421 Chapter 420

Trevor slowly turned around.

Those present immediately gasped at the sight of him!

The reason was simple.

Trevor's eyes were so swollen that they were now grotesquely bulging!

Although he still had his hands clasped behind his back, maintaining an air of immortal grace, his face was swollen to the point that it was nearly unrecognizable.

Keira was also stunned.

Even though this face was beyond recognition, why did it vaguely remind her of her master?

No, it couldn't be...

Chris blurted out in shock. "Trevor? No, Sect Leader?"

Lady Gill was also taken aback, her tone unconsciously softer. "What happened to you...?"

Master Freeman touched his own face.

421 Chapter 420

It wasn't just his eyes that were swollen but even his cheeks. Due to the constant tears, he had developed a rash, making his face unbearable to look at.

Trevor coughed. "Lady Gill, I really am unwell, which is why I haven't been a great host, please forgive me."

Lady Gill choked, unable to argue about his attitude earlier, and simply asked, "What's wrong with your eyes?"

"Nothing serious, they're just inflamed from an illness."

Trevor sighed silently.

Chris immediately said, "Master, you need to take care of your health. How can you let it go this far without seeing a doctor? Let me take you to the hospital later!"

"That won't be necessary." Trevor knew all too well. His eyes were merely swollen from crying, and warm compresses should clear it up in a few days.

Of course, that presupposed... no more tears, but how could that possibly be? For example, right now...

Chris frowned with concern. "How can you treat your health so carelessly? I your second iunior can't control you, but surely our Freeman Sect's eldest sister can, right? She'll be back in a few days, and when she sees you like this, she'll definitely be worried... Trevor, why are you crying?"

11.17

Trevor sobbed. "I'm okay... It's just the wind making my eyes water... Now they're so swollen, and I can hardly see people clearly... Lady Gill, please be patient with me, be patient..."

Lady Gill was speechless.

She suddenly felt as if she were the villain who bullied the old man. Trevor was already in such a condition;

how could she still hold him accountable?

She twitched the corners of her mouth, then turned to Austin, speaking somewhat critically, "What do you think?"

Austin pursed his lips. "Mom, even if we handle this matter low-key, Keera still owes me an apology, right? At least let me feel her genuine remorse!"

Lady Gill then looked at Trevor. "Master Freeman, that's not too much to ask for, right?"

Master Freeman immediately said, "Not at all, not at all..."

O

3/8

421 Chapter 420

Then he squinted at the people around him.

He could barely see anything clearly, just a blur with a few figures, one of which was Chris; he could recognize his second junior by shape alone.

Another must be James; that left only...

Trevor turned to Kate. "It's you, the Outer Sect Disciple, right? Come here, apologize to Lady Gill and Mr. Gill!"

The crowd was speechless.

Kate couldn't help but laugh, "Uncle, I'm Kate!"

"Ah! Kate!" Master Freeman only then shifted his gaze to the figure next to Kate, pausing for a slight moment. That figure, why did it resemble his little disciple much?

He wanted to cry again...

SO It must be because he missed his disciple too much. Now everything reminded him of her!

Trevor's tears fell uncontrollably again, and then he spoke in a tearful voice, "That Outer Sect Disciple, come and apologize."

11

Keira didn't know what to say.

She stepped forward, approaching Lady Gill and Austin, and said indifferently,

"I'm sorry."

Austin scoffed. "What did you say? I can't hear you!

Louder!"

Keira blinked. "Austin, are you going deaf at such a young age? That's quite pitiful. Do you need me to recommend you a doctor?"

Austin was dumbfounded.

He flew into a rage, "Is that how you apologize?"

Keira's eyes grew colder, about to retort, when Trevo spoke again. "Enough, that's enough. Austin, as a nominal disciple, you can't even defeat an Outer Sect Disciple, and that's quite impressive indeed. As the Sect Leader, it's my duty to educate you. After you go home, practice all the Freeman Sect martial arts every day!"

Austin was dumbfounded. "Freeman Sect martial arts? Every day? All of them?" The Freeman family had several sets of boxing techniques alone, not to mention sword techniques and other martial arts moves.

11:17

O

Practicing all of them in one day would leave no time for rest!

Trevor nodded. "That's right, to prevent any talk that our Freeman Sect's nominal disciple is a good-for-nothing"

Austin didn't know what to say.

Lady Gill scoffed coldly. "Master I

Freeman, today I have truly seem how have the Freeman Sect administers fair justice. You really do know how to shelter your own!"

"No worries! Everything's fine!" Trevor sighed. "Lady Gill, I can't help it. You mentioned your son vis@nominal disciple, but Keira is Uncle Olsen's daughter. I trust Lady Gill doesn't really want to escalate things, right?"

Lady Gill harrumphed and stood up abruptly, then glowered at Keira. "Don't think this is over. You better watch out and not fall into my hands!"

With those words, she took Austin and headed straight for the door!

Soon, they disappeared from the doorway.

Trevor breathed a sigh of relief and then looked in the direction where m

Chris stood, "Chris, my eyes really are uncomfortable today. Regarding Live taking on a disciple, shall we postpone until tomorrow? Let's show Lady Gill some respect; it wouldn't be right if she just left and we reward someone without any punishment by naming them a nominal disciple, right? Let's wait a day."

Chris nodded. "Okay, Trevor, you've been through a lot."

"It's nothing."

Trevor waved his hand and, with the support of others, slowly left the scene. Keira watched him go, feeling increasingly familiar with him... She suddenly turned to James. "Do you have a photo of the Sect Leader?"

"Yeah!"

"Let me see it."

"Oh, sure."

Chris took out his phone, opened a photo he took with the Sect Leader, and handed it to Keira.

422 Chapter 421

Keira's pupils shrank slightly at the sight of the familiar figure in the photo.

"This, this... isn't this my Master?"

She immediately froze, then looked toward James, suddenly recalling his words.

"The eldest senior sister started her apprenticeship at fifteen, practicing martial arts every day for two hours with the Sect Leader..."

"The eldest senior sister grew up in a rough environment, used to getting beaten, and developed a strong physique..."

"The Sect Leader went on a study journey for three years and returned a few years ago, saying that when the eldest senior sister turned twenty-three, she would return to Freeman Sect..."

"Master also said that when she turned twenty-three and graduated from university, he would go to fetch her."

So...

11:17

422 Chapter 421

"Have I been kept in the dark all this time?"

"The Freeman Sect's eldest senior sister, is that me?!"

Keira slowly turned to look at James again...

Thinking about how every time she competed in the Freeman Sect, she was always terrified of losing, but it seemed like she always won quite easily....

Keira couldn't help but slap her forehead.

The first day she met the Sect Leader, she had a vague sense of familiarity. How could she not have thought of this possibility!

The cooperation with Freeman Sect was handed to her on a silver platter!

James watched her behavior, puzzled, and said, "Sister, do you think the Sect Leader just now looked ugly? Actually, he's quite handsome..."

Kate then said, "I don't know what's wrong with the Sect Leader. Why does he keep crying!"

Chris added. "Keera, you should prepare yourself. Come tomorrow to officially become a disciple. I'll accept you as an Inner Sect Disciple!"

*1 17

422 Chapter 421

Upon hearing this, James was stunned. "What? Master, wasn't it supposed to be as a nominal disciple?"

Trevor looked at Keira with a face full of joy. "Of course not, with her talent, she must be an Inner Sect Disciple!"

