Chapter 881 Have You Gone Mad?

"Ahem... Principal, um, I'm not disturbing you, am I?" Xi Ye tried her best to act calm as she asked.

In fact, Xi Ye was not very good at pretending to be calm. Her face was full of guilt. Fortunately, her handsome face was covered by the helmet, so no one could see her extremely guilty look.

"Oh? You're here, Lord Xi Ye?" The principal stood up enthusiastically.

Xi Ye?

Rui Xin turned around and looked at the heavenly God suzerain who had suddenly appeared at the door. He frowned slightly and thought to himself, "Is this the guy who tricked the principal into moving?"

"Lord suzerain, isn't it tiring to wear such a thick helmet?" Rui Xin said rudely.

Xi Ye shrugged, his eyes filled with helplessness. Sure enough, it was tiring for others to see him dressed like this, right? But who could understand the suffering he had endured for tens of thousands of years without even daring to sleep?

If it was possible, who would want to be like this? Wasn't he just a little better looking? How could he be blamed?

Rui Xin saw the other party's appearance, and his frown deepened. Just as he was about to speak, he suddenly felt a few faint spiritual probes, and then a few petite heads appeared outside the door.

Rui Xin was stunned. This race that suddenly appeared did not seem to be from the nearby star field. From the looks of it, it should be the Yuan race. This was also one of the more common indigenous species in the universe, however, what was with such pure spiritual power?

As a professional teacher, she could tell with a professional glance that these children should only be at the level of a level 3 or 4 life form. However, that strange spiritual power was far above their body's constitution. Moreover, it was incomparably pure, and its application was also very good! To be able to control a level 4 spiritual power to the point that it could be carefully probed like a soft silk, it was truly a good aptitude!!!

"Boss, what is this place? It looks so LOW!" One of the developers said.

"Cough... shut up, don't talk nonsense!" Seer coughed lightly and replied in earth language.

This time, besides bringing virien along, he also brought over a dozen developers from the base. They were here to reassure the principal.

As a star level powerhouse, the principal was naturally able to instantly understand the meaning of the other party's words through spirit speech. However, he did not blame the few children for their disdainful tone. Instead, he had an excited expression on his face.

"This... These are all?" The principal could not help but stand up.

“AH... . . The developers who have advanced four levels in the base, other than the two with the best talent, the rest are basically all here... . .”Xi Ye said honestly.

The principal’s eyes narrowed slightly. With the huge amount of spiritual power he had now, Xi Ye could not even speak in front of him. After instantly determining the authenticity of the other party’s words, the principal ran to the door excitedly.

“What an enviable talent!”The principal’s face was covered in smiles as he touched every single developer player like he was touching a treasure.

The group of players retreated in an attempt to dodge, but they realized that this old man who wasn’t fast couldn’t Dodge no matter what. They could only let this old pervert rub their faces all over!

Although they felt that it was impossible no matter how they looked at it, the wolf-like hungry eyes of the other party caused Goosebumps to rise all over their bodies.

“Developer?”Rui Xin was momentarily stunned. He stared at the group of little fellows with pure mental energy and widened his eyes. was the principal talking about developers just now?

Such a pure mental energy developer?

Was he joking?

“No... .. This body can’t do it ... “...”the principal touched and felt sorry for them. “Developers also need to train. Although their main energy is concentrated in the spiritual core, the body container before level nine is important for the healthy growth of the core. Moreover, not all developers will walk the path of a pure core, and some will walk the spirit body style of summoning. Then, the body needs to have a certain basic ability to receive the power of the spirit body from the other world... “...”. “...”

“How about this... they need a set of reasonable nutrition plan and Physical Training Plan. I’ll get teacher Bodell to arrange it later...”

“Sir Principal, what is this?”Rui Xin finally could not help but ask. He was not only curious, which family had nurtured this? With such a high quality developer, shouldn’t developers not be able to train their bloodlines?

Ancient genes, especially spiritual ancient genes, could not be optimized and passed down through traditional bloodlines. Therefore, the federation could not cultivate developers like how they cultivated ordinary family bloodlines, they could only rely on luck.

The so-called luck was a test of tolerance. However, things like tolerance could not be tested in advance. It was very vague and similar to life. Basically, no one would gamble their life on these ancient genes, this was also the reason why there were only a handful of good developers in the entire universe federation.

But what was going on with this guy? More than ten high-quality developers? Could it be that they were formed by using the luck of the natives?

There were indeed some rich lords in the universe. In order to obtain high-quality developers, they used the population of one or two planets to try their luck. However, most of them could not be met. It was a publicly acknowledged fact that the tolerance of developers was low. There were very few natives who were lucky enough to have a high compatibility rate. Usually, the population of a few planets would be cleared, but there wasn't a single one. On the contrary, it would waste the labor of the population...

However, such an extravagant thing should only be done by great lords, right. This type of level 5... ? Oh, no, it should be level 6. Logically speaking, this type of small lord's population should be very important right now, right? Did she have a screw loose in her head?

"This is Seer Lord. These are..."the principal hesitated for a moment, because he had signed a confidentiality agreement back then, there were some things that even his own teachers could not say out loud. This was also the reason why most of the teachers had resigned. This was because he simply could not explain that seer had a large number of high-quality students.

Seer looked at the little girl and paused for a moment before his eyes suddenly lit up. In his domain, he could clearly feel that there was an energy around her that did not belong to this plane. He had learned about this energy in the previous God of Heaven Course. This energy... "...". It should be the energy of Saipan's immortal palace?

"This is?"Seer hurriedly asked.

"This is one of the teachers in our school..."the principal said with a gentle smile.

"Your school is truly filled with talents, to think that there are even talents from the Immortal Palace!"Xi Ye was suddenly a little excited, this subject was rarely seen... ..

This was a good thing, the Saipan Immortal City belonged to a very special dimensional plane, it was a little like a magical place where pure spiritual domain and material domain interacted, it was very unbelievable inside., only a small number of recognized summoners had the opportunity to obtain the key inside. It belonged to a very mysterious domain within the Universe Federation's discipline.

However, it was undoubtedly very powerful. Summoners who mastered immortal spells had extremely high combat strength. There were very few jobs of the same level that could rival them. It was a job that was even more special than seers.

Rui Xin looked at the dozen or so developers and then looked at the principal. The doubt in his heart grew even more. Pure developers were extremely rare. It was true that many first-rate universities would fight over them. Although he didn't know where this Lord had gotten it from, but... .. The president would not decide to move schools just because of these dozen or so developers, right?

Wasn't this a little too crazy?

Chapter 882 Wine God's mysterious guest!

There were four main aspects to the school's evaluation: school facilities, faculty strength, academic contribution, and graduates' contribution to society!

The first three belonged to hardware facilities. These were either spent money or slowly accumulated over time. Only the graduates' contribution was more active.

A good school's overall reputation was extremely important. Being able to receive more praise from the God lords and make a higher contribution to the Universe Federation was the embodiment of this school's educational ability, it was also the highest overall score.

Therefore, the source of students was very important. Many schools would fight over a good source of students. Rui Xin could understand the principal's expression as if he had seen a treasure. For a developer of this level, as long as they were properly educated, they would not die young after leaving society, their future achievements would definitely not be small.

If it was not a galaxy-level manager under a certain great lord, then it would be a certain top-notch academic researcher. In any case, it would be the type with a certain social status. This kind of person would be very beneficial to the school's publicity.

But this didn't mean everything!

Indeed, the school would have a certain exposure after nurturing an awesome talent, but it couldn't fundamentally change the quality of the school. The social contribution of the school's graduates was mainly based on average, not on a single top student, it couldn't be said that Hangzhou Normal University's nurturing of Father Ma was more awesome than Imperial Capital Normal University. The overall strength would never change because of a single outstanding student.

Unless you nurtured a hundred father Ma...

Therefore, even though the quality of these developers had shocked Rui Xin, the headmaster's decision to move was still a little too much!

At this moment, due to the arrival of Xi Ye, the headmaster decided to hold a discussion on the issue of the move.

During the meeting, the headmaster briefly introduced Xi Ye and then began to issue the decision on the move.

"After careful discussion by our founders, we have decided on the schedule of the relocation. We will move there in about half a year. A month later, I and a few department heads will personally go there to inspect the new environment..."

"President?" A senior instructor in the meeting could not help but ask, "Aren't you guys being too hasty to move there without even inspecting the environment?"

The principal replied, "The environment is only secondary. This inspection is only to give some suggestions regarding the hardware facilities. The hardware facilities will not affect our decision to move this time."

