

A Glitched 961

Chapter 961 Spirit Energy

After Lara's help, Yggdra was finally able to come along with us through a Manifested Form, slightly resembling a fairy made of green-colored magic energy, looking rather similar to Alice herself, which was quite surprising.

Once Yggdra was able to move through this extension of her own soul, we were able to easily show her around with everyone else. They got to meet her and know her better, talking with her and learning from her life.

Currently, we were enjoying some snacks I had brought alongside fruits made by Yggdra while sitting below the shadow her branches and leaves created right at the side of her gigantic body.

"So you were really an Eden Apple Tree Sylphy grew?!" Zack asked in surprise. "It's insane how big you got!"

"Well, it was thanks to a special skill she possessed that I was able to develop this far. The Skill named [Agriculture]" She explained.

"There's such a normal-sounding skill?" Mist wondered. "Was that the Skill you had at the beginning, Sylphy?"

"Well..." I wondered if it was fine to be so open about these things, but I quickly realized it didn't matter much right now, seeing how everyone already had their Systems, and knew about many Skills.

"Yeah." I nodded. "I was only born with a few Skills; I think they were... three? One was simply [Ember], and then there was [Agriculture]." I explained. "Unlike you guys, I cannot level up. Nor acquire Skills normally through practice and stuff, I can only obtain them from something called Skill Evolution, or from items and rewards."

"Is it fine to tell them so much?" Alice whispered to me through telepathy.

"Yeah, I trust them more than anything, they're my best friends, and I really love them... So I think it's fine to be more open." I answered her.

"I see..." Aquarina nodded, understanding me better. "I have heard that Alice was rather... wounded at the beginning, is this the reason why your system is so different?"

"Kind of, her creations now are like flawless mini systems, they provide the basic functions such as leveling up and stuff, but aren't as complex as mine, heh." I smiled proudly.

"So, this [Agriculture] Skill sounds pretty lame, was it as lame as it sounds?" Zack wondered.

"Zack! Do you have to be so rude?" Mist gave him a slap on the head, although it didn't even hurt him because he was as tough as a rock.

"Hahaha, sorry." Zack laughed a bit.

"Don't worry, these original skills were all very lame, and weak. They were supposed to become stronger as they leveled up, but at the beginning I was unable to make Skills Level Up." I sighed. "So I was stuck with Level 0 Skills for years! And yeah, it might have been quite useless if it wasn't for the benefits they had compared to Spells, and also... Well, you know my System is Glitched, right? It means the numbers are frozen, that also means that my MP never runs out."

"S-So that's it!" Celeste said. "Is this the secret behind your infinite mana?!"lights

"I don't know if it truly influences everything completely, but it might have some sort of influence in why I seem to have a near endless source of Mana." I explained. "Though, having infinite mana doesn't mean having infinite power, if I overuse too much Mana, my soul and body start to take a lot of backlash damage... Very painful, it took me many years to slowly improve that aspect."

"Ouch, really?" Aquarina asked. "Ah, is this why you kept passing out when you used too much magic?! Aw, my poor little Sylphy..." She started hugging me and letting me rest my head on her chest.

"Yeah, it really hurt..." I cuddled with her, quickly realizing I was actually with everyone else. "Ahem! A- Anyways... Thanks to all that Mana I had, I used the Agriculture Skill, which is supposed to be able to enhance the growth of plants and boost their health and magic power to help Yggdra grow tremendously."

"So it seems, but it wasn't just an enhancement to my growth. Sylphy's Mana, since the very beginning, has been very special, it is filled with Spiritual Energy." Said Yggdra. "She helped me grow and develop a strong, spiritual soul... Since I sprouted out of my seed that I became a special kind of living being. Half a spirit, and half a plant monster, maybe."

"Amusing..." Celica was really interested. "I wonder how that works! Yggdra! Is my Mana with Spirit energy too?!" She suddenly made it emerge into her tiny hands.

"A-Ah... Well, it is quite cold and... phantasmal." Yggdra sensed Celica's Mana, and recoiled a bit, flying back to me. "Sorry, it seems to be of Phantasmal and Darkness attribute rather than Spirit."

"Oh..." Celica sighed. "Oh well! I can make more frens with this type of mana, so I guess it makes sense!"

"Yeah!" Zephy agreed. "Your magic is amazing and very unique, Celica, don't feel bad! You could one day make like... a whole army to help us out when fighting baddies!"

"Right... I could!" Celica nodded. "I might begin making more frens then!" She suddenly gained an insight of her true potential.

We knew she could get this far if we told her but we've not done so because it would feel forceful, it was better for her to discover her abilities on her own.

After all, Celica is incredible, even compared to her mother that can only create a few threads made of phantom energy to control a small puppet, she can do much more.

And I think the System I gave her has only enhanced her potential even more...

"Well, the Spirit Element might be because of her bloodline, no?" Asked Celeste. "She's the daughter of Faylen and also her grandmother is a fairy herself."

"Yeah, most likely." Alice agreed. "Sylphy has been able to imbue small amounts of spirit energy into anything she touches with her Mana. This energy is capable of even creating souls if accumulated in enormous quantities, and she has perhaps an endless supply, greatly diluted through her large quantity of mana."

"I never knew about such a thing..." I realized. "I really thought this spirit energy came much later."

Even I was discovering new things about myself today.

Chapter 962 How Skills Work

"And what about Ember?" Wondered Zack. "That's the other Skill? Wait... Is that why you always just used fire magic?"

"Well! Aside from fire magic being my main attribute, yes." I nodded. "Even though the Skill has evolved already, I can still conjure it. Look [Ember]"

FLASH!

A tiny flame emerged, this was the Ember as its base Level 0 form, its Level 10 Form was like ten times as big and much stronger.

"Wha...?! So tiny!" Said Mist. "Can it really become a strong spell?"

"Well, back then I couldn't manipulate it into something larger." I explained. "But I could do this... [Ember], [Ember], [Ember]!"

By constantly spending my Mana and conjuring the Ember over and over again, the tiny flames fused together into a gigantic fireball floating above my head.

FLUOOOSH!

"W-What?!" Zack was shocked. "So you just conjured the Skill over and over again?! And that worked?"

"Well, it sounds simple to me..." Celeste said. "But I guess Skills as a concept didn't exist before Sylphy showed up in front of me, so I guess I could have just used higher tiered spells instead of the same tiny spell."

"Skills have the benefit of not needing any conjuration, magic circle, or runes. I could use them even when I didn't have any magic circle inside of my heart." I explained. "Pretty cool, right? [Ember Deactivation]"

POOF!

The flames quickly dissipated as if they had never existed.

"This is another of the powers of the Skills, the ability to deactivate and make their effects instantly disappear, something spells can't do too well." I explained. "You all can do it too, I think."

"Usually when a Spell is deactivated forcefully, they backfire on the conjurer and explode, and might even damage them..." Aquarina nodded.

