Chapter 971: Headmaster, What do you think?

“Why didn’t anyone inform me?”

Some of the subordinates around took a step back. Only Jaime, who was called out, looked pale. When the people in the Earl’s mansion saw this scene, they seemed to be gloating.

Jaime was the new Madam’s guardian knight, which was equivalent to a dowry. Logically speaking, he should only be an outsider. Even a knight like David, who came from a Duke’s family, seemed to be very low-key when he came here.

However, this person was extremely high-profile. Moreover, with the support of the new madam, he had obtained various positions. Over the years, half of the positions in the Count’s mansion had been taken by his trusted aides, which made many of the old knights in the Count’s mansion extremely unhappy.

At this moment, seeing that he had become the scapegoat, they did not know how happy they were!

Although Jaime’s expression was unsightly., after hearing this, he immediately knelt on the ground. “It was your subordinate’s fault. The situation at that time was tense. That Orc’s combat strength was very strong. Your subordinate was worried about your safety, sir count, so I took the initiative to dispatch all the Knights to protect your safety!”

“You! !” Seeing the cooperation of the other party, the coldness in the Count’s eyes slightly eased, but he still pretended to be angry and kicked Jaime. “B * Stard, who gave you the guts! !”

Jaime was very cooperative and was kicked to the ground. After falling down, he quickly kneeled again, looking like a loyal knight.

He knew that this was his only chance. The upper-class nobles respected these knights who were extremely loyal to their master. As long as they affirmed his knight character, he could still be saved.

Just as he was thinking about this, he suddenly felt a flash of light in front of him. Then, Jaime found that his worldview seemed to be reversed, and his body seemed to be unable to move, he tried his best to turn the corner of his eyes to see what was going on. After some effort, he finally saw his own body that was spewing blood!

The count originally wanted to ask Jaime for mercy, but he was instantly frightened by this violent scene. He fell back and fell to the ground, not even daring to wipe off the blood that had sprayed onto his face.

“The fate of knights is to obey. There is no need for knights who do not obey orders to exist!” Bundy did not even look at Jaime, whose head had been chopped off, and his eyes were extremely cold.

The high-ranking military officers who came in with Bundy looked at each other in dismay. For a moment, they didn’t know how to persuade him. After all, their group was still commandeering resources from Jaime, and Jaime was also actively cooperating with them, it was indeed not good to kill people just because of a disagreement.

However, this was Bundy's family matter, so it was not easy for them to persuade him.

Luke was also silent at this moment. He understood very well why Bundy was so abnormal. When the imperial city was in trouble, his eldest son and youngest son hadn't been able to come back.

During the Battle of the Blue Dragon City's guards, his second son, Dylin, who was responsible for leading the Griffin Knights, also died in battle. When Red River City fell, a family of women and children couldn't escape, this granddaughter who was far away in Kate City was almost his last bloodline in this world!

When he came, he said that if he successfully survived the crisis, he wanted to take back his granddaughter, change his surname, and let his granddaughter inherit his family line...

However, he didn't expect that his last thought was gone just like that...

"Sir... sir..." the count watched as Bundy slowly walked toward him with a sword in his hand. He was so scared that his urine and feces were all over the place. He tried his best to shrink back, and his face was full of Snot and tears. "Please have mercy, Sir..."

Luke frowned and stepped forward. "Bundy, calm down. At least we have to get to the bottom of it first!"

As the commander of the main force, he naturally did not want Bundy to act rashly. After all, killing the Earl and then requisitioning the city's grain was completely different from using the Earl's help to requisition grain.

The former was more likely to cause panic...

Bundy did not reply and continued to walk towards the Earl expressionlessly. Luke sighed when he saw this. He knew that his old friend was determined to kill someone... ..

The general behind him saw this and quickly said, "Buddy, don't be rash. What if your granddaughter is fine? Wasn't your daughter also fine after she was kidnapped by the Orcs?"

These words made Bundy's body stiffen. Luke could not help but cover his face. This guy, why didn't he mention it?

In Bundy's life, the thing he hated the most was when someone mentioned that his daughter was kidnapped by the Orcs!

However, this time, there was no anger on Bundy's face when he turned around. Instead, his expression became a little gentle, he nodded and said, "You're right. Being kidnapped by the orcs doesn't mean that she's not alive... her mother can come back alive. She has her mother's excellent blood. She will definitely be safe..."

"UH..." the general was stunned and did not know how to reply for a moment.

“Yes, yes! !”The count quickly crawled over and hugged Bundy’s feet. “Sunny must still be alive. She must still be alive!”

Old Bundy kicked him away impatiently and wiped his shoes with a handkerchief in disgust. He could not help but sigh in his heart. How could he marry his daughter to such a useless thing?

His daughter was such a proud person. All those years... “...”. She must have been living a very sullen life, right?

Luke heaved a long sigh of relief when he saw Bundy’s disgusted expression. People were most afraid of having no hope. Even if it was small, as long as there was hope, they would not go to the extreme.

The Count’s life was temporarily saved!

“Sir! !”

Just as the situation eased up, a scarlet signal suddenly lit up in the air. Upon seeing this signal, everyone from Blue Dragon City, including Bundy, tensed up!

This was a level one danger signal!

“What’s going on? Are the monsters attacking the city?”Bundy squinted his eyes and looked at the direction of the signal. “But this direction is not the city gate!”

“It’s Bob! !”Luke suddenly became nervous.

He had asked Bob to follow David because he suspected that David was hiding something. He did not expect that a general who was following a veteran would have no choice but to send such a signal.

What happened?

“Quick!”Luke quickly said, “Venos, you and Bundy lead the elite troops to assist first. I will go to the city defense department to mobilize the troops. Remember, if the situation there is not right, do not fight head-on. Everything will be discussed when I bring people over!”

“Okay!”Bundy instantly composed himself and nodded his head as he promised.

Instantly, the group of people left the Count’s mansion in a swift and decisive manner, leaving the people of the Count’s mansion in a daze. At this moment, the Countess and second Miss Jenny, who were standing in the distance, only fell to the ground after seeing Bundy leave, jenny burst into tears!

“Mother... What Happened?”

The noblewoman did not have the energy to comfort her helpless daughter at all because she was very helpless at the moment. Her Own Knight had killed her just like that. Looking at the situation just now.., that Duke was so angry that he even wanted to kill the count as well.

Would this main accomplice of his have a good ending?

At this moment, in the Molendale region that was thousands of miles away, the flower town that no one had passed by for a long time was in a particularly large formation today. A group of soldiers dressed in pitch-black bone armor were lined up in the most orderly formation as they passed by, they headed straight for the main city of Molendo.

At the same time, Seer, who had just walked out of the spatial rift not long ago, saw this scene and was instantly terrified. These black soldiers, every single one of them was not lower than his level! !

“Principal... What do you think?” Seer asked the principal who had come with him in a low voice. ...

Chapter 972: Mutual Sensing!

“Headmaster, what do you think?” Seer’s expression was solemn under his helmet as he looked at the scene in front of him in disbelief!

Seer was well aware of the specifications of this planet. In the Federation’s rating system, it was at most a grade 6 talent planet. If they wanted to be promoted to a grade 6 planet, even if it was the elven civilization that nurtured the planet the most., it would take another ten million years!

For a planet of this level to give birth to a creature above grade-5, it could only be a titan creature that was given consciousness by the planet. Moreover, it could only be one or two at most, even if it used an extreme technique like the map of the Black Goat., there was also a limit to how high-level life forms could be nurtured. Seer had never thought that the 100,000 grade-6 life forms in front of him could do it!

Level-6 life forms were only at this standard after graduating from the federation’s Martial Arts School. Even if one were to magnify a Lord’s army, they would still be at the rank of an officer. How could they be so easily nurtured?

How did this guy do it?

Although she had heard of the identity of that Sandro, Seer still felt that it was very inconceivable!

As a big shot in the academic world, the principal by the side looked even more carefully than seer. After his careful observation., “It’s really exquisite. As expected of the top representative of the biology department. We’re not as good as you!”

Seer was stunned and asked curiously, “Did you see anything?”

“It’s a very exquisite structure!” The principal slowly explained, “Sandro obviously knew that he would be targeted by someone once he appeared, so he began to make preparations when he was still in the dead world. What you saw was not done overnight, but after thousands of years of design!”

Seer: “Oh?”

Seer did not refute this. He had long felt that there were indeed traces of high-level alchemy on this planet. For example, the existence of the orcs, it was obviously a product that had been refined by high-level alchemy with local genes!