"But...". "Why?" A few of the old instructors couldn't help but say, "Principal, can you at least give us a reason? With just one sentence, you want us to give up on the place that we have worked so hard for so many years. Isn't that a little unreasonable? This is your hard work, it's not easy to be promoted to a second-class college, is it appropriate to give up?"

“The reasons are confidential and can not be shared with you... . The headmaster shook his head and said, “But I can guarantee that this decision was made after careful consideration. If you are willing to go with us, the school will double your pay. But if you are not willing to go with us, we will not force you. We will agree to your resignation and pay you a full year’s salary and give you a letter of recommendation. Of course, if you are willing to return to the school in the future, the door will always be open for you... “...”

“This...”all the teachers looked at each other, not knowing what to say.

Seeing that the principal had made up his mind, some of the teachers started to think about where the next house would go. Some of the old teachers who were familiar with the principal looked at the young suzerain in confusion.

What kind of conditions did this kid offer to make the old principal move so resolutely?

Rui Xin is also a face of doubt, she knows a little more than the others, but she felt that the principal so confident in the young lord, the other side must not just rely on a dozen developers.

There’s got to be something else.

What could it be?

In the Eastern Star region of the Federation, the Pan da Zhi Wu galaxy is the core star region of wine god power. There are over 300 billion stars in this star region, of which 63 are source life stars, 400 pure energy function stars, 96 billion mineral stars, 100 billion modified life stars, and a population of 60,000,000 trillion!

With such a huge force, Seer would probably drool at the sight of it.

Not to mention the others, just the value of one pure energy function star alone was equivalent to the value of a galaxy’s property of many low-level lords!

At this moment, outside a scorching function star, a black spirit body floated around, watching the operation of the Energy Star with interest.

This function star was a function star of the Solar System. It was constructed using an extremely high-level plastic technology, and it had an extremely complex energy distribution system, this energy, which was billions of times higher than ordinary solar stars, was distributed to 96 billion living stars, allowing all the planets to enjoy the warm sunlight that was suitable for life.

It was like a huge central air conditioner.

This kind of technology was extremely demanding, and it required the control of at least a star-level dark descendant to achieve this effect.

However, at this moment, the star-level dark descendant with such a powerful Energy Star looked at the fleeting black shadow with fear, not even daring to take a deep breath!

Because he knew that this little bit of power of his was not even dust in front of the other party. In fact, these hundreds of billions of stars were as small as dust in the other party's eyes, not even worth mentioning.

How did she appear here?

At this moment, the Dark One's face was full of shock, as if he was dreaming.

In less than 15 minutes, the distortion of a space domain came from afar. A chubby figure rushed over in a hurry.

"Sir... sir... Sir, why are you here?"

It was the owner of this galaxy, wine god Lord!

However, his attitude was extremely humble at the moment. The panda fur all over his body was drenched in sweat. He was so nervous that he could not stop trembling. It was obvious that he was filled with respect from the bottom of his heart!

In this era, wine god Lord was definitely one of the few new lords. Some of the great lords were polite to him. After all, he was not among the great lords yet, but judging from the speed of his development, it was very likely that he would advance to that stage. As the saying goes, don't bully the young and poor. In the face of such an obvious rising star, many great lords were more polite, immortal wine was usually neither servile nor overbearing in the face of those important figures.

But this one in front of him had already surpassed the category of important figures... ..

"I want to ask something, so I came over..." an extremely pleasant female voice came from under the Black Shadow. The voice had a bit of demonic nature, and it sounded very comfortable. However, at this moment, immortal wine lowered his head even more humbly.

"Sir, if you want to ask me something, you can just say hello. Why do you need to come personally? It's such a great honor..."

"Your Energy Star's technology is pretty good. Did you guys invent it?"

"Yes... There's a rather talented alchemy major in the faction... if Sir likes it, it's his good fortune..."

The other party smiled. "It's not to the extent of snatching something from a junior like you..."

"Sir, you're right. I said something wrong. What I meant was..."

"There's no need to be so nervous..." the other party interrupted wine god lightly. "You can learn from him and call me senior..."

Wine God was stunned. He quickly climbed up the pole and said, "Senior!"

"Tell me..." the other party smiled. "How much do you know about that child?"

Chapter 883: Xandar Academy (I)

At this moment, Seer naturally did not know that he was being targeted by a big shot who even made wine god tremble. At this moment, he was leisurely leading his group of developers and citizens to stroll around.

Today, he brought everyone to a high-class planet called Xandar.

As soon as the teleportation landed, the developers' eyes lit up, one of them could not help but sigh. "This is the interstellar civilization that I had imagined. Yesterday's one was too LOW. Speaking of which, where did you find the lord of the Shabby School Yesterday? Are you really going to move to our place?"

Xi Ye frowned. She felt that they seemed to have misunderstood the school. This did not seem to be a good thing for the future in-depth education.

Hence, she explained, "Yesterday, the school's facilities were a little lacking, but the teachers inside were very high-quality. This is also the reason why I want to work with them. You will know in the future that the teachers' knowledge is far more profound than you can imagine..." "..."

"Is that true?" Everyone clearly did not believe him.

Xi Ye sighed and did not say much. Some things were useless if they were not verified physically... ..

"Boss, why are we here today?"

"To recruit teachers..." Xi ye said calmly.

"Eh? Isn't there already an entire school moving to our place? We still need to recruit teachers?"

"Hehe, boss has already exposed himself so quickly. Those instructors are indeed spare, right? The real instructors are all here, right?" As he spoke, the developer pointed ahead.

Everyone raised their heads and looked over, only to see a magnificent stone door standing in front of them. There were majestic words floating in the air. Basically, all of the federation's developers had learned these words, after all, the advanced equipment in the base were all written in the common language of the federation.

On it was written: Xandar Academy!

"It's different..." Seer shook his head. "This is a martial arts school. The teachers of the school are excellent, but it's not a comprehensive school, but a science and arts school. It focuses on large-scale traditional subjects such as machinery, energy, materials, and biology, as well as the nine major systems of Arcana. However, it doesn't offer pure combat subjects, so we have to add some instructors in this field. This Xandar Academy is a very famous martial arts school in the East Star Field, and it's the graduation season of the East Star Field in the next few days "... "..."

"Oh... I see..." everyone came to a sudden realization, but there were also some who asked, "Then why doesn't the academy open a martial arts department?"

Xi Ye: "Because it's poor..."

Everyone: "..."

It was an unchanging truth that the poor were rich in literature and martial arts. The martial arts school had a huge expenditure. Firstly, facing different levels of martial arts students, they had to prepare different nutritional packages, which required high-level food supplies, moreover, good nutritionists would set different standards for different kinds of food supplies according to the physical characteristics of different races. This not only required high-level food supplies, but it also required a wide variety of food supplies. It also required the school to have a very high procurement channel.

Next was the training equipment. A martial student who had reached level seven would already be at the level of a natural disaster on an ordinary planet. The equipment requirements for the training grounds were extremely high, and the various simulated battle centers would be updated every year due to damage, the cost was extremely high!

Finally, there were the medical supplies. In addition to high-level nutritionists, there were also high-level doctors for training martial artists. It was common for students to get injured during practical combat classes, in order to ensure that the injured students' bodies could recover 100% , it required highly skilled surgeons. The higher the level of a warrior's surgery, the more difficult it would be to perform. The requirements for surgeons were very high, and high-level surgeons were extremely valuable within the federation!

They were matched with high-level medical equipment. These basic requirements didn't meet the standards, and they simply couldn't apply for the combat specialty!

Seer very patiently explained to the developers that these children weren't far from entering the universe. At most level 7, they would have to be sent to the Universe Federation to undergo a trial. Some common knowledge had to be spread out as soon as possible.

"Oh, I see, after all this time, we didn't make a mistake, yesterday it was a poor B school..."

Xi Ye: "This... you can't say that..."

"Damn, then wouldn't the school fees be higher? Lord, our territory has outstanding talents to study, are you paying for it?"

Xi Ye: "Cough... an exceptional leader would consider public expenses..."

"Hehe, I didn't expect doctors to be so popular. I really didn't choose the wrong direction. My mother is right. Only by studying medicine can one become rich. Eh, that's Not Right, my lord. Since doctors are so precious, Why are you giving me such a small salary?"

Xi Ye:"..."

She seemed to have said too much...

"Welcome to Xandar Academy, my respected God of Heaven!"The teacher who was in charge of welcoming Xi ye at the entrance saw Xi Ye's eyes light up and immediately went forward to welcome her.

The graduation season was an important assessment for the teachers. One of the more important assessment criteria was the employment rate. Finding a good job for the students could increase the performance points of the teachers. This was of great significance to the annual award.

