Chapter 841 the opening of each city (6)

“Lord Qingming...” a light green elf slowly floated over as they walked over. He was obviously a standard wood elf and was also a member of Abe Qingming’s team this time. He was mainly responsible for the import and recording of species.

“How’s the latest animal husbandry?” Qingming asked with a smile.

“Well, their growth is better than expected...” The wood elf revealed an excited smile. “This new quack beast has the characteristics of a D Ball’s domestic pig. It produces large amounts of meat, has a fast growth rate, and the most important thing is that the cost of feeding is low. Based on our agricultural system, it can be mass-produced without pressure!”

“Domestic pig?” One of the Fat Elves looked at the black meatballs in the distance and frowned. “This kind of livestock has such a high fat content. I’m afraid the locals won’t like it too much...”

“But our city is not only home-grown...” the wood elf immediately frowned and retorted, “Half of the players in our city are still Chinese!”

BoxNovel.com

Everyone was stunned when they heard that. The amount of pork eaten in Huazhong was world-famous. Eighty percent of the pork in the world was imported here, and each year, 700 million pigs were consumed.

“Other cities need it too. This is our main product for the future!” The Wood Elf said seriously. “Especially the first city. According to our Intel, Ankor has no intention of developing agriculture. Our cheap livestock here is very suitable for export. The West Germans are famous for their sausages as well as their cars!”

“Is the performance-to-price ratio very high?” One of the ministers asked curiously.

“Very high!” The wood elf quickly replied, “First of all, it grows fast, grows fat fast, and has strong productivity. Then, it has very low requirements for feed. The concentrate feed and coarse feed produced by ordinary level one agricultural products can completely meet its growth needs. It doesn’t need to buy high-level protein feed like star Rhinos!”

Qing Ming, who had some basic knowledge of astral world rearing, nodded. Currently, the Huaxia City Lord’s livestock were expensive to raise. Not only was their growth cycle slow, but they also had high requirements for their feed, their second city was temporarily unable to provide high-grade protein feed. Currently, the Huaxia City’s protein feed mainly consisted of high-grade fish bones and Gardo beast bones. The production locations were mainly in the hands of a few agricultural great lords, while the high-grade fish bones were in the hands of the Ice Crown Lord. The import price was expensive, and the cost of raising them wasn’t cheap.

Of course, high-grade livestock cultivation couldn’t be left behind. However, in the early stages, if they wanted to export as soon as possible, they needed to obtain high-quality products to occupy the low-end market. After all, new cities were all first-class Geno Bodies, the Quack Beast could completely provide the required nutrition and energy.

“Continue to observe...”Qing Ming nodded and said, “If the data is really not too different from the predictions, we will approve a large amount of purchases!”

“Yes, Sir!”The wood elf shouted excitedly.

Currently, the city was just starting to develop. Only with outstanding performance would one have the chance to become a high-ranking official in the future. It was said that the main city lord would have the right to nominate a subordinate city lord in the future. Politicians would also have a lot of room to exert themselves on this land, i have to work hard to impress Lord Qingming!

Third City:

Compared with the first city and the second city to develop in a single direction, song in the initial layout of the third city is much more rich!

In terms of minerals, several mining areas near the city were lit up, and mining factories were opened. In the early stage, many mining trucks and energy pickaxe equipment were applied for, but song did not pay attention to other things, especially in the living area.

He had applied for the textile factory, the forging factory, the enchantment center, the cooking canteen, and other infrastructure. He had also applied for several professional tutors from the main base in the hope of training courses.

Among the five big cities, the city that song cared about was the only one that had used up all the initial funds at the beginning. It also owed the main base a lot of loans. It could be said to be the biggest start!

At this moment, in the city Lord’s room of the third city base, Smith was trying his best to dissuade him.

“Song, your path is too big. Our debt ratio has already exceeded the initial capital by three times. Moreover, didn’t you see the interest rate? The interest rate of the main base is not low!”

Song Zaiyi’s face twitched slightly when he heard that. He was obviously speechless. This main base loan was indeed a little ruthless. The official 30% interest rate. F * CK, the Federal Reserve had never been so ruthless at its fiercest. was this the attitude of supporting a new city?

“I don’t want to, but there’s nothing I can do...”song zaiyi smiled bitterly. “The characteristics of our civilization can not be left behind. We must quickly enter the overseas market of the New Territories...”

The root of the Naga civilization was at sea. In the early stages of industry, shipbuilding and energy were the main sources. The production type required the sea elves to nurture the sea elements and sea creatures. The key was these things... ! Mars didn’t have them!

Therefore, if a city wanted to make a profit in terms of imports and exports, it had to quickly occupy the sea market and bring out the advantages of its own civilization. However, the problem was that the only sea port had already been occupied by a player called ice cap, if they wanted to go to the western islands to find an opportunity, they would first have to be slaughtered by him.

As more and more players went overseas, her knife might become sharper and sharper, so they had to break away from this guy's restrictions early on.

The way to break away was naturally to go out to sea earlier, build a new harbor, and open up a new teleportation point!

And now, there were two hard conditions to go out to sea. One was the level 2 gene body and above, and the other was the 10,000 points ticket!

If he wanted to reach two points quickly, he would have to spend a large amount of resources on the first batch of players. However, Song Minyi did not want a sky group faction to appear in the third city, so the plan was to build an elite faction.

According to his rules, players had to master a lifestyle skill in the early stages, such as forging, tailoring, enchantment, high-level cooking ingredients, leather making, and so on, the goal was to ensure that players could quickly gather 10,000 points through a professional skill when they arrived in the New Territories!

To put it bluntly, it was to create competitiveness for the citizens. In the early stages, not only did he need a large number of skill instructors, but he also needed enough materials to create proficiency for the new players.

However, the citizens in the early stages did not have the money. In order to make the citizens competitive as soon as possible, Song Zaiyi started a relatively easy loan business to encourage the citizens to carry out skill training.

This was different from Zhang Minjun's private training. This was a city with a population of 200,000. The cost of training everyone to train their life skills in the early stages could not be compared!

Moreover, in order to let the players go to sea earlier, Song Yi's loans were all interest-based. First, the players had to repay the low interest, and later, they would repay the principal and the remaining high interest!

This kind of policy would not be able to recover the cost for a long time. The initial cost could only be borne by the city. As a new city, Smith was right. Song Yi was taking too big a step, and it was easy to pull the wool over his eyes... ..

Chapter 842 The Way of the fifth city!

Regarding this point, Song Zaiyi was very determined. In the face of Smith's dissuasion, he said very seriously, "Smith, I know your concerns, but our people must get the tickets as soon as possible, because they have to develop the sea market faster than the other four cities in order to take advantage of the advantages of our civilization. This is determined by the characteristics of our civilization. You have to know that we are not the only civilization that can build ships. If the sea market is preempted by other cities, our civilization, which eats marine resources very much, will be very passive. Do you understand, Smith?"

Smith was silent...

Song zaiyi sighed. He acknowledged this foreigner in his heart. The other party was a talented person who was cheated by a capital consortium. He pursued stability and was not radical. This was the reason why he fancied him.

In the future, after he made a name for himself, this guy would be the best conservative...

“But these life skills are all service-related...”. After hesitating for a moment, Smith began to analyze another drawback. “In order to protect our finances in the future, the interest we offer is not low, even higher than that of the general base. For a life skill that can earn money, how many citizens are willing to take out loans “? After all, most people now harbor the dream of being a private lord, and they don’t come with the mentality of a worker.”

BoxNovel.com

“But before many capitalists became capital, they were working...”. Song zaiyi smiled and said, “Everyone wants to reach the sky in one step, but it’s not realistic. I’ve always felt that among the four routes in the new territories, the Gondolin route is the most practical route. Mastering a life skill, earning the first capital in your life, and then going out to explore and start a business are the real doers. Those who walk the southern grassland route are all speculators. A rising city like ours can’t learn from some people to encourage speculation...”. “...”

Smith:”...”

