

SHE MADE A COMEBACK AS A RENOWNED DOCTOR

Chapter 1010: Chapter 1010: Zoey Sanders Can Die More Easily

Looking at the bloodied woman hanging up, Roman Frost raised an eyebrow, as it's rare to see unfamiliar faces here.

This woman should be the one who came over a few days ago, rumored to be Big Boss's girlfriend, Zoey Sanders!

But why is she hung up now?

Roman Frost didn't understand, so he walked over and asked, "Big Boss, what's going on? This lady..."

Liam Cloud tossed the item in his hand aside, saying coldly, "Just an imposter."

"Imposter? What do you mean?" Roman Frost's brain worked quickly.

Ding.

He suddenly remembered a stranger woman they captured the day before yesterday.

She seemed to also claim she was Zoey Sanders...

Imposter!

Zoey Sanders!

Imposter!

Roman Frost's eyes widened.

So this is the imposter, and the one who had Eliana Shaw's dagger was the real Zoey Sanders back then!

It's over... it's over... it's over...

He had thrown her out!

Seeing this expression on Roman Frost's face, Hope Williams frowned slightly and asked, "What's wrong with you?"

"The Zoey Sanders you mentioned, does she look like she's in her early twenties, with long hair, and dimples when she smiles?"

"That's her, have you seen her?" Hope Williams immediately inquired.

Roman Frost tugged at the corner of his mouth.

“Yes, I’ve seen her.”

“Where?”

“I lost her.”

Hope Williams, “...”

Noticing Liam Cloud’s gaze sweeping over, Roman Frost quickly explained, “Big Boss, she didn’t have a bypass, so I locked her in the dungeon according to the rules and then threw her out.”

As Roman Frost continued, his voice grew softer.

Because the fate of being thrown out was grim...

But he had never seen Zoey Sanders, never expected she could be impersonated by someone else.

Liam Cloud’s eyes narrowed dangerously, “Then what are you waiting for? Waiting to collect her body?”

“Yes, I’ll go find her immediately.”

Roman Frost hurriedly ran out in a rush to search for her.

Hope Williams's phone rang with an urgent call at this time, it was Lucy Parker.

Hope Williams organized her thoughts and quickly answered the call, "Aunt Parker."

"Little Hope, what happened to Zoey? Did something happen to her?" Lucy Parker asked urgently.

Hope Williams thought for a moment and decided to tell Lucy Parker the truth, "Aunt Parker..."

Before Hope Williams could speak, Lucy Parker immediately calmed herself, "Little Hope, don't try to comfort me, I want the truth."

Hope Williams pressed her lips together, "Zoey hasn't been found yet..."

Hope Williams informed Lucy Parker of the real situation.

Lucy Parker was silent for a few seconds on the other end, then said, "The girl you described is the daughter of our housekeeper, Nora Brown.

She comes from a single-parent family, this housekeeper has worked for us for many years, and Nora Brown usually lives in our annex, she's about the same age as Zoey. We never felt superior to the housekeeper's daughter, so we allowed her to play with Zoey. Zoey is soft-hearted, she knows Nora Brown's family has it tough and often helps her. I never thought she would dare harm Zoey."

Lucy Parker's voice gradually choked up, filled with resentment.

"Little Hope, is Zoey now..." Lucy Parker's voice trembled, afraid to say those words.

"No, Aunt, Zoey fell into the sea but made it to the shore. We just haven't found her yet, but we're doing our best to search. I'll notify you as soon as we have news."

"Then her dad and I will come over now to help with the search."

"Aunt Parker, the journey is long and it will take time for you to get here. Moreover, this place has a complex terrain. If one isn't quite familiar with it, there's a risk of getting lost, so Aunt Parker, you should wait at home for now."

This is also the reason why Hope Williams didn't join the search. Firstly, she doesn't have their stamina, and secondly, she's not familiar with the terrain, being more of a hindrance if she went along.

Hearing Hope Williams say this, Lucy Parker realized their presence might also cause trouble and quickly replied, "Alright, we'll wait for your news."

"Yes, Aunt Parker, we will definitely find Zoey."

Hope Williams hung up the phone, her gaze landing on Liam Cloud, who was looking at the topographic map.

Liam Cloud lifted a slender eyebrow and looked at Hope Williams, asking calmly, “What if she’s dead?”

Liam Cloud’s question made Hope Williams’ heart tighten, “Why ask that?”

Liam Cloud pointed at the map, “There’s someone watching from outside. There are only three possibilities for those kicked out from the island: starve to death, be eaten by wild animals, or be taken by them.”

Starve to death—because without a helicopter, there’s no way out.

Be eaten by wild animals—because outside, in that forest, there are numerous wild animals.

“Who are ‘they’?” Hope Williams frowned and asked.

Liam Cloud pulled at his icy lips, “Those who want me dead and take my place.”

Liam Cloud’s position, the things he does, and his arrogant style naturally earn him many enemies.

Hope Williams knew this.

Someone once even took her as Liam Cloud’s weakness, kidnapping her. They wanted to pry everything about Liam Cloud from her and tried to use her to threaten him.

But Liam Cloud protected her well, so those enemies of his didn't get the chance.

"In that case, why do you throw those who enter here out? Aren't you afraid of them being captured and revealing the location of this place?"

"Outsiders can't access the real situation here, even if captured, they would endure torture and then be killed."

Hope Williams frowned, "You're truly ruthless."

Being thrown outside, no matter what fate awaits, it's essentially a death sentence.

This is why no outsider has left alive, thus the outside world remains unaware of this place's existence.

"So, which possibility is Zoey most likely to face?" This was now Hope Williams's main concern.

"Does it make a difference?"

"Of course it does."

Liam Cloud nodded slightly and replied, "The third one."

Hearing this, Hope Williams's breathing tightened.

“But if she’s smart enough to tell them everything she saw here, she might...”

Hope Williams held her breath, “What could she do?”

“Die a bit easier.”
