

A Glitched 871

Chapter 871 Gods And Evil Gods

Within the High Heavens, the Gods oversaw the world inside of their flying palaces. Their glowing eyes noticing the descent of a traitor into the body of a vessel she has been preparing for a long time.

It was already seen as a taboo among taboos to descend into the body of a mortal to attempt to change the mortal world, but because Evil Gods had long ago broken their connection with the rest of the gods, they were able to do as they pleased.

And them, enclosed in their own palaces, could simply watch as they did whatever they pleased. They could not afford to waste energy and efforts into stopping their foolishness.

Were they cowards? Perhaps. Did they saw the lives of the mortals below as "not worth the effort"? Most likely.

However, deep down, they knew that eventually, they would have to confront the traitors, and eventually, they would have to fight. Whoever more lives are sacrificed does not matter.

As the Gods had yet to fully regain their strength, they'll watch, and grant blessings, they can give orders, but it'll all depends on the mortals to change their own fate.

"Lolth has descended into a mortal's body."

"This isn't the first time that an Evil God descends into the body of a mortal..."

"Damned Evil Gods! I'm going to hunt them all down!"

"Hold up, you can't go. Don't waste your energy in them. That's what they want."

"Their souls and bodies have fallen from grace, absorbing this world's energy without purifying it properly, they have become distorted, similar to the visage of our ancient race back in our home planet."

"Perhaps... that's the reason why they can still create Dimensional Portals towards that apocalyptic hellscape? To bring here our corrupted, fallen kin to their aid?"

"To think something like "True Demonification" is even a thing... Evil God of Dungeons, do you truly intend to turn this planet we've found into another hellscape like our home has become? All because you can't stand our existences and principles?"

The gods sighed, some had the intent to fight, but they were stopped. It was not the time yet, and they would rather let many die instead of wasting even a precious portion of their strength descending to deal with these issues.

"Luckily, the older and future heroes are gathered in the same place... The Saintess of Spirits has awakened her strength thanks to that girl's strange powers."

"Let's see how strong is that anomaly, and how powerful is the Saintess of Spirits, the fruit of our growing relationships with this planet's Spirit Kings over thousands of years..."

"The one who wields the power of the planet's spirits, and the one who wields a unique, alien power... Could they change the fate of their kin, the abandoned slaves we once created?"

"Even if we cannot do anything to not waste energy, it is quite intriguing, if not slightly thrilling, is it not, Theia?"

"..."

Theia, the Chief Goddess that blessed Sylphy, remained in silence while glancing into the planet's surface with her golden eyes.

"If they ever have a chance, that chance will be created by her, I'm sure." I think you should take a look at

It felt as if space and time itself distorted together, everyone glanced in surprise as Lolth had finished her True Demonification over Arachne's body, transforming her appearance into an even bigger, monstrous form.

Although she was interrupted and was incapable of fully transforming thanks to the attacks from Allan, Shade, and Arafunn, the power she acquired from her half-assed True Demonification was more than enough for her to exude a better part of her divine powers, now combined with the Demonic Energy of the True Demons from another Dimension.

"Hahahah... This is fantastic! The power of the corrupted ones, all those we left behind..." Laughed Lolth. "To think they would be so strong, so powerful! Why have I been neglecting this might this entire time? God of Dungeons, you're truly a genius sometimes, I have to admit it!"

Her words sent shivers down everybody's spines, the skies themselves became scarlet red, black clouds gathered around everybody else. The ground itself started to distort, showing countless screaming faces, the presence of many demonic entities exuded from Lolth's vessel.

To unleash True Demonification, she had to fuse with over a hundred True Demon Souls, souls which she had slowly gathered over the course of many years. And at long last, her vessel has undergone the transformation, making it much more capable of fitting her Divine Powers within.

And even more, boost her Divine Powers with the Demonic Energy of these threatening beings, the True Demons!

"What is she talking about?!" Sylphy thought. "She said demons are... those they left behind? Corrupted ones?!"

Although the situation was dire, Sylphy immediately started to think what Lolth had said. This entire time she believed the Gods and the True Demons were completely unrelated beings, and that the God of Dungeons was simply capable of bringing them here thanks to his powers.

"If they're somehow related, or they're the same... species, does that mean that they only called the original inhabitants of this planet "Demons" because they thought they looked like the True Demons from wherever they came from?!" Sylphy only grew more confused and intrigued.

But she quickly realized this was simply not the time to worry about such things at all, even less in this time, when a True Demonified Mortal Vessel holding almost half the Divine Soul of an Evil Goddess was right in front of her and everyone else!

The Domain she created was destroyed and so the rest of the Swarm, and they could easily run away... But was that even possible while being in front of such a monster?

TRUUUMMM...!

A huge shockwave of Demonic and Divine Energy combined together erupted from Lolth's body, the surroundings felt distorted, as if Mana itself was having a hard time even existing, everyone else, even including Sylphy, felt exhausted, as if their bodies had become much heavier.

Ding!

[The power of the [True Demonic Divinity Aura] has distorted the boundaries of reality itself! Mana has grown weaker due to the higher-level energies within the surroundings.]

[Magic Conjunction Cost has increased by +500%, Magic Spells and Techniques Power has decreased by 60%. All Foe Stats have decreased by -40%.]

[You feel an indescribable pressure over your soul and body, you cannot easily move.]

Chapter 872 The Power Of The Heroes

Although mostly everyone noticed the effects of the Aura of Demonic Divinity, Sylphy and the rest of the System Wielders were able to see what was happening through the System Notifications.

Ding!

[The power of the [True Demonic Divinity Aura] has distorted the boundaries of reality itself! Mana has grown weaker due to the higher-level energies within the surroundings.]

[Magic Conjunction Cost has increased by +500%, Magic Spells and Techniques Power has decreased by 60%. All Foe Stats have decreased by -40%.]

[You feel an indescribable pressure over your soul and body, you cannot easily move.]

"Its negating magic power to such an extent?!" Aquarina screamed, gritting her teeth as she could barely move her body below the pressure.

"Urgh..." Furoh had fallen from the floor the moment Lolth transformed, slowly, his wyvern body shapeshifted into his primal appearance, that of a mass of tentacles and eyes.

"M-Magic Conjunction Cost increased? And Magic Spells power has decreased?! A-And our stats decreased too!" Lara panicked. "The Spirits... They are not answering to me, they're afraid!"

"L-Lara! Stay behind... me! Argh! F-Fuck!" Luck screamed, slowly standing up while gripping his golden claws and glancing at the titan in front of them.

"I can't even feel my own Mana..." Celeste sighed. "This power... It is even stronger than the True Demons summoned in Eastgrain...?!"

"My golems are dead?!" Celica cried. The distortion of mana made her golems instantly collapse, incapable of moving without mana properly coursing through their bodies.

"Ouch, my body hurts... I can't... move..." Mist started falling unconscious on the floor.

"MIST!" Zack screamed, running to his side, barely forcing his own body to move.

"Sylphy, the Yggdragon Aura was dispelled!" Aquarina cried. "Is this why Mist is being affected this much?!"

"Most likely, I'm trying my best to conure it again but this power is even cancelling skills to an extent!" Sylphy screamed, gritting her teeth. "D-Dammit!"

FLAAASH!

The Yggdragon Aura finally emerged as her Spirits all channeled their powers together with hers, fusing back into her Soul Scape, it looked much weaker than before, but it quickly encompassed everyone with the Green Aura of Protection and Healing.

Even if its cost had been increased exponentially, Sylph had infinite Mana, so that wasn't really a problem, however, its effects had been decreased by over half of their original effects.

"Ugh..." Mist slowly opened her eyes as she was being protected by Sylph's Yggdragon Aura.

