

A Bunch 791

Chapter 791 Threat!

“Really?” The group of leaders, especially the ones led by Arthur, became excited when they heard this news!

It was good that they had found the place. Once they had found the place, they would not be completely passive!

Although they also longed for the gene that could extend their lifespan, it would place them on the same starting line as the lower class civilians... .. No, there were even some farts that had already run ahead of them. This was a situation that they could not tolerate. They could not tolerate their clan's advantage that had been built for thousands of years being completely wiped out in front of an inexplicable new era!

But before this, they had no way at all. They could not go to the so-called New World, but the other party could appear at their place anytime and anywhere. How could they play this game?

It was a completely passive situation!

This also led to two days ago, when galaxy's officials warned the local governments not to touch the players, almost no government dared to resist. They all obediently stopped their actions of capturing the players, they were afraid of being blacklisted in the future!

However, it was different now. The other party was on Mars, and it was something that they could touch. Then, the military power of their own country would have a role to play, and the situation would be completely different...

All the leaders were excited at the thought. Even elder long from Huazhong did not fall behind. After all, Huazhong was also a military power with its own advanced nuclear weapons and satellite missiles. Clearly, it was also a country with a strong deterrent force.

If they could use their military advantage to fight for their country's interests, who would not want the initiative to be in their hands?

However, some leaders and politicians did not look too happy. For example, Angor from West Germany. Although West Germany was a big industrial country, they did not have their own nuclear weapons or satellite missiles because of the treaty, it seemed that their country was at a disadvantage in fighting for their interests!

While the leaders were either excited or disappointed by the news, the astronomer cleared his throat and said, “I'm sorry. If you're thinking of using military threats to threaten that force, I'm afraid you're thinking too much!”

“Huh?” Everyone was stunned when they heard that, Arthur hurriedly asked, “What do you mean? Even if their technology is powerful, their intelligence shows that they're just a small force with a small population. They shouldn't have developed a military strength that can rival that of our federation, Right?”

“But everyone seems to have forgotten that the mysterious force has a much more powerful technological strength than us!”

“So What?” Arthur frowned and said, “Have they developed to the point where they are not afraid of nuclear weapons?”

“I’m afraid so...” the expert said faintly.

Everyone was shocked and thought, is this for real?

Arthur said coldly, “This joke is not funny!”

“What basis do you have for saying that?” Elder long asked.

The expert sighed and said, “After discovering that the force might be on Mars, in order to further prove that we had brought forward the exploration plan on Mars, we allowed the Thor to set off early. However, at the moment when the Thor approached the atmosphere of Mars, something incredible happened!”

Hearing that, everyone was stunned and quickly asked, “What?”

“The Thunder God appeared in the park outside of Houston in 10 seconds!”

Everyone: “!!!”

“I think everyone should understand now, right?” The expert said faintly, “The other party has the ability to teleport large objects. If they launch satellite missiles, the other party might also have the ability to teleport those missiles to us in an instant!”

“This...” everyone was instantly dumbfounded, including Arthur. For a moment, he didn’t know how to refute. This ability was too heaven-defying. Wasn’t he in an invincible position?

No wonder...

Everyone immediately reacted. No wonder the United States was willing to share this information. They had said that after discovering that power on Mars, shouldn’t they quietly make a fortune? So it was because they couldn’t bite down on this hard bone!

“Then what’s the purpose of our meeting today?” Arthur asked angrily.

“Of course it’s about the distribution of resources in the New World!” The American leader, who had been silent all this time, suddenly said in a threatening tone, “You’ve seen the information. That place is preparing to elect a city lord. The city Lord has the right to set a population threshold. I think this is the mysterious force trying to divide our federation. They want us to become enemies. We Can’t let them succeed!”

“What do you think, Mister Mister?” Angor asked with a smile. He could guess what Mister was trying to say!

“Unity, of course!” “I think we should sign an alliance contract. No matter which country’s politician becomes a city lord, they must promise not to be xenophobic or racist. They must have a fair population admission policy, and the resources in the city must be shared equally. If we go against the contract, this country will have to face the wrath of all the alliance countries!"! "!"

You called us all the way here to come up with this idea?

Everyone immediately sneered, especially elder long.

This statement seemed more fair, but the premise was that it was based on the strength of the country. Did the federation ever make fewer treaties? Which time did the United States abide by it? These things were used to restrain weak countries!

In short, it meant that if a politician from a weak country became the city lord, he had to maintain fairness and not be xenophobic. He had to rationally allocate city resources to all the countries of the federation, but if a strong country, especially a politician from the United States, was elected... Hehe... ..

He would abide by the BULLSH * T convention! !

"Mr. Long, what do you think?" Seeing that everyone was silent and sneering, Mister immediately pointed his spear at elder long.

Elder long frowned and immediately said in a deep voice, "Mr. Mister, what do you mean by asking me alone?"

Mister smiled and said, "Because from the current situation, the trend of you guys engaging in racism is the most obvious. It's not the first time that the players in the galaxy have complained that you players from Huazhong exclude foreigners!"

"Then isn't it because the current situation is that only the players from Huazhong can exclude others?" Elder long replied coldly!

Everyone was stunned when they heard that. Those words were so domineering that they could not refute it for a moment.

In fact, in the current situation in galaxy, the players from Huazhong had the advantage. Of course, only the players from Huazhong exclude us... ..

"Does that mean that you intend to make an enemy out of the world?" Meister asked grimly!

"What do you mean by that?" Elder Long's face immediately darkened.

"Nothing much. I'm just explaining the situation!" Meister smiled and said, "If your Huazhong wants to monopolize that market because of your current advantage, that would be making an enemy out of all of us. Then, I'm sorry, the Federation will permanently remove your position. Moreover, if anyone from any country within the federation is elected as the city lord, they will use all policies to block and target the players from Huazhong!"

Elder Long's face turned as black as the bottom of a pot upon hearing this. This was a blatant threat!

"Of course..." Meister's tone relaxed as he continued, "We also don't wish for things to escalate to this point. If Mr. Long can promise that you can restrain the players in central China from rejecting overseas players in the future, and promise that if your people can guarantee fairness when they become city lords in the future, it would naturally be for the best. This is also for the benefit of everyone, isn't it?"

Everyone immediately understood the purpose of this meeting. The United States not only wanted to tyrannically eliminate the risk of the weak countries monopolizing resources, but also wanted to suppress the threat of the second strongest country, Huazhong. After all, in the current situation in galaxy., huazhong already had the advantage, and it was very likely that it would use this opportunity to leap into a super force.

Obviously, it wanted to use all the Allies to suppress Huazhong, who already had the advantage!

"But how can we ensure that the people of Huazhong will not break the agreement when they are elected as the castellan?"

It was Arthur who spoke, after he understood Meister's intention, he immediately chimed in, "I think that Huazhong already has too many advantages in the Sea of stars. If the people of Huazhong are elected as the Castellan again, I'm afraid that there will be no balance at all. Therefore, I think that Huazhong should give up on the castellan election this time!"

Hehe...

Elder long immediately sneered, "The more you say, the more ridiculous it gets. What if I don't agree?"

"Mr. Long, please think carefully!" Meister said coldly, "Do you think that among the forty-six countries, if you go out on your own, which side has a higher chance of being elected as the city Lord?"

Elder long immediately fell silent upon hearing that. Admittedly, if the invitation was for the forty-six countries, the chances of Huazhong's family winning by going out on their own were naturally very small. Moreover, under Meister's instigation, it was obvious that if he didn't agree., it seemed that he really intended to pull everyone to suppress the people targeting Huazhong.

Even if the heavens were on their side and the Huazhong people were elected as the city Lord, wouldn't it drive the others crazy if such a big piece of cake was swallowed by his own family?

When the time came, if Mister instigated again, it was highly likely that the whole world would launch a crusade against Tang!

However, it was absolutely impossible for him to make him say that Huazhong had withdrawn from the city lord election!

I was careless. I accidentally let Mister Pull everyone to the opposite side of me. How should I break the situation?

Just as I was thinking, Feng Doudou suddenly leaned over from behind. "Sir Leader, there's a new situation!"

Chapter 792: Exposing the world (Part Two)

"What's the situation?"

Elder long turned around and asked, but he was quickly thinking about how to break out of this situation.

The situation before them had already reached a tipping point. Originally, central China was in a good situation, and the players from central China had the advantage there. Once their people were able to successfully choose a city lord, then the future would be dominated by central China alone, even if they were not selected, with the support of the high lord players on the other side, they could give central China quite a big advantage in the future. However, it was very obvious that the United States did not want central China to continue to maintain its advantage over the other side, for this reason, they did not hesitate to rope in all their allies to threaten him. However, this threat was very useful. It was indeed too risky for a country to bet on the national luck of 46 countries. Moreover, if they won the bet, they would suffer a crazy counterattack!

