

A Divorce After My Rebirth Chapter 201

A Divorce After My Rebirth Chapter 201-Isabella's Humiliation Once the press conference ended, Natalie descended from the stage.

Someone grabbed her wrist and swiftly led her toward the nearby safety corridor.

A familiar scent hit her, and Irwin pinned her against the wall. There was a smile playing at the corner of his lips.

"So, you have plans for me, huh?" "I'll make a good profit from the project in the eastern suburbs. That plan will work for sure!" Natalie awkwardly replied.

There was pressure on her chin as slender fingers pushed her face up slightly.

Irwin's strength was a little assertive. There was a sort of hunger in Irwin's eyes when Natalie looked into them.

She shook her head but couldn't break free.

"Let go of me." "Are you using me to piss him off?" "You taught me to do that!" Irwin was silent as his eyes darkened.

This woman!

He released her chin and said, "What a sly fox!" "Sorry, I was a bit hasty just now." When the reporter asked that question, she didn't think much.

"It's good that you thought of me in your hurry, hmm?" Irwin's tone remained gentle.

Natalie breathed a sigh of relief/ Before her rebirth, everyone believed she couldn't live without Cedric.

And now, she just wanted to tell everyone that she wasn't dependent on Cedric!

At this moment, Cedric was in his office in Radiant Tower, A hard glint appeared in his eyes when Natalie mentioned Irwin in the press conference. He swept everything off his desk in frustration!

When Lucas walked in, he saw the mess and approached respectfully. "Sir" Click! Click!

The flickering sound of a lighter filled the air, and the room was chillingly cold. Cedric slammed the lighter on the table, cracking it open!

Lucas tensed, and Cedric took two deep breaths before asking. "Are you sure everything is confirmed?" Lucas turned solemn and said, "The locations at that time were indeed all at Scarlet Villa!" Scarlet Villa... It was the place where he and Natalie lived.

That woman.....

He finished half of the cigarette in one breath, showing how frustrated he was. He pressed the cigarette butt into the ashtray.

"You're dismissed." "Yes, sir!" After Lucas left, Cedric was alone in the office. As he closed his eyes, flashes of Natalie's explanations crossed his mind each time.

Explanations? Hah!

Now, it seemed like nothing more than her stubborn denial. Not only did she deny it, but she also repeatedly placed the blame on Christina and Isabella!

That woman, she was quite the actress...!

A sharp glint flashed in his eyes. So, Sylvan Gems and Regal Horizons International were her backing and pride?

Would she still be this arrogant if she didn't have any of those?!

Because of their ten-year relationship, Cedric had not given up on Natalie before this and was willing to accept her no matter who she was.

But now, he knew that she was involved in the kidnapping of Isaac's beloved and had caused her death.

She had also bribed Isabella's doctor, which caused her blindness. With that, Cedric was thoroughly disappointed in her!

Cedric's acceptance and forgiveness were not a license for her to do as she pleased.

This time, he... could not forgive her!

Natalie returned to Sylvan Gems, where Zane was already waiting in her office. Seeing her return, Zane respectfully greeted her, and Natalie casually dropped her bag.

"Everything's okay with Sylvan Gems, right?" The question was about the oversight of the former CEO! She was well aware that regardless of Cedric's recent attitude towards her, today... No, since last night after he met Isaac, they now stood on completely different sides!

It wasn't a matter of being strangers, but rather an unrelenting anger towards each other! And she had to be cautious of Cedric's methods!

"Don't worry, everything has been handled!" "Any issues with the orders?" Natalie was worried that the current public opinion might affect Sylvan Gems, especially now that she was the CEO.

However, Zane shook his head. "There are none. Don't worry." At this, Natalie breathed a sigh of relief. She had underestimated the love of Sylvan Gems's fans for Sylvan Gems's jewelry.

"What about that matter? Any progress?" The account?" "Yes.

Zone nodded.

"Who is it?" Natalie obviously didn't expect Zane to act so quickly.

Zane replied, "It's a private number and not registered with real name Identity, but it's linked to a phone number.

Whose number?

"Christina Johnson's!" Natalie was silent.

Christina... heh, it's her again!

Good... very good!

"In that case, let's report it to the police!" Previously, she had told Zane that if it was an entertainment company, she would bankrupt them. If it was an individual, she would sue them!

And now, knowing it was Christina, she decided to go straight to the police!

Because she... was not willing to go through the legal process of suing someone!

Zane nodded. "Yes, ma'am." After Zane left, Natalie closed her eyes to rest for a bit. Just then, her phone rang. It was Bianca calling.

Whenever something happened to Natalie, Bianca was the most anxious. Natalie answered the phone.

"Bia..." There was a clear hint of fatigue in Natalie's voice right now. She hadn't slept all night, and then these events happened as soon as the day broke.

“How did things end up like this? What’s the situation on your end?” Bianca’s tone was somewhat urgent.

In her view, the end of Natalie’s marriage with Cedric meant the end of everything!

The divorce was finalized, yet now so many complications have arisen.

It was really infuriating!

“It’s a long story. On my end... everything’s fine!” “Nat Bianca could sense Natalie’s hesitation, and her worry had turned into anxiousness.

That’s enough, okay? I’m really busy right now,” Natalie said, +18 BONUS How is Cedric behaving at this time?” Bianca continued to ask before Natalie hung up the phone.

“He still doesn’t believe me.” Natalie replied.

He still didn’t believe her!

There was a moment of silence before Bianca exclaimed, “Those bitches are quite formidable!” “The evidence is too strong.” Natalie added.

When Cedric showed her that number previously, she already knew he was investigating. And now, the results of the investigation... She didn’t need to be a genius to figure out that it was now in his hands. “Are you speaking up for him?” Bianca asked.

“I think you’re overthinking.” Natalie replied.

Speaking up for Cedric?

Wake up! She no longer cared whether he believed in her or not!

“If I’m overthinking, so be it,” Bianca sighed.

She was genuinely worried now.

Cedric had been the one who could once make Natalie wholeheartedly submit to him. But now, he kept pestering her so much!

Who knows what tricks he might play to make Natalie lose her mind again?

Hopefully, this time, Natalie would keep her sanity at all times!

However, Bianca didn’t know that Natalie was truly clear-headed right now!

If she still had the slightest consideration for Cedric, she wouldn't have gone through with the divorce!

This day was truly chaotic!

in potion was suppressed...!

knew that the impact of today's public opinion wasn't about using it to harm her or to attack It was about Cedric What the other party wanted was for Cedric to see something in this public opinion.

And, as the other party desired, whatever doubts and investigations Cedric had before, he now fully believed that she was the malicious woman who caused Isabella to lose her sight permanently.

A Divorce After My Rebirth Chapter 202

A Divorce After My Rebirth Chapter 202-Going Abroad Together On the other side, Rebecca brought Christina to Sapphire.

Isabella looked even thinner, and her complexion was somewhat pale.

Rebecca was originally a cold-hearted person, and any gratitude towards Isabella was completely obliterated due to the current situation.

At this moment, a few people sat in the living room of the apartment. The maid, seeing Rebecca, nervously poured coffee and respectfully stood behind Isabella.

Sensing the maid's fear of Rebecca, Isabella spoke gently, "Go to the kitchen." "Yes, Ms. Morgan!" The maid gratefully glanced at Isabella and swiftly escaped into the kitchen like a frightened bird.

Only Rebecca, Isabella, and Christina remained in the living room. Of the three, Rebecca had the worst expression. She picked up the cup in front of her and took a sip.

Then, she asked in a gloomy tone, "What have you done?" Rebecca sounded like she was interrogating Isabella!

