Chapter 981 guesses

“Yes, this is Lei Xue. She is temporarily in charge of Huaxia City and the intelligence docking area...”elder long introduced with a smile.

Nibogen glanced at Lei Xue and his pupils contracted slightly. What pure spiritual energy...

Even though he had seen many high-quality developers recently, he was still shocked by Lei Xue’s aptitude. This pure spiritual energy was comparable to the royal family of the space elves. No, it was even better., the spiritual energy of elves would be affected by elemental affinity, resulting in the spiritual energy not being pure and the ability to transform it was rather weak. From the perspective of a student, this type of spiritual energy was more liked by him.

“Which teacher did you follow?”Nibogen asked with a smile.

“I studied under teacher Kareem of the mechanical academy...”Lei Xue said honestly.

“Kareem...”Nibogen frowned slightly and thought to himself, that old guy sure knows how to pick. ...

Although Karim was not the dean of the Mechanical College, his academic status was incomparable to that of the dean of the Mechanical College, Janis. He was an old dwarf who held the authentic mechanical technology of the NORMORRIGAN system in his hands. He was one of the ACE teachers of the principal. It was basically impossible to snatch him from his hands... ..

At the thought of this, Niebogen sighed slightly, the topic changed to the case. “I looked at the video that you guys provided. From the video, it seems that the level of the person who cast the illusion is indeed not low. The illusionists who can hypnotize the elements are all above level 10, but I need more information to determine the specific strength...””

“What do you need?”Lei Xue hurriedly asked.

“Firstly, the parameters of intelligence. Different levels of intelligence have different abilities to judge things. Some intelligence only has basic energy heat sensing, and it doesn’t have a high degree of recognition for complex objects. Some intelligence programs are strict, and they can even judge the complex variables of the seven elements space. Therefore, the difficulty of hypnosis is different for different intelligence. Then, there are the mechanical equipment. Intelligence depends largely on the data transmitted by the mechanical equipment. Therefore, the energy sensors in the base, the parameters of the monitoring model, and the best can all be given to me...” . “ “...”

Lei Xue’s interest was piqued and she suddenly asked, “Then... if we are faced with advanced mechanical equipment, will the masters of the illusion department be unable to perform visual deception?”

“Of course not!”Niebogen sneered. “The cost of a mechanical equipment to defend against an illusionist’s invasion is very high. Even if it costs a lot, it doesn’t mean that it’s foolproof. In this world, there are always more ways to attack than to defend. Just like the security experts and hackers in programming, security experts often have much higher strength than hackers in order to defend against hackers. Therefore, in many large factions, even if the mechanical civilization was advanced, they would still spend a lot of money to invite a few high-level illusionists to guard the system. They were afraid that the system would be invaded by illusions...". "...". "..."

"I see..." Lei Xue's eyes lit up when she heard that. In her heart, she looked forward to the outside world that Niebogen mentioned. When she got Li Goudan back, one day, she would definitely go to the outside world to see how exciting it was!

"Are you interested in this aspect?" Niebogen glanced at the slightly excited Lei Xue and pretended to ask casually.

"En..." Lei Xue nodded. "I learned some knowledge about the control department through my friends, and I still feel that it's quite interesting..."

"Cough... If you're interested, you can go to my main class when you're free. If you're still interested after the class, you can apply for a double degree to study..."

"I see..." Lei Xue immediately laughed when she heard that and said to Niebogen, "Thank you, teacher. I might trouble you in the future. I hope that teacher won't find me annoying..."

Niebogen said, "Well... no serious teacher would find someone who loves to learn annoying..."

The assistant behind him felt his face Twitch when he heard this. A good student might not find it annoying to trouble his teacher, but he was not good enough... .. Hehe...

Especially teacher Niebogen. All the old students who had stayed under his feet knew that this guy was one of the most impatient teachers. When he came to ask for advice from those students who were less talented, he would always mock and ridicule them, he would often take the initiative to persuade the students to leave.

His lines were often: if you can't understand what I've said once, then no matter how many times I repeat it, you won't be able to understand it. It's your problem, not mine. Or: with your talent, don't waste your time in the illusion department. Go to the next room and learn mechanical alchemy. Even if you're a little worse at that major, you can still find a job, and you won't lose your job or starve to death... ..

Many students complained about him, and the principal was helpless against him. When did this guy become so enthusiastic?

Niebogen didn't see the strange expression of his assistant behind him, but he didn't feel awkward seeing it. He had his own principles. In his heart, illusion was a subject with a very high threshold, people who studied this field couldn't get into it. It wasn't like the mechanical alchemy or the plastic energy department. If you didn't learn well, you could find a low-level job to earn a living. If you went out in this field, you would at least be a high-end spiritual master or virtual programmer, it was impossible to get in if one did not know how to learn.

In his eyes, dismissing students with poor aptitude was a responsibility to them. As for students with high aptitude. In his eyes, they should have come to learn his course... ..

After a few hours of questioning, Lei Xue brought over all the parameters that she could get. She said to Niebogen, "I'm sorry, teacher. We can't apply for the parameters of intelligence. We only have the parameters of mechanical equipment. Take a look..."

"Let me take a look..." Niebogen took the manual that Lei Xue brought over and read it carefully. Then, he was slightly stunned.

He had seen this trademark before. It was the trademark of the wine god Lord's faction... ..

He looked at the model again. Then, he raised his hand and completely dismantled one of the sensor equipment with his spiritual power to examine it, finally, he nodded and said, "The level of this machinery equipment is not low. The technology and materials are of high quality. I looked at the manual. There is a professional anti-illusion program in the equipment. It is the 74th edition of the Valkyrie produced by the wood leaf pattern group. The protection of this edition of the system is very good. As long as the intelligence is not very weak, it should not be a problem to defend against an illusionist who is fourteen or below... "...". Of course, there were exceptions for illusionists with special secret techniques... "...". "..."

"Level 14?" Lei Xue was stunned. She thought to herself, 'can it be upgraded to such a high level?' 'what kind of existence is that?'

"Logically speaking, a small, remote planet like yours shouldn't have an illusionist of this level...".
"...". Niebogen frowned. "Perhaps it's because the intelligence can't keep up with the hardware and doesn't bring out the true function of the equipment. It's hard to say "...". "..."

The Intelligence: "..."

Who are you looking down on? Management is the highest level of intelligence, okay? Even the first Lord's eye-in-the-sky intelligence isn't fit for management to lick its feet, okay?

However, there are some things that the other party isn't wrong about. Wine God's equipment isn't low-level. Under the operation of a high-level intelligence like his, theoretically speaking, even a level-18 illusionist.., it felt that it should not be able to deceive it.

Unless...

Chapter 982: Guo Xiaoyun's helplessness...

"Eh? where is this place?"

Under the moonlight, Li Goudan slowly opened his eyes and rubbed his recently chubby face. When he saw the black liquid flowing in the sky and the beast-like eye of the Moon, he was stunned, Goudan froze on the spot.

"You're Awake?"

A faint voice sounded from the side. Goudan instantly jumped up. There was someone beside this strange scene who suddenly spoke. Even someone as careless as Goudan was scared stiff, he immediately flipped over and jumped ten meters back. His muscles tensed as he looked over.

However, the next second, when she saw the other party clearly, she immediately relaxed her muscles and said speechlessly, "Boss, what are you doing?"

Rainy Girl, Wu Gua, glanced at her and said indifferently, "Well... your vigilance is still better than Wang Goudan's. We're both Goudan, so you should still be more reliable..."

Li Goudan:"..."

"Boss... where is this place?"

Rainy girl, Wu Gua: "New World..."

"New World?" Li Goudan's eyes immediately widened. "Damn, didn't dog Lord tell us to retreat? Why did you drag me here? Don't you know how dangerous this place is?"

Rainmaiden wugua looked at her silently. "Do you know?"

"Uh... I don't know either..." Goudan Li scratched his head. "But the dog Lord was so nervous that he evacuated all of us. It must be something big... look at the sky..."

"It looks very abnormal. Let's go back!"

"We can't go back..." rain girl pointed behind her. "The space crack has been set with a high-level seal. When we came out, I realized that it's impossible to use the crack to go back..."

"F * ck..." Goudan Li immediately looked over when he heard that. After taking a closer look, he realized that this was the mountain behind the flower town that they had rushed out of?

It had been four to five years since they last came here. In the past, they would use the teleportation point to return to the base directly. Suddenly, he felt nostalgic... ..

