Chapter 241 Truth

“Mom, is this method you spoke of?”

Lindsay rolled her eyes at him “Didn’t you hear? This was something that Kaitlin was willing to do. She did not want you and me to be sad Moreover, she has a psychiatric evaluation report. She won’t be sentenced.

“Moreover, this is also for your child!”

Cason looked at Kaitlin in pain. She was his younger sister. She was always so arrogant. Now she was actually admitting her guilt.

Kaitlin continued to say, “I have a feud with Ainsley. It’s been going on for a long time. Most of the people in the room knew about it.

And I used to bully Ainsley at the University of Washington, and there was a lot of tension between her and me before this incident.

What happened at the villa was premeditated. I planned all of this to hurt her. I wanted to see her fall apart.”

When Kaitlin said these words, she was very calm, as if she was speaking the truth.

Ainsley knew that her words were half-true. At the very least, the first half was true, but the subsequent statements should be Kaliyah’s imagination.

The lawyer listened to Kaitlin’s answer with satisfaction. Kaliyah also faced the judge with a faint smile. She believed that with Kaitlin’s words, the judge would definitely believe that it was not her problem from the beginning to the end.

“Requesting to interrogate the witness!” Ainsley’s lawyer stood up.

After the judge approved, the lawyer walked over to Kaitlin and asked, “Kaitlin, then how do you explain Micheal’s confession?”

“Micheal? Then I really do not know why he would lie. This was clearly done by me.”

Micheal sat to the side and glanced behind him.

The lawyer solemnly asked, “Kaitlin, are you certain that you were the one who did this?”

She nodded.

The lawyer looked at the judge. “Your honor, I didn’t submit any new evidence.”

Kaliyah frowned slightly. She did not know what other tricks Ainsley had up her sleeve.

The lawyer played a video on the big screen, and when Lindsay saw the scene in the video, she began to lose her composure.

This was recorded in a mental institution. The first video was Lindsay advising Kaitlin to take the rap. The second video was of their meeting before the trial.

“Kartlin, just think of it as for Kaliyah! Go and take the rap!

“That bitch did not suffer any harm. You will not be sentenced seriously. When the time comes, Cason can find connections to help you change your sentence to a lighter one...

“If you do not plead guilty, you will no longer be my daughter from now on.”

Some reporters also came to court. They recorded the videos was pale He couldn't believe that these videos would be released

Lindsay's face was pale

The lawyer said, “Your honor, as you can see, in the two surveillance videos, it was Mrs. Baldry who was trying to persuade Kaitlin to take the rap. After this time, Kaitlin committed suicide. The hospital has proof Kaitlin tried to use her death suicide to resist. But after her suicide, Lindsay didn't stop and still continued to persuade Kaitlin in the second video, we could clearly see Lindsay kneeling to force Kartlin to be a scapegoat These videos are all audible

“So, Kartlin's intention of admitting her guilt is not obvious. Moreover, it is to take the quilt and not tum herself in.”

Kaitlin trembled and did not speak again.

Get Bogus

On the contrary, Lindsay had already stood up in excitement. “This matter was originally done by Kaitlin. I was only trying to convince her to turn herself in.

Kaliyah also cried out, “That's right. She did it. It has nothing to do with me! It wasn't me!”

Everyone in court saw this scene.

In the end, Kaliyah was sentenced to two years. Because she was pregnant, she had to be monitored until she gave birth to the child.

Kaliyah almost couldn't accept it, but she understood that this was the best result. After the child was bom, she could apply for a commutation.

Lindsay glared coldly at Ainsley. She thought her plan was flawless.

Kaitlin did not think that this would be the end. She was once again brought to a psychiatric hospital.

In Virginia Mason Hospital

Manuel had been lying in the ward for a full five days. Roman had brought over oatmeal.

Manuel looked at him with dissatisfaction. "Why is it you again?"

Roman frowned. "Who else could it be? What happened to you and Ms. Easton? Why doesn't he come to see you anymore?"

Manuel shook his head in confusion. In fact, he did not know it either.

The only explanation could be that Ainsley had heard what he had said to Irene that day.

He had also been blacklisted by Ainsley when he called her, but he couldn't walk, so he could not go over to explain it to her.

At the same time, Ainsley received a student in the consulting room.

The girl looked to be around twenty years old, and she didn't dare to look at Ainsley.

"Do you feel unwell?"

"I want to die." The girl's eyes immediately reddened.

Ainsley looked at the girl with a serious expression and asked gently. "Did something happen?"

"Ms Easton, I think I should die."

Most depressed people felt that they should die. The reason why they stayed alive was because of the remnant will of survival in their minds

"Ms Easton, do you think people will disappear completely after they die? And all the difficulties they face will no longer exist," the girl asked expressionlessly

Ainsley thought about it and said gently. "Where did you get the theory that death can free you?"

"Everyone said so, and on the internet.

"No one who is alive has ever experienced death, and the dead will not speak Since no one has told us about the world after death, it is unknown to us. Just like Schrodinger's Cat, no one will know the answer before the mystery is revealed. Who will know whether the is dead or alive at the moment of the revelation? No matter what, death is an irreversible thing if you choose resolutely and make › choice regardless of the consequences, how do you know you'll be happy after this?" Ainsley said softly

Although this girl should have heard all of this, Ainsley still wanted to say it once

Ainsley thought for a moment and asked. "This is a form, a total of seventy two unit squares. Each unit square represents an hour. Now, your life still has three days. Even if you don't sleep these three days, tell me what you want to do the most. Write it down

The girl placed the form on the table. She held a pen in her hand and stared at the form in a daze.

In the last three days of her life, she thought she would do something meaningful.

What was it?

If she died, what would she want to do before her death?

Chapter 242 Three Days Left

Get Borns

Seeing that she had not started writing for a long time, Ainsley reminded her, "There is a dessert shop in Skyline Building that is particularly good. It is called Flavor Dessert Shop It is my favorite dessert shop. If you really can't think of what to do, why don't you have an hour to try it? Don't you want to eat something sweet?"

The girl thought for a moment and finally wrote down "Flavor Dessert Shop" in the first form.

Ainsley continued to say. "Think about it. Write down everything you want to do. Just take it as a list. You can make a note of what you want to eat and what you want to buy."

After a long time, the girl finally wrote a few things on the list.

"You want to go bungee jumping? Not bad. I heard that the bungee jumping experience is like dying once. People who have experienced bungee jumping seem to have been reborn."

She added, "But there is no bungee jumping place in Seattle. You may need four hours for a round trip. Bungee jumping takes an hour."