“There is at least a way out if one learns a skill. This place may have great opportunities, but it doesn’t mean that everyone can succeed. On the contrary, there will always be more people who fail than those who succeed. There are only a few players who can become a lord, but what about those who can’t become a Lord? “Are they not going to live?” Song zaiyi sighed. “Learning a skill is also to give them a guarantee. At least after the competition fails, there is still a chance for them to rise again. Smith, don’t forget our purpose. I came here to make the people who follow us live better, so we should suppress that kind of opportunistic thinking. We shouldn’t be like a certain guy who allows this kind of opportunistic thinking to spread and use big cakes to trick the People!”

Song care about a guy when the face obviously showed a disgusted look, Smith gawked, suddenly reacted to the other party refers to WHO.

Today, the five major cities, the most encourage the dream of the masses of the Lord is always stressed the freedom of the residents of Mister, but he wondered why song care that Mister in the crowd?

On the surface, the operation mode of the fifth city is similar to that of the third city. They are developing in various directions, both in mining and animal husbandry. Workshops in the service industry are also being established. The only difference is that it is not forced on citizens to learn a life skill like song cares... . .

Of course, the fifth city did not work as hard as song Zaiyi in the early stage of the investment. It was all done to the point. Naturally, there were places for training life skills such as forging, tailoring, enchantment cooking, and so on, as well as instructors, however, there was only a small quota.

The fifth city's current quota was far from enough for 200,000 citizens. This kind of multi-faceted development that did not cost money made Mister's secretary, Ryan, a little confused.

He was also asking in the city Lord's room.

"Sir, the development cycle of our Arcana Civilization is slow, and we need a lot of energy. Why don't we focus on development like Angor? Agriculture and animal husbandry are not our forte. Why Invest in resources? Life skill training is the same. If you want to improve the competitiveness of the people, isn't that a little too little?"

MISST smiled. "We invest in everything to give the people more choices and make us look less authoritarian. Our slogan is the Freedom Federation. If we focus on everything like Angor and song, won't it ruin our reputation?"

Ryan:"..."

Meister continued, "As for the life skills training you mentioned, the current investment is the most reasonable. If we invest too much, like song, we'll have to take on a lot of loans. If we take on too many loans, we'll have to pass the interest on to the public in order to make sure the city's finances can make up for their losses in the future? "Will the public scold us for being evil when they see such a high-interest loan? "Look at how song Zaiyi is being scolded now? "Look at our life skills training loan. Isn't it much more humane when compared?"

"But the amount isn't enough!" Ryan frowned. "We didn't borrow from the higher-ups. The cost isn't high, so the loan interest rate can naturally be set more reasonably. But with the current scale, not to mention 200,000 residents, even the learning space for 20,000 residents can not be guaranteed!"

"Do we need a guarantee?" Mister asked with a smile.

"Eh?" Ryan was stunned. "What do you mean, sir?"

"Literally..." Mister's smile became brighter. "Do you really think that the people who come here are willing to follow the steps? A few days ago, we advertised the opportunity of the southern grassland. Why do you think that is?"

Ryan's face darkened. "I've wanted to ask this question for a long time. Why does sir encourage this kind of opportunism? You should know that the southern plains is the most unreliable route..."

"But it's also the easiest route to reach the sky in one step!" Mister interrupted him. "Do you know why there are so many investors? Because everyone thinks that they are different. If others lose, they will definitely profit!"

Ryan:"..."

Mister: "This can be seen from the data. Currently, our city has the lowest interest rate on loans for life skills training, but the application rate is also the lowest. Currently, there are less than 1,000 applicants. Facts have proven that not many people are willing to do it. The scale of our setup is completely sufficient..." "..."

"But that's because you're over-promoting the Southern Plains, isn't it, sir?" Ryan frowned.

“No... .. promotion is only one aspect ... “What’s important is what they’re willing to believe. Song cares about the promotion and is willing to take an honest loan to learn a solid life skill is the only way to be scolded half to death. I promote the Southern Plains’ dream-seeking, and now everyone is cheering. Do you know why? Because deep down, they want to hear what I’m saying. Even if what I’m saying is wrong, the people are more willing to believe it!”

“What benefits does this have for the development of our city?” Ryan’s face was gloomy!

“The benefits are huge!” Mister smiled and said, “What is the most important wealth of a city? Is it these resources and technology? No, it’s the population. The population that can create the future is the most important thing in a city, and how to bind the population is an art. Let me ask you, if 100,000 people rush into the southern plains, how many people will become lords?”

Ryan lowered his head and was silent for a while. After hesitating for a moment, he said cautiously, “According to the current data of Huaxia City, about a thousand people.”

“You really overestimate them...”. Mister sneered. “Previously, the Southern Plains was empty. Out of the 50,000 Huazhong players, there were only less than 500 lords. Now, the market there has already been occupied by so many people, and they are only entering now. Moreover, most of them are not even as talented as Huazhong players. You actually think that the probability is 1%? Are you kidding me? It’s already good enough to have 100!”

“Then why is your lordship promoting it like this?” Ryan frowned.

“Didn’t I say it just now? “To bind the population!” Mister said with a smile, “I will prepare a loan for each of the chosen ones who are preparing to venture into the Southern Plains. The interest rate of the loan will not be too high. If it succeeds, then I will treat it as forming a good relationship with the future private lord players. I have supported him in the early stages. I believe that they will also pay their taxes according to the rules. The main point is naturally those who failed. Those who failed have nothing and are in debt. What should I do? I can provide a second loan for them to learn a life skill to earn a living. Of course... Since you have a history of not paying back your loans, your credit rating will be lowered. If you want to apply for a second loan, the interest rate will definitely be different”

Ryan’s pupils constricted. He immediately understood what the other party meant... ..

“And this second loan is an opportunity to bind them to their future lives. Do you understand? My Little Ryan!” Mister Winked at his secretary.

Ryan couldn’t help but shiver. This seemingly harmless and humorous fatty was a capital of all evil that could eat people without spitting out their bones!

Chapter 843 Interview (1)

The open beta was vast and mighty, but after a few days, it gave people a feeling of emptiness. Of course, those who had this feeling were those who could not enter. The players who entered were still immersed in novelty every day, how could there be a feeling of emptiness?

After the great event that swept the world, there was no follow-up. This made many people who temporarily had no goals after the climax even seem a little lost.

In the next few days, many people finally began to have a new direction. They were eager to know how the first batch of Lucky people who entered the open beta were doing. were there new opportunities everywhere, just like the rumors?

However, the environments of the two worlds were too isolated. Everyone was busy. Without people like Grandpa Lu to expose the news, they could only rely on guesses for a time. In front of such public demand, the major media outlets keenly smelled an opportunity to divert people, therefore, they all applied to the candidates from the major cities to enter Galaxy for an interview.

This application received a unanimous response from many people. They all asked the candidates to accept an interview, so that those outsiders who could not enter galaxy could also see the specific situation inside.

BoxNovel.com

Therefore, the candidates from the major cities who set up their stations in D Ball quickly released their responses and decided to invite a few famous media outlets in the world to conduct an internal interview.

In order to show fairness, the interview invited four of the world's top media outlets, although these four media outlets actually gave preferential treatment in terms of word of mouth and news authenticity. But it had to be said that in terms of media influence, these four media outlets were still the world's top... ..

And in order to ensure their own impartiality, the reporters used this time, in addition to a few editors-in-chief reporters with extremely high traffic, also invited some reporters who enjoyed a very high reputation in the world.

Cindy was one of them. As a young reporter who had just graduated and ran to the chaotic lands to report on the war-torn countries' news, her style of daring to expose the ugliness of the war was quite well-received by the people.

After receiving the invitation, Cindy was overjoyed. She had long wanted to go to galaxy. Other than the fact that she really wanted to see the new world in person, the main reason was that she wanted to use this opportunity to realize a dream in her heart!

That was to change the tragic situation in all the war-torn places in the current world.

Her final wish was to hope that the new world, which was rumored to be bigger than sphere D, could have a place to accept refugees, so that the civilians who suffered from the war would have a place to shelter them... ..

Of course, this process might be a little difficult, but she was not afraid. After making sure that the new world was really a good place, she would try her best to fight for it...

Therefore, on the appointed day of the invitation letter, she arrived at the gathering point on time. The closest station to her was in central China and Red Sun. After some consideration, she chose to book a ticket to Central China.