Although the level was not high, compared to the ordinary aborigines, the orcs' refinement was in place and required a higher level of biotechnology. Obviously, it was not because of the technology on this planet... ..

The principal: "Sandro first used the map of the black goat to mutate the organisms in the region. Logically speaking, after the mutation, the biological genes would be messed up and it would be difficult to modify them again. However, Sandro has thought of a way. You should have been taught by the deity Academy when you graduated. When there are many types of genes mixed within an organism, what is the best way to stabilize everything?"

"Strengthen a main gene!" Seer answered instantly like a good student.

This was one of the basic lessons of the biology class. It was aimed at the basic theories of those complicated biological technologies. Druids were the best example of this. Druids themselves could imitate various genes, the reason why all the genes were in order was because the elven genes were stable as the main gene. Of course, this was also related to the high compatibility of the elven genes.

Therefore, other races needed more complicated techniques to imitate the druid model.

The principal nodded and continued, "However, the Black Goat's diagram is an advanced biological alchemy array. Once it is contaminated with the energy inside, even the strongest genes will be messed up, making it difficult for it to be used as the main gene carrier. Therefore, theoretically speaking, no matter what the genes of mutated creatures are, they have already lost the qualification to evolve. However, there is one type of gene in this world that is an exception. It is not affected by any mutation, and there is no energy that can mutate its genes. This is also one of the reasons why the genes of this type of creature have yet to be cracked...". "... .."

Xi Ye's pupils contracted when he heard this. He immediately understood and muttered, "The dragon race..."

"Yes, the ancient Dragon Race!" The principal corrected him. "This type of gene has a very strong coverage. Basically, there is no possibility of it being mutated. However, until now, no one has been able to crack the dragon gene, nor can it be applied to biological enhancement. However, this problem is not a problem for Sandro. He is the only existence in this world who can crack this path. He, who has grasped the secret of the dragon gene, is able to achieve the level of secondary evolution of the mutated creature!"

Xi Ye: "In other words, he first used the map of the Black Goat to mutate a creature, increasing its basic strength. Then, under this condition, he injected dragon genes into it, causing the basic creature to undergo a second evolution, instantly becoming a level 6 creature? "But such a huge leap, this originally only had the foundation of a level 1 creature, can it withstand it?"

This technology was simply too shocking. If he really mastered it, wouldn't a biology lord be able to mass produce a large number of high-level soldiers? It was too exaggerated!

"That's why I said that this game has evolved for at least a thousand years!" The principal said with a smile. "I think that Sandro already had a way to enter this world from the realm of death a long time ago, but he didn't. I guess that he used a spirit medium to control the believers of this continent and carry out a biological modification. I reckon that most of the creatures on this planet have actually been modified by him. He used a special technology to correspond to the Dragon Race's gene sequence. I just saw the structure of these soldiers. From the low-level genes to the mutated and strengthened genes to the docking of the Dragon Race's genes, it's extremely perfect. It's so exquisite that I can't believe it...".

“Well...” the principal smiled and said, “It's just a difference of concept. Don't Judge Sylvanas by her negative comments, but in fact, she might be the most principled one among all the Lords!”

Seer: “...”

This old man... .. Why did he look like he knew the fourth Lord very well. ...

“But it's not realistic for these soldiers to fight against a high lord, right?” Seer frowned and said.

“Did you see their equipment clearly?” The principal asked back.

“Yes... the heaven-enlightening sword!” Seer took a deep breath. To be honest, each of them had a heaven-enlightening sword. They were indeed worthy of being from the death realm. They were really willing to give it up!

“I believe that Sandro must have prepared a lot of things for today. Just wait and see...” the principal said faintly, “The guy you lured here is Bolton, right?”

“Eh? How Do You Know?”

“I can smell the stench of his forces from afar!” A hint of disgust flashed in the principal's eyes. “He actually brought that thing here. It seems that Bolton really values you...”

Xi Ye: “That Thing? What is it?”

The principal: “It's a notorious method, but there's no doubt about its combat power. I'm suddenly very interested. With only a level seven planet as a base, can Sandro resist the invasion of two high-level lords... HMM?”

Xi Ye: “What's Wrong?”

“It can't be...” the principal suddenly looked towards the southern plains, his eyes revealing a hint of surprise. ...

Just now, in a flash, he sensed a familiar energy existence, and his expression couldn't help but become solemn.

“Your place is really lively...” the principal said to Seer faintly, “If that fellow comes, I can't guarantee that this spatial entrance won't be discovered!”

At the same time, in the Southern Plains'Earth tribe, Maya, who had descended through another scroll, suddenly raised her head and looked towards Molundo's location, her face revealing a trace of surprise.

"Oh, no way! That Old Thing is here too?"

Chapter 973: Bundy's scheme!

"This... This Is?"

At the scrap metal pile in the south of the city, Luke, who was carrying tens of thousands of fully armed soldiers, hurried over. However, the worst thing that he had expected did not happen. Instead, it was an even more bizarre scene.

The man named David was kneeling in front of old Bundy's legs, crying and crying as he said something. Beside him, a large orc man was unconscious. His entire body was covered in blood. The naked eye could see that his bones were broken in many places, and blood was constantly seeping out of his pores, he looked extremely miserable!

"Who is this orc?" Luke asked as he comforted the soldier to wait for his orders. He walked over carefully and quietly pulled Bob to the side. "What's the situation?"

Bob was stunned for a moment, and then he said, "The situation is more complicated, and I'm not sure right now..."

Luke: "..."

What the F * ck was the difference between saying something and not saying it? Have you been eating SH * t here for a long time?

"Who is this orc?"

The general next to him quickly interjected, "This is the orc who invaded the count's mansion last night and took Bondi's granddaughter away..."

"Oh?" Hearing this, Luke looked at the terrible wounds on brother dog's body and whispered, "Old Bondi is really getting more and more violent as he gets older. This subordinate of his doesn't need to torture him with his bare hands if he can solve the problem with a single strike, right?"

Bob was silent for a while and said faintly, "You really think highly of Old Bundy. With his skills, he won't be able to survive a single strike from this orc!"

"Is it that bad?"

"Ha... It's better than you think..." Bob sneered and said, "You're lucky that you didn't meet this guy in the northern plains. Otherwise, even Marshal Rox would have been beaten up!"

"You're exaggerating. Then who did this to him?"

"The monster outside..." Bob said solemnly.

"The monster outside?"

“The regular soldier who killed us before... the one with the strange sword...”

“That thing entered the city?” Luke was shocked. “How did it get in? where is it now?”

“In the cellar...” Bob pointed to the entrance of the cellar and said, “It was killed...”

“Killed... killed?” Luke stuttered as he looked at Bob. He couldn’t believe it. He had seen the combat strength of those terrifying creatures with his own eyes. Thirty thousand cavalymen were torn into pieces like paper in their hands.

“HMM... this orc did it!” Bob took a deep breath and said, “It’s said that this orc is a sword saint. I didn’t know that the Southern Fire clan had such an amazing guy!”

“Hiss...” Luke also took a deep breath. Just as he was about to ask again, he heard the magicians in the command unit of Bundy blow up the cellar!

“Bundy?” Luke looked at him.

“Let’s go back and talk...” Bundy looked at Sunny who was hiding behind David’s voice and said with a complicated expression, “I know the general situation...”

“You said... that the tunnel was secretly built by David to protect your granddaughter? This orc owes your daughter a favor and came all the way here to repay it? And by chance, he killed the invading monster?”

Even the knowledgeable Luke was shocked by this story... ..

David’s story was easy to explain. Back then, he couldn’t protect his mistress and let her be kidnapped. So this time, even in the south, which was basically impossible to be invaded by orcs, he still carefully built a cellar.

It could be barely explained as a psychological problem.

However, the other story was very ridiculous!

A delicate noble lady was kidnapped to the grassland and saved a heroic sword saint. After that, the sword saint was completely devoted to her and escorted her all the way back. That was not all. A few years later., sensing that the descendants of their benefactor might be in danger, the orcs rushed thousands of miles to the south just to protect the descendants of their benefactor?

F * ck...

Who can tell me which storyteller made this up? I have to pay more!

But Old Bundy looked like he believed it very much, he even had a look of sudden realization. “No wonder... “...”. No wonder, I was wondering how my daughter could come back safely in such an environment. It turned out that she had experienced so much... .. It’s my fault. If I had been willing to listen more, perhaps she wouldn’t have suffered so much ... As he spoke, he looked at Sunny who was hiding behind David, he said gently, “Child, come here...”