"Woah, I didn't know they were this deep, I thought they were just to boost our already existing abilities." Said Luck. "But they're like... separate powers of their own that somehow complement our already existing spells and techniques! I feel like I can begin using my Skills much better after learning about that fact..."

"Yeah! Pretty interesting, isn't it?" Lara smiled as she nodded happily. "I wonder if I can play around with the mechanics of Skills to improve my Spirit Magic somehow..."

"You could, we can try and practice more, we got a lot of time." I smiled, eating an apple. "Hmm! So sweet! Try it out." I shared it with Aquarina.

"Oh? This is from Yggdra?" She wondered, biting it right where I had bitten it too, she shamelessly did an indirect kiss... "Ooh! So crunchy... And with Sylphy's saliva, so it tastes even better."

"A-Aquarina!" I felt embarrassed by her saying something so unhinged.

"What?" She wondered. "But your saliva is tasty, I always lick it when we kiss!"

"W-Wha... S-Stop it, you're embarrassing me..." I covered my face in embarrassment.

I was surprised nobody found it disgusting, but they laughed... I guess they understand that she's quite something sometimes.

"S-Sorry..." Aquarina quickly realized she made me embarrassed, apologizing.

"D-Don't say that out loud..." I said. "There are certain things that are only for the two of us to talk about, o-okay? Don't talk them all over the place..."

"O-Okay..." She nodded, feeling a bit embarrassed after realizing I got a bit mad. "Don't get mad..."lights

"I'm not mad..." I said, although I sounded quite angry.

"She's really like her mom, huh?" Zack joked around while he was eating a sandwich. "Prepare yourself Aquarina, you'll have to have a lot of patience with her."

"H-Hey! I'm not like mom!" I said angrily.

"There... there, calm down." Aquarina patted my head. "It's fine..."

"Geez... I don't have any temperament issues!" I sighed, feeling rather angered by the fact they thought I was being angry.

Wait a second...

Oh.

"Well, maybe I got a bit too angry, but don't say embarrassing things then!" I protested.

"Okay, I won't." She smiled, giving me a kiss. "Sorry I made you mad..." She was really trying to make me happy.

"Aww..." I felt more in love with her now. "Okay, you sound like when my dad comforts my mom's anger now... Hahah..."

"Heheh, do I?" Aquarina giggled adorably.

"Yeah, I guess you two might be a bit similar now that I think about it. Like dad, you're heroic, and strong, and gentle... Though a bit reckless and dummy sometimes." I nodded.

"Ouch..." She said. "But go on..."

"But you're also very gentle-hearted." I giggled. "And unlike dad, you're very cute... The cutest girl."

"R-Really?" Aquarina blushed. "Am I that cute? And... if I grow up more and end up looking like mom, big and all... Would I still be cute for you?"

"T-That would make it even better actually..." I started to imagine it. "A-Ahem! I mean, yeah, obviously! That's what unconditional love means; I'll always find you cute no matter what!" We held hands while sitting next to one another, as I rubbed my nose with hers.

"Heheh... You're also the cutest, Sylphy... I love you so much." She giggled, giving me several little kisses. "I love you~ Love you, love you~ Mooch, mooch!"

We kept lovingly embracing one another while talking sometimes and relaxing below the sun, the gentle breeze, and the nice shadow created by Yggdra's body.

Aquarina felt much more mature than before now that I thought about it... That talk she had with her mom and everything else that happened back on Auntie Aina's city, might have changed her a bit. Though, deep down she was still the same adorable tomboy I love.

Once we enjoyed the snacks and relaxed much more, we were called by my mom and everyone else. We left Yggdra's true body as we moved back to my old house once more.

This time, it was rather clean now! They spent most of the day cleaning the interior so everything was as beautiful and shiny as I remember it from my early years.

"So nostalgic... And the smell of the wood, I've missed this!" I sighed with a smile, smelling the atmosphere.

"Truly, it is quite a comforting scent." My mother nodded, smiling sweetly. "Well, it's getting darker now, so how about we have dinner? We can begin exploring tomorrow."

"Okay!"

Chapter 963 An Old Portrait And Nostalgic Memories

As mom started cooking dinner, I explored the house of my early years with my friends and my little brother, looking at every nook and cranny. There were many things left behind in here, including the wooden toys I was given when I was a baby, some of my baby clothes, my bed, the large bookshelf where my parents used to find fairy tales to tell me before sleeping, and also their bedroom, which even had a few things left behind as well.

There were even large portraits of the three of us, looking at my tiny little baby self-made me feel rather nostalgic... My dad looked much younger here, before he got that beard he's been having these last years. And my mom... looks exactly the same, haha.

"Oh wow, so this is big sis when she was baby?!" Asked Zephy, looking at the few portraits. "You were so tiny and cute!"

"Was I?" I giggled a bit.

"Yeah... big sis was very cute!" Zephy seemed fascinated.

"Your dad looked much younger here..." Celeste pointed out. "Compared to your mom, who looks the same!"

"I don't know what to think about his beard yet, but I guess he likes it." I shrugged. "He did had some charm on his younger years, though his personality hasn't changed at all! He's still slightly reckless, overly cheerful, and sometimes a bit dumb."

"Oooh... S-Sylphy, look!" Aquarina called me, as I ran to her side.

Right over my bedroom's little table right at the side of my small bed. There was a portrait with me and Aquarina sitting over a big red chair.

"It's us?! Oh right, I did had this little portrait...!" I laughed, grabbing it. "Oh my, you were so little back then! And those big eyes!"

"Hahah... And my face looks all timid and afraid." Aquarina laughed as she examined the portrait.

"Yeah, you were always like that. I had to always stay at your side to give you some confidence." I smiled.

"Thank you for that..." Aquarina said. "I don't know if I would had been able to reach this far without you being always at my side as my best friend."

"Well, now we're best girlfriends, hahaha." I laughed a bit too much there.

"I guess..." Aquarina smiled rather sweetly. "You know? Since then that I liked you... I think you were my first crush and my only crush ever..."

"R-Really?! You never liked anybody else?" I asked her with a surprised expression.

"I... Well, maybe not." Aquarina said. "Now that I think about it, since I meet eyes with you that... My heart seemed to always belong to you."

"That's quite embarrassing to hear about..." I admitted, I couldn't help but blush at her honest words.

"Did you liked someone else back then?" She wondered.

"Hmm, not really." I admitted. "Though as I grew up, I did find some people attractive, or liked them a bit... but I did like you at the end. I just never thought you liked me like that, so... Hahh, this is embarrassing to talk about."

"No, no, tell us all the juicy details." Celeste spoke behind us.

"Go on! I never knew your love story was so long!" Lara said. "I also meet Luck for many years!"

"E-Eh? Are you admitting you like me?!" Luck asked in surprise.lights

"Eh? I thought you knew?" Lara tilted her head in confusion.

"W-Wha...?!" Luck suddenly started growing redder. "I-I thought you didn't liked me yet! Aagh, how couldn't I tell?!"

