

A Divorce After My Rebirth Chapter 701

A Divorce After My Rebirth Chapter 701-In the next moment, the two heard movements outside. Bianca's eyes instantly darkened.

This was Verdant Villa...!

It seems that the people of the Entes family were still going all out!

Just as she had barely settled things, it started all over again...! – As a member of the Entes family, there was never a moment of peace. This is also why Stephen was unwilling to get involved, no matter what happened.

In Lotus Villa, Heather thought Natalie would eat at home, so she had the kitchen prepare some light dishes. However, who would have thought that she would go out in the evening?

“Where are you going?”

“A friend invited me to a party.”

“Oh, alright!”

Heather thought it was good for Natalie to have her own circle. After all, her life has been full of twists and turns. So, going out more at this time was the right thing to do.

It was better than wallowing in self-pity!

After Natalie left, Stephen came down from upstairs. Clyde came back for a while in the afternoon and soon went out again. It looked like he wasn't returning for dinner.

Heather and Stephen went to the dining room together.

Heather sighed. “Not many people know about the matter with Cedric, right?”

“Don't worry. No one in Simeria knows.”

They were talking about how Cedric donated his corneas to Natalie, and only a few knew about it.

Stephen knew what Heather was worried about. She was worried that Natalie would find out.

As Stephen placed a piece of broccoli into Heather's bowl, he said, “Don't be too nervous. Secrets can't stay hidden forever.”

Obviously, anything that happened to oneself would eventually be known. It was just a matter of time.

Heather replied, "I'm just concerned...!"

Although Cedric had come here many times before, there was always a look of helplessness in his eyes as he watched Luna.

It was heart-wrenching to see!

But it was also impossible to ignore what he did to Natalie.

Heather thought for a moment and said, "I really hope Nat never finds out in her lifetime!"

After all, Natalie was her daughter. Heather was afraid that Natalie wouldn't be able to bear the fact that Cedric was the one who gave her the chance to regain her sight.

As for her feelings towards Cedric...!

She already had no feelings for him, and the last thing she would want to do was face him because of these eyes.

"At least she won't know for now."

"Yeah."

With that, Heather felt somewhat relieved. – At the party, Natalie held Caleb's arm. Tonight, she wore a blue evening gown, unexpectedly matching Caleb's tie.

The moment they appeared at the party, Natalie and Caleb's height difference attracted a lot of attention!

"Do I really look that bad?"

Natalie felt uncomfortable under all the gazes. She could also feel a headache building up. It was as if no matter who she attended the banquet with, she would receive such looks.

The man beside her laughed!

"You're indeed the shortest woman I've ever seen!"

Natalie fell silent.

The shortest!

Well, her height was truly a source of heartache!

That was why Natalie was determined to ensure Luna ate well, fearing that her height would follow hers.

Being short really made everything inconvenient, and many professions would be absolutely limited because of it.

“Do you think Yvonne will really come out with this method?”

“You don’t understand her,” Caleb said with a deep tone.

Seriously? He said it as if he knew her so well!

Natalie said, “If she returns, you better say some good things about me. I don’t want her to see me as some vixen who seduces taken men.”

Just thinking about that scene made people involuntarily shiver.

It was truly terrifying!

Caleb chuckled.

“Are you sure me saying good things about you won’t just add fuel to the fire?”

As soon as he said that, Natalie shot him a glare.

In the eyes of the others, such a scene appeared as banter between the two. Caleb laughed, and his smile was so charming.

“I shouldn’t have agreed to come with you,” Natalie grumbled.

She shouldn’t have appeared in such a setting with Caleb, but she felt guilty when she thought about how Yvonne had run away because of her.

Hopefully, Yvonne could return to Caleb’s side before the birth.

They danced, and it was a tacit understanding between the two.

It must be said that Natalie’s petite figure, when dancing, also had a certain charm that delighted people.

The man lowered his head and whispered in her ear, “I heard you saw Lord Austin today.”

“How did you know?” Natalie had no idea about this. She had been lazing about at home all afternoon.

Obviously, one could only have peace when they were alone.

But Caleb’s words almost made her lose control of her emotions.

Caleb said, “You don’t know?”

“What should I know?”

Should she know something?

Now, Simeria was not calm at all. Unexpected things were happening all the time.

Caleb said, “There’s been a lot of talk recently, saying that the Jarvis and Entes families are about to form an alliance, and the groom is Lord Austin!”

That fool...!

“A lot of talk?”

Natalie seized on the key point!

How did this news leak out?

When she went to see Austin, they didn’t even allow Lawrence in with her. It was as if the person she was meeting still needed to continue hiding his identity.

And now...!

“Lord Austin announced his recovery.” It seemed like Caleb could see through Natalie’s thoughts.

Natalie fell silent. At those words, she instantly stiffened!

After she met Austin, he announced his recovery! And now, there was talk about the Jarvis and Entes families forming an alliance.

This series of events made Natalie feel overwhelmed instantly!

She didn’t even know what to say anymore.

“He recovered?”

“Yeah.”

“He’s not a fool anymore?”

“Do you think he was a fool to begin with?”

What a question! Natalie was rendered speechless in an instant, especially since she had met Austin earlier.

How could Natalie not know?

This person might be the most mysterious in the Entes family, and he was certainly not a fool.

To put it plainly, those who considered him a fool were the real fools, as he held the real power.

At that moment, Natalie had no idea what to say!

“The Entes family just won’t quit...” novelbin Especially on her end.

First, it was Malcolm, and now it was Austin.

Last time, Stephen seemed to have paid some price to keep her away from the Entes family. He had given Malcolm some benefits.

So, what about this time?

What did Austin intend to gain from Regal Horizons International? It seemed that everyone in the royal family was eyeing the Jarvis family.

It’s evident how significant the Jarvis family was in Simeria.

“When will we be done?”

“In about an hour!”

But now Natalie couldn’t wait for even a moment.

A Divorce After My Rebirth Chapter 702-In Simeria now, the talk about Natalie and Austin was already widespread, and now Caleb seemed to be accepting her child as well!

Plus, there was Irwin...!

The scene was simply chaotic.

As Natalie and Caleb exited the banquet, Natalie asked, "Will this be enough to make her come out?"

Tonight, Natalie had spent almost the entire evening with Caleb. They looked like they were getting along, but Natalie was skeptical.

Would Yvonne really come out because of this?

Caleb nodded. "Thank you!"

"As long as it brings her back to you sooner, it's worth it for me!" Natalie choked on the last two words.

Even though her reputation was being dragged through the mud, Natalie didn't care about it. But now, in this situation... her heart was pounding!!

Before Caleb could say anything, the phone in his pocket rang. He gave Natalie an apologetic look before moving aside to answer the call.

It wasn't clear what the person on the other end said, but the man's expression changed instantly, and novelbin he subconsciously glanced in Natalie's direction.

Natalie glanced at Caleb from the corner of her eyes.

Was it something related to her again?

All these happenings in Simeria these days were driving her crazy.

The man quickly hung up and came over to her. "I've got information on her. You—"

"You should go. I can make it back on my own."

Natalie had to admit that Caleb really understood Yvonne quite well after all.

He had really managed to push Yvonne to come out with this method.

