Chapter 751: Anshun Wang (Part One) who was involved in the dispute

“Hey, Julie, who’s the new handsome guy in the corner?”

In the Naughty Dog Company, a Latino beauty touched Julie and asked in a low voice.

Julie looked at the corner, shook her head in confusion, and replied in a low voice, “That position... isn’t that where Ryan is?”

“Who’s Ryan?” The Latin American Beauty was stunned.

“It’s... An Shunwang. Don’t you remember?” Julie frowned.

“Oh... you mean that Chinese guy?” The beauty was puzzled. “Eh? That’s right. Isn’t he usually there? Why is there such a handsome guy?”

Julie’s face turned black. It seemed that his looks were both righteous. They were both Chinese, but a certain someone seemed to have an incomparable sense of presence here...

But at the same time, she felt a wave of worry rise up in her heart. Yesterday, when she got off work, an Shunwang’s friend came to look for him and had an argument with Polk. Polk was taught a harsh lesson. Although it was not an shunwang who did it himself., it was very likely that Polk would take revenge. Once he reported to the supervisor, peichaei, he would definitely favor him. She knew that this group of Indian people loved to Ostracize and protect their own, especially when it came to bullying Chinese people.

Could it be that... Anshun Wang had already been fired?

As Julie thought of this, she thought of the hardworking man who seemed to be honest and low-key, but his eyes were as bright as the stars. She felt uncomfortable being ostracized by a villain like Polk.

At this thought, she looked at Polk, who was not far away with a bruised face... ..

Polk noticed Julie’s gaze and immediately felt proud. Then he remembered what his uncle had said to him yesterday: to pursue local beauties, one must properly display one’s strength and let these white people know the status of Indian people, in American society, the average wealth of our Indian people has already surpassed that of the Jews. We can completely sit on equal footing with the local white people. Properly displaying our strength can let these girls realize this.

He actually didn’t expect that Uncle Pichai’s action was so quick. He directly told that Kid to get lost. He didn’t even bother to make an announcement. Sure enough, uncle was right. Silicon Valley was our Indian world.

However... .. Why was the new guy the annoying yellow-skinned monkey?

Thinking of this, Polk frowned as he looked at an shunwang, whose face had changed. He could clearly feel that this guy seemed to be very attractive to the opposite sex. Many girls in the company would look at him from time to time.

He didn't know what was good to look at. wasn't it just that his muscles were a little tough. In our line of work, we are high-end people who rely on our brains to make a living, not looking at muscles. What a bunch of strange women... ..

An Shunwang was also sensitive to those wolf-like and tiger-like gazes. He couldn't help but think to himself, 'what's going on today?'

It was the same on the subway. It was the same when I was queuing up for the elevator downstairs at the science and Technology Building. Why did I feel like there was always someone looking at me. There was even someone who tried to strike up a conversation with me out of the blue. I checked myself just now, and my pants weren't on backwards... ..

And I kept feeling... .. The owner of these gazes seemed to... .. Seem to be coveting my body?

At the thought of this, he thought of the Black Brawny man who had an ambiguous expression on his face and ran over to strike up a conversation with me. An Shunwang immediately felt goosebumps all over his body, and he had no choice but to bury his head and madly type the code.

After about two to three hours, an Shunwang finally woke up from his crazy state as a coder. When he came back to his senses, he suddenly realized that the state he typed the code in today was not bad. It was smooth as water, and there was no blockage at all. It felt like he had managed to squeeze out a few days' worth of work in one morning... ..

HMM... .. He could not upload all the servers, so he had to be slow. He could only upload one-third of the data, so as to prevent that SH * t supervisor, Pichai, from adding more work to the labor force!

After he finished uploading the content, an Shunwang stretched his body in satisfaction. His heart was instantly filled with joy. With this amount of code, he would probably be able to laze around for two days... ..

At this moment, as he stretched his body, crackling sounds came from all over his body. His slender and well-proportioned figure made the eyes of the female colleagues around him light up.

Very soon, the Hispanic beauty who had been talking to Julie just now came forward and invited him, "Handsome, do you want to have lunch together?"

"Eh?" An Shunwang was obviously stunned for a moment.

But at this moment, his stiff face was stunned for a moment, but it gave people a sense of contrast and cuteness. It was not like the dazed look he had when he was a loser, which made people feel dull.

The beauty chuckled and continued to invite him, "I know a steak restaurant that serves very good steak. They only serve it for lunch..."

An Shunwang's face twitched. He felt like he had seen this scene before. What was wrong with these women? Was it embarrassing that he couldn't afford to eat steak? They always came up to mock him.

"I ordered takeout..." an shunwang replied coldly.

The beauty was stunned. She didn't expect the other party to reject her so bluntly. She couldn't help but purse her lips slightly, but she wasn't embarrassed. She had to admit that the other party's cold demeanor coupled with his charming male hormones made her even more mesmerizing, therefore, she didn't give up and continued to strike up a conversation. "My name is Shirley. How should I address you, handsome?"

"Huh?" An shunwang furrowed his brows tightly. What did this fellow mean? They had already been colleagues for a year, and now he was asking for his name?

"Hey Newbie..."

Not far away, Polk, who couldn't stand it anymore, finally interjected. "As a newbie, shouldn't that take-out be something to show us seniors?"

He was very annoyed. Although this Shirley was not the one he liked, seeing such a beautiful woman hitting on the yellow-skinned monkey made him feel annoyed. Moreover, he could clearly see that.., julie also looked at him from time to time.

"Newcomer?" Anshun Wang looked at Polk with a strange look and thought to himself, "Is this guy's brain damaged?" Other than the database manager, Angela, who else in this office has more experience than him?

By the way, who slapped this guy's face? He did a damn good job!

At the same time...

The person in an Shunwang's heart who did a good job was hurrying toward their company. On the way, Huo Xiaolong received a call from his big brother saying that Yang Rui had gone missing, along with the kid in the virtual pod, that Kid was also one of the players'targets.

"Don't worry, Big Brother, I'll definitely investigate it. I'm in Silicon Valley, I'll call you later..."after saying that, Huo Xiaolong took a deep breath and put the phone back into his pocket.

Looking at the technology building not far away, he thought to himself, is this a conspiracy or is it real?

Forget it, let's find that guy an Shunwang first. Even if we can't find an shunwang, it's the same if we find that guy...

He just pulled the surveillance video from Silicon Valley through his family, and the guy who looks like Wu Xiaojing is obviously here... . .

In the office, the atmosphere was in a strange standoff. Polk looked at Anshun Wang as if he were looking at a fool and could not help but feel a burst of anger, just as he was about to break out, an English voice with an Indian accent suddenly rang out, "What are you doing?"

Everyone was stunned and quickly turned around. They saw an old man in his fifties. It was the director of their department, Pichai!

"Oh, uncle... ahem, sir..."Polk quickly smiled and said, "We are discussing what to eat for lunch..."

Pichai looked at his junior and looked at his pig-like face. His expression instantly softened, "Didn't I give you a sick leave?"

"Uh... It's okay..." Polk smiled and touched his swollen face.

He had come today to see how an Shunwang was punished, but he didn't expect his uncle to be so swift. Although the punishment was strong, he didn't let him see the scene. He felt a little regretful.

Pichai nodded and turned around with a straight face. "Where's an Shunwang? Tell him to get lost in my office!"

After saying that, he walked into his office aggressively.

Everyone was stunned. Didn't you tell that unlucky guy to get lost. He even found a replacement... ..

While everyone was confused, they saw that the replacement followed Pichai into the office with an annoyed look on his face...

When everyone saw this scene, they were even more confused. At this moment, an shunwang, who was following behind Pichai, was also a little confused. He couldn't help but complain, "What's wrong with this SH * t supervisor?"?

Everyone was confused. Only Julie, who looked at Anshun Wang in a different light yesterday, started to think. In fact, she had discovered a problem since the morning. That new Chinese Guy had eyes that looked like Anshun Wang's... ..

And...

Julie looked at Anshun Wang's computer screen. She was quite close to Anshun Wang. In addition, her eyesight was good, so she could roughly see some of the things on Anshun Wang's computer screen. She could see... The developer's permission name used on the computer screen: it was Anshun Wang's own...

Chapter 752: An Shunwang (middle) who was involved in the dispute

"Who are you? What are you doing here?" Pichai frowned at an Shunwang who had just entered the office.

In fact, he had wanted to ask just now in the office. who was this guy sitting in an Shunwang's seat?

He didn't remember that there was such a person in his project team. Although he had some facial blindness syndrome due to seeing Asians, it was impossible for him not to remember the temperament of this guy in front of him.

Could it be that he was a newcomer arranged by the personnel department? Why didn't he tell this to his supervisor? Or maybe it was not a newcomer, but someone from another department?

An Shunwang was also extremely depressed at this moment. Didn't you F * cking ask him to come in? And Now You're asking me why I came in? Is Your Butthole Itchy?

But he still did not dare to say that. After all, he was under the roof...

“Um... weren't you calling an Shunwang just now?”