"You're really quite clueless..." Zack facepalmed.

"A-Anyways, I'm not going to talk about that!" I said, quickly going back to the previous topic. "But I can talk about other things we lived... Oh, like back then when Beelzebub showed up! Remember?" I asked Aquarina.

"Yeah... I was so afraid I couldn't stop hugging you." Aquarina felt embarrassed remembering that. "And then I... I think I peed myself."

"A-Ahahah..." I giggled a bit at that. "I remember that our parents defeated him quite quickly too. Even back then they were really amazing."

"Hmmm..." I could hear Beelzebub's voice from within my Soul Scape, groaning angrily.

"Anyways, there's a few other tales!"

I spent the half an hour telling about our past adventures to my friends and my little brother. I told them about the first time I defeated a Walking Radish Monster, and that other time I hunted several Six-Legged Lizards when I was like five.

Or that other time when I almost set ablaze the house because I was practicing my usage of [Ember]... Among other things.

"Kids, dinner's ready!" Mom called us.

We rushed downstairs to be welcomed by a huge feast of delicious looking food. Mom had prepared a lot of recipes she hadn't made in years, especially a triple-cheese pizza which looked amazing. There were also chocolate shortcakes, strawberry cheesecakes, and even cupcakes filled with whipped cream.

And naturally, a lot of roasted meat that dad had prepared outside, which he was bringing on large quantities with Shade, Nepheline, and Ninhursag. Uncle Arafunn had helped mom cook the rest; he was a rather amazing chef actually. Of course, whenever he actually felt like cooking, which was once every 1000 years or something...

"Mom we're not kids anymore though!" I said. "We're over 14 now, so we would appreciate if you didn't addressed to us as kids..."

"Oh... Well, you're all still so little." She giggled. "But okay, I get what you're coming for... And who is this? Y-Yggdra?"

My mother noticed Yggdra sitting over the table at my side, beginning to taste the food and being amazed by all the flavors.

"Ah, yeah, with Lara's help, we discovered a way to create some sort of manifestation of her!" I said.

"Yeah!" Lara nodded. "She can come with us anywhere now!"

"T-That's... well, amazing." My father was munching on a huge roasted bird leg. "I really didn't thought that was possible to begin with..."

"It must be because Yggdra has evolved into a Spirit Tree, most likely..." My mother said. "Ancient Spirit Trees have the power to create Spiritual Avatars, but to think Lara could help this young one develop a Spirit Avatar so early on her life! Lara, your abilities are truly befitting of a Saintess."

"Ahahah, I barely did anything." Lara giggled while stuffing herself with sweets.

The night arrived quite quickly after our big dinner, and we decided to quickly go to sleep so we can wake up early tomorrow and start our journey across these unexplored lands.

My parents said they had a few things they needed to do in here, one of them was checking on the many abandoned ruins and if they were safe.

Another was that there were some Ancient Inheritances and Ancient Ruins turned into Dungeons which we could be interested in, that mom said we could explore as we journeyed across the floating continent.

This was our last Adventure together before we had to separate to grow stronger on our own, so we had to make sure to enjoy it to our heart's contents. And we might as well gather treasures, new materials, and gain levels on the way!

Well, levels for them, I can't level up, hahah... But I do get EXP, and that's certainly a resource I need to keep improving my Skills, Dungeon, and everything else.

The night was rather beautiful; however, the sky was almost completely cloudless, and there were many beautiful stars shining across the endless cosmic night sky.

The sight was much more beautiful and endearing than anything down there, I guess it is because we're much closer to the heavens in Cloudia.

Aquarina had entered my room because she wanted to sleep at my side, but we couldn't really close our eyes because of how beautiful it was out there.

So we just kind of sat down over the bed watching the sky through the open window... Honestly, it was very romantic.

"It's really beautiful." Aquarina said. "The stars..."

"Yeah, it really is." I nodded silently, we were holding hands in silence.

"But you know what? You're prettier than the stars~" Aquarina suddenly said, looking into my eyes with her beautiful aquamarine eyes.

"E-Eh? Hahah... There's no way!" I laughed. "You're exaggerating again..."

"Nope, you're that beautiful." She smiled. "You're the prettiest thing... Like my parents usually say to one another, you're my most beautiful treasure!"

"T-Tone it down!" I giggled a bit, feeling embarrassed by her love confessions. "Everyone's sleeping... But... thanks, I suppose only you would ever say such a thing, hehe. You're also my most... beautiful treasure, Aquarina."

"R-Really?" She asked while blushing.

"Of course..." I nodded, as she rested her head on my shoulder. "I love you a lot too... I can't help to always look forward to our future together too. Can't wait to meet you once our training is done, so we can continue... just living together, going places, defeating baddies, doing the usual. Everything with you... always feels special and fun."

"S-Sylphy..." Aquarina was surprised by how much I opened my heart to her.

I was usually the most reserved between the two of us, but honestly, I just wanted to tell her this, so she could really feel that I loved her.

"Hahah, too embarrassing? Sorry." I giggled a bit nervously.

"N-No, that was... nice. Nobody has ever said that to me..." Aquarina smiled, suddenly looking at the stars for a bit. "It makes me so happy you think that of me, heheh... I still get sad when I think we'll separate for over a year, maybe even two years. But whenever I think that we'll meet again later, and that we won't ever separate by then, it makes me happy, and I can... move forwards."

"Well! That means you've been growing and maturing as a person dear." I said. "To be able to accept sacrifices in exchange for a better benefit in the future!"

"Geez! You talk like your mom sometimes." Aquarina said. "I'm not a kid either! I'm already considered a young adult by my tribe... In fact, boys at my age even begin to get wives and kids!"

"T-That's rather young to do that..." I was surprised. "Huh... W-

Well, I guess to each their own..."lights

"T-That's not what I'm trying to get to..." Aquarina looked at me while blushing constantly, her eyebrows were furrowed a bit, giving me a rather fierce and passionate glance with her aquamarine eyes.

She slowly approached me and gently pushed me down into the bed, as she swallowed saliva nervously. I felt slightly nervous myself... W-What was she doing?

"A-Aquarina?" I wondered, my voice stuttering without me wanting to.

"Y-You know that... W-We're not kids anymore so..." She said. "W-

Why don't we... you know."

"H-Huh? What do you m-mean?" I asked.

I really didn't wanted to believe what she was suggesting... but deep down in my mind, I could already guess. However, I really just wanted to pretend to be oblivious.

"Don't be so oblivious about it Sylphy..." She said, as she looked at me with her fierce eyes, beginning to kiss my neck gently. "I mean making love... for real~"

"Eep~!" I felt a chill down my spine as my heart started beating really fast as Aquarina gently kissed my neck, slower and much more delicate than before, while she was constantly smelling the scent of my perfume. "W-What? Y-You mean...?"

"A-Are you that nervous about it?" She asked. "I just... I really want to try... We kiss a lot and all but I want more... Don't you? I want to make you feel good..."