That was a good thing!

Caleb glanced apologetically at her, and his gaze towards Natalie gained a bit more depth. "Natalie, don't be so pessimistic about many things."

"You're leaving Simeria, right?"

When Caleb mentioned 'pessimistic', Natalie smiled bitterly.

Was she being too pessimistic?

No!

Actually, she avoided thinking about those problems most of the time. She just wanted to cut ties with everything from the past.

“Yeah.” Caleb nodded.

From this, Natalie could also tell that Yvonne wasn't in Simeria at the moment.

“Go on... Argh!”

Before Natalie could finish speaking, someone wrapped their arms around her waist and lifted her off the ground.

Her whole body was enveloped by the man's chilly breath...

It was Irwin!

Natalie's head spun.

The arms around her felt full of danger, and she instinctively wanted to break free! However, the man's strength was overwhelming, leaving her with nowhere to escape.

Enveloped by the man's strong embrace, the danger in his eyes was terrifying!

Natalie fell silent.

“Caleb!” There was more danger in Irwin's tone.

At this moment, Irwin was struggling to contain his emotions, and the tension in his body was obvious to Natalie.

Natalie knew already that if Irwin found out about tonight's events, he would surely be furious.

However, she didn't expect him to chase after them here.

Natalie looked at Caleb and said, “Caleb, you should leave first.”

In Irwin's eyes, the way she was acting now undoubtedly seemed like she was defending Caleb.

The already dangerous atmosphere intensified even more.

Caleb didn't leave. Instead, he looked at Irwin. “Irv.”

That single word turned the already tense situation even colder.

“You should leave,” Natalie repeated.

Considering the danger emanating from Irwin at this moment, anything Natalie said seemed dangerous.

In such situations, men generally didn’t listen.

In the next moment, Irwin threw Natalie directly into Dylan’s arms!

Dylan caught Natalie steadily. As Natalie glanced back in surprise, she saw Irwin striding towards Caleb.

At that moment, her heart leaped to her throat.

Just as the man was about to throw a punch, Natalie somehow found a surge of strength to shake off Dylan’s hand and rushed forward.

Bang!

“Argh...!”

Crack!

Amidst the chaos, various sounds mixed together!

There were sounds of fists, Natalie’s screams, and the sound of bones dislocating.

Instantly, the air froze!

Natalie was suddenly overwhelmed with pain, and a cold sweat broke out on her forehead.

“Natalie!” Caleb’s voice sounded urgent and concerned.

Natalie couldn’t quite process everything, feeling a bit dizzy.

And Irwin was silent.

There were a few seconds of confusion for him too!

When he finally reacted, he almost immediately stepped forward and pulled Natalie out of Caleb’s arms.

At that moment, Caleb’s voice rose in alarm. “Be careful, she’s injured.”

“Get lost!”

Irwin was already angry. And now, this scene made his fury shoot through the roof.

Without a second thought, Natalie had actually rushed forward to protect Caleb?!

And Caleb!?

He hadn't even thought about pushing Natalie away in that split second?!

“Caleb, you should leave!” Natalie said.

She was in too much pain. So, even in her tone of voice, there was an unmistakable note of pain.

Caleb frowned as he looked at Natalie.

Worry was evident in his eyes!

But he also knew that staying here at this critical moment would only make the situation more difficult to handle.

In the end, he nodded. “Sorry!”

After Caleb left, Irwin scooped Natalie into his arms and headed towards the car. At that moment, Natalie was in severe pain! The cold sweat on her forehead now dripped down steadily without stopping.

She was in so much pain...!

“Ouch, it hurts!”

When Irwin took off her shoes, Natalie felt like her ankle was about to fall off.

Even though he was furious, Irwin's movements at this moment were very gentle. Even so, Natalie still felt endless pain.

Her pain receptors were naturally sensitive!

The pain she was enduring now seemed to tug at her heartstrings, making her feel incredibly uncomfortable.

“When did you and him develop such friendship and tacit understanding?”

Yes!

Friendship and tacit understanding!

The reactions between her and Caleb just now demonstrated a tacit understanding and her wanting to protect Caleb.

And Caleb also wanted to protect her.

Natalie was silent.

The man's tone was filled with danger and questioning!

And in the face of such words, Natalie remained silent.

This silence further provoked Irwin, who was already angry.

"During the day, it was Austin. At night, it was Caleb! Natalie, tell me, what exactly are you up to?"

Her silence made Irwin's tone turn even more dangerous.

Natalie was in pain!

A lot of pain!

However, the pain in her ankle was now suppressed by the coldness in her heart.

It turned out people were right. The most painful thing wasn't physical pain but heartache.

As long as the heart wasn't afraid, what physical suffering could torment a person?

A Divorce After My Rebirth Chapter 703-Just like now, it hurt!

But with a cold heart, it seemed like the pain wasn't as noticeable.

Natalie finally said, "What do you think I want to do?"

Irwin fell silent.

The man's dark gaze met hers in the dim space. At that moment, his beast-like sharpness couldn't be concealed.

Once, Natalie thought this man was a blend of warmth and seriousness!

When he was serious, that feeling of being unapproachable made him seem very aloof.

And when he was warm, it was like the fiery sun in the sky, capable of melting one's heart.

And now?

Now, their eyes met.

Natalie calmly met the man's gaze and said, "Well?"

What did she want to do?

"You want to retaliate against me, right?" Irwin responded.

That was why she compromised and married him back in Yuloria, right? At that time, she was blind.

That wasn't the only thing.

Actually...!

Actually, what?

At this moment, Irwin's heart felt suffocated, and his gaze tightened as he looked into Natalie's eyes.

"Retaliate against you? You're joking, right?" Natalie scoffed.

What kind of retaliation was this?

She looked away, refusing to meet the man's eyes!

But the next moment, Irwin's large palm held her face, forcing her to meet his gaze again. "Natalie, do you know what you're doing?"

Every word in the man's tone was tense.

Natalie retorted, "Of course I do!"

Yes!

Of course, she did!

"You know?"

He could see that Natalie didn't know anything.

Natalie grabbed Irwin's wrist and yanked it away forcefully, then looked at Irwin. "What? Can't handle it?"

Handle?

So what was she doing now?

She was giving him a hard time!

Natalie straightened up and said, "Do you really think I want to be affectionate with you?"

Affectionate!

Just hearing those words made Natalie feel like laughing.

Wasn't that just ridiculous?

"Affection isn't necessary," Irwin said.

When Irwin heard Natalie mention affection, his tone turned almost bitter.

Affection?

In fact, he had lost.

Just like Cedric, they had both lost.

And from the moment he lost, Irwin knew that affection was a luxury for him.

But Natalie had used such a method...!

There was a dark flicker in Irwin's eyes.

"Why do you have to treat yourself like this?"

Yes, even if she couldn't be affectionate towards him, at least she should be true to herself.

Natalie smiled mockingly.

"What do I have to feel sorry for myself about? Or do you think I owe you and Cedric something? What right do you have to say such things to me?"

Natalie didn't mince her words.

Irwin fell silent. Upon hearing her words, his mind went blank!

For a long time, he couldn't say anything in the face of Natalie's icy words.