This made elder long feel as if he was treading on thin ice...

I was too careless. If I could rope in some countries to stand on my side before I came, I wouldn't be in such a passive situation... "...". Was it really because the situation was too good that I got a little carried away?

Just as he was thinking about how to respond, Feng Doudou suddenly said something beside him that stunned him...

"You... say that again?" Elder long looked at him in disbelief.

"Galaxy has provided five new city passages. The number of candidates for City Lord has changed from one to six. The original subsidiary city of the base has now officially changed its name: Huaxia City, exclusive to Central China. The candidate for city lord of this city will invite outstanding politicians from Central China to participate in the election!"

Feng Doudou briefly reported the important news to elder long again.

At the same time, the leaders of the other countries also received the phone calls from their subordinates and learned about the new news that Galaxy had just announced!

Suddenly... ... The entire conference room fell silent!

Everyone looked at the American leader in shock, then at elder long, their expressions becoming extremely strange... ...

"Ahem..." finally, the strange silence lasted for 15 minutes. Elder long took the lead to cough and said, "Um... I suddenly remembered that the dishes in the courtyard should be received. I Won't delay you any longer. I'll take my leave first..."

Everyone:"..."

"You can't leave! !" Arthur stopped them with a livid face!

"Oh? What other advice does Mr. Arthur have?" Elder long turned around and said with a smile.

Arthur said coldly, "Your central China has received such great benefits, and you're just going to leave like this?"

"What are you not going to do?" Elder Long was amused. "You want to treat this old man to a meal?"

PFFT...

The venue could not help but laugh. The leaders of many countries almost could not hold it in. They looked like they wanted to laugh, but they also felt that it was not good.

This was really a turn of events... "...". Elder long thought happily in his heart.

At this moment, the moment this news was released, elder long knew that Arthur and Mister's attempts to use this opportunity to suppress Huazhong had been foiled. The reason was very simple, just now, they were able to pull everyone to the same front because there was only one piece of cake, and Huazhong had the highest advantage. It was very likely that they would be able to eat the cake in Huazhong, so they could only lick the cream.

This situation was not only the United States. The other countries obviously did not want to see this scene.

But now, it was different. Previously, that piece of cake had been forcefully given to Huazhong. There was no more room to fight. They did not even give you a lick of cream, but five new pieces of cake appeared!

This caused the countries' battle lines to be instantly scattered!

First of all, this piece of cake in Huazhong was already set in stone. Galaxy declared that they had no room to resist, because most of them did not even know how to contact that mysterious force. They could not even protest..., wasn't it just what others said?

If there was only one piece of cake, and it was directly given to central China like this, then it was possible that Meister had deliberately instigated it. Perhaps the countries that were jealous might do something irrational.

But the key was that there was more than one piece of cake now. With a better choice, who would be willing to provoke a nuclear-armed country like central China?

What a joke. If they really pissed him off, at most the world would be destroyed, and the people of Huazhong would still have a place to go. Wouldn't they stay in Ball D and wait for their deaths?

Those who could become leaders were naturally top-notch politicians. As soon as the news came out, they immediately understood. At this time, Huazhong was already sitting firmly on the fishing platform. They could only curry favor and not offend them...

Everyone knew, and Arthur naturally knew, but he was still a little angry. He couldn't help but say, "Mr. Long, Huazhong received such a huge benefit for no reason. Are they planning to take it all for themselves?"

“Uh...”long looked at him strangely. “Mr. Arthur looks like a child, but he’s actually not young anymore. Why are you talking like a child? It’s not like you picked up money on the way. Do you want to share half of it with me?”

“You! !”Arthur was so angry that the veins on his forehead jumped. Just as he was about to explode, a cold chill instantly arrived. It was like an ice blade was pressed against his throat, causing Arthur’s momentum to instantly stagnate!

This feeling was not an illusion. Because at some point in time, Feng Doudou, who was originally on the opposite side of the conference table, suddenly jumped over the crowd and appeared beside him. He was so close to him, but without any warning... ..

The other knights who were responsible for protecting Arthur also felt a chill in their hearts. This was because they did not realize when this girl had come over. Their hands were pressed on their boss’s neck, yet they only realized... ..

The hearts of the transcendents present turned cold. Even the sword saint who had been resting beside leader Red Sun could not help but open his eyes. He looked at Arthur with a grave expression... ..

They had heard of the rumor of the Dragon Knight enzus being killed, but hearing it and seeing it with their own eyes were two different things. Judging from Arthur’s terrified expression, if they really fought, he and enzus would probably end up in the same situation.

“Doudou!”Elder Dragon finally opened his mouth. “What are you doing? Why Are You So Rude?”

“I’m a little curious. Is He really fifty years old?”Feng Doudou used his hand to gently touch Arthur’s neck. “His skin is really like that of a twenty-year-old.”

Arthur froze on the spot, not daring to move...

“Nonsense!”Boss Dragon said with a straight face, “Come back!”

“Oh...”Feng Doudou said with an aggrieved “OH”and instantly returned to Elder Long’s side. Everyone was stunned again. To return with such a premonition, they realized that they still hadn’t seen clearly how the other party had returned. ...

Including the sword saint who had already opened his eyes...

This caused Red Sun’s Yin-yang Master, Abe Qingming, to mutter in a low voice, “That mysterious force’s genetic technology can actually make a person so strong to such an extent...”. ...

“Mr. Arthur...”. Elder long smiled apologetically, “I’m sorry for making a fool of myself...”. ... However, you still have to change your style. It’s easy to misunderstand if you keep acting like you want to make a move. I personally hope that the misunderstanding your country caused at our border won’t happen again. What do you think?”

Arthur:” ...”

Arthur, who had never been slapped in the face like this, had an extremely ugly look on his face, but he didn’t dare to make a second move. At this moment, he finally realized that the current central China was no longer something he could find trouble with. If he wanted to get back at them..., he had to let Great Britain get a seat in the five major cities!

“That’s it for today...” elder long said with a smile, “I have to go back and make some arrangements, so I won’t hold you up.”

“Mr. Long!” Mister, who had been sulking, said, “Mr. Arthur’s words were indeed a bit excessive, but I think the convention needs to continue. Do you want to withdraw?”

At this time, elder long, who had already established an advantage, would not sell out this scoundrel’s debt? He directly laughed and said, “Mr. Mister, it’s not that I want to withdraw, but this old man can’t make the decision either. Although the news said that Huaxia city was exclusive to Huazhong, there was still no city Lord Quota. I don’t know who will be the future city lord of Huaxia City. What if it’s My Enemy? How can I guarantee that the convention will take effect?”

Hearing that, Mister Choked, but before he could refute..., another voice suddenly came in from the conference room, “I think Mr. Long is right. The situation is unclear now, and no one can confirm the city Lord’s choice. Naturally, there’s no way to guarantee that the convention will take effect. Just like you, Mr. Mister, if the United States is your political enemy, how can you guarantee that the convention will take effect? “I think it’s better to wait for the castellan to be chosen!”

It was the West German leader, Angor!

A non-nuclear country like her would love to see such a situation. Why the hell would she want to make a pact with you? What a joke! She wanted to use this opportunity to turn the West Germany around... ..

Before she could react, Qing Ming from Red Sun’s side also said, “I think it makes sense. If Mr. Mister Wants to implement a pact, it’s better to wait for the city Lord to be established before we discuss it again.”

Hearing this, Mister’s face turned ashen. If the city lord was really established, how could he be so easily controlled like now?

Wait a minute...

Why were these two guys on Huazhong’s side?

Elder Long also looked at the two in confusion, but he suddenly thought of something. A hint of understanding flashed in his eyes. He could guess why... ..

As he expected, after the meeting ended, Elder Long received an invitation from West Germany, Angor, and Hong Ri, Qing Ming, for a private meeting.

On the other side, after the meeting ended, the information about galaxy was officially released to the world by the officials of various countries. The whole world was in an uproar!

Chapter 793: the details of the election!

The veracity of the news, announced by the 46 countries themselves, made many who had previously insisted that it was a farce realize: the world has really changed!

On the Federal Forum, a large number of netizens from various countries began to discuss the matter!

America: Watefak? This is crazy. It's even more utopian than utopia? Can anyone tell me if I'm Dreaming Right Now?

West European Netizen: I find it incredible too, but the world described in it is so great. I always thought that I would never have the chance to participate in such a great thing again if I didn't catch up with the great maritime era, i didn't expect to be born in a greater era. It's wonderful!

Red Sun: Oh, it's a hot-blooded world. It's a man's paradise.

America: it sounds wonderful, but that depends on which country's politicians can take over. Right now, I only pray that our country's politicians who brag all day long can truly fight for something for our country's citizens.

Western Europe: "Now that you mention it, I suddenly feel that it's a little dangerous..."

Red Sun: Lord Qing Ming will definitely lead us to get the tickets!

