

Alpha Dimitri By LS Barbosa Chapter 14

Chapter 14

Dimitri:

"You are going to be spending the evening with her." Charlotte said; looking down at my chest as she fixed my shirt for me.

The fact that she was trying to be sure that her scent covered me was something that I understood, but I couldn't help but find myself getting worried about the way that she was behaving; especially since I knew that she could easily end up getting the two of us in more trouble than we could afford.

I stayed quiet though, not saying anything as I had more things to worry about right now, and one of the main things was her father who I knew was now doing his best to either reach her or ruin the things that I have worked hard to maintain.

"You are annoyed tonight." She said, and I shook my head. I was more than a little annoyed, but I wasn't going to tell her that, especially considering the reason behind my annoyance. "You can lie to the whole world, Dimitri, but not to me, you know that, right?"

"Baby, I am just tired and I have had a long day. How about we let tonight pass in peace and the two of us can just lay in bed for a few hours," I said, and she smiled before nodding. It was moments like this with Charlotte that sometimes made it worth while, and though I knew that a lot was at stake, I also knew that I wouldn't change what we had for anything.

"A few hours is a bit too long for me to handle, especially when I know that you would be spending them with her." She said, and I chuckled before cupping her cheeks. She leaned into my touch, and I smiled, brushing my finger on her cheek before connecting my lips with hers. She pulled away to look me in the eye and I couldn't help the smile that formed on my lips when I noticed that she didn't try deepening the kiss. or at least delaying what was going to happen. "I don't want you being turned on by her side. She doesn't deserve to see that, and I don't want others to think that you are affected because of her either."

"You have your own unique way of being protective, don't you?" I asked, teasing her, and she blushed before nodding.

"I didn't fight, being patient, loving you over the years to lose you to an omega. Yes, it may be stupid to actually be comparing myself to her right now, and I know that you are going to tell me that I am worrying over nothing, but my love for you has beat all the odds, and now I don't want to see myself losing you." I knew that deep down, her underline meaning was the difference of her coming here and Aurora's.

Aurora, came to me as a bride, regardless of who she is, she was presented to me as the Alpha's daughter. Charlotte, however, came to me. as a consort. And that was one thing that I knew that her father couldn't get out of his mind. He sent her to me as a present, believing that she would be my Luna, wanting her as my bride. I chose to have her as a consort to send her back, to my surprise, she chose to lose all her titles, her family, and pack to be with me. And that is something that her father never got over.

Flashback:

"What do you want me to do with her?" I asked, raising an eyebrow at her father. She looked down at her feet, avoiding my eyes as she held her hands in front of her. Her heart raced, and I could visibly see her shaking.

"I am giving you my daughter as a bride..."

"I never searched or asked for one." I said, glaring at the man. "And if you believe that I would take a woman of a lower rank, then I do suggest that you think again, beta."

"She is of pure blood, beta or not..."

"I said a word," I said, stopping the man. "Take your girl and get out of my sight."

"Alpha..."

“I said, out.”

“Father, that is enough.” Charlotte said, catching my attention. “I am not going to be begging for a man’s attention. If he doesn’t want me, then you know that others would be more than willing to have me looking them in the eye.”

“If that is the case, then go and show them to me.” I said, mocking her, and she rolled her eyes.

“You are not the only Alpha out there, and mind you, not the only man with a cock that can screw a woman.” Her father growled in warning, and I raised an eyebrow at her before getting up from my chair.

“You are playing a dangerous game, girl.”

“My name is Charlotte, not girl.” She said, glaring at me.

“Well, ‘Charlotte’, if your father insists on giving you to me, I would take you as a consort. Otherwise, you can walk out that door, and I will remind you that being a consort will strip off all your titles and positions. You are going to be nothing but a slave for my pleasure. And if you believe that as my wife you will be getting anything out of me, then you can find yourself one of your line of men.” I said, testing her. She raised an eyebrow at me before she put a hand on my chest.

“I am looking for a man, not a bank, not a fucking Alpha, or a child who believes that he can own the whole world.” She said, making me raise an eyebrow. “And I doubt that as your ‘wife’ that I would have any title to begin with. And Luna is not a title that I am aiming for, Dimitri.”

“Alpha is on his own terms.” I said, and he raised an eyebrow at me. “To me, you are nothing but Dimitri. To the world, I will value you as the Alpha that you are, but behind closed doors it is Dimitri. So, what do you say, will make a deal with my father or should I show myself to the door?”

I looked at the woman’s father for a second before cupping her right cheek and connecting my lips with hers, taking her off guard. It took her a second, but she was quick to kiss me back before I pulled away to look her in the eye.

"The maids will get you ready, and I expect to see you in my bedroom. once I am done with your father..."

End of Flashback.