Finally, he could only say, "You don't owe me anything."

But what about Cedric? Did she owe him or not?

Previously, when Cedric went through the surgery with Natalie, he said it could be considered compensation for her!

But was this compensation too heavy a price for Cedric?

They were talking about a lifetime of darkness...!

And Natalie?

After a long time, Irwin finally said meaningfully, "Natalie, I hope you cherish your eyes!"

Natalie was silent. Upon hearing this, she looked at Irwin with a hint of emotion.

Her already gloomy eyes now seemed even darker.

Cherish her eyes?

Even though her vision had been restored, these eyes were still a taboo topic to Natalie.

The darkness she experienced in her previous and current life...

Even though everything is in the past now, the despair in the darkness was still as vivid as ever to her...! – Irwin took Natalie to the hospital.

Her ankle was swollen. The doctor examined it and said there were no fractures. It was just a simple sprain, but walking would definitely be inconvenient for a while.

In the car, Irwin lit a cigarette, and the window was half-open! When the cold wind blew in, Natalie shivered.

Irwin seemed to sense her discomfort. He threw the cigarette out of the window and then closed it.

Then, he spoke with a deep tone, "Don't see Caleb again."

Yes!

Don't see Caleb again.

After all, his relationship with Caleb was not ordinary, so this matter was something he couldn't tolerate the most.

"It seems you've forgotten that this is none of your business!" Natalie retorted.

In Natalie's view, neither Irwin nor Cedric had any connections to her. So what she wanted to do was her own business, and it had nothing to do with outsiders.

"Do you have to be like this?"

At this moment, the man's tone was somewhat tense...

And even more dangerous.

The threat in his voice was evident!

When Natalie sensed this danger, she looked at Irwin with a cold smile. "So, what do you want me to do!?"

Yes.

What did Irwin want her to do?

Just like Cedric did in the past, did he hope that she, as a wife, would obediently become a housewife and never resist him at any time?

Was that what Irwin thought?

How naive!

"Do you want me to be as obedient as I was before?" Natalie asked.

Did he?

At that time, Irwin had to admit that he had seen Natalie transform from an obedient wife to a madwoman who could protect herself.

She fiercely defended herself against Cedric.

The dramatic change in her behavior before and after was shocking.

"Hah!" Natalie scoffed coldly, and the atmosphere froze again.

Undoubtedly, Natalie was mocking him...!

She was mocking him for not being able to achieve or afford what he wanted.

Or perhaps she was mocking the fact that they had burned bridges between them.

Now that he wanted to turn back, did he think it would be so easy?

“Do you realize how dangerous your actions are now?” Irwin’s already unpleasant tone became even colder upon hearing Natalie’s mockery.

Forget about Caleb for now.

What about what she had done with Austin?

“Even if you want to retaliate against me, you should think about your father. He never wanted to have any connection with the Entes family in his entire life,” Irwin said sharply.

Natalie fell silent.

Yes!

No one knew exactly what happened between Stephen and the Entes family. But every time someone from the Entes family extended an olive branch to him, he always avoided it completely.

His actions made it obvious he didn’t want to have even a shred of connection to the Entes family.

And now, talking about the Entes family gave Natalie a headache, and she remained silent.

Her silence made Irwin’s heart tighten.

Irwin thought Natalie had really gone crazy.

To retaliate against him, she would do anything, regardless of the consequences.

A Divorce After My Rebirth Chapter 704-Irwin didn’t know how they managed to reach Lotus Villa. Instead of getting out of the car, he parked it outside.

Then, he lit a cigarette. Since the car wasn’t in motion, the cold wind didn’t affect them much!

“Dylan, open the car door!”

Her tone was unprecedentedly cold and dangerous. Dylan frowned. He glanced at the two in the backseat through the rearview mirror and was silent!

At this moment, Natalie looked at Irwin angrily.

“What exactly are you trying to do?”

The man took a heavy drag of his cigarette. His entire being seemed as heavy as the smoke. In the confined space, this icy standoff continued to linger, making everyone inside feel endlessly pressured.

After a long time, Irwin finally said, “I’ll agree to it.”

Natalie fell silent.

Agree to what?

Obviously, she didn’t quite understand Irwin’s words at this moment. The next moment, the man looked at her gloomily.

Natalie raised an eyebrow!

The next moment, Irwin continued, “But at least wait until after the situation with the Entes family settles.”

This time, Natalie understood. Irwin was talking about divorce! He agreed to the divorce, but only after things with the Entes family calmed down.

When they were in Yuloria previously, Natalie was somewhat angry when Irwin insisted on coming back after their marriage. But now, especially after seeing Austin, Natalie understood that the Entes family always intended to involve the Jarvis family.

It was as if the Jarvis family held something vital to the Entes family, so they always sought to entangle them.

Until now, nobody knew the true connection between the Jarvis and the Entes families! There were many prominent families in Simeria, but every time the Entes family stirred, the Jarvis family was the first to come to their minds!

Natalie knew the Jarvis family was a vast commercial empire, but the Entes family represented the royal lineage of Simeria throughout history.

So, why?

At this moment, Natalie fell silent at Irwin’s proposal. Undoubtedly, it wasn’t the right time for her and Irwin to divorce. If she divorced him now, it wouldn’t just be Austin getting involved. There was also Alto, who was now divorced from Yvette, and even Icarus!

The Entes family was already chaotic, and if the Jarvis family became involved...!

Irwin looked at Natalie and said, "So, let's stop these meaningless actions from now on, alright?"

His gaze was deep and serious.

Undoubtedly, whether it was meeting Austin or the public displays of affection with Caleb...

Irwin thought that all of it was Natalie's revenge against him.

And it was something he deserved to endure.

"Hah...!"

Facing Irwin's question, Natalie laughed sarcastically.

Her laughter was so cold, and the situation was so ridiculous!

"Why are you laughing?" Irwin asked.

"Fine. I agree!"

Irwin fell silent. At her words, he stiffened!

Clearly, he hadn't expected Natalie to agree.

After all, during this period, Natalie had been openly opposing him. Initially, he intended to leave Simeria and return to the Wexford today.

If it weren't for Natalie causing such a scene...

Ultimately, he was worried about her.

After all, the situation in Simeria was very complicated now. He worried that if Natalie continued to act like this, their marriage wouldn't be able to protect her.

After all, being proactive and avoiding conflict were two completely different things. He hoped Natalie would avoid people associated with the Entes family.

Just a moment ago, Irwin was still worried about this matter. But who would have thought she would agree now?

After a moment, Irwin nodded. "Okay."

He... trusted her.

"I'm going back to the Wexford tomorrow. If you're willing..."

"I'm not!" It seemed like Natalie knew what Irwin was about to say, so she interrupted him before he could finish.

She knew Irwin was going to mention going to the Wexford.

But now, how could she be willing to go there?

Family was so important to her. Especially now, when it seemed like only the key members of the Entes family were involved in the chaos here. But in Natalie's eyes, it was also crucial for the Jarvis family.

In such a situation, how could she easily leave Simeria?

"I understand." Irwin frowned.

Obviously, he was somewhat displeased that she wasn't willing to go to the Wexford. But fortunately...

she agreed not to get involved with anyone from the Entes family.