Initially, when Rebecca learned that Isabella was Natalie's sister, and considering Natalie's attitude.

towards Isabella, she didn't approve of this matter being made public..

Previously, Natalie's divorce from Cedric was because of Isabella. If the fact that Isabelle was Natalie's sister was exposed, it wouldn't be good for the Johnson family's reputation.

Now... it was all over the place!

Rebecca was someone who valued face, and she couldn't stand those strange looks.

"Aunt, I don't know what you're talking about," Isabella actually didn't know what was happening outside.

Her collaboration with Christina was, in fact, optional. She would know Cedric's whereabouts from Christina and when he was with Natalie. Then, Isabella would call Cedric and cause Natalie to feel uneasy.

Bang!

Rebecca slammed her cup heavily on the coffee table. This movement clearly showed her restrained anger!

Tabelle, I used to sympathize with what happened to you, but now...!" Rebecca didn't continue with the following words, But from her tone, it was clear.

She could no longer feel any pity for Isabella on Ivan's behalf.

She... was disappointed!

Christina looked at how angry Rebecca was and said, "Mom, don't be angry. Maybe this is all a misunderstanding?" "A misunderstanding?!" It would have been better not to mention that it had been a misunderstanding!

Saying it was one only angered Rebecca further.

During the time of Natalie and Cedric's divorce, nothing had happened. Now that they were just starting to get along a bit, complications arose?!

Rebecca wouldn't believe it if Isabella confessed to having no plans to marry Cedric!

Standing up, Rebecca looked at Isabella with a sharp and sinister gaze.

"Isabella, I am truly disappointed in you. Since I'm here today, I'll be frank with you!" "Don't play these tricks anymore. Our family can make you prosperous for a lifetime. But if you want to become the young mistress of the Johnson family like your sister, you're dreaming of something that can never come true!" In her words, there was a tinge of indignity!

Isabella's face instantly turned paler.

God knew she hated being compared to Natalie, especially now when Rebecca was openly saying she wasn't as good as Natalie.

The hatred in her heart surged like a tidal wave!

"Aunti Call me Madam Johnson!" alla and Christina were both shocked and speechless!

arly, they didn't expect Rebecca's attitude to be so icy, Isabella's face drained of color, Christina stepped forward and grabbed Rebecca's arm. "Mom, please stop!" Rebecca also noticed Isabella's discomfort!

She opened her mouth to say something, but she stopped.

In the end, she said, "I've said what I needed to today, Isabella. I hope you can show some self-respect and cherish the life you have now." Having said that, Rebecca turned and left, not wanting to see her any longer.

Her departing figure appeared so proud, leaving Isabella with a sense of fierceness. novelbin Christina watched Rebecca leave and then turned to the visibly pale Isabella.

She said, "It's been hard for her lately." This statement could be considered the best comfort for Isabella.

Isabella hated Natalie. As long as Natalie didn't have a good life, she could find some solace!

"What I wanted is far from being achieved." "Isaac is back. When he was preparing to operate on you, his fiancée was kidnapped! All evidence points to Natalie. Do you know what to do?" Christina quickly said.

Isabella nodded.

With that, no matter what Natalie did now, she couldn't escape responsibility!

Christina hurriedly left.

In the cold living room, only Isabella remained. She sat in the wheelchair in a daze, feeling the darkness around her.

This darkness made her suffocate and intensified her hatred for Natalie.

The maid came out from the kitchen, looking at Isabella with eyes full of pity.

“Miss, how could Madam Johnson treat you like that?” In the maid’s heart, Isabella was a good person. Initially, they thought it would be easy to take advantage of her blindness.

+18 BONUS But after getting to know her, they couldn’t bear to trouble her. She was always protecting those around How could they not take good care of her?

Isabella patted the back of the mald’s hand to reassure her, saying with a helpless tone, “In wealthy families, they place great importance on one’s background.” Isn’t character important? Your sister is...” “Enough!” Isabella interrupted the maid, making it seem like she was defending Natalie!

But in reality, she was disgusted with anyone saying that Natalie was her sister.

So what if Natalie didn’t acknowledge her?

She didn’t care to acknowledge Natalie either! Just thinking about her experiences from childhood to now, she wished she could tear Natalie apart bon by bone! They were both children of the same father.

Why was Natalie the only one who could grow up peacefully, even when she was also alone and without a family?

Thinking of Natalie’s carefree life, Isabella’s hatred intensified!

Natalie and Irwin had dinner together. Leon followed closely behind her and sat at the adjacent table to avoid disturbing her.

Natalie raised her wine glass and took a sip.

“Mr. Frazier.” “Hmm?” Natalie looked at the man across from her, momentarily unsure what to say. The oppressive atmosphere surrounding her was evident, especially when it concerned Cedric.

She truly didn’t know what he would do next. While Stephen wasn’t afraid of Cedric, if Irwin got involved... That... was something she didn’t want to see!

She didn’t want to involve more people in the matters between her and Cedric.

However, Irwin spoke up, “Thinking about Cedric?” has never believed in you.” know.

She knew that he had never believed in her. If he had believed In her just once, they wouldn’t have. reached this point.

This time, his attitude was the prelude to an even bigger storm.

“So, what did you want to say?” “You should be a bit more cautious on your end too.” When it came to feelings, Natalie was hesitant to say more. Irwin was a dominant figure in Verde City.

If she said any words of concern and tried to distance herself from him, it would only worsen the situation.

A Divorce After My Rebirth Chapter 203

A Divorce After My Rebirth Chapter 203-The Card has been Found win looked at her with a gentle smile. “I thought you were going to say something else.” Natalie’s smile turned strained. There was none of the ease it had in the morning.

“Don’t worry, okay?” Irwin reassured her, observing her concerned expression.

Without a doubt, Cedric wouldn’t easily let Natalie off the hook this time. All the evidence, even the results of his own investigation, pointed towards Natalie.

With their already fragile foundation of trust, the current situation only worsened the lack of it.

Upon hearing this, Natalie didn’t respond.

Instead, she picked up her glass of red wine and took another sip.

How could she feel at ease?

Cedric’s methods were ruthless, and she had no idea about the extent of his connections within Regal Horizons International.

“Since your uncle is aware of his nature, he’ll definitely be taking precautions, right?” Irwin asked.

“Yes,” Natalie nodded, acknowledging the truth in his words.

However, even though her uncle might be cautious, it didn’t ease her mind!

She had been by Cedric’s side for a decade. She knew that once he set his mind on something, he would relentlessly pursue it. When he sought her out to settle scores, it caused quite a bit of trouble on her uncle’s end.

Now, he was convinced that Isabella had lost her sight because of her.

So, he would definitely not let her off the hook.

“Natalie.” “Hmm?” “Have you ever considered going abroad?” This wasn’t the first time Irwin had suggested this. In his view, the chaos in Verde City was distressing for her.

“But what about your project?” went on, Irwin assured her.

He hoped Natalie would leave now and return once things had settled.

Closing her eyes, Natalie recalled Cedric’s furious expression. Finally, she nodded. “Perhaps it’s for the best. With the approaching New Year, going back to Simeria to spend time with her uncle seemed like the best way to handle the current public opinion.

Ignoring the situation was the best strategy.

The more attention she paid to it, the more fervent some people would become. Arguing with a group of fanatics was never a wise choice.

“I’ll arrange things at Sylvan Gems tomorrow and head back to Simeria. Where are you planning to go during your vacation?” “I haven’t made any plans yet.” “How about spending your vacation in Simeria?” At this moment, Irwin’s projects weren’t holding her back. Natalie was grateful for that.