"You really can't use it?" Goudan pointed at the crack and asked.

"I can't use it..."

"Then... I remember that there's a teleportation point at Molendo, which is closest to fresh flower town, right? It's your special teleportation point, Boss Raindrop. We can use that to return, right?"

"There's no more..." raindrop WUGUA said coldly, "Have you forgotten? In order to prevent others from finding out the location of our base, the Liege has already ordered people to wipe out all the teleportation points..."

"Uh..." hearing that, Eggface said in a daze, "Then... then how can we go back?"

Raindrop WUGUA said, "Find the Liege who went to save Liu Shiyu, take a ride back, or wait for the Liege to return to the base and find us missing before coming out to look for us..."

"AH? Then... Will the dog Lord come to save us?"

"Maybe..." Rainmaiden Wugua looked at the strange scene in the sky and said faintly, "But we may not have the life to wait until that time..."

“Wow...”goudan immediately shouted, “If you want to be stimulated, just come yourself, why drag me down?”

Rainmaiden Wugua’s pupils slightly drooped, “Why do you think I kidnapped you?”

“Could it be that I kidnapped you?”Li Goudan suddenly said angrily, “You must be curious why the Lord didn’t explain to us why he forced us to leave. You’re curious about what happened in the New World, so you snuck out to take a look, right? But you were afraid that you would be punished if you went out alone, so you dragged Ben Goudan into the water with you, right?”

Rainmaiden WUGUA: “Your analysis is quite logical...”

“HMPH, that’s true...”Li Goudan raised his head and puffed out his chest, but then his expression changed. “WUWU, you should look for Wang Goudan for this kind of thing. Anyway, she often gets into trouble, so why would she look for me...”

Rainmaiden Wugua:”...”

“What do we do now?”Goudan sat on the ground angrily!

“We can only go to the liege...”rainless melon frowned and said, “Do you know why Liu Shiyu stayed in the New World? We have to find his location so that we can meet up with the Liege...”

“Brother Dog?”Eggface was immediately interested. “I know, I know. That Kid secretly fell in love with a native and even became a dog-licking knight. This temporary retreat closed all the teleportation points. He hurriedly ran from Gondolin to the noble lady’s territory, so he couldn’t make it back in time...”. “...”

“Noble lady...”Rainmaiden wugua frowned even more when she heard that. “Is it the city where he acted as the illegitimate child?”

“AH, yes, yes!”Eggface nodded repeatedly. “Boss, do you remember the location?”

“I do remember the location...”rainmaiden WUGUA sighed. “But it’s a little far, and there are at least seven roads leading to it. It’s easy for us to miss it...”

With her brain’s memory, she naturally remembered the coordinates of Brother Dog’s city. It was the worst possible outcome. If it was from the flower array, the furthest city in the southern city should be there, right?

“Hey, wait!”Dog Egg suddenly reacted. “You just said that the Lord has erased all the teleportation points. Then how will he return after finding Brother Dog? Will he be teleported in place?”

“He won’t be teleported on the spot...”. “...”rainy melon shook her head. “I asked the principal to destroy all the teleportation points on a regular basis. He spent a lot of effort just to prevent people from noticing the traces. I guess he won’t use the teleportation skill to leave traces after finding brother dog. Most likely, he will walk here to return to Mars through the entrance.”

“Then why don’t we just stay here and wait for the Lord to come back?”Eggface hurriedly said.

“Do you think I wouldn’t have thought of such a simple matter if you could think of it with your brain?”Rainmaiden wugua rolled her eyes at him... ...

“Is... is there a problem?”Eggface asked weakly.

“I’ve recently studied some knowledge of the prophecy department. When you were unconscious just now, I had nothing to do and used a divination tool to divine. I wanted to know what would happen if we stayed here. I divined six times, and each time, the result was the same...” . . .”

Li Goudan: “What result?”

Rain woman no melon you looked at each other one eye: “Will die! !”

“Woo...”

In Kate City, Brother Dog, who had just regained consciousness, felt a sharp pain all over his body before he opened his eyes. He almost couldn’t help but cry out, but as soon as he opened his eyes, he heard a voice that made him most at ease: “Wake up, wake up, he’s awake! !”

It was sunny’s voice...

It seemed that Sunny was fine...

This news made brother dog heave a sigh of relief in his heart. The intense pain all over his body had lessened significantly.

Not long after, a mellow voice sounded, “Oh, what a tenacious vitality...”

The one who spoke was sunny’s grandfather, the Duke of Red River City, Old Bundy... ..

Brother Dog’s injuries were very serious. Many of his bones were broken, and there were also wounds that had been ruptured by the tremors. Regardless of whether it was the doctors in Kate City or the military doctors accompanying the team, they were all at a loss.

It was not that they were at a loss for what to do with such injuries, but that they were helpless against Brother Dog’s body. The muscles of this orc were even harder than steel. When he was unconscious, his subconscious tensing could cause the doctor’s scalpel to collapse, not to mention performing orthopedic surgery, he could not even suture the wound!

He could only apply some medicine to allow the ORC to recover on its own.

However, the ORC’s recovery ability was indeed astonishing. That terrifying wound actually managed to stop the bleeding and heal itself in less than half a day. Its powerful function made him believe in Bob’s story even more, this was a warrior who could fight against that kind of monster!

“Respected orc warrior, thank you very much for everything you’ve done for my daughter and granddaughter Sunny. Your kindness will definitely be remembered by the TIS family!”

Bundy saluted the Knights with a solemn expression of gratitude. His expression was incomparably sincere!

However, outside the house, a large number of mages and archers were surrounded. There were nearly ten thousand warriors waiting outside the Count's mansion.

Old Bundy's action was equivalent to gambling on a strong external aid for their side. However, if the orcs were not as friendly as they thought, they had to take advantage of the other party's weakness to kill this terrifying fellow!

Chapter 983 attitude towards Brother Dog...

Granddaughter?

When Brother Dog, who was still in a daze, heard this word, he did not react. Instead, he asked weakly, "Is sunny alright?"

When he said this, Bundy's tense muscles relaxed slightly. The moment he woke up, he was immediately concerned about his granddaughter's safety, regardless of whether the story was true or not. However, there was no doubt that he cared about his granddaughter. With this as a guarantee, it should not be to the point where swords would come at each other... ..

When Sunny heard that Brother Dog was concerned about her safety, a sweet smile instantly appeared on her face... ..

There were more people who cared about her. After her mother left, only David cared about her, then there was Sim who was willing to serve her, then there was this orc, and finally, there was a grandfather who appeared out of nowhere...

It turned out that he was not so lonely in this world... ..

"Thank you for your bravery and fearlessness. My granddaughter is safe and sound. Thank you again for your help!" Bundy said gratefully.

Faced with the words of goodwill again, brother dog immediately calmed down and his mind began to think quickly.

However, he did not hesitate for too long, after being stunned for about two seconds, he said seriously, "Protecting her is a great favor from her mother. I'm not a man of the fire tribe. I will repay her kindness. As long as I can still stand and wave my weapon, I will not fall in front of her. This is the basic morality of our fire tribe. You Don't have to thank me...". "..."

His words were extremely straightforward. In the end, there was a hint of a distant tone in his voice. It was as if he did not want to have too much interaction with the person in front of him. However, he maintained his aloof attitude while expressing his position at the same time... ..

After hearing this, Bundy felt relieved. If the other party had accepted his kindness with a kind face, he would have suspected the ORC's purpose. However, the other party's straightforward and unreasonable stiffness.., made him feel that this was the style that orcs should have.

Therefore, Bundy's tone became even more amiable. "No matter what, it is the truth that you saved my granddaughter. No matter what the purpose is, it is a great favor to my tis family. I promise you in the name of the family that I owe you a favor. When one day you need the TIS family, the family will be ready to lend you a hand!"

Hearing this, Brother Dog's stiff face showed a slight gentleness. He said indifferently, "Are You Elena's father?"

Bundy: "Yes..."

Brother Dog nodded. "A family that can nurture Elena's character is indeed a little different from an ordinary cunning human..."

Hearing this, Bundy was delighted. What a single-celled guy.

Brother Dog saw a flash of pride in Bundy's eyes and sneered in his heart. 'just this standard?'. He wouldn't survive more than three episodes in a palace drama...

Luke and Bob, who heard the conversation outside, immediately turned black. This old guy was obviously trying to rope in all the good feelings of the orcs to his family. He was really a Sly Old Fox!

