be an incredible mage...

“Tell me your purpose, little girl...” the old man asked gently, “You didn’t ask Kurland to gather us together to be the leader, right?”

“Of course not...” snow laughed, “I came... I hope that you can cooperate with me to defeat that monster and save the people trapped by that monster!”

“Trapped people?” Nicholas raised his eyebrows, “Young lady, you mean that the people who entered the palace didn’t die?”

Lei Xue, “Yes!”

“How is that possible?”

As soon as his voice fell, someone in the crowd refuted, “They are already in the stomach of the monster, how can they still be alive?”

“If they are normal creatures, that is indeed the case...” . “...”Lei Xue nodded. “But that’s not the case. Based on the inference of a normal creature, if it’s eaten into the stomach, it will only turn into feces. But does that look like a normal creature to you?”? “It’s already been a day, have you seen it defecate?”

“Uh...”everyone was stunned, confused by this strange train of thought... ..

“Little girl, do you know the origin of that thing?”Nicholas asked curiously.

“An alchemical life form!”Snow said solemnly.

“An alchemical life form?”The crowd was stunned again. They did not understand what was going on, but Nicholas suddenly frowned. “Nonsense!”

Seeing this scene, the crowd did not understand why the two of them were arguing, so some big shots asked their magic apprentices, the apprentices whispered, “Alchemy can not create life forms. This is one of the three major conclusions of Megoss!”

“Oh...”some people nodded slowly, most people knew that Megose was the greatest arcanist and erudite in history. He was the pioneer of alchemy and was known as the god of wisdom by many wizards and scholars...

“The laws of the predecessors were only limited by the conditions at that time. As an arcanist explorer, you should know that these ancient laws are being overturned every day...”snow said as she looked at Morsenkin beside her. Old Morsenkin nodded and gently waved his hand. An extremely complex alchemy array appeared in the air...

Everyone was stunned when they saw the complex alchemy array. They had seen pigs run before even eating pork. They all knew that the more complex the alchemy array was, the higher the level of the Mage. The complex alchemy array in front of them..., one look was enough to make these ignorant people’s scalps go numb.

They all agreed in their hearts: Big Boss, Big Boss...

Moreover, the one who made the move was not the so-called chief mage. In other words, the other party actually had more than one high-end mage. What kind of fleet was this?

While everyone was in awe, Nicholas, who was an orthodox mage, had a puzzled look on his face. This alchemy array looked complicated, but he felt that something was not right. When he wanted to take a closer look., the alchemy array quickly disappeared. As the alchemy array disappeared, a green furball appeared in the air. It was Wang Ye!

“This is...”everyone was stunned when they saw the Green Furball.

“An alchemy lifeform!”Lei Xue smiled and poked Wang Ye.

Wang Ye flew forward angrily. Yesterday, Lei Xue had told him that he had an important mission. As an elf who had yet to transform, he was a little excited when he heard that he could take on an important mission, after all, although he was the first mate now, he could only drag the team back. His effect was not as good as the chef who knew how to cook.

However, he did not expect that the important task that Lei Xue had mentioned was actually this...

“An alchemy life form?” Nicholas walked over with great effort. His speed was not like that of an old man who was about to die. He looked at Wang Ye with unusual excitement for a long time, he said with a trembling voice, “You... you made it?”

Lei Xue Smiled reservedly. “My teacher made it...”

“May I know your teacher’s name?” Nicholas asked excitedly.

“Merlin...”

“Merlin?” Nicholas was stunned. “I’ve never heard of it...”

“Teacher has lived in seclusion for a long time...”. “This isn’t the focus of the discussion now. Although this thing is only a semi-finished product, I think it can prove the existence of an alchemical life form.” Lei Xue Smiled “...”. After pausing for a moment, she continued, “Moreover, you’ve seen an alchemical lifeform before. What do you think those living creatures in the trading crystal are?”

After saying that, she pointed at the strange weapons in everyone’s hands and said, “Including the weapons in your hands, what do you think they are? Don’t you think that they are actually... alive?”

Hearing this, everyone shivered and almost threw the weapons in their hands out subconsciously...

“Does this senior not suspect anything?” Lei Xue looked at Nicholas with a smile.

Nicholas nodded silently. Obviously, he had thought about this, but because those weapons were too dangerous, and there were no experimental tools, he could not do any in-depth research.

After taking a deep breath, Nicholas said in a deep voice, “Even if it’s as you said, that thing is an alchemical lifeform, and Lord Fordring and the others did not die in there, how are we going to rescue them? “You have also seen its power. If there were more people, Lord Fordring and the others would not be trapped in there... “...”

“I’m not asking you to face it head-on...”. “Alchemical lifeforms are formed from special materials and countless complicated alchemy arrays. Actually, for us wizards, as long as we can understand the structure of the array inside, we can actually disintegrate it from the inside!”

“This kind of structure is all internal, right?” Nicholas frowned. “How can we see the structure of the array inside?”

“The internal structure naturally has to be seen from the inside!” Snow laughed. “Such a large alchemical lifeform, I think there must be a wizard controlling it inside. Won’t we be able to see his alchemical spell formation once we enter?”

“What’s the difference between saying that and not saying it?” Nicholas sneered. “Barging into an alchemical lifeform that has been set up with who knows how many spells? “If this stupid method works, does your captain think he’ll be able to get out?”

“That’s because there’s no cooperation from the outside...” . “If there’s enough interference to threaten this alchemical lifeform, the person controlling it won’t have enough energy to deal with the intruders. Besides, our captain is still inside. We have a chance if we cooperate from the inside!”