Pichai sized him up. Could it be that an shunwang knew that he had caused trouble and had found a Chinese executive from another department to come and support him?

Needless to say, this guy's tough temperament did have the bearing of a leader... .. but he didn't look like a business leader, but more like an officer... ..

Pichai sneered at the thought. Although he didn't know which department this guy was from, he wouldn't sell out the other department's executives.

What about the executives who were higher than him? The previous two ceos of this company were all Indian, and three out of nine departments were also their people. Even one-third of the shareholders were Indian. was he kidding that he would be afraid of a Chinese executive?

As for whether or not his Indian compatriots would stand on his side, he did not have to consider it at all. The Indians of Silicon Valley were famous for being protective of their own. They had always been united against foreigners. Other than the local white people who did not offend them, the foreigners of other countries., especially the Asians, they had always looked down on them!

“I didn't call you. Please go out and tell Anshun Wang to get his ass in here!” Pichai said very impolitely.

An Shunwang was stunned at first and thought to himself, ‘what does this guy mean?’? However, his face immediately turned ugly. ‘could it be that this guy wants me to get out and come in by getting out?’?

At the thought of this, his face immediately turned ugly!

At this moment, an Shunwang's tough face turned solemn and full of power. A murderous aura that was unique to a war wolf-like soldier spread across his face, instantly causing Pichai's heart to jump.

However, he quickly regained his previous arrogance. There weren't many Chinese executives in this company to begin with, so there was no way they would do anything to him. Moreover, the style of most Chinese people was to sweep their own affairs and not unite much, otherwise, how could they, the Indians, catch up to them?

Thinking of this, he felt even more at ease. He even felt an inexplicable sense of joy when he saw the other party's incompetence and fury, a teasing smile appeared on his face. “What? Did you not hear what I Said? Please get out and get an shunwang to come in!”

An Shunwang looked at the other party's teasing smile and his emotions instantly exploded. F * ck, insulting people was not such an insult. In his anger, he slammed his hammer on the office desk, and the tempered glass desk instantly cracked like a spider web. Pichai's eyes almost popped out... ..

F * ck, this F * ck... wasn't this a little too exaggerated?

Although from his appearance, this guy looked like a tough guy, but... ? ... wasn't this a little too exaggerated?

Before he could react, he felt his neck tighten as the other party grabbed his tie and pulled him over.

“Dog Ah San, can you F * cking say that again?” An Shunwang said with a vicious expression!

Looking at that ferocious beast-like expression, pi chayi immediately softened. He stuttered and did not dare to speak for a long time. This kind of tough attitude came from the faction behind him, but it did not mean that he was a tough person. He was still very weak when he met such a tyrannical person...

“You... you... you... are you crazy?” Pi chayi stuttered and replied, “You... What do you want to Do?”

Is this guy crazy? Even if I don't owe him anything, isn't it a little too much to just take action? When did these yellow-skinned monkeys become so unreasonable?

An Shunwang was stunned when he heard that. Then, he immediately reacted as if he had been doused with a basin of cold water. What was he doing?

F * ck... It's over, it's over...

Taking action against his superior. There were surveillance cameras here. Once it was spread out, his resume would be ruined!

When an Shunwang thought of this, he felt as if he had fallen into an ice cellar. He let go of the other party in a daze and quickly walked out.

Pi Chanyi, who had been let go, fell down on his office chair with a look of realization. It took him a long time to react...

Just now... ? ... what happened to that guy? Did he cower at the last moment?

F * ck! !

When he thought of this, Pi Chanyi suddenly stood up and chased after him with a fierce look. He was actually humiliated like that by a yellow-skinned monkey? This could not be tolerated. No matter who he was, he had to make sure that he could not survive in Silicon Valley!

The reason why he had such confidence was related to the other party's cowardice. If the other party really had a backer whom he could not afford to offend, he would not have such an expression at the last moment.

Pichai rushed out of the office aggressively at the thought of this. He glanced around and did not see an shunwang. He immediately shouted angrily, “Where is he?”

The people in the office looked at each other. When they heard the sound of a table being hammered, they were all shocked, then, when they saw an Shunwang coming out of the office in a Daze and Pichai and the others behind him, they were even more confused.

They really wanted to know what happened...

“Are you deaf? I'm asking someone!” Pichai roared angrily!

"I . . . I just saw him go into the bathroom outside, uncle..." Polk saw Pichai's aggressive attitude as if he wanted to cause trouble for an shunwang, so he immediately pointed the way excitedly. He even forgot to address him to avoid suspicion...

Humph, he had long disliked that new kid. He didn't expect to offend his uncle on the first day!

Pichai immediately walked aggressively toward the bathroom in the public area.

In the washroom, an Shunwang was constantly washing his face with cold water, forcing himself to calm down.

But because he was too nervous, he didn't even notice his completely different appearance in the mirror...

What should he do, what should he do?

An Shunwang started to talk to himself in a panic.

He was very clear about the current situation. If he made a move on his boss, once that Guy Pichai exposed it, the entire Silicon Valley Company would no longer accept him... ..

Moreover, it was not just Silicon Valley. Once this matter was implemented, his career history would be forever tarnished. Even if he returned to the country, it would be difficult for him to enter a large company.

He still owed so many loans. Once he was chased back, he did not dare to imagine how he would face his parents... ..

In order to send him to study abroad, they almost went bankrupt...

Was It really over for him?

While he was in a daze, his eyes happened to glance at the public TV above the bathroom, where the most popular local news was playing on the screen.

Hello everyone, this is the San Francisco times. Let's continue with the latest news about this election, one of the candidates for the Democratic Forces: Andrew Young. Young will be at the Truth Center at 12 o'clock this afternoon for an interview. In addition to this Chinese candidate, there will be a few other important guests in this interview. One of them will be the successor of the Rex Family: Rex. Mitt!

According to rumors, Andrew Young. It seems that Young has reached some sort of agreement with the new head of the Rex family. If he can really get the support of the Rex family, then there is no doubt. Andrew would leap from a previously unpopular role to become the popular candidate for this election...

An shunwang stared blankly at the news. He could not help but laugh in his heart. He had heard of this chinese-american candidate before. Most of the people in the country did not like this guy, even though he was one of the few chinese-americans who could enter the American political arena, however, his style was too subservient to the Americans. It would not be an exaggeration to say that he was a dog-licking candidate.

He did not expect that this kind of dog-eater would become a popular candidate...

At this thought, he looked at the Reese family's heir that was being introduced on the news. He could not help but think to himself, as expected, America was still under the rule of the Jews. As long as they were willing, dog-eaters could become the president.

At the thought of this, he could not help but smile wryly. This place was really completely racist. If it was a Jew, he would probably never be bullied to such an extent here...

Suddenly, he missed the game, where we bullied others... ..

With this thought in mind, an Shunwang walked out like a walking corpse. However, he didn't notice that his appearance was rapidly changing along with his thoughts just now...

Just as he reached the door, an Shunwang saw Pichai approaching aggressively. He couldn't help but smile bitterly in his heart, but he still forced out a smile. As long as the other party could forgive him and not force him to death, he would be humiliated... Let him humiliate me then...

I really can't let my family work for me anymore...

"First... Sir?"

Just as an Shunwang was thinking this, Pichai, who was charging at him aggressively, suddenly became terrified. He stuttered, "You... Why are you here?"

Chapter 753: An Shunwang (part two) who was involved in the dispute

What's going on? Can anyone tell me why the head of the Les family is in our company's toilet?

Okay... ? This isn't our company's toilet, but isn't this a little too sudden?

Pichai's cannibalistic aura instantly disappeared without a trace, and he laughed like a flattering shar-pei dog. He stuttered, "Sir, why are you here? Do you need any help?"

Even though Pichai, an Indian, usually appeared to be very strong and bold in dealing with outsiders, that was to trample on the weak. When they encountered a real tough opponent, they were not just tactful...

Even though the three countries had been constantly promoting over the years that their Indian race had already squeezed into the upper circles of America, and their overall income had even surpassed that of the Jews, in fact, these three countries all knew in their hearts., the true masters behind America were still these deeply rooted Jewish families!

This was especially true for the person in front of them. The Reis family, the head of America's military industry, had a company that supplied 30% of America's military products. They were one of the nine giants that had initiated the genetic experiment project in the first place, their family history had already been over 700 years, even longer than America's national fortunes!

This was a person that could not be offended even more than the president of America. Naturally, Pichai did not dare to be the slightest bit negligent.

Reis... "Oh, no." An Shunwang was currently looking at his boss with a dumbfounded expression. For a moment, he did not know what to say... ..

At this moment, Pichai lowered his head and looked at him with a pleased expression. At the same time, he did not dare to look directly at him. Coincidentally, he did not see the expression on an Shunwang's face that changed from nervousness to shock and confusion.

Just like that, the two of them stared at each other for half a minute. An Shunwang did not know what to say. Pichai also lowered his head and did not dare to look at him. The more he did not speak, the more he did not dare to look up. He felt as if he was being pressed down by a huge mountain. Cold Sweat dripped down his back, and in a short while, half of his back was wet... ..