The reason why she chose Central China was because of her past. Many years ago, when she was still an intern in university, she had come to this place that was demonized by the western news. That internship had almost overturned her understanding of the industry, it was also after that time that Cindy understood the falsehood of world news. She also understood that most of the time, the news was for ZZ.

It had been seven years since she last came to Shanghai in central China, but she did not expect that in just seven years, this place... Seemed to be very different from what she remembered... ..

Cindy could not help but smile. The Western media had exaggerated and fabricated many of the news here, but the infrastructure freak was not framed at all. A change in a few years was only possible in this country...

"Miss Cindy, I'm sorry. There have been too many visitors recently. The embassy is already full. Please wait a moment. I've already asked someone to prepare a place for you to stay..." A middle-aged receptionist in a suit said with a polite smile.

"It's okay..." Cindy smiled. "Actually, you don't have to care about me. I'll just find a hotel. You're very safe here. It's safer than any country I've ever been to..."

"Oh, really?" In the face of the praise of international friends, the staff did not have any happy expression, but simply replied: "I hope you can go back to their own compatriots to say the same..."

Cindy: "..."

From the station in central China, the first place to go was naturally huaxia city. At the gathering point the next morning, Cindy saw many seniors in the industry. Most of these reporters were well-known big shots in the industry, they were very well-known.

There were not many small reporters like Cindy. It could be seen that the number of people invited to interview this time was still on the high side of the mainstream media. Cindy could almost imagine that most of the voices after the interview would also be controlled by the mainstream media... This would be another battle of public opinion with unequal information...

Cindy sighed slightly and organized her tools. She was not interested in participating in the games of the various countries. She came this time to bring some hope to the people in the war-torn areas and give them the most authentic information, so that they could have a choice that they would not regret in the future.

Because the candidates from the six major cities had also promised that they would not give up on their fellow countrymen who had suffered in the D sphere after their scale expanded in the future.

"Everyone, please get ready. The teleportation device will be activated in five minutes..." the one who led the way was a beautiful woman in military uniform, Cindy raised her head and glanced at the other party. She was slightly surprised. She recognized this person. When Galaxy's intelligence was first exposed, this person was very popular. After all, he was someone who had personally killed a British knight.

Feng Doudou was one of the members of the Dragon Group and the leader's personal guard. According to the information from Grandpa Lu's strategy, the most capable fighter in Huaxia City was said to be the daughter-in-law of the Huaxia City Lord, she was now officially a supporter of the government.

"Before we leave, let me explain the rules..." Feng Doudou had his hands behind his back and a cold expression on his face. Although she was a woman, her straight posture gave off an astonishing pressure. The moment she opened her mouth, the entire venue quieted down.

"In order to let everyone experience the journey to the new world the most clearly, Huaxia city has opened a separate force field for everyone. Regardless of gravity or air, the force field is similar to the D sphere, allowing everyone to feel everything there without wearing heavy protective clothing..." "

As soon as these words were said, the eyes of many reporters lit up. Before coming here, many reporters had been told to wear special protective clothing in the New World. The protective clothing was similar to a spacesuit, and it looked so thick..., what was the difference between wearing such a thick cover and seeing the world on the screen?

"But first, let me explain!" Feng Doudou smiled. "Without a cover... "...". "Bah! Without a protective suit, you have to listen to all the instructions. Don't fall behind or move around on your own. If you accidentally walk into an area that isn't covered by the force field, it won't be a joke!"

"Second, don't try to take anything inside, especially plants and the like. The plants planted in Huaxia city are all Level 1 and above, and there are many varieties to try. Those things don't pose much of a threat to players with genetic bodies, but not to you guys. I'll only say this once. If your hands turn into flowers and become fat, our Huaxia City will not be responsible..." "

Everyone:"..."

"The third and most important thing is the interviewer. Please note that many players in Huaxia city are highly skilled players. If you want to interview someone, you must communicate with us and do so under our protection. Don't do it on your own to influence others. Especially don't use your western reporters' nonsense to provoke them into arguing. Because it's very dangerous, you're more vulnerable than an egg in front of them!"

"Can you understand that you're threatening us?" One of the senior reporters couldn't help but protest. "It's our freedom of speech to ask questions. You used such words to warn us. I have reason to suspect that your Huaxia City is trying to hide the truth!"

"You See, your conspiracy theory clearly has no evidence, but you can openly say such words like there's a reason..." Feng Doudou smiled. "If we were in a place with no one around, I might not be able to resist beating you to death..."

The Reporter:"..."

"Don't be nervous, because at least I'm a civil servant now. At least I wouldn't do such an extreme thing in an open and aboveboard situation..." Feng Doudou said with a smile, "But the players in that place aren't. And I'm sorry to tell you that Huaxia city has yet to introduce the law of responsibility for harming ordinary people!"

Everyone:"..."

Chapter 844 Interview (2)

Welcome to Huaxia City! !

Cindy was stunned by the beauty of Huaxia City when she saw it for the first time. The pictures circulating on the internet had already made people feel that it was too beautiful, but after seeing the real scene, to be honest, she felt for the first time that the pictures could not compare to the real scene!

The city's infrastructure was already 80% completed by the time elder long took office, the team of high-level architects trained by the fairy maiden used exquisite stone and various kinds of wood to perfectly display the elven city in the design drawing, every inch of the city could be used as a top-tier wallpaper.

This made some of the reporters in the team, who had always been known for their sharp tongues, couldn't help but exclaim in admiration.

"What a city with a heavenly appearance..."of course, after the praise, he still said out of habit, "I wonder if the city under the skin is as beautiful as this appearance..."

BoxNovel.com

Feng Doudou ignored the reporter's words and led the group toward the center of the city, along the way, he read out a script prepared by his subordinates, "Huaxia City is mainly built in the imperial capital ring-like structure for convenient management. The first ring is the research and development zone and the novice zone. The city's civil servants, city developers, and novices are all in the first ring. The first ring isn't big, but it has the most public facilities, such as the Elven Transformation Center, the Green Titan Training Center, the public training base, the weapons training base, and the multifunctional training base. To the north is a laboratory that has been opened up. Most of the space folding technology is used for the city developers to research the latest technology."

"Why do we have to divide them like this?"One of the reporters couldn't help but ask. "Are we trying to divide them into different classes? A new city has always been divided into different classes. is Huaxia City trying to create a feudal city?"

"Why don't You Say Capitalism?"Feng Doudou looked at him with a funny expression. "You say that as if you Americans don't differentiate between the slums and the rich areas. Why Don't you guys report more about the difference between the security and environment of the rich areas and the slums?"

"Madam, we are talking about Huaxia City... Please don't change the topic, okay?"The reporter frowned.

"Oh, then I will change the topic. Are you going to hit me?"Feng Doudou looked at him.

The reporter choked and thought to himself, how can this be?

The other reporters had strange expressions on their faces. Cindy, on the other hand, looked at Feng Doudou's shameless expression and couldn't help but burst into laughter.

This laughter made the reporter who asked the question earlier glare at her in anger.

Cindy ignored the other party's gaze and looked at Feng Doudou as she asked, "In your introduction just now, those high-level private lords didn't live there. On the contrary, the newcomers and developers gathered together. Was it to protect them?"

“Why do you say that?” Feng Doudou looked at Cindy with interest.

Cindy smiled and said, “I’ve read from the information that many races in Huaxia city are very weak in the beginning. For example, the elves and developers who have yet to transform do not have strong self-protection abilities. However, Huaxia City is a city that has already been colonized by outsiders. I’m guessing that Huaxia City is separated like this to prevent newborn players from receiving unnecessary damage, right?”

Feng Doudou smiled when he heard this. He looked at Cindy with a rare hint of kindness in his eyes. It was indeed the truth. Newborn developers and elves were very fragile, it was possible for a foolish ogre to accidentally step on them and kill them. However, in the eyes of the steel martial empire’s colonized people, the players from Huaxia City were invincible and incomparably powerful!

However, if they knew that these players of Huaxia City were so fragile when they were born, their newly-established mentality of worshipping gods would be shaken, causing some unnecessary trouble.

Therefore, Feng Doudou looked at Cindy and smiled, “It seems that there are some reporters with normal minds. I thought that foreign reporters like you only know conspiracy theories...”