The first time things went wrong, she wanted to abandon everything in Verde City and leave. However, she couldn’t because of the studio she had started. She was also worried it might affect Apex Global and Premier Garden. “Sure,” Irwin looked at her and said gently.

As Natalie finished the last of her wine, a hint of melancholy flickered in Irwin’s eyes.

“I’m an outsider, so it might be difficult for me to interfere in the matters between you and Cedric. But... I believe you’ll grant me that privilege, won’t you?” Irwin asked.

Privilege?

Natalie nodded.

This time, she didn’t refuse Irwin.

He spoke with such dominance, and she couldn’t help but feel the need to rely on him.

It turned out she was just a woman.

In her most vulnerable moments, what she needed most was someone to lean on, right?

After dinner, Irwin personally pulled out the chair for Natalie and helped her stand. At the adjacent table, Leon also stood.

Seeing the two rise, he respectfully followed behind Natalie.

As they reached the entrance of the restaurant, Isaac walked in. When his eyes met Natalie's, a coldness flickered in them.

Then, his eyes turned crimson, burning with rage.

"You sure have some nerve, huh? You must have some really good tricks up your sleeves to still parade around like this!" Isaac was usually a very cheerful person, and he had never uttered such sarcastic words to anyone.

But looking at Natalie now, he wished he could dissect her with a scalpel to see the true color of her heart.

Natalie furrowed her brows at Isaac's words. Just as she was about to say something, Irwin stepped forward and gently pushed her behind him to shield her.

This action only further infuriated Isaac.

"Hmph, acting differently when someone is protecting you, huh?" "Mr. Phelps, whether she has the right to parade around is not something you can casually comment on, don't you think?" Irwin retorted.

"Irwin, she's Cedric's ex-wife. Can the Frazier family's head really accept your involvement with her?" Isaac mocked, looking at Irwin.

Natalie's expression changed slightly.

She took a step forward, but Isaac continued, "No matter how beautiful a person is, she's still a divorcee, you know?" Natalie's expression darkened!

"Mr. Phelps, I understand your feelings. But standing here today means I'm innocent! Why vent your anger on me?" "It's so easy for you to say that, huh? Natalie, aren't you just relying on Stephen's support?" Isaac sneered. "I want to see if you can still be so high and mighty when your crimes are exposed!" Natalie was speechless and genuinely angry. She didn't want to deal with someone like Isaac, who had However, Isaac blocked her way.

"What? Brave enough to act but not to face the consequences? Can't take a few words?" Isaac taunted.

"Didn't you already report this to the police? Why talk to me about it now? I'd advise you to be more sensible!" Natalie was not one to be trifled with. She glanced back at Leon.

Leon nodded and stepped forward. As Natalie pulled Irwin away, Isaac attempted to stop them. However, Leon blocked his way.

“Mr. Phelps, it’s better to keep quiet before you lose your composure. This time, Ms. Walker won’t hold it against you. But next time...!” Next t Next time, what?

Leon didn’t continue, but the implication was clear. Isaac’s face turned slightly red.

Before he could speak, Leon added, “As a doctor, your hands are precious, right?” “Are you threatening me? Hah! That’s just exactly what that woman would do, huh?” Isaac retorted.

“No, it’s advice. Since you make a living with your hands, your mind should be clearer,” Leon calmly replied.

Isaac was angered by these words.

Wasn’t the investigation he personally conducted trustworthy?!

He couldn’t help but acknowledge that the woman had cunning methods. Those around her trusted her so much!

He wanted to see her true face when the mask of malice was removed!

In the car, Natalie looked at Irwih apologetically.

“Sorry, didn’t expect to run into him.” “His mood is understandable.” Yes, but on your side....

Before Natalie could finish her sentence, Irwin reached over and petted her head, clearly signaling her not to continue.

Natalie swallowed the rest of her words.

Isaac had lost the woman he loved. No matter who stood in his shoes, it was difficult to accept.

However, he vented all his resentment on her, which irked her!

Just then, her phone vibrated. It was a call from Zane.

Natalie answered, “Zane?” “We’ve found information about that card!”.

A Divorce After My Rebirth Chapter 204-Tracing to the Source The card!

Zane was referring to one she lost earlier.

Whether it was for kidnapping Isabella or the incident involving Isaac's fiancée, all the transfer records were from that card. novelbin Christina seemed to be thoroughly prepared to tarnish her reputation, leaving Natalie with no plausible defense.

Now, Zane claimed to have found the information.

"Send it to me." "It's already in your email." "Good." Natalie ended the call and opened her email, her chest heaving in anxiety.

Irwin asked, "What's wrong?" "They've found something on Christina," Natalie said as she handed her phone to Irwin for him to look at.

The screen displayed the dates of the kidnapper's transactions, along with Christina heading to the bank. on the same days.

The bank she chose to go to was a considerable distance from the Johnson Manor. It was evident that Christina intentionally went far to make it harder to trace.

However, every member of Stephen's team was exceptional. They managed to uncover everything.

Christina probably didn't anticipate that Stephen's people could unveil past events, no matter how long. ago they occurred.

If only Natalie had entrusted everything to Stephen's team from the beginning rather than hiring a private detective. This would have been uncovered much sooner.

But at that time, she feared that Stephen would worry if he knew too much.

Now, it was different. With everything exposed, what she needed was the fastest resolution!

Irwin handed the phone back to her. Natalie took it and was about to call Cedric when suddenly... BONUS A headline notification popped up on her phone: [High-Value Jewelry Materials Cost Only & Few Bucks?

Though she initially wanted to ignore this dull news, the words caught her attention. When she saw the words "Sylvan Gems," her heart skipped a beat.

Just as she clicked on it, Zane called again.

"Hello?" "Ms. Walker, I'm afraid you need to return to the company as soon as possible!" Zane said.

It was now clear that the headline was targeting Sylvan Gems!

Natalie closed her eyes. Her tone was unstable as she replied, "I got it. I'm coming right now!" After hanging up the phone, her vision swam.

Irwin hadn't looked at his phone. Seeing the sudden change in Natalie, he was puzzled and asked, "Did something happen?" Natalie looked at Irwin. She wanted to say something, but the only thing that came out of her mouth was, "Drop me off at Sylvan Gems!" Something big had happened!

For a jewelry company, discussions about jewelry styles were nothing new.

But now... it was about the materials!

Each set of jewelry by Sylvan Gems was worth over a million. Suddenly, talks suggested that the jewelry materials were worth only a few bucks?!

Sylvan Gems had just completed its new product launch, and the company already accepted the maximum amount of orders it could take.

With such negative news surfacing now, it was safe to say that no one in the company would be getting a good night's sleep tonight.

For Sylvan Gems, the upcoming week would be far from peaceful.

On the way to Sylvan Gems, Irwin read the news. He turned to Natalie, who had closed her eyes to conceal the turmoil in her heart. He wanted to say something, but Natalie's phone vibrated again.

She opened her eyes and checked to see it was a call from Stephen.

Bad news traveled fast—this news had even reached Stephen, who was all the way in Simerla.

Uncle Natalie answered the phone, struggling to suppress the anger in her chest.

Is this Cedric's doing? Stephen asked.

Natalie hesitated.

Yes. Although there was still no evidence, given the circumstances, it was undoubtedly related to Cedric.

"Yes.

This time, Natalie didn't conceal it as she did before. Things had reached a point where there was no need to hide it from her uncle.

It would be better if Stephen knew!

After she said that, Stephen's breathing became heavier.