He could not help but feel worried. He did not understand what was going on with this big shot. Why did he not say anything?

Just as they were in a stalemate, a burst of pure American English suddenly sounded. "Mr. Rex, why are you here?"

An Shunwang looked up and saw a tall, middle-aged white man in a blue suit walking in. An Shunwang recognized this person. He was the director and chief designer of their Naughty Dog Company, Morgan. Kristen.

The reason why he knew such a big shot was mainly because he was famous. The Morgan family was one of the seven big families behind the Federal Reserve. The Morgan system accounted for 33% of all financial capital in the United States and 65% of the insurance industry. In terms of production, among the 35 major companies in the United States, there were 47 directors of the Morgan Company, including American Steel, General Motors, General Electric, and other large-scale infiltration into the railway industry. The communications industry also used ITT (International Telephone and Telegraph Company) , national cable, postal cable, and so on. Before this, the wealth of the Morgan system was equivalent to 25% of the capital of all the companies in the United States.

It was also one of the nine giants that initiated the genetic experiment. As the legitimate young master of the Morgan family, after graduation, Kristen did not choose any of the family businesses under the name of the family, but turned to the game design industry.

This was very similar to the young master of a certain family in the country who gave up billions of dollars to become a professional LOL player. It also led to an extremely high topic of conversation. He was a very gossipy person in the Naughty Dog Company...

As an employee of his company, an Shunwang naturally recognized this big shot. However, he knew the big shot. The big shot should not know him. Why did he look like he was greeting him?

Moreover, his name wasn't Rex...

An Shunwang looked back suspiciously, wanting to see if there was some big shot standing behind him. After all, the attitude of these two people in front of him was too strange.

When he looked back, the toilet was still empty. He didn't see the person, but he just happened to catch a glimpse of himself on the side mirror...

F * ck me... Who Is This?

Wait... ... this face seems a little familiar... ...

An shunwang seemed to have thought of something as he glanced at the upper left corner of the television. At this time, the television was still broadcasting Rex's introduction. When he saw two identical faces, an Shunwang was instantly stunned.

This... What the hell is going on?

"Sir?" Kristen looked at an Shunwang who was acting strangely and frowned. As a member of the noble circle, he naturally recognized Rex. Although he did not understand why Rex would appear here.., but he still asked curiously, "I remember that you are going to attend Andrew's interview today, right?"

"Uh... is that so?"

Anshun Wang, who did not understand why he had become like this, replied blankly.

"I'm going there just in time. Do you want me to send you there?" Kristen asked with concern. He could see that the other party's expression was not very good.

"Oh..." an shunwang subconsciously agreed, but then reacted: "Where to? ?"

On the other side of the Huo Xiaolong with a group of bodyguards also rushed to the Naughty Dog Company inside, into the company after he frowned swept a circle, found that the person he was looking for is still not there. . Couldn't help but frown more deeply.

"You... how dare you come over here!" Polk rushed over with an angry face. However, when he saw the group of bodyguards behind Huo Xiaolong, he immediately became mute.

These bodyguards had a cold temperament. At a glance, it was obvious that they were not on the same level as the bodyguards outside the science and Technology Building who were holding electric batons...

F * ck... could it be a gang?

This was what Polk thought when he was scared.

Anshun Wang, that stupid kid, actually had a gang background?

No, no, no... ... Impossible, how could that stupid kid with a loser face... ... Oh, right, didn't that kid owe a lot of loans. Right, right, right, these guys might be here to urge for loans... ...

When he thought of this possibility, Buck felt a lot more at ease, but then he felt a little complicated. So he was implicated and beaten up yesterday? If he had known that this guy was a loan shark, he would not have come into conflict with him?

In just a few seconds, Polk's mind was filled with thoughts, and his heart was filled with all kinds of scenes. His expression was actually very rich, but now he was a pig head, and no one could tell.

Huo Xiaolong did not even bother to look at this stupid Indian guy. He directly asked the familiar-looking Julie, "Did an Shunwang come today?"

Julie was stunned for a moment and quickly shook her head. "No... He didn't come. He didn't come to work today..."

He didn't come...

Huo Xiaolong's face darkened. It was really uncomfortable to miss again.

After a moment of silence, he took out another photo and said to the crowd, "This person, have any of you seen him today?"

"Oh, him!" Polk quickly said, "Isn't he the new employee today?"

"The new employee?" Huo Xiaolong's eyes lit up. "Where is he?"

Polk immediately pointed in the direction of the public restroom outside the company.

Huo Xiaolong's expression brightened as he led the group toward the restroom. Meanwhile, Julie, who was in the crowd, bit her lip with a worried expression on her face.

On the other side, when Huo Xiaolong and his men rushed to the restroom, they bumped into an Shunwang's group. At this time, an Shunwang was brought outside by Kristen in a daze. When he bumped into Huo Xiaolong, he was stunned again.

F * ck, he's still here...

Then, he saw the group of tough men behind Huo Xiaolong and his heart skipped a beat. He thought to himself, why did this swindler bring so many people to the company? Did he rob a man in broad daylight?

Huo Xiaolong was also stunned when he saw the other party. He thought to himself, why is this guy here?

Chapter 754: Interview (Part One)

As the four-year election approached, the major candidates were trying their best to attract resources for themselves. At this time, as the most promising chinese-american candidate in the history of the United States, Andrew Young was the first to be labeled by the media as the most promising chinese-american candidate. Young was a very popular figure this year.

After all, no one had expected that this chinese-born guy could actually connect with the Rex family. This time, it was not a lie to say that Young was the most promising candidate...

In a reception room at the San Francisco Times Center, Andrew Yang's face is heavy to ask a subordinate: "That side still does not answer the telephone?"

I was supposed to do an interview with him today, so I should have talked to him about it, but he hasn't called me since three days ago... ..

Today, he received news that something seemed to have gone wrong with the Rex family. There was even a rumor that he had been kidnapped.

However, the internal situation of the Rex family had always been very closed. Outsiders also did not know what exactly had happened... ..

“No...”the assistant under him looked at the other party carefully, he said in a low voice, “It’s not just us who didn’t pick up the call. I’ve asked around, Yang. Today, not only did assistant Midt refuse to pick up the call from our family... Keith, who had wanted to compete with us for Les’Money, couldn’t get in touch with Mr. Mitt . . .”

Andrew heard the face more and more heavy, thought: is it really what happened?

It was not long before Mitt took the helm of the House of Les, and it was said that the methods of succession were not very peaceful, and even a little bloody, which led him to take the largest share, but set up a lot of enemies... ..

It was not impossible to have an accident. After all, you had relied on underhanded means to get to the top, so others could naturally use underhanded means to pull you down...

“Let’s try again!”Andrew ordered.

The interview was going to start in half an hour. If Mitt did not show up at that time, it would be a huge blow to his campaign career.

After all, the reason why he was so popular today was because of Reis. Mitt... ..

“Hey, Yang! !”

Suddenly, the door of the reception room was rudely opened. A tall black man walked over excitedly, “Mr. Mitt is here! !”

“Really? where is he?”Andrew immediately stood up excitedly.

“In the reception room next door, with the young master of the Morgan family, Kristen...”

“Okay, okay, okay, I’ll go over and take a look...”Andrew tidied his shirt and strode out.

“By the way, Mr. Mitt, why did you appear at our company alone today?”In the reception room, Kristen curiously asked Anshun Wang, who was still in shock.

As a member of a large family, even Andrew could find out that there was a problem within the Rex family, so he naturally knew about it. Moreover, he knew more. According to reliable information, Mitt had disappeared three days ago... ..

Many people guessed that it was Mitt’s uncle, Vance. Because of internal news, Vance managed to recruit an important figure in the Beyonder Army: the Deputy Commander of the Beyonder Army, Tago:. Balor...

This caused most of Mitt's beyonder forces to switch sides at the last minute... ..

Of course, it was hard to say if it was true, but the news was definitely not groundless... .. and Mitt had indeed gone missing... ..

But why was he in the toilet of their company. And... ? ... why was he still wearing such a tasteless suit?

As a noble, with just a glance, Kristen could tell that the quality of the equipment on Anshun Wang's body was low. His entire body, including the leather shoes, would not exceed 300 federal coins...

It was definitely a street stall...

"Mr. Mitter?" Kristen saw that the other party had been in a daze and frowned.

An Shunwang was stunned for a moment. He looked at the other party and was momentarily speechless when faced with the other party's question. He thought to himself, 'I'm your employee. Of course, I'm working for You In Your Company. What else can I do?'

Of course... He could not say these words now. He could only try his best to lower his voice and say, "Something happened. I can't say too much..."

Although he didn't know why he had become like this, an Shunwang knew that he couldn't give himself away. Otherwise, he might be caught in the autopsy room...

Hearing this answer, Mitt nodded and thought, it seems that something did happen within the Rex family... ..

Just as he was thinking, a sign in American English came over, "Oh, Mr. Mitt, it's great to see that you're safe!"