It was already a rare occurrence for him to obtain such an agreement from Natalie.

Just as the two were about to say something else, Natalie's phone suddenly vibrated. Taking it out and seeing Bianca's number, Natalie was about to answer when Irwin said, "Don't pick up."

Instantly, Natalie shot him a cold look.

This man, now even this...!

Before Natalie could finish her thoughts, Irwin continued, "She's now part of the Entes family. She's the seventh lady, remember?"

Irwin reminded Natalie of Bianca's current identity. What was he trying to do? Was he suggesting they should avoid contact with everyone from the Entes family, including Bianca?

At this thought, Natalie's expression turned cold instantly.

"Seriously?"

Natalie didn't have any words for Irwin. This whole situation felt utterly absurd.

“Nat.”

“Enough. We’re talking about Bianca here,” Natalie replied curtly, her voice devoid of any patience.

It would be fine if he wanted her to avoid everyone else, but this was Bianca...!

How could Natalie do that?

Never mind that Bianca is now with the Entes family. Regardless of what identity Bianca held, Natalie had to take her call.

Finally, under Irwin’s intense gaze, Natalie picked up the phone.

“Bia.”

“Nat, come to Verdant Villa.”

Bianca’s voice was trembling as she spoke.

Even through the phone, Natalie could hear it clearly at this moment.

Natalie’s breath caught in her throat. “What’s wrong?”

“Just come over first!”

Bianca’s voice trembled even more.

What kind of presence was Bianca in Natalie’s heart?

No matter what happened in Bianca’s life, she had always been very composed.

However, she seemed to have lost all composure now!

Such emotions and lack of control never existed in Bianca’s world.

So now...

“I’ll be right there,” Natalie said without hesitation.

If Bianca was so out of control, something terrible must have happened.

Natalie hung up the phone. She turned to Irwin and said, “Head to Verdant Villa.”

“Natalie!”

“Are you going or not!” Natalie’s tone was icy.

She knew what Irwin wanted. No matter what happened, they had to steer clear of the Entes family.

But now, she couldn’t do it!

Undoubtedly, Natalie couldn’t do it right now.

She could do it to anyone else, but when it came to Bianca, she... couldn’t.

A Divorce After My Rebirth Chapter 705-What kind of presence is Bianca in Natalie’s world?

Only those who have truly experienced Natalie’s past know.

For example, Cedric!

Even though Cedric and Natalie got into heated arguments back then, and he never liked strong and stubborn women like Bianca... he understood Bianca’s role in Natalie’s life.

He would also be aware that no matter how chaotic Simeria became, it would be impossible to stop Natalie from going to see Bianca if the latter asked for her.

Previously, Natalie managed to navigate around Malcolm to save Bianca from Malcolm’s clutches.

But what about now?

Despite Irwin’s concerns, he ultimately took Natalie to Verdant Villa.

As they were about to exit the car, Irwin firmly grasped her wrist.

“What is it now?” Natalie’s displeasure with Irwin’s attitude grew. He didn’t want her to come, and now that she was here, what was he trying to do?

“Don’t agree to anything she says,” Irwin said.

“Compared to her, I think I need to be more cautious of you!” Natalie’s words carried a heavy weight, leaving Irwin feeling suffocated.

Staring into Natalie’s icy eyes, Irwin felt a pang of hurt. Natalie shook him off and stepped out of the car, limping towards the villa.

Irwin's expression darkened, and there was a wounded glint in his eyes under the dim night.

Even Dylan could sense Irwin's change.

"Sir..." Dylan addressed Irwin tentatively.

He, too, understood Natalie's current disposition from her attitude.

And if Irwin wanted Natalie to change...

It was impossible.

Irwin asked, "What do you think he would have done if he were in my place?"

Obviously, Irwin was referring to Cedric!

Dylan fell silent.

Bringing up Cedric inevitably led to memories of how unbearable Cedric's presence was to Natalie. Her demeanor towards Cedric might be even worse than it was towards Irwin now.

Natalie's icy demeanor whenever Cedric was mentioned sent chills down one's spine.

"Give her some time," Dylan replied cautiously.

In Dylan's opinion, Natalie had faced too many upheavals in her life. Also, she had just recovered her vision. It had also been only a short time since she had discovered the truth about Blair.

So, if anyone expected her to change her attitude at this time, it was simply impossible.

Irwin sighed. "Some wounds may heal with time, but others... can they truly heal?"

Could they truly heal?

The most common advice given to those wounded was that time healed all wounds.

But could Natalie's wounds truly heal?

The revelation about Blair felt like someone reaching into Natalie's chest to crush her heart.

It wasn't a wound that could be healed... What was there to heal when it felt as if her heart had been crushed outright?!

She had spent ten years with Cedric. Except for the final three years that Irwin had destroyed with his schemes, the preceding seven years undoubtedly held the most beautiful memories between them.

However, those seven years of beauty were also shattered when Blair emerged.

In such circumstances, could she really get better with just time, as Dylan suggests?

Could she truly recover?

Undoubtedly, this question lingered in Irwin's mind.

"He wouldn't leave without a reason," Irwin said meaningfully after a pause.

Cedric saw too clearly. It wasn't just despair over Natalie's attitude. It was more about seeing too clearly. He knew Natalie wouldn't forgive him because of it, and he understood that seeing him only caused more pain for her.

That was why Cedric had handed her... over to Irwin!

"In fact, the people who stay by her side are the ones truly seeking redemption, isn't it?" Irwin said bitterly.

Dylan frowned. Undoubtedly, Cedric was currently suffering in the darkness. But Irwin, who stayed by Natalie's side, seemed to be facing retribution for everything that happened in the past. This was Natalie's retribution!

- Inside the villa, Bianca's eyes instantly reddened when she saw Natalie. Natalie tensed at the sight of Bianca's tears. Bianca was actually...! Back in Verde City, no matter what happened, Natalie was the one crying while Bianca was the one cursing Cedric and comforting her. Bianca lived like a man back then. Her world was only about winning and losing! She never admitted defeat or shed tears. But now? What was going on? "Bia," Natalie took a deep breath, looking at Bianca. Bianca sniffled. "Zane is missing." Natalie fell silent, and her mind went blank! What?! Zane was missing?! The Entes family's third son just announced his recovery, and now Zane was missing? Did these two events have any connection? "Did you send someone to look for him?" "I did." "But Simeria is only so big..." Bianca couldn't finish her sentence. Undoubtedly, it was a crucial period for everyone in the Entes family. And now, Zane was missing. What did this imply? Natalie limped forward, wanting to embrace Bianca. But when they stood together, Natalie's height only reached Bianca's chest. So, this current attempt at comfort felt utterly useless. But Bianca pulled Natalie into her arms. "Nat, I'm afraid!" "What are you afraid of?" "Malcolm..." Bianca couldn't continue speaking, and Natalie understood. She understood what Bianca was truly afraid of. Before Natalie could say anything, Bianca continued, "To be precise, it's not fear... I just can't accept this!" Bianca couldn't accept this? Indeed! The conflict between Bianca and Malcolm had been monumental, right? The issues with Faye and Jade... Malcolm had placed all the blame for those incidents on Bianca. And now Zane was missing in such a crucial period. No one knew where Zane had gone. And now, things in the Entes family were becoming increasingly urgent! Why did Bianca cooperate with Zane before? Undoubtedly, she couldn't let Malcolm rise to the pinnacle of the Entes family. Malcolm had destroyed everything Bianca held dear and was proud of. With what he had done, how could she just let it go?!

