

A Girl Nobody Wanted Chapter 130 The End - Tips

Jake's POV

6 years LATER!!!

“Stephan!!! Stephan!!!” I woke up to that shouting...

Though that shouting made me wake up, that is one of the most loving shouts I have ever heard...

Closing my eyes, I listened to that again...

“Stephan!!! ” shouting continued for a few seconds more...

This little buddy should be hiding once again...

I got down from the bed, planning to catch my little bunny from where he was hiding...

I caught him! He was hiding under the small table in the pantry. He giggled as I found him, but I put my palm over his little mouth and hushed him.

“Let's go see momma...” I whispered to my little champ.

Carrying him on my shoulder, I walked to the living area where my favorite person in the whole world was shouting for her baby boy.

I closed her eyes gently...

“Stop playing with me, Jake... I don't know where Stephan is,” she said, annoyed without even turning to me... When I close her eyes from her behind, she never needs to turn around to recognize me. She can always identify me from my smell...

“Mommy, here I am...” Stephan giggled, sitting on my shoulders...

She turned around, and her face lit up as she saw the smiling little bunny...

“You teamed up with daddy to make me scared?” she asked.

“No... I was hiding. Daddy found me.” Stephan replied.

Then she took Stephan from my shoulders and cuddled him to her chest, "Why were you hiding little bunny?"

"Because mommy and daddy can find me..." he replied quickly.

He surely has a sharp mouth just like me...

"Okay, now we have found you. Give mommy a big kiss..." as soon as she said that, little Stephan put his tiny arms around her neck and gave her a long kiss...

"Where is my kiss?" I asked.

While he was still in his momma's arms, he put his arms around me and gave me a long kiss too... His action drew his mom closer to me...

Putting my arms around her, I pulled her even closer... I cuddled both of them to my chest... I gently kissed both of their heads... She gave me a small kiss to my chest, making me smile...

This is my world! My princess Sarah, well, she is my queen now... And my cute little prince Stephan... What else I need in my life, other than these two cuties in my arms...

Cuddling them to my chest like this made me recall how much we had to go through to own a day like this...

I remembered the time I was in the hospital after someone shot me...

Andrew came to me one day, and he said he is going to leave the town... He also apologized to me for everything he did.

"You are right, brother... Sarah's happiness lies within you. I don't want to destroy her happiness... I wish you two all the best for a happy future..." he said before he left...

At that time, I didn't know anything about what uncle Patterson and his mom had done... If I knew all those things, I would never let him go... After going through so much in his life, he needs to be with his loved ones... But when I got to know everything, he was a thousand miles away from us...

After I got totally recovered, mom and dad came to me... Dad explained to me everything that happened when I was not well... He also said to me the truth about Andrew's parents...

"Forgive me for hiding everything from you, Jake... I didn't want to make you two worried or feeling disgusting about me... Can you forgive me?" dad said at the end.

I looked at mum... She was so calm and having a small smile on her lips...

"What you think, mom?" I asked.

"Your dad has never done any wrong to me since we started a relationship, Jake. What happened before that is not my concern. Also, I am sure, if Andrew's mom wanted to keep him, your dad would surely support her with that, no matter how hard it is." she replied calmly...

She is a great woman... I don't think most of the women think so openly like this. The way she empathizes with people is outstanding...

"If mom can forgive you, dad... I can forgive you too..." I said, smiling...

On that same day, dad told me that they have no objection for me and Sarah... Mom was loving Sarah so much already... She got to spend time with Sarah when I was in the hospital.

"She has such a beautiful soul... I am proud of your choice, baby..." mom said happily.

When I got discharged from the hospital, the first thing I did was go and meet Sara's parents. Andrew had already told them about Sarah and me... They had no hesitations to our relationship, instead, they were over the moon when I go and talk to them. Mainly, Sarah's mom...

We got engaged soon after that.

We both graduated with a first-class. Sarah became the batch top as well... Luke also secured a first-class. Shane put all the efforts for his final research and final exams, so the guy who was in academic probation earlier could graduate with a general degree which was so close to a second lower...

After graduation, we four got together and started a software engineering consultation firm... Shane works full time there while Luke and I spend most of our time for our firm while taking care of our family businesses also. Sarah wants to make her carrier in academics, so she got a lecturing position in our faculty.

No matter how busy we were, Luke Shane and I didn't give up football as well...