“Threaten? With what?” Nicholas rolled his eyes. “Didn’t you see the battle yesterday? The legendary Doran was devoured in one move, what can we use to threaten that monster?”

“Of course we can’t use people... but what if it’s cannons?”

“Cannons?” Nicholas was stunned. “Where did we get cannons?”

“We do!”

Chapter 716 Rescue Operation -Part One one)

“It’s moving... it’s moving again! !”

As the last ray of sunlight slowly descended to the west, night fell, and the Crystal Palace that had originally moved to the south of the city began to mutate again. Rotting flesh and blood continued to pour out from the beautiful cracks in the crystal, it quickly wrapped around the huge Crystal Palace.

The rotting flesh and blood spread out, forming a disgusting flesh membrane. Pitch-black and sharp teeth slowly opened up, and the originally incomparably beautiful palace once again became a terrifying monster...

The one who spoke was a middle-aged man with a full beard. He looked at his subordinates behind him and said, “Go, go back and report!”

BoxNovel.com

A few of his subordinates immediately stood up when they heard that. They looked like they couldn’t wait. Although they were thousands of meters away, the terrifying aura that the monster gave off still made them feel a lingering fear.

Not long after the group of people stood up and walked out, they suddenly saw a group of people walking over from afar. When the two groups saw this, they tacitly stopped ten meters away.

“We’re here to take over. Lord Lei Xue said that it should be about time for them to start moving...” the bald man who was the leader of the group said in a low voice.

The bearded man nodded slightly, but he didn’t immediately take over the shift. Instead, he stood on the same spot with his subordinates. His face was tense, as if he was waiting for something.

As night fell, the evil spirits that could create an environment moved the most frequently. Although most of the evil spirits moved alone, they would usually only transform into the appearance of one person, however, it was not as if there was no precedent of a group of evil spirits transforming into a force together.

The bald man seemed to have thought of something when he saw this. Then, he used his fist that was the size of a casserole to hammer his chest. "Long live the Dog Egg!"

After he said this, the bearded man relaxed his vigilance slightly, he said in a relaxed tone, "You guys be careful. This monster has already started to move. Keep your distance... Don't act rashly when no one comes to inform you of the next step of your plan..."

"I know..."the bald man nodded, but then he complained, "It's really troublesome..."

"I can't help it..."the bearded man also smiled bitterly. "Who told you to stay in this damn place?"

This ghost city was full of evil ghosts' deceit. It was very difficult to organize a decent plan. First of all, communication was a problem because anything could be fake in the night sky, the signal was fake, the movement was fake, and even people could be fake.

So communication can not rely on signals, can only rely on people and people, and people have to judge each other... .

On the other side, a large group of people gaped at the huge ship trapped on the ice, their faces full of disbelief.

Those who come here are all sea-born, some are even captains of a country's royal fleet, what kind of giant ships have not seen? But they had really never seen such a giant ship.

"By the way... is this really a ship?"Some of the old captains muttered to themselves.

Was this a castle? Or was it made of steel? By the way, could this thing really float on the sea?

"TSK tsk, such a huge amount of energy circulation, what a fine tactical structure, what a great masterpiece this is..."the old mage Nicholas'eyes shone as he touched the hull of the ship, feeling the precision of the energy circulation of the hull, he clicked his tongue in wonder.

On the side, Lei Xue paid no attention to the others and focused on using her intelligence to check the condition of the equipment in the ship. The cabin had suffered some damage due to Li Goudan's fierce battle with an unknown creature in the cabin last time, but it was not a big problem.., only some of the basic facilities in the cabin had been damaged, but the power machinery components had not been damaged.

The cannons and energy equipment were fine, and the aiming system was also fine. In terms of range, it was not a big problem from the ice surface to the city. What was missing was an accurate attack.

The ship's hull could not move, and the cannon was fixed. If the enemy hid, there would be no second chance. Therefore, the cannons could not be exposed in advance. They had to succeed in one go, and they could not alert the enemy.

Luring the monster to a suitable location was a necessary part of the plan!

“The operation of the cannons is not a problem... the only thing left is over there...” after snow finished adjusting, she looked in the direction of the city.

As long as the monster could be lured to the designated location, the plan could be carried out... ..

Night gradually fell, and the tension in everyone’s hearts grew stronger. After an unknown amount of time.., a middle-aged man dressed as a knight opened his mouth and asked, “Sir, why must it be carried out at night? Since that monster won’t act during the day, why not directly attack it during the day?”

Snow raised her head and glanced at the other party. This middle-aged knight was the deputy of the Dolan faction, Brandt. He was definitely a legendary knight, but unlike the other legends, this guy’s tone was very respectful towards her.

She had learned about this through a little communication. There were probably two reasons. The first was because of his identity. Brandt was born as a regular knight, and among the nobles of the western islands, he was... The status of a mage was higher than that of a warrior. Facing a mage like snow who could operate such a large alchemy ship, he had a kind of innate obedience... ..

The second problem was the reality. Now that the leader of their group, Dolan, was dead, and even the sausage processing plant and flour factory that they had previously controlled had been eaten by monsters, it could be said that they had suffered heavy losses. In the future, when resources were even more scarce, he would need to rely on a more reliable force to increase his chances of survival. and Lei Xue’s group was obviously a very superior choice...

There were many people, powerful people, equipped with mages and even doctors, and even beautiful dancers. Could there be a more perfect force than this?

Facing this guy who took the initiative to rely on her, snow also showed some patience, she explained softly, “Our main goal is to save people. Destroying it must be the second most important thing. Moreover, we may not be able to destroy it with cannons. The best strategy is to disintegrate the enemy from the inside!”

“That thing can’t even destroy cannons?” Brandt asked in horror.