However, they couldn't do anything about it. who asked them to not be able to cultivate a female lead in a novel like Elena?

However, they were very curious. How did a delicate noble lady save a sword saint on the grassland?

While they were feeling complicated, they saw Bundy walking out of the room with light steps. Although he pretended to be serious, as an old friend, they could still see the pride on his face.

At this moment, Bundy was naturally proud. The current situation of the world was not optimistic. Both humans and Orcs believed that they could only face a common enemy and have the friendship of a legendary Orc. It would allow the TIS family to have a higher level of authority in this alliance... ..

Moreover, it seemed that the orc was still wary of humans. This was very beneficial to him because with his granddaughter's relationship, he was the easiest to gain the other party's initial trust. As long as he protected it well., it was not impossible for him to become an ally of the family or even a member of the family.

"Looks like it's going well..." Luke looked at the smug expression on the other party's face and curled his lips. In front of so many soldiers, he did not want to be jealous of this old man in public.

"Hehe... cough... I guess I'm still optimistic..." Bundy was first amused, then, his face immediately turned serious. "The current situation is strange. We have to give up our racial prejudice and unite all the forces that can be united. Only then will we have a chance to struggle and survive..."

Luke: "..."

This old man was already paving the way for the ORC's future position. If he wanted to rope him in, he would rope him in. He even looked like he was doing it for the sake of humanity. Luke wanted to beat him up.

However, he couldn't say anything. After all, an orc that could defeat that kind of monster needed to be roped in.

“Let’s go back and talk...” Luke finally chose to retreat the soldiers. He couldn’t let the 10,000 soldiers stay here forever. After all, the things outside the city gate were the real enemies.

“Mother, what’s going on? Father is now circling around sunny all day. We were so frightened that day and didn’t even ask about it. And what are we eating now? Is this what we should be eating?”

In the north courtyard of the Count’s mansion, the third young lady, Jenny, threw out the coarse noodle in her plate angrily!

The noblewoman glanced at her faintly and then slowly picked up the coarse noodle. “There are 100,000 more soldiers in Kate City, and there are more than 100 counts among them. They are all eating the coarse noodle. What do you think you can eat?”

Sunny asked, “Mother?”

“I’m telling you this so that you know what’s good for you...” The noblewoman said, “Things are different now. No matter how unwilling you are, it’s a fact that sunny has turned into a phoenix. Now Sunny of the TIS family is the only bloodline. If nothing goes wrong, she will be the future Duchess!”

“Just her? Is she worthy?” Hearing this, Jenny jumped up in anger, her face twisted!

The ugly duckling that she had stepped on since she was young had turned into a phoenix. No one could stand it!

“You’d better not say that outside. If others hear it, your spineless father will not protect you!”

“Mother?” Jenny looked at her mother in surprise. She did not expect her mother to say that about her father.

“Am I Wrong?” The lady sneered, “After the incident yesterday, the first thing he thought of was to take me and my knights out to take the blame. Do you think such a person will protect you now? “Do you think your current situation is different from mine?”

Hearing this, Jenny’s face turned pale.

Seeing that the lady was honest, the lady continued to say coldly, “Let’s not talk about the identity of the only bloodline of Duke Sunny. Now that she has a sword Saint Guardian, the entire army wants to rope in that Orc. Just based on this relationship, that girl’s life is a hundred times more precious than yours. You’d better pray that she won’t settle the old scores with you. Otherwise, your spineless father will use your head to exchange for a good word from that girl without even frowning!”

Jenny was shocked by her words. She sat on the chair in a daze with a trace of despair on her face. “Are we going to be like this forever?”

“Just wait...” the lady said faintly, “Nothing in the world is set in stone. If you live well, there will always be a chance to turn things around...”

Chapter 984: Blood Infusion!

In the room, Bundy left his granddaughter, Sunny, to take care of the orcs. He was more at ease with Sunny's safety. After all, an orc who could sacrifice his life to protect her shouldn't be able to harm her.

Of course, this was also a gamble. He was using his only bloodline to bet on whether the orcs would truly become the family's helper. As his bloodline, sunny taking such a small risk was only natural... ..

This was the responsibility of the family!

Thinking of this, Bundy felt a little comforted. He followed Luke and the others to the city wall to discuss the city defense work... ..

In the room, sunny opened her big eyes and stared at Brother Dog, making brother dog extremely uncomfortable. Then, she turned her face away. "Why are you looking at me?"

Hearing this, sunny hesitated. She was afraid that her answer was wrong. If the other party was not sim and she called the wrong person, would the other party be angry?

After all, the other party was also a person who was willing to protect her with all his strength... ..

But she really wanted to know if the other party was sim, because she really wanted sim to be safe and sound... ..

While she was hesitating, the baby girl in her arms suddenly became disobedient. She kept wriggling and trying to get out of her arms. Sunny, who was already thinking about something, could not hold herself back and let the baby girl crawl out.

Sunny suddenly panicked, afraid that the child would be injured and fall to the ground.

But what surprised her was that the baby girl was as agile as a monkey in an instant. She jumped from Sunny's arms for more than a meter and directly jumped onto Brother Dog!

Sunny was stunned and immediately stood up. "Don't be mischievous. Brother Orc is injured..."

"It's okay..." brother dog looked at the nervous sunny gently and revealed a smile that made her feel at ease.

It was not that he was forcing himself. Although the baby jumped fiercely, when it landed on his body, it was like soft cotton. It did not have any weight. Although he stepped on the wound, he did not feel any pain... ..

The baby girl climbed onto Brother Dog's body and touched left and right like a puppy. She looked so cute that sunny, who was about to carry her down, stopped and looked at him with a funny expression. "This child seems to like you very much..."

"Really?" Brother Dog was stunned and looked at the baby girl hesitantly. He didn't think that he was a person who was destined to be a child. Moreover, he seemed to have seen the baby girl roll her eyes when she heard Sunny's words...

The female knight wasn't playing around at this moment, but was seriously checking the injuries on brother dog's body. After checking, she couldn't help but be shocked.

She was clear about the other party's injuries. She had forcefully activated the royal inheritance and used the emperor's style. The weak bones of her body must be as strong as the original moves and didn't break all the bones in her body, the opponent's foundation had already exceeded her imagination.

Even so, the opponent's injuries were very exaggerated. The bones all over his body were shattered, and his five internal organs had suffered great damage. The biggest damage was nearly half a meter. That was a direct collapse, not a knife wound, if it was a normal creature with a weak vitality, it would have been dogleading.

She climbed onto brother Dogleading's body to estimate how long it would take for the opponent to recover, and if there were any hidden injuries. With the opponent's talent, if there were hidden injuries, they had to be treated quickly. Otherwise, destroying the foundation would not make up for the loss...

However, when she searched around for a while, she was extremely shocked to find that the wounds on the other party's body were almost completely healed, including the half-meter long gash. It was obvious that new flesh had grown out. This recovery ability was comparable to a biochemical beast!

Thinking of this, she pressed on some of the bone wounds. Then, she was even more surprised to find that most of the bone wounds had also begun to recover. Only a small portion of the severely shattered areas still had some local blood swelling. However, the common wounds had almost automatically recovered...

What kind of recovery ability was this? Wasn't a level five life form a little too much?

The female knight took a deep breath in her heart. In her mind, it was basically impossible for the other party's injuries to heal themselves. She needed to find a senior surgeon to help him straighten his bones, but in fact, she found that she did not want it at all.

This situation reminded her of the records of the Green Titan in history. Among the five-colored Titan, the Golden Titan had the strongest defense. The star-ranked Golden Titan could withstand the dragon's breath head-on and ensure that its muscles were not damaged, the Black Emperor Titan had the most offensive power. Its powerful destructive ability was almost the limit of the warrior class. The Blue Emperor Titan had the strongest elemental affinity, while the Red Emperor Titan was the most mysterious. Meanwhile, the Green Titan's strong point was its vigorous vitality!

This was also the reason why many of the ancient genes of the Green Titan could be preserved until now... ..

If the rumors were true, this kid's terrifying recovery might have a chance... ..

Thinking of this, a bold idea arose in the female Knight's mind... ..

There were at least three high-level lords in this world who had already started a game. With the other party's life level, it would be very dangerous in the face of this kind of dispute, and she was currently unable to break through the seal.

Under such circumstances, if she could let the other party learn a blood skill, it would be a guarantee for both herself and the other party. However, the burden of a blood skill was too heavy on her body.