"F-Feel good? But you already make me feel good..." I tried to persuade her.

"I've read about it on some books... There was a book that even showed how two girls can do it too..." Aquarina suddenly said. "Y-You can leave it to me..."

"B-But Aquarina..." I sighed, feeling rather pressured. "T-That's... I..."

"You don't want to?" She asked me with a very saddened expression.

Ugh, I really wanted to save this for when we came back from our training at least... She really just wants to do everything fast.

R-Right?!

And... deep down, I really want to do it too.

I want to make her feel good as well.

"Aquarina... T-This is..."

I was still thinking, however, Aquarina started kissing me passionately.

And then, she started slowly sliding her hand through my leg, her hand gently reaching higher and higher.

Oh my gosh!

Chapter 965 New Experiences

Aquarina kept kissing me, and I couldn't fight back against her passion and her warmth. I was embraced by her love, and I couldn't fight back...

Or rather, deep down, I didn't want to. I wanted her to love me more and embrace me more. I wanted to give all my body to her.

"Hmmm~ A-Aquarina... W-Wait..."

I gently let go of her soft and delicious lips, as our tongues slowly separated, she was sucking on my tongue so desperately I thought I was going to pass out.

"What's there to wait for? You clearly want to, I can tell~"

"Y-You can?!"

Aquarina smiled sweetly as she caressed my legs more.

"Of course, I do have a good sense of smell... Down there, you're wetting yourself... I do that too when I get horny, hehe." She smiled rather mischievously, and... quite sexily.

"B-But I... I wanted to save our first time for later..." I sighed. "I wanted to... maybe be a bit older?"

"I can't wait that much...!" Aquarina protested. "You want to do it too, right? I... I want to make one last beautiful memory with you, something I will never forget..."

"Aquarina..." She was really getting me with that. "Really?"

"Y-Yeah..." Suddenly, a tear fell from her eyes, a sincere tear, and a few more. "Sniff... I just want to love you and embrace you, Sylphy... I want... I want you!"

"Y-You don't have to cry..." I sighed, caressing her face and cleaning her tears. "It's alright... I love you too, and... I want you as well. But... let's do this one step at a time. No need to rush, okay?"

"One step at a time?" She wondered.

"L-Like... Let's do little things first before going for the bigger ones?" I wondered, feeling embarrassed to even explain it to her.

"Oh!" She nodded, quickly realizing. "T-That's fine by me! Like slowly enjoying a hunt because the prey is strong and amazing! Then I'll slowly enjoy you, fufu~"

"Y-Yeah, although that's a rather weird allegory..." I sighed. "A-And... Well... H-How about we start with this? I always notice how much you stare at mine, so?"

I gently placed her hand on my chest. Aquarina quickly got redder, steam coming from her ears as she realized what I meant...

"S-Sylphy's... B-Boobies..." She smiled a bit nervously. "Uwaah... R-Really? Can I touch them and stuff?"

"Y-Yes..." I smiled, blushing as well. "It's fine to start with this... I think?"

"T-Then..." She said, giving me a few kisses on my lips.

Ahhh, her lips were so soft and warm, and her tongue licking my lips and my own tongue was so divine. She kissed so well for me being her only experience with this! Maybe she learns fast...

As she devoured me with her kisses, she slowly started to unbutton my blouse, revealing my bra, which she gently took off.

"Ahhh~ So big and fluffy~" Aquarina watched my breasts as if they were the tastiest treat.

"Y-You like them that much?" I sighed. "You're so hopeless... What a perverted girlfriend I got..."

"Heheh, only you can make me feel this horny, to be honest..."

Aquarina slowly started touching my breasts, her warm hands touching them felt... rather nice. And once she touched the nipples, I started leaking even more down there!

"A-Ahhh~"

"S-So these are your moans... So cute."

Aquarina continued grasping them tightly, as she was breathing heavily, her legs tightly wrapped around mine, although we were wearing dresses, we were constantly rubbing against each other...

I felt such an intense heat all over my body... This felt rater amazing. I wanted more... I wanted her to do more to me.

"Grasping them alone is not too fun though, right?" She asked. "After all, I did said I would make you feel good..." She stopped kissing me as she lowered her head towards my chest.

Her tongue slowly touched one of my nipples, her slimy and warm tongue touching it almost made me have another orgasm! It felt like lightning was rushing through all my body...lights

"W-Wait- Aahh~!"

But she didn't stop there, quickly kissing my breasts, and sucking on them hard! The sensation was so good!

"Hmmm~" Aquarina was viciously slurping on one of them as if she was a newborn asking for milk.

Her tongue constantly was licking them, she took turns between the two, always making sure to pull the other a bit to make me orgasm some more.

"Hmmm~ You like it, don't you? My beautiful princess..." Aquarina murmured to me as I was moaning, feeling all fuzzy. "You're so cute... I love you so much..."

She started kissing me again while touching my breasts, and then she took off her blouse as well rather quickly, throwing the blouse away wildly.

"Ah, your tits..." I muttered, feeling enamored.

"Don't you want to touch them too?" She smiled teasingly. "They're all yours~ Wanna suck on them like I did yours?"

"Y-Yes..." I muttered, without even thinking about what I was saying. "C-Can I? They're so puffy and I always... always have kind of wanted to..."

"Fufu... So cute, see? It wasn't so hard to just speak what you wanted..." She smiled, as she sat down over me and lowered her torso towards the level of my mouth. "Suck them~ They're all yours, baby..."

"Ahhh~" I slowly lifted my head and started to suck them.

They were so delicious... Hers were rather big too, but not as big as mine. But they were so... Ahh. I don't know how to describe it well, but the flavor was sweet, and a bit salty combined with her sweat.

But so good... I couldn't stop it; I kept grasping one tightly while sucking the other. Aquarina was moaning a lot too.

"Ooh~ S-Sylphy~! I love you!" She cried, as I was devouring her nipples.

"I-I love you too!" I cried, quickly beginning to kiss her while touching her nipples. She was doing the same too, grasping my large breasts tightly.

I couldn't stop myself; I loved her and embraced her. And she did the same, we took turns. She was constantly and passionately licking my whole body.

At some point, she started kissing and licking my armpits, sucking the sweat out of them, and the continuing to devour my breasts with her vicious lips and her warm tongue.

"Oooh~ S-Shit...!" I cried, feeling more and more wet down there. "Ahhh~"

"Sylphy...!" Aquarina started kissing me passionately again, her tongue playing inside of my mouth, she was sucking my mouth dry of all my saliva so viciously!

"Hmmm~ I-I'm cumming...!" I cried.

"M-Me too, I-I think!" Aquarina cried. "Oh god, this is so hot~!"

We ended both orgasming, as it felt like I was pissing myself... Yet when I checked down there, I just had leaked a lot of slimy and warm juices... And Aquarina too.

"Hmm... Ohh..."

"Hahhh..."