The reporters’ faces immediately darkened.

Feng Doudou said, “Just as this normal reporter said, our second ring road belongs to the ordinary residential area. It belongs to the area where the mature players and the New Territories’ ethnic groups live together. Other than the high-level central China players, there are also all kinds of people from the new territories. There are the orcs on the grassland and the humans who once lived in the empire. As for the Third Ring Road, it belongs to the production area, which includes the farming area and the livestock cultivation area. However, as it involves the future strategy of Huaxia City, the Third Ring Road is not within the scope of today’s sightseeing!”

“Why is it like this?” The reporters started to make a scene. Even Cindy frowned, she looked at Feng Doudou and said, “We were invited here to let the whole world see the current state of each city. To You, it’s a disguised form of propaganda. It allows us to understand you better, and it also allows the world to understand you better. It’s also good for your Huaxia City to recruit people, isn’t it?”

Feng Doudou didn’t choose to make a scene. Instead, she tried to persuade them as if she was trying to entice them. After so many years of interviewing, she understood that most of the time, only benefits could lead to better communication.

“I’m sorry...”. Feng Doudou said coldly, “First of all, we don’t have any expectations for your so-called propaganda. After all, you western reporters never report on US truthfully “...”. “I’d rather believe that teacher mister can get the Tinder back than hope that you can pull traffic for us.” “...”. “...”

The reporters: “...”

They really didn’t know how to respond to the other party’s words. However, what made them puzzled was why Huazhong’s attitude was so tough this time?

“Second... We didn’t plan to include people outside of Huazhong in the first place!”

“What! ! !”

The reporters were immediately excited.

Reporter a: "What does your central China Mean? Are you trying to monopolize Huaxia City?"

Reporter b: "Please be clear. The city Lord is just an agent of a city. The cities in the galaxy belong to all mankind. If you blatantly commit racism and try to occupy a city, you will be denounced by the whole world!"

Cindy: "Can you represent the city lord of Huaxia? If you can, would you like to temporarily not include people outside of central China, or... :. Have you always wanted to maintain this strategy? I can understand that there are so many people in central China right now and you want to take care of your fellow countrymen's feelings. But just like what teacher Luo Wei said, the city belongs to all of humanity. If you do this, the upper echelons of Luo Fu will also object, right?"

Feng Doudou looked at the crowd and then looked at the sky. Finally, an impatient expression appeared on his face, he said coldly, "Who told you that galaxy belongs to all of humanity? Did Your Leader Promise You This? Or did the upper echelons of Luo Fu publicly say this?"

The reporters:" ..."

"Now that the public beta is open and only the 46 countries' passage is open, why haven't the remaining countries opened the passage? "They occupy half of the population of Planet D, aren't they humans? "Then why don't they even have the right to queue up and you human representatives say a few words on their behalf?"

The reporters:" ..."

"I'll make things clear today. Huaxia city only admits players from central China, now and in the future. The foreigners who were previously admitted have been notified to apply for Huaxia citizenship as soon as possible. We will conduct a strict audit on those players. If the audit fails, I'm sorry, but they must leave the country within the stipulated time and have their right to teleport to Huaxia City revoked. Of course, at the same time, they will regain their freedom and apply for citizenship from the other five major cities!"

Everybody:"! ! !"

Chapter 845 Interview (3)

"Lord Leader..."in the Huaxia City Lord's room, elder li frowned and asked, "Why do we have to be completely xenophobic? Won't this cause us to be isolated?"

"Why would we be isolated?"The leader smiled and said, "We have no intention of including foreigners since the beginning of the election. Those candidates are still eager to cooperate with us, aren't they? "When you have enough capital, no matter how overbearing and rude you are, those people will only verbally condemn you. When you are weak enough, no matter how humble you look, those people will still bully you. It's not like you have never been involved in diplomacy before. Do you need me to teach you this logic?"

Elder Li:" ..."

“We Chinese have the best gene sequences, and every one of them is a precious treasure. With such a great wealth in front of us, why should we give up everything to please the foreigners? “We should be thinking of not letting the people in our country leave!”

Elder Li was stunned. “Then why did you let the Chinese go to the cities outside?”

BoxNovel.com

“Is this a contradiction?” The leader smiled. “Agreeing to cooperate is to let the first batch of players have as many of our compatriots as possible. This is not only to give our compatriots more opportunities, but also to expand their influence. I’ve asked Doudou, and the difference in the growth of gene sequences of different gene levels is very big. Letting some of our compatriots go out is also to let the world realize how outstanding the population of Central China is, but after that, it’s different...” “...”

“Different?” Elder Li was confused.

“You are still too conservative...” The leader shook his head and said, “You don’t understand what will happen after the current era. Let me tell you, don’t look at the lack of resources in the city and the crowded population. Many people can’t get in, but as time goes on, the population of Planet D will become more and more precious, especially the people in our country. From now on, they will all be popular!”

After saying that, he looked at Li who still had some doubts. In the end, the leader decided not to explain any more. Time will prove everything he said to the other party. . .

On the other side, Cindy and a group of reporters left for Angor’s first city early in the evening because Huaxia’s official attitude was too touching. ...

Cindy did not really care about Angor’s attitude. However, if Huaxia City did not record foreign residents as Feng Doudou said, then the visit would be meaningless, the city was beautiful enough.

The city was not beautiful enough. In the afternoon, Cindy followed Angor to the second ring of the city. To her, the place was full of vitality!

There, she saw many high-level players in high spirits and many otherworldlings who were full of vitality.

Those otherworldlings seemed to be very busy, but their faces were full of smiles from the bottom of their hearts... ...

She had interviewed a few otherworldlings, and through their exchanges, she finally learned that Huaxia City’s current treatment of otherworldlings was much better than she had imagined.

The people here could regain a certain degree of freedom after a year of labor. They would receive generous rewards and enjoy the right to education. The path of Ascension was also extremely lenient. As long as one had the ability..., a former farmer could become a judge, a samurai, or even a master mage. As long as one had that qualification, they would have plenty of opportunities!

To be honest, although it looked like slavery on the surface, in reality, the resources these colonized people enjoyed and the path of Ascension were things that she had never seen in all the modern countries that she had visited in World D. It was hard to imagine such a harmonious colonial atmosphere...

That was why Cindy did not understand why the players in central China were so kind to these people from another world and so hostile to the Westerners who were also from World D?

“Welcome, everyone...”

The one who received the reporters in the first city was Louise from Angor’s team. Cindy was familiar with her. She was an excellent diplomat who could represent West Germany in the embassy of West France at such a young age, Angor’s support alone was not enough to secure this position. After all, the people of West France never liked the Germans.

“We can’t compare to Huaxia City. We don’t have the luxury to provide a force field. Please put on your protective suit. I’m sorry...” Louise smiled at the crowd.

The surrounding reporters frowned slightly, but they didn’t complain... ..

The protective suit was lighter than they had imagined. Although it looked heavy, Cindy felt surprisingly relaxed after wearing it. At most, she felt like she was wearing a down jacket.

“What a magical technology...” Cindy couldn’t help but sigh.

“There are countless amazing technologies in the Sea of stars. I believe that you will be fascinated by this place after taking a round...” Louise said with a gentle smile. Her attitude was completely different from the cold expression on Feng Doudou’s face!

This attitude made the faces of the reporters behind them look much better.

The base of the first city looked much shabbier than they had imagined. Yes... It was shabbier. The whole area outside the base was desolate. To the naked eye, it looked like a red sandstorm with a few steel houses standing on it.

There was a smooth asphalt road leading to the mining area, but there was no intention to decorate the area around the base. It gave people a feeling of poverty.

“This is what Mars should look like...” one of the reporters joked, thinking that he was joking.

The faces of the surrounding reporters twitched, and they looked at Louise nervously. Feng Doudou’s tough performance just now made them realize that the city manager didn’t need to put the reporters on the hook.

However, Louise was obviously easier to deal with than Feng Doudou, and her face was still full of smiles, she took the initiative to explain, “I’m very sorry, I looked at cold cicada a little, but the capital of the city in the early stage is limited. We have to use it to pay the miners’ wages and to upgrade the science and Technology Library, so we didn’t take into account some unnecessary decorations for the time being...”