Universe Country: Ah Xi, if only Lord song cared was still here!

Red Sun: weren't you the ones who sent him to prison?

Universe country: nonsense, it was clearly those corrupt financial groups who set up Lord Song.

Red Sun: but it was indeed you who marched him down and sent him to prison.

Universe Country: we were deceived by SMECTA! !

Huazhong: So Lively...

"..."

A 3 countries: speaking of which... : ... Why did a backward country like Huazhong get the treatment of a city?

Huazhong: Hehe, can you fix up your slum before saying this?

Universe country: that's right, galaxy is obviously the SMECTA that originated from our Korean nation!

Huazhong: If You Say So...

Along with the appearance of Huazhong's netizens, the netizens of the various countries immediately started to denounce Huazhong in unison. Obviously, they were extremely dissatisfied with the fact that they had such a huge advantage. Some netizens even pointed out that the Huazhong players used their advantage to eliminate their enemies in the galaxy world, they called on everyone to unite and fight against the vile actions of the Huazhong players.

Especially the three countries, they were especially enthusiastic. They claimed that no matter which country was elected, the five big cities should unite and Boycott Huazhong.

Immediately, these words received a wave of response. Faced with such a mighty denunciation, the Huazhong players laughed and said, "Denounce us? Do you think that you have the final say?"?

These words immediately caused a wave of denunciations. After a long time, some Huazhong players carefully asked on the forums, "You... ?"? "... didn't you see the newly released list of racial advantages?"?

What the hell?

Many overseas netizens were confused and confused.

Therefore, many netizens switched to the internet to search for the latest news. Only then did they realize that five minutes ago, Galaxy officially announced the latest details of the election rules, and among the many details, one of them was what the player just said: the list of racial advantages!

After reading it, everyone was stunned. Holy Sh * T... . How did this happen?

Five minutes ago: by many countries have been 24 hours of sleepless staring at the "Galaxy" official website finally updated the news!

Hello, everyone. Five minutes ago, the last invitation had already been reserved for Mr. Song Zai Yi from the universe country. At this point, a total of 360 candidates from the five big cities have all been invited, as for the names of the candidates, they had already been officially announced. Citizens of the 46 countries could go to the official website for inquiries.

Now, the details of the election were announced: 1: the invitation quota is a total of 360. The quota is a decision made by the higher-ups of Xing Hai based on the politician's performance during the execution period and his life experience. It can not be changed or replaced, in order to prevent other powers from using malicious methods to interfere with the election, we will provide professional protection after the quota is confirmed. Please do not take any chances and try to attack, because once the attack happens, we will definitely find the mastermind behind it, once it is determined, the organization that participated in the attack will be permanently blacklisted, and the descendants of ten generations will not be allowed to enter galaxy!

Two: each candidate can only choose one city to run in the election, and no more elections are allowed. The candidate will formulate and publicize policies according to the city they choose. Please submit your policy strategy within 30 days, we will disclose your policy strategy and details, and your policy will be rated by the Galaxy Committee, the 46 national public opinion votes, and the candidate qualification department. The highest value will be selected as the city lord of that city!

On the city choice: the city choice will be open to the citizens of the forty-six nations at noon today. Citizens can choose a city as their preferred city. Citizens, please note that the preferred city can not be changed once the choice is made, and once the choice is made, you can only represent that city to have the public vote.

On the city itself: except for Huaxia City, which requires a special application to be admitted into the Huazhong Special Election District, citizens of the other five cities of the forty-six nations can choose (including Huazhong people) . Unlike Huaxia City, which is open to all sectors of civilization, the newly developed five cities will follow the path of specialization! Please note that each city's civilization attribute, race, and direction of development will be different. Citizens are invited to choose a city suitable for them based on the city's civilization and race characteristics. Once again, citizens are reminded to choose carefully, once you choose, you will not be able to change it!

As for race genomes: we will open more than 30 race genomes in each of the five cities. The advantages and characteristics of each race will also be very different, among them, the Green Titan, the elves, and the developers are public races. All cities have this option, and the remaining races are privately owned by the city. Only by choosing that city can you choose the race gene, citizens, please note: different races will result in different probability of containing the race gene. This will affect the speed and space of growth after you choose the gene, for example, the people of the Red Sun Nation have a stronger advantage in elven genes than the Americans, and the Americans have a greater genetic advantage in the Green Titan than most Asians.

In order to ensure urban balance, the races we set up in the five major cities meet the accommodation rate of most ethnic groups. The details of the specific racial accommodation rate have been published in a table on the official website, which you can download and watch, citizens are invited to look carefully and choose according to their own preferences.

On the evaluation of the Selection Qualification Department: The Selection Qualification Department is an Intelligent Comprehensive Evaluation, a fair evaluation without personal feelings, will be based on the politicians in the policy may absorb the population to give a comprehensive score, the evaluation of the population is based on the following aspects.

First: racial tolerance, high tolerance represents a higher ceiling space, in line with the city's genetic policy will get a higher score, such as the bronze dwarfs in the Second City, those that are compatible with their genetic code will be Chinese, Latino, and Germanic. If the policy can attract more people in this area, it will receive additional points.

Second: professional population. The development of a city can not be separated from the development of all kinds of basic professions. If you can attract the population of outstanding professions, you will also receive additional points. The demand for specific professions will vary according to the city's civilization, the ratio of demand will also be different. For example, if the third city is a biological force, it will need people like biology, medicine, and the like more. Those who can attract the demand of the professional population of the city will also receive corresponding bonus points!

Third: Single-person quality. The population that emerging cities can accommodate is limited. It will require the city lord to recruit more high-quality people. In terms of policy, how to recruit more elites is also one of the bonus points in the assessment of Candidates' qualifications, please note that the so-called quality of the population is one's own ability and quality. Please do not directly equate the upper circle of the D sphere with the elites. As for the specific judgment, please consider it on your own!

Finally, the officials hope that everyone will actively participate in this election poll. Choosing a good city lord is of great significance to your future life in Xing Hai!

The city culture, race category, and race acceptance rate table have all been officially announced. Please go to the official website XXXX to download the attachment and read it carefully. If you have any questions, please ask in the official forum, there will be a special intelligence to collect your questions and give you answers!

As soon as the details of the election were released, it immediately caused another wave of excitement. After everyone downloaded the so-called attachment and read it, they instantly understood what the player from central China meant in the forum.

Everyone took a look at the race acceptance rate and realized that all the race's high acceptance rate list options actually had people from central China! !

Chapter 794: City Strategy (I)

On this day, the entire world's internet was paying attention to the city information released by Xing Hai. Other than a small number of fanatic fans who were still wasting their time to refresh the rankings and refresh the traffic for their idols, the rest of the world's internet was paying attention to the city information released by Xing Hai, most normal people were carefully reading the city information released by Xing Hai and planning their future.

Of course, those young people who were still keeping up with the rankings did not expect that their idols were also at home, carefully studying the city information released by Xing Hai. Of course., the ones who studied the most were naturally the politicians who were invited.

At the same time, on the federal network, a post called Grandpa Lu's city strategy instantly became popular because of its professional analysis. It was pushed to the top of the hot search rankings by many netizens. Also, because of the collation of the post., many confused netizens roughly understood the situation.

Hello, everyone. My name is Grandpa Lu. I'm sure many players in central China are very familiar with me. Surprise, right? Grandpa, I'm back again. Wahahaha. Considering that our galaxy has already gone global, Grandpa, I'm also prepared to keep up with the times. I'll give a detailed guide to my d-ball Compatriots who are still hesitating on how to choose a city, I'll also give Grandpa Lu's exclusive little advice at the end. Then, without further ado, today, Grandpa Lu will first tell everyone about the first city in the five major cities in detail!

Until today, the five cities are all named, and are divided into the first city and the second city respectively. According to Grandpa, as far as I know, the city naming rights will be decided by the competent mayor and the citizens of the city, if the audience in front of the screen is lucky enough to become citizens of the first city, then congratulations, you can also participate in the city naming activities. Those who like YY can now start to think of city names!

About City Civilization:

Each city has its own unique civilization characteristics. The first city that my grandpa will talk about today is mainly a mechanical heavy industry city with a pure mechanical civilization, and the urban architecture style is my favorite cyberpunk style, there are two types of civilization and technology in cities: the first is a planned civilization that advocates universal mechanization and emphasizes giving up the physical body, strengthening the spiritual force and controlling the machinery to control the social industry! The second is the Haix mechanical civilization that emphasizes on not giving up biological evolution and uses machinery as an assistant.

These two civilizations are both pure mechanical civilizations, but the school of thought is very different. The former stresses on glorious evolution and believes that the body is a burden that drags down evolution, and emphasizes universal mechanization is more extreme. The second is mainly based on machinery as an assistant, it did not abandon the principle of biological evolution itself.