We both passed out after that, cuddling over the bed...

And the next morning, I opened my eyes, feeling my entire body incredibly sore. At my side was a smiling, sleeping Aquarina, drooling all over me.

"Hmmm... Sylphy's milk... tashty..."

She was dreaming something... quite particular.

But above all...

Oh my gosh... We really just did all of that!

Chapter 966 The Next Morning

After waking up covered in sweat and other fluids, I grabbed Aquarina and immediately went to take a bath with her to wash ourselves from last night's... passion.

SPLASH!

"Uwaaggh! So cold! Sylphy! Are you angry?"

Aquarina complained as I splashed her with bowl filled with incredibly cold water.

"I'm just making sure you're not horny all the time..." I smiled gently. "I'm not angry at all~!"

"Y-You seem really angry..." Aquarina sighed. "O-Okay, sorry! Maybe I did go a bit too far... But its not like I forced you to, and you liked it at the end, right?"

"I-I... Yes, at the end it's also my fault." I agreed. "Ugh, good thing I set up a barrier for sound before we started that... Ahh, I feel guilty now."

"Why?" Aquarina raised an eyebrow. "It was nice... And it felt good, we were happy. So why would you feel guilty?"

"I-I don't know... I'm dumb and insecure I guess." I crossed my arms, looking down into the bath's floor. "Sorry..."

"Why are you sorry?" Aquarina couldn't understand what I meant. "Calm down, it's alright... You're a bit too shy sometimes... I think that is all."

"Yeah, maybe..." I agreed with her, as she was washing my air. "I-I just let myself get too much into the moment and... that's usually not like me."

"Hehe, that means it was pretty good then!" Aquarina smiled, giving me a big kiss in my cheek. "It's alright, sweetie."

"Sweetie now?" I wondered, blushing a bit.

"Well you call me dear all the time, can't I call you by cute names?" Aquarina giggled. "Oh, how about my honeybun? You're cute and tiny like one."

"T-Tiny?! I'll grow up eventually!" I pouted a bit. "Though... I guess I'm quite small... Yeah..."

As Aquarina made me realize all my friends were growing taller while I remained rather small, I felt slightly sad.

"Uwah, d-don't get sad over it... Sorry!" Aquarina apologized, rather nervous of having made me upset about that little comment. "Y-You might be a bit smaller, but you're definitely the strongest among all of us!"

"Hahh... Y-Yeah, yaaay..." I sighed. "My mom's small too, I guess I inherited her midget genes. My father is very tall though! Ugh... What will it be for me, I wonder?"

"I bet you'll grow super tall eventually!" Aquarina nodded, confident about it. "The more your Physique develops, the stronger your body grows after all."

"Right, I guess you're right in that!" I agreed. "I'll just have to wait a bit more..."

"Yep, that's right!" She nodded, trying to cheer me up. "But I think you're perfect just the way you are. You should accept yourself more!"

"Hmm... Right. I guess I was just being dumb." I smiled, giving her a kiss. "Thank you, sweetie."

"S-Sweetie?!" Aquarina blushed, growing all red.

The horny was taking over her once more...

"Well~ I wouldn't mind if you washed my body more thoroughly if you wanted to." I smiled to her coquettishly.

"I-if you don't mind then..." She agreed immediately, as she started kissing my neck and touching my chest. "Ah... You smell so good..."

"You're really obsessed with smells, don't you?" I wondered, giggling a bit. "Is that an Amazonian thing?"

"Maybe... We do have a much keener sense of smell." She smiled. "After all, my mom always smells dad when he hugs her or kisses her... Is it weird?"

"Nah, a bit kinky but I like it." I giggled. "You have your own things, and I have mine. Nobody's really perfect, but I do like you even with those things taking into consideration."lights

"Uwaaah, Sylphy, do you have to be so damn cute when you say that?! C-Come here!" She started grasping my breasts tightly. "Mooch, mooch!" We started making out while taking a warm bath.

We ended taking a bit longer in the bath... Aquarina is too passionate. I can't even imagine her when she grows up more.

"Good morning girls, you took a bit longer to wake up, were you awake until late?" My mother greeted us with a gentle smile as she was cooking.

"Y-Yeah..." I said, nervously. "W-We... w-we were... s-seeing the s-stars."

"They were really pretty!" Aquarina nodded, she was much better at lying than I was.

"I see. Your parents are outside checking on the farm with Allan, Aquarina." My mother said.

"Oh, okay! I'll go check on them." Aquarina ran outside to greet her parents, as my friends were already beginning to sit around the table.

"Sylphy! It's a wonderful morning today!" Said Lara. "And there are so many Spirits! What bliss!"

"Honestly I can't see any spirits but yeah it's pretty nice." Luck agreed.

"The air in Cloudia is a bit thinner though, but I already got kind of used to it." Zack said. "I guess it's really not a place for any person to live."

"Well, it is because we're very high into the skies, oxygen levels are quite thinner." My mother explained. "Though, all of you are very strong now, your Physiques can easily adapt to these conditions."

"Oooh, even me?" Mist wondered.

"I mean, if you don't feel bad, well, yes." My mother giggled a bit.

"It's pretty interesting..." Celica agreed. "Auntie Faylen, where are we going today though?"

"Oh, today? Well, I was thinking on taking the passage that leads to the Evergreen Forest, there's a large Ruin in there, which has become a Dungeon after we checked. It wasn't one before though, so we were thinking on giving it a look." My mother said. "After that, we can keep exploring further. I was thinking on reaching the Golden Dunes eventually, that's where a lot of Ruins are left behind."

"The Golden Dunes... is that the desert we saw when we got here?" I asked my mother.

"Yes, that very same!" My mom nodded. "There are also some pretty high mountains covered on ice, a large Tundra... And some swamps as well. This Continent is quite smaller compared to the others, but it has many varied ecosystems. Mostly produced by the large quantities of divine energy exuded by the Ancient Ruins."

"Wow..." I was amazed. "That kinds of reminds me of the Dungeon in a way."

"Isn't it?" My mother agreed. "Your Dungeon... might be quite connected to the Gods Technology, somehow." She was speculating something.

"I guess... I did make it through transforming one of the Dimensional Crystals into a bracelet, that somehow gave me the ability to enter a tiny Dungeon." I explained. "Though, I haven't tried making more of those."

"That bracelet, is it?" My mother wondered. "I see, Arachne had a similar one, though it got destroyed. I don't think it would be possible to replicate what you did though, it might seem to have used the bracelet as a catalyst, but this Dungeon was born from your innate powers, the unique abilities you were born with."

I was shocked by how much my mother knew about my powers without me ever explaining her how they worked...

"Y-Yeah, maybe..." I said while trying to just act oblivious about it, until suddenly...

"Sylphy! Everyone! There's something big happening to Yggdra!" Aquarina came running inside the house, announcing something surprising.

"Yggdra?" I wondered, noticing she wasn't around.

"Let's go see what it is!" Alice said.