The reporters nodded. Cindy was the first one to ask, "I heard that the wages of absent workers in the first city are about three times that of other cities?"

"Yes..." Louise smiled. "Master Angor believes that mining is the hardest and most laborious work among the early-stage jobs. It's only right to enjoy a little more pay!"

"Is that so?" Seeing Louise's kind attitude, the reporters gradually let go of their worries, a sharp question came up. "According to someone, Master Angor is trying to save energy for the city. He's trying to eliminate all jobs other than absenteeism. He's sacrificing the People's freedom in the beginning so that he can have enough energy!"

Facing such a sharp question.., Louise's smile did not fade. "Rumors. It's all rumors. Our city has never stopped people from choosing other industries. We also applied for fields and pastures in the beginning. We also applied for other handicraft training centers. There's no such thing as a monopoly on absenteeism. You can interview anyone you want...". "..."

The reporters looked at each other suspiciously and wondered if the information was wrong? Angor did not forcefully restrict people's freedom of choice?

Chapter 846 "You... ?"? "Where did you come from?"?

The atmosphere of the first city's interview was completely different from that of Huaxia City. It seemed to maintain a laissez-faire level, which gave the reporters more freedom to investigate.

Cindy chose to separate herself from the other reporters and conduct her own recorded interviews. She did not want to be together with those seniors who had obvious political motives...

According to the map provided by Louise, the distribution of the first city was very simple. There were large-scale mining sites in the north and south, which was the most invested place in the city, the area in the east had to be planned for farmland and pastures. The iron houses around the main base were training centers that could be used to upgrade the genetic exercise.

Cindy decided to observe the training center from here. She also wanted to know the difference between this training center and an ordinary gym.

There were very few people in the training center. Compared to the desolate and poor urban infrastructure, the equipment in the training center could be considered luxurious. There were all kinds of equipment that could not be understood. It was very sci-fi-like. No matter how she looked at it, it looked grand. It was a stark contrast to the poor outside. However, what puzzled Cindy was that there were not many people in such a luxurious training center. There were only four or five people training here...

BoxNovel.com

The city had been open for ten days. According to intelligence, the first city had already opened 50,000 people to enter. How could there be so few people training? Didn't everyone want to train, evolve, and explore the new world earlier?

Cindy walked closer with some doubts, wanting to find someone to ask about the details.

“Hey Outsider!” Just as Cindy approached the few students, a voice suddenly stopped her. “Please don’t go near the students who are training. It’s very dangerous!”

Cindy stopped when she heard that. Then, she found that the few big men who were training suddenly looked at her. Their scarlet eyes had a primitive wild nature. The sudden pressure made Cindy’s legs go weak and she wanted to sit on the ground.

At this moment, a strong arm firmly supported her from behind. The voice that had stopped her just now sounded again, however, this time, it was aimed at the big guys. “What are you looking at? You still have time to look at women? Can you afford to waste this time? A bunch of poor B * stars, think about the tuition fees you paid!”

The big guys’ faces turned awkward when they heard that. Then, they all revealed pained expressions. Then, they desperately continued to sweat!

After reprimanding the students who were training, their voices clearly softened a lot, they said to Cindy, “Devil spirits are a kind of species with relatively wild genes. Especially when they are training, they are actually very aggressive when they are excited. It is very dangerous for a weak woman like you to come over at this time and easily arouse their desire to attack. Do you understand?”

Cindy was stunned. She turned her head to look at the person who spoke. It was a strange race with violet skin color. The slender body and smooth muscles made the other party’s body full of a masculine beauty.., cindy’s heart jumped when she saw it.

“You’re not scared, right?” The other party looked at Cindy who was in a daze and waved her hand in front of her eyes with a frown.

Cindy came back to her senses and felt embarrassed. She quickly changed the topic, “Are those demon spirits?”

“Well...” the instructor smiled and said, “The only ones who can afford to come to the training ground now are the demon spirits who work hard in mining...”

“Spending money?” Cindy was stunned again and asked curiously, “Does training here cost money?”

“Is it free if it doesn’t cost money?” The instructor laughed, “There are so many people, can the city bear it if it’s Free?”

“Is the cost very high?” Cindy was puzzled, “But I heard that this training ground is not the basic configuration of the city, there is no cost!”

“How can there be no cost?” The instructor smiled. “Let’s talk about this training base first. The energy cost to open the training program every day is a cost, and the cost is not small. Of course, you don’t have a concept of the value of energy yet, so you can’t understand it for the time being. But there are other daily costs, such as maintenance costs. The technology here is very high, and the machinery and equipment need regular maintenance. Before our city trains high-level engineers, we need to hire Huaxia City developers to carry out maintenance. The cost is not cheap, and then the salary of hiring us is also a big head!”

“Salary? Is that a big head?” Cindy was surprised.

“Your words... are very capitalist...”the coach laughed.

“No... No...”Cindy explained embarrassedly, “I just think that in such a big project like the city construction, the human cost shouldn’t be a big head, right?”

“On the contrary, beauty...”the coach waved his finger and said, “Now the highest cost is the human cost!”

“Why is it like this?”Cindy asked curiously.

“Because there’s no one...”

“Eh?”

In the next half an hour, the instructor explained the reason to Cindy.

These instructors were hired from outside. Because of the establishment of the city, Luofu hadn’t recruited enough instructors for the time being, which made the resources in this field extremely scarce.

On the first day of the city’s opening, Luo Fu announced to all the cities a list of instructors he had hired. These instructors were all sorts of things, there were instructors for basic disciplines, arcane disciplines, physical training, and combat training.

Due to the scarcity of instructors’resources, the shares of other cities were all allocated from Huaxia City. According to Luo Fu’s higher-ups, new instructors were being recruited, but the dates were uncertain. It could be a month or a year, in any case, there were only so many mentors available.

This explanation caused all kinds of mentors to become very popular. All the major cities offered a lot of conditions to invite them to move in. The tuition fee was one of the preferential conditions offered by the major cities. After all, the emerging cities did not have much money to offer. This kind of commission was relatively reasonable. It could attract mentors and not invest too much in the early stages...

Since it was a fee-sharing system, the fee would be borne by the citizens, which resulted in a high training fee.

“Actually, we’re doing pretty well here!”The instructor explained with a smile. “Master Angor pays very well for absenteeism, so many hardworking children can come here on the third day to spend money. Many of my peers haven’t even opened their stores in other cities yet!”

There was such an inside story...

Cindy put on a surprised expression and started to write down some notes. Educational resources were also an important factor for her to assess the benefits of a city. From the instructor’s words, although Angor was a bit partial to absence from work..., he could still give those who were willing to work hard the benefits they deserved.

Wages and money were not real. It depended on the actual use of the money. Higher wages than other cities would allow people to enjoy higher education sooner. This was a real benefit.

From this point of view, the first city seemed to be not bad...

“I have a question...”Cindy suddenly raised her head and asked.

“What?”The instructor replied with a smile.

“You... These instructors with skills, where did you come from?”

Hearing this, the instructor’s smile immediately froze...

Chapter 847 Diversion Tactics...

Luo Fu did not explain the origin of these instructors. According to the information on the Internet, the new players were guessing their origin. These instructors all possessed a wealth of knowledge, this was especially true for the instructors who were responsible for teaching basic knowledge. However, it did not feel like they were an earlier batch of players. At least, from the beginning to the end, Xing Hai Technologies had no intention of nurturing players to become instructors.

Moreover, many players had reported on the internet that these instructors seemed to speak a language that they could not understand when they talked to each other. However, galaxy did not include this language in the language database for everyone to learn.

Vaguely, everyone became more and more suspicious of the origins of these guys. Some people guessed that these instructors might be the people who had lived for countless years in the upper echelons of Luo Fu. There were even some who guessed that these people... ... Were the aliens that Luo Fu had come into contact with!

After all, no one knew where you came from as long as you put on a genetic body in the Sea of stars. Regardless of whether you were Chinese, Western, African, or even Indian, you would always look different. and similarly.., if you were an alien, no one would recognize you even if you used this genetic body.