At the same time, Allan, Shade, and Arafunn were also struggling, although they had yet to fall on their knees, their Relics encompassed their bodies with powerful Auras capable of resisting some of the pressure.

"This bitch...!" Allan groaned in anger, trying to conjure his magic powers, but failing to do so properly. "Ugh...!"

"She's even weakening the connection with our own Spirits?!" Shade muttered. "Umbra, don't stop covering my body with your veil!"

"To think undergoing a failed True Demonification would bring her to this level of power... I can't even imagine how much stronger she would be if we hadn't interrupted her midway through!" Arafunn sighed.

"Fufufu, it is really amusing to see you all despair this much!" Lolth laughed. "After you talked and acted so cocky before... Now look how pathetic you all are! Now, I'll quickly eliminate all of you at once!" I think you should take a look at

She raised all her arms into the skies, as the six Void Spears that Arachne possessed, which were originally only a single soul spear named Ginnungagap merged together alongside a large quantity of her concentrated demonic and divine energy, materializing into a titanic, red colored spear of over a hundred meters of height.

Such a long, sharp piece of metal could easily slice through a whole mountain. Everybody glanced at the scene in utter disbelief, and even with Sylphy's incredible achievements through her life, seeing such a sight quickly made her realize how weak she truly was...

FLAAAASH!

"[Divine Soul Weapon Materialization: Fate-Tearing Spear: Neo Ginnungagap]!"

The spear floated in midair, beginning to spin and generating a tremendous quantity of power, as it was pointed at everyone else... Whatever this spear were to hit, it would all blow up to pieces, everyone was more than sure about such a fact.

"DIE!"

With a furious roar filled with frustration and anger, Lolth shoot her gigantic spear towards Sylphy and her friends, the speed in which the spear came was so overwhelming that Sylphy simply knew she would not be able to catch it before everyone were to get completely decimated!

CRAAAAAAASSH!

BOOOOOOMMM...!

RUMBLE!

A huge impact followed by a tremendous explosion, and then the entire world around them shaking, trembling as if the planet itself was screaming in agony before the might of such a destructive weapon.

"Hahaha... HAHahaha!" Lolth laughed. "You're done for now! Whatever Blessings you held; it means nothing before the power of a Goddess! Now-"

"Don't... proclaim victor so easily, you damn monster!" Allan's voice echoed amidst the smoke.

"We're not done yet... Not... YET!" Shade roared.

"Hah... Ugh... You'll have to do much more than this to stop us!" Arafunn laughed.

"You're ALIVE?!"

Lolth's red eyes glanced in utter fury as she saw all three heroes unleashing their strongest magical powers and spiritual abilities together into their bodies, becoming huge entities made of fire, shadows, and winds, holding the whole weapon from hitting the children behind them.

Allan's body resembled a huge titan made of flames, the appearance of all his Spirits combined together could be seen across his blazing body.

Shade had become a specter of shadows, with many red eyes, tentacles of abyssal darkness, and long, sharp claws.

And Arafunn resembled a divine fairy spirit, with big, butterfly-like wings and long green hair, his body made of spiraling heavenly winds.

This was a new form Sylphy nor any of the kids had ever seen before, and the Heroes' literal last resort, their trump card they used against the Demon King, back then when they were much stronger before growing "rusty" after resting and not continuing their training and cultivation.

These forms were something that beings above Tier 10 in both Physique and Magic Circle could achieve, something that not even Arachne who was only Tier 10 in her physique could not use.

This was... [Spirit Soul Fusion].

Chapter 873 A Completely Different Level

It was thanks to their Divine Relics that the three heroes were able to undergo this transformation without a major backlash, as such ancient relics were much stronger than they were and supplemented the power they lacked to continue on this form for longer than just a couple of seconds.

"T-Those forms..." Sylphy glanced at her father and the other two heroes with eyes shining in excitement and awe.

"They're... what are they?" Aquarina asked.

"It is as if they became the elements they embody, and... they fused with their own spirits as well? All of them at once!" Celeste was shocked. "I can't believe they didn't use such power back then..."

"Is this what the heroes are truly capable of?" Lara asked. "I-It feels like... they became something like gods... And spirits."

"Amazing... This battle, it's just something we can't even fathom ourselves." Luck sighed, feeling powerless.

"For now, we need to slowly retreat." Sylph said. "Let's not make the time our parents have bought go to waste!"

Sylphy wasn't being cowardly but was thinking that if they moved away from the Aura that Lolth exuded to an extent, their skills and magics might be not as weakened, giving them a chance to strike back, or something... anything.

"If Nephilim was here..." Sylphy thought. "No, even if she's here... She wouldn't be able to stand against Lolth."

Nephilim was her strongest Familiar, someone capable of one-shotting those incredibly strong golems back then, yet now, Sylphy realized that she would never be able to stand a chance against Lolth, maybe against Arachne as she was, but this time, it was a completely different deal altogether.

A realm beyond her comprehension, beyond her reach... This was, as Zack said, a battle where they could simply not interfere, it was a battle between titans!

"So you've stopped my attack, not a big deal." Lolth smiled. "Whatever new forms you've taken, it means nothing before my Divine Power!"

Lolth leaped towards battle, moving her gigantic body, and shaking the entire world around her, quickly grabbing her Spear, and taking it away from the heroes, who were only about seventy meters each, not as titanic as her own height.

"Heroes! I will KILL you now, NO MATTER WHAT!"

With the might of a goddess combined with the power of a true demon, she unleashed a barrage of world-ending strikes, shaking the entire landscape and shattering it into countless pieces.

CRASH! CRASH! CRASH! CRAAASH! RUMBLE!

The three heroes barely managed to evade some of the tremendous blows by flying around the skies as fast as possible, their strength and magical power brought to their limits as they underwent their Spirit Soul Fusions.

However, alone they would still not be able to catch up and had to rely on a lot into their Divine Relics. Allan was the first to intercept her blows, bravely descending towards Lolth to give time for Shade and Arafunn to find a spot they could attack.

"Alright Agni, don't disappoint me now, friend!"

"Do your best, Allan! For the kids!"

"RAAAAAAH!"

Allan and Agni's roars combined together, as the Divine Sword grew several times larger, reaching a size of over fifty meters, which was actually the sword's real height and appearance!

While swinging his sword several times against Lolth's blows, the dragon-shaped aura of Agni emerged behind Allan, fusing into his body as an additional materialized red draconic armor, boosting his strength even more.

SLASH! SLASH! SLAAASH! CRASH! CRASH! CRAAASH!

With each slash of his gigantic sword, enormous draconic claws fell from his own aura, impacting Lolth's strikes and pushing her back several times! Allan was gritting his teeth, flying by using his Phoenix Wings as he channeled the magic of Ifrit and Salamander together as one.

"[Eternal Celestial Nova]!" I think you should take a look at Summoning a gigantic sphere of concentrated divine flames and plasma together, Allan conjured the advanced version of his Spell Celestial Nova, now called Eternal Celestial Nova!

Conjuring this was already exhausting by itself, but it was even more now with the magic-weakening effects of Lolth's very presence!

"HUH?!"

Lolth watched in awe as the sphere of plasma and flames descended from the skies and impact her strongly, making the world tremble around her, the flames disrupted her aura to a small extent, burning through her armor and even her soul.

BOOOOOOMMMM...!

"T-Tch!" Lolth groaned, gathering her Divine Authority into her claws, and summoning a large black hole.
"[Abyssal All-Consuming Void]!"

TRUUUUUMMM...!

Allan was disrupted by the emerging black hole, but with all his strength, he slashed it away, destroying it and stopping it from absorbing his mana and life force.

SLAAAAASH!