A Divorce After My Rebirth Chapter 706-"Bia..." Natalie's lips moved, but besides calling out Bianca's name, any words of comfort at this moment seemed feeble and powerless.

"He doesn't deserve it, Nat!" Bianca exclaimed.

She was talking about Malcolm.

Over the years, Bianca had seen too much in Simeria. So, in her eyes, Malcolm was simply unworthy.

"I know," Natalie said.

"But Zane, he..."

What about him?

What did Bianca want to say?

Did she want to say Zane was innocent?

After all, before her feud with Malcolm dragged Zane into it, Zane and Malcolm had a good relationship on the surface.

But because of her involvement, their relationship had soured.

And now, in this tense situation, they were even more at odds.

"Don't worry too much. After all, it's just beginning!" Natalie said.

Zane had only disappeared today, and everyone was already panicking!

Before Natalie could say anything else, Bianca said, "Nat, you don't understand."

Natalie didn't know what had happened, so she didn't see the need to be nervous.

But Bianca knew!

No one knew that when she got the news that Zane's car had disappeared near Gilded Stream Peak, she had frantically called Zane's phone.

She even went to Gilded Stream Peak herself.

But in the end, there were no clues!

If Zane was really okay, he wouldn't ignore her calls.

So what exactly happened?

Bianca recounted everything about Gilded Stream Peak to Natalie. The more Natalie listened, the more tense she became!

At this moment, she realized that things might not be so simple.

Zane's disappearance might not be as straightforward as Bianca said, and that was the most worrying part.

But now, for Bianca...

"Zane isn't exactly a saint either. For you, no news might be the best news," Natalie said.

After all, he was the seventh son of the Entes family!

If something really happened, it couldn't be covered up.

Bianca was obviously in disarray.

When she didn't find Zane at Gilded Stream Peak, her usually calm thoughts were completely in chaos.

"Does anyone else know about this?"

"Except for the people in this villa, no one else knows!"

"What are you going to do?"

"I don't know. I've stopped the news from going out for now."

Bianca was truly lost. In such a critical moment, she had no idea what to do.

Natalie nodded. "Just calm down for now."

After all, Natalie didn't know what the Entes family was really like, so she didn't dare to give casual advice.

Bianca was now one of the Entes family members, so she understood them better!

At this moment, even if Bianca couldn't stay calm, she knew what could be done and what couldn't.

As Natalie thought...!

Even though Bianca couldn't calm down right now, and her thoughts were extremely chaotic, her first reaction was very clear!

"Nat."

"Yeah?"

"I'm... worried about him."

Natalie froze for a moment when she heard Bianca's words. In that instant, she seemed to understand why Bianca was so distraught.

Perhaps this was what people meant when they said too much concern would lead to confusion.

Wasn't Bianca doing that right now?

So, her emotions were out of control not just because of how Malcolm might react to Zane's disappearance but because of her genuine worry for Zane himself.

So, Bianca was...!

Thinking about this, Natalie's heart tightened. She hugged Bianca even tighter, offering silent comfort.

It was too heavy!

At that moment, Natalie didn't know what to say at all.

Bianca... had fallen for Zane.

Even though Zane had left a good impression on Natalie while working by her side, now...!

In the face of Bianca's emotions, Natalie couldn't help but worry.

Natalie stayed by Bianca's side throughout the night, both of them staying awake. Yet, they didn't receive any good news.

During breakfast the next day, Natalie said, "I've called my brother to see if he can discreetly look into it."

Bianca looked at Natalie. She opened her mouth to say something, but nothing came out.

Zane was really missing.

And at this crucial moment...!

Where was he? Was he... in danger?

All these thoughts swirled in Bianca's mind. Perhaps this was what being overly concerned felt like!

Natalie said, "Have something to eat, okay?"

Seeing Bianca's refusal to eat, Natalie was genuinely worried.

Bianca looked at Natalie. "Nat, I..."

"Now, you need to pull yourself together. If this matter is really related to the Entes family, then you have a lot to face today, and I... shouldn't linger here." Natalie didn't say that because she was afraid of anything.

It was a reminder to Bianca of what it meant for Natalie to stay here.

Regarding this, Bianca naturally understood.

If Natalie stayed with Bianca for a long time, it would only arouse more suspicion from those who doubted her, so Natalie had to leave after breakfast.

Although Bianca wanted Natalie to stay by her side, she was thinking more about how to deal with the current situation.

Bianca had to admit...!

Even though Natalie's days seemed tough in Verde City, at least the Johnson family was relatively straightforward.

So, when Natalie was unhappy, that was all there was to it. Whenever she felt down, she could go to Bianca or perhaps go on a trip.

But what about Bianca now?

Her world used to be simple, but now, she was in the midst of turmoil. Whatever she did, she had to consider the situations she needed to face.

“Things are different now!” Bianca sighed.

“Yeah, they’re different,” Natalie said.

Things would never return to how simple they used to be back in Verde City. Whether Bianca liked it or not, everything changed when she got involved with Malcolm.

A bitter smile tugged at Bianca’s lips. “I’m fine. You should go back and eat something.”

She tried to remain calm, not wanting Natalie to worry. But the more she tried, the more Natalie fretted.

Natalie sighed in the end. At this moment, she couldn’t find any words to say.

After breakfast, when Natalie got up to leave, Bianca noticed that Natalie was limping. Her already uneasy heart was now even more burdened.

“What happened to your foot?”

“It’s nothing. I just twisted it,” Natalie didn’t want Bianca to worry, especially when she was already feeling troubled.

But Bianca was concerned. “Should I call the doctor to have a look?”

“No need. The fewer people know I spent the night here with you, the better.”

Bianca fell silent.

At her words, the suffocation in Bianca’s chest grew even heavier.

A Divorce After My Rebirth Chapter 707-Bianca had to admit that she never imagined there would be scenes like this around her. But now, it had truly come to pass.

No matter how she felt, this was now her reality!

After Natalie left, Bianca was alone. She collapsed onto the sofa. A butler named “Neil.”

“Yes, Lady Bianca?”

The butler, Neil, approached!

After numerous arrangements by Bianca, Zane personally brought back this butler and assured her he was trustworthy.

After yesterday's incident, Neil immediately instructed her to seal off the information. His swift response showed that Neil had been by Zane's side for many years.

And now, Zane had left Neil by her side.

Zane probably also understood that various unpredictable accidents might occur at such a critical period.

Having Neil by her side taught Bianca how to handle different situations in every circumstance.

And yesterday...!

Regardless of what happened when she had been by Malcolm's side, as far as the Entes family was concerned, yesterday's scene was Bianca's first experience.

Such a scene was completely different from anything she had ever experienced before. When faced with these things, she felt almost overwhelmed.

But with Neil by her side, her mind was clearer!