Everyone's eyelids jumped when they saw the person who came. They thought to themselves, what a strong guy... ..

The person was at least five meters tall. Every inch of the bulging muscles on his body was filled with the beauty of power. Even the developers who often despised muscular men in the base could not help but envy the other party's body.

People had a desire for a strong and healthy body. The beauty of this power could transcend the aesthetic boundaries of all races.

"Damn, I feel that even the chief instructor is not so Manly. Sir, can we recruit this guy back?"

Xi Ye rolled her eyes and thought to herself, recruit my ass!

Even those who did not learn much about races could easily recognize the type of this guy in front of them.

The Golden Titan was currently recognized as the most mature Titan gene, and was also the most popular combat gene. Looking at the imposing manner of the other party, he was at least level 14 and above, probably on the same level as his father. His current shabby faction.., how could he afford to raise this guy?

"Oh, respected Lord God, Hello!"The burly man had a friendly expression. "May I ask if you are here to recruit students?"

"It seems that our boss still has some status. I thought he was very LOW..."one of the players whispered to his companions through spiritual communication.

His companions around him nodded repeatedly...

"Oh?"The Golden Titan's eyes flashed with a hint of surprise. He looked at the group of young children behind Xi Ye and thought to himself, what pure spiritual power!

As a level-14 Golden Titan, although it was a strength fighter, its spiritual power attribute was definitely not comparable to that of some level-4 or level-5 lifeforms. Some basic spiritual fluctuations could naturally be felt, moreover, as a mentor, his judgment was also very strong. Xandar was famous for martial arts, but his ability to study liberal arts was actually not weak. He belonged to a first-class comprehensive university, as a teacher, he had seen many spirit students in traditional subjects or arcana subjects, but he had never seen such pure spirit power!

The teacher could not help but sigh in his heart, and the smile on his face grew wider. To have such a high-quality subordinate, this lord who did not seem to be of high rank might be a descendant of a big family!

Chapter 884 Shocking Aptitude (Part One)

Seer and the others followed the Golden Titan into the academy. They had only taken a few steps when they saw a burly man who was not any smaller than the Golden Titan walking towards them.

It was a huge man with a greenish-black body and a metal shell. Seer took a glance at him and his eyes turned slightly cold. This was a Dylan Demon, one of the high-level abyssal seeds. It was extremely rare. Anyone who could climb out of the Abyss had the strength of a dragon-level or above. It was rare for a university to hire a demon as a teacher in a more traditional star field like the east star field... ..

"HMM... It's alright..." the Golden Titan replied softly with an expressionless face. It was obvious that it was rejecting people from thousands of miles away.

The other party looked as if he was used to it, however, he did not intend to give way. "It's normal for teacher Durance to be under a lot of pressure this year. After all, it's related to the grading. However, the school's performance does not only depend on the employment, it also depends on the quality of the job and the feedback of the income...". As he spoke, the demon glanced at seer, the meaning was quite obvious.

"Every deity overlord who comes here is a VIP. This is the principal's aim. Sam, please take note of your attitude!" A cold light flashed in the Golden Titan's eyes.

"Heh... whatever you say..." the other party sneered and did not say anything more as he walked straight out.

The demons that ran out of the Abyss were indeed uncivilized. They did not have any brains at all. For a school of our level, a low-level overlord naturally had the capital to dare to come. Do you think that the deity did not know his own limits?

"Don't Mind the man, you know, few of them have brains..." Terence Smiled.

Seer nodded slightly and did not reply. He had been prepared for the slight he might encounter. After all, such a high school was not something a low-level lord like him could attend.

His main hesitation was the feeling that the demon had given him when he had passed by. He did not know whether it was an illusion or not, but the feeling that this fellow gave him was very familiar... ..

"Long time no see, my dear brother!" The demon who met seer just now walked up to him, and the other side was a very handsome god.

The God was tall and lanky, but for some reason, they seemed to hug in perfect harmony. ...

And if Xi Ye had entered the academy a little later at night, she would definitely have recognized this fellow. It was the demon lord she had met at the Heavenly God Academy back then. It was also her eldest cousin Ryan's current superior, Lord Bolton!

“Oh, my dear younger brother, how are you doing here?” Bolton smiled slightly. His temperament was elegant and mysterious, and his pair of supreme purple eyes faintly carried a demonic aura that made people feel cold!

“Not bad, right...” Sam smiled and said, “This feeling of cultivating seedlings is quite novel, just a little idle... I definitely won’t be able to stand it after a long time.”

“It won’t be too long...” Burton patted the other party’s thick shoulders. “Soon, it will be time to use your true strength...” “...” Right... .. Let me introduce you “...” Burton pointed to a blue thunder warrior behind him and said, “This is Rennes, one of my most trusted subordinates!”

“Greetings, my Lord!” Rennes quickly went forward and bowed, his attitude was very respectful.

“HMM... you’ve trained your skeleton well, and your bloodline is very pure. Not bad, not bad...” Sam pinched Rennes’s shoulder and smiled.

“Milord, you flatter me...” Rennes replied humbly, but there was a hint of joy in his heart.

From his tone, the liege often mentioned him in front of his younger brother. It seemed like he really valued him!

Ryan was excited, but at the same time, he felt a bit of pressure. He couldn’t help but think to himself, ‘it seems that my family has to speed up the process of integrating my family into the Lord’s influence. I don’t know why that Old Man...’ ‘He just won’t let go. I really don’t know what he’s thinking. Is it really good to be a great lord of such a level?’

“Oh right, speaking of which, there are a few juniors in the Ryan family who have just entered this academy. Have you seen them?”

“Those thunder-blooded kids, right?” Sam grinned and said, “I’ve seen them all. Their foundations are pretty good. The fact that the Aldia family has a good reputation all these years makes sense. I’ll train them well.”

“Then I’ll have to trouble you, my Lord!” Raine immediately showed gratitude.

“Big Brother, are you here to recruit people?” Sam looked at Bolton and asked.

“HMM... we just discovered an overlapping planet. There are four competitors inside, including wine god. Each of them has put in a lot of combat power. It’s a rare training ground, and it can train a batch of new people...”

“Overlapping planets? Something to do with the Abyss?”

“Well...”

-----

Base in the Huaxia City architectural style originally in their thought is already heaven-like style, but compared with here, but suddenly dropped a lot of grade.

It can only be said that knowledge limits their imagination. This top academy, which has been established for an unknown number of eras, invites top-notch designers every time it is updated, in terms of architectural style, it was naturally not comparable to the public building templates of the seer force.

Seer had not answered yet, beside him, derrens quickly added, “Of course. Although our school attaches the most importance to the martial arts, it is also first-class in the Arcana and conventional sciences. Especially in recent years, the school has spent a lot of money to find many top instructors in the field of machinery, including the former head of the Machinery Department of Lannister College, Lord Konistan. Moreover, he has just arrived, and he needs to focus on training a group of students to prove the teaching ability of his team!”

As he spoke, the burly man glanced at the group of developers. The hint was obvious.

“Lanslingster Academy?” Seer’s eyes lit up, and a hint of interest flashed across his eyes.

Seeing that the other party was interested, Durance was excited as well. He quickly began to introduce the members of the other party’s team, appearing very enthusiastic!

There was naturally a reason why he was so enthusiastic. Along the way, he had been carefully observing these ten or so juniors. These juniors would often use their mental energy to observe the situation around them. Their control was exquisite., it was even more impressive than the few starlight elves that the academy had attracted with a high scholarship.

One had to know that those starlight elves were all born into the royal family. Although they were not direct descendants, their pure bloodlines were far from what commoners could compare with. However, in terms of spiritual energy control, they were far from being as exquisite and proficient as these few children.

Moreover, the most important thing was that these few children were only level four, and they already had such control at level four. What did this mean?

They were extremely talented, and their families were well-educated. Unless they were from a top-tier family, they would definitely not be able to nurture such a talent. If they were to meet such a good talent, they could not let the school miss it.

He had already secretly sent a long-distance message to the instructor of the Mechanical Department!

Chapter 885: Xandar College (Part Two)

At this moment, in the principal’s Office of Xandar College, the principal, Luin Verus, was discussing with the newly-hired head of the Mechanical Department, Konistan, about the enrollment of this batch of students.

Xandar College was established in the middle of the god-founding era. It had been established for more than ten million eras and had a long history. It was an old and first-class university. It was famous in the federation for its ancient body tempering methods, and was almost a household name in the Eastern Star region.

However, the school had not been doing well recently. Ancient body-forging methods were old-fashioned. Although it was a classic, it did not keep up with the times. In this era, many big shots were commenting that the education methods of Xandar College were a little outdated.