The girl, Nancy Conway, obediently crossed out four squares on the paper and wrote "bungee jumping" in the fifth square.

"What about your family? Don't you want to stay with your family at the end of your life?"

Nancy thought about it and decided to spend a whole day with her family.

Under Ainsley's hint, she filled up the squares one by one. When there were three hours left, Ainsley said, "Do you have an idol?"

"Yes"

“Then you should go to your idol’s concert or a meet–and–greet. You should at least go and see your idol,” Ainsley smiled.

Nancy nodded and wrote down “go to the concert”.

“Don’t forget that it takes time for you to make the round trip.”

Nancy crossed out two more squares. When she picked up the pen and wanted to cut off another square, she murmured, “It’s not enough.”

Ainsley picked up the form and looked at it with appreciation. She said with satisfaction, “it seems that the trip is really full. There are lot of things to do. Other than a few concerts, do you think of anything else?”

“Kiting, roller coaster...”

“Now do you feel that three days is not enough to do the rest of the things? Ainsley asked softly.

Nancy nodded. Although she really wanted to die, if she remembered every bit of the past at the last moment of her life, she still had many wishes that she had not fulfilled. There were still many regrets that she had not made up for. Three days was not enough.

Ainsley smiled and folded the paper neatly. “If three days are not enough, you can give yourself a month. And then, you will only find that you have to do more and more things You have to experience every stage of your life by yourself”

She pushed the paper in front of Nancy Now I tell you, you still have a lot of time, not just three days. You have enough time to do anything you want to do if you are still confused now, why don’t you do it according to the list you wrote yourself? At least finish

"No, your mother can only be more concerned about you. Moreover, this is not your fault. Medical technology is very advanced nowadays. You

Nancy wiped away her tears. "Ms. Easton, do I really still have hope?"

"Of course, there is hope." Ainsley said patiently, "Research shows that in recent years, there have been very few people who died of AIDS. You can even take anti-AIDS drugs to relieve it."

"I don't have the money to buy drugs," Nancy smiled bitterly.

"There is no need to worry about this. You can go to the hospital's infectious disease clinic. They can apply for free anti-AIDS drugs for you. Everything will be fine."

Nancy's mood soothed a bit. "But, if Mom finds out, she will kill me.

Nancy was so nervous that she almost cried. She really wanted to die.

Ainsley slowly walked to Nancy and held her hand. Nancy suddenly pulled it out

"No! It's contagious."

"Don't be afraid, Nancy. Let's try to do the things in the form first, okay? Ainsley knew that she had now lost hope in life. What she needed to do was to give Nancy hope again.

Nancy hesitated for a moment and finally nodded.

Ainsley thought that the matter had been solved, but what she didn't expect was that misfortune still happened.

Three days later, a lot of people gathered at the University of Washington's entrance. Two men pulled up a banner, saying. "University of Washington's psychological counselor kills my daughter!" A middle-aged woman cried at the entrance. She was still wearing back clothes, and the reporters were excited.

After all, the person involved this time was Ainsley!

Ainsley was Cason's ex-wife, Manuel's rumored girlfriend, and the champion of the Decker Contest!

No matter which one of these three titles was worthy of attention. But now, this middle-aged woman was accusing Ainsley of killing her daughter

This news spread fast and became a trending topic in just an hour. Someone added fuel to the fire.

When Ainsley arrived at the campus, she didn't know what had happened. When she walked to the entrance of the campus, she was immediately stopped

Ainsley looked at the huge banner in horror, and the portrait in the middle-aged woman's arms caught her attention.

It was Nancy She had talked to Nancy an hour earlier.

Nancy was dead

The middle-aged woman and the onlookers immediately recognized Ainsley. She grabbed Ainsley's hand immediately. "It's her! Come and see! She is the one who killed my daughter!"

The reporter stood in front of them and pressed the shutter button frantically

"Please calm down" Ainsley said in a deep voice

"Calm down? Tell me, how should I calm down? My daughter is dead, and she died because of you. I wish I could immediately peel off your skin. You actually want me to calm down! How ridiculous!"

Nancy's mother, Mary Edmund, shouted.

"What exactly is going on?" Ainsley frowned.

Mary cried, "I can't believe you don't know what's going on. Are you blind? Can't you see the words on the banner?"

Mary suddenly lay on the ground and cried, "Daughter! You died so miserably! It was all because of this bitch! She was the one who killed you."

"I don't understand what you mean. Why did you say that I killed Nancy?"

"This is Nancy's suicide note before she committed suicide. Since you said that it has nothing to do with you, why don't you read it out? Mary held out a piece of paper in front of the people.

Chapter 243 Death

Ainsley was very surprised. The last time Ainsley saw Nancy, they were in the Psychological Counseling Room for a simple treatment. After that, Nancy's symptoms had been alleviated. But why did she die after just three days?

Nancy had not even finished all the things she had planned, so there must be something wrong.

A journalist handed a microphone to Ainsley and said, "Ms. Easton, please read the contents of the will."

Ainsley looked at her and said, "I'm so tired! If possible, I really don't want to live. Ms. Easton, I have already decided what I have to do according to the method you told me about yesterday. However, I felt uncomfortable, especially after I finished tasks... I can't hold on any longer. As you said, I can leave after doing these things. But for someone like me who doesn't need to do these things at all, this is obviously not important.

"I want to be free. Things are unpredictable. All I want is to be free. Ms. Easton, thank you for reminding me, but I don't want to live anymore. Goodbye!"

Ainsley looked at the will and read it word by word.

However, there was a clear difference between the preceding and the latter of the will. What actually happened that made a girl directly change her mind?

After Ainsley finished speaking, Mary said in a trembling voice, "If not for what you told my daughter, if you didn't ask her to imagine that she could only live for three more days, how could my daughter have made a list?"

When Mary said this, she directly took out the form that Nancy had made during the journey and placed it in front of the camera. Mary cried and said, "Just take a look. This is the list that the woman asked my poor girl to write. Ainsley asked my girl to write down what she wanted to do in 72 hours Wasn't she guiding Nancy to commit suicide as soon as possible? Nancy did what Ainsley asked her to do. My daughter committed suicide at such a young age!"

The cameras were aimed at the form that Mary was holding in her hand. The contents of each unit in the form were exposed.

Mary continued to sob and said. "It's all because of this woman! If she didn't ask my daughter to fill out the form, Nance wouldn't die! She jumped down from the twentieth floor! She was so young and beautiful. But she jumped straight down from the roof! At that time, I was standing downstairs. I heard a loud sound, and I saw my daughter fall.