Sunny nervously looked at him and then at David. David nodded his head at sunny encouragingly. Sunny then timidly walked over and faced the rumored Duke's grandfather...

"Good child... You've done well!" Bundy gently stroked Sunny's hair, looking at her daughter's face that was almost 90% similar to his, his gaze became even gentler. "Don't be afraid. You're just like your mother. You're a woman who can make the Beast Race's sword saint willingly submit. You have to be brave and confident!"

"Uh..." sunny was stunned for a moment and lowered her head guiltily. She had some complicated feelings after guessing the truth.

Was he sim?

If he was, why did he become like this. But if he wasn't... Why would ssenming say that?

Sunny actually hoped that he was. The Orc sword saint protected her for her mother, while Sim was willing to become her guardian knight. She preferred the latter... ..

"Bundy... how do we solve the ORC problem?" Luke asked carefully.

"What do you mean, how do we solve it?" Bundy said seriously, "He is a warrior worthy of respect. Although he is an orc, he has the noble quality of a knight. He deserves our respect!"

"Uh..." Luke, Bob, and the other two generals looked at each other, not knowing what to say.

But they all understood why old Bundy was so insistent on believing this. In fact, whether the orc was telling the truth or not, Old Bundy would probably choose to believe it, because it would greatly benefit his family's reputation.

Previously, his daughter had been kidnapped by the orcs and returned. She had been criticized by many people. Many people had said behind his back that old Bundy's daughter had given birth to a goblin outside.

Regardless of whether it was true or not, once the rumors were established, it would be difficult to clear her name. This was also why the daughter of a Grand Duke would marry into such a remote place.

However, if there was the current version of the story, it would be completely different!

The public loved to gossip. Compared to being humiliated by the goblins, this sword saint bravely protected his master, escorting the daughter of the Duke all the way back. Many years later, he still traveled thousands of miles to protect the descendants of the family. It was clearly more explosive than the goblin version, it was also more exciting!

And such a story would raise the reputation of the Bondi family to a new level. After all, the person who could make a high-level orc submit voluntarily was the person who could make the most arrogant sword saint of the orc race submit, no one in history could do it!

Old Bondi naturally didn't want to miss such an opportunity...

But... the risk was very high...

Luke frowned. According to Bob's description, the orc was incredibly powerful, possibly legendary, or even higher. If they didn't act now, when he recovered, they would be on the defensive!

On the other side, the female knight who was taken care of by the maidservant outside was frowning and waiting anxiously for the way the natives would deal with the Titan. ...

Chapter 974: The embarrassed Female Knight!

The maid who was in charge of taking care of the baby girl looked at the child curiously. The child was pink and tender, and didn't look like a human, but it was still very cute. However, it didn't look like a child at all. It kept a straight face at all times. It was even more serious than an adult, especially now. Its light eyebrows were knitted together as if it was thinking about something serious. She couldn't help but want to pinch the child... ...

Why don't I pinch her while no one else is around? The maid thought of this and then looked at the baby girl with malicious intentions.

The baby girl seemed to have sensed something and then looked at the maid with a hint of warning in her eyes.

You're still glaring at me? The maid was immediately amused. I'll pinch you even if you glare at me!

The maid looked around and saw that there was no one around. She quickly put her hands on the baby girl's chubby face and gently pinched it for a while, having a great time.

The baby girl who was offended by this was naturally extremely furious, but she had no other choice. She could only look at the other party helplessly and then simply closed her eyes to ignore the other party. She knew that the other party would definitely be more enthusiastic if she were to show off a little more.

In her heart, she was thinking about the matter of the Titan Junior.

A Titan with the imperial bloodline was something that would only appear in textbooks!

Currently, most of the Titans in the federation had impure bloodlines, and a small number of pure-blooded Titans were low-level species in the Titan series back then. They simply did not have the qualifications to give birth to a royal family. After all, the title of royal family was not something that could be recognized by the federation with just a little self-congratulation.

Currently, in the Federation, there were two rigid conditions for being publicly acknowledged as a royal family. One was for the race to give birth to a great lord to ensure the basic resources of the force. The second was for the race to have at least one of the top experts of the race to reach the level of surpassing the star-level!

Surpassing the star level was a level of strength that was officially outside of the rules. In the universe, it was an existence even rarer than a great lord. Every publicly recognized royalty had at least one such expert, there were succubi, the bronze race, and the Thunder race. Among these experts, the Starlight Elves were the most common. This also resulted in the Starlight Elves' genes being recognized by the world to an extremely high degree.

However, as a publicly recognized high-level bloodline, the Titan race, there was not a single such person. This also resulted in the Titan race not having a royal family. This was also the greatest regret in the heart of the third Lord back then... ..

If it was not for this regret, perhaps the Lord would not have been tempted by the Void Messenger and secretly cooperated with the void, giving Cang Yue that woman an excuse to attack!

According to historical records, the five Elemental Titans had all given birth to royal experts, and there was more than one of them. But now, other than the Golden Titans, the other four Elemental Titans were basically extinct. Although the Golden Titans still had a few pure-bloods left., but because there had not been any royal experts for too long, they were still not recognized as royalty.

In fact, this was very normal. The Titan system had suffered a great disaster that was almost extinct. The high-level bloodlines had long been wiped out in that disaster. The ones that were left were mostly low-level Titans that were hidden in the corners, in addition, the Titan system's bloodline capacity was low, and it was difficult to purify. Even after countless eras, no Titan family was able to raise their bloodline to the level of the royal family.

However, she did not expect that in a completely unknown distant galaxy, there would actually be such a seedling!

Ever since the female knight saw Brother Dog perform the emperor's style yesterday, she had not been able to completely calm down. Although having the royal bloodline did not mean that he could grow into a royal expert, that Gene was definitely pure!

He had not been able to do it. If the gene was passed down, there would eventually be a junior who could do it. The regret that her lordship had always felt back then might be realized by this junior!

Therefore, she absolutely could not let these aborigines bring harm to this hope that had suddenly appeared... ..

However, the crux of the matter was that she could not do anything at the moment. She could only wait helplessly for the decision of those aborigines. The moment she thought of this, her hatred towards Maya, who had plotted against her, grew even more intense!

The only thing she could do now was to lie low and try to break the seal slowly. If she could recover one percent of her previous strength, she would immediately bring this little guy out of this damn place and send him to the real Titan Academy! Even if she had to use up all her resources, she had to give up this junior with royal blood!

"Eh... Little Guy, why are you ignoring me? You even closed your eyes..."the maid kept teasing the baby girl with her eyes closed, showing no signs of losing interest.

This caused the female Knight's train of thought to be interrupted. She became even angrier. was there no end to this?

Actually, she did not know that this action of closing her eyes and deliberately ignoring the other party was more interesting to the other party, so she teased him even more happily.

After a long while, the female knight finally realized that her train of thought as an adult Titan was not suitable for a child... ..

Thus, she finally decided to use some methods that only children would use!

“WA (*) B!!!!!!”

The shocking cry scared the maid so much that she almost threw the child away. It also immediately alerted the men in the living room who were discussing the problem.

The first one who ran out was naturally sunny who cared the most about the baby girl. Looking at the Crying Baby Girl, sunny quickly went forward to hug the baby girl and comfort her. She was like a mother of a nervous child.

This made the female knight who was crying fiercely could not help but twitch her mouth. She did not expect that she, the commander of the Ace Titan Army, one of the Seven Chaos Knights under the third Lord, would one day be reduced to the point where she had to cry for help... ..

She would never let anyone tell about this dark history. Each and every one of them was the target of silence...

“Good child... Don’t cry, Don’t Cry...” sunny gently comforted the female knight, and the generals who followed her relaxed a lot when they saw this scene.

“Who is this child?” In fact, Old Bundy and the others had wanted to ask for a long time, because according to the story of the orcs, there shouldn’t be such a child.

“My child! !” Sunny quickly protected the female knight.

Everyone:”...”

Although this child looked cute, it was obvious that she wasn’t human. Could it be... .. It was that Orc and this little girl...

At the thought of this, the group of people had strange expressions on their faces. Even a decent person like Luke started to imagine things.

“Oh...” everyone nodded in disbelief.

David was anxious, “I really picked it up! !”

“We understand, we understand! !” Bob interrupted, “Don’t worry, no one will dare to gossip when we get out of Here!”

David:”...”

“Ahem...” Bondi approached the baby girl with a complicated expression, “That’s right, with such a loud cry, he will definitely be an excellent warrior in the future! !”