"That... won't stop me!" Allan roared furiously, clashing against Lolth once more, as she furiously conjured more and more of those [Abyssal All-Consuming Voids] while swinging her spear against him!

CLASH! CLASH! CLASH! CRAAASH!

Although Allan was already reaching his limits due to the Demonic Divine Aura disrupting his energies and weakening him severely, he simply couldn't give up.

Even if he had to use his own Life and Soul, he had to keep fighting, to end this threat before everything he loved were to be taken away from him.

And Shade and Arafunn shared such thoughts!

"Y-You're seriously so annoying, you pitiful FLY!" Lolth lost her composure, unleashing a barrage of space-tearing strikes with her enchanted divine soul weapon. "[Dimensional Void Quasar]!"

TRUM! TRUM! TRUM! TRUM! TRUM!

Each strike with her spear distorted and shattered space itself, pushing Allan even more as he had to both intercept her dimensional-piercing attacks and protect his own life.

All his flames and spiritual magic was being concentrated into his Divine Weapon, as Agni feed on his energies to unleash stronger claw attacks, breath attacks, and dragon meteors.

BOOM! BOOM! BOOM! BOOM! BOOOM!

And it was in this moment, when Lolth was concentrated solely on Allan, that Shade and Arafunn finally struck, appearing from her left and right side, and piercing through her barriers and armor!

"[Abyssal Demonic Soul Slash]!"

"[Celestial Heaven's Tempest]!"

Unleashing improved, evolved versions of their strongest techniques and spells, a slash of all consuming darkness and a tempest of divine winds descended over the distracted Lolth!

BOOOOOOMMMM!!!

Chapter 874 She's Not Alone

When Lolth was concentrated solely on Allan, Shade and Arafunn finally attacked, finding the ideal opportunity to strike her with everything they had as she lowered her guard to any external attack aside from Allan's.

Appearing from her left and right side and piercing through her barriers and armor, Shade and Arafunn on their monstrous and majestic Soul Spirit Fusion appearances, attacked with everything they had.

"[Abyssal Demonic Soul Slash]!"

"[Celestial Heaven's Tempest]!"

Unleashing improved, evolved versions of their strongest techniques and spells, a slash of all consuming darkness and demonic power and a tempest of divine winds and celestial spiritual energy descended over the distracted Lolth!

BOOOOOOMMMM!!!

The combined blow wasn't something she could even fend off! Her barriers shattered, her armor broke, her wounds spread further, and she was incapable of healing completely yet. Thanks to the heroes powerful concentrated elements through their current forms, wounds were infected by their elements, and were made harder to recover.

"Urgh...! RATS!"

Lolth screamed in agony as she quickly moved her gigantic body around, unleashing a barrage of slashing claw attacks against Arafunn and pushing him away, while a dozen black holes emerged and attacked Shade, all while her spear kept intercepting and trying to pierce through Allan's body.

CRASH! CRASH! CRASH! BOOM! BOOM! BOOM!

Despite the damage she took, her huge body, many arms, and her incredibly sharp senses made her an amazingly powerful foe that all three heroes had to fight against at the same time.

If they had with them the rest of the Hero Party, including their main healer, buffer, and barrier master, Faylen, things would be much different, but in this case, it was just the three of them against Lolth.

Although in normal circumstances they would have a greater chance... With the Aura that Lolth exuded, that was out of the question. Their attacks were slowly becoming slower.

As Shade destroyed the black voids sent at him and unleashed a barrage of soul-consuming slashes, his body became slower. As Arafunn released as many tempestuous winds as he could, his body felt heavier. And as Allan continued clashing against her, trying to find a spot to strike and deal fatal damage, his life and soul were being rapidly consumed.

"You're getting slower!" Lolth laughed. "What's wrong?! Need a hand?!"

Her enormous fists landed over Arafunn's wind-made body, as he quickly dispersed himself, evading the strikes, only for a rain of dark meteors to fall over his body the moment he reconstructed himself into a physical form!

BOOM! BOOM! BOOM! BOOM! BOOM!

"Uuuuarrgh...!"

His songs were barely helping the other two with its buffing effects, but the Aura Lolth exuded was too powerful, and he simply couldn't weaken it, no matter how hard he tried.

"ARAFUNN!"

Allan screamed, his mind suddenly flashing with the memories of his comrades dying in the past, one after another, gruesomely.

"Do you still have the time to think about other's lives, when yours is soon to perish?!"

Lolth instantly stepped forward, the Evil Goddess summoned countless divine threads and wrapped them around his Divine Sword, pushing the weakened and slower Allan down, the flames of the sword barely able to burn her threads a little.

"You're all pathetic ANT at the end! You will never be able to fight a mighty god! No matter how hard you try, no matter how strong you'll grow! Slaves will always be SLAVES!"

Her huge legs started falling over Allan, like countless metallic spears, piercing Allan's soul and body and leaving countless holes within!

CRASH! CRASH! CRASH! CRASH!

"Gruuuuaaaarrggh...!"

A scream of agony echoed across the barren landscape, as the desperate aura of Shade surged from behind Lolth, his shadows wrapping around her body, and stopping her movements!

"Even if we were born as slaves, we are more than THAT!"

Shade quickly tried to pierce her armor and reach her soul, to infect it with curses, only for Lolth to smile, her entire body suddenly exuding a bright red light!

"Yeah, I guess you're more than just slaves, you're trash. [Demonic Light]!"

FLAAAAAASSSSH!

"Aaaaaarrghh!"

Shade felt the light pierce through his entire body, dissipating large chunks of his own mass and shattering his soul piece by piece. Lolth immediately swung her spear, piercing his body with it and then kicking Allan away while blasting him with a huge black hole.

CRAAAAASH!

BOOOOOMM!!!

Both heroes were thrown away, falling over the landscape, their elemental bodies, much like that of Arafunn, were slowly dissipating into nothingness...

"A-Arggh..." Allan muttered. "N-No...!"

"Is this all... we can do?!" Shade cried. "F-Fuck!"

"At least... the children got away..." Arafunn sighed in relief. "It wouldn't be... so bad... to go with my friends..."

Already accepting their fate, the mighty heroes faced sure death, as Lolth glanced down at them from above, her spear beginning to spin, gathering Void Energy and Divine Power.

"You will die by my hands..." Lolth laughed. "And-"

"I should had done this from the beginning..." Sylphy sighed. "But I really needed to catch a breath first."

TRUUUUUMMMM...!

"H-Huh?!"

Lolth was interrupted by the words of an insignificant ant, as her multiple eyes glanced at the origin of that voice, Sylphy smiled confidently back at her.

The girl's body exuded a powerful energy like she had never felt before. No, it was more like she had become a vacuum, the surrounding Aura around Lolth started flying towards her, as a black hole opened in the middle of her chest, absorbing her powerful Aura that made everything so difficult for the heroes and so advantageous for her!

Not only the surrounding atmosphere was being absorbed, but even Lolth's own aura, her spear started becoming weaker as a result.

"W-What...?! What's happening?!"

"My powers...! They're growing weaker?!" Lolth screamed in shock, the three heroes slowly started to feel slightly less pressured by her existence, yet they were too wounded to move.

"S-Sylphy..." Allan muttered, glancing at his daughter. "What... what are you doing? Escape... Please...!"

"You cannot fight her even with this!" Shade screamed.

"You reckless girl...!" Arafunn cried.

"Foo!"

"Fwah?"

"Ooh!"

Suddenly, as the heroes muttered those words, they realized that their huge bodies were surrounded by thousands of tiny, bright colored creatures.

They were Spirits of the World!

"Don't worry, she's not alone." Lara's voice echoed behind the heroes. "[Spirit Fusion]!"