A Chinese in a gray suit walked up with a face full of enthusiasm and grabbed Mitt's hands. An Shunwang was stunned. Looking at the enthusiastic Chinese face, he immediately recognized that this was not the Chinese forum, Andrew, one of the Three Stooges. Yang?

An shunwang, who was mentally prepared for his arrival, was not surprised. After all, he knew on the way that he was going to cooperate with the other party to accept a public interview program.

After removing the surprise, he was naturally disgusted with this person. An Shunwang pulled his hand out of the other party's hand very coldly and said indifferently, "What's the matter?"

This cold attitude made Andrew stunned, but he did not think too much about it, he sat to the side with a smile and said, "It's just that I haven't been able to contact you these few days. I was really worried sick. I was really excited when I saw that you were safe and sound. Please don't take offense..."

Such an obvious fawning attitude made an shunwang frown. For a moment, his emotions were complicated.

As an overseas student, he naturally knew that this was the first hot spot for Chinese people. As a Chinese, it was extremely difficult for him to reach this stage. After all, the status of Chinese people in America was not high, moreover, most Chinese people were not enthusiastic about politics here. To be able to become the hot spot for the president in such an environment, he must have extraordinary strengths. Under normal circumstances, as Chinese people, he would definitely hold a respectful attitude.

But unfortunately, it's a dog-licking...

"I heard on the news that your father is in the hospital? How is it?" An Shunwang looked at him coldly and said.

"AH? Yes..." Andrew rubbed his hands and said, "Thank you for your concern. My father is now in a stable condition, but he is still under observation in the intensive care unit..."

"I see..." an shunwang nodded and then smiled. "I think it's better for you to worry more about your family and less about others when you have time, Mr. Yang..."

Huh?

"You said... . That Mitt was at the special times?" In a large, high-rise office, a gray-haired Jewish man answered the phone as he twirled his Mont Blanc pen.

"Are you sure?" The old man continued to ask slowly, after getting a sure answer, his face showed a hint of a smile, slowly hung up the phone.

"Interesting..." the old man looked at a metal box on the desk with a smile. In the box was a human head with a ferocious expression, and the appearance of the human head was exactly the same as Lei Zi's. Milt was exactly the same.

Chapter 755: Interview (Part Two) !

"Hey, Jennifer, come here for a second..."

In a secret underground base, a tall, muscular white man waved at a woman wearing a black leather bodysuit.

The woman who was lazily playing with her phone frowned, then nimbly jumped down from the sofa and followed the man into a room.

"You failed the mission!" As soon as she entered the room, the white man said to her with a cold expression.

"Failed?" Jennifer raised her eyebrows, then, she said, "It can't be, right? On the mission list, there were seven members of the family. I didn't miss anything. I compared everyone, including the three-year-old little jenny... "..." after a pause, she frowned and said, "Could it be that he has an illegitimate child outside "? Then you can't blame me. It's your own intelligence that's wrong." "..."

"Reese Mitt is still alive!" The white man said coldly.

"Huh?" Jennifer was stunned at first, but then she frowned and said, "Boss, this joke is not funny. I personally broke his head and sent it to you. You saw it on the other end too. It's not a replica, right?"

The white man was silent for a moment and did not say anything. He directly opened the virtual screen in the office and saw that the interview screen of the Special Treaty Times was playing.

On the screen, other than the well-known host, Jessica, and the main subject of today's interview, Andrew Young, there were a few other important guests. The most eye-catching one was naturally Reese, who had been keeping a straight face. Mitt.

"WATFA? ?" Jennifer's eyes immediately widened. "How did this guy appear?"

"I have to ask you!" The white man said coldly.

"That's impossible..." Jennifer shook her head. "Did I kill a stunt double? But if he was already prepared, why didn't he arrange for his family?"

The white man was silent for a moment when he heard that. He felt that what the other party said made sense. If Mitt had already anticipated the assassination and prepared a stunt double, why would he let his family die with him?

Moreover, according to Jennifer, when she sneaked into the assassination, Mitt was doing radio gymnastics with his beautiful model wife. Even if such a person had a stand-in, he wouldn't have cuckolded himself, right.

After thinking for a moment, he finally said, "Bring Gray Wolf to the times center and find an opportunity to catch the guy on the television and clarify the situation..."

"Got it..." Jennifer squinted at Mitt on the screen, there was a flicker of interest in her eyes. She did not believe that the one she had killed was a fake. After all, Mitt was her former master. She had slept with him for more than ten years. It could not be wrong...

So if the one you killed is real, then where the hell did this come from on TV?

It's funny...

Meanwhile, at the height of the interview, Andrew was describing what had happened to him:

"Some time ago, I was shopping in a supermarket and I was discriminated against because of the latest epidemic. A long-lost sense of shame suddenly came over me. I was conscious of my Asian identity and even a little ashamed..."

"Actually, I had this feeling since I was young. But because I had a family and ran for president after I became an adult, I thought that I had washed away this sense of shame. But in fact, it wasn't the case. The yellow skin on my body was still the biggest obstacle that prevented me from integrating into American society..." "This obstacle was bigger than I imagined. I didn't know how to deal with this kind of discrimination at one time because no matter if it was telling others or shouting at others, they weren't allowed to discriminate against me. But it still couldn't change the current situation. This caused me to fall into a daze. It was also the reason why I voluntarily gave up on running for President Last Time!"

Hearing this, everyone present, including an Shunwang who looked like Mitt, felt their faces twitch, especially an shunwang. He only wanted to throw the vase next to him onto this guy's face.

He was still ashamed, confused, and took the initiative to give up. He spoke as if you could live every day without that yellow skin... ..

Listening to that Guy's nonsense, an Shunwang couldn't help but sneer, "I remember that basically no one paid attention to you during the last election, right? Isn't this the reason why you gave up on the election?"

"UH..."

The scene suddenly became quiet, and everyone stared at an Shunwang in a daze.

It was not impossible to have this kind of poisonous snake problem, but as his backer, wasn't this not too good?

Andrew was also stunned, not understanding what was wrong with his ally.

Seeing that everyone was looking at him, an Shunwang was stunned, knowing that he was agitated.., then, he coughed lightly and said, "Cough... I mean, since you chose to participate in the election again, you must have overcome the confusion of being discriminated against, right? Then, as a Chinese, how do you think you can eliminate this discrimination?"

Everyone immediately nodded. This question was more normal, and also more standard...

An Shunwang himself was also impressed by himself. Damn it, he could actually ask such a standard question. He had not been strolling around the Tieba Forum in vain...

Hearing this, Andrew quickly added, "Mr. Mitt's question is very good. Since I have chosen to participate in the election again, I have naturally prepared myself to face all of this. Over the years, I have thought a lot and gradually realized that in the face of discrimination, useless anger and self-abasement are meaningless. This can only have the opposite effect. I have received some knowledge from my grandfather from Huazhong. A lot of the knowledge in it seems old-fashioned and old-fashioned. However, there is a saying that I agree with. In Huazhong culture, there is a saying called 'three days of self-reflection!' It means to reflect on what I did not do well every day."

"I think this sentence can also be applied to the issue of discrimination. We should not dwell on discrimination itself. Instead, we should look for problems from ourselves. We should think carefully about why they do not accept us? Why do they discriminate against us? Is there something that we have not done well? If we can do better, will we be able to bridge this gap? "I think what we Chinese should do next is not to put up a fierce resistance, but to calm down and think about how to integrate into this great country. We should show more of our 'American-ness', such as wearing clothes in the color of the star-spangled banner, which represents the American flag. The Red Japanese did this very well. During the war, they volunteered to join the American army to fight against the Red Japanese."

"Wow..." Jessica said with a smile, "You have a good idea..."

Jessica said so politely, but there was a hint of mockery in her eyes. Then, she looked at Anshun Wang and asked, "Mr. Mitt, what do you think of Mr. Andrew's idea?"

Anshun Wang, who had already calmed down, was so angry that his face turned red again!

What kind of nonsense was this? Oh, other people don't agree with you, discriminate against you, and insult you, and you're even more licentious? F * ck your mother, is this how you use the words of your ancestors? ! You son of a B * Tch!

"Mr. Mitt?" Jessica asked when she saw that the other party didn't speak.

"Oh..." Anshun Wang took a deep breath and slowly calmed down from his anger. He said coldly, "I'm sorry, I just didn't expect the other party to say this, so I was slightly shocked..."

"Then... What do you think of Mr. Andrew's explanation?" Jessica asked again.

"I think..." anshun Wang said coldly, "A piece of SH * t! !"

Chapter 756: Breaking News!

Player: Mike. Hello, Davis. You have excavated 71 energy ores today. There are 31 grade A ores without obvious faults and cracks. There are 35 grade B ores with cracks and damage, and 5 grade D ores with serious damage: ... Congratulations on being nominated for the best absenteeism of the day again. The bonus points are 50... ..

"Wow, Mike, you have an additional reward? How did you do it?" David could not help but ask enviously.

"Hehe..." Mike happily received the points. Looking at the increasing amount of points saved, his face revealed an old cow-like smile.