"Is he insane?" "Uncle." "Come back to Simeria immediately." "What about Sylvan Gems?" "I'll have someone handle it," Stephen said directly.

As a man, he understood that Cedric. At this moment, Cedric was like a madman. Being in his presence, Natalie was at risk of being torn apart.

Although everyone was angry about the situation, Stephen's first reaction was to have Natalie leave Simeria immediately. As for settling the score with Cedric, there would be plenty of time for it later.

"Should I still go to Sylvan Gems now?" Natalie asked.

"Go and settle what you need to hand over. Once you're done, take the earliest flight back tomorrow morning," Stephen instructed.

"Okay," Natalie responded.

Her world was currently filled with turmoil and anger. Regardless of that, she would listen to her uncle.

now.

They quickly arrived at Sylvan Gems. Just as Natalie was about to get out of the car, Irwin grabbed her wrist. She turned around to meet Irwin's gaze, which was a combination of gentleness and seriousness.

"What's wrong?" Natalie asked.

Irwin hesitated. Just as he was about to say something, his phone rang. He looked at Natalie and gestured for her to remain silent. Then, he answered the call.

"Hello." Natalie could vaguely hear something about Dragon Park from the other end. Irwin's expression darkened. The grip on her wrist, which was tight just moments ago, suddenly loosened.

Then, Irwin said, "Alright. I'll be there soon." After hanging up the phone, he looked at Natalie.

"What happened?" Natalie asked.

At the question, a chill ran down her spine.

Only God knew.... that what she feared most was everything converging at once.

Whenever things gathered, it was no longer a coincidence—especially in her world, where there was never any coincidence.

Everything was premeditated!

“There’s trouble in the eastern suburbs. I’ll head there for now.” “What happened?” At this moment, Natalie seemed unable to hear her own voice. Her mind echoed with Irwin’s words that there was trouble in the eastern suburbs.

There was a buzzing noise in her mind and also a sense of emptiness.

“I don’t know the details yet. I’ll check it out first, okay?” Natalie didn’t ask further.

In the past, Irwin used to wait and watch as she entered the building before leaving.

But today... he didn’t see Sylvan As she watched the taillights disappear from her line of sight, Natalie didn’t turn around to enter! Gems. She stood quietly in place.

The night wind blew, ruffling her hair. The chill felt as if it soaked right into her bones.

She looked up and found that the city’s starry sky no longer had stars. All she saw was pitch-black, much like the color of her world!

When Natalie entered the office, Zane and other company directors were already waiting for her. The relevant investigative department had also arrived, even at this late hour.

As Natalie listened to Zane reporting the situation, chills ran down her spine. At this critical moment, it was impossible to say it had nothing to do with Cedric There was also trouble happening in the eastern suburbs on Irwin’s side.

“Zane.” “Yes, Ms. Walker?” “I’m going out for a while.” Natalie didn’t enter the meeting room. She turned around and headed towards the elevator.

A Divorce After My Rebirth Chapter 205-Captured As Natalie left Sylvan Gems, she called Cedric repeatedly. Seeing her, Leon quickly caught up.

Hearing footsteps behind her, Natalie turned back. “Don’t follow me.” “Mr. Jarvis has instructed that I stay close to you for your safety,” Leon said respectfully.

Natalie’s head throbbed.

Cedric's hatred for her was now vented entirely on Sylvan Gems. With relevant departments present tonight, she would be unable to escape if things weren't handled well.

Call after call, Cedric never answered.

Finally, she got into the car.

"Go to Scarlet Villa, Natalie said to Leon, who slid into the driver's seat.

He nodded.

Natalie wasn't certain if Cedric was there, but it was worth a try.

She wasn't disappointed.

Upon arriving, the butler's worried gaze confirmed Cedric's presence.

"Ms. Walker." The butler blocked her as she tried to enter.

Natalie shot the butler a sharp look. "What?" "Mr. Johnson has instructed us not to let you in." Natalie's eyes flashed sharply at the words.

She wasn't allowed in?

How dare that man?!

She looked at Leon, and he stepped forward to block the butler. Security personnel surrounded them, but Leon handled them all.

As Natalie headed inside, the butler yelled, "Miss, this will only anger Mr. Johnson more!" Natalie couldn't care less. This time, things were not so simple. It was much more serious than the previous troubles. If Cedric didn't have something in his hands, he couldn't create such a storm.

Inside, Cedric sat on the sofa with a cold look. The expensive ashtray on the low table was filled with cigarette butts. His refined features were icy, devoid of warmth.

He looked at her as if he were looking at a stranger.

Natalie closed her eyes, then opened them. Her eyes were clear as she approached and tossed her phone to Cedric.

"Take a look." Normally, she didn't want to explain too much about these matters, having explained too many times before.

But now, she could see that he was unwilling to let her off until she died.

Why should she die for their mistakes?

Moreover, she had already died once for these people!

Bang!

Natalie's emotions became somewhat unstable. Before she could speak, Cedric continued, "Do you want to know what's happening with Irwin?" Natalie was silent.

Was it really Cedric's doing? Even though she knew that tonight's incident in the eastern suburbs might be related to Cedric when Irwin received that call and left, she didn't expect him to say it outright. Now, it not only seemed related, but the connection was significant!

She took a deep breath and looked at the man before her, feeling a chill in the air.

reach that far?

"Cedric The phone was slammed onto the ground, and it shattered instantly.

Natalie was speechless.

Her already unpleasant expression turned colder as she looked at Cedric, "What, are you trying to give me some explanations now?" Cedric asked in a mocking tone.

"Stop what you're doing already!" Natalie shouted angrily.

"Natalie, this is just the beginning!" Just the beginning?

Natalie completely lost her composure. She walked towards Cedric with ice in her eyes.

Ten lives?!" The eastern suburbs?

The construction site?!

Natalie's vision swam.

He was ruthless, truly ruthless.

When she was by his side before, she thought he was formidable when she witnessed his methods against his enemies.

But she never expected him to use those methods on her.

Whether it was her previous life or this one, he only ever showed indifference towards her when Isabella was kidnapped. He had never resorted to such measures.

This time... he used the methods he employed against his enemies on her.

He wanted to trample her into the mud, and he was treating her like one of those enemies.

He wasn't just ruthless.

He was cold and harsh!

At this moment, Natalie understood clearly that Cedric had truly let her go.

He didn't feel disappointment in her like he did before.

No, this was him completely letting her go.

He treated her like any other outsider, using the cruelest methods to throw her from a high place into the mud.

"If that's not enough, there are.

Natalie interrupted him. "I didn't do any of those things!" Cedric was silent.

+18 BONUS novelbin ahe Holated speaking the coldness emanating from the man intensified. Anger filled the air. Looking to her eyes, there was no warmth, only danger.

with a burst of anger, Natalie bent down to pick up her broken phone Although the screen was shattered, the words on it could still be seen.

She opened her email and pulled out its contents. Then, she handed them: to Cedric Hysterically, she shouted, "Take a good look! Look at who really did something to Ianno's fiancée and who kidnapped Isabella!" At this moment, Natalie couldn't even be bothered to utter Christina's name. This woman was a sly fox, and she had been in the Johnson family for many years. It was not easy to track down the evidence that could prove her crimes!

Cedric didn't take her phone. He glanced Indifferently at it without bothering to check what it was. He only saw the bank's surveillance screenshots showing Christina, He smiled in a cold and dangerous manner.

"Are you anxious already? Ready to blame everything on Tina?" When he mentioned Christina's name, his tone was gentle.

Natalie's vision was more than just dark; her world was swept away by a tornado.