FLAAAAASH!

Thousands of spirits fused into the heroes bodies, as Lolth could had never seen this coming!

Chapter 875 The Power Of [Demon Eater] And [Soulmancer]!

Sylph and her Friends had made sure to move far away from within the range of Lolth's Divine Demonic Aura, where their magic power was not as disrupted anymore. They had to run so far away from the battle that their parents had fully thought they had ran away and would not come back.

Already happy that the kids managed to escape safely, they were already giving up on life, a battle they could not win due to the indestructible might that Lolth held within a vessel she prepared for many years.

However, the trio of heroes quickly realized that their children had not forgotten them. Once they were far enough from the range of Lolth's Aura, without even hesitating, they decided to act, perhaps not fighting head-on, but helping however they could.

"My powers...! They're growing weaker?!"

Loth couldn't help but shake in horror and awe as she felt her Aura being absorbed, severely weakening compared to before! All the powerful debuffs in the air were almost completely gone.

And the source of all of this change was her, Sylph!

The annoying brat that always felt like she had several trump cards below her sleeve, not even the Gods themselves could fathom what was inside of her mind at times.

The heroes felt their bodies losing the enormous pressure they were under, but the damage on their souls and bodies was already done, and they couldn't properly move nor escape from their fate even with this help.

However, such thoughts quickly disappeared the moment they realized thousands of tiny spiritual beings started popping out of the ground, from red, to green, to blue and brown color, emanating a relaxing, healing aura over their bodies.

They were Spirits of the World!

"W-What is this?! Spirits!" Allan opened his eyes wide, seconds before he noticed the presence of three children near them.

When Sylph cleansed the battlefield from Lolth's toxic Aura of Demonic Divinity, Lara, Luck, and Aquarina appeared to aid the heroes! Lara raised her Spiritual Scepter into the skies, channeling all her Mana and Magic Power into it.

"Don't worry, she's not alone. We're all here!" Lara's voice echoed behind the heroes. "[Spirit Fusion]!"

FLAAAAASH!

Thousands of spirits fused into the heroes bodies, as Lolth could had never seen this coming! The spirits became like a wave, a sea of spiritual essence, merging with Allan, Shade, and Arafunn at once!

But how could it be possible for spirits to fuse with people? Well, Lara recalled what Sylph had told her seconds before they decided to do this plan.

"This might only be a hypothesis, and we'll be gambling it... But it might be possible for you to restore our parent's strength to an extent, Lara! As long as you fuse your spirits with their bodies in their current states!"

"In their current states...?! Wait, you mean because they feel like they've become spirits?!"

"They have already fused with their own spirits, it shouldn't be too hard to do it again with yours, right? This Spirit Soul Fusion forms they have taken... They could be healed with your magic! ...Maybe."

"It's a gamble I'm willing to take!"

"Good, Luck, Aquarina, you'll accompany and protect Lara!"

"B-But I want to stay at your side!"

"No, Aquarina, go with her! I'll be fine, I promise you."

Those memories emerged within Lara's mind as her eyes glowed with rainbow light, her Saintess Aura exuding brightly, as the Spirits of the World manifested themselves to her limits!

"W-What is happening?!" Lolth screamed. "YOU! The pitiful lamb! Is this your doing as well?!" I think you should take a look at Lolth quickly grabbed her gigantic spear, attempting to attack her. Luck and Aquarina rushed in front of Lara, ready to block that attack no matter what.

But the Evil Goddess had grown weaker and slower, in that time it took her to grab the Divine Soul Spear, the mass of rainbow spiritual essence was already taking shape!

Allan, Shade, and Arafunn were completely gone, as what remained of them was converged together into a single entity thanks to the Spirits of the World patching them together like glue.

Their souls... became one!

"W-Wha...?!"

Lolth couldn't help but take several steps back as she glanced at the rainbow, spiritual titan that was born from this unprecedented fusion! An Aura of not only Spiritual Energy, but a faint hint of Divinity was exuding from within the titan's form.

"I-I never thought... it could be so ridiculous." Sylphy glanced at the scene in disbelief.

Behind her were the rest of her friends, Zack, Mist, Celica, and Celeste, touching her arms with their hands and imbuing their Magic Power into hers, increasing the amount of Demonic Energy Sylph could temporarily seal inside of her body through her Demon Eater Job Class Ability.

However, she had a Subclass as well... And perhaps this Subclass ability effects were what made the fusion between the heroes souls and the spirits of the world so strong and big.

Ding!

[The effects of the [Soulmancer: ★★] Subclass have been activated! An [Aura of Soul Bending Magic] has bound and temporarily healed the targeted souls you've chosen.]

[Temporarily, their Soul Strength, Soul Vitality, Soul Resilience, and Soul Defenses have been enhanced by +250%!]

Sylphy targeted the Souls of Allan, Shade, and Arafunn alongside her own, so she could better bear with the burden of absorbing this ridiculous amount of Demonic Energy all by her own!

FLAAAAASH!

The titan quickly took shape, after only resembling a slightly humanoid mass of ethereal rainbow flames, it took the shape of a metallic giant, whose ethereal rainbow flames materialized into a beautiful armor with countless, intricate decorations resembling the characteristic of all the spirits the heroes had made a contract with.

Two huge, armored arms, powerful legs, and a head with a helmet shaped like a ferocious dragon. And above all, a huge rainbow jewel, a crystallization of their souls, in the middle of their chest, protected by their armor.

And all three Relics converged with the spirits and their souls, forming a huge sword made of ethereal rainbow flames.

"Is this... us?" Allan's voice echoed.

"Impressive..." Shade was amazed.

"T-This feels a bit weird... Are we... fused?!" Arafunn was shaken.

"W-What sort of trick is this?! Some sort of illusion?" Lolth screamed. "Do you really think I'll fall for such a feeble demonstration of your weakness?!"

Her spear quickly flew towards the rainbow titan, only for their blazing sword to quickly intercept her attack and push her away with tremendous strength!

CRAAAASH!

"Ungh?! Impossible...!"

Lolth gritted her mandibles, as she saw the titan instantly move, attacking her with a barrage of unpredictable blows, combining the mastery of both Allan and Shade together.

CLASH! CLASH! CLASH! CRAAASH!

"T-These techniques! And this power...!"

The Evil Goddess immediately knew this was not a mere illusion, it was reality, a reality she didn't want to ever believe!

"Yeah, Lolth! This is the real deal!" Allan, Shade, and Arafunn's voices converged together as once, their roar of bravery echoing across the continent.

Chapter 876 Heroes United

"I-It's working...!" Zack cried in excitement.

"T-They're really back up?! And fused together!" Mist cheered.

"Woow!" Celica couldn't even say a word due to her surprise.

"So this was your plan all along?! What a ridiculous power..." Celeste laughed.

"It's really working..." Sylph smiled. "Ugh...!"

She suddenly fell to her knees, as she felt a strong pain in her soul, even by boosting it with her Subclass Ability, it was not going to be enough if she kept this up for much longer.

"Sylphy!" Mist cried, trying to heal her.

"Are you alright?!" Zack asked.

"I'm fine..." Sylph smiled. "I can hold for a bit longer... Dad, I know you can do this!"

The battle between two titans was reflected on Sylphy's bright emerald eyes, their blows making the ground shake and the heavens tremble.

Combining their wills, souls, and power together, they became one, a demigod among mortals, which even the Gods within the High Heavens felt their presence, even if faintly!

"RAAAAAAH!"

With a furious combined roar, the Rainbow Titan stepped forwards, swinging his sword dozens of times, vertically and horizontally, continuously attempting to break Lolth's already weakened guard.

CLASH! CLASH! CLASH! CLASH! CRAAASH!

