

A Bunch 91

Chapter 91: 91: Your appearance can only be seen by me

The main residence of the Eldia family was located in Purple Tulip City, west of the Glorious Amethyst Star. Although none of them had reached the dragon-level yet, they had gradually become aristocrats in this city, even the castellan was very polite to the members of this family.

Besides the castellan's influence that needed the Thunder clan with high quality, the current eldest son of the Eldia family, Rene, was indeed worthy of the castellan's favor.

On the contrary, the position of Rene's bloodline was growing day by day. The bloodline that once represented the next generation of the Eldia family's patriarch, seer, seemed to be very lonely.

Seer's family had moved away from the main family very early on. They lived in a manor on the outskirts of the city. Usually, they kept their doors closed to avoid visitors. They rarely interacted with outsiders.

BoxNovel.com

Even if the younger generation of the Eldia family had some complaints about this bloodline, no one dared to come here and behave atrociously. This was because the son of the city Lord had once done this, and his end was very miserable.

It seemed that even the city lord wasn't very willing to offend the previous head of the Eldia family.

At this moment, the night sky was thick, and it was also the time for the public to rest. In the villa, Nicole was pestering her mother, who had finally returned home, to tell a story.

Nicole's mother was a pure night demon. Her looks were beautiful, and in the federation, she was the polar opposite of the star elves in terms of beauty.

"Mother, mother, I saw my brother last time. He bought a lot of things for me!" Nicole said with a silly smile.

When her eldest daughter, Sansa, heard this topic, she snorted coldly and walked out of the living room. She looked as if she would be disgusted if she heard any more news about that person.

Her younger brother, Chenye, also snorted coldly. He seemed to be very disdainful, but he did not leave. One could see that he pretended not to care, but in fact, he secretly pricked up his ears, looking extremely arrogant and cute.

Xiye's mother smiled when she saw this. "Then what did your brother Give You?"

"He bought me a big test bed and a beautiful succubus for my younger brother!"

"No! !" Chenye was so angry that her face turned red. She retorted, "It's just... It's just a little kid. There's no Succubus."

Her mother smiled and knocked on Xiaokou's head. "Don't tease your brother."

"Slightly, slightly!" Nicole made a face at Chenye.

“Childish! !”Chenye was suddenly annoyed. She packed up her codex and seemed to be ready to go upstairs to her room.

“Mother, is my brother really good-looking?”

Chenye, who was leaving with the negative energy equipment, froze and immediately slowed down. She turned around and went to get some water to drink.

“Why do you ask?”Her mother asked curiously.

“Last time at the hotel, I said I wanted to see my brother, but my father didn’t allow it. He said something terrible would happen if my brother took off his helmet. Nicole thought that it was a private hotel, not a public place. No matter how good-looking my brother was, it could still be explained if he caused a riot in a public place...”. “...”. “...”

“How can I explain?”Chen Ye, who was pretending to pour water, couldn’t help but say, “Who is so good-looking? If they cause trouble, they will... Listen to dad...”

“If you want to hear the truth, shut up and sit down!”Nicole glared at Chen Ye. Chen Ye was so angry that his eyelids twitched, but in the end, he sat down obediently.

He couldn’t leave in such a bad mood.

His mother laughed when she saw her youngest son gossiping like this.

Nicole continued, “But that’s a private place. What’s father afraid of? Afraid that your brother will be too good-looking and knock Nicole Out?”

“You Naughty Girl! !”Her mother scratched Nicole’s little nose and then smiled. “Your father did that for a reason. Your Brother’s helmet, you really can’t take it off.”

“Why, why? !”Nico shook her mother’s arm, as if she wouldn’t stop until she heard the reason.

Her mother shook her head helplessly and smiled. “Do you want to know so much?”

“Yes, yes!”Nico nodded. “We all want to know.”

Xiao Chenye snorted, but didn’t refute.

Her mother looked at her proud son and couldn’t help but smile again. Then she sighed. “Your brother is good-looking since he was young. He looks very much like your great-grandmother.”

“Great-grandmother?”Chen Ye was stunned for a moment. He had heard of this relative before. They were still alive and were part of the royal family of the Night Demon clan. Back then, his great-grandfather seemed to be an illegitimate child and was still not recognized by his great-grandmother’s family, in the end, his great-grandmother married another noble under the influence of the family.

Of course, these were all rumors spread by outsiders. His mother rarely talked about this matter.

But he had heard that his great-grandmother was known as the number one beauty of Night Demon. She was the target of all the nobles in Russia. did his elder brother look like her?

A Boy?

But it wasn't to the extent that he needed to cover his face with a helmet, right? Was he afraid of another scandal involving the Royal Family?

His elder brother was a sky god. No matter how powerful his great-grandmother's family was, how would they dare to openly do anything to a sky god?

What his mother said next shocked Chen Ye even more!

"After your elder brother became a sky god, he looked even better with the blessing of his bloodline. But actually, this is nothing. Looks are a type of talent, there's no need to hide it..."

That's right... Chen Ye agreed in his heart, so he couldn't help but ask, "Then what exactly is going on?"

"Because of one person... no..." their mother paused and sighed, "Because of a God!"

"God?" Chen Ye and Nicole were stunned. "The deity race?"

"Sort of..." their mother nodded. "She took a fancy to your brother..."

"And then..." they were stunned and thought to themselves, what reason is this? She took a fancy to my brother, so my brother must wear a helmet?

Mother: "The people of the deity academy will not allow one deity to forcefully take over another deity. Even if one is an insignificant student, the other is a deity who can challenge the deity Academy Head-on!"

"A deity who challenges the deity Academy?" Chen Ye was suddenly in disbelief. "Who is it?" After a pause, she continued, "A woman? Can she compete with the Deity Academy? How is it possible..."

Nicole said impatiently, "And then, and then!"

Chen Ye no longer tried to hide the gossipy look on his face.

"The Heavenly Gods Academy has compromised..."

His mother sighed faintly.

"You... must be joking..." Chen Ye was a little stunned, and Nicole was also in disbelief.

In the entire federation, the existence who could make the heavenly gods academy compromise was a woman. A name suddenly appeared between the two siblings!

"Looks like you've guessed who it is..." mother smiled and said, "It's good that you know it in your heart. You can't randomly call that person's name."

The two siblings nodded repeatedly. It could sense the almighty in the universe when you called its name.

"If the academy compromised, why did brother still have to start his own business? Can't he just live off a woman?" Nicole hurriedly asked.

Chen Ye: "..."

His mother: "It's not a complete compromise. The basic principle of not allowing the deity to forcibly take over the deity is still the same. However, you tacitly allowed that person to lay down a law for your brother!"

"Law?" Chen Ye was shocked. The deity race's unique talent was that the stronger the deity, the greater the influence of the law. If it was that person who laid down the law, perhaps the entire universe's elements would follow that law... ..

"Yes... What Law is it?" The two siblings immediately asked curiously.

"That..." mother sighed faintly...

... ..

Your appearance, Heaven and Earth, the universe's sky, only I can see it. Anyone who touches it will die!
!

On Mars, the entire space was instantly sealed. Even the flower spirit, a star level life form, could not move at this moment. The terrifying void energy behind seemed to be frozen, unable to advance at all!

How could this be... ? A level five Lord and an ant, how could there be such a law?

She could not believe it. This kind of law energy that could instantly freeze the void and even the Watchers could instantly freeze. In this world, the only ones who could do such a thing were the ten supreme-beings!

However, no matter how unbelievable it was, the flower spirit could only watch helplessly as that unparalleled law energy shattered the void and shattered itself!

With a crisp bang, on the top administrative planet billions of light years away, the elven empress, Isana, was leisurely drinking her starlight wine. However, in the next second, the wine cup in her hand instantly shattered, that beautiful face revealed an inconceivable paleness!

Because she saw that her subordinate had shattered in front of her with a loud bang and was instantly obliterated. There was no trace of soul fire left...

What was going on?

The Empress suddenly stood up!

Chapter 92: 92: Galaxy 2.0

A star-level life-form had been killed right in front of her, yet she hadn't sensed anything!

Azshara looked around in horror, but she still couldn't sense anything. After a long while, she slowly sat back on the throne with a gloomy face!

As a god herself, she naturally knew that the only thing that could instantly kill a life-form without even giving it the chance to copy the brain's data was the power of laws. However, this was a little too shocking. She knew the movements of her subordinates., the only possible encounter with the law is the clone that travels to distant stars to coordinate with the void.

But when a doppelganger encounters the law, the original, billions of light-years away, is obliterated. This power... . .

BoxNovel.com

Azshara's face darkened...

Who the hell is that guy?

Holy shit, this guy... There's something. . .

Ai looked at Seer, who had put on her helmet again and then collapsed, and then looked at the torn sky, completely obliterated without a trace of void power...

Fortunately, this smart, sense the danger of the moment closed the image upload function, or the power of this law, I'm afraid our family is dead! !

This guy... ? What kind of powerful thigh did he hold? Why hadn't he mentioned it before?

"It's over?" Some of the players who came back to their senses muttered?

"It's over..." the other players said with uncertainty.

Without the help of the players, without the CG, but it was over just like that?