Snow did not exaggerate this point. If she had been confident in the firepower of this ship before, she did not think so now, because she had seen with her own eyes that the most powerful plastic energy main cannon of the dog egg could not destroy the material here, whether it was the monster or the Crystal Palace itself, she was not confident that the cannon of the dog egg would be effective.

However, she was slightly confident that it would be effective against the monster. After all, whether it was that strange shadow or those evil spirits, they seemed to be very fragile. Compared to the materials here that could not be destroyed.., the creatures here seemed to be able to be killed!

Moreover, this monster seemed to be so dangerous. In fact, it might not be as powerful as she had imagined because her captain could use that monster to send a signal...

This meant that although the monster could trap the captain, it was not absolutely crushing him!

Then, as long as he could think of a way to hurt the monster, Li Goudan might have a chance to escape.

Of course... This was a great risk, and everything was just speculation. What if the so-called signal was just a coincidence, what if the Crystal Palace was not indestructible, what if the monster could not cause damage with the power of the cannons on the ship, it was possible. ...

But at this time, she did not have any other cards to play... ..

“Sir... Gray and the others are back!” Just as Brandt was about to ask again, Johnny suddenly ran back and reported excitedly from afar.

When Snow heard this, she perked up and hurriedly walked forward. Seeing this, Brandt also hurriedly followed...

When Snow walked to the front, she soon saw a group of people running over from afar. The Man in the lead was the bearded middle-aged man who had just exchanged blows with the bald man.

“Sir, that monster has started to move!” Gray shouted excitedly as soon as he arrived.

Lei Xue looked at him and did not say anything. Everyone was on guard at this moment. Gray was stunned at first, then as if he remembered something, he imitated the bald man and hammered his chest. “Long live the Dog Egg!”

However, as soon as he said this, Lei Xue’s eyelids twitched. She looked at the other party faintly. “Fake!”

As soon as he finished speaking, several legends around him instantly attacked, and a few blade lights slashed towards the other party without hesitation!

Chapter 717: Rescue Operation (middle)

It was no small matter for a legend to make a move. A few flashes of sword light flashed past, and Gray was cut into several pieces without any time to react!

Some of the people around frowned slightly. If their judgment was wrong, wouldn’t they have died in vain?

But in the next second, a few of Gray’s underlings suddenly let out a shrill and strange cry. That sound was obviously not human, and then they frantically fled back!

Everyone was stunned, and then they looked at Gray, who had fallen to the ground. At this time, its body had been dismembered, and its skin had turned brownish-yellow. Gray’s face had also turned into a terrifying distorted image...

Therefore, everyone took a step back and thought to themselves, “It’s really an evil ghost!”!

BoxNovel.com

“Stop chasing!” Lei Xue shouted at the group of warriors who wanted to chase after it.

The group of warriors immediately stopped in their tracks. To be honest, they didn’t want to chase after them in this kind of dark wilderness...

Lei Xue looked into the distance and frowned. "Prepare to send out the second team to check out the situation."

"Yes..." Wilson hurriedly went down to greet them. However, after a few minutes, the crowd suddenly became lively again.

"Look, Gray is here again!"

Hearing this, all the Warriors put their hands on their weapons with murderous looks on their faces... ..

This imposing manner made Gray, who had rushed over with travel-worn clothes, stunned. He was somewhat baffled and thought to himself, 'what's the situation?'

"Ahem..." Lei Xue coughed lightly and looked at the other party. "Secret signal..."

Gray was stunned for a moment and hurriedly said in broken Chinese, "The heavenly king covers the Earth Tiger..."

After saying that, he stood on the spot nervously, because he found that the vigilance of the people around him had not subsided. Moreover, they all looked at him with ice-cold eyes, as if they would draw their weapons and cut him into pieces in the next second.

Damn it... could it be that I can't pronounce it correctly?

This can't be blamed on me. The language taught by Lord Lei Xue is too difficult to pronounce. which country's accent is this. It was too strange...

"Um..." Lei Xue nodded. "No problem..."

Hearing this, everyone relaxed and the atmosphere instantly became friendly.

"Hey Gray, I missed you so much. Are You Okay?"

"Yeah, it's been hard on you. By the way, how's the situation over there?"

Looking at the enthusiastic crowd, Gray's face twitched. He wondered if the cold killing intent just now was an illusion...

"How's the situation?" Snow Thunder took a step forward and asked.

Wilson and Johnny quickly took a step forward to protect him...

Gray hurriedly said, "Just as you thought, the monster began to come out of the Crystal Palace as soon as the sky turned dark..."

Snow Thunder nodded, then took a deep breath and said, "In that case, let's begin..."

Everyone's expression turned cold. There was a complicated expression on their faces. There was excitement, fear, and worry... ..

The other party's guess was right. This meant that the plan had to be carried out as planned. If they succeeded, not only would they be able to save Fodin and eliminate the hidden danger of the devouring building, they would also be able to find a way to leave this place... It's tempting for someone who's lived here in fear for years...

But equally, the plan to go ahead represents a huge risk... . .

Boom!

Crystal Palace as usual, from time to time there will be inexplicable trembling, and occasionally issued a shrill scream.

This made Marina, who was tasting wine, a little uncomfortable, so she looked at the guy who took the Bengal Goode and said, "Is it not settled yet?"

At this moment, Bengal Goode's stiff face was expressionless, but his eyes were full of excitement. He looked at Li Goudan, who was visible to the naked eye, excitedly and kept saying, "It's too perfect!"

"If it's so perfect, why don't you just Seize It?" Marina frowned and said, "Isn't it troublesome for her to keep resisting now?"