On the contrary, many comprehensive departments' colleges had begun to develop more scientific body-forging methods through the innovation of machinery, Arcana, biology, and other technologies. In many cases, the effect was not worse than that of Xandar College, moreover, it could also let the students know more about the images of the new technology on the combat players.

This was also the reason why the students of Xandar Academy faced difficulties in the previous era. The ancient technology was very bloodthirsty, which led to a huge difference in the quality of the students educated by Xandar Academy. After that, the students were very unfamiliar with the new technology products, the students who went under the god Lord usually spent a lot of time to develop the common sense of the students against the new technology. Their overall quality was far inferior to the students of the same level of universities.

In the Taikang era, which was the beginning of the new era, the new president, Verus, carried out a reform and spent a lot of money to open a new department. He wanted to reform the Xandar Ancient Martial Arts Academy into a comprehensive school, and for hundreds of millions of years., under the unremitting efforts and the support of a lot of money, the first results were seen.

The science department and the Arcana Department of the Academy were gradually rated as first-class, especially the mechanical department, which had been ranked in the top 100 of the East Star area in the last evaluation.

However, it was still not eye-catching. The public impression of Xandar Academy was that Xandar mainly focused on martial arts, so the resources of the Academy of Science and Technology were definitely not high, this led to many talented students from the spirit department choosing to go to the traditional comprehensive department or the science and Technology department in the end.

As for the students, Xandar Academy could only rely on various preferential policies such as dropping points and scholarships to attract the market of poor families.

However, this method was not a long-term solution. A good source of students would be better able to train high-quality talents, and it would also have a higher chance of building a reputation for the school.

This was also the reason why Xandar Academy was willing to pay a huge price to find this famous teacher... ..

"Sir Principal..."Konistan held a thick stack of documents, he explained the recruitment plan to the principal. From his appearance, Konistan looked extremely delicate and handsome, like a star race elf. However, the principal knew that this was an extremely high-tech mechanical carrier.

Konisten was a member of the Seely clan, a typical race with high spiritual power. When this race reached level three, their spiritual power would grow too fast for their body to bear, and their lifespan would be extremely low, this led to this race developing a spiritual carrier device a long time ago, and it was extremely famous in the field of machinery. Many of the Seely clan had to familiarize themselves with all kinds of advanced knowledge in machinery at the age of ten, familiarizing themselves with all kinds of new materials and innovations, it was convenient for them to make the most perfect carrier device for themselves.

It was also this kind of pressure that caused this race to be extremely competitive. As an elder of the Seely Race's General Assembly, Konistan had always been a big shot in the field of new machinery in the academic world. He had been hired as a tutor by many famous schools in the past few centuries. This time, in order to poach him over, Xandar Academy had directly given him the position of vice-principal and a certain amount of shares. It could be said to be the biggest spending in history... ..

"Professor Cornnistan, isn't your planned expenditure a little too big?" The instructor who was in charge of the Academy's financial affairs asked with a pained expression.

The principal also nodded. "Spending a lot is one thing. Isn't this a little too similar to the conditions of the Xi Ling Royal Family?"

"Sir Principal...". Cornnistan said with a serious expression, "My current interests are tied to the academy. At the very least, I won't go and reap benefits for the Xi Ling clan at this time. The reason why I recommended the Xi Ling Royal Family is because I'm very clear that the newly born children of the Xi Ling Royal Family have extremely high qualifications. Booking them in advance will be of great help to our reputation in the future!"

These words were not against his heart. Xandar Academy had indeed offered a rather high price for Connistan, but the shares that he valued at this price.., since they were shares, he naturally hoped that Xandar Academy would really be able to improve.

And for him, joining Xandar Academy in such a high profile manner, if he could not produce results in the shortest time possible, it would also affect his future worth.

At this moment, his interests were indeed tied to the academy.

While he was speaking, one of the instructors under Konistan suddenly frowned, as if he wanted to say something but hesitated.

"What's Wrong?" The principal was a little hesitant for a moment, so he shifted the topic of concern to the instructor.

The instructor was stunned for a moment, and then quickly said, "It's like this, Sir Principal. Just now, instructor Dellenz from the Ancient Magic Department sent a message saying that he saw a few extremely talented students from the Spirit Department. He hopes that this side can send an instructor to take a look."

"Oh?" The principal smiled. "Excellent? This child Dellus has always been more pragmatic. If he says that he's excellent, then he's definitely not bad. Which one of you will make a trip?"

"I'll go and take a look..." Konistan suddenly added.

“How is there a need to trouble you, sir?”The finance director at the side quickly said.

“No worries...”dellus waved his hand and smiled. “Anyway, I have nothing to do. I believe that the principal won’t be able to make up his mind in the short term with this suggestion of mine. It’s also a good time for me to go over and take a look...”

“This...”the finance director was stunned for a moment and looked at the principal.

The principal nodded. “That’s good too. Sir, it’s also a good time for you to relax...”

Hearing that, Konistan smiled slightly and bowed elegantly. Then, he led the teachers behind him out of the principal’s office.

“Sir Principal, what does Mr. Konistan Mean?”

The principal shook his head with a wry smile. “What do you mean? Isn’t it obvious? He wants to force me to make a statement. Look at what he said. If the plan isn’t approved, he has nothing better to do. Doesn’t that mean that if the plan isn’t approved, he won’t be able to do anything... ?”. “...”

“This...”the finance director gritted his teeth when he heard this, he still said, “But this expenditure... is really a little too big. Our school has accelerated the speed of equipment renewal and the establishment of the Academy over the years. The expenditure is already very exaggerated. If we do it again, I’m afraid we won’t be able to make ends meet...”

“Let me think about it...”the headmaster waved his hand. “You go back and get ready. If this plan is to be carried out, you need to make as much financial savings as possible...”

The treasurer paused for a moment and immediately understood. It seemed that the principal had a compromise in mind. . .

— — — —

“My Lord, do you think the headmaster will agree?”Asked a red-robed teacher curiously, following behind Konistan.

“He will agree...”Konistan smiled. “If he doesn’t agree, why did he invite me here? Is He having fun?”

Everyone:”...”

“Huh?”Just as Konistan was about to say something, he suddenly seemed to be attracted by something and raised his head to look at a position in front of him.

“This is...”Konistan narrowed his eyes and carefully sensed it. Then, his eyelids twitched. “Which junior?”

“Huh?”The teachers beside him were stunned. They looked over curiously, and then they were also stunned.

“This is... the ancient alchemy array?”The red-robed teacher was a little shocked. “That was left behind by Lord Konistan, right?”

“Let’s go and take a look!”

Chapter 886 wait for the other party to speak first!

“D * mn, Haha, did you guys see that? Did you guys see that? I got it...”among the developers, a player named Bing Guo was excitedly maintaining his materialized alchemy array.

The surrounding players had unconvinced looks on their faces. They immediately used their mental strength to duplicate the array and tried again and again. However, there would always be a lost item at a certain checkpoint, causing the array to collapse.

Seer looked at the array curiously. The array looked very simple. It only used basic array refinement knowledge, high-level dimensional transformation, energy quality change, spatial gradient, and other high-level items did not exist. They only had simple integration algorithms and common energy conversion algorithms.

However, the array’s structure was not simple. It was equivalent to using simple knowledge rules to create a rather troublesome aggregation array that could summon across dimensions.

This refining array used a large number of energy gradient algorithm connectors. Each structure point’s energy circuit’s algorithm had up to tens of thousands of data. This not only tested the students’meticulous control of spiritual power, but also tested the students’temporary computing ability.

It was said that although Xandar Academy appeared to be a comprehensive department school on the surface, it was still a traditional martial arts school in its bones. However, it seemed that this was not the case now. This kind of exquisite refining array must have been created by a master-level tutor. It seemed that the spirit department instructors of this academy were of very high standards... ..

Just as he was thinking about it, a group of short men in red robes rushed over from afar.

Xi Ye turned around and glanced at them. She frowned slightly and thought to herself, the Xi Ling clan? So many? Since when did Xandar Academy hire so many Xi Ling clan instructors?

The delicate-looking man who was leading the group out of curiosity hurriedly said, “Be careful...”

His words were naturally not directed at seer, but at the D ball players behind Seer. It was obvious that these players were also attracted by their sudden arrival and immediately turned around to look at them.

This made Konistan’s eyelids jump as he thought to himself, ‘what’s wrong with these unlucky kids?’ ‘didn’t the elders in the clan tell them to focus when using the refining array? How dare they be distracted at a time like this?