James was dumbfounded.

He and Kate, escorting Keira, left the building.

On the way, the two whispered to each other.

James said, "I suddenly remember, when Master sparred with Sister, didn't she push him back several steps with a single punch?"

Kate nodded. "My dad finally did something human-like, knowing to go easy on Keera! But isn't accepting her as an Inner Sect Disciple a bit too much?"

James rubbed his chin. "Master must have decided to give Keera some reward because of me. Let's make do with Inner Sect Disciple then. The main concern is that if others found out, they might become jealous and constantly challenge Keera to a fight!"

Indeed, within Freeman Sect, there was a rule

11.17

O

3/8

422 Chapter 421

forbidding striking one's elders, the hierarchy was strict.

But there was still a way around it, which was to issue a challenge!

If the other party agreed, then they could arrange a match in the Martial Arts Hall.

Those with minor grievances typically resolved their issues this way.

If Keera became an Inner Sect Disciple, it would undoubtedly cause unrest among the Outer Sect Disciples and even some hardworking Inner Sect Disciples, who might then all issue her challenges.

Should she accept, or should she not?

Kate also began to worry. "Dad was always measured in his actions. Originally, he agreed on her being a nominal disciple. How did it turn into Inner Sect Disciple?! But there's an old saying, 'Where there's a will, there's a way!' Maybe Dad was just testing her just now and got excited by the hunt. Keera is indeed very capable!"

James coughed, pulling a face. "Impossible. Do you think everyone is the eldest senior sister? Becoming an Inner Sect Disciple at this age is just for fitness and martial arts. She won't become a peerless master."

422 Chapter 421

The two chatted and left, but as they walked, they suddenly felt something was amiss.

Kate suddenly asked, "Did we forget something?"

James held her hand. "I also feel something's not right..."

The two exchanged a glance, then suddenly turned around, only to find that the sister who was supposed to be behind them had disappeared!

James was dumbfounded.

So was Kate.

Keira did it on purpose.novelbin

She avoided the two of them and then headed toward the courtyard where the Sect Leader lived.

Now that she knew it was her Master, of course, she had to go and meet him.

Freeman Sect was vast, so she searched for a long time, finally finding the place James had taken her to 11:17

422 Chapter 421

last time, then she quietly pushed the door open and sneaked into the courtyard.

She slowly made her way toward the room where the Sect Leader was.

In the room, Trevor's tears just wouldn't stop."

The talk about his junior disciple stirred up his sorrows again.

Trevor, crying and complaining, took a tissue and fiercely wiped his nose; his swollen features, which were hard to look at, immediately swelled even more.

Holding a boiled egg, he applied it to his eyes to give them some relief-the swelling was so severe he could barely see!

Just then, the door opened.

Trevor said lazily, "Who is it? Didn't I say not to disturb me? Leave!"

How could he show himself in this state!

Especially since he used to brag about the eldest senior sister in o'm Freeman Sect, causing all the Inner N.C Sect Disciples to know that praising the eldest senior sister would make the Sect Leader happy!

6/8

422 Chapter 421

So, almost everyone he met every day had to mention the junior disciple, needlessly increasing his sorrow!

While the Sect Leader was mulling over this, the person who entered the room didn't speak.

He knitted his brows.

Only then did he realize the footsteps of the person entering the room were very light.

Was that a capable martial practitioner?

Trevor immediately took the egg off his eyes and then stared with then eyes that could barely make out shapes, looking toward the person standing at the door.

And little by little, he recognized the face of Keira.

Keira looked at him and said, "Master, long time no see."

Trevor was dumbfounded.

Then he put the egg back over his eyes and mumbled to himself, "I must be seeing things, right? How come it looks like I see Keira again?"

When Keira heard him speak like that, she just smiled.

Trevor paused, put down the egg, and looked at Keira again!

But the girl in front of him suddenly leaned in close, and her once-blurry face appeared right before his eyes, startling Trevor.

He jumped up and then turned to look outside. "Keira, it's broad daylight, how come you're here?"

Keira was perplexed.

Was he mistaking her for a ghost?

She twitched the corner of her mouth and walked up to Trevor, grabbing his arm.

Trevor panicked., "Keira, although I've always missed you, I didn't want to join you in the underworld. You can't come to take me away!"

19

423 Chapter 422

Keira didn't know what to say.

She rolled her eyes, "I'm not dead."

"Not dead?"

Trevor was slightly stunned, leaned in close to her, and managed to squint down at the ground with his swollen eyes. He noticed she had a shadow under the sunlight, which immediately relieved him.

Then he couldn't help getting angry. "You unfilial disciple, where have you been all this time? If you weren't dead, couldn't you have sent a message to your master? Do you know I almost went blind from crying-over you!"

Keira said, "...and after almost going blind, you were still scared when you saw me?"

Trevor didn't know what to say.

He pulled at the corner of his mouth. "Isn't it normal to be scared of ghosts?"

Keira rolled her eyes again and then sat down on the cushion next to him, "Why didn't you tell me sooner that you were the Sect Leader of Freeman Sect?"

11:17

423 Chapter 422

She had been playing challenge games over there!

Trevor coughed. "Back then, I was teaching you every day in the park, chasing you and begging to teach you, and all those old ladies and men in the park laughed at me for throwing myself at you. Doesn't the Sect Leader of Freeman Sect have any pride?"

Keira was speechless.

She then glanced at the swelling on Trevor's face, took out an ointment from her pocket, and threw it to him.

Trevor asked, "What's this?"

"For the swelling. Stop crying."

Trevor happily accepted it. "Good girl, you're so good to me. Wait, how did you get in?"

Then he looked at her clothes. "That training outfit, isn't it an Outer Sect Disciple's? Why are you wearing that?"

Keira twitched the corner of her mouth. "I'm now Keera, an Outer Sect Disciple of Freeman Sect."

Trevor was momentarily stupefied, his expression suddenly disappeared, and he looked at her. "Keira, have you encountered some trouble? I remember you can swim, how could you have drowned? No, you didn't die, so the one who died was..."

Keira lowered her gaze. "My twin sister, Keera."

Trevor immediately breathed a sigh of relief. "I'm relieved you're alright."

After saying that and noticing Keira's unusual complexion, he realized his words sounded too aloof and callous. He coughed and then said, "I didn't mean it like that... So you're now Keera?"

"Right, so I still need your help, Master."

Trevor immediately asked, "What kind of help?"

"I want to make Keira the senior sister of Freeman Sect, is that possible?"

Trevor was stunned.

His jaw tightened as he looked at Keira.

A look flashed in his eyes, and after a while, he sighed. "I'm afraid that won't work, the names have been registered early on, and we can't change them." Keira looked at him. "Then why were you silent just now?"

423 Chapter 422

"Well..."

Trevor laughed. "However, if you want to become an Inner Sect Disciple of the Freeman Sect, there's no problem with that. I can arrange it for you."

"Okay."

Keira stood up. "Since you mentioned to hold the ceremony tomorrow, let it be tomorrow then. I've already spoken to my second senior brother..."

"He's your second senior uncle!" Trevor corrected her.

Keira chuckled. "Alright, I've already agreed with my second senior uncle to be his nominal disciple under the identity of Keira. That's also fine."

"No problem, I'll arrange everything for you tomorrow!"

Trevor responded quickly, then stared at her and sighed silently. "Keira, I don't know what you've been through, but remember, the Freeman Sect is your strong and steadfast support!"