Unlike before, each of their strikes held a tremendous heavy weight to them, and with each successful blow, an explosion of Spiritual Rainbow Flames would cover the Evil Goddess' body, burning it and weakening her even further.

Crack, crack, CRACK!

"Uurrgh! My armor!" Lolth screamed, seeing as her armor started gaining countless cracks and breaking apart slowly. "Why?! Why are they so strong?! They only combined together with some feeble spirits! How come they can be this powerful?!"

The Spider Goddess was gazing through a concept she could simply not understand, the unification of their wills and souls together as one, a spiritual harmony that could only be achieved by shared beliefs and emotions.

"It must be THEM!" Lolth thought, while conjuring countless barriers that were easily shattered into pieces one after another, as she glanced at Lara and Sylph. "Those girls strange powers are boosting their strength this much! I'll end their lives and devour their blessings, whatever powers they have will be mine!"

She quickly unleashed over thirty All-Consuming Voids towards the fused heroes, while leaping directly towards Sylph, pointing her spear at her.

"DIE, YOU PEST! [Grand Void Quasar]!"

TRUUUUMMMM...!

Her red spear was boosted with a powerful spacetime-distorting veil of pure void, making everything it pierced tremble and have their very molecular compositions being destroyed.

CRAAAAAASSSH!!!

However, a shadow emerged right below her, as the Rainbow Titan emerged in front of her through that shadow, one of Shade's special abilities, Shadow Sneak!

"What?!"

Lolth gritted her mandibles, furiously glancing at the titan intercept her attack with their rainbow sword, her spear suddenly gaining countless cracks!

"[Shield Form]!"

As if they knew how to use their new powers from the beginning, the heroes roared, the sword instantly turned into a beautiful shield made of rainbow dragon scales, with a big metallic dragon head in the middle.

"ROOOOAARR!"

The dragon roared with the voice of Agni as it was impacted by Lolth's Spear, the energy it took from the impact was quickly unleashed back, in a similar fashion than Sylphy's Living Shield, Sapphire's ability.

FLAAAAAASSSH!

A mass of rainbow light in the shape of a ferocious dragon emerged, coiling around the Evil Goddess, and burning both her vessel and soul together!

"S-Such bright light! IT BURNS! IT BURNNNSSSSS! GRYYYYAAAAAH!"

With a scream of both agony and frustration, Lolth quickly reinforced her body with whatever leftover energy she had, erupting with a dark red aura which destroyed the rainbow light dragon coiling around her body.

"RAAAAAH!"

With a furious, monstrous roar, her countless claws fell over the Rainbow Titan, while one of her hands held the scarlet spear and fired it towards Lara, giving up on Sylph.

BAAM! BAAM! BAAM! BAAM!

However, her attacks couldn't even break through the armor of the Rainbow Titan, only letting out sparks due to the tremendous friction.

"Oh no, you won't!"

And a second later, the Rainbow Titan's arm extended several hundreds of meters, grabbing the red spear and coiling around it, shattering it into pieces!

Crack, CRACK...! CRAAASH!

"W-What?!"

Loth glanced at the scene in utter disbelief, a second before a blazing fist hit her face, pushing her down into the floor!

"G-GET AWAY FROM MEEEE!"

With a furious, frustrated scream, the Evil Goddess let go of all her magic at once, a huge blast of darkness emerged from her open, spider-like mandibles at once.

TRUUUUUMMM...!

"URGH?!"

The desperate beam pierced through all three of their souls, leaving a terrific wound across their armor! The children suddenly were shocked, stepping back in horror.

"Hah... HAHHAHA!" Lolth laughed. "You were already too weakened! Your transformation's strong, but you cannot fight against-"

"That's enough."

FLAAAASH!

An arc of light pierced the red skies and the black clouds, a gentle atmosphere of divinity permeated the surroundings. Sylphy's green eyes glanced into the skies as two figures emanating tremendous quantities of Magic Aura appeared!

One of them was a beautiful blonde-haired elf, with emerald, green eyes, wearing a white, Saintess robe covered on golden armor, and holding a pair of angelic wings on her back, while holding a Divine Golden Staff.

And at her side, a muscular giantess of a woman seemed to be covering the sun's light with her wide shoulders, her beautiful face and her bright brown skin showcased the origin of her lineage, as she wore an armor made of bright crystals and ores, while holding a Divine Hammer.

"MOM?!"

"YOU?!"

"FAYLEN?!"

Sylph, Lolth, and Allan reacted in a similar way, taken aback by the appearance of the Saintess, alongside her protector and friend, Nepheline, the Heroine of the Rock Hammer.

The arc of light hit Lolth instantly, bolting her entire body with holy light and burning her soul to her limits! Her body could no longer take any more damage, collapsing on the ground at the same time as Faylen and Nepheline flew down towards the wounded Rainbow Titan.

"We came here the moment we felt Lolth's descent, this is not something you can fight by yourselves!" Faylen said. "Even when... your appearance is quite peculiar."

"Nepheline, you're here as well...!" Shade's voice echoed.

"I can't believe you fused with everyone! What the hell's going on?!" Nepheline asked.

"GRAAAAAAH!"

However, they had little time for chatting, Lolth was not done yet. The corpse of Arachne was no longer a suitable vessel, but because she denied going back to where she came from, half of her divine soul possessed the miasma-infected ground, suddenly surging from below as a monstrous miasmatic golem, devouring whatever was left of Arachne.

"I WON'T DIE YET! I WILL NEVER PERISH AGAINST MERE MORTALS!!!"

With a frustrated scream, clearly showing that she didn't want to accept her defeat, the heroes, assembled once more, confronted her divine wrath.

"[Divine Healing Light]! [Soul Healing Celestial Light]!"

Faylen healed the fusion of the three heroes, who quickly got up the second after being healed, and instantly defended the two heroines with his own body from the titanic, over a hundred meters large fists coming from above!

BAAAM! BAAAM! BAAAM! BAAAM!

Chapter 877 A God's Resiliency

Having traveled to this area through her coveted Teleportation Spell, something that made her feared even by stronger magicians, Faylen healed the fusion of the three heroes, who quickly got up the second after being healed, and instantly defended the two heroines with his own body from the titanic, over a hundred meters large fists coming from above!

BAAAM! BAAAM! BAAAM! BAAAM!

The enormous fists were powerful, but Lolth had already lost most of her powers. This was nothing but a desperate struggle as she didn't wanted to give up no matter what. Ancient Gods were stubborn entities that would rather keep digging a hole to their deaths if that meant not hurting their pride.

"You've become bigger, but you're much weaker now, Lolth!" The combined voices of Allan, Shade, and Arafunn echoed, the Rainbow Titan swiftly got back up, leaping towards the giantess made of stone and miasma.

Their Blazing Rainbow Spirit Sword roared, channeling a powerful ethereal aura resembling a ferocious dragon, as they swung their weapon, cleaving through Lolth's gigantic golem-like vessel, which quickly started falling apart piece by piece!

CLASH! CLASH! CLASH! CRAASH! CRAASH! CRAASH!

"GRAAAAAH!"

Lolth screamed in frustration and anger, desperately regenerating more arms, and unleashing yet another barrage of attacks, she could not even channel magic any longer, only having her soul's strength and whatever she could possess as her vessel to fight.

BAAAM! BAAAM! BAAAM! BAAAM!

The gigantic stone fists were blocked by the sword, but more kept coming from left, right, and behind the Rainbow Titan! However, Nepheline and Faylen were there to cover their back.

"You're not getting through, you accursed goddess!" Faylen roared furiously, at long last showcasing her actual might after having been protected for so long before. "[Eternal Celestial Light Pillars]!"