If it was in the past, he would definitely go crazy if there was a hybrid beast in his family. However, it was different now. The Times had changed. Not to mention the others, even if it was themselves, which one of them did not have a little mutation on them?

As long as they were strong enough, no one would say anything...

“Come, let Grandpa Hug You...” Old Bundy said with a kind face.

The Female Knight: “...”

She decided that when she regained her strength, this old fellow would be the first to be silenced!

Chapter 975: Li Goudan’s bewitchment!

Within the main base, most of the Lord ranked players who had been called back had nothing to do. After the incident with Li Goudan, Huaxia City’s attitude had changed drastically, and their work efficiency had instantly increased, the people under the Lord ranked players had only been settled in an orderly manner, causing the players who needed to cooperate to not know what to do.

The developer players were still fine. After entering the academy, they had been worrying about not having the time to study. Now that they had organized themselves, they had ample time to come into contact with these so-called advanced instructors.

The advanced instructors under them were very satisfied with this batch of advanced developer players who had excellent learning abilities and had entered the researcher state. They even felt that with a little nurturing, these children could enter the graduate program!

One was willing to learn and the other was willing to teach. The two sides instantly reached a very harmonious atmosphere. These days, they would often see a senior instructor following behind a large group of developers, these instructors were smiling from ear to ear all day long. Even the most serious demon summoning instructor was in high spirits these days.

Of course... ... There were also some instructors who were more resentful, such as the unpopular prophecy and control classes. Very few people signed up. Occasionally, there would be a student following behind them, looking at the popularity of others that was off the charts, as for the bunch of high-quality students who made inferences, all of them were drooling with envy.

Thus, on the thirteenth day of their residency, the teachers of the unpopular department finally couldn’t take it anymore. They formed a group and ran to protest, causing rain girl, who was hosting the daily activities of the higher-ups, to become very noisy.

The key was, what could she do about this?

They couldn’t force them to choose something like volunteering. Of course, everyone wanted to learn a promising major. Those who wanted to be cool mages naturally chose the guidance department, while those who wanted to walk the market’s hot route naturally chose the biological alchemy and mechanical alchemy, even if they chose a slightly less popular summoning element, it would still be a personal hobby.

Who in their right mind would choose an illusory profession like the prophecy element?

As for the confusion element instructor's complaint, rainless melon was also somewhat unable to help. Unlike the prophecy element, after interacting with them, rainless melon knew that the confusion element was actually very practical and was one of the best battle-type mages, in fact, it was more suitable for single combat than the guidance system and the summoning system.

However, many players didn't think so. In the hearts of the young people who pursued battle mages, they preferred the mage system that had a shocking visual effect. In their eyes, the control system was a little weak, and in traditional fantasy dramas., those who were proficient in charm and illusion were all low-level characters.

To most people, the mighty dragon was the correct path!

They had already tried their best to help the teachers of the control element to promote them, but the effect was really limited. So far, less than twenty people had signed up... .. However, there were still quite a number of teachers of the illusion department in the Lower Academy... .. One person was not enough to split it.

Thus, two groups of brothers in distress formed a team and came to their doorstep. They requested rainy girl and melon-less to implement a compulsory distribution system and allocate some spots to their department.

Rain girl and melon-less naturally could not easily agree to such a big matter. At the very least, they had to ask for the opinions of professionals. However, the two most professional people in the base, Seer Lord and the principal, had gone to the new territories to fish for people, this left her with no choice but to silently endure the nagging of a bunch of old fellows.

Moreover, not only did she have to face the nagging of these old fellows, but she also had to face the harassment of Goudan Li!

Due to Goudan Li's previous incident, many Lord tier players recognized her as their representative and handed over all the negotiations for the follow-up arrangements to Goudan Li.

Hence, Goudan Li came to visit every now and then to discuss the follow-up compensation conditions of the various Lord tier players.

"Boss rain woman, in our current situation, it's already not bad if you don't subsidize us, but you still have to pay taxes? The market has already stagnated, and so has the loan. Can you reduce the interest more?"

Rain lady rolled her eyes, "If you reduce it more, it'll be gone!"

"If it's gone, then it'll be gone..."Li Goudan said confidently, "You have to think long-term. Now that you're greedy for that little bit of interest and have caused the Lords to Fall, who will provide you with long-term benefits in the future?"

Rain Lady Wugua squinted her eyes and looked at the other party, "I still haven't seen it. You Little Dog Egg, you're quite good at bargaining. Should I say that you're worthy of being born into a merchant family?"

“Eh...”. “...”. This was a normal analysis, how could it be a bargain? Moreover, the theory of bloodlines was very absurd. Boss, both of your parents were teachers of the people, but in the end, you became a treacherous vampire. You Say, you don’t seem to have inherited the fine tradition of being a gardener...”. “...”

Rainless melon’s eyelids twitched, and she couldn’t help but laugh in anger. “Do you want to die?”

“I can’t be bothered with you!” Rainless melon waved her hand helplessly, “Go back, I can’t make the decisions about those things you said, the Lord has to come back...”

“Didn’t the Lord just come back? Where did he go?” Goudan Li’s eyes instantly lit up!

Rainless melon’s expression froze, and she thought to herself, oh no...

“Eh... I heard from Lei Xue that brother Gou didn’t come back. Did the Lord go to fetch brother Gou?” Goudan Li’s eyes became brighter and brighter.

“What do you want now?” Rainless melon said warily.

“Boss...” Goudan Li lowered his voice and encouraged her, “Recently, the base has been so boring. I’ve been bored out of my mind. It’s rare for me to join in the fun. Aren’t you interested?”

Rainless melon said with a cold expression, “Not interested...”

“Don’t be like that, boss...” eggface Li hugged rainless melon coquettishly and wiggled.

Rainless melon said helplessly, “Didn’t you just come back from the sea? How long have you been free? You’re already uncomfortable? Aren’t you a dog? You’re not a monkey...”

“For an adventurer, leisure time beyond three days is a waste of life!” Eggface Li said righteously, “This Eggface is always ready for the next adventure!”

Rainy Girl, Wu Gua: “...”

“Go eat oranges when you’re bored. You really dare to get involved in anything. Do you know how serious this matter is?”

Li Goudan: “How Serious?”

Rainy girl, Wu Gua, paused for a moment, then coughed lightly and said, “Anyway, it’s very serious...”

“Boss...” Li Goudan said suspiciously, “You don’t... Actually, you don’t know, right?”

“I. . .” Rainless melon choked immediately.

“So What?” Rainless melon immediately pulled a long face, “You can see how serious the situation is from the collective retreat this time. It’s your duty not to cause trouble at this time, Okay?”

“But aren’t you curious about what exactly happened?” Li Goudan drew his dog face closer to him and said sneakily, “Don’t you want to know? The Liege has been keeping a tight lid on it. What exactly is it? Why didn’t he let us know? What is the outside world like? Don’t you want to know for yourself at all?”

Rain Girl:” ...”

Chapter 976: Who The Hell Are You?

“How terrifying...” in a desert on Mars., a grayish-black troll with pustules all over its body was using a strange object to observe the environment of the New World. When it saw the fully armed skeleton soldiers, the troll couldn’t help but click its tongue in wonder.

Alice, who was slowly walking over, glanced at it with disgust. “Are the pustules on your body intentional or what? Do you have to be so disgusting?”

“A body is naturally like this if it’s not protected...” the troll sneered at Alice. “Aren’t you also an undead? Don’t you know that?”

The word undead made the corners of Alice’s eyes twitch slightly, and her expression became even colder. “What is that thing you have?”

Alice was talking about the strange thing in the troll’s hand that was pulsating like an internal organ. It might be called an internal organ, but it didn’t look like one. It was in the shape of a crystal, but if one approached it, one would inexplicably feel like they were being targeted, and one would feel goosebumps... ..

“Eye of the blood demon...” the troll smiled and said, “I used to make some small things...”

As he said that, the troll waved his hand, and the image inside the crystal magnified, and almost ten thousand screens appeared. There were many views on the screens. There was the location of the Black Forest, the location of the canyon, the location of the Black River, and the location of the Strange Black Army that was moving... ..

“How did they do it?” Alice was a little curious. Setting up surveillance through the spatial rift should have a strong enough signal, right? This guy had only been on Mars for a few days. Could it be that he had secretly set up a signal tower?

Moreover, the view of the moving soldiers was the strangest. From the perspective, it looked like the surveillance cameras were on the soldiers...