The players were stunned. Although there was nothing, but... ! It was pretty cool, just now! ! !

"The simulation of the arrival of the big boss was so real that I almost peed my pants!" One of the players muttered.

The players nodded one after another. The atmosphere, the arrival of fear, and the huge eye gave them the feeling that the end of the world was coming.

But unfortunately... ... They did not see how the Lord killed the monster.

By the way, did anyone have a recording?

Just as everyone was in a daze, one of the players suddenly pointed at the crack in the sky and said, "Look... What's that?"

The players were stunned. Rainy Girl and Wu Gua also looked up, and then they were stunned.

The Sky did not return to its original state after being torn apart. However, it was a different scene inside the crack. There were green trees, blue skies, and white clouds. There were also some strange-looking birds flying past, the birds that come in by mistake, for reasons of gravity and air, like headless flies, flutter and then fall to the ground.

The players stared blankly at the thing that flew in like a picture scroll. They were in a daze for a long time before they realized... . .

Is This... a new map?

Xi Ye woke up about two sols later, after a long sleep of two days, woke up still feeling exhausted, a feeling of the dog to take extremely strong.

I shouldn't use some power carelessly...

Although that thing wasn't targeted at him, as a carrier, I'm still too weak... ... living off a woman isn't good after all... ...

Seer struggled to get up from the bed and called AI immediately.

"Ai, How's the base now?"

"Great Lord, please rest assured that the base is safe. Your people and Loyal Ai are waiting for you to wake up and take charge of the situation!"

Xi Ye was stunned. He had never heard such a low and humble tone from this guy before.

"Ahem... Let's report the specific situation first..." Xi Ye, who was uncertain about this guy's attitude, decided to be serious first.

"Yes, Liege!" The self-flattering tone disappeared, and it immediately became serious again. "Due to your mighty performance, the Void Rift has been forcefully erased..."

Erased? Xi Ye was stunned at first, but then she nodded. It made sense. It was not unusual to completely erase the void rift with that person's power.

"Without the support of the follow-up void energy, the Void Monsters in the northwest were killed by the players' sea of players without any backup. They obtained a tragic victory!"

"A tragic victory?" Xi Ye was stunned. "Why do you say that?"

Ai: "According to statistics, there are more than 2,000 players in dogleading's rebirth this time. The losses are the highest since the establishment of the base. And that's not the most important thing. The 2,000 players that were reborn and the 1,000 Green Titan that were injured have all been infected by the Void."

"So what if they're infected... wait a minute? Why can they still be infected after being reborn?" Xi Ye was immediately horrified.

"It's fused!" The AI said faintly, "The D ball player's high-intensity capacity has fused with the cells of the void, causing the brain to produce a memory-based simulation. Although the newly reborn players do not have the energy of the void, they have the characteristics of the void and active cells... "... ..."

"Hiss... that means..." Seer said in surprise.

"That's right... some of the Void's talents have been stolen by these players!"

Seer was stunned for a long time when he heard that. This was the first time he had heard that the Void's talents could be stolen by other races. weren't the Void Race's talents unique to them?

Just what kind of unlucky things were on this planet. Holy Sh * T... They had not been able to walk out yet, and it was unknown if it was the prosperity of all nations in the universe... ..

“There is another very important matter, my Lord!”

Xi Ye: “What Is It?”

Ai: “Although the void traces were erased, the space that was torn did not recover. It is likely that your power to destroy the void overseer was too powerful, causing that area’s basic space law domain to be erased as well!”

Xi Ye: “Uh... and then?”

Ai: “And then the other end of the spatial rift was connected to another world tens of thousands of light years away...” pausing for a moment, he continued, “A world with life!”

“What! ! !” Xi Ye sat up abruptly, but he felt as if his entire body was being torn apart. The pain made him grimace, and he quickly lay back down.

“My Liege, please don’t be agitated... there are many bone fractures in your body, and you’re severely damaged. You’ll need some time to recuperate and recover. My Liege Dabao has already volunteered to make a nutritious rhinoceros bone soup for you to restore your vitality...”

Xi Ye: “What a good choice. If he comes to make soup, I guess I’ll have to drink soup later... forget it, let’s get down to business. What’s the situation in that connected world?”

Ai: “A planet with a good ecosystem. Its gravity is five times that of planet d. the exact level of the Aborigines is unknown. According to rain girl’s dissecting of the few avian creatures that mistakenly entered Mars, they have not reached the standard of a level one creature. They can not even automatically adjust their bodies to resist the change in gravity. However, these are only a few specimens. The specific situation of that planet is still to be investigated. We can not rule out the possibility of intelligent life!”

“Then... did you protect the entrance of the crack?” Asked seer quickly.

Ai: “I’ve asked the Arcanist to cast an illusion enchantment, but Master Phil is not an expert in illusion, so he can only cast a level-5 illusion enchantment. If a creature above level-5 or a mage who is well-versed in illusion passes by, it will be easy to see the flaw!”

“Oh...” seer thought for a while and then looked up and said, “Release the news... Just Say... . The version has been updated! !”

All players please note that just now, Galaxy Online Version 2.0: New World Exploration!

As many players can see, we have opened up a new map, a new way to play, with a certain accumulation of players do not have to repeat the daily base, but can officially step into the ranks of adventurers! !

Now, we have opened up a new mission for the base!

New Mission: Map Exploration. Participating players' requirements: At Least A Level 2 lifeform with a Grade B evaluation of a certain combat specialty, and pay at least 500 points as travel insurance.

Mission content: explore and record the landscape, collect biological specimens, preferably living ones. After capturing the living creatures, seal them with a special device given by the base. The base will reward corresponding points according to the strength of the creatures you capture, no Cap!

Mission points: 1. Explore the terrain to collect the local plants, soil, ores, water quality, and other samples to meet the standards.

2. Repeat samples of living specimens will only reward players who submit specimens for the first time!

3. If you encounter intelligent life forms, please stay away from them as soon as possible. If you discover that it is a gathering place of intelligent life forms, including villages, towns, cities, etc. , do not approach it without permission. After recording the terrain remotely, immediately return to the base to report, if the information is true, the base will reward a reward of up to 5,000 points!

Serious note: the base is still developing, and the Lord is also in a weakened state. The base can not withstand a large-scale invasion. Please be careful when exploring, and do not lead unknown forces into the Martian entrance, otherwise, the base may very well suffer a devastating blow!

Chapter 93: My Grandpa's new version of the strategy!

"Are you sure this is a world without advanced industrial civilization?" Seer asked, looking at the report provided by the intelligence.

Intelligence: I don't feel the magnetic fluctuations of the signal network. There is basically no industrial waste gas in the atmosphere. The ecology is very primitive, and the elemental fluctuations are very regular. It is suspected that there is a magic net., it was speculated that there might be a low-level arcane civilization!

"Arcane civilization..." seer knocked on the table anxiously. The illusion defense of the base was made by a third-rate arcanist. If there were more than level five wizards in this place, it would be very troublesome.

Of course, from the intelligence feedback, there was no high pollution. The arcane civilization on this planet should not be too exaggerated. Don't think that only industry would have pollution., sometimes, the damage of the Arcana civilization to the planet was several times more than that of normal industries.

BoxNovel.com

However, to completely seal that space, not only seer did not have the ability, but even if he did, he was a bit reluctant to part with it. Although it was a bit dangerous, it was also an opportunity to obtain a lot of resources.

A new planet, whether it was the energy, minerals, natural specimens, or artificial labor of intelligent life, were all resources that seer desperately needed. It was obviously impossible for seer to pretend that he did not see it...

However, he had to be careful.

Since it was not an industrial civilization that possessed nuclear weapons, as long as it was done discreetly and their base was not discovered, even if the players died outside and their corpses were taken away, it should not be a big problem in a place where the signal was not developed.

Thinking of this, Seer looked at the mission content that he had released this morning. HMM... ... The problem did not seem too big, and there was nothing to add for the time being. In short, he would first explore the terrain, collect specimens, and explore the surrounding environment. Then, he would try to pry into the current civilization of this place.

Thinking of this, he said to AI, "Call rainy without melon in."

AI: "Uh... rainy without melon is temporarily unable to go online..."

Seer was stunned. "Why?"

Intelligent: "Lord, have you forgotten? Rain woman no melon was originally from the military blockade to escape online, although the virus crisis solved, but will certainly be captured back to drink tea."

Seer:" ..."

Xi Ye's side in hesitation, the forum has been in full swing, sitting firmly on the base of Grandpa Lu how can miss the opportunity to update the major version, hurriedly began his second part-time job: Writing Guide!

The title of the post was: heavyweight information, Xing Hai version 2.0 update

"Hello, everyone. I'm Your Beloved Grandpa Lu. Okay, the missing person has returned. Grandpa Lu has come to report the latest progress of the game for everyone."

"First, let's talk about my own disappearance. It's like this. A few days ago, My Grandpa was forced by a bunch of teammates to break into the dungeon with Wu. Because there was no temporary return point in the dungeon, we were trapped in there for a few days in a row! "My grandfather once again suggested that the studio develop a temporary log-off function. This is too f * cking ridiculous!"