Now she finally knew why the castle would tremble from time to time. The old man seemed to be trying to use some method to control the other party, but the other party resisted fiercely. Instead, because of his strong will, he controlled part of the body of the undead ship.., from time to time, he would control this level-7 undead creature to tear off the flesh and blood from its body.

This was also the reason why there were strange cries coming from the palace from time to time. Was it painful... ? ... how could he not cry?

"Snatch?" Bengal Goode was stunned, and then he shook his head repeatedly. "No, no, no... I can't just snatch... it's too wasteful, too wasteful! !"

Bengal Goode looked at Li Goudan as though he was looking at a treasure. His expression was as though he was a starving ghost that had encountered a top-notch delicacy, causing marina to feel a wave of disgust in her heart, however, she still suppressed the discomfort in her heart and asked, "Is the body of this girl doll that good?"

"Hehe..." Bengal Goode chuckled lightly. It was obvious that he had no intention of answering.

This made Marina's heart sink. This was the bad thing about working with these guys. They had too much information that she did not know. It would be too disadvantageous to work together when the information was not equal...

Bengali gud naturally would not tell marina about the existence of Li Goudan. Any undead would go crazy if they knew about it!

A body with 100% capacity. What kind of terrifying potential was this? What could be more perfect than this body in this world?

As for why he didn't replace her now?

Of course, he couldn't do it now. Such a promising seedling, she was only at level four, yet he had already replaced her. Doing such a reckless thing would be like being struck by lightning!

There were flaws in the possession of the undead. Once the body was possessed, it would lose the possibility of evolving. Therefore, the undead needed to constantly change bodies in the real world, changing stronger bodies to slow down their lifespan in the real world.

The stronger the body, the longer the lifespan, and the greater the power of the undead's terrifying spiritual power.

Under such circumstances, how could he waste a seedling with full potential like this? 100% capacity, what kind of exaggerated physique was that? Such a pure elven bloodline, as long as the resources were sufficient and nurtured properly, it was possible for him to become a star-level powerhouse, or even a spirit-level powerhouse.

Wouldn't it be beautiful if he were to change into that body again?

He had already decided that after he went out, he would first kill Marina and not let her have any chance to spy on this little wind demon. Then, he would use the population of the outside world to restart his own civilization. After that, he would continue to accumulate resources to nurture Li Goudan, he would let her grow to a level that he was satisfied with!

Of course, the prerequisite was that he had to control the other party, use the corpse worm to control the other party's center, and then think of a way to kill the sky god Lord that had signed a contract with her...

HMM... ... Judging from the strength of the spirit power of the contract, the deity overlord was probably around level-five...

Speaking of which... ... How did such a weak overlord attract such a powerful seedling?

Forget about that for now. The most important thing now was to use the corpse bug to control the other party's core first. Although it would slightly damage the other party's nerves and cause the other party to turn into a zombie, it didn't matter. As long as he could restart the civilization, there was a way to repair the other party!

However, this girl's resistance was very strong. Even with so many neurotoxins, she was still unable to completely make the other party lose consciousness. Furthermore, the defensive power of her bloodline was also ridiculously strong, the level 6 corpse bug that he created was actually unable to break through the defensive system in the other party's body?

However, the more he did this, the more it proved that the other party's bloodline was pure and their genes were powerful!

Thinking of this, Bengal Goode became more excited, activated the alchemy circle, ordered the undead creature to devour more energy, he needed more energy to make more powerful insects!

On the other side, seeing the monster walking towards them step by step, the Big Bald Man, who had been waiting for a long time, looked at a fat man next to him, whose face was pale, he sighed. "I'm sorry, Master Rodin. But don't worry, if we win, I'll definitely find a way to help you get it back. After all... the sausages you made are really delicious!"

Master Rodin:" ..."

As soon as he finished speaking, the bald man directly activated the floating crystal trade in the square. The sausage master named Rodin instantly froze on the spot, becoming exactly the same as the people around him who looked like human sculptures.

At the same time, a blue potion appeared in the Bald Man's hand...

Obviously, the sausage master was traded by the Bald Man just now.

At the same time, the Crystal Palace, which was thousands of meters away, paused for a moment because it realized that the sausage factory it was about to eat had suddenly become inedible...

Chapter 718: Rescue Operation -PartpTwo two)

"HMM?"

The undead ship had been completely transformed into a one-way machine that received orders. After the target disappeared, it fell into a state of shutdown. However, Bengal Goode, who was in charge of controlling the ship, was stunned.

How could this be?

The sausage factory was sealed just as it was about to eat the sausage factory?

Could it be that the person who represented the ownership of the sausage factory had died? Or had it been traded?

BoxNovel.com

At the thought of this, Bengal Goode narrowed his eyes. He knew the situation of this city. Food was a very precious resource here, the sausage factory and the flour factory, which had a large amount of food stocks, had always been occupied by the big forces in the city, and the people who represented them had been well protected by these forces.

How could they be easily traded or easily killed?

Even if it was an oversight that allowed those nightmares to exploit a loophole and kill them, wasn't the timing a little too coincidental?

Thinking of this, he used the huge eyeball in the hall to look outside.

The huge eyeball turned 360 degrees and soon found that there seemed to be a lot of people hiding outside...

Bengal Goode frowned and immediately directed the Crystal Palace towards the nearest target. It was a leather factory which was located less than 100 meters away from the sausage factory.

However, when it moved closer, it saw that the leather factory, just like the sausage factory, instantly turned gray...

As expected...

Bengal Goode's eyes flashed with a cold light. Someone was plotting against him! !

What was he trying to do?

Through the huge eyeball, Bengal gude looked coldly at the people hiding in the dark...