See?

It wasn't like she didn't try to explain!

Every time before, he behaved in the same way.

And now, he was doing it again!

"I told you that I lost the card. I never knew who was using it. But now it's obvious that it's Christina using it."

"It was her! She did all of those things!" "She was the one who bribed the people who kidnapped Isabella in my name. She was the one who used my account to transfer the funds. She was also the one who bribed the person who kidnapped Isaac's fiancée and the doctor who performed surgery on Isabella!" It was her! Do you understand? It was her he did all of those things! You see this? This is the good sister you've always defended!" Smack!

All the hysteria quieted down at this moment.

There was a burning pain in her face. She had long lost any feelings after everything that happened.

But when faced with Cedric's escalating intensity in this life and his extreme obsession with defending Christina... Natalie's heart... uncontrollably cracked open a bit.

Looking at Cedric, at his anger and indifferent coldness, she laughed.

It was a sarcastic laugh.

"She's really such a wonderful sister, huh?!".

A Divorce After My Rebirth Chapter 206-The Devastating Truth Cedric watched as Natalie's heart shattered and the red marks on her face. He instinctively clenched his fists, and his heart uncontrollably stabbed a bit.

The urge to step forward was instinctive, but he ultimately held it back lightly.

The voice from within came again... It was like a hysteria from within his soul. novelbin this!

"Don't treat her like to do this to Naty. However, in the end, that voice was burned by his anger. What remained was his colder heart."

"Natalie, I'm telling you that this is just the beginning. Get out of here right now!" Natalie was silent.

Get out?

She laughed mockingly.

“Before, you used such means to make me come back, and now... Haha! She truly was nothing to this man. When he was happy, she was his beloved little pet.

But when he was unhappy, he would throw her out without any hesitation..

Natalie stood up before him.

Slap! Slap!

She slapped him twice!

As his expression darkened, Natalie said, “You have no right to hit me! What was I doing? After speaking, she arrogantly turned around.

Cedric’s face turned red with anger. He wished he could strangle her.

Just then, his phone rang. It was Rebecca.

He answered, “Hello?” “I only returned yesterday. What happened?”

“It’s Natalie. It’s because the pictures of Natalie and Irwin were exposed...” Rebecca urgently explained.

Originally, Rebecca hadn’t intended to mention Natalie. However, she seemed to be in a hurry. Christina was stopped and taken away right after they returned from Sapphire.

“I got it!” Cedric hastily said and hung up the phone.

He looked at Natalie, who had already reached the door, and angrily shouted, “Stop!” There was a cold look on Natalie’s face, and she halted her steps without turning around. Standing proudly at the doorway, she asked in a cold and indifferent tone, “Is there anything else?” “Did you report to the police about Tina?” “Yes!” Natalie replied in the same cold tone.

As she finished speaking, heavy footsteps approached from behind. Cedric came directly behind her and forcefully turned her around so their eyes met.

The eyes of both were cold and stormy.

“You’re so shameless!!

“I didn’t do it!” “You still won’t admit to it?!” “Cedric, I’ve always been willing to report everything to the police. Have you ever thought about the reason for it? Since I dared to do it, it obviously means I have nothing to hide! It’s because I didn’t do it!” Natalie’s tone was chilling, sending shivers down one’s spine. There was an unspeakable accusation of his lack of trust.

Today’s evidence against Christina was undeniable. However, even with such proof presented before him, .still didn’t believe.

He even thought it was all Natalie’s attempt to shift the blame onto Christina.

It seemed as if she had underestimated the bond they shared since childhood.

“You really know how to manipulate a situation to your benefit,’ the man said coldly.

+18 BONUS Natalie’s heart sank So, you never believe anything I say, right?” It was pointless. At this moment, she harbored no resentment toward anyone; she was simply taking the necessary steps to protect herself.

But she did resent herself for being blind all those years! 1 She had been with a man who was controlling, obsessed with his sister, and stupid.

In their marriage, she was truly an outsider!

She had never integrated into his world. This marriage was the biggest mistake of her life. She had never relied on him for anything.

Other women envied her for having tens of thousands of monthly pocket money.

But what was there to envy?

“Drop the charges against her right now!” “No!” “Natalie...!” “You don’t believe this evidence, do you? But that doesn’t mean I or the police don’t!” She was talking about the evidence she showed him tonight.

He hadn’t believed that she would hand it over to the authorities.

Neither of them was willing to back down!

Looking at the storm brewing in the man’s eyes, Natalie continued, “The police have been investigating Isabella’s case. I believe they’d be interested in this evidence. What do you think?” “You dare?” “Why are you threatening me? Are you afraid of trouble? Or do you lack confidence in Christina, whom you’ve always believed in?” The atmosphere turned tense again.

Natalie had never explained herself so passionately regarding Christina's matters before. But today, she wanted to loudly tell this man that it was all Christina.

Juan—care if Cedric accepted her back in his world or not!

She just didn't want to take the blame.

Do you have to do this?" he asked.

"I need the police to investigate thoroughly! If it has nothing to do with her, she'll naturally be unharmed!" Natalie said with determination.

Her tone was firm.

The man released her.

The coroner's expression in his eyes intensified.

"Fine, don't regret it." "Whether I regret it or not, let's not talk in such absolutes between us. I regret being with you a long time ago!" Once Natalie finished speaking her piece, she turned around and left.

Her words were cold, resolute, as if even knowing him was a mistake.

Yes.

In Natalie's eyes, even getting to know Cedric was a mistake.

She resented her own blindness and also questioned why fate had given her this chance to be reborn, but not to the time before she encountered Cedric. In that case, she would surely avoid this man even if it meant she had to travel the world to get away from him.

How could she let this man turn her world upside down?!

After Natalie left, Cedric stood in the same spot.

As a shadow passed over his eyes, Rebecca called again.

"Hello?" "I'm outside the police station now. I can't see Tina. Ced, she's never suffered like this since she was a child!" Last time, she didn't know.

This time, how could she just watch and do nothing?

Rebecca was clearly anxious.

Cedric hung up after saying, "I know, I'll handle it on my end." There was a cold chill surrounding him.

Natalie...!

Finally Cedric wouldn't let Christina stay inside for too long. This night was destined to be anything but peaceful. After leaving Scarlet Villa, Natalie went straight to the police station. She presented the evidence intended for Cedric directly to the police.

Now, she and Cedric were at an impasse. Neither was willing to back down. He stubbornly held onto Natalie regarding Isabella, while Natalie clung fiercely to the matter involving Christina and Sylvan Gems.

Neither was willing to let the other off the hook. By the time she returned to Sylvan Gems, it was already past ten in the evening.

When Natalie saw Zane, she spoke first. "Is everyone here?" Zane nodded. "Yes." "Tell me what's happening now," Natalie said as she walked towards her office.

A Divorce After My Rebirth Chapter 207-He Still... The online post only mentioned that Sylvan Gems's jewelry materials were fake, but details such as time and batch numbers were not provided.

Zane had already brought relevant documents into the office with Natalie.

As Zane handed over the folder, Zane said, "The jewelry is from our recent orders, and the inspection results from online sources." Natalie nodded. "How do you think we should handle this situation?" Although she was the CEO of Sylvan Gems, she hadn't encountered such matters before. Moreover, Zane was originally associated with Stephen. It was his competence that placed him by her side.

Natalie thought that Zane probably had already organized all the thoughts before her return to Sylvan Gems.

"Now, we need to recall the relevant orders of jewelry and confirm whether they are our products." Natalie nodded. "Indeed, it should be done this way. But have you considered one thing?" "What is it?" "Sylvan Gems would never produce fake goods.