"This time, we will mainly talk about the update of the version. Regarding the details of my previous Dungeon Adventure, my grandfather will specially open a post to talk about it in detail two days later. However, I heard that the dungeon was temporarily closed because it involved a plague incident in real life. I heard that it was warned by the relevant departments, so I reckon that no one will ever see that dungeon again in the future. Therefore, we will not talk about it today. Now, let's get to the main topic."

"First of all, due to the sudden appearance of the epic-level invasion of the void... ... "Although I didn't see anything in the base, I heard from the Titan players that the incident boss was very powerful and the atmosphere was excellent. I'm looking forward to meeting it in the future."

"Anyway, because of the big event, a group of players who had not signed a contract were forced to go offline last time, which caused a lot of complaints recently. Regarding the players who were forced to go offline last time, please don't be anxious. In this game's version 2.0 update, I heard that because a large number of players will leave the novice village, the game channel will be temporarily relaxed. Moreover, the system will give priority to the players who have already been queued up. Please don't be so hasty, those players who say that they don't care about this game anymore. Give those children who are still waiting in line a chance to thank you."

"Now, let's talk about the content of the update. The main content is about the spatial rift left behind after the epic incident. The other end of the rift is connected to another unknown world!"

"Yes, everyone should have thought of that. It's about us releasing a new map!"

"Now, the content released by the base is mainly about exploring the new world. I've looked at the initial mission content. The main content is to explore the topography and collect the specimens of the topography. Of course, it also includes the specimens of living creatures. Each collection can be rewarded with different points in the base, but there is no reward for duplicate specimens. In other words..." . . The earlier the player goes out, the better off they are. The first batch of players can dig up a handful of dirt and get a bunch of points. I don't feel very friendly to the newcomers, especially to elven players like me!"

"Oh, right, you didn't hear wrong. The New World Exploration has a level requirement. It requires the lowest level 2 life form and Green Titan players to have a certain battle skill specialization that is beyond B grade. The Elven players, on the other hand, require a low transformation and a certain battle skill specialization that is beyond C grade. It sounds like the elven players have the upper hand, but that is not the case. In the early days of the Elven players, the light transformation capital calculated monthly. As long as the Green Titan players are willing, they can basically graduate from B grade in two weeks. The top 100 Green Titan players in the base are all beyond B grade in their normal specialization. There are a few big shots who have more than one specialization!"

"Of course, for the Elven players who have already reached the level of shapeshifting, this mission is a good opportunity to earn a lot of points. Although everyone is still registering to queue up and have not officially entered that world, but in terms of individual attributes, the elves of the agility unit have an incomparable advantage in collecting specimens, including hunting live specimens. The biggest advantage should be the wind demon. After all, it is the only flying unit in the base. Exploring the terrain is simply too compatible!"

"Finally, let's talk about the future of this new version. Grandpa Lu feels that the development of this new version might be an accelerated version of the development of the base. The gap between the players will slowly widen with the release of this new version because he heard from the system that there might be intelligent life on this planet? "What does this mean? It means the collision of civilizations

"New population, new resources. Will the players plunder the population in the later stages and return to Mars to help with farming and mining? Then, how will the population that the players plunder be distributed? How will the Resources Commission and points be counted? Also, will we need to establish new bases in that world? Because civilizations definitely have their own cities. Then, if we conquer these villages, towns, and even large cities in the later stages, how will we distribute them? Would there be private territory for players? These are the contents that Grandpa is looking forward to very much!"

“Of course...”. “... This is just Grandpa’s wild guess. As for the specific content of the game, it will be up to the studio to decide. After all, Grandpa is only a player and not a dog planner. Since there isn’t much information, this episode will end here for now. If you have any questions, feel free to ask in the comments section. Grandpa will tell you everything. Thank you for your support. Coins, likes, and collections, three in a row. Thank you!”

[F * ck, the missing person has finally returned. It’s good to have such explosive news as soon as they return. Let’s not talk about it anymore, let’s go home and queue up. As for coins... next time, I’ll definitely give them to you next time!]

[F * ck, the new map has been opened, but I haven’t been able to queue up. Could This be the legendary lifetime series?]

[boss, according to what you said, is it better to choose the elves or the Titans?]

[what about the developer? Doesn’t the developer have the right to explore?]

[f * ck, there won’t be anything left to eat once I’m in the queue. What’s there to queue for? It’s a trash game. It’s uninstalled.]

[I’ve memorized the ID above. Please move your seat quickly and don’t block my way. Thank you. I’ll queue for the seventh seat behind you.]

[grandpa, has that lump of soap in the base transformed? What exactly will it turn into? I’m very curious. I’ll wait online. Does anyone know the player’s ID?]

Chapter 94: 94: the three bosses of the base!

“UGH, this is a garbage game. Are you trying to trick me again? Relax the channel? I don’t believe you. If I take one more look at your game, I, MA, will...”

“Player No. 13468: Xu Xiangnan Grass Snake. You have been given priority to enter the game. Do you want to enter the game?”

“Enter, enter, enter!” Someone nodded his head repeatedly!

After a familiar yet unfamiliar feeling of distortion, someone returned to the game scene that had previously amazed him.

BoxNovel.com

Even though it wasn’t his first time seeing it, he still felt that it was extremely stunning. This game scene was really out of the market. He had seen it once before when he went back to play [Titan] , which was produced by rainstorm, and he felt that the scene was like paper, he could not play anymore.

This time, he would not make the same mistake as the last time. Therefore, he lifted his feet and walked out of the Green Titan Operating Theater, preparing to line up for an instant draw!

“Hey, brother, looking at your dignified appearance and extraordinary bearing, do you want to consider joining our developer Team?”

“Developer?” A certain someone Ma was stunned, and then he shook his head repeatedly. “I can’t. The Internet said that the developer team spent all day in their third year of high school. I don’t like to self-abuse that much.”

“Prejudice!” The bespectacled youth immediately said with a straight face, “This is prejudice. Brother, you must have read that Heartless Grandpa Lu’s post to think so, right?”

“UH... could it be that what he wrote was not true?”

“Of course not!” The developer youth said seriously.

“But... but I heard that the officials have already expressed their thanks to his post...”

“That’s only because his posts are very popular and have a promotional effect. That’s why the officials are thanking him. But that doesn’t mean that he doesn’t have a prejudice against our profession!”

MA: “Then... developers don’t actually have to do the questions?”

“We still have to do it, but it’s not as exaggerated as that kid from the Lu family said. Doing the questions is just a course that developers apply for, but those are the basics. We developers tend to walk the high-end path in the later stages of the game. We’re either great sages, arcane mages, or mecha operators. Which one of them isn’t more high-end than these brick-moving green-skinned beasts?” “The reason why I arranged for you to learn the basic knowledge was to reflect the reality of the game. Think about it. If you were sitting in a mech and were not familiar with the mechanics, you would just press a button and move the joystick. How would that be different from a normal arcade game?”

“This...” someone MA was dumbfounded. He felt that what the other party said made sense. He hesitated and said, “But... my science results were very poor. Back then, I only scored 200 points in the college entrance examination.”

“That’s not important. We have the most scientific teaching method here. We can guarantee that you will instantly enter a state of being addicted to the Sea of knowledge. Moreover, the various kinds of knowledge that we have here are all made-up courses that the workshops found professional professors to teach. They are completely in line with reality. After you learn them, you can use them outside. This is basically equivalent to free training. Do you know how high the fees for a computer training course are in those training institutions outside? The green bird of Peking University now costs 80,000 federal dollars per course!”

“Er... But... I’m here to play games...”

“Who isn’t?” The young man adjusted his glasses and said, “This kind of opportunity to learn something and experience the joy of the game, do you think you can get it anywhere? Brother, what line of work do you do in real life?”

“Moving bricks...”

“That’s right. Look at you moving bricks in real life. When you come to the game, you still have to move bricks. What’s the point? Don’t you want to experience the feeling of sitting in an office?”

"I don't want to..." Ma shook his head. "Those who sit in an office for a month earn less than half of what I earn, and they also tend to go bald..."

"That's not a question of how much you earn, but a question of how you live. Classmate, don't be blinded by money. If a person wants to improve, he still has to learn. Moving bricks is all he can do in his lifetime, but what about learning? "It has a more diversified development. Don't you want to become a high-end mage or a high-end mecha operator?"

"This..." Ma hesitated slightly, he felt that what the other party said made sense. Actually, he was quite interested in the mage profession, and he was full of yearning for mecha operators. When he was young, he loved watching the old version of Gundam the most. In Marvel, he liked Iron Man more than Hulk.

Under his own needs and the other party's incessant persuasion, someone finally decided to go over and take a look at the detailed contents of the developers...

A few old players at the side shook their heads when they saw this. "See? That group of unscrupulous developers are trying to trick the rookies again..."

"That's right, that's right. They're too unscrupulous..."

"By the way, why don't you expose them when you're criticizing them in secret?" A Green Titan rookie who had just arrived two days ago asked weakly.

"Expose what? You're new, right? Don't you know how bad these guys are? can honest people like us afford to offend them? The person behind them is a serious dog mastermind. Can they afford to offend us?"

"Dog Mastermind? Who Is It? ..."the new player asked curiously.