Mary was in a trance, and her tears fell.

"The ground was full of her blood. I desperately shouted, but I never heard her response. My daughter died. The culprit is still sitting in her office and trying to harm the next student. How can she do this?"

Mary got down on her knees at the school gate, wailing. "Please help me! I heard that she is the eldest daughter of the Easton family. I have no other choices!

“I just want to get justice for my daughter!”

Ainsley looked at the will written by Nancy with a serious expression. Some of the content in the will was very strange. “Mom, I’m sorry I can’t protect my brother anymore. I know what I should do. It’s not my fault to get that disease. Ms. Easton said there is still a chance for me Do I still have a chance? Probably not.”

Ainsley remembered that when she was giving Nancy psychological treatment, Nancy did not say that she had a brother.

Just as Ainsley was still thinking, Mary said, ‘Nancy is a child with excellent grades. I am a single parent mother In order to nurture her, I have made lots of effort Now, she committed suicide after receiving psychological treatment She originally had a good future. We can live a good life soon Nancy said that she would buy me a big house and take me to travel I want my daughter back!’

Mary cried painfully. The onlookers were moved by her words.

Ainsley asked, “You want justice, nght? Then what do you want me to do?”

320 thousand dollars! Just because of you, my daughter is gone I only want 320 thousand dollars. It’s fair, right?” Mary wiped her tears and turned her ack to the media, looking at Ainsley

When she turned around, the sadness in her eyes disappeared, but she still pretended to wipe her tears.

320 thousand dollars?” Ainsley repeated.

She looked at the banner and the journalists in front of the school gate.

She thought, does Mary do such a thing just to ask me to give her 320 thousand dollars?

However, Ainsley did not think that Nancy’s death had anything to do with her. And there was something wrong with the will.

Mary’s reaction was even stranger. Generally speaking, people with AIDS would want to commit suicide if they couldn’t stand it. They would write their own illness in the wills left behind, but in Nancy’s will, she didn’t mention her disease.

Perhaps Nancy did not want others to know, so she deliberately hid it.

Ainsley was about to turn around and walk into the school gate, but she was stopped by Mary. Mary said, “What do you want to do? Don’t go! You killed my daughter, and you want to escape!”

The onlookers also came up to stop Ainsley. Fortunately, there were some security guards. They immediately came over to protect Ainsley and escort her into the school.

Ainsley walked in with fear, and behind her was Mary's heart-wrenching cry.

"Come out! You killed my daughter, and now you choose to hide from me! You will end up with a miserable life!"

The news was widely spread on the Internet. It was even well-known compared to the former event at the University of Washington..

Ainsley looked at the comments on the Internet in the consulting room. She knew that she had to deal with this matter well, otherwise, the consequences would be severe.

"I saw that teacher at the University of Washington before. She is quite beautiful. I didn't expect her to be so vicious."

"She actually induced a student to commit suicide. The reason why students come to the Psychological Counseling Room is to seek help

"Why didn't anyone call the police? Police will intervene in this matter, right?"

"That teacher is Cason's ex-wife and Mr. Gage is chasing her. Don't you know what this means?"

"I also heard that she won first place in the Decker Contest. Letting this kind of person take the first place is really a disgrace for the Decker Contest!"

There were many different opinions But Nancy had committed suicide, and there was indeed a list written by her, Moreover, the video of Mary crying at the school gate was widely spread

Seeing a mother kneeling alone at the school gate and crying, people were easily emotional.

Ainsley carefully watched the video of Mary for a long time. Although Mary cried heart-wrenching, Ainsley always felt that something was wrong

A mother's crying when she lost her daughter should not be like this Mary was in tears, but there was no sadness in her eyes.

Chapter 244 Inside Story

Mary even wiped her tears when she proposed 320 thousand dollars in compensation. She clenched the hem of her clothes quiltily.

Everything was very strange. She didn't act like a mother who had lost her child, but more like a person who wanted money.

Did Mary come for money?

Ainsley remembered that from Nancy's description, Nancy's mother loved Nancy very much, and Nancy also loved her mother Ainsley did not know why, but she could tell from Nancy's will that her emotions were very different. It seemed that Nancy didn't write all the paragraphs on the same day.

Wait!

They did not seem to be written on the same day!

Ainsley suddenly thought of a possibility. She wondered, perhaps I'm right!

Perhaps the latter half of the will is not written by Nancy!

The phone rang.

"Ainsley, come to the principal's office now." Cody's anxious voice was heard.

This event was so important. And it had been discussed for a whole day. The principal chose to meet Ainsley now, which could only mean that he trusted her very much.

Without any hesitation, Ainsley immediately went to the principal's office

The reason he called her over was definitely because of Nancy's matter.

Cody stopped her outside the office, asking, "Are you okay?"

"Professor Wade, I'm fine." Ainsley looked at Cody gratefully.

Her face was slightly pale. The event must have had a great influence on her.

Nancy, who was beautiful and young, committed suicide before she could enjoy her life.

Two days ago. Nancy had told Ainsley how scared she was in Ainsley's office, but now Nancy was dead.

Nancy wrote down the things she wanted to buy and the things she wanted to do, but she only finished one or two of them. It was unreasonable for her to commit suicide.

After entering the principal's office, Ainsley took out all the recordings and showed them to Raymond. What Raymond heard was exactly the same as what Ainsley had said.

case, Narity should have been cured that night

Cody thought about Ainsley's words and did not find anything wrong.

Then why did Nancy commit suicide, and why did she write those words in her will?

Jungley was also doubtful Raymond felt that things were not that simple.

"Even now, Nancy's mother is still crying outside the school gate, not willing to give up," Raymond said.

"Did Nancy really commit suicide? Ainsley forced herself to calm down police had already pronounced it

After jumping down from the 20th floor. Nancy was badly mutilated, and her entire body was fractured

This kind of death

Cody thought about it and said. "Right now, Nancy's mother insists that Ainsley should be blamed. More importantly, everyone believes that it was Ainsley who made Nancy commit suicide"

"The most important thing now is to stop people from giving bad comments. Raymond was the principal of the school. He didn't want this event to ruin the school's reputation

He looked at Ainsley and said, "Ainsley, what do you think about this matter?"

Ainsley said calmly, "Mary wants 320 thousand dollars, but I won't give it to her. I want to know the truth about Nancy's death. Her death is not simple. It is not an accident."

"What?" Cody asked in confusion.

"Look" Ainsley said as she spread out the piece of paper and placed it on the table.

She used her hand to block some of the paragraphs.

"What's the difference between these two sections?"