Keira was slightly startled upon hearing this.

Trevor was the master she met when she was fifteen, nestering her to teach her martial arts every day and even paying her. To Keira, he seemed like an oddball.

11:17

5/9

423 Chapter 422

However, having grown accustomed to the oddball's company, she found herself somewhat reluctant to part with him when he left.

Now that she thought about it, Taylor wasn't very nice to her at that time, which made her crave for a father's love even more; perhaps some of that longing was transferred onto Trevor.

She suppressed the slight sorrow in her chest. "Okay, Master."

After leaving Trevor's residence, Keira went out and saw James and Kate looking for her. When they saw her, they asked, "Where did you just go?"

Keira replied, "Nowhere. Are you done for today?"

"Yes, we're done. Where are you heading?"

Keira waved at James. "I'm going to check on Matias."

Nara gave her the address, saying that Matias wasn't seriously injured, but she still couldn't help worrying and decided to see for herself.

After leaving the Freeman Sect, she saw Lewis waiting for her in his car.

11 17

423 Chapter 422

Keira immediately got into the car.

Following the address given by the mute girl Nara, they quickly arrived at Matias's place.

It was a small bungalow in downtown Clance's district, looking very dilapidated all around. It was impossible to drive through that part of town, so Keira got out of the car and walked in with Lewis.

On the way, Keira asked, "Did you know all along that I'm pretty good at martial arts?"

"Yes."

Lewis laughed indulgently. "Don't you know how good you are?"

"Nonsense." Keira couldn't help but retort. "Why didn't you tell me earlier?"

Every time I spar, I'm scared to death, fearing I'll bleed!"

The smile on Lewis's face grew wider. "I just thought you were pretty cute like that."

Keira rolled her eyes.

She looked around while walking and couldn't help but sigh. "It's not easy to live in Clance. How happy can the people living in the center of downtown Clance really be? It feels even worse than living in a big house in the suburbs!"

Lewis nodded.

Suddenly, Keira turned to him. "By the way, have you been in contact with Ellis recently?"

Lewis was confused.

He coughed slightly. "What's up?"

Avoiding a direct answer meant there had been contact.

Keira said, "I'll send you a divorce agreement later; have him sign it."

Lewis was stunned. "Huh?"

Keira counted on her fingers. "In two more days, Maryn will be able to have the amniocentesis. Before that, have him sign the divorce agreement!" Lewis was speechless.

424 Chapter 423

Lewis found this task a bit tricky.

He coughed and couldn't help saying, "It seems like he doesn't really want to divorce..."

"He has no say in it." Keira's eyes flashed with a touch of fierceness. "Last time, he even forced Mary to take abortion medicine. Mary has given up on him completely; she even asked me to do this a few days ago."

Lewis coughed. "But if they get a divorce, doesn't that mean your first task has failed?"

Keira raised her eyebrows and suddenly looked at him. "Why do you think my first task was to get Mary married to Ellis?"

Lewis paused slightly.

Both Keira and Lewis felt that the South family had their hands in far-reaching places, so when she was outside, Keira always assumed the identity of Keera.

At this moment, Lewis suddenly said, "Do they want you to form a cooperation with both the Olsen family and the Davis family?"

424 Chapter 423

Keira nodded. "If I guessed right, that should be the case. The fact that Mary and I became classmates and best friends might also have been arranged by the South family."

At the time, Keera was young and was sent to the same kindergarten as Mary.

Mary, being the daughter of the Davis family's direct lineage, attended an absolutely high-end kindergarten. How could Keera's family afford to spend half of their annual income to send her to such a kindergarten?

They must have made up their minds early to have her befriend Mary.

Who the children befriend was something parents could guide...

T If Mary became her friend, the cooperation with the Davis family would effortlessly be secured.

As for the Olsen family, only through the marital alliance between Mary and the Olsen family could they maintain a close relationship with the Olsens!

11:17

424 Chapter 423

Without knowing what the second task was, she might have been unable to grasp the reason behind the first task, but once she saw the second task, she guessed what it was.

Keira said, "Recently, Mary has been emphasizing one thing to me, that she plans to divorce after giving birth to her child. I didn't understand why at the time, but now I do. She must have overheard a conversation between us unintentionally, knowing that my first task was to get her married to Ellis. That's why she endured such humiliation and married Ellis."

Keira lowered her eyes. "Otherwise, she wouldn't have needed to put herself through that, given she had cash and savings."

At this, she sighed silently.

The friendship between Keera and Mary could be described as a two-way dedication.

The most important person in Keera's life was Mary.

But wasn't it also for Keera that Mary sacrificed her own happiness?novelbin

Lewis frowned. "Does Mary really want a divorce?"

3/9

424 Chapter 423

"Yes."

Keira continued, "She has wanted to divorce for a long time, but for my sake, she changed the date in the divorce agreement to after the child is born, which gives me time to save my mother."

Lewis also understood Mary's plans. "Fine, I'll help her with Ellis."

Keira nodded.

Lewis suddenly said, "Have you been thinking about how to cooperate with Lady Gill?"

Keira immediately looked at him. "Do you have any thoughts?"

"No."

Keira felt a tinge of disappointment.

Lewis then said, "But I do know a secret about the Gill family."

Keira's eyes instantly lit up. "Tell me!"

Lewis slowly said, "I've heard that the reason Lady Gill has become what she is today is because, fifteen years ago, she lost a daughter."

11.17

424 Chapter 423

Keira was stunned.

She had never heard of this before.

Lewis continued. "Very few people know about this, but the Gill family has never given up looking for this daughter."

Keira understood something. "You mean, if we help her find the girl, maybe we can resolve the issue of me assaulting Austin?"

Today, the Sect Leader supported her, which had its pros and cons.

The advantage was that she could finally become an apprentice in the open!

The downside, however, was that it made Lady Gill dislike her even more. Without resolving the incident of her hitting Austin, the cooperation with the Gill family might not be achievable.

Lewis said, "I'm just saying there's a possibility, but this girl is a bit hard to find. The Gill family has been looking for fifteen years, and I've also asked Tom to search for her. But after all, it's a fifteen-year-old case and many clues have vanished, so we still haven't heard anything"

TH

5/9

< 424 Chapter 423

Keira then asked, "Does her daughter have any marks or traits?"

Lewis replied, "Apparently she carries a crescent-shaped jade pendant on her, but I don't know the details. After all, they're keeping a low profile while searching, fearing that someone might discover their daughter and harbor bad intentions."

Keira paused for a moment and nodded. "Let's think of other ways. Searching for someone in the whole of Crera is like looking for a needle in the ocean-it's too difficult."

The two of them made their way through several alleys, and finally found Matias's residence following the address provided by Nara.

Keira had just approached when she heard cries of pain coming from Matias's yard!

"Matias, your mute sister is quite pretty. If you can't come up with the money, why not send her to us to settle the debt?"

That was Jackson's voice.

This was followed by Matias's angry roar. "Jackson, let her gallop at her mal!"

650

424 Chapter 423

Jackson sneered. "I won't, what can you do to me?"

Matias, since you helped Keera bully me and my older brother, then I'm going to let you know the consequences of offending us! You guys, teach this little mute a lesson!"

In the yard.

The little mute Nara was shivering in the corner of the yard. She X

She couldn't make a sound, only the terror in her eyes as two burly men approached her.

With one leg bandaged, Matias was dragging himself toward Nara but before he could get there, he was grabbed by someone.