FLAAASH! FLAAASH! FLAAASH!

Three celestial pillars of light descended from the sky and pierced the dark clouds, blasting the enormous stone arms and hands coming from the ground, one after another!

BOOOM! BOOOM! BOOOM!

"Heh, you're seriously using stone against the Hero that is a master of Earth?! You're a fucking idiot!" Nepheline laughed, hitting the ground with her enormous hammer. "[Mother Earth's Divine Wrath]!"

TRUUUUUUMMMM...!

The ground around her changed, as dozens of stone hands she summoned clashed against Lolth's stone hands, crushing them into smithereens one after another.

CRAASH! CRAASH! CRAASH!

"Looks like your tactics are becoming less effective, spider goddess!"

The Rainbow Titan roared, clashing against Lolth's main body, and slicing her apart into countless pieces one after another, while tanking some of her blows while Faylen and Nepheline covered their backs.

"RAAAAAH! YOU PESTS!!!"

"Take THIS!"

The Rainbow Titan imbued all their Magic power into their Rainbow Blazing Spirit Sword, slicing through the rest of the golem-like vessel, until it all crumbled apart!

BOOOOOOMMMM!!!

"Is it done?!" Zack asked.

"No, it's far from done yet!" Sylph said.

A moment of silent came, only for the heroes to remain in high alert. Lolth's divine soul was like a ghost, somewhere, she would appear again!

"GRAAAAH!"

The ground shook, as a black specter in the shape of a gigantic black spider emerged, groaning furiously and exuding a strong aura of divinity, infected with demonic energy. Without a vessel, Lolth should had already gone back to her body within her Divine Realm.

However, something was odd! And Faylen was the first to notice this.

"I see..." Faylen nodded. "The reason you can stay in the surface despite only being half of your own soul is due to the Demonic Energy! You've let that energy infect you so you could become some sort of spectral monster?! How insane are you, Lolth?!"

"MERELY HALF MY SOUL IS NOTHING TO PAY FOR REVENGE!"

Lolth roared, her spectral body quickly flying towards the Rainbow Titan, unleashing countless attacks combining divinity with demonic energy, even if no magic could be conjured, it was still half a goddess soul!

Her phantasmal body grew countless phantasmal claws, attacking the Rainbow Titan incessantly, trying to make up for the lack of strength with the quantity of attacks and relying on the demonic energy's corrosive powers.

CLASH! CLASH! CLASH! CRASH! CRASH! CRASH!

"Not enough!"

However, the heroes roared together, as the giant sword swung vertically against Lolth, slicing her into two and blowing both pieces with rainbow spiritual flames.

BOOOOM! BOOOOM!

"Uuurrgg...! Hah... HAHAHAA!"

However, Lolth kept laughing, her two halves quickly shapeshifted into monstrous spiders, attacking the Rainbow Titan from left and right!

"Seriously, what a persistent bitch!" Nepheline was extremely pissed off, as she hit the ground with her hammer, the earth around her being quickly assimilated. "[Mother Earth's Embodiment]! [Earth Titan Queen's Transformation]!"

FLAAAASH!

Nepheline unleashed one of her ultimate spells, the ability to merge with the ground itself and become a gigantic titan made of stone! This was achieved by fusing with the Queen of all Earth Spirits, which she had made a contract with.

TRUUUUMMM...!

Everyone glancing the scene, especially the younglings, were left speechless as they saw Nepheline emerge as a beautiful titaness made of stone, metals, and crystals, quickly rushing towards one of Lolth's halves and crushing it with her gigantic hammer.

CRAAAAASSSSH!!!

"GRYYYYAAAAEERRGHH...!"

Lolth screamed in agony, as her soul started to slowly burn into particles of light, the hammer that Nepheline wielded was fused with countless spirits, growing to an incredible size thanks to Lara and Sylphy's help.

"GRAAAAH!"

The Evil Goddess second half tried to free herself from Nepheline's attacks, spreading her body into countless tentacles and coiling around her stone arms, absorbing her energy and trying to slowly break her apart.

"You persistent bitch!"

Nepheline shapeshifted her body, as countless spikes of metals and crystals surged from her arms, piercing Lolth's soul and leaving countless wounds across!

CRASH! CRASH! CRASH! CRASH!

"URRGHH...!"

Despite the great damage she took, she persistently kept attacking Nepheline, both titans shaking the battlefield with their clash.

"You guys take care of the other half, don't slice it, crush it!" Faylen commanded, rushing down to aid Nepheline.

"GOT IT!" Allan, Shade, and Arafunn's voices roared at the same time, their sword shapeshifting into a giant spear instead.

"SHAAAAAH!"

The first half of Lolth hissed furiously, leaping towards the heroes!

BAAAAAM!

Chapter 878 Don't Mess With The Saintess

"She already lost her vessel, yet she keeps fighting back! Now she became some sort of specter too?!" Celeste asked.

"Just how insanely resilient are these damn god's souls?!" Zack asked.

"This is bad, Sylphy! If the fight keeps going on as it is, the fusion between your father and the heroes will run out of time!" Mist panicked.

"And we can't do anything..." Celica sighed.

"No, I think... we can do something." Sylph said. "Mom and Nepheline's presence have changed the tides of battle, there's a chance. Will you guys help me out?"

As Sylphy planned something, in the other side of the battlefield, Lara, Luck, and Aquarina constantly ran away from the tremors, while at the same time trying to remain close so Lara could assist the heroes with her spirits.

"Lara, we have to retreat further, we can't stay around this area, it is too dangerous!" Luck cried.

"But you said you would protect me, Luck!" Lara said. "I need to help the heroes... That Evil Goddess is too strong, even my little help will make the difference!"

"B-But...!" Luck felt worried. He didn't had enough confidence on his strength yet, even after having grown so strong.

"Calm down." Aquarina said, quickly summoning a large Sea Snake made out of water, which carried the two of them away. "It's gonna be fine, let's trust my parents! Sylphy's parents too, and her, of course!"

"Well, if you're so confident, I would feel bad if I didn't had some faith..." Luck sighed, smiling a bit.

The clash between literal titans continued even now. Lolth had been sliced in two, which ended multiplying her! Although both halves held a part of her powers, and were therefore weaker than her previous form, they were still dangerous, even as weakened as she was.

"SHAAAAH!"

The first half of Lolth leaped over the Rainbow Titan, this time, their blazing sword shapeshifted a long and refined spear, with the tip resembling a colorful rainbow gem.

"RAAAAH!"

The three fused heroes rushed forwards, striking Lolth's first half while she was in midair and piercing her body several times, leaving behind large wounds on her soul!

CLASH! CLASH! CLASH! CRAAASH!

Each strike also generated explosions of Rainbow Spiritual Flames, especially dangerous and lethal against Lolth's Divine Demonic Soul, yet her Soul Vitality and Defenses were incredible, tanking the hits while taking some damage, seemingly capable of keeping up with the Rainbow Titan with just sheer willpower.

"URGH! Those flames of yours...! I'LL TURN THEM OFF!"

She quickly turned into a slimy mass of divinity and demonic energy, evading the piercing spear strikes and moving behind the Rainbow Titan, her body quickly shapeshifted again into countless of enormous claws.

CRASH! CRASH! CRASH!

"[Shield Form]!"

However, the Rainbow Titan wasn't slow, half of their body turned into a gust of spiraling spiritual winds and quickly transformed the spear weapon into a huge shield, which ended tanking all the hits!

"S-Shit!"

Loth already knew what the shield would do, the moment it tanked all her hits, the energy accumulated was expulsed as a huge rainbow flame-made dragon emerged from the shield and engulfed the evil goddess' first half!

BOOOOOOMMMM!!!