In fact, these humans were also good energy. Whether it was themselves or the weapons in their hands, he could directly convert them into the same energy through the alchemy array.

The purity of the energy was even higher than those buildings.

The energy of the buildings came from the Arcana Treaty formed by the Crystal. The guy who opened this place was an arcanist. He used universal coins to build a huge alchemy city where everything could be traded, everything here could be traded through the alchemy array.

This also led to the fact that although these buildings still looked like buildings, they had already been converted into Arcana Energy by the Arcana Crystal. That was why he devoured these buildings. Although they were huge, the energy density was small, the advantage of devouring them was that it was convenient and did not require too much energy.

Compared to hunting the living, it was much more convenient, and it could also provoke less resistance from the people in the city... ..

But that was just because he did not want to trouble himself. It did not mean that he was afraid of the people in the city. To the ancient undead, the difference between the humans in the city and the buildings was that one was a grass that could be eaten directly., the other was ants that would slightly run away and fight back!

With that thought, he smiled coldly. His finger gently waved in the air, and countless arcane spells appeared in the air. He slightly changed a few of the variables, and the Crystal Palace outside immediately underwent a drastic change!

The flesh membrane that covered the crystal quickly gathered to the left and right of the Crystal Palace. After a moment, countless pieces of flesh piled up on both sides, making sizzling sounds...

The bald man who was watching from afar felt his scalp go numb. He had a feeling that something terrifying was about to happen.

His subordinate could not help but ask cautiously, "Boss, what... What is this?"

"How would I know?"The bald man rolled his eyes.

"Boss... look... fly... fly... Fly!"

Suddenly, one of the subordinates pointed in that direction, his eyes filled with fear.

The bald man was stunned when he heard that. What flew up?

Immediately, a chill ran down his spine. He subconsciously turned around to take a look, but before he knew it, the Crystal Palace that was originally a few hundred meters away had already appeared above them! The piles of meat on both sides of the Crystal Palace had unknowingly turned into two huge wings of meat!

“Run! !”The bald man did not hesitate and took the lead to flee in the direction that Lei Xue had pointed out!

Only then did the underlings below react and began to run as well. Unfortunately, they were a step too late. Countless serpentine-like tentacles and sharp teeth swooped down from the sky at an extremely fast speed, from Afar, they looked like arrows.

Once those serpentine-like things bit the bald man’s underlings, their bodies stiffened. In an instant, their expressions became dull. In a few seconds, their bodies began to soften, melting like ice cream.

This caused the distant reinforcements to feel their scalps go numb!

“Boss... What should we do now? Should we go up and support them?”A silver-tier underling asked, trembling.

“Support my ass!”The burly leader slapped the other party, “Run! !”

Following that, he led a group of underlings and started to run back. The bald man who saw this scene from afar could not help but be enraged, cursing in his heart: Bastard, you dare to sell your labor? !

“Don’t let your labor catch up to you. Even if your father dies, I will drag you down with me!”!

Outside the city, Lei Xue who was using the telescope on the ship to observe the situation here could not help but frown. She did not expect this kind of situation. Although the Crystal Palace monster was powerful, its body should not be very agile, she did not expect it to be able to transform?

If it could fly, then the accuracy would be another problem... ..

The only good news was that those fellows knew how to run towards him. Otherwise, if they were to lead the monsters to other places in a panic, then today’s plan would have been in vain...

..

At this moment, it wasn’t just snow and the others who were paying attention to the situation in the Crystal Palace. There were also two other ancient undead hiding in the trading plane.

Reme was still sitting in the black liquid, while the other black shadow was also sitting silently across from him...

Reme looked at the transformation of the Crystal Palace in the city through a piece of crystal. His eyes flashed, and he murmured, “The formation of the biological material transformation... What a troublesome guy...”

Although the ancient undead were all very powerful, they could not affect the real world. If they were forced to appear in the city, they would become very weak, and any bronze-level warrior could kill them.

Since they were unable to display their full strength, they wanted to compete with each other in terms of external conditions. And now, in this city, that Level-7 alchemy lifeform was the most powerful individual in the city!

Thinking of this, Reme looked at the opposite side. This alchemy lifeform should have been brought in by this fellow, but she didn't expect to be schemed against by an undead that was more proficient in biology.

This caused the most powerful lifeform in the city to be used by an old fellow that was proficient in biology. What a terrible combination. She wanted to ask how the other party would break the situation...

However, when she raised her head to look over, she was stunned for a moment, because she realized that the fellow opposite her had disappeared without her knowing!

REM frowned and walked over. She stretched out her white fingers and gently twisted them. The space in front of her started to rewind. In an instant, the black shadow that was covered in mud appeared again.

After a few seconds, it disappeared silently as if it had never existed.

"As expected, the main body is no longer here..." rem was not surprised, he slowly walked to the crystal, looked at Li Goudan's position in the crystal, and then looked at the position of Lei Xue and the others. He narrowed his eyes and said, "Where could it be hidden?"

Chapter 719 approaching

"What are Dowan and the others trying to do?"

In the distance, the other factions hiding in the shadows looked coldly at the huge commotion in the southeast. While they were shocked by the gigantic palace that could fly, they were also filled with curiosity.

The people hiding in the shadows were mostly people from cities that had not accepted the recruitment and had scattered their factions. There were more lone wolves among them. Most of them were more independent and even more dangerous. The ones who attacked the rookies were mostly the lone wolf factions.

When they saw the group of people who relied on their numbers to occupy a large amount of resources being looted by the monster, other than shock and horror, they were more or less delighted.

Did you F * cking have such a day? I told you to court death!