Cody looked at it doubtfully. Slowly, he found something strange.

"In the first section, although Nancy said that she wanted to give up, she seemed to be reluctant. But the second section seemed to be a complete farewell."

"So what?" Raymond frowned slightly.

Ainsley said, "So, Nancy didn't write the two sections at the same time. She wrote the will twice. Why would she do that?"

Ainsley paused and added in a deep voice. "I suspect that something happened to her. And it should be related to her mother"

"Why?"

"It's just a guess now, but I will investigate it clearly.

Raymond nodded. The most important thing now was to talk to Mary and ask her to leave.

"Get someone to bring Nancy's mother in," Raymond said in a deep voice

Cody nodded. No matter what, they could not allow Mary to keep holding a banner and her daughter's photo at the school gate.

Not long after, Cody walked in dejectedly "She refused to come in and said that she wanted you to go there personally."

Just as everyone was discussing, Raymond showed up.

Cody followed behind Raymond, leaving Ainsley in the office.

"Mrs. Conway, if it really has something to do with Ainsley, we won't help her. But we have already seen the surveillance footage that Ainsley gave Nancy psychological counseling that night. There is no problem."

"Who are you?"

Cody quickly introduced, "This is our principal, Mr. Ford."

Before Mary could speak, the reporters placed their microphones near Raymond's mouth.

"Mr. Ford, what do you think about the case? I heard that Ms. Easton has already taken over the psychological counseling department before she even obtained the graduation certificate. Is there any inside story?"

Chapter 245 Testification

"Mr. Ford, after Nancy died, what have you decided to do with Ms. Easton? Please answer our questions directly!*

Under the illumination of the flashing lights, Mary's face was even paler

Her lips were chapped, and there were a few bloody wounds.

"Your teacher has killed my daughter. What are you going to do with her?"

Raymond looked at Mary calmly and said, "Mrs. Conway, the recordings of your daughter and Ms. Easton's last conversation are in my office. If you suspect that Ms. Easton did something wrong, you can follow me to the office and watch the video. I think you won't refuse, right?"

Mary looked at Raymond suspiciously and nodded solemnly

Mary followed Raymond to the office. The person holding the banner stayed outside the school gate. Mary still held Nancy's photo tightly. The moment she entered the office and saw Ainsley, Mary immediately got angry.

"You killed my daughter. How can you still have the courage to meet me? I want to peel off your skin and drink your blood. How could a person who has not even got a college diploma become a psychological counselor?" Mary cursed.

Ainsley did not argue with her. She sat on the table at the side and watched coldly.

The Nancy in the photo had a faint smile. She looked completely different from the last time Ainsley saw her.

Although the photo was black and white, Ainsley could feel the brilliance of the young girl from the smile

Nancy was a living person that day. But now, Ainsley could only see a haggard, tired, and inanimate girl in the picture.

Raymond put his tablet computer in front of Mary and played the video. The monitoring screen showed the consulting room, and the beginning of the video was Nancy entering the consulting room

Everything was recorded clearly in the consulting room. Ainsley was comforting Nancy carefully, and Ainsley did not say anything bad to provoke Nancy.

Ainsley did ask Nancy to assume that Nancy could only live for three days. But Ainsley was guiding Nancy, making Nancy feel that there were still many things in the world that she needed to do.

Ainsley stared at Mary's eyes and found something unusual. In Nancy's will, there was no mention of her AIDS.

But when Mary heard that her daughter had AIDS, Mary did not react excitedly. It seemed that she had known about it a long time ago.

Ainsley had a guess in her mind.

"Mrs. Conway, do you know about Nancy's illness?"

Mary was stunned. Then she said, "I don't know! I only know it just now. It's all because of you. You made her commit suicide. My poor child!"

"Then, is this how you react after you know your daughter has AIDS? You seem to be calm."

"I don't need you to teach me how I should react. Now you are my enemy! The compensation of 320 thousand dollars is not much.

You are from the Easton family. You can definitely afford this bit of money, right?"

It seemed that after entering the office, Mary had changed her personality

"Your daughter's death has nothing to do with me" Ainsley shook her head and refused.

"Since you're so insincere, then there is no need for me to continue staying here!"

Mary cursed and returned to the school gate. This time, she cried even miserably

At the same time, some of the students in the school began to spontaneously clarify for Ainsley. In their opinion, Ainsley was a very good person, and she would never do such a thing.

However, it was useless. Most people still believed that Ainsley should be blamed

Get Bor

This matter caused a wide discussion. That night, the police got involved in this matter. After asking Ainsley and investigating, they also took a look at the recordings in the consulting room. They confirmed that Nancy's suicide had nothing to do with Ainsley.

The police made an announcement, but it was also useless.

Manuel entered the office with a walking stick. The cooperation with Applegath was important. He couldn't leave the company right now.

The assistant placed a tablet in front of him and said. "Mr. Gage, something happened."

Manuel took the tablet. Under the police's announcement, there were lots of people cursing Ainsley.

"I knew it! I knew it would be the result!"

"Nancy died. The next one is likely to be me..."

"I feel distressed. Think about it. It's so scary! Nancy's psychiatrist told her that she could only live for three days. And three days later, she died..."

Manuel frowned. It seemed that there was someone controlling the comments

Who was it that wanted to frame Ainsley?

At the same time, in the Easton Group, Matteo urgently held a public relations conference, asking everyone in the company to suppress the bad comments.

He was very clear that Ainsley was not this kind of person. But things had happened, and he had to help her.

In the Wade Group, Irene was looking at the comments on the Internet with satisfaction. Just as she was looking at the video, Serina entered the office.

Because of Koen's request, Serina had been following Irene these past few days, studying how to manage the company.

But actually, Serina was just playing. She didn't learn anything.

As soon as Serina entered the office, she heard the video from Irene's phone. Serina was aware that it was related to the recent news of Nancy's death on the Internet.

Senna said with a serious expression, "Irene, I have also seen this news in the past two days. Do you think this is really Ainsley's fault?"

Irene pondered for a moment, then quietly turned off the video. "I think Ms. Easton should be professional. Otherwise, your brother wouldn't have asked her to be your psychologist and help you treat your psychological disease."

Hearing this, Serina smiled, "Irene, I thought you would believe the people on the Internet. If I didn't know Ainsley, I might also think he was guilty I might even scold Ainsley like the people on the Internet. But I know her. I know what kind of person she is. After watching the surveillance video revealed by the police and the attached will, I am even more sure that this matter has nothing to do with Ainsley paused and continued, "Although I don't know why Nancy committed suicide, I think there must be a reason. It is absolutely impossible that she was convinced by a form."