"F * ck, you don't even know rainy girl and Big Boss Wu Gua? Newbie, you're really lucky to have met a kind-hearted me. It's fate that we met. Today, I'll teach you about the three big bosses that we can't afford to offend in our base!"

"Oh?"The new player was stunned, then, with a look of being taught, he said, "That's a good relationship. Brother, tell me about it..." "..."after a pause, he said embarrassedly, "I'm just a newbie. I have nothing to thank you for. How about this, brother, give me your address, and I'll send you a box of local specialties?"

"You're Welcome?"The old player smiled happily when he heard that and became motivated, he grinned and said, "It's also to educate you about the minefield so that you won't be wronged in the future. First of all, let me tell you about the background of these dog developers: Rainy Girl has no melon. Rumor has it that she has been accepted into the game studio and holds the power of the title in her hands. If you don't want to lose your account, you'd better not offend her!"

"D * mn, so brazen? I'm afraid she's not the biological daughter of the game creation team, right?"The new player was speechless.

"Who knows..."the old player curled his lips.

"What else?"The new player quickly asked.

“The second is the first flower spirit in the base, commonly known as the dog emperor. He’s a professional dog trainer for the elves. Now, he’s helping the Lord temporarily manage all the hatched dogs in the base. He’s also a big shot. If you provoke him, he can hint those dead dogs to eat up your house. Let me tell you, the Lord won’t Mend Your House if it’s gone. Without your dorm, you can only sleep on the grass outside when you log off. When you wake up, there might even be a pile of cow shit next to you!”

“D * mn... So Awesome?”The new player who had just received the dormitory was stunned. “What kind of dog is that? It’s so powerful? It even came to chew on a house?”

“I don’t know. The Lord said it’s a star swallowing dog, but we see that it’s an enhanced version of a Husky. Sigh... it’s so F * cking F * cked up!”

“Then... What about the third one?”The player asked again.

Speaking of the third one, the old player looked around vigilantly. Then, he lowered his voice and said, “You should have heard of the third one. It’s the most popular brother soap in our base!”

“It?”The new player was stunned for a moment and said in a daze, “Is it... very powerful?”

Brother soap was very popular in the game column. The posts that were concerned about what it transformed into had almost exceeded 10,000!

The old player said, “Many of you rookies must have heard of this guy from Grandpa Lu’s posts. Many rookies are very curious and come to tease him. But in fact, that guy’s temper is not very good. He often takes revenge on those players who point fingers at him!”

“How?”The new player asked curiously.

“That guy has a special talent. He can secrete a kind of slime. Once it is applied on your body, you will immediately become like him!”

“Also become soap? ?”The new player said in horror.

“That’s not it...”. “But it’s not that far off!”The old player thought of something and said with a face full of disgust, “Once you are covered in that mucus, you will be as slippery as it is. You Won’t be able to stand firmly, and you won’t be able to grab anything. You can only learn how to skate on the ground like it. That day, more than a dozen hulks skidded around in the desert. You Don’t know how painful that scene was. They begged for more than ten hours before they let that big shot take away the mucus. From then on, no one in the base dared to offend that guy.”

“Hiss...”the new player took a deep breath and thought, “There’s such a heaven-defying skill??”

“Then... can’t we prevent it in advance?”

“How do we prevent it?”The old player rolled his eyes and said, “That guy comes and goes like a ghost. It can get in anywhere. Even our sealed dormitory can get in through the cracks of the door bit by bit. It’s simply a weirdo. So, stay away from that big shot in the future.”

New player: “Oh...”

Just when he wanted to ask again, suddenly, the system notification: "The new map teleportation is open. Please gather at the map entrance as soon as possible. Friendly Reminder: this map can only be teleported once a day. The time is 12 noon. Please arrange the time properly. Thank you!"

"Aiyo... It's time..." the old player who was originally gossiping became excited when he heard the notification. He quickly said, "Then, brother, I won't accompany you. Play by yourself. I'll send you the address later."

New player: "Uh... brother, wait a minute. That... are we new players really unable to go to the new map?"

"What are you thinking about?" "New players should just obediently carry bricks. Don't think of nothing. I advise you to hurry up and work to earn points. Don't wait until there are more people later. You Won't be able to apply for training courses even if you have money. Then, you'll be further and further away from the new map. That's all I have to say. Take care of yourself, new players. You still have a long way to go..." "..."

"Hey, Elven lady over there, do you want to team up? The points are 30-70, Me 30-70, you 70. Hey, don't go, how about 20-80..."

Chapter 95: 95: "This should be an elite species!"!

The opening of the new map naturally caused a wave of excitement. The players who could go were so excited that they flew into the sky. The players who could not go tried their best to pass the training. However, there were often some things that could not be done as quickly as possible, many players in the base fell into a cycle where the more they tried, the more they failed to meet the standards.

Pu Yunchuan, as an old player who had reached grade B in both his spear and fighting specialties in the early days, could not help but secretly despise those dregs who wailed and begged to pass the strategies on the Internet. They were a bunch of weaklings.

The map had been open for ten days, and the surrounding terrain had almost been explored. At the entrance, there was obviously a deep mountain forest, and the terrain was very complicated, there were also things like thorn vines with long spikes everywhere. Of course, spikes of this level were not a big problem for these rough-skinned Titans, but there were too many of them, many mountain paths were blocked, so they had to carry a short knife to open a path at any time.

As they could not destroy the ecosystem, the system forbade them from using fire. In order not to be discovered by intelligent life forms, the wind demon players could not fly at high altitudes. This greatly disappointed the wind demon players who had thought that they could make a huge profit.

BoxNovel.com

After thinking about it, it made sense. It was too shameless to be able to fly in this kind of exploration work. However, even so, the ELF players still had an advantage over them.

As agile units, they were petite and could pass through a large number of complex terrain. Collecting specimens was naturally much more convenient than the cumbersome green titans, especially when it came to hunting for living creatures, rangers and wind demons had an absolute advantage.

This was something that the three-meter-tall rough men were often unable to do. For example, they could catch some flying insects, birds, and beasts, especially the last time when Pu Yunchuan had a rare encounter with a giant python. Just as he was about to capture it alive., in the end, not only was that guy slippery, he also ran extremely fast. The most important thing was that the terrain was too complicated, and he could not pass many of the terrain. He could only watch as the points that he had obtained slipped away. In the end, he benefited from a secretly spying wind demon., it was said that the snake had been exchanged for a full 200 points!

That would take at least five days to move the bricks! !

Pu Yunchuan held his breath at the thought of this. The most important thing was that he could not blame the other party. The other party had just stood by the side and waited for him to make sure that he could not capture it before making a move. Before making a move, he had even politely asked him about it., he didn't even have the slightest bit of temper.

He suddenly felt that sometimes it wasn't a good thing for a man to be too fierce... ..

Therefore, he decided to walk further away today. Even though the AI had warned him that it might be dangerous if he walked further away and it would be more troublesome to return to the teleportation point, Pu Yunchuan didn't care. He had just fired his boss two days ago. The worst thing right now was time. It wasn't a problem for him to stay in the game for two or three days. After all, there was a special drink for warhorses...

Even if he saw some prey that he couldn't catch after he had gone far away, at least it wouldn't benefit others. His heart would feel better. Seeing those elves showing off every day made him very annoyed, right now, many people in the outer circle of the new map were fighting to team up with the elves. Not only were they doing dirty and tiring work, but they were also splitting the profits in a humiliating way. In his opinion, they were simply embarrassing the Green Titan players., these guys really had no moral integrity at all!

Although the income from doing that would indeed be higher than doing it alone, as one of the top five players of the Green Titan clan, he definitely could not compromise because of this!

For today's trip, Pu Yunchuan could be said to have made ample preparations. Not only did he fire the boss, but he also told his mother in advance that he was going abroad for business. There was no external environment that would disturb him. In the game, he also hardened his heart, he exchanged all his points for equipment!

Other than the long spear that was given to him during the epic event, Pu Yunchuan also spent his points to buy a pair of gloves and a set of high-quality leather armor... .. ! The name was high-quality leather armor, but it was actually made from the star rhinoceros skin used for cooking. That Dog Sh * t black-hearted Lord even wanted to sell them a set of it for 1,000 points. It was practically the reincarnation of Zhou Pi Pi Pi!

Thinking of this, he used his short knife to slash at the surrounding thorny vines while cursing and despising the dog-like scheme of this game. In his opinion, this method of exploiting players was extremely hateful, especially since the broken knife in his hand cost 200 points, he could not help but want to curse.

As for why he did not curse the Lord? What was there to curse about an NPC? Wasn't it just a puppet plotted by a dog?

Suddenly, just as he was cursing, he heard something cry out. Pu Yunchuan's body froze, and he immediately tightened his muscles as he looked around vigilantly.

The voice was very soft, and it disappeared in an instant. However, he still keenly caught that it seemed to be... .. a human voice... ..

It was a little like a frightened child, but it was blocked in the end!

Pu Yunchuan secretly put on his metal gloves. It was obviously not suitable to use the spear on his back in this narrow terrain. He was secretly glad that he had learned two courses in weapons specialization.

As he approached the place where the voice came from, a person walked out of the place that seemed to be covered with thorns.

Pu Yunchuan was stunned for a moment. It was really a person...