There were two kinds of urban civilizations, but the specific what to focus on, and which civilization to allocate resources and population to, was decided by the city Lord's policy. Therefore, for the d-ball compatriots who wanted to enter the first city, please keep your eyes open and look clearly at the candidate's policy. This is related to whether you can successfully enter the city. If you like the source plan civilization, you chose that civilization in the pre-selection of the city, then the city lord of the Haix civilization will most likely result in you being excluded from the list of people who will be admitted!

Of course, this is not absolute. Grandpa, I think most of the candidates will not engage in extremism. They won't completely abandon the other civilization just because they choose one, but there will definitely be a center of gravity policy. The more resources a civilization has, the higher the probability of people who choose this civilization being admitted. After all, the city can only accommodate a small number of people...

Therefore, the selection of the city lord was very important. Everyone, please use your notebooks to highlight the key points...

Regarding the city race gene body:

The first city's private race had three main types of gene bodies: the Mayin Spirit race, the Ryker Elves, and the demonic spirit race!

The Mayin race focused on strengthening their spiritual power. Purifying spiritual power was used to control complex machinery. According to the high-level gene body research group in galaxy, the spiritual strength of this gene body was even higher than that of the developer, however, the evolution was not mainly based on the evolution of the brain. The evolution was mainly based on purifying the mental strength. After level two, high-intensity mental strength would form in the brain.

The genome was very suitable for controlling complex mechanical instruments. According to the research group's prediction, the genome could achieve the ability to control multiple machines at the later stage of evolution, it could even replace intelligence to complete higher-precision mechanical command and operation. It was a very powerful mechanical manipulator.

The races that were adapted to this gene were: the Chinese, the Germans, the faraks, and the Jews were the most suitable race. The Aryan and the Asian red sun were the second-class choice. The Irish, the Hispanics, the French, and so on were the third-class choice... ..

This gene was the first choice for those who wanted to become the elites of the civilization of project origins. However, please see clearly the capacity requirement of the gene. Those who were not on the first-class or second-class list, please choose carefully. It was not recommended to force it... ..

The Laker Genie was good at genetic changes. Its ability to change the genes of its race was comparable to that of the druids of the wood elves. This made the Genie very suitable for loading all kinds of hex weapons, this was because their form could change according to the requirements of the mechanical equipment, including adjusting the attributes of the body, for example, a level one leech elf's average strength was 1.1, agility was 2.2, and spiritual power was 1.5. However, it could accumulate all the other attributes into a single attribute in a short period of time, it was a very flexible combat race. Equipped with special characteristics, HEX technology would have a very strong individual combat ability.

The races that were adapted to this gene were: Huazhong, Red Sun, Amazon, second-class African, and third-class Ice Russian.

This gene was very suitable for compatriots who supported Hex Technology and liked to become combat members. However, just like the previous hint, those who were not on the first-class or second-class list should choose carefully, this was not a joke. If you forced yourself to choose, the chances of you being eliminated by the castellan were very high. After all, if the castellan wanted to be elected, he would definitely pull points in the selection department.

The magic-type gene was also very suitable for hex technology, and it was also good at transformation. This gene was very similar to the lex elven gene, but its main attributes were more explosive, and it was more suitable for close-combat hex weapons...

The suitable races were: Huazhong, african-american, second-class ice-russian with relatively strong explosive power... ..

I strongly recommend the black brothers to choose, because I looked around. Out of all the genomes in the five big cities, the african-americans who could be ranked in the first-class list seemed to be the only one. Please take advantage of this rare advantage... ..

In short, the first city is a very special city. The mechanical civilization is still a hot choice among the lords. If you want to make a difference, choosing the first city is also a very good choice, especially the black brothers, I sincerely hope that you won't miss it. I really won't lie to you. You are not ranked second among the other races in the five big cities. This is really the best choice for you.

Well, about the first city of the basic situation Grandpa I have talked about, the next content grandpa will mainly explain the first city of the advanced chapter, mainly about how to improve their own access to the first city of the odds!

Like, collect, subscribe more than 10,000 words, Grandpa I will speed up to update the next volume of strategy, thank you for your support!

As soon as the post appeared, it was followed by a barrage of scornful comments:

Holy Shit, that's it? What happened to the strategy

That's right, that's right, that's all there is to it. Don't you have any shame

[ Grandpa is short and soft, just like Grandpa... ]

Eat Shit Grandpa Lu, you still want to count more than 10,000 votes? How many dishes are you drinking like this? See? Even if I tear it up, I won't give it to you

Chapter 795 conquering the City (middle)

In the elven base of Huaxia City:

"Hey, mentor, where's that big butt in the backyard?" One of the Druid players who was in the transformation stage asked curiously.

Mentor Vivian looked at the backyard in a daze. She was still not used to the sudden disappearance of that iconic thing, but in the end, she came back to her senses and said, "That's not a big butt, it's a Phoenix Egg. I've told you many times not to discriminate against XENOGENEIC players. It's very likely that after those players transform, they will be more beautiful than you think."

"Really?" A wind demon player with wings that had yet to fully transform said, "That's actually a Phoenix Egg? That... that egg is missing. Could it have hatched? Where's the Phoenix?"

"It went offline to write a guide..." Vivian looked at them in surprise. "Haven't you guys... heard of Grandpa Lu's Guide?"

"Damn, that's Grandpa Lu?" A group of new players suddenly became respectful. "I knew it..." "..." Why was that big boss of the strategy giving advice on the forums, but there was no one on the game leaderboards? So he had been in our backyard all this time. As expected of a senior, he lived such an extraordinary life... "..."

"Speaking of which, Grandpa Lu seems to have run to the World Forum this morning to post the strategy. Have you guys seen it? The likes have already exceeded 10 million!"

"D * mn, what did he write? Let Me See, let me see..."

"Oh, that's two..."

After Grandpa Lu's all-night research, he is very responsible to tell you that the right choice of genomes will greatly increase your chances of being accepted. Therefore, choosing a good genome is especially important, the first city's three major private genes were all very powerful, especially the genes of the Mayin race. Their characteristics were very interesting. The development of this pure spiritual body was even more extreme than that of the developers. I suspected that if it developed well.., it might become an existence within the human-shaped Skynet in the future.

Imagine that the high-level Mayin could command thousands of robots and mecha operators, sharing commands and commands through powerful spiritual links, and even sharing vision.., it was definitely the most BUG-ridden race in the war command category and the machinery production category. I believed that even if the city lord of this city was biased towards the hex civilization, he would definitely treat the genetic warriors of the Mayin race well. The effect was too great.

Therefore, if one wanted to become a citizen of the first city, it wouldn't be a problem to choose this race first. This was because no matter which civilization it was, it wouldn't affect the degree of favor one received. However, my grandfather had made a deep request, this race was a semi-learning race, and it required a certain amount of specialized research ability and basic knowledge. Just like our original developers, not everyone was suitable for it.

For example, we, the people of Huazhong, are the first sequence in all the races... ? Cough, cough, I'm not bragging. This is the truth. It's a natural advantage. Who asked God to love us?

Cough, cough... Let's get down to business, what I want to say is that even if your race sequence fits the list, it doesn't mean that you're definitely suitable for this race. Our Huazhong is the first sequence in all the genomes, but it doesn't mean that we're suitable for all races, there are also individual differences. This can be referred to as the early cases in galaxy.

Half a year ago, in order to increase the competitiveness of scientific research, the Lord Players in the base had recruited many Huazhong developers in society. In the end, less than half of them were able to successfully adapt to their bloodlines, moreover, there was a huge difference between each individual.

According to Grandpa's research, this kind of semi-literate gene required a certain level of basic knowledge and learning ability as a foundation. After all, there were many students with good memory and understanding in reality, he was someone who could only get a score of 50, right?

The Mayin clan was more suitable for people who had a foundation in mechanics, physics, applied physics, mechatronics, and other engineering subjects in reality. This type of people would have a certain advantage if they chose this gene.

This was not something that Grandpa said. It was based on facts. It was not that there were no foreigners in our Huazhong faction. As everyone knew, there were six foreign developers in the cabbage faction. There were people of all races, one of them was an African-american doctor who specialized in agriculture.

Everyone clearly saw that the african-american doctor was outside the fourth-class sequence in the developer's Gene's racial sequence list. However, that african-american doctor was still very outstanding after he became a developer, he was even a scientist who had become the pillar of the cabbages. This was what I had said about individual differences!

Perhaps the blood in your body was divided into four classes, but a single person might not be. There were similar examples among the combat players. The first batch of players in the base had trained for about the same amount of time, however, some people were able to quickly increase the distance between them, and some people were even caught up by the second batch of players. This was an individual difference.

However, Grandpa Lu still did not know how to judge the individual differences of battle-type players. However, it was still possible to distinguish the aptitude of a half-learned genetic body like a developer, which was their learning ability.