"Yeah!" I agreed, rushing outside with the rest of my friends.

Chapter 967 Eden Apple's Yggdrasil Fruit

I ran to see what was happening. Aquarina didn't seem panicked, more than anything amazed, but I was still slightly scared, my heart was beating faster. I didn't want anything to happen to my Yggdra after we finally meet after so many years!

However, the sight in front of me was much different to whatever paranoid fears I was experiencing. One of her tallest branches was producing a beautiful red flower, overflowing with pure spiritual light, with a hint of... Divinity!

"Yggdra?! What's going on?" I wondered.

"A-Almost there Sylphy, wait a bit...!" Yggdra muttered, seemingly forcing herself to do this. "I have to... make this, for my child so she can keep on growing stronger...!"

"Growing stronger?" I wondered, confused about what she even meant.

"Look, Sylphy!" Said Lara. "The Spirits are all gathering around that branch..."

"Really?" I wondered, looking further into the branch, the flower was beginning to transform.

"It's transforming into something big?" Zack asked. "W-Wait a second, is that...?"

"A fruit!" Mist said. "It is turning into some sort of fruit! I think..."

"So weird..." Aquarina said. "Wait, not really, trees do make fruits!"

"But that's not a normal apple..." My father said. "It is getting much larger and filled with nutrients."

"Making a pie with it would be nice..." My mother smiled.

"N-no, nothing of pies here! It is a gift!" I said, looking up. "Is it almost done?"

"Almost there... Wait a bit!" Yggdra said. "And... there!"

POOF!

The giant red apple was formed, overflowing with a bright rainbow-colored aura, which it suddenly turned it from red to pure gold...

What in the world is that fruit?!

It was overflowing with so much magic power that it was out of this world!

"This is my gift for Naturia." Yggdra said. "Please catch it, Sylphy!"

"O-Okay!"

I quickly ran towards Yggdra, as the huge golden apple fell, it was as big as a watermelon, and landed cleanly on my hands. Thankfully I was strong enough to catch it just fine.

"So big!" I said in surprise.

"Is this really a gift for me, foo?" Naturia wondered, flying around the big fruit.

"It is a... Well, you can see it by yourselves." Giggled Yggdra.

[Eden Apple's Yggdrasil Fruit (S+ Grade)]

A Fruit born from a mature Spirit Tree every 10000 thousand years, made possible only through the accumulated magic power of Yggdra, a very special Eden Apple tree that underwent evolution into a Spirit Tree.

It was born from thousands of spirits fusing into an enchanted Eden Apple Fruit, it glows with a beautiful golden glow, and is as big as a watermelon. It has a delicious, sweet taste, its juice works like an elixir, and its pulp can enhance the strength and magic power of anybody that consumes it permanently.

If a large part of it is consumed by someone, their lifespan might increase from 50 to 100 years. Complete consumption might increase lifespan by 500 years total and keep someone young for all those years as well.

Its magic power, once consumed, might awaken innate magic talents, or help the one that consumed it evolve their magic powers to completely new levels.

"I-Insane... It is an Yggdrasil Fruit! How did you even made this?!" I was amazed. "With this I can evolve Natoria! It as the very last ingredient!"

"An Yggdrasil Fruit?! Really?!" My mother asked on utter disbelief.

"It can't be... for real?" My dad asked. "Such a thing... I was not aware it was possible for the tree you grew, Sylphy!"

"Such a fruit is only harvested once every 10000 years in our country." Said my mother. "None of the living members of our family has witnessed one yet... But there are many records of it. It is said that the royal family gets to eat it together, making themselves stronger. Sometimes, they're gifted to heroes to make them amazingly powerful... There's a tale of a Crazy Sage that once stole one and became the Wizard of the Stars... The one that modified the dungeons back in the human continent."

"A-And I'm holding such a legendary thing in my hands?!" I asked in disbelief. "W-Wait a second Natoria why did you even need something so crazy to evolve?!"

"Hehehe... I dunno." Natoria only giggled innocently.

"If it wasn't for me I bet she would had never been able to fulfill her evolution." Yggdra smiled, emerging in her manifestation form. "Phew... But I'm very sorry, I don't think I can ever create this fruit for a long time. Maybe if I can grow stronger myself, I could do it once again. Perhaps..."

"I-It's fine, nobody is asking you to make these at all!" I laughed a bit. "T-Thanks a lot, but this is just crazy..."

"It is! What in the world?!" Celeste was amazed.

"H-Handle that thing with care, Sylphy, that's like a national treasure-level thing!" Zack said.

"In a way, you're holding the entire wealth of a small country in your hands." My mother laughed.

"EH?! Really? Is it that precious?" I asked in disbelief.

"Yes, if you were to ever sell it in an auction, they would offer hundreds of billions for it... Or even a trillion, or more." My mother was amazed. "But I guess it would be better if you give it to Natoria to complete her special evolution, than to bring such a dangerous thing to the world."

"Dangerous?" Aquarina asked. "Why?"

"Well, my daughter, it is because something so precious, that can give so much lifespan and power to someone would be sought by literally every wealthy and powerful person in the world. There could even be wars of people trying to get that fruit." Nepheline laughed. "In the past, the reason why the royal family ate the fruit right away was because if they were to ever keep it, it was very obvious that fights and wars would be waged over it. And even then, there were still many."

"I-I have to be careful then..." I sighed. "A-Alright Natoria, we better just evolve you right away, let's not keep this fruit for too long in this world, hahah..."

"Foo! I'm ready anytime!" Natoria was very excited.

Chapter 968 Evolving Natoria

After collecting the Yggdrasil Fruit and saving it inside my inventory, we had some breakfast first before anything, and once we were done with that, I decided to do the evolution ritual inside of my Dungeon's first floor.

Just to make sure there wouldn't be any weird variables, like a crazy monster coming to eat the fruit right away or something. My mother also said its scent could go all the way through various continents, and that we were lucky we were in the skies where the scent would dissipate above the clouds...

So we better use it as quick as possible to not make any more problems occur!

By the way, before evolving her, these were Naturia's final stats after she hit max level some months ago.

Now that the Stars were updated into the Status, it was shown she was actually three stars in her race and class... And I guess it makes sense, she had gone through like four evolutions.

From a tiny seed to a seedling, to a little plant, to a small tree, to a magical spirit tree! Quite honestly, it was amazing how far she has gone.

"You've sure come a long way, Naturia!" I giggled.

"Have I, master?" She wondered. "Maybe I'll get even bigger now, hehehe!"

"Let's hope so! I'm going to feed you an S+ Grade Material, so it better work!" I nodded. "Now, mom, I think it's ready, right?"

"Yes, we've worked on it." My mom nodded.

We spent an entire hour working on a huge magic circle with my mother, uncle Arafunn, and Alice. I could have done it on my own, but I would have taken much longer. And the help of my mother and my uncle helped in refining the magic circle so it all would work much better.