Jackson walked over to him, "Come on, Matias, let's see how much fun your mute sister is!"

A few men rushed toward the little mute and seized her arms, then dragged her to Jackson.

Jackson pointed to his cheek. "Come on, give me a kiss."

Nara's eyes widened in horror, and she looked at him with loathing before spitting at him.

Jackson just laughed, and in the next moment, he

Matias couldn't help but let out a horrific scream as a reflex from the pain!

Sweat then started to bead on his forehead.

Nara immediately shook her head, tears rolling down her face, her mouth open but unable to make a sound...

Jackson stared at her, asking, "Will you or will you not?"

Nara looked toward Matias.

Despite his intense pain, Matias still yelled at her.

"Don't kiss him! You mustn't... Ah!"

Jackson intensified his grip, causing Matias to cry out in pain once more.

Nara struggled to rush over, and at that moment, a crescent-shaped jade found her neck pendant hanging around her neck was exposed...

But when she opened her mouth, she couldn't speak a word...

Seeing this, Jackson stepped forward.

Then he noticed the crescent on her neck and was momentarily taken aback.

He scoffed, then forcefully pulled the jade pendant off her neck, toying with it in his hand. "This thing looks pretty valuable! It's definitely stolen from the main house, right? It's mine now!"

Having said that, he pocketed the jade pendant.

Matias immediately yelled, "Give it back to Nara! Give it back to her!"

Nara also wanted to step forward and grab it."

Today, I'll make you understand the consequences of disrespecting the direct lineage!"

Leaving those words behind, he kicked Matias in the stomach, then walked straight toward Nara.

He extended his hand, placing it on Nara's shoulder, and revealed a sleazy smile.

Matias was furious and desperate, lacking the strength to rush over to protect her, he could only curse loudly. "Jackson, you bastard! She's a member of the Gill family, practically your sister!"

Jackson sneered. "Don't think I don't know, this girl was just picked up by your family. She looks so exquisite, so why don't you come and play with me? I'll consider it as you compensating me with Keera!"

Her clothes were torn further!

Painful tears filled Nara's eyes, and she took the opportunity to bite down on Jackson's arm!

Jackson cried out in pain and pushed her away.

But just as he was about to touch Nara, Keira's angry shout came from the doorway. "Stop it!"

Matias hesitated slightly.novelbin

When he turned back, he saw Keira had already charged up, delivering a kick straight to his back, sending him flving and crashing heavily onto the ground nearby!

Seeing this, the rest of the thugs immediately charged forward.

Lewis had already arrived behind Keira, straightening his suit collar, his dark eyes staring down at those men, then one by one, he took them all down!

Keira didn't turn around, but instead looked at Nara.

Seeing her clothes torn, her gaze turned fierce as she stared at the two men holding Nara, who jumped at her look and immediately released their grip.

Nara went limp, nearly collapsing to the ground!

She looked at Matias through her tears...

Keira immediately took off her jacket and draped it over Nara, who clutched her hand, tears falling even faster.

Keira immediately asked, "Did he assault you?"

Nara nodded tearfully, then shook her head.

Matias immediately said, "Keera, let them go."

But Keira didn't listen. Instead, her eyes reddened as she turned to look at Jackson.

Entering just moments ago, she had heard his words, and she now understood that Jackson's beatings and bullying of Nara were all because of her.

This man truly knew how to bully the weak and fear the strong - seeing her take a strong stance, he targeted her friend!

Keira was furious and took steps towards Jackson.

She soon stood in front of him, then turned back and pointed at Nara. "Apologize to her!"

Enduring the pain, Jackson climbed up from the ground, staring at Keira with venom. "Why should I?!"

Keira reached out and grabbed his collar. "I told you to apologize!!" Jackson, caught by her, sneered. "Keera, you sure can fight now, can't you? But it's useless! After all, I'm now your senior. Didn't Lady Gill come to you today?"

How dare you do anything to me now?"

Keira narrowed her eyes.

Nara had already rushed to Matias's side, clutching the jacket Keira had put on her and sobbing with her head lowered.

Matias gently patted her back.

Then, making an effort, he slowly stood up and said, "Keera, step aside."

Keira didn't move.

Matias slowly walked over. "I can't let you break the Freeman Sect's rules because of us. You can't hit him, but I can..."

With these words, he threw a fierce punch at Matias's cheek!

Matias's cheek was struck to the side, but he just spat a mouthful of blood at him.

"Matias, you don't want to remain a disciple of the Freeman Sect?!"

"I quit!"

Matias's eyes were bloodshot, staring at him with almost complete bloodlust. "Martial arts are meant to protect loved ones. Now, bound by the sect rules, I can't beat you even after the humiliations you've brought upon us. I'd rather not be an Outer Sect Disciple of the Freeman Sect!"

Having said this, he threw another punch, aiming to hit straight at Jackson's face!

But unexpectedly, a sudden excruciating pain in his leg made him unable to stand steady, his body swayed, and he slumped to the side.

Seeing this, Jackson couldn't help but laugh. "What a waste! Matias you're so useless evert when it comes to hitting me. You and your sister deserve to be bullied by me!"

After saying that, he turned his gaze to Keera. "Keera, what can you do to me?! Let me tell you, Matias is done for. I can walk out of here today with my head held high! You have assault charges against a fellow sect member on your back. If you dare touch me, do you believe that by tomorrow, you could be expelled from the Freeman Sect?!"

No sooner had Jackson finished his taunt than he saw Keira's gaze turn ferocious...

The next moment, Keira's foot slammed viciously into his groin!!

"Bang!"

Everyone seemed to hear a faint sound of something shattering, and then Jackson turned pale in an instant. He looked down incredulously and saw a trail of blood at his crotch...@

Jackson was stupefied.

A surge of excruciating pain hit him, and he only felt darkness before his eyes, as he passed out from the pain!

"Mr. Gill!"

The thugs beside him couldn't help but exclaim in shock as they rushed to Jackson's side, and then turned to Keira with a vicious glare, cursing, "You just wait, Gill family will not let this go!!"

Leaving those words behind, they quickly lifted Jackson up and hurriedly left the place!

The courtyard still retained the chaos of the recent scuffle, and only after they had gone did it finally quiet down.

426 Chapter 425

Keira's brow furrowed slightly when she heard Matias's panicked voice. "Keera, you, how could you..."

Keira looked at him indifferently. "What about it?"

Matias heaved a sigh. "Forget it, if the Freeman Sect starts investigating, just say it was me who kicked him! Don't admit it no matter what, otherwise, you'll really lose the chance to join the Inner Sect!"

Keira sighed. "It's fine."

"What do you mean 'it's fine?!' Matias was completely frantic. "Your lifelong dream has been to join the Inner Sect. How much hardship have you endured over these years for this? Jackson saw your ambitions, that's why he has been bullying you! How could you be so impulsive for us...?"

Impulsive?

Keira wasn't impulsive.

Upon entering and seeing Nara's state, she was indeed angry, but more than that, she was infuriated by the past humiliations her sister suffered at the hands of

11.18

Jackson!

Seeing Nara, it was as if she was looking at her sister back in the past!

Hadn't her sister, before this day, suffered the same fate time and time again?

Otherwise, how could Jackson have made those remarks?

So in her fury, she struck him.

Now, she had no regrets. With the Sect Leader there, she couldn't possibly get into trouble!