After experiencing so many complicated things, Senna was no longer the innocent and naive girl. Even though she did not show it in front of Manuel, she knew everything her eyebrows and said. "But now, no matter what evidence they could bring out, those netizens won't believe it."

Senna sighed and said, "Well, most people have some hatred for the rich Ainsley is from the Easton family, and people won't believe her no matter how much she explains. They think that the people who testify for Ainsley are bribed."

Chapter 246 Serina Posts Online

"Do you want to help her?" Irene asked softly.

"Of course!" Senna nodded. No one wanted to help Ainsley more than she did.

Irene laughed softly and said. "The reason why the clarification is useless is that those people's social status was not as strong as Ainsley's. And they had not been treated by Ainsley. If there is someone who people believe will not be bribed and has been treated by Ainsley helped clarify for Ainsley, it should work."

Serina seemed to think of something. She said, "Isn't that me? Why don't I clarify for Ainsley?"

Irene nodded. "You can try."

Serina made up her mind. She took Irene's computer and tapped a lot of words on the social platform. Then she posted it online.

In order to be more convincing, she even recorded a video.

"Hello, I am Serina. You may not know me. I am Manuel's sister. Ainsley is my therapist... I have a very serious psychological illness. My brother has found many doctors for me, but it was all useless. But Ainsley appeared and helped me. She made me want to get close to her and trust her... I have been sick several times: Every time, it is Ainsley who treats me, regardless of the danger that i will hurt her... No one understands the meaning of life better than she does. If you can calm down and look at this event objectively, try to watch the surveillance video in the consulting room and the form again. Trust me, you will know that Ainsley tried her best to comfort and convince Nancy not to die...

Senna said a lot in the video, just to prove that Ainsley would not harm others and Ainsley was a very reliable person.

Irene gently pressed the button and said, "Are you done recording? Send it out, I will help you."

"Okay." Serina looked gratefully at Irene.

Serina could not believe that Irene would actually help Ainsley. But no matter what, Irene was offering help.

Serina's statement caused the event to be a trending topic once again. The Gage family was powerful in Seattle, so some people believed part of what she said.

But they were also confused...

"I already said that Ainsley has a close relationship with Mr. Gage. The two of them are rumored lovers. I originally thought that the Gage family wouldn't help Ainsley. But now, they made a move."

"Originally, I didn't believe that Ainsley was a bad person, but now I believe it all."

"A student from the University of Washington revealed that Serina's psychological illness is actually quite serious and it has not been

"Irene, what is going on? Hurry up and remove the trending topic. I don't want Ainsley to see more criticism," Serina said aggrievedly.

Irene replied calmly, "Senna, you did the right thing. It's just that some people are crazy"

"I know, but I don't want my post to be a trending topic anymore," Serina stammered.

"Ainght, I remove it now." Irene sighed.

"Thank you, Irene." Serina was still womed.

Senina couldn't think of a way to help Ainsley make a comeback

Serina was bored at Irene's company. Serina really wanted to see Ainsley.

"Irene, I want to..."

Before she could speak, Irene had already nodded in agreement. "You can go. I will watch over the business."

"Irene, you are so nice."

Serina walked directly to the school gate. Mary was still kneeling there, and her face was still full of despair.

The press recognized Serina soon. They targeted the cameras on her and said, "Isn't Ms. Gage?"

Some journalists placed the microphone near her mouth and said, "Ms. Gage, may I ask if the clarification you posted online is true?"

"Ms. Gage, is it your brother who asked you to post it? I heard that you have a psychological illness. Can you tell us what kind of illness it is? You said that Ainsley is your therapist. What about your treatment?"

Serina didn't want to answer any of these questions. She just wanted to go to the Psychological Counseling Room and talk to

Ainsley

She stood helplessly as she was surrounded by the crowd. She looked at Mary.

Mary was holding her daughter's black and white photo in a daze, waiting for justice.

Even Senna was moved. But unfortunately, the dead could not be revived.

The security guard at the gate saw Serina and quickly took her to the school.

When Senna arrived at the consulting room, she noticed that Ainsley was tired. It was obvious that Ainsley had not slept well these days

"Ainsley, are you alright?" Serina asked carefully, afraid that Ainsley would be unhappy if Serina said something wrong.

"I'm fine. Why are you here? Didn't those people at the door stop you?" Ainsley smiled warmly at her.

She had seen Serina's clarification. Those reporters were waiting for the people related to Nancy's death. Serina had just sent a post, so they definitely wanted to interview her.

Ainsley said with fear. "Several reporters were there. They asked a lot of questions that I did not understand at all."

"If you don't understand, you don't have to listen to them. Aren't you afraid of being discovered by your grandfather that you came here to find out?" Ainsley pushed a dessert toward Serina.

Senna covered her mouth and laughed. "I'm not at home these days. I have plenty of time. Irene agrees to let me go."

Serina could tell that something was wrong with Ainsley. Serina asked in confusion, "Ainsley, what's wrong?"

"Serina, don't come to school in the next few days. There will be many reporters waiting in front of the gate."

Chapter 247 Suspension

"Okay. Ainsley, how do you get to work?" Serina nodded obediently.

"I am suspended Ainsley shook her head.

"Suspended? Why? Senna widened her eyes and looked at her in disbelief.

"After all, it is related to me. Nancy indeed wrote those things in the consultation room. The media is pushing too hard. Everyone is watching Raymond has to put on a show first."

When Ainsley said that, she was calm and relaxed as if it was not a big deal.

"Ainsley, I believe you. If you need my help, you must say it." Serina was worried about Ainsley.

Manuel was also worried about Ainsley. He wanted to see Ainsley, but if he appeared, things would get even more complicated Ainsley packed up her things and was about to go home. She instructed Serina, "Don't come with me. When I go out later, I will definitely be surrounded."

"Okay." Serina nodded worryingly.

She knew Ainsley was doing this for her, and she did not want to drag Serina down.

As soon as Ainsley appeared, everyone surrounded her, and Serina walked out of the school with her makeup. As soon as she appeared, she was surrounded by the media and reporters.

"Ms. Easton, I heard you were suspended?"

"Can you tell us the details?"

"Ms. Easton, did you force Ms. Gage to clarify for you? Or did she do it herself? Please answer my question."

"I have been suspended, but I will not confess. It's not me." Ainsley looked down at one of them.

After that, she left with a cold face.