BoxNovel.com

"George, what do you think?" In the darkness, a big-bellied, disgusting man who was covered in bloody blisters sat on one side and said with a smile as he looked at the commotion over there.

His face was full of schadenfreude, as if he couldn't wait for all those people to die.

Next to him, an extremely skinny young man was silent. This young man carried a big bow on his back. If one looked carefully, they would find that he was the ghost-blood George who had attacked Lei Xue's group last time!

“There are rumors... that the palace has a way to leave this place...” after a long time, George’s voice was low and deep.

“Oh?” The blood-soaked man sneered. “You believe that?”

“I didn’t believe it before...” George looked over and said faintly, “Now I believe it. If not for this, why would those people risk their lives to provoke such a Ghost?”

The blood-soaked man was stunned when he heard that. Then, his swollen face wrinkled. If they could get out... ..

“What do you think?” After a long while, he looked at George and asked, “Should we help them?”

“Why should we help them?” George smiled and said, “Isn’t it good to let them be cannon fodder and let us pick up the ready-made ones? “If they don’t succeed, it won’t be worse than now. With so many fewer people to share the resources, we can live more comfortably than before, right?”

Fatty blood bubble heard a pause, then grinned: “Makes sense...”

On the other side, the team that was arranged to lure the Crystal Palace ran like the city exit in the southeast direction. The original batch of luring plan had no effect under the mutation of the monster. Everyone only had the instinct to run away!

Silver-and even bronze-class men suffered heavy losses, more than half of which were sucked into the air by the snake-like spines into the juice.

Countless shrill screams rose higher and higher in the night sky, causing the scalps of snow thunder and the others outside the city to go numb.

“Sir... are we just going to wait like this?” Brandt could not help but ask.

Some of the legendary bigwigs around also looked over. After all, most of them were their subordinates. Such heavy losses made their hearts ache, especially the golden captain who led the team inside. Many of them were confidants that they had nurtured for more than ten years... ..

Lei Xue looked ahead solemnly and whispered, “What can we do if we don’t Wait? Can you save them if I ask you to?”

Everyone was stunned and then fell silent. Although they were indignant, they knew that the other party was telling the truth. If they could save them, they would have already gone up. Why would they be useless here and Roar?

“They’re here!” Suddenly, the scout in the crowd who was responsible for observing the front quickly reported, “Someone has retreated!”

Everyone’s heart relaxed slightly when they heard that. It was good that some of them could run back. At least they were not completely wiped out... ..

Moreover, if they could run back, it meant that the plan had been carried out successfully...

With this thought in mind, everyone looked up and finally saw the monster that made their subordinates panic and despair. They saw a huge crystal palace with fleshy wings at the entrance of the city. Its entire body was covered with black tentacles that looked like snakes, these tentacles had a pair of pitch-black and terrifying teeth on their heads. They were continuously harvesting the lives of their subordinates!

"It's coming... it's coming!" Most of the people took a deep breath as they looked at the monster and retreated. Even though they were nearly 10,000 meters away, they were still frightened by the monster until their legs were trembling. It was not only because of the abnormal appearance of the monster, but also because of the fear that came from the depths of their genes...

"Sir, open fire! Quickly open fire!" Some of the people around could not help but urge her.

When the people around saw this, they also hurried her. At this moment, Lei Xue's expression was not very good. There was no color in her face, and her body could not help but tremble.

A Level 7 life form. It was even more disgusting and terrifying than the aliens in the movies. It exuded a predatory nature, and its crushing genetic advantage made every cell in her body feel fear...

However, for some reason, the more she felt fear, the clearer her brain became. Under the pressure of the crisis, the potential of the developer's bloodline was stimulated, and her brain was operating at an extremely high speed.

"It's not the time yet. You guys go and stop those who have escaped!" Lei Xue instructed.

"What?" The people around were stunned. At this time, it was fine if they didn't go and rescue those people, but they still had to stop them? Wasn't this forcing them to rebel?

Lei Xue quickly explained, "The plan at the front has been disrupted, and the team that escaped back is in a mess. Who knows, they might be mixed with evil spirits... or perhaps... those who have returned now are all evil spirits!"

Hearing that, everyone paused and raised their heads to look at those subordinates who were desperately trying to escape. When they remembered that these people were actually evil spirits wearing the skin of their own subordinates, a chill couldn't help but rise in their hearts...

"But... But..." Brent stuttered a little...

"No buts!" Lei Xue rudely interrupted the other party and sternly said, "At this time, you know the consequences of having evil spirits infiltrate the team. Even if they don't directly attack us, they can still create illusions and interfere with us. Once the time to open fire is not right, all of us will die here! "!"

As soon as she said that, no one objected anymore. No one who could live to become a legend here would be an idiot. Who wouldn't understand such a simple logic?

"They're coming!" The person in charge of keeping an eye on them shouted.

"Go quickly, don't let any of them in! !" Snow Thunder ordered.

Everyone didn't say anything, but they silently picked up their weapons and walked out. It was obvious that they had tacitly listened to the words of this child who was about the same age as their daughter.

“What a calm doll...”inside the undead trade area, Reme tilted his head and looked at the Thunder and snow displayed in the crystal. A strange light flashed in his eyes.

It was normal for there to be outstanding people among low-level creatures, but this situation was obviously different. High-level creatures could crush low-level creatures not just by relying on pure strength, when the gap between levels was too big, the most difficult thing to cross was the crushing of high-level creatures.

This suppression would cause the lower-level genetic creature to instinctively yield, just like how some creatures would instinctively run away when encountering their natural enemies. Under such circumstances, it wasn't just their own strength, their reaction speed, judgment, and thinking ability would all be reduced due to the suppression of the gene. In serious cases, they might even directly crash! A Level 7 creature against a level 2 or 3 low-quality genetic creature, not to mention directly causing them to crash, it would be completely fine to disrupt and reduce their resistance.