But Matias couldn't understand her reasoning and continued to plead earnestly. "Remember what I said, go to the Freeman Sect now and accuse me of assaulting Jackson. When the time comes, I'll insist that it was me and take all the blame upon myself!"

Keira, however, didn't move.

Instead, Lewis stepped forward.

Upon seeing him, Matias immediately recognized him as Keera's newly taken gigolo and said, "Talk to her!"

Lewis came over to Keira and said. "As a woman, how could you kick a man there?

11:18

3/9

426 Chapter 425

Keira raised an eyebrow.

Matias also took a deep breath. "I'm not saying you can't hit him, anything else is open to discussion, but that part is clearly... if it's damaged, our feud with the Gill family will truly escalate!"

Lewis nodded. "Next time you want to do something like that, let me do it."

Matias was dumbfounded.

He looked incredulously at Lewis, his mouth twitching, about to say something, but Keira asked, "Why?"

Lewis just curled his lips. "It's quite filthy."

Then he looked down and took out a tissue from his pocket and wiped the bloodstain on the leather boots she was wearing today.

After wiping it off, he took a deep breath as if still disgusted and then looked back at Matias. "Do you have any water?"

Matias was confused.

His mouth twitched, but Nara had already snapped out of her shock. She immediately nodded.

11:18

She then took a basin and entered the room, returning shortly with some water.

She handed the water to Lewis.

Lewis took out his handkerchief, dipped it in the water, and once again carefully wiped Keira's boots clean.

Keira felt like her black leather boots were about to be polished white!

Only then did he let go, still frowning in dissatisfaction.

Keira didn't know what to say.

She pursed her lips, unable to help but pat him lightly. "That's enough!"

Lewis finally stopped his motions.

Keira immediately looked at Matias. "You were deliberately hurt by Jackson, why didn't you report it to the Freeman Sect?"

Matias sighed. "It's no use, Jackson is from the direct lineage of the Gill family. Not to mention how the r

11:18

5/9

426 Chapter 425

Freeman Sect would handle it, even the Gill family itself would send people to suppress this issue."

He hung his head in disappointment. "He's from the second branch and colludes with Austin from the first branch. Lady Gill loves her third son the most, and as a result, she has always been biased toward Jackson, so his status is very high within the family."

He started worriedly, "Keera, you..."

"Don't mention what you just said,"

Keira said. "Never mind the fact that so many people saw earlier, but considering your injury, how could you have kicked him? With your uninjured leg or your injured one?"

Matias was speechless.

Keira patted his shoulder and then turned to look at Nara.

After a moment, she slowly said, "The Freeman Sect has wronged you, and about that sect rule, I'll suggest to the Sect Leader to change it."

If she wasn't the senior sister, that would be one thing, but now being in that position, she felt a sense of belonging to the sect, and so, of course, any unreasonable rules needed to be amended.

11:16

Keira looked again at Nara, observing the barren state of the home, and couldn't help but sigh. She took out a stack of money and handed it to he., "Take this money."

Nara immediately waved her hand away and then reached out to grab the paper and pen.

However, upon touching her neck, she suddenly realized that her jade pendant, which had been snatched by Jackson, hadn't been returned yet!

Nara panicked instantly.

Her brother had said that she had been wearing that jade pendant when they found her, which might be related to her background. If it were lost, wouldn't she be unable to find her biological parents in the future?

Nara's eyes reddened in an instant.

Keira frowned, asking, "What's wrong?"

Meanwhile.

At the Gill family residence.

Austin had been beaten so badly that his face was swollen and bruised. Feeling humiliated, he had been staying at home for a few days.

At this moment, Lady Gill hurried in from outside.

Seeing this, Austin couldn't help but straighten up. "Mom, what's the rush? Is there news about my sister?"

As he mentioned his sister, Lady Gill's footsteps faltered slightly.

A hint of sadness emerged in both of their eyes...

Lady Gill said, "It's news about your sister. We located the human traffickers from back then. They said ver that when your sister was captured, she came down with a fever. Fearing she would infect the other children, they dumped her in Clance!"

427 Chapter 426

Upon hearing this, Austin's eyes instantly reddened. "What?! Has my sister been in Clance all these years?"

His complexion turned somewhat anxious.

Yet, flashes of a scene from fifteen years ago darted through his mind.

Back then, he was five, and his sister was four.

Because he was playful, he quietly snuck his sister out of the house, only to be targeted by human traffickers!

Initially, the traffickers wanted to capture him since he was a boy.

It was his sister who rushed at the feet of the trafficker and held on tight, refusing to let go. The trafficker slapped her several times, but she didn't release her grip.

The neighbors heard the commotion and were about to step out the door.

The trafficker, not daring to delay any longer, let him go out of fear and took the sister who was clinging onto him and put her in the car.

11:19

He was petrified at the time and failed to rescue his sister; he could only watch helplessly as they drove her away.

He chased after the car as hard as he could, crying his heart out, but it was to no avail.

That car would never stop.novelbin

Upon recalling that scene, Austin felt an immense pain in his heart.

That's why he could never free himself from the guilt of that incident and spent his days in Clance in idleness, never doing anything serious.

But Lady Gill and the rest indulged him...

Because they all knew why Austin's behaved that way.

Lady Gill hurried back to tell him the news as soon as she got it because of this...

Austin was ecstatic, "If we can pinpoint my sister's address, then finding her should be much easier! Mom, send more people to search in Clance! Even if we have to dig three feet into the ground, we must find her!!"

Lady Gill nodded, comforting him. "Alright, I know.

Don't worry."

11.19

427 Chapter 426

Austin then immediately dashed upstairs, came back down hugging his box, and rushed to Lady Gill. "Mom, these are the gifts I've prepared for my sister over the years. All my New Year's money is in here, along with shares of the company... My life was given to me by my sister; all these things should be hers after we find her!"

Lady Gill's eyes reddened and she nodded firmly. "Okay. Your sister won't blame you..."

Austin wiped away his tears. "My sister and I were so close when we were little, always together. She won't blame me. It's just... I don't know if she's had a good life over these years?"

Lady Gill also sighed. "Hopefully, a kind-hearted person took her in."

Austin nodded.

Just then, Austin's phone suddenly rang. He answered, and the howling cries of Jackson came through. "Austin, Austin, you must stand up for me! Ah..."

Austin moved the phone a bit further away until the pitiful screams inside ended, then put it back to his ear. "What happened to you?"

11:19

427 Chapter 426

"Austin," Jackson said weakly. "It's Keera! She beat me up again today, she crushed my... family jewels!"

1

Upon hearing this, Austin glanced subconsciously at a certain part of himself and immediately felt a chill there.

That place was probably the most sensitive and vulnerable spot for a man, to have it crushed...

Austin shuddered suddenly; thankfully, Keera had shown some mercy when she moved against him last time!

How could he know...

He was just a loudmouth, and his offenses weren't deadly.

It was Jackson's behavior that infuriated Keira the most.

Keira knew what she was doing; whatever she did, the consequences were always within her expectations.

Swallowing hard, Austin asked, "Which hospital are you at? I'll come to see you..."

After Jackson mentioned the name of the hospital, Austin immediately hung up the phone and then looked at Lady Gill furiously. "Mom, that Keera is going too far! She completely disregarded the Gill family! I just visited Freeman Sect today to settle things with her, and now she has beaten Jackson again!"