"U-Urrgh...! I can't die...! I CAN'T!"

However, even as her body was blasted once more, and as she slowly lost more energy, she kept moving and fighting, quickly regenerating, and transforming into a gigantic, furious snake, coiling around the Rainbow Titan. I think you should take a look at

"SHAAAAH!"

"Looks like not having a vessel has made her even more resilient than before!" Allan's voice said.

"And if we cut her down, she'll multiply..." Shade's voice sighed.

"At this point, we need some way to completely get rid of her...! But do we even have enough energy for that?!" Arafunn's voice said.

The Rainbow Titan continued fighting her, grabbing her by her snake neck and then pushing her into the ground, constantly crushing her into the floor as she persistently transformed into a large spider again, covering their body with spiderwebs to restraint their movements.

"[Divine Dragon Meteor]!"

Allan had enough, channeling Agni's magic powers as the Rainbow Titan summoned a dozen meteors made of crystalized Rainbow Spirit Flames, bombarding Lolth's first half!

BOOM! BOOM! BOOM! BOOOOM!!!

"Urgh...! ARGH!"

Lolth was being held back by those blows, her body slowly beginning to dissipate, only for her to continue absorbing the miasma in the battlefield she left ruined, trying her best to remain alive, like a damn cockroach.

Meanwhile, in the other side of the battle, things weren't any different, Nepheline's giant form was pummeling Lolth's second half with countless stone-made fists and a huge hammer constantly trying to splatter her body, while Faylen fired arrows of light and pillars of celestial light against her.

CRASH! CRASH! CRAAASH!

BOOM! BOOM! BOOOOM!

"GRUUAAAAGH! I WON'T DIE! Fight... as HARD as you want, mortals! I am an immortal being! I cannot die so easily! As long as you don't have... DIVINITY!KAHAHAHAHA!"

Loth's second half mocked the heroes efforts, claiming to be immortal. However, she was merely buying time, she was also almost at her limits, completely relying on her own Divine Soul's incredible resilience to survive.

She knew their power wasn't endless either, the moment the heroes transformation were to end, their formation and pace would be broken, and she would swallow all three of them alongside the children, regaining her strength to defeat the other two heroines.

This was her plan, although she had to endure!

"RAAAAAH!"

With a roar befitting of a being that has lived hundreds of thousands of years, whose willpower could not be compared with that of mortals, or even elves, her second half shapeshifted, turning into a gigantic sword made of darkness and piercing Nepheline's arms, slicing them off!

SLAAAAAASSH!

"UNGH?!" Nepheline stepped back, her arms were made of stone and ores, but they were still connected to her nerves, the damage hurt as much as having her real arms cut down. "You bitch!"

She quickly tried to stomp her, only for the evil goddess second half to shapeshift into a snake and evade her strikes, quickly rushing towards Faylen!

"I'll take you down first, you annoying Saintess!"

With a furious leap, she reached Faylen, only to be blasted by hundreds of beams of light!

BOOM! BOOM! BOOM! BOOM! BOOOM!

"A-Argh...?!"

"Were you saying something?"

Chapter 879 It's Now Or Never!

"I'll take you down first, you annoying Saintess!"

With a furious leap, she reached Faylen, only to be blasted by hundreds of beams of light!

BOOM! BOOM! BOOM! BOOM! BOOOM!

"A-Argh...?!"

"Were you saying something?"

"GRRRHHH...!"

Loth's second half groaned, suddenly regenerating the wounds in her soul barely, by merely spending her own mass, and quickly shapeshifting into a sharp spear.

"DIEEE!"

CRAAAASH!

Her spear-shaped body ended being stopped by a near invisible barrier surrounding Faylen, the beautiful and delicate-looking Elven Saintess smiled.

"Do you think I wouldn't have some protection in case you jumped on me?!" Faylen roared. "Now, begone! [Celestial Palm]!"

A huge palm made of light emerged above Lolth's second half, pushing her down and crushing her powerfully. Her entire soul started to tremble against the divine light, her demonic energy was being purified constantly!

"RAAAH!"

With a monstrous roar, the evil goddess' second half became a monstrous, gigantic jaw, biting through the Celestial Palm and devouring it, as she attempted to escape from Faylen's beams.

"Where do you think you're going?!"

BAAAAAAMMM!

A huge hammer struck her down, however. The damage was severe, but once more, she kept regenerating, resilient like a filthy cockroach, the goddess had never been this humiliated before, but she was sure of it, she would make them all pay it eventually!

"GET OFF ME!"

With an annoyed scream, Lolth's second half shapeshifted into countless of fists, hitting Nepheline's hammer until it began shattering apart, and escaping her grip only for several spikes made of ores and crystals to surge from underground.

BOOM! BOOM! BOOM!

Her body was impaled more than a dozen times, yet she had yet to die! She twisted her body, absorbing the spells' mana to sustain herself, with a monstrous grin.

"You can't kill me... NO MATTER HOW HARD YOU TRYYYY!"

Laughing manically, she rushed towards her other half, trying to fuse again with her to regain some strength. She wanted to buy time but it was taking a bit too long already!

"Don't let her escape!" Faylen said.

"On it!" Nepheline rushed forwards.

Both Heroines constantly bombarded her with powerful magic and tried to restrain her with many spells, but Lolth's second half managed to merge with her other first half who had sneaked underground.

FLAAAASH!

"Hahahaha! You pathetic mortals!" She roared, taking the form of Arachne once more, as she plummeted Nepheline into the ground with countless fists.

CRAASH! CRAASH! CRAASH! CRAAAASH!

"SHIT!"

Nepheline fell into the floor, her titanic body beginning to crumble. Such a transformation also had a certain time limit, and she was about to meet it.

"[Celestial Palms]! [Eternal Celestial Light Pillars]!"

Faylen conjured two of her strongest offensive spells, as a dozen hands made of holy celestial light and powerful pillars of light descended from the sky, temporarily stopping Lolth from attacking Nepheline any further.

BOOOM! BOOOM! BOOOM!

"Tch! Annoying! You're like flies! SO ANNOYING!"

Lolth furiously destroyed Faylen's spells one after another, kicking her away with a powerful strike using her spider legs.

At the same time, the Rainbow Titan appeared from behind her, piercing her body with countless strikes using their Rainbow Spear. The powerful attacks pierced through her soul, but the soul simply regenerated back!

CRAASH! CRAASH! CRAASH!

"Heh... HAHAHAA! Too weak!" Lolth seemed to be slowly regaining more and more of her powers as she absorbed all the miasma in the underground and the landscape around her.

Her enormous body transformed into a mass of tentacles with countless spider-like eyes and mandibles, throwing itself over the Rainbow Titan and beginning to bite and tear down their ethereal body!

"Dammit!" Allan, Shade, and Arafunn's voices echoed. "[Chain Form]!!!"

FLAAASH!

The spear turned into a mass of spiritual, rainbow-colored chains, wrapping around Lolth's Divine Demonic Spectral Soul, temporarily restraining her, as her powers became even more weakened, though she was still attacking the Rainbow Titan, slowly chipping away at their life force and mana.

"Restraining me will do very little now!" Lolth laughed. "To think you got so many opportunities, yet I will STILL triumph! SEE?! This is the difference between mortals and gods!"

Her huge mandibles were about to cut through the crystalized souls of the heroes in their chest!

However...

"Stop right THERE!"

"ALLAN!"

Faylen and Nepheline rushed towards her. Nepheline grabbed several of her arms and pushed them away, stopping her from attacking, while Faylen constantly covered her body with bright, heavenly light, paralyzing her and weakening her even more.

"Uuurgh?! You two annoying pests! ARRGH! Let go of me!"