However... .. this little girl seemed to be completely unaffected... ..

Reme carefully observed Lei Xue through the crystal. She could clearly see that Lei Xue's complexion was extremely bad, and her body couldn't stop trembling. It was obvious that she had been affected by the pressure of the undead lifeform, but her physiology had been suppressed so obviously... The thoughts of the commander were incomparably clear... ..

There was only one possibility for this situation. Although this little girl's level was low, her body had a genetic bloodline that was much higher than that of the undead alchemy lifeform. The genes that were carved into her bones were madly resisting the pressure of this lifeform.., and that was why she wasn't affected.

This was the benefit of high-level genes in the face of a battle...

Thinking of this, Reme smiled slightly. How interesting. How could such a low-level Aboriginal plane have so many high-quality pure-blooded descendants?

Could they also be the subordinates of that mysterious Lord?

Just as she was thinking about this, she suddenly saw a black shadow slowly approaching the alchemy battleship behind Reme. Reme was stunned at first, but then she smiled and said, “Is it finally time to make a move?”?

Wait a minute... This guy isn't?

Chapter 720: Hidden People...

“Boss? What are you doing?”

Outside of the city, a group of crew members who had escaped looked at the people who had stopped them with shock and anger, especially when the people who had stopped them were their former boss!

“Calm down!”The leading red-bearded dwarf carried his big hammer and said in a low voice, “Your mission has been completed. Don't move here. If you don't move, nothing will happen!”

“Boss, are you crazy? Can’t you see what’s behind you?”

“Calm down!” ! ! The dwarf growled, “You know what’s behind you, and I know what’s behind you. We knew before we made our move. What’s the use of being afraid now that we’ve already made our move? “All of you, stay put. Don’t let the evil spirits sneak into the rear. We’ll win when the fire starts!”

“Damn it, what if the cannon can’t Kill That Thing?” More and more people rushed over, and the resentment of being stopped grew stronger. However, the legends who stopped them like this didn’t dare to let them go.

This was because they knew that it was impossible for so many people to come back alive. At least half of these people were evil spirits!

Bang! The dwarf directly smashed a hammer into the ground. Although there weren’t any cracks on the hard black ice, the rumbling sound of metal still showed the power of the dwarf’s strike!

“That’s all I have to say. If any of you dare to come near me, I’ll beat him to death! !”

As soon as these words were said, the battle spirit of both sides was immediately activated. It was as if the tip of a needle was against a grain of wheat, forming an oppressive atmosphere that could be triggered at any moment... ..

Although this caused the tension between the two sides to reach the extreme, it also formed a balance point because of this. Although it could be triggered at any moment, as long as no one started it, it would not completely explode... ..

However, this balance did not last for long. In just a dozen seconds, when everyone felt the chill behind them getting heavier and heavier, someone finally could not hold it in anymore, he took a step forward and said, “Boss, if we don’t get close to that ship, we will hide behind it. Can we hide behind it?”

This almost pleading tone made the few people blocking the way stunned. Their eyes revealed a trace of reluctance. After all, these were their brothers who had gone through many hardships together for many years...

“No! !” The Dwarf’s eyes also flashed with pity, but he still coldly rejected the other party...

“That means you won’t let us live...” the expression of the person who spoke just now stiffened as he revealed a bitter smile. “Then let’s die together, Let’s die together! !”

As he spoke, he pulled out his knight’s sword and rushed over!

Bang! !

With a crisp sound of bones shattering, everyone saw that the person who charged over just now was sent flying by the dwarf’s iron hammer. The tremendous force caused that person’s head to explode like a tomato, the corpse was also sent flying far away with the inertia!

“Goosen... you...” the surrounding people immediately revealed a trace of dissatisfaction, clearly blaming him for being too ruthless.

The dwarf called Gu Sen didn't pay attention to them. He wiped off the blood and flesh on his face and said with a ferocious face, "Those who approach: Die! !"

This devil-like power made the people who were ready to make a move hesitate... ..

"Look... It's a devil! !"

Suddenly, a few seconds later, the body of the guy who was sent flying twisted, and his skin turned into the existence of old tree bark. Obviously, he was the devil that could create illusions in the city!

The surrounding people calmed down a little and stared at each other. They were no longer united and wanted to break out of the encirclement... ..

"Old Gu... You're too impulsive. If you killed a living person just now, these people might go crazy..."

Hearing this, the Dwarf Guosen was slightly silent. The other party was right. He had taken a huge risk just now. If he didn't completely intimidate these guys, it would definitely have the opposite effect. If a large-scale fight broke out, it would be really troublesome... ..

But in that situation just now, if they did not bet on it, they might really start fighting!

Fortunately... Everything was still going smoothly...

Suddenly, just as old gu and the others heaved a sigh of relief in their hearts, an extremely terrifying chill suddenly rose from their hearts. The few of them were stunned and immediately raised their heads subconsciously to look, they realized that the terrifying crystal palace that was wrapped up by the snake-like tentacles had actually floated above them!

They were stunned. When did they fly over. And... .. Why didn't they open fire even though they had flown here?

Looking at the black meat spikes that were slowly hanging down, everyone's body stiffened. They wanted to resist and escape, but they found that their bodies were sore and they couldn't muster any strength...

Guosen, who was still aggressive a moment ago, also realized that his hands were shaking so much that he couldn't even pick up his hammer!

"It's over, it's over! !"Someone in the crowd immediately went crazy. "This is great, we don't have to live anymore. Let's all die, Let's all die! hahaha!"