The refining array used spiritual power to make use of complicated calculations and reality media. The first step was to convert spiritual power into energy, thus pushing the operation of the refining array to achieve some realizations, whether it was the summoning array or other mutated arrays, it was the same.

If this kind of energy was not controlled properly when realizations were made, it was highly likely that it would go out of control. Usually, it was not very high-level, and very few people would use the refining array multitasking. However, the refining array placed here was not simple, it was left behind by his sister, Cornell, and was specially used to test the aptitude of low-level Spirit Department students.

Using the simplest method of knowledge to carve out an extremely complex summoning refining array. This refining array's algorithm was complex and exquisite, and was divided into nine layers of calculations, usually, outstanding students would only be able to open the second layer of the refining array before the refining array would collapse because they could not calculate it properly.

However, most of these children had already calculated to the eighth level, and one of them had actually appeared! This was also the reason why the teachers were shocked earlier.

In the end, when they wanted to get closer and take a closer look, these unlucky children actually turned their heads and looked over?

Were they courting death?

When the refinement array reached the eighth level, the energy had undergone complex calculations and had already increased by at least sixty times. If a careless backlash were to occur, a level four lifeform would immediately be blasted into ashes!

Thinking of this, many teachers were prepared to take action, preparing to stabilize the refining array's energy!

However, before they could take action, the first leader, who was called careful, suddenly raised his hand and stopped the teachers.

This was because he suddenly discovered that although the group of unlucky children's attention was obviously distracted, none of the dozen refining arrays showed any signs of collapsing. Instead, they were operating normally!

"Sir... this... This is..."the teachers immediately reacted and said in shock.

Konistan also took a deep breath and looked at the group of children in shock.

This meant that this group of knowledgeable teachers obviously knew what it meant. This meant that this group of children could still control the energy circuits of the refining array even when they were distracted!

But How was this possible?

This refining array was created by his sister, and he was very clear about the complexity of it. Every energy node involved more than a dozen algorithms. How could a level-four lifeform still be able to stabilize its energy when it was distracted? Wasn't this a little too fake?

"Little child, pay attention, be careful..."one of the teachers couldn't help but remind him.

"It's fine..."bingo smiled. "We calculated the formation beforehand, so there won't be any problems..."

The teachers:"..."

Predict in advance?

These kids could predict in advance?

This calculation ability... ? ... even a few scions of the Royal Family of the Xi Ling clan would not be able to do it, right?

The teachers all sucked in a breath of cold air. which family raised these scions?

“Hey, Mr. Konistan? Why are you here?” A deep voice suddenly sounded. It was professor derenz, who had just gone out to prepare snacks and tea for seer and the others.

Konistan?

Seer tilted her head. This name sounded so familiar... ..

At this moment, the juniors who were introduced by Darius smelled the fragrance of the exquisite snacks and were instantly attracted to their stomachs. Their physiological senses told them that the snacks were definitely better than the ones prepared in their base!

Thus, they hurriedly withdrew the refining array and ran towards the plate of snacks.

The few teachers watched as these fellows withdrew the refining array so easily, and their eyelids twitched again. Usually, they had to be extra careful to stop the refining array halfway, and they had to withdraw their spiritual power bit by bit according to the established formula, otherwise, if they were not careful, they would very easily collapse.

However, these dozen or so children retract their spiritual power in a few seconds. They were so familiar with the process that it was as if they had used this refining array countless times. One had to know that most of them had already run to the eighth level of the refining array, if they wanted to completely retract the array, they would have to retract the energy nodes that they had previously calculated one by one. What did this process represent in just a few seconds? It meant that they must have completely memorized the values of all the nodes!

This memory...

The corner of Konistan’s eyes twitched. Then, he looked at seer with a gentle expression. “Hello, Lord God. May I know your full name?”

He really wanted to know which family had nurtured such a heaven-defying descendant... ..

“Seer Eldia...” seer replied very honestly.

Eldia? Konistan was stunned. He had never heard of it before. Could it be that he had been too focused on his research all these years and had not paid attention to the new rising families?

If that was the case, it could be the new royal families behind the third suzerain?

"I've heard so much about you. May I ask what brings you here, sir?" Konistan forced himself not to look at those heaven-defying children and tried his best to maintain a calm attitude.

In his opinion, bringing such an outstanding junior here must be because he heard that he was enrolled in Xandar Academy and wanted to study here. He had to maintain a certain level of perseverance and not lower his status... ..

At the very least, the other party had to speak first, and he had to express that he would consider it... ..
HMM... .. alright... .. actually, it was fine if he didn't consider it, but the other party had to speak first.

Chapter 887 Have You Lost Your Mind?

Seer happened to run into Professor Konistan, and Bolton and the others were also looking for traces of Konistan.

A group of people walked out from the mechanical academy. Bolton, who was in the lead, did not look too good.

"Sam, didn't you say that Konistan was in school today?"

He had activated the super teleportation as soon as he received the news. A great lord like him had to pay a high price to activate the super teleportation... ..

"He was indeed here just now..." Sam looked a little annoyed.

"Yo, Ryan is back?" Just as the group of people seemed to have failed and were about to leave the school gate, a deep voice was heard.

When Ryan heard this voice, his spirits were lifted, and he hurriedly went up to greet, "Teacher Hilley!"

The person who came was a tall warrior of the Thunder clan. His aura was strong, and it was not any weaker than the Golden Titan that seer had seen before.

"Not bad..." the Thunder warrior was very satisfied as he pinched Ryan's skeleton, "You've improved very quickly after returning these years!"

"It's the teacher's foundation that's Good!" Rennes quickly replied.

Rennes graduated from Xandar Academy and was personally groomed by the teacher in front of him. This teacher seemed to have some friendship with his grandfather. When he was in school, he took great care of the younger generation of the Ardia family, especially himself.

It was also because he had given him all sorts of special training that allowed him to receive good training during university and learn the essence of Xandar Academy's ancient body tempering technique.

"Kid, What's wrong with you? Why are you hanging out with that Guy Sam?" Hillray asked quietly in the secret language of the Thunder clan.

Hearing this, Ryan paused for a moment, smiled, and quickly introduced, "Teacher, this is my loyal Lord, Lord Bolton!"

"Oh?" Hearing this, Hillray frowned, but still walked forward with a smile. "I've long heard of your name, Lord Bolton. This child is a junior of a friend. Under your banner, please take care of him!"

"Don't worry, Senior!" Bolton smiled and said, "This young man Rennes is very talented. He's someone I rely on. It's not like I'm going to take care of him or not. Our faction still needs a young man like him to help expand our territory!"

Many of the teachers in Xandar Academy were monsters that had lived for tens of thousands of eras. From the aura of this fellow from the Thunder clan, it could be seen that he had already reached the level of life. Many great lords would not easily offend him, naturally, he would not do so even though he was a rising star. Hence, his tone was very polite.

"It's good that I didn't cause you any trouble..." Hilary smiled and said.

Although he was making polite remarks for his own student, he did not really like the other party in his heart. When he had the chance later, he would have to ask his old friend why he would let his grandson join a demonic force, an abyss demon., he usually kept a distance from this kind of guy.

"By the way, teacher, I heard that the elder of the Seely clan, Senior Konistan, has moved into our school?"

"AH... there is such a thing..." hillray nodded and said, "Why are you suddenly interested in this?"

He was asking the obvious question. His student was a pure warrior department, so he shouldn't be involved with the instructors of other subjects. Therefore, the one who needed it must be the one behind him.

"Oh, it's like this. Lord Bolton wants to pay a visit to Senior Konistan. Does the teacher know where he is now? We just came from the mechanical academy, and the teacher there said that senior KONISTAN has something to do and has gone out."

"Mm... he should be in the principal's office for a discussion... If you want to pay a visit, I'm afraid you'll have to wait for a while..." since his student had spoken, Hilary could not refuse to give him face, so he still revealed the whereabouts of Konistan.

"It's Alright..." hearing this, Bolton's spirits were lifted, and he hurriedly continued, "For someone with Senior Konistan's status, it's only right for me to wait for a day."

Hearing this, Hillray looked at him with a deep meaning. Sam had a bad temper, but his brother was a person who could stretch and shrink. No wonder he could become a sky god Lord with the bloodline of an abyss demon.

He was a formidable figure. He didn't know whether it was a blessing or a curse for Ryan to follow such a guy...

"Big Brother, over there!" Sam suddenly pointed to a place behind them.

Bolton opened his demon's eye and looked over. Tens of thousands of meters away, he could clearly see that Konisten was leading a group of red-robed instructors to a building in a hurry.

Hearing this, Hillray also looked over. He then asked curiously, "Eh? Isn't that the God's reception room? Why would lord Konisten Go There? Could it be that some important figure has come?"