Originally, she did not want the other party to try it, because once her foundation was damaged.., it would be a pity to waste this kind of talent.

However, if the other party really had the HP regeneration ability of the Royal Green Titan... .. It seemed that the blood skill was not something that could be used...

Thinking of this, the female knight hesitated slightly. However, after a few seconds, a hint of determination flashed in her eyes... ..

The current situation was extremely disadvantageous to her. She could encounter danger at any time. At this time, it would be difficult for her to continue living if she were to hesitate. If she was unable to bring this bloodline out of here alive.., the idea of reviving the Titans is a pipe dream!

Thinking of this she no longer hesitated, a turn of mind, the heart position not easy to accumulate a drop of blood essence to the throat, quickly climbed to the front of Brother Dog, Brother Dog's mouth pressed up!

Brother Dog:"? ? ??"

Sunny:"? ? ??"

On the other side, about thirty kilometers away from the city of Kate, the escaped strumming was trembling and kneeling in front of a group of soldiers.

There were about 15 people in this group of soldiers. They were all wearing black bone armor, and the apocalyptic sword that even seer coveted was on their waists!

The soldier in the lead was obviously dressed differently from the others. The bone armor's decoration was more biological, and the helmet's design was very much like a living bone dragon. Especially the pair of green eyes, which faintly flickered with blue flames.

"Orc? Defeated Yale?"

The leading soldier's voice was hoarse, and it carried a terrifying pressure. It made it extremely difficult for Ssenming to breathe... ..

"It was a despicable sneak attack..."ssenming quickly said, "Lord Yale obviously didn't know that the other party would have hidden a trick!"

"That's also a very impressive achievement..."the leading general raised his head to look at the huge pupil in the sky. "We, who were chosen by God, should have no opponents in this world..."

"Yes, yes... of course, we have no opponents. If Lord Yale isn't careless, he definitely won't lose to that despicable guy!"

"Despicable?"The general looked at the other party mockingly, but didn't say anything. If the other party really had the ability to defeat the chosen one without bathing in dragon blood.., then, after joining them, he would probably be at the same level as the Apocalypse Masters. Despicable?

"Take me there!"

Chapter 985: the targeted dog egg

“Little... little thing, you’re too bad! !”

In Sunny’s private room, Sunny angrily placed the baby girl on the bed. She angrily put her hands on her waist and said, “You... You, you... how can such a young child do such a Thing?”

The baby girl rolled her eyes. A baby kissing someone else, no one would say where it was placed, right? What was wrong with this little girl?

“Don’t do this in the future, okay? or... or... or else people will think that I taught you wrong!” Sunny thought for a long time and finally came up with a better excuse.

The baby girl:”...”

Looking at the baby girl’s indifferent look, sunny was even more annoyed. However, she wasn’t angry at a child, so she couldn’t help but sit at the side sullenly.

What’s with the orc brother? Never Been Kissed by a girl? How can a little kid kiss him and make that heartbeat sound? . It’s just... .. It’s just... . .

For a moment she could not find an adjective, so she just lay in bed, moaning and moaning to vent her dissatisfaction. . .

On the other side, after Brother Dog received the drop of blood essence, he suddenly felt the blood in his whole body swell. He only felt that his body was about to burn up, and his heart beat faster and faster. His mouth was dry, and he really wanted to drink some water, however, when he turned around and saw sunny carrying the little baby, he left in a huff for some unknown reason.

This made him unable to make a sound, and he couldn’t even ask for saliva. He could only endure the burning sensation in his heart... ..

F * ck... What’s going on?

What did that little baby spit into my mouth just now? Saliva? Why was it even more intense than Erguotou?

Brother Dog was too tired to see how hideous he was. Blue veins popped out all over his body, and beneath the veins were red blood threads that faintly revealed his body, as if he was about to explode...

At this moment, if any medical equipment saw his internal organs, they would probably be even more shocked. At this moment, after Brother Dog’s internal organs absorbed the blood essence, they began to circulate crazily. Bone marrow, thymus, lymph nodes, liver... His spleen also began to crazily split out cells, continuously producing blood at a high frequency. Brother Dog’s originally thick meridians also showed signs of collapsing under this terrifying amount of blood production. This resulted in his entire body being covered in spider-web-like blood marks... ..

The intense pain once again caused brother dog to faint. However, the operation of his body was not over. The powerful blood flowed to his heart under the operation of his organs, causing Brother Dog's heart to beat very intensely.

If it was any other creature, the heart would have already failed due to the frequency of the operation. However, Brother Dog's miraculous physique persisted. In the end, the terrifying blood flow actually began to condense after passing through the heart, continuously compressing, blood crystals that were as small as pores slowly formed in the heart!

"Boss, how much longer do we have to walk? Why Don't you tell me the coordinates and I'll Fly You There?" Dog Egg looked at Guo Xiaoyun in front of him with an impatient look.

Guo Xiaoyun rolled her eyes. "It's only been a few hours, and you're already impatient? Isn't being a Ranger a test of endurance? How did you pass the Wind Demon Ranger Test in the first place?"

"I mainly felt that the surroundings were strange and uncomfortable..." Goudan crossed her arms and looked around vigilantly.

In her senses, there were no living creatures around, but for some reason, there was always a sense of danger, which made her want to leave this damned place quickly.

Guo Xiaoyun sighed. "You already know that there's something wrong with the surroundings, yet you still dare to fly? Do you want to be a target or something?"

"Boss, back then, when the Lord told us to evacuate, did Molundo's population evacuate?"

"No!"

Guo Xiaoyun shook her head. "After the ORC war, I used my identity as the temporary lord of Molundo to apply to steel martial empire for a large number of people to move southward. These people were not allocated to the players. Instead, they were used by me to maintain the normal operation of Molundo. It was also convenient for me to integrate into the circle of nobles in the South... "After the fall of the steel martial empire, there was not much unrest in the south. In order to not let the undead Lord know about our base camp, we did not move the base camp in the south "... .."

"Then... where do you think those people went?"

Guo Xiaoyun was silent when she heard this. She had counted the migration population of Morondor. There were at least two million people. Now, they had left flower town for at least a hundred kilometers, but they had never met any ghosts.., it had to be said that this was a little strange.

If they were dead, there should be some traces. However, there was nothing. It was as if they had all disappeared. Had they been captured?

However, Molundo was a large region that was close to 100,000 square kilometers. Two million people spread out over a large area. It would take at least a few months to capture all the scattered people and replace them with her.

This was also the reason why she understood the terrain and the region. If it was a foreign force, it should be more difficult.

Did they use some special method?

Or was this area the only one that was empty?

If it was the former, it would be better. If it was the latter, then the place they were at now might be very dangerous. Because clearing this area alone would definitely mean that they had to do something...

“Boss, there’s light ahead...”

Guo Xiaoyun looked up and soon found the light source that Goudan mentioned. After all, in such a dark place, the light source was very eye-catching.

“That location...” Guo Xiaoyun’s brain was working quickly, searching for information about that location. From the coordinates, it should be Cloud Lake Town.

Cloud Lake Town was one of the best-quality towns in the 37 small towns in Molundo. Unlike flower town, which could only grow peanuts, cloud lake town had a large lake with abundant aquatic resources, just fishing could feed all the people in the town, not to mention some aquatic breeding.

She had been there twice, and the scenery was pretty good. There were even lords who wanted to apply for this place as a base. The Flames there seemed to be quite large. Could it be that the people around had gathered here?

“Boss, should we go over and take a look?” Gou Dan suggested.

Guo Xiaoyun hesitated for a moment, but in the end, she nodded. Now that there was no intelligence, blindly walking around was not necessarily a good thing. It was not a bad thing to ask the residents here to gather some information... ...

The two of them walked quickly toward Cloud Lake Town, but they did not notice that the scene behind them was changing visibly. The place that looked normal had turned into a pile of bones after they left, there were corpses of creatures everywhere. There were people, animals, and some unknown existences.

The appearance of death was abnormally desolate, as if they had encountered great pain when they were alive. It was so twisted that it made one’s hair stand on end.

On the land of white bones, a man wearing a black cloak slowly descended from the sky. He looked at the distant figures of Goudan and Goudan with an interesting smile on his lips... ...

“Interesting. There are actually such pure wind demons in such a place...”

Chapter 986: Boss, don’t scare me... ...

“Wow, it’s so lively...”