Because everyone looked like an alien...

BoxNovel.com

This guess was not without reason, because this bold guess actually came from the various academic circles. Luo Fu’s organization had come up with a plausible reason for their technology that surpassed the D sphere, it was because they had been gathering top scientists to join the organization and secretly develop their technology over the years.

However, as more and more technologies were displayed from the galaxy, the academic community became more and more suspicious. This was because these technologies were way beyond the d-sphere and were systematically divided into several civilization systems, who would believe that this was just the work of one organization?

Therefore, more and more people began to suspect that there might be a huge extraterrestrial civilization system behind Luo Fu... ...

Of course, this was only speculation for the time being. The various political circles did not have any direct evidence to prove this... ...

Faced with this sensitive question, the coach smiled stiffly, but he quickly returned to normal. He smiled and said, "You'll know about this in the future..."

Cindy's pupils constricted. The other party did not forcefully make up a lie, but he also did not give a direct answer, which made it difficult for her to make a judgment.

However, she did not struggle too much. After all, this was not her purpose of coming here. She was not a hero who wanted to expose some big conspiracy. She was just trying to win a place of protection for the poor people in the war-torn land.

Therefore, she changed the topic and asked with a smile, "You just said that only magical psionic power can be consumed here. Is that a racial advantage?"

"Sort of..." The coach smiled. "Mana and Green Titan are very similar. They are both strength-type geno. The only difference is that the former has a more violent bloodline and is more suitable for berserkers. However, both races are equally powerful when it comes to moving bricks. On the other hand, other Geno Types in the city, for example.. "...". The Laker Geno Geno did not have such an advantage

Cindy was confused. "But your city adjutant Louise said Angor didn't have a compulsory job."

"He didn't..."the coach spread his hands.

"Is it because the pay is too low?"Cindy frowned. "Angor is trying to lead people to choose the mining industry? "Does she not care about the development of agriculture and animal husbandry? "I just checked your map. The farmland and pastures in the first city are not small. Won't it be a waste?"

"Well..." The coach rubbed his chin awkwardly and looked at the men who were exercising, he thought for a moment and said, "I don't think there will be any new students here today. How about this? I'll show you around. You'll understand..."

Hearing this, Cindy was delighted, and she immediately bowed and said, "Then I'll have to trouble you!"

The first destination that the coach took Cindy to was the farm and pasture that she was most puzzled about. Unexpectedly, this place was not deliberately desolate as she had imagined. On the contrary, it seemed to be well-planned.

The entire farm was carefully separated, and colorful products were being planted. It was the same on the other side of the pasture. Many tall and beautiful elf players from the Lex family were carefully taking care of a kind of black calf that looked like a rhinoceros.

Although the flow of people was not very large, it was full of vitality...

"This..."Cindy did not know what to say for a moment.

The coach next to her smiled and said, "The genetic bodies of the elves from the Lex family in the city are finished elves. Unlike traditional elves, who need to transform to determine their final form, all of them are agility-type genetic bodies. These types of genetic bodies are inefficient in their work. If we completely abandon agriculture and animal husbandry, as you said, wouldn't it be equivalent to making these people have no food to eat?"

"But..." Cindy was confused for a moment. "I heard..."

"You're right... Sir Angor is indeed focused on developing industry..." the coach smiled. "That's why I said the only people who can afford to come to the training room are the absent demon spirits..."

"Well... Don't the elf players have a problem with that?" Cindy frowned. "Isn't that discrimination?"

"It's not that different...". The coach smiled and explained, "Angor pays a lot for skipping work in this city, but he also pays a lot for farming and ranching. It's even higher than the second city, which focuses on farming and ranching, but in different ways." "...". "..."

"Different ways?" Cindy was confused. "What do you mean?"

The coach smiled and led Cindy to walk while saying, "Let's talk about animal husbandry first. The animal husbandry breed that we cultivate here is called black gold beast. It is a high-end second-class species, and it is a star ox that grows slower. This animal husbandry breed has good meat quality and high nutritional value. It is a very popular high-end food ingredient in the Sea of stars. However, its shortcoming is that its growth cycle is slow and its requirements for feed are very high."

"Why?" Cindy did not understand.

"Angor did not plan to develop this area, so agriculture and animal husbandry are considered niche in the first city. To compete in the market, you need to develop some niche species that others won't choose. This way, the competition will be stronger. Also, because of the long breeding period of this kind of animal, the people who choose this path will be paid longer."

Cindy asked, "What do you mean?"

The coach explained, "Here, the payment for livestock farming is made after one of the animals is ripe. In other words, you have to raise a black-gold beast before you can get your salary. The salary is actually not low. One black-gold beast can be exchanged for hundreds of points, which is equivalent to more than ten days of absenteeism. If you raise more than fifty of them at the same time, you have a chance of getting the same salary as absenteeism. Of course, there are risks involved. The more livestock you adopt, the higher the chance of premature death. If you die, you'll lose money."

Cindy immediately understood the model. Angor focused on industry, but he did not completely abandon agriculture and animal husbandry. Instead, he tried to reduce the number of people who were willing to go down this path.

Compared to the daily pay, which could be used to pay for absenteeism, animal husbandry and agriculture had been suppressed for too long. Training was something everyone wanted to do as soon as possible. After all, the sooner one leveled up, the sooner they could go out and explore the world.

So, he asked with a smile, "How effective is Angor's method?"

"It seems to be successful so far...". The coach smiled. "In the beginning, the people who came here chose demon spirits. Most of the people from Huazhong, Red Sun, and Amazon would choose the beautiful and agile Laker elves. However, after the news spread, more and more people in the queue changed their choices. A large number of Huazhong people began to choose demon spirits. Only a small number of red sun people and Amazon people who wanted to maintain their advantage in gene sequencing continued to choose Laker Elves "... "..."

Cindy nodded. Angor's main goal was to lure the players from central flower. To these guys, whichever gene they chose would be an advantage, and there would be a huge number of them...

What an excellent politician... Cindy could not help but exclaim in admiration.

"Can you take me to the Desert Workshop?" Cindy asked.

In the war zone she was in, most of the people who suffered were from the third world. Most of them were black. If she chose this place, she would have to go through a period of absentee work. She wanted to see the environment there. Whether there was high-intensity labor exploitation in the high wages...

Chapter 848 reasonable policies in a cold city

There were quite a number of people in the mining area...

Cindy carefully looked at the scale. The mining area with tens of thousands of people looked very impressive, and everyone was full of energy. Digging a mine gave people the feeling of a dragon and a tiger, and it was very imposing... ..

It was rare to see someone so energetic in many high-level offices nowadays... ..

The coach led her to the back rest area. The equipment in the rest area was very good. There was a special single-person cubicle. Although the area allocated to each person was not big, it was exquisite enough, a single massage bed, a full set of mechanical massage equipment, exquisite cooked food and fruit juice.

It looked more like the treatment that a top NBA player should receive.

BoxNovel.com

Although they were enjoying the massage, their eyes were fixed on the notice on the screen of the cubicle. It was as if they were looking forward to working and moving bricks at any time. Cindy was stunned.

"Coach?" The demon spirit player in the cubicle seemed to have noticed Cindy and Cindy. He immediately stopped the massage device and sat up. He asked curiously, "Why are you here?"

Did you find out that I'm a top genius, so you came to give me a special lesson?

The player suddenly felt a little excited.

If Cindy knew what the other party was thinking, she would definitely recognize that this was a player from Huazhong. YY's tricks were all very Chinese...

"This is Ms. Cindy, a reporter invited by the Federation for an interview," the coach introduced with a smile.

"Oh... Hello..." the player smiled politely at Cindy.

However, Cindy was sensitive enough to sense that there was a small mistake in his mood.

Why would he be disappointed?

Cindy was slightly dissatisfied, but she didn't show it. After all, she was a veteran reporter, so she should focus on getting more information.

"Do you have this kind of lounge for every miner?" She asked curiously.

"Yes, we have all of them in this mining area. The south mining area is still under construction, so the conditions are quite bad for the time being. However, the treatment there is better now. The main reason is that I haven't applied for a place. Otherwise, I would go to the south mining area too!"

"Eh?" Cindy was stunned. "You would rather have poor conditions than higher treatment?"