Seeing Alice’s puzzled look, the troll smiled strangely. He waved his hand again, and the view immediately changed. This time, Alice could clearly see the source of those views.

On the trees in the forest, on the rocks, in the waterfalls, and on some animals, including the black soldiers, there was a scarlet naked eye that was strangely rotating... ..

Seeing this, Alice took a deep breath. “Isn’t this a little too obvious?”

“The Blood Demon’s eyes can’t see...”. ...”the troll gave a strange smile and said, “That’s the most outstanding hunter among the ancient demons. Even the most outstanding ranger would find it hard to notice after being targeted by this ancient demon seed. Sometimes, even after death, they wouldn’t know when they had an eye or when they were targeted “...”. “...”

Alice:” ...”

“Don’t worry...”the troll said faintly, “You don’t have this thing on you. After all, that Lord of yours isn’t simple. Those instructors in the base aren’t simple. It’s very easy for them to notice.”

“Instructors? Those instructors from the Advanced Academy? How are they not simple?”Alice said with a smile.

The troll: “You know too little about this universe, even if I told you, you wouldn’t understand. You just need to know that these tutors are existences that you can’t afford to offend...”

“I see...”

“Oh?”Alice narrowed her eyes. “There are so many players here, why are you suddenly interested in her? There are many more powerful than her in the base...”

“She’s just a little doll, how can she be powerful or not? It’s true that she has weird talent, but it’s still too early to talk about being powerful...”

“Really? Then why do you need to take care of her alone?”

“She’s different...”the troll shook his head.

“What’s different?”Alice asked curiously.

“On her...”the troll’s face showed a rare hint of solemnity. “I Smell the scent of the same kind...”

Alice:” ...”

The same kind...

Alice suddenly remembered that one of the players had indeed been to the island, as if the captain of the team, who was called Li Goudan...

At this thought, Alice could not help but look at the screen of the Dark Army, and then looked at the strange troll next to him, could not help thinking: this is getting more and more interesting...

Damn it...

Under the moonlight of Mars, Rainy Woman Wugua looked at the furtive Li Goudan in front of her and was speechless. She could not help but cover her head and think: I will actually be bewitched by this guy... . .

She found that the developer lineage improved her intelligence and numeracy, but some of the human maladies still seem to be unresolved, such as courting death... ..

Could something that could make the lord so nervous be something that they could come into contact with right now?

But for some reason, her curiosity couldn't be stopped at all. She really wanted to know what it was that could make the lord so nervous... ..

After Li Goudan bewitched her, her curiosity became infinitely magnified, and she couldn't suppress it no matter how hard she tried. Her usually calm self seemed to have been disqualified... ..

"Are You Ready?" Li Goudan asked sneakily.

Rainy girl, Wu Gua, nodded.

"Then let's go. Time waits for no one..."

Rainy girl, Wu Gua, suddenly stopped and did not continue walking... ..

"What's Wrong?" Goudan walked in front without turning his head, but he noticed that rainy girl, Wu Gua, did not move.

"You... seem to have prepared a lot..." rainy girl, Wu Gua, said faintly.

Li Goudan's expression turned awkward when he heard that, and he scratched his head in embarrassment. "I was just saying..."

"Is that so...". Rainmaiden Wugua looked at him indifferently. "I guess I've been.. ... "I've been arguing with the teachers of the control and confusion department of the higher education institution, and I've recently become interested in the spells of the control and confusion department. Thus, I've gotten a teacher to study this aspect."

Li Goudan: "Is that so? How's The Learning Going?"

"I know a little bit of knowledge, but perhaps it's not even an introduction..." raingirl, Wu Gua, smiled and said, "I asked my tutor on the first day of class about how to determine if you've used the confusion spell on me. Guess what the tutor said?"

Li Goudan: "What did he say?"

Raingirl, Wu Gua: "The Tutor said that if you want to determine if I've used the confusion spell on you, you can't see it from me because there's too much of a difference between us. You can only see it from yourself. Think carefully about whether you've suddenly done something strange, such as doing something that you wouldn't normally do, but now you've done it...". ∴ "..."

Li Goudan: "Why are you suddenly talking about this?"

Rain maiden, no melon: "I feel that I'm very strange now. Whether it's from memory or logic, I shouldn't have been bewitched by you..."

Hearing that, Li Goudan immediately put his hands on his hips proudly. "That proves that this Goudan's bewitching ability has improved greatly. It can even catch up to the bewitching spell! !"

Rainless melon ignored the other party's act of cuteness and continued speaking indifferently, "And it's very strange... Even though I'm currently the person with the highest authority in intelligence, how could intelligence not have any reaction when I did something like sneaking out?"

Li Goudan: "Maybe it's broken..."

Rainless melon: "Will it?"

Li Goudan: "Why not?"

"It's possible..." rainless melon nodded. "But... It's also possible. The intelligence may be constantly reminding me of something, but I can't hear it..."

Li Goudan fell silent when he heard that. His eyes suddenly became extremely deep.

Seeing this situation, rainless melon finally verified her guess. Her expression turned cold and stern. "Who exactly are you?"

Chapter 977: Lei Xue's proposal...

"Boss has been kidnapped?" Several developers in the base, including virion, were baffled. Lei Xue, who had been invited to ask questions, also looked doubtful. "Kidnapped by Goudan? Are you sure?"

Raingirl had interacted with Lei Xue no less than ten times. This person gave her the feeling that he was one of the most professional developers in the base. His words and actions were as calm as a machine. He was very similar to the female leader of the Intelligence Group. He was already so outstanding that he didn't look like a human at all...

This kind of person would be kidnapped by Goudan? With Goudan's IQ?

Snow-less felt that this matter was very magical...

"Is he using a strong method?" Yamanita, who was in charge of the top research of the summoning department, asked curiously.

These words made everyone's eyes light up. They felt that this statement seemed to be somewhat possible. After all, even though Goudan's IQ wasn't good, his skills were good. Coupled with his character as a club, there was indeed a slight possibility... ..

"Impossible..." he had been acting as rainy girl's no melon assistant, the second level 5 developer who was researching the transformation department: Shui Jing instantly shook his head and rejected this statement, he said faintly, "If this matter happened before level 3, it might be possible. After all, the developer did not have any combat strength before that. However, it is absolutely impossible for boss. Boss is a developer of all departments. It is not that I look down on those combat department players. If they really fight, even if boss does not bring a mecha, the top five on the Heaven Board combined might not be her match..." "..." "..."

“So Fierce?” Wang Goudan, who had come to join in the fun, said in surprise.

“You Think?” The other party rolled his eyes at her and said, “Boss has already broken through to level six as a developer, and his pure spiritual power can make a level five Titan unable to move. Leng Xing even tried it with boss last time, but he couldn’t even last 20 seconds!”

“Hiss...” the surrounding people took a deep breath, while Leng Xing remained silent. ...

He realized that he had been used as a unit of measurement recently. When did this start?

“Twenty seconds?” Wang Goudan tilted his head. “That bad?”

Leng Xing: “...”

Ai: “Yes...”

As it spoke, Ai played the surveillance video. In the surveillance video, Li Goudan excitedly came to negotiate with rainy girl and melon-less. As usual, Goudan roguishly pestered rainy girl and melon-less, leaving the other party speechless. No one was surprised by this scene, ever since she was pushed to be a negotiator, the bored Gou Dan enjoyed this every day.

However, the strange thing was that in another video, at the same time, about 45 Mars time, Gou Dan Li brought rainy girl, no melon, to the location of the spatial rift... ...

This made everyone’s faces full of question marks. After being stunned for a long time, Gou Dan Wang was the first to speak, “What’s going on? Is there a BUG?”

Ai: “This Ai won’t have a BUG...”

“Then why would the same person appear in two places at the same time?” Lei Xue asked in confusion.

As soon as he finished speaking, the Goudan and Rainmaiden in the video began to fade away. Then, they slowly disappeared. Before they disappeared, they seemed to be maintaining an intense debate, making people feel strange.

“Illusion?” Lei Xue frowned slightly. She had chosen to study mechanical alchemy in the high school, but because the instructor of the control element had been poaching her recently, she also had some understanding of the control element.

“Can illusion deceive the surveillance?” Candy Bean, who was from the same force as Lei Xue, expressed her curiosity.

In her eyes, wasn’t the control element only able to affect the biological nerves? When did it become possible to deceive even machinery?