Lolth struggled, squirming her entire body, but incapable of completely freeing herself. However, she simply laughed, fully knowing this was all they could do at the end, restrain her until they were to run out of Mana, and then, she'll be able to feast on them anyways!

"Hahahah! Your attempts at defeating a divine being are laughable! You cannot win, no matter how hard you try!" Lolth laughed. "And above all, I've learned a new ability that my Demonic Powers have given to me!"

"HUH?!"

"ARGH!"

Nepheline and the fused heroes groaned almost at the same time, suddenly realizing their hands were slowly turning deep black, with circuits of the color of red and dark purple.

The Divine Demonic Soul of Lolth started to slowly parasitize their souls and absorb their energies much faster!

"T-This bitch has such a power?!" Nepheline screamed.

"S-Shit!" Allan, Shade, and Arafunn cried at the same time. "We have to- ARGH! Faylen! Run... Take the kids and RUN!"

"N-No... Dear, I cannot leave you behind!" Faylen cried. "I can't!"

"There's no need for that."

Suddenly, the voice they recognized very well resonated, right over the Rainbow Titan's chest, where Lolth's powers were infecting him, and where she was closer to the floor.

A young half-elf girl with red hair and emerald eyes glanced at the Evil Goddess with a face filled with conviction... and a reckless confidence.

"SYLPHY?! What are you doing?! RUN!" Faylen screamed. "Get away from there!"

"I'm not going to RUN!" Sylph roared, pointing her hands at Lolth. "You've weakened her enough... Now it's either this, or we all die! [Great Curse of the Devourer of the Abyss]!"

TRUUUUUMMM...!

A huge black hole emerged within Sylph's body, sapping the entire soul of Lolth inside!

"W-Wha...?! What is... THIS?!"

Not even the Evil Goddess could understand what was happening!

Chapter 880 Humanity's Victory

Thanks to the Powers of the Demon Eater Job boosting her ability to absorb demonic energy, she was able to do such a feat! She fused this power with her Job's Ability, alongside Mana Disruption and Bloodlust Swarm, generating a spiraling mass of darkness and red energy constantly absorbing and syphoning Lolth's entire soul.

The System as well had the innate ability to absorb souls and convert them into EXP, this was the System's primary function from the very beginning! Using this alongside the other abilities, combined together, Sylph decided to go beyond her own strength, and use this opportunity when Lolth lacked magic power and was in her last stand to eliminate her!

TRUUUUUMMM...!

The black hole continued absorbing her entire soul, bit by bit! Lolth didn't take this too kindly, thrashing around and trying to destroy the restraining chains, but that was futile, they were incredibly resilient thanks to Lara, who kept fusing spirits into them!

"Keep going, Sylphy! I trust in you!" Lara screamed.

"You can do it!" Luck said.

"Urgh...! I'm doing my best but...!" Sylph, however, was actually at her limits!

The amount of divine power and demonic energy that composed Lolth's Soul, even if it was just half of her original soul, was tremendous! Her small soul could simply not easily absorb all of its on its own, even as weakened as the Evil Goddess was.

"Sylphy...!" Allan cried.

"What is she doing?!" Faylen was shaken.

"Did she had such a power before?!" Nepheline's jaws dropped.

"She's syphoning the goddess soul?!" Shade asked.

"This can't be...!" Arafunn muttered.

Although everyone was in awe, they knew that Sylph was actually struggling. There was no way she could keep doing this for much longer. If only... she had some sort of ability, or the help to boost her abyssal and curse casting powers even more.

"Do you think you can do everything alone?!"

Suddenly, Aquarina appeared right behind Sylph.

"Aquarina?!" Sylph asked.

"Sylphy! I'll help! I kind of already know how this power of yours works, partially..." Aquarina said. "So take this, all of my Abyssal Energy at once!"

"Wait, what are you doing...?!"

Aquarina touched Sylph's shoulder as she transformed, undergoing her Abyssal Embodiment transformation, and then channeling all her Abyssal Energy into Sylph's body!

FLAAAASH!

The Curse immediately grew stronger!

"Uwaaaah! T-This power?!"

Ding!

[Due to the large quantity of Abyssal Energy being imbued into your body and soul, your [Great Curse of the Devourer of the Abyss] power and effects have been temporarily increased by +100%!]

[+130%]

[+170%]

[+200%]

[+240%]

[+280%]

It kept increasing constantly, Aquarina was giving all of her energies to Sylphy just for this moment! The results were immediate as well, the black hole grew in size, and more of Lolth was being absorbed.

"AAAAAARRGGHHH! GET AWAY FROM MEEEE...!"

Lolth struggled, trying to move as further from Sylph as she could, but the Rainbow Titan tightly grasped her, pushing her into the ground with their enormous arms, and Nepheline did the same, even as their arms were being infected by her demonic miasma.

"Attack her!" Sylph said. "The weaker she is, the easier this will get... done!"

"Got it!" The heroes didn't even doubt at this point Sylph's words, quickly bombarding Lolth with their strongest spells.

Meteors of rainbow spiritual flames fell over her body, giant spears made of diamonds pierced her body, and pillars of light burned her constantly.

BOOOM! BOOOM! BOOOM! BOOOM!

"T-This can't be...! I can't... I CAN'T LOSE... AGAINST... A CHILD!"

The Evil Goddess spread out her only free arm, trying to grab Sylphy and crush her with her almighty strength, only for a combination of many elements to fall over her arm and stop her!

"Divine Fusion Magic: [Primordial Elemental Genesis]!"

Fusing their magic together with all of Sylph's spirits except Alice, her friends Zack, Celica, Celeste, Mist, Lara, and Luck combined their power into a huge sphere of countless elements, crushing Lolth's arm!

BOOOOOOMMM!!!

"UAAARRGH! MY ARM...!"

The arachnid evil goddess watched in utter disbelief as her arm was completely destroyed by the attack, which even came with a huge explosion! And all while she was being attacked by all the heroes at the same time and restrained by countless spiritual chains.

The seconds passed, her body continued shrinking, and shrinking, and shrinking, until finally, she dissipated... completely!

"T-This... can't... be...!"

Incapable of understanding, nor being able to believe how all of this happened, Lolth ended having half her soul devoured by Sylph! Although it had been weakened so much that it was more like a quarter of it, it was a feat no God or Mortal could ever believe.

The Gods above the High Heavens felt shaken. What they saw... They simply couldn't understand. Sylph had not only become an enemy of all Evil Gods now, for sure, but even the Gods above the High Heavens started to see her... differently.

A possible threat to their very existences! A mortal that could devour gods!

Silence took over the battlefield. Everyone dropped half-dead on the ground, their energy almost completely exhausted. The fusion between Allan, Shade, and Arafunn ended just in time, as all three of the heroes separated.

Nepheline's titan body crumbled apart completely, as she slowly dragged herself towards her daughter and her daughter-in-law alongside Faylen, who helped her move her exhausted body.

With her healing magic, she healed the heroes, who also gathered around the two girls, glancing at them in disbelief.

Both Aquarina and Sylphy were fast asleep, what they did was so exhausting they might be sleeping for the next three days...

"Sylphy..." Faylen sighed. "I wonder... How lucky were we to have you as our daughter."

"Thank you." Allan sighed, kissing his daughter's forehead. "You were the real hero today, my little princess..."

"You did well, my warrioress." Nepheline smiled, carrying her daughter on her big arms.

"I couldn't be more proud." Shade nodded.

"Let's go back home, kids." Arafunn said, as he carried the rest of the kids, who were all unconscious after collapsing from exhausting using his winds.

"What we did today... Might go on history..." Allan laughed, looking into the starry night sky.

For the first time in history, mortals have triumphed against the gods.