Hearing this, Bolton was also startled. Someone who could make Konisten come personally to receive him was probably at least one of the top ten great suzerains of the Eastern Star Field. If he had the opportunity, he could go and meet Bo.

Thinking of this, he did not delay and cupped his hands to Hilary. "Then, senior, if you're busy, we'll go over first..."

"Eh, it's fine..." Hilary was also a little curious, so he smiled and said, "I don't have anything to do, I'll bring you over..."

"Okay, then I'll have to trouble you, Senior!"

On the other side, Cornelius was wholeheartedly waiting for seer to take the initiative to bring up the matter of letting the children enter the school.

However, Seer had no intention of doing so. She said honestly, "Oh, I'm here to recruit people. Isn't it graduation season? I want to recruit a few graduates to be my warrior instructors..."

"Ah?" Constance was stunned. "Recruit?"

"AH..." seer tried her best to keep her voice steady. "I need a few high-quality graduates. This... Umm... Mr. Constance, right? Do you have any recommendations?"

I don't have any recommendations...

Konistan's eyelids twitched, he suppressed his impulse and laughed, "Oh, I forgot, these few days are graduation season, Haha... .. But, after graduation season, it will be the start of the school season soon, Umm... .. Sir, don't you have anything else to do? For example ... Sending a junior to school or something... .."

"Cough..." a few of the teachers behind couldn't help but cough a few times when they heard this. It was obvious that they were hinting to their superiors that it was a little too explicit.

"Oh..." . "... I also have plans in this area." "...". "... Xi ye nodded. "This time, I'm also here to understand the admission criteria of your school. After that, I plan to send a few juniors over to study. I wonder how many places your school's Warrior Academy will have for special recruitment this year?"

"Um..." . "If it's a special enrollment, our school doesn't have any more places this year. However, your children seem to be quite talented. Let me take another test later. If they pass, I can discuss with the principal about giving a few more places." "...". "..."

"Ahem..." a few instructors behind him quickly coughed a few more times.

“Boss, they’re talking about Warrior Academy!” Someone saw that the coughing didn’t seem to work, so he quickly sent a telepathic message.

“So be it. These kids’ aptitude... What? ?” Konistan suddenly came back to his senses and looked at Seer. “You are talking about the Warrior Academy?”

“Eh?” Seer was stunned by the other party’s shocked expression. The instructor of Xandar Academy seemed to be emotionally unstable.

“You want to gift such a good spiritual talent to the Warrior Academy?” Konistan asked in disbelief.

“Ah?” Seer immediately reacted and quickly said, “Oh, that’s not it. I was talking about the other juniors just now. These children’s schools have already been booked...”

“The schools have been booked?” All the teachers’ faces instantly stiffened!

Konistan’s face was even uglier. The schools had already been booked, so why did they purposely bring it in front of him? Was they mocking me?

But he still forced a smile and said, “I wonder which school you juniors have booked? which student?”

He secretly guessed in his heart, could it be that those old enemies of starry sky academy had intentionally sent it to disgust him?

With the power of those old fellows, the possibility of recruiting such a high-quality junior was not small... ... TSK, what a pity. Such a good doll, if it was taught by him... ...

“Mm, the Academy has booked a full-time academy. As for the instructors, they haven’t booked yet...” Seer replied honestly.

The instructors: “No Instructors?”

Konistan: “Full-time Academy?”

“Full-time academy... What Kind of academy is it?” Konistan asked his subordinates through voice transmission in shock.

The instructors who had jumped ship with him looked at each other in dismay. They had never heard of it before, Alright?

“Oh... I think I’ve heard of it...” one of the instructors suddenly realized something, he said uncertainly, “I have a student who teaches there. It seems to be a level three academy in the Scorpion Mill Galaxy. I heard that the quality of the teachers there is not bad...”

“Scorpion Mill Galaxy? A level three Academy?” Cornnistan was stunned for a moment. Then, he turned to look at Seer. “Are you crazy?”

Chapter 888 negotiation (Part One)

Of course, as a big shot who had lived for more than 10,000 eras, he naturally wouldn’t directly say it out loud. Although he really wanted to use his hometown dialect to greet the other party’s relatives.

But in the end, he still forcefully suppressed the surging energy in his dantian... ...

“Is this guy crazy?” A few teachers beside him transmitted their voices to each other.

“No matter how high the scholarship is, we can’t do such a stupid thing, let alone a family that can nurture such a junior. What’s the difference between that and a small amount of money?”

“Sir... you... Are You Joking?” Konistan could not help but ask.

“Do I look like someone who isn’t strict?” Seer said unhappily.

All the teachers rolled their eyes when they heard that. ‘Do you even know what kind of person you look like when you’re wearing such a thick helmet?’?

‘Eh, to be honest, why is this guy wearing a helmet?’?

It was only at this moment that the teachers turned their attention to seer. They immediately felt that this guy was very strange. He was just a mere level-six divine lord. Why was he wearing such a thick armor? With just this little bit of strength and power, was it enough to shield you from being weak?

Moreover, wasn’t it impolite to wear a helmet when meeting with Lord Konistan? Lord Konistan addressed him as ‘lord’ out of politeness. Did this fellow really take him seriously?

Thinking of this, everyone subconsciously used their spiritual power to probe the appearance of the other party under the helmet.

However, just as they used their spiritual power to probe, they discovered that the helmet was like an impenetrable iron wall. Their spiritual power, which was several dimensions higher than the other party’s, was actually forcefully blocked outside.

Even Konistan was the same. Instantly, a trace of solemnity flashed through the eyes of the group of people.

As expected... “...”. This lord did not seem to be of a high rank, but his background was definitely not small!

This helmet was definitely a top-tier alchemy product. Thinking about it, it made sense. How could a lord who could bring such a group of juniors to stroll around here be ordinary?

“Cough...” seer was baffled by the group of instructors. She quickly turned her head to look at the tall Golden Titan. “That... instructor Darius, right? May I ask when your school’s graduation double selection will begin?”

Drens was stunned for a moment. Actually, it had already begun. However, looking at the posture of these instructors, if he dared to say that, he was afraid that this group of people would tear him apart.

The Honest Titan could only smile dishonestly in the end, "Ahem, there's still some time. Sir, why don't you take a rest first and eat some tea and snacks. Oh, right, weren't you asking about the enrollment just now?"

"Oh..." seer nodded. "There are a few juniors with good qualifications in my family who are also from the Titan Department. They should be sent over to take a look during this special enrollment season. May I ask what the conditions are for this year's special enrollment quota for your school?"

Titan department? Derenz's spirit was roused. What kind of juniors did the other party speak of? Did they come from the same place as this group of Little Fellows. If they did, he would certainly welcome them with open arms and legs, but what if it was just a routine...

Thinking of this, Terence did not intend to say anything more, he gave a simple and honest smile and said, "About that... "...". It had to be based on the overall aptitude of this batch of students. However, since you've spoken, sir, you can directly bring them over when the time comes. I'll personally test their aptitude. If they pass, I'll be able to make the decision to give them priority in the ranking. What do you think?"

"well..." seer nodded, which was a good result. . .

"Titan? Hey, Hey, did you hear that? The Boss wants to send those Titans to school?" A few developers who were happily eating snacks heard this and instantly exploded.

"I go, on what basis?" One of the developers suddenly anxious: "Trick us to go to that kind of run-down school, but let those big green to such a good place?"

"That's right! I say, Boss, you're being biased... . "Why should those warrior departments come to such a good school and we have to go to such a crappy one?" Protested Bing Guo, who was eating a snack? So they're the real deal, huh? We developers are all paid for, aren't we?"

A group of children indignant, noisy xi ye scalp numbness, then try to say seriously: "Shut up, where you have the right to speak? Eat Up? Eat up all go back to the hotel..."

Developers?

The few instructors looked at each other in shock once again. This F * cking group of developers?

Thinking about the incomparably pure spiritual energy and computational ability just now, how pure were these developers?

The key was that there were more than a dozen of them. which family was so lucky to find so many seedlings?

"All of you scam back to the hotel!" Seer saw that this group of devilish children was getting more and more noisy and could not help but activate the teleportation to send them back to the hotel.

As soon as he made his move, Konisten, who was at the side, hurriedly stopped him. "Sir, please wait! !"

Due to his anxiety, Konisten's roar was rather loud, causing Lord Bolton and the others, who had just rushed over from outside, to be stunned.

Sir?

As expected, Lord Konisten was welcoming a big shot?

Thinking of this, the group of people stood outside the door and tactfully did not barge in for a moment. It would not be good if they offended a big shot. It was fine for the school teachers, who were usually at the level of the ten great lords, they would not openly do anything to a teacher from an official academy.