"Still nothing?" Bianca asked.

From last night until now, Bianca had asked Neil this question countless times. Yet each time, the answer she received was disappointing.

But even if it was disappointing, so what?

Bianca still had to ask!

Neil sighed and shook his head. "There's still no news for now."

Bianca fell silent.

At his words, the weakness in her eyes that was visible while Natalie had been with her disappeared!

Instead, there was endless sharpness!

At this point, if someone told Bianca that Zane's disappearance had nothing to do with the Entes family, she wouldn't believe it.

This was the scene of how vicious the struggle between family members was.

Once, when she heard about such things, she was unwilling to believe them.

But now?

What was this?

They were supposed to be family!

What the hell was going on?

People who had never seen such scenes would say blood is thicker than water, but those who truly understood could tell what was terrifying.

Now, wasn't this situation terrifying?

"If nothing unexpected happens, people from the family will come here," Neil said in a deep tone.

Undoubtedly, he was also reminding Bianca that in such times, as Zane's wife, she had to stay strong.

Even if one detested some things, when they happened, one had to summon the strength to deal with them.

Bianca nodded. "Yes, I know."

Neil looked at the change in Bianca's eyes.

He sighed...!

One had to admit that the relationship between Bianca and Natalie was indeed good! Only in front of Natalie would she reveal her weakness. She would show eyes that sought reliance.

And now, when Natalie wasn't around, there was no weakness and hurt in her eyes!

Instead, there was endless sharpness and coldness...!

- When Natalie returned to Lotus Villa, she received news that Irwin had left Simeria. She had to admit that the man was at least showing he trusted her words. Luna seemed to have grown taller again. With her good eyesight, Natalie could notice even the slightest changes in the child. Natalie's eyes were filled with endless tenderness when she thought about the years she had spent with Luna. When Stephen found out that Natalie had spent the entire night with Bianca at Verdant Villa, his brows furrowed. But considering the relationship between Natalie and Bianca, Stephen didn't say anything. Clyde looked at Natalie and said, "There's still no news for now." Natalie nodded. "Okay." "Is she doing fine?" Clyde asked. "Huh?" Who was he talking about? Undoubtedly, Natalie didn't understand Clyde's question. However, before she could react, Clyde's expression darkened. Then, he turned and left, leaving Natalie perplexed by the sudden change in the man's demeanor. Natalie scratched her head, completely unsure of what she might have done wrong. Did she do something wrong? Why? "Did he mean..." Had he been referring to... Bianca? Was he worried about her? That was impossible, right? They both seemed like...! However, considering the relationship between Malcolm and Bianca, these two individuals seemed to have no connection in the eyes of others. Yet, they had come to this point! So now, if Clyde was really concerned about Bianca, it wasn't impossible! The thought sent shivers down Natalie's spine.

- As Natalie and Neil had said, if Zane's situation really had something to do with Bianca, then in the morning, the Entes family would surely probe into Verdant Villa. And the first person to appear was Lorraine! She was the first one to extend a helping hand to Bianca back when they were part of the Entes family. Her arrival didn't involve any particular conversation. She just chatted briefly and left. "Neil." "Yes, Lady Bianca?" "Why do you think Lady Lorraine came?" After all, they had only met once in the Entes Manor. Even if they had a connection, it wasn't like Bianca had a close relationship with her. Regardless of who it was, Bianca would be cautious and analytical as long as someone appeared at Verdant Villa. Neil replied, "Lady Lorraine is a simple girl. If she has any ulterior motives, someone must have manipulated her into it." Bianca fell silent. Manipulated, huh? In that case, who could be the culprit who had manipulated Lorraine? However, Bianca didn't quite agree with Neil's words! Were there really simple people among the Entes family? Neil glanced at Bianca and said, "You shouldn't be too nervous. Shouldn't be too nervous? How could she not be?! After all, Zane's whereabouts...! If it were someone else, she wouldn't care. No matter what the situation, she wouldn't care. But for Zane, it was different. Before long, Malcolm arrived! The moment she received the notification, Bianca's face darkened. She looked at Neil, whose expression wasn't too good either. After all, Malcolm and Austin had become key figures at this critical moment. Neil said, "Be careful." "Lord Malcolm has always been a cunning person!" "Yeah." Bianca nodded. That man wasn't just cunning. He was also extremely ruthless. During those years by his side, she experienced it firsthand!

A Divorce After My Rebirth Chapter 708-How long had it been since Bianca confronted Malcolm like this?

It seemed ever since she started working with Zane, she had completely distanced herself from Malcolm!

The animosity between them still existed, and moments of calm between them like this were rare...!

No. In fact, it wasn't calm for them right now either.

Their hearts were churning inside! The depths of their eyes surged with concealed emotions!

Finally, Malcolm broke the silence and asked, "What happened at Gilded Stream Peak?"

And with that, Bianca smiled.

Her smile seemed icy and mocking. She smiled coldly and said, "What are you talking about, my dear brother?"

Malcolm fell silent.

Bianca heavily emphasized how she addressed him.

As she finished speaking, the man's expression darkened, and he scrutinized Bianca's every change with a sharpness that seemed to penetrate her very soul.

His gaze pierced through her as if he could see right through her.

In the past...

Before this moment, Bianca was actually apprehensive about what might happen here today!

After all, she wasn't sure.

Previously, she had always been in Verdant Villa. The only person she faced off with was Yvette most of the time, and from Yvette's demeanor, Bianca could tell that every member of the Entes family was quite formidable.

After all, everything about Zane was shrouded in mystery, leaving everyone uncertain! She feared that she might inadvertently bring trouble to Zane.

But now, at this moment...!

When the time truly came to face things, Bianca felt calm.

"Malcolm?" Seeing Malcolm silent and staring at her sharply, Bianca's tone grew heavier.

Malcolm's already deep eyes grew even darker when he saw Bianca like this.

His sharp gaze made it seem like he had already seen through her.

Yet Bianca's expression remained calm and mysterious. She looked at Malcolm with an inscrutable expression, as if nothing had happened from yesterday until now.

After a while, Malcolm chuckled disdainfully.

He had to admit that this woman had a strong backbone and remarkable inner strength in such circumstances.

It was admirable that she could still maintain such composure.

"Did Zane not return last night?" Malcolm asked.

"He hasn't come back for days. Isn't that normal?" Bianca's tone became even more casual as she spoke.

Malcolm fell silent, and the laughter in his eyes grew more prominent.

Even under such a gaze, Bianca remained calm. It was as if no matter what Malcolm showed her now, she wouldn't respond to him.

"Hah!" The man chuckled.

There was a coldness in his laughter.

"What's the meaning of this, Malcolm?" Bianca asked.

Her sharp retort seemed to demand an explanation from Malcolm. However, as Neil had said, Malcolm was a cunning individual who wasn't easily fooled.

At this moment, his gaze towards Bianca was piercing. "Natalie was here all night? What was she doing here?"

Bianca had to admit that he came prepared.

"Given the nature of my relationship with Natalie, is it strange for us to spend the night together? Or is it that you want to know what women do when they're together?" Bianca replied and chuckled.

Her laughter was grating to Malcolm's ears, and he couldn't stop his expression was changing.