Natalie was fully confident in her uncle at this point.

Zane looked surprised. "Are you suggesting...?" "First, go and confirm whether the person who posted this is a customer who bought our jewelry or someone else." "If it's not a customer, then confirm if this person has any connection with our clients." Natalie continued. Then Zane looked at Natalie in amazement. Clearly, he hadn't expected Natalie to have such a clear mindset at this moment.

She wasn't going to recall the jewelry but rather trusted Sylvan Gems.

After all, she was the CEO of Sylvan Gems and naturally had to believe in the company.

"What about those people now?" Just say that Sylvan Gems couldn't possibly do such a thing. We will cooperate with the investigation and hope to get results as soon as possible." "Furthermore..." Natalie thought for a moment, glanced at Zane, and added. "If it turns out to be our customer, then start investigating from our factory." She actually hoped that the issue wasn't with the factory. If it were, things would become really troublesome.

She didn't want the situation to reach that point.

*Alright, I understand." When the factory was mentioned, Zane's expression darkened. It was evident that if the issue was really with the factory, it would be an incredibly tricky situation.

For Sylvan Gems, it would be like the dissolution of its influence.

They naturally didn't want Sylvan Gems to suffer such a significant impact.

Zane left the office.

Natalie picked up the broken-screen phone and dialed a number. The call was quickly answered, "Hello..." "Tomorrow morning, in front of the police station, there will be big news!" After saying that, Natalie hung up the phone.

How much public opinion had Christina manipulated these days? Now, Natalie was retaliating against her bit by bit.

Is it chaotic?

Let everyone be chaotic together. After all, Verde City has never been peaceful!

On the other hand, it may seem like Natalie and Cedric are in conflict. In reality, it's Natalie against the entire Johnson family.

Cedric won't let her go because of Isabella, and Natalie won't forgive the origin of all their troubles, Christina.

They stood completely on opposite sides. Cedric was hysterically desperate to plunge Natalie into the mud, and Natalie was equally determined to tear off Christina's mask completely.

When Rebecca returned to the Johnson Manor, Wanda anxiously greeted her. Originally, Christina had gone out with her.

Now, seeing only Rebecca returning, she asked, "Where's the young miss?" It was already so late!

Even though Christina always loved to play, Wanda knew that as long as she was with Rebecca, she wouldn't casually leave the older woman's side.

Speaking of Christina, Rebecca sighed and frowned deeply.

Wanda asked, "What happened, Madam?" "Tina is in trouble!" She pinched her aching brow. Her head throbbed in waves.

Hearing that Christina was in trouble, panic flashed in Wanda's eyes. However, she quickly suppressed it.

"Trouble? What happened?" At that moment, she inadvertently revealed her current emotions.

Rebecca sighed, "What's the matter with her and Natalie? Regardless of her previous identity, now she is Stephen's niece!" "She's so unreasonable. She didn't get along with Natalie before, and now she's going at it." "Madam, Miss wouldn't..." Wanda started.

Rebecca was already in a bad mood and exploded, "Isn't she? If it's not her, why hasn't she come out until now?" Originally, Rebecca thought her daughter wouldn't do such a thing. After all, she had been raised and educated by herself.

But now, after such a long time inside... She made all the necessary calls and contacted everyone she could. In the end, Cedric told her that Christina would probably be under investigation tonight and asked Rebecca to return home for now.

She felt heartbroken thinking about what Christina might be going through inside.

3/5 But what could she do?

Wanda said, "There must be a misunderstanding You raised Ma Christina yourself. You know her personality. She always listens to your "If you didn't ask her to go against Natalie, she wouldn't do it on her own initiative! Rebecca's expression froze. When she looked at Wanda, her eyes were full of dissatisfaction.

Wanda felt her heart tighten under Rebecca's gaze. "Madam?" "Remember, Natalie is the young mistress of our Johnson family. She just had a conflict with Ced, understand?" Wanda was speechless.

This...!

Rebecca looked at Wanda's stunned expression and became irritated. "I didn't like my daughter-in-law before. But do you think anyone else truly suits Ced? Natalie is the only one, isn't she?" She was, after all, the future heir of the Regal Horizons International.

Rebecca had heard about Stephen's daughter, Winona, who had no interest in the family business. So, Stephen would naturally groom Natalie to be his successor.

Who could compare to such a presence?

Wanda's heart sank. "But what about Miss?" "She's been ignorant lately. This time will serve as a lesson for her!" If Christina really did this, then consider it a lesson for her. If not, then it was nothing to worry about.

Rebecca couldn't do anything about her heart breaking. After all, the account was linked to Christina's identity information, and investigations were necessary.

Rebecca went upstairs feeling irritated.

Wanda stood in the hall, unable to return to her senses for a long time.

Natalie had a difficult night. She had to cooperate with Investigations from different places..

made the Christina's days inside the police station were even more challenging.

The whole night was filled with various interrogations. This time was different from when Natalie slandered her.

Back then, there was no evidence.

But this time, all the evidence pointed towards her.

Christina was on the verge of collapse!

A Divorce After My Rebirth Chapter 208-Crumbling Interrogation Ms. Johnson, where were you on that day?" In the record room, numerous questions were asked repeatedly and incessantly!

Over a dozen times!

Christina's mind was almost turning into mush.

"I was at Scarlet Villa." "With whom?" "My mom!" "Ms. Johnson... Ms. Johnson... Ms. Johnson...!"

At this moment, Christina's mind was buzzing!

They repeated her name so many times in such a cold and unfamiliar tone. Her mind was blank.

For each question, she had to answer carefully. After more than a dozen times, she had to match the answers with the previous ones, and the order of the questions was never the same.

She had no preparation whatsoever, and this interrogation caught her off guard.

Just then, the record keeper went out for a while. When he came back, he had a colder and more serious expression.

He said, "It seems that we have to conduct another investigation with you regarding the kidnapping cases for Ms. Morgan and Mr. Phelp's fiancée, Ms. Johnson!"*

Christina's expression changed at his words.

"It wasn't me!" She instinctively replied, denying any involvement.

She had no idea what was happening. She had been summoned before in connection with Isabella's matter.

But this...?

Christina had no clue about what was happening outside, so this turn of events left her completely bewildered. The evidence will speak the truth. I hope you cooperate with us, Ms. Johnson." "I need to call my brother, I need a lawyer!" "Ms. Johnson, until we clear up this matter, you won't be able to see a lawyer!" Christina's already troubled expression became even worse upon hearing these words.

It was a crisis! It was a crisis!

She had a hunch about what was happening. She struggled to maintain her composure, pretending not to care.

"Fine, go ahead and ask whatever questions you have." She said as she spread her arms wide, acting as if it had nothing to do with her!

In Scarlet Villa, Cedric made several consecutive calls. However, he couldn't get Christina out.

Natalie... she really did it!

That woman actually pushed all the blame on Christina. If it were just a matter of public opinion, it wouldn't be a big deal.

But now, with the matter of Isabella and Isaac's fiancée's kidnapping also being blamed on Christina, things were getting complicated.

At this moment, no matter who he called, it was impossible. With her implicated in such suspicions, Christina had to clear herself!

Cedric tried calling Natalie.

She was probably busy, and it took a whole hour before she returned his call!

Before Cedric could speak, Natalie spoke first, "You've made so many calls; it seems like you're anxious." "Natalie!" "Aren't you always resourceful? Your methods are quite forceful! Use your dominance to snatch her out!" "Natalie, you'll regret this!" "I've said it; I regret it a lot, Cedric, you're really foolish! At this point, you still haven't figured out the situation!" If it really wasn't Christina who did it, how could the evidence she provided lead to such trouble for her?