This coincidence did not occur to him. Ai had previously said to stay away from intelligent life forms to avoid being discovered. However, if they were discovered, they would try their best to kill all the witnesses., if the conditions allowed, they could capture the witnesses. If they could capture an intelligent life form, their points would be guaranteed to be 5,000!

This was a big deal!

Pu Yunchuan was a little excited, but he was also a little nervous. Ai had also said that if the witness escaped, his points would be deducted by 1,000 points!

Therefore, he had to determine if this guy in front of him was within the range that he could capture alive.

After carefully observing the other party, this guy was indeed a model of a human. He was tall and had three-dimensional facial features. He had the characteristics of a westerner, but his skin was a healthy bronze color. His strong muscles were clearly well-trained, however, it was obvious that something had happened to him. His entire body was covered in wounds. There were countless small wounds, and two large wounds were tied with coarse cloth strips and some inexplicable green herbs.

And he was an NPC with low health?

Pu Yunchuan smiled as if it was a matter of course. If that was the case, then he was even more confident. It seemed that he had a chance to get back the capital of the leather armor in one GO!

With this thought in mind, he stretched his muscles and took a step forward. His perfect and smooth muscles did not make Pu Yunchuan, who was more than three meters tall, look bloated. He gave off a feeling of full strength!

The strong man opposite him looked at Pu Yunchuan with an extremely ugly expression. His two-meter-tall and muscular body was already considered outstanding among his peers, however, compared to the burly man, he was like a good-looking potato that had encountered a pumpkin.

Moreover, he also noticed that this mountain-like fellow's footsteps were abnormally light. It seemed that he had found a balance between strength and agility. It was definitely not something that an ordinary fat orc could compare to!

This should be an elite species!

"Behind us... are women and children who don't have the ability to fight..."the Brawny man spoke in a rough beast language. "Let's... fight outside, how about it?"

He seemed to have already determined that this green fellow was a species of the beast race. Although he had never seen this species before, he knew that in the Beast tribe., most of the Orc warriors in the powerful tribes had some warrior dignity. If they were lucky enough to meet such a tribe, even if they died in battle, the women and children behind them might still have a chance of survival!

The guy in front of him had complete equipment. It seemed like he was a high-level species born in a large tribe. He prayed in his heart that this guy had the basic moral integrity of a warrior.

Pu Yun Chuan naturally could not understand the other party's words. Of course, even if he could understand, he would definitely not pay attention to the other party's suggestion. What a joke. If you have scruples, wouldn't it be easier for you to handle me? As for moral integrity? Do players have that kind of thing?

"Looks like it's a shameless beast!"Seeing the other party's indifference, Rob fiercely spat and slowly picked up the longsword in his hand. Actually, using a longsword in this terrain was obviously not suitable, but with the other party's size., it was clearly not something that the dagger at his waist could kill!

Since the other party was a beast that did not have the slightest bit of warrior glory, then this time, he would not lose even if he died!

At the thought of this, Rob took a deep breath and pushed the remaining energy in his body to the limit. The muscles in his arms that were holding the sword exploded with earthworm-like blue veins. His body that was originally covered in wounds suddenly burst out with a powerful aura that seemed to be able to rip tigers and leopards apart. After letting out a low roar, he swiftly rushed towards his opponent...

Chapter 96: Introduction!

To be honest, the Rubik's Cube's mood was very complicated. For a moment, it didn't know what to say. After thinking for a while, it decided to show everyone the Rubik's Cube's writing process.

The Rubik's Cube's starting point was actually not bad. Other than the two books that hadn't been signed at the beginning, the first novel that had been signed by the game editor's pointer was published in Sanjiang (of course, that was another novel on the Rubik's Cube's main account) , the first order had been 900, and the subsequent updates had all been ordered at 3000. It had even been posted on a large block of tweets. For a newbie, this was already a pretty good result.

Originally, Rubik's Cube should have continued to work hard to solidify its foundation and slowly build up the reputation of the audience, but... .. At that time, Rubik's Cube's state of mind was a little off. The reason was that another big shot had gone to the city to write a book at the same time, and had received a first order of 6000-7000. At that time, I was so envious of Rubik's cube that I instantly felt that my subscription wasn't a good feeling. With the thought that he could do it, the Rubik's Cube also went to other categories to open a few new books ... The result was terrible. Apart from being impatient, forgetting one's original intention was also a big key.

A year later, the Rubik's Cube used this sub-account that had been built from the beginning. It decided to calm down and start over again. It thought to itself that no matter how bad the results were this time, it had to persist in writing and use it to temper its writing, therefore, the Rubik's Cube opened a doujinshi novel of death in the two-dimensional column. This novel could be said to be the biggest blow to the Rubik's Cube ever since it had written a book.

BoxNovel.com

After signing the contract, it had written 190,000 words, but it had yet to test the waters. It went to ask the editor, but she actually forgot about me... .. The last sentence was simply, 'it's quite difficult to test the waters with this number of words. Why Don't I give you a recommendation on the shelves, and you can just go on the shelves.'

Then, the Rubik's Cube barely made it onto the shelves with a recommendation. It had a collection of more than 1,800, and from then on, death had never received another recommendation. It was obvious that the editor had already given up on that book, to be honest, I had suffered a huge blow at that time. I had just made up my mind to do this. Was the heavens playing with me?

However, the Rubik's Cube still persevered. Death's average subscription was only a little over 200. The Rubik's Cube had been writing until now. Even though the new book's Earth players seemed to be doing quite well, the Rubik's Cube still wasn't prepared to give up on that novel, many people were urging me, the eunuch, to focus on writing the Earth players. However, the Rubik's Cube felt that since it had agreed to fulfill the basic principles of an author, it had to fulfill them to the end, over the past few days, Death God's book had indeed been temporarily suspended for two days due to the new book being released and the need to prepare the manuscript. However, the Rubik's Cube guaranteed that the book wouldn't be a eunuch, nor would it be sloppy. Even if it was written a little slower, with one update per day.., the Rubik's Cube would not give up on it.

Chapter 97: 96: Player's private power system is open (first order, monthly ticket)

Hello, Welcome Back Player [Wind Whisper], please hand in the rewards from this trip.

Scanning results...

Exploration area 1,600 square meters, slope terrain, no obvious features, soil repeat, plant samples repeat, new type of ore found, no special energy is normal metal ore detected, reward points 50, ...

There were two living specimens, which belonged to the arthropod category. They were small in size and were new species. The reward was 20 points...

"Damn, you've been wandering around for a long time, and you've already caught two bugs?" The player who had queued up to submit the samples laughed.

BoxNovel.com

The surrounding players immediately burst into laughter. The player named Whisper's face turned red and he said angrily, "Then... then what did you get?"

The Elf player took out his spatial cage and smiled smugly. Everyone looked over and saw that after the spatial cage was enlarged, there was an unknown species that was covered in black and purple phosphorescent armor. It was about the size of a wolf dog, its head shape was a little like a mouse, and it bared its teeth and looked a little fierce. At a glance, you could tell that it was not a kind creature, and its bark was extremely sharp

"We have detected a new medium-and small-sized species, and the preliminary detection indicates that it belongs to the chordate phylum, Mammalian class, and phosphorescent order. It has a quality close to that of a level one life form. You can exchange it for 1,000 points. Do you want to exchange it?"

"Damn, 1,000 points?" The people around immediately had envious looks on their faces. Some elf players were even slightly surprised. Right now, it was probably the highest living specimen, right?

Two days ago, the highest record was the snake-like creature that the Ranger King Goudan had caught. He had exchanged it for 900 points, but he did not expect it to be broken so quickly. As expected of the elven big boss, Tsk Tsk... "...". Many of the Green Titans said with envy.

Most of the Heavy Green Titans' harvest was actually similar to that of the bug-catching fellow. Every day, they mainly earned points by exploring the terrain and collecting terrain specimens. If they were lucky, they would catch two small-sized creatures, if they were unlucky, they would really get nothing. This was not their fault. There were too many narrow terrains on this mountain. Sometimes, when they saw any animals that they wanted to catch, they would return empty-handed due to the terrain.

On the contrary, the elven players had too much of an advantage in hunting. In addition, the number of elven players in their shapeshifting form was few and the competition was small. Most of the Elven players simply divided up their hunting areas. Every time they went out, their harvests would be at least 500 points a day, they simply disdained to compete with the Green Titan for such small profits from surveying the terrain.

This also led to the recent trend of partnering with the elves. The status of the Green Titan plummeted, and a large number of lickers appeared for the sake of points.

Of course, there were also quite a number of Titan players who disdained to beg others. They honestly surveyed the terrain and earned less. They also earned more than 100 points a day, which was much higher than moving bricks.

Amidst the praise of the players., the Green Elf smiled proudly and said, "This thing is not easy to catch. I dug it out when I was digging the ore samples this morning. It was very fierce. With one claw, it dug a big hole in my chest. Digging those rock mines was like digging tofu. I spent a lot of effort to catch it."

Player A: "Awesome, Awesome!"

Player B: "A big shot is a big shot. This wave is equivalent to our earnings for a few days. Does the big shot need a pendant? Bring me along for a wave. I don't mind doing all the dirty work. I'll just split the pay 30-70."