Up until now, all the developers who were famous scientists from Planet D who had joined the Galaxy faction had performed well without exception!

Therefore, Grandpa Lu suggested that people who were in the scientific research profession could really try to choose a genetic body in this area. It would have a great advantage. Comparing the list, Grandpa Lu felt that the first-tier scientific researchers., were those top scientists who had already joined the world's first-tier experimental projects. No matter what race you were from, choosing the developer Gene and the Mayin gene had a pretty good competitive edge, i believe that they would all become the population that the city Lord wanted to recruit!

However, between the two gene bodies, Grandpa Lu recommended developers. Developers were not as extreme as the mayin gene body, and they belonged to the public gene body. Any city would have a quota, which meant that the range of cities you chose would be expanded, and I use my own brain to guarantee that the developer player is very popular everywhere.

Of course, if you really like the mechanical major, you can give priority to the Mayin race.

After talking for a long time, what I mean is: If you are a very good researcher, you can directly forget about the national acceptance rate and choose the mayin gene, which will also have a very high competitiveness, but researchers are a minority, so what if you are not a researcher?

My grandfather thought that you could use your education as a standard. If you have a high degree and think that you are suitable for the path of scientific research, you can also try to choose the Mayin genome across the national acceptance rate, for example, if you are a student with a doctorate degree from a key college, you can consider taking the test if you are within the third-class sequence.

If it was a doctorate from an ordinary university or a degree from a key research institute, everyone could take it easy and consider the Mayin genome when they were in the second-class sequence, for example, the people from the Aryan people and the Asian people from the Red Sun nation listed on the Mayin genome.

However, if it was only a bachelor's degree in mechanics, and they were in Lol or king pesticide during their university years, it was recommended not to randomly choose a non-first-class sequence...

If you are not even an undergraduate, and you are not majoring in mechanics, it is recommended that even if you are a first-class sequence of Huazhong or Teutonic, it is best that you do not choose this type of research-like gene. Otherwise, you will have nowhere to cry.

First of all, Grandpa Lu, I am not looking down on those who have not gone to college. Grandpa Lu, I am a low-level student who did not even get into high school. However, Grandpa Lu is still able to do well in it because Grandpa Lu chose the right gene.

What Grandpa Lu wanted to say was... ... If it wasn't for that, don't be too stubborn. There was only one chance to choose the right gene. If you chose the wrong gene, you wouldn't be able to turn back even if you died!

Then, many students might have to ask, "Citizens with scientific research and highly educated citizens have an advantage. What About Us Ordinary People?"? For example, I'm from western France. I studied accounting, not engineering. What should I do if I want to enter the first city?

Chapter 796 Strategies for conquering cities (II)

Although I despise someone's love of water, but it is a major choice in life, and there is only one such guide in the Forum now, which looks more professional, although I hate it, many overseas citizens finally had to go against their will to click like and monthly ticket Cui More.

Foreign friends are indeed warm, Grandpa I am also a real person, now for you to update the third guide, no more nonsense, let's get down to business.

As for the first city, Grandpa, I have already done the basic explanation and explained the advantages of the genome. In short, it is easier to be enrolled in the research class of the genome, and in the D sphere itself, the citizens with mechanical, electrical, and physical backgrounds have a greater advantage.

So many people asked, what about those without these backgrounds? Will the people in finance or other management classes have an advantage?

Grandpa Lu can only respond to you: most of the time you are at a disadvantage!

Finance, law, and management classes are high-end liberal arts majors. It may sound like they are talents that society needs, but in fact, having these backgrounds does not give you much advantage, because in galaxy, not only were we D-type people formed, but there were also a large number of outsiders!

For ordinary people, there were only three ways to go in the past: absorb the researchers from Galaxy, colonists who went to the new territories to explore their own forces, and adventurers who explored the map!

The first type required high-level talents with various engineering backgrounds. The latter two required the tolerance rate of your race. You had a high tolerance rate, and your evolution speed was fast, if you could go to the new territories faster and plunder enough productive people for the city, you would be more valuable.

As for managerial and political abilities, they did not mean much to ordinary people because these abilities were available to the people of Planet D, as well as the natives of the other world. There were countless managerial talents, as well as legal and financial talents there, these things did not depend on the era, and they were not like science and engineering knowledge that could be added with a gene.

Perhaps many friends would say that the city government itself needed so many civil servants. Then, Grandpa, I can only say that you are only suitable to be a civil servant for the rest of your life. That thing is not very competitive in galaxy, and many nobles in the new territories can do it, we players are different inside. We control the genetic body and have extraordinary evolutionary potential. We are not asking you to take a high-level genetic body and eat a meal from 9 to 5!

Therefore, I advise those who are targeting city civil servants not to take this as your capital. Otherwise, you will definitely regret it.

As for those who want to continue their political career in galaxy, I also advise you to give up this idea. According to Grandpa Lu's private inquiries, all the candidates invited to run for City Lord are world-renowned politicians, all of them have a history of success. Do you think they won't have their own team if they run? Once they win, do you think the important positions in the city government will be given to outsiders like you?

Let me say it seriously, "Galaxy" has the technology to expand the universe. The New Territories is definitely not the last world we colonize. The purpose of the upper echelons of the Louvre is to cultivate the excellent d suitors into the upper echelons of the pyramid, colonists, lords, top scientists. As for those who do administrative work, there are many outsiders who can be filled. Do you want to compete with them for food? Would you be worthy of such a good genome?

Then, let's talk about how people without a background in science and technology could increase their chances of entering the city.

First, it would definitely be the sequence. At this time, I hope that everyone would not be willful. Each of the five big cities had their own advantages. From the architectural style to the civilized system, there were great differences. Naturally, many people would have their likes and dislikes in their hearts, however, Grandpa Lu hopes that everyone can be rational and prioritize the sequence first, not their personal preferences.

For example, the cyberpunk style architecture of the first city and the pure mechanical civilization system may not be very popular with many citizens. However, if your ethnic origin is ranked within the first or second class of the city's three private genetic sequences..., it was still recommended that you choose this city first.

Especially the first tier. This was an advantage given to you by the heavens. Don't waste it. Not all ethnic groups had the opportunity to become first tier. According to Grandpa Lu's knowledge, many ethnic groups did not even have a first tier gene sequence, it was not unheard of for more than twenty ethnic groups to not even have a second tier gene sequence!

Take the Three Kingdoms for example. Other than the first city, Mayin, which had a second-class gene sequence, the other nineteen types of genes had third-class gene sequences. This was a natural disadvantage. The heavens would not give them food, so there was nothing they could do about it, however, those who had an advantage but wasted their advantage and were not selected, they deserved it.

For example, my brothers of African descent, believe me, choosing the first city's demonic spirit race was your only way out, because the other gene sequences all had third-or fourth-class gene sequences!

And then there are those who are at a disadvantage, such as your race does not have an advantage in all the gene sequences, then you have to look for your other advantages, for example, diplomas, job performance, contribution to society, and so on, can be written on your application form.

If a candidate wants to successfully run for City Lord, they will not let go of the 20 points from the population qualification department. They will definitely select high-quality population in the policy. Such friends can wait for the announcement of the candidate policy, take a look at the policies of those candidates and see if they have any advantages for themselves. If the candidate's policies can increase their chances of being admitted, you can choose the city that he or she is running for as the preferred city, he or she would not be able to cast a valuable vote.

Of course, this method is not stable, but how can it be absolutely stable? In the end, Grandpa Lu's guide is only to increase the chances for you. There is no guarantee that you will definitely be selected.

Finally, regarding the questions from the players from central China, I just noticed that many of my fellow countrymen from central China were asking if the Chinese could choose a city outside of Huaxia city as their preferred city, after all, we, the Chinese, are ranked first in all of our genomes, so we have a natural advantage.

Grandpa Lu felt that there were both advantages and disadvantages to developing in a city outside of Huaxia City.

The advantage was that it could speed up your pace of entering galaxy. Huaxia city was indeed very good, but this city already had a population of 50,000, and your competitors were all Huazhong people, which didn't give you much of an advantage, after all, in the first batch of population recruitment, I remember that each city seemed to only have a quota of 200,000 people. Choosing an outside city would give you a certain competitive advantage.

The second advantage was the start-up advantage. China's industries had basically matured, and industries such as real estate, catering, and other industries had already been monopolized by some big players. If one wanted to stand out from the big players, the competition was indeed not small, moreover, the teaching resources were the same. There were too many rich players in China, resulting in the lack of education resources. Most players had to queue up to apply for courses, which greatly slowed down the progress of players heading to the New Territories.

The new cities heard that the Lords would hire new teachers, and everyone started from the same starting line. Educational Resources and other resources were not as tight as those in Huaxia City, so on the surface, they did have some advantages.

However, there were two sides to everything. If there were advantages, there would naturally be disadvantages. What was the biggest disadvantage of heading to the outer cities? That was naturally racial exclusion.