Little did I know that she was going to be the biggest part of my life, and not only that, but she was going to be the one person that has me getting rid of all consorts as to free myself for her and her alone.

"When I see you tonight, I will be sure to give you a reminder of why you. won't be losing me to the omega." I teased, running my finger down her waist. "Until then, you are going to be a good submissive girl who won't cause any trouble, is that clear, Charlotte?"

Alpha Dimitri By LS Barbosa Chapter 15

Chapter 15

Aurora:

"You look beautiful," Mariana said, making me smile.

I wore a white dress, bride-like, and though I knew that I should have been excited about today, any girl in my place would have, I found myself dreading what was to come.

"Don't flatter yourself too much, and you, mind your limits, you are here to work and not compliment the pack's runt." Charlotte said, and I took a deep breath as I looked at her through the mirror. The maids took a step back, fearing the woman as she entered the room, and I couldn't help but find myself growing flustered as I knew that she would be giving me a hard time when I didn't need it..

It already took the maids more time than necessary to clean up the mess. that she made on the floor with the shrimp sauce, and I didn't need to add the fact that she ruined one of my dresses with what she did.

"You are going to be sure to mind your limits and stay on your best behavior. I will not have a mess happening when the elders are here." Charlotte said, glaring at me. The fact that she didn't even care that the maids were here when she was throwing such insults told me that she was aiming to break me.

I looked at her for a second before looking at the maids, nodding at them, wanting them to leave, but she raised her hand, stopping them.

“I did not instruct them to leave,” she said, and I frowned. “You are going to listen, and considering that you are less than even they are, I doubt that there is a need for them to leave the room.”

“Why are you doing this, Charlotte?” I asked, shaking my head in question. “What did I ever do to you?”

“You entered and ruined my life.” She said, making my chest ache. “And I think that it is an enough reason for me to hate your guts, don’t you? Oh, yeah, a runt like yourself has no right to hate. You only obey and spread your legs on command.”

My eyes widened in surprise and I shook my head at her before my eyes welled up with tears. I had to fight them from falling, not wanting them to ruin my makeup, and catching sight of that, Charlotte laughed and shook her head at me.

“And you expect anyone to look at you when you have this fucked up personality?” She asked, making me look down at my feet as I avoided her eyes. Her words were harsher than they ever were, and I knew that considering that she knew me best, it was only a matter of time before she hit me with what hurt me most. “Your bloodline has abandoned you when you were nothing but an infant, and your parents gave you as a bride without bothering to call once.”

“I am supposed to be in my...”

“Spare me the lies.” She said, stopping me. “I am well aware that your mother warned you against backing out of the mating bond. The woman knows very well that I am in Dimitri’s life, and rather than telling you to go back home with her, she insisted that you two mate.”

“Stop...”

“She threw you in the den and chose to leave you to rot.” She said, not caring about my plea. Her heartbeat was calm as she mocked me while mine raced as I found my tongue getting tangled as I tried forming one.

proper sentence.

I couldn't.

And instead, I was just looking at the woman as if she grew a second head, and that was something that tore me apart, especially since she knew the effect that she was currently having on me.

“But you know, consider yourself lucky. At least, she chose to throw you to the Alpha of Alphas.” She said, and I shook my head, no longer wanting to hear what she was going to say.

I was supposed to be getting ready, and here I was, dealing with this mess.

The maids looked at one another then at me, and I couldn't help but feel like the air around me was tightening. I gulped, taking a deep breath, feeling my stomach churn, and I couldn't help but find myself remembering the fact that I was pregnant as my food started coming back toward my mouth.

“Your likes should be enslaved or at least sent to other omegas. But, the more you know.” She said, taking a step back. “Even an omega bloodline can find herself in the arms of an Alpha.”

She opened the bedroom door before looking at me over her shoulder. I didn't need to look at her as she smiled. The woman had her back to me as she held the door handle, and I took a deep breath, forcing myself to control what I was feeling.

“But I am here as a reminder to you and everyone who thinks of trying to take my place as my Alpha's Luna.” She said, walking out the door. “Get ready, your duties are waiting, runt...”

She slammed the door shut, and that was when I rushed to the toilet, emptying my stomach. Mariana held my hair up while Jay ran her finger over my shoulder, gently massaging it. The other maids stayed back as I straightened, taking a deep breath as tears fell from my eyes.

“How am I going to compete with her?” I asked, shaking my head at the women. “You saw and heard her, the woman would not hesitate to...”

“You are going to breathe,” Mariana said, turning me to face her. My chest rose and fell with each breath, and the woman wiped my tears. “She is trying to break you and your momentum in the most important. moment of your mating.”

She wiped my tears again and looked me in the eye, this time asking m to breath like she was.

“But you are going to prove her wrong.” She said, helping me stand. “You just need to freshen up. We will tend to things here...”