Player C: "D * mn, you want to split the pay 30-70 with the big shot? Big Shot, form a team with me. The pay is 20-80. It would be convenient for you to set up a trap and move some large rocks with us, wouldn't it?"

Looking at the bunch of rainbow-blowing farts, some of the old Titan players not only shook their heads secretly. Back then, when they, the Titans, were running freely outside, those elf balls could only tremble in the base. Now that their status had reversed so quickly... They were really the gods of the first generation... ..

They did not know how long this situation would continue...

"That... excuse me..."

Just as everyone was praising the elf, a low voice suddenly sounded, causing the smug player to be stunned. Who was so arrogant? Everyone was lining up, why should I give way to you?

However, when he turned around, he was stunned. He saw that behind the Talking Titan, there were two large spatial cages with over ten people inside...

"People? ? ?"

The players were stunned. "What the hell, where did they come from?"

"Intelligent life, primate eyes, humanoid creatures detected. Players, please report the source of the sample!"

The person who came was Pu Yunchuan. Looking at the stunned gazes of everyone, Pu Yunchuan humbly nodded his head. "I just ran a little far and caught them in a thorny forest."

"Did they escape?"

"I don't think so...". "I found them outside a narrow cave. After checking, there was no way out. They should have all been captured. However, I didn't understand what they were saying, so I don't know why they were there."

"Very good. Your discovery is of great significance to the exploration of the New World. The specific reward will be notified to you immediately after consulting the Lord. Please hand over the samples!"

"Okay, okay!" Pu Yunchuan nodded repeatedly. His beaming expression made the surrounding players jealous. Even the elven players could not help but feel a little unbalanced.

Most of them were like, "F * ck...". "...". "How could this B * Stard's luck be so good?" "No, I have to run a little further next time."

Because the terrain of the mountain forest was complicated, many people were afraid that they would be trapped inside and unable to return to the city. If they were to die outside, it would not be worth it. After all, the death penalty in this game was too severe.

Now that they thought about it, they were still too conservative. As the saying went, the braver one died from overeating, the braver one died from starvation. Just look at him. This time, he would earn at least a few thousand yuan.

“What, you caught an intelligent creature? Did You Miss Anything?” Xi Ye was also worried about the same question the moment he received the news.

Ai: “The player Said No...”

Xi Ye: “...”

The base did not equip every player with an AI device, so it seemed like it was up to the player to decide for himself... ..

It was not that he did not want to equip the players with an intelligent device, but it would be useless even if he did. This new world seemed to be very close, but it was actually millions of light years away. The space in the middle had been completely erased, the signal that caused the intelligent device could not be transmitted over unless the intelligent device was installed into a specific device and carried around with it. However, if this was the case, the base would not have any intelligent operation.

If he wanted intelligence to operate in that world, he needed to set up a signal station there. This was also the reason why seer encouraged players to explore the terrain.

If there were no other intelligent life forces nearby, he would have planned to find a place to set up a new signal station in the next few days. However, he had not expected to encounter one so soon.

“How’s the biological strength?” Seer asked.

AI replied, “There’s a single life-form that has the strength of a level one life-form. The rest are level zero. Based on the initial detection, this world is suspected to have a system that trains life-forms.”

“Level zero... Level One...” Xi ye pondered for a moment before asking, “Have you done any hypnosis? Can you steal information from the memories?”

Ai replied, “Teacher Ferrier is currently casting hypnosis. His progress is good. He will be able to read all the memories of the other party in ten minutes. Please wait patiently, Lord.”

“Good good...” night repeatedly nodded.

Ai: “Lord, because we were afraid that the players would be too aggressive, we did not set the reward for capturing the intelligent creature. How should we reward that player now?”

“Reward...” the seer mused. “Well... you make an announcement, say so...”

“Notice, as player [g] has captured an intelligent creature and provided a large amount of new world information to the base, the Lord has specially rewarded 10,000 points and a piece of handcrafted equipment exclusive to the blacksmith shop! In addition, the captured intelligent creature players can also be used as their own personal slaves. The players have the power of life and death over them. They can act as laborers or private armed forces of the players. It is suggested that a simple modification operation be carried out. The catalog of the modification operation players can come to the main base to see the detailed introduction!”

“Damn, 10,000 points and you are giving me top-quality equipment? You have reached the sky in one step, brother!”

“That is not important. You actually have underlings. F * ck, does that mean that the players can recruit underlings through this method in the future?” “That’s great. I want to capture 100 strong men to help me carry bricks. I want to experience the feeling of a contractor!”

“TSK, you’re so useless. If I Were you, I would train a Knight Legion to conquer the New World!”

“You? Train a Knight Legion? I haven’t even gotten a full set of equipment yet...”

“Bastard! Don’t bully the poor!”

While the players were quarreling, Seer received the memory image of the Otherworld Man...

Chapter 98: 97: Memories from another world!

My name is Rob. Duca OSIA, is a level three bronze knight conferred by the Steel Arms Empire. Currently, he works for the old Duke of the southern province of Morondor, Phil. Roosevelt’s subordinate!

Two years ago, he was seconded by the old Duke to his fourth son, Phil. Baron Troth’s flower town as the head knight.

This treatment was considered a better distribution for a commoner knight who did not have any background. Most of his contemporaries had died in the battle against the orcs when they were serving in the army, the few who survived were not as lucky as him and were recommended to the Knight Academy by Shangguan.

After receiving special secret skills training in the Academy, Rob spent three years to become a regular bronze knight. After graduation, he decisively chose to pledge his loyalty to the Roosevelt Force where Shangguan was originally recommended to him, after two years of training, he finally got such a job.

BoxNovel.com

This job might not be a desirable place for many hot-blooded young people who had just joined the army. After all, although being a knight-in-chief for the descendants of the nobles was free, it was difficult for them to rise again.

However, Rob was very satisfied. He had joined the army at the age of 14 and had been in the army for nearly ten years. His hot-bloodedness as a pioneer had long been worn away. Those who had not experienced war would not understand how terrifying orcs were.

The Orcs were the collective name of a foreign race. In fact, there were many classifications, such as the vicious gnolls and the giant ogres. However, to humans, the collective name was a race that evolved from wild beasts.

In the stories of many bards, there were stories of warriors defeating the leader of a certain tribe of orcs. However, most of them were made up. The physique of humans was naturally inferior to that of the orcs, even for a bronze-level rank 3 knight like him who had undergone secret training, it was very difficult for him to defeat an ogre head-on.

It was difficult for an ordinary soldier to face a goblin who was called a scumbag race by the orcs. A soldier who could fight a gnoll alone was considered an incredible soldier in the army. However, when facing an ogre who was more than three meters tall., it usually required a team of twenty fully armed soldiers to have a chance to take him down.

Ever since the founding of the First Emperor, Cavan. Since the founding of Augustus, the Steel Warrior Empire had gone through more than 740 years and still did not have the ability to fight the orcs in the wild, even the fourth generation King Grom, who had the strongest military achievements in the past, was unable to win a head-on battle with the orcs of the large tribes in the wild!

Indeed, the empire had quite a generous reward for land development. Many people could even rely on this to rise to the top and step into the ranks of the nobles with fiefdoms from then on. However, Rob did not want to give it a try, having experienced war, he knew very well how small the probability was. Every year, thousands of knights would graduate from the Knight Academy and go to the north to expand their territory. What was the result?

It was unlikely that a noble would be born in two or three years. Instead of fighting for a tiny hope, it was better to retreat and find a job that could provide for his old age.

He was very satisfied with his current job. Flower town was a high-quality town in the inner circle of the force in the Majestic City of Molundo. The town was not big, but it had a high profit with its unique perfume made of purple tulip flowers, although the Lord was a little stupid and almost did not know how to manage it, fortunately, the town was full of experienced flower farmers who knew how to best cultivate the most profitable projects in the town, the town's perfume workshop and merchants were ready-made, so the Duke's silly son only needed to sit and collect money!

The tax was high, so the lord naturally treated his subordinates well. At least he knew not to criticize his subordinates, which made Rob very satisfied.

His current savings were enough to buy a small house in a big city, but he didn't want to do that. The environment here was good, so he actually planned to settle down here and marry a wife who had studied and was a little educated, he would buy a small manor, and when he was old and could not carry a sword, he would quit his job and live the life of a small landlord.

Thinking about it, it was about time for him to live this life...

So recently, he had been continuously pursuing Miss Annie, who was in charge of imparting knowledge in the local church!

The other party's family was in the spice business, and their family was relatively well-off. Therefore, they had read some books when they were young, and were invited by the old nuns of the church to teach the children in the small town.

Girls who had read books naturally had higher standards than girls from other families. They were not very satisfied with the blacksmiths, gardeners, or merchants that their parents knew, so they stayed single until they were nineteen years old.

The moment Rob learned about her information, he knew that his wife had already been booked. This girl was his ideal model. As for whether he could woo her, Rob was not worried. A businesswoman.., a knight could be said to be the highest threshold she could marry!

Not to mention a knight like him...

Rob was not very handsome, but he could be considered valiant. His two-meter-tall tall and sturdy figure was in line with many young ladies' fantasies of a hero Knight.