At one o'clock in the morning, Manuel was still in the office. The assistant placed the information in front of him and said, "Mr. Gage, the police investigated the rooftop where Nancy committed suicide and found Nancy's footprints. They also found another person's footprints. There were traces of fighting at the scene. But somehow those two things haven't been made public. Even the final test report did not mention them."

Manuel carefully looked through the documents. He was holding the details of Nancy's case and the on-site investigation report. He got the first version, which had more details than the one presented.

Even she said so...

"Are you saying that Nancy might not have committed suicide but have been murdered?" He frowned.

The assistant nodded. "Even the police officers who investigated the scene first came to the conclusion that he killed her. I don't know why, but it was kept a secret"

"got it "Manuel's expression was grave

Who killed Nancy? He was not the only one who could get the first test report. Matteo should have gotten it as well.

As expected. Matteo had gotten this report long ago. He handed it to Ainsley

"In other words, Nancy was killed Someone pushed her down Ainsley's eyes turned cold

But what didn?

sense was that the will was not fake it was definitely Nancy's handwriting

"Could it be that she regretted it after writing the suicide note? Matteo asked.

Ainsley answered, "Impossible! She probably didn't finish it. She only wrote half of it."

Suddenly, a piece of memory came into Ainsley's mind.

In the middle of the night, the girl could not fall asleep at all. She struggled to think about Ainsley's words.

The night could evoke depression. So, the girl suddenly fell into a state of melancholy.

She couldn't figure out Schrodinger's cat or why people would care about the afterlife.

The girl suddenly took out a piece of paper and wrote a will on it

However, before she finished writing it, someone knocked on her door and took her out.

The person must be someone she trusted. They went to the rooftop and had a fight. Then she was pushed down.

Then who took her to the rooftop?

What did they talk about that led to her murder?

“There’s another question. Who wants to hide everything? Why was the evidence we collected not in the report?” Ainsley asked, puzzled.

Matteo wasn’t sure either. He shook his head. “It should be some kind of power.”

“There is another possibility!” Ainsley suddenly stood up

“What possibility?” Ainsley continued, “I have been the target all along. They wanted to use Nancy against me.”

“They went through so much trouble just to whip up public opinion?”

“It looks like they didn’t suffer any losses, but the University of Washington’s reputation and the Easton Group stocks are invisible assets,” Matteo said.

“See you tomorrow.” Ainsley yawned

The next afternoon, Serina came to Joy Opera House, the most famous opera house in Seattle

When Serina received the message, she felt it strange. She found a place to sit down.

In the afternoon, she was in Irene’s company. Before she went anywhere, she received a text message from Koen asking her to meet him.

But why didn’t Koen come over even though the show was about to start?

Music sounded, and the heroine appeared on the stage.

The audience fell silent with bated breath.

That actress sang.

It was beautiful

Jaylon’s acting was amazing, and Joy Opera House’s tea was excellent.

Suddenly, a few gunshots disturbed her thoughts. The guests on the first floor panicked, and the tables and chairs were in disorder.

Jaylon was still singing on the stage, and the music didn’t stop

The loud and melodious singing drowned all kinds of noise, but the sound of footsteps was getting closer to Senna

She had just put down the cup when the door to the private room was knocked open.

Then she saw someone barging in, slamming the door, and then rushing toward her.

She cried out in alarm, but before she could utter a sound, a hand covered her mouth.

Serina's mind went blank. Her eyes widened, and she could only see a pair of beautiful eyes.

"You, let me go... Oh..."

She struggled, her hands constantly patting his shoulders.

"Don't move!" The man's voice was low, and his eyes flashed with a cold light.

Her forehead suddenly felt cold, and a hand was placed on her body.

She looked at the man's delicate face in horror, and his eyes reflected intense coldness.

"Who are you? Get out!" Serina frowned and pushed him.

"Who am I? I am Ainsley! Serina, you are so beautiful! Let me love you!" He suddenly pounced on Serina with a crazy smile.

Serina looked at the man who pounced on her in horror. She raised her glass and splashed it on him in a panic.

"Go away! I don't know you!"

They were alone in the private room, and the man did not give up.

Chapter 248 The Employer's Instruction

Serina wanted to dodge, but the man's eyes were fixed on her. "Don't run! Let me love you."

Her heart was beating rapidly, and her eyes were red.

At the same time, another man appeared behind her. The man covered Serina's mouth and nose with a handkerchief. The rich smell of ether assaulted Serina. In the next second, she lost consciousness.

The back door to the picturesque Joy Opera House opened, and the man got into a van carrying a sack.

The music and singing of Joy Opera House didn't stop. Along with the sound of drums and instruments, the actress' voice once again resounded through the entire opera house.

The van passed through the bustling Welin Street and the building where the Gage Group was located. It headed straight to the University of Washington.

However, the car stopped in the hotel opposite the University of Washington. The car door opened, and the man carried the sack into the underground warehouse.

When Senna woke up again, she found herself tied to a chair, and she could not break free.

The man in front of her looked at her playfully. For some reason, she found him familiar.

The rag stuffed in her mouth was taken out. She coughed and said. "Who are you? Why did you catch me? Do you know who my brother is? Let me go!"

The man in front of her sneered. "Why do the hostages always say nonsense the moment they can speak? They know it is impossible they can be set free, but they still ask for freedom."

Serina's face was pale. The man was tall and handsome, and his voice was gentle and melodious. However, there was a shocking scar across his left eye.

Serina found the ugly scar familiar and scary.

She could not figure it out. She should have never seen this person before. Why was she scared?

She trembled and said, "What do you want? I am a Gage family member, and my brother is Manuel."

"What? Are you trying to scare me?" The man laughed softly. "Do you think we did not investigate your background? We know everything about you."

"Then what exactly do you want?" She thought about the message she had received. Koen sent it to her, saying he wanted her to find him in the opera house

Then why was Koen not there? Why was she kidnapped?

Was it a scam from the beginning? Who lied to her?

The man did not answer her but smirked. "Do you want to know what your mental illness is?"

"What? Sennas cart skipped a beat.

Then, two men pushed the door open and threw a woman to the ground.

The woman trembled, her face full of tears. She watched in horror

"Let me go! I beg you to let me go! She cried.

However, a demon would not show mercy because of tears. The man even showed great excitement.

He laughed and waved his hand, and then the man behind him took a dagger. The dagger flashed with a cold light.

Serina widened her eyes. What they going to do?

Why was her entire body trembling? This was not a simple kidnapping. They were not for money.

Get Boy

Under Serina's shocked gaze, the man stabbed the dagger at the woman who was struggling on the ground.

With the woman's miserable screams, the men set up a fire on the ground. They squatted in front of it, holding something to turn and roast

Senna opened her mouth in pain, and her whole body began to tremble.

