Chapter 10: Murder 2

After flying out and landing on the ground with a plop, it became clear that it was the * man's corpse.

Take a closer look, isn't he just one of the men in suits who rushed in?

Oh my God, he was killed in an instant.

The face was as gray as a dead body, and there was a fatal wound on the neck. If you didn't look carefully, it would be difficult to find that his neck was cut...a trace of red blood was on his neck. Obviously he was caught This fatal blow caused death.

After this person's body was thrown out for an instant, then within a few seconds, the second body was also thrown out.

With a plop, the corpse was just thrown in front of the red tiger and the gangster. The death was exactly the same as the first man, and he was killed by a fatal thing in the neck.

Chihu's and Xiaopo's face turned pale and ugly in an instant.

What about Li Tian's house? The deathly silence was restored again.

"As expected (Shadow), it is not easy to get a bite by my King Cobra and kill two people in a row." A grim voice suddenly came out of Xiao Du's mouth.

After his voice suddenly came out, the red tiger next to him roared, "What can I do with her, rush in and kill the lady." But even though he said so, his feet did not move half a step.

What about Li Tian's room? It was still deadly quiet, no sound was made, and no one came out.

"Ying, if you admit that you are wrong now and return to (Qisha), maybe I can let you have a way of life. Then maybe I will plead with you in front of the Sect Master and let him let you have a way of life. If you don't understand it , Don't blame my subordinates for being ruthless." Just listened to the gloomy voice of Xiao Poison continued.

What is the origin of the (Qisha) in his mouth? It sounds like the name of an organization. Are these people from (Qisha)?

At the same time, Li Tianzheng, who was driven out of his rented house, was walking depressed on the street.

I was still yelling at the mysterious woman at home: stinky woman, because you are so beautiful, but you have a scorpion heart, I really shouldn't have saved you.

Walking on the street while talking.

Suddenly I heard the two neighbourhoods on the left saying: "You said that the group of people said that the woman we are looking for is not reliable? If we find it for them, or if they don't give money, then we are not at a loss. Big?"

"What? Are you still looking for?" one of them said.

"What do you mean?"

"I heard someone found it."

"Ah? No? Whose news is so good? I found it so soon?" said one of the neighbors.

"It seems to be Grandpa Chen who opened a drug store. I heard that the group went to Grandpa Chen's shop in person, and after asking the news, they went to find it by themselves."

"Oh, that old immortal, unexpectedly put him one step ahead..."

Li Tian, who accidentally heard the conversation between the two neighbourhoods with straight ears, was stunned.

Old lady Chen?

Could it be said that Mr. Chen really told the group about his drug grabbing? Those people took so hard to get here to catch her? You will definitely know about her poisoning. Once you know it, of course the first place is to search for the drug store. Could it be that Mrs. Chen told the gang about the drug and the poison?

After thinking about this, Li Tian suddenly yelled: "Sorry!"

Then I turned around and ran towards my home like flying, still worried in my heart: that woman is injured so badly now, if these people looking for him are really her enemies, then it will be a big trouble. .

The more Li Tian thinks about it, the more it feels wrong. Although the woman is fierce, and she still says she wants to kill herself, but Li Tian is not the kind of person who can't save him, especially because the other party is still such a beautiful woman.

What if such a woman died because Li Tian didn't save her? It was a thunderstorm that day.

Isn't this? Li Tian, who was running fast, ran towards the house he rented.

As he ran quickly, Li Tian suddenly saw the two cars with his eyesight and he quickly found a place to hide.

Looking at the situation over there, he suddenly saw the man with a pair of triangular eyes and a weird viper ring on his hand, Xiao Poison, and the red-haired strong man Red Tiger next to him.

When Li Tian suddenly saw the two corpses on the ground, he felt a little bit in his heart: Oh my God, it was dead.

He didn't expect a massacre to happen in front of the door he rented. Li Tian couldn't help feeling a panic of fear when he looked at the two corpses.

Baby, who are these people? They killed people in broad daylight, but it seemed that the two corpses in suits were killed by others. Watching his door open, Li Tian was stunned for a moment.

Could it be that the woman inside killed it? Li Tian was even more suspicious when he thought of this here, what the * was going on?

This is not where he hides now, he must see what happened.