I got married to Sarah a year after we graduated.

We both wanted a simple wedding. My parents were totally okay with that, it was only Sarah's mom who showed an objection. But finally, she decided to let us have it on our way... By that time, her parents have changed so much... I don't know if it is my addition to the family that made them change like that, but they started to love and take care of Sarah... Even when Shane came out to his parents about him being gay, they were okay with that.

So we had a simple, yet beautiful wedding which felt like a fairy tale... Only close relatives and friends were invited. We wanted to invite Andrew as well, but he was in the USA for some research work...

Both Sarah and I had to suffer a lot in our lives, we rarely got any time to spend with each other. So, we thought of travel around the world, taking a break from all our responsibilities... Sarah had never left the country, so I wanted to show her the world... So our honeymoon became a very lengthy one. We traveled to many countries and enjoyed as much as we wanted... We had nothing to worry about, we were free like birds...

After we come back from our tour, we got this marvelous news about Luke and Shane's marriage... Luke came out to his parents right after his graduation. At first, his parents were not okay with that. They didn't show a serious objection, yet they were not happy as well... So Luke and Shane decided to give them some time to heal themselves...

However, at our wedding, we didn't have a bridesmaid, but we had two best men. Luke and Shane... During the wedding, I think Luke's parents understood how adorable Luke and Shane look together... also, they understood how happy Luke is when he is with Shane... So, they decided to give their blessings to Luke and Shane...

Six months after our wedding, they got married!

If both of them were not there with us, when we were having so many problems, I don't think we would be able to end up together... They sacrificed a lot for us... They committed themselves without any hesitation for us... They proved what friendship really means... They proved to us who a good brother really is?

Therefore, the day these two tied the knot, was one of the happiest for Sarah and me...

After two years of being married, we decided it is high time for us to extend our family.

Then came our little bunny, Stephan...

Stephan was such a cute little bundle of joy since the day he was born... As Sarah says, he is just like me. She is so confident that one day when he grows up, he would be exactly like me. However, since he was born, he became our entire world. He brought a lot of happiness and love not just to two of us, but for his grandparents and his uncles too... Everyone, including my dad, always finds time within their busy schedule to spend time with Stephan...

Especially Sarah's mom... Sarah's mom didn't want to spend even a day without him. It is remarkable how much she has changed. Her love for Stephan is limitless... I don't think she even loved Shane this much... We bought Sarah's parents a new house close to ours, so her mom can come and spend time with Stephan whenever she wants. I think she is truly regretting the way she treated Sarah, and she wants to make it up to her...

Even though Sarah's mom volunteered to take care of Stephan, Sarah decided to take a break from her work until Stephan at least starts schooling. So, she only does some part-time lecturing.

So that's what happened during the past six years... Yes, it has been six years, but all this time felt like just 6 days... When you are happy, time flies super fast, right?

After putting Stephan to sleep, at night, I went to our bedroom.

Sarah came from the bathroom at the same time. She was wearing just a bathrobe... She smiled at me and went to the dressing table...

I was staring at her reflection from the mirror... Her natural beauty can still amaze me even after staying by her side for so many years... She is still the most beautiful woman for me...

"Why?" she asked, smiling at my reflection.

Without saying anything, I walked up to her and put my arms around her... She giggled...

"What do you think about giving our little bunny a sister?" I asked, kissing her naked neck gently...

"What! Stephan is just three years," she replied, laughing.

"That's what I am also saying. He is three whole years old. He is a big boy now. So he needs a little sister." I said, continuing kissing her neck...

"We have to get up early, tomorrow is a big day," she whispered.

"We are used to sleeping late and get up early, don't we?" I asked, entering my hand into her bathrobe and gently caressing her breasts... Her breasts were big and so soft. As a woman, those were great assets she had... But after Stephan was born, she decided she should breastfeed him... She did exclusive breastfeeding for 6 months. Also, she breastfed Stephan, whenever he needs until he became two years old... She never refused to feed him...

Now, after two years of breastfeeding, her breasts don't look attractive as past. But for me, those sagging breasts are the signs of her pure love towards me and my son. Whenever I touch them or see them, my heart fills with love and respect for her... She is the mother of my son, and she is the best mother any kid can ask for... Also, she is the perfect wife any man can have...

I slowly removed her bathrobe and turned her to me...

God! She is gorgeous, and she is mine!!!