The woman's screams did not stop. She cried until she was suffocated, but the group of men did not intend to let her go. The torture

continued

Senna's whole body twitched. The things that were roasted on the fire made crackling sounds. The creepy sound made her want to faint on the spot

The more she wanted to faint, the clearer her head was.

She could only see the red from the fire. There were no other colors.

"Help! Help! They are crazy!" After some screams, Serina shouted crazily.

The man looked at Serina's reaction with satisfaction. He waved his hand, and the two men behind him dragged the woman who was lying in a pool of blood away, leaving only him and Serina in the room.

Serina lost her mind. She opened her eyes wide and screamed crazily. In just a few minutes, her voice became hoarse. She bit her fingers hard until they bled. Her hand was covered with wounds.

The scarred man finally retracted his sharp teeth and revealed a satisfied smile.

He once again perfectly completed the employer's instructions!

At the entrance of the University of Washington, Mary did not give up on the accusation against Ainsley, even though she was exhausted from crying.

The reporters did not intend to let go of such news. They continued to wait at the gate of the University of Washington.

Although Ainsley was suspended and stayed at home, they did not give up.

At that moment, a van stopped at the gate of the campus. Several vigilant people looked at the van.

A woman got out of the van and screamed.

"Ah!" A heart-wrenching scream sounded

Before everyone could react, a reporter rushed over with a cameraman behind him.

“Ms Gage, what happened to you?”

The others were shocked for a second and quickly rushed over. “This is Serina Gage!”

Senna Gage?

actually Serina Gage

Everyone swarmed over and rushed towards Senna as if they smelled a shocking piece of news. Everyone wanted to get first-hand information

Senna only screamed Her eyes were filled with fear as she looked at everyone She responded to the questions only with screams!

Mary finally realized that something was wrong She slowly approached Senna and shielded her with her body “Don’t come neu This young lady seems to be sick. Get out of the way!” Mary shouted.

The reporters did not know what to do, but they still made way

After all, they couldn’t offend the Gage family

Mary looked at Serina lovingly, and after a long time, Mary slowly said.

“I think Ainsley has made Ms. Gage this way! What a quack! Ms. Gage defended her yesterday and published a long clarification article and a video. I didn’t expect her to be like this today.”

Mary showed her special concern for Serina.

All the reporters present thought Mary showed special concern for Serina because her daughter had just died.

In the video, everyone knew Serina’s psychologist was Ainsley. It sounded like Mary vented her anger on Ainsley because of her daughter.

The reporters present all looked like they expected a good show.

Not to mention if Ainsley had something to do with Serina’s illness, it had been a long time since Ainsley had treated Serina But Serina was still sick.

Senna’s illness had flared up many times. Although no one knew the reason, everyone felt the people who were being treated would not fall ill, especially after the illness attacked so many times. Now everyone saw what it was like when Serina was sick Serina screamed in horror. She seemed to see the most terrible thing in the world. Her scared look startled the experienced reporters.

Mary tried to appease Serina, but no matter what she said, it was useless

Manuel, who was in the middle of a meeting, was unaware of this.

Ignoring the other directors in the meeting, his assistant anxiously knocked on the door and walked in. Under Manuel's displeased gaze, the assistant leaned over to his ear and said, "Something happened to Serina."

Then, the assistant placed the video that the media had just taken in front of Manuel. "Her illness flared up."

Manuel immediately stopped the meeting and turned around. He went downstairs and got into his car, heading to the University of Washington.

The assistant drove. Manuel frowned as he looked at Serina in the video.

"When did it happen? Where did Serina go?"

The assistant nervously replied. "She has been at Ms. Wade's place for the past few days. It was instructed by Mr. Gage. This afternoon, Ms. Gage left the Wade Group. In just three hours, she was sent to the gate of the University of Washington by a van."

"Check who she has met recently and where the van came from "

Manuel paused and continued, "Also, does Irene know about this?"

"Ms. Wade is also heading towards the University of Washington."

Manuel knew Irene could not get away with this.

it would take at least half an hour to get to the University of Washington, but they got there in a little more than ten minutes

Manuel had just gotten out of the car when he saw the reporters surrounding Serina outside the gate. Mary was holding Serina in her arms

Manuel quickly got out of the car and walked over with a cold face. Strangely, as he walked over, the reporters put down their cameras at the same time. They all knew they couldn't offend him.

Manuel took Senna from Mary's arms and held her trembling body.

Another car stopped, and Irene got out of it 'Manuel What happened to Serina?'

Manuel's eyes were terrifyingly cold, and his gaze toward Irene was icy.

Irene got into Manuel's car without hesitation. "Serina?" Serina screamed.

Manuel said in a low voice, 'Find Ainsley.'

Irene's expression changed, but it immediately returned to normal.

left from your place" Manuel glanced at Irene.

Manuel.

Serina isn't interested in management skills, but Koen, he. Serina didn't like it, but he kept coming. Serina was bored every day, so I agreed to let her go out and play. But most of the time, she went to find Ainsley, and today was the same. I don't know why this happened."

Looking at her panicked eyes, Manuel believed her. After all, there was no reason for Irene to attack Serina.

Get Hops

But he was puzzled why Serina suddenly became ill. What happened in the three hours she left the Gage Group? What made her illness flare up?

Irene said, "Hurry up and send Senna to the hospital. Ms Wade has been caught in such a big storm recently. What if?"

"I asked Ms Easton to be Serina's psychologist. I am sure of her ability. Are you dissatisfied? Manuel's words were harsh. It was difficult for him to be nice to Irene when Serina was like this.

He whispered, "Irene. I tripped over a pit on the road. I wanted to fill it up but I didn't do it for various reasons. But it will trip me again.

I may not fill it up but dig it to the bottom, taking out all the rotten branches and leaves in it before filling it up."

Irene swallowed and said, "I don't know what you are talking about."

"It doesn't matter if you don't. Just remember it."

The car quickly arrived at the Easton residence. The assistant went to knock on the door, and Manuel immediately called Ainsley.

"Serina is sick. Save her." Before Manuel hung up, Ainsley ended the call. In a minute, Ainsley opened the door and walked out.

Manuel picked up Serina, and she hid in his arms in fear.

After entering the room. Ainsley did not have the time to pay attention to Irene. She quickly asked Manuel to put Serina on the sofa.

Serina was still trembling with a lowered head. "Don't eat me. Don't eat me..."

Serina murmured, and Ainsley listened.

Don't eat me? Who wants to eat Serina?