But it was hard to say if a demon-type lord like Bolton, who was already annoying to begin with, would do anything.

However... "...". Why did that big-shot's voice sound so familiar? Had he heard it somewhere before?

Meanwhile, Rennes, who was at the side, was completely stunned. As a brother who had lived with him for tens of thousands of years, he could almost tell at the first second that it was a big-shot BULLSH * t. wasn't that seer?

Seer, who had been forcefully interrupted by the teleportation, immediately frowned and looked at him. "Sir, what do you mean?"

"Ahem...". "I'm sorry, sir. I don't have any bad intentions. I just feel that the talents of the younger generation like you are indeed quite impressive. It's such a pity to waste them on a third-rate university like the so-called Foot Chicken Academy." . . ."

Seer: "Is the foot under the academy..."

"That's not important. What's important is that you kids are top-notch gems, and the more talented you are, the more you have to Polish them to live up to their talents. Your family must have paid quite a price to nurture them? It's not appropriate to send it to a third-rate university, is it

"Yes, yes, yes, it's obviously inappropriate..." a group of players joined in the jeering.

Then, a few of them whispered, "From what that old man said, the boss has paid a great price to nurture us? Is that true?"

"Really?" Bing Guo was also a little uncertain, "Why do I feel like... I feel like I'm raising them..."

"Maybe. I heard that the instructors in the base pay quite a high salary... but isn't our cultivation cost much lower than those Big Green Guys?"

"That's right, that group of Big Green guys in the training base have several kinds of food, and they eat more than us. What else do we have other than a few lousy laboratories? Where's the high cost? It's obviously a good deal, okay?"

"Shut up..." seer could not help but shout at the spoiled players.

What good price? Could such a thing be said in front of outsiders? Didn't they look like they were talking about their worth?

Rennes, who was outside, was dumbfounded when he heard this. He could not help but think to himself, 'is this kid seer crazy? 'he actually dares to shout and shut up in front of Konistan?'

Seer sighed and turned to Konistan and the others. "I'm sorry. The younger generation is spoiled. They don't know how to behave..."

"Haha, It's okay... I understand, I understand..." Konistan and the others nodded.

This kind of treasure would probably be treated as a treasure in any big family. If it were him, he would also spoil it.

"How about this, sir? This old man does value the talent of these dolls and can't bear to see the pearls being covered in dust. How about this, sir, you keep them here. This old man will personally train them. What do you think?"

"Personally train them?" Xi Ye curled the corner of his mouth. He was only interested in scholarships and did not have the slightest interest in personally training them. If he had to pay for it himself, the higher the instructor, the more expensive it would be to personally train them. He still owed a huge debt., where did the money come from?

Hence, his tone instantly became cold. "I won't trouble you, sir. Although the Academy I set up for these juniors is a little inferior, it was the principal who personally set up the conditions..."

Once these words were said, the entire scene instantly fell silent. Everyone stared blankly at Seer. Was this guy's brain damaged? What the hell was the principal of the Academy?

After being stunned for a moment, a wave of anger rose in Konistan, finally, he could not help but sneer, "Oh? May I know the background of the principal of the Foot Academy? This old man still has some knowledge in the academic world. If you tell me your name, perhaps we might even know each other..."

Seer looked at the other party in puzzlement, "Although your reputation is not great, your strength is unquestionable..."

"I. . ." Konistan choked and trembled with anger. If not for the god's rule, he might have slapped him to death right now!

"The most important thing is that the other party gave him a scholarship!" Seer saw that the other party could not understand for a long time, so he finally got to the point.

Scholarship?

The crowd was stunned, and Konistan rolled his eyes. If you want money, you should have said so earlier!

"Of course!" Konistan took a deep breath and quickly said, "I also know that you must have spent a lot of money to train such a talented developer. Our School will not be stingy when recruiting such students!"

"How much?" Seer was immediately energized!

Chapter 889 Little Friend, you have a lot of secrets...

"How much?"

Seeing how straightforward the other party was, everyone couldn't help but be stunned. Although it was a rule for good students to give scholarships, it was a form of recognition for the students. Under normal circumstances, it wasn't the families or forces behind the students who cared about this little bit of money.

After all, for a family to be able to nurture a seedling with such a level of talent, how could they be lacking this little bit? What they wanted was the respect and recognition of this academy, as well as the value of their children's resumes in the future.

For example, what kind of family a certain someone was born into, what kind of federal results he obtained, how many rankings he got, and in the end, how many scholarships he was accepted by whatever university. This was a kind of honor on his resume, this would be of great help to him in choosing his power or doing something else. It wasn't just a matter of money.

But this person's tone gave people the feeling that... .. He was here to sell his children?

Actually, everyone's feeling wasn't wrong. Seer really did look at money.

Seer naturally saw through the other party's desire to poach these children to be his students. The other party had just said that this batch of new teachers from Xandar Academy came from the Lanslingster Academy.

Lanslingster, that was the top mechanical academy in the Eastern Star region. The team of teachers from that place was definitely not bad. It seemed like Xandar Academy really wanted to spend a lot of money to create a basic discipline.

Seer could understand why they were so eager to get good students. However, since he had encountered this, wouldn't he be able to live up to his conscience? Would he be able to live up to his painstaking training?

Although the quality of the basic discipline education in Xandar could not compare to the quality of the traditional first-class universities, Seer did not care about this at the moment. After all, there were plenty of developers in the base. He could use this batch to exchange for some money. In the future, when they had the money, they could send other developers to good schools... ..

The dolls had no idea that they were in the process of being sold. They looked at both sides curiously, hoping that they could stay.

"Ahem..." Konistan coughed lightly. "I have to apply for the scholarship with the principal... the exact amount can be discussed slowly..."

"I see. I'm busy, so I have to rush back after recruiting today. If the process of your school is more troublesome, then let's see Fate..."

"It's no trouble, no trouble!" Konistan waved his hand. "I'll go and talk to the principal right away... HMM... how about this, my lord, tell me the expected price, and I'll try my best to negotiate with you?"

"The expected price?" Seer frowned slightly, then stretched out five fingers. "The Lord will not consider anything below this number..."

Seeing this, Konistan nodded. "Fifty billion, right?"

Seer: "Ahem..."

Konistan: "HMM... it's a little high, but I'll try my best to fight for it. Please give me some time, sir..."

Seer said, "Eh? Oh... cough... Alright..."

Seer's tone was calm, but his expression under the helmet was extremely interesting!

Damn, 50 billion? Did I hear wrongly? It's federal currency, not Zimbabwe star currency, right. Damn, although I've heard that many universities would spend a lot of money to snatch high-quality developers, I didn't expect that the money would be so heavy. If I had known earlier, I wouldn't have started a mining business... ..

Konisten: "Drenz, please take good care of this lord. During the double selection, please reserve a VIP seat for this lord. I will go to the principal's office. Remember, do not neglect him!"

After giving his instructions, Konisten did not delay at all. He hurriedly walked out of the door.

The moment he reached the door, he saw Bolton and the others.

"Lord Konisten, this is Lord Bolton. He is here today to pay you a visit..." the leader of the Thunder Warrior instructors hurriedly introduced when he saw Konisten hurriedly walking out.

"I'm busy, I'm busy!" Cornnistan impatiently waved his hand and roughly used his spiritual power to push Bolton and the others away. With a flash, he disappeared before everyone's eyes.

As long as he took down these developers, along with the few dolls from the royal family of the Xi Ling clan, he had a chance of getting a good result in this year's East Star Region Academy Joint Exercise. At this juncture.., how could he have the time to pay attention to that Bullsh * t Lord Bolton?

Seeing that he was exposed without any hesitation, Thunder warrior instructor Hilary was also a little embarrassed. He said to Bolton in embarrassment, "This... cough, Lord Cornnistan should have some urgent matter. Please don't mind him."

"It's nothing...". Bolton smiled and said, "Senior Cornnistan has a lot of things to attend to every day. It's naturally not good for junior's trivial matters to delay senior's official business." "...". As he spoke, Burton raised his head and looked at seer. "Long time no see, Little Friend!"

Ryan was stunned when he heard this. Since when did his liege know seer. And his tone was so polite... "...".

Seer raised his head and looked over. He instantly recognized Burton and immediately frowned, because he also saw Ryan beside him... ..

"Mm... it's been a long time, Lord Burton..."

Seer didn't have a good impression of this demon lord who wanted the Eldia family to move in. He always felt that the other party was scheming against the Eldia family... ..

"Seer..." Rennes frowned. "Lord Burton is a senior. Pay attention to how you address him..."