"Oh, my dear brother-in-law... Hah!"

Her tone was mocking, and Malcolm's expression grew even darker as a result. He no longer concealed his emotions when he looked at Bianca.

There was a sharp glint in his eyes. It was like that of a knife, giving one the feeling of being on the verge of being exposed at any moment.

Yet, despite this sensation, Bianca faced it fearlessly.

“Bianca, do I need to remind you why you’re by Zane’s side? Or do you think your relationship with him will last?”

Malcolm’s voice held a hint of warning, and Bianca fell silent.

Why was she by Zane’s side?

It was because she had been desperate!

When she had been living in Verde City, Bianca probably never thought she would be in such a desperate situation.

But that was how it was. Malcolm had gradually pushed Bianca into despair!

She lay in wait, biding her time!

When she finally found an opportunity, she didn’t hesitate to stand by Zane’s side.

She knew why it started.

And she never thought about whether this relationship would last.

There was a force on her chin, and the man’s grip was painful!

It was almost as if he wanted to crush her jawbone. Bianca felt the pain, but the glint in her eyes was quickly replaced by endless coldness. Malcolm had seen this kind of icy demeanor on her more than once by his side.

“Do you know? Every time I look into your eyes, I feel like gouging them out myself!”

Yes!

No matter what happened, this woman’s eyes always carried an icy chill.

She was cold. It was as if she had no warmth at all.

Bianca smiled faintly. She gripped the man’s wrist lightly, yet exuding an overwhelming sense of dominance from head to toe.

And this dominance...!

It had always been there since she came to his side. Over the years, Malcolm had tried more than once to break her dominant spirit, but he had never succeeded.

“Hmph!”

Finally, Malcolm pushed her away forcefully.

The man exuded a chill, yet the smile in Bianca’s eyes remained.

“You know what I want to do every time I see you?” she said.

“What?”

Malcolm’s eyes were cold, but he looked at her with interest.

It would be a lie to say that this woman hadn’t changed at all in the years by Malcolm’s side.

She had changed.

Every change seemed like a form of surrender, but it wasn’t that she had submitted to him! She could surrender for food or water, but never to him!

Now, she didn’t need to surrender or yield to him. Without such a need, Malcolm was curious about what she wanted to do every time she saw him.

“Do you want to kill me?” Malcolm spoke before Bianca could.

There was a hint of disdain in his words, as if he found her ambitions laughable.

Bianca chuckled.

Her laughter carried a sense of irony.

No, why would I?” she said.

“I’m a lawyer. I wouldn’t do anything illegal!”

But she had committed many ruthless acts. Especially when it came to Malcolm, she was always thinking about it.

A Divorce After My Rebirth Chapter 709-Bianca looked at Malcolm, and the smile on her lips grew deeper.

Finally, she looked at the man and said, “Every time I see you acting hysterical for her, whether it’s her or Jade, I just feel sorry for you.”

“Bianca!”

Malcolm was instantly provoked.

Undoubtedly, Faye had always been a taboo existence in Malcolm’s life over the years. In his heart, she was a festering wound! Just a slight touch would cause it to bleed profusely.

It was an unbearable pain!

Over the years, nobody dared to bring up this matter in front of him.

Yet, this damned woman...!

From the moment Bianca came into his life, he forbade her from mentioning Faye in his presence. It’s as if whenever Bianca brought up Faye, she tarnished Faye’s name.

And now...!

She looked at him boldly with no trace of fear in her eyes. Instead, her eyes were filled with endless mockery.

“How truly pitiful!”

“Shut up!”

“Do you even know what kind of person she was?”

“I told you to shut up!”

Bang!

Malcolm kicked aside the coffee table.

“Are you angry?” Bianca asked.

As she looked at the cracked wooden table, her smile grew even broader.

It was the same expression.

During those years when Bianca couldn’t escape from him, he would lock her in a windowless room whenever she mentioned Faye. He didn’t care how much she struggled inside.

Without fail, every single time ended in such a brutal outcome.

Bianca didn't know how long she would be kept inside, but that kind of darkness was enough to wear down anyone's will.

No matter how tough someone was, all their strength would gradually be eroded under such circumstances.

Bianca couldn't remember how many times this man had punished her because of Faye!

She just remembered that every time that name was mentioned, she wouldn't see him for a long, long time...!

Even if she didn't see him, the torment inflicted upon her wouldn't diminish in the slightest.

Over time, Bianca became obedient.

She didn't want to be tortured because of that name! So, after that, she never mentioned that name in front of Malcolm.

Although this man would occasionally go crazy, at least it wouldn't be as disastrous as mentioning that name.

But now, it was different!

She was Zane's wife, the seventh lady of the Entes family. Malcolm could no longer do as he pleased with her.

Just like now!

If she had mentioned Faye's name in the past, the kick that landed on the coffee table might have landed on her instead.

But now?

He glared at Bianca with cold anger.

Initially, he had come to inquire about Zane's news. He had been all prepared, but now...!

"Bianca!"

Before Bianca could say anything else, the man looked at her with sinister eyes. His anger made his eyes turn crimson, and they looked like the eyes of a wild beast.

He looked terrifying.

However, Bianca met his eyes without fear.

“I never take on divorce cases involving the children of wealthy families, and I rarely represent the male party. But do you know why I became Faye’s opposing counsel?”
novelbin The man was already cold and angry. At this moment, he looked like he wanted to tear Bianca apart with his bare hands!

Faye...!

It was a name that abruptly ended conversations over the years.

This time, it seemed like the longest conversation Bianca had managed in years.

No matter how angry Malcolm was, Bianca remained calm. She didn’t even acknowledge his fury.

She simply looked at Malcolm with icy indifference.

It was a gaze that made one’s heart tremble.

“Because she’s a terrible person!”

It was as if the air had exploded in between them!

At this moment, Malcolm was not just dangerous. In the blink of an eye, he had grabbed Bianca’s shoulder.

His grip was painfully tight.

It seemed like the man’s anger had reached its limit.

Bang!

The heavy ashtray smashed onto the man’s forehead, freezing the explosive atmosphere instantly.

Warm blood trickled down his face. The anger in Malcolm’s eyes burned like a wild beast, as if it would consume everything.

The air froze.

For a long time, it seemed like everyone present had lost the ability to move.

Bianca grabbed the man’s wrist and slowly pushed it away. Her grip was firm and composed.

At that moment, what did Malcolm see in Bianca's eyes?

Fearlessness!

"Aren't you afraid of death?"

Indeed!

Over the years, even Faye's name was rarely mentioned in his presence.

Yet Bianca dared to utter such words.

It had to be said, this woman truly wasn't afraid of death...!

"Haha!" She laughed.

Her laughter was filled with mockery, and her eyes were filled with pity instead of fear.

Yes, she pitied Malcolm!

Malcolm had never been on the receiving end of such a gaze before. No one had dared to look at him like that.

Yet Bianca...!

This woman...

She truly hadn't changed at all over the years by his side.

"Speaking of fearing death, Faye was very afraid! Since she was so afraid of death, how could she have...!"

Slap! Slap!

The slaps landed heavily on Bianca's face. Malcolm trembled as he tried to control his emotions!