Was she talking about the real eating?

Ainsley immediately found the medicine in her bedroom and poured another glass of water for Serina to feed her the medicine.

After taking the medicine for a few minutes, Serina got much better, but she still covered

She looked up at Ainsley, silently grabbed her hand, and began to cry.

Manuel and Ainsley were confused, and Irene had a sour expression.

"Don't be afraid, Serina. No one will eat you," Ainsley said in a soft voice and patted her back

She put a pillow into Serina's arms, took out a quilt, and wrapped her up. Ainsley lowered the temperature. What Serina needed now was a sense of security.

Irene and Manuel watched her do all this. When Serina really calmed down, she no longer cried but didn't let go of Ainsley's hand.

Ainsley breathed a sigh of relief and said, "She feels insecure now. What exactly happened?"

The assistant shook his head. "The van disappeared on the southern suburbs road. The license is fake, so we can't find anything.

Chapter 250 The Matter Alerts the Wade Family

"The car has a fake license?" Manuel was a bit shocked.

For some reason, he remembered what happened three years ago. It was also because of a fake-licensed car, and Serina still had nightmares about it.

The assistant nodded and said respectfully. "Yes, so I can't find anything"

Ainsley looked at Senna and tried to calm her down.

Irene stood at the side and looked at them. Ainsley was comforting Serina, and Manuel was talking to his assistant. Irene seemed to be the third wheel.

She put her hands behind her back and held them tightly.

She couldn't tell what she felt right now, but it made her feel suffocated.

The uncomfortableness came from Ainsley. Irene couldn't get between Manuel and Ainsley Manuel noticed Irene and said politely, "Serina is fine now. How about you go back to the company first?"

Irene was stunned. But she still nodded and left

The assistant handed the tablet to Manuel and left. He had to continue with the investigation.

Only Ainsley and Manuel were left in the room.

"Thank you," Manuel said.

Serina's condition was special. When she was sent to the hospital, the doctor was at a loss. If it were other psychologists to treat Serina, she might not calm down so fast.

When Serina was sick, the person she trusted and relied on the most was Ainsley.

Ainsley shook her head. Her face was pale as she said, "It's my fault. I'm afraid that someone wanted to ruin my reputation, and it happened to involve Serina. There was Nancy first and then Mary. The person behind the back thought that Nancy alone couldn't make waves, so they wanted to make Serina suffer. Everything was planned."

Manuel's fingertips trembled slightly. He was shocked by what Ainsley said, and what was worse was that this might be the truth.

“Are you saying that someone did it on purpose?”

Ainsley nodded, and she took out the evidence that Matteo found and gave it to Manuel. “In fact, even the matter of Nancy was designed. The incomplete will, two different contents, even the traces of fighting in the place where Nancy jumped off the building were designed.”

“So there is someone behind this?” Manuel frowned slightly.

Ainsley nodded. “There are a lot of discussions online.”

She did not want to see the news on the Internet as the comments were the same.

Ainsley looked into his eyes and said, “There is one more detail. You should have seen it, right? It came from Irene.”

When Irene saw her, she was hostile in the past, Irene would just stare at Ainsley hatefully. But today, Irene maintained a cold stance from her all along, which was not normal

“I see” Manuel nodded

“Continue to investigate the van. This is a new clue.”

Manuel looked at Serina worriedly “What about Serina?” Ainsley asked worriedly.

“Don’t worry, I’m here with you if there’s any situation, I’ll call you,” Manuel said solemnly.

Ainsley stood up and said, ‘I’ll leave the van to you, and I’ll take care of Serina Please be careful.”

Get Bors

Manuel turned and walked out of the Easton family. The moment Ainsley closed the door, Manuel turned around and gave Ainsley a deep look before leaving.

Mary had been waiting in front of the school gate for a long time. She was so tired that she felt numb. The reporters blocked the door and were ready to surround the teachers and Raymond who came out of the school at any time.

Cody entered Raymond’s office.

Raymond seemed to have known that he would come. He looked up and asked, “Mary has not left yet?”

Cody nodded. “Not only Mary, but even the reporters are waiting at the door.”

“They are really persistent,” Raymond said coldly.

Cody smiled bitterly, “It’s not surprising. Few scandals have happened to the University of Washington. The reporters finally caught the opportunity, so they won’t give up so easily.”

He paused and continued, “But it’s not just because of the reputation of the university. You also know Ainsley. She has a special identity. The reporters want to find a flaw in her. And Serina suddenly fell ill at the school gate in the afternoon, so they are eager to..."

"Alright, I know that."

Cody said awkwardly. "We can't let this continue. The school board already knew that and asked us to deal with it as soon as possible."

"The school board? Well, nothing can escape them," Raymond said with a serious expression

Cody said, "The school board is not hard to deal with, but Mr. Brady Wade has personally asked about this."

Raymond narrowed his eyes in disbelief. "The Wade family has never interfered with the school's affairs. Why would Brady ask about this?"

It was really strange.

It was just a female student who had committed suicide not long after getting counsel from the Psychological Counseling Room.

Even if there were reporters causing trouble at the school gate, the Wade family shouldn't ask about the matter.

Cody did not understand either. "I was also shocked when I received the call. It can only mean that the school board has begun to pay attention to this matter. If it is not resolved, I am afraid that the Gage family will also find us trouble. After all, Serina's situation was not optimistic yesterday"

Raymond snorted coldly. "What are the security guards doing? Serina went crazy at the school entrance and no one came to protect her. What could such a ridiculous thing happen at the University of Washington? We made a fool of ourselves!"

"The people on duty were punished yesterday. The reporters wanted to hype up this thing and thought that Mary would be up to something. Cody explained.

Raymond turned off the computer and slowly stood up. "Let's go. We have to deal with this matter."

At the entrance of the University of Washington, Mary patted her already numb legs. She had been here since morning, and she did not dare to relax in front of the reporters.

Before she noticed anything, the reporters made a commotion. Mary quickly looked inside the school. Raymond and Cody walked over steadily

Facing so many reporters, Raymond still said calmly. "Ladies and gentlemen, the police have taken the evidence. Ms. Easton did not do anything illegal if you still think that there is any favoritism and cheating, we will release the surveillance video later. Mrs. Conway.

feel sorry for what happened to your daughter. We also lost a good student I can understand your pain, but this is school"

He looked at Mary and said earnestly, "No matter what, the school is responsible for Nancy's psychological problems. We're sorry that we didn't pay attention to her problems.

Raymond then bowed apologetically and solemnly to Mary.

The reporters kept taking photos, and Cody and Raymond bent down.