"That's right, Mike!" A companion named Sam saw that Mike had been giggling foolishly, and asked impatiently, "You have to pass on some experience, or else we'll have to mine here for the rest of our lives..."

Ever since the base had explicitly stated that it was not allowed to target newbies who were absent from work, the lives of overseas players had been slightly better. At least they did not have to worry about the ores being deliberately damaged. Or maybe the ores from the past were quietly moved back...

However, life was still not very good. Mining did not seem to be a job that only relied on brute force. It was very demanding on skills. First, the use of the pickaxe. The material and shape of the pickaxe were specially made, so it was very easy to be damaged. If it was accidentally broken, they would have to pay compensation. The price was also very expensive. Usually, a pickaxe compensation cost would require them to work hard for three days...

Then, there was the mining skill of the ore. This type of energy ore was embedded in hard rocks. In order to completely remove the energy ore from the rocks, it required meticulous operations, if one was not careful, it might cause damage to the ore, and the quality of the damaged ore would be lowered. The exchange points would also be much less. This was still good. If you accidentally touched the ore's energy core while retrieving the ore, it might even explode, directly killing you and making you start all over again...

This was also the reason why the base had so many people, so far, players were still needed to play truant.

Orcs with great strength usually had average control skills. If they did not operate it carefully, it was very easy to cause damage to the pickaxe or the energy ore, especially the ogres and Minotaurs. Most of them only played the role of transporting, and those who could play truant were engineers with less strength. This caused the efficiency to be extremely low. After a Green Titan player became proficient in mining skills, their efficiency could be at least comparable to fifty engineers. In addition to the volume ratio of the ore pits,. The Green Titan Player's cost-effectiveness ratio as a truant was indeed much higher...

However, it took a certain amount of time for a player to turn from a newbie to an old truant. Even with the guidance of intelligence, many new overseas players had yet to reach a profitable state. Most of them were hovering between damaged pickaxes and damaged ore. It was absolutely rare for someone like Mike to be rated as an excellent truant in less than a few days... ..

"Tell me, Mike, how did you do it?" A player beside him asked curiously.

"Uh..." hearing this, Mike scratched his head in embarrassment. "I... I'm not too sure. I just followed the way the system demonstrated. After doing it a few times, I felt that I was familiar with it..."

"That's weird..." Big Wei frowned. "I followed the instructions too. Why Can't I?"

The people around quickly nodded. Some of them had already been blown up for the third time...

"Are you hiding something?" David's face darkened.

"I really didn't..." Mike quickly shook his head. "I did that... maybe... it's because I have this talent?"

Everyone was stunned when they heard that. David looked at him strangely. "Mining talent? The Hidden Talent of your character?"

"No..." Mike shook his head. "I'm saying that I have this talent. My grandfather was a diamond absentee. I heard from my grandmother that he was the best diamond absentee in the mcgill factory. I think I inherited my grandfather's genes. HMM." "...". "Yes, that must be it. I'll go back and tell my father that your son is more suitable to be a absentee than a lawyer. He doesn't need to put in the effort to make me go to law school..." "..."

Everyone:" ..."

"I think... If you say that, your father might break your legs and throw away your virtual machine..." David laughed.

In the current intelligent society, mining was done with robots, so there was no need for absenteeism?

"So your dream is actually to become a absentee worker like your grandfather?" Sam asked curiously.

"That's not it..." "Actually, my dream is to become a sword master, like the Han sword in central China, the tachi in Red Sun, and the cross sword in Western Europe. I've always wanted to be a craftsman in the cold weapons industry, but it's a pity "...". There were fewer and fewer people who knew how to do this now. Many of the works sold online were made by artificial intelligence. Although they were neatly made, they didn't have a soul... "... "..."

As he said that, he touched the a-rank ore in the ore machine and continued, "This game is very realistic. A simple mining detail is done very well. I believe that its forging system is also very realistic, so I want to save enough points to learn the blacksmith skill...". "..."

"Oh?" The people around were stunned, Sam also said, "I didn't know that you liked this kind of thing. No wonder you earned so many points and didn't apply for a combat class. But Mike, if you don't train to Level 2 early, you won't be able to go to the New World..."

"Actually, I think it's better to learn the life skills first...". Mike said seriously, "Yesterday, I went over the wall to the Huazhong Forum and read a guide by a player called Grandpa Lu. It has an analysis in this aspect. The cost of venturing into the new world is very high. On the way, food consumption and weapons and equipment cost a lot of points. In addition to the money for early training, we probably need more than a year to go to the new world just by mining and moving bricks. Even if they went to the new territories, they might be forced to come back often due to insufficient supplies. It would be better to learn a life skill early on. This way, even if they went to the new territories, they could still make a living there and not be short of supplies"

"We would like to learn...". "... "David grumbled with a straight face, "But those Chinese guys ostracized us. They were only willing to provide training discounts to the Chinese. We could only pay for it ourselves. That's too expensive. I might not even be able to pay for half a year's worth of mining!"

"That's right..." the group of overseas players were filled with righteous indignation, this bunch of Chinese bullies are too ungentlemanly, using their high levels to push us aside and give preferential treatment to our own people, this makes the game environment too unfair!

"Then there's no other way...". "... "Mike sighed too, "Who asked them to come first "? But the more it is like this, the more we need to be united, right now we have too few American players, not even as many as the universe countries, if this goes on, we might not only be pushed aside by the Chinese players ..."

"Mike is right...". "... "David slapped his thigh, "There are too few American players, we can't go on like this. We have to go to the forums to promote it and get more people to line up. If this goes on, we'll really end up at the bottom!"

"It's not easy to handle...". "... "a player beside him added, "Right now, many people on the internet are saying that this game is fake. When I post pictures, many people say that I'm a troll army, it's really difficult to handle...". "...". You guys don't know, some time ago, the famous gaming media released an interview. A few top designers all agreed that this game couldn't be real. Now, not to mention on the Internet, even my friends and I didn't believe me when we talked about this game...". "..."

"Then why are there so many players from the universe country and Red Sun?" David was confused.

"This... maybe it's because they are so close?" Sam said uncertainly.

Actually, if one understood the history of the various countries, they would definitely be able to explain this problem. The western countries had always been rather arrogant towards central China, with all sorts of media slandering and distorting the truth, this caused many of the basic people to disdain to understand the true situation over there. However, Red Sun and the universe country, these two neighboring countries, were different, they preferred to keep the things in central China for themselves. Hence, they didn't resist to understand the new things over here...

"No... We have to organize the players here and make a big announcement, we can't go on like this... I think we should do this..." just as Sam was about to set up his own announcement plan, suddenly... A clear mechanical voice announcement interrupted everyone's train of thought.

"Attention all players, attention all players!" Just now, the Reis family and the Huo family of America had officially announced that they would be the operators of Galaxy in America. From now on, Huazhong and America would launch open beta at the same time!"

"Open Beta?"

All the players were shocked. Before they could react, a second piece of even more shocking news came.

"The first city of star ocean game is about to be completed in 30 days on the first planet. After discussion by the company's higher-ups, we have decided to hire a player from all the participating countries to become the mayor of the city. Attention, the mayor will have legislative power, administrative power, and construction rights over the city. The mayoral election will determine the final candidate through election. After that, we will announce the nominees and election rules. Please pay more attention to it. As players, each of you will have a precious vote to decide the mayoral candidate. Please vote carefully when the time comes..." "

Players:"!!!"

Chapter 757: Shock (1)

"Mike... Did you hear that?"

The players were stunned for a long time, but David was the first to react. He patted Mike on the shoulder and asked.

Mike rolled his eyes at him. "It's been played more than ten times, and I'm not deaf. How could I not hear it?"

But it was indeed a little unbelievable...

Mike looked at the fairy-tale-like city in the distance and said in a daze, "Are you talking about this city? Such a big city? Choose a player to be the city Lord?"

Everyone felt that it was unbelievable. Such a big city had so many facilities. Apart from the private players' shops and houses, there were also many amazing public facilities, for example, the advanced training hall, the high-tech Fighting Center, the Elven incubation center, and so many professional instructors.

Such a city with so many functions and so many npcs actually chose a private player to be the city Lord? Was this for real? Could it be an honorary city lord?

However, they had clearly heard that the city Lord would have the legislative authority, administrative authority, and Construction Authority. Was it really alright to give such a huge authority to a private player?

Everyone thought in shock...

However, although they were shocked, these new players did not lose their composure. After all, their understanding of the game was limited, but those old players., especially those Lord players one after another after hearing this news jaw almost dropped to the ground!

Cabbage Power:

"I go, what situation?" Just came back from the grassland not long after the liver emperor rushed into the cabbages without saying a word, only to find that in addition to Alice, everyone else has come back.

Among them is Wang Gou Dan, who hasn't been home for many years.

"What do you guys think?" The cabbages touched their chins and asked seriously.

"The weather is changing!" Wang goudan frowned and said, "Forget about the management rights, let's get the legislative rights. Lord, what is the meaning of this?"