"Alright, your Familiar Spirit must already be on her fourth stage of evolution, right? That's where they always get stuck until you find the incredibly rare material they need." My mother seemed to have experienced this herself quite a bit. "Prepare yourself, once they hit the fifth stage, Spirits become incredibly strong. They not only gain new forms, but also new and amazing abilities, even elements they weren't able to use before can become available."

"W-Wow, really...?" I was shocked.

"Indeed!" She nodded. "But enough chit-chat, let's start. Natoria, sit over there."

"Okay~" Natoria sat over the center of the magic circle.

All the materials I've gathered were all placed in a large circular node each, with the largest one right next to her having the Yggdrasil Fruit Yggdra created.

I wonder... will her stats become as big as Nephilim and Yggdra after her evolution? They're indeed ridiculous stats! But those two aren't Spirits though, they're still different. Nephilim is a golem I guess, and Yggdra is a spirit tree monster.

"Let's begin." I said. "Spiritual Evolution Circle, activate!"

FLAAASH!

I let all of my Mana flow into the magic circle, which activated rapidly. All its runes rotated against one another, the materials were being absorbed, turned into pure energy, and flying towards Natoria.

The energies and auras of the materials reached her, fusing into her body one after another, generating big explosions of pure light, which were almost blinding.

FLASH!

The light engulfed her once more, as I felt Naturia's very existence changing, rewriting itself, and becoming even greater. I felt millions of Runes spreading across her entire body and soul.

This was... the evolution of a Spirit into the Fifth Stage, something much more special than other beings!

The bright light slowly receded, as Naturia's silhouette could be seen from within the bright, receding light. She looked more humanoid than before too, and around my same size, maybe five to ten centimeters smaller, but she was really tall now.

"Huh? Oh... Did I become human?" She wondered. "Oh, elf! No?"

Her appearance left us all mesmerized. From a Spirit that looked to be made of plants, into the appearance of a beautiful, young, and innocent-looking elven-like girl, with very long and sharp elven ears, long green hair made into two tails, wrapped on countless flowers, vines, and other plants.

She was wearing a beautiful green dress made of all kinds of plants, flowers and little fruits growing over her dress. Her skin was of a clear brown color, with many green colored tattoos across it, resembling the branches and roots of a tree.

I noticed her exposed back, a big tattoo of a large Yggdrasil tree, its branches and roots spreading across the rest of her body.

In her forehead, there was a little green jewel as well, overflowing with spiritual energy and... a hint of divinity!

"W-What...?!" My mother of all people reacted in utter disbelief. "What... has she become?! This is unheard of! T-This is...!"

"I can't believe it..." Arafunn was just as immensely flabbergasted.

"Huh? What's wrong?" Natoria wondered.

Without realizing, her very presence exuded a tremendous aura of divine spiritual energy, shaped into the form of a gigantic tree made of pure green and golden light, growing larger and larger...

"Such a Divine Aura! That's my daughter!" Yggdra was very proud.

"T-This is insane!" Alice said. "N-Natoria... She became...!"

Ding!

[The Familiar Spirit [Natoria] has evolved into a [Divine Nature Spirit: Dryad (B+ Rank)]!

[All her Stats have greatly increased!]

[She learned new Skills!]

"She became a Dryad!" I said in surprise. "Wait, Dryad..."

"Those are the Divine Nature Spirits that watch over the Yggdrasil Trees... They are the guardians of the forest, incredibly strong beings born from the world itself to protect its nature!" My mother explained.

"T-This is incredible...!"

Chapter 969 Evolved Natoria!

"Hmmm, really? I don't feel thaaat different, foo!" Natoria said, raising an eyebrow and looking at herself. "Though I have soft skin now... and hair?! Wow!"

"You passed from being a spirit to become a Dryad." Said my mother. "That by itself feels like... the World's Will has decided you were worthy enough, Natoria."

"R-Really?" Natoria wondered. "Wait, who's the World's Will?"

"This girl is just as clueless as innocent." My mother laughed a bit.

"My daughter has really become big." The Spirit of Yggdra smiled, feeling proud. "You've grown so strong! It was worth it to give it my all to create that fruit!"

"Thank you mommy!" Natoria hugged her mother's manifestation. "Now what should we do? Oh, I'm hungry all out of the sudden... Is it because I have a belly?"

Suddenly she lifted up her dress, revealing her nude body to me... She didn't had nipples though, and also lacked a reproductive organ too. I guess it makes sense, she was still a spirit.

But still... Now that she looked like a young elf girl, this wasn't something she should be doing!

"Natoria! Don't lift your dress like that, be more decent, okay? You have to cover your body." I told her.

"Eeeh? But why?" She wondered, tilting her head. "Foo... Do I look ugly, master?"

"N-No, you're actually really precious." I sighed, caressing her head and giving her a kiss in her forehead. "I'm just trying to tell you to just cover yourself, it's something normal, alright? Nothing bad about it."

"Hmmm... oway!" Natoria nodded. "I'll cover myself! Now... I'm hungry."

"Hahaha, for being something like a Dryad, she sure is lax about it." Laughed my uncle.

"I've never had a contract with one, I can't believe my daughter has a Divine Spirit as a contracted familiar." My mother couldn't believe her eyes even now. "Well, I do have Divine Spirits but... Well, none of Nature!"

"Hehe, I guess I'm rather amazing." I felt like acting cocky for a bit. "No, Naturia is!" I lifted her off the ground, as she raised her tiny arms.

"I'm amazing foo!" She celebrated.

Like that, we walked back outside, where everyone go to see Naturia's new appearance and everything. I also decided to check her Status while she was getting praises by everyone for how similar she looked to elves or humans now...

What in the world with those stats?! She gave such a huge jump! Is this the power of turning from a Fourth Stage to a Fifth Stage?

No, even then, it is even more because she also became a rare Divine Spirit, a Dryad! It is an even larger plus, I guess.

Most of her already maxed out skills evolved as well, which is amazing! I think this is the first time it happens to a Familiar of mine.

Photosynthesis became Spiritual Photosynthesis, now when she absorbs sunlight she also can generate spiritual energy and boost her stats!

Spirit Seed Cannon is the Seed Bullet Skill, now she can fire powerful spirit seeds that explode into spiritual energy, very deadly!

Divine Nature's Healing Light is her Nature's Healing, it now generates a big amount of light that heals a wide range.

Her vines can now drain Mana and Life force from foes she entangles and traps with, and her Leaf of Life is now Divine Leaf of Life, healing a larger fixed amount of HP now.

Aside from that, she got three new Skills, which could be said to be "Divine Skills", they are all looking to be pretty strong and their names are self-explanatory. The last one though, seems to give her the ability to assimilate with nature itself and grow larger, while increasing her stats.

It drains her MP and Spirit Energy constantly, and she can't use my own MP to activate it either, so it might be a trump card for now... But it looks strong.