Huaxia city became exclusive to Huaxia City. This meant that our politicians could only run for Huaxia City Lord. The other five city lords were definitely foreigners no matter which country they were from.

Then, would they give preferential treatment to Huaxia City players?

Grandpa, I don't think so. This point can be seen from America, a country with large immigration. In that country, Chinese people have always been discriminated against.

Is it because we Chinese people aren't outstanding? It's not that. The statistics show that in America's key high schools, the admission rate of Harvard and other key universities is as high as 65% , which is three times that of the local white people!

But what about social status? It's not even as good as black people...

So everyone has to think carefully. When a foreigner takes power, he will definitely give preferential treatment to his fellow countrymen in the city. This is beyond doubt. Resources and policies will also be skewed towards his own people, even because the central China players now had the advantage, there would definitely be extremists who would ostracize us. If you want to develop in the outer cities, you have to consider the gains and losses in this aspect!

Of course, it was not impossible. However, Grandpa Lu advised you to be more cautious. If you really wanted to go, it was not impossible. Grandpa Lu felt that first of all, you had to keep your eyes open when it came to supporting candidates.

Those politicians who had a history of anti-chinese politics should not be confused by his admission policy. They should see if he had the experience of excluding us in the past, because although the admission policy was the constitution, but the urban management policy was not. After he came to power, he changed some management policies. How could you bite him?

However, during the election, we Chinese still had an advantage. After all, we have the world's largest population and the best gene sequence!

This makes us the population that the candidates now need to rope in. After all, we who have the first sequence are the representatives of the high-quality population. If they want to add points, they will definitely have a policy to rope in us, therefore, Grandpa Lu once again called on my compatriots who want to go to the outer city to develop, their eyes must be bright. Don't choose the wrong person to go on stage. You Won't even have a place to cry!

Chapter 797 Angor's strategy!

"Master Angor, Master Sweyne of the Nicole family just called. He wants you to meet him when you get back. How should we respond?" Asked Louise, who was wearing a business suit on the plane.

"Just say no. Tell him that I'm not coming back for now. If he asks when I'm coming back, just tell him that it's not decided yet. I'll contact him as soon as I get back..."

"That's what you said to the first 52 people who invited you... so I'm curious, who will you contact first?" Louise asked with a smile.

Angor rolled his eyes and felt a little emotional.

Although he was the leader of Syder, he was already an outdated politician. His political career was coming to an end with the end of his term, and many high-level capitalists were inviting him less and less, half a year ago, she was already in a state of neglect.

After all, to capitalists, a leader who was about to step down was of no value at all...

However, Angor did not expect the plot to change so quickly. He did not expect this at all. In fact, it was impossible for anyone to predict such a ridiculous event.

"But Sir, these families are all powerful financial groups in Western Europe. Will it affect us if we don't give them face?"

Angor shook his head. "You still haven't figured it out. This election is based on public opinion. There's very little room for capital to interfere. They won't give us an advantage. Instead, they'll ask us to make things easier for them after the election. What's the point of dealing with such a loss?"

And...

Angor's eyes flashed with eagerness. A completely clean city with no capital but unlimited potential and resources, such a platform was the dream stage for people like him who had political ideals. Even if the financial groups could provide her with any help, she would not cooperate with them.

She did not want such a clean stage to be tarnished by those decaying families!

"By the way, sir, what have you been reading?" Louise suddenly frowned. "How many times have I told you not to turn on the signal on the plane? Why Can't you change your habit after so many years?"

Angor smiled. "I'm reading a post on the World Forum. It's called Grandpa Lu's guide. I heard it was written by a player from central China. It's quite professional. Do you want to take a look?"

"Oh?" Louise was surprised. She was subconsciously attracted to the post. Although she knew it was wrong, she could not resist the temptation and took a look at it.

"Huh? Is this really written by a commoner? He has a unique view and seems to know a lot about the inside story. He even knows that the first batch of applicants is 200,000. I didn't even know that..."

Angor nodded. "It must be an insider..."

"Then, my Lord, have you made up your mind? Which City should you choose? You have to submit the policy in 30 days. You Don't have enough time..."

"That's a big deal. We'll have a meeting later to decide. But..." Angor hesitated for a moment before he finally spoke his mind. "Personally, I prefer the first city."

"Huh? Why?" Louise was surprised. "Is it because that city has a first-class Germanic genome?"

"There's a reason...". ... but not all of them Angor smiled and shook his head. "I took a closer look. Among all our Geno Sequences, four of them are second-class. To be honest, from the perspective of our race, all three of the third city's Geno Sequences are second-class. They're more suitable for us, but I still think the first city is more suitable for me!"

"Huh? Why?" Louise asked curiously.

Angor answered, "There are many reasons. First, there's the population problem. The population of Western Europe has been decreasing rapidly over the years, especially in West Germany. In the 200 years since the federation was founded, the population has already decreased to less than 50 million. Moreover, the aging population is very serious. The adult population is only 14 million. That's not an advantage among the five billion people in the 46 countries. It'll be very difficult to win the election if we only focus on winning over our own people!"

"What?" Louise was stunned. "Don't... Don't you want to give priority to your own people?"

Angor looked at her frightened face and smiled. "Why Are You So Nervous? Am I the kind of person who forgets everything for the sake of power?"

Louise:"..."

Angor shook his head in amusement at her hesitant expression. "I mean I don't want to rely entirely on my own people, but I didn't say I would give them up. Do you understand?"

"What do you mean, sir?"

"That's why I chose the first city. In the first city, We West Germans have a certain advantage. The genes of the Maines are a way for me to give benefits to my people. We West Germans have the best engineers in the world. This should be carried forward. Choosing this city will revive the enthusiasm of our domestic machinery manufacturing industry. It will also change the lazy atmosphere in our country because of the welfare benefits. More and more young people don't want to study mechanics. Instead, they want to study software technology in the United States. Isn't it because of the industrial depression? "Choosing a heavy industrial city is a good example for a country with our culture."

Louise nodded, but then she asked doubtfully, "But... the Mayin race belongs to the research race, so the number of people who meet the requirements will be less than the combat type, right? The population of our West Germany is not all engineers..."

"I know, so this is temporary..." Angor smiled. "It'll make people think that I'm not taking sides with my own people. They'll lower their guard. That way, as long as we have the right policies, we'll be able to attract as many people as we can. But if you look carefully, you'll see that the three major genomes in the first city have a very clear division of labor. The Maines mainly focus on research, command, and control, while the other two are combat-type. That means that the Maines will control the management, research, and machinery of the first city in the future, including the later civilizations. That's why we're in the upper class. As for the other two populations, apart from private lords, they're only in the middle class. Do you understand?"

"Oh!" Louise suddenly realized that this was a long-term choice to improve her race's status.

"Also, the first city has a great advantage over us!" Angor said

"What do you mean?" Louise asked.

"Look carefully at the race advantage. The Laker Elves in the first city have a first-class advantage in Huazhong, Hongri, and the Amazon. The demons have a middle-class and african-american population. They don't have any conflicts with us, especially the african-americans. Because the local politics are bad, they're the easiest to recruit. As long as we give them enough respect and promise to be equal, they'll be supported by a large number of african-americans. According to Grandpa Lu's strategy, it's best for the african-americans to choose the first city. I believe that among the 46 countries, the one with the most people in the first city will be the african-americans."

"Master, you're Amazing!" Louise exclaimed in surprise.

Angor rolled his eyes at her. "Keep your voice down. You're acting like a child. You've been a diplomat for years!"

“Haha...” Louise stuck her tongue out in embarrassment.

“Master, according to your plan, we have a huge advantage!”

“Well...” Angor shook his head. “There are other factors that affect us as well. We need to be prepared!”

“What factors?”

Angor looked at the clear sky outside the plane and said, “Huazhong!”

Chapter 798 What is our greatest advantage?

“My Lord...” inside the military airport, Elder Long had just gotten off the plane when elder Li brought his men to welcome him. He immediately complained, “Why aren’t you answering your phone? You’re making us anxious!”

“Isn’t it common sense to turn off the phone signal on the plane?” Elder long asked in return.

“That’s your private plane. How can a single phone signal affect your equipment? Do you really think that our plane is a piece of shoddy engineering?” Elder Li rolled his eyes at the other party.

“Ahem... why are you so excited?” Elder long coughed lightly and said, “Isn’t Doudou with me? Who else can do anything to me?”

“I’m not worried about your safety. I have something important to talk to you about...”

“Well, so you’re not worried about my safety anymore...”

“Sir...” elder Li said with a black face, “I noticed that you’re getting younger and younger.”

“Ahem...” elder long choked. He glared at the man and asked, “Tell me, what’s the matter?”

“Two hours ago, Angor from West Germany, Abe Qingming from Red Sun, Almi from the Three Kingdoms, and song Caiyi, who just got out of prison, all called. They all want to talk to you!”