Everyone had solemn expressions on their faces. The legislative rights definitely included the tax rights. which high-level player like them did not have a business in a main base city? If the tax was changed, it would be a huge matter, especially since this election could actually allow foreigners to participate. This made people even more worried.

If a foreigner became the city lord, how would he change the tax law? Would he use their money to subsidize his own country's people?

F * ck, when they thought of this, everyone immediately felt like tearing the foreigners apart!

They all knew that the money in this game was real money! !

"This dog Lord, what the hell is he doing?" Goudan immediately kicked the table. "Let's rebel! !"

As soon as he said this, the air instantly became quiet, and everyone stared at her in a daze...

Wang Goudan looked at the strange looks in everyone's eyes and immediately helped the table up in embarrassment. He laughed dryly and said, "Hehe... I'm just trying to liven up the atmosphere..."

Little cabbage and the others immediately rolled their eyes...

"Actually, if we calm down and think about it, the problem might not be that serious...". Little cabbage sighed and analyzed, "The properties of us lords are all outside the city. The taxes outside the city are all paid directly to the lord of the main base. I think the lord of the main base will not let the players have this right." ..."

Everyone was stunned when they heard this, but they immediately nodded. With their multi-point model, the tax power would naturally not be given to a new city lord. Otherwise, the other party would not be the city lord but the king...

Xiao Bai cai continued, "Of course, we each have some businesses in that city, so it will more or less be affected. However, the biggest impact will definitely not be on us, but the newcomers."

"Newcomers?"

"Yes, what are the most important resources in the main base?" Xiao Bai cai smiled and said, "Of course, it's those instructors and training bases. The fees of these bases are directly linked to the progress of the newcomers. Once the city Lord has his own selfish motives, he will definitely favor his own clansmen. After all, he has the legislative power..." "..."

"F * ck, this is too much! !" Emperor liver immediately slammed the table and said.

Wang Goudan: "That's right, this is too much. Rebel, F * ck him! !"

Little cabbage rolled her eyes at Goudan and said, "What if the city Lord is a Huazhong Person?"

"Eh?" Everyone was stunned and immediately reacted. That's right, what if the city Lord is a Huazhong Person, then wouldn't he be able to brazenly let himself go?

"That's why... Don't get excited..." little cabbage picked up a meat patty-like thing and stuffed it into her mouth, he chewed contentedly and said, "Even if you want to make a fuss, you have to wait for the results to come out before making a fuss... it's not necessarily a bad thing, is it?"

Everyone immediately fell silent. Gou Dan moved closer to little cabbage and poked his bulging squirrel-like cheeks with his finger.

"What are you doing?" Little Cabbage Glared at Gou Dan and said.

"No... I'm just curious. You're usually so silly to be able to say such smart words..." Gou Dan laughed.

"Bah!" Little cabbage immediately swatted away Goudan's hand. "When did I become so silly?"

"I remember... Alice is usually the one who says these words, and you're just standing there foolishly," Goudan recalled the usual meeting.

"That's because I'm too lazy to say so much!" Little cabbage rolled her eyes and said, "Why would I waste my brain on Alice? I've spent so much money to hire her, don't you want me to Slack off a little?"

Wang Goudan:"..."

"Ahem..." emperor liver could not help but interrupt the conversation between the two clowns and said seriously, "Tell me, who do you think will participate in the election this time?"

The same question was also being discussed internally in Gondolin.

“Anyway, it definitely won’t be our people...” in the meeting room, ran Xiaojuan yawned in boredom and said, “We, the Lords, already have a lot of authority. It’s impossible for us to give the novice market to players like us. Otherwise, it will cause a monopoly on resources.”

Beside her, the old lawyer who had been frowning frowned slightly and looked at ran Xiaojuan. He did not expect that this guy who spent his days in the laboratory would have such a high degree of political sensitivity.

As expected... ... The developer players still had too much of an advantage in thinking. ...

“Then should we do something?” Pu Yunchuan asked as he ate the snacks on the table.

“We don’t need to do anything...”. Isabelle said softly, “Just continue to take care of our own city’s development. Ran Xiaojuan is right. The main base city’s biggest influence is the newbies. This aspect has little to do with the interests of us lords. We’re not the ones who should be excited.”

“Then who is it?” Pu Yunchuan asked in a daze.

“Naturally, it’s those who really want to grasp the newbie resources!” Isabelle smiled and said, “You’ll find out soon enough...”

Meanwhile, on the distant ship, Dog Egg Li and his crew were lying leisurely on the deck, basking in the sun... ..

As soon as they walked out of the ghost ice region, all the crew members were very attached to the sun. They wished they could bask in the Sun all day long. Even Lei Xue gave herself a little break from researching new knowledge.

However, when the system intelligence announced the news of the City Lord Selection, the originally relaxed Lei Xue and Wang Ye instantly jumped up in shock!

Chapter 758: Shock (Part 2)

When the news reached the Goudan, Li Goudan was still lying calmly on the deck. He didn’t even blink his eyes. His attitude was very clear: “It’s none of my business...”. ...

It had been three days since they left the icy domain. The speed of the Goudan was naturally not comparable to the sailing ships or old-fashioned steam engine ships of the natives of the western islands. With the old captains who had been brought out from the icy domain, they knew the way, with the correct route, according to the forecast, they should not arrive at the western islands for more than ten days.

The thought of being able to arrive at the destination in ten days and see different customs and customs made dog egg’s heart bubble with joy...

As for the City Lord’s preliminaries in the main base, what did it have to do with her. Anyway, this dog egg was not going to participate in the selection... ..

However, when this news reached the ears of Lei Xue and Wang Ye who were traveling with them, it was no different from a sudden clap of thunder! ! !

Having been here for so long, through the comparison of their intelligence, the two of them could almost guess what kind of existence the main base city was. It had absorbed a new population.., the players' genetic surgery, the growth of new players, and the training were almost all completed in that city. What did such a city's management authority represent. One could even imagine how important the person who became the city Lord would be in the international community...

As a developer, Lei Xue reacted much faster than Wang Ye. She instantly woke up from her shock and began to analyze the message that the system had sent.

Firstly, the city Lord was very important. If what was said in the message was true, then this city lord had extremely important strategic significance!

This could be seen from the authority that the system announced. Firstly, the construction rights could directly start new construction projects. According to the intelligence that she had gathered previously, many of the projects in the base city were contracted by the players, once the construction rights were in their hands, wouldn't the city lord be the one to decide who would be the contractor?

Management Rights: needless to say, all kinds of projects and benefits could be biased to their own people to the greatest extent.

The most ridiculous thing was the legislative rights. If they met someone who did not care about their face and was a little more ruthless, they could make a racial citizenship law and directly divide the benefits according to their racial class. The players from other countries might not even have a place to cry at that time.

As for their face? Hehe, with the righteousness of the nation in front of them, who would care about those useless things?

At the thought of this, Lei Xue's gaze immediately turned cold. She thought to herself, no, this city lord must not fall into the hands of foreigners!

At the thought of this, she quickly analyzed the short message from the system... ..

The message said that the castellan selection would choose a player from over 40 countries that had opened up the passage, which meant that the selection was not based on the player's level.

After all, if the selection was based on the player's level, there was no need to say the previous words, because it was impossible for any overseas player to surpass the Huazhong players in terms of level. According to Wang Ye's information, the most powerful private player in the New World already had a private city and a population of over 100,000!

In other words, everyone might have a chance...

This was not good news. In that case, the Huazhong Players' advantage would be gone... ..

Finally, there was the last sentence at the end of the message: "We will announce the nominees later." This sentence made Lei Xue very concerned.

Nominees? From the words, it should mean that not everyone could participate in the election, but they had to pass the nomination first.

Then what were the criteria for the nomination? Who would decide? The so-called Luofu sect master? Or was it the candidates nominated by the LUOFU high-level factions?

Lei Xue remembered that the Xuanji sect master, Qin Xuanji, had said in the intelligence report that there were overseas forces in the Luofu high-level faction. In other words, if the nomination was proposed by the Luofu high-level faction, then there would definitely be overseas people nominated this time...

At the thought of this, Lei Xue's heart was in turmoil!

"What's Wrong?" Li Goudan seemed to have noticed Lei Xue's abnormal expression. He could not help but pinch the other party's face and ask, "What's wrong? You look constipated..."

Lei Xue: "..."

What did the way he was deep in thought have to do with constipation?

"Are you very excited to know that we are going to reach our destination in ten days?" Li Goudan chuckled and said, "You are looking forward to it, right?" "I've heard the old captains talk about the customs of the western islands for the past two days, and I feel that it's quite interesting, do you know?" "There's a country where the status of women is extremely high. The husband only has the right to ask the bride to sleep with him on his wedding night. After this day, if he wants to climb into the woman's bed, he has to get the consent of the other party. Moreover, he can't care about the other party's usual relationship with other men. Damn, do you dare to think about such a custom?"

Lei Xue: "..."

What's with the look of anticipation on your face? Can't you see that the face of the guy next to you has turned green?

Of course, the Elf Ball, Wang Ye, is usually green as well...

"Captain..." Lei Xue hesitated for a moment before asking, "When... when can I go back next time?"