"Wow, you became so different now, Naturia! You're like a... human or elf?" Wondered Aquarina. "Like a mix between the two, maybe! Though your ears are much longer and pointier! Oh, they end on green colored leaves!"

"Hehehe, really? Foo foo! I didn't realized!" Naturia was shocked by this realization.

"I-Is she really the same little seed from before?" Zack asked. "T-This is insane, how much she has changed... Maybe if I hadn't meet Mist before, I would had fallen for Sylphy's Spirit..."

"You're so cute, Natoria!" Mist cried, hugging her tightly. "Oh wow, you're so warm too! You're all physical and not just pseudo ethereal!"

"Yeah!" Natoria nodded. "We can be better frens now!"

"Well, you're always sticking with us as Sylphy's favorite spirit so I doubt that'll change much now." Laughed Luck.

"You're so cute and big! This is my first time meeting a divine spirit like this! Oh my gosh!" Lara was hugging Natoria and then started stretching her cheeks.

"Uweehh... L-Lara, shtooop..." Natoria cried, but didn't really fight back.

"Natoria! Natoria!" Zephy ran to her side. "You're taller than me now?!"

"Hehehe, yeah!" Natoria giggled. "Foo! You're tiny, Zephy! Foo Foo!" She suddenly grabbed him and lifted him off the ground. She had over 5k Strength, so that wasn't hard at all now.

"Ooh, lift me too!" Celica ran there. "I want to be lifted by a divine spirit!"

"Hehhe, okay!" Natoria did so happily. "Have fruits, they're free for my friends!" She quickly gave everyone Mana Fruits.

"This was quite an eventful morning." Aquarina commented.

"It truly was..." I laughed a bit. "Now, where should we get going?"

"Kyu..." Tiny Pyuku appeared above Aquarina's head, looking at the horizon.

"What has gotten into you?" Wondered Aquarina.

"Maybe he's eager to explore?" I asked.

"Pyuku!"

But out of nowhere, Pyuku jumped away and started running somewhere!

Chapter 970 Where Is Pyuku Going?

Pyuku suddenly started running away, very far away so fast we were shocked! The little blue slime grew several cat-like legs and ran as if his life depended on it!

"PYUKU?! Where are you going out of nowhere?!" Aquarina panicked, quickly beginning to chase him.

"W-Wait, Aquarina!" I chased her over as well.

However, for some amazing reason, Pyuku was incredibly fast.

"Ahh... W-We can't catch him!" Aquarina said.

"Wait a second, stop!" I quickly ran towards her and stopped her. "We can find him later. Can't you sense his presence anywhere he'll go? He can't get too far away."

"A-Ah... right." Aquarina sighed. "But just what the hell has gotten into him? He's usually such a lazy little slime, he does nothing but sleep and eat."

"Maybe he sensed his kin or something?" I wondered. "Well, let's gather with everyone else first, looks like it went to the Evergreen Forest, where we'll go next, so we can find him with mom and the rest."

"Right..." Aquarina sighed. "Pyuku..."

"Don't worry! He's a pretty strong little guy. Hasn't he eaten tons of monsters? Last time I remember, he grew stronger the more he ate." I said.

"Yeah, he's strong but so lazy. Barely participating in fights." Aquarina sighed. "He lacks motivation! Even in some of the biggest fights, he barely does much other than shield us from attacks sometimes."

"Hahahah... He does lacks motivation." I agreed. "Don't worry, it's going to be alright. I didn't knew you cared so much about the little goober."

"I do..." Aquarina said. "He might be silent and lazy, but he's still one of my three Familiars. We've made a bond and all... Like with Leviathan and Undine. The two of them are also precious to me."

"Right, are you two there?" I wondered.

POOF! POOF!

Both Spirits appeared in that moment, making themselves visible.

"Hello Sylphy! Hehehe... Pyuku ran away! Hehehe..." Undine laughed mischievously. "Maybe I should run away too to prank Aquarina?"

"Graarr!" Leviathan roared, nodding. He couldn't talk but he seemed to understand our words. "Roar..."

"D-Don't you dare run away!" Aquarina cried. "Why would you? Dummy..."

"S-Sorry, don't get angry out of nowhere now!" Undine sighed, patting her head with her little hands.

Since Aquarina made a bond with little Undine that she had grown alongside her in a similar fashion than my own spirits, the same for Leviathan.

After having grown stronger on their own, they were much larger, Undine looked more mature as well, but she was still mostly around the same size, maybe twice as big? But that isn't much either.

And Leviathan... still looks like a young ice or sea dragon, I think. Maybe I should help her Familiars grow stronger too. Should I give them System Seeds?

Ah, shouldn't I had thought about that much earlier?!

"They're my companions, even if they're not as incredible as your spirits!" Aquarina smiled. "So of course I miss him... Stupid Pyuku! After all the time I spend on taking care of him, he just runs away like he never cared about me!"

"There, there, it's alright." I smiled. "Well, my familiars can grow so strong because of the System Seeds too. So I was thinking... How about I give some to your familiars too? Huh? How about it?"

"R-Really?!" Aquarina was surprised. "I never thought about it! But... It would make me feel a bit guilty... You've already done so much for me, honeybun."

"I know~ But I can always do some more." I giggled. "Don't worry, you can pay me back later in some other fashion." I shrugged.

"How about I pay you with kisses?" Aquarina smiled coquettishly, giving me a big kiss in my lips. "Mooch!"

"Hehehe, maybe!" I giggled a bit. "Now, Undine, Leviathan, want to grow stronger?"

"Stronger...? What do you mean, Sylphy?" Undine was confused.

"Raarr?" Leviathan tilted his little dragon head.

As we made our way back to my house with everyone else, I decided to tell Alice about it.

"Okay, let's do it... I think I can muster two right now!" She agreed immediately. "You're running a bit low on EXP though, Sylphy, is that alright?"

"Yeah, I don't really mind, I'll get more as we explore the continent." I nodded.

"Sylphy, Alice..." Aquarina felt a bit moved. "T-Thank you for helping my spirits gain the potential to get stronger... ugh, I feel so guilty. What can I do to pay back aside from kisses? Oh, right, I am fairly good at alchemy! And also I'm getting good at crafting..." She started murmuring to herself. "Hehehe, I'll make something then!"

"Really?" I wondered. "Then I'll be looking forward to it!" I giggled. "Now...!"

[You've exchanged 7.250.000 EXP!]

[You have created two [System Seeds]!]

Two silver-colored cubes emerged in front of my hands, as I gave them to Undine and Leviathan. The two Spirits were curious, but happily received the treasures.

FLAAASH! FLAAASH!!lights

Their bodies started glowing with incredibly bright light, as blue circuits emerged across and then slowly receded, their Status were quickly registered and created... Well, that was quick and easy!

Ding!

"Oh wow, their stats are much higher than I thought for E+ Rank Spirits!" I said in surprise. "I guess all this time they have still grown stronger even if they couldn't evolve!"

"Really?" Aquarina was happy, hugging her spirits.