"It's Alright..." Bolton smiled and looked at the developers on the other side.

He had heard most of what had happened outside, so he probably knew what was going on. Therefore, he was a little curious. What kind of talent was it for Lord Konistan to tolerate a junior like this?

After the developers were targeted by Bolton, they instantly felt as if they had fallen into an ice cellar. They subconsciously used their spiritual power to defend themselves.

Burton's pupils constricted as he thought to himself, 'what pure spiritual energy...'.

"Little friend, where did you get these developers? Such talent is rare..." Burton finally understood why Konistan was so anxious just now.

"It's not convenient to reveal..." seer replied calmly.

"Seer, watch your attitude!" Rennes glared at seer and said, "It's your honor for Lord Burton to ask you a question. Where did you get these developers?"

Seer rolled her eyes at him, "None of your business..."

"You! !"

"Everyone!" Golden Titan Drenz's deep voice immediately interrupted everyone, his tall figure slowly stood in front of seer, "If you're here to cause trouble, you have to think clearly. Xandar Academy is not a place for people like you to cause trouble!"

"What did you say?" Sam looked at him with a gloomy face.

Derance sneered at him. "Do you want me to repeat myself?"

He had long disliked this guy. If he dared to lead the trouble today, he would rip this guy's head off!

What a joke. The distinguished guests that Konistan had warned were also people that these people could bully?

"Okay, Sam, be nice to your colleagues..." Burton held down Sam, who was about to make a move, and glanced at seer and the others. "You have quite a lot of secrets, little friend..."

To be able to make Sylvanas give in and Konistan be so polite, this little boy from the Eldia family was really interesting... ..

Chapter 890 convince the principal

"50 billion?" The principal in the principal's office frowned and looked at him in surprise. "Professor Konistan, are you kidding?"

What was going on? Wasn't he reluctant to spend money to recruit the royal children of the Xi Ling clan just now? Why did he suddenly have to pay another sum of money? And it was 50 billion yuan each? It was even more expensive than the members of the Xi Ling Royal Family. I run a school, not a bank!

"Principal!" Konistan said excitedly, "This batch of children is definitely worth 50 billion yuan each. I have taught for so many years, and it's not that I haven't seen high-quality developers, but I have never met such good quality developers. I don't think Zhufeng's quality is necessarily better than theirs."

“Zhufeng?” The finance director next to him was stunned. “The Star Academy’s Ace Mechanic, Zhufeng? Sir, you’re not joking, right?”

That was a legendary figure. Many people said that even in the ancient developer civilization, Zhufeng was a first-rate standard, and the quality of his bloodline was very exaggerated. In the last Eastern Star region’s multiple schools’ training exercise, zhufeng was ranked first among the mecha operators, third in the overall ranking of the machines, second in the mechanical design of the PRANG system, and second in the mechanical alchemy design of the hex system, he was the head of the Mechanical Department of the Starry Sky Academy: Milans’ favorite disciple.

Cornnistan actually said that the quality of those children was not bad, Zhufeng? He was not joking, right?

“Their quality is definitely not bad...”. Cornnistan said seriously, “The purity of their spiritual power, their computing ability, and their memory are all top-notch. Back then, Zhufeng came to Lannister Academy to test it out. I was very clear about it. At that time, I also advised the principal to agree to the other party’s conditions to buy it. However, because the other party did not have a background, the principal had all sorts of harsh benefits that the other party should have, resulting in him being picked up by the Starry Sky Academy. I do not wish for the same thing to happen in Xandar Academy “! !”

When the principal heard this, he was stunned. He immediately understood the meaning behind the other party’s words...

When Lannister Academy had let Zhufeng go, it had led to a huge quarrel between Konisten and the higher-ups. Later on, during the Alliance Training Exercise, Zhufeng had crushed the Genius Academy of the Mechanical Department of Lannister Academy one by one, a Star Academy that was the main stream of priests had obtained the best results in the Mechanical Department. At that time, it had caused quite a stir in the news.

Konisten had also received all sorts of criticism because of the crushing defeat of his student team. As a result, his position had been replaced by the deputy director of his competitor, Peng Shan.

This had allowed their Xandar Academy to have the opportunity to poach this god!

The God needed a platform to prove himself. Xandar Academy needed a celebrity to pull the popularity of Xandar. They had hit it off with one another, and that was how the current cooperation had come about.

However, the other party had said at the beginning that he wanted to recruit students with absolute authority. Now that the other party had brought up the example of Zhufeng, it was clear that he was determined to get those developers. If he did not agree, then... Perhaps the cooperation between Xandar Academy and the other party would end here... ..

For a student, it had actually come to this extent?

The principal was a little puzzled. How good was the child’s aptitude? Could it be that Konistan thought it would be good enough for him to make a comeback?

“Alright... which child has the aptitude you mentioned? I’ll negotiate personally... try to get them on favorable terms!”

“Not one... you have to get those children!” Konistan said anxiously.

“All of them? All of them?” The principal was a little shocked. “How many are there?”

Konistan: “Twelve...”

“Twelve? ?” The principal choked and said in surprise, “You said there are twelve seedlings of Zhufeng’s level?”

“Believe me, principal, if I didn’t see it with my own eyes, I wouldn’t believe it either...”

“Hiss... But...” the principal was stunned for a moment, then he said with difficulty, “You mean, you want to buy all twelve of them with 50 billion?”

“Of course!” Konistan said matter-of-factly, “Such a good seedling doesn’t have a monopoly. Do you want to let them be snatched away by other academies?”

“I... This...” the principal’s mouth quivered, “Twelve... . . 50 billion. Teacher Konistan really doesn’t know how expensive rice is without being in charge... . .”

“Sir Principal!” Konistan said seriously. “For a genius of this level, no matter how much money you have, it’s worth it. Don’t you want to be on the list of Xandar Academy during the Star Field Exercise? “Isn’t this why you invited me here?”

In his opinion, a few billion was nothing. A first-class academy had a flow rate of trillions a year. He really didn’t know what he was trying to do at this time?

If the principal knew what the other party was thinking, he would definitely vomit blood. A first-class academy indeed had a flow rate of over a trillion, but... ? The students of a first-class academy were also counted in the millions. Other students didn’t want resources? The equipment that the Academy updated every year and the salaries of the teachers weren’t money?

“Forget it, I’ll go take a look myself...” the principal stood up weakly. “If it’s really as outstanding as what you said, Professor Konistan, I’ll pay for it!”

— — — —

“Ryan, I remember you saying that your younger brother is a wandering lord, right?” In a corner of the academy’s double-selection hall, Burton looked curiously at Ryan and asked.

“Yes...”. Ryan quickly said, “Sir, you should also know about my family’s situation. Back then, in order to provide for seer, that kid, to attend the seminary, he almost lost all his money. Later on, it was impossible for him to buy a planet, so he chose the drifting route himself.”

“Are you sure it was forced?”

“Yes...”

Hearing this, Bolton was puzzled. If that was the case, that Kid's secret should have been obtained after drifting, but... ..

Thinking of this, he asked again, "Ryan, has your younger brother been wearing that helmet since he was young?"

"That's not it..." Ryan shook his head and said, "He only wore it after he went to the Heavenly God Academy."

"Do you know why?" Burton's eyes lit up as he asked.

"This..." Rennes hesitated for a moment before saying, "It's said that it was because he was too handsome, causing a commotion. Later on, he was forced to put on the helmet."

"Too handsome?" Burton's eyelids twitched.

Rennes said, "My younger brother's mother has the bloodline of the Royal Night Demon family. When she reached his generation, she seemed to have a tendency to return to her ancestors. Her appearance is indeed comparable to that of the Royal Night Demon family, not to mention after she became a deity..."

"UH... is that so..." Bolton turned his head away. If he did not know that Rennes was very loyal to him, he would not have believed such a F * cking reason.

'too handsome to cause a commotion??' 'why does this saying sound so annoying??'

'it seems that Rennes doesn't know the truth...'. .

Bolton lowered his head in deep thought as he recalled the scene back then. At the Emyrean God Academy, Sylvanas had used the night domain. Before he lost consciousness, he had clearly seen that Lord's hand was aimed at that Brat's helmet.

Then, Lord Sylvanas did not seem to pursue the matter... ..

There were very few people in this world who could make that Lord change his mind... ..

Originally, Bolton did not want to pursue the matter. After all, there were too many people with secrets in this world. He did not want to touch someone who had a relationship with a big shot of that level, so as to avoid getting himself into trouble.

But that Kid's surname was also Eldia!

This made Burton have a premonition... .. ! That kid might be the biggest variable in his plan!