"Ah?" Li Goudan didn't expect the other party to ask this, tilting his head, he thought for a moment before saying, "It will take us ten days to reach the western islands. We must first establish good diplomatic relations here and try our best to establish trade relations with a few large countries. We must also try our best to gather as many mages as possible. You must know that the mages here are very precious. It will be a little difficult for us to sneak them back without being discovered, so I'm afraid it will take a lot of time. I estimate that it will take at least three months!"

Lei Xue immediately frowned...

Three months, the daylily had gone cold! !

“Is there any way to make me go back early?” Lei Xue asked carefully.

Li Goudan glanced at her, he said lazily, “I still want to. Do you think I don’t want to go back and eat Wang Goudan’s barbecue from time to time? I still miss my mother, but what’s the use of thinking? “This ship doesn’t have a teleportation function, you know that, right? “You can’t possibly ask us to sail the ship back for you, right?”

Lei Xue was instantly speechless...

Actually, if it was possible, she would naturally want to participate in this voyage opening mission seriously and happily. She also liked this place. She also wanted to easily see the western island countries that the old captain mentioned. She wanted to see all kinds of local customs...

But she couldn’t do it at this time... She couldn’t enjoy everything here with the attitude of an adventurer like Li Goudan. ...

“Actually, it’s not that we can’t go back...” Li Goudan suddenly said.

“En?” Lei Xue’s heart shook, and she immediately looked at him.

Li Goudan smiled and said, “Actually, there’s something I didn’t tell you. After the surgery, the backup brain will be in the main base. Once the body is damaged, the data will be immediately sent back to the base.”

Lei Xue was stunned, and she looked at the other party in shock, “You mean... that we... won’t die here?”

“Under normal circumstances, it doesn’t seem like it...” . “...” Li Goudan scratched his chin and said, “But the side effects are very big. For example, for me, I spent a lot of energy to possess my current body and strength. If I were to be reborn, I would have to start all over again and become like him...” . “...” as he said that, he pointed at Wang Ye, who was still in the elf ball.

Lei Xue was instantly stunned. There was such a technique?

“Lei Xue...” . “...” Li Goudan said faintly, “You’re a newbie. It’s not a pity for you to be reborn. After all, you’ve only been here for less than a month, and your body hasn’t evolved much. However, you have to know that once you choose to return, this voyage will have nothing to do with you “...” . “...”

“Thank you, Captain! !” Lei Xue immediately bowed in excitement.

The other party had made such a straightforward choice. Li Goudan immediately pursed his lips, appearing a little unhappy. He had originally planned to ignore the other party, however, after thinking for a moment, he still bit his lips and said, “Next Time... you can not miss work. Otherwise, this captain will fire you!”

Lei Xue was stunned. Then, she revealed her heartfelt gratitude and once again bowed deeply!

Chapter 759: Return

In the office of the Chief of Yanjing, the chief sat quietly on a hardwood chair and smoked. The ashtray next to him was already filled with cigarette butts. The entire office seemed to be covered in morning fog, as if everything was a little blurry.

However, in just a few months, the chief felt a lot older. Coupled with the bloodshot eyes, it was obvious that his current state was worried about something.

He had been worried since more than ten days ago because he had heard about the opening of an overseas passage in the Sea of stars.

Lei Xue's intelligence had said that the upper echelons of Luofu had a Western background. At that time, Old Fang had analyzed for him that this day would come sooner or later. However, he had not thought that this day would come so quickly. They were not ready yet., the military officers sent out had not been able to bring back enough intelligence, causing him to not know what to do.

Now, he definitely could not ban Luo Fu. Just as Old Fang had said, if he banned Luo Fu, he would benefit the foreigners. If he did not ban Luo Fu, he would just watch Luo Fu grow.

What a big problem...

Just as he was thinking, there was a light knock on the door. Following that, his assistant Xiao Lin's voice was heard, "Leader, elder Li is here..."

The leader was stunned. He put out the cigarette butt in his hand, then stood up and turned on the ventilation system. After a few seconds, the smoke had almost dispersed, then he said calmly, "Invite elder Li in."

Half a minute later, the office door was opened, and elder Li, who was wearing a military uniform, walked in quickly. The leader glanced at him. Although he was already over seventy years old, he was still as straight as a javelin, walking like a dragon and tiger...

"Leader..." elder Li walked to the desk and saluted, then, he frowned slightly and looked around. Although the ventilation system had sucked away a lot of the smoke, the large amount of residual smoke and cigarette butts in the ashtray still made the old man instantly guess the situation before, he sighed and said, "You have to take care of your body. You Can't be so willful. The more at this time, the more you have to hold on!"

"It's okay..." the leader smiled and said, "I had a good foundation when I was young. I Won't die if I'm a little willful..."

Elder Li: "..."

"Let's get down to business..." the leader took a deep breath and said, "What did the intelligence report say? Why did the Reis family suddenly announce to be the agent for Galaxy?"

Although he had been worried when Galaxy appeared overseas, he had at least been a little lucky. After all, Galaxy had been hidden in central China for more than a year before it contacted the authorities. According to this rhythm., central China might still have some time to prepare.

However, he had not expected that the foreign media would announce the news of the Reis family acting as galaxy's agent in just a few days. He naturally knew what kind of background the Reis family had. Such a military capital family had specially come to act as an agent for a game that had just entered the country.., he did not believe that the higher-ups of Luofu had not taken the initiative to contact him.

Hearing that, elder Li placed the documents in his hands on the office desk and said with a heavy voice, "You have to be mentally prepared. This is not good news."

The leader smiled and said, "Speak, I am prepared..."

Elder Li said, "Didn't the intelligence say a few days ago that there was an internal conflict in the Rex Family? The head of the family, Mitt, has gone missing? According to accurate intelligence, Mitt's uncle has received the support of the deputy commander of the Beyond Army, Raines!"

The leader narrowed his eyes when he heard that. The Intelligence Bureau kept a close watch on these beyonders overseas. After all, these people were almost like human-shaped nuclear bombs. Sometimes, their deterrent force was even greater than the regular army.., Raines was a century-old extraordinary person. His status in the American Extraordinary Corps was extremely high. There was a great clamor for him to be the next leader of the entire extraordinary corps.

Elder Lee continued, "The intelligence said that Mitt's disappearance was because the extraordinary person who was funded by the Rex family under his command was turned against by Raines, resulting in a mutiny. However, he did not expect that after two days of disappearance, Mitt would appear in San Francisco's special interview with Andrew unscathed. The strange thing was that Mitt seemed to have changed his stance this time. He publicly refuted Andrew's political views and even humiliated Andrew in the process..." . "..."

The leader was stunned. He did not expect this plot. After all, some time ago, the foreign media had reported that Andrew had the support of the Rex family, but he did not expect the boat of friendship to turn upside down so quickly, but then he frowned and said, "What does this have to do with acting for Galaxy?"

He did not understand why elder Li would say this. Galaxy was the most important thing at this time, okay? He was the president of the United States every four years. Who was going to be the next president. It was none of our business. In any case, none of them had ever given us a smooth ride on the stage...

"The problem is that after this press conference..."elder Li lowered his voice and said, "I heard that after the press conference, when Mitt returned, he was attacked. It was an attack targeted by extraordinaires, but it was stopped by a mysterious expert!"

"Mysterious expert?"The leader's heart skipped a beat.

"Yes..."elder Li sighed and took out a long photo. In the photo, Reese. In the north of Mitt, two strange-looking young men escorted him into the car. The two young men, a man and a woman, were extremely handsome. With just a glance, the leader could tell that they were Luo Fu's people!

This appearance was very similar to their family's dragon group number one, Li Jiayi. Although the facial contour was somewhat different, this temperament and handsomeness couldn't be found other than Luo Fu's profound mysteries door...

Seeing the photo, the leader's face became extremely solemn. There was no longer any trace of luck in his heart. It was almost a hundred percent certain that Luo Fu had already reached some sort of agreement with the Reis family!

This action was really faster than he had imagined!

"Elder Li..." the leader gritted his teeth and said, "Have you tried to contact sect leader Qin?"

Elder Li was stunned for a moment before he sighed and said, "I have. There's no response from the other side..."

Hearing this reply, the leader's expression became even uglier. There wasn't even a reply. What exactly was Luo Fu planning to do?

The two of them fell silent for a moment. Neither of them spoke. The topic was too heavy, and they didn't know how to continue discussing this topic.

Just as elder Li raised his head and wanted to say something, there was suddenly a hurried knock on the door from outside.

The leader frowned and asked, "What's the matter?"

"Leader, the intelligence department just sent a message. They said... They said..." Xiao Lin was obviously running over. He couldn't catch his breath.

Elder Li and the leader's faces darkened. Could there be worse news at this time?

"Slow down, what does it look like to be panicking?" The leader walked over and opened the door. He looked at Xiao Lin who was panting and frowned. He thought to himself, young people nowadays are really becoming less and less presentable..., even if it was just a few steps from the entrance of the Hall? He was actually panting like this!