Such obvious evidence, something that anyone could see, and he actually said Natalie was accusing Christina?!

"Withdraw your accusations right now!" Every word from the man was a threat.

Without waiting for Natalie to speak, Cedric continued, "She's just in her twenties. Her life hasn't even begun. Do you want to ruin her future?" Christina was just a young girl!

Getting involved in such rumors before marriage undoubtedly would significantly impact her life.

"Hah... When this happened to Christina, you think about her future, huh? What about mine?" Although she was disgusted, Natalie still couldn't help but ask this question.

There was nothing but disappointment in her words!

I "Do you really not know what you did? Natalie, I truly admire your strength. At this point, you can still calmly shift your sins onto Tina!" "Hah!" Natalie laughed sarcastically.

She had already gotten used to Cedric saying such things..

This... was the man who had emphasized the ten years between them!

"I know what I did! I'm afraid it's you who don't know the things that Christina and Isabella did!" It was as if the two were speaking their own conversation over the phone and not conversing with each other.

Cedric pursed his lips tightly, and the chill in his eyes gradually intensified...!

Bang!

Finally, he could not bear it any longer and hung up the phone.

On the other side, Natalie had just finished a meeting before calling Cedric. Hearing the echo on the other end, she knew Cedric had hung up!

Her heart sank.

Blanca came over and stood by her side.

“Was it Cedric?”

“Yeah.” “For Christina?” “Yeah!” “That pighead...!” Blanca was at a loss for words when it came to Cedric.

Natalie and Cedric had already divorced, and Natalie hadn't expected so many complications. If she had known, she really shouldn't have established that studio.

She now realized that as long as she was in this city and had any contact with Cedric, that two-faced bitch, Christina, would never give up!

The key was that Christina had done all those things. Yet, Natalie was taking the blame for her.

“How did no one in the Johnson family notice after so many years?”

It was truly astonishing!

Were the Johnson family members just too naive, or was Christina exceptionally good at hiding?

Seeing Bianca's worried expression, Natalie felt warm inside and said, “Don't you know a saying?” “What?” “Not one family can avoid disputes.” “Are you saying you're part of that family?” “I couldn't get in, could I?” Who would want to be part of the Johnson family? That family was not something anyone could integrate into.

Even Jocelyn suffered because of Christina.

It showed how cunning Christina was, and it was clear that everyone in that family cherished her a lot. Even Cedric, who had suspicions about her before, now felt sorry for her because she was in trouble. Why would he bother looking further now that this had happened?

“Bla! Thinking about these things, Natalie sighed. “When looking for a man in the future, don't find one who's too devoted to his parents or too attached to his younger sister.

Those people hold too much Importance in a man's heart!" A flash of heartache appeared in Bianca's eyes!

When Natalie said this, Blanca understood how much Natalie had suffered in the Johnson family over the years.

People outside said that Cedric loved Natalie to death, not caring about family background or opposition.

He insisted on being with Natalie. But only Natalie endured the difficulties from the mother-in-law and sister-in-law, and Cedric continued to defend them.

"When a woman marries, and the whole family treats her like an outsider... When even her husband, who's supposed to be the closest to her, doesn't stand up for her... Living like that is just...!"

A Divorce After My Rebirth Chapter 209-Turmoil Natalie sighed. She didn't want to continue with what she was about to say.

"Alright, that's enough. Don't dwell on it. You speak so bitterly as if you haven't let go of it yet!" Blanca couldn't stand seeing Natalie like this. In her eyes, Natalie was a good person and should be cherished.

But Cedric... Hah!

"I'm not bitter. I'm just telling you, don't be mesmerized by a man's 'I love you' too easily based on my past experience." "I won't!" Bianca retorted.

Men and emotions, huh?

After witnessing Natalie's situation, who would dare to get involved in that? These things were deadly!

Back in her office, Natalie called Irwin. Just the thought of Cedric's words about ten lives...!

ee, Natalie called In She was genuinely worried. Apart from learning design, she had also studied a fair amount of relevant law and knew the risks involved.

She was genuinely concerned!

Her heart was aching in a subtle and intricate way.

Finally, someone answered the call. 'Hello, how can I help you?' "May I ask who you are?" It was an unfamiliar voice.

However, the person on the other end recognized Natalie's voice. "Are you Ms. Walker?!" "Yes!" "Mr. Frazier is in the hospital right now." Hospital?!

As soon as Natalie heard Irwin was in the hospital, her heart tightened. "W—what happened?!" Young Miss?!

relationship with Irwin yet. Natalie wasn't familiar with the young miss of the Frazier family. After all, she hadn't reached that level of But such matters couldn't be explained in a few words over the phone.

"Which hospital? I'm coming right away!" "Central Hospital!" "I got it!" Natalie hung up.

Bianca, seeing how occupied Natalie was, didn't approach directly. Natalie immediately made another call!

On the other end, Zane answered, "Hello." "Come over right away.

"Okay." She ended the call, and Zane arrived soon after.

"Ms. Walker," He respectfully greeted and stood across from Natalie.

She looked at him and asked, "Do you know Ms. Frazier? The one with a good relationship with Mr. Frazier." Cedric had hinted before that Irwin didn't have a very good relationship with the Frazier family. So, the fact that Irwin was at the hospital because of Ms. Frazier must mean he had a good relationship with her.

"Are you talking about Ms. Stella Frazier?" "Stella?" "Yes, she's Mr. Frazier's biological sister. Unlike Mr. Frazier, Ms. Frazier grew up in the Frazier family." "If you're referring to someone who's closest to him in his family, it should be her. It is said that after Mr. Frazier returned to the Frazier family, Ms. Stella was the one who cared for him the most!" Stella Frazier.

Natalie nodded.

She didn't inquire too much about Irwin's background, but she knew a bit. Things in these wealthy families were never as simple as they seemed.

The Frazier family, being such a large family, had its complexities due to its size. Irwin's upbringing had been unexpected, revealing that there were unexpected circumstances even in such a prestigious family.

It seemed that Stella's existence was crucial to Irwin.

"Take care of things here." Natalie stood up, grabbed her coat, and headed out. Ideally, she shouldn't leave Sylvan Gems at this time, but with issues arising in the project in the eastern suburbs, she couldn't relax.

Hence, she needed to visit the hospital and hear what Irwin had to say. Seeing Natalie leaving, Bianca quickly stood up. "You're so busy, I'll head back first!" Bianca had been worried when she saw how the public opinion was today. However, upon arriving here, she found Natalie acting as if nothing had happened. Natalie was simply handling the affected work. There wasn't even a hint of sadness in her emotions.

Seeing this, Bianca felt reassured.

Natalie glanced at Bianca and nodded. "Yeah, I'll see you another time."

She was genuinely busy and couldn't afford to spare attention for Bianca. Still, the fact that Bianca appeared at this critical moment to accompany her was truly a sign of a valuable and cherished friendship. Natalie arrived at the hospital quickly.

When she saw Irwin, it was at the emergency room entrance. There was a serious look on his face, and his once meticulously arranged hair was now slightly disheveled.

However, it didn't affect his image. He still looked refined, and his exquisite features surpassed many others.

There was no trace of his usual warmth when he saw Natalie, only a forced softness in his demeanor.

Natalie walked briskly to him, looking through the man to the emergency room doors.

"How's the situation?" Not too well, Irwin said with a somewhat cold tone.

"Is it the eastern suburbs project?" She didn't say anything more, but Irwin understood what she meant.