“That’s a low-level confusion spell...”. “...”. The only developer in the office who practiced the illusion department shook his head and said, “The instructor once told me that a high-level confusion spell could hypnotize the basic elements, allowing the elements to cooperate to create all kinds of lights, sounds, and even more powerful ones to affect the machine code. You Can’t even be sure if the current intelligence is also being hypnotized when you meet that kind of person...”. “...”. “...”

Everyone: "..."

"What the F * ck?" Wang Goudan was stunned. "Then why are there so few people in the illusion department in our base?"

The developer curled his lips. "Because they all want to learn the mighty dragon..."

"..." Goudan

Lei Xue frowned. "Can it really do that?"

AI was silent for a while before finally replying, "Yes, in the advanced mechanical civilization, there is a defense programming system that specifically targets illusions, just to prevent a certain segment from being affected by illusions."

"Programming for anti-illusions..." the old program ape in the office was stunned when he heard that. He asked curiously, "Then... do we have it?"

AI: "It's more expensive. The Liege felt that it wasn't useful at this stage, so he didn't buy it..."

Wang Goudan: "So the Liege is really poor..."

AI: "..."

Lei Xue: "If that's the case, I suggest that we let the advanced professors of the advanced academy who are proficient in illusions participate in this matter. Otherwise, it would be very easy for us to analyze the problem wrongly..."

Everyone immediately fell silent upon hearing this. Rain Maiden had previously said that these advanced professors were partners. Logically speaking, such internal matters shouldn't be allowed to involve them. However, the Liege wasn't around now.., raindrop's boss had been kidnapped for no reason. At this time, it was hard to say if this was the right thing to do.

Seeing that everyone was silent, lei xue carefully said, "Should we try to get Huaxia City to step in?"

"Huaxia City?" Lei Xue's suggestion stunned everyone. They immediately looked at Lei Xue with a scrutinizing gaze.

In this office, Snow's background was the most unique. Because she was born in the Huaxia military, most of the time, people would avoid her, whether intentionally or not.

Snow also seemed to know her situation. Under normal circumstances, she would keep a low profile. Aside from academic discussions, her personal relationships with high-level players from other factions were average. Occasionally, when they were together, in order to avoid awkwardness.., she even refused to mention the official matters.

This included the time when Huaxia City's officials had made things difficult for the players. She had also maintained a silent attitude.

However, she had never expected that she would take the initiative to ask Huaxia City to interfere this time. All of a sudden, everyone's nerves became sensitive.

Seeing that the atmosphere was strange, Snow Thunder's expression changed, with a faint smile, she said, "The Lord isn't here, and boss rain isn't here either. If we were to appear directly, whether it's the officials or the instructors from the Advanced Academy, they would be able to see through our background. However, if we were to use a different method, things would be different..."

"Oh?" This time, even Candy Bean, who had always had a good relationship with Snow Thunder, could not help but look at the other party. She said calmly, "Tell me about it..."

Snow Thunder took a deep breath. She knew that this proposal was extremely important to her. If her proposal was successful and was implemented effectively, it would greatly improve her relationship with the advanced players, it would also lower the boundaries of her embarrassing identity.

With some apprehension, she finally revealed her plan.

After hearing the other party's plan, everyone fell silent. They had to admit that Lei Xue's method was very good. However, the key to this method was that, over the past few days, Lei Xue had... Had she revealed the Starsea organization's background to the authorities.

Chapter 978: a sudden surprise... ..

Currently, there were two types of understanding of space. The first type was that of high-level developers, especially those who had traveled to outer space before. Basically, they already knew that the Overlord was an alien force.

They also knew that the so-called Luo Fu was simply something that Gou Dan had made up on the spot... ..

The other type was that of the various official forces in planet D. The space they imagined was more complicated, and they had basically guessed that it was an alien force. However, they had never been able to estimate the size of this alien force's organization.

To put it simply, it seemed like all development had to start from scratch. However, to put it simply, the terrifying civilization base made the analysis team agree that the size of planet D was not even comparable to the dust in front of this extraterrestrial civilization.

Therefore, both sides had been testing each other out.

Lei Xue's background was very special. She was highly regarded by the Ice Cap and was quite talented. Even Rainy Girl, Wu Gua, thought highly of her and would often make an exception for her to use some high-end laboratory equipment.

She would even occasionally be recruited as an assistant. It was obvious that she was grooming her. However, she also had a very strong military background.

This made Snow Thunder very special in the eyes of both the players and the official factions.

In the eyes of the official factions, they were both happy that Snow Thunder had joined their circle, but they were also worried that Snow Thunder's bottom would be crooked. The same thoughts were shared by the players, including Ice Crown.

Meanwhile, Snow Thunder herself was a little apprehensive about the situation between the two factions. The key was that she actually knew the truth.

When Rainless Melon recruited her as an assistant, she would reveal some of the truth about Galaxy, whether intentionally or not. This made Snow Thunder feel very conflicted, based on her understanding of Rainless Melon, she knew that the other party was definitely not the type of person who would spill the beans just by casually chatting.

This could only mean that the other party had done it on purpose. What was the other party trying to do by deliberately revealing it to her? This made Lei Xue very uneasy. Before she could figure out Rainless Melon's actions, she did not dare to make any moves.

Now that this opportunity had come, she planned to test it out. She could further test the truth of the higher-ups in Galaxy, and she could also try to build a closer relationship with the high-level players.

Hence, she came up with the proposal just now...

This proposal caused the entire meeting room to fall into silence. Even Wang Goudan, who had always been a clown, had a serious expression on his face.

"I agree with this plan..." "...". The Ice Crown was the first to speak. "Right now, we can't contact his lordship, nor can we contact the upper echelons other than him. In order to stabilize the situation and not let that foreign teacher look down on us too much, Lei Xue's method is not bad..." "..."

Hearing this, everyone looked at Ice Cap and Snow. After a moment of silence, more and more people began to agree to this plan. As the largest lord, Little Cabbage turned around and looked at Alice, Alice smiled and nodded.

Hence, after Little Cabbage agreed, the high lord players voted to agree. Although some developers still had some objections, more than half of them agreed in the end.

Looking at this situation, Alice's eyes flashed with an inexplicable light. Everything in the meeting room was transmitted to another existence hidden in the base through a red light in her eyes... ..

In the distance, the troll who was covered in thick water looked at the situation in the meeting room with a curious expression. His eyes were filled with suspicion.

Just This?

Was this really the extent of the strength of this force?

If it was just this extent, how could it scare Andrew so much that he immediately ran away to the realm of death? Did he spend so much effort to run out of Iceland again?

Thinking of this, the troll kept rubbing his fingers. His already swollen fingers became a bloody mess under his fidgety rubbing. Black and yellow thick water flowed out, causing some orcs not far away to continuously frown.

It's time to change bodies...

The troll faintly looked at a tall and sturdy minotaur not far away... ..

Elder Li hurriedly walked into the Huaxia City's City Lord's room. Before he could apply for permission to enter, the blocking program automatically opened. Elder Li was stunned when he saw this. He knew that it was definitely a big deal, the city Lord had to manually unlock the city lord's room to enter. He hadn't even applied for permission to enter the AI before opening it. This meant that the city lord had been observing the situation outside.

"What happened?" After entering the room, elder Li didn't beat around the bush and asked directly.

Elder long looked at him and immediately closed the office door. Looking at him, he said, "The AI just sent a mission from the higher-ups..."

"Mission?" Elder Li was stunned.

"Guo Xiaoyun is missing. The missing person is from Huaxia City, and the location is also in Huaxia City. The higher-ups hope that we can take over the investigation..." the city Lord said with a serious expression.

"Guo Xiaoyun?" Elder li frowned. He was familiar with this name. This was a very special player. The developer player in charge of the distribution of the civilization vault in the Galaxy Base had very high authority, he was the closest to the higher-ups of galaxy among all the players!

"How did he go missing?" Elder li asked in puzzlement, "The person involved is from Huaxia City. Who is He?"

City lord: "Green Sparrow..."

Elder li: "Green Sparrow? How is that possible?"

Seeing this, the city Lord showed elder Li the video that had been sent over by the AI... ..

After looking at it for a while, elder Li suddenly took a deep breath. "What's going on?"

"It should be the effect of the confusion system..." the city Lord had chosen the developer's bloodline and had come into contact with some knowledge in this area. Now, he wasn't completely blind in this area... ..

"But why did you ask us to investigate?" Elder Li was confused.