The atmosphere in Cloud Lake town was out of Goudan and the others’ expectations. It was pitch-black outside, so quiet that it made people despair. However, the town was brightly lit, and it was a lively scene, it was like a completely different world from the outside!

There was an endless stream of pedestrians in the town that was not small to begin with. The streets were filled with hawkers who set up stalls. There were a wide variety of items. They sold fish, vegetables, candy, and some strange things.

Some of the squares were filled with people who were performing arts. There were bards who played harps, acrobatic troupes, and magicians who performed magic on the surface. The surrounding crowd was even more crowded, Goudan, who wanted to watch the show, was so anxious that he scratched his ears like a restless monkey!

Guo Xiaoyun rolled her eyes. "If you want to go in and watch, just jump in."

"Ahem... it's too conspicuous... I'm not a monkey. If I jump in, won't I be seen as a Monkey?" Goudan quickly waved his hand.

"You look like a monkey now..." Guo Xiaoyun glared at her. "I feel like it's more difficult than pulling my cousin's husky..."

"Boss... you're going too far..."

Guo Xiaoyun ignored Goudan's resentful look and looked around. She muttered, "It's quite lively..."

"Isn't it?" Goudan suddenly became excited again. "It feels like a night market. It's so interesting. By the way, are all the towns under Boss's rule so lively?"

"Not really..." Guo Xiaoyun shook her head coldly. "I'm usually afraid of trouble, so I enforce a curfew..."

Gou Dan: "..."

"Um... this is probably not considered night, right?" Gou Dan pointed to the sky. "Didn't you previously analyze that there might not be daytime here? Perhaps it's daytime now..."

Guo Xiaoyun: "When you abducted me, it was 1:00 p.m. on Mars, and compared to the new territories, it was around 4:00 p.m. . After entering, you slept for six hours, and we set off for another 29 hours. According to the correct time, it should be around 2:00 a.m. in the New Territories..." . "..."

Goudan said, "Boss, you're talking nonsense again. When did I kidnap you? I Won't admit it when we go back!"

Guo Xiaoyun: "..."

Goudan said, "And boss, do you think the people here are as sensitive to time as you are? They must not be able to tell time, right?"

Guo Xiaoyun said, "Yunhu town has an arcane stone clock that records time. Even if that clock is broken, the human body's biological clock will not be broken..."

Goudan said, "Maybe you suddenly realized that you, the dog leader who enforced the curfew, had disappeared and decided to let yourself go..."

The corner of Guo Xiaoyun's mouth twitched, and she stopped talking to this guy. She found that talking too much about herself could easily cause her to lose her breath... ..

Therefore, she began to wander around. It had to be said that the atmosphere of the town was very good. The people on the streets seemed not to be affected by the changes outside, the streets were full of shouts, bargaining, the laughter of children, and the cheerful music of the bards in the middle of the square.

The atmosphere of the town almost completely dispelled the strangeness outside.

Of course, this was true for Goudan, but Guo Xiaoyun remained expressionless. Instead, a faint cold light flashed in his eyes.

"Boss, don't keep a straight face...". Goudan held Guo Xiaoyun's hand and said, "Do you want to eat fish?" ? I saw a fishmonger just now. The fish inside looks very fresh. Since it's called Yunhu town, the lake food here must be very good, right ? Let's buy some. I'm good at roasting fish, and I have seasonings on me

Guo Xiaoyun said, "You actually carry seasonings for roasting fish at all times?"

"I'm going out to sea... I just brought some. I thought that I could fish and grill seafood on the deck when I go out to sea..."

The corner of Guo Xiaoyun's mouth twitched slightly, but she didn't refuse. She pointed at a fish stall not far away and said, "Let's go and have a look..."

"Hehe..."Goudan immediately pulled Guo Xiaoyun over happily.

"Oh... What do I See?"As Goudan approached the fish stall., the owner of the fish stall looked at Goudan with a faint light and exclaimed, "Where did this beautiful lady come from? She's like a fairy from a fairy tale..."

Goudan was delighted to hear that. He even pretended to be a lady and bowed. "Boss, how much is your fish?"

"Oh, I can't bear to ask her for money for such a beautiful elf. You can choose whichever one you like. I'll give it to you..."

"Thank you, Boss!"Goudan happily revealed half of his canine teeth. This action added a wisp of playfulness and cuteness to his stunning beauty. It made the fairy-like scene look a little more authentic, but it made people even more tempted.

Beside the boss who sold the fish was a twenty-something-year-old son. When he saw this scene, he was stunned on the spot. His father beside him urged him a few times before he reacted. His face immediately turned red. He lowered his head to fish in embarrassment.

The boss rolled his eyes at his son and smiled. "I'm sorry. My Son has not seen the world. This may be the first time he has seen such a beautiful girl like you."

Hearing this, Goudan laughed even more happily.

Guo Xiaoyun, who was standing next to him, observed the father and son in detail. She felt that it was normal for the two of them to ignore her. After all, it would be weird if ordinary people and elves were not ignored when they stood together.

She had been observing the father and son since just now. From the moment she saw them, there was nothing wrong with their expressions, actions, tone, and reaction, including the fat fish swimming in the iron box. It seemed that there was no problem at all.

“Boss, it’s so dark outside. How did you catch the Fish?” Guo Xiaoyun finally spoke after observing them for a long time.

Hearing that, the fish seller smiled kindly and said, “It’s not difficult for us old fishermen. In the past, I used to catch fish at night with an oil lamp. No matter how long the boat was sailing and where the fish were parked, we, who have been catching fish for half of our lives, had a clear grasp of the fish. We couldn’t make a mistake even with our eyes closed...” ..

“Is that so?” Guo Xiaoyun squatted down and teased the fish in the water with her hand. The fish felt wet and sticky, just like the fish she usually touched... “...”.

She raised her head and looked at the young man who was fishing to kill the fish not far away. Whether it was the way he killed the fish or the small actions he did to avoid being seen by the other party, they were all very delicate.

Guo Xiaoyun could not help but sigh, “It’s just like the real one...”

“Boss, what are you talking about?” Goudan was about to choose another one when he heard Guo Xiaoyun suddenly say this and could not help but ask curiously.

“I’m talking about this small town...” Guo Xiaoyun slowly stood up. “It’s just like the real one...”

Goudan was stunned when he heard that and said in a daze, “Boss, what are you talking about? What do you mean by it’s just like the real one? Could This Be Fake?”

Guo Xiaoyun said, “Cloud Lake Town is 46 kilometers away from flower town. You took me 39 kilometers. The Real Cloud Lake Town is at least seven kilometers away from here...”

Thud...

When Gou Dan heard this, the wooden stick in his hand dropped to the ground. He asked, “Then... then where is this?”

“Who knows...” Guo Xiaoyun said, “Anyway, it’s not Cloud Lake Town...”

“Boss... can you stop scaring people at Night?” Goudan immediately put on a bitter face, however, he tragically found that the atmosphere of the whole town changed after Guo Xiaoyun said that. The noise around them suddenly became strangely quiet. Goudan could sense it without even turning his head... Everyone looked at them... ..

Chapter 987: unimaginably powerful

The noisy city quieted down in an instant, as if the system had automatically shut down. Everyone's expression became extremely stiff, and they stared coldly at the duo from a strange angle.

The father and son who sold the fish were the same. The shy child's face was Numb, and his empty eyes stared coldly at the duo, like a wild wolf looking at a piece of raw meat. Although his expression was not distorted, it was filled with malice. He was completely different from the shy little boy who was shy because of her beauty just now... ..

Even the big-hearted Goudan had goosebumps all over his body when he saw this scene, and he shrank to Guo Xiaoyun's side.

"Boss... What's going on?" Goudan asked in a low voice.

"I felt that something was wrong a long time ago...". Guo Xiaoyun said lightly, "There wasn't even a bug on the way here. I felt that it was fake that there wasn't even a living creature. At that time, I deduced that either the creatures were really cleared out, or everything around was an illusion. When I saw Yunhu town, which was seven kilometers earlier than the original location, I understood that it should be the latter "...". "..."

"You knew there was something wrong with this town, and you still brought me here?" Goudan immediately glared at Guo Xiaoyun.

"We're being watched, and no one will let us go even if we don't come in. Rather than that, why don't we come in and see how brilliant their illusions are..."

"Then... can you see it? Is it brilliant?" Goudan asked foolishly.