11:10

427 Chapter 426

Upon hearing this, Lady Gill frowned instantly. "Jackson has been strutting around Clance all day long. I find it annoying. If he's been beaten, so be it!"

But Austin bluntly said, "His balls have been kicked to pieces."

Lady Gill was shocked.

She immediately stood up. "This isn't some small scuffle anymore! Keera truly has no sense of measure! We, the Gill family, must hold her accountable for this!!"

Austin nodded vigorously, "Right, mom, if we let this slide easily, who knows if she will kick mine to pieces next time?"

Lady Gill didn't know what to say.

Seeing her son's timid appearance, she curled her lips. "Okay, rest assured, I won't let her off easily! Even if she is Sam's daughter, what of it? She has to learn a lesson! We can't let her beat people willy-nilly!"

6/8

427 Chapter 426

Austin nodded, then grabbed his coat and rushed out,

"Mom, make sure you talk to sister properly. I'm going to see Jackson."

Austin quickly arrived at the hospital.

He went straight to the ward where Jackson was staying.

Jackson had already undergone surgery; the doctor said his balls were shattered and beyond repair. Jackson was in despair, had received anesthesia, and wasn't in so much pain now.

When Austin entered, he immediately asked, "So, have" you become a eunuch now?"

A flash of hatred flickered in Jackson's eyes. "Yes! Austin, I can never do that kind of thing again! You must avenge me!"

Austin felt a chill down his spine and couldn't help asking, "What did you do to make her so angry?"

With bitter hatred, Jackson replied, "I just bullied a little girl, and she saw it... Austin, tomorrow, you have to take me to Freeman Sect. I absolutely can't let her go!!"

11:19

427 Chapter 426

The last sentence from Jackson was almost a roar.

This feud had developed to such an extent that it was now irreparable!

Austin nodded. "Don't worry, my mom has agreed. We will go to Freeman Sect again tomorrow. My injury can be ignored by Sect Leader and will heal in a few days, but yours is severe! Freeman Sect must give the Gill family an explanation!"

Tears escaped from Jackson's eyes.

m

"I want her to marry me! To be responsible for the rest of my life! I want to torment her severely on the bed every day!"

Austin frowned at Jackson's words.

He felt that Jackson had been driven insane by the ordeal.

Just then, a nurse entered, carrying Jackson's clothes. "We changed you into opergery attire right in the operating room. Here are your clothes; I'll place them here..."

The nurse set the clothes on the sofa beside them, then turned and left.

But as his gaze was about to retract, he suddenly spotted a piece of jade...

"Isn't that my sister's jade?"

He quickly turned to Jackson, pointing at the jade and asking, "Where did this come from?!"

428 Chapter 427

Jackson was slightly startled when he heard these words and turned his head.

Upon seeing the moon-shaped jade pendant, he momentarily froze.

Where did this come from?

He recalled snatching it from the neck of Matias's sister...

Just as this thought crossed his mind, he suddenly felt something was off.

That jade pendant...

The daughter lost by the first branch of the family, wasn't she wearing such a piece of jade when she disappeared?

So, Matias's sister was actually the lost daughter of the Gill family, the rightful young princess of the first branch?

Jackson's eyes immediately became frantic.

Just then, Austin had already rushed to his side,

11:19

1/9

428 Chapter 427

completely disregarding his current injuries, and grabbed his collar. "Speak, where did this moon-shaped jade come from!"

Jackson stopped in his tracks.

He swallowed hard, then slowly said, "Austin, well..."

"What? Speak!"

Austin roared at him angrily.

Looking at his state, and thinking back to how he had bullied Nara in the courtyard earlier that day, witnessing her tear-stained face, Jackson grew scared.

The first branch had lost a daughter, and although they didn't make a big fuss about it in public, all members of the direct lineage of the Gill family knew about it!

Moreover, they had never given up searching for her over these many years.

Austin felt especially guilty about this sister, wishing he could offer his heart and soul to treat her well!

If the first branch found out that he had nearly forced himself on their daughter, then he would definitely be driven out of the Gill family.

11:19

2/9

428 Chapter 427

With his current state, if he were thrown out, where would he live in the future?!

Jackson swallowed hard again and immediately said, "Austin, don't be anxious. I was just about to tell you about this... I had forgotten for a moment because of the pain, right?"

Austin immediately let go of his collar and asked, "Did you find our sister?"

Jackson nodded. "Yes, I have some leads. I brought this jade piece to show you first..

Austin cut him off. "This jade is my sister's. Where did you get it from?"

Jackson coughed. "From a black market shop. I'm guessing your sister couldn't make ends meet and sold this piece of jade. Alas!"

Austin was stunned when he heard this, then his eyebrows furrowed. "My sister is living in difficult circumstances? Then tell me the shop owner's address. I will go find them! No matter what, we must find my sister!"

Jackson cast his eyes down. "Okay, don't get agitated.

This already cent someone to look into it But this niece

11:19

has changed hands several times, and there are still no leads. Clance is also quite big, searching for someone is a little better than looking for a needle in a haystack, but it still takes time..."

Austin calmed down slowly as he listened, his eyes reddening. "Right, I can't be impatient. As long as we can find my sister, that's all that matters."

They had been searching for fifteen years with no news.

Upon seeing this jade, he panicked.

It was as if his sister was right by his side, yet he had not recognized her...

He patted Jackson on the shoulder. "This jade is just too important to our family, I will give you credit for this! Rest assured, I will definitely stand up for you in this matter! I'll go home right now and have my mother visit the Freeman Sect again tomorrow!"

"Good, thank you, Austin."

After Austin left the room, Jackson's face darkened.

At Matias's residence, Keira was watching Nara.

11:19

4/9

428 Chapter 427

The girl was anxious, gesturing at her chest as if she wanted to say something.

Keira asked, "What's wrong?"

She didn't understand sign language.

Nara immediately picked up a piece of paper and a pen, writing down the words.

"He snatched away my pendant!"

Keira immediately frowned. "Don't worry, I will definitely help you get it back."

Only then did Nara nod.

Then, suddenly realizing that her actions might bring trouble for Keira, she looked conflicted and wrote on the paper, "Will it cause you trouble?"

Keira patted her shoulder.

Nara was only about eighteen or nineteen years old, but she appeared very calm and composed. Being mute, she was also not particularly sensitive, and it was apparent that Matias doted on this little sister very much.

Keira said, "It was he who took your things, how could it bring me trouble? Don't worry."

428 Chapter 427

Nara then sighed in relief and nodded.

Keira told Matias and Nara to rest up and not worry about the Freeman Sect, and then she returned to the villa with Lewis.

The next day.

As soon as Keira woke up, she received a call from James. "Sister, that Gill family really is a persistent thorn. Yesterday Austin came knocking, and today Jackson was carried over, insisting that you hit him, they are hell-bent on smearing your name! This is just never-ending..." Keira cut off his rambling, "It seems like I did hit him."

"..." James was taken aback, "It was really you who hit him?"

"Yes."

Keira turned over and was startled when she saw Lewis's face.

The man was staring at her, and she didn't know how long he had been awake.

James's voice came through the phone. "But sister, even though Jackson and Austin are indeed very annoying, couldn't you have told me before hitting someone? I could have gone to hit him for you, and then you wouldn't be in trouble, right? Why do you always take action yourself?"

11:19

428 Chapter 427

Keira said, "Oh, I definitely will next time. I just couldn't hold back this time!