After dozens of seconds, Xiao Lin finally caught his breath and hurriedly said, "Sir Leader... The Intelligence Department just sent a message saying that Lieutenant Colonel Lei Xue has returned!"

"What? ?"

When the leader heard this, he immediately grabbed the other party and asked, "Where is she?"

"She's registering at the intelligence department..." Xiao Lin hurriedly said.

"What the F * CK is there to register at this time?" Elder Li cursed from behind, "Let her come over directly..." he paused for a moment and looked at Xiao Lin, who was gasping for breath, then, he directly said, "Forget it, just call her and tell her to wait over there. We'll go over immediately!"

Chapter 760: People in hiding!

“Lieutenant Colonel Lei Xue...” in the Intelligence Bureau, a general-level officer said with a stern face, “Reporting above your level, what do you want to Do? Do you still respect the rules?”

Lei Xue looked at the other party. In front of this dignified officer, the respect she usually had in her heart was completely gone. After all, the things she faced in the new world were far more terrifying than this officer who used his power to oppress people, in the face of the other party’s roar, she did not even blink her eyes. She said indifferently, “This intelligence is very important. I feel that it is necessary to report to the chief personally...”

“You! !” The officer’s face instantly turned ashen. Just as he was about to flare up, a fat middle-aged man beside him hurriedly stopped him. “Hey, Little Dragon, if you have something to say, then say it properly. Why Are You So Angry?”

Then, with a gentle smile, he said to lei xue, “Important information has to be reported to the center of the Second Division for review before it can be reported according to the procedures. This ship’s rules, Lieutenant Colonel Lei, You are also born into a military family. I don’t need to explain to you the principle of soldiers obeying their superiors, right?”

Lei Xue Glanced at the other party, still expressionless...

These two, one playing the good cop, one playing the bad cop. This kind of trick might have been useful to her in the past, but now, she... ... With just a slight observation, she could tell... ... that the two of them occasionally exchanged glances in secret.

She could even roughly guess which side these two guys belonged to... ...

The developer’s bloodline focused on developing the brain. Even though she was still a level 1 player, under the activation of high mental strength, the brain’s operating energy far exceeded that of an ordinary person, some of the trivial memory pictures from childhood to adulthood could instantly be connected into a clear thread. For example, when she was reading the newspaper.., sometimes, the information that she occasionally read would be almost subconsciously forgotten because the brain’s judgment was not important. However, in reality, the brain retained data. As long as the brain was activated to a certain degree, it could extract these data at any time, now, she was in this state. From a young age, the information that her brain occasionally received, including television, newspapers, books, and even the discussions of the elders that were usually unimportant, could be completely used by her in an instant, the information could be pieced together into a network map and become a useful clue.

When she was a technician in the army, although she did not care about politics, she had been influenced for many years. At this moment, because her brain was operating efficiently and piecing together the data, she had instantly sorted out the distribution of power in the army.

Although the intelligence department was nominally under the direct command of the leader, most of the officers who served in it were family members who had returned from galaxy, those family members must also be extremely eager to obtain the information in galaxy. At this moment, if she handed over the information, it was completely uncertain whether the other party would give it to the family first or to the leader first. If it was even a little worse, it would be... It was also uncertain whether the information reported to the leader would still be the original information...

It was even...

Lei Xue frowned slightly. She remembered that her old man had once angrily mentioned to her uncle that day that there were people in the Yanjing family who were colluding with the enemy!

Otherwise, why would those overseas extraordinary forces begin to probe the borders crazily the moment the authorities cooperated with Luo Fu?

Back then, cooperating with Luo Fu was considered a top secret. How did this news spread?

At this moment, the election concerned the fate of the country. She naturally did not dare to casually report the news!

“Lei Xue! ! !”

Seeing that the other party did not speak for a long time, the military officer was instantly infuriated, he said coldly, “Don’t think that you will get carried away just because you went to Luo Fu. Even if you are a beyonder now, you are still a soldier. As a soldier, you have to obey orders! I order you to immediately report the information you know! !”

Lei Xue frowned and looked at him, thinking to herself, ‘this is a little troublesome...’.

In this situation, if she did not say anything, the other party would not let her walk out. If the situation was worse, she might not be able to survive even if she said the information..., if the other party was a colluding force, she might be killed the moment she walked out of the military camp...

She bit her lip at the thought of this. This was the bad thing about the developer’s bloodline. He did not have the ability to protect himself in the early stages.

Just as she was thinking of how to get out of this predicament, there was suddenly a knock on the door.

“What’s Going On?”The officer who had been disturbed said angrily to the door.

“Reporting to sir, the leader and elder Li are here. They specifically asked to see Lieutenant Colonel Lei Xue!”

As soon as these words were said, the expressions of the two military officers in the office immediately changed, especially that fat middle-aged man. The originally smiling fat face of Maitreya Buddha instantly became incomparably gloomy!

Lei Xue slightly heaved a sigh of relief. She thought to herself, ‘fortunately, sir leader is reliable...’. ...

“Sir?”

Seeing that there was no response for a long time, the soldier who reported asked in surprise.

The officer’s face turned black. In the end, he still said, “Since the leader has come personally, you can go over...”

“Thank you for your understanding, sir...” Lei Xue smiled. Just as she was about to leave, she suddenly stopped in her tracks. A sense of danger surged in her heart.

She had encountered this feeling before in that strange ice domain. It was a sign that danger was approaching. Ever since she had the developer’s bloodline, this aspect seemed to be very sensitive.

How could there be a crisis here?

Lei Xue Glanced at the two military officers beside her. Suddenly, she discovered that the fat middle-aged man had reached into his pocket with one hand. Lei Xue’s heart immediately went into a state of alarm!

What is this guy trying to do?

Instantly, a guess emerged in Lei Xue’s heart...

“Why aren’t you leaving yet?” The military officer looked at the motionless Lei Xue and asked with a frown.

Lei Xue did not turn around. Her voice remained calm as she said, “I didn’t know... In the intelligence room, you can carry a gun...”

The moment these words left her mouth, the officer was stunned. The middle-aged man’s expression instantly changed!

“What Gun?” The officer asked doubtfully.

Lei Xue did not reply him. Instead, she said to herself, “You can try, but I, a disciple of the Luofu clan, will never wait for my death...”

As she spoke, her footsteps were steady as she walked out step by step.

When the middle-aged man heard this, his expression immediately changed. He thought to himself, ‘it can’t be...?’? ... This Lei family girl has only been gone for a few days? Could it be that she has become an extraordinary who isn’t afraid of bullets?

It Can’t be that strange, right?

As he hesitated, he carefully looked at Lei Xue’s back. Her footsteps were steady, neither too fast nor too slow. It was as if she was giving him time. Such a confident stance made him even more uncertain.

Just like that, Lei Xue had already walked out of the door after a moment of hesitation.

“Old Yan!” That military officer came back to his senses and looked at the middle-aged man as he said faintly, “What’s in your pocket?”

The middle-aged man laughed when he heard that and directly took out the gun from his pocket.

“Are you F * cking crazy?” That military officer said angrily, “You dare to bring a gun here? What did you want to do just now? Are you really going to shoot that girl from the Lei Family?”

“It’s not that exaggerated.” Old Yan smiled and said, “I just wanted to scare that girl, but I didn’t expect the leader to come so quickly...” “...” “Alright, let’s not talk about this anymore. I have to go back and report to the old man. You should also quickly report to old Luo...” “...”

The officer frowned and looked at him. In the end, he did not say anything. However, as an intelligence officer, he could still see that there was something wrong with old Yan. Even if he wanted to intercept information, he should not have used a gun...

Could it be...

A chill ran through the officer’s heart...

Out the door the middle-aged man called Lao Yan frowned and muttered to himself, “It seems that I can’t stay here. Anyway, I have to bring the information back...”

If someone heard his words at this time will be creepy, because such a fat middle-aged man out of the mouth of the accent is as sharp as a cat, obviously a woman’s accent!

On the other side, Lei Xue has been out of the door to keep a steady pace, she can even feel a few hundred meters away from the office just now, there is still a kind of frightening malice.

That guy is definitely not a normal person! !

Thinking of this snow but more steady footsteps, she knew that now he can not mess, as long as a little leakage of anxious meaning afraid the other side will attack, can only keep pace.

She even admired her big heart. Under such circumstances, she was actually able to remain so calm that it was frightening... ..

What kind of monster had that genetic surgery turned her into?

Just like that, in this suffocating atmosphere, she followed the small soldier to the reception department’s meeting room. She immediately saw a few familiar faces. Other than the leader and elder Li, there was also a member of the Intelligence Analysis Department, lei Xue also knew this person. He was the son of the previous director of the Analysis Department, Elder Fang: Fang Jianming!

Seeing Lei Xue Come, the leader and the other two were immediately jolted. They were about to speak when Lei Xue waved her hand at them. After closing the door, Lei Xue found a piece of paper and pen and wrote a sentence on it before handing it to the leader.

The leader frowned and took the note. When he saw the words on it clearly, his heart immediately jumped!