Without even thinking twice, I bent down and took one of her nipples in my mouth...

She chuckled while caressing my hair... After sucking her nipple for a good few minutes and rubbing her back, I took her in my arm and walked near to the bed... I kept her smoothly on the bed...

She smiled, looking at me... I quickly caught her nipples from mine...

How many times I have made love to her during the past few years, still when I do it with her, it feels so fresh and amazing. I can never get enough of her...

While I was kissing her, she quickly unbuttoned my shirt. My little princess has become a pro at that...

Then she started to kiss my chest... Every inch of it...

I quickly removed the denim I was wearing together with my boxers...

She chuckled, looking at my erected penis...

"He is so ready to give Stephan a sister, doesn't he?" she asked and kissed my nipples again...

That night we made love slowly but passionately... None of us worried about going to sleep late, we were totally lost in each other's arms...

The next day morning, I woke up to our alarm... She was still sleeping, cuddling to me... I felt so sad to wake her up, but what can I do?

As Sarah mentioned, today is a big day!

Do you know why? Sarah is going to be a bridesmaid, and I am going to be the best man. Also, our little Stephan is going to be a page boy for the first time in his life.

Can you all guess, whose wedding is that? I know most of you guessed it right. Today is the big day of my brother, Andrew!

Sarah's POV

Andrew is going to get married today, I am so happy for him. More than anything, I was happy because he found the perfect partner for him. I have no doubts she will keep him happy and give him the love he deserves...

Can you all remember my good friend Sally? Yeah, that girl who fell in love with Luke. That girl who couldn't stop loving Luke even after she got to know he is gay... I know you haven't forgotten her...

Andrew is going to marry Sally! Strange right? Well... So many things can happen for six years.

Sally was heartbroken after knowing she has no chance with Luke. So right after graduation, she moved from the town. However, her destiny took her to the exact city, where Andrew also moved to. They two met again there. They both were going through an almost similar situation, and having each other gave them comfort...

So, after staying like friends and sharing all the happiness and sadness, they decided to level up their relationship...

The wedding mass started... Jake and I were standing next to our beautiful couple together with our little handsome and the pretty flower girl... Ah! Forgot to tell you about her. She is Tiara, daughter of Marina... Yes, Marina came and apologized to Jake right after he got discharged from the hospital. After two years she got married, and now she has this beautiful daughter who is three and a half years old.

After Andrew and Sally recite their vows in front of God, it was time for them to leave the church...

We all were standing and signing Hymns... Luke and Shane also came to us and stood beside us... They both were holding hands. They look wonderful together...

In this church right now gathered all the people I love with my life... Andrew and his beautiful wife, Sally... My parents... Jake's parents... Luke and Shane... Also, my Jake and my little prince Stephan...

My eyes quickly traveled to all the people...

They all look so happy...

We all had suffered enough in our lives... Life was so unfair to us sometimes... Each and every one of us had our own story, our own set of problems to deal with... We made the right choices... We made the wrong choices... Sometimes we loved each other, sometimes we hated each other...

But today as a family, we all get together... We all are happy, and I believe we will never make any choice to hurt each other. We will always stand in unity for each other...

If I talk about me... My life has become a fairy tale... I have everything I ever wished for, even more than that...

Jake's love for me is growing bigger each and every day... I didn't know how a person can love his wife this much... He is the best husband also the best dad in this whole world...

A few years before, I was A GIRL NOBODY WANTED, it was him, who changed my life... It is after he came to my life, I started to get loved and cared... My parents, my brother, all of them started to love me after Jake came to my life...

Indeed my parents gave me birth, but it is Jake who gave life to me...

He is such a gentleman... When he started to love me, he had everything, but I had nothing. Still, he didn't give up on me or try to cheat me even from a thought... I think that's how his loving parents brought him up... So, one day I want my Stephan to be a gentleman like his dad... I want to bring him up the same way Jake's parents brought him up... I will teach my son to love without any conditions and commit to the people he loves with his whole heart...

I picked up Stephan in my arms... He is indeed the CROWN of Jake's and my love...

Placing a kiss on Stephan's rosy cheeks, I held Jake's hand...

Jake looked at me and smile... Then he put his arm around me, pulling both me and Stephan closer to him...

This is my happy place... With my little crown cuddled to my chest and my Jake having his strong arm around both of us...

The End