This despairing voice was like a plague. In an instant, everyone abandoned themselves and sat on the ground. Seeing this scene, the dwarf felt a chill in his heart. So this was how those people died before?

So this monster was actually so terrifying...

He realized that he didn't even have the courage to raise his head...

He just kept calling out in his heart, 'What are you waiting for? Open Fire!'

In the distance, Wilson saw this scene and quickly turned to look at snow. "Sir! !"

Snow stared straight ahead. This distance couldn't guarantee a 100% hit. After all, the enemy was a flying unit. If they were agile, it was very likely that they would escape...

However, she knew that she could not delay any longer. If she were to delay any longer, none of Goosen's men would survive. The second reason was that if this monster were to get any closer, she might not even have the courage to open fire... ..

In the end, she still gave the order to open fire!

As the order was given, countless mechanical cannons emerged from the huge steel battleship and aimed at the Crystal Palace in the distant sky!

"I see..."inside the Crystal Palace, Bengal Goude, who was looking at Lei Xue and the others through his huge eyeballs, let out a strange laugh. "So this is the plan!"

"Are you confident?"Marina frowned immediately. "This ship's firepower is very terrifying!"

After all, she had seen with her own eyes the terrifying firepower that could kill tens of trillions of insects in a few seconds!

"HMM..."Bengal Goode smiled when she saw the ship through her eyeballs. "Not bad structure... the technological foundation is very solid. Unfortunately... It's still a product of a level four civilization..."

As soon as she finished her sentence, she saw missiles flying towards her like a swarm of locusts!

The terrifying firepower made the people below the Crystal Palace, who were originally in despair, stunned. As the missiles hit the monster in the sky, the powerful explosive force immediately wrapped the crystal palace in a huge fireball, the visual effect was like a small sun!

Almost instantly, it lit up the entire night sky!

Seeing this terrifying scene, other than the original crew members of the dog egg, everyone else was stunned on the spot. There was actually such a terrifying cannon in this world? What kind of ship was this?

But in the next second, everyone was boiling! !

With such terrifying cannon power, it was impossible for anything to be unkillable! !

That damn thing was finished, they had won, they had won!

At this moment, everyone was so excited that they almost hugged and kissed each other.

But this excited surprise only lasted for less than ten seconds, and a light sigh came from the sky, immediately interrupting everyone's excited voice!

The sigh was not loud, but it was inexplicably loud enough for everyone to hear it clearly. Along with the sigh, the terrifying chill that the monster gave them previously surged into their hearts once again.

At that moment, they did not even raise their heads. They instantly understood...

The monster was not dead...

“It’s been a long, long time since I’ve seen a bug struggle so beautifully. TSK TSK, how delightful...”

The old voice was incomparably gentle, but it revealed an incomparably cruel and cold intent, causing one’s hair to stand on end... ..

Lei Xue’s face was pale as she looked up. After the flames of the gigantic crystal palace dissipated, she saw that it was actually a ball of black scales that tightly wrapped around the Crystal Palace. Not even a single crack could be seen...

She had thought that the firepower on the ship might not be able to completely destroy this monster, but at least it could cause some injuries so that the captain of the Crystal Palace could take advantage of the chaos to escape.

But from the looks of it, it was injured and did not even lose a bit of its fur. This monster could actually change its form...

“Oh?” Bengal Goude, who was in the Crystal Palace, narrowed his eyes slightly. He looked at Lei Xue and was stunned. The energy on this girl’s body seemed to be only a level one life form, she could actually withstand the pressure of a level seven life form and maintain her rationality?

Could It Be... another one?

He grabbed her to take a look...

Thinking of this, he ignored the desperate ants below and directly controlled the Crystal Palace to float towards Lei Xue...

“Sir!”

Below, Wilson mustered his last bit of strength and shouted at lei xue, “Let’s Run?”

“Run?” Lei Xue looked at Wilson who was trembling non-stop and laughed bitterly, “If this is the case, where else can we run to?”

After saying that, she ignored Wilson and directly operated the system to activate the last trump card: The Plastic Energy Cannon!

But to be honest, the hope in her heart was not very high. Although the power of the plastic energy cannon was greater than that of a machine, it was still a weapon on the same platform and there was no change in its quality... Today. ... ! ... she might really die here!

On the other side, Bengal Goode looked through his eyeballs and saw a large amount of energy gathering on the ship. His face immediately revealed a funny expression. “Energy Cannon? Hehe, I just happen to lack energy. It’s really timely...”

As he said that, he raised his hand and changed a few variables of the arcane spell. The entire hall shook, and all the black scales instantly melted, then turned into dark red flesh and blood, and changed in a few seconds, then let just the image of the scale surrounded into a huge flesh placenta!

See Thunder Snow a scalp tingle, thought: What the Hell Is this thing?

But also vaguely feel in the heart, that plastic cannon is afraid of No Hope... . . .

----

At the same time, just when everyone including Lei Xue was in despair, a black shadow slowly crept into the cabin... ..

The Black Shadow groped its way, and the direction it was heading towards was actually the location of the Energy Center in the cabin!

But just as the Black Shadow approached the Energy Center, a cold voice suddenly sounded, "Stop!"

The black shadow slowly stopped, turned around, and looked at the person who stopped him. It was the third mate of the dog egg, Johnny...

But compared to the Black Shadow, Johnny was even more surprised when he saw the other party clearly. With a strange expression, he said, "Master Nikolai? What are you doing here?"

That Black Shadow was actually the old mage that Dolan's subordinates highly respected: Nikolai...

Nikolai grinned and revealed a mouthful of rotten teeth. He smiled and said, "Come and see..."