"It's brilliant...". "...". Guo Xiaoyun took a deep breath. "The illusion shown to me by the instructors in the academy was not as exaggerated as this one. It completely replicated every detail of Cloud Lake Town. When I entered from the south gate, even the patterns on the ground were basically the same. The most exaggerated thing was that these people really seemed to have come to life. Everyone's tone, attitude, every word and action were alive. I couldn't find any fault with the fish there. If I didn't know that it was fake from the beginning, I really wouldn't be able to tell the difference between this and the real thing...". "..."

Goudan was stunned when she heard that, and her eyes gradually became serious. The other party's words made her realize the seriousness of the situation. The illusion created by that mysterious shadow in that Strange Iceland was already realistic enough. However, the acting of living creatures was also full of flaws. Everything in front of them was just like what Guo Xiaoyun had said. Thousands of people, and everyone was so realistic. It was a little exaggerated... ..

"Interesting little guy..."

Just as the two of them were secretly on guard, a seductive voice slowly sounded in their ears. In an instant, the two of them had goosebumps all over their bodies because the voice seemed to be whispering in their ears.

In fact, the person who spoke was indeed whispering in their ears. It was so close to the two of them that the two of them could even feel the hot air that was exhaled by the other party.

Li Goudan instantly tensed up all the muscles in her body, but the strange thing was that she did not do anything out of reflex. An instinct suppressed her muscles and nerves, making her afraid to move.

Goudan's face turned pale. She had never encountered such a thing before. Even when she met a strong person who could not resist on that strange island, she was not as strong as she was now. She did not even dare to move her body...

Guo Xiaoyun's body was also stiff. She did not dare to move. Although the other party did not show any strong pressure, she could deeply feel that the person behind her had an unimaginable spiritual capacity.

The spiritual power that she had sensed in the past was like a drop of water meeting the Sea of stars. It was so small that she doubted her life!

Who was this person?

"It's already surprising enough to meet such a pure elf in such a small place. There's actually such a pure developer of spiritual energy... Tsk Tsk, what a wonderful place..."

The woman's voice was soft and soft. It sounded so soft that it made one's heart go soft. It was hard to imagine that such a strong person would be so gentle and charming.

"Let's have a chat?" The woman looked at the two of them with a smile.

The two of them nodded almost instinctively. This kind of instantaneous obedience was also the most primitive instinct of their bodies.

After receiving the reply, the woman smiled even more happily. In an instant, the town was alive again, and the people around it began to return to normal. Those who set up stalls should shout and those who bought vegetables should haggle over the price.

Even the father and son who sold fish also returned to normal. They killed the fish as usual, and with a gentle expression, they even asked the dog egg fish bubbles and other b * stars if they wanted them...

It was as if the system of the card machine was working again. In this busy city, Dog Egg and Guo Xiaoyun felt their blood turn cold.

In the base, Alice found the mysterious undead once again. However, this time, the undead had changed its body. It was a Tauren with a strong physique. It was tall and majestic, and looked much more pleasing to the eye than that wretched troll.

However, the moment she got close to Alice, she could smell the faint rotting smell on the Tauren's body. It was obvious that this body's functions were also beginning to decline. She immediately frowned and said, "If you keep changing your body like this, you'll be discovered at any time..."

“HMM...”the undead nodded slightly. “It’s indeed not a solution to continue like this. I need a more durable carrier, but to make this, I need some special materials. You have to think of a way to help me collect them...”

“I’ll give it a try...”Alice agreed.

“Why are you looking for me?”The undead asked.

“I want to ask...”. “...”. The information about the person in Li Goudan’s body... “...”alice frowned and said, “The teacher in charge of the illusion department in the Academy has already analyzed the traces and thinks that the other party is a brilliant illusionist. This is obviously not something that Li Goudan can do. Has Li Goudan been possessed?”

“Possessed?”The undead laughed. “No one would be willing to do that, even if it’s an undead. Look at me living in such pain. Have you tried to touch those little fellows?”

Alice sneered. “Aren’t you afraid of the Lords of this force? These people have contracts. If you touch them, the Lords should find out, right?”

“That’s one of them...”the undead didn’t avoid the idea of being afraid of the other party at all, “More importantly, it’s too wasteful. These little guys have excellent growth potential. Even if they want to be used as containers, they can use them to cultivate the best physical body for me. How can I kill their potential at just a few levels?”

“The best physical body...”Alice narrowed her eyes slightly. Her eyes flashed with passion. The undead were very passionate about containers. Fresh physical bodies, powerful functions. She yearned for those Green Titans and elves in the base every day...

“If I’m not wrong, it should be symbiosis...”the undead replied faintly.

“Symbiosis?”Alice was stunned.

“But if that’s the case... we have to think of a way to stop her...”

“HMM?”Alice was stunned. Why would this fellow, who always wanted to watch from the sidelines, suddenly say something like that?

Didn’t this fellow want to live until the end?

The specter narrowed his eyes and looked at the crack. “If it’s symbiosis, then that fellow in the elf’s body has a huge conflict with us! !”

Chapter 988: It depends on whether you are willing or not!

“Conflict? What kind of conflict?”Alice frowned immediately.

There was more than one guy who ran out of the island. According to him, other than him and that Sandro, there were two other guys who ran out in the past, but Alice had never seen him so enthusiastic, why did he become so enthusiastic when he heard about symbiosis?

“You don’t understand...”. “...”. “...”the undead said in a low voice, “The meaning of symbiosis is to bet your soul on another person. This gamble is very big, because once you fail to break through to that level, the consciousness of this symbiotic body will be devoured when it dies. Without consciousness, the soul will have no meaning... "... "..."

Alice felt a chill down her spine. What was the true meaning of the end of a person. She felt that it was the disappearance of consciousness, just like those who slowly became numb in the world of death, eventually unable to take shape and disperse into other people's nourishment. Although the composition said that you had always existed, without consciousness, there was no meaning... ...

That... ... was the true death, the true complete disappearance from the world. ...

Many undead hated the boring life in the world of death, but even the most humble undead worked hard to keep themselves alive, for the creatures themselves were afraid of extinction... ...

"Such a big gamble? What did they get?" Alice gulped.

She had a vague answer in her heart, but she was not sure. That was because the only thing that could make the undead gamble on the last thing was that possibility.

Sure enough, two seconds later, the other party's answer proved her guess.

"New Life!"

"Undead... can be reborn?" Alice only felt her whole body trembling.

Looking at the slightly excited Alice, the undead said faintly, "The price is very high, so high that almost all the undead would not do this. Because the short-term rebirth causes the fate to be in the hands of others. It is a choice that even the strong would not make..."

Alice took a deep breath, but she didn't respond to the undead's words. Instead, she continued asking, "But why do you say that symbiosis is a conflict with us?"

"Because of symbiosis, an undead can continue to be contacted by the mainstream society..." "...". The undead said in a low voice, "Those who can escape from there are all extraordinary individuals. Their identities when they were alive wouldn't be that simple. But whether it's Sandro or me, as undead, we would never rely on our identities in the real world, because we walk the path of pure undead, but that fellow is different..." "...". "..."

"How is it different?"

"Her choice of symbiosis is equivalent to being a living person. Such an identity is different from the standpoint of the undead. Even if she was in an organization that had a great prejudice against the undead, they would still choose to accept her. Now that she has left with her people, it is likely that she will return to the organization!"

"Return to the organization?" Alice's brows were tightly furrowed. However, after a few seconds, she reacted and followed Alice's train of thought as she continued speaking.

"I understand. You mean live. Any powerful person like him must have been from an extraordinary organization. If the other party knew the secrets of this place and brought back all the information, they would definitely return with a powerful force when they were alive, right?"

The undead looked at Alice with satisfaction. This child was indeed worthy of being nurtured.

Alice: "But didn't you say that because of Sandro, that world has already been targeted by many factions? It's just one more now. What's the problem?"

"It's different..." "...the undead shook his head. "The people who are targeting Sandro are just some smart juniors. Sandro daring to come out means that he has the confidence to face those people who are coveting him. However, the person on Li Goudan is unknown. You Don't know what kind of faction she has behind her. Perhaps... "... it will be an existence that we can not fight against!"

"There's such a powerful existence?" Alice's eyes flashed.

"Don't even think about it..." the undead sneered. He knew this junior very well. After all, he had been in contact with him for almost a thousand years in the death realm. He knew very well what kind of person this junior was.

She had never been so-called loyal. She was an extremely pure egoist. When she found a better partner one day, she would definitely betray him without hesitation, just like how she betrayed Sandro and cabbages!