"Of course!" The player said matter-of-factly, "Making money is the way to go. It's better to pay us more than to do these fancy things... Of course, the food is still good and can be maintained..."

"You can't say that..." The coach frowned and said, "The castellan is doing this for your own good. You guys don't pay attention to your bodies in order to earn points. If you cause hidden problems, it will be more troublesome to fix them. Forcing you to rest and massage your muscles is also for your own good."
"..."

"But I feel that I can last longer..." the player muttered.

"That's because of your desire, not because your body hasn't reached its limit..." the coach said with a straight face, "Even in the south mining area, there is a strict time limit!"

The player said, "Oh..."

Cindy was puzzled and asked curiously, "Are the people here like him who are more willing to reduce their rest time and work more?"

"There are some who are more stable, but most of them are impatient kids like him!" The coach sighed. "All of them are eager to earn enough money to go to the new territories tomorrow. However, for strength-type genomes like ours, it is most urgent to lay the foundation at the beginning. Overworking will easily cause internal injuries to the body, which will affect the later development, especially when the food is not enough."

"Not Enough Food?" Cindy looked at the sweet food on the table and swallowed her saliva.

"It's all grain..." The coach shook his head and said, "It's not low-level. It's a good crop that the castellan imported from Huaxia City, but there's no meat. Right now, the meat in Huaxia city is too expensive, and the supply can't keep up with the demand. The price of free food is too high. We can only barely provide meat when the quack beasts in the second city come out of the market."

"This thing is very important to them, especially the genetic body of the Berserker bloodline. The early training is very blood-consuming, and without enough meat, it is easy to cripple the body..."

Cindy made a sign and secretly gained a lot of impression of the first city.

Cindy asked curiously about the restriction, "I heard that apart from daily work, the miners here are also forced to learn forging and engineering repair later?"

"Yes...". The coach nodded. "This is for their sake. The competition in the New Territories is getting more and more intense, especially in Gondorin. If they don't have any skills, the competition will be much less. The weapons there are severely damaged, and forging skills are very useful there. Not only do blacksmiths need players who know how to forge, but they can also save a lot of money on weapon consumption if they know how to forge themselves."

"As for engineering, you should know that the city's technology race is monopolized by the West Germans. Most of the players who come here can only choose the combat race. Many players are willing to do that, but it's not good for them to waste their science foundation. Setting up an engineering major will also give them an advantage. Now that there are more and more hex equipment on the market, these kinds of equipment are expensive and expensive to repair. We will also encourage players to enter this industry in the future. Of course, for ordinary players, although engineering can not give them the ability to make hex equipment, it's not a big problem to train them to repair and apply them. This will also give them a way to make money and accumulate capital for themselves."

"Angor is really thoughtful..."Cindy praised.

The coach looked at her and smiled. "You're different from the other reporters this morning. They seem to care more about Angor's restriction of players'freedom."

"How can there be absolute freedom in this world?"Cindy found it funny

Cindy meant it from the bottom of her heart. Angor might be a smart man who restricted players'freedom in the beginning, but he was truly thinking for his people. Cindy was not an absolute libertarian herself, she knew what was good and what was bad. If you were a libertarian, this place did not restrict you completely. If you truly believed that freedom was more important, why would you sacrifice yourself for the privilege of moving bricks? The ranch was not without connections.

After all, some people were too idealistic. They wanted freedom and privileges. How could there be such a good thing in this world?

After listening to the coach's description, she felt that the cold first city was a good choice. When she went back, she could try her best to publicize it to the people who were suffering.

Of course, Cindy didn't completely believe the coach's words. She walked around the mine and interviewed many people in detail. After confirming that the situation matched the coach's description, she left with satisfaction.

The first city gave her a good feeling. It was a more practical city. She didn't know what other cities were like?

With Anticipation, Cindy walked into the teleportation point to the second city...

Chapter 849 Warm-hearted Qingming

"It's a great honor to have you here, Ms. Cindy..."

Cindy received a warm welcome the moment she stepped out of the teleportation point. The scale of the welcome was not low either. She looked around and realized that she seemed to be the only one who had been teleported here during this period of time. However, there were four or five people in charge of welcoming her, this kind of state guest treatment stunned Cindy and made her feel extremely flattered.

The following journey could be said to be Cindy's most sensual experience after coming to galaxy. The five receptionists seemed to be serving her alone. From beginning to end, they gave all kinds of warm explanations and introductions in a courteous manner, their attitude was completely different from that of Huaxia City.

What surprised her the most was that city Lord Abe Qingming personally received her after taking a stroll around!

BoxNovel.com

At this time in a well-decorated restaurant, Cindy ate the first invitation from the city side of the lunch, but also accompanied by the former head of the Red Sun, at this time the second city mayor!

She was so flattered that she was a little scared...

She was a bit of a celebrity in the press, but she was nothing compared to the top people in the press, and even the top people in the press, she had never met anyone who was personally received by the head of state.

Usually, it was already considered a high-class treatment to have a diplomat receive you when you were conducting an international interview.

However, as the reputation of the Western media was getting worse and worse, the attitude of many governments towards them was also getting more and more impatient. This was especially evident in galaxy.

Taking Huaxia City as an example, Feng Doudou, who was welcoming the media people from many countries, was obviously not suitable to be used as a diplomatic reception. Her identity was obviously more important as a deterrent.

Moreover, her attitude was extremely bad. She acted as if she was shooing away flies the entire time, angering the seniors.

The first city was slightly better, but they didn't seem to pay much attention to it. Louise, who had come to receive them, simply made a symbolic welcome and let them play by themselves. She didn't have any intention of sending anyone to accompany them the entire time, if she hadn't met a warm-hearted coach, she would probably still be playing by herself in the first city right now.

Most importantly, she had been in galaxy for so long. In the first two cities, not to mention a meal, there wasn't even a cup of hot tea!

Obviously, she didn't think much of reporters like them.

However, she could understand this point. The biggest role of the media was to manipulate speech. This role might have been useful in the early stages of the election, but now that the situation was set, the citizens of the 46 countries had basically settled down, those who could not register in the city were criminals with criminal records, which made the media's current role very limited.

Without a sharp tool to manipulate public opinion, the media were naturally nothing. With unequal power, how could they respect you?

Therefore, Abe Qingming's attitude made Cindy very confused. What right did she have?

"What do you think of this place, Ms. Cindy?" Abe asked gently.

At this time, Qingming was greeting Cindy in the form of a Geno Object. It was a light purple jelly ball, and his voice was as tender as a child's. Even though Cindy knew who he was, she couldn't get nervous.

"It's a very good place..." Cindy Lu quickly replied, "This restaurant is definitely the most beautifully decorated restaurant I've ever seen. Is it the unique architectural taste of the Second City?"

"Oh, isn't that..." Qing Ming smiled and said, "This restaurant is a chain store owned by a Lord in Huaxia City. We introduced it here. Originally, we wanted to stimulate the cooking passion here, but the things in this restaurant are really too expensive. It's estimated that very few people can afford it for a long time." "..."

"AH... is that so?" Cindy immediately understood and hurriedly said, "I made you spend money..."

"The guest is here, so it should be so..." Qingming smiled and said, "But I just asked Ms. Cindy What do you think of this city?"

"Oh, OH..." Cindy immediately said embarrassedly, "I misunderstood. I thought you meant..." ... "Cough, the city is very good, very beautiful. Although it's not as perfect as Huaxia City, the image now is really good. It's beautiful and warm. The residents who came in seem to enjoy the appearance of this place. I've never seen such a peaceful place, like a fairy tale..." "..."

"Really?" Qingming smiled. "I have always wanted to build a more warm home for my compatriots here, and now it seems that it has some effect..."

"But Master Qingming, is this really good?" Cindy was a little puzzled. "I just came from the first city, and the people there are trying their best to grow. Compared to them... is your place... too..."

"A little leisurely?" Qingming continued to ask.

"Yes..." Cindy nodded.

"Then which side do you think is better?" Qingming asked gently.