“Huh?” Elder Long was surprised. “Song Caiyi got out of prison?”

Elder Li: “...”

“My Lord, you’ve been getting more and more out of control lately. Is someone pretending to be you?”

“Ahem... Well, I’m a little surprised... haha...” Elder Long Laughed, he realized that his mentality had been a lot younger recently. It had been ten years, but he had never thought that he would have such a chance to start all over again when he reached old age. It felt like he had returned to his youth in a dream.

That’s right, a day ago, he had also received an invitation. As one of the candidates for the Huaxia City, he had never thought that he would one day face the challenge of being elected, it was really... Too exciting.

“What’s there to be surprised about?” Elder li sighed, “He went to prison because he fought too fiercely with the universe country’s financial magnate, during his rise to power, he was unable to completely reform the monopoly of the financial magnate, after he left power, naturally he would be liquidated. But now that he's the only one in the universe country being invited, the hopes of the Korean nation are all on him, how could he not be released?"

"That's true..." elder long nodded, "Amongst the politicians of the universe country, only he can watch..."

The political environment of the universe country was special, the leader could only work for one term, causing the policy to be extremely unstable. The leader's position was mostly useless, and it was easy for him to step down and be dragged into jail, the so called 1,000 year old plutocracy.., the leader of flowing water was referring to the universe country, however 10 years ago, a powerful man descended from the skies, song Zaiyi took the stage and almost defeated the 3 plutocrats, creating a miracle, being hailed as the most powerful man in the world!

Initially, he thought that after being locked up, it would be something that would last a lifetime. He didn't expect that after 2 years, galaxy would actually give him a chance to be reborn!

This election was really lively!

Elder long smiled, then shook his head and said, "It's a pity that our central China has been locked up in internal strife. Otherwise, I would have really wanted to go and have a try with this fierce man."

The corners of elder Li's eyes twitched, for a moment he didn't know what to say. Could this be considered as taking advantage and still trying to be nice?

He shook his head, "That's why I'm curious. Huazhong may have a city, but it's still divided. That means, even though we've taken advantage of the situation, we've been removed from the world campaign. Why are Angor and the others so eager to see you?"

"Of course we want to cooperate!" Elder long smiled and said, "Our politicians are indeed limited to one city in Huaxia City, but our people aren't. Not only do we have the highest echelon, but we also have a population of 1.4 billion. With such huge resources, as long as those candidates aren't stupid, they will definitely think of ways to get us to cooperate... . "he paused for a moment and then hesitated. . You said there were only five people who called?"

"Er?" Li Lao Leng Leng Leng, immediately nod: "Ai, temporarily seem to be..."

"Well... I guess I overestimated someone..."

Li:" ..."

"Alright, let's gather elder Lei and the others. We'll meet in the conference room. We really need to have a good discussion about who we should cooperate with. We can't close off the entire city. If we want to consolidate our advantages in the future, we must have allies..."

"Well..."

A San Guo:

A simple facilities of the office, several people have been collecting information, and the next leader of the Hot Selection Task Amir is also personally helping the people below to do chores together!

“Sir, the embassy has been contacted, ready to go!” A tall male secretary came in and reported.

“Okay...” in the office, the handsome Almi nodded. “Hurry up and help us pack up. Don’t leave any analysis materials behind. Time waits for no man. After we reach Central China, we can’t stop making policies. The earlier we upload policies, the earlier we can get more votes for us!”

“Yes, my Lord!” The surrounding young people responded enthusiastically. It felt as if they only needed to sing a BGM and everyone would be able to dance again.

“My Lord...”. When the secretary heard this, she quickly came over to help clean up the mess. At the same time, she asked curiously, “Since our time to formulate the policy is so tight, why are we wasting our time going to Huazhong?” “? You Don’t know, just now, the leader has publicly criticized you in the media, saying that you don’t have any backbone and that you are subservient to a backward nation like Huazhong. It is an insult to the high-class bloodline of the Shatiri!”

“F * ck!”

“Sir?” Everyone stopped their actions in surprise and stared at Almi in a daze. They didn’t expect that the usually modest Almi would actually swear?

“It’s because of this group of worms, talking about this Bullsh * t bloodline all day long. For so many years, we have no idea what our country is like!” Almi couldn’t help but say angrily, “Why am I the only one invited to run for the election in our huge country with a population of more than one billion people?” “Syder’s country has a smaller population than ours, and there are only three candidates this time. Won’t they seriously think about why?”

“Sir... sir...” the secretary mumbled.

“Listen Up!” Almi took a deep breath to suppress his emotions and said, “I don’t care how you are brainwashed, but whether we can win the cooperation of Huazhong this time is crucial. If any of you drag us down, you will be the sinner of our country for all eternity!”

Everyone’s expression turned cold, but they were more and more confused. They felt that Sir was exaggerating a little. Although Huazhong had taken advantage of them this time, they were already restricted to Huaxia City. What value did they have?

Looking at everyone’s confused expressions, Almi could not help but sigh. He knew that he had to be clear about it. Otherwise, no matter how serious his words were, they would probably not take it seriously, thus, he said softly, “All of you, think carefully. What is our country’s greatest advantage in this election?”

Chapter 799 The Man Who got out of prison!

“Advantage?” Everyone was stunned and didn’t know what to say for a moment.

In fact, when this news appeared, many people from the three AH countries were very excited, especially those from the lower castes. They had been oppressed for a long time and didn’t have a chance to make a comeback in the face of the higher castes, this time, the galaxy platform gave people the feeling that it was a chance for them, people from the lower castes, to rebuild their lives.

However, when the data sheet was released, a group of people once again fell into grief and indignation.

Why? Why did such a platform appear based on bloodlines? If the status of the upper castes was obtained through history, why were the backward Huazhong people ahead of us in the sequence of the genomes this time?

And there were so many of them ahead of us!

BoxNovel.com

In the data table, the people of the three countries were in more than 20 genomes in five cities. Only the upper-class Aryans were ranked as second-class in the Mayin clan, while the rest of the genome sequences were.., all of them, the Indians, were only at the third-class level!

They were even inferior to those primitive people in Africa who had fallen behind after drinking blood!

Why?

However, although they could not understand it, the truth was already set in stone. No matter how unwilling they were, they could not do anything about it. Therefore, when Lord Amir said that they had an advantage, they could not understand it, from the data, where did the people from the three countries get the advantage?

Seeing the confused expressions of the people, Amir sighed and said, "Our advantage is the number of people!"

When he said this, many people were stunned at first, but then they immediately reacted. That's right!

The voting rules for the popular vote were based on the number of citizens of the forty-six countries. In this way, the three countries would have an advantage. So what if three politicians from West Germany were invited? West Germany had less than 50 million people. How many votes could they cast? Although we only had one politician invited, if the whole country supported Lord Amir, it would be a huge advantage!

Thinking of this, everyone's hearts warmed up!

After seeing everyone react, Amir heaved a sigh of relief and said, "Although our country's ranking isn't high, it's a good thing that the popular vote this time is fair. In this way, with a population of 1.5 billion, we actually have a certain amount of weight. Our country may seem to only have one politician invited, and it may seem like we're at a disadvantage on the surface, but in fact, it's precisely because of this that we can make better use of our demographic advantage. If everyone in our country supports me, this is a natural bonus!"

After a short pause, he continued, "As for the other countries, especially those small countries in western Europe, although they have invited many politicians, they don't have enough population. Moreover, many politicians will also divide the support of the people, so their advantages are even less obvious. Therefore, if those people want to succeed in the election, they have to work hard to attract foreign populations. Think carefully, among all the populations, which country's population is the most cost-effective? "It's also the easiest way to overcome the disadvantage of having a small population?"

The secretary and the other young men were stunned for a moment before they immediately reacted. "Central China!"

Although they didn't want to admit it, the population of central China was indeed very popular now. Not only was it the number one in the sequence, but it also had so many people. It could be imagined that the pro-china policy would definitely be a big trend in the future!

Almi continued, "Although our country has a large population, we still have to get the support of the foreign population. Even if the leader tries to smear me, building a good relationship with central China is the fundamental strategy of this election. We need the support of the citizens of Central China. We need to get them on our side. Even if we can't get all of them on our side, at least we can't let them be pushed to the side of the politicians in western Europe. Do you understand?"

"Understood, sir! !" Everyone immediately saluted!

"If you understand, then hurry up and get to work!"

"Yes, sir! !"

At this moment, the people who had been pointed out finally understood how far-sighted sir was. They were still too short-sighted. Now that they thought about how the leader was still slandering sir in the news, they immediately felt disgusted.

At such a moment of national interest, he actually had to incite the citizens to oppose his Excellency, throwing away their country's best advantage with all their might, no wonder the leader and the rest weren't invited, this kind of politician with a brain gone blank., if they were invited, that would truly be a ghost!

universe Country:

Song Zaiyi expressionlessly looked at those prosecutors who had personally sent him in, his emotions were extremely complicated!