"That kind of large force... will not tolerate undead to a large extent... if not for that, I believe that the guy on Li Goudan would not choose such an extreme path of symbiosis..."

"Is that so..." Alice smiled when she heard that. "Since you said so, I naturally believe you..."

Believe My A * s!

The undead rolled his eyes in his heart. He knew very well that his junior would not easily believe him and would definitely find a way to verify it. However, he did not care, because he was not lying this time.

"But she has already left..." Alice spread her hands and said, "How can we stop her now?"

"It's not that simple..." "...the undead said faintly, "Li Goudan's body can not evolve to the level of being able to travel around the universe in a short period of time. Therefore, if she wants to leave, she must have a spaceship. Whether she wants to use the materials to get one herself or take advantage of the chaos to steal one from those foreign forces, she will need a certain amount of time. If we find her before then, we can stop her from leaving. Moreover, we can also take advantage of her weakest symbiosis period to get rid of this hidden danger!"

"You seem to be certain that there's someone behind that guy that you can't afford to offend?" Alice frowned.

"I'm not sure, but there's always a risk..." The undead said seriously, "And that guy does give me a feeling that he's not ordinary. Last time in Iceland, she made a move, and I vaguely guessed who that guy is. I'm just a little uncertain, and I didn't expect that guy to choose symbiosis." "...". "..."

"Who?"

“Do you remember in the trading area, in the Northwest House, there’s a guy who sells strange things?”

Alice immediately recalled those words.

She had once stayed there with Sandro for a period of time. There were a few existences in the trading area that Sandro would not easily approach.

One of them was the guy who sold some strange and small items in the northwest house.

“Her? Do you recognize her?”

“No... .. but I have some guesses ... “...”the undead said in a low voice, “Although the universe is big, as long as the era of the top of the pyramid is not too different, it will not be said that we have never met before. The characteristics of that guy are similar to a person I know. If she is, then we must not let her leave!”

“You’re going personally?” Alice asked curiously.

“You have to go with me...”the undead said faintly, “That fellow is not simple. I’m not familiar with the terrain of the new world, so I need your help to analyze the location...”

“How can I leave?” Alice frowned. “Once I disappear, it’s impossible for me to go quietly...”

“You can leave openly, as long as the reason is legitimate!” The undead laughed.

“A good reason?” Alice also laughed. “What good reason can I have to go to a place that is forbidden by the Liege?”

“I can make use of that little cabbage...”the undead looked at her with a faint smile. “It depends on whether you are willing to...”

Alice:” ...”

Chapter 989: the future planning of little cabbage (I)

“Teacher Connor, you’re here again?”

At this time, in the little cabbage villa, a teacher dressed in a blue mage robe came to visit once again. She looked at little cabbage floating in the air with a bored look on her face, this female teacher named Connor immediately showed a very anxious look.

How could she waste her potential and time at this age? If it was her child, she would definitely urge her to spend every minute and second on learning!

“Alice is not here today...” little cabbage said as she floated.

The instructor’s face suddenly twitched when he heard that. He glared at her and said, “Alice again? Why do you have to listen to others in your own life? What right does she have to make decisions for you? What if she helped you choose the wrong one?”

Little cabbage pursed her lips and thought for a moment. Then, she smiled foolishly and said, "But Alice usually makes the right choice."

This silly child...

The instructor named Connor was instantly speechless. Then, she looked around helplessly.

Without elemental cultivation, little cabbage's leveling speed, which was like racing cars, began to slow down. She was no longer drowsy and had terrifying energy. She was jumping up and down all day and abusing her ability.

The docking staff responsible for repairing the electrical equipment in her villa complained about this. Because of the abuse of elemental energy, little cabbage's electrical equipment almost broke down once a day... ..

But as a teacher of the plastic energy department, she saw unparalleled potential!

At this moment, the entire courtyard was filled with wind elemental energy. Ordinary people would feel like they could float up at any time when they entered here. It was a soft feeling as if they were wrapped in cotton.

This was the elemental control ability of a native who had not gone through any system training. It was simply enough to make many elite students in the higher education institutions blush in shame. After Connor accidentally discovered a seedling like little cabbage, she had made up her mind! She had to take this student under her wing!

However, that fellow called Alice had been obstructing her from doing so... ..

"Hey, Alice is back! !" Little Cabbage, who was floating in the air, suddenly felt something and floated towards the door happily. "Head chief, what are we eating today?"

Alice looked helplessly at the leader who was getting rounder and rounder. She rolled her eyes at her and then looked at Connor in front of her with a polite smile. "Teacher Connor, you're here again?"

This word made the corner of Connor's mouth, who was about to greet her, twitch... ..

In her eyes, this guy was an eyesore, and he was also an undead!

As a normal person, she naturally did not trust undead. In her heart, she really wanted to stay away from that guy. Unfortunately, for some reason, this little flower spirit seemed to be very close to this undead.

Looking at teacher Connor's obviously unhappy gaze, Alice smiled helplessly.

She actually did not have any objections to this teacher. Really, how could she have any objections to a teacher who liked and wanted to personally nurture little cabbage. The reason why she stopped little cabbage from becoming her disciple was because Alice did not want little cabbage to be able to determine the route so quickly... ..

Through the ELF teacher in the base, Alice learned that the flower spirit was a watershed when reaching level six. It was best to choose a specialized direction after that. There were three traditional routes of the flower spirit.., great Elemental Envoy, Titan Breeder, and Secret Treasure Master!

The flower spirit's talent was to communicate with all things. After having powerful spiritual power, they had an unparalleled affinity with the elements. This allowed them to form contracts with the world's elements without any risk.

The affinity's communication ability allowed the flower spirit to fully utilize its spiritual power to strengthen the surrounding elements, allowing them to adhere to itself. After becoming a great elf, it would use various methods to cultivate the elemental elves into its own contract symbiotic entity, in the Mage Class, only the ELF mages could summon living elemental creatures, and they were all transformed from the flower spirit.

The major elements allowed this class to greatly boost the production of agriculture and the plastic energy industry. Compared to the traditional plastic energy arcanists, they were more comfortable with elemental creatures, but the drawback was that they relied more on elemental creatures, if the elemental creatures were injured or even killed, they would need a lot of time to cultivate them again, so they were often not as free to go out in battle as the ordinary plastic energy mages.

The Titan Breeder was the unique title of a beast tamer for the flower spirits. There were many professions of Beast Tamers in the various races in the universe. However, only the flower spirits could cultivate the titan creatures. The reason was that the high-level flower spirits could communicate with the consciousness of the planet Titan, they could cooperate with the consciousness of Gaia to cultivate certain super creatures.

If there were creatures of a higher level than the plane of the planet that existed in certain places, such as the King Kong that suddenly appeared in sphere D that was as tall as half a building, then it was most likely nurtured by native elves.

The flower spirit was one of the best Beast Tamers in the universe. Alice had recently learned from some information that Beast Tamers were very popular. Beast Tamers at the same level were often treated twice as well as elemental tamers.

The reason was very simple. Now, many mechanical industry technologies could replace the flower spirit's advantage in the plastic energy department, and in the field of Beast Tamers, there was still no civilization technology that could replace the profession of Titan Breeder.

Finally, there was the secret treasure master. It was very similar to beast taming, but the secret treasure master raised artifacts. In many myths, there was a saying that artifacts were long-lasting and spiritual. After many years of nurturing, an ordinary jade pendant would sometimes produce some magic, and the flower spirit's ability to expand this effect could allow artifacts to be nurtured faster. Of course, it was also through the planet Gaia's consciousness. Compared to ordinary alchemy artifacts, the things that the flower spirit created had a growth rate, in the immortal cultivation world's words, it was a spirit tool!

This type of job was very rare. It was a job that only very talented flower spirits could take up. Not only did they need to have a higher communication talent than ordinary flower spirits and be able to create item consciousness, they also needed to have a wealth of alchemy knowledge, the requirements for entry and learning ability were very high.

It was basically impossible to take up these three jobs concurrently. Elemental elementalists needed to spend a lot of time learning the knowledge of the plastic energy department. They also needed to spend a lot of energy to support the elements. It was impossible to be distracted to do other things, this could be seen from the fact that in front of the cabbages, there were hundreds of great elves who needed to sleep for almost 20 hours a day.

