

SHE MADE A COMEBACK AS A RENOWNED DOCTOR

Capítulo 1000: Chapter 1000: Don't Pull Any Tricks on Me

She didn't die!

Zoey Sanders didn't die!

There was a loud "boom".

Her mind instantly went blank.

Zoey Sanders didn't die, how is this possible? She clearly saw her disappear beneath the sea's surface at that time, and moreover, she was quite a distance from the shore. How did she manage to swim back?

Nora Brown could hardly believe her eyes.

If it wasn't broad daylight, she would have thought she'd seen a ghost.

This just got worse; Zoey Sanders didn't die. She would definitely go back and tell the Sanders Family that Nora pushed her into the sea and didn't help her.

At that time, she'll be finished.

The Sanders Family's favorite is Zoey Sanders, they definitely won't let her off the hook.

Nora Brown's heart began to pound like a drum.

In this situation, she absolutely couldn't go back. The safest way was to stay here and become the silver-haired man's woman. With his protection, she wouldn't have to fear the Sanders Family.

Nora Brown kept calculating in her heart, she didn't even hear Felix Shaw calling her from the side.

Felix Shaw narrowed his long phoenix eyes, seeing Nora Brown's pale face looking in one direction, he became even more suspicious.

What on earth did she see that frightened her so?

"Zoey Sanders?"

"Ah!" Nora cried out in guilt and panic.

Felix Shaw frowned, "What are you looking at?"

"Noth... nothing..."

"Get out of the car." Felix Shaw lost his patience and repeated again.

Nora Brown shook her head, she couldn't get out of the car now.

Zoey Sanders hadn't been dragged onto the ship yet, and the distance was not far, only about ten meters. If she got out, Zoey Sanders would definitely see her.

"I told you to get out of the car, what's the point of clinging here? When it's time to go, you have to go. Do you have to be so stubborn?"

Felix Shaw was somewhat angry; it was the first time he'd met such a stubborn person.

Nora Brown held her head, revealing a delicate and weak expression, "I have a bit of a headache..."

"Hmph."

Felix Shaw could no longer stand it, he walked over, opened the car door violently, and pulled Nora Brown out. Nora screamed.

The sound happened to be heard by Zoey Sanders, who was being dragged onto the ship at that moment.

Nora Brown covered her mouth in panic, and the moment she raised her head, her eyes met with Zoey Sanders in the distance.

Nora Brown's heart shrank sharply, Zoey Sanders saw her, and her reaction immediately became more intense.

Nora hurriedly buried her face.

Felix Shaw had lost patience, looking coldly at Nora Brown, half-paralyzed on the ground, “Zoey Sanders, don’t mess around with me.”

Nora Brown was extremely flustered, unable to hear Felix Shaw’s voice at all.

Luckily, Zoey Sanders was soon pulled onto the ship, but the ship didn’t sail away, clearly still waiting for someone to board.

And that person was precisely her.

Nora Brown kept her head down, her pupils trembling uncontrollably, her heart racing, as if she could hear the sound of her own heartbeat.

Seeing this, Felix Shaw reached out and tugged at Nora Brown, and as a result, she rolled her eyes and collapsed.

“Hey? Zoey Sanders?” Felix Shaw frowned tightly.

Nora Brown lay on the ground, her face white as a sheet, her forehead covered in tiny beads of cold sweat, eyes half-closed, with a shaky breath saying, “I... really don’t feel well...”

Upon seeing this, Felix Shaw reached out and placed his hand on her forehead, only to find that it was burning hot.

She had a fever.

Damn it, and it was quite severe!

“Can you hold on?”

Nora immediately shook her head.

Felix Shaw knew she would shake her head, she already didn’t want to leave, and now being sick provided an even better reason to stay.

Felix Shaw furrowed his brow in thought.

She indeed had a fever, and the journey to send her back was still a long way. With her current health condition, it seemed hard to endure.

Felix Shaw stood up and asked someone to help her back into the car.

He then took his phone and turned away, soon the call he made was answered.

At this moment, Liam Cloud, wearing a low-key black trench coat, was lounging on a black sofa. Beneath his thick lashes were deep, emotionless eyes, exuding a dangerous aura all around him.