He didn't believe that the person involved in the case was a person from Huaxia city or that the location was in Huaxia City. Green Sparrow's recognition of Huaxia City was just so-so. Strictly speaking, these old players were only people from Huaxia city in name, as for the location, it was even more ridiculous. The territory had just been taken over, so it didn't make sense for them to investigate whether it was in terms of technology or authority.

After all, they hadn't had the time to absorb all the knowledge here. Shouldn't they let more professional people handle the investigation? For example, let the higher-ups of galaxy send an expert who was proficient in control and confusion.

When the city lord saw that elder Li was puzzled and gave the intelligent notification, elder Li immediately froze.

The intelligent words were the same as what the city Lord had said at the beginning. The person involved in the case was from Huaxia City, and the location of the case was in Huaxia City, so the Huaxia city officials were in charge of this case investigation.

However, in the end, he added, "The Huaxia City Developers' right to volunteer will be open to Huaxia city officials. If there is a need, Huaxia city officials will restrict developers to select the best developers!"!

Seeing this, elder Li finally understood why the city lord was so excited!

In terms of recruiting people, Huaxia city's approach was actually quite overbearing. They would give priority to recruiting military personnel to join the warrior class, and they would only recruit developers for civilian players, this was no longer a secret in the entire Huaxia Circle. The American media had also criticized Huaxia City for abusing their power over this matter.

Even so, Huaxia City did not dare to publicly announce that they would restrict the selection of applicants. For example, they could not openly say that they would give priority to recruiting as many mechanic developers as possible. They could openly tell everyone that they would only accept this... ..

This also caused the confusion and prophecy department instructors to come to them recently. Although they really wanted to make friends with these advanced instructors, they could not do anything about it...

This was because they could not force the developers to learn a major that they did not want.

However, this voluntary option was completely different!

With this permission, they could publicly announce how many confusion department developers Huaxia City wanted to accept. This meant that they could directly control the attributes of the applicants. They could recruit the corresponding talents according to the city's population needs to the greatest extent... ..

This authority was extremely great, and it was extremely timely. After all, with this authority, they could now make friends with those high-level instructors who were looking for students everywhere!

Chapter 979: Elder Li's conjecture...

"What do you think?" Elder long took a sip of tea and asked with a serious expression.

As the city lord, he naturally hoped that his authority would be as high as possible. This allowed him to openly control the authority that recorded the attributes of the players. Not only would it allow the city lord to arrange the members according to his own considerations, but it would also increase the authority of the city Lord.

Not to mention the distant ones, even if the advanced academies moved in, these advanced instructors were all mighty figures. The knowledge and abilities that they occasionally displayed were far from what those instructors in the training base could compare to.., to be able to rope in these people was definitely extremely important to the city lord.

The city lords outside were all extremely envious of Huaxia City's natural advantage. However, only elder long himself knew that his current influence on that academy was actually not that great.

The address was directly approved by the higher-ups, and all the facilities and funds were directly under the higher-ups' responsibility. They did not even go through him. Apart from his position here, he was actually the same as the other city lords, he couldn't use some authority to influence the operation of the school, so he could only use the students to recruit them.

What made him speechless was that since the school had moved into Huaxia City, the school's advantage in recruiting local students was already very obvious. A direct promotion could attract a large number of students, and they didn't need to go through him at all. However, it was different in other cities. On the contrary, the local city lords could cooperate with the teachers who wanted to go to the school to carry out official promotions, and they could instead gain the teachers' favor... ..

This made elder long extremely conflicted...

On one hand, he was more than happy to see a large number of students from his Huaxia City, but on the other hand, the academy was too close to him, so there was no need for the students to go through him to recruit them, which made him seem a little insignificant...

Therefore, when the instructors from the unpopular department came looking for him, he actually wanted to help them with this favor, but unfortunately, he couldn't do it... ..

Some people might ask, since elder long could directly give priority to the military warrior department, why not let the people in the army monopolize the developers as well? At that time, it wouldn't be up to him to decide which major to choose?

There were two problems with doing this. The first problem was the contradiction between the people. The last time he let the Army monopolize the warrior department, it had already aroused a lot of dissatisfaction. It was very disadvantageous for him to inspect in five years. If the army monopolized the developer channel again., the players who had chosen Huaxia City might not be able to resist rebelling.

The reason why he had done this back then was to quickly establish the city guards. In reality, he had already planned to cancel this policy in the second year. If he made it worse now, the consequences would be unimaginable. This new platform was not like before., public opinion was still very important.

The second problem was the family monopoly. The previous incident had already made him understand how serious the family monopoly was in the army. The developers that were recruited from the army might not be reliable. Moreover, the developers were different from ordinary warriors, it was not so easy to subdue them through some means.

Therefore, although elder long was very eager to let the professors of the academy understand the importance of his authority as the city lord, he did not dare to really do that.

However, the meaning of galaxy directly giving him the authority was completely different this time... ..

He could openly select talents according to the needs of the city, and he could also help the professors of the unpopular department to gain friendship through this authority.

It was like giving a pillow to someone who was dozing off!

However, Elder Long was not blinded by this sudden surprise. The higher-ups of Galaxy did not let him go so easily for no reason, right? It could not be that it was really to make it convenient for him to investigate the case, right?

With this thought, elder long looked at elder Li.

Elder Li was silent for a while, then he slowly analyzed, "I think it might be a test..."

"A test?" Elder Long was stunned.

Elder li said, "Why do you think the higher-ups of star ocean chose politicians from different political systems to establish a pluralistic force?"

Elder Long was silent. In the past, he might have said that it was because the composition of the upper echelons of Luo Fu was complicated. The current situation was a political compromise between the various forces in the upper echelons.

However, after interacting with them for a period of time, the fact that Star Ocean was an extraterrestrial force was basically a foregone conclusion. It would be difficult to explain it with Luo Fu's excuse.

However, just as elder Li said, since it was an extraterrestrial power and there was no internal conflict within sphere D, Why would they establish such a diverse force?

"I think they are experimenting..." elder Li said carefully.

"Experimenting?"

Elder li nodded. "Judging from the enthusiasm of those high-level instructors toward our people, we should be a rare existence who can master the genome. This is also why the data set analysis of the extraterrestrial forces is so large, yet they are taking such a gentle approach to cooperate with US instead of directly colonizing us like how they treated the natives of the new territories. On the contrary, they are nurturing our people into colonists. I think it should be us, the people of Sphere D, who are special enough... "... "..."

Elder long nodded his head. The experts in the data group agreed with him.

After some analysis, they concluded that this was due to the genes. This was not difficult to analyze because the genes used by the natives of the New Territories were average. It was very expensive for players to exchange genes for the natives of the New Territories, a copy of the Green Titan gene cost tens of millions of points. No one had ever done this before.

But why would the alien force be willing to give such an expensive gene to the people of Planet D for free?

The data team felt that this high-level gene had a very high requirement on the body. This was something that could be deduced from the difference in the sequence between the Central Asian players and the players from other countries.

Although the specific situation was still to be verified, one thing was certain. The alien force placed a lot of importance on the people of Planet D... ..

Following this train of thought, elder Li's thought might be correct. The extraterrestrial forces treating them so well might be an experiment.

With this thought in mind, elder long said to elder Li, "Continue..."

Elder li hurriedly said, "From the analysis of the data set, if the extraterrestrial forces placed great importance on us, then naturally they would want us to grow better. Under such circumstances, the space forces should be careful. They definitely do not want excessive changes to cause us discomfort or resistance. That's why I said that the reason why the space forces used different political systems to establish a diversified official force was to experiment. It was to see which political system on Planet D would allow the people of Planet D to grow better... "... "..."

Elder long fell silent. He didn't really believe that an alien civilization would be so kind-hearted, but the other party had the absolute advantage, yet they used such a gentle way to cooperate. This was obviously the only explanation.

Seeing that elder long didn't refute elder Li, he continued, "According to this train of thought, it actually makes sense why they would give us exclusive access at this time!"

Elder long asked, "What do you mean?"

Elder li said, "The official administration of central China is very different from that of other countries, but we have achieved remarkable results in the world. I think this is the key to galaxy giving us exclusive access to central China. Since they want to test whether our government system is better for the development of the players, they will naturally continue to give us power, because we used to be a powerful government...". "..."

"That makes sense! "Elder long nodded and agreed with elder Li.

Elder li said, "That's why I don't think there's a need to worry too much about it. Since the higher-ups want to observe, we'll do our best to show them. Besides, isn't verifying whether our policies are reasonable our original purpose of coming here?"

