

A Killer 39

Chapter 39: Soaring anger

Now Li Tiandang suddenly heard the news that the sea had been beaten, an invisible anger burst from the bottom of his heart.

"There?" Li Tian asked sharply.

Xiao Zhao was taken aback, and quickly said, "In the parking lot."

As soon as Li Tian heard that he didn't even wear his shoes, he stepped barefoot on the cold concrete floor and ran towards the outside. Xiao Zhao behind him also ran over.

Li Tian, who was running, was still thinking, what is going on?

Yu Dahai is a very good-tempered man. In the past few days with Li Tian, Li Tian also honestly has never seen Yu Dahai lose his temper. His temperament has always been honest and stable in the eyes of the security guards of the Tang company. Good old man.

But now? Who dares to beat this honest man?

Thinking of this, Li Tian was full of fire.

Li Tian, who ran out quickly, saw the parking lot outside Tang's Enterprise Plaza, surrounded by some people watching the excitement. And you can hear harsh screams.

"Fuck you uncle, what are you, a little security guard dared to control Laozi parking?"

"I'm telling you, my car will stop as long as it wants to stop, can you **** control it? Watchdog!"

A sharp curse came into Li Tian's ears.

After Li Tiandang ran over, he saw 4-5 trendy young people surrounded by the sea.

There was a car modified with a Ford S10 parked next to the 4-5 trendy young people. The car had a fancy appearance with many stickers on it.

A heavy-duty subwoofer is specially installed at the back, and this kind of car can be seen at a glance that it is a car that underground drag racing people like to play.

The 4--5 young people in front of them are even more unusually dressed.

One of the most arrogant guys, with dark blue weird hair, swelling, wearing a nondescript ear stud on his left ear, and his face as pale as white lime, shouting there.

Another thin, ghost-like young man was next to the blue-haired man, with a physique comparable to that of a woman, and pointed at the sea, full of swear words.

What about the other two young people next to him? It's roughly of the same type, and the clothes are quite different. He cursed at the honest people at the sea.

Yu Dahai was surrounded in the middle, without saying a word, the light blue security uniform on his body also had a few footprints at the moment, which was obviously kicked by these trendy young men.

It turned out that this group of young people parked their cars in the parking lot at will. At that time, Yu Dahai was on duty, so he said one sentence: No parking here,

This led to this incident. At first glance, those guys were all second-rate roles. When Yu Dahai came out to stop them from parking, they were even more scolding. In the eyes of these people, how could they look down on Xiao Xiao? Where's the security?

"Guardian, what are you? How dare you stop Laozi's car?"

The blue-haired young man said to Yu Dahai reluctantly.

Yu Dahai himself is an honest person, coupled with the inferiority complex that he has lived in the countryside since he was a child, he has little confidence to speak.

"The company stipulates that parking is not allowed here..." Yu Dahai whispered.

"Holly, what company regulations are you talking about?"

The thin ghost-like young man standing next to the blue hair came up and kicked the sea. Unfortunately, his feet didn't have much energy. He kicked the 40-year-old Yu Dahai, but Yu Dahai just retreated a little. .

"stop."

While these trendy young people were bullying Honest Yu Dahai, a voice suddenly came.

He turned his head to look, but saw Li Tian in security clothing ran over barefoot.

"Brother Yu, are you okay?" Li Tian hurried to Yu Dahai's side and asked with concern.

When Yu Dahai saw Li Tian, he gently pushed him with his hands: "I'm fine, I'm fine, you go back to the dormitory and wait for me..."

Yu Dahai did not want Li Tian to intervene in such a thing.

But how can Li Tian go?

Those young people dressed up and walking with corpses saw another security guard in uniform running over, and a sarcasm suddenly appeared on their faces.

"Here's another watchdog? Damn, is it looking for a fight?"

A blue-haired young man shouted there.

"Fuck, I'm the most annoyed to see this poor comparison."

Hearing the insulting voices of these people, Li Tian's anger in his heart can be described as a straight rise. Regardless of the obstruction of the sea around him, he turned around abruptly, without even speaking, and punched directly.

He doesn't care about the consequences and everything.

A lunge rushed forward, and his fist hit the face of the yelling young man with dyed blue hair.

The explosive fist directly hit the blue-haired boy's pale face almost deformed, a mouthful of blood shot out, and fell to the ground with a bang, screaming in pain.

The three guys here saw that their companion was beaten by a "security guard", and they were immediately angry.

"Anyone, do you dare to do it? If you don't kill this coercion today, we won't be confused."

With a roar, the three people rushed towards Li Tian.

One of them was the tallest guy among the four. He thought of Li Tian kicking his back. After all, Li Tian hadn't practiced before. He was kicked and staggered and almost fell.

The other guy raised his fist and slammed at Li Tian.

But unexpectedly, Li Tian turned around suddenly, hugged the kid's waist, and then pushed hard and banged, the kid fell directly to the ground, and the kid who was overwhelmed on the ground was Li Tian's fatal fist hit his head fiercely.

The other two guys wanted to come up to help, but they couldn't help.

Li Tian knew a truth from a fight since he was young. If one person deals with many people, one has to catch one and fight to death.

Isn't this? Li Tian ignored the two guys being hit **** his back, he just rode on the face of the guy who was under his crotch and hit with his fists.

The boy was distorted by Li Tian's face, nosebleeds, and screamed again and again. Li Tian's fists were stained with blood before he stood up.

Looking at this crazy hunk, the other two guys couldn't help but suddenly feel a sense of fear.

No way, the two companions were covered with blood at the moment, and they fell on the ground and couldn't stand up at all. Although both of them were fine, the security guard who was like a beast stood up again.

He panted, his fists were stained with blood, and he glared at the two **** in front of him.

Yu Dahai next to him and Xiao Zhao who rushed over were completely stunned. The employees of the Tang company who were walking around at this time saw the fight here and couldn't help coming over to see what was going on.