"This..." Cindy was in a bit of a dilemma, but she still said honestly, "I can't explain it clearly. Although the environment there seems to be quite cold, everyone is full of enthusiasm for the future. Although they work hard, I don't think they feel hardship in their hearts. I don't think this kind of atmosphere is a bad thing. Of course, your place is also very nice, very beautiful, and very warm. Just like what you said, this place is more like a home and a paradise, but..." "Master Abe, aren't you worried about their future competitiveness?"

“Not yet...”. Abe smiled. “Angor and I have different ideas. In my opinion, these new citizens are like newborn children. It’s not a good thing to push them too fast. They need time to adapt to their surroundings. The most important thing for children is a happy childhood. I hope they will like this city and treat it as their home. When they grow up to be strong people, they will be willing to fight for their home because of the happiness of their childhood “... “...”

“This...”Cindy was stunned and looked at the other party in a daze.

To be honest, it was indeed touching for a person of high status to say such beautiful words.

“And you don’t have to worry about the development of the citizens of the second city...”Qing Ming cutely took a sip of the sweet animal milk on the table, with white foam hanging on her mouth, she didn’t care, she continued with a smile, “The elven civilization is a slow-growing civilization. It’s difficult to compete with the mechanical civilization like the first city in creating an impatient atmosphere. This is a civilization that pays more attention to its foundation and bottom-level. This is also the reason why I chose this place. I’m very glad that I can use this civilization system to build a beautiful home for my compatriots in my lifetime...”. “...”

Cindy’s heart skipped a beat when she saw that bright smile. She almost reached out to pinch that cute face of hers... ..

Both her words and her image were too heartwarming!

Perhaps... .. This was also a place that was very suitable for them. Cindy thought to herself.

Just as she was thinking about this, Qing Ming suddenly said, “I heard that Madam Cindy is applying to the six major cities to be residents outside of the 46 countries?”

Hearing this, Cindy was stunned and then stood up excitedly, “Yes... Yes! !”

Chapter 850 Hidden Ambitious People!

“Are you willing to accept them?”Cindy asked with rapid breathing.

To be honest, Cindy had never thought that the opportunity would come so quickly.

After Galaxy’s announcement, she had made up her mind to fight for a passage for the suffering people of the third world. Of course, she also knew that it would be very difficult to realize this idea. There were six cities in total, and Huaxia City only accepted Huazhong people, the remaining five cities could only accommodate one million people, and the 46 countries had more than four billion people!

She was not even on the list, so how could she be willing to share it with outsiders? Presumably, both the official politicians and the local residents of the cities were extremely unwilling!

Not to mention that she was a light-hearted person. She had not even met a high official in the first two cities, so the hope was slim. However, she did not expect to not only meet the city lord in the second city, but the other party had also taken the initiative to raise this issue.

“I’m afraid that the temporary pressure is a bit too big...”qingming smiled and said honestly.

Cindy's excited mood was immediately vented...

"But I can give you a guarantee!" Qingming changed the topic.

"Huh?" Cindy's heart suddenly jumped.

"The development of the galaxy is very fast. I believe that there will definitely be enough space to accommodate those suffering compatriots in the future. I'm willing to help them as soon as I have the ability!" Qingming said with a smile.

Cindy stood there for a long time before she realized what was going on. She took a deep breath and bowed. "Thank You So Much, Mr. Qingming. I'm sure your heart will be remembered by history!"

Third City:

At this time, in the mayor's room, Song Zaiyi had a rare moment to relax and enjoy a cup of tea. The tea leaves were given to him by Huaxia Chenglong. He heard that it was a product grown in this world, and the taste was really extraordinary, even for someone like him who did not know tea, he felt his pores relax and he felt completely relaxed.

"Sir..." Smith walked over with a pile of documents. Song Zaiyi's face immediately twitched. "What are these?"

Smith rolled his eyes at him and placed the documents on another desk. "These are the comprehensive data of the various instructors in Huaxia City, including their skills, knowledge, and teaching evaluation. There's no need to rush to look at them, because even if you like someone outstanding, we can't afford to hire them with our current financial situation!"

"Oh... That's good..." Song Zaiyi let out a sigh of relief. "I thought I had to work overtime again..."

Smith's eyes twitched when he heard that. He felt that this guy was very different from the rumored political macho man in private... ..

"Sir, there's information coming from the second city. Someone saw Abe Qingming personally receiving a small reporter at Goudan's private restaurant."

"A small reporter?" Song Zaiyi was stunned. "Is there any information on that small reporter?"

"Yes...". Smith quickly handed over the information. "Cindy." Krum was a veteran American reporter. He was born in Virginia and was recruited by the American World Times upon graduation. After that, he was fired due to a dispute with his superior. From then on, he had been active in the third world and constantly reported on the situation of the local refugees. He was a staunch anti-war activist and a war reporter. He had great influence in many countries in the third world and was quite well-liked. It was said that even the local rebel army spared a village because of her words

"Such an inspirational figure?" Song Zaiyi smiled and picked up the Teacup again. "No wonder..."

"What did you see?" Smith asked curiously.

Song Zaiyi put down the Teacup and looked at Smith. "Smith, what kind of person do you think Qingming is?"

"Well... .. A very low-key person... "...Smith hesitated for a moment, then said, "As the leader of the Kagura Legion, the Abe family hasn't shown his face much. If it weren't for the fact that he suddenly came to power and became the leader of the Red Sun, perhaps not many people in the political world would know him. However, even after he came to power, the Red Sun's policies haven't changed much. In addition to the operation in the second city, he should be a conservative figure, right?"

"Conservative?" Song smiled, but then he said, "You can say that..."

"Is there a problem?" Smith asked curiously.

"I can't say there's a problem. I can only say that you're looking too shallow..." Song smiled. "Qingming is conservative. It's not that he's conservative. On the contrary, he's very ambitious!"

"Oh? What do you mean?" Smith was immediately interested.

"Let me ask you. Right now, he's directly giving up on mining and focusing on agriculture and animal husbandry. However, his workload is very relaxed. In such a competitive place where every second counts, why did he make the atmosphere of the city so relaxed?"

"Our team has done some research on this..." "The elven race is not stable, and their transformation models are changeable, which makes it difficult for them to build the basic population based on their own will. This is also why many candidates are reluctant to choose a second city. However, our team has understood that the environment has a great impact on the elven transformation. Among the elven models, the flower spirit is the most outstanding producer, and this model requires a more relaxed attitude. This is something that the first batch of players in Huaxia City had data on. In their batch, most of the players who successfully transformed into the flower spirit used this place as a casual game experience, so Abe probably had no choice but to do this. After all, the city needs a large number of producers in the early stages."

"That's true..." Song nodded. "But this information was made public from the start. Since Qingming has the support of 100 million citizens, why did he choose this city?"

"This..." Smith was stunned.

"You got the order wrong, old friend..." Song smiled. "Qingming wasn't passively bound by the elf civilization, but chose this civilization. That's what he valued!"

"Why is that?" Smith was very puzzled.

"Of course it's because the elven civilization is easier to control!" Song Zaiyi shook his head and sighed. "All of you think that the Elven civilization's shapeshifting mode is an uncontrollable weakness, but in fact, for rulers, this is actually a very big advantage. Because the environment can affect shapeshifting, and after shapeshifting, the job attributes will be fixed, so there's more room for control. As long as Qingming is willing, he can maintain this atmosphere all the time. He can even allow more than 80% of the citizens to shapeshift into flower spirits, which makes it easier to centralize power!"

"Centralization?" Smith was stunned. "What does that have to do with centralization?"

“Think about it...” song zaiyi said faintly, “What is the biggest trump card of the Abe Family?”

Smith was stunned for a moment, but he immediately reacted. “The Kagura Legion!”

“That’s right!” Song zaiyi smiled. “The Kagura Legion that is loyal to him is completely silent. Don’t you feel curious? “Do you think that the Kagura Legion is currently farming as leisurely as the commoners, or is it trying to transform into a battle-type template in some secret place?”

Smith:” ...”

He roughly understood what song Zaiyi was trying to say.

Song zaiyi: “Qingming relaxed the atmosphere of the commoners and wanted to turn them into sheep, while his direct subordinates turned into wolves in the dark. How is this conservative? He clearly wants to make the second city his personal empire!”

SMITH:”! !”