Natalie had a feeling that things were not going well tonight in the eastern suburbs, and the entire night in Verde City was far from peaceful.

After she said that, Irwin's face darkened.

Dylan quickly stepped forward and said, "Ms. Walker, now is not the time to discuss work!" Natalie was silent.

Reminded in this way, she realized that bringing up eastern suburbs in front of Irwin at this moment was not appropriate. After all, the person closest to him was still in the emergency room.

"What happened with Ms. Frazier?" Natalie asked, redirecting her question.

Actually, asking about the eastern suburbs was to find out what had happened. Plus, with Stella here at this time, tonight's events seemed to be really complicated.

Irwin remained silent, but Dylan started to explain, "Miss is here because..

Bang!

Before Dylan could finish his sentence, the door to the emergency room opened from inside, interrupting their conversation!

Everyone turned their eyes to the door simultaneously!

Irwin, who had been silent, immediately went up. With an icy tone, he asked, "How is she?" The doctor hid his mask with a look of regret on his face.

removed with "Mr. Frazier, I'm sorry. We did our best!" The air turned tense, and the temperature dropped immediately.

At that moment, everyone's minds went blank.

Natalie was quiet.

What was going on?!

+15 BOHUS before she could react to the doctor's words, Irwin threw a punch directly at the man's face.

I've Fing told you, the entire hospital will be buried with her if she doesn't come out alive! Get in there And save her!!" Irwin roared, Natalie had never seen Irwin like this. With the scene unfolding before her suddenly, she tensed!

Caught off guard, the doctor stammered, "M-Mr. Frazier, please calm down!" "Get in and save her!" he roared again.

It felt as if the volume of his voice shook the hospital.

made me empre At this moment, the hospital director arrived with a group of people, clearly rushing after receiving the news. The doctor in charge of the emergency was frightened by Irwin's fury.

He quickly explained, "Mr. Frazier, please! When Ms. Frazier was brought in, her vital signs were already... We really did our best!" "Sir!" "Mr. Frazier...!" Just as Irwin was about to strike again, Natalie stepped forward and grabbed his arm.

However, due to her petite size, she was thrown off by Irwin's strength.

They rolled into a tangled mess! She crashed into the doctor who had been hit, and the two of them rolled into a tangled mess!

A Divorce After My Rebirth Chapter 210-The Puppet Master The night was chaotic and tumultuous!

Natalie received several calls from Karina while she was waiting by Irwin's side.

As Karina was in charge of the eastern suburbs project, she would be the first to receive any updates if anything happened on-site.

That was how Natalie knew that something had happened in the eastern suburbs!

The people involved in the incident were not ordinary people. They were all very important and capable people under Irwin, and Stella was also part of the group who were on site!

"Why did it collapse? Investigate the situation!" Natalie's heart tightened.

This project was now in trouble, and their studio was inevitably involved.

On the phone, Karina said, "I'll investigate the situation. You go back to Simeria for now, okay?" Natalie was silent.

Natalie was silent.

Go back to Simeria?

She just remembered that she had promised her uncle to arrange the work at Sylvan Gems and return to Simeria for a while. But in just one day, so much had happened in her world.

What should she do now?

"I know what you're thinking, but the situation is not that simple right now. I think it's better for you to stay away," Karina advised.

"Can I really avoid it?" Natalie questioned.

The incident that had happened in the eastern suburbs had been sudden. As a designer, she knew that these things didn't happen overnight..

If it was a trap, it must have been set up when the eastern suburbs project started.

Could it be Cedric's doing?

Everything was in chaos!

Natalie's mind was completely in disarray. Karina continued on the phone, "At least for now, it's not Natalie pubconsciously looked at the man sitting in the corridor smoking one cigarette after another, surrounded by cigarette butts.

Her eyebrows furrowed.

"Okay, I understand." Natalie finally listened to Karina's advice. After all, she was still one of Stephen's people.

In essence, although she was now the CEO of Sylvan Gems, she had been a designer before this. Her MIES MOIN situation was expertise was in design work. Now that problems arose in her her good at all.

In the few months she had spent learning from her uncle, she realized it was insufficient.

After ending the call with Karina, Natalie approached Irwin. Despite her petite stature, she was only slightly shorter than Irwin when he was seated.

At this moment, she seemed like a child who had done something wrong when she stood before him.

"Have you found out the cause?" Natalie asked anxiously.

She knew Irwin didn't want to discuss work right now. From Zane's tone, she could sense what Stella meant to Irwin.

The Frazier family was a big family!

To be blunt, after his mother's death, the only person in the Frazier family who accepted him was Stella. She was the only family Irwin had in this world.

However, something had now happened to his only family because of his project.

"Dylan." Irwin didn't directly answer her question but instead called Dylan, who was dealing with urgent matters on the phone.

Hearing his voice, Dylan quickly hung up the phone and hurried over.

*Sir!

Take Ms. Walker home!?

Ms. Welker?

Natalie's heart turned cold.

Dylan approached Natalie and respectfully said, “Ms. Walker, Mr. Frazier isn’t feeling his best right now. Why don’t you head home for now?” Natalie was speechless.

She glanced at Irwin. There was a chilling look in his eyes, and they were devoid of the warmth from before. Only an endless indifference remained, and it made her throat feel tight.

Upon hearing about him being in the hospital, Natalie’s thoughts about Irwin were similar to how Bianca felt about her when she went to the hospital—especially when she learned that it was Stella, his own younger sister, who was involved.

She thought Irwin might need her, just as she needed Bianca.

However...!

She stood up and nodded to Dylan. When she tried to say something to Irwin, the words that reached her lips were stifled when she saw his cold and ruthless expression.

She had driven herself here, but she didn’t refuse Dylan. She had received no answers the whole night and hoped to learn something from Dylan.

Walking alongside Dylan to the car, Natalie said, “I can get home on my own.” “Do you need me to accompany you?” Dylan thought she might not want to drive right now.

But Natalie shook her head. She only said, “What exactly happened in the eastern suburbs?” “How did it happen?” She was deeply involved in the eastern suburb project, after all. So, Natalie was extremely worried about the situation.

When she asked about it, Dylan’s expression turned serious. “Didn’t you hear anything from the studio yet?”

“No.” Natalie felt her heart tighten along with Dylan’s serious expression.

Looking at her, Dylan said, “Right now, it’s likely that there was an issue with the dimensions during the design phase.

How is that possible?” Dimensions? She knew that during the design process of a building, accuracy in measuring the dimensions required for the appearance was crucial.

If the dimensions were off, the construction process wouldn’t proceed smoothly. In some severe cases, problems might arise shortly after completion. If there were issues with the dimensions, the designer, in this case, would face legal consequences.

Seeing Natalie's pale expression, Dylan said, "The investigation is still ongoing, and we need to wait for the results for specific details." Although that was the official statement, Natalie's mind was buzzing, and she couldn't hear what Dylan was saying anymore.

ones When Dylan turned to leave, he looked back at Natalie. The reluctance was clear on his face, but he still offered a reminder.

"Ms. Walker, I'm telling you now... If it turns out to be a problem with the design dimensions, your relationship with Mr. Frazier might end here." End here?

Would everything between them really end like this?

Natalie's heart not only tightened then. It descended into complete chaos.

Irwin....

Even without Dylan's reminder, Natalie clearly knew what Stella's existence meant to him.

If the issue indeed originated from her design, then the relationship between her and Irwin, not to mention a working partnership, would be completely over.

And if she stayed in Verde City... Natalie had to admit that the current situation she faced was quite dire.