+69

James said, "Master said not to come to the Freeman Sect in case they catch you. Just stay at home, and he will go and ask the Sect Leader to step in and send the people away. But this time it may be more difficult because Jackson's injuries seem pretty serious..."

"I'll be there."

Keira got up to get dressed. James said, "What are you coming for? Don't come..."

"Yesterday, Jackson snatched something from Nara. Since I don't know which hospital he's in, and since he's going to Freeman Sect today, I'll go and get it back."

James was speechless.

He tugged at the corner of his mouth.

Kate asked, "How is it? Did you tell her to hide out at 11:19

428 Chapter 427

the Olsen family for a few days? We'll block the situation at the Freeman Situation at Sect for her and then..."

James said, "My sister said she's on her way now."

Kate was dumbfounded.

Chris immediately turned grim-faced. "She's being ridiculous! Does she really think that this can be glossed over like the incident with Austin? Although Austin is of the direct lineage, since he didn't suffer any fatal wounds, Lady Gill let her off the hook. But with Jackson, it's tantamount to causing disability, and the severity is completely different!

Legally, the first is a fight, but the second is causing disability, which carries different sentences!"

The rules of the Freeman Sect were different.

Beating a senior member, the most severe punishment was expulsion from the sect.

OM

Beating a senior member and causing disability, then according to the rules of the martial arts community, all the injuries must be inflicted on the perpetrator before expelling them from the sect.

James, "What should we do? The Freeman Sect can't possibly expel my sister can they?"

Chris said, "Call her and tell her not to come at all costs, then have your third uncle go to the Gill family to apologize, and get this matter settled..."

Several people looked toward him and saluted.

"Master."

Trevor waved his hand dismissively and walked to the seat at the head of the room. Today, Trevor had his usual imposing demeanor restored; the swelling in his eyes had subsided, and the allergic reaction on his face had healed.

Chris said, "Master Freeman, did you just say she wouldn't apologize? Are you referring to Uncle Olsen? Although it's true that Uncle Olsen has never lowered his head to anyone, this matter did start with Keera making the first move..."

Trevor scoffed. "The appearance of such an unworthy man within the Freeman Sect is the result of our own oversight. He's been causing trouble outside, and any disciple of the Freeman Sect should have intervened!"

Chris could only smile wryly. "Master Freeman, what you're saying makes sense, but isn't there... an issue with their statuses? Jackson was causing trouble outside, but she should have reported it to the sect instead of taking law into her own hands. Otherwise, doesn't that render our Disciplinary Hall meaningless?"

19:

429 Chapter 428

Trevor's stance was still resolute. "Isn't it meaningless now?"

Chris, not understanding why Trevor had been pleading with Lady Gill just yesterday but was so assertive today, coughed and slowly said, "No, that's not it, Trevor. The crux of the matter lies in the fact that Keera didn't have the status to strike a fellow sect member."

Trevor immediately scoffed. "Who says she doesn't?"

Upon hearing this, Chris was stunned. "What? What status does she have?"

Trevor looked at him but did not speak.

Just then, a voice came from outside the door. "Master Freeman, Second Uncle, there are visitors!"

"Who is it?"

"Uncle Olsen from the Olsen family. We have already opened the main gate and personally ushered him in."

Upon hearing that Uncle Olsen had arrived, Trevor and Chris immediately exchanged glances and hurried out the door, only to see rows of black vehicles driving into the yard of the Freeman Sect.

11:15

The impressive aura made it clear that the visitor had ill intentions.

Soon, Uncle Olsen's car stopped in front of them. His assistant stepped out and ran to the back to open the car door for Uncle Olsen.

Inside, Uncle Olsen glanced coldly at Trevor and Chris before finally stepping out with authority.

Trevor immediately stepped forward. "Uncle Olsen, to what do we owe this honor?"

Uncle Olsen snorted with a sneer. "I've heard that my daughter has suffered a lot of grievances here at the Freeman Sect, that someone named Jackson has been bullying her day after day. So today, I've come to seek justice."

Chris was speechless.

Wasn't Jackson the victim here?

Why did it seem like Keera was the one being portrayed as the victim?!

3/9

429 Chapter 428

Unable to hold back, he took a step forward and directly addressed Uncle Olsen. "Uncle Olsen, actually, your timing is perfect. Just take Keera home and hide her away. Once the Gill family's anger subsides, you can let her come out again..."

Uncle Olsen sneered. "My daughter has done nothing wrong, why should she hide?"

Chris didn't know what to say.

He looked toward Trevor, only to hear him nod and say, "Exactly, why should she hide?"

"Because she has injured a direct descendant of the Gill family!"

At that moment, Lady Gill came striding over, seething with anger.

Her car hadn't driven in but was parked outside. Following her, several bodyguards carried a stretcher, striding to the front.

On that stretcher, Jackson lay there covered with a quilt, which was propped up at the thigh to prevent it from touching the wound.

His face was ashen, his eyes full of a sinister glint, and at this moment, his eyes filled with tears as he looked at Lady Gill. "Aunt, you must stand up for me!"

Lady Gill then turned to Uncle Olsen. "Sam, your daughter has beaten up my nephew. You must give us an explanation for this!"

Uncle Olsen spread his hands. "Your nephew often bullies my daughter at the Freeman Sect. Shouldn't you also give me an explanation for that?"

Lady Gill rebuked. "Stop making excuses here!"

"Making excuses? Everyone in the Freeman Sect's Outer Sect Disciples knows that Jackson bullied my daughter. Should I question them one by one?"

Lady Gill retorted. "Even so, that doesn't justify resorting to violence!"

Uncle Olsen sneered. "So your nephew is allowed to bully others, but my daughter isn't allowed to defend herself? What kind of logic is that?"

Lady Gill scoffed. "As far as I'm aware, he didn't lay a hand on your daughter yesterday, did he?"

Uncle Olsen snorted. "Exactly, he's only a piece of trash that bullies the weak. Where would he dare to touch my daughter now? He was bullying another child, and my daughter couldn't stand by-that's why she intervened! Lady Gill, if you want to take this to court, then go ahead and call the police! Let's see how they handle it when they arrive!"

Lady Gill choked up.

At the end of the day, it was Jackson who started by bullying others and ended up getting beaten.

Even if the police were really called, after everything was cleared up, at most Keira would be deemed to have exercised excessive self-defense, and the Olsen family would just have to compensate for medical expenses.

Lady Gill, indignant, immediately looked at Trevor. "Master Freeman, what do you have to say?!"

Before Trevor could speak, Lady Gill sneered. "Keera did nothing wrong in the eyes of outsiders, but what about the rules of the Freeman Sect? I let go of the incident with my son being beaten yesterday! But today's situation with Jackson is more than just a beating- he's been crippled! Who knows how he's going to live in the future! She absolutely cannot be let Grg off lightly! I demand that the Freeman Sect make her experience all the pain she inflicted on Jackson, and furthermore, to expel her from the sect!"

Hearing this, James glanced at Jackson and then coughed, "Well, Lady Gill, the key is that my sister doesn't have that 'thing' so how could she get injured in the same way?"

The crowd was dumbfounded.

For a moment, they actually felt the argument was quite reasonable!

Other injuries, like missing arms or broken legs, could be replicated, but this injury couldn't be transferred onto a woman!

Lady Gill sneered. "I've thought of com that already. Injure Keera's reproductive organs, removing the uterus as punishment should suffice!"

After all, Jackson wouldn't be able to have children!