He always couldn't tolerate Bianca, but now his restraint had reached its limit. However, what he didn't expect was for Bianca to slap him back across the face!

Slap!

The already tense atmosphere now felt like it could erupt at any moment!

"It doesn't matter if my relationship with Zane will last or not, and it doesn't matter how it started between us," Bianca said.

“Let me ask you this, Lord Malcolm. Do you think you’re the only one who hates me? Do you think you’re the only one who’s angry with me? What right do you have?!”

“You lack the courage to have your people investigate the truth of what happened in Verde City, isn’t that right? You’re afraid to find out what she was truly like, aren’t you?!”

Bianca’s words were unprecedentedly harsh!

While reminding Malcolm of her current status, she also spoke words that had been unspeakable for the past two years.

Why did he hate her so much?

She had never wronged Faye, yet this man had made her pay a heavy price because of Faye.

There was no need for explanations between them, and he had never given her the chance to explain anyway!

And for that, she had paid the price.

Slap!

Bianca slapped Malcolm again and said, “I’ll collect the interest for now. Just wait... I’ll eventually reclaim everything from you!”

Her tone was fiercely intense, and it was impossible to find a woman in Simeria who could do the same as her!

A Divorce After My Rebirth Chapter 710-The scene erupted into chaos instantly!

At this moment, it seemed that Bianca and Malcolm had completely dropped all pretenses!

In fact, it had been that way since she started working with Zane.

Now, it was a direct retaliation...!

After a long stretch of silence, Malcolm laughed!

His laughter was filled with coldness.

Looking at the woman before him, the coldness in his eyes changed into an intrigued glint.

“Bravo, Bianca... Well done!”

“74 wouldn’t have dared do it... but the Entes family’s seventh lady would!” Bianca said, reminding Malcolm of her radically different identities.

Malcolm’s smile grew wider. “Good... Very good!”

He approached her as he spoke, and the intrigued glint in his eyes suddenly intensified.

He looked at Bianca fiercely and grabbed Bianca’s chin with his slender fingers. His rough fingertips dug into her skin, and the air around him was thick with danger.

“The way you are now makes me want to see how you will look once I break your stubborn pride!”

He was eager to tear it down... layer by layer!

Bianca’s lips curled into a charming smile. “You don’t have what it takes!”

“Oh, really?”

“Of course!”

Bianca spoke the words firmly and proudly.

When she had been by Malcolm’s side, this man had been practically dismantling every bone in her body all the time. Although she bowed her head to him, he knew in his heart that her actions were not a true act of submission!

She was too stubborn... right down to her bones!

Before Malcolm could speak, Bianca said very seriously, “But I will let you gradually realize what kind of person that woman really was.”

The air was instantly filled with heavy pressure!

Malcolm had to admit that Bianca was currently so bold that no one dared would dare cross her without a proper reason.

She knew how to advance and retreat, and this was not her first time doing it.

“It seems that you still...”

“The night before her wedding, she spent the night in a hotel with a man who wasn’t her husband and was caught red-handed.”

“Bianca!” Malcolm’s grip tightened, and his breath stifled in this instant.

Yet Bianca seemed oblivious, or perhaps she relished Malcolm's current state!

Feeling the man trembling involuntarily all over, she laughed recklessly.

She continued, "She played the victim, claiming she was raped! Her in-laws swept the matter under the rug, but that man who had been with her died a miserable death!"

"But later, when all her secrets were exposed, everyone knew she hired thugs to clean everything up!

She ended up ruining herself! So, how much do you really know about her, hmm?"

How much?

Her words implied that Faye had done more than that.

Malcolm grew angrier, and his eyes turned red with a maniacal glint. Meanwhile, Bianca's smile remained on her lips.

That smile made her seem so hateful.

In the end, just as she felt her jawbone was about to be crushed, Malcolm shoved her roughly to the side and left in anger.

As she watched the man's figure disappear from the doorway, Bianca's smile also vanished.

In place of it, there was endless coldness and calmness on her face.

Neil came in and looked at Bianca in concern. "Are you alright?"

Neil recalled the sight of Malcolm leaving angrily just now. He naturally knew about the rumors surrounding Malcolm in Simeria.

According to rumors, he was a very terrifying person.

At this moment...!

When he saw the bruises on Bianca's shoulder and the red marks on her chin, he knew things hadn't worked out well.

However, Bianca didn't seem bothered by it. She said, "Don't worry, Neil, I'm fine."

"Alright, Lady Bianca." Nanshu nodded, but he was still extremely worried.

It had begun!

Bianca already knew there was no avoiding the Entes family, despite all her efforts to do so before this.

Even her desire for revenge and how she had angered Malcolm enough to chase him off...

All of this was just the start.

No one knew what would happen next!

"We need to hurry up," Bianca said to Neil.

She wanted to know where Zane was. It would be best if they could obtain that information as soon as possible.

Although...!

As Natalie said, not having any news now might be the best news, but it was also the most worrying.

This is Simeria. What kind of presence did Zane have here? This place was supposed to be his home, yet in the end, it turned out like this.

No matter who was looking at the situation now, it's hard not to feel bitter about it.

"Yes, Lady Bianca." Neil nodded.

Before long, Yvette arrived.

To Bianca, Yvette's visit was even more of a headache now, especially considering Yvette's change of heart. Hence, Bianca naturally wasn't in the mood to put on a pleasant expression to greet her.

At this moment, the two sat facing each other.

Bianca took a sip of water and calmly asked, "Zane already told you before, right?"

As she said this, Bianca looked at Yvette. Her eyes were cold, and Yvette met her gaze evenly.

Yvette's eyes flashed with various emotions, indicating her hostility towards Bianca.

"He doesn't really like you coming over to the villa to see me."

"He doesn't want to see me anymore!"

Yvette seemed as though she had ignored Bianca's words. At this moment, it wasn't just the look in her eyes that were hostile. Even her tone was the same!

Bianca frowned and fell silent.

Yvette continued, "He doesn't even want to answer my calls."

From yesterday until now, how many times had Yvette attempted to call Zane?

She had lost count. Either way, that man never answered any of them.

Was that what Zane was like now?

Was he showing how firm he was in his stance and how he would distance himself from her with a cold demeanor?

Was this the present Zane!?

When Bianca heard Yvette say that Zane didn't want to answer her calls, she instantly understood that Yvette had made countless calls to Zane since yesterday.

"Why do you want to see him? Do you have something to say to him? You might as well say it to me since it's the same thing!"

Yvette fell silent.

As soon as Bianca finished speaking, Yvette's gaze, which already held immense hostility towards her, became even more sinister.

"It seems like you didn't listen to anything we said previously!"

It was over.

It was really all over.

Everything... had ended.

"My father wants me to marry Austin!" Yvette exclaimed suddenly.

Bianca fell silent.

Austin?

Bianca's mind went blank for a moment.

The events of the past few days were becoming increasingly urgent.

Austin announced his recovery, and Zane was missing!

Now, what was the Stewart family trying to do?!

Since Yvette and Alto were divorced, her family wanted to marry her off to Austin?!

That was just...!

But... wasn't it just reported that Natalie met Austin?

This scene was truly suffocating!