Beast Tamers needed to learn biological knowledge and understand genetic engineering. Choosing high-quality genetic beast Tamers was very important to these flower spirits, so they needed to learn how to predict the biological potential, this profession was considered to have the lowest learning intensity among the three jobs. Moreover, the energy was relatively less strenuous, and the market was wide. The future was bright.

Its weakness was that it ate resources. It needed to find or have someone provide genetically superior creatures for her to cultivate, so that she could develop a high-quality species within a limited amount of time, after all, the profession of Beast Tamer relied on the results of the species you trained.

The third profession was difficult and had a high threshold. One needed to be proficient in a large amount of alchemy knowledge, learn the laws of material transformation, and combine talent to become an excellent secret treasure master. Moreover, the requirements for the planet were very high, after all, a high-quality planet had higher quality materials and energy. Only high-quality materials could allow secret treasure masters to display their greatest advantage.

“I’m sorry, teacher Connor...” Alice once again showed her polite smile. “We need to have a collective meeting to discuss the plan of little cabbage. After all, she is not only the leader of our faction, but also the core of our faction. Her choice is extremely important to us, so we need to consider it carefully!”

Teacher Connor’s face immediately darkened when she heard that...

Chapter 990: the story after death (Part One)

This was not the first time that the other party had used this excuse. This time, Connor had done a rather thorough investigation and discovered that the other party’s reason was actually completely untenable!

In order not to waste the potential of the players, this faction’s Lord had taken the path of a small federation like the fourth Lord, Sylvanas. In other words, the internal lord civilization vault had completely given up its authority and formed a multi-faceted large-scale alliance faction!

When she learned about this lord’s actions, she was quite shocked. After all, in the entire federation, there was practically no one else who could follow Sylvanas’ path.

Sylvanas was able to follow the path of a multi-dimensional alliance because many of her subordinates were great lords with considerable power when they were alive. This path was practically impossible to replicate, however, the lords of this faction might be able to succeed if they relied on such terrifying resources.

She had investigated the Bok choy faction and found that it was an ancient elven civilization. It was a traditional civilization that used elemental bodies to nurture and build a small farmer economy before moving on to the biological system.

And for this civilization, the Bok choy faction that chose the large elemental faction was obviously the most suitable!

Thinking of this, Connor used the first-hand information she had just obtained to prove her point.

Alice shook her head seriously and said, "I'm sorry, teacher Cona. You may have misunderstood the leader of a force. A leader is not equal to a producer. After the scale of civilization expands, it is impossible for the leader to hold on by himself. We will naturally find ways to fill the gap in this aspect, and the leader needs to control the balance of the entire force..." "..."

Hearing this, Connor rolled her eyes. What kind of balance of power did this silly kid have? Did he think she didn't know that he was actually the one in charge of this power?

And he even had a dignified look on his face...

However, it was not appropriate for her to say these words directly. What she said had the intention of driving a wedge between them...

After a few more words, she found that this junior was extremely difficult to deal with. No matter how she said it, the other party could clearly resolve it logically. In the end, Connor once again slammed the door and left in a huff!

Looking at the angry Connor, little cabbage cupped his chin and said in puzzlement, "Head Chief, isn't this a bad idea? I think the Elementalist class sounds pretty good!"

Ever since she became a flower spirit, she was the most adept at elemental cultivation. If it wasn't for Alice's constant obstruction, she would have already become a disciple of Connor on her first visit.

Alice sighed and pulled little cabbage over, she fixed her messy hair and said, "What's so good about a hard job?" "I've asked around. Among the nine elements of Arcana, the plastic energy element has the lowest status. It's different from playing games. You're either a mage who knows how to throw fireballs or a good mage..." "..."

"Oh... Then I'll be a Beast Tamer. Look how well I raised my big yellow!" Little cabbage said proudly.

Hearing that, the void dog big yellow rolled its eyes and turned its head away, ignoring its stupid master... ..

However, among its kind, it was indeed more popular. Not only did it eat the best food, but it was also nourished by high-quality elements every day. Its evolution speed was incredible, far faster than that of its compatriots... ..

Of course, outsiders did not know about this. In the eyes of ordinary people, she was just a fat dog that had been fattened up... ..

At least in Alice's eyes...

Looking at the fat dog with a big belly, Alice could not bear to look straight at it. She turned her head away and sighed. "Do you want to try the path of a secret treasure master?"

"Ah?" Bai Cai immediately put on a bitter face. When she first heard that a secret treasure master was the best of the three paths, she was the first to understand it. However, after two days of reading the Arcana formula, her head exploded!

As a medical dog who had been ruined by medicine for half of her life, she finally entered the ideal life of eating, sleeping, and eating. She did not want to return to the life of Science and engineering... ..

Alice knew what the other party was thinking when she saw his expression, her face suddenly turned serious. "You can not be lazy for your whole life. You have to learn the knowledge of plastic energy even if you are an elemental trainer. You have to learn energy science, energy science, and the sequence of elements. There are many complicated formulas of energy fusion and fission that are enough for you to eat. Do you think you can just make a Fireball?"

"Wu..." little cabbage pursed her lips slightly and fell silent.

Seeing the other party's expression, Alice's heart softened again. She immediately said, "Alright, when the time comes, we'll look at the situation. You can decide what to choose in the end. Is that Alright?"

"You're right! !" Little cabbage immediately smiled and said.

"I'm right..." Alice stared at her helplessly and said.

"Then what are we eating today?" Little cabbage suddenly brought up the process that she was most concerned about.

"You only know how to eat..." Alice sighed. Just as she was about to say something else, her heart suddenly jumped because she could clearly see a scarlet eye slowly opening outside the villa and staring at her coldly.

"Don't waste your time, Little Brat. Now is not the time for you to be affectionate!" A voice that only she could hear suddenly sounded in her heart...

Alice's expression froze slightly. She calmly pushed aside the bangs of the cabbage and said calmly, "Let's eat outside the city. Wang Goudan has a barbecue today!"

"Hey! !" The eyes of the cabbage immediately lit up when she heard that. "Barbecue... hehe... well, well, well, I want to drink today..."

"Don't drink too much..." Alice immediately glared at her reflexively, but then she paused for a moment. "Forget it, as you wish..."

Little Cabbage: "(* ^ ? ^ *) !"

While the two of them were talking, the silent big yellow suddenly raised its head and looked at the scarlet eyes with confusion, staring straight at them.

This scene made the undead's pupils shrink.

What was going on?

The puzzled undead frowned and closed its pupils. As it closed its pupils, a puzzled look appeared on big yellow's face.

Who was staring at it?

On the other side, a strange feeling rose in the undead's heart. His Eye of the blood demon was a top-tier alchemy item made from the eyes of the blood demon royal princess, logically speaking, even a star-level powerhouse should not be able to detect it.

What was the situation with that fat dog?

Was it a coincidence?

No...

The ox-headed undead frowned. He could feel that just now... . That's what the dog was looking at!

On the other side, the cabbage learned that there was a party in the evening decided to sleep during the day to replenish the spirit, at night to go to high, while Alice is in the cabbage room marking some official documents.

Alice marked it very seriously, like a proud cultivator, she did not know why she was like this, it is reasonable to leave soon, this small family should not have to continue to pay attention to this.

"What are you thinking about? Why didn't you write a word for a long time?"

While Alice was in a daze, cabbage suddenly floated to the side and said.

Alice woke up as if she had woken up from a dream. When she saw the chubby face close to her, she said angrily, "Why are you still awake?"

"I can't Sleep..."cabbage pouted and said, "Why don't You Coax Me?"

"Why would I Coax You?"Alice was speechless. "Do you want me to feed you some milk?"

"Do I?"Little cabbage stared at a large part of Alice's body... ..

"Are you itching?"

"Ahem... I'm really bored..."

"I'm bored playing games..."

"It's tiring, and the more I play games, the more excited I get, and the more I can't Sleep..."

"Then what do you want? Ancestor!"Alice said helplessly.

"Can you tell me a story?"

"Tell a story?"Alice was stunned.

"I like listening to your past stories. Can you tell me about it?" Little cabbage said with anticipation.

Alice was silent for a while and then said, "Didn't I tell it?"

"Just tell me a little more, or tell me more details. For example, how you were so awesome in a certain battle. I really like listening to this kind of story..."

Alice: "..."

"Tell me..." little cabbage said coquettishly.

"Then tell me something different today..." Alice suddenly said faintly.

"How is it different?" Little cabbage asked expectantly.

Alice: "Let me tell you a little bit of the story after my death..."