It was a bright and beautiful afternoon. He successfully invited her to have afternoon tea. Before he came, he had prepared for a long time. He deliberately found an excellent tailor and tailor-made a fitted shirt for himself, he perfectly displayed the advantage of his burly and smooth figure.

Sure enough, during the afternoon's conversation, Anne would steal a glance at his strong chest muscles from time to time. Rob smiled slightly, feeling more and more confident that he could take Anne Down.

Just when he was about to invite Anne to visit his newly bought Small Manor, a loud wolf howl suddenly interrupted this beautiful afternoon!

Rob instantly revealed an incredulous expression. He was very clear that there were no wolves in this place, and this was not an ordinary Wolf Howl.

Having been in the army for nearly ten years, he was very familiar with this sound. This was the howl of the gnolls when they launched an attack on the horn!

Following that, a dense group of gnolls attacked the small town and verified his guess. Beside him, Miss Annie was even more frightened to the point of her face turning pale!

However, Rob still did not react.

How could this be?

This was the inner ring of Molendor!

The so-called inner ring town referred to the towns within the Majestic City of molendor that were located in the direction of the Empire. This was on a completely different level from those towns that were developed outside without safety guarantees in order to increase agriculture. Due to the terrain.., mo Lun duo was stuck at the pass of the Doran mountain range. It was impossible for the inner ring town to be threatened by the orcs.

There were only two possibilities for these gnolls to come in. One was that they had long wings, and the other was... "... !"! Molun duo had fallen!

The moment this thought popped up in his mind, Rob was shocked. Something Big had happened! !

Thinking of this, he did not dare to delay any longer. He rushed towards the Lord's manor. Even Miss Annie, who was beside him, was left behind!

How could a weak woman like Annie be able to keep up with the pace of a level 3 bronze knight? Very soon, she was left behind. She could only sit on the ground and cry in despair. In the end, she was dragged away by a Gnoll who was passing by!

Rob did not have the time to pay attention to her. In his heart, there was always a chance to find a woman again. However, if the noble that he was responsible for protecting were to make a mistake, his life would really be over.

He rushed all the way to the manor. The manor had almost fallen. He clearly saw his lord's head chopped off and hung in the crotch of a wolf knight.

This situation made him feel a chill in his heart. Fortunately, he sneaked into the basement of the manor and found the woman and three children hidden by the Lord.

This made him slightly comforted. As long as he could protect the Lord's bloodline and get out, he might be able to make up for it. When the time came, he would say that the Lord asked him to protect his family and escape, yet, he chose to protect his own territory and bravely face the brutal orcs!

This statement not only reflected the lord's bravery and made the Duke's grandfather proud, but also reduced his responsibility to the greatest extent.

After making up his mind, he protected these women and fought his way out of the small path, arriving at the thorny forest on the southern mountain!

As for why he chose to escape here, there was a reason. The other party had Wolf Knights from a large tribe. Even if he escaped alone, it was impossible for him to escape without a horse, not to mention bringing so many burdens, it was definitely impossible to take the empire's main road.

On the contrary, the thorny forest's terrain was complex, and it was a godforsaken area. The entire mountain forest had been reborn with thorny vines, and basically no one had set foot here. Taking this road would allow him to avoid the pursuit to the greatest extent.

These orcs would definitely have a large army burning, killing, and plundering along the empire's main road. They probably wouldn't split up to hunt him down just for a few people. Even if there were, they should be small fries, and he might be able to deal with them.

He thought that he would come out after hiding in the bramble forest for a few days with the Liege's wife and the others. After the empire's main force chased these orcs away, he would be able to protect the Liege's bloodline and perhaps retain his knighthood.

However, he did not expect to meet an elite species in such a place!

The bronze battle Qi that he was so proud of could not even last a single round in the other party's hands. Such terrifying individual battle strength made him realize that this was probably not an ordinary elite species. It might even be a royal descendant of some gold tribes!

At this moment, the women and children who were being held captive by Rob in the cage were comforting the lord while looking around curiously. There were actually so many elite species along the way?

What kind of tribe was this? Frost Wolf Clan? Black Rock clan? Or was it the fire tribe clan that was rumored to be rich in Sword Saints in the Beast Clan?

Weren't these large tribes all in the north? Why would they suddenly appear in Molundo?

Rob felt that this matter was not simple, and he was afraid... .. ! It was a premeditated large-scale operation!

Chapter 99: 98: information on the New World

"I see! !"After analyzing the data extracted from Rob's memory, Seer had a rough idea of the current situation of the New World.

This was a huge planet with a good ecosystem. The ocean occupied most of the planet, and there were two major forces in this world, the Western archipelago and the eastern continent!

The western islands were mainly composed of humans and dwarves who were skilled in crafts.

The eastern continent was the largest known continent on this planet, but there were a lot of races, and they were collectively known as the orcs by the humans.

BoxNovel.com

The Steel Warrior Empire, where Rob was from, was the first empire that humans established on the eastern road, and it was also the only human empire on the eastern road.

From Rob's memories, he learned that humans were naturally at a disadvantage compared to the orcs. For countless years, the western human empire had relied on their powerful maritime military strength and the natural barrier of the MDORA sea, they resisted the barbaric and strange races on the East Main Road!

Although humans had already become invincible and colonized many islands with their superb shipbuilding skills and arcane mages who could cast spells from afar, they were still unable to set foot on the huge east main road.

There were many reasons for this. First, the land was too large, and the strategic depth of the space was so large that even if all the countries had all their resources, they would not be able to withstand the counterattack of the foreign tribes on the Eastern Road.

Second, the foreign tribes were too powerful, and there were many different kinds of foreign tribes. The Western continent kingdom was collectively known as the orcs, and most of these monsters were large in size and possessed astonishing strength, any one of them could easily take on a squad of ten elite armed warriors.

Furthermore, they were good at riding and shooting. This made it very difficult for the human kingdoms, which were based on the island kingdom, to fight on land!

Therefore, for thousands of years, the two forces had reached a balance. The alien races could not leave, and the humans could not land on the largest continent in the world!

It was rumored that in ancient times, the ancestors of the humans were chased out of this continent by the alien races. Therefore, the humans had an unprecedented ambition to reclaim this continent!

Until 700 years ago, a hero appeared among the humans and successfully took the first step!

His family had continuously sent scouts to explore the East Road for more than 100 years. Finally, they found a landing spot surrounded by mountains in the southwest direction.

That area was desolate. After a desert, there was a mountainous terrain with complex terrain. The foreign races that lived in it were quite rare. Therefore, this hero was the first emperor of the Steel Martial Empire, Cavan. Augustus first gathered a large number of homore dwarves. Then, he led all the elite warriors of his family and set off on the first step of the expedition!

This could be said to be a huge gamble. Fortunately, this great human won the gamble. After wiping out the rare beast race in the mountainous region, he ordered the Homore Dwarves to build a city on the mountain, after building the first iron city in the valley, he spent a lot of experience and promises to gather the investment of many wizard families in the Western countries.

With the help of a large number of arcane wizards, the city was set up with a powerful arcane enchantment, and large-scale arcane stone statues, plastic cannons, and other defensive arcane weapons were created. It was a firm foothold on the East Road!

Later, Calvin continued to recruit Western warriors, and with the method of building one city at a time, he established a huge steel arms empire in the southwest area of the East Main Road, and it flourished for more than seven hundred years!

During that time, he relied on the gold excavated on the east main road and the slowly developed arts and crafts to make huge profits in the west, making the country one of the strongest empires of the entire human race.

However, this method did not work until he reached the northern Hetao and the plains. The terrain there was not suitable to build a city, the weak human individuals were destined to rely on numbers and heavy armor to face the enemy in the field. Other than a few powerful warriors, no one could defeat the orcs in the field.

As a result, the Empire's progress reached its limit. After that, it faced off against many tribes on the east road for hundreds of years.

Seer roughly understood the current situation. The location of this rift was within the Human Empire on the East Road, and the territory of this knight named Rob had just been invaded by the orcs.

The interesting thing was that in the Knight's memories, this was originally an impossible situation.

Although the war steel empire was slow in expanding its territory, it had rarely lost land since its founding. The reason was that they had city defense technology that was one dimension ahead of the orcs.

The main power came from the advanced arcane civilization of mankind. The first king, Calvin, promised many benefits to attract a large number of wizard families in the west, so that every city in the war steel empire had a large number of arcanists stationed there.

With the solid city defense and powerful arcane weapons, no matter how ridiculous the descendants of Caven were, it was rare for cities to fall.

Especially those big cities with arcane stone statues and plastic cannons, which had never suffered any losses since the founding of the Empire seven hundred years ago, and the city where Rob was located, Molendo, was one of those big cities with a large number of arcane defenses.

Moreover, this city was at the pass of the Duolun mountain range, surrounded by insurmountable cliffs. It could be said that the empire was one of the few big cities that could not be conquered.

But from the memory of Rob being hunted at the end, it was clear that the city in his mind that could not be conquered had an accident.

Seer could even guess what exactly had happened.

It must be that the magic net of this world had been affected by the energy from his side, causing a temporary disturbance and temporarily making the arcane enchantment of the city of Morondor ineffective... Uh... Perhaps it was permanently ineffective. ...