He had never thought that he would one day be personally invited out by these people... ..

"Mr. Song!" In the Congress Hall, the three tycoons of the universe country gathered together and sat opposite the meeting hall, and opposite them sat the current leader and the supreme prosecutor.

"I hope that we can let go of the past misunderstandings!" One of the tycoons, the old man, said seriously, "Now that we are at the turning point of history, now is the time for US Korean nation to unite as one, in internal strife, we are the sinners of the past!"

Song Zaiyi regained his senses and looked at the righteous faces in front of him. He could not help but burst out laughing.

The atmosphere immediately became strange. The current leader immediately shouted, "Song zaiyi! ! At this time, do you really have to put your personal feelings above the nation?"

"How interesting!" Song zaiyi laughed coldly, "Since when did you bunch of blood-sucking worms start to care about our nation?"

"You! !" The leader was about to continue his outburst when the oldest old man beside him coughed, "Alright..."

The leader choked for a moment, but he did not dare to continue his anger, the old man looked at song zaiyi faintly, "What do you want us to do? "As long as you are willing to let go of the past, in this election, if you want money, we will pay. If you want people, we will do our best to help you get to the top. As for after you get to the top, we don't need to maintain our current position in the new city. We only need a few necessary conditions!"

"Not interested!" Song Zaiyi coldly interrupted him.

"Song zaiyi! !" The leader immediately shouted, "Don't get too carried away! !"

Song Zaiyi directly ignored him. On the other side, the old man turned around and looked at him, "Leader of the Cui Yong World, if you can't keep your mouth shut, I will ask you to leave!"

Hearing this, the leader choked, but he did not dare to refute him. He could only glare at song Zaiyi angrily!

This made song Zaiyi feel extremely amused. In the Great Hall of the Parliament, the leader of a country was threatened and chased out. Did he not feel that there was anything wrong with that?

"Aren't you going to listen to the conditions?" The old man turned around and looked at song Zaiyi as he said faintly.

"No!" Song Zaiyi waved his hand and said, "I don't understand why I have to agree to any conditions of yours. In this situation, your people and your money are not important to me!"

"Then what is important?" The old man frowned and asked.

Hearing the question, the smile on song Zaiyi's face disappeared, and his expression became extremely serious. He said word by word, "It's very important to me without you! ! !"

800 Song Zaiyi's determination!

"Song zaiyi! !" This time, even the three-star old man who had always been calm could not calm down, his tone was cold as he said, "Don't take yourself seriously. It's just a wave of dumb luck. No matter how high a flea jumps, it's still a flea. It Won't be successful!"

"Heh..." Song zaiyi shrugged indifferently and said, "If you say so, then so be it. But.. ... "... our country has tens of millions of people. You few consortiums monopolize the resources, and your group has millions of people working for you. How Come Your Dog Sh * t Luck didn't fall on your heads?"

"You..." the old man's face was livid, but he still held back his temper and said, "Since Mr. Song agreed to meet us, he wouldn't be so bored that he came to say these angry words, right?"

“Eh...”song Zaiyi suddenly smiled and said, “You don’t say, I’m really that bored. Ah... after staying in prison for two years, I feel like I’ve become Naughty!”

Everyone:” ...”

“If we can let you out, we can naturally lock you in!”The old man said coldly.

“I don’t believe...”song Zaiyi looked at the other party with a smile. “You can’t do it!”

The old man sneered when he heard that. Instantly, a group of special forces soldiers armed to the teeth rushed in. The Weizhong in their hands was pressed against the other party’s head.

“You guys should think it through!”Song zaiyi smiled indifferently and said, “If you attack the candidate, you will be blacklisted for the rest of your life. You will never be able to enter that New World!”

“It’s okay...”the old man smiled and said, “Anyway, if Mr. Song Zaiyi has the chance to go on stage, we still won’t have the chance to enter!”

“Tsk... this old man really understands!”Song zaiyi smiled. “But since I dared to come, do you think I didn’t guard against the possibility of your broken jar breaking?”

As soon as he finished speaking, a shadow slowly stood up from the crowd and stared coldly at the crowd.

It was a beautiful girl. As soon as she appeared, the temperature of the entire Parliament Hall fell into an ice cellar. The group felt a chill in their hearts!

“Let me introduce you!”Song Zaiyi said with a smile. “Member number 19 of the Huazhong Dragon Group: Feng Doudou, HMM... ... you should have seen her too. She’s the one who killed Enzo in the video. If you think you can kill me in her hands, feel free to pull the trigger ... ..”everyone’s hearts froze, feng Doudou raised his head and stared coldly at the group. He didn’t seem to be doing anything, but the special forces soldiers found that they couldn’t even hold the guns in their hands properly.

For some reason, they couldn’t resist this guy at all. It was as if if he were to come at them with a knife, the only thing they could do was to stretch their necks to make themselves feel better.

“Song Yi!”The old man wanted to get up and scold him, but he realized that his body was forced by the little girl’s aura to the point that he couldn’t even stand up. He could only pretend to be fierce, but he was actually cowardly. “Are you betraying the country?”

“You’re exaggerating. It’s just cooperation!”Song zaiyi said softly.

“Cooperation?”The old man sneered. “There are surveillance cameras here. I will release everything today to the media. Without the public’s support, you will be dreaming if you want to succeed in the election!”

“That’s why you old bloodsuckers are short-sighted...” Song zaiyi sighed and said, “Our country only has 40 million people, and the gene sequence of almost all of the five major cities is below average. Even if all of them support me, how much use do you think it will be?”

“Oh? So Mr. Song is so arrogant because he knows that his election is hopeless?” The current leader sneered and said sarcastically.

“You completely brainless guy, don’t say anything, it’s very embarrassing...” Song Zaiyi rolled his eyes at him, then, he looked at the three-star old man and said, “This election is completely based on public opinion and is extremely fair. Your capital means are useless in this election!”

“At least we can affect your reputation within the country, making you unable to get the support of your own people!” The old man said coldly.

“That’s why I said...” “...” Song Zaiyi sighed, “If it wasn’t for the fact that your plutocrats have deep roots, with your level, I wouldn’t even bother to deal with you, do you really think everyone is stupid? I’m the only candidate in the universe country, not to mention our country’s population doesn’t vote much in the public opinion, in terms of individual qualifications, they don’t have the advantage like Huazhong, they simply aren’t within the range of the other candidates. A smart candidate wouldn’t even try to rope in the Indians, under such circumstances, if the country doesn’t rely on me, who else can they rely on?”

Everyone: “...”

The old man looked at Song Zaiyi faintly. After taking a deep breath, he enunciated each word clearly, “Song Zaiyi, you have to know that the people are not all so rational. Have you forgotten how you stepped down?”

When he mentioned this topic, Song Zaiyi’s expression clearly froze for a moment...

A few years ago, he was in a good situation at that time. He clearly had the opportunity to trip up the plutocrats, but because of some unrepresentable slander and the boost from some online media..., he actually let those internet trolls push him into the limelight, turning him from a national hero to a pervert, a dictator, in the words of the Internet Mob!

The key was that the ordinary people could actually be brought into the rhythm by such a group of people. A group of people followed him on the streets and forcefully pulled down their good situation.

Until today, he still didn’t dare to believe that his citizens could be so ignorant to such an extent? Furthermore, they fell out so quickly. Just when he was reforming social welfare, a large group of people said that he was the leader who was the most willing to make decisions for the people in the past few hundred years. However, after the rumors came out, these people stepped on him so quickly!

Now, after he fell, all the welfare policies were canceled, and the universe country’s status was returned to its former state. Those people who stepped on him once again led a life of oppression by the plutocrats, without even basic health care!

What was the point?

These two years, he had been in prison reflecting on how he had failed? Suddenly, he remembered something that he had read from a certain literary power in central China: politics can not save the people whose thoughts are already foolish!

If one’s thoughts do not change, everything will be empty talk!

Thinking of this, Song Zaiyi laughed bitterly, raising his head, "It's fine!"

"It's okay?" The people on the other side were stunned.

"Yes, it's okay... As long as we exclude them!" Song Zaiyi said faintly.

"What? ?" The people on the other side were stunned!

Upon hearing that, Song Zaiyi sneered and said, "This is a big era. Even if I succeed in the election, I will face an incomparable competitive pressure. In this kind of big era, it is not possible for one person to stand out. Therefore, the quality of the people in the city is also extremely important. I don't need people who are so ignorant that they can't even see the basic things clearly. Those who can see the situation clearly will naturally support me and follow in my footsteps. We will fight and struggle for our brilliant future together. As for those people who have water in their brains as you said, I don't need them. The city that I'm running for also doesn't need them. Let them rot on this land together with You Bloodsuckers!!!"
