

Chapter 7 Burning Touch

Brianna's POV

I was in awe. I couldn't breathe properly. The man in front of me is so tall, even taller than Cain who's already 6 feet tall. The man's shoulders were broad. His muscles were bulging inside the sleeves of his white button-down polo. His uh...butt is protruded and sexy and damn! He smells so nice. But...who is he?

I swallowed hard and glanced at Cain. His expression was dark and his jaws were clenched but it's slowly fading. For some reason, he looked afraid and...offended?

"Hurting a woman? Are you gay?"

My lips parted. Even this man's voice is freaking sexy. Fck! Get a grip of your sanity, Bree! He's a man and he's also an asshole.

"Who are you? Why are you meddling with our business?" Cain, who seemed to have already recovered, growled.

The man moved to the side, revealing his side profile which made my jaws drop. His eyelashes were thick and curled. His pointed nose is proud. His lips are so red and wet and his eyes are dark, expressive and hooded.

I flinched when he slowly turned to me. Now I can completely see his handsome face and intimidating expression.

"Are you okay?" From dangerous and cold, his voice became soothing and very calm. His eyes even softened as he looked down at me.

I couldn't answer. I heard Cain's sarcastic laugh. I pressed my lips together and looked at him angrily.

"Is this the man you're having an affair with, Brianna?"

Gritting my teeth, I looked at Cain. "Did it shatter your pride, Cain?"

He was about to take a step forward when the man blocked him again. Cain laughed sarcastically. "Fck you, man! Stop meddling with our business. This woman is my wife!"

The man glanced at me and turned to Cain again. He laughed without humor. "Oh? I thought the wife is the one beside you?"

That's when I remember Amber. My forehead creased when I saw her standing beside Cain, holding Cain's arm but her eyes were ogling at the handsome stranger between us.

I laughed in my head. What a slut!

"We're not divorced so she's still my wife so back off before I ruin your life. You should who you're messing with, bastard!"

"Excuse me." I laughed at Cain's remark. "For your fcking information, our divorce is in process."

"Really, huh? You're proud of it?" Cain growled and glanced at the stranger. "This must be the reason why you proposed a divorce, huh? Is this your secret lover? You bitch have the guts to cheat on me even after I granted your wish of marrying you?"

I clenched my jaws. That was very offensive. I know I made the biggest mistake of marrying him but I'm correcting it now. I don't wanna waste more time on him.

"Tell me, Brianna. Is this your lover? Is this why you suddenly become this aggressive and brave? You think this man can scare the hell out of me? I can ruin his life and yours!"

"I am not the same stupid girl who would kneel and beg for your attention, Cain. I am a beautiful and successful woman. It was a mistake chasing you because men should be the one chasing me, not the other way around."

I turned my back, determined to leave because of irritation but Cain was quick to hold my wrist, stopping me.

"Cain, let her go—"

"Answer me, Brianna!" Amber was cut off by Cain's angry voice.

I gritted my teeth and pushed him away. Without saying anything, I grabbed the stranger beside me. I pulled his arms down and tiptoed so I could lift myself up. It wasn't easy, but he seems to be giving in to everything I want so I successfully executed my plan.

I kissed him. I kissed the stranger in front of everyone. I heard their gasps but I don't care. I kissed the man in front of me, sensually. I licked and nibbled his lips in front of Cain's face. I didn't close my eyes, so I could see his reactions.

It was very satisfying to see him like that, so I continued kissing the man. But when the man's warm and big hands rested on my waist, slightly pulling me closer as he slowly answered my kisses with a higher intensity, I felt an electrifying sensation throughout my body. It shocked me.

I pulled away and stepped back as if I was burned with his touch. I felt my heart racing inside my chest. My throat went dry. Just...what the hell is this?

I looked him in the eyes. His eyes were darkened with desire but they were still softly looking down at me. His reddish, plump and wet lips are slightly parted as we both gasp for air.

"WHAT THE FCK, BRIANNA!" Cain's shout awakened my senses.

I slowly turned to him and my satisfaction amazed me. A wicked smile slowly curved in my lips as I faced him. I shot an eyebrow up. "See that, Cain? I will do that every time you decline to sign the divorce papers. Let's see if your pride can take the idea of having your wife cheat on you with random men."

His neck and face reddened. Even with the dim lights, I can clearly see it.

"YOU CAN'T DO THIS ME, BRIANNA! YOU ARE CRAZILY IN LOVE WITH ME!"

I smirked. "That was before I hit my head and woke up from my stupidity."

He grabbed my wrist. It was so sudden that I was unable to move away.

"Let's go home and talk—"

"Cut the crap! She's not coming with you!" The man pushed Cain away. My lips parted in shock after Cain lost his balance. If not for his friends behind him, he would be on the floor by now.

The man in front of me clenched his jaws and angrily pointed a finger at Cain. "You are not gonna disrespect this woman on my watch, you motherfcker. Face the consequences of your disgusting actions."

Cain's anger intensified. He pushed his friends away and attempted to attack the stranger between us when a man in a black suit stopped him.

Cain hissed. "Just who the fck are you?"

The man shifted his weight and arrogantly lifted his chin. "You'll surely wet your pants if I tell you."

His words confused me but I was unable to think about that when he suddenly grabbed my wrist and started pulling me away from there.

My eyes widened when he went upstairs and opened a private room. He gently dragged me inside and handed me black handkerchief from the pocket of his slacks. This drop-dead gorgeous man is breathtaking to stare at.

I couldn't move, I was just staring at him as I felt my heart become untamed. He looked down at me and flashed a sexy smirk. "Wipe your smudge lipstick, babe. It's tempting me."