The power left behind by the person on his body was very powerful. If the power that wiped out a void Watcher in an instant exploded in the form of energy, it would be more than enough to blow up the entire galaxy, with the low-level mana net of this world, it was reasonable to say that it had been completely affected until it disappeared.

From the looks of it, the main culprit behind the suffering of these humans seemed to be him... ...

However, this was not important, because he originally did not have any good intentions towards the normal forces in this world. He came here to colonize, to plunder resources.

Now, he roughly understood what to do.

First of all, he had to avoid directly exchanging fire with the so-called beast tribe. At the very least, he could not direct the fire towards them. Thus, hiding the base was a top priority, but he could not do nothing. He had to take this opportunity to fish in troubled waters., plundering more people to strengthen their own base's weakness.

According to Rob's memory, most of the people attacking flower town were gnolls, and their numbers were not very large. After all, Rob alone could bring so many women and children to fight his way out alone, obviously, the number of soldiers attacking here was limited.

Flower town's population was about 2,000 people, and most of them were hardworking and simple flower farmers. With a little modification, they would be a very good farm labor force. This was the resource that his base was currently short of... ...

With this in mind, he gestured for AI to release the new mission content!

Chapter 100: 99: Lord's plan of exploitation (I)

Players, please note that due to the intelligence captured by Player G you are too beautiful, we have received new information. At the foot of our mountain, there is a beautiful town, in the town, a group of hardworking and simple flower farmers are being slaughtered by the evil gnolls and are becoming slaves!

How can the gnolls monopolize such resources? The slaves are all ours!

Mission: Plunder Human Resources!

Plunder human resources: plunder a skilled flower farmer and reward 200 points, plunder a human with special skills such as forging, sewing, cooking, leather making, spice making and other special skills and reward 300 points, plunder a bronze knight and reward 1,000 points.

BoxNovel.com

The Orcs tried their best to silence them all. If they could capture them alive, they would be rewarded with corresponding points. If they captured the gnolls, they would be rewarded with 500 points, if they captured the ogres, they would be rewarded with 1,000 points, and if they captured the Wolf Knights, they would be rewarded with 2,000 points! If they could capture other unrecorded species, they would be rewarded with corresponding points according to the evaluation of the base!

Players, please take note. If you are not confident, please try your best to silence them. If you let an ORC escape, 1,000 points will be deducted. After the mission is over, the Ranger player will lead the team and retreat to the base stealthily, leaving no traces behind.

Note: All the people captured this time are the private property of the players. The players can freely allocate their own slaves. Turning the tables and becoming a contractor is right in front of them. Why are you still hesitating? ! Pick up your weapons and quickly gather at the new map rift!

"Damn, is this mission so sudden? I almost went offline to have sex. Give me five minutes, I'll be back soon."

"Yeah, I almost went offline to have dinner. Damn, thank God I'm slow."

"The population belongs to the players? Can the players do whatever they want to the slaves?"

After all this time, can I finally have my own little brother to help me move the bricks

I'll catch a dozen knights today

Can the new guy go on this mission

Why don't newbies just move the bricks? Let Me Show You My Wuying Fist

With the base outside a noisy, Pu Yunchuan is in intelligent guidance slowly came to the operating room.

“Oh, my brave subjects. Your heroic performance this time has benefited the base greatly. You have outstanding potential. This lord has high hopes for you!”

“Lord is too polite. It’s what I should do!” Pu Yunchuan said cheerfully. The reward of 10,000 points and top-quality equipment made him feel somewhat elated. He thought to himself, it seems like... That Dog Planner... He’s not that stingy after all. ...

“I’ve summoned you here this time to ask you about your plans for the slaves you’ve captured.”

“Eh?” Pu Yunchuan was stunned for a moment before he said, “That... didn’t the system just say that these are all mine?”

“Oh, of course!” Xi ye smiled and said, “This will naturally not change. I just want to ask, as the first player in this base to have a private slave, how do you plan to distribute your spoils of war?”

“This...” Pu Yunchuan thought for a moment and raised his head, “Men carry bricks, and women farm.”

Xi Ye’s eyes twitched when he heard this. He sighed and said, “Even as a newbie without experience, your judgment is indeed disappointing.”

“Uh... is that so?” Pu Yunchuan lowered his head in embarrassment and said nervously, “Then Lord, please teach me.”

Xi Ye said, “Before you arrange private slaves, you must master their characteristics. Even if they are slaves, you must try your best not to waste their value. Look, you have captured a total of ten intelligent creatures this time. They are all primates. The only adult male among them used to be a knight with many years of battlefield experience. Isn’t it too much of a waste to use them to move bricks?”

Was it a waste? Wasn’t this slave master also moving bricks every day before the new map was opened? Pu Yunchuan could not help but grumble, but he still said humbly, “What do you think, my Lord?”

“Of course, it’s to train warriors!” Xi Ye raised her voice slightly and said, “A warrior who came from the army is a rare talent. If trained properly, it will be a powerful arm for you in the future!”

F * ck, this game can actually be like this? Pu Yunchuan was a little excited when he heard this and quickly asked, “How do you train him?”

Xi Ye said, “You’re also an old player. You’ve been in this base for a few months. Haven’t you figured out how to train him?”

“You mean like us?” Pu Yunchuan was shocked when he heard this.

Xi Ye said, “Not exactly. The instructors in the base are used to train elites like you. Naturally, they don’t have the time to help you train slaves. You’ll have to rely on yourself in this aspect. Think carefully about how the instructors train you. Naturally, you’ll also use it on them. This lord will add a few more training bases in the future for you to train slaves.”

“You want money, right?” Pu Yunchuan suddenly said warily.

Xi Ye paused and thought to himself, ‘looks like these players aren’t that easy to fool.’

“Of course...” Xi ye coughed and said, “I’ve spent a lot of money to buy this Lord’s training base. I have to recoup the cost, right?”

Pu Yunchuan hesitated for a moment. Although he knew that it was a trap, he still couldn’t help but ask, “How much... Do You Want?”

“My Brave Citizen, you don’t seem to have changed your mind. This is to nurture your own wings. Why do you make it seem like the Lord of the dungeon is trying to trap you?”

“This...” Pu Yunchuan was at a loss for words. He felt that something was wrong, but he could not refute it.

“Then... how much does it cost to nurture slaves?”

“Right...”. Seer nodded in satisfaction. “Talent training has always been a long-term investment. As for the cost of training, it’s up to you. As for talents, especially combat talents, the higher the initial investment, the higher the growth limit. Of course, all of this depends on your actual financial situation. I have some high-quality goods here, you can take a look.”

Pu Yunchuan’s eyelids twitched. He felt that the 10,000 points he had yet to earn seemed to be... Going to be gone soon... ..

However, in the next second, he was dazzled by the items Xi Ye had taken out!

-----.

First was genetic modification. It was a product strongly recommended by the Lord. It was said to be a method to raise the maximum number of subordinates. However, the price was rather touching...

The cheapest one would cost at least 5,000 points. The better ones would cost tens of thousands or even hundreds of thousands of points. There were many types of genes, and all sorts of properties made him want to buy all of them, this damn schemer was really good at finding projects to exploit players!

Among the genes, he also saw the Green Titan gene. It was priced at one billion points. This price made him feel like he was earning a monthly salary of 500 and looking up to the housing prices in Shanghai. However, he still felt pretty good in his heart, this meant that these players were at least superior in terms of bloodline.

Pu Yunchuan, who did not know that his genes were only worth 1.50 yuan, felt a great sense of comfort in his heart.

However, he still fell into the choice syndrome when faced with the huge gene pool. Even though he only had the ability to purchase a dozen types, it still made him think for a long time. When the system notified him that the new mission was about to depart..., he reluctantly chose a warrior bloodline called Andre.

The AI gave a hint. This knight that he captured possessed a secret skill that allowed the release of inner qi. It was somewhat similar to the warrior races in the universe federation that cultivated inner qi in their meridians. It was different from the Titans that used all their energy to strengthen their bodies, this type of warrior liked to store energy in their meridians to nourish and strengthen their system. This method of growth was slower, but they had more techniques in battle.

And among the bloodlines that he could afford, this Andrey Warrior's bloodline was obviously very suitable for them. The price was just 10,000 points. Pu Yunchuan didn't even have the time to understand how the training base charged them. He handed back all the savings that he had just obtained... ..

He could only hurry towards the crack without stopping. He had to seize the opportunity to earn another wave. He still had four women and a few children in his slaves. Ai Hui said that these women were once the wives and concubines of the nobles, and they were good at singing and dancing, if he bought a Meizu or Vastaya bloodline, they could become even more beautiful singers. As for those children who had received a certain level of cultural education and basic warrior education, they also had a certain amount of cultivation value, although the nurturing period might be longer, their growth rate would also be higher!

Therefore, money was what he urgently needed right now. If he did not earn money, he might not even be able to afford nutrient fluids, let alone nurturing slaves!

Xi Ye looked at Pu Yunchuan who was rushing towards the new map crack without stopping. His handsome face under the helmet revealed a satisfied smile as he said to Ai, "Pass down this message. From today onwards, this game will open up the player's private points trading function! !!"