

A Killer 101

Chapter 101: Raptors are going to cross the river

"Then it's troublesome to seal the Lord, we still have something to do here, three days later, let's see you here." Duanmu Lei smiled and said goodbye.

There was a smile on Feng Ye's face: "Okay."

After the greeting, Duanmu Lei took the people around him and left the underground boxing arena.

After they left, Duan Mulei's cold eyes cast a vicious look at Li Tian over there, and then walked away.

Looking at Duanmulei who was going away, Master Feng condensed the hypocritical smile on his face, his fists could not be restrained tightly, his face was gloomy, and his mouth murmured: "I can't think of one of the four biggest families. The mysterious Duanmu family will suddenly appear in Kyoto. It's really weird, weird."

Listening to Master Feng's tone, it seems that this Duanmu family is such a powerful family. Isn't even Master Feng who is in the nine districts dare not to be disrespectful to the Duanmu family?

What kind of family is Duanmu family?

Master Feng, who sighed a long sigh, slowly turned his gaze to Li Tian over there, and then walked outside without saying a word.

Because Shen Feng was seriously injured, he was supported by Li Tian.

And Li Tian is undoubtedly the focus of the audience at this time. One move to kill the prestigious thing of the Muay Thai boxer can be said to be famous overnight in the black market boxing match.

At this moment, he supported the seriously injured Shen Feng and walked slowly towards the crowd.

The fat guy behind and the paparazzi followed like a dog.

Tonight, don't look at Shen Feng being knocked down under the ring by the Muay Thai boxer, but there is no doubt that the boxing match was attacked by Shen Feng's mercy. Even the underground boxing match has the rules of the underground boxing match, so the fat guy is still I made a lot of money tonight.

At this moment, with a smile on his face, he trot with Li Tian and Shen Feng.

"Brother, I'll take you back." I just listened to the fat man behind Li Tian and the others, speaking attentively like a dog.

Li Tian is very disgusting to this * who only recognizes money and does not recognize people.

Said coldly: "No."

The fat man looked ugly.

"Damn, pull something, just run back if you don't sit down!" The paparazzi next to him whispered angrily, but he was not convinced that Li Tian was so famous today.

The fat guy turned his head, and gave Paparazzi a vicious look: "You * shut up Laozi, what are you?"

"Don't forget, I will rely on them to make a fortune in the future."

Facing the fat man's curse, the paparazzi really closed his mouth tightly like an obedient dog.

"Brother, Shen Feng suffered such a serious injury. I think it's better to send him back. If you don't take the car, it will delay his serious illness." The fat guy stepped forward again and said close to Li Tiantao. .

Li Tian glanced at Shen Feng with a pale face and blood on the corners of his mouth, and his heart was dark: Shen Feng's injury did not dare to delay.

So I can only nod silently.

After Li Tian nodded, the fat man laughed quickly.

"The paparazzi is strong, hurry up and drive."

When the paparazzi heard the fat man's call, he trot to drive.

After a while, the fat man's big crown drove over, Li Tian in front of him slowly helped Shen Feng and sat in the car.

The fat man also sat up, the car started with a grunt, and then left the underground stadium and drove quickly toward the center of Kyoto.

At night, it gently floats on the surface of Kyoto City like a layer of mist.

Among the two speeding Mercedes-Benz cars on the street, the one driving in the front was the first fierce man by Feng Ye, Meng Chong.

But Master Feng frowned and sat in the back seat, and Master Feng, who had returned from the black market boxing match, frowned deeply, thinking about his thoughts.

And Na Mengchong spoke less and was silent along the way.

"How come the Duanmu family suddenly appeared in Kyoto? It's really strange!" Feng Ye suddenly touched his head with his hand and muttered to himself gently.

"Meng Chong, how much do you know about the four major families in China?" Feng Ye suddenly looked at Meng Chong who was driving in front of him and said.

Meng Chong, who drove dully in front of him, thought for a moment, and slowly said: "I once heard of Duanmu family when I was in the South. The only thing I know is that Duanmu family is the most mysterious of the four major families in China, and it is also the least visible. family."

"There is a rumor that the Duanmu family rarely interacts with people, and the core members of the family rarely show up outside unless there are important things."

Facing Meng Chong uttering these words word by word, Master Feng frowned.

Why doesn't he know the mystery of the Duanmu family?

There are four famous families in China.

One is the Ouyang family, the second is the Yuwen family, the third is the Situ family, and the fourth is the Duanmu family. (This is something)

These four famous families in the country can be said to be dragons and leaps and bounds.

Let me talk about the Duanmu family, whether it is in the domestic business field or on the road, they rarely move around.

Moreover, the Duanmu family, which is located in the southernmost part, is originally extremely mysterious.

Some people say that the Duanmu family controls the entire southern underground world. There are also rumors that the Duanmu family is actually engaged in the underground arms business. The entire southern and even Yunzang arms business is controlled by the Duanmu family behind. Others say that the Duanmu family is in control. These years have already withdrawn from the arena...

Of course these are all rumors, what does the real Duanmu family do? Presumably no one knows yet.

But in the south, who are the real people behind many large companies? Duanmu family.

This strong family, the most famous in China, was extremely large in the late Qing Dynasty, but it has always been known for its weirdness. It is difficult for the economic newspapers in the south, and even all the newspapers, to see the economic strength of the Duanmu family. The media is actually firmly controlled by this Duanmu family.

The Duanmu family, who has never appeared in the Forbes wealth rankings, has always been known for its low-key. Who knows how solid his assets have reached?

However, anyone knows that in control of the Southern Shuangseqiu, the people behind the peripheral bets are members of the Duanmu family, and the bosses behind the NASDAQ-listed subsidiaries in the United States are all Duanmu.

Now such a powerful family has actually appeared in the underground boxing arena in Kyoto City.

This makes Lord Feng feel very strange.

Thinking of the man who claimed to be Duanmulei of the Duanmu family, Feng Ye couldn't help frowning.

"No, I have to check this matter carefully. I want to see what the Duanmu family are doing in Kyoto." Feng Ye said.

Meng Chong in front did not speak.

"I'll leave this to you. Please contact someone as soon as possible to find out about the Duanmu family. If you can, you have to go to the south."

Feng Ye made up his mind to say there.

Meng Chong in front of him nodded silently.