So depriving Keera of the ability to have children seemed only fair.

The balance seemed perfectly just.

But as soon as these words were spoken, Uncle

Olsen's expression darkened, and he took a step forward, staring intensely at Lady Gilb "Let's see who dares lay a finger on my daughter?!"

His aura was commanding, and his stance was like that of a tiger descending from the mountain, causing everyone present to be startled.

Lady Gill, however, was not scared and just sneered. "What? Sam, are you going to strike a woman?"

Uncle Olsen narrowed his eyes and remained silent.

Lady Gill then turned back to Trevor.

"Master Freeman, is it that whoever shouts the loudest gets their way in the Freeman Sect? What about the rules of the sect? Aren't they to be followed? I demand that the Freeman Sect deal with Keera according to its rules!"

Trevor said leisurely. "But, Keera hasn't violated any rules of the Freeman Sect, has she?"

Lady Gill immediately scoffed. "Master Freeman, it seems you have made up your mind to protect her? Is not attacking a fellow disciple a violation of the Sect rules?!"

Trevor raised an eyebrow and looked toward Jackson. "I recall that Jackson is an Outer Sect Disciple, right?"

"Indeed."

Lady Gill spoke up, "So what?"

Trevor coughed lightly, "Keera is an Inner Sect Disciple. When he sees an Outer Sect Disciple causing trouble outside, isn't it normal for him to step in and teach them a lesson?"

"Master..."

Lying on the stretcher, Jackson became anxious upon hearing these words. Though weak, he could barely speak, but he turned toward him. "As far as I know, she has not yet taken a master, which means she is not counted among the ranks of the Inner Sect Disciples! You cannot be biased toward her like this!"

After speaking, Jackson cried and looked toward Lady Gill, "Aunt, surely Master Freeman does not think that the Olsen Family is more powerful than ours and is deliberately bullying us, does he?"

Lady Gill glared at Trevor. "Trevor, you had better explain yourself clearly today. The Gill family is not someone your Freeman Sect can bully at will!!"

Trevor remained calm and unhurried.

His demeanor was completely different from the one who flattered Lady Gill yesterday. "I will certainly make things clear to everyone today. As a matter of fact, Keera was already admitted to the Inner Sect long ago! It just hasn't been announced publicly yet!"

Jackson immediately shouted. "Impossible! Two months ago, she was still desperately pleading with me to be admitted to the Inner Sect, how could she have possibly been admitted already?!"

Trevor glanced at him.

He thought to himself that it was Keera, not his favored disciple Keira!

But now Keira needed to live under the identity of Voorn Although he didn't understand what loira is planning, Trevor knew he must not ruin her plans.

Before Trevor could speak, Chris coughed. "This matter was already decided internally. I told my brother clearly yesterday that I would accept Keera as my disciple, making her my Inner Sect Disciple. So, the Sect Leader must have already recorded it under his name, just waiting for the official apprenticeship today! And when she hit you, it was right after her name was recorded, so the Sect Leader's words are not wrong! Keera beat you as an Inner Sect Disciple!"

Before Jackson could respond, Austin sneered. "I knew you would resort to such shameless arguments, so we had already gone to check the registration place for Freeman Sect disciples, and there was no record of any Inner Sect Disciples being entered yesterday. Second Uncle, it's better you stop showing partiality to her!"

Chris was taken aback.

Lady Gill scoffed. "Master Freeman, do you have anything else to say?"

Chris and James hastily looked toward Trevor, and Uncle Olsen also glanced over...

Then they heard Trevor laugh. "I did not say that my Second Brother accepted her as his disciple!"

"Whoever accepts her as a disciple needs to register! Since there is no registration, and her name is not in the Freeman Sect disciples' handbook, it's useless..."

Jackson roared angrily.

When Keira arrived, she just heard his words and scoffed.

She glanced indifferently at Trevor and saw him nodding lightly at her.

Keira immediately understood.

It seemed her identity as Senior Sister from Freeman Sect could no longer be hidden...

Now it was indeed most appropriate to use this identity to slap their faces.

As she entered the room, Jackson's expression changed immediately, and he furiously yelled, "Keera, you still have the face to come here? You dare to show up? I will make sure you pay the price today!"

With those words, he immediately looked toward the surrounding bodyguards "Grab her and beat her severely! Hit her in the stomach, I want to destroy her womb!!"

The bodyguards, upon hearing this, immediately glanced at Lady Gill.

Lady Gill let out a cold sneer. "What are you waiting for? Since both the Freeman Sect and the Olsen Family refuse to give us this respect, then we'll have to take matters into our own hands to reclaim it!"

As these words were spoken, the bodyguards immediately charged forward, encircling Keira!

Keira merely arched her eyebrows in disdain.

Now faced with so many people, she was no longer afraid!

Previously, she didn't know her true identity, but it turned out she was the Senior Sister from Freeman Sect. Were these few people not simply there to be knocked down at will?

As she thought this, Uncle Olsen stepped forward with large strides, his own bodyguards quickly gathering behind him, directly confronting the members of the Gill family!

James also came over without hesitation. "Sister, don't be afraid, I promise not to let them touch a single finger on you!"

Lady Gill looked coldly at Uncle Olsen. "Has the Olsen family decided to make an enemy of the Gill family?"

Uncle Olsen's gaze lowered, "That Gill boy bullied my daughter, if I don't stand up for her, does the Olsen family have no face to keep?"

Taking in a deep breath Lady Gill said/ "Fine, then today, the Gill and Olsen families will make a complete break!"

She took a step back. "It's also a good opportunity to test which family's bodyguards are more superior in martial strength!"

No sooner had she spoken than Trevor's voice suddenly cut in, "Lady Gill, please wait a moment."

Startled, Lady Gill turned to him. "What now? Is Master Freeman now considering a truce with us? Let me tell you, it's not necessary! Not unless you're willing to punish Keera!"

"Oh, Lady Gill, you misunderstand!"

Trevor looked toward Kate, "Why aren't you hurrying to call all the Inner Sect Disciples here!"

Kate blinked. "Huh?"

Lady Gill scoffed. "It's useless for you to protect the scene if our two m families start fighting! Trevor, don't waste your effort! I'll compensate you for the venue damage, no big deal!"

Trevor immediately waved his hand. "Don't bother. Lady Gill is being too polite.

How could we let you pay for the damage we do to our own venue?"

Lady Gill was taken aback. "You do to your own venue?"

She seemed not to understand what he meant.

Trevor nodded immediately. "That's right, the Gill family has bullied one of our own, and we at the Freeman Sect certainly aren't weaklings."

He then looked at Kate. "What are you still standing there for? Go gather everyone!"

Lady Gill was confused.

Her expression darkened. "What? Does the Freeman family also look down on the Gills? Are you planning to join forces with the Olsens to take us down?"

11:24

Trevor let out a sigh. "It's not that. I've always admired you, Lady Gill, how could I look down on you? It's just that you've bullied my disciple, and as a master, I certainly can't just stand by and watch!"

Lady Gill blinked. "What do you mean 'your disciple'?"

Chris, standing nearby, was also confused. "Trevor, don't you only have one disciple? Since when has Keera become your disciple?"

James and Kate also looked puzzled.

Keira raised an eyebrow and then heard Trevor speak. "That's right, only have one disciple. If someone in our Sect threatens your Senior Sister, are you just going to stand there and watch? Call people over now!" a Comment 7