"You're really able to see through it!"Elder long slowly heaved a sigh of relief when he heard this. He then nodded. "You're right. If they dare to give us the authority, wouldn't it be ridiculous for us to be afraid to use it? Go and invite the dean of the control department..."

Elder Li's spirits were immediately lifted when he heard this. He smiled and said, "Alright, I'll Go Now!"

Chapter 980: a complaint from a teacher of the control system!

The dean of the control system was called Nibogen. Pons, the Pons family was also very famous in the Federation. It was a mixed-blood family of demons, rich in the half-demon race.

Nibogen had a very strong flame demon bloodline. In the past, children with this kind of talent would most likely cultivate the flame magic branch of the plastic energy system, which would give them an advantage in talent.

However, no one knew what had happened to make a half-demon of the flame demon element become a teacher who was proficient in illusions, and even became the dean of a branch of an advanced academy.

Like most half-demons, Nibogen was a very particular man. He dressed very decently, and was completely different from other teachers who did not care about appearances. Moreover, he was handsome enough that he was almost comparable to elves. However, no one knew how much of his appearance was exaggerated. After all, he was an illusionist... ..

When elder Lee came to Niborgen's room, his eyes couldn't help but light up. The instructors' dormitories temporarily allocated by the academy were all the same. A small room of sixty square meters, one room and one living room., the basic facilities inside were all common to all the instructors.

However, niborgen's room looked different from the other instructors' rooms. Some exquisite accessories, murals, and some furniture were moved around, instantly making the room look brand new and stylish.

This made elder Li feel that even if this guy didn't become an arcanist instructor, he would be able to do well by relying on this skill alone.

"Mr. Li, please have a seat..." Niebogen smiled and poured a cup of hot tea for elder Li. The fragrance of the tea made elder Li feel refreshed, and he asked curiously, "Is this the tea you brought?"

"Oh, no... This is the white tea made in your city..."

"White Tea?" Elder Li looked at the cup in surprise. The white buds in the dark green tea soup did look like white tea, but the fragrance and delicious taste made it hard for him to believe that this was a third-class crude tea from Huaxia City.

Seeing elder Li's confusion, he explained with a smile, "In fact, this white ding tea is not worse than the Yuyang fresh tea recommended by Huaxia City. There is a problem with your method. White Ding can not be used to stop the tea fermentation process by frying or baking the green leaves. Instead, it needs to be cold-cultured. After being maintained at a fixed temperature, it will be fermented into white ding liquid very slowly. Under low temperature, this liquid will emulsify into a layer of fragrant tea oil. When it is soaked, the tea oil will taste sweet and mellow. Together with the fragrance of the White Ding itself, the taste is superb..." "..."

"So there's such a thing?" The more elder Li listened, the brighter his eyes became. Originally, Huaxia City had planned to remove the white cloves from the shelves, but he didn't expect that the white cloves would have such an unknown value. It seemed that knowledge was indeed the key to creating wealth... ..

After he returned, he quietly bought the fresh white cloves from other players at a low price... ..

"Mr. Li, why would such a busy person have the time to come to my place?" Niebogen asked as he took a sip of tea.

To be honest, the level of the creatures here could not satisfy his taste buds at all. The reason why he was patient and continued to stay here was naturally because he was envious of the students here.

Tens of thousands of developers. Oh My God, this place was heaven for any teacher who wanted to teach. However, the more this was the case, the more sullen he felt these few days.

Although the illusion department was relatively unpopular in the federation, it was definitely not at the level where no one was interested. However, it seemed that it was really not favored here. He felt that there seemed to be some misunderstanding about the control department here, this was clearly a very high-level discipline, alright?

The reason why it was unpopular in the federation was because the threshold was high enough. Usually, only nobles with great talent would choose to cultivate. How did it end up in such a state where they were despised?

For this reason, he had already tried to communicate with the official forces here several times, but the other party did not give him a good solution. This made him even more disappointed with the management of this so-called Huaxia City. He had not been around these past few days, however, he did not expect that the other party would take the initiative to look for him today.

“Ah, it’s like this...” . “...”. Old Li took a sip of tea and smiled. “Something has happened in Huaxia City. We need an expert from the illusion department to help us with the investigation. If Mr. Nibogen is free, I hope you can help us with this...” . “...” . “...”

Nibogen’s mouth twitched when he heard that. He had been very sensitive to this idle word recently... .. Recently, his colleagues had been very busy. They were busy recruiting students, teaching students, and taking care of the newly recruited high-quality students. On the other hand, his place was deserted. He actually had time to cultivate white tea... ..

“Sorry, I have a class later in the afternoon...”

“Is that so?” Elder Li looked at him in surprise. “But I asked before I came here. Your only student, water mirror, is helping with the experiments in the base. Could it be that Mr. Nibogen is giving a general lecture to other students in the Department of Control and confusion?”

“UH... that’s not right... When I passed by the Department of Control and confusion’s classroom just now, I found that it seemed to be occupied by the instructor of the Department of Plastic Energy... you guys don’t have classes today, right?”

Niborgen:”...”

This guy did it on purpose, right...

Niborgen suddenly had the urge to hypnotize the other party into becoming a cross-dressing boss...

However, elder Li did not seem to sense the danger at all. He continued to talk to himself, “Ah... to be honest, your school’s plastic and energy department is really popular. I’m afraid there are almost a thousand students here, right?”

Bang! !

As soon as elder Li said this, the Teacup in Niebogen's hand shattered with a bang. Blood with blue flames slowly flowed onto the ground along with the broken glass...

"Ahem... Sir, please don't be agitated..." elder Li hurriedly said when he saw this.

"I'm not agitated... "... "What's there to be agitated about?" Niebogen's face was twisted. "Isn't it just that Jones next door has recruited 1,461 students, and I only have a total of nine students here, and they can't even fill up a classroom? "Do you think such a small matter is worth me being agitated about?"

Elder Li: "..."

"I don't understand. The children here are so talented, so why do you all like low-end majors like plastic energy?"

Elder li: "Low-end Majors?"

"Isn't it a low-end major?" Niebogen said angrily, "In the federation, most of the students of the plastic energy department go to apply for low-end jobs like energy disassembling crystals and charging elemental weapons after graduation. The working environment is usually a large mine or a blacksmith shop. Not only is the environment harsh, the salary isn't high either. As for the students of our department of Control, the moment they came out to look for a job, they started looking for high-paying jobs such as mind purification, virtual environment engineer, and so on. Even if the school wasn't that good and couldn't join a major organization to do this kind of work, then going to a private warrior training center to help those high-level warriors do deep hypnosis for an annual salary wasn't something that those losers from the guidance faculty could compare to, right

"Do you think that the people here are mentally handicapped? Instead of choosing a high-level major, they're trying their best to get into that migrant worker major? Is there something wrong with their brains?"

Elder Li: "..."

He seemed to have brought up a lot of interesting topics. What was the federation? A high-level force? A virtual engineer? Where were the jobs that the other party mentioned? Was it a society from an alien civilization?

Elder Li secretly took the other party's words to heart. He was prepared to retell it to the data team so that they could analyze it properly... ..

"What you said makes sense..." elder Li carefully looked around and didn't dare to continue provoking the other party because he found that the space became blurry when the other party was agitated. It was almost completely abstract... ..

Was this the power of the illusion department?

In order to prevent the other party from losing control, elder Li didn't dare to keep the other party in suspense anymore. He hurriedly said, "Therefore, the city Lord has decided to recruit five hundred new developers to walk the path of the professional confusion department. When that time comes, I might have to trouble you all to work hard..."

As soon as he said this, Niebogen, who was about to lose his mind, suddenly froze. The chaotic situation in the surrounding space instantly calmed down. He looked at the other party in a daze. "How many?"

"Ahem... for the time being, I've decided to have five hundred. This is also because the number of confusion system instructors in your school is relatively rare..."

"Of course it's rare!" Niebogen hurriedly interrupted the other party. "That's because instructors like us are very expensive. Do you think that there are street-level goods like the guidance department that can be found all over the streets?" As he said this, his tone changed, he said gently, "Although our tutors are few in number, you don't have to worry about the quality of teaching. No matter how many students there are, it won't affect teaching..."

Elder Li: "But this..."

Before elder Li could say anything, Niebogen instantly looked like he was afraid that the other party would go back on his word, he immediately said, "Alright, Alright, 500 it is, 500 it is... Umm... right, you said just now that you need my help with something, right? What is it?"

Elder Li: "..."

It seemed that his guess was right. These outsiders placed a lot of importance on the d-ball players...
